The undersigned, Clerk of said County, hereby gives notice that at the County Clerk's office in Elizabethtown, in said County, on the 28th day of December inst at 10 o'clock, A. M. of that day, he will draw the names of 36 persons to serve as Petit Jurors at a Circuit Court and Court of Oyer & Termner to be held at the Court House, in said town on the third Monday of January next, at 10 o'clock of that day.

Given and dated at the County Clerk's ...

Miscellaneous.

CHINA, GLASS, & EARTHEN WARE.

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

[SUCCESSORS TO PEIRCE AND KING,]
IMPORTERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS,
235 River Street, Troy, New York.

Having our Stock very complete from importations, and otherwise, are prepared to offer a large assortment of all Goods in our Line. Wholesale or Retail, at the Lowest New York or Boston Prices for Cash or Approved Credit, among which will be found:

Fine White Ironstone and White Glazed Ware. Flown Blue, Flown Mulberry, Light Blue and common Wares, and the Acacia Ware, formerly kept by Mr. A. Slason.

White, Gold Band and Decorated French China, in sets or separate prices.

Tea sets, of French and English China, white, Gilt, or decorated. India China in great variety

Toile Sets, decorated or plain, full, double, or single sets, Cut Glass Ware, in Decanters, Goblets Champaigne Wines &c., of new and rich patterns. Glass cut to match any pattern.

Moulded and plain Glass Ware, of every description and style.

Girandoles, Candelabras, Solar Lamps, and Chandeliers, in every variety, from the manufactory of Cornelius & Co. Philadelphia.

Solar Globes, cut and Plain, Solar and Campheue Wicks and Chimnies. Astral and Coat Wicks, Boat Globes, Astral Chimnies, &c., &c.

Hall Lanterns of cut, plain, and stained Glass.

Lanterns of every variety. Also a new and desirable style with patent catch, &c., for Railroads and Steamboats, and made to order with names or initials engraved on.

Tea Trays and Waiters, new styles and shapes, of our own importion, singly or in sets.

Looking Glasses, Britannia Ware, Table Mats &c., &c.

Also a splendid assortment of Fancy Goods, consisting of Vases, Colognes, Cardreceivers, Allumets, Decanters, Wine Bottles, &c., in China, Terra Cotta, Parian Marble, and Bohemian Ware,
PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.
235 River Street, Opposite Troy House, Troy, N. Y.
ALFRED H. PEIRCE, }
LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK. } 445

Gas, Steam & Water Fitting

and Fixtures, Wrought-Iron Pipe, Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Plumbers' Materials, &c.

We are now prepared to do work in dwellings, Stores, Churches, Mills, or Factories, in the way of Gas and Steam Fitting or Plumbing, in the most complete and satisfactory manner. Having workmen in each of the above branches who cannot be excelled by any similar establishments in the country all orders will be promptly executed, and work done in any part of the country

We have also constantly on hand and for Sale at Manufacturers' Prices, Wrought Iron Pipe for Gas, Steam, and water Twisted and Plain Brass Pipe, Steam Valves, Brass and Iron stop Cocks, Tees, Elbows, Coupling, Brass Globe, Cross and Check Valves, &c. Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Leather Hose, Hose Pipe and Couplings, with every material in Lead, Brass and Plated Work for Plumbers' use.—Plug Basins, Hoppers, Closet Pans, Corner Basins, and Baths, of all descriptions,

Also, a splendid assortment of Chandeliers, Pendants, Brackets &c., of new and rich styles, to which we are receiving constant additions.
PEIRCE and SOUTHWICK.
223 and 235 River-Street, [Opposite Troy House,] Troy, N. Y. 445-tf
ALFRED H. PEIRCE, LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK

SISCOE BLAST FURNACE FOR SALE.

THIS Furnace, situated in Westport, Essex Co N Y on Lake Champlain, is capable of producing 3000 tons Pig Iron per annum. It is blown by a powerful steam engine; and another engine raises the stock &c &c There are eight Kilns, which can make 500,000 Bushels Charcoal per annum, connected by railroad with the Furnace, and nearly an acre of sheds for seasoning wood. One large Brick Mansion House, with excellent Farm; one Brick Cottage seventeen Houses for workmen; commodious Blacksmiths and Carpenters' Shops, &c., &c., and about 1600 Acres of Land. The Furnace is situated on a large and convenient dock. Wood for making charcoal can be obtained cheaply in the neighborhood; and Anthracite Coal from Rondout can be delivered at low rates. By the proposed Ship Canal from Lake Champlain to River St. Lawrence, coal could also be brought with great facility from Erie. The rich Magnetic Ore of Essex County, particularly that from the famous Port Henry Bed, can always be procured cheaply and in great abundance. The property will be sold on reasonable terms. Inquire of Messrs. J. & L. TUCKERMAN 69 West street New York, or F. H. JACKSON, No. 5, Liberty square, Boston. Dec. 17 451 4w

Charles Morris,

MERCHANT TAILOR AND CLOTHIER,

KEESEVILLE, NEW YORK.

IS now prepared to show his friends and the public in general a full assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings suited to the season. My Cloths are of the latest importation, and consists of Black, Brown, Drab and Clouded Beavers Broad Cloths, of French, West of England and American Manufacture. Cassimeres, in all the revised style and quality. Vestings in any quantity, some of which are very rich. Also, Shirts of all descriptions. Shaker under Shirts, and drawers, Cravats, Stocks, Suspenders, Gloves, Collars, Bosoms, Hdkfs., Mufflers, Clothing ready made substantial, and the sewing to last as long as the cloth, (and not run together as much of the clothing brought from a foreign market generally is.) Thankful for the very liberal and increased patronage I have received from the citizens generally. I trust by a continued effort to please the most difficult I shall merit a continuance of past favors. My arrangements with New York, are such that I am advised of any changes of style, that occur from month to month, and thus am able to gratify those who are disposed to adopt the changes. Cutting as usual done in the most careful manner and with promptness.

AND WARRANTED MADE

Nov. 13 1852 445

SHAWLS.

600 French, English, and Bay State long square Shawls, in every variety of style and color. Plain Scotch Plaids and plain centres. The undersigned have the agency of the Bay State Shawls which will enable them to show a large variety at less prices than can be found elsewhere.

N. B. Those wishing for Long Wool Shawls to sell again, can obtain them at the same price the city Jobber sell, and as great a variety to select from at BOYNTON & SMITH'S.
Keeseville, Nov 13, 1852. 445.

CASH,

AND THE

Highest Market Price

WILL BE PAID FOR WOOL, AT THE WOOLEN FACTORY, by
C. F. ROELOFSON & Co.
Keeseville, July 8th, 1852. 427tf

Printing Paper For Sale.

FOR sale by J. & G. PARKS,

38 by 24 inches,
34 by 24 "
33 by 23 "

Also, Wrapping:

40 by 28 inches, 60 lbs to he Ream, for large bundles
29 by 18 "
15 by 18 "

All orders directed to Keeseville promptly attended 364tf.

MATTHEWS & AMES,

(SUCCESSORS TO H. & H. MATTHEWS,)
DEALERS IN
Tin, Sheet Iron, Copper, Japan and BRITANNIA WARE,
together with a large and well selected assortment of
FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

which they will sell by the piece or package, at a small advance from cost. Also, a general assortment of

YANKEE NOTIONS

And Fancy Articles,

suitable to the Pedlars Trade, which they will sell low for cash.

All kinds of barter taken in exchange for Goods.
Keeseville, April 17, 1852. 415

VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE.

THE subscriber having disposed of a portion of his Farm, offers the balance, containing 108 acres of first rate land, a good dwelling house and convenient out buildings, well fenced into convenient size fields, situated 4 miles north of the Village of Keeseville on the mail route to Plattsburgh, and for pleasantness of location is not surpassed by any in Northern New York.

ALSO,—If desired, a wood and pasture lot of fifty acres, about 4 miles distant.
WILL...
Keeseville, Dec. 21, 1852,

GRASS SE...

Medicine.

THE WONDER OF THE WORLD.

DEVINES' COMPOUND

PITCH LOZENGE,

A sure and pleasant Remedy for Colds, Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, and if lungs enough are left to sustain life, A CERTAIN CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, safe for the Infant or the Invalid, in any stage of weakness.

"The statements that consumption cannot be cured, has destroyed more lives than the disease itself. [Dr Warren Read the following, which to a candid mind places this "Great Remedy," like Cæsar's wife "above suspicion."

TO THE PUBLIC!

We, the undersigned, citizens of Lee, Mass., are acquainted with Mr. Devines, the proprietor and Manufacturer of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge and from what we know of it ourselves and have learned from others of its beneficial effects, in cases where it has been used, give it as our opinion that it is a valuable remedy in diseases for which it is recommended and is worthy of public confidence. A. G. Hulburt, Leonard Church, F. G. Taylor, Wm. Taylor, S. A. Bliss, S. A. Hulburt, Josephus Crafts, T. P. Eldridge.

If any individual is to be pitied, and needs sympathy, it is the consumptive—always expecting to get well, and yet the painful evidence of decay almost "makes the inner soul shrink with the outer flesh"

"Some bloom as roses bloom, and live as roses live, A single morning space!"

While others, in more mature life—by some imprudence and a slight cold neglected—in the hectic flush—the painful cough,

"The prints of their departing steps appears."

BUT HERE IS HOPE! Mr Wm. Devines, the originator and manufacturer of the Pitch Lozenge, under Providence, was raised to perfect health by the use of these Lozenges alone, after he was pronounced by his physician to be almost dying with consumption.

This fact is generally known in Berkshire County and is the neighborhood talk, and wonder in Lee, and in Great Barrington, Mass.

From Dr. Brown, of Lee, Mass.

This certifies that I have made use of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge for cold and cough, and found immediate relief. Therefore I would recommend it to the public as being a safe and sovereign remedy. H. C. BROWN.
Lee, October 28, 1851.

Sold wholesale at Albany, by Wm. A. Wharton & Co, Druggists, &c., H. C. Sheldon, Troy, Spencer & Nichols, Whitehall, Hammonds & Co., Crownpoint, W. G. Lyon, Essex, Reynolds & Tufts and I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. Orders addressed Wm Devines, Jamaica L. I. 436 1y Wm. RENNE, Traveling Agent

PURE CANADIAN TRIPOLI, —OR—

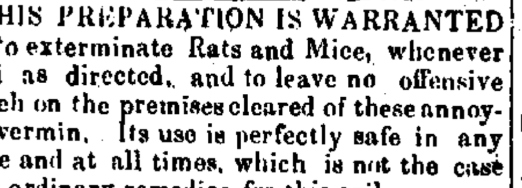
Diamond Dust.



THE Sharpest and Finest of all known Substances for Cleaning and Polishing all kinds of Glass and METALIC SURFACE, such as Gold, Silver, Brass, Copper, and Britania Ware, Reflectors, Globes, Lamp Glasses, Window Pains, Varnish, Precious Stones Geological Specimens, &c., &c

Prepared and fitted for use from a single Material, by I. CURTIS, St. Albans, Vt. to whom all orders must be addressed.

The proprietor has the pleasure of referring to Messrs Goulding, Green, and Conro, as to its value for Mechanical purposes. Sold by most of the Merchants in Keeseville.
Aug 14 1852 6m431

M. DUBOYS'
FRENCH

RAT EXTERMINATOR.

THIS PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to exterminate Rats and Mice, whenever used as directed, and to leave no offensive stench on the premises cleared of these annoying vermin. Its use is perfectly safe in any place and at all times, which is not the case with ordinary remedies for this evil.

CAUTION!—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!—The extraordinary success of M. Duboy's Rat Exterminator has exeited the cupidity of some dishonest and irresponsible persons to counterfeit it. Inquire for M. Duboy's French Rat Extirminator, and take no other. Large boxes at 25 cents. LYNDE & OSBURN.
Rochester, N. Y. Sole American Agents, to whom all orders should be addressed.
For sale by Stearns & Beckwith, Peru. I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. 444 1y

Miscellaneous.

WOOLEN

MANUFACTURING

IN all its various branches, will be carried on at the Keeseville Woolen Manufacturing Establishment, in Keeseville, N. Y.

Wool of any quality will be received in exchange for Cloth,

CASSIMERES, SATINETS,
Flannels, &c.

The Goods of this Establishment for the last two years, are well known at home and in market, and needs no other recommendation than a fair trial. Farmers and others wishing to make the most out of their wool, will find it to their advantage to call and exchange their wool for cloths. They may rest assured that they will be fairly dealt with, as no goods will be offered but those that will give satisfaction.

C. Roelofson has made arrangements which will enable him to pay

Part Cash

on Exchanges, or all CASH for WOOL when Price and Quality Suit.

On hand and ready for Exchanging, Grey Cloths, Mixed Satinets—VERY HEAVY—fine and medium Cassimeres, Red Flannel—yard wide—the different kinds also for sale.

THE CUSTOM
CARDING
will be carried on as usual.
C. ROELOFSON & Co.
Keeseville, May 26th, 1852. 421tf

WOOL!! WOOL!!!

Cash Paid for Wool

BY

Matthews & Ames,

At the Old Stand of
H. & H. MATTHEWS.

Every discription of Woolen and Cotton Goods given in exchange for Wool if wanted.

HAVING increased our stock of Goods by a second Spring purchase. We feel confident that we shall be able to supply all who may wish Goods or Groceries of any description, in part, or wholly, for their Fleece, Pulled or Tag Wool.

Boots ad Shoes.

READY-MADE or MADE to ORDER,

AS good as the best, as cheap as the cheapest and warranted to fit. The undersigned begs leave to remind the public of the above facts and solicits a share of their patronage. Opposite the Bank.
JAMES ADAMS.
Keeseville, March, 1852. 111-tf

PIANO FORT EMPORIUM.

361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. The most extensive and varied assortment of ROSEWOOD PIANO FORTES, plain and ornamental, elegant patterns, elaborately carved and highly finished with Pearl keys, all of our own manufacture, and warranted in every particular, can be found at our Warerooms, 361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
437-1y ... BENNETT & CO.

READ THIS

NOW receiving from Boston, a large assortment of ribbed woolen stocking for ladies winter wear. Also, Portsmouth Ribbed heavy woolen under shirts and drawers for gents winter wear, an article that is peculiarly adapted to this Northern cold climate.—Please call at
BOYNTON and SMITH'S
Keeseville, Nov. 13, 1852. 445-tf

CARPETING.

A new lot of all wool carpeting, bought at the great auction sale that came off 11th of Sept., in New York, at prices that will enable purchasers to obtain great bargains, at BOYNTON and SMITHS.
...ville, Nov. 13, 1852 445-1y

PORK WANTED.

...H paid for Fresh Pork, for Packing at
BOYNTON & SMITH

Miscellaneous.

New Goods! New Good!

—AT—
NICHOLS' CASH STORE,
150 Church street,
BURLINGTON, VERMONT,

HAVING just Purchased in New York and Boston, a large stock of Goods of all kinds we now offer them for sale, and those who are in want of goods in our line will save money by calling on us before purchasing. We are confident we have the largest stock of goods ever brought into Burlington at one time; we were induced to buy largely in consequence of the low prices of many kinds of goods, particularly dress goods of almost every kind.

We have a full stock of everything usually kept in a dry good store; Also West India goods and groceries, a very large stock of Teas and Sugars low by chest and cask. Also at cost to clear them off Paper Hangings, Crockery and glass Ware and looking glasses.

CARPETING, AT THE CARPET WARE HOUSE.

BURLINGTON, VT.

Received this day and now opening 50 pieces of all grades, the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three Ply, Superfine, fine and common Ingrain and Venetian, all Wool. Cotton and Cotton and Wool; Also, all the different qualities of Stair Carpeting, Straw Matting, Oil Cloth, Drugetts, Crumb Cloths, Hearth Rugs, Door Matts, &c., very cheap.
Burlington, Nov. '52. 446

FAMILY GROCERIES.

A larg and choice assortment of Sugars, Teas, Oils, Molasses, Pork, Fish, Fine and coarse Salt, Camphene, Soap and Candles, Brooms, Pails, Willow Waggons, Cradles, Flavoring Extracts, Cat, Sups, all kinds Toys, New Years and Christmass presents, Confectionaries, Nuts, Bird Seed, &c., &.

The above goods are offered on the usual terms, at the lowest prices. Let those wishing to buy examine for themselves.

100 Barrels Genessee Flour,

FRESH Ground for sale at.
REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

40 Barrels Sugars.

CRUSHED, granulated Muscavado and Coffee Sugars at REYNOLDS & TUFTS,

Green & Black Teas.

40 CHESTS and Cattys choice Old Hyson, Young Hyson and fine Oolong Teas cheaper than any in town at
REYNOLDS & TUFTS.
Keeseville, Nov. 18, 1852. 446

REMOVAL.

THE Subscriber takes this method to inform his friends and the public that he has moved his

AIORING ESTAB ISHMEN

To the Store south of the Bank, and lately occupied by W. Whitney.

Where he intends carrying on the above business in all its branches.

He will keep constantly on hand a choice assortment of

Broadcloth, Cassimeres & Vestings

which he will make up to order on short notice, in the most fashionable styles. Also Shirts, Collars, Cravats, Suspenders, Gloves, &c.

Also an assortment of

READY-MADE CLOTHING,

which he will sell cheap for cash.

Cutting done on short notice.

Two Good Journeymen Tailors wanted.
WM. COWLBECK.

Plank Road.

Notice is hereby given that books of subscription, to the Capital Stock, of a Company proposed to be incorporated for the construction of a Plank Road from Essex Village to Lewis Four corners, to be called the Essex and Lewis Plank Road Company, will be opened at the Office of John Gould, in the village of Essex, on the thirtieth day of December, 1852, and at the Office of Alanson Wilder in Lewis on the same day, and that such books will remain open at the said places until the whole amount of the Capital Stock shall be subscribed.

Dated Essex, December 15th, 1852.
John Gould,
Noble Clemons,
Ransom Noble,
Wm. H. Low,
Henry H. Ross.

THE NAPOLEON DYNASTY.

The Old Guard of Napoleon, by Headley Land and Lea, Sea and Sailor, Deck and Port &c. &c., by Walter Colton.

Uncle Toms Cabin as it is Dollars and Cents. Gleanings and Groapings Sir John Franklin and the Artic Regions the Fruit Garden by Bory a Variety of other Miscellaneous Works of nearly every description. All kinds of Blank Books and Stationary &c., a good assortment of Drugs and Medicines, Paints, Oils, Dye Stuffs &c. &c. For sale by

School Books

I. A. HASBROUCK.
Keeseville Nov. 20 1852. 447

Fire bricks, Coal Facings,
MALT TILES, FIRE CLAY, &c.

THE subscribers, importers of Fire Bricks, &c., have constantly in Yard and afloat, Rufford Stourbridge Fire Bricks, Oak Farms do do Garnkirk do Red and White Welsh do common and fancy shapes, Stourbridge Fire Clay, for Glass and other purposes, Fire Sand, Welsh Lumps—all sizes, Oven Tiles—10 and 12 inch, Malt Tiles—best Bridgewater, Facings—Sea Coal and Soap Stone.

Also, all kinds of Anthracite and Bituminous Coal for sale in lots to suit purchasers.
SAMUEL THOMPSON & NEPHEW,
s31m6 275 Pearl and 43 Gold st., N. Y.

KEESEVILLE ACADEMY.

The undersigned in behalf of the Trustees of Keeseville Academy, announce that the Fall Term will commence on Thursday the 22d day of November next. They have succeeded in engaging the following corps of Teachers.

Associate Principals. { CHARLES H. DANN, Teacher of Languages and Higher Mathematics
{ GILBERT THAYER, Teacher of English Branches, Natural Sciences and Superintendent of the School.

Miss. NANCY K. POTTER Assistant Teacher.
Miss. ELLEN M FISHER Teacher of Music.
Good Board and Rooms in the Village.

TERMS:

Common English Branches,	$3 00	per quarter
Higher " Branches,	1 00	extra "
Book keping	1 00	" "
Latin and Greek, each,	1 00	" "
French, Italian and German, each,	1 .. 00	" "

Tuition is not charged for more than two of the above extras

Music Instrumental,	$10 00	per quarter.
" Vocal	1 00	" "
For French, Italian or German, taken as single branches, the charge will be	3 00	" "

Mr. THAYER will give especial attention to young gentleman and Ladies expecting to engage in teaching.
Oliver Keese
Jacob D Kingsland } Com. of
John Mattocks } Trustees.
Keeseville July 28, 1852 430

DRIED APPLE, Geese and Hen's Feathers, for sale at

Miscellaneous.

THE NORTHERN
New York Mutual

INSURANCE COMPANY,

Plattsburgh, Clinton Co., N. Y.
Capital, 100,000.

THIS Company is organized under the General Insurance Law of the State of New York, with a sound, reliable capital, and offers the following superior inducements:

1. The safer kinds of property are separated entirely from the more hazardous; affording the advantages of two distinct companies, with the expense of but one.

2. The first class, or Farmer's Department, consists of Farm-houses, Farm buildings and their contents and detatched dwellings and their contents in villages, when unexposed by more hazardous buildings,

3. The second class or Merchant's Department, consists of exposing dwellings, stores, merchandize and property not deemed specially hazardous.

4. Each class pays its own losses and thus securing equal justice and proportional rates to both.

5. Not more than $3,000 of the first class, or more than $2.600 of the second class, will be taken in one risk, nor any number of risks so contiguous as probably to subject the Company to a loos of over $3,000 at any one fire; thereby saving it from heavy and ruinous losses.

6. In taking surveys of property, the agent will be the agent of the company, and the company be responsible for the correctness of all surveys made by its agents.

7. Any one insured, may at any time surrender his policy and withdraw from the company by paying his proportion of the losses and expense up to the date of such surrender.

8. Applications will take effect at noon of the day on which they are made (unless a different day is directed by the applicant,) thus relieving the party from anxiety and suspense.

9. The company no have two-thirds clause, but will pay all loss and damage not exceeding the amount insured.

10. In case of difference of opinion in settlement of losses, the company will submit the same to arbitration in the county where the loss occurs, the claimant choosing one, the company one, and the two arbitrators another.

11 Each person insured in the company becomes a member and will be entitled to a participation of the profits, if any surplus should accrue, not required for the payment of losses.

12. This company will be responsible for losses by fire caused by lightning.

13. This company will take no risks in cities.

The Directors return their acknowledgments to the public for their readiness in aiding the organization of this company, and will endeavor to make it a safe and reliable institution, affording protection from the ravages of fire, at reasonable rates, and with certainty of payment in case of loss.

DIRECTORS.

James Farr, Fort Ann, Washington co; Olif Abel, Whitehall, do; Walter Geer, Glen's Falls, Warren co; Pelatiah Richards, Warrensburgh, do; Wm. E. Calkins, Ticonderoga, Essex co.; John Horton, Columbia Village, St. Lawrence co.; Thomas H. Conkey, Canton, do.; Amasa C. Moore, Samuel F. Viles, Henry G. Hewitt, Jacob H. Holt, John Fernton, Peter S. Palmer, Cornelius Halsey, Z. C. Platt, W. W. Hartwell, Benjamine Gilman, George Moore, Plattsburgh, Clinton Co,

OFFICERS.

SAMUEL F. VILES, President;
WM. W. HARTWELL, Vice President;
ZEPHENIAH C. PLATT, Treasurer;
GEORGE MOORE, Secretary;
I. C. MIX, and
R. G SWINERN, General Agents.
JAMES B. DICKINSON, Agent Ausable Forks.
Plattsburgh, Dec. 4th, 1852. 448 tf

DRY-GOODS!

CARPETS AND OIL-CLOTHS,
at uncommonly low prices
may be had at

G. V. S. Quackenbush's,

202 River and 9 State Streets, Troy.

MY Stock of Dry-Goods is unsurpassed in Variety and extent, consisting of every class of goods from the lowest priced Muslins and Prints, to the finest
BROAD-CLOTHS AND CASSIMERES,
or the richest and most expensive styles of Silks and Shawls and of each denomination of goods.

I have an almost endless variety of patterns of all the different qualities.

Of Carpets and Oil Cloths I have a splendid assortment consisting of a great variety of new and beautiful patterns of Velvets, Tapestry, and Brussels Carpets—
Also
Three Ply, Tapestry-Ingrains, and Ingrains, of all qualities and so varied in styles that all may here find something to suit their fancy.

Oil Cloths of all Widths and Qualities and of the newest and most desirable patterns, Rugs, in great variety,

STAIR CARPETS, STAIR RODS, DRUGGETS, MATTS,

and Matting of every Style and Quality.

A correct diagram being furnished Oil Cloths will be cut to fit rooms or halls without extra charge, and Carpets made in a superior manner at the lowest rates.

Those wishing to purchase either Dry-Goods or Carpets will find that my assortment is unequaled, and that my prices are uncommonly low.
492 G. V. S. QUACKENBUSH,
202 River Street, Troy.

RUTLAND & BURLINGTON

Rail Road.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after Monday, Nov. 1st, trains will run as follows, viz:

FOR BOSTON, NEW YORK AND INTERMEDIATE PLACES.

LEAVE
Burlington at	8.15	A. M.	4.15	P. M.
Vergennes	9 09	"	5.00	"
Middlebury	9.42	"	5.33	"
Brandon	10 20	"	6.18	"
Rutland	11 00	"	AR. 7.00	"
			L. 6.30	A. M.
Cuttingville	11.25	"	6.55	"
Ludlow	12 06	P. M.	7.35	"
Proctorsville	12.15	"	7.42	"
Chester	12.40	"	8.10	"
Arriving
Bellows Falls	1.15	"	8 45	"
Boston	7.00	"	1.00	P. M.
LEAVE
Boston	7 45	A. M.	12.00	M.
Bellows Falls	12 0	"	5 15	P. M.
Chester	12.40	P. M.	5.50	"
Proctorsville	107	"	6.17	"
Ludlow	1.15	"	6.25	"
Cuttingville	1 52	"	7.06	"
Rutland	AR. 2.15	"	AR. 7 30	"
	L. 3.00	"	L. 7 45	"
Brandon	3 38	"	8 25	"
Middlebury	4.25	"	9.14	"
Vergennes	5.00	"	9.37	"
Arriving
Burlington	5.45	"	10.30	"

CONNECT AT BURLINGTON,
with the Steamers for PLATTSBURG and MONTREAL RAIL ROADS, and with the VERMONT and CENTRAL and VERMONT and CANADA RAIL ROADS for the East, North, and West, via CHAMPLAIN and ST. LAWRENCE, and the OGDENSBURGH RAIL ROADS.

CONNECT AT RUTLAND
with the Trains of Western Vermont, Rutland and Washington and Saratoga and Washington Rail Roads, for New York, Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Buffalo and the West.

CONNECT AT BELLOWS FALLS
with the Trains of the Cheshire, Vermont Valley, and Sullivan Rail Roads for Windsor, Boston, Worcester, Lowell Springfield, Hartford, New Haven, and New York,

Fares are less when Tickets are purchased at the Offices than when paid in the Cars.
Burlington, Oct. 25, 1852. JOHN S. DUNLAP,
446 Superintendent.

EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR.

50 BARRELS made from Pure Genessee Wheat at the lowest price at
REYNOLDS & TUFTS

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Essex County Republican.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING BY JONATHAN TARBELL, Editor and Proprietor. TERMS, $2 Per Year---$1,50 in Advance.

VOLUME XIII. NO. 37. KEESEVILLE, N. Y., JANUARY 29, 1853. WHOLE NUMBER 456.

Poetry.

SOME THINGS LOVE ME.

BY T. BUCHANAN READ.

All within and all without me
Feel a melancholy thrill;
And the darkness hangs about me,
Oh, how still!
To my feet the river glideth
Through the shadow, sullen dark;
On the stream the white moon rideth,
Like a bark.
And the linden leans above me,
Till I think some things there be
In this dreary world that love me,
Even me!

Gentle flowers are springing near me,
Shedding sweetest breath around,
Countless voices rise to cheer me,
From the ground.
And the lone bird comes—I hear it
In the tall and windy pine
Pour the sadness of its spirit
Into mine:
There it swings and sings above me,
Till I think some things there be
In this dreary world that love me,
Even me!

Now the moon hath floated to me,
On the stream I see it sway,
Swinging, boat-like, as 'twould woo me
Far away——
And the stars bend from the azure,
I could reach them where I lie,
And they whisper all the pleasure
Of the sky.
There they hang and smile above me
Till I think some things there be
In the very heavens that love me,
Even me!

Miscellany.

(From Arthurs Home Magazine.)

COMMON PEOPLE.

BY T. S. ARTHUR.

"Are you going to call upon Mrs. Clayton and her daughters, Mrs. Marygold?" asked a neighbor, alluding to a family that had just moved into Sycamore Row

"No, indeed, Mrs. Lemmington, that I am not. I don't visit everybody."

"I thought the Claytons were a very respectable family," remarked Mrs. Lemmington.

"Respectable! Everybody is getting respectable now a-days. If they are respectable, it is very lately that they have become so. What is Mr. Clayton, I wonder, but a school-master! It's too bad that such people will come crowding themselves into genteel neighborhoods. The time was when to live in Sycamore Row was guarantee enough for any one—but, now, all kinds of people have come into it."

"I have never met Mrs. Clayton," remarked Mrs. Lemmington, "but I have been told that she is a most estimable woman, and that her daughters have been educated with great care. Indeed, they are represented as being highly accomplished girls."

"Well, I don't care what they are represented to be, I'm not agoing to keep company with a school master's wife and daughters, that's certain."

"Is there anything disgraceful in keeping a school?"

"No, nor in making shoes, either.—But, then, that's no reason why I should keep company with my shoemaker's wife, is it? Let common people associate together—that's my doctrine."

"But what do you mean by common people, Mrs. Marygold?"

"Why, I mean common people. Poor people. People who have not come of a respectable family. That's what I mean."

"I am not sure that I comprehend your explanation much better than I do your classification. If you mean, as you say, poor people, your objection will not apply with full force to the Claytons, for they are now in tolerably easy circumstances.—As the family of Mr. Clayton, I believe his father was a man of integrity, though not rich. And Mrs. Clayton's family I know to be without reproach of any kind."

"And yet they are common people for all that," persevered Mrs. Marygold.—"Wasn't old Clayton a mere petty dealer in small wares. And wasn't Mrs. Clayton's father a mechanic?"

"Perhaps, if some of us were to go back for a generation or two, we might trace out an ancestor who held no higher place in society," Mrs. Lemmington remarked quietly. "I have no doubt but that I should."

"I have no fears of that kind," replied Mrs. Marygold, in an exulting tone. "I shall never blush when my pedigree is traced."

"Nor I neither, I hope. Still, I should not wonder if some one of my ancestors had disgraced himself, for there are but a few families that are not cursed with a spotted sheep. But I have nothing to do with that, and ask only to be judged by what I am—not by what my progenitors have been."

"A standard that few will respect, let me tell you."

"A standard that far the largest portion of society will regard as the true one, I hope," replied Mrs. Lemmington. "But, surely, you do not intend refusing to call upon the Claytons for the reason you have assigned, Mrs. Marygold."

"Certainly I do. They are nothing but common people, and therefore beneath me. I shall not stoop to associate with them."

"I think that I will call upon them. In fact, my object in dropping in this morning was to see if you would not accompany me," said Mrs. Lemmington.

"Indeed, I will not and for the reason I have given. They are only common people. You will be stooping."

"No one stoops in doing a kind act.—Mrs. Clayton is a stranger in the neigborhood, and is entitled to the courtesy of a call, if no more; and that I shall extend to her. If I find her to be uncongenial in her tastes, no intimate acquaintanceship need be formed. If she is congenial, I will add another to my list of valued friends. You and I, I find, estimate differently. I judge every individual by merit, you by family, or descent."

"You can do as you please," rejoined Mrs. Marygold, somewhat coldly. "For my part, I am particular about my associates. I will visit Mrs. Florence, and Mrs. Harwood, and such as move in good society, but as to your school-teachers' wives and daughters, I must beg to be excused."

"Every one to her taste," rejoined Mrs. Lemmington, with a smile, as she moved towards the door, where she stood for a few moments to utter some parting compliments, and then withdrew.

Five minutes afterwards she was shown into Mrs. Clayton's parlors, where, in a moment or two, she was met by the lady upon whom she had called, and received with an easy gracefulness, that at once charmed her. A brief conversation convinced her that Mrs Clayton was, in intelligence and moral worth, as far above Mrs. Marygold, as that personage imagined herself to be above her. Her daughters who came in while she sat conversing with their mother, showed themselves to possess all those graces of mind and manner that win upon our admiration so irresistibly. An hour passed quickly and pleasantly, and then Mrs. Lemmington withdrew.

The difference between Mrs. Lemmington and Mrs. Marygold was simply this.—The former had been familiar with what is called the best society from her earliest recollection, and being, therefore, constantly in association with those looked upon as the upper class, knew nothing of the upstart self estimation which is felt by certain weak, ignorant persons, who, by some accidental circumstance, are elevated far above the condition into which they moved originally. She could estimate true worth in humble garb as well as in velvet and rich satins. She was one of those individuals who never passed an old and worthy domestic in the street without recognition, or stopping to make some kind inquiry—one who never forgot a familiar face, or neglected to pass a kind word to even the humblest who possessed the merit of good principles. As to Mrs. Marygold notwithstanding her boast in regard to pedigree, there were not a few who could remember when her grandfather carried a pedlars pack on his back—and an honest and worthy pedlar he was, saving his pence until they became pounds, and then relinquishing his peregrinating propensities, for the quieter life of a small shop keeper—His son, the father of Mrs. Marygold, while a boy, had a pretty familiar acquaintance with low life. But, as soon as his father gained the means to do so, he was put to school and furnished with a good education. Long before he was of age, the old man had become a pretty large shipper; and when his son arrived at mature years, he took him into business as a partner. In marrying, Mrs. Marygold's father chose a young lady whose father, like his own, had grown rich by individual exertions.—This young lady had not a few false notions in regard to the true genteel, and these fell legitimately to the share of her eldest daughter, who, when she in turn came upon the stage of action, married into an old and what was called a highly respectable family a circumstance that puffed her up to the full extent of her capacity to bear inflation. There were few in the circle of her acquaintances who did not fully appreciate her, and smile at her weakness and false pride. Mrs. Florence to whom she had alluded in her conversation with Mrs. Lemmington, and who lived in Sycamore Row, was not only faultless in regard to family connections, but was esteemed in the most intelligent circles for her rich mental endowments and high moral principles. Mrs. Harwood, also alluded to, was the daughter of an English barrister, and wife of a highly distinguished professional man, and was besides richly endowed herself, morally and intellectually. Although Mrs. Marygold was very fond of visiting them for the eclat of the thing, yet their company was scarcely more agreeable to her, than hers was to them, for there was little in common between them. Still, they had to tolerate her, and did so with a good grace.

It was, perhaps, three months after Mrs. Clayton moved into the neighborhood, that cards of invitation were sent to Mr. and Mrs. Marygold and daughter to pass a social evening at Mrs Harwood's. Mrs. M. was of course delighted; and felt doubly proud of her own importance. Her daughter Melinda, of whom she was excessively vain, was an indolent, uninteresting girl, too dull to imbibe even a small portion of her mother's self estimation. In company, she attracted but little attention, except what her father's money and standing in society claimed for her.

On the evening appointed, the Marygolds repaired to the elegant residence of Mrs. Harwood, and were ushered into a large and brilliant company, more than half of whom were strangers even to them.—Mrs. Lemmington was there, and Mrs. Florence, and many others with whom Mrs. Marygold was on terms of intimacy, besides several "distinguished strangers." Among those with whom Mrs. Marygold was unacquainted, were two young ladies who seemed to attract general attention. They were not showy, chattering girls, such as in all companies attract a swarm of shallow minded young fellows about them. On the contrary, there was something retiring, almost shrinking in their manner, that shunned rather than courted observation.—And yet, no one, who, attracted by their sweet, modest faces, found himself by their side that did not feel inclined to linger there.

"Who are those girls, Mrs. Lemmington?" asked Mrs. Marygold, meeting the lady she addressed in crossing the room.

"The two girls in the corner who are attracting so much attention?"

"Yes."

"Don't you know them?"

"I certainly do not."

"They are no common persons, I can assure you, Mrs. Marygold."

"Of course, or they would not be found here. But who are they?"

"Ah, Mrs. Lemmington! how are you?" said a lady, coming up at this moment, and interrupting the conversation. "I have been looking for you this half hour.',—Then, passing her arm within that of the individual she had addressed, she drew her aside before she had a chance to answer Mrs. Marygold's question.

In few minutes after, a gentleman handed Melinda to the piano, and there was a brief pause as she struck the instrument, and commenced going through the unintelligible intricacies of a fashionable piece of music. She could strike all the notes with scientific correctness and mechanical precision. But there was no more expression in her performance than there is in that of a musical box. After she had finished her task, she left the instrument with a few words of commendation extorted by a feeling of politeness.

"Will you not favor us with a song?" asked Mr. Harwood, going up to one of the young ladies to whom allusion has just been made.

"My sister sings, I do not," was the modest reply, "but I will take pleasure in accompanying her."

All eyes were fixed upon them as they moved towards the piano, accompanied by Mr. Harwood, for something about their manners, appearance and conversation, had interested nearly all in the room who had been led to notice them particularly.—The sister who could not sing, seated herself with an air of easy confidence at the instrument, while the other stood near her. The first few touches that passed over the keys showed that the performer knew well how to give to music a soul. The tones that came forth were not the simple vibrations of a musical chord, but expressions of affection given by her whose fingers woke the strings into harmony. But if the preluding touches fell witchingly upon every ear, how exquisitely sweet and thrilling was the voice that stole out low and tremulous at first, and deepened in volume and expression every moment, until the whole room seemed filled with melody! Every whisper was hushed, and every one bent forward almost breathlessly to listen. And when, at length, both voice and instrument were hushed into silence, no enthusiastic expressions of admiration were heard, but, only half whispered ejaculations of "exquisite!" "sweet!" "beautiful!" Then came earnestly expressed wishes for another and another song, until the sisters, feeling at length that many must be wearied with their long continued occupation of the piano, felt themselves compelled to decline further invitation to sing. No one else ventured to touch a single key of the instrument during the evening.

"Do pray, Mrs. Lemmington, tell me who those girls are—I am dying to know," said Mrs. Marygold, crossing the room to where the person she addressed was seated with Mrs. Florence and several other ladies of "distinction," and taking a chair by her side.

"They are only common people," replied Mrs. Lemmington, with affected indifference.

"Common people, my dear madam!—What do you mean by such an expression?" said Mrs. Florence in surprise, and with something of indignation latent in her tone.

"I'm sure their father, Mr. Clayton, is nothing but a teacher."

"Mr. Clayton! Surely those are not Clayton's daughters!" ejaculated Mrs. Marygold, in surprise.

"They certainly are, ma'am," replied Mrs. Florence in a quiet but firm voice, for she instantly perceived, from something in Mrs. Marygold's voice and manner, the reason why her friend had alluded to them as common people.

"Well, really, I am surprised that Mrs. Harwood should have invited them to her house, and introduced them into genteel company."

"Why so, Mrs. Marygold?"

"Because, as Mrs. Lemmington has just said, they are common people. Their father is nothing but a school-master."

"If I have observed them rightly," Mrs. Florence said to this, "I have discovered them to be a rather uncommon kind of people. Almost any one can thrum on the piano; but you will not find one in a hundred who can perform with such exquisite grace and feeling as they can. For half an hour this evening I sat charmed with their conversation, and really instructed and elevated by the sentiments they uttered. I cannot say as much for any other young ladies in the room, for there are none others here above the common run of ordinarily intelligent girls—none who may not really be classed with common people in the true acceptation of the term."

"And take them all in all," added Mrs. Lemmington with warmth, "you will find nothing common about them. Look at their dress; see how perfect in neatness, in adaptation of colors and arrangement to complexion and shape, is everything about them. Perhaps there will not be found a single young lady in the room, besides them, whose dress does not show some [illegible] in keeping with good taste. [illegible] manners. Are they not grace[illegible] and yet full of nature's own expression.—In a word, is there anything about them that is 'common?'"

"Nothing that my eye has detected," replied Mrs. Florence.

"Except their origin," half sneeringly rejoined Mrs. Marygold.

"They were born of woman," was the grave remark. "Can any of us boast a higher origin?"

"There are various ranks among women," Mrs. Marygold said, firmly.

"True. But,

'The rank is but the guinea's stamp,
The man's the gold for a' that.'

Mere position in society does not make any of us more or less a true woman. I could name you over a dozen or more in my circle of acquaintance, who move in what is called the highest rank: who, in all that truly constitutes a woman, are incomparably below Mrs. Clayton; who, if thrown with her among perfect strangers, would be instantly eclipsed. Come then, Mrs. Marygold, lay aside all these false standards, and estimate woman more justly. Let me, to begin, introduce both yourself and Melinda to the young ladies this evening. You will be charmed with them, I know, and equally charmed with their mother when you know her."

"No, ma'am," replied Mrs. Marygold, drawing herself up with a dignified air.—"I have no wish to cultivate their acquaintance, or the acquaintance of any person in their station. I am surprised that Mrs. Harwood has not had more consideration for her friends than to compel them to come in contact with such people."

No reply was made to this; and the next remark of Mrs. Florence was about some matter of general interest.

"Henry Florence has not been here for a week," said Mrs. Marygold to her daughter Melinda, some two months after the period at which the conversation just noted occurred.

"No; and he used to come almost every evening," was Melinda's reply, made in a tone that expressed disappointment.

"I wonder what can be the reason?" Mrs. Marygold said, half aloud, half to herself, but with ovident feelings of concern. The reason of her concern and Melinda's disappointment arose from the fact that both had felt pretty sure of securing Henry Florence as a member of the Marygold family—such connection, from his standing in society, being especially desirable.

At the very time the young man was thus alluded to by Mrs. Marygold and her daughter, he sat conversing with his mother upon a subject that seemed, from the expression of his countenance, to be of much interest to him.

"And so you do not feel inclined to favor any preference on my part towards Miss Marygold?" he said, looking steadily into his mother's face.

"I do not, Henry," was the frank reply.

"Why not?"

"There is something too common about her, if I may so express myself."

"Too common! What do you mean by that?"

"I mean that there is no distinctive character about her. She is, like the large mass around us, a mere made-up girl."

"Speaking in riddles."

"I mean then, Henry, that her character has been formed, or made up, by mere external accretions from the common place vague, and often too false notions of things that prevail in society, instead of by the force of sound internal principles, seen to be true from a rational institution, and acted upon because they are true. Cannot you perceive the difference?"

"O yes, plainly. And this is why you use the word 'common,' in speaking of her?"

"The very reason. And now, my son, can you not see that there is force in my objection to her—that she really does not possess any character distinctively her own, that is founded upon a clear and rational appreciation of abstractly correct principles of action?"

"I cannot say that I differ from you very widely," the young man said, thoughtfully. "But, if you call Melinda 'common,' where shall I go to find one who may be called 'uncommon?'"

"I can point you to one."

"Say on."

"You have met Fanny Cayton?"

"Fanny Clayton!" ejaculated the young man, taken by surprise, the blood rising to his face. "O yes, I have met her."

"She is no common girl, Henry," Mrs. Florence said, in a serious voice. "She has not her equal in my circle of acquaintances."

"Nor in mine either," replied the young man, recovering himself. "But you would not feel satisfied to have your son address Miss Clayton?"

"And why not, pray? Henry, I have never met with a young lady whom I would rather see your wife than Fanny Clayton."

"And I," rejoined the young man with equal warmth, "never met with any one whom I could truly love until I saw her sweet young face."

"Then never think again of one like Melinda Marygold. You could not be rationally happy with her."

"Five or six months rolled away, during a large portion of which time the fact that Henry Florence was addressing Fanny Clayton formed a theme for pretty free comment in various quarters. Most of Henry's acquaintance heartily approved his choice; but Mrs. Marygold, and a few like her, all with daughters of the "common" class, were deeply incensed at the idea of a "common kind of a girl" like [illegible]ton being forced into genteel so[illegible]nsequence that would of course [illegible] marrige. Mrs. Marygold hesitated not to declare that, for her part, let others do as they liked, she was not going to associate with her—that was settled.—She had too much regard to what was due to her station in life. As for Melinda, she had no very kind feelings for her succesful rival—and such a rival too! A mere schoolmaster's daughter! And she hesitated not to speak of her often and in no very corteous terms.

When the notes of invitation to the wedding at length came, which ceremony was to be performed in the house of Mr. Clayton, in Sycamore Row, Mrs. Marygold declared that to send her an invitation to go to such a place was a downright insult.—As the time, however, drew near, and she found that Mrs. Harwood and a dozen others equally respectable in her eyes were going to the weding, she managed to smother her indignation so far as, at length, to make up her mind to be present at the nuptial ceremonies. But it was not until her ears were almost stunned by the repeated and earnestly expressed congratulations to Mrs. Florence at the amirable choice made by her son, and that too by those whose tastes and opinions she dared not dispute, that she could perceive anything even passable in the beautiful young bride.

Gradually, however, as the younger Mrs. Florence, in the process of time, took her true position in the social circle, even Mrs. Marygold could begin to perceive the intrinsic excellence of her character, altho' even this was more a tacit assent to a universal opinion that a discovery of her own.

As for Melinda, she was married about a year after Fanny Clayton's wedding, to a sprig of gentility with about as much force of character as herself. This took place on the same night that Lieut. Harwood, son of the Mrs. Harwood before alluded to, led to the altar Mary Clayton, the sister of Fanny, who was conceded by all to be the loveliest girl they had ever seen—lovely, not only in face and form, but lovliness itself in the sweet perfections of moral beauty. As for Lieut. Harwood, he was worthy the heart he had won.

A 'Tramping' Printer.

Among the prisoners before the mayor this morning was one Washington Franklin Thompson, who was found by a city officer sleeping in an open lot. A plush cap, jeans coat, and a striped pair of cassinetts completed his dress, and although much the worse for wear, had been so nicely brushed in the watch house that he made quite a respectable appearance in the dock. He seemed impatient for his turn; and when called up arose with a dignified air and solemn demeanor.

'The watchman tells me you were drunk last night,' said his Honor to him.

'Quite likely,' he replied, 'but greater men than I have been in the same condition. The whigs says Franklin Pierce is a drunkard, and the locofocos always urged that 'Old Harry' took his tod in his young days.'

'That may all be true sir, but drunkenness is punishable here. Where did you come from?'

That's rather a tough question. I have no particular abiding place.

'What is your business?'

'A printer by profession, and a pedestrain by practice.'

'Do you work at the printing business?'

'When my pockets or my stomach requires it I do. To explain, I have always had a strong desire to see the world, and although as poor in pocket as Bill Allen in flesh, I have endeavored to gratify this burning curiosity. I have tramped through twenty states, two territories, and the British provinces, and am now on my road to California, by way of the plains.'

'But you say you are poor. How do you manage to feed and clothe yourself?'

'Easy enough. When on a tramp country people are always glad to accommodate me with meals or lodging for the news I bring them. I generally manage to replenish my wardrobe by sharp trades with verdant persons. My refreshment money I earn by the sweat of my brow at printing offices in small towns.'

'But do you not often suffer in your travels?'

'Never, unless I get into a temperance country, I own nothing—therefore have no fear of loss. Walk on turnpikes—have no fear of tolls. Am a good talker—have no fear of losing a meal. Always keep within the bounds of civilization, and am confident I can humbug somebody.'

'But you get drunk—was drunk last night.'

'That was purely accidental. I started from Columbus for Indianapolis, but took the wrong road, and before I was aware of the mistake, found myself here. This induced me to take an extra tod, and the liquor you keep here is so d——d bad, that it destroyed my equilibrium. Miserable liquor down here—havn't been dead drunk for ten years before.

'You said you were anxious to pursue your journey?'

'Nothing shorter, as the b'hoys say, and by your leave, I will forthwith turn my face towards the Father of Waters, on the bosom of which Tom Benton once saw the 'yellow boys' floating up stream. Do you know, of all your statesmen, Tom's my favorite?'

'Indeed.'

'Yes; and Bill Allen stands second best with me. What does your honor say—shall I depart?'

'Why, if you'll promise—'

'Promises I never make. But if any of your vigilant watchman catch Franklin inebriated again punish him, that's all. I've never yet visited the interior of a prison, except in the capacity of a philanthropist, and by your leave, never will.'

'From your manner I think I can trust you. You may go.'

'Much obliged. If I should turn my attention to mining after I get to California, and I return this way, you shall have a snuff of my maiden dust. I wish you good morning. And you, (to the watchman) I wish you promotion in the ranks.'

So saying the tramping printer left the court. At the door he inquired the shortest road to Dayton, and being told moved off at a regular travelling pace.—Dollar Weekly.

'Fast' Youth.—The Oswego Journal thus expatiates on the 'progress' ways of our rising generation;

Boys are nearly an extinct race. There is scarcely an intermediate stage between diaper and desperadoism. The rowdy infant is no sooner out of his long cloths than he exhibits the incipient traits of the dandy 'loafer, and by the time he is fairly jacketed, he wants a tobacco-pouch, a pack of cards, and learns to swear like a pirate.—At the age of ten, he begins to run with the 'masheen,' and his mother knows he is out, because he is very seldom in. At the age of twelve, he smokes, drinks, and speaks of his parents, as 'the old man and old woman.' At fifteen he wants a gold watch and revolver, and talks about 'lamming everybody that don't keep out of his way. At eighteen, he is the 'fastest' youth about town, talks of setting up for himself, scribbles love-letters, and becomes a perfect adept in games of chance; can drink more champaigne, and eat more raw oysters, than any man of his inches. About this time, his father withholds his spending money, and the young hopeful thinks it a capital idea to run away where he can enjoy his 'liberty,' and after sowing his 'wild oats' abroad, returns satisfied that the 'old folks' are not such great fools after all.

We were highly amused, not long since, at hearing a young hopeful, some twelve years of age, whom some person called a boy' exclaim: 'Call me a boy! where is your men!' We also overheard two juveniles, not yet out of their aprons, offering to bet the cigares that Scott would be elected, because he was 'a bigger man than General Pierce.' Another little lad who was sweating away at the stove, trying to light an old stump of a cigar, on being advised to leave off that filthy habit, replied with the utmost gravity, that 'it was very hard work to break off smoking, as he had smoked ever since he was a small boy.'—Almost daily, we may see little three-footers, with lighted projections in their mouths, swaggering along, puffing and spitting, after the most approved rowdy style. A glance at the marvelous developments and precocious intellects, exhibited by the young Misses of this effeminate generation must be deferred until another day.

A Chilling Interview. In Professor Goodrich's "British eloquence," we find the following piquant anecdote illustrative of the ascendency of Lord Chatham (William Pitt) over the Duke of Newcastle.—The former was then prime minister, and the latter was at the head of the treasury. Newcastle was a valetudinarian, and was so fearful of taking cold, especially, that he often ordered the windows of the House of Lords to be shut in the hottest weather, while the rest of the peers were suffering for want of breath. On one occasion he called upon Pitt, who was confined to his bed by the gout. Newcastle, on being led into the bed chamber, found the room, to his dismay, without fire, in a cold wintry afternoon. He begged to have one kindled, but Pitt refused, it might be injurious to his gout. Newcastle drew his cloak around him, and submitted with the worst possible grace. The conference was a long one, and the discussion continued until the Duke was absolutely shivering with cold; when at last, seeing another bed in an opposite corner, he slipped in and covered himself with the bed clothes! A secretary coming in soon after, found the two ministers in this curious predicament, with their faces only visible, bandying the argument with great earnestness, from one bed side to the other!

Count the Cost.

What has ardent spirits done in the United States in ten years?

It has made at least one hundred maniacs.

It has destroyed three hundred thousand lives.

It has caused two thousand persons to commit suicide.

It has sent one hundred thousand children to the poor house.

It has cost the nation an indirect expense of six hundred million of dollars.

It has cost the nation a direct expense of six hundred millions of dollars.

It has instigated to the commission of one thousand five hundred murders.

It has made two hundred thousand widows, and one million of orphan children.

It has burned or otherwise destroyed property to the amount of ten millions of dollars.

It has caused more misery and suffering in the world than famine, pestilence, and the sword.

It has consigned at least one hundred and fifty thousand persons to the jails and penitentiaries.

Such are the effects of ardent spirits.

—A cockney, after dilating on the superiority of English poultry, said he was "hastonished at the hexemplification of hignorance displayed by the Hamerican people in raising 'ens."

The young lady who caught cold by drinking water from a damp tumbler, is convalescent.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

The Republican.

KEESEVILLE:

Saturday Morning Jan. 29.

The Union of Lakes, the Union of Lands,
The Union of States none can sever,
The Union of Hearts, the Union of Hands,
The Flag of Our UNION—Forever."

"It is jealousy's peculiar nature
To a well small things to great; nay, out of naught
To conjure much: and then to lose its reason
Amid the hideous phantome it has formed."

The most unreasonable, and disagreeable individual is he whose passions are inflamed by envy and jealousy. It has been our fortune as an editor to have such for cotemporaries who from honorable competitors have descended to factious and purile opposition. We have thus been compelled to drag into our paper personal matters as unwillingly as they are unwelcome to our readers.—We have even passed over without notice many private and public insults and suffered injustice rather than soil our columns with such matters. in the hopo that time, experience, and common sense would suggest to these cotemporaries the utter futility of such a course, and the certain disasters which are ever sure to fall upon those who are so weak as to try it. Two out of three of those who have thus blessed us with this kind of opposition have found out the truth of the foregoing remarks to their sorrow, and the third will meet with a retribution as just, but more overwhelming. Ever since its existence the editors of the Elizabethtown Post, urged on by that "green eyed monster," have treated us in private in a manner unbecoming gentlemen, and have done what they could to cast the influence of their paper against us. All this only excited a smile, but an article in the last number entitled "A nice family arrangement" is of such a character as to make it our duty to break the silence which we had imposed upon ourself towards that paper. The articles referred to is too lengthy for a place entire. but we give its substance: 1. An apology for introducing personal matters. 2. A complimentary notice of the Sheriff elect. 3. Alludes to the patronage of that office, and sinister influences which surround such officers. 4. The appointment of Deputy at Elizabethtown is said to be "a lion in the way of a certain gentleman whom it might ho invidious to mention, and the beast must be slain if possible—if not, at least muzzled and starved." 5. Sherriff Sales had found their way into the columns of the Post, and "the wrath of the said gentleman waxed hot thereat, and he swore to 'crush the wretch' that was thus diminishing the revenues of his own pocket.—But how to do it was a question that long perplexed his mighty mind." 6. That a "document was drawn up with all formality, duly signed and sealed and dire were the disasters thersin threatened to the party and the world, should not its solemn admonitions be heeded. At the fitting moment just before the appointment of the deputy at the County town was consummated, it was delivered to the incoming sheriff, and all its horrid burthen was left to weigh upon his mind. It wrought its work; the deputy was appointed and pledged not to give any printing, so much as a line, to the obnoxious Post." (Sad to relate.) 7. This is called "unheardof proscription" for which no reason can be given "fit for the public ear." "It cannot be on party grounds; for we commend our paper on the basis of neutrality in politics" nor on "personal grounds," nor was there any "pecuniary necessity" for it. It is also called an "unwonted course," "petty tricks" and "corruption." 8. That they "would have been content to leave the matter where it always has been left, to the attornies." 9. That "the Post still thrives," and if they "lose anything by this method of attack" they "are very much mistaken." 10. They "wish all concerned joy of their success, and as for the instigator of the matter," they "beg him to accept renewed assurances of their profound contempt."

This extraordinary and vulgar ebulition of passion demands a reply, not only on our own account, but that of the sheriff, and the party. To those Editors our reply is, they are meddling with that which is none of their business. They are guilty of an impertinence and of language of which they will he ashamed when they shall have given it a little cool reflection. To them this is a sufficient answer, but to the whigs of the county, we have to say,

As to the facts, No "documents" were drawn up, nor "threats" made, nor "horrid" burthens, nor "tests" of appointment imposed. Equally imaginary are those "disasters dirs" which seemed to flit across the brain of those editors like "spectres dim." The facts are simply these: Aware of the extreme anxiety on the part of a portion of the people of Elizabethtown to sustain the Post; we determined to take such a course as would relieve the sheriff from any imputations of partiality, or "family arrangements." We first suggested to a leading whig at Elizabethtown, and a right hand friend of the Post, that the advertising of the Sheriff belonged to the organ of the party, and we intended to ask it of the incoming sheriff. The claim was promptly, and fully conceded as proper, and right.—We offered to have our claim recommended hy leading whigs if it would save all contention and all imputations of "family arrangements." This that gentleman deemed entirely useless, and said that the sheriff, being a whig, and elected as a whig, would be expected to patronize the whig paper. We then called on a democratic friend of the Post, and another of its right hand men and informed him frankly what we intended to do. He said "it was what he expected, and was all right—he had no fault to find." We then called on the Deputy, and he also acceded when for the first time we mentioned the matter to the Sheriff, and that is the whole of this affair in which the Editors of the Post lose the equanimity for which they are so justly noted. It is not necessary to state what we would have done had our claim been contested by the friends of the Post. We leave that to the vivid and classic imagination of our two-penny cotemporaries. We will only say that we mean to have what belongs to us if we can get it, and shall use all the steps to that end which may Finally, when we state that the advertisement of sheriff sales has never been left to "attornies" until the Post came into existance, the article will be left in its naked deformity—a flagrant violation of professed neutrality, a gross attack upon individuals, low and grovelling in its language and sentiments, and deserving, as we doubt not it will receive, the reprehension of all honorable men.

Fun Ahead.

The "Harmonious Democracy" are affording merriment to the outsiders by the quantity. They "buzz" like swarming bees, and unless some of the old Sachems come to the rescue with dirt, water and the rattling of tin pans, there is danger of their being lost. In New York City, the two factions had a regular knock down, several were indicted and convicted, and there are now two setts of Committees watching the destiny of the party.—Boston, New York, and Washington are the seats of a growing strife. which will result in open war unless soon settled. Pierce wants to take into his cabinet a representative of all the isms which contributed to his Election.—To this the old liners object, and Pierce is in trouble. Visiters to Concord are as numerous as Pilgrims to Mecca. Two Committees from N. Y representing each faction are now besieging Pierce. Should Dix, or Jeff. Davis be nominated to a Cabinet office the Senate threaten to reject them—the former as an unprincipled, time serving barnburner, and the latter as a disunionist. The Senate would be right, particularly as to the latter, for no opportunity should be omitted to brand disunion with disapprobation. Whether Pierce is timid or in the fog is yet unsettled. In either case, he is a gon-er, and the party will return to its original elements. The happy days of the democracy passed away with Election.—Now come strife, jealousy, bickerings, fights, the natural result of the unprincipled combinations which brought about the late democratic triumph. Wanting in any leading principles, having no object in common save the spoils of office, dissimilar in almost all the ordinary questions of the day, professing all things, yet expecting to perform none, the day of that triumph was an era big with future events, and we think of sad and sorrowful events to this country. But of that, let us wait and see. In the mean time let us be merry over the "happy family," now quarrelling over the division of their short livid patrimony.

The Legislature.

This body being largely democratic, whigs have nothing to do, but to look on—often a useful and profitable employment. The canals occupy no small share of attention. The democracy play off like a trout about a hook. They will have to face the music before the close of the session.—Mr. D. B. Taylor hunker dem. from N. Y. City, gave notice of a bill. authorising owners of slaves to traverse the State with their "property."

The corruptions practised in the New York City Government also attract attention, and an effort is to be made to probe, and cure it. The Militia, taxes, village charters, the law of libel, Banks and Banking, Insurance &c. &c. &c., come in for a share of attention. but nothing as yet of special importance unless it be in the proceedings of the Assembly, Jany. 21, reported in these words:

Mr. B. T. Gilmore, to repeal the act to Incorporate the Society of Tammany.

The "Society of Tammany," with its head quarters at Tammany Hall, in the Tammany Hotel, where General Cass denuded himself in a speech just before the late election, has long exercised a powerful influence in the affairs of the democracy. That it was a secret and an incorporated society is doubtless news to many an unsophisticated democrat Its demise is not a matter of regret.

The Temperance Demonstration at Albany on the 18th, 19th, 20th, and 21st, Inst.—We have not seen an estimate of the number of people who gathered at the Capitol on those days, but the procession has been stated as not as large as that of last year. We learn from an eye witness, however, that the city was crowded with visitors, and the procession large beautiful, and enthusiastic. Meetings were held in the assembly chamber, in all the churches, and public places, where eloquent speeches were delivered by the ablest advocates of the cause. The Ladies were largely represented, and had Lady's meetings, with female speakers. While the friends of temperance have every reason tobe proud of this demonstration, they have little, or nothing to hope from this Legislature.

Livingston's Monthly Law Magazine, Vol. 1, No. 1. for Jan. 1853.—This publication takes the place of the U. S. Law Magazine. Price $3, a year postage one cent a number. It is a book of about 80 pages on good paper and handsomely printed. Future numbers are promised to equal this which contains a portrait and biographical sketch of D. W. Barringer, and original articles on the right to recover damages with preliminary remarks on the three elements of proof, that deft. has wronged plf. that plf. has incurred a loss, that the loss was the natural and proximate consequence of the wrong. The editorial Department contains a variety of information interesting to the profession; condensed Reports of recent and important American Cases occupy a large space. The profession is greatly indebted to Mr. Livingston for his Law Register by which its members are made acquainted, and every one is extensively advertised. Address, John Livingston, 157, Broadway, New York.

Revolution in Navigation.—The first experiment of propelling vessels by heated air was made last week in New York, and with entire success. The discoverer's name is Ericson, a name to be associated with that of Fulton, and others, whose inventions have blessed mankind. The speed made was about 9 miles an hour. The expense of running is about 1-5 that of a steam engine of the same power. It is believed that it can be made to propel Locomotives on Rail Roads and applied Iron and Nails.

Blooms and bar iron have gone up $15 per ton since last summer. Railroad iron from $48 to $75, with the almost absolute certainty of going up to $90 per ton in a short time.—Nails have gone up from $2,75 and $3,00 per 100 lbs to $5,00, and are on the point of another hoist to $6.

Thus in a few months have prices ranged from one extreme to another—from losing to the very highest point of profit. The change is extraordinary—its recital startles every one with surprise. We refer to the subject for the purpose of a few remarks in view of the erroneous impressions abroad thereon. The principle error to which we desire to call attention is the false conclusion, viz: that these high prices prove that we need no protection. But there are kindred errors, such as, when prices were at their lowest rates, prevailed among farmers. of satisfaction with the present tariff because they could buy nails cheap, not looking to a future contingency like the present, and that other inconsistent error which was urged during the late election when prices were improving—"See, prices are improving in spito of, and without a high tariff."

It is a good time also to recall some of the free trade vagaries, and we cannot do more service than to state a little of our own experience during the late campaign: It was our fortune to have numerous convorsations with democrats up and down the Ausable Valley, and urge upon them the support of the whig ticket on the ground of Protection to American labor. Notwithstanding the fugle-men gave out that the democracy were as right as the whigs on the tariff, such a reply we never heard from the rank and file, or if given it was directly abandoned for two other reasons, given in succession, 1. opposition to an increase of the duties because it "taxed" them to build up "monopolies" as they were pleased erroneously to denominate all heavy iron establishments, and 2, they were in fact in favor of approaching as near to free trade as they could and raise sufficient revenue for the support of the Government. These replies were given in all sincerity, and are the real sentiments of the democratic party. Now a few words will illustrate the utter folly, and ignorance which adopts the errors, and leads to the conclusions we have named. Indeed, the very facts we quote at the opening of this article are of themselves a complete refutation of all these vagaries. How are prices effected? Why, by various causes, but that which operates at present is the great increase of the demand over the supply. Under the tariff of 1846 a great portion of our manufacturies went down,—ruin and devestation were wide spread, and fatal, few only of the heaviest remaining. The business was left in the hands of the few and of foreigners. The supply, and the competition both were thus great, and prices were at their lowest rates. Of a sudden, from various causes, the foreign supply entirely ceased, leaving the business in the hands of our own few establishments which had survived the general wreck. Thus the demand has exceeded the means of supply and of course prices have advanced in proportion. Had the tariff of '42 been continued, foreign iron would have been kept out of the markets, the supply would have been kept good by our own manufactories, business would have been steady, failures and destitution avoided, and prices would have been kept down by competition, and improvements in machinery. As it is, this shortsighted democracy, aiming to injure establishments which excited their envy, and jealousy, have only destroyed the people's establishments—those thousands of forges scattered all over every town, and presenting a market to every man's door—while those big establishments to which they pointed with such evident hate are collecting their profits by hundreds and thousands of dollars a day! What a commentary upon democratic folly! Now, indeed the people are "taxed" to "make the rich, richer"—but they must bear in mind that it is not whig policy, and no one is to blame save themselves—it is a result against which whigs have earnestly labored, and warred in vain.—We hope the latter will treasure up these facts and suggestions, and occasionally remind their democratic neighbours of the plain lessons they teach, remembering that it is the smallest establishments which need protection and which would be benefitted by it. The large ones will take care of themselves, and never more successfully, than in "hard times," and in a general crash, when money is omnipotent.

The Henry Clay and the Raindeer.

Our readers will remember the sad disaster which befel these boats last fall, and the indictment of the officers and owners of whom Thos. Collyer was one. The indictments came on for trial in the U. S. Cicuit in N. Y. on the 14th, when a motion to quash the indictments was made by the Counsel for the defence, but were denied by the Court. The case of the Clay was postponed to a subsequent term, and the other proceeded. The latter was brought to a close on Friday last, when the jury, being unable to agree, were discharged. Let justice be done and racing and accidents done away with.

Sr. Armand.—A friend just in our Sanctum from this town gives us a favorable account of its prospects. Though situated far back it is destined to be a valuable one. It is not only a good farming town, but its lumber and iron interests are immense. A new Iron Ore bed has been opened on the farm of Nathaniel C. Clark, equal to all the wants of this river. A new Gristmill as nice as anything in this section has been built recently by Pierce, Dickensons & Co. The same company are also putting up a fine Sawmill—And what is better, there will be a whig Supervisor from that town hereafter. Mark that.

The Soldiers of 1812.—Notice of a bill for their relief has been given in the Legislature of this State. We do n... subject has been so long delay... are entitled to relief, or else o...

ANALYSIS.

BY PROFESSOR SALLSBURY.

Copper ore from Essex County, No. 86.

Copper	46,70
Iron	10,45
Carbonic Acid	23,10
Silica	19,60
	99,85

No. 86 is a carbonate of copper. The analysis made from the richest portion of the sample furnished. This carbonate will be very valuable, if the ore is found in workable quantities.

Analysis of Mineral Waters from Essex County.

I have no information relative to the manner in which these waters were secured at the springs. As received at the labratory, No. 3, 4 and 6, were in common junk bottles, securely corked. No. 5 was in a small rectangular bottle. The quantity of No. 5 was too small to make the analysis perfect, as would have been desirable. On removing the corks I found in No. 3 a mere trace of sulphurated hydrogen, in the other no trace of this gas or carbonic acid gas could be detected. They all contained a small quantity of ferraginous sediment.—No. 5 contained more than either of the others. No. 6 has a slightly bituminous or aspholtum odor. (Whether this arises from something which was previously in the bottle or from the water itself I was unable to say; will Mr. Watson examine the water at the spring and let me know.) No. 4 and 5 a slight earthy odor. No. 3, a slightly foetid odor. There is nothing very peculiar in the taste of either of these waters, different from that common to all waters, which contains organic matter, and the ackolic and alkaline earthes in small quantities.

Analysis of No 3, from L. Pope's, Chesterfield. Dr Talmadge.

1 Gallon of water contains 12,16 grains of solid matter. 100 parts of this sold matter gave of

Organic matter	31,98
Magnesia	23,39
Sulphuric acid	10,13
Lime	11,03
Potass	6,01
Soda	3,32
Carbonic acid	6,40
Phosphoric acid	5,11
Chlorine	1,82
Iron	0.51
Silica	0,23
Sulphurated Hydrogen	Trace
	99,93

The bases in this water are combined with organic matter sulphuric and phosphoric acid and chlorine. The sulphuric acid is probably in part combined with the Magnesia, giving to the water a very brackish taste. This may well be called, a calcareo magnesian water from the presence of so large a quantity of magnesia and lime.—Besides these bodies it contains a respectable quantity of potassa, soda, sulphuric and phosphuric acid and chlorine. There is nothing very peculiar in this water which would recommend it as a medicine.

The Musical Review and Choral Advocate.—This is the title of a new candidate for popular favor. The number before us is certainly the most attractive musical Magazine we have seen and must succeed. It is only $1 a year, and contains 16 pages filled with every variety of matter suited to musical readers, with six pieces of music. C. M. Cady, Editor. Published by F. J. Huntington, and Mason and Law, 23 Park Row, N. Y.

Mrs. Whittlesey's Magazine for Mothers and Daughters.—This is a monthly publication, designed to advance and purify the social relations, preparatory to the life to come. It is pure and elevating, and has for contributors some of the first writers, male and female in the country. 1 copy 1 year $1. 4 copies $3. 7 copies $5. 15 copies $10. Address, Henry W. Whittlesy, 151 Nassau St. New York.

The Whig Almanac.—We are indebted to the publishers for this valuable register for 1853. It contains a great variety of valuable information, Election returns, agricultural, and religious statistics, population of the U. S. and Canadas, biographical sketches of Webster and Clay, &c., &c. It ought to be had by every family as it is a convenient reference for all the prominent events of the day.

Price 12½ cts, single, $1. per dozen, $7 per 100. Grecly and McElrath, New York.

☞It is said that in a certain locofoco district in Kentuokey the democracy refused to contribute to the Washington Monument Fund because Washington was a Whig.—Ex paper.

No Doubt of it. We have heard a leading democrat of this County speak disrespectfully of Washington as a whig, and a federal, using the latter term in the sense in which democrats apply it.

—Rev. Byron Sunderland, of Syracuse, has received a call to the Frst Presbyterian church in Washington city.

Mr. Sunderland taught a select school at Port Henry a few years ago, since which he has acquired a great reputation as a Pulpit Orator.

Public Documents.—We are indebted to Hon. Jonathan Burnett for the Report of the Comptroller, and Govrs. Message, for which he will please accept our thanks.—Also for a printed list of the Committees.

☞We would call attention to the advertisement of the "Illustrated News," in another column. We will speak of its merits when we receive the Back numbers.

Gov. Clifford of Mass. on the occasion of his inauguration recently was dressed in a blue coat, with metal buttons, a buff vest, and black pantaloons.

Day Book.—Our readers will find ...ertisement in another column of to... ...aper of this spicy Daily. Its Editor ...

Written for The Republican.

Withering, withering, withering all!
O'er friends that we cherish, the funeral pall
Is gathering swiftly—one by one,
They are fading away. Oh, how many are gone.

The glow of youth seems fading all;
Reality's stamp ineffacable
Has shown us stern truths since the leaves were green,
Let us not rebel, nor thankless seem.

Withering, withering, fading all—
Like autumn leaves that round us fall;
Shivering with cold, with sorrow riven,
Take them, Father, to thee in Heaven.

Withering, withering! Father above,
Help us to bow 'neath thy rod of love,
Help us to garner our treasures in Heaven,
Where no perishing flower is with life's wreath woven. C.

Keeseville, Dec. 25, 1852.

☞The following is a bill which the Chairman of the Naval Committee of the House will introduce at the first opportunity.

Be it enacted, &c, That the President of the United States, be and he is hereby authorized to cause to be built, equiped and armed with the most effective ordinance, three Frigates and three Sloops of War, to be added to the Navy, and all to be furnished with the motive power of steam, or of heated air as recently applied by Ericsson, if that should prove to be perferable to steam; and for this purpose, two millions five hundred thousand dollars are appropriated.

Ericsson Engines in the Navy.—The agent of Capt. Ericsson and others, of New York, have proposed to furnish the Secretary of the Navy with one or more vessels to be propelled with the Eriesson engines, which are to attain a speed of 9 knots an hour. The proposition has been requested to send his new vessel on to Washington. This has been agreed to, and she is to beat Washington within 30 days.

☞We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Leonard Scott & Co's reprints in another column, and unhesitatingly commend them to our readers.

☞The N. O. Commercial Bulletin urges a Ship Canal across the isthmus of Florida to the city. Go ahead.

Written expressly for The Republican.

CHARADE.

My first the student has to do,
Or else his precious moments lose;
Without this act—I know it true,
No knowledge e'er to him accrues.
My next was oft the dwelling place,
Of men, where wild the Arab strays;
Time can its being not efface,
With sects and "Sons" in later days.
My third and last of letters four,
Is not a word in English tongue;
Cut off the last, and read no more,
And to this race all men belong.
My whole is what revives the weak,
Gives joy for sorrow—peace and bliss;
Wards off the winds of Fortune bleak—
The Element of Happiness.

Suivalp.

Keeseville, January 22, 1853.
Solution is requested.

Miscellaneous Enigma.—I am composed of 21 letters.
My 2, 20, 5, is a man's name.
My 9, 13, 5, 10, is a word often used by school teachers.
My 1, 11, 12, 1, is literally, a journey.
My 14, 7, is the second syllable of my second name.
My 3, 8, 16, is a Latin word.
My 20, 17, 4, 13, is always an adverb.
My 21, 15, 21, is a species of titmouse.
My 19, 7, 18, is a French word, signifying quiet.
My 6, 8, 16, is a stalk for cattle.
My whole you'll know, as soon as you
Can solve this question, "right and true."
If you can't solve it, do not sigh,
But remember, my name's
L. N, B——ye.

Keeseville, January, 1853.
Answer next week.

Quarterly Report.

STATEMENT showing the true condition of the Essex County Bank, an Incorporated Bank, on the morning of Saturday, the 25th day of December, 1852.

RESOURCES.

1. Loans and Discounts, except to Directors and Brokers.		239,821 39
2. Loans and Discounts to Directors of this Bank,		4,000 00
3. All other Liabilities, absolute or contingent, of Directors of this Bank. $3,808.54
4. All sums due from Brokers,
5. Real Estate.		9,242 77
6. Bonds and Mortgages,		1,238 33
7. 8. Stocks, $200; and Promissory Notes other than for Loans and Discounts, $
9. Loss and Expense Account $609.41; Bank Fund, $		809 41
10. Overdrafts,		1,656 76
11. Specie,		5,275 17
12. Cash Items, consisting of the following items, viz: Sundry small checks		317 15
13. Bills of Solvent Banks on hand		5,258 00
14 15, Bills of Suspended Banks on hand, $; Estimate value, $
16. Due from Banks, viz: From Solvent Banks on demand,		44,458 07
17. From Solvent Banks on credit,
18, 19. From Suspended Banks on demand, $; Estimated value, $
20, 21. From Suspended Banks on credit, $; Estimated value, $
		$312,077 05

LIABILITIES.

1. Capital	100.000
2. Profits,	28,416 38
Old Emission Bank Notes not destroyed or returned to the Comptroller $2.684
Less Old Emission Bank Notes on hand, 216
3. Leaves Old Emission Bank Notes in Circulation,	2,468 00
Registered Bank Notes received from the Comptroller and not returned, $147,316
Less Registered Bank Notes on hand, 1,059
4. Leaves Registered Banks Notes in Circulation	146,257 00
5. Due Treasurer of the State of New York,
6. Due Commissioners of the Canal Fund,
7. Due Depositors on Demand	34,885 04
8. Due Individuals and Corporations other than Banks and Depositors
9. Due Banks on demand
10. Due Banks on credit
11. Due to others not included under either of the above heads	50 63
	$312,077 05

I. A. HASBROUCK,

DRUGGIST AND BOOKSELLER,

Will supply Dealers in Keeseville, and towns adjoining at the manufacturers lowest prices, at wholesale in any quantity. Devines Compound Pitch Lozenge.

Read This.

Here is the Effect of less than One Dozen Boxes. Certificate of a Gentleman well known.

I do feel greatful for what "Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge" has done for me, and heartily wish all that are afflicted knew, as I do, its worth.

Almost every man in Whitehall knows that I have been so afflicted that for almost a year I could not speak aloud: with a distressing cough, pain in the side, loins and shoulders; and the opinion of the physicians was that for me there was a step only to the grave.

I commenced the use of the Lozenge in September last, soon after Mr. Reune introduced the article at our place, and I have gained my voice! and am congratulated daily by the business men on my returning health, which I attribute, under a good Providence, to the above Pitch Lozenge. Ezra Falkenbury.

Whitehall, December 7, 1852.

If it will cure Consumption, is it not sure for colds coughs, &c. Try it reader.

See advertisement in another column.

Hats, Caps, Robes
&c. &c. &c.

BARNUM, Hatter. Wholesale and Retail, College Street, 2d door from Church, is now prepared to protect his friends the Ladies and gentlemen, from the cold piercing blasts of this extremely cold region, with the best assortment of all kinds of Ladies and gentlemen's Furs; he will not enumerate, but will keep anything in the line of Furs to be found in market anywhere,—Furs made to order or any kind ordered by Telegraph which he may fail to have,—Also, received a large assortment of Hats, Caps, Ladies and Misses felt Hats, a new style of Plush Caps, Carpet Bags, Umbrellas, Trunks, Gloves, Cains, &c.. &c.—Mr. Giles T. Mead is employed at the above establishment, and will officiate in his former capacity, You are respectfully invited to call and examine the Patent Fire Annihilator which is admited on all hands, to have rendered very efficient service towards the saving of Levensworth's Block, at the late fire.

Nov, 13, 1851. 445-tf

RAIL ROAD

Through Keeseville!!

The Cars will stop 30 minutes in front of

Cardwell's Celebrated
CLOTHING STORE,

in order to give the passengers an opportunity to clothe themselves up in prop r and appropriate costume, adapted to their destination whether North or South.

Almost every thing for the outer man in the shape of

Ready-Made Clothing,

may be found at this store.

Just returned from the South, and having on hand a very heavy stock of WINTER GOODS at this advanced stage of the season, great bargains are being made. All of my garments are cut and made up in the latest styles. Owing to the great increase in my trade, I have thought it a saving of time and labor to adopt the ONE PRICE SYSTEM which gives perfect satisfaction to all.

N. B. Wholesale Buyers will find it to their advantage to call and examine as they can buy just as cheap as at the South, and save their time, fare and freight.

☞Sales exclusively for cash.

ADIRONDAC HOTEL BUILDING.
G. A. CARDWELL.

Keeseville, January 1, 1853.

ASSIGNEES NOTICE.

All persons having claims against Joseph Hoffnagle of Willsborough, Essex County, New York that existed on or previous to the 1st day of April, A. D. 1850, are requested to present the same to the undersigned, assignee of said Hoffnagle, at the office of the Undersigned in Willsborough aforesaid, without delay, for settlement and liquidation—Dated January 25th 1853.

Dudley H. Jones, Assignee.

456:—3w.

CORLIES & DECKER,

(Successors to J. N. & E. W. Corlies,)
—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—
TEAS,

Agents for the Sale of
Manufactured Tobacco,
192 Pearl Street,
Near Maiden Lane, 439 New York.

TO PHYSICIANS.

THE subscriber offers for sale a well selected quantity of Medicine, of excellent quality. Also, a very fine Amputating and Trephining case of instruments. Also, splints &c., adapted for fractures of the upper and lower extremities. The above will be disposed of at a cheap rate, as will a medicine case, suitable for an office. Apply at the office of E. & J. D. Kingslands & Co.

J. R. ROMEYN.

Keeseville, Jany. 29, 1853. 454-tf

BUTTER FOR SALE.

Large quantity of good dairy Butter bought in large and small packages of the finest quality for sale at Boynton & Smith.

Keeseville Jan. 27, 1853.

DICKENS' HOUSEHOLD WORDS.

HAS been re-published in this country by the subscribers, who have for sale complete sets of the work. The character of Mr. Dickens as a writes is so well and favorably known, that the most we can say of his weekly is, that it fully sustains his reputation. Whole books have already been formed of extracts from the work; but though the compilers of these have copied extensively, they have failed in their endeavors to transfer every article of general interest,—they could not do it without copying the whole. No general reader of our most popular magazines can have failed to notice the frequent and lengthy "con-

Single Copy, $2 50 per annum; Clubs—3 copies for $6; 5 copies for $9; 10 copies for $15.

THOMAS M'ELRATH,
17 Spruce-street, New York.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

THE GLOBE:

THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF CONGRESS.

CONGRESS has made the GLOBE its organ of communication with the country. To facilitate this important object and diminish the expense to the people, the Congressional Globe and Appendix, which contain the proceedings of Congress, revised by the members, are hencefortth to be conveyed through the mails free of postage. At the late session of Congress the following Joint Resolution was passed:

JOINT RESOLUTION providing for the distribution of the Laws of Congress and the Debates thereon.

With a view to the cheap circulation of the laws of Congress and the debates contributing to the true interpretation thereof, and to make free the communication between the representative and constituent bodies

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the present session of Congress, the Congressional Globe and Appendix, which contain the laws & the debates thereon, shall be published by order of Congress: Provided, That nothing herein shall be construed to authorize the circulation of the Daily Globe free of postage.

Approved August 6, 1852.

The Globe will now, I trust, enter upon a new and more extended career of usefulness.—Congress, which draws into its focus all the important topics and events of the times for its discussion, and acts on them with a view to the interest of the Republic, has provided a mode through which, without cost for the delivery, all that is said and done by the body which speaks and acts for the nation, shall be put within the reach of the poorest citizen. The liberality with which Congress patronizes the work, enables the undersigned to report the proceedings, and deliver full sets of both the Congressional Globe and the Appendix, containing the proceedings, daily debates, the written out speeches, the Messages of the President of the United States, the Reports of the Heads of Departments, and all the Laws passed during the session, for Three Dollars—a price which barely pays for the printing the copies subscribed for by the people. Every one who will compare the price of this work with any other, taking in to view the amount of matter and style of publication, will find that it is the cheapest circulated from any press in the world; and if the country places the true value on its political institutions—on the action of that representative body which moves and maintains them—which brings under review, discusses, and acts on all the interests of this wide-spread Republic presenting to the people every event, foreign or domestic, that can, however remotely, affect the public interest—it may be called the best, as well as the cheapest publication in the world.

The approach of a new Administration imparts peculiar importance to the next session of Congress. Throughout the whole country there will be solicitude to know what shape Congress will endeavor to give to the national affairs to meet the incoming Administration. The debates of the next session will, no doubt, as heretofore, foreshadow its policy. It is one of the admirable features of our institutions, that the popular body and executive Head, both gifted with independent power, and both representing the people and the States, shall act and react on each other. It is in this way the sovereign authority, exerted through different agents and from different quarters, gives that direction which its superior force compels sometimes even dissenting departments of the Government to adopt. Those, therefore, who would understand well the policy which is likely to bear upon the next Administration, ought to scan the debates of that Congress which immediately precedes it. Not measures only, but the men who are to give them effect, will depend much on the next Congress; for, without doubt, it will have its due influence on the acts of the new President whoever he may be, in regard to all that may interest the constituencies represented by its members in regard to the greatest, as well as the smallest, matters and appointments affecting them.

The proceedings of Congress are first published in the Daily Globe, which is laid on the desks of all the members, to let them see the reports and make what corrections they think proper, before they are printed in the Congressional Globe or the Appendix. The Daily Globe is published during the session of Congress at the rate of Ten Dollars per annum.

The Congressional Globe and Appendix are printed on a double royal sheet in royal quarto form, each number containing sixteen pages.—The Congressional Globe is made up of the daily proceedings of the two Houses; and the Appendix embraces the long speeches withheld by the speakers for revision, the Messages of the President of the United States, and the Reports of the Heads of the Executive Departments.

The Laws passed during a session, and an index to them, are printed as soon as possible after adjournment, and sent to all subscribers for the Congressional Globe and Appendix.

TERMS.—For one copy of the Daily Globe during the next session, ... $2,50
For one copy of the Congressional Globe, Appendix, and Laws, for the next session, 3,00

The persons to whom this sheet is sent will be allowed 20 per cent. on all the subscriptions they may obtain, which they may retain out of the money collected. Fractions of a dollar may be remitted in post office stamps. The subscription money must accompany the order, else no attention will be paid to it.

Subscriptions should reach here by the 15th December, at furthest, to insure all the numbers.

I have about five hundred surplus copies of the Congressional Globe for the last session, which contain, besides the proceedings of Congress, all laws and joint resolutions passed during the session. The proceedings and laws make 2,552 pages; and the list of appropriations and index, not yet printed, will make about eighty pages more. I will let those who subscribe for the Congressional Globe and Appendix for the coming session have them at the following rates: Price per copy, unbound, Three Dollars; or bound in three volumes, backs and corners Russia leather, Five Dollars. They will be delivered to subscribers at these prices. I sell the bound volumes here for Four Dollars a volume; the three volumes bound for Twelve Dollars. Every person who takes any part in the politics of this country should possess them.

JOHN C. RIVES.

Washington, 20th October, 1852.

New Clothing Store.

WE, the undersigned, have made arrangements with one of the best tailors in the country, to manufacture clothing for us of every description, consisting of overcoats, sacks, dress and frock coats, pants, vests, overalls and boys cloths, together with all kinds of under garments, which are made after the most improved styles, and for workmanship and durability cannot be excelled.

In addition we offer a large assortment of fine

Fashionable Clothing,

made by tailors in New York, that for fitting even Genio C. Scott, in his palmiest days was not a circumstance.

We would also inform the public that it is to be sold by wholesale or retail at very low figures for cash, and for quantity and cheapness is far in advance of any other concern in Northern New York. A comparison with the trade, both in prices and quantity is particularly requested.

In connection with the above we would call the attention of the community to our stock of

Fancy & Staple Dry Goods,

of every variety; also, hats, caps and furs, paper hangings, window shades, hardware and groceries, rifles and shot guns, amunition, &c., &c. Trunks, and valises, carpet bags, whips and lashes, stone ware, and every description of goods that are wanted or can be found in the country. Don't forget

No. 1000, Main Street,

Keeseville, opposite the Adirondac Hotel.

BOYNTON & SMITH.

January 20, 1853.

WOOL.

CASH Paid for Wool.

1853 BARNUM & BEACHS' NEW PAPER. 1853

THE ILLUSTRATED NEWS

Six Cents per Copy.

P. T. BARNUM, Special Partner; H. D. & A. E. BEACH, General Partners.

The Proprietors desire to call attention to the fact, that ALFRED E. BEACH has become associated with this concern, contributing an additional capital of $20,000, and that the liberal amount of $60,000 is now especially devoted to its publication.

THE ILLUSTRATED NEWS will be published weekly, and will comprise sixteen large pages, filled with original and selected letter press contents, of the highest literary standard, and with a great number of large and handsome engravings. No pains or expense will be spared to produce the BEST ILLUSTRATED NEWSPAPER IN THE WORLD, an acceptable FIRE-SIDE COMPANION, and an ORNAMENT TO THE AMERICAN PRESS.

THE ILLUSTRATED NEWS will be a faithful and beautiful Pictorial History of the World, in which scenes and events in this and other countries sketches and views in all parts of the Globe, Portraits of Public Men, Scenes in our National Capitol, Autographs and Biographies of Eminent Characters, and all matters of general interest to the community, will be found Promptly Illustrated. In addition to the Illustrations equal care will be bestowed on the News Department. Each number will contain the latest intelligence from all parts of the world, with Market Reports, &c. &c. Due attention will also be paid to the Religious, Scientific and Agricultural interests of the country, and frequent appropriate Illustrations will be given.

The EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT will be placed under the charge of several of the most able writers in the United States, who will be assisted by contributions from the most eminent Authors and Poets of our own and other countries. Tales and Sketches of approved merit will from time to time add interest to the columns, and afford entertainment to all classes of the community.

☞ The Publishers will also from time to time present gratuitously to their regular subscribers, LARGE AND HANDSOME ENGRAVINGS, suitable for frames, issued in the very best style, and drawn by the very best artists of the United States, which will form a collection of Pictures alone worth much more than the cost of their subscription. The engravings will embrace magnificent views of Public Buildings, important Public Ceremonies, Historical Events, American and Foreign Battle-fields, &c. &c.

The year 1853 is the most auspicious of any during the past century, for the commencement of such a Newspaper. The GREAT WORLD'S FAIR, which opens in New York in May next, will be one of the most important and interesting events which has occurred in this city since its foundation. Here will be congregated the most perfect specimens of mechanical skill and manufacture from all parts of the civilized Globe. All parts of the world will contribute the best and most curious productions of Art and Science. Every citizen of the New World will feel deep interest in the most minute details of this NATIONAL CONGRESS, and the event will be looked back to, with profound pleasure, during many ensuing years. In order to present this great Exhibition to the Public, in the most impressive manner, and to preserve its details in the most interesting form, the ILLUSTRATED NEWS will engrave and publish, in supplements and otherwise, in the highest style of art, illustrations of all articles of interest in the vast Exhibition, accompanied by the most interesting descriptions thereof. The first volume of this Journal, besides all its other interesting illustrations, will be a Pictorial Encyclopedia of the Exhibition of Industry of all Nations, intrinsically worth more than ten times it cost, not only for present interest, but for preservation and future reference. Being located in the city of New York, in communication with the best Artists of the United States, and having every facility of possessing themselves of every detail connected with the World's Fair, the Publishers feel confident of insuring to their patrons a publication of greater interest than has heretofore ever been presented to the public.

In the first volume may also be expected numerous illustrations relative to the Japan Expedition, comprising sketches of the ships and steamers composing the same, information of its route and progress, views of harbors, villages, cities, dwellings, and the people in Japan. Reliable arrangements are making for these sketches, and for all information, which will be received here at the earliest date.

It is well known that the Empire of Japan has, for many centuries, excluded all nations from commercial intercourse, and has treated with considerable cruelty the unfortunate mariners who have been cast upon it shores. Its manners and customs differ greatly from all other nations; it contains many millions of inhabitants, who have made considerable progress in the Arts and civilization. All knowledge and information therefore which is obtained about Japan, will be of the highest interest to all nations, and will be eagerly sought for by every person in the community. The results of the Expedition will probably make Japan a stopping and re-fitting depot for our China-bound steamers, and for our whaling fleets. It will doubtless open a wide field for Missionary enterprise, and for business operations of every description. The ILLUSTRATED NEWS, in fully portraying this celebrated Empire, and spreading abroad correct illustrations and descriptions in regard to it, will therefore be particularly valuable as an Authentic Descriptive History of Japan.

On account of the World's Fair, and Japan Expedition, and also in consideration of delay and uncertainty in procuring back numbers, the Publishers cannot too strongly impress upon the public the importance of commencing their subscriptions with the first number of the first volume, and using the utmost care in preserving the papers for binding.

At the conclusion of each volume a handsome title page and index will be gratuitously furnished by the publishers. The publishers will procure, at low rates, the uniform binding of the volumes, when desired.

The paper will be furnished at the low price of six cents per copy, and served to subscribers in all the principal cities of the Union. It will be also for sale at all the principal Bookstores and Periodical Depots thoughout the United States and Canadas.

THE WEEKLY.

DAY-BOOK

IS PUBLISHED every Saturday at the office of the Merchant's Day Book, 203 Broadway. It contains the most interesting articles published in the Merchant's Day Book of the same week, and furnishes a larger amount of reading matter than any other paper at so low a price.

In the Commercial Department it will be found to supply ample intelligence, which may be always relied upon for accuracy. This part of the paper is under the special supervision of the senior editor, whose experience and practical knowledge as a merchant in this city particularly qualify him to meet the wishes and tastes of commercial men, and to supply them with intelligence of the most useful and valuable character. In the "Dry Goods" department it will be found unrivalled, and will keep its readers fully informed of all changes in prices, and other circumstances affecting the trade.

Valuable statistics of this important branch of business, and of commerce generally, will be contained in the "WEEKLY DAY BOOK;" and subscribers are advised to keep a file of it from the beginning for future reference.

Terms.—Two Dollars per annum—always in advance. Or two copies for three dollars.

To Clubs—Twenty five copies will be sent to one address for $25
Or ten copies to one addres for 10
Subscriptions for the Daily

DRIED APPLE, Geese and Hen's Feathers, for sale at MATTHEWS & AMES.

Miscellaneous.

LEONARD SCOTT & Co's

LIST OF

BRITISH PERIODICAL

PUBLICATIONS.

Delivered in all the principal Cities in the United States, free of Postage, and forwarded by Mail, under the provisions of the late Post Office Law, at merely nominal rates.

1. THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW (Conservative.)
2. THE EDINGBURGH REVIEW (Whig.)
3. THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church.)
4. The WESTMINISTER REVIEW. (Liberal.)
5. BLACKWOOD'S EDINGBURGH MAGAZINE (Troy.)

Although these works are destinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary Character which gives them their chief value, and in this they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the fatherly care of Christopher North, maintains its celebrity, and is, at this time, unusually attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that magazine, and first appearring in its columns both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such, works as "The Caxtons" and "My New Novel," (both by Bulwer,) "The Green Hand," "Katie Stewart," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Messrs. Scott & Co.; so that Subscribers to the Reprint of that Magazine may always rely on having the earliest reading of these fascinating tales.

Terms and Premiums.

[See list of Premium Volumes below.]

	per ann.
For any 1 of the 4 Reviews and one Prem. vol.	$3,00
For any 2 of the 4 Reviews and one prem. vol.	5,00
For any 3 of the 4 Reviews and two prem. vol.	7,00
For all four of the Reviews and two prem. vol.	8,00
For Blacwood's Magazine and one prem. vol	3,00
For Blackwood's & 3 Reviews and three prem. vol.	9,00
For Blackwood's & the 4 Reviews and three prem. vol.	10,00

Payments to be made in all cases in advance.

The Premiums consist of the following works, back volumes of which will be given to new subscribers according to the number of periodicals ordered, as above explained.—

PREMIUM VOLUMES.

Foreign Quarterly Review (one year.)
Blackwood's Magazine (six months.)
London Quarterly Review (one year.)
Bentley's Miscellaney (six months.)
Edinburgh Review (one year.)
Metropolitan Magazine (six months)
Westminster Review (one year.)

Consecutive Premium volumes cannot in all cases be furnished, except of the Foreign Quarterly Review. To prvent dissappointment, therefore, where that work is not alone wanted. Subscribers will please order as many different works for premiums as there are volumes to which they may be entitled.

CLUBBING.

A discount of twenty five per cent from the above prices will be allowed to Clubs ordering four or more copies of any one or more of the above works, Thus: Four copies of Blackwood, or of one Review, will be sent to one address for $9; four copies of the four Reviews and Blackwood for $30; and so on.

No premiums will be given where the above allowance is made to Clubs, nor will premiums in any case be furnished, unless the subscription money is paid in full to the Publishers without recourse to an agent. Money current in the State where issued will be received at par.

Reduced Postage.

The following table will show the great reduction which has been made on these periodicals since 1843, and the vary trifling rates now charged.

	Per annum.
Prier to 1845, the postage on Blackwood was	$2 40
Prier to 1845, the postage on a single Review	1 12
From 1845 to 1851, the postage on Blackwood was	1 00
From 1845 to 1851, the postage on a Review was	50
In 1851-52 [average rate] on Blackwood was	75
In 1851 52 [average rate] on a Review	38
The present postage on Blackwood, is	24
The present postage on a Review is	12

[The rates are now uniform for all distances within the United States.]

At these rates surely no objection should be made to receive the works by mail, and thus ensuring their speedy, safe, and regular delivery.

☞ Remittances and communications should be always addressed, post-paid, to the Publishers,

LEONARD SCOTT & Co.,
79 Fulton Street, (entrance 54 Gold street,) 85 NEW YORK.

Essex County Agricultural Society.

AN adjourned meeting of the Essex Co. Agricultural Society, will be held at the Inn of David Judd, in Elizabethtown, on Wednesday, the 2nd day of February next, at 2 o'clock, P. M. The Premiums to be awarded at the fair for 1853, will be fixed upon at this meeting. The members of the society and all others interested, will see the importance of attending.

Dated Elizabethtown, Jan 19th 1853.

G. S. NICHOLSON.
455 2w Secretary

Bounty Lands

PURCHASED AND OBTAINED BY

GEO. MOORE, Plattsburgh, N. Y.
December 3, 1852.

M. F. NICHOLS

ATTORNEY & COUNCELL[illegible]
ELIZABETHTOWN, Essex Co[illegible]
(Office in the County Clerk's [illegible]

Business Cards.

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS,

(Successor to Nichols & Warren,)

WHOLESALE PAPER WAREHOUSE

And Paged Blank Book Manufactory,

—JOBBER AND RETAIL DEALER IN—

School and Classical Books,

English, French and American Stationery, and Artist's Materials,

No. 4, Leavenworth Block, College Street,
BURLINGTON, Vt.

☞ Bank, Blank, Check or Memorandum Books made to order, from the best of Paper, and bound in the most thorough manner. All work warranted. Terms Cash. 448 tf

AUSABLE HOUSE,

MAIN STREET KEESEVILLE N. Y.

This large and convenient Hotel having been throughly repaired and refurnished, is now open for the reception of visitors and the accommodation of the

TRAVELLING PUBLIC.

The Ausable House is one of the largest and best arranged in Northern New York. No pains will be spared to make it a pleasant and popular resort for and Transient Visitors, as well as a comfortable Home for those wishing permanent Board and Rooms.

PLEASURE PARTIES,

Good Horses and Carriages furnished at all times on the most reasonable terms.

The patronage of the public is most respectfully solicited.

J. W. REYNOLDS.
Keeseville Nov. 1st 1852. 445. 3m.

Livery Stable

BY

GEORGE G. FULLER.

HEAD OF MAIN STREET

(a few steps from the Bank,)

KEESEVILLE, N W YORK

Where may be found at all times, the best of Horses and Carriages, on the most reasonable terms.

Montgomery House,

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA,

BY

Sherman & Wheelock.

E. SHERMAN, THERON WHEELOCK.

☞ Mr. Sherman was late a merchant at Moriah, Essex Co., N. Y., and Mr. Wheelock was late of the Mansion House, Troy, N. Y. 427tf

GEORGE P. WILKINSON,

(Successor to G. P. & J. B. Wilkinson,)

MANUFACTURER AND JOBBER IN

CLOTHING,

154 River Street, Corner of Congress,
427 tf TROY, N. Y.

G. P. SANBORN & Co.

APOTHECARIES HALL.

BURLINGTON, VT.

DEALERS IN

Drugs and Medicines, Chemical Perfumery, Teeth, Surgical Instruments, Gold and Tin Foil, Patent Medicines, and every variety of articles usually kept in this line of Business.

Oct. 23d, 1852. 6 m.

GEO. S. TARBELL,

WHOLESALE GRO ER,

DEALER IN OIL AN

General Commission Merchant,

No. 65 Quay-Street, ALBANY.

ADKINS & FULLER,

Booksellers, Stationers, Binders

—AND—

PAPER RULERS,

KEEP constantly on hand or will supply Books, Maps, Charts, Pictures, Frames, and Periodicals of all kinds. Also Publications of the American Tract Society. Bibles and Sabbath School Books at their very low depository prices.

One door east of Pierce & Davey's Agricultural Store on College Street.

C. S ADKINS, E. A. FULLER.
Burlington, July 4, 1850. 323

H. C. Blanchrd, M. D.,

HOMŒAPATHIC PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,

KEESFVILLE, N. Y.

Office 2 doors below Ausable House.
Rooms at Ausable House. 430

D. M. ARNOLD

Engineer and Surveyor,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

SURVEYING & Leveling for Rail Roads, Plank Roads, Mill Seats, &c. Land Surveying of all kinds done on shortest notice.

Office opposite the Ausable House.

425tf

Dewey & Havens,

ATTORNIES AND COUNSELLORS

AT LAW,

CROWNPOINT,

Essx County, N. Y.

E. M. DEWEY. 431 ly H. H. HAVENS.

J. B. DICKINSON,

AUSABLE FORKS, N. Y.

General INSURANCE AGENT,

For Fire, Life, Health and Live Stock Insurance Companies.

☞ Any business from abroad will receive prompt attention. 454

Silliman & Gardiner,

WHOLESALE DEALERS

in Pork, Fish,

SALT, PLASTER, &c.

OFFICE 17 COENTIS SLIP, New York.
" 339 RIVER St., Troy, 445

Dr. H. W. GOULD,

SURGEON DENTIST,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

Office opposite the Ausable House. [389

CAPS CAPS.

Men and Boys' Silk and Worsted Plush and Cloth Caps, at E. H. GARFIELD, &Co

Burlington Advertisements

BURLINGTON

AGRICULTURAL WARE-HOUSE AND SEED STORE.

DAVEY & ALLEN,

No. 8, COLLEGE STREET, BURLINGTON, Vt.

Ploughs—Prouty & Mear's centre draught.

These ploughs have obtained a celebrity unparalleled, having taken the first premiums in this country and at the World's Fair in London. We have also Starbuck's and Tabor's celebrated Ploughs.

Our stock of Ploughs comprise a great variety of patterns and different sizes, calculated for sward and stubble land, wet meadows and recently drain ed swamps, where roots abound—among which also, are the deep-breaking up, flat-furrow, lap-furrow, self sharpening, side-hill, double-mould-board, sub soil, &c., &c.

Harrows—triangular, square, Gedde's and Scotch.

Hay, Straw and Corn Stalk Cutters, either by hand or horse power; spiral, straight or circular knives.

Cultivators—of different kinds, steel tooth and cast iron.

Corn Shellers—a variety of patterns. Will shell from 5 to 100 bushels of corn per hour.

Fan Mills and Grain Cra les—Grant's unrivalled. We confidently recommend them as the best in use.

Seed Sowers—Batcheldor's & Emery's, and other kinds.

Vegetable Cutters—for turnips and other roots.

Horse Powers, Threshers, Winnowers and Separators—Wheeler's Patent Railway Chain Horse Power This Power, both single and double-geared, for one or two horses, has never been equalled for lightness in running, strength, durability, and economy. The Thresher and Separator are too widely and favorably known to need our commendation. The combined Thresher and Winnower, (which is a new invention of last year,) has not been so generally introduced. All who have used it express the highest approbation of its merits. We entertain no doubt that it is the most perfect, compact, and efficient machine now in use for threshing and winnowing grain, as it certainly is by far the cheapest and most economical.

Warranted to give satisfaction,

or be returned after a reasonable trial.

Saw Mill—Lawrence, used for sawing wood for locomotives on Railways, or by farmers for cutting stove fuel. With a one horse power it will cut 10 to 15 cords of wood twice in two per day.

AGRICULTURAL & HORTICULTURAL TOOLS AND IMPLEMENTS.

a great variety and extensive assortment, such as Hoes, Shovels, Spades, Rakes, Manure and Hay Forks, Scythes, Snaths, Cattle Ties, Draft, Halter and Trace Chains, Garden Syringes, Pruning Saws, Pruning and Budding Knives, Garden Shears and Twig Cutters, Grindstones, Patent Grindstone fixtures, rollers, barrid or rolls, &c., &c.

Grain, Field, Garden and Flower Seeds.—We are prepared to furnish Herds Grass, Red Top, Lucerne, White Dutch, Southern, Western and Northern Clover Seed, Beet, Turnip, Onion and Carrot seed, at Wholesale and Retail at the lowest market prices.

We have by far the largest and most complete assortment of Agricultural Implements, Machines, Field and Garden Seeds to be found in the State, which we offer at our new and spacious Ware-Rooms to Farmers and Dealers on terms the most liberal. We are also Commission Merchants and Who esale and Retail Dealers in heavy and shelf

HARDWARE,

Saddlery, Axles, Springs, Mechanic's Tools, House Trimmings and Furnishing Goods, Cutlery, Cross Cut, Mill and Circular Saws, Paints, Oils, Bird Cages, etc. etc., etc.

As agents of Messrs. D. Prouty & Co., Boston, Wheeler, Millick & Co., Albany, J. T. Grant & Co., Troy, and others we can fill orders for Plows, Horse Powers, Threshers Fan Mills, Straw Cutters, &c., at manufacturers prices. A liberal discount made to Dealers.

ORDERS
FROM ABROAD SOLICITED.
DAVEY & ALLEN.

Burlington, September 20, 1852. 439

BLANK BOOKS.

10,000 QUIRES BLANK BOOKS of our own manufacture, comprising every variety of Journals, Day, Invoice Cash and Letter Books. Ledgers and Records from Cap Quartos to Super Royal size made in the most thorough manner, either paged or unpaged, and at prices so low as to defy competition.

PAPER.

I have in store, and to arrive. 1000 Reams Wrapping Paper of assorted quality and size, 1500 Reams Writing, Cap, Letter, Bath Post, Note and Envelope papers, which will be sold at Mill Prices.

School Books.

2000 Mandevill's, Saunders and Town's Series of Readers. 200 Mitchell's Geographies. 200 Smith's do., 400 Adams Arithmetics, 200 Greenleafs do 200 Colburn's do., 2000 Webster's spellers, 500 Town's spellers and definers, 100 Smith's Astronomy's, &c., &c.

Stationery.

200.000 Envelopes, 200 Gross Steel Pens, 20 gross Pen Holders. Also, Writing Ink in any quantity, and of the best manufacture, which will be sold at New York or Boston prices.

I wish to reduce the present stock of the concern as low as possible, in the next two months, and buyers will find it for their interest to examine my stock and prices before purchasing.—Terms Cash.

Orders solicited by Mail or Express.

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS.
Burlington, Nov. 23, 1852. 446 3m

NEW GOODS

AT

Nichols, 150 Church Street.

IN consequence of our large spring sales, we have been induced to purchase a very large and full stock of

Foreign & Domestic Goods

for the fall trade, which we now offer at exceedingly low prices. We have not time now to enumerate, suffice it to say, we have every thing usually called for in a dry goods store.

CARPETINGS!

AT THE

Carpet Warehouse, 150 Church Street.

Mr. Nichols is now opening the largest stock of Carpeting ever brought to this city, consisting of the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three-ply, Ingrain, Extra Super Fine and Common Venetian, Damask, Cotton and Wool, Cotton, Hemp Stair carpeting from the best manufacturers. Also, floor oil-cloth, straw-matting, Hearth Rugs, Door Mats, table oil cloths, English and American Bockings and crumb cloths.

Bay State Carpetings and Bockings.

Mr. Nichols has the agency for the sale of the justly celebrated Bay State carpets and bockings and will be furnished with all the new patterns as fast as they come from the mills. Recollect the No.

150 CHURCH STREET.

Burlington, September 24, 1852. 439 tf

Charles Morris,

MERCHANT TAILOR

AND

CLOTHIER,

KEESEVILLE, NEW YORK.

IS now prepared to show his friends and the public in general a full assortment of Cloths Cassimeres and Vestings suited to the season. My Cloths are of the latest importation, and consists of Black, Brown, Drab and Clouded Beavers, Broad Cloths, of French, West of England and American Manufacture. Cassimeres, in all the revised style and quality. Vestings in any quantity, some of which are very rich. Also, Shirts of all descriptions. Shaker under Shirts, and drawrs, Cravats, Stocks, Suspenders, Gloves, Collars, Bosoms, Hdks., Mufflers, Clothing ready made substantial, and the sewing to last as long as the cloth, (and not run together as much of the clothing brought from a foreign market generally is.) Thankful for the very liberal and increased patronage I have received from the citizens generally I trust by a continued effort to please the most difficult, I shall merit a continuance of past favors. My arrangements with New York, are such that I am advised of any changes of style, that occur from month to month, and thus am able to gratify those who are disposed to adopt the changes. Cutting as usual done in the most careful manner and with promptness.

AND WARRANTED MADE

Nov. 13 1852. 445

M. J. JENKINS.

Watch Maker and Jeweller,

DEALER IN

CLOCKS, WATCHES, GOLD AND SILVER WARE, &c.

Keesville, N. Y.

Burlington Ada's.

BOSTON

FURNITURE STORE,

AT THE

Spacious Ware-Room,

Nos. 2 & 3, Leavensworth Block,

COLLEGE STREET,

In Burlington, Vt.

No further need of going to New York or Boston for Rich or

FASHIONABLE FURNITURE.

THE Subscriber has a more extensive assortment of

Furniture, Feathers, Beds, Mattrasses, Upholstery, Goods, &c.,

than has ever before been offered in this section, comprising all the most recent styles from the most elegant to the commonest FURNITURE, manufactured principally to order, and in quality superior to any to be found out of Boston or any other place—consisting, in part, as follows:

Black Walnut & Mahogony Parlor FURNITURE,

—CONSISTING OF—

French Sofas, Easy Chairs, covered in plush damask, brocatelle or hair-cloth, to suit the purchaser; French style centre and side Tables, with and without marble tops; gilt and other frame Looking Glasses; rich and common Curtain Furniture and Fixtures, &c., and every article needed to furnish Parlors in the most fashionable style.—Also, medium and low-priced Parlor Furniture, of every description.

DRAWING & SITTING ROOM FURNITURE,

of every desirable style.

CHAMBER FURNITURE.

Fancy printed Chamber Setts, richly ornamented; mahogany, black wa nut and common Bedsteads, Bureau Sinks, Toilets, Chairs, &c. Also, Feathers, Feather Beds hair, cotton husk and palm leaf Mattrasses. Elegant both mahogany and black walnut, of very superior workmanship, constantly on hand and made to order, of any style or size desired. Also, any odd article, not to be found ready-made, designed and executed to order in the best manner at the shortest notice.

LIBRARY CASES & SIDE-BOARDS,

Hotels and Steamboats

furnished at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms.

N. B.—Every article will be sold as low as the same quality can be bought in either Boston or New York, and in many instances much lower. Country dealers will be furnished at the lowest wholesale prices.

Mr. ALLEN'S long experience as a manufacturer and Furniture dealer in Boston, gives him advantages in selecting and purchasing goods, very seldom equalled; and he will warrant every article fully equal to what he represents it.

☞ Persons in want of Furniture will do well to call on Mr. ALLEN before purchasing.

I. S. ALLEN.
Burlington, May 8, '52. 418-1y

PIANO FORTE,

AND

MUSIC STORE.

No. 1, BANK BLOCK BURLINGTON, VT.

THE Subscriber has opened a very extensive and choice selection of Musical Merchandize, consisting of every variety of Musical Instruments, such as

Piano Fortes, Seraphines, Melodeons,

Bass Viols, Violins, Guitars, Flutes,

Fingolets, Clarionets, Cornopeans, Accordeons,

and Brass Instruments of every description for Bands; also—

BASS VIOL AND VIOLIN STRINGS, TUNING FORKS, TUNING HAMMERS, &c.

The assortment of Sheet Music, consists of about Four Thousand Pieces of the latest and most popular Music of the day, additions to which will be made every week, from the extensive Importing and Publishing Houses in New York and Boston. Instruction Books on hand for every Instrument, and all new works received as soon as published.

CHURCH MUSIC BOOKS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

The attention of Purchasers is respectfully invited to the assortment of Piano Fortes, Seraphines and Melodeons, as they are from the best Manufacturers in the country, and every Instrument sold by me will be warranted, unless otherwise stated to the purchaser.

All the above goods will be sold as low as can be purchased in New York or Boston, and the orders of teachers and those who buy to sell again, are respectfully solicited, and will be filled and sent to any part of the country, as may be directed.

June 5. 3m422 L. S. RUST

ANNEXATION!!

Essex County, N. Y. and Vermont!

NOVEMBER 10th, 1852.

I. D. BIXBY & Co.,

ARE now opening a very heavy stock of Rich

DRESS GOODS,

for the Winter trade, consisting in part of the following articles:

Merinos, Coburghs, Paramattas, Alpacas, Lustres all wool de Laines, Manchester de Laines, Persian Cloths, Raw Silk Plaids, Cashmere Plaids, Col'd Velvets, Col'd Flannels, Irish Poplins, Bombazines, Ginghams, American, English and French Prints, Silks.

SHAWLS!!

Bay State, Empire, Waterloo and Scotch.

CLOAKS.

We have a large assortment of rich Cloaks of a variety of patterns, colors and prices.

Silks, Satins, &c.

The LARGEST assortment of Dress Silk that we have ever opened, are now to be seen on our counters. Brocade, Plaid, Striped, Chameleon, Glace, Gro de Naples, Gro de Zure, Gro de Rhine, Gro de Lyons, Gro de Algiers and many other styles.

No. 2, Bank Block.

439tf North Side of the Park.

BURLINGTON VT.,
I. D. BIXBY & Co.
Burlington, Nov. 15. 1852.

BOOTS, SHOES & RUBBERS

James A. Walker,

BANK BLOCK, OPPOSITE THE SQUARE,

BURLINGTON, Vt.

HAS just returned from the New York and Philadelphia markets, with the largest and best selected assortment of Ladies, Gents, Misses, Boys, Youths and Children's ever offered North of the cities. Getting his goods direct from the manufacturers he is enabled to and WILL offer them at LESS PRICES than can be purchased for elsewhere.

BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS

Mens Thick Boots	from	$1.50 to $3.00	per pair.
" Fine Kip	"	2.00 to 3.00	"
" " Calf'd	"	2.50 to 4.00	"
Gents fine calf sew'd boots	"	4.00 to 7.50	"
Ladies walking shoes	"	75 to 1.38	"
" Bootees and Polkas	"	1.00 to 2.00	"
" Gaiter Boot	"	1.00 to 2.00	"

and a great variety of every desirable style and quality ALL of which will be offered at very low prices. 436 tf

All Work Warranted.

Furs! Furs!!

JUST received, a large assortment of rich Victorine, with Cuff and mittens to match, at BOYNTON and SMITH.

Keeseville, Nov. 18. 1852. 445 tf

Miscellaneous.

20 Years Experience.

OLD ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL.

Quick Cures and Low prices.

Private Diseases and their Antidote.

DR LISPENARD, author of the Marriage Guide, or Private Medical Treatise, Professor of Disease of Women and Children, and Licentiate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the United States University, &c., &c., continues as heretofore to be consulted confidentially and successfully on all forms and varieties of

PRIVATE DISEASES,

at his old quarters, No. 5 Beaver-street, ALBANY, N. Y.

The great success attending the use of Doctor L.'s remedies in secret diseases, and the many remarkable cures daily effected by him in recent as well as old lingering attacks, is sufficient evidence that the

SICK AND UNFORTUNATE

can do no better than consult the Doctor, whose whole time is devoted to the exclusive treatment of this much neglected branch of practice.

LOOK AT THIS.

Dr. Lispenard cures recent cases of disease in from three to six days, and chronic or long standing diseases in a very short period of time, without the use of Mercury, without the least change of diet, or detention from

DAILY EMPLOYMENT.

In Syphillis, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Strictures, Enlargement of the Testicles and Cords, Bubes, Chancres, Pimples and Scaly Eruptions, Sore Throats and Nose, Chancres on the tongue, tender shin bones, and diseases of the skin, and impure blood. Dr. Lispenard's remedies are above all praise, and frequently cure when all others had failed

EVEN TO RELIEVE.

More than 5,000 patients have during the past year experienced the benefit of the Doctor's extraordinary skill in treating secret diseases—almost which, all cases of the Bladder and Kidneys have formed a goodly proportion.

YOUNG MEN,

who by indulging in secret habits have injured their health and prostrated their intellectual faculties, and they by depraved themselves of the pleasure of married life, should consult Dr. Lispenard without a moment's delay. Hundreds have been restored to health, society and friends, under my peculiar mode of treatment, although vast sums of money had been sacrificed without any benefit. My remedy for this disease is pleasant to take, has no offensive smell and

CURES WITHOUT FAIL.

☞ Persons so unfortunate as to be diseased, although they may have visited half a dozen Doctors, and had medicine sent them a dozen times with no benefit would exhibit wisdom by making themselves known to that FRIEND OF THE SICK, Dr. Lispenard, who never charges for advice and warrants all his cures. The sick are often at a loss where to apply for relief, AND TIS NO WONDER, as hordes of stand ready to plunder the unfortunate victim of PRIVATE DISEASES or secret habits without one thought for health or health. All those desiring skill and a friend, and moderate charges, in consulting the Doctor who USES NO MERCURY and cures every time.

N. B.—Persons at a distance when visiting the city in search of a physician and friend will be fortunate if they succeed in escaping the many dens of imposture, conducted by unprincipled men, destitute of character knowledge or name, who decoy the unfortunate victim of disease of his hard-earned money, and his remaining health. Patients who have no acquaintance in the city should make inquiry of some respectable citizen, or the editor or proprietor of any of the city papers, to ascertain who is the most reliable physician to apply to.

FEMALE DISEASES.

Dr. Lispenard, from an experience seldom or never enjoyed by any other medical man, is enabled to treat with every hope of success, all and every variety of Female Complaints—with safe and pleasant remedies—and has without doubt cured within the past five years more than 3000 females afflicted with diseases of the Bladder, Womb, &c. &c. Ladies afflicted with suppression or stoppage of their monthly turns, will recollect that Dr. Lispenard is still the sole American agent for,

DR. VICHOP'S

FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS.

The unprecedented sale of more than 15,000 boxes of these excellent Pills, and the good results which always follow their use, is conclusive evidence of their utility in stoppages, &c. Caution—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should not use them—for reasons see directions with each box. Price $1. Sent by mail to all parts of the world.

Married persons and those about to Marry, should enclose 12½ cents post paid to Dr. Lispenard, and obtain a copy of his Marriage Guide, or Private Treatise, a bewitching little work of nearly 100 pages, illustrated. Everything that married persons can desire or wish to know, is herein explained. Persons who from poverty or sickness have no desire to increase their family, will find necessary instruction in the Marriage Guide. One copy 12½ cents; 5 copies 50 cts.; 12 copies $1—mailed free to any part of the world

N. B.—Patients treated by letter, and medicines sent, with full directions for use, to the writer's address. All communications destroyed or returned.

No mercury used in any case, and all cures warranted. No boys or precocious students allowed; timed persons take notice.

Friends of Dr. L. when recommending patients to our care, will recollect our number, 5 Beaver st., three doors from South Broadway.

Hospital open from 7 A. M., to 9 P. M., and on Sundays from 1 to 4 P. M.

No charge for advice, although no medicine may be desired.

Good board and private rooms for those who desire to remain in the city.

Notice this—Address all letters to

C. W. LISPENARD, M. D.,

441—1 y No. 5 Beaver st. Albany, N. Y.

NORTHERN RAIL ROAD, N. Y.

FALL ARRANGEMENTS.

On and after FRIDAY October 1st. trains will run as follows:

GOING EAST,

1st Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 9, A. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 1, 45, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 2, P. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 6, 20, P. M.

GOING WEST,

1st Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 8, A. M.

Arrive at Oglensgurgh 12,50, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 3, P. M.

Arrives at Ogdensburgh 7,45, P. M.

First Passenger Train going East, Connects at Moors with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road for Montreal and Quebect, and Plattsburgh, Burlington and Whitehall—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Vermont Central Rail Road for Boston and New York—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Rutland and Burlington Rail Road by steam Boats to Burlington, and thence to Boston and New York.

Second Passenger Train going East, Connects with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road at Moores, for Montreal and Quebec—Connects with the Vermont Central Railroad for Boston, Burlington, and New York. Connects with the Steam Boats to Whitehall, thence by the Saratoga and Troy Rail Roads, to Saratoga Springs, Troy and New York. Connects by Steam Boat with Rutland and Burlington R. R. at Burlington, for Troy, Boston and New York.

First Passenger Train going West, Connects at Ogdensburgh with the Express Line of Lake Ontario Steamers at 1 o'clock P. M. for Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, Lewiston, Niagara Falls, and Buffalo.

Second Passengei Train going West. Connects with Lake Ontario Line of Seamers for Kingston and all ports on the American shore of Lake Ontario, and with Hamilton.

Four Freight Trains leave Ogdensburgh and Rouse's Point every day Sundays excepted.

For Freight apply to George V. Hoyle, Agent, Rouse's Point.

CHARLES L. SCHLATTER,

440 Chief Eng'r and Superintendent.

Printing Paper For Sale.

FOR sale by J. & G. PARKS,

38 by 24 inches,
34 by 24 "
364tf 33 by 23 "

Also, Wrapping:

40by 28 inches, 60 lbs to he Ream. for large bundles
29by 18 "
7 16by 18 "

☞ All orders directed to Keesevillepromptlyattended

WOOL.

Legal.

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT has been made in the payment of the debt secured by a certain mortgage dated the 20th day of January 1849 executed by Allen Everitt and Julia Ann, his wife, of chesterfield, in Essex County N. Y., as mortgagors to Reuben Jones, then of Ausable, in Clinton County, N. Y., as mortgagee and recorded in the office of the Clerk of the County of Essex, in volume O of mortgages pages 228 and 229. on the 9th day of Febuary, 1849, at 7 oclock, P. M. There is claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $561,02.

Now therefore notice is hereby given that the said mortgaged premises, will by virtue of a power of sale contained in the said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in said case made and provided, be sold at public auction at the Adirondac Hotel, in the village of Keeseville, in Essex County, on the 8th day of March, 1853, at 10 oclock in the forenoon of that day.

The said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage as follows. viz: all that certain piece or parcel of land situated in the Town of Chesterfield, County of Essex and state of New York, in a patent of three thousand six hundred acres of land granted by the state of New York to Matthew Adgate, and bounded as follows: Begining at the shore of Lake Champlain, at the South east corner of said patent, running thence west on the south line of said patent to the south east corner of lands heretofore deeded by the said Adgate, to one Noah Gridley. Thence north on the east line of said Gridley's land about fifty four rods to a beach tree; Thence due east to the Lake shore; Thence south along the Lake shore as it winds and turns to the place of beginning, containing by estimation one hundred acres of Land be the same more or less. Dated Keeseville November 26th 1852.

REUBEN JONES, Mortgagee.

CHARLES CHENEY Atty.
Keeseville, N. Y.

SHERIFF SALE.

BY Virtue of an Execution issued out of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, to me directed and delivered against the goods and chattels, real estate and chattels real of Joseph Weed and Almerin Smith, I have seized and taken all that tract or parcel of land situate lying and being in the town of Ticonderoga, and Essex county, bounded as follows:

All that piece and parcel of land lying and being in said town of Ticonderoga, being the westerly part of a lot of land formerly leased by Samuel Deal to Jonathan Drury, and known on a map of said land as lot No. 51, beginning at a maple stake standing in the east line of a lot of land lately conveyed to the said Almerin Smith, by the said Thomas Wheeler, thence running south eighty two degrees east, forty rods to a stake and stones, thence north eighty degrees thirty minutes east, eighty rods to a stake and stones, thence north eighty two degrees west, forty rods to the stake and stones, thence south eight degrees thirty minutes west, eighty rods to the place of beginning. Containing within said bounds twenty acres. Excepting from off the said lot two acres, conveyed by Samuel Deal to the Congregational Meeting House, and Society of Ticonderoga, and one half acre to the Corporation of St. Paul's Church, also in said town.

Also, all that piece parcel or tract of land situate, lying and being in the town of Ticonderoga aforesaid, and bounded as follows:

Beginning at a stake standing in the north east corner of a lot of land formerly owned by James Jones, and conveyed by him to the said Smith, and now in his possession; thence running south eighty degrees east, twenty-eight chains and sixty-three links to a stake; thence south eight degrees and forty-five minutes west, nineteen chains 70 links to a stake standing in the north line of Edward McCaughin's land, thence north eighty degrees west, 28 chains and 63 links to a stake, thence in a straight line to the place of beginning. Containing 56 acres and one-third of an acre be the same or less or less.

Also all that certain other lot adjoining being a part of the Holcomb and Jones farms, bounded on the south and west by the high way leading from Ticonderoga to Crown Point on the east by lands formerly owned by Wm. Stewart now McCaughin and on the north by the highway leading past John Ledwitch's farm and residence and on the south by said McCaughin's land.

Also, all that certain farm in Ticonderoga, aforesaid, known as the Lake farm containing about 350 acres, being lot No. one and two in the McIntosh Patent, in the possession of Charles F. Hammond and Allen Penfield, and about 75 acres adjoining part of lot No. in same patent now in possession of Geo. D. Clark

Also, all that certain other lot of land in Ticonderoga aforesaid, known as part of the James Jones farm, sold and conveyed by Almerin Smith, to Alva Bennett in the year 1847, and now in the possession of said Bennett bounded and described as follows: beginning at a stake and stones in the easterly line of lands belonging to Francis Arthur Esq., being also the south west corner of the William Canfield farm, thence along the southerly line of said Canfield's land, south 80 degrees east, 5 chains and 8 links to the centre of a highway leading from Crown Point to Ticonderoga village, thence along the same south 30 degrees east, 31 chains and 25 links to a stake then north 86 degrees west, 25 chains to a stake standing in a ditch or drain and being also in the easterly line of said Arthur's land, thence along the same north 10 3-4 degrees east, 26 chains and 76 links to the place of beginning, containing 40 acres of land.

Also, all that certain lot of land in Ticonderoga aforesaid, commonly called the Holcomb lot now in possession of Almerin J. & Charles H. Bennett, and sold and conveyed by the said Almerin Smith to them in the year 1847, bounded and described as follows, to wit:—Beginning in the centre of a highway leading from Crown Point to the Upper Falls in Ticonderoga, being the north east corner of Sylvanus Bennett's farm, thence along the north line of said Bennett's farm north 80 deg. west, 32 chains and 14 links to a stake in the east line of Gustavus N. Wicker's land, thence along the same and along part of the east line of Francis Arthur's land, north 10 3-4 deg. east, 14 chains and 85 links to a stake standing in a ditch or drain, thence south 86 deg. east, 25 chains to the centre of a highway leading from Crown Point to the Lower Falls of Ticonderoga, thence along the same south 30 degrees east, 10 chains and 80 links to the centre of the first above mentioned highway, thence southerly along the same 9 chains to the place of beginning containing 48 acres and 71-100 of an acre of land.

Also, a certain other lot in Ticonderoga aforesaid, now in possession of Jeremiah O'Brien, bounded on the south by the road leading past John Ledwitch's land and residence, on the east by said Ledwitch's lands, on the north by lands of Alexander McCambridge, and on the west by lands of Wm. A. G. Arthur containing fifty acres or thereabouts.

Also a certain other lot piece or parcel of and in Ticonderoga aforesaid lying and being on the south and west side of the highway leading from the Lower Falls to the street so called or Crown Point between the former dwelling house of the said Almerin Smith and burnt a few years since, and the present dwelling house of Edward McCaughin, being the

Legal.

McCaughin in 1847, and now owned by him, containing by estimation about 14 acres, being originally part of lands belonging to Stephen and Silas Sayre.

Also, all that certain piece or parcel of land situate lying and being in the town of Schroon, Co. and State aforesaid on the west side of Lake George and comprehended within the bounds of a tract of land granted by Letters patent under the great seal of the state of N. Y., to James Caldwell, Robert McClellen, and Robert Cochran and is more particularly known and distinguished by being lot No. one hundred and forty seven of the division of said tract bounded as follows, viz:

Beginning at the southwest corner of lot No, one hundred and forty four being a stake No. 144, 145, 146, 147, and runs thence along No. 146 south 25 chains to lot No. 148, thence along the same east 40 chains to lot No. 143, thence along the same north 25 chains to lot No. 144 thence along the same west 40 chains to the place of beginning, containing one hundred acres of land, be the same more or less. The courses are as the magnetic needle pointed at Lake George in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifteen. Which said several lots, lands and real estate I shall expose for sale at Public Vendue at the Hotel kept by S. Woodard at the Lower Falls in Ticonderoga on the 26th day of July next at ten o'clock in the forenoon. Dated June 5, 1852.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.

By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

The above sale is hereby adjourned to the 15th day of Sept. next. at the hour and place above named.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.

By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy,

July 26th, 1852.

The above is further adjourned to the 9th day of November next at the same place, and hour above named.

Dated September 15, 1852.

A. B. MACK. Sheriff

By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy

The above sale is further adjourned until the 7th day of Dec. next at the same hour and place as above. Nov. 9, 1852.

A. B. MACK. Sheriff,
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

The above sale is further adjourned to the 4th day of January next 1853 at the same place, and time of day as above. Dated December 7th, 1852.

A. B. MACK. Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy

The above sale is further adjourned to the 3d day of February at the same hour and place as above. Ticonderoga Jany 4, 1853.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy,

SUPREME COURT
JOSEPH C. WHITMAN, &
WASHINGTON CLARK
Against
HORACE GOULD.

To the defendant, HORACE GOULD.

SIR:—Please to take notice that upon an affidavit, which was filed with the Clerk of the County of Essex, on the 17th day of January, inst., we shall move this Court at a special term thereof appointed to be held at the Court House in Elizabethtown, in the County of Essex, on the 1st Monday of March next, at the opening of the Court on that day or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard for leave to issue execution on the judgment in this action against the property of the defendant, for the purpose of collecting the sum of two hundred nineteen and 78-100 dollars and interest on the same from March 25th, 1845, (the time said judgment was recovered) being the amount claimed to be due on said judgement, or for such further or other order or relief in the premises as the said Court may deem proper with costs of this motion. Dated January 17th 1853.

Yours, &c.,

FINCH & HARWOOD.
Attys for Oliver Keese, and
Thomas A. Tomlinson
455-7w Assignees of Judgment

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

NOTICE is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Rensselaer Morhous late of Willsborough deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with vouchers thereof to Abram Weldie one of the administrators at his store and place of transacting business at Willsborough in said county, on or before the sixteenth day of February next, that being at least six months from the first publication of this notice. Dated Willsborough August 10, 1851.

EMELINE MORHOUS, Admitrix.
ABRAM WELDIN,
DAVID W. MORHOUS } Administrators

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

NOTICE is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John Cummings, late of North Hudson, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof to ESTES B. WALKER, one of the administrators of the said deceased, at his dwelling house in North Hudson, his place of doing business, on or before the 25th day of May next, that being at least Six Months after the day of the first publication of this notice. Dated this 15th day of November, A. D. 1852.

ABIGAIL CUMMINGS, Administratrix.
446-6w ESTES B. WALKER, DAVID DAY. } Administrators.

CHINA, GLASS, & EARTHEN WARE.

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

[SUCCESSORS TO PEIRCE AND KING]

IMPORTERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS,

235 River Street, Troy, New York.

Having our stock very complete from Importations, and otherwise, are prepared to offer a large assortment of all Goods in our line, Wholesale or Retail, at the Lowest New York or Boston Prices for Cash or Approved Credit, among which will be found:

Fine White Ironstone and White Glazed Ware. Flown Blue, Flown Mulberry, Light Blue and common Wares, and the Acacia Ware, formerly kept by Mr. A. Slason.

White, Gold Band and Decorated French China, in sets or separate prices.

Tea sets, of French and English China, white, Gilt, or decorated. India China in great variety.

Toilet Sets, decorated or plain, full, double, or single sets.

Cut Glass Ware, in Decanters, Goblets Champaigns, Wines &c., of new and rich patterns. Glass cut to match any pattern.

Moulded and plain Glass Ware, of every description and style.

Girandoles, Candelabras, Solar Lamps, and Chandeliers in every variety, from the manufactory of Cornelius & Co. Philadelphia.

Solar Globes, cut and Plain, Solar and Camphene Wicks and Chimnies. Astral and Coat Wicks, Boat Globes Astral Chimnies, &c., &c.

Hall Lanterns of cut, plain, and stained Glass,

Lanterns of every variety. A's a new and desirable style with patent catch, &c., for Railroads and Steamboats, and made to order with names or initials engraved on.

Tea Trays and Waiters, new styles and shapes, of our own importation, singly or in sets.

Looking Glasses, Britannia Ware, Table Mats &c; &c

Also a splendid assortment of Fancy Goods, consisting of Vases, Cologness, Cardreceivers, Allumets, Decanters, Wine Bottles, &c., in China, Terra Cotta, Parian Marble and Bohemian Ware,

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

235 River-Street, Opposite Troy House, Troy. N. Y.

ALFRED H. PEIRCE.
LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK. } 445

Gas, Steam & Water Fitting

and Fixtures, Wrought-Iron Pipe, Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Plumbers' Materials, &c.

We are now prepared to do work in dwellings, Stores, Churches, Mills, or Factories, in the way of Gas and Steam Fitting or Plumbing, in the most complete and satisfactory manner. Having workmen in each of the above branches who cannot be excelled by any similar establishments in the country, all orders will be promptly executed, and work done in any part of the country.

We have also constantly on hand and for Sale at Manufacturers' Prices, Wrought Iron Pipe for Gas, steam, and water. Twisted and Plain Brass Pipe, Steam Valves, Brass and Iron Stop Cocks, Tees, Elbows, Coupling, Brass Globe, Cross and Check Valves, &c. Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Leather Hose, Hose Pipe and Couplings, with every material in Lead, Brass and Plated Work for Plumbers' use.—Plug Basins, Hoppers, Closet Pans, Corner Basins, and Baths, of all descriptions.

Also, a splendid assortment of Chandeliers, Pendants, Brackets &c., of new and rich styles, to which we are receiving constant additions.

PEIRCE and SOUTHWICK.

223 and 235 River-Street, (Opposite Troy House,) Troy, N. Y. 445-tf

ALFRED H. PEIRCE, LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK

NEW STORE.

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

True Union Store.

MR. NICHOLS of Burlington, Vt., has established a branch of his stock at Essex, nearly opposite the Steam Boat Landing in Fancher's Building adjoining the Hotel, where he has on hand nearly all kinds of Dry-goods and Groceries, and intends keeping up a good assortment by constantly replenishing, and will sell as low as can be bought in Burlington for cash and ready pay, most kinds of Produce taken. Mr. N. flatters himself that with the facilities he has for purchasing goods both in Boston and New York, that he can compete with any store in Northern New York or Vermont. Please give us a call and see for themselves. "A penny saved is two pence earned."

WANTED 10,000 lbs. BUTTER.

N. Y., June 15, 1852.

NOTICE.

AN election of the Directors for the Keeseville and Port Douglass Plank Road Company, will be [illegible] of the company on Thur[illegible] February next, at 2 o'cl[illegible]

THOMAS V[illegible]

Medicine.

THE WONDER OF THE WORLD.

DEVINES' COMPOUND

PITCH LOZENGE,

A sure and pleasant Remedy for Colds, Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, and if lungs enough are left to sustain life, A CERTAIN CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, safe for the Infant or the Invalid, in any stage of weakness.

"The statements that consumption cannot be cured, has destroyed more lives than the disease itself.—[Dr. Warren.

Read the following, which to a candid mind places this "Great Remedy," like Cæsar's wife "above suspicion."

TO THE PUBLIC!

We, the undersigned, citizens of Lee, Mass., are acquainted with Mr. Devines, the proprietor and Manufacturer of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge and from what we know of it ourselves and have learned from others of its beneficial effects, in cases where it has been used, give it as our opinion that it is a valuable remedy in diseases for which it is recommended and is worthy of public confidence. A. G. Hulburt, Leonard Church, F. G. Taylor, Wm. Taylor, E. A. Bliss, S. A. Hulburt, Josephus Crafts, T. P. Ebbridge.

If any individual is to be pitied, and needs sympathy, it is the consumptive—always expecting to get well, and yet the painful evidence of decay almost "makes the inner soul shrink with the outer flesh."

"Some bloom as roses bloom, and live as roses live, A single morning space!"

While others, in more mature life—by some imprudence and a slight cold neglected—in the hectic flesh—the painful cough.

"The prints of their departing steps appears."

BUT HERE IS HOPE! Mr. Wm. Devines, the originator and manufacturer of the Pitch Lozenge, under Providence, was raised to perfect health by the use of these Lozenges alone, after he was pronounced by his physician to be almost dying with consumption.

This fact is generally known in Berkshire County and is the neighborhood talk, and wonder in Lee, and in Great Barrington, Mass.

From Dr. Brown, of Lee, Mass.

This certifies that I have made use of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge for cold and cough, and found immediate relief. Therefore I would recommend it to the public as being a safe and sovereign remedy. H. C. BROWN.

Lee, October 28, 1851.

Sold wholesale at Albany, by Wm. A. Wharton & Co., Druggists, &c., H. C. Sheldon, Troy, Spencer & Nichols, Whitehall, Hammonds & Co., Crownpoint, W. G Lyon, Essex, Reynolds & Tufts and I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. Orders addressed Wm. Devines, Jamaica L. I. 436 1y Wm. RENNE, Traveling Agent

M. DUBOYS'

FRENCH

RAT EXTERMINATOR.

THIS PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to exterminate Rats and Mice, whenever used as directed, and to leave no offensive stench on the premises cleared of these annoying vermin. Its use is perfectly safe in any place and at all times, which is not the case witn ordinary remedies for this evil.

CAUTION!—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!—

The extraordinary success of M. Duboy's Rat Exterminator has excited the cupidity of some dishonest and irresponsible persons to counterfeit it. Inquire for M. Duboy's French Rat Extirminator, and take no other. Large boxes at 25 cents. LYNDE & OSBURN.

Rochester, N. Y., Sole American Agents, to whom all orders should be addressed.

For sale by Stearns & Beckwith, Peru. I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. 444 1y

Miscellaneous,

WOOLEN

MANUFACTURING

IN all its various branches, will be carried on at the Keeseville Woolen Manufacturing Establishment, in Keeseville, N. Y.

Wool of any quality will be received in exchange for Cloth,

CASSIMERES, SATINETS,

Flannels, &c.

The Goods of this Establishment for the last two years, are well known at home and in market, and needs no other recommendation than a fair trial. Farmers and others wishing to make the most out of their wool, will find it to their advantage to call and exchange their wool for cloths. They may rest assured that they will be fairly dealt with, as no goods will be offered but those that will give satisfaction.

C. Roelofson has made arrangements which will enable him to pay

Part Cash

on Exchanges, or all CASH for WOOL when

Price and Quality Suit.

On hand and ready for Exchanging. Grey Cloths, Mixed Satinets—VERY HEAVY—fine and medium Cassimeres, Red Flannel—yard wide—the different kinds also for sale.

THE CUSTOM

CARDING

will be carried on as usual.

C. ROELOFSON & Co.

Keeseville, May 26th, 1852. 421tf

WOOL! WOOL!

THE Subscriber would inform the public that he is again in the

Manufacturing Business,

Either by the yard, on shares, or in exchange for cloths on the most reasonable terms, and that he intends to keep on hand a full supply of the following goods:

BLACK BROAD CLOTHS,

Black, Brown, and Olive Cassimeres,

FULLED CLOTHS, SATTINETS, TWEEDS,

Flannels, &c.,

suitable to this country, and that he will spare no pains in trying to please such as may favor him with their patronage. Birmingham, May 15, 1852. J. APPLEYARD. 419

WOOL!! WOOL!!!

Cash Paid for Wool

BY

Matthews & Ames,

At the Old Stand of

H. & H. MATTHEWS.

Every discription of Woolen and Cotton Goods given in exchange for Wool if wanted.

HAVING increased our stock of Goods by a second Spring purchase. We feel confident that we shall be able to supply all who may wish Goods or Groceries of any description, in part, or wholly, for their Fleece, Pulled or Tag Wool.

Boots ad Shoes.

READY-MADE or MADE to ORDER,

AS good as the best, as cheap as the cheapest and warranted to fit. The undersigned begs leave to remind the public of the above facts and solicits a share of their patronage. ☞ Opposite the Bank.

JAMES ADAMS.

Keeseville, March, 1852. 111-tf

PIANO FORT EMPORIUM.

361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. The most extensive and varied assortment of ROSEWOOD PIANO FORTES, plain and ornamental, elegant patterns, elaborately carved, and highly finished with Pearl keys, all of our own manufacture, and warranted in every particular, can be found at our Warerooms, 361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

437-1y BENNTT & CO.

VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE.

THE subscriber having disposed of a portion of his Farm, offers the balance, containing 108 acres of first rate land, a good dwelling house and convenient out buildings, well fenced into convenient size fields, situated 4 miles north of the Village, of Keeseville on the mail route to Plattsburgh, and for pleasantness of location is not surpassed by any in Northern New York.

ALSO.—If desired, a wood and pasture lot fifty acres, about 4 miles distant.

WILLETS KEESE.

[illegible] 21, 1852. 451

Miscellaneous.

New Goods! Nw Good!

—AT—

NICHOLS' CASH STORE,

150 Church street,

BURLINGTON, VERMONT,

HAVING just Purchased in New York and Boston, a large stock of Goods of all kinds we now offer them for sale, and those who are in want of goods in our line will save money by calling on us before purchasing. We are confident we have the largest stock of goods ever brought into Burlington at one time; we were induced to buy largely in consequence of the low prices of many kinds of goods, particularly dress goods of almost every kind.

We have a full stock of everything usually kept in a dry good store: Also West India goods and groceries, a very large stock of Teas and Sugars low by chest and cask. Also at cost to clear them off Paper Hangings, Crockery and glass Ware and looking glasses.

CARPETING, AT THE

CARPET WARE HOUSE.

BURLINGTON, VT.

Received this day and now opening 50 pieces of all grades, the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three Ply, Superfine, fine and common Ingrain and Venetian, all Wool. Cotton and Cotton and Wool; Also, all the different qualities of Stair Carpeting, Straw Matting, Oil Cloth, Drugetts, Crumb Cloths, Hearth Rugs, Door Matts, &c., very cheap.

Burlington, Nov. '52. 446

FAMILY GROCERIES.

A larg and choice assortment of Sugars, Teas, Oils, Molasses, Pork, Fish, Fine and coarse Salt, Camphene, Soap and Candles, rooms, Pails, Willow Waggons, Cradles, Flavoring Extracts, Cat, Sups, all kinds Toys, New Years and Christmass presents, Confectionaries, Nuts, Bird Seed, &c., &.

The above goods are offered on the usual terms, at the lowest prices. Let those wishing to buy examine for themselves.

100 Barrels Genessee Flour,

FRESH Ground for sale at,

REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

40 Barrels Sugars.

CRUSHED, granulated Muscavado and Coffee Sugars at REYNOLDS & TUFTS,

Green & Black Teas.

40 CHESTS and Cattys choice Old Hyson, Young Hyson and fine Oolong Teas cheaper than any in town at

REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

Keeseville, Nov. 18, 1852. 446

REMOVAL.

THE Subscriber takes this method to inform his friends and the public that he has mowed his

AIORING ESTAB ISHMEN

To the Store south of the Bank, and lately occupied by W. Whitney.

Where he intends carrying on the above business in all its branches.

He will keep constantly on hand a choice assortment of

Broadcloth, Cassimeres & Vestings

which he will make up to order on short notice, in the most fashionable styles. Also Shirts, Collars, Cravats, Suspenders, Gloves, &c.

Also an assortment of

READY-MADE CLOTHING,

which he will sell cheap for cash.

☞ Cutting done on short notice.

☞ Two Good Journeymen Tailors wanted.

WM. COWLBECK.

KEESEVILLE ACADEMY.

The undersigned in behalf of the Trustees of Keeseville Academy, announce that the Fall Term will commence on Thursday the 22d day of November next. They have succeeded in engaging the following corps of Teachers.

Associate Principals. { CHARLES H. DANN, Teacher of Languages and Higher Mathematics. GILBERT THAYER, Teacher of English Branches, Natural Sciences and Superintendent of the School.

Miss. NANCY K. POTTER Assistant Teacher.

Mrs. ELLEN M FISHER Teacher of Music.

Good Board and Rooms in the Village.

TERMS:

Common English Branches	$3 00	per quarter
Higher " Branches	1 00	extra
Book keping	1 50	" "
Latin and Greek, each	1 00	" "
French, Italian and German, each	1 00	" "

Tuition is not charged for more than two of the above extras.

Music Instrumental,	$10 00	per quarter.
" Vocal	1 00	" "

For French, Italian or German, taken as single branches, the charge will be........ 3 00 " "

Mr. THAYER will give especial attention to young gentleman and Ladies expecting to engage in teaching.

Oliver Keese
Jacob D Kingslond } Com. of
John Mattocks Trustees.

Keeseville July 28, 1852 430

MATTHEWS & AMES,

(SUCCESSORS TO H. & H. MATTHEWS,)

DEALERS IN

Tin, Sheet Iron, Copper, Japan and BRITANNIA WARE,

together with a large and well selected assortment of

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

which they will sell by the piece or package, at a small advance from cost. Also, a general assortment of

YANKEE NOTIONS

And Fancy Articles,

suitable to the Pedlars Trade, which they will sell low for cash.

☞ All kinds of barter taken in exchange for Goods.

Keeseville, April 17, 1852. 415

New and Cheap Goods

E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Have just received from New York and Boston one of the best assortments of

FALL AND WINTER GOODS

ever exhibited in Keeseville.

Among their stock of DRY GOODS will be found a beautiful assortment of Wool, and Cotton, and wool d'Laines, and Cashmeres, both plain and printed, of all qualities, and prices from one shilling to one Dollar per yard. French Merinoes, Paramattas, Alpaccas Lyonese Cloth, English and American Prints, Ginghams, Flannels of all kinds, a superior quality of Bay State Flannel of different colors, Wool Plaids, Tickings, Stripes &c. &c. Shawls—a large and splended assortment of Bay State, Empire State, Waterloo, Scotch Plaid, and Printed WOOL SHAWLS, at prices much lower than ever before offered in this market. A beautiful assortment of Bonnet Silks and Velvets, with trimmings of all kinds. Also dress silks and Satins, Gloves, Hosiery &c.

READY MADE CLOTHING

Of all kinds, sold very cheap, also, Cloths, Broad Cloths Plain and fancy Cassimeres, Black Doe Skins, Satinets Silks and Worsted, Vestings, Serges, &c., &c., with many other articles too numerous to mention. 'Tis unnecessary to add that all the above goods will be sold at very low prices. Only remember their motto 'quick sales and small profits.' Please call and examine Goods and prices, and satisfy yourselves. Opposit the Adirondac Hotel.

Keeseville Oct. 1852.

CASH,

AND THE

Highest Market Price

WILL BE PAID FOR WOOL, AT THE WOOLEN FACTORY, by

C. F. ROELOFSON & Co.

Keeseville, July 8th, 1852. 427tf

Miscellaneous.

THE NORTHERN

New York Mutual

INSURANCE COMPANY,

Plattsburgh, Clinton Co., N. Y.

Capital, 100,000.

THIS Company is organized under the General Insurance Law of the State of New York, with a sound, reliable capital, and offers the following superior inducements:

1. The safer kinds of property are separated entirely from the more hazardous; affording the advantages of two distinct companies, with the expense of but one.

2. The first class, or Farmer's Department, consists of Farm-houses, Farm buildings and their contents and detatched dwellings and their contents in villages, when unexposed by more hazardous buildings.

3. The second class or Merchant's Department, consists of exposing dwellings, stores, merchandize and property not deemed specially hazardous.

4. Each class pays its own losses and thus securing equal justice and proportional rates to both.

5. Not more than $3,000 of the first class, or more than $2,000 of the second class, will be taken in one risk, nor any number of risks so contiguous as probably to subject the Company to a loss of over $3,000 at any one fire; thereby saving it from heavy and ruinous losses.

6. In taking surveys of property, the agent will be the agent of the company, and the company be responsible for the correctness of all surveys made by its agents.

7. Any one insured, may at any time surrender his policy and withdraw from the company by paying his proportion of the losses and expense up to the date of such surrender.

8. Applications will take effect at noon of the day on which they are made (unless a different day is directed by the applicant,) thus relieving the party from anxiety and suspense.

9. The company no have two-thirds clause, but will pay all loss and damage not exceeding the amount insured.

10. In case of difference of opinion in settlement of losses, the company will submit the same to arbitration in the county where the loss occurs, the claimant choosing one, the company one, and the two arbitrators another.

11. Each person insured in the company becomes a member and will be entitled to a participation of the profits, if any surplus should accrue, not required for the payment of losses.

12. This company will be responsible for losses by fire caused by lightning.

13. This company will take no risks in cities.

☞ The Directors return their acknowledgments to the public for ther readiness in aiding the organization of this company, and will endeavor to make it a safe and reliable institution, affording protection from the ravages of fire, at reasonable rates, and with certainty of payment in case of loss.

DIRECTORS.

James Parr, Fort Ann, Washington co; Olif Abel, Whitehall, do; Walter Geer, Glen's Falls, Warren co; Pelatiah Richards, Warrensburgh, do; Wm. E. Calkins, Ticonderoga, Essex co.; John Horton, Columbia Village, St. Lawrence co.; Thomas H. Conkey, Canton, do.; Amasa C. Moore, Samuel F. Viles, Henry G. Hewitt, Jacob H. Holt, John Boynton, Peter S. Palmer, Cornelius Halsey, Z. C. Platt, W. W. Hartwell, Benjamine Gilman, George Moore, Plattsburgh, Clinton Co,

OFFICERS.

SAMUEL F. VILES, Presikent;
WM. W. HARTWELL, Vice President;
ZEPHENIAH C. PLATT, Treasurer;
GEORGE MOORE, Secretary;
I. C. MIX, and
R. G. SWINBRN, General Agents.
JAMES B. DICKINSON, Agent Ausable Forks.
Plattsburgh, Dec. 4th, 1852. 448 tf

DRY-GOODS!

CARPETS AND OIL-CLOTHS,

at uncommonly low prices

may be had at

G. V. S. Quackenbush's,

202 River and 9 State Streets. Troy.

MY Stock of Dry-Goods is unsurpassed in Variety and extent, consisting of every class of goods from the lowest priced Muslins and Prints, to the finest or the richest and most expensive styles of Silks and Shaw's and of each denomination of goods.

BROAD-CLOTHS AND CASSIMERES,

I have an almost endless variety of patterns of all the different qualities.

Of Carpets and Oil Cloths I have a splendid assortment consisting of a great variety of new and beautiful patterns of Velvets, Tapestry, and Brussels Carpets—

Also

Three Ply, Tapestry-Ingrains, and Ingrains of all qualities and so varied in styles that all may here find something to suit their fancy.

Oil Cloths of all Widths and Qualities

and of the newest and most desirable patterns, Rugs, in great variety,

STAIR CARPETS, STAIR RODS, DRUGGETS,

MATTS,

and Matting of every Style and Quality.

A correct diagram being furnished Oil Cloths will be cut to fit rooms or halls without extra charge, and Carpets made in a superior manner at the lowest rates.

Those wishing to purchase either Dry-Goods or Carpets will find that my assortment is unequaled, and that my prices are uncommonly low.

422 G. V. S. QUACKENBUSH.

202 River Street, Troy.

RUTLAND & BURLINGTON

Rail Road.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after Monday, Nov. 1st, trains will run as follows, viz:

FOR BOSTON, NEW YORK AND INTERMEDIATE PLACES.

LEAVE
Burlington at	8,15	A. M.	4.15	P. M.
Vergennes	9 09	"	5.00	"
Middlebury	9,42	"	5.35	"
Brandon	10 20	"	6.18	"
Rutland	11 00	"	AR. 7,00	"
			L. 6,30	A. M.
Cuttingville	11.25	"	6.56	"
Ludlow	12.06	P. M.	7.35	"
Proctorsville	12,15	"	7.43	"
Chester	12,40	"	8,10	"
Arriving
Bellows Falls	1,15	"	8 45	"
Boston	7,00	"	1,00	P. M.
LEAVE
Boston	7 45	A. M.	12.00	M.
Bellows Falls	12 00	"	5 15	P. M.
Chester	12.40	P. M.	5.50	"
Proctorsville	107	"	6,17	"
Ludlow	1,15	"	6.25	"
Cuttingville	1 52	"	7.06	"
Rutland	AR. 2.15	"	AR. 7 30	"
	L. 3.00	"	L. 7 45	"
Brandon	3 38	"	8 25	"
Middlebury	4.25	"	9.14	"
Vergennes	5.00	"	9,37	"
Arriving
Burlington	5.45	"	10.30	"

CONNECT AT BURLINGTON,

with the Steamers for PLATTSBURGH and MONTREAL RAIL ROADS, and with the VERMONT and CENTRAL and VERMONT and CANADA RAIL ROADS for the East, North, and West, via CHAMPLAIN and ST. LAWRENCE, and the OGDENSBURGH RAIL ROADS.

CONNECT AT RUTLAND

with the Trains of Western Vermont, Rutland and Washington and Saratoga and Washington Rail Roads, for New York, Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Buffalo and the West.

CONNECT AT BELLOWS FALLS

with the Trains of the Cheshire, Vermont Valley, and Sullivan Rail Roads for Windsor, Boston, Worcester, Lowell Springfield, Hartford, New Haven, and New York.

Fares are less when Tickets are purchased at the Office than when paid in the Cars.

Burlington, Oct. 25, 1852. JOHN S. DUNLAP, Superintendent.

445

EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR.

50 BARRELS made from Pure Genesse Wheat at the lowest price at

REYNOLDS & TUFTS

Dec. 18, 1852.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Essex County Republican.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING BY JONATHAN TARBELL, Editor and Proprietor. TERMS, $2 Per Year—$1,50 in Advance.

VOLUME XIII. NO. 38. KEESEVILLE, N. Y., FEBRUARY 5, 1853. WHOLE NUMBER 657.

Poetry.

Young Again.

An old man sits in a high-backed chair
Before an open door,
While the sun of a summer afternoon
Falls hot across the floor,
And the drowsy click of ancient clock
Has notched the hour of four.

A breeze blows in and a breeze blows out
From the scented summer air,
And it flutters now on his wrinkled brow,
And now it lifts his hair;
And the leaden lid of his eye drops down,
And he sleeps in his high-backed chair.

The old man sleeps, and the old man dreams,
His head drops on his breast,
His hands relax their feeble hold,
And fall to his lap in rest.
The old man sleeps and the old man dreams,
And in dreams again is blest.

The years unroll their fearful scroll;
He is a child again,
A mother's tones are in his ear,
And drift across his brain;
He chases gaudy butterflies
Far down the rolling plain.

He plucks the wild rose in the woods,
And gathers eglantine,
And holds the golden buttercups
Beneath his sister's chin;
And angles in the meadow brook
With a bent and naked pin.

He loiters down the grassy land
And by the brimming pool,
And a sigh escapes his parted lips
As he hears the bell for school—
And he wishes it never were nine o'clock,
And the morning never were full.

A mother's hand is pressed on his head,
Her kiss is on his brow—
A summer breeze blows in at the door
With a toss of a leafy bough,
And the boy is a white-haired man again,
And his eyes are tear-filled now.

Miscellany.

The Runaway's Return.

Well! here am I, after my night's walk, once more in the village where I was born, the sun is up now, and shining brightly.—Things appear the same and yet different. How is it? There was a big tree used to stand at that corner; and where is Carver's cottage?

Three days ago I landed at Portsmouth. It was on my birth day. For ten long years have I been sailing about on the sea and wandering about on the land. How things come over me! I am a man now; but for all that, I could sit down and cry like a child.

It seems but as yesterday since I ran away from home. It was the worst day's work that I ever did. I got up in the morning at sunrise while my father and mother were a sleep. Many and many a time had I been unkind to my dear mother, and undutiful to my father, and the day before he had told me how wrong I was. He spoke kindly and in sorrow, but my pride would not bear it. I thought I would leave home. What is it that makes me tremble so now?

My father coughed as I crept along by his door, and I thought I heard my mother speak to him; so I stood a moment with my bundle in my hand, holding my breath. He coughed again. I have seemed to hear that cough in every quarter of the world.

When I had unlocked the door, my heart failed me: for my sister had kissed me over night, and told me she had something to tell me in the morning. I knew what it was: she had been knitting me a pair of garters to give to me on my birthday. I turned back, opened the door of her little room, and looked at her; but my tears fell on the bed-clothes, and I was afraid it would wake her. Half blinded, I groped down stairs.

Just as I had gently closed the door, the casement rattled above my head. I looked up and there was my mother. She spoke to me, and when I did not answer, she cried out loud to me. That cry has rung in my ears ever since; ay, in my very dreams!

As I hurried away I felt, I suppose, as Cain felt when he had murdered his brother. My father, my mother, and my sister had been kind to me; but I had been unkind to them, and in leaving them thus, I felt as if I were murdering them all.

Had I been a robber, I could not have felt more guilty. But what do I say that for? I was robbing them of their peace. I was stealing that from them that the whole world could not make up to them; but on I went. O that I could bring back that hour!

The hills look as purple as they did when I used to climb up them. The rocks are cawing among the high elm-trees by the church. I wonder whether they are the same rooks! There's a shivering comes over me as I get nearer home. Home! I feel there is no home for me.

Here is the corner of the hedge, and the old seat; but father is not sitting there.—There is the patch of ground that my sister called her garden, but she is not walking in it. And yonder is the bed-room window; my mother is not looking out of it now. That cry! that cry!

I see how it is. There are none of them here, or things would not look as they do. Father would not let the weeds grow in this fashion, nor the thatch fall in, and my mother and my sister never stuffed that straw through the broken panes.

I'll rap at the door anyhow. How hollow it sounds? Nobody stirs. All is silent as the grave. I'll peep in at the window. It's an empty house that's clear.—Ten long years! How could I expect it to be otherwise? I can bear hard work, and hunger and thirst! but I can't bear this.

The elderberry is in blossom as it was when I ran away, and the woodbine is as fresh as ever, running up to the window that my mother opened to call after me,—I could call after her now, loud enough to be heard a mile, if I thought she would hear me.

I'm of no use stopping here! I'll cross the church yard, and see if the clerk lives where he did; but he won't know me. My cheek was like the rose when I went away; but the sun has made it of another color. How narrow the path is between the grass! it used to be wider, at least I thought so: no matter. The old sun dial, I see, is standing there yet.

The last time I was in that church, my father was with me: and the text was, "My son, hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother." Prov. i, 8. O, what a curse do we bring upon us when we despise God's Holy Word!

My uncle lies under the yew tree there, and he had a grave stone. Here it is. It's written all over now, quite to the bottom: "In memory of Humphry Haycroft."—But what is the name under? "Walter Haycroft." My father! my father!—"And Mary his wife." O! my mother! and are you both gone? God's hand is heavy on me! I do feel it in my heart and soul!

And there's another name yet, and it's freshly cut: "Esther Haycroft, their daughter; aged 24." My father! my mother! and my sister! Why did not the sea swallow me up when I was wrecked!—I deserved it. What is the world to me now! I feel, bitterly feel, the sin of disobedience; the words come home to me now: "The eye that mocketh at his father, and despiseth to obey his mother, the ravens of the valley shall pick it out, and the young eagles shall eat it." Prov. xxx, 17.

But yet I recollect how my dear father and mother used to point us to the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world. "There is no refuge besides," said my mother; "Christ is able and willing to save." I paid but little attention to these words once; O may I never forget them now!—[Arthur's Home Magazine.

The "Old Guard" at Waterloo.

The following description of the last charge by the old French Guard at Waterloo, is derived from a French work entitled 'Historie de la Garde Imperiale, relue par M. Emile Marco de Saint Hillaire,' and is interesting at the present moment;

During the day, the artillery of the Guard, under Drouet maintained its old renown; and the Guard itself had frequently been used to restore the battle in various parts of the field, and always with success. The English were fast becoming exhausted, and in an hour more would doubtlessly have been forced into a disastrous defeat, but for the timely arrival of Blucher. But when they saw him with his 30,000 Prussians approaching, their courage revived, while Napoleon was filled with amazement. A beaten enemy was about to form a junction with the allies, while Grouchy, who had been sent to keep him in check, was no where to be seen. Alas! what great plans a single inefficient commander can overthrow.

In a moment Napoleon saw that he could not sustain the attack of so many fresh troops, if once allowed to form a junction with the allied forces, and he determined to stake his fate on one bold cast, and endeavor to pierce the allies with a grand charge of the Old Guard, and thus throw himself between the two armies.—For this purpose the Imperial Guard was called up and divided into two immense columns, which were to meet in the British centre. Those under Reille no sooner entered the fire than it disappeared like mist. The other was placed under Ney, 'the bravest of the brave,' and the order to advance given. Napoleon accompanied them part of the way down the slope, and halting for a moment in a hollow, addressed them in a few words. He told them the battle rested with them, and that he relied on their valor, tried in so many fields. 'Vive l'Empereur!' answered him with a shout that was heard above the thunder of artillery.

The whole continental struggle exhibits no sublimer spectacle than this last effort. The greatest military energy and skill the world ever possessed had been taxed to the utmost, during the day. Thrones were tottering on the turbulent field and the shadows of fugitive kings flitted through the smoke of battle. Bonaparte's star trembled in the zenith—now blazing out in its ancient splendor, now suddenly paling before his anxious eye. The intense anxiety with which he watched the advance of that column, and the terrible suspense he suffered when the smoke of battle wrapped it from sight and the utter despair of his great heart when the curtain lifted over a fugitive army, and the despairing shriek rung out, 'The Guard recoils!' 'The Guard recoils!' make us for a moment forget all the carnage, in sympathy with his distress.

The Old Guard felt the pressure of the immense responsibility, and resolved not to prove unworthy the great trust committed to its care. Nothing could be more imposing that its movement to the assault. It had never recoiled before a human foe, and the allied forces beheld with awe its firm and steady advance to the final charge.—For a moment the batteries stopped playing, and the firing ceased along the British lines, as without the beating of a drum, or a bugle note to cheer their steady courage, they moved in dead silence over the field. Their tread was like muffled thunder while the dazzling helmets of the cuirassiers flashed long streams of light behind the dark and terrible mass that swept in one strong wave along. The stern Drouet was there amid his guns, and on every brow was written the unalterable resolution to conquer or die. The next moment the artillery opened and the head of the column seemed to sink in the earth. Rank after rank went down, yet they neither stopped nor faltered. Dissolving squadron and whole battalions disappearing one after another in the destructive fire affected not their steady courage. The ranks closed up as before and each treading over his fallen comrade, pressed unflinchingly on.

The horse which Ney rode fell under him, and scarcely had he mounted another before it also sank to the earth, and so another and another, till five in succession had been shot under him. Then with drawn sabre, he marched sternly at the head of his column. In vain did the artillery hurl its storm of iron into that living mass. Up to the very muzzles they pressed, and driving the artillerymen from their pieces, pushed on through the English lines. But just as the victory seemed won, a file of soldiers, who had laid flat on the ground behind a low ridge of earth, suddenly rose and poured a volley into their very faces. Another and another followed, till one broad sheet of flame rolled on their bosoms, and in such a fierce and unexpected flow that they staggered back before it. Before the Guard had time to rally again and advance, a heavy column of infantry fell on its left flank in close and deadly volleys, causing it, in its unsettled state, to swerve to the right. At that instant a whole brigade of cavalry thundered on the right flank, and penetrated where cavalry had never gone before.

That intrepid Guard could have borne up against the unexpected fire from soldiers they did not see, and would also have rolled back the infantry that had boldly charged its left flank: but the cavalry finished the disorder into which they had been momentarily thrown, and broke the shaken ranks before they had time to reform and the Eagles of that hitherto invincible Guard were pushed backward down the slope. It was then that the army, seized with despair, shrieked out, 'The Guard recoils!' and turns and fled in wild dismay. To see the Guard in confusion was a sight they had never before beheld, and it froze every heart with terror. Still those veterans refused to fly; rallying from their disorder, they formed into two immense squares of eight battallions and turned fiercely on the enemy, and nobly strove to stem the reverse tide of battle.

For a long time they stood and let the cannon balls plow through their ranks, disdaining to turn their backs on the foe.—Michel, at the head of those battallions, fought like a lion. To every command of the enemy to surrender, he replied, 'The Guard dies, it never surrenders,' and with his last breath bequeathing this glorious motto to the Guard, he fell a witness to its truth. Death traversed those eight battallions with such a rapid footstep that they soon dwindled away to two, which turned in hopeless daring on the overwhelming numbers that pressed their retiring footsteps.

Last of all but a single battallion, the debris of the 'column of granats' at Marengo, was left. Into this Napoleon flung himself. Cambronne, its brave commander, saw with terror the Emperor in its frail keeping. He was not struggling for victory, he was intent only on showing how the Guard should die. Approaching the Emperor, he cried out. 'Retire! Do you not see that death has no need of you!' and closing mournfully yet sternly around their expiring eagles, those brave hearts bade Napoleon an eternal adieu, and flinging themselves on the enemy, were soon piled with the dead at their feet.

Many of the officers were seen to destroy themselves rather than survive defeat.—Thus, greater in its own defeat than any other corps of men in gaining a victory, the Old Guard passed from the stage and the curtain dropped upon its strange career. It fought its last battle.

An Anxious Inquirer.—Some two miles up the river from St. Johnsbury, Vermont, is a primative sort of a little village called 'the Centre.' Here, not long since, the rustic youth of the vicinity congregated for a dance, and 'dance they did,' said our informant, 'with an unction unknown to your city belles and beaux.' One interesting young man having 'imbibed' rather too freely became 'fatigued' in the course of the evening, and wisely concluded to 'retire' for a short rest. A door that near the dancing hall revealed invitingly, a glimpse of a comfortable bed, of which he took possession with a prospect of an undisturbed snooze.' It so happened, however, that this was the ladies' withdrawing room, and no sooner had he closed his eyes, than a pair of blooming damsels came in from the hall, and began adjusting their disordered ringlets, the dim light of the tallow candle not disclosing the tenant of the bed. The girls had tongues (like most of their sex') which ran on in this wise; 'What a nice dance' we're having! Have you heard anybody say anything about me, Jane?'—'La yes, Sally! Jim Brown says he never see you look so handsome as you do to-night. Have you heard anybody say anything about me?' 'About you! why, sartin; I heard Joe Flint tell Sam Jones that you was the prettiest dressed girl in the room.' Whereupon the dear things chuckled, 'fixed up' a little more, and made off towards the ball room. They had hardly reached the door when our half conscious friend raised himself upon his elbow, and quite intelligibly, though slowly, inquired, 'Ha' you h-a-r-d any body say anything about me, girls?' 'Phanny their pheelinks' at that juncture! They fled with an explosive scream.—Rochester Locofoco.

☞ The Whigs of Connecticut have their convention to nominate State officers on the 24th of February.

From the Home Journal.

The Wail of a Sorrowing Mother.

The poem annexed, relates to a distressing event which is still fresh in the recollection of the public. It is the production, if we mistake not, of an author whose name is honored wherever American literature is known:—

He was my only boy!
A gem within the casket of my heart,
Priceless and precious as the gush of joy
That from its fountains start.

How has the silken cord [thrown,
Of my unspoken love been round him
Binding to pure affection ev'ry word
And smile his lip hath known.

Day after day his foot,
Fleet with the lightness of unfetter'd youth,
Came to my ear, soft as the tuneful lute,
Or spice-wind from the south.

But, O, he comes not now!
His joyous step and merry laughing eye,
And the pure radiance of his sunny brow,
Were things of earth, to die.

Death, to the gentle child, [blend
Came not with whispered accents, such as Sometimes with angel forms, whose faces mild
Above the death-couch bend.

The living wreath of Fame,
Twined by a nation for his sire to wear,
Withers to dust,—and Glory's proud acclaim
But sharpens my despair.

The glare of earthly pomp
Fades like a meteor in the star-light sky;
And the loud peal of Honor's clarion trump,
Is passed unheeded by.

The loftiest seat of earth
Shrinks as a shrivelled scroll before the fire
That desolates my humble homestead hearth
With anguish deep and dire.

Give me thy help, O God!
In this my hour of grief and fearful woe;
Teach me to bow beneath thy chast'ning rod,
And stay the tears that flow.

For his dear sake, whose heart
Is gashed and bleeding by the bitter stroke,
Help me to cheer his childless path, nor part
The ivy from the oak.

I know my bright-eyed boy
Is nestling in the lovely Saviour's breast;
I hear him join the swelling song of joy,
In that sweet world of rest.

Then cease, my heart, thy wail,
Here be thy anchor from the storm of grief,
Let His unfailing promises prevail,
And prayer be my relief.

A Letter from the Pope to a King.—Pope Pius IX has written a letter to the King of Saradinia, in strong opposition to a Bill recently under discussion in his Parliament, proposing that parties who choose may, under certain circumstances, contract matrimony with the sanction of the magistracy, as in France and some other Catholic countries. In conclusion, His Holiness says:—

"We have written to your majesty that the law is not catholic, and if the law is not catholic, it is obligatory on the clergy to warn the faithful even in front of the danger which they incur. Majesty, we speak to you also in the name of Jesus Christ, of whom we are vicar, though unworthy, and in his holy name. We tell you not to sanction this law which is fertile of a thousand disorders.

We pray you again to order that a restraint be put upon the press which overflows continually with blasphemies and immorality. Oh, let not these sins redound on him who having the power, should not prevent the cause!

Your Majesty complains of the clergy, but this clergy have of late years been reviled, calumniated, derided, by almost all the sheets which are printed in Piedmont, and all the villianies and mad invectives which have been and are hurled against this clergy it would be impossible to repeat.

And now because they defend the purity of the faith and the principles of truth, must that clergy encounter the disfavor of your majesty?

We cannot persuade ourselves of it, and we willingly abandon ourselves to the hope of seeing the rights of the church sustained by you, its ministers protected, and your people freed from the duty of subjection to certain laws which bear with them the impress of the decadence of religion and of morality in your states.

Full of this confidence, we raise our hands to heaven praying the Most Holy Trinity to cause to descend the apostolic benediction upon your august person and the royal family.

Signed. Pius P. P., IX.

In the 17th year of our Pontificate.

The letter bears date, September 19th, 1852, and appears for the first time in the Turin Journal, of December 18th from which it has been translated for the Newark Daily Advertiser.

The Pope's letter appears to be in answer to one from the King, which is not published, concerning the inexorable opposition of the Holy See at Rome, and its priesthood in the Kingdom itself, to the considerate measures of His Majesty's government, to establish civil and religious liberty in that Catholic country.—N. Y. Express.

Mrs. Swisshelm says the reason one nation conquers another is not owing to the kind of arms they us, but the kind of food. In her opinion, meat will triumph over cabbage. So long as cattle and Hindoos feed on cauliflowers, so long will bull dogs triumph over the one and Tartars over the other. When Ireland frees herself from England, it will be when Ireland sweps off her potatoes and takes to pork. To expect freedom to come from buttermilk, is as absurd as to look for ballot boxes in Russia.

☞ Some of the Canadian papers are taking ground against the influx of negroes into the Province, viewing it as a present injury to their property, a drawback to their social progress, and a source of much

The Green Mountain Maid.

'Twas a beautiful spot where the vine covered cot of the mountaineer stood at the edge of the wood. There the forest bird's song echod all the day long, and the mountain stream played in the close of the shades; while the greatful young fawn cropped the herbage at dawn from the wide spreading lawn. 'Twas a beautiful spot—'twas a beautiful cot; and surely there ne'er was a maid so fair, nor a maiden more rare, than the maid that dwelt there. Shall I picture this maid of the greenwood and glade, as she was in the day when old 'Allen' held sway, while his iron nerved men were the pride of the glen? She was neither too tall too short nor too small; nor so light, nor so airy as the form of the fairy. But the pride of the glade was this rosy cheeked maid, with eyes quite as blue as the summer sky's hue, and the tresses of brown floating gracefully down, and nestling below on a bosom of snow. She could warble and sing like the songsters of spring, she could spin and could weep, could mow and could reap—could ride the gray steed at the top of his speed. And had sported a trifle with her father's rifle. And this bouncing young maid of the evergreen shade was chaste and refined, and had such a mind as you seldom can find, among the gay maids of haughtier grades.

A lover she had who would have been glad, to capture her heart by his scheming and art. O'Handy by name, a dandy by fame, who, tho' wrinkled and parched, was whiskered and starched, and displayed quite a rare and citified air.

Well he knelt by her feet and began to entreat, while his great bosom beat with unmerciful heat; and he told such a tale as he deemed would not fail, to make her believe that he could not deceive.

While thus he knelt pleading, while thus interceding, he thought by her smiling that his words were beguiling. But he found the conclusion a hopeless delusion; for that maid was unlinking his scheming—was thinking; and she thought in a twinkling she'd give him a sprinkling of well pepper ed ointment of black disappointment. Ere he drew to a close she turned up her nose, as you may suppose, just as high as she chose; and scorning his prose, through his pleadings she broke, and thus 'twas she spoke:

'Oh! great is your fame, O'Handy your name—from the city you came with your heart all a flame; and you thought in the shade of mountain of glade, to capture a maid by pomp and parade. Oh! save all your tears, your hopes and your fears, your 'ducks' and your 'dears,' for some other ears. All men are agreed you're a nice bird indeed; but you're figure's too lean, you're too gaunt and too green; and that is not all, you're excessively tall; your nose is too big, you've a voice like a pig, and you wear a huge whig, while your upper lip seems just the shade of your dreams.—Now my answer you know—there's the door you may go.'

Still he lingered to plead his love and his need, and he boasted and told of his titles and gold, of her station in life whom he chose for his wife. But he found 'twas no part of a mountain maid's heart to bear insult and wrong from an eye or a tongue.—That maid could not brook such a word and such look; and she caught down a broom that hung in the room, and hit him a blow that made the blood flow not gracefully slow. He lit on all four, just out of the door, all covered with ore. Then he sprang to his feet, and considered it sweet and exceedingly meet to beat a retreat to cover defeat, and he fled from the place in shame and disgrace: disappeared over the green and was never more seen; and ever since then city dandified men have learned to beware of the Green Mountain Fair.

New Year Wishes.—The editor of the Minden (La.) Herald, is a "queer fish," as will be seen from the following article from his paper of the 29th ultimo;

A Happy New Year!—We shall not issue another paper till after the advent of 1853, and lest we should be "dead and buried" before we have another opportunity, we take this occasion, to greet those of our patrons who have paid the printer, and all who intend to pay him as soon as they can, with a happy New Year—wishing that all such may live forever and never die; but as for those who don't pay the printer and especially those who don't take the papers at all, we don't care a rod cent—may the devil take a liking to all such, until they conclude to forsake the error of their way and take the Minden Herald and then may the God of Abraham, of Isaac and of Jacob, be unto them as a pillar of cloud by day and of fire by night, to guide them in the way of all peace; so that when the year 1853 shall have ended, they may have grown to be wiser men and women, ready and willing, all of one accord, to sustain us, with advance payments. Selah!—[New Orleans Bulletin.

A Bitter French Gossip.—A correspondent of the London Atlas, pretending to be well informed, gives a dashing sort of story respecting a certain Spanish beauty named M'dlle de Montigo, who is said to be all powerful, just now, at the imperial Court. Mademoiselle fancies her mission is to be Empress of France, and there are some who think her case not altogether hopeless. In connection with this piece of gossip, there is another that Louis Napoleon long ago said—and swore—that if he ever became Emperor, his own illegitimate children, of whom he has several, should be legalized and made heirs. So the story runs.

Disturbing the Dead Again.—The Atlas last evening published a letter from Martin Van Buren to the Tammany Festival. Again, we ask, is there not a law to punish resurrectionists.

Essex Co. Ag. Society.

Report. W. C. Watson, President.

Since the last annual report of this society in connection with the Clinton Co. Society has been dissolved. This measure although adverse to the opinion of many of the most zealous friends of the society, was demanded by the wishes and interests of the southern and central sections of the county. The first independent fair of Essex county, was held at Elizabethtown, the shire town of the county, on the 17th and 18th of September. The liberality and public spirit of the citizens of that vicinity, prepared gratuitously and with no expense or liability to the society, ample grounds, well enclosed and embracing every required erection and convenience. As it has been remarked in previous repoits, the peculiar topography of Essex county, and it vast territorial extent, rendered it almost impracticable to concentrate at any point, a just or adequate exhibition of animals or products from all parts of the county.—The position of Elizabethtown is central, and the fair was more immediately sustained by that portion of the county, and yet we were happy to observe that the presence and the competition from the remote towns were much more general than upon any previous occasion. Almost every section of the county was represented, not only by interested and approving spectators, but by exhibitors and competitors. We are confident that the causes which have limited the influences of the society to local rather than general efforts will be rapidly surmounted, and that all parts of the county will gradually participate in its efforts and enjoy its benefits. We indulge the grateful assurance, that it has already become the institution of the county, and that its prosperity and growth are cherished by the warmest feelings of our citizens. The fair was attended by an immense concourse of spectators, embracing all classes, ages and conditions. The exhibition in all its branches, was in the highest degree satisfactory and creditable to the county.

We have repeatedly adverted, among the essential elements of our agricultural wealth to the Black Hawk breed of horses which are very extensively propagated throughout the county. Their high reputation was amply sustained on this occasion. These horses, it is believed, orginated in Western Vermont and possess only a slight and remote infusion of foreign thoroughbred stock. They are all distinguished by the peculiar characteristics of the breed and are pre eminent for beauty, action, docility and endurance. They are in the most active requisition, at exorbitant prices, ranging from $100 the sucking colts, to $500, and in some instances far higher for the choice animals. The rearing of these horses has become a very prominent and valuable branch of our husbandry.

Specimens of both Durham and Devon cattle of purest blood and very superior qualities, were exhibited at the fair. The public attention has been strongly attracted to these animals by the exhibitions of our society, and many very rare and splendid individuals have been introduced into different districts of the county.

The display of fine wooled sheep was excellent, and we think could scarcely be exceeded. The wool growing interests of the county has received the close and persevering attention of many of our most intelligent and observing farmers, which has resulted in the formation of numerous flocks embracing almost every desirable excellence. Most of the prominent and sagacious wool growers do not incline to the opinion that their flocks would be improved by a cross of the recent European importations. The county of Essex is peculiarly appropriate to sheep husbandry, and is now receiving an impulse which will place it among the conspicious wool growing districts of the State. We are happy to report that the notice of our farmers has been directed to South Down, Cotswold, Lincoln, and other varieties of sheep, particularly adapted for mutton, and that many fine animals of these breeds have been introduced into the county.

The department of female industry was well sustained at the fair, but that of the mechanic arts, in which we are supposed particularly to excel, did not meet the expectations of the society. We were also surprised and gratified among the miscellaneous articles to receive entries of several exceedingly chaste and beautiful paintings, executed by young ladies, in some of our secluded valleys. The performances of one of the exhibitors, particularly the painting on ivory by Miss Bishop, manifested a high degree of taste and genius. Such is the powerful and salutary influence of these societies, evoking effort, cherishing improvement, and developing the latent intellectual, as well as physical resources of the county. We were only able to recognize these claimants upon our patronage by gratuities, but propose in future to embrace the fine arts in our programme of premiums. We were gratified by the appearance at our fair, of a delegate from Washington county; we regard these interchanges of civility and intercourse as highly important and desirable, and shall be happy to reciprocate the courtesy with other societies. The tendency of this intercourse will be the promotion of a mutual acquaintance and understanding in our farming communities, and a concert and harmony of action in advancing our common agricultural interests. It enables each to examine the practices of other sections of the State, their modes of culture, their management of stock and the qualities and varieties of their animals, and is calculated to excite an emulation and generous rivalry, not only in the success of our fairs but in all the pursuits of our agriculture.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

The exhibition and practical operation of the Michigan sub-soil plow, in connection with other plows, was among the most important and attractive incidents of the fair. The novelty of its construction, and the vast power of execution it possesses, excited universal interest and attention, and we trust the event will lead to the immediate introduction among our farmers, of this most valuable and efficient implement. The society intend to urge by premiums, and all its influence, the introduction into the county of improved and labor-saving utensils.

On the second day of the fair, Amos Dean, Esq., delivered before a very large and highly interested and attractive audience, an eloquent address distinguished by a wide range of scientific and philosophical research, and replete with sound and judicious practical suggestions. The advance and prosperity of the society is illustrated by the annexed table, exhibiting its progress during the three years of its existence:

	1849.	1850.	1851.
Members,	123	145	273
Receipts from all sources,	$266,79	$374,59	$600,00
Premiums awarded and paid,	110,25	278,40	291,00

The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows:

Winslow C. Watson, Chesterfield, President; Levi D. Brown, Elizabethtown, Treasurer; Robert S Hale, Elizabethtown, Secretary, and 18 Vice-Presidents.

The final condition of the Society as exhibited by the Treasurer's report to the Comptroller for the past year, is as follows;

Cash received from State fund,		$71 00
do do	Fees of membership,	273 00
do do	Percentage on entries,	109 00
do do	On other sources,	147 00
		$600 00
Paid premiums,		$291,00
Paid incidental expenses,		145,32
Loss on bad money,		6,00
Balance in hands of Treasurer,		157,68
		$600,00

N. Y. Legislature.

ASSEMBLY, Jan. 21

COURTESY TO TEMPERANCE LADIES.

Mr. Burroughs said there was a delegation of ladies present with a petition signed by 28,000 ladies, for the Maine law. He desired to move that the chairman of the delegation be allowed to present it in person.

Mr. Hastings trusted the request would not be granted. It would be setting a bad precedent.

Mr. Miller hoped as ladies suffered most from intemperance, that this request might be granted.

Mr. O'Keefe deemed it a foregone conclusion that these eminent ladies should be allowed to exhibit their masculine powers. He trusted, therefore, that it should be done gracefully. Members would be gratified with the appearance of a lady—not in the antiquated garb of Elizabeth, but in the garb of modern days, striding across the floor, to perform this masculine duty.

The request was granted by a strong vote.

Mr. Burroughs escorted the committee of ladies, viz: Miss Emily Clark, of LeRoy, Mrs. Bloomer, of Seneca Falls; Mrs. Vaughn, of Oswego; and Mrs. H. A. Albro, of Rochester, and introduced them to the House.

Standing, with her associates, midway of the centre aisle, Miss Clark, of Le Roy—who was tastefully dressed in ordinary costume—spoke as follows, in a very distinct tone:—

MR. SPEAKER AND LEGISLATORS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK:—We come to you in behalf of 28,000 women—wives, mothers and sisters—of this great Common wealth, to petition your honorable body for protection. We ask protection, that our hearthstones may not be desolated—that the little ones around our firesides may not be rendered more than fatherless, we ask protection, that our sons may be saved from the drunkard's doom; we ask protection, that our husbands may be saved from the destroying power of the spirit that dwells in the intoxicating cup; we ask protection, that all that is sacred to the homes of the Empire State may not be considered of less moment than the few millions invested in the liquor traffic in this State; we ask you to pass a law entirely prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage; and we most respectfully but earnestly solicit the early attention of your honorable body to our petition.

HON. JOHN A. DIX, in his lecture on New York, mentions the remarkable fact that the northern line of Pennsylvania, although not drawn with any reference to any natural boundary, is the northern line of the coal deposits. Not a trace of this great article of necessity is found on the New York side!

We quote one of the closing paragraphs:

"This city, (New York) as the metropolis of such a country, should correspond with it, in the magnitude of its improvements. Though yet in its infancy, it has proved itself in all it has done, not unworthy of the distinction. Pere La Chaise sinks into insignificance when contrasted with the silver grandeur of Greenwood.—The aqueduct which conveys the Croton River across the Harlem, compares well in the beauty and solidity of its architecture with the kindred work spanning the valley of Alcantara, or with these magnificent structures, which, after the lapse of two thousand years, though now falling into ruins, still stretch across the Campagna and by the agency of which imperial Rome was perpetually refreshed by the pure waters of her distant hills."

Maine Law in the Legislature.—The Temperance Advocate of Albany, gives the following classification of the "Maine Law":—

	Assembly.	Senate.
For the law	45	12
Against the law	78	19
Doubtful	5	3
	128	32

Majority against the law 33 9 with probably the addition of the "doubtful" votes.

The Republican.

KEESEVILLE:

Saturday Morning Feb 8.

"The Union of Lakes, the Union of Lands,
The Union of States none can sever,
The Union of Hearts, the Union of Hands,
The Flag of Our UNION—Forever."

The world at large.

At no time in the history of the world, probably, has news, excitement, inventions projects of all discriptions, been as universal, as wide spread and numerous as at the present moment. We look over our exchanges, and sigh in vain for the time and the space to give our readers a tythe of the movements of the day, embracing as they do, every part of the habitable globe. Let us see: California, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Minnesota, &c., are fertile of news of general interest. Then there is the examination of the river Amazon, and its adjacent territory, opening to this country new fields of speculation, colonization and glory of untold and unexampled grandeur, which will soon claim a large share of public attention. Mexico, poor—distracted—divided—helpless Mexico—all eyes—tearful eyes are turned towards her death struggles, and what will the end be? In her destruction the democracy of the U. S. have an accountability which will sometime overtake them in a fearful judgement. Cuba, Hayti, the Sandwich Islands, the Japan expedition, the escape of the Irish Exiles from their distant and dismal Island Prison, Persecution in Tuscany, Rebellion in Turkey, French politics, Ministerial changes in England, Researches in Egypt, Worlds Fair at Naples, and so on without end, all claim and deserve extended notices. Spain is on the eve of a revolution and civil war in consequence of the encroachments of government on the rights of the people. This will revive the blasted hopes of fillibustiers on Cuba and the consequence may be momentous to this country.

Nearer home, Congress, the State Legislatures, Rail Road projects, temperance movements, Cabinet speculations, the war of democratic factions, Ericsson's invention, policy of the incoming administration, local items, the general and local prosperity of the country, accidents by sea and land, fire and flood, and a host of other subjects press for attention.

In short the whole world is astir. Mind is everywhere active. Invention, agitation, and excitement are abroad. We hope our readers keep posted on all these subjects, and at the same time we trust they will not lose sight of old landmarks in morals, politics, or religion. In times like these there is danger of getting afloat on some error. Against this we shall try to guard our readers, while we keep them informed of all that is interesting and important.

So kind readers, let us jog on together throughout the New Year.

Congress.

Here, "Cabinet making," finessing for the leadership of the incoming administration, and struggles of ambitious democrats to give tone to its policy supercede the important business of the country. Speeches are numerous but most of them, from their partizan, serpentine, non committal, superficial character, are unworthy of publication. General Cass in particular has seriously injured his reputation. Tho' a kind hearted, and learned statesman, is ambitious and weak.—A reform of the Navy is in progress, and we doubt not this branch of national defence, and national progress, will hereafter become a favorite of Congress, and of Government.—The Pacific Rail Road bill is in a fair way of success. and though the project as a measure of Internal improvement goes beyond anything Henry Clay ever proposed, it is strenuously advocated by democrats.—The "confidence bill," by which $10,000,000 was to be placed at the disposal of the incoming President under the pretence of meeting emergencies in our foreign relation, but in fact as a corruption fund to pay off political hacks, has met with a quietus.—A claim of the widow of Gen. McNeil which has been pending for twenty years has suddenly been allowed. She is a sister of Gen. Pierce, and though the claim heretofore has not been considered a good one, its merits have all at once come to light.—Committees on alleged frauds are also very numerous.—Calls upon the departments for information are end less.—Days weeks are consumed in making motions, offering resolutions, proposing amendments, taking votes, calls of the house, and thus the session will be wasted, and it had better not have been held.

WHO SHALL SETTLE IT?—The people of New York City are divided in sentiment as to the relative merits of Sontag and Alboni, and the strife runs high. We suppose they are singers of rare merit, but in view of the adoration of the people of Gotham for foreign singers it is worthy of mention that these Ladies were beauties twenty five years ago, and their musical talent has been buried as long. On the success of Jenny Lind they renewed their beauty with the brush and paint, their music by a little practice, and came to this country to retrieve their broken and long lost fortunes. They presumed largely, and correctly upon Yankee credulity.

☞ Rev. John Mattocks having been invited to address the Chesterfield and Ausable temperance society, came forward on Tuesday evening last, and delivered the same address, in substance, that he delivered a short time since at Plattsburgh, and which received the immoderate and unguarded animadversion of our neighbor of the Whig.

The Rev. speaker commenced by reviewing the different societies that have from time to time worked in, and advanced this great cause, to all of which he paid handsome tributes. as happily conceived as they were just and merited. But at the same time they had all failed to perform the work—and why? because they were merely temporal, and the sin they were combatting of such gigantic proportions, of such inherent strength, so firmly inwrought in the human heart—the sin so strong—the means so weak—that they of necessity failed, to give way for other and perhaps more efficient auxilaries.

How are men to judge of this cause or any other, if it is not from past experience and unprejudiced reasoning—how are we to come at any correct idea of the future but by comparing it with the past? This was the great forte of the speaker, comparing the present with the past, and arriving at conclusions that are the inevitable result of calm consideration and dispassionate reasoning, and be that does not admit them is biased by a pregmatical dogmatism to be deplored.

Mr. Mattocks has broken ground in the right place, and we are in hopes to see others, on similar occasions, follow his example, instead of patting temperance people on the back and telling them that the field is nearly won when in fact the battle is scarcely commenced—leading them along by false arguments and unstable conclusions. The newspaper correspondent—who from political affinities or pecuniary necessities wantonly mislead the public mind in regard to the topics of the day—is ever severely rebuked, and with great justness too; with equal propriety should the apostles of temperance be reprimanded when they wantonly mislead, either through ignorance or a desire to please, the minds of their hearers on this important subject.—Too many there are that argue that the cause is rapidly advancing—showing up but one side of the picture—that all that is needed to secure a splendid triumph, is the "Maine Law," when in fact, such is not the case, as all experience is proving, and as any man with half an eye can see, who keeps pace with the events of the day.—As the Rev gentleman remarked we should curb our expectations in regard to this law, else we will be greatly disappointed, and lose sight of all the other influences that are in our immediate reach. It does not follow because a man admits there is two sides to a question, that he has proved recreants to the cause he is advocating. It is the surest way to successfully prosecute any cause to find out the strong points of your adversary, and then refute them by cogent reasoning. That the "Maine Law" if passed, would do a great deal of good he was free to believe, but that it would fall far short of the expectations of its friends, all passed experience proved. It was a capital address and just such an one as might be expected to emenate from the sound, practical, discriminating and comprehensive mind of this erudite gentleman. It was clear, logical and pointed, without any displays of unmeaning volubility or rhetorical flourish. Mr. Mattocks ably sustained his wide spread and well earned reputation, and we have no doubt his significant truths will be pregnant of the most flattering results.

Specks of War.

Speck No. 1.—Billy Bowlegs has declared war against the U. S. The warriors of the former number about 150 while those of the latter are as the sands of the sea. The Legislature of Florida has passed a bill raising a military force and providing funds to remove the refractory Indians on the special account of the people of that state. Away we go for another seven years war.

Speck No. 2.—Democratic Senators have made no little flourish of words about British interference in South America, and the application of the "Monroe doctrine." This either means war or humbug. Polk blustered about British occupation on the North West coast, and said "54, ° 40, ° or fight," but backed down to 49 ° and fought Mexico! Reasoning from analogy the course of Pierce is obvious.

Other specks about the size of a man's hand are beheld in the direction of Japan, Cuba, Hayti, &c.

"My voice is still for war."

Hon. John M. Botts is an old whig champion—a regular old "war horse," who smells the battle afar off. He has recently written a letter to the whigs of Massachusetts in reply to a letter accompanying a present of a silver salver and pitcher in acknowledgement, of distinguished political services in the late campaign.

He concludes an eloquent appeal to whigs to harmonize, and to bury all past dissensions by saying, "My voice is still for war under the same banner that has twice led us to victory in the last twelve years." So say we.

☞ The United States Senate have referred the Pacific Railroa[illegible] committee of five.

Missionaries Wanted.

Among other subjects to which we wish to call the attention of our readers on this opening of another year, is that of reading for the masses. In our perambulations as an Editor in the self constituted capacity of Agent and Collector for our paper, our attention has been forcibly called to this subject.—About Public Houses, Livery Stables, Rail Road Stations, and even in many an humble but comfortable and happy dwelling where virtue and virtuous thoughts alone are permitted, where the very suspicions of evil, or "evil communications" would alarm the household, we have found the reading matter to consist almost entirely of the scum of romances, memoirs of celebrated robbers, and their female companions, and newspapers, whose contents are but the recital of life at the N. Y. city "Five Points," and the "toombs," or their advertisements, and as ordinary in literature as wanting in morals. Fifty cents will buy half a dozen of these pamphlets, and as much more will pay for the "Police Gazette," or some other similar paper for a year, and hence this kind of wicked stuff is finding its way among the masses on the plea of economy. Pedlars circulate vast numbers of them, to the exclusion of truly valuable books, papers, and magazines because they cannot be had for the same price. Thus is the most debasing matter placed in the hands of the young of both sexes. He who should dare to communicate similar morals orally would justly subject himself to the indignation of injured and wounded innocence. Such men are shunned as vipers, but books—a thousand times more dangerous—are given out to be pondered and devoured unmolested. Cheap? They are dear at any price. That which degrades the taste, and poisons the heart produces consequences which cannot be estimated by dollars and cts. Economical? Is that true economy which saves a few pence, but endangers, if it does not destroy the virtues of the young? We believe the dangers of these books and papers have only to be pointed out to be avoided. We call upon the thoughtful and Philanthropic to give it their attention. Ministers in their pastrol visits; teachers and superintendents of schools in the rounds of duty could do much towards remedying this great, and growing evil. In this we do not attack the practice of reading works of fiction. That is a practice we could not hope to prevent, but if they will be read let good ones be selected, or other interesting books be supplied at cheap rates. We invite investigation, and suggestions.

The Rail Road.

The Whitehall Chronicle contains a detailed report, occupying several columns, of a Rail Road meeting recently held by the citizens of that place. A. H. Griswold was called to the chair, and F. D. Blount was appointed secretary.

The chairman stated the object of the meeting to be to take into consideration the interests of the citizens of Whitehall in the proposed construction of a Railroad from this place to Plattsburgh, on the west side of Lake Champlain; and to exchange views and opinions in reference to the advantages or disadvantages the construction of such a road would be to the business and property of Whitehall, and whether or not it is advisable to give any incouragement to the Company about to be formed to build this road, by subscribing to its Capital Stock; and, if deemed advisable, then to take measures to procure the greatest amount of stock to be immediately subscribed by our citizens that can be obtained.

Speeches were made by O. F. Blount, R. Doig, W. S. Eady, W. W. Cook, J. R Adams, J. A. Smith, W. G. Wolcott, J. Potter, and others.

Dr. W. G. WOLCOTT, introduced the following Resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That, as the citizens of Whitehall, we hail with satisfaction the formation of the Whitehall and Plattsburgh R. R. Co., and we will do our utmost to ensure the early completion of the road.

Messrs. A. H. Griswold, W. W. Cook and O. F. Blount were appropriated a committee to obtain subscribers to the Stock of the proposed road among the citizens of this place.

The arrangement at this place will be remembered was, that if $60,000 could be raised on the line of the road the balance should be forthcoming. Of this, $50,000 has been subscribed through the untiring perseverance of the committee, but where the remaining $10,000 is to come from is not known. The committee are well nigh disheartened so unwillingly do people subscribe. We may not see the road through from the selfishnes of hundreds abundantly able to help, and who are deeply interested, but who wish the benefits of the road at the expense of others. Friends, from Plattsburgh to Whitehall, the matter is in your hands.

CAPT. O'GRADY AND THE SARANAC AGAINST THE WORLD.—After a rest of a few days in consequence of ice, this faithful Capt. is to be again afloat with his gallant steamer. The Lake is clear from Burlington to Port Kent, and probably to Plattsburgh. Capt. Chamberlain and the Boston are of course "around."

FASTIDIOUS.—"Billy Bowlegs" is considered vulgar, and the more refined render it "William Crookshanks." "Billy" would send a party of his red skin brothers to take the scalp of the individual thus misnaming him if he knew it. Look out for a [illegible], when Billy hears his name thus garbled.

The tariff in Congress.

Keep it before the people! Post it in public places! Print it in staring capitals! That Hon. James Brooks, whig member of Congress from N. Y. City, with a view to meet the present emergencies early in December moved the appointment of a special committee to amend the tariff, providing for more protection and less revenue, and with instructions to report before the 25th ult. (then next.) Mr. Jones of Tenn. (dem.) moved the following as an amendment, which was adopted:

"Reserving the advalorem principle and reducing the existing duties on imports, with a view to the collection of no more revenue than shall be necessary to defray the expenses of the Government economically administered."

Mr. Hillyer of Ga. (dem.) then offered the following and it was adopted:

"That, in the adjustment of the Tariff by the American Congress, the principle of protection ought to be abandoned, and the duties on imports ought to be laid for the sole purpose of raising revenue; and that the said Committee be instructed to consider so much of the President's Message as shall be referred to them, with a view to the modification of the existing Tariff on the principle herein expressed."

Mr. Howe of Pa. (whig) moved as a substitute a resolution recognising the principle of Protection and it was—lost!

Mr. Cartter of Ohio (dem) offered the following to add to Mr. Hillyer's resolution and it was adopted, viz: ☞ "With a view to ultimate free trade, and direct taxation!"

Read, democrats of Ausable Valley and compare with the asseverations of your leaders during the late election. Read the above and see what was done and then read the following to see what was said:

Mr. HILLYER said, it was just to the country in this civilized age of the world that the principles of protection ought to be abandoned; A vote on his proposition admitted of no evasion or dodging.

Mr. Howe said a large majority of his constituents think the whole duty of this Government is not performed when it has provided revenue merely to keep the wheels of Government in motion, and to pay the salaries of a few pensioners upon the Government. They think all legitemate Governments are established for the benefit of the governed, and that when Governments lose sight of this they lose sight of the true interests for which the Government has been instituted.

Mr Stanly was a thoroughly protective man for the sake of Protection without the humbuggery of incidental matters. He did not want to ascertain the disposition of the House; for what is the disposition of the Democratic party? Go to some of the Iron men of Pennsylvania, and they out Herod Herod, when compared to his principles. Then go to the Souther Democrats and you find the opposite—men who speak about the odious Whig Tariff of 1842.

Mr. Cartter thought they might as well look the subject square in the face. He believed that direct taxation was more just to every section than the present mode of collecting revenue.

Are democrats as good tariff men as the whigs? You said so last fall, but if your party should carry out the above resolve of direct taxes, you would "cry" out of the other corner of your mouth. The New Orleans Com. Bulletin, whig, truly says:

As we have frequently before remarked, the sooner this free trade theory is submitted to a practical test, the better for the country, in the long run. It is beautiful and seductive in speculation. and if it will work well in practice, no objection ought to be made. We believe, however, that its adoption would be fraught with disaster: but, as we are entirely convinced that nothing but the severest lessons experience can teach, will have any permanent effect upon the people of this "immense country," we have no objections to urge against the trial of the experiment. "Free trade and direct taxation," for two years, would result in the establishment of a benificent American System, which neither the storms of faction nor the wiles of demagogues, could prevail against for at least a quarter of a century. So, the country, in the end, would be decidedly the gainer. Let the dominant party try "free trade and direct taxation," if they dare. They have been talking and promising, long enough. Let them now act. In a little over six weeks they will possess supreme control over every department of the government, and can do just as they please.

Drowned.

At Essex on Friday, the 28th ult. Chas. and ~~Ezra~~ Parkell, aged 10 and 12 years, and sons of Horace and Jane Parkell of that place.

Mrs. Parkell is a sister of J. N. Macomber of this place, and the parents of these boys were on a visit to their friends here when this sad accident occurred. These were their only children, and are described as most interesting, and promising. With a large number of school boys the deceased went out upon the lake to skate, when a spirit of daring arose to see who dared venture farthest out. The youngest of these two, bolder than the rest, ventured too far, and went in. All the boys fled to the shore save his brother who went to his aid, and thus they perished. The agony of doting parents can only be imagined—language would fail to express it.

Barnum.—We call attention to the advertisement of Barnum's Hat, Cap, and Fur Store' Burlington Vt. Barnum has a large and superior assortment which he proposes to sell cheap. We think there is a chance for good bargains.

☞ Miss Kimberly drew a $700 house in Buffalo, N. Y lately.

How was she harnessed?—[Albany Journal.

☞ The following lines were forwarded to us by a friend, accompanied by an apology for their imperfections. Our readers will agree with us in saying that no apology was necessary, especially when we inform them that they are the production of a young lady of only 15 years. We hope to have further communications from the same source.—[ED. REP.

THE HOMES OF IRELAND.

A Parody on the "Homes of England."

"The stately homes of England!
How beautiful they stand
Amid their tall ancestral trees
O'er all the pleasant land."
Mrs. Hemans.

The "stately homes" of Ireland
How beautiful they stand
Amidst the forest groves and trees
Of this deserted land.

The deer no more o'er meadows bound
Or bask in summer's beam;
The siren her song in plaintive sound
Is waiting on the stream.

The mournful homes of Ireland
Around the turf by night
There looks of famine, not of love,
Meet in the dismal light.

No woman's voice is heard in song,
No childhood's tale is told,
The calls of hunger are among
The youthful and the old.

The wretched homes of Ireland
The demon discord lowers
Banished the holy quietness
Of sacred sabbath hours.

Solemn yet sad the church bells chime
Floats o'er the wilds at morn,
Fierce passions rise in that still time
Engendering hate and scorn.

The cottage homes of Ireland
By thousands on her plains,
The cabin, or the smoking hut,
No comfort now contains.

Through bog and rushes forth they peep
O'erwhelmed with rankling weeds
In deep despair their inmates sleep
And dream of desperate deeds.

The free fair homes of Ireland
Ere long in hut and hall
May hearts of native proof
And guard each hallowed wall!

And green forever be the graves
And bright the flowery sod
Where the true patriot spirit loves
His country and his God.

"NEGITIVE FIGGERS."—The sympathies of several of our good citizens were largely drawn upon last Sabbath Evening, by a couple of smart, intelligent looking "colored boys," apparently about 19 or 20 years of age, and representing themselves is runaways from Kentucky on their way to Canada. Subsequent developments proved them to be "bogus," but not till they were sent on their way rejoicing with a fine purse made up by our leading citizens, and to their credit be it spoken, under the lead of those who have heretofore expressed the least regard for those who are so unfortunate as to have dark skins. We give no names as in fact this whole matter is private, and we mention it in confidence with a strong injunction of secrecy upon our readers.

TEMPERANCE MEETINGS.—A series of temperance meetings are being held in this place. Last Tuesday evening Rev. Mr. MATTOCKS spoke, and a hearer has communicated an article on his discourse. The Rev. Mr. EATON addressed the meeting the week previous. The Rev. Mr. KNIGHT is speaker for next Tuesday evening at the Wesleyan Chapel.

It is also designed to organize school district temperance societies in every school district in Chesterfield and Ausable.

A DUEL ON CHRISTIAN SOIL.—The Editor of the Boston Atlas criticised an Italian female singer somewhat sharply, whereat a countryman sent him a challenge. According to the "code of honor" Col. Schoular had the choice of weapons, and place of meeting. He accepted, and named Harpoons, or inkstands for weapons, place of meeting, Boston Common any day after adjournment of the Legislature, and price of admission, 50 cts! Served him right.

MAINE AND MASS.—An Election of U. S. Senator was to have taken place in these states on Wednesday last. Hon. Edward Everett was the whig candidate in Mass. and was of course elected. Hon. Thomas S. Fessenden was the whig candidate in Me. but the result is doubtful.

Teams wanted.—We call attention to the advertisement of Mr. Comstock. He has now 300,000 pieces at Franklin Falls to draw to Port Kent, and his mills are making 3000, to 5000, daily.

CHARLES CHENEY, Esq., Attorney and Counselor at Law of this place goes to N. Y. City with F. L. Seeley, under most flattering circumstances.

ENCOURAGE HOME INDUSTRY.—Silas B. Rowe of this place is preparing to put up garden seeds for sale. We commend him to the patronage of the public.

Amasa Dowling Esq. of this place is a superior Plasterer, and Stuccoer. His work is to be seen in our churches, and dwellings.

☞ We are indebted to Wilson Flint of Crownpoint, now in California, for late papers from that distant State. We shall give synopsis of the news next week.

☞ The funeral obsequies of the late Hon. Thomas J. Marvin, at Saratoga on Saturday, were of a very imposing nature. From eight hundred to a thousand members of the Masonic Fraternity were present in mourning regalia. The addresss of Gen. Davis is said to have been very good.

☞ Metallic lace is one of the inventions of 1852. It is made of fine wire, by the use of the same machinery as is employed for ordinary cotton lace. It is said to be a very beautiful fabric.

☞ About 2000 persons sailed from New York on Thursday for California.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Written for The Republican.

Biblical Enigma.

I am composed of 46 letters.
My 4, 8, 1, 2, 10, signifies dark.
My 19, 39, 18, 16, is an insect.
My 40, 42, 15, 12, 6, 22, is a name that wakens love in every heart.
My 19, 25, 43, 23, is the time for prayer.
My 7, 3, 17, 11, 28 is certain to us all.
My 19, 9, 5, 1, 34, 20, 39, 19, 10, 22, the Editor of a paper.
My 31, 33, 38, 9, 37, 46, signifies holy.
My 36, 13, 26, 45, 24, 27, means deprived.
My 41, 8, 40, 18, is what many spend their lives in pursuit of.
My 14, 42, 21, 44, 32, is the time many sadly mispend.
My 30, 29, 35, 2, is a loud outery.
My 3, 4, 3, 37, signifies before.
My 46, 26, 29, 33, 40, 5, go by contraries.
My 40, 42, 21, 9, 23, 37, 43, 4, are those my whole is meant to comfort.
My 36, 33, 2, 1, 29, 38, is the name of an ancient city now in ruins.
My 32, 21, 7, 31, 39, 21, is the name of a River in the United States.
My 40, 39, 23, 43, 20, 3, is one of the ex Presidents.
My 19, 25, 20, 23, is one of the Heavenly bodies.
In the New Testiment my whole you will find,
'Tis sweet consolation to each wearied mind.

JULIA.

Keeseville, Feb. 5th, 1853.

ANSWER TO CHARADE OF LAST WEEK.

Your "first the student has to do,"
Con o'er his lessons, this is true;
The tent, was oft the dwelling place
Of Rechab's sons in former days;
M e n-t, will spell the word
In English tongue, pronounced your third,
Substract the t pronounce it then,
'Twill show mankind a race of men,
Your whole, a Boon to man is sent,
If rightly guessed, 'tis Con-tent-men-t.

S. G. P.

ANSWER TO ENIGMA OF LAST WEEK.—Essex County Republican.

Selling off at Cost!

Barnum will sell the remainder of his Winter Stock of Hats, Caps, Furs, Fancy Robes, Gloves, Mittens, &c., at cost. A good assortment of Trunks, Vallises, Ladies and Gentlemen's Satchels and Carpet Bags, Umbrellas, Canes, Buckskin Gloves and Mittens, &c., on hand.

I. W. BARNUM.

College Street, 2nd Door from Church. Burlington, Vt., Feb. 1, 1853.

I. A. HASBROUCK,

DRUGGIST AND BOOKSELLER,

Will supply Dealers in Keeseville, and towns adjoining at the manufacturers lowest prices, at wholesale in any quantity. Devines Compound Pitch Lozenge.

Read This.

Here is the Effect of less than One Dozen Boxes. Certificate of a Gentleman well known

I do feel greatful for what "Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge" has done for me, and heartily wish all that are afflicted knew, as I do, its worth.

Almost every man in Whitehall knows that I have been so afflicted that for almost a year I could not speak aloud; with a distressing cough, pain in the side, loins and shoulders; and the opinion of the physicians was that for me there was a step only to the grave.

I commenced the use of the Lozenge in September last, soon after Mr. Reune introduced the article at our place, and I have gained my voice! and am congratulated daily by the business men on my returning health, which I attribute, under a good Providence, to the above Pitch Lozenge. EZRA FALKENBURY.

Whitehall, December 7, 1852.

If it will cure Consumption, is it not sure for colds coughs, &c. Try it reader.

See advertisement in another column.

Died.

In this Village, of epilepsy, on the 23d ult., Mr. WHITING F. STRONG, aged 63 years.

Quiet and unobtrusive in his manners, and social in his habits and affections, the circle of relatives and friends which he has left, will deeply feel his loss. But the resignation, and confessed trust in the Savior he manifested, bid them hope for a re union, where death shall be swallowed up of life.—[COM.

The Lily,

Amelia Bloomer, Ecditor and Proprietor.

The Fifth Volume, of the Lily will be commenced on the first of January, 1853, and will be published in folio form on the first and fifteenth of each month, at the low price of fifty cents a year.

It will continue to labor zealously and earnestly for the emancipation of Woman from the crushing evils of Intemperance—from the cruel enactments of unjust laws made without her consent—from the destructive influences of Costume and Fashson—from mistaken views of duty and personal effort, and for her elevation to her true position in society of perfect and entire equality in all that relates to her social, civil and religious rights and duties.

Its editorials, original communications, and selections will be caculated to promote these objects, and its columns will always be open to the discussion of all subjects connected with the interests of Woman.

All communications and business letters should be addressed—AMELIA BLOOMER, Seneca Falls, N. Y.

100 Teams Wanted!

TO draw boards and plank from Franklin Falls to Port Kent. Cash paid on delivery. For the lumber apply to George Tremble, at Franklin Falls.

PETER COMSTOCK.

Port Kent, Feb. 1, 1853 457-tf

BUTTER FOR SALE.

Large quantity of good dairy Butter bought in large and small packages of the finest quality for sale at BOYNTON & SMITH.

Keeseville Jan. 27. 1853.

CLAPBOARDS.

500 seasoned Clapboards for sale by E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Insurance Agency.

National Protection Insurance Company, Saratoga Springs, Capital, $200,000
Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance Company, West Scotia, N. Y, Capital, $160,000
Nothern N. Y. Mutual Insurance Company, Plattsburgh, N. Y, Capital, $100,000
Knickerbocker Fire Insurance Company, Waterford, N. Y., Capital, $200,000
Northern N. Y. Live Stock Ins. Company, Plattsburgh, N. Y., Capital, $50,000
Charter Oak Life Insurance Company, Hartford, Vt., Capital, $200,000

Policies in the National Protection Insurance Co., and the Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance issued by the undersigned.

JAMES B. DICKINSON.

Office, Ausable Forks N. Y.

Saratoga Springs, Feb'y 7th, 1852.

WE, the undersigned, JOHN WILLARD, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court for the 4th Judicial District of the State of New York, and a resident of Saratoga Springs, with AUGUSTUS BOCKES, First Judge of the County of Saratoga, being likewise a resident of Saratoga Springs and JOHN C. HULBURT, Surrogate of the County of Saratoga, also a resident of Saratoga Springs—do hereby Certify, that we are personally acquainted with the men composing the Board of Directors of the National Protection Insurance Company of Saratoga Springs. We take pleasure in availing ourselves of this opportunity in recommending to the Public, from a personal knowledge of the respectability and character of their Board of Directors, that this Company is a sound and reliable Institution, will deal fairly with the assured, and are fully competent to pay their losses. We therefore unhesitatingly recommend this Company as an Institution in every respect worthy of a liberal patronage.

JOHN WILLARD,
A. BOCKES,
JNO. C. HULBURT.

JAMES B. DICKINSON,
Policy Agent, Ausable Forks.
Ausable Forks, Feb. 5th, 1852. 457-tf

$20 a Day.

Book Agents wanted, to sell Hayward's Gazateer of the United States,

Just published and now ready for Canvassers.

THIS work, so invaluable to business men, gives a history of the settlement, general surface of the soil and state of agriculture, manufactures and population of every town in the United States, with valuable statistical tables, a new map of the United States, &c.

An agent wanted for this county. Apply immediately to

HORACE WENTWORTH,
447-5w 86 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

New Clothing Store.

WE, the undersigned, have made arrangements with one of the best tailors in the country, to manufacture clothing for us of every description, consisting of overcoats, sacks, dress and frock coats, pants, vests, overalls and boys cloths, together with all kinds of under garments, which are made after the most improved styles, and for workmanship and durability cannot be excelled.

In addition we offer a large assortment of fine

Fashionable Clothing,

made by tailors in New York, that for fitting even Genio C. Scott, in his palmiest days was not a circumstance.

We would also inform the public that it is to be sold by wholesale or retail at very low figures for cash, and for quantity and cheapness is far in advance of any other concern in Northern New York. A comparison with the trade, both in prices and quantity is particularly requested.

In connection with the above we would call the attention of the community to our stock of Fancy & Staple Dry Goods, of every variety; also, hats, caps and furs, paper hangings, window shades, hardware and groceries, rifles and shot guns, ammunition, &c., &c. Trunks, and valises, carpet bags, whips and lashes, stone ware, and every description of goods that are wanted or can be found in the country. Don't forget

No. 1000, Main Street,

Keeseville, opposite the Adirondac Hotel.

BOYNTON & SMITH.

January 20, 1853.

RAIL ROAD

Through Keeseville!!

The Cars will stop 30 minutes in front of

Cardwell's Celebrated CLOTHING STORE,

in order to give the passengers an opportunity to clothe themselves up in prop r and appropriate costume, adapted to their destination whether North or South.

Almost every thing for the outer man in the shape of

Ready-Made Clothing,

may be found at this store,

Just returned from the South, and having on hand a very heavy stock of WINTER GOODS at this advanced stage of the season, great bargains are being made. All of my garments are cut and made up in the latest styles. Owing to the great increase in my trade, I have thought it a saving of time and labor to adopt the ONE PRICE SYSTEM which gives perfect satisfaction to all.

N. B. Wholesale Buyers will find it to their advantage to call and examine as they can buy just as cheap as at the South, and save their time, fare and freight.

☞ Sales exclusively for cash.

ADIRONDAC HOTEL BUILDING.

G. A. CARDWELL.

Keeseville, January 1. 1853.

CORLIES & DECKER,

(Successors to J. N. & E. W. Corlies,)

— WHOLESALE DEALERS IN —

TEAS,

Agents for the Sale of

Manufactured Tobacco,

192 Pearl Street,

Near Maiden Lane, 43) New York.

Essex County Agricultural Society.

AN adjourned meeting of the Essex Co. Agricultural Society, will be held at the Inn of David Judd, in Elizabethtown, on Wednesday, the 2nd day of February next, at 2 o'clock, P. M. The Premiums to be awarded at the fair for 1853, will be fixed upon at this meeting. The members of the society and all others interested, will see the importance of attending.

Dated Elizabethtown, Jan 19th 1853.

G. S. NICHOLSON,
455 2w. Secretary

Bounty Lands

PURCHASED AND OBTAINED BY

GEO. MOORE, Plattsburgh, N. Y.

December 3, 1852. 448tf

M. F. NICHOLSON,

ATTORNEY & COUNCELLOR AT LAW

ELIZABETHTOWN, Essex County, N. Y.

(Office in the County Clerk's Office.)

Miscellaneous.

LEONARD SCOTT & Co's

LIST OF

BRITISH PERIODICAL

PUBLICATIONS.

Delivered in all the principal Cities in the United States, free of Postage, and forwarded by Mail, under the provisions of the late Post Office Law, at merely nominal rates.

1. THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW (Conservative.)
2. THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (Whig.)
3. THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church.)
4. The WESTMINSTER REVIEW. (Liberal.)
5. BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tory.)

Although these works are destinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary Character which gives them their chief value, and in this they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the fatherly care of Christopher North, maintains its celebrity, and is, at this time, unusually attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that magazine, and first appearring in its columns both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such works as "The Caxtons" and "My New Novel," (both by Bulwer,) "The Green Hand," "Katie Stewart," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Messrs. Scott & Co., so that Subscribers to the Reprint of that Magazine may always rely on having the earliest reading of these fascinating tales.

Terms and Premiums.

[See list of Premium Volumes below.]

	per ann.
For any 1 of the 4 Reviews and one Prem. vol.	$3,00
For any 2 of the 4 Reviews and one prem vol.	5,00
For any 3 of the 4 Reviews and two prem. vol.	7,00
For all four of the Reviews and two prem vol.	8,00
For Blackwood's Magazine and one prem. vol	3,00
For Blackwood's & 3 Reviews and three prem. vol.	9,00
For Blackwood's & the 4 Reviews and three prem. vol,	10,00

Payments to be made in all cases in advance.

The Premiums consist of the following works, back volumes of which will be given to new subscribers according to the number of periodicals ordered, as above explained.—

PREMIUM VOLUMES.

Foreign Quarterly Review (one year.)
Blackwood's Magazine (six months)
London Quarterly Review (one year.)
Bentley's Miscellaney (six months.)
Edinburgh Review (one year.)
Metropolitan Magazine (six months)
Westminster Review (one year)

Consecutive Premium volumes cannot in all cases be furnished, except of the Foreign Quarterly Review. To prevent dissappointment, therefore, where that work is not alone wanted Subscribers will please order as many different works for premiums as there are volumes to which they may be entitled.

CLUBBING.

A discount of twenty five per cent from the above prices will be allowed to Clubs ordering four or more copies of any one or more of the above works, Thus: Four copies of Blackwood, or of one Review, will be sent to one address for $9; four copies of the four Reviews and Blackwood for $30; and so on.

No premiums will be given where the above allowance is made to Clubs, nor will premiums in any case be furnished, unless the subscription money is paid in full to the Publishers without recourse to an agent. Money current in the State where issued will be received at par.

Reduced Postage.

The following table will show the great reduction which has been made on these periodicals since 1843, and the very trifling rates now charged.

	Per annum.
Prior to 1845, the postage on Blackwood was	$2 40
Prior to 1845, the postage on a single Review	1 12
From 1845 to 1851, the postage on Blackwood was	1 00
From 1845 to 1851, the postage on a Review was	50
In 1851 52 [average rate] on Blackwood was	75
In 1851 52 [average rate] on a Review	38
The present postage on Blackwood, is	24
The present postage on a Review is	12

[The rates are now uniform for all distances within the United States.]

At these rates surely no objection should be made to receive the works by mail, and thus ensuring their speedy, safe, and regular delivery.

☞ Remittances and communications should be always addressed, post-paid, to the Publishers,

LEONARD SCOTT & Co.,
79 Fulton Street, (entrance 54 Gold street,) 85 NEW YORK.

ASSIGNEES NOTICE.

All persons having claims against Joseph Hoffnagle of Willsborough, Essex County, New York that existed on or previous to the 1st day of April, A. D. 1850, are requested to present the same to the undersigned, assignee of said Hoffnagle, at the office of the Undersigned in Willsborough aforesaid, without delay, for settlement and liquidation—Dated January 25th 1853.

DUDLEY H. JONES, Assignee.

456:—3w.

TO PHYSICIANS.

THE subscriber offers for sale a well selected quantity of Medicine, of excellent quality. Also, a very fine Amputating and Trephining case of instruments. Also, splints &c, adapted for fractures of the upper and lower extremities. The above will be disposed of at a cheap rate, as will a medicine case, suitable for an office. Apply at the office of E. & J. D. Kingsland & Co.

J. R. ROMEYN.

Keeseville, Jany. 29, 1853.

Business Cards.

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS,

(Successor to Nichols & Warren,)

WHOLESALE PAPER

WAREHOUSE

And Paged Blank Book Manufactory,

— JOBBER AND RETAIL DEALER IN —

School and Classical Books,

English, French and American Stationery, and Artist's Materials,

No. 4, Leavenworth, Block, College Street,

BURLINGTON, Vt.

☞ Bank, Blank, Check or Memorandum Books made to order, from the best of Paper, and bound in the most thorough manner. All work warranted. Terms Cash. 448 tf

AUSABLE HOUSE,

MAIN STREET KEESEVILLE N. Y.

This large and convenient Hotel having been throughly repaired and refurnished, is now open for the reception of visitors and the accommodation of the

TRAVELLING PUBLIC.

The Ausable House is one of the largest and best arranged in Northern New York. No pains will be spared to make it a pleasant and popular resort for

PLEASURE PARTIES,

and Transient Visitors, as well as a comfortable Home for those wishing permanent Board and Rooms.

Good Horses and Carriages furnished at all times on the most reasonable terms

The patronage of the public is most respectfully solicited.

J. W. REYNOLDS.

Keeseville Nov. 1st 1852. 445. 3m.

Livery Stable

BY

GEORGE G. FULLER.

HEAD OF MAIN STREET

(a few steps from the Bank,)

KEESEVILLE, E W YORK

Where may be found at all times, the best of Horses and Carriages, on the most reasonable terms.

Montgomery House,

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA,

BY

Sherman & Wheelock.

K. SHERMAN, THERON WHERLOCK.

☞ Mr. Sherman was late a merchant at Moriah, Essex Co., N. Y., and Mr. Wheelock was late of the Mansion House, Troy, N. Y. 427tf

GEORGE P. WILKINSON,

(Successor to G. P. & J. B. Wilkinson,)

MANUFACTURER AND JOBBER IN

CLOTHING,

154 River Street, Corner of Congress,

427 tf TROY, N. Y.

G. P. SANBORN & Co.

APOTHECARIES HALL.

BURLINGTON, VT.

DEALERS IN

Drugs and Medicines, Chemical Perfumery, Tooth, Surgical Instruments, Gold and Tin Foil, Patent Medicines, and every variety of articles usually kept in this line of Business.

Oct. 23d, 1852. 6 m.

GEO. S. TARBELL,

WHOLESALE GROCER,

DEALER IN OIL AN

General Commission Merchant,

No. 65 Quay-Street, ALBANY.

ADKINS & FULLER,

Booksellers, Stationers, Binders

— AND —

PAPER RULERS,

KEEP constantly on hand or will supply Books, Maps, Charts, Pictures, Frames, and Periodicls of all kinds. Also Publications of the American Tract Society. Bibles and Sabbath School Books at their very low depository prices.

One door east of Pierce & Davey's Agricultural Store on College Street.

C. S ADKINS, E. FULLER.
Burlington, July 4, 1850. 363

H. C. Blanchrd, M. D,

HOMŒOPATHIC PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

Office 2 doors below Ausable House.
Rooms at Ausable House. 430

D. M. ARNOLD

Engineer and Surveyor,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

SURVEYING & Leveling for Rail Roads, Plank Roads, Mill Seats, &c. Land Surveying of all kinds done on shortest notice.

Office opposite the Ausable House.

425tf

Dewey & Havens,

ATTORNIES AND COUNSELLORS

AT LAW,

CROWNPOINT,

Essx County, N. Y.

E. M. DEWEY. 431 1y H. H. HAVENS.

J. B. DICKINSON,

AUSABLE FORKS, N. Y.

General INSURANCE AGENT,

For Fire, Life, Health and Live Stock Insurance Companies.

☞ Any business from abroad will receive prompt attention. 454

Silliman & Gardiner,

WHOLESALE DEALERS

in Pork, Fish, SALT, PLASTER, &c.

OFFICE 17 COUNTIS SLIP New York.
" 339 RIVER St., Troy, 445

Dr. H. W. GOULD,

SURGEON DENTIST,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

☞ Office opposite the Ausable House. [389

WOOL.

CASH Paid for Wool. J. APPLEYARD.

Burlington Advertisements

BURLINGTON

AGRICULTURAL WARE-HOUSE AND SEED STORE.

DAVEY & ALLEN,

No. 8, COLLEGE STREET, BURLINGTON, Vt.

Ploughs—Prouty & Mear's centre draught.

These ploughs have obtained a celebrity unparalleled, having taken the first premiums in this country and at the World's Fair in London. We have also Starbuck's and Tabor's celebrated Ploughs.

Our stock of Ploughs comprise a great variety of patterns and different sizes, calculated for sward and stubble land, wet meadows and recently drained swamps, where roots abound—among which also, are the deep breaking up flat-furrow, lap-furrow, self-sharpening side-hill, double-mould-board, sub soil, &c., &c.

Harrows—triangular, square, Geddes and Scotch.

Hay, Straw and Corn stalk Cutters, either by hand or horse power; spiral, straight or circular knives.

Cultivators—of different kinds, steel tooth and cast iron.

Corn Shellers—a variety of patterns. Will shell from 5 to 100 bushels of corn per hour.

Fan Mills and Grain Cradles—Grant's unrivalled. We confidently recommend them as the best in use.

Seed Sowers—Batcheider's & Emery's and other kinds.

Vegetable Cutters—for turnips and other roots.

Horse Powers, Threshers, Winnowers and Separators—Wheeler's Patent Railway Chain Horse Power This Power, both single and double-geared, for one or two horses, has never been equalled for lightness in running, strength, durability and economy. The Thresher and Separator are too widely and favorably known to need our commendation. The combined Thresher and Winnower, (which is a new invention of last year) has not been so generally introduced. All who have used it express the highest approbation of its merits. We entertain no doubt that it is the most perfect, compact, and efficient machine now in use for threshing and winnowing grain, as it certainly is by far the cheapest and most economical.

Warranted to give satisfaction.

or be returned after a reasonable trial.

Saw Mill—I would recommend for sawing wood for locomotives on Railways, or by farmers for cutting stove fuel. With a one horse power it will cut 10 to 15 cords of wood twice in two per day.

AGRICULTURAL & HORTICULTURAL TOOLS AND IMPLEMENTS,

a great variety and extensive assortment, such as Hoes, Shovels, Spades Rakes, Manure and hay forks, Scythe Snaths, Cattle Ties, Draft, Halter and Trace Chains, Garden Syringes, Pruning Saws, Pruning and Budding Knives, Garden Shears and Twig Cutters, Grindstones, Patent Grindstone fixtures, reliefs, hand or rolls, &c., &c.

Grain, Field, Garden and Flower Seeds.—We are prepared to furnish Herds Grass, Red Top, Lucerne, White Dutch, Southern, Western and Northern Clover seed, Beet, Turnip, Onion and Carrot Seed, at Wholesale and Retail at the lowest market prices

We have by far the largest and most complete assortment of Agricultural Implements, Machines, Field and Garden Seeds to be found in the States which we offer at our new and spacious Ware-Rooms to Farmers and Dealers on terms the most liberal. We are also Commission Merchants and Wholesale and Retail Dealers in heavy and shelf

HARDWARE,

Saddlery, Axles, Springs, Mechanic's Tools House Trimmings and Furnishing Goods, Cutlery, Cross Cut, Mill and Circular Saws, Paints, Oils, Bird Cages, etc., etc., etc.

As agents of Messrs. D. Prouty & Co., Boston, Wheeler, Millick & Co., Albany, J. T. Grant & Co., Troy and others we can fill orders for Plows, Horse Powers, Threshers, Fan Mills, Straw Cutters, &c., at manufacturers' prices. A liberal discount made to Dealers.

ORDERS
FROM ABROAD SOLICITED.
DAVEY & ALLEN.

Burlington, September 20, 1852. 439

BLANK BOOKS,

10,000 QUIRES BLANK BOOKS of our own manufacture, comprising every variety of Journals, Day, Invoice Cash and Letter Books, Ledgers and Records from Cap Quartos to Super Royal size made in the most thorough manner, either paged or unpaged, and at prices so low as to defy competition.

PAPER.

I have in store, and to arrive, 1000 Reams Wrapping Paper of assorted quality and size, 1500 Reams Writing, Cap, Letter, Bath Post, Note and Envelope papers, which will be sold at Mill Prices.

School Books.

2000 Mandevill's, Saunders and Town's Series of Readers, 200 Mitchell's Geographies, 200 Smith's do., 400 Adams Arithmetics, 200 Greenleafs do 200 Colburn's do, 2000 Webster's spellers, 500 Town's spellers and definers, 100 Smith's Astronomy's, &c., &c.

Stationery.

200,000 Envelopes, 200 Gross Steel Pens, 20 gross Pen Holders. Also, Writing Ink in any quantity, and of the best manufacture, which will be sold at New York or Boston prices.

I wish to reduce the present stock of the concern as low as possible, in the next two months, and buyers will find it for their interest to examine my stock and prices before purchasing — Terms Cash.

Orders solicited by Mail or Express.

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS.

Burlington, Nov. 23, 1852. 446 3m

NEW GOODS AT Nichols, 150 Church Street.

IN consequence of our large spring sales, we have been induced to purchase a very large and full stock of

Foreign & Domestic Goods

for the fall trade, which we now offer at exceedingly low prices. We have not time now to enumerate, suffice it to say, we have every thing usually called for in a dry goods store.

CARPETINGS!

AT THE

Carpet Warehouse, 150 Church Street.

Mr. Nichols is now opening the largest stock of Carpeting ever brought to this city, consisting of the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three-ply, Ingrain, Extra Super Fine and Common Venetian, Damask, Cotton and Wool, Cotton, Hemp Stair carpeting from the best manufacturers. Also, floor oil-cloth, straw-matting, Hearth Rugs, Door Mats, table oil cloths, English and American Buckings and crumb cloths.

Bay State Carpetings and Buckings.

Mr. Nichols has the agency for the sale of the justly celebrated Bay State carpets and buckings and will be furnished with all the new patterns as fast as they come from the mills. Recollect the No.

150 CHURCH STREET.

Burlington, September 24, 1852 439 tf

Charles Morris,

MERCHANT TAILOR

AND

CLOTHIER,

KEESEVILLE, NEW YORK.

IS now prepared to show his friends and the public in general a full assortment of Cloths Cassimeres and Vestings suited to the season. My Cloths are of the latest importation, and consists of Black, Brown, Drab and Coated Beavers, Broad Cloths, of French, West of England and American Manufacture. Cassimeres, in all the revised style and quality. Vestings in any quantity, some of which are very rich. Also, Shirts of all descriptions. Shaker under Shirts, and drawers, Cravats, Stocks, Suspenders, Gloves, Collars, Bosoms, Hdks., Mufflers, Clothing ready made substantial, and the sewing to last as long as the cloth, (and not run together as much of the clothing brought from a foreign market generally is.) Thankful for the very liberal and increased patronage I have received from the citizens generally I trust by a continued effort to please the same I may merit a continuance of past favors. My art difficult. I shall merit a continuance of past favors. My arrangements with New York are such that I am advised of any changes of style, that occur from month to month and thus am able to gratify those who are disposed to adopt the change. Cutting as usual done in the most careful manner and with promptness. 448

AND WARRANTED MADE.

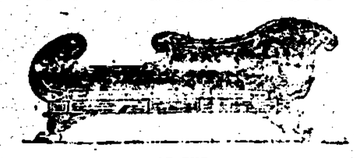
Nov. 13 1852.

M. J. JENKINS,

Watch Maker and Jeweller,

DEALER IN



CLOCKS, WATCHES, GOLD AND SILVER WARE, &c.

Keeseville, N. Y.

Burlington Ada's,

BOSTON

FURNITURE STORE,

AT THE

Spacious Ware-Room,

Nos. 2 & 3, Leavensworth Block,

COLLEGE STREET,

In Burlington, Vt.

No further need of going to New York or Boston for Rich or

FASHIONABLE FURNITURE.

THE Subscriber has a more extensive assortment of

Furniture, Feathers, Beds, Mattresses, Upholstery, Goods, &c.,

than has ever before been offered in this section, comprising all the most recent styles from the most gaudy to the commonest FURNITURE, manufactured principally to order and in quality superior to any to be found out of Boston or any other place—consisting, in part, as follows:

Black Walnut & Mahogony Parlor FURNITURE,

—CONSISTING OF—

French Sofas, Easy Chairs, covered in plush damask, brocatelle or hair-cloth, to suit the purchaser; French style centre and side Tables, with and without marble tops; Pier and other frame Looking Glasses; rich and common Curtain Furniture and Fixtures, &c., and every article needed to furnish Parlors in the most fashionable style.—Also, medium and low priced Parlor Furniture, of every description.

DRAWING & SITTING ROOM FURNITURE,

of every desirable style.

CHAMBER FURNITURE.

Fancy painted Chamber Sets richly ornamented; Mahogany, black walnut and common Bedsteads, Bureaus Sinks, Toilets, Cribs, &c. Also, Feathers, Feather Beds hair, cotton husk and palm leaf Mattresses. Elegant both mahogany and black walnut, of very superior workmanship, constantly on hand or made to order, of any style or size desired. Also, any odd article, not to be found ready-made, designed and executed to order in the best manner at the shortest notice.

LIBRARY CASES & SIDE-BOARDS,

Hotels and Steamboats

furnished at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms.

N. B.—Every article will be sold as low as the same quality can be bought in either Boston or New York, and in many instances much lower. Country dealers will be furnished at the lowest wholesale prices.

Mr. ALLEN'S long experience as a manufacturer and Furniture dealer in Boston, gives him advantages in selection and purchasing goods, very seldom equalled; and he will warrant every article fully equal to what he represents it.

☞ Persons in want of Furniture will do well to call on Mr. ALLEN before purchasing.

I. S. ALLEN.

Burlington, May 8, '52. 418-1y

PIANO FORTE,

AND

MUSIC STORE.

No. 1, BANK BLOCK BURLINGTON, VT.

THE Subscriber has opened a very extensive and choice selection of Musical Merchandize, consisting of every variety of Musical Instruments, such as

Piano Fortes, Seraphines, Melodeons,

Bass Viols, Violins, Guitars, Flutes,

Fifes, Clarionets, Cornopeans, Accordeons, and Brass Instruments of every description for Bands; also—

BASS VIOL AND VIOLIN STRINGS, TUNING FORKS, TUNING HAMMERS, &c.

The assortment of Sheet Music, consists of about Four Thousand Pieces of the latest and most popular Music of the day, additions to which will be made every week, from the extensive Importing and Publishing Houses in New York and Boston. Instruction Books on hand for every Instrument, and all new works received as soon as published.

CHURCH MUSIC BOOKS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

The attention of Purchasers is respectfully invited to the assortment of Piano Fortes, Seraphines and Melodeons, as they are from the best Manufacturers in the country, and every instrument sold by me will be warranted, unless otherwise stated to the purchaser.

All the above goods will be sold as low as can be purchased in New York or Boston, and the orders of teachers and others who buy to sell again, are respectfully solicited, and will be filled and sent to any part of the country, as may be directed.

June 5. 3m422 I. S. RUST.

ANNEXATION!!

Essex County, N. Y. and Vermont!

NOVEMBER 10th, 1852.

I. D. BIXBY & Co.,

ARE now opening a very heavy stock of Rich

DRESS GOODS,

for the Winter trade, consisting in part of the following articles:

Merinos, Coburghs, Paramattas, Alpacas, Lustres all wool de Laines, Manchester de Laines, Persian Cloths, Raw Silk Plaids, Cashmere Plaids, Col'd Velvets, Col'd Flannels, Irish Poplins, Bombazines, Ginghams, American, English and French Prints, Silks.

SHAWLS!!

Bay State, Empire, Waterloo and Scotch.

CLOAKS.

We have a large assortment of rich Cloaks of a variety of patterns, colors and prices.

Silks, Satins, &c.

The LARGEST assortment of Dress Silk that we have ever opened, are now to be seen on our counters. Brocade, Plaid, Striped, Chameleon, Glace, Gro de Naples, Gro de Zure, Gro de Rhine, Gro de Lyons, Gro de Algiers and many other styles.

No. 2, Bank Block.

439tf North Side of the Park.

BURLINGTON VT.,

I. D. BIXBY & Co.

Burlington, Nov. 15, 1852.

BOOTS, SHOES & RUBBERS

James A. Walker,

BANK BLOCK, OPPOSITE THE SQUARE.

BURLINGTON, Vt.

HAS just returned from the New York and Philadelphia markets, with the largest and best selected assortment of Ladies, Gents, Misses, Boys, Youths and Children's

BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS

ever offered North of the City. Getting his goods direct from the manufacturers, he is enabled to and will, offer them at LESS PRICES than can be purchased for elsewhere

Mens Thick Boots	from $1,50 to $3.00	per pair.
" Fine Kip "	2,00 to 3,00	"
" " Calf lined "	2,50 to 4,00	"
Gents fine calf seam'd boots "	4,00 to 7,50	"
Ladies walking shoes "	75 to 1,38	"
" Boot ees and Polkas "	1,00 to 2,00	"
" Gaiter Boots "	1,75 to 2,50	"

and a great variety of every desirable style and quality, ALL of which will be offered at very low prices. 436 tf

All Work Warranted.

GRASS SEED

OF very Superior Quality, for sale by KINGSLAND, BABLE & Co.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Miscellaneous.

20 Years Experience.

OLD ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL.

Quick Cures and Low prices.

Private Diseases and their Antidote.

DR LISPENARD, author of the Marriage Guide or Private Medical Treatise, Professor of Diseases of Women and Children, and Licentiate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the United States University, &c., &c., continues as heretofore to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms and varieties of

PRIVATE DISEASES.

at his old quarters No 5 Beaver street ALBANY, N. Y.

The great success attending the use of Doctor L.'s remedies in secret diseases, and the many remarkable cures daily effected by him in recent as well as old lingering attacks, is conclusive evidence that the well

SICK AND UNFORTUNATE

can do no better than consult the Doctor, whose whole time is devoted to the exclusive treatment of this much neglected branch of practice.

LOOK AT THIS.

Dr. Lispenard cures recent cases of disease in from three to six days, and chronic or long standing diseases in a very short period of time, without the use of Mercury, without the least time change of diet. [illegible]

DAILY EMPLOYMENT.

In Syphilis, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Strictures, Enlargement of the Testicles and Cords, Bubo, Chancres, Pimples and Scaly Eruptions, Sore Throats and Noses, Chancres on the tongue, tender shin bones, and diseases of the skin and impure blood, Dr. Lispenard's remedies are above all praise, and frequently cure when all others had failed.

EVEN TO RELIEVE.

More than 5,000 patients have during the past year experienced the benefit of the Doctor's extraordinary skill in treating secret diseases—among which, diseases of the bladder and kidneys have formed a goodly proportion.

YOUNG MEN,

who by indulging in a secret habit have injured their health and prostrated their intellectual faculties, and thereby deprived themselves of the pleasure of marriage life, should consult Dr Lispenard without a moment's delay. Hundreds have been restored to health, society and friends, under my peculiar mode of treatment although vast sums of money had been sacrificed without any benefit. My remedy for this disease is pleasant to take, has no offensive smell and

CURES WITHOUT FAIL

☞ Persons so unfortunate as to be diseased although they may have visited half a dozen Doctors, and had medicine sent them a dozen times with no benefit would exhibit wisdom by making their case known to that FELLOW OF THE SICK, Dr Lispenard, who never charges for advice and warrants all his cures. The sick are often at a loss where to apply for relief, AND THUS WANDER, as hundreds stand ready to plunder the unfortunate victim of Private Diseases, or secret habits with no one thought for their welfare and health. All thus deceived will find a friend and moderate charges by consulting the Doctor who uses NO MERCURY and cures every time.

N. B.—Persons from a distance when visiting the city in search of a physician and friend will be fortunate if they succeed in escaping the many dens of imposition, educated by unprincipled men, this title of character knowledge or name, who deceive the unfortunate victim of disease of his hard earned money, and his remaining health. Patients who have no acquaintance in the city should make inquiry of some respectable citizen, or the editor or proprietor of any of the city papers, to ascertain who is the most reliable physician to apply to.

FEMALE DISEASES.

Dr. Lispenard from an experience seldom or never enjoyed by any other medical man, is enabled to treat, with every hope of success, all and every variety of Female Complaints—with several pleasant remedies—and has without doubt cured within the past five years more than 300 females afflicted with diseases of the Bladder, Womb, &c. &c. Ladies afflicted with suppression or stoppage of their monthly times, will recollect that Dr. Lispenard is still the sole American agent for

DR. VICHOP'S

FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS.

The unprecedented sale of more than 15,000 boxes of these excellent Pills, and the good results which always follow their use, is conclusive evidence of their utility in stoppages, &c. Caution—Married Ladies in certain delicate situations should not use them—for reasons see directions with each box. Price $1. Sent by mail to all parts of the world.

Married Persons and those about to Marry, should enclose 12½ cents post paid to Dr. Lispenard, and obtain a copy of his Marriage Guide or Private Treatise, a bewitching little work of nearly 100 pages, illustrated. Every thing that married persons can desire or wish to know is herein detailed. Persons who from poverty or sickness have no desire to increase their family, will find necessary instruction in the Marriage Guide. One copy 12½ cents; 5 copies 50 cts; 12 copies $1—mailed free to any part of the world.

N. B.—Patients treated by letter, and medicines sent with full directions for use to the writer's address. All communications destroyed or returned.

No mercury used in any case, and all cures warranted.

No boys or precocious students allowed; timed persons take notice.

Friends of Dr. L., when recommending patients to our care, will recollect our number, 5 Beaver st., three doors from South Pearl st.

Hours open from 7 A. M., to 9 P. M., and on Sunday from 1 to 4 P. M.

No charge for advice, although no medicine may be desired.

Good board and private rooms for those who desire to remain in the city.

Notice this—Address all letters to

C. W. LISPENARD, M.D.,

461—1y No. 5 Beaver St. Albany, N. Y.

NORTHERN RAIL ROAD, N. Y.

FALL ARRANGEMENTS.

On and after FRIDAY October 1st trains will run as follows:

GOING EAST.

1st Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 9, A. M

Arrives at Rouse's Point 1, 45, P. M

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 2, P. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 6, 20, P. M

GOING WEST

1st Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 8, A. M.

Arrive at Ogdensburgh 12 50, P. M

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 3, P. M.

Arrives at Ogdensburgh 7,45, P. M.

First Passenger Train going East

Connects at Moors with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road for Montreal and Quebec, and Plattsburgh, Burlington and Whitehall—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Vermont Central Rail Road for Boston and New York—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Rutland and Burlington Rail Road by steam Boats to Burlington, and thence to Boston and New York.

Second Passenger Train going East,

Connects with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road at Moores, for Montreal and Quebec—Connects with the Vermont Central Railroad for Boston, Burlington, and New York. Connects with the Steam Boats to Whitehall, thence by the Saratoga and Troy Rail Roads, to Saratoga Springs, Troy and New York. Connects by Steam Boat with Rutland and Burlington R. R. at Burlington, for Troy, Boston and New York.

First Passenger Train going West,

Connects at Ogdensburgh with the Express Line of Lake Ontario Steamers at 1 o'clock P. M. for Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, Lewiston, Niagara Falls, and Buffalo.

Second Passenger Train going West.

Connects with Lake Ontario Line of Steamers for Kingston and all ports on the American shore of Lake Ontario, and with Hamilton.

Four Freight Trains leave Ogdensburgh and Rouse's Point every day Sundays excepted.

For Freight apply to George V. Hoyle, Agent, Rouse's Point.

CHARLES L. SCHLATTER,

440 Chief Eng'r and Superintendent.

Printing Paper For Sale.

FOR sale by J. & G. PARKS,

33 by 24 inches,
24 by 24 "
33 by 22 "

364tf

Also, Wrapping:

40 by 26 inches, 60 lbs to the Ream, for large bundles
20 by 18 "
18 by 16 "

☞ All orders directed to Keeseville promptly attended

CAPS CAPS.

MENS' and Boys' Silk and Worsted Plush and Cloth Caps, at E. H. GARFIELD, & Co

Legal.

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT has been made in the payment of the debt secured by a certain mortgage dated the 20th day of January 1849 executed by Allen Everitt and Julia Ann, his wife of chesterfield, in Essex County N. Y., as mortgagors to Reuben Jones then of Ausable, in Clinton County, N. Y., as mortgagee and recorded in the office of the Clerk of the County of Essex, in volume O of mortgages pages 228 and 229, on the 9th day of February, 1849, at 7 oclock P. M There is claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $561,02.

Now therefore notice is hereby given that the said mortgaged premises, will by virtue of a power of sale contained in the said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in said case made and provided, be sold at public auction at the Adirondac Hotel, in the village of Keeseville, in Essex County, on the 8th day of March, 1853, at 10 oclock in the forenoon of that day.

The said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage as follows, viz: all that certain piece or parcel of land situated in the Town of Chesterfield, County of Essex and state of New York, in a patent of three thousand six hundred acres of land granted by the state of New York to Matthew Adgate, and bounded as follows: Begining at the shore of Lake Champlain, at the South east corner of said patent, running thence west on the south line of said patent to the south east corner of lands heretofore deeded by the said Adgate to one Noah Gridley. Thence north on the east line of said Gridley's land about fifty four rods to a beach tree; Thence due east to the Lake shore; Thence south along the Lake shore as it winds and turns to the place of beginning, containing by estimation one hundred acres of Land be the same more or less. Dated Keeseville November 26th 1852

REUBEN JONES, Mortgagee.

CHARLES CHENEY Atty. Keeseville, N. Y.

SHERIFF SALE.

BY Virtue of an Execution issued out of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, to me directed and delivered against the goods and chattels, real estate and chattels real of Joseph Weed and Almerin Smith, I have seized and taken all that tract or parcel of land situate lying and being in the town of Ticonderoga, and Essex county, bounded as follows:

All that piece and parcel of land lying and being in said town of Ticonderoga, being the westerly part of a lot of land formerly leased by Samuel Deal to Jonathan Drury, and known on a map of said land as lot No. 51, beginning at a maple stake standing in the east line of a lot of land lately conveyed to the said Almerin Smith, by the said Thomas Wheeler, thence running south eighty two degrees east, forty rods to a stake and stones, thence north eighty degrees thirty minutes east, eighty rods to a stake and stones, thence north eighty two degrees west, forty rods to the stake and stones, thence south eight degrees thirty minutes west, eighty rods to the place of beginning. Containing within said bounds twenty acres. Excepting from off the said lot two acres, conveyed by Samuel Deal to the Congregational Meeting House, and Society of Ticonderoga, and one half acre to the Corporation of St. Paul's Church, also in said town.

Also, all that piece parcel or tract of land situate, lying and being in the town of Ticonderoga aforesaid, and bounded as follows:

Beginning at a stake standing in the north east corner of a lot of land formerly owned by James Jones, and conveyed by him to the said Smith, and now in his possession; thence running south eighty degrees east, twenty-eight chains and sixty-three links to a stake; thence south eight degrees and forty-five minutes west, nineteen chains 70 links to a stake standing in the north line of Edward McCaughin's land, thence north eighty degrees west, 28 chains and 63 links to a stake, thence in a straight line to the place of beginning. Containing 55 acres and one-third of an acre be the same or less or less.

Also all that certain other lot adjoining being a part of the Holcomb and Jones farms, bounded on the south and west by the highway leading from Ticonderoga to Crown Point on the east by lands formerly owned by Wm Stewart now McCaughin and on the north by the highway leading past John Ledwitch's farm and residence and on the south by said McCaughin's land.

Also, all that certain farm in Ticonderoga, aforesaid, known as the Lake farm containing about 350 acres, being lot No. one and two in the McIntosh Patent, in the possession of Charles F. Hammond and Allen Penfield, and about 75 acres adjoining part of lot No. in same patent now in possession of Geo. D. Clark

Also, all that certain other lot of land in Ticonderoga aforesaid, known as part of the James Jones farm, sold and conveyed by Almerin Smith, to Alva Bennett in the year 1847, and now in the possession of said Bennett bounded and described as follows: beginning at a stake and stones in the easterly line of lands belonging to Francis Arthur Esq. being also the south west corner of the William Canfield farm, thence along the southerly line of said Canfield's land, south 80 degrees east, 5 chains and 8 links to the centre of a highway leading from Crown Point to Ticonderoga village, thence along the same south 30 degrees east, 31 chains and 25 links to a stake then north 86 degrees west 25 chains to a stake standing in a ditch or drain and being also in the easterly line of said Arthur's land, thence along the same north 10 3-4 degrees east, 26 chains and 76 links to the place of beginning, containing 40 acres of land.

Also, all that certain lot of land in Ticonderoga aforesaid, commonly called the Holcomb lot now in possession of Almerin J. & Charles H. Bennett, and sold and conveyed by the said Almerin Smith to them in the year 1847, bounded and described as follows, to wit:—Beginning in the centre of a highway leading from Crown Point to the Upper Falls in Ticonderoga, being the north east corner of Sylvanus Bennett's farm, thence along the north line of said Bennett's farm north 80 deg. west, 32 chains and 14 links to a stake in the east line of Gustavus N. Wicker's land, thence along the same and along part of the east line of Francis Arthur's land, north 10 3-4 deg. east, 14 chains and 85 links to a stake standing in a ditch or drain, thence south 86 deg. east, 25 chains to the centre of a highway leading from Crown Point to the Lower Falls of Ticonderoga, thence along the same south 30 degrees east, 10 chains and 80 links to the centre of the first above mentioned highway, thence southerly along the same 9 chains to the place of beginning containing 48 acres and 71-100 of an acre of land.

Also, a certain other lot in Ticonderoga aforesaid, now in possession of Jeremiah O'Brien, bounded on the south by the road leading past John Ledwitch's land and residence, on the east by said Ledwitch's lands, on the north by lands of Alexander McCambridge, and on the west by lands of Wm A. G. Arthur containing fifty acres or thereabouts.

Also a certain other lot piece or parcel of and in Ticonderoga aforesaid lying and being on the south and west side of the highway leading from the Lower Falls to the street so called or Crown Point between the former dwelling house of the said Almerin Smith and burnt a few years since, and the present dwelling house of Edward McCaughin, being the same lot sold by the said Smith to the said McCaughin in 1847, and now owned by him, containing by estimation about 14 acres, being originally part of lands belonging to Stephen and Silas Sayre.

Also, all that certain piece or parcel of land situate lying and being in the town of Schroon, Co. and State aforesaid on the west side of Lake George and comprehended within the bounds of a tract of land granted by Letters patent under the great seal of the state of N. Y., to James Caldwell, Robert McClellen, and Robert Cochran and is more particularly known and distinguished by being lot No. one hundred and forty seven of the division of said tract bounded as follows, viz:

Beginning at the southwest corner of lot No, one hundred and forty four being a stake No. 144, 145, 146, 147, and runs thence along No. 146 south 25 chains to lot No. 148, thence along the same east 40 chains to lot No. 143, thence along the same north 25 chains to lot No. 144 thence along the same west 40 chains to the place of beginning, containing one hundred acres of land, be the same more or less. The courses are as the magnetic needle pointed at Lake George in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifteen. Which said several lots, lands and real estate I shall expose for sale at Public Vendue at the Hotel kept by S. Woodard at the Lower Falls in Ticonderoga on the 26th day of July next at ten o'clock in the forenoon. Dated June 5, 1852.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

The above sale is hereby adjourned to the 15th day of Sept. next, at the hour and place above named.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

July 26th, 1852.

The above is further adjourned to the 9th day of November next at the same place, and hour above named.

Dated September 15, 1852.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy

The above sale is further adjourned until the 7th day of Dec. next at the same hour and place as above. Nov. 9, 1852.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

The above sale is further adjourned to the 4 h day of January next 1853 at the same place, and time of day as above. Dated December 7th, 1852.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy

The above sale is further adjourned to the 3d day of February at the same hour and place as above. Ticonderoga, Jany 4, 1853.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy,

SUPREME COURT
JOSEPH G WHITMAN, & WASHINGTON CLARK
Against
HORACE GOULD.

To the Defendant, HORACE GOULD.

SIR:—Please to take notice that upon an affidavit, which was filed with the Clerk of the County of Essex, on the 17th day of January, inst, we shall move this Court at a special term thereof appointed to be held at the Court House in Elizabethtown, in the County of Essex, on the 1st Monday of March next, at the opening of the Court on that day or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard for leave to issue execution on the judgment in this action against the property of the deft. for the purpose of collecting the sum of two hundred nineteen and 78-100 dollars and interest on the same from March 27th, 1845, (the time said judgment was recovered,) being the amount claimed to be due on said judgment, or for such further or other order or relief in the premises as the said Court may deem proper with costs of this motion. Dated January 17th 1853.

Yours, &c.,

FINCH & HARWOOD,
Attys for Oliver Keese, and
Thomas A. Tomlinson
Assignees of Judgment

425-7w

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

NOTICE is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Renselaer Morhous late of Willsborough deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with vouchers thereof to Abram Weldin one of the administrators at his store and place of transacting business at Willsborough in said county, on or before the sixteenth day of February next, that being at least six months from the first publication of this notice. Dated Willsborough August 10, 1852.

EMELINE H. MORHOUS, Admtrix.
ABRAM WELDIN,
DAVID W. MORHOUS } Administrators

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

NOTICE is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John Cummings, late of North Hudson, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to ESTES B. WALKER, one of the administrators of the said deceased, at his dwelling house in North Hudson, his place of doing business, on or before the 25th day of May next, that being at least Six Months after the day of the first publication of this notice. Dated this 15th day of November, A. D. 1852.

ABIGAIL CUMMINGS, Administratrix.
ESTES B. WALKER,
DAVID DAY. } Administrators.

446-6m

CHINA, GLASS, & EARTHEN WARE.

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

[SUCCESSORS TO PEIRCE AND KING.]

IMPORTERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS,

235 River Street, Troy, New York,

Having our Stock very complete from Importations, and otherwise, are prepared to offer a large assortment of all Goods in our Line, Wholesale or Retail, at the Lowest New York or Boston Prices for Cash or Approved Credit, among which will be found:

Fine White Ironstone and White Glazed Ware, Flown Blue, Flown Mulberry, Light Blue and common Wares, and the Acacia Ware, formerly kept by Mr A. Slason.

White, Gold Band and Decorated French China, in sets or separate pieces.

Tea sets, of French and English China white, Gilt, or decorated. India China in great variety

Toilet Sets, decorated plain, full, double, or single sets.

Cut Glass Ware, in Decanters, Goblets Champaigns, Wines &c., of new and rich patterns. Glass cut to match any pattern.

Moulded and plain Glass Ware of every description and style.

Girandoles, Candelabras, Solar Lamps, and Chandeliers, in every variety, from the manufactory of Cornelius & Co. Philadelphia.

Solar Globes, cut and Plain. Solar and Camphene Wicks and Chimnies. Astral and Coat Wicks, Boat Globes, Astral Chimnies, &c., &c.

Hall Lanterns of cut, plain and stained Glass.

Lanterns of every variety. Also a new and desirable style with patent catch, &c. for Railroads and Steamboats, and made to order with names or initials engraved on.

Tea Trays and Waiters, new styles and shapes, of our own importation, singly or in sets.

Looking Glasses, Britannia Ware, Table Mats &c, &c

Also a splendid assortment of Fancy Goods, consisting of Vases, Cologues, Card-receivers, Albumets, Decanters, Wine Bottles, &c., in China, Terra Cotta, Parian Marble, and Bohemian Ware,

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

235 River Street, Opposite Troy House, Troy, N. Y.

ALFRED H. PEIRCE,
LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK. 445

Gas, Steam & Water Fitting

and Fixtures, Wrought-Iron Pipe, Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Plumbers' Materials, &c.

We are now prepared to do work in dwellings, Stores, Churches, Mills, or Factories, in the way of Gas and Steam Fitting or Plumbing, in the most complete and satisfactory manner. Having workmen in each of the above branches who cannot be excelled by any similar establishments in the country, all orders will be promptly executed, and work done in any part of the country.

We have also constantly on hand and for Sale at Manufacturers' Prices, Wrought Iron Pipe for Gas, steam, and water. Twisted and Plain Brass Pipe, Steam Valves, Brass and Iron Stop Cocks, Tees, Elbows, Coupling, Brass Globe, Cross and Check Valves, &c. Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead Leather Hose, Hose Pipe and Couplings, with every material in Lead, Brass and Plated Work for Plumbers' use.—Plug Basins, Hoppers, Closet Pans, Corner Basins, and Baths, of all descriptions.

Also, a splendid assortment of Chandeliers, Pendants, Brackets &c, on new and rich styles, to which we are receiving constant additions.

PEIRCE and SOUTHWICK.

223 and 235 River-Street, (Opposite Troy House,) Troy, N. Y. 445-tf

ALFRED H. PEIRCE, LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK.

NEW STORE.

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

True Union Store.

MR. NICHOLS of Burlington, Vt., has established a branch of his stock at Essex, nearly opposite the Steam Boat Landing in Fancher's Building adjoining the Hotel, where he has on hand nearly all kinds of Dry-goods and Groceries, and intends keeping up a good assortment by constantly replenishing, and will sell as low as can be bought in Burlington for cash and ready pay, most kinds of Produce taken. Mr N. flatters himself that with the facilities he has for purchasing goods both in Boston and New York that he can compete with any store in Northern New York or Vermont. Please give us a call and see for themselves. "A penny saved is two pence earned."

WANTED 10,000 lbs. BUTTER.

N. Y., June 16, 1852.

NOTICE.

AN election of the Directors for the Keeseville and Port Douglass Plank Road Company, will be held at the office of the company on Thursday, 10th day of February next, at 2 o'clock

THOMAS Vo[illegible]

Keeseville, January 12[illegible]

Medicine.

THE WONDER OF THE WORLD.

DEVINES' COMPOUND

PITCH LOZENGE,

A sure and pleasant Remedy for Colds, Coughs, Croup, Whooping cough, Asthma, and if lungs enough are left to sustain life, A CERTAIN CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, safe for the Infant or the Invalid, in any stage of weakness.

"The statements that consumption cannot be cured, has destroyed more lives than the disease itself."—[Dr Warren

Read the following, which to a candid mind places this "Great Remedy," like Caesar's wife "above suspicion."

TO THE PUBLIC!

We the undersigned, citizens of Lee, Mass., are acquainted with Mr. Devine, the proprietor and Manufacturer of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge and from what we know of it ourselves and have learned from others of its beneficial effects, in cases where it has been used, give it as our opinion that it is a valuable remedy in diseases for which it is recommended and is worthy of public confidence. A. G. Hulburt, Leonard Church, F. G. Taylor, Wm. Taylor, S. A. Bliss, S. A. Hulburt, Josephus Crafts, F. P. Eldridge.

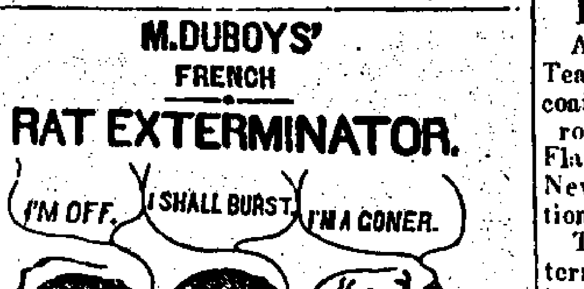
If any individual is to be pitied, and needs sympathy, it is the consumptive—always expecting to get well and yet the painful evidence of decay almost makes the inner soul shrink with the outer flesh "

"Some bloom as roses bloom, and live as roses live, A single morning space!"

While others in more mature life—by some imprudence and a slight cold neglected—in the hectic flush—the painful cough.

"The prints of their departing steps appears"

BUT HE EXISTS!—Mr. Wm. Devine, the originator and manufacturer of the Pitch Lozenge, under Providence, was raised to perfect health by the use of these Lozenges alone, after he was pronounced by his physician to be almost dying with consumption



This fact is generally known in Berkshire County and is the neighborhood talk and wonder in Lee, and in Great Barrington, Mass.

From Dr. Brown, of Lee, Mass.

This certifies that I have made use of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge for cold and cough, and found immediate relief. Therefore I would recommend it to the public as being a safe and sovereign remedy. H. C. BROWN Lee, October 28, 1851.

Sold wholesale at Albany, by Wm. A. Wharton & Co, Druggists, &c., H. C. Sheldon, Troy, Spencer & Nichols, Whitehall, Hammond's & Co., Crown Point, W G Lyon, Essex, Reynolds & Tufts and I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. Orders addressed Wm Devine, Jamaica L. I. 436 1y Wm. RENNE, Traveling agent

M. DUBOYS' FRENCH RAT EXTERMINATOR.

THIS PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to exterminate Rats and Mice, whenever used as directed, and to leave no offensive stench on the premises cleared of these annoying vermin. Its use is perfectly safe in any place and at all times, which is not the case with ordinary remedies for this evil.

CAUTION!—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!—The extraordinary success of M. Duboy's Rat Exterminator has excited the cupidity of some dishonest and irresponsible persons to counterfeit it. Inquire for M. Duboy's French Rat Exterminator, and take no other. Large boxes at 25 cents. LYNDE & OSBURN.

Rochester, N. Y., Sole American Agents, to whom all orders should be addressed.

For sale by Stearns & Beckwith, Peru. I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. 444 1y

Miscellaneous,

WOOLEN MANUFACTURING

IN all its various branches, will be carried on at the Keeseville Woolen Manufacturing Establishment, in Keeseville, N. Y.

Wool of any quality will be received in exchange for Cloth,

CASSIMERES, SATINETS, Flannels, &c.

The Goods of this Establishment for the last two years, are well known at home and in market, and needs no other recommendation than a fair trial. Farmers and others wishing to make the most out of their wool, will find it to their advantage to call and exchange their wool for cloths. They may rest assured that they will be fairly dealt with, as no goods will be offered but those that will give satisfaction.

C. Roelofson has made arrangements which will enable him to pay

Part Cash

on Exchanges, or all CASH for WOOL when Price and Quality Suit.

On hand and ready for Exchanging, Grey Cloths, Mixed Satinets—VERY HEAVY—fine and medium Cassimeres, Red Flannel—yard wide—the different kinds also for sale.

THE CUSTOM

CARDING

will be carried on as usual.

C. ROELOFSON & Co.

Keeseville, May 26th, 1852. 421tf

WOOL! WOOL!

THE Subscriber would inform the public that he is again in the

Manufacturing Business,

Either by the yard, on shares, or in exchange for cloths on the most reasonable terms, and that he intends to keep on hand a full supply of the following goods:

BLACK BROAD CLOTHS,

Black, Brown, and Olive Cassimeres,

FULLED CLOTHS, SATTINETS, TWEEDS,

Flannels, &c.,

suitable to this country, and that he will spare no pains in trying to please such as may favor him with their patronage.

Birmingham, May 15, 1852. J. APPLEYARD

419

WOOL!! WOOL!!!

Cash Paid for Wool

BY

Matthews & Ames,

At the Old Stand of

H. & H. MATTHEWS.

Every discription of Woolen and Cotton Goods given in exchange for Wool if wanted.

HAVING increased our stock of Goods by a second Spring purchase. We feel confident that we shall be able to supply all who may wish Goods or Groceries of any description, in part, or wholly, for their Fleece, Pulled or Tag Wool.

Boots ad Shoes.

READY-MADE or MADE to ORDER.

AS good as the best, as cheap as the cheapest and warranted to fit. The undersigned begs leave to remind the public of the above facts and solicits a share of their patronage. ☞ Opposite the Bank.

JAMES ADAMS.

Keeseville, March, 1852. 111-tf

PIANO FORT EMPORIUM.

361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. The most extensive and varied assortment of ROSEWOOD PIANO FORTES, plain and ornamental, elegant patterns, elaborately carved, and highly finished with Pearl keys, all of our own manufacture, and warranted in every particular, can be found at our Warerooms, 361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

437-1y BENNTT & CO.

VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE.

THE subscriber having disposed of a portion of his Farm, offers the balance, containing 108 acres of first rate land, a good dwelling house and convenient out buildings, well fenced into convenient size fields, situated 4 miles north of the Village, of Keeseville on the mail route to Plattsburgh, and for pleasantness of location is not surpassed by any in Northern New York.

ALSO.—If desired, a wood and pasture lot [of fi]fty acres, about 4 miles distant.

WILLETS KEESE.

[Ke]eseville, Dec. 21, 1852. 461

Miscellaneous.

New Goods! New Good!

—AT—

NICHOLS' CASH STORE,

150 Church street,

BURLINGTON, VERMONT,

HAVING just Purchased in New York and Boston, a large stock of Goods of all kinds we now offer them for sale, and those who are in want of goods in our line will save money by calling on us before purchasing. We are confident we have the largest stock of goods ever brought into Burlington at one time; we were induced to buy largely in consequence of the low prices of many kinds of goods, particularly dress goods of almost every kind.

We have a full stock of everything usually kept in a dry good store: Also West India goods and groceries, a very large stock of Teas and Sugars low by chest and cask. Also at cost to clear them off Paper Hangings. Crockery and glass Ware and looking glasses.

CARPETING, AT THE CARPET WARE HOUSE.

BURLINGTON, VT.

Received this day and now opening 60 pieces of all grades, the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three Ply, Superfine, fine and common Ingrain and Venetian, all Wool. Cotton and Cotton and Wool; Also, all the different qualities of Stair Carpeting, Straw Matting, Oil Cloth, Drugetts, Crumb Cloths, Hearth Rugs, Door Matts, &c., very cheap.

Burlington, Nov. '52. 446

FAMILY GROCERIES.

A large and choice assortment of Sugars, Teas, Oils, Molasses, Pork, Fish, Fine and coarse Salt, Camphene, Soap and Candles, rooms, Pails, Willow Waggons, Cradles, Flavoring Extracts, Cat, Sups, all kinds Toys, New Years and Christmass presents, Confectionaries, Nuts, Bird Seed, &c., &.

The above goods are offered on the usual terms, at the lowest prices. Let those wishing to buy examine for themselves.

100 Barrels Genessee Flour,

FRESH Ground for sale at.

REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

40 Barrels Sugars.

CRUSHED, granulated Muscavado and Coffee Sugars at REYNOLDS & TUFTS,

Green & Black Teas.

40 CHESTS and Cattys choice Old Hyson, Young Hyson and fine Oolong Teas cheaper than any in town at

REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

Keeseville, Nov. 18, 1852. 446

REMOVAL.

THE Subscriber takes this method to inform his friends and the public that he has moved his

TAILORING ESTABLISHMENT

To the Store south of the Bank, and lately occupied by W. Whitney.

Where he intends carrying on the above business in all its branches.

He will keep constantly on hand a choice assortment of

Broadcloth, Cassimeres & Vestings

which he will make up to order on short notice, in the most fashionable styles. Also Shirts, Collars, Cravats, Suspenders, Gloves, &c.

Also an assortment of

READY-MADE CLOTHING,

which he will sell cheap for cash.

☞ Cutting done on short notice.

☞ Two Good Journeymen Tailors wanted.

WM. COWLBECK.

KEESEVILLE ACADEMY.

The undersigned in behalf of the Trustees of Keeseville Academy, announce that the Fall Term will commence on Thursday the 22d day of November next. They have succeeded in engaging the following corps of Teachers.

Associate Principals. { CHARLES H. DANN, Teacher of Languages and Higher Mathematics. GILBERT THAYER, Teacher of English branches, Natural Sciences and Superintendent of the School.

Miss. NANCY S. POTTER Assistant Teacher.

Miss. ELLEN M FISHER Teacher of Music.

Good Board and Rooms in the Village.

TERMS:

Common English Branches	$3 00 per quarter
Higher " Branches	1 00 extra	"
Book keping	1 50 "	"
Latin and Greek, each	1 00 "	"
French, Italian and German, each	1 00 "	"

Tuition is not charged for more than two of the above extras

Music Instrumental	$10 00 per quarter.
Vocal	1 00 "	"

For French, Italian or German, taken as a single branches, the charge will be 3 00 " "

Mr. THAYER will give especial attention to young gentleman and Ladies expecting to engage in teaching.

Oliver Keese
Jacob D Kingsland } Com of
John Mattocks Trustees.

Keeseville July 28, 1852 430

MATTHEWS & AMES,

(SUCCESSORS TO H. & H. MATTHEWS,)

DEALERS IN

Tin, Sheet Iron, Copper, Japan and BRITANNIA WARE,

together with a large and well selected assortment of

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

which they will sell by the piece or package, at a small advance from cost. Also, a general assortment of

YANKEE NOTIONS

And Fancy Articles,

suitable to the Pedlars Trade, which they will sell low for cash.

☞ All kinds of barter taken in exchange for Goods.

Keeseville, April 17, 1852. 415

New and Cheap Goods

E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Have just received from New York and Boston one of the best assortments of

FALL AND WINTER GOODS

ever exhibited in Keeseville.

Among their stock of DRY GOODS will be found a beautiful assortment of Wool, and Cotton, and wool d'Laines and Cashmeres both plain and printed, of all qualities, and prices from one shilling to one Dollar per yard. French Merinoes, Paramattas, Alpaccas Lyonese Cloth, English and American Prints, Ginghams, Flannels of all kinds, a superior quality of Bay State Flannel of different colors, Wool Plaids, Tickings, Stripes &c, &c, Shawls—a large and splendid assortment of Bay State, Empire State, Waterloo, Scotch Plaid, and Printed WOOL SHAWLS, at prices much lower than ever before offered in this market. A beautiful assortment of Bonnet Silks and Velvets, with trimmings of all kinds. Also dress silks and Satins, Gloves, Hosiery &c.

READY MADE CLOTHING

of all kinds, sold very cheap, also, Cloths, Broad Cloths Plain and fancy Cassimeres, Black Doe Skins, Satinets, silks and Worsted Vestings, Serges, &c., &c., with many other articles too numerous to mention. The subscribers [illegible] sary to add that all the above goods will be sold at very low prices. Only remember their motto "quick sale and small profits." Please call and examine Goods and prices, and satisfy yourselves. Opposite the Adirondac Hotel.

Keeseville Oct 822.

CASH,

AND THE

Highest Market Price

WILL BE PAID FOR WOOL, AT THE WOOLEN FACTORY, by

C. F. ROELOFSON & Co.

Keeseville, July 6th, 1852. 437tf

Miscellaneous.

THE NORTHERN

New York Mutual

INSURANCE COMPANY,

Plattsburgh, Clinton Co., N. Y.

Capital, 100,000.

THIS Company is organized under the General Insurance Law of the State of New York, with a sound, reliable capital, and offers the following superior inducements:

1. The safer kinds of property are separated entirely from the more hazardous; affording the advantages of two distinct companies, with the expense of but one.

2. The first class, or Farmer's Department, consists of Farm-houses, Farm buildings and their contents and detatched dwellings and their contents in villages, when unexposed by more hazardous buildings,

3. The second class or Merchant's Department, consists of exposing dwellings, stores, merchandise and property not deemed specially hazardous.

4. Each class pays its own losses and thus securing equal justice and proportional rate to both.

5. Not more than $3.000 of the first class, or more than $2 000 of the second class, will be taken in one risk, nor any number of risks so contiguous as probably to subject the Company to a loss of over $3.000 at any one fire; thereby saving it from heavy and ruinous losses.

6. In taking surveys of property, the agent will be the agent of the company, and the company be responsible for the correctness of all surveys made by its agents.

7. Any one insured, may at any time surrender his policy and withdraw from the company by paying his proportion of the losses and expense up to the date of such surrender.

8. Applications will take effect at noon of the day on which they are made (unless a different day is directed by the applicant,) thus relieving the party from anxiety and suspense.

9. The company no have two-thirds clause, but will pay all loss and damage not exceeding the amount insured.

10. In case of difference of opinion in settlement of losses, the company will submit the same to arbitration in the county where the loss occurs, the claimant choosing one, the company one, and the two arbitrators another.

11. Each person insured in the company becomes a member and will be entitled to a participation of the profits, if any surplus should accrue, not required for the payment of losses.

12. This company will be responsible for losses by fire caused by lightning.

13. This company will take no risks in cities.

☞ The Directors return their acknowledgments to the public for ther readiness in aiding the orgaoization of this company, and will endeavor to make it a safe and reliable institution, affording protection from the ravages of fire, at reasonable rates, and with certainty of payment in case of loss.

DIRECTORS.

James Farr, Fort Ann, Washington co; Olif Abel, Whitehall, do; Walter Geer, Glen's Falls, Warren co; Pelatiah Richards, Warrensburgh, do; Wm. E. Calkins, Ticonderoga, Essex co.; John Horton, Columbia Vilage, St. Lawrence co.; Thomas H. Conkey, Canton, do.; Amasa C. Moore, Samuel F. Viles, Henry G. Hewitt, Jacob H Holt, John Beynton, Peter S. Palmer, Cornelius Balsey, Z. C. Platt, W. W. Hartwell, Benjamine Gilman, George Moore, Plattsburgh, Clinton Co;

OFFICERS.

SAMUEL F. VILES, President;
WM. W. HARTWELL, Vice President;
ZEPHENIAH C. PLATT, Treasurer;
GEORGE MOORE, Secretary;
I. C. MIX, and
R. G SWINBRN, General Agents.
JAMES B DICKINSON, Agent Ausable Forks.

Plattsburgh, Dec. 4th, 1852. 448 tf

DRY-GOODS!

CARPETS AND OIL-CLOTHS,

at uncommonly low prices

may be had at

G. V. S. Quackenbush's,

202 River and 9 State Streets. Troy.

MY Stock of Dry-Goods is unsurpassed in Variety and extent, consisting of every class of goods from the lowest priced Muslins and Prints, to the finest

BROAD-CLOTHS AND CASSIMERES,

or the richest and most expensive styles of Silks and Shawls and of each denomination of goods.

I have an almost endless variety of patterns of all the different qualities.

Of Carpets and Oil Cloths I have a splendid assortment consisting of a great variety of new and beautiful patterns of Velvets Tapestry, and Brussels Carpets—

Also

Three Ply, Tapestry-Ingrains, and Ingrains of all qualities and so varied in styles that all may here find something to suit their fancy.

Oil Cloths of all Widths and Qualities and of the newest and most desirable patterns, Rugs, in great variety.

STAIR CARPETS, STAIR RODS, DRUGGETS, MATTS,

and Matting of every Style and Quality.

A correct diagram being furnished Oil-Cloths will be cut to fit rooms or halls without extra charge, and Carpets made in a superior manner at the lowest rates.

Those wishing to purchase either Dry-Goods or Carpets will find that my assortment is unequaled, and that my prices are uncommonly low.

424 G. V. S. QUACKENBUSH.
292 River Street, Troy.

RUTLAND & BURLINGTON Rail Road.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after Monday, Nov. 1st, trains will run as follows, viz:

FOR BOSTON, NEW YORK AND INTERMEDIATE PLACES.

LEAVE
Burlington at	8,15	A. M.,		4,15	P. M.
Vergennes	9,09	"		5,00	"
Middlebury	9,42	"		5,35	"
Brandon	10 20	"		6,15	"
Rutland	11 00	"	AR.	7,00	"
			L.	6,30	A. M.
Cuttingsville	11,25	"		6,55	"
Ludlow	12 06	P. M.		7,35	"
Proctorsville	12,15	"		7,42	"
Chester	12 40	"		8,10	"
Arriving Bellows Falls	1,15	"		8 45	"
Boston	7,00	"		1,00	P. M.
LEAVE
Boston	7 45	A. M.		12,00	M.
Bellows Falls	12 0	"		5 15	P. M.
Chester	12 40	P. M.		5,50	"
Proctorsville	107	"		6,17	"
Ludlow	1.15	"		6,25	"
				7,06	"
Cuttingsville	1 52	"	AR.	7 30	"
Rutland AR.	2.15	"	L.	7,45	"
L.	3,00	"		8 25	"
	3 24	"
Brandon	4,25	"		9,04	"
Middlebury	4,25	"		9,37	"
Vergennes	5,00	"
Arriving Burlington	5,45	"		10,30	"

CONNECT AT BURLINGTON,

with the Steamers for PLATTSBURGH and MONTREAL RAIL ROADS, and with the VERMONT and CENTRAL and VERMONT and CANADA RAIL ROADS for the East, North, and West, via CHAMPLAIN and ST. LAWRENCE, and the OGDENSBURGH RAIL ROADS.

CONNECT AT RUTLAND

with the Trains of Western Vermont, Rutland and Washington and Saratoga and Washington Rail Roads for New York, Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Buffalo and the West.

CONNECT AT BELLOWS FALLS

with the Trains of the Cheshire Vermont Valley, and Sullivan Rail Roads for Windsor, Boston, Worcester, Lowell Springfield, Hartford, New Haven, and New York.

Fares are less when Tickets are purchased at the Offices than when paid in the Cars.

Burlington, Oct. 25, 1852. JOHN S. DUNLAP, Superintendent.

448

EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR.

50 BARRELS made from Pure, Genessee Wheat at the lowest price at

REYNOLDS & TUFTS,

Dec. 16, 1852.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Essex County Republican.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING BY JONATHAN TARBELL, Editor and Proprietor. TERMS, $2 Per Year---$1,50 in Advance.

VOLUME XIII. NO. 39. KEESEVILLE, N. Y., FEBRUARY 12, 1853. WHOLE NUMBER 458.

Medical Reform.

PUBLISHED BY REQUEST.

We do not profess to know what is the true science of Medicine, nor which among the several Schools now contending for mastery is nearest right, but we believe there is room for improvement in regard both to theory and practice. The following Manifesto, from a number of regular educated Physicians in our city, sets forth with such decided perspicuity and force the current objections to the more prevalent system, that we give it place in our columns, witholding the names of the signers (which have been furnished us), in order that it may stand or fall on its own merits.

MANIFESTO OF THE PRINCIPLES OF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL SOCIETY.

It is wholly incontestible that there exists a wide spread dissatisfaction with what is called the regular or old Allopathic System of Medical practice. Multitudes of people in this country and in Europe exhibit an utter want of confidence in physicians and their physic. The cause is evident; erroneous theory, and, springing from it, injurious—often, very often, fatal—practice. Nothing will now subserve the absolute requisitions of an intelligent community but a medical doctrine grounded upon right reason, in harmony with and avouched by the unerring laws of nature and of the vital human organism, and authenticated and confirmed by successful results. In one word, Medicine must be redeemed, the manacles and fetters which environ it must be snapped asunder, and it must be rendered the Healing Art or perish! Such we have no doubt, is the invincible determination of the large public; and this is no hasty verdict, no passing cloud, no mere temporary popular ebullition. The feeling widens, deepens, is ineradicable.

Si quæris argumentum, circumspice, if we seek an argument let us look around us. No results arise without adequate and ample causes, in inexorable and invariable sequence.

False theory, false induction, inefficient or fatal practice, these are the all sufficient reasons for the popular dislike, discontent, disgust and detestation. Judged by its own authors, it stands self condemned before the world. Let us cite a few eminent and unquestionable authorities.

Dr. Jamieson, of Edingurgh, affirms that: "The present practice of Medicine is a reproach to the name of science, while its professors give evidence of an almost total want of the true knowledge of the nature or proper treatment of disease. Nine times out of ten, our miscalled remedies are absolutely injurious to our patients, suffering under diseases of whose real character and cause we are most culpably ignorant?

Dr. Ramage, a Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians of London, all whose members have attained the highest medical honors known to the British schools, thus writes;

"It cannot be denied that the present system of medicine is a burning reproach to its professors, if indeed a series of vague and uncertain incongruities deserve to be called by that name. How rarely do our medicines do good! How often do they make our patients really worse! I fearlessly assert that in most cases the sufferer would be safer without a physician than with one. I have seen enough of the malpractice of my professional brethren, to warrant the strong language I employ."

The eminent Lugol, of Paris, says in a lecture delivered in 1841:

"We follow an erroneous course in our investigations, and must resort to SOME NEW MODES if we desire to be more successful."

Dr. Evans says;

"The medical practice of our day, is, at best, a most uncertain and unsatisfactory system; it has neither philosophy nor common sense to commend it to confidence."—The Dublin Medical Journal of 1842, discourses on this wise; "Assuredly the uncertain and most unsatisfactory art, that we call medical science, is no science at all but a jumble of inconsistent opinions, of conclusions hastily and often incorrectly drawn, of facts misunderstood or perverted, of comparisons without analogy, of hypotheses without reason, and theories not only useless but dangerous." Dr. James Johnson, of The London Medico Chirurgical Review "declares as his conscientious opinion, sounded on long experience and reflection that if there was not a single physician, surgeon, apothecary, man-midwife, chemist, druggist nor drug on the face of the earth, there would be less sickness and less mortality than now prevail."

Says the candid and sagacious Dr. Rush, of Philadelphia, "we (speaking for the regular faculty) have done little more than to multiply diseases and increase their fatality."

Listen to the late Prof. Gregory;

"Gentlemen, ninety nine out of every hundred medical facts are medical lies, and medical doctrines are for the most part, stark staring nonsense."

The great Magendie says:

"Let us no longer wonder at the lamentable want of success which marks our practice, when there is scarcely a sound physiological principle among us."

And last, but not least, hear the distinguished Dr. John Mason Good, author of the Study of Medicine. He confesses in that celebrated work that "the science of medicine is a barbarous jargon, and the effects of our medicines on the human system are in the highest degree uncertain, except indeed that they have already destroyed more lives than war, pestilence and famine combined."

Enough! Judged and repudiated by its most illustrious authors, those best acquainted with it, and of course best qualified to judge, discarded and scorned by a large intelligent and influential portion of the people, old school Allopathy is dying of Marasmus, it will linger for some time longer, but it is moribund:—the most eminent of the faculty have pronounced its doom, and soon will it go down to the tomb of the Capulets, without hope or possibility of resurrection!

Another cause of the popular dissatisfaction and discontent is the abundance of theories, patent medicines, nostrums and quacks, which, like the blight, and lice, and frogs of Egypt, cover the land, and come up into our very houses!

Adam Smith, author of the "Wealth of Nations," affirms that "the cause of the quackery out of the profession is the real quackery in the Profession."

This is sufficiently evident, for if those whose peculiar province it is to cure disease do not or cannot succeed, aid will as a matter of course, be sought elsewhere, and it is probable that the aggregate sum paid for nostrums and quack attendance far exceeds the whole remuneration received for the services of Physicians of all classes and schools, together with their physic.

In contemplation of this undeniable and most lamentable state of Medicine and the Medical Art, what course of conduct does prudence suggest and wisdom dictate, to those in the profession who have sufficient ability, learning and experience to engage in and accomplish an eminently imperious and salutary reform?

Shall we abandon Medical Practice, or shall we resort to any of the abounding pathys and isms which inundate the country, and vainly endeavor in their isolation to satisfy the public want! We will do neither the one nor the other.

Too many candid, ingenuous, and competent members of the profession have left it already in disgust and despair. We need their aid. The science and art of medicine must be reformed from within—these alone are adequate to the task who are cognizant of its errors and deficiencies. We intend to carry on the work of reform, so auspiciously begun, until, in wiser and more sagacious hands, it shall be finally consummated.

The avenues to the Temple of Truth are experience, observation, and right reasoning therefrom. Those avenues are alike open to all, and may be trodden by all. The most enlightened and farthest advanced in medical knowledge tread as yet but the vestibule of her Temple. But sincerity, dilligence, and a noble spirit of self sacrifice shall yet conduct us to her august and transcendant presence!

There is no profession more philanthropic, dignified or useful than that of the Physician!

It is emphatically ars dolorem leniendum, morbumque mendendum, the art of alleviating pain and curing disease. But medicine is also a science, and knowledge or science must precede art. No man can practice medicine but in so far as he is acquainted with it, or knows the nature of maladies and their appropriate remedies.—The difference between the Physician and Quack is simply this; The one is scientific—the other is not; the one has intelligence and enlightenment for his guides—the other goes blindly to work, and to say the least is much more likely to injure than benefit.

The absolute and indispensable importance of a sound medical education is self-evident. New school men should possess a perfect knowledge of all theories and processes of medication, and be entirely competent to choose between the salutary and the deleterious, between the precious and the vile.

Males and Females should both be educated in sufficient numbers to supply the demand for the services of their most honorable and necessary profession.

There is ample room and verge enough for both. Minds have no sex and the avenues of eminence and usefulness invite the gifted and the good of both sexes. Let them be trodden. The present enlightened and refined state of society, requires a high order of talent in Physicians and all the solidity and embellishment, which the best medical instruction can afford.

We come before the public as New School men and in soliciting the public attention and commending ourselves to public confidence, we wish to state clearly and distinctly the grounds of our medical faith.

As New School men we claim Doctrina medica vera, to have a correct medical doctrine, and on this solid and impregnable foundation to build a salutary and successful practice. We conceive health to consist in integrity of structure, and the due and proper performance of the function of every organ of the human body, so that the perpetually recurring phenomena of vitality, in which the brain, spinal column and nerves, the heart, arteries and veins, the stomach and alimentary viscera, and all dependent parts of the animal organism unite in harmonious accord, to form the masterpiece of God's handy-work, the microcosm or living man.

Disease we affirm to consist in disturbance of function, which if prolonged or not speedily arrested, induces permanent derangement, destruction of structure, and ultimately extinction of being or death.—But maladies cannot arise without vital energy being impaired or lessen.

Hence debility ever precedes distemper, for if the vital forces are in a normal state, disease can make no inroad. We hold that it has been demonstrated that the phenomena of life are characterized by periodic or vital alternations of attractive and repulsive movement in the various organs of the body—that these periodic alternations, when manifested in an orderly manner, constitute healthy life, while their correspondence with inverted order, is accompanied by that condition known as disease or disorder, and that the only true and legitimate function of the physician in the treatment of the sick "hath this extent no more," viz: the restoration of the orderly periodicy of health, by the judicious use of those "healing medicines" and other appliances, which it has pleased a benificent Providence to bestow upon his creatures.

As necessary corollaries of these axioms, we utterly reject all means and processes which depress and undermine the powers of the living organism. Hence we discard the bleeding lancet, the cupping instrument, and those filthy and disgusting creatures called leeches.

We think the virus of disease sufficiently deadly without superadding thereunto, poisonous doses of drugs.

As New School men, we believe in the judicious use of cold, warm and hot water. We believe it proper to use stimulant or antistimulant remedies according to the nature of the disease and the condition of the patient.

We believe it necessary to administer large or small doses of medicine as the symptoms may indicate or require. However important and necessary the art of Surgery, we are entirely satisfied that the surgical knife is far too frequently used, and that ignorance or deception, or both, conduce to mutilation, by which man, the image of his God, is shorn of his fair proportions. To cut off a limb is by no means to cure it, although it may evince great manual dexterity and profound anatomical knowledge. From all which the necessary deductions follow, that we can not and will not be confined to the narrow area of my petty pathy or idle ism, but rejoice to avail ourselves of all safe and salutary means, by which human agony can be assuaged, or human ills cured. Finally having availed ourselves of all the privileges, advantages and means requisite and necessary to practice the profession of our choice and love, with credit to ourselves and safety and success to our patients, we hold communion with all who embrace our views and conform to our pratice.

We have in view the independence, the honor, and the widest usefulness of our noble avocation; and we seek to render Medical Practice what it was evidently designed to be, and must ultimately become the conservator of the health and lives of the people.

While thus placing before the world this, our declaration of medical independence, the undersigned most respectfully and earnestly invite the friends of medical reform throughout the country to merge all minor and insignificant differences of opinion, and to unite with us in this dissemination of sound therapeutic knowledge, by the institution of societies, academies, journals, schools or colleges; with the assurance that the union of all the good men of each of the various sects devoted to medical reform is as legitimate, and as sure of being ultimately crowned with success, as was the combined forces of the patriots of the different nations in our Revolution, whose cordial and happy co-operation, under the protection of Divine Providence, secured the blessings of liberty to the American people.—[N. Y. Tribune.

New York Jan. 6, 1853.

THE JAPAN EXPEDITION.—The Boston Post publishes the following extract from a letter received from a gentleman who had just returned to this country from a trip to China, relative to the feelings of the Japanese towards the expedition of Com. Perry:

"I was informed by a gentleman—a native of Japan that the emperor is ready for the American expedition. He exhibited a letter to me, which he had just received from one of his countryman, then on the island of Jeddo. That the people kept a strict look out all over the coast; and their fires were already burning on the mountains at night, in order to be prepared in case the squadron should appear at night. One million of soldiers are ready and at hand. The coast is all set with guns, while in the bay of Jeddo, where the fleet is expected, there are countless war junks, and the whole bay is surrounded with innumerable forts. The expedition will find the Japanese much better soldiers than they anticipate. The presents had better have been left at home. A trade will not soon be opened with that country, except by force."

A MAGNIFICENT PLEASURE TRIP.—The Tribune says a prominant steamboat owner of that City, who has made an immense fortune in steamboating, has devised a novel, most liberal and magnificent plan for disbursing some of his gains. He proposes to rig in the most perfect style, a steamer yacht, now nearly completed, furnishing her in the richest manner, at a cost of $50,000 over ordinary ships of the kind. About the first of May he will take on board his sons and daughters and forty or fifty other guests, and sail for London, Copenhagen, Stockholm, St. Petersburgh, Havre, Bordeaux, Lisbon, Gibralter, Marseilles, Naples, Malta, and such other ports as may be desirable, staying a short time at each port giving fetes and seeing the lion. The entire expense, which is estimated at more than $200,000, will be borne by the projector. This is about the most extensive plan, a pleasure trip ever yet entertained, and when carried out [which it undoubtedly will be] will be very apt to give Europeans some new ideas of the outside barbarians of Yankeedom.

——Gen. Scott and his wife, and Gen. Pierce and wife, have been made life members of the Parent Methodist Missionary Society of Washington, by contributions made in a Methodist church in that city.

☞The following graphic description of a commodity that is not confined to any particular locality, we copy from a criticism of the Autobiography of Wm. Jerdan in a late No. of the Westminister Review.

Of course there are thousands of very worthy and estimable people who have failed in literature—people who are as punctual as the sun, and whose lives are morally irreproachable. What then?—What inference are we to draw from so notorious a fact? They failed as writers; whereupon Mr. Jerdan lays the whole responsibility upon literature. He cannot discern the possibility of any other cause. A man fails at the bar—the bar is in fault. Let no man go the bar. A man fails in the church—abolish the church at once.—A man fails in medicine—let there be no more physicians. We do not hazard much risk of exceeding the truth in saying, that of a hundred men who fail in literature, ninety nine of them had no business to meddle with it. Literature is a fascination very much like the stage; and of the multitude who fancy they have "a soul above buttons," who throw up "Coke upon Littleton" to strut their hour in print, who despise the honest trade of their fathers, and believe themselves destined to make a figure in the world, the number is incredibly small that are endowed with the attainments indispensable to success.—There is no profession so crowded with men so deficient in the qualifications required for their work. In other professions men rapidly find their level; but in literature, sustained by a vanity which eternally whispers in their ears that they are ill treated, and fed by a restless ambition which grows by what it does not feed upon, they are a long time before they find out their own incapacity, if they ever find it out. How many such are there clinging to the skirts of newspapers and periodicals, bitterly complaining of the rejection of articles the neglect of the public, the caprice and want of judgment of editors, and of everything above the earth and under the earth except their own unfitness for the sphere they have chosen, who might have earned a decent competence in obscurity if they had been brought up to some useful occupation instead of being cast upon that occupation which of all others, exacts the severest toil, the most varied powers, the greatest self denial, the most earnest labour and vigilance, uprightness and perseverance. Every youth who has perpetrated doggrel in a weekly paper, or obtained, in an unlucky moment admission for a fantastical article in a magazine, considers himself ill used, and a martyr of genius, if he does not command a position for which neither nature nor education has qualified him. The question is, whether such instances should be cited as examples of anything but an egregious misdirection of human energies, and whether they should not be held out to admonish others from falling into the same mistake, instead of being quoted as evidences of the inadequate rewards of literature.

What result other than disappointment can be anticipated from the inveterate folly of a man who persists in a pursuit which he has taken up without the least previous training of his faculties, without study or preparation of any kind? The meanest calling requires some qualifications, and literature most of all. Can a man instruct others who is ignorant himself? or guide the tastes of the public if his own be uneducated? Looking rationally at means and ends, what can he expect from persevering in so hopeless a course, but to be baffled in the long run? He hunts a phantom which eludes his grasp at every turn. He is like a child crying for the moon, or a boy chasing a butterfly. Trace the course of a literary adventurer of this numerous class, and wonder no more at the sequel.

A youth comes up to london to "seek his fortune." He has been brought up to no business or profession, and his head is, consequently, full of dreams and in definite desires. Casting about for occupation, the floating work connected with the newspapers in the way of paragraphing and reporting, presents an easy opening to him, which suits the desultory turn of his mind. The agremens attached to this skirmishing employment captivate his senses, and flatter his vanity. He has access to a newspaper office, where he picks up the jargon of politics, and acquires an off hand familiarity with the labels of public questions, the names of public men, and the doings of authorship; he has the run of the theatres, and speedily becomes an adept in the vocabulary, or slang, of criticism, he enjoys the free and easy intercourse of the loose convives of the press, and, emerging boldly from his chrysalis state, he begins to set up pretensions in the newspaper world as a night man about town. Living, as the French say, au jour le jour, every day supplies its own expedients and excitements; facility in scribbling grows upon irresponsibility in publication, and thus, having dropped into the stream of vagrant journalism, he is swept on by the force of the current, and may be said to be only learning to swim when he finds himself buffeting the waters. Whatever chance he might originally have had of obtaining a safe and respectable livelihood is gone by. He is no longer capable of applying himself to any of the inglorious, plodding tasks in which diligence and system are compulsory. His habits are broken up; his views are scattered; he has tasted just enough of the pleasures of this gypsying and tramping life to be unfitted to settle down in quiet drudgery. He extends his connexion with the papers; he writes in half-a-dozen at a time; he ascends from paragraphs to leading articles; nothing comes amiss to him; he is ready to undertake any variety of subjects, from the highest problem in political science to lowest conundrum in the column of scraps; the range of his miscellaneous and comprehensive powers includes every conceivable topic that can be compassed by the scissors and pen.—But it is as a critic that he displays his versatile agility by the most marvellous feats; the art of reviewing comes to him by intuition; books of hoistory and philosophy, travels and biography, poetry, fiction, and science, fly like chaff before him; and the whole field of literature is mowed down with the indiscriminate celerity of a reaping machine. The Jack of all trades who is master of none, is not a flourishing man after all. He sows his multifarious labours on the winds, and they scarcely escape from his hands when they are blown away for ever. His receipts are irregular and precarious, but his mode of living is prodigal. His incomings are slow, but his outgoings are fast. He hears on all sides that literary men are not expected to be provident, and he thinks he is licensed to be a spendthrift. With a little care over his exchequer, and regularity in his expenditure, he might manage to maintain a satisfactory position, but he wastes his resources in ways for which there is nothing to show, and spends one half of his life in fighting against embarassments which the other half is actively engaged in multiplying. After years of universal production and promiscuous dissipation, the utmost he can do is to live from hand to mouth; even that fails him sometimes, and is sure to fail him altogether in the end. He has not made good an inch of solid ground to plant his foot upon. He is even worse off than he was at the beginning; for now at the close of his career, when it is too late to amend or retreat, he discovers that he has spent his life in vain, and that instead of having secured something to fall back upon he is worn out, dilapidated, and discarded. And what has become of that prodigious heap of foam he had slavered over so many printing presses in his time? It melted away long ago. It answered its fugitive purpose, and was forgotten in four and twenty hours. It has not left a trace of its existence behind.

The picture is by no means overcharged. Such cases are numerous, diversified by an infinite variety of circumstances. Literature is to blame for it all!—for the misapplication of time, the false pretensions, the defeat the ruin; and a man who might have gone through the world creditably and safely, had he addressed himself at first to some avocation for which he was qualified, thinks himself warranted in attributing to the profession of letters the misfortunes he has brought upon himself by the grievous error he committed in adopting it. But the last thing most of us are disposed to admit, is, that we are ourselves the chief cause of our own failures in life.

Mrs. Tyler's Letter to the Women of England.

We find the following extract from the able and dignified letter of Mrs. JULIA GARDINER TYLER, to the Women of England, in the N. Y. Day Book. It is caustic but breathes the right spirit. †

I have thus attempted to deal candidly with you in disclosing some of the grounds of the suspicions, which in the estimation of many attach to your proceedings. I will go further, and inform you that it is better for both you and us that we abstain in future, from all possible interference with each in the domestic concerns of our respective countries. In the first place such interference comes with ill grace from either of us, and can be received with no favor.—In morals we believe ourselves quite your equals, and therefore it sounds harshly in our ears to be admonished by you of our sins, real or imaginary. There is a proud heart in the American breast, which rebels against all assumption on the part of others, although they may wear ducal coronets or be considered the stars of fashions in foreign courts. Manage your own affairs as best you may, and leave us to manage ours as best we think proper. Each of us will find abundant employment in the performance of our respective duties.

If you wish a suggestion as to the suitable occupation of your idle hours, I will point you to the true field for your philanthropy—the unsupplied wants of your own people of England. In view of your palaces, there is misery and suffering enough to excite your most active sympathies. I remember to have seen lately, that there were in the city of London alone 100,000 persons who rise in the morning without knowing where or how they were to obtain their "daily bread," and I remember, also, somewhere, to have seen that the Eleemosynary establishment of England costs annually £10,000,000 sterling—a sum greater than that expended by this frugal and economical government of ours, with its army and navy and civil and diplomatic list. Surely, surely, here is a field large enough for the exercise of the most generous sympathy, the most unbounded charity. Go, my good duchess of Sutherland, on an embassy of mercy to the poor, the stricken, the hungry, and the naked, of your own land—cast in their laps the superflux of your enormous wealth; a single jewel from your hair, a single gem from your dress, would relieve many a poor female of England, who is now cold, and shivering, and destitute.—Enter the abode of desolation and want, and cause squalid wretchedness to put on one smile of comfort, perhaps the first which has lighted up its face for a life time. Leave it to the women of the South to alleviate the sufferings of their dependants, while you take care of your own.

The negroes of the South lives sumptuously in comparison with the 100,000 of the white population of London. He is clothed warmly, in the winter, and has his meat twice daily, without stint of bread.—Have your working men, women and children as well clothed and as well fed, and then go to the serfs of Russia and the negroes of America. No, I recant, the advice. To the serfs of Russia you will not go. That is an European affair—the affair of a high and imperial monarch, and of a rich and powerful aristocracy. The poor serf may toil and labor, and stretch his heart strings until they crack in agony, and yet the noble ladies of England will express no sympathy for him, and present no address to their sisters of Russia upon the subject of serfdom. You will in no event disturb yourselves with the past, present or future condition of the serf. The newspaper press would admonish you of the danger of interfering in that quarter, and the Emperor Nichols will go unquestioned as to the manner and extent of his royal sway.

But, I return to your subject—the state of slavery in our southern States—and I tell you, that you are mistaken in supposing that the southern heart is different from your own in its sympathies and emotions. Believe me, that the human heart is quite as susceptible with us as with you. Moralists, and dealers in fiction may artfully overdraw and give false coloring, as they are licensed to do; but be not deceived into the belief that the heart of man or woman, on this side of the Atlantic, is either more obdurate or cruel than on yours. There is no reason, then, why you should leave your fellow subjects in misery at home, in order to take your seat by the side of the black man on the plantations of America. Even if you are horror-stricken at the highly colored picture of human distress, incident to the seperation of husband and wife, and parents, and children, under our system of negro slavery—a thing, by the way, of rare occurrence among us, and then attended by peculiar circumstances—you have no occasion to leave your own land for a similar, and still harsher, and more unjust exercise of authority.

Go, and arrest the proceedings of your Admirality! Throw your charities between poor Jack and the press gang! He has fought the battles of England all over the seas. He was at the Nile. He bled and conquered at Trafalgar. He caught your gallant Nelson in his arms as he was falling on the bloody deck; received his last breath and consigned his remains to the bosom of St. Paul's Cathedral. He has made England what she is, great and powerful. Shall he not, after all this, be permitted to enjoy the sunshine of home, with his wife and little ones, for a single day? He has periled his life for England—he has returned from a five years' absence in distant seas—his wife and children look with rapture upon his weather-beaten countenance—he holds the loved ones in his embrace—but the pressing gang comes, and his fitful dream of happiness is over. If he resists, there are fetters for his limbs! If he talks of England's proudly boasted common law, there is no law for him. Magna Charta is a farce, and the Petition of Right a mockery, as far as he is concerned. Go, sisters of England, to your Queen, your Prime Minister, your Parliments, and your courts, and ask their interference to arrest this moral and political iniquity, and you will be told, "Woman should have no concern with politic—back to your drawing-rooms and nurseries."

For another subject quite as fruitful of sympathy, I need only refer you to the condition of Ireland, with its population but recently starving for food, which was freely supplied from our granaries, and at this moment craving mercy from avaricious landlords, who, to extend the area of grazing lands, are levelling their humble cottages to the ground, and sending them forth to die upon the public highways. Women of England? go thither with your tender charities. There, on the road side, sinks an attenuated and exhausted mother, still straining her perishing child to her breast, while the unhappy husband and father, himself foodless and raimentless, sheds drops of agony over the heart rending scene—Spare from the well fed negroes of these States one drop of your superabounding sympathy, to pour into that bitter cup which is overrunning with sorrow and with tears. Poor suffering, down trodden Ireland! land of poetry and song of noble feeling and generous emotions—birth place of the warrior, the statesman, the orator—there is no room for you in the sympathizing hearts of the women of England. Let the Celtic race be driven, by starvation, from the land of their fathers, and its exodus would be regarded, not with sorrow, but with joy and gladness by the secret heart of England. "Religious toleration" is but an unmeaning phrase with the people of Great Britain—it extends not beyond the lips. A difference in creed has been the death blow to Ireland.

MAN SHOT AT WASHINGTON.—A despatch from Washington says:

Edward R. Fuller, recently a clerk in the census office, was shot at the National Hotel Wednesday evening by James W. Schaumburg formerly of the U. S. Dragoons. The ball penetrated the right side, and the wound will probably prove fatal. Schaumburg was committed to jail. A feud has existed for a long time between them, owing to Schaumburg's indebtedness to Fuller; but the imediate cause was a placard posted up by Fuller, pronouncing Schaumburg a liar, coward and swindler.

An intensley excited crowd lingered about the hotel until a late hour. Public sentiment, may seem to think, demanded the act. Many of Schaumburgh's friends were quitting his acquaintance in consequence of the placard. Both are in the prime of life. Fuller was in great agony last evening, but is easier this morning—Physicians think he cannot live.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

The Republican.

KEESEVILLE:
Saturday Morning Feb. 12.

The Union of Lakes, the Union of Lands,
The Union of States none can sever,
The Union of Hearts, the Union of Hands,
The Flag of Our UNION—Forever."

Preaching, and Practice.

"Physician, heal thyself," "cast the beam out of thine own eye" &c., are excellent precepts, and put in practice would free the world of disease, and sin. They are applied with great force in a letter signed by Mrs. Julia Gardner Tyler to the women of England who appeal to their sisters of the U. S. in opposition to Southern Slavery. In imitation of this example we suppose the Grand Duke of Tuscany will reply to Mr. Everett by saying, "with laws in your own boasted land of liberty denying all education to over 5,000,000 of people it is the heighth of impudence to interfere with my domestic affairs."

Now we go in for both sides on the principle of the "freedom of speech" and the "largest liberty." That's democracy.—These recriminations are like the "pot calling kettle black" and it is hoped the result will be similar to that when "rogues disagree." It may be that an officious interference, and an uncourteous discussion are the only means of awaking either party to a sense of the misery, and oppression which surround them, the amelioration of which is within the reach of their influence.

But these friendly interpositions, the publication and proclamation of truth, the defence of the weak, &c., are right in principle. It is not the whole duty of man to learn to mind his own business only, else the practice of states, churches, and individuals has been wrong from the creation.—"Attend to your own affairs and leave those of others alone," correct in principle if right in application, is often the language of tyranny, oppression, unrighteousness, and rascality to those who tear away the mask which veils them from the light of truth. We say to the Dutchess of Sutherland, Mrs. Tyler, the Grand Duke and all, "hit 'em agin."

PERSECUTION.—Looking upon the map of Europe the reader will readily descern the small Duchy of Tuscany in Italy, whose Grand Duke is as contemptible as his territory is insignificant. Church and State are there united, and persecution is not unfrequent. Recently, the Madiai family were imprisoned for reading, and circulating protestant tracts. This tyranical act has called forth the strongest manifestations of feeling throughout the civilized world. Meetings have been held in [illegible], and by request, the secretary of State, who is personally acquainted with this Grand Duke has written him a letter, asking the release of this family, and permission to come to this country, with a prospect of success, in view of personal acquaintance.

From the Ogdensburgh Sentinel.

Editor of the Ogd'h Senr'l;

DEAR SIR:—I will give you a statement of the amount of Butter and Cheese, sent from this Station this season, and mostly all consigned to the Boston market, and if you consider it worthy of a notice in your paper, please insert it.

No. pack. butter	10301, weight	474 tons
" cheese	5768, "	276 tons
Total No. packs	16069	750 tons

One of the principal purchasers of Butter and Cheese of this town, says there is 1000 packages of butter for sale in this town, now. Yours, &c.,

S. H. CLARK.

Madrid Station, Jan'y 25, 1853.

The facts in the foregoing communication to the Ogdensburgh Sentinel speak to the farmers between Plattsburgh and Whitehall with great force. There is no class of people to be so largely and directly benefitted by a Railroad. Besides a constant cash market for the produce it will make goods cheap. Such is the result of every Railroad which has been built. There is now only $10,000, wanting, and farmers ought to make it up. We venture to say, if only that sum was wanting on the Valley and Schroon route it would not be called for a second time. Farmers of Schroon, what say you?

EXTRAVAGANCE.—Hon. John A. Dix, in a recent lecture before the Historical Society, made the following very just remarks:

"Nothing can be more unwise than the erection of costly dwellings, which can only be maintained by princely fortunes.—At the death of the head of the family, and the division of the ancestral property, no one of the children, as a general rule, has enough to support the establishment, and it passes into other hands Nothing can be more cruel to children than to bring them up with expectations which cannot be fulfilled, and with habits of life which they are compelled to abandon. The parent, for the sake of a few years of ostentation, invests a large portion of his estate in a splendid dwelling, with the certainty that his death will be the signal for the explosion of his children from it. Nothing can be more inconsiderate if it is done without reflection, or more unfeeling if it is done with a full view of the inevitable consequences. Look for the splendid mansions of thirty years ago, and see what has become of them.—Scarcely one remains in the family by which it was constructed. They are boarding houses, places of public exhibition, or the work-shops of fashion."

☞The Rhode Island Senate has indefinitily postponed the election of a United States Senator for that State.

[For the Republican]

Charity begins at home.

Perhaps no precept of common sense or common humanity is less respected than the sentiment at the head of this article.—Suffering and destitution in our families and neighborhoods are scarcely heeded, all our sympathies and benefactions are lavished in profuse abundance on distant objects of charity with whose wants we are but little acquainted and whose sufferings are often more fancied than real.

"Distance lends enchantment to the view" while crushing sorrows and untold misery and anguish at our own doors ring their melancholy wailings unheard and unheeded. Freezing hands and closing eyes of little ones, uplifted to the God of mercy in their last agony fail to awaken sympathy or secure assistance. Thousands of dollars flow into all the channels for the relief of foreign misery while a blind beggar, in our village and cities is grudgingly doled out an occasional penny! Tears fall like showers of rain on the Pages of "Uncle Toms cabin" the American "Sorrows of Werter" from eyes that could weep over a dead Ass while a father was dying of starvation uncared for. Shame on such sickly, maudlin, sham sympathy.

Ships laden with provisions and luxuries for the destitute poor in the distant Island of Maderia, sail at the first cry of distress when not a stones throw from the Dock at which they load in the great City of New York such extreme misery and wretchedness as are described below are only relieved by the occasional visits of some unheralded but good Samaritan.—Does not charity begin at home and should it not for the present end there? Says a gentleman, who has recently visited the 4th and 6th wards in the city of New York:

"We sat down with the purpose of detailing some of our own personal observations of household wretchedness in the Fourth and Sixth Wards of our city—but our taste revolts and our pen shrinks from the narration. We could tell of one room twelve feet by twelve, in which were five resident families comprising twenty persons of both sexes and all ages, with only two beds without partition or screen or chair or table, and all dependent for their miserable support upon the sale of chips gleaned from the streets at four cents a basket—of another, still smaller and still more destitute, inhabited by a man, a woman, two little girls and a boy, who were supported by permitting the room to be used as a rendezvous by the abandoned women of the street—of another, an attic room seven feet by five containing scarcely an article of furniture, but a bed, on which lay a fine looking man in a raging fever, without medicine or drink or suitable food, his toil worn wife engaged in cleaning dirt from the floor, and his little child asleep on a bundle of rags in the corner—of another of the same dimensions, in which we found seated on low boxes around a candle placed on a keg, a woman and her oldest daughter (the latter a girl of fifteen and, as we were told, a prostitute) sewing on shirts for the making of which they were paid four cents apiece, and even at that price, out of which they had to support two small children, they could not get a supply of work—of another of about the same size occupied by a street rag picker and his family, the income of whose industry was eight dollars a month—of another, scarcely larger, into which we were drawn by the terrific screams of a drunken man beating his wife, containing no article of furniture whatever—another, warmed only by a tin pail of lighted charcoal placed in the centre of the room, over which bent a blind man endeavoring to warm himself; around him three or four men swearing and quarrelling; in one corner on the floor a woman who had died the day previous of disease, and in another two or three children sleeping on a pile of rags; (in regard to this room we may say that its occupants were colored people and from them but a few days previous, had been taken and adopted by one of our benevolent citizens a beautiful little white girl four or five years of age, whose father was dead and whose mother was at Blackwell's Island)—another from which not long since twenty persons sick with fever were taken to the Hospital and every individual of them died.—But why extend this catalogue? Or why attempt to convey to the imagination by words the hideous squalor and the deadly effluvia, the dim undrained courts oozing with pollution, the dark narrow stairways decayed with age, reeking with filth and overrun with vermin, the rotted floors, ceilings begrimmed, crumbling, ofttimes too low to permit you to stand upright, and windows stuffed with rags; or why try to portray the gaunt shivering forms and wild ghastly faces in these black and beetling abode wherein from cellar to garret,

"——All life dies, death lives and nature breeds
Perverse, all monstrous, all prodigious things,
Abominable, inutterable."

Comment is unnecessary. X.

Rapid Growth.

The extraordinary prosperity of Rutland Vt. is owing to the concentration of several Rail Roads at that place. Dunkirk the terminus of the great N. Y. and Erie Rail Road has received a simular impetus, the population having increased over 1000 in one year.

We see no reason why Keeseville will not be, comparatively as much benefitted by the proposed Rail Roads here.

THE TOWN OF RUTLAND.—Since the 1st of January, 1851—only two years—the population of the town of Rutland has increased over two thousand, and the grand list has increased over four thousand dollars! There has been erected over two hundred houses, three large and expensive Marville Mills, two Hotels, one Machine Shop, one Round (Engine) House, and Passenger Depot, costing in the aggregate $420,000! Over 1200 person are employed in the various branches of the marble business and 200 in the manufacture of slate pencils. Railroads diverge from Rutland as follows: To Boston via Bellows Falls; to Troy via Whitehall and Castleton, and to Montreal via Burlington. The town is chiefly indebted to Messrs. Sheldons, Morgan & Slason, Wm. F. Barnes, Wm. Y. Riply, and James Barrett, for recent improvements. The two last named gentlemen have built over forty houses in the last two years. Rutland is destined, within a very few years, to be the Springfield of Vermont.

It is estimated that 150 dwelling houses, together with a car factory and other buildings for business, will be erected in this town during the present year.—Brandon Post.

Keeseville Academy.

The next term of this institution commences on Monday next. The last quarter closed on thursday last. There were interesting exercises which exhibited the talent of the school in a most flattering manner and were witnessed by a large and delighted audience. This institution stands in the front rank of similar places of learning, and its character will be maintained in its full strength by Messrs. Thayer & Dann and their able assistants. We cordially commend it.

NEW ACQUAINTANCES.—We introduce to our readers this week the titles of a couple of Newspapers, the Sentinel and Philomothesian conducted by the Students of Keeseville Academy. They are conducted with ability and contain every variety of matter. An article from each, read at the Academy last week, having been sent in with a request to publish; we comply with pleasure.—[ED. REP.

From the Philomothesian.

Things not Common.

A gold dollar from the lead mines of Herschel.

A daughter of Juno, the wife of Jupiter.

A poem, from the poets of the moon.

A silk dress, made of white birch bark.

A blue jay, dressed in "bloomer costume."

A cow, skating on the ice of the Amazon.

A cock fight, with less than three dozen idle, vulgar, and disorderly boys around it, if in a village.

A fisherman catching a whale with a "cant hook," in Autumn.

A hunter, shooting off the tail of a rabbit.

A coquette, with less than twenty admirers.

A good scholar, out of fifty lazy boys.

A lion, in the desert of negligence.

An Elephant, dancing the well known figure,—"Pigeon wing."

An ox, grazing in the forest of forgetfulness.

A good school teacher, with wages according to benefit bestowed.

A gray hair on the head of Ignis-fatuus, or Jack-with-a-lantern.

A monument, reared in memory of degeneration.

A smile playing on the cheeks of discontentment.

"A hornest's nest," hung on the branches of education.

A rose, blooming in cold winter of celibacy.

A sweet kiss, from the lips of misfortune.

An old maid, with two desirable qualities.

An unwise bachelor.

An arctic circle, 23½ degrees, from the north pole of old age.

A bo'hoy, with minus 4 cent, of cigars in his pocket.

An aligator, crossing the Ausable on a paste-board.

A "bob-tail hen," swimming across the atlantic,

Conscience, found in the heart of a tallow candle.

And lastly to complete this list of strange and uncommon things,—

A good Composition, written by the author of this "cabinet of curiosities."

L. N. BOUDRYE.

Keeseville, N. Y.

[From the Keeseville Sentinel.]

Why should I wish to stay?

BY F. J. COOK.

The more I walk this lower earth,
The more my spirit feels its dearth;
And when I gaze upon the day,
Bright spirit's whisper—"come away."
Then I feel them, then I feel them,
Bonds to earth and will;
Growing weaker, growing weaker,
Growing fewer still.
Soon the last one will be severed,
Soon my spirit upward—heavenward,
Will be free from ill!

Father! this hour is coming soon,
Mother! farewell—I'm going home:
I feel the hour fast drawing nigh,
Hark! 'tis whispered from on high!
Oh I feel it, oh I feel it,
In my deepest soul;
Voices speak it, voices speak it,
Whispering soft and low.
Blessed, blessed, be our Father,
That we abide here not forever,
In this world of woe!

Sadness covers not my spirit,
Fear not death for joy is in it;
Life is full of care and troubles,
Sorrows reign, and joys are bubbles.
Not many years, not many years,
Have I wandered here,
But yet those years, so full of tears,
Have been dark and drear,
Then come O! Death, take me away,
To that upper and brighter day,
To a nobler sphere!

Hark! a voice sounds deep and solemn,
Speaking sweetly from the heavens;
Telling me of a world of bliss,
Wooing, calling me from this.
Now I hear it, now I hear it,
Why should I stay?
Friends I'm going, friends I'm going,
Come with me away;
Come to a higher, nobler sphere,
Come where the day is bright and clear!!
Love not here

Keeseville Feb. 5th, 185

(For the Republican.)

Donation Visits. Liberality.

The good people of Jay have recently made handsome donations to the Clergymen of their place. One to Rev. J. Pegg on Wednesday the 26th inst., of $165, of which $153, was cash. This was an unsolicited and unexpected donation—a spontaneous expression of the esteem in which he is held by the community generally as a man and a minister of the gospel. The table, which was in every respect excellent, was ornamented with a beautifully frosted Rechabite cake, exhibiting the colors of that order, the red the blue and the white, and the Letters T. F. and J. the initials of their principles, Temperance, Fortitude and Justice. Upon the cake was nicely arranged upward of $25 in American coin—a part of the offering of his friends of Sharon Tent, of the I. O. of R.

A short time previous to this a Donation visit was had by Rev. J. W. Sawyer, at which about $44, in cash, and $21 in Merchandise were contributed.

Jan. 31, 1853. WITNESS.

Essex County Agricultural Survey.

Analysis Continued.

Analysis of No. 4 from Grand Isle Vt.

DR. SAWYER, *

A gallon of water contains of solid matter matter 22,15 grains, 100 parts of this solid matter gave of

Organic matter	23,44
Lime	24,40
Soda	11,24
Chlorine	9,72
Carbonic acid	8,64
Sulphuric acid	4,32
Phosphoric acid	3,96
Potassa	1,08
Magnesia	6,84
Silica	0,10
Iron	0,09
	99,97

If we call No. 3 a calcareo Magnesian water we may call No. 4 a sodeo calcareous water, for the reason that lime and soda in No. 4 takes the place of magnesia and lime in No. 3. Neither No. 3 or 4 are fitted for using in steam boilers or culinary purposes.

* The analysis of this water, (obligingly furnished by Dr. Sawyer,) I procured altho' not strictly within the limits of my survey, as its uses and qualities have been practically tried, it will afford a test of the value and advantages of the medicinal springs of Essex Co. W. C. W.

ANALYSIS OF No 5.*

A. RALPH, Esq.

Medicinal water from Indian Pass, Essex Co.

1 gallon of water gave of solid matter 12,64 grains 100 parts of solid matter gave of

Organic matter	19,73
Sulphuric acid	23,32
Magnesia	16,14
Lime	4,28
Phosphoric acid	4.18
Carbonic acid	3,59
Soda	2,34
Chlorine	1,19
Iron	4,18
Silica	0,11
	99,89

The analysis shows No. 5 to be a magnesia potassa water. From its composition I should judge it to be superior in a medicinal way to either No. 3 or 4. The Magnesia and Potassa are probably mostly in the form of sulphates.

* It is proper to remark, that from the position of this spring, it probably contains a larger infusion, from a fresh water spring near and above it. W. C. W.

ANALYSIS OF No. 6, UPPER JAY.

S. WELLS, ESQ.

1 gallon of water gave of solid matter 6 grains, 100 parts of solid matter gave of

Organic matter	41,32
Lime	17,34
Magnesia	14,44
Potassa	7,98
Phosphoric acid.	5,32
Sulphuric acid	5,28
Carbonic acid	4,01
Soda	0,27
Chlorine	2,31
Iron	1,19
Silica	0,14
	99,80

This matter differs from No. 3 4 and 5 in having a very much smaller percentage of solid matter. Its solid matter contained a much larger percentage of organic matter, than either of the other. The principal bases are lime, magnesia and potassa. The principal acid sulphuric and phosphoric. Although these waters offer no very special points of interest in a medicinal way yet in another view, they are subjects particularly interesting, in throwing light upon the geological formations of the sections in which they occur.

J. H. SALISBURY.

AN INTERESTING SCRAP OF HISTORY.—The Washington correspondent of the Pennsylvanian states that during the proceedings at the Colonization meeting, last week, the Hon. Charles F. Mercher stated, as an extraordinary fact, that the act of Congress, of 1807, in relation to the slave trade, provided that recaptuerd Africans, whenever our navy might overtake them, should be taken into the nearest port of this country, and there disposed of according to the legislation of the State. Georgia passed a law that the captives should be sold; one half of the money to go into the State Treasury, and the other half to the captors. And this, too, under the pretext of abolishing the slave trade. Georgia was asked to abate the law, but she refused. Subsequently, however, a law was passed by Congress to return such captives to their native land, and one hundred thousand dollars was appropriated for carrying the law into effect. Mr. Monroe was at the time President of the United States, and employed a gentleman to superintend this humane plan; thus, in effect, relieving the Colonization Society from the expense of an agent. So, Mr. Mercer insisted, that Mr. Monroe, in fact, established the first colony on the coast of Africa—Liberia— and in honor of the acknowledgement of this, the capital was called Monrovia.

SUPREME COURT—4th District.

Arrangement of Terms and Circuits for the year 1853—designating the Justices by whom held:

General Terms by all the Justices except Willard.

January Term.
1st Monday in January, Shenectady.
May Term.
1st Monday in May, Salem Wash, Co.
July Term.
1st Monday in July, Clinton, Co.
September Term.
1st Monday in September, St. Lawrence.

SPECIAL TERMS.

Saratoga—4th Monday in Jan'y,	ALLEN.
Essex—1st Monday in March,	HAND.
Fulton—1st Tuesday in April,	CADY.
Washin'g—3d Tuesday in Sept. (at Salem.)	ALLEN

Circuit Courts and Courts of Oyer and Terminer at each of which is a Special Term.

Clinton—
1st Monday in Febuary,	HAND.
2d Monday in July,	ALLEN.
Essex—
3d Monday in January,	HAND.
3d Monday in July,	CADY.
Franklin—
3d Tuesday in Febuary,	HAND.
2d Tuesday in July,	CADY.
Fulton—
3d Tuesday in May,	CADY.
Last Tuesday in September,	ALLEN.
Montgomery—
3d Monday in Febuary,	CADY.
2d Monday in June,	ALLEN.
4th Monday in November,	CADY.
Saratoga—
1st Monday in Febuary,	CADY.
1st Monday in June,	HAND.
1st Monday in October,	ALLEN.
Schenectady—
3d Monday in April,	CADY.
2d Monday in November,	ALLEN.
Warren—
3d Tuesday in May,	ALLEN.
2d Tuesday in October,	HAND.
Washington—
3d Monday in Feb'y, Sandy Hill.	ALLEN.
3d Monday in June, Salem.	HAND.
3d Monday in Oct'r, Sandy Hill,	ALLEN.
St. Lawrence—
3d Monday in Febuary,	HAND.
3d Monday in June,	CADY.
3d Monday in October,	CADY.

WIFE VS LADY.—The Providence Journal is answerable for the following sensible remarks:

We wish the Democratic papers would call Mrs. Pierce the wife of the President elect, instead of his lady. They are legally married, and she is entitled to the name of wife. Besides, it shocks all our ideas of mortality to hear it said that the President elect of the United States is travelling around so much with any other woman than his wife. If any of the Democratic papers labor under the impression that the title of wife is not grand enough, we can assure them that Blackwood's Magazine, which is high aristocratic authority, has fully endorced it, in a long and excellent article, the text of which was taken from a paragraph in this paper.

An anecdote is told of a Shopkeeper who declined some request made by a customer. "Do you know," said the customer. "that I am the Bishop's lady!" "Hoot, woman" was the answer, "I would not do it if ye was his wife, much less his leddy." Lady is a beautiful word in its place, and female is a proper word in its place, but either of them employed for wife or woman is in shocking taste.

WILD CAT CAUGHT BY A LOCOMOTIVE.—A late number of the Philadelphia Sun, says that on Thursday, the train of passenger cars from the West, while passing along the front of the Tuscarora mountain, a short distance above Millerstown, Perry county, ran over a large wild cat, breaking three of its legs, and preventing its escape. After daylight the animal was found and secured. The cat had doubtless been drinking out of the Juniata river, when, frightened by the fast coming train, it attempted to retreat to the mountain, and was caught on the railroad track.

Obituary—I. O. of O. F.

At a special meeting of Westport Lodge No. 263 I. O. of O. F. convened for the purpose of paying the last sad tributes of respect to the remains of our late friend and brother O B. Greeley, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas it has pleased the Almighty, in his infinite wisdom, to remove from our midst by death an esteemed and worthy brother, who was endeared to us by all the sacred ties of Friendship, Love, and Truth—therefore,

Resolved, that in this afflictive dispensation, we acknowledge the right of Him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will, to do with us as it seemeth to him good, that the death of our worthy brother has cast a gloom over our Lodge, and occasioned a sincere and honest regret to its members:—that we mourn the loss of one who was connected with us not only by the social relations of this life, but by the solemn and sacred obligations of Odd Fellowship.

Resolved, That we tender to the widow and relations of our deceased brother our deep and heart-felt sympathies in their bereavement, and invoke for them that consolation and comfort which their situation requires, may the widow in her trials look confidingly to him who, though he cause grief, will have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies—who, notwithstanding this dispensation, will sustain her in every affliction, and whose fatherly love will never forsake the child he has given her, for he doth not willingly afflict or grieve the children of men.

Resolved, That the charter of this Lodge be clothed in mourning and that the brethren wear the usual badge for thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, signed by the N. G. V. G. and Secretary be presented to the widow of our late brother Greeley and also to the Elizabethtown Post and Essex County Republican for publication.

Jas. A. ALLEN, N. G.
J. H. PIERCE, V. G.
B. B. RICHARDS, Secretary.

OBITUARY NOTICE.—From the minutes of Victory Tent No. 272, I. O. of R., Westport N. Y., Jan'y 31st 1853,

"The following resolutions were presented by Brother Wm. R. Ashford, and seconded by Brother S. W. Cole.

Whereas the Angel of Death has again been in our midst, and by slow but surely wasting disease, removed from our circle, the strong man, the useful citizen, our much esteemed Brother OSMAN B. GREELEY; therefore, while we would humbly submit to the inscrutable dispensations of Providence,

1. Resolved That we have heard with profound grief of the decease of our beloved Brother Greeley.

2. Resolved, That in him we have lost one of our earliest and most reliable members, whose sympathies for us and our cause, were always from the heart; whose devotion to our principles was unalterable and never failing; who was always ready for every good work among us—a Rechabite good and true, whose many virtues had endeared him to our hearts.

3. Resolved, That while in him we mourn the loss of an esteemed Brother, we would not forget the greater loss of her who in him loses the beloved choice of her youth; nor of these parents who in his death mourn the loss of a delightful and honorable Son. But our loss is a common one and we feel that we can indeed "weep with those that weep" and tender to them our warmest and most sincere sympathies in this their affliction; and would commend them to the care of the Great Chief Ruler, who has said that he will kindly care for the widow and the orphan—hoping that, in them and us, this chastisement may yield the peacable fruits of Rightneousness.

4. Resolved, That in the death of our late Brother Greeley we have a striking proof of the truth of the saying: "All flesh is as grass;" while in the death of this Brother proverbial for his health and vigor of constitution, we recognise a voice saying "Be ye also ready."

5. Resolved, That in token of respect for our departed Brother, we will attend his funeral in a body, clothed in the mourning regalia of our order, and assist in the melancholy duty of committing his mortal remains to their final resting place; and that our Charter Emblems and Tent be clothed in mourning for thirty days.

6. Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, duly authenticated, be transmitted to his family; and to "The Washingtonian and Rechabite," "Essex Co. Republican," "Northern Gazette" and "Elizabethtown Post," for publication.

S. W. COLE, R. S.

INDIA RUBBER HORSE SHOES.—The Washington Republic says that among the many articles which are now manufactured from India rubber, perhaps there is none of a more useful as well as novel character than horseshoes. Experiments made previous to the present cold weather, indicate that they will prove fully as durable as iron.—Their lightness will especially adapt them to the racecourse, and having all the toughness without the brittleness of iron, they will be of equal service, while devoid of the danger of breaking when the horse is under motion.

☞A petition containing fifty thousand signers, was presented to the New Jersy Legislature for a prohibitory liquor law.—The petition was 1400 feet long!

Written for The Republican.

Enigma.

I am composed of 82 letters.

My 2, 12, 25, 15 18, 8, is the name of an ancient Irish enchanter.

My 9, 10, 5, 75, 60, 2, 14, 26, is a man's given name.

My 36, 45, 56, 68, 82, 31, signifies frightened.

My 40, 61, 57, 65, 25, 34, 37, 51, 76, 1, 55, is the name of an insect.

My 6, 7, 4, 53, 3, 11, is an occupation.

My 21, 42, 14, 13, is the name of a water fowl.

My 17, 12, 16, 78, 40, 20, 34, 10, 52, 19, 27, 15, pertains to a science.

My 63, 56, 41, is a portion of time.

My 38, 77, 2, 74, is what none should misspend.

My 26, 23, 30, 81, 10, 69, 28, 29, 80, 45. 47, signifies indifference.

My 22, 24, 26, 54, is the name of a month.

My 32, 56. 53, is the name of an animal.

My 43, 42, 33, signifies an enemy.

My 70, 39, 35, is a certain game of cards.

My 64, 65, 66, 71, 72, is the name of a New York Hatter.

My 44, 46, 48, is sure to be punished.

My 73, 58, 59, 62, 72, 50, is the name of a French Marshall.

My 79, 80, 63, is the last of this Enigma.

Solution requested next week.

W. R. W.

Keeseville, Feb. 7th, 1853.

ANSWER TO ENIGMA BY "GULIA"* Feb. 5th, by OZNOLA.—"Blessed are they that mourn for they shall be comforted."

* The Signature of "Julia" to an Enigma last week should have been "Gulia" to which the above is a reply.—[ED. REP.

Written expressly for The Republican.

CHARADE.

With the rich and great I am always found,
Also with the low and poor;
Through the wide wild world I have been my round,
Welcomed at every door.
My name is composed of syllables three,
'Tis heard in the palace hall;
I am loved alike by the bound and free,
Beautiful—ugly—and all;
Blamed only for one thing—telling the truth,
Much in contrariety;
To my opinions asked by maids and youth,
Now kind reader, as I never flatter,
I call you a simpleton;
If you in reading this sketch of my character,
And my name's not guessed and done.

SUIVALF.

Keeseville Feb. 5th 1853.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

The Mails.

Mr. Editor.—What is our worthy Post Master about that he does not see to our South ern Mail? He certainly should be able to straighten it out beyond what it has been for the last few weeks—if not, we truly inhabit a back settlement and have got off the track altogether—why does our mail come round by Canada? and why does not the stage on the West side of the Lake from Whitehall bring it.

One of the afflicted.

Our P. M. is doing all he can to correct the evil. The fault is at Whitehall, Troy, and Burlington. We are also among the "afflicted," not having had a mail for three days. Truly "our sufferings is intolerable."

Died.

In Westport N. Y., Jany. 31st, 1853, of Consumption O.MOND B. GREELY, aged 31 years. The deceased was a member of Victory Tent No. 272 I. O. of R., and Westport Lodge I. O. of O. F. both of which attended his funeral in a body.

At his residence in New York on the 26th January, Edmund K. Bussing of the firm of E. and J. D. Kingsland & Co., of this place.

On Tuesday afternoon at the house of Wm. F. Haile, Esq., in this village, after a lingeriog illness, Mrs. MARY KIRTLAND, relict of the late Henry Kirtland, Esq., of Whitehall, aged fifty four years. Endeared as this amiable lady was, to a large circle of relatives and friends, who knew her worth, they may justly lament their loss,—but with the comfortable hope that "death to her was gain," they may rejoice that she is at last released from most distressing sufferings. Patient endurance, and humble trust in God's mercy through Christ, quietness and peace of mind, were the striking characteristics of the closing scene. Following, as they did, upon a life of unostentatious but earnest piety, of unfeigned charity, of devotion to God and his Holy Church, the friends of our deceased sister may hope, that released from its earthly prison her soul is in joy and felicity, and for themselves, may pray, that they with her, may have their perfect consummation and bliss in God's eternal and overlasting glory.—COM.—Plattsburgh Republican.

KEESEVILLE ACADEMY.

The undersigned in behalf of the Trustees of Keeseville Academy, announce that the Spring Term will commence on Monday the 14th day of February inst. They have succeeded in engaging the following corps of Teachers.

Principals. CHARLES H. DANN, Teacher of Language, and Higher Mathematics
Associate Principals. GILBERT THAYER, Teacher of English Branches, Natural Sciences and Superintendent of the School.
Miss. NANCY K. POTTER and
Miss. MARY F. ROUS Aged and Teachers.
Miss. ELLEN M. RISH a Teacher of Music.
Good Board and Rooms in the Village.

TERMS:

Common English Branches	$3 00 per quarter
Higher " Branches	1 00 extra	"
Book keeping	1 50	"
Latin and Greek, each	1 00	"
French, Italian and German, each	1 00	"

Tuition is not charged for more than two of the above extras

Music Instrumental	$10 00 per quarter.
" Vocal	1 00	"

For French, Italian or German, taken as single branches, the charge will be 3 00 " "

Mr. THAYER will give especial attention to young gentlemen and Ladies expecting to engage in teaching.

Oliver Keese
Jacob D Kingsland } Com of
John Mattocks Trustees.

Keeseville Feb. 14, 1853 430

NOTICE.

IN consequence of the death of Edmund K. Bussing, the firm of Kingsland Baber & Co. has been dissolved and the business will be continued in the same name and style by the undersigned.

WILLIAM W. KINGSLAND,
ALFRED BABER.
EDMUND KINGSLAND,
J. D. KINGSLAND,
JOHN S. BUSSING,
ABRAHAM BUSSING.

Keeseville. Feb 1st, 1853. 458-3w

NOTICE.

IN consequence of the death of Edmund K. Bussing, the firm of E. & J. D. Kingsland & Co. has been dissolved, and the business will be continued in the same name and style by the undersigned.

EDMUND KINGSLAND,
J. D. KINGSLAND,
JOHN S. BUSSING,
A. B. KINGSLAND,
ABRAHAM BUSSING.

Keeseville, Feb. 1st, 1853. 458-3w

Selling off at Cost!

Barnum will sell the remainder of his Winter Stock of Hats, Caps, Furs, Fancy Robes, Gloves, Mittens, &c., at cost. A good assortment of Trunks, Vallises, Ladies and Gentlemen's Satchels and Carpet Bags, Umbrellas, Canes, Buckskin Gloves and Mittens, &c., on hand.

I. W. BARNUM.

College Street, 2nd Door from Church. Burlington, Vt., Feb. 1, 1853.

The Lily,

Amelia Bloomer, Ecditor and Proprietor.

The Fifth Volume, of the Lily will be commenced on the first of January, 1853, and will be published in folio form on the first and fifteenth of each month, at the low price of fifty cents a year.

It will continue to labor zealously and earnestly for the emancipation of Woman from the crushing evils of Intemperance—from the cruel enactments of unjust laws made without her consent—from the destructive influences of Costume and Fashion—from mistaken views of duty and personal effort, and for her elevation to her true position in society of perfect and entire equality in all that relates to her social, civil and religious rights and duties.

Its editorials, original communications, and selections will be calculated to promote these objects, and its columns will always be open to the discussion of all subjects connected with the interests of Woman.

All communications and business letters should be addressed—AMELIA BLOOMER, Seneca Falls, N. Y.

100 Teams Wanted!

TO draw boards and plank from Franklin Falls to Port Kent. Cash paid on delivery. For the lumber apply to George Tromble, at Franklin Falls.

PETER COMSTOCK.

Port Kent, Feb. 1, 1853. 457-tf

CLAPBOARDS.

500 seasoned Clapboards for sale by E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Insurance Agency.

National Protection Insurance Company, Saratoga Springs, Capital, $200,000
Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance Company, West Scotia, N. Y., Capital, $160,000
Nothern N. Y. Mutual Insurance Company, Plattsburgh, N. Y, Capital, $100,000
Knickerbocker Fire Insurance Company, Waterford, N. Y., Capital, $200,000
Northern N. Y. Live Stock Ins. Company, Plattsburgh, N. Y., Capital, $50,000
Charter Oak Life Insurance Company, Hartford, Vt., Capital, $200,000

Policies in the National Protection Insurance Co., and the Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance issued by the undersigned.

JAMES B. DICKINSON, Agent.
Office, Ausable Forks N. Y.
Saratoga Springs, Feb'y 7th, 1852.

We, the undersigned, JOHN WILLARD, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court for the 4th Judicial District of the State of New York, and a resident of Saratoga Springs, with AUGUSTUS BOCKES, First Judge of the County of Saratoga, being likewise a resident of Saratoga Springs, and JOHN C. HULBURT, Surrogate of the County of Saratoga, also a resident of Saratoga Springs—do hereby Certify, that we are personally acquainted with the men composing the Board of Directors of the National Protection Insurance Company of Saratoga Springs. We take pleasure in availing ourselves of this opportunity in recommending to the Public, from a personal knowledge of the responsibility and character of their Board of Directors that this Company is a sound and reliable Institution, will deal fairly with the assured, and are fully competent to pay their losses. We therefore unhesitatingly recommend this Company as an institution in every respect worthy of a liberal patronage.

JOHN WILLARD,
A. BOCKES,
JNO. C. HULBURT.

JAMES B. DICKINSON,
Policy Agent, Ausable Forks.
Ausable Forks, Feb. 5th, 1852. 457-tf

$20 a Day.

Book Agents wanted, to sell Hayward's Gazateer of the United States,

Just published and now ready for Canvassers.

THIS work, so invaluable to business men, gives a history of the settlement, general surface of the soil and state of agriculture, manufactures and population of every town in the United States, with valuable statistical tables a new map of the United States, &c.

An agent wanted for this county. Apply immediately to

HORACE WENTWORTH,
447-5w 86 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

New Clothing Store.

WE, the undersigned, have made arrangements with one of the best tailors in the country, to manufacture clothing for us of every description, consisting of overcoats, sacks, dress and frock coats, pants, vests, overalls and boys cloths, together with all kinds of under garments, which are made after the most improved styles, and for workmanship and durability cannot be excelled.

In addition we offer a large assortment of fine

Fashionable Clothing,

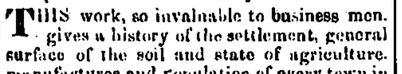
made by tailors in New York, that for fitting even Genio C. Scott, in his palmiest days was not a circumstance.

We would also inform the public that it is to be sold by wholesale or retail at very low figures for cash, and for quantity and cheapness is far in advance of any other concern in Northern New York. A comparison with the trade, both in prices and quantity is particularly requested.

In connection with the above we would call the attention of the community to our stock of

Fancy & Staple Dry Goods,

of every variety; also, hats, caps and furs, paper hangings, window shades, hardware and groceries, rifles and shot guns, amunition, &c., &c. Trunks, and valises, carpet bags, whips and lashes, stone ware, and every description of goods that are wanted, or can be found in the country. Don't forget



No. 1000, Main Street,

Keeseville, opposite the Adirondac Hotel.

BOYNTON & SMITH.

January 20, 1853.

RAIL ROAD

Through Keeseville!!

The Cars will stop 30 minutes in front of

Cardwell's Celebrated

CLOTHING STORE,

in order to give the passengers an opportunity to clothe themselves up in proper and appropriate costume, adapted to their destination whether North or South.

Almost every thing for the outer man in the shape of

Ready-Made Clothing,

may be found at this store,

Just returned from the South, and having on hand a very heavy stock of WINTER GOODS at this advanced stage of the season, great bargains are being made. All of my garments are cut and made up in the latest styles. Owing to the great increase in my trade, I have thought it a saving of time and labor to adopt the ONE PRICE SYSTEM which gives perfect satisfaction to all.

N. B. Wholesale Buyers will find it to their advantage to call and examine as they can buy just as cheap as at the South, and save their time, fare and freight.

☞ Sales exclusively for cash.

ADIRONDAC HOTEL BUILDING.

G. A. CARDWELL.

Keeseville, January 1. 1853.

CORLIES & DECKER,

(Successors to J. N. & E. W. Corlies)

— WHOLESALE DEALERS IN —

TEAS,

Agents for the Sale of

Manufactured Tobacco,

192 Pearl Street,
Near Maiden Lane, 439 New York.

Essex County Agricultural Society.

AN adjourned meeting of the Essex Co. Agricultural Society, will be held at the Inn of David Judd, in Elizabethtown, on Wednesday, the 2nd day of February next, at 2 o'clock, P. M. The Premiums to be awarded at the fair for 1853, will be fixed upon at this meeting. The members of the society and all others interested, will see the importance of attending.

Dated Elizabethtown. Jan 19th 1853.

G. S. NICHOLSON.
455 2w Secretary

Bounty Lands

PURCHASED AND OBTAINED BY

GEO. MOORE, Plattsburgh, N. Y.

December 3, 1852. 448tf

BUTTER FOR SALE.

Large quantity of good dairy Butter bought in large and small packages of the finest quality for sale at BOYNTON & SMITH.

Keeseville Jan. 27. 1853.

Miscellaneous.

LEONARD SCOTT & Co's

LIST OF

BRITISH PERIODICAL

PUBLICATIONS.

Delivered in all the principal Cities in the United States, free of Postage, and forwarded by Mail, under the provisions of the late Post Office Law, at merely nominal rates.

1. THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW (Conservative)
2. THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (Whig.)
3. THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church.)
4. The WESTMINSTER REVIEW. (Liberal.)
5. BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tory.)

Although these works are destinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary Character which gives them their chief value, and in this they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the fatherly care of Christopher North, maintains its celebrity, and is, at this time, unusually attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that magazine, and first appearing in its columns both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such, works as "The Caxtons" and "My New Novel," (both by Bulwer,) "The Green Hand," "Katie Stewart," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Messrs Scott & Co., so that Subscribers to the Reprint of that Magazine may always rely on having the earliest reading of these fascinating tales.

Terms and Premiums.

[See list of Premium Volumes below.]

	per ann.
For any 1 of the 4 Reviews and one Prem. vol.	$3,00
For any 2 of the 4 Reviews and one prem. vol.	5,00
For any 3 of the 4 Reviews and two prem. vol.	7,00
For all four of the Reviews and two prem. vol.	8,00
For Blackwood's Magazine and one prem. vol	3,00
For Blackwood's & 3 Reviews and three prem. vol.	9,00
For Blackwood's & the 4 Reviews and three prem. vol.	10,00

Payments to be made in all cases in advance.

The Premiums consist of the following works, back volumes of which will be given to new subscribers according to the number of periodicals ordered, as above explained.—

PREMIUM VOLUMES.

Foreign Quarterly Review (one year.)
Blackwood's Magazine (six months.)
London Quarterly Review (one year.)
Bentley's Miscellancy (six months.)
Edinburgh Review (one year.)
Metropolitan Magazine (six months)
Westminster Review (one year.)

Consecutive Premium volumes cannot in all cases be furnished, except of the Foreign Quarterly Review. To prevent dissappointment, therefore, where that work is not alone wanted. Subscribers will please order as many different works for premiums as there are volumes to which they may be entitled.

CLUBBING.

A discount of twenty five per cent from the above prices will be allowed to Clubs ordering four or more copies of any one or more of the above works, Thus: Four copies of Blackwood, or of one Review, will be sent to one address for $9; four copies of the four Reviews and Blackwood for $30; and so on.

No promiums will be given where the above allowance is made to Clubs, nor will premiums in any case be furnished, unless the subscription money is paid in full to the Publishers without recourse to an agent. Money current in the State where issued will be received at par.

Reduced Postage.

The following table will show the great reduction which has been made on these periodicals since 1843, and the vary trifling rates now charged.

	Per annum.
Prior to 1845, the postage on Blackwood was	$2 40
Prior to 1845, the postage on a single Review	1 12
From 1845 to 1851, the postage on Blackwood was	1 00
From 1845 to 1851, the postage on a Review was	50
In 1851 52 [average rate] on Blackwood was	75
In 1851 52 [average rate] on a Review	38
The present postage on Blackwood, is	24
The present postage on a Review is	12

[The rates are now uniform for all distances within the United States.]

At these rates surely no objection should be made to receive the works by mail, and thus ensuring their speedy, safe, and regular delivery.

☞ Remittances and communications should be always addressed, post-paid, to the Publishers,

LEONARD SCOTT & Co.,
79 Fulton Street, (entrance 54 Gold street,) 85 New York.

ASSIGNEES NOTICE.

All persons having claims against Joseph Hoffnagle of Willsborough, Essex County, New York that existed on or previous to the 1st day of April, A. D. 1850, are requested to present the same to the undersigned, assignee of said Hoffnagle, at the office of the Undersigned in Willsborough aforesaid, without delay, for settlement and liquidation—Dated January 25th 1853.

DUDLEY H. JONES, Assignee.

450:—3w.

TO PHYSICIANS.

THE subscriber offers for sale a well selected quantity of Medicine, of excellent quality. Also, a very fine Amputating and Trephining case of instruments. Also, splints &c., adapted for fracturs of the upper and lower extremities. The above will be disposed of at a cheap rate, as will a medicine case, suitable for an office. Apply at the store of E. & J. D. Kingslands & Co.

J. R. ROM...

Keeseville, Jany. 29, 1853.

Business Cards.

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS,

(Successor to Nichols & Warren,)

WHOLESALE PAPER

WAREHOUSE

And Paged Blank Book Manufactory,

— JOBBER AND RETAIL DEALER IN —

School and Classical Books,

English, French and American Stationery, and Artist's Materials,

No. 4, Leavenworth Block, College Street,

BURLINGTON, Vt.

☞ Bank, Blank, Check or Memorandum Books made to order, from the best of Paper, and bound in the most thorough manner. All work warranted. Terms Cash. 448 tf

AUSABLE HOUSE,

MAIN STREET KEESEVILLE N. Y.

This large and convenient Hotel having been throughly repaired and refurnished, is now open for the reception of visitors and the accommodation of the

TRAVELING PUBLIC.

The Ausable House is one of the largest and best arranged in Northern New York. No pains will be spared to make it a pleasant and popular resort for and Transient Visitors, as well as a comfortable Home for those wishing permanent Board and Rooms.

PLEASURE PARTIES,

Good Horses and Carriages furnished at all times on the most reasonable terms.

The patronage of the public is most respectfully solicited.

J. W. REYNOLDS.

Keeseville Nov. 1st 1852. 445. 3m.

Livery Stable

BY

GEORGE G. FULLER.

HEAD OF MAIN STREET

(a few steps from the Bank,)

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

Where may be found at all times, the best of Horses and Carriages, on the most reasonable terms.

Montgomery House,

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA,

BY

Sherman & Wheelock.

E. SHERMAN, THERON WHEELOCK.

☞ Mr. Sherman was late a merchant at Moriah, Essex Co., N. Y., and Mr. Wheelock was late of the Mansion House, Troy, N. Y. 427tf

GEORGE P. WILKINSON,

(Successor to G. P. & J. B. Wilkinson,)

MANUFACTURER AND JOBBER IN

CLOTHING,

154 River Street, Corner of Congress,

427 tf TROY, N. Y.

G. P. SANBORN & Co.

APOTHECARIES HALL.

BURLINGTON, VT.

DEALERS IN

Drugs and Medicines, Chemical Perfumery, Teeth, Surgical Instruments, Gold and Tin Foil, Patent Medicines, and every variety of articles usually kept in this line of Business.

Oct. 23d, 1852. 6 m.

GEO. S. TARBELL,

WHOLESALE GROCER,

DEALER IN OIL AN

General Commission Merchant,

No. 65 Quay-Street,

ALBANY.

ADKINS & FULLER,

Booksellers, Stationers, Binders

— AND —

PAPER RULERS,

KEEP constantly on hand or will supply Books, Maps, Charts, Pictures, Frames, and Periodicals of all kinds. Also Publications of the American Tract Society, Bibles and Sabbath-School Books at their very low depository prices.

One door east of Pierce & Davey's Agricultural Store on College Street.

G. S. NICHOLS. E. J. FULLER.

Burlington, July 4, 1850. 323

H. C. Blanchrd, M. D.,

HOMŒOPATHIC PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

Office 2 doors below Ausable House.

Rooms at Ausable House. 430

D. M. ARNOLD

Engineer and Surveyor,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

SURVEYING & Leveling for Rail Roads, Plank Roads, Mill Seats, &c. Land Surveying of all kinds done on shortest notice.

Office opposite the Ausable House.

425tf

Dewey & Havens,

ATTORNIES AND COUNSELLORS

AT LAW,

CROWNPOINT,

Essx County, N. Y.

E. M. DEWEY. 431 ly H. H. HAVENS.

J. B. DICKINSON,

AUSABLE FORKS, N. Y.

General INSURANCE AGENT,

For Fire, Life, Health and Live Stock Insurance Companies.

☞ Any business from abroad will receive prompt attention. 454

Silliman & Gardiner,

WHOLESALE DEALERS

in Pork, Fish,

SALT, PLASTER, &c.

OFFICE 17 CORNTIS SLIP, New York.
" 339 RIVER St., Troy, 445.

Dr. H. W. GOULD,

SURGEON DENTIST,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

...posite the Ausable House. [389

...WOOL.

...r Wool.

J. APPLEYARD.

Burlington Advertisements

BURLINGTON

AGRICULTURAL WARE-HOUSE AND SEED STORE.

DAVEY & ALLEN,

No. 8, COLLEGE STREET, BURLINGTON, Vt.

Ploughs—Prouty & Mear's centre draught.

These ploughs have obtained a celebrity unparalleled, having taken the first premiums in this country and at the World's Fair in London. We have also Starbuck's and Tabor's celebrated Ploughs.

Our stock of Ploughs comprise a great variety of patterns and different sizes, calculated for sward and stubble land, wet meadows and recently drained swamps, where roots abound—among which also, are the deep breaking up flat-furrow, lap-furrow, self sharpening, side-hill, double-mould-board, sub soil, &c., &c.

Harrows—triangular, square, Geddes and Scotch.

Hay, Straw and Corn Stalk Cutters, either by hand or horse power; spiral, straight or circular knives.

Cultivators—of different kinds, steel tooth and cast iron.

Corn Shellers—a variety of patterns. Will shell from 5 to 100 bushels of corn per hour.

Fan Mills and Grain Cradles—Grant's unrivalled. We confidently recommend them as the best in use.

Seed Sowers—Batchelder's & Emery's and other kinds.

Vegetable Cutters—for turnips and other roots.

Horse Powers, Threshers, Winnowers and Separators—Wheeler's Patent Railway Chain Horse Power This Power, both single and double-geared, for one or two horses, has never been equalled for lightness in running, strength, durability and economy. The Thresher and Separator are too widely and favorably known to need our commendation. The combined Thresher and Winnower, (which is a new invention of last year) has not been so generally introduced. All who have used it express the highest approbation of its merits. We entertain no doubt that it is the most perfect, compact, and efficient machine now in use for threshing and winnowing grain, as it certainly is by far the cheapest and most economical.

Warranted to give satisfaction.

or be returned after a reasonable trial.

Saw Mill—Lawyer, used for sawing wood for locomotives on Railways, or by farmers for cutting stove fuel With a one horse power it will cut 10 to 15 cords of wood twice in two per day.

AGRICULTURAL & HORTICULTURAL TOOLS AND IMPLEMENTS,

a great variety and extensive assortment, such as Hoes, Shovels, Spades Rakes, Manure and Hay Forks, Scythes Snaths, Cattle Ties, Draft Haller and Trace Chains, Garden Syringes, Pruning Saws, Pruning and Budding Knives Garden Shears and Twig Cutters. Grindstones, Patent Grindstone fixtures, rollers, barrow rolls, &c., &c.

Grain, Field, Garden and Flower Seeds.—We are prepared to furnish Herd's Grass Red Top, Lucerne, White Dutch, Southern, Western and Northern Clover Seed Beet, Turnip, Onion and Carrot Seed, at Wholesale and Retail at the lowest market prices.

We have by far the largest and most complete assortment of Agricultural Implements Machines Field and Garden Seeds to be found in the State, which we offer at our new and spacious Ware-Rooms to Farmers and Dealers on terms the most liberal. We are also Commission Merchants and Wholesale and Retail Dealers in heavy and shelf

HARDWARE,

Saddlery, Axles, Springs, Mechanic's Tools Horse Trimmings and Furnishing Goods, Cutlery, Cross Cut, Mill and Circular Saws, Paints, Oils, Bird Cages, etc. etc., etc.

As agents of Messrs. D. Prouty & Co., Boston, Wheeler Millick & Co., Albany, J. T. Grant & Co., Troy, and others we can fill orders for Plows, Horse Powers, Threshers Fan Mills, Straw Cutters, &c., at manufacturers prices. A liberal discount made to Dealers.

ORDERS FROM ABROAD SOLICITED.

DAVEY & ALLEN.

Burlington, September 20, 1852. 439

BLANK BOOKS.

10,000 QUIRES BLANK BOOKS of our own manufacture, comprising every variety of Journals, Day, Invoice Cash and Letter Books. Ledgers and Records from Cap Quartos to Super Royal size made in the most thorough manner, either paged or unpaged, and at prices so low as to defy competition.

PAPER.

I have in store, and to arrive, 1000 Reams Wrapping Paper of assorted quality and size, 1500 Reams Writing, Cap, Letter, Bath Post, Note and Envelope papers, which will be sold at Mill Prices.

School Books.

2000 Mandevill's, Saunders and Town's Series of Readers, 200 Mitchell's Geographies, 200 Smith's do., 400 Adams Arithmetics, 200 Greenleafs do 200 Colburn's do, 2000 Webster's spellers, 500 Town's spellers and definers, 100 Smith's Astronomy's, &c., &c.

Stationery.

200,000 Envelopes, 200 Gross Steel Pens, 20 gross Pen Holders. Also, Writing Ink in any quantity, and of the best manufacture, which will be sold at New York or Boston prices.

I wish to reduce the present stock of the concern as low as possible, in the next two months, and buyers will find it for their interest to examine my stock and prices before purchasing —Terms Cash.

Orders solicited by Mail or Express.

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS.

Burlington, Nov. 23, 1852. 446 3m

NEW GOODS

AT

Nichols, 150 Church Street.

IN consequence of our large spring sales, we have been induced to purchase a very large and full stock of

Foreign & Domestic Goods

for the fall trade, which we now offer at exceedingly low prices. We have not time now to enumerate, suffice it to say, we have every thing usually called for in a dry goods store.

CARPETINGS!

AT THE

Carpet Warehouse, 150 Church Street.

Mr. Nichols is now opening the largest stock of Carpeting ever brought to this city, consisting of the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three-ply, Ingrain, Extra Super Fine and Common Venetian, Damask, Cotton and Wool, Cotton, Hemp Stair carpeting from the best manufacturers. Also, floor oil-cloth, straw matting Hearth Rugs, Door Mats, table oil cloths, English and American Bockings and crumb cloths.

Bay State Carpetings and Bockings.

Mr. Nichols has the agency for the sale of the justly celebrated Bay State carpets and bockings and will be furnished with all the new patterns as fast as they come from the mills Recollect the No.

150 CHURCH STREET.

Burlington, September 24, 1852. 439 tf

Charles Morris,

MERCHANT TAILOR

AND

CLOTHIER,

KEESEVILLE, NEW YORK.

IS now prepared to show his friends and the public in general a full assortment of Cloths Cassimeres and Vestings suited to the season. My Cloths are of the latest importation, and consists of Black, Brown, Drab and Mixed Beavers, Broad Cloths, of French, West of England and American Manufacture. Cassimeres. In all the revised style and quality. Vestings in any quantity, some of which are very rich. Also, Shirts of all descriptions. Shaker under Shirts, and drawrs, Cravats, Stocks, Suspenders, Gloves, Collars, Bosoms, Bibs., Mufflers, Clothing ready made substantial, and the sewing to last as long as the cloth, (and not run together as much of the clothing brought from a foreign market generally is.) Thankful for the very liberal and increasing patronage I have received from the citizens generally I trust by a continued effort to please the most difficult I shall merit a continuance of past favors. My arrangements with New York, are such that I am advised of any changes of style, that occur from month to month, and thus am able to gratify those who are disposed to adopt the changes Cutting as usual done in the most careful manner and with promptness.

AND WARRANTED MADE

Nov. 13 1852. 445

M. J. JENKINS.

Watch Maker and Jeweller,

DEALER IN

CLOCKS, WATCHES, GOLD AND SILVER WARE, &c.

Keeseville, N. Y.

Burlington Ada's.

BOSTON

FURNITURE STORE,

AT THE

Spacious Ware-Room,

Nos. 2 & 3, Leavenworth Block,

COLLEGE STREET,

In Burlington, Vt.

No further need of going to New York or Boston for Rich or

FASHIONABLE FURNITURE.

THE Subscriber has a more extensive assortment of

Furniture, Feathers, Beds, Mattresses, Upholstery, Goods, &c.,

than has ever before been offered in this section, comprising all the most recent styles from the most elegant to the commonest FURNITURE, manufactured principally to order and in quality superior to any to be found out of Boston or any other place—consisting, in part, as follows:

Black Walnut & Mahogony Parlor

FURNITURE,

—CONSISTING OF—

French Sofas, Easy Chairs, covered in plush damask, brocatelle or hair-cloth, to suit the purchaser; French style centre and side Tables, with and without marble tops; Extend et or frame Looking Glasses; rich and common Curtain Furniture and Buhlwork, &c., and every article needed to furnish Parlors in the most fashionable style.—Also medium and low-priced Parlor Furniture, of every description.

DRAWING & SITTING ROOM FURNITURE,

of every desirable style.

CHAMBER FURNITURE,

Fancy painted Chamber Sets richly ornamented; mahogany, black walnut and common Bedsteads, Bureaus Sinks, Toilets, Chairs, &c. Also, Feathers, Feather Beds hair, cotton husk and palm leaf Mattresses. Elegant

LIBRARY CASES & SIDE-BOARDS,

both mahogany and black walnut, of very superior workmanship, constantly on hand and made to order, of any style or size desired. Also, any odd article, not to be found ready-made, designed and executed to order in the best manner at the shortest notice.

Hotels and Steamboats

furnished at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms.

N. B.—Every article will be sold as low as the same quality can be bought in either Boston or New York, and in many instances much lower. Country dealers will be furnished at the lowest wholesale prices.

Mr. ALLEN'S long experience as a manufacturer and furniture dealer in Boston, gives him advantages in selecting and purchasing goods, very seldom equalled; and he will warrant every article fully equal to what he represents it.

☞ Persons in want of Furniture will do well to call on Mr. ALLEN before purchasing.

I. S. ALLEN.

Burlington, May 8, '52. 418-1y

PIANO FORTE,

AND

MUSIC STORE.

No. 1, BANK BLOCK BURLINGTON, VT.

THE Subscriber has opened a very extensive and choice selection of Musical Merchandize, consisting of every variety of Musical Instruments, such as

Piano Fortes, Seraphines, Melodeons,

Bass Viols, Violins, Guitars, Flutes,

Fagotts, Clarionets, Octobasses, Accordeons and Brass Instruments of every description for Bands; also—

BASS VIOL AND VIOLIN STRINGS, TUNING FORKS.

TUNING HAMMERS, &c.

The assortment of Sheet Music, consists of about Four Thousand Pieces of the latest and most popular Music of the day, additions to which will be made every week, from the extensive Importing and Publishing Houses in New York and Boston Instruction Books on hand for every instrument, and all new works received as soon as published

CHURCH MUSIC BOOKS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

The attention of Purchasers is respectfully invited to the assortment of Piano Fortes, Seraphines and Melodeons, as they are from the best Manufacturers in the country, and every instrument sold by me will be warranted, unless otherwise stated to the purchaser.

All the above goods will be sold as low as can be purchased in New York or Boston, and the orders of teachers and those who buy to sell again, are respectfully solicited, and will be filled and sent to any part of the country as may be directed.

June 5. 3m422 I. S. RUST

ANNEXATION!!

Essex County, N. Y. and Vermont!

NOVEMBER 10th. 1852.

I. D. BIXBY & Co.,

ARE now opening a very heavy stock of Rich

DRESS GOODS,

for the Winter trade, consisting in part of the following articles:

Merinos, Coburghs, Paramattus, Alpacas, Lustres all wool deLaines, Manchester deLaines, Persian Cloths, Raw Silk Plaids, Cashmere Plaids, Col'd Velvets, Col'd Flannels, Irish Poplins, Bombazines, Ginghams, American, English and French Prints, Silks.

SHAWLS!!

Bay State, Empire, Waterloo and Scotch.

CLOAKS.

We have a large assortment of rich Cloaks of a variety of patterns, colors and prices.

Silks, Satins, &c.

The LARGEST assortment of Dress Silk that we have ever opened, are now to be seen on our counters. Brocade, Plaid, Striped, Chameleon, Glace, Gro de Naples, Gro de Zure, Gro de Rhine, Gro de Lyons, Gro de Algiers and many other styles.

No. 2, Bank Block.

439tf North Side of the Park.

BURLINGTON VT.

I. D. BIXBY & Co.

Burlington, Nov. 15. 1852.

BOOTS, SHOES & RUBBERS

James M. Walker,

BANK BLOCK, OPPOSITE THE SQUARE,

BURLINGTON, Vt.

HAS just returned from the New York and Philadelphia markets, with the largest and best selected assortment of Ladies, Gents Misses, Boys, Youths and Children's ever offered North of the cities. Getting his goods direct from the manufacturers of his establishment and will offer them at LESS PRICES than can be purchased for elsewhere

BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS

Mens Thick Boots	from $1 50 to $3 00 per pair.
" Fine Kip	2 00 to 3 00	"
" Calf pegged	2 50 to 4 00	"
Gents fine calf sewed boots	4 00 to 7 50	"
Ladies walking shoes	75 to 1 25	"
" Boots and Polka "	1 00 to 2 00	"
" Gaiter Boots	1 00 to 2 00	"

and a great variety of every desirable style and quality. All of which will be offered at very low prices 439 tf

All Work Warranted.

GRASS SEED

OF very Superior Quality, for sale by KINGSLAND, BABER & Co.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Miscellaneous.

20 Years Experience.

OLD ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL.

Quick Cures and Low prices.

Private Diseases and their Antidote.

DR LISPENARD, author of the Marriage Guide, or Private Medical Treatise, Professor of Diseases of Women and Children, and Licentiate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the United States University, &c., &c., continues as heretofore to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms and variety of

PRIVATE DISEASES,

at his old quarters, No 5 Beaver-street ALBANY, N. Y.

The great success attending the use of Doctor L.'s remedies in secret diseases, and the many remarkable cures daily effected by him in recent as well as old lingering attacks, conclusively prove that the well

SICK AND UNFORTUNATE

can do no better than to consult the Doctor, whose whole time is devoted to the exclusive treatment of this much neglected branch of practice.

LOOK AT THIS.

Dr. Lispenard cures recent cases of disease in from three to six days, and chronic or long standing those seem n very short period of time, without the use of Mercury, without the loss of time, change of diet, or hindrance from

DAILY EMPLOYMENT.

In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Enlargement of the Testicles and Cords, Bubo, Ulcers, Pimples and Scaly Eruptions, Sore Throats and Noses, Chancres on the tongue, tender shin bones, and diseases of the skin, and impure blood. Dr. Lispenard's remedies are above all praise, and frequently cure when all others had failed.

EVEN TO RECEIVE.

More than 5,000 patients have during the past year experienced the benefit of the Doctor's extraordinary skill in treating secret diseases—among which, diseases of the bladder and kidneys have formed a goodly proportion.

YOUNG MEN.

who by indulging in secret habits have injured their health and prostrated their intellectual faculties, and their bodies, deprived themselves of the pleasure of married life, should consult Dr. Lispenard without a moment's delay. Hundreds have been restored to health, society and friends, under my peculiar mode of treatment, although vast sums of money had been sacrificed without any benefit. My remedy for this disease is pleasant to take, has no offensive smell and

CURES WITHOUT FAIL.

☞ Persons so unfortunate as to be diseased, although they may have visited half a dozen Doctors, and had medicine sent them a dozen times with no benefit, would exhibit wisdom by making their case known to that FRIEND OF THE SICK Dr. Lispenard, who never charges for advice and warrants all his cures. The sick are often at a loss where to apply for relief, AND TIS NO WONDER, as hundreds stand ready to plunder the unfortunate victim of PRIVATE DISEASES, or secret habits with no one thought for his life and health. All thus deceived will find a friend, and moderate charges, by consulting the Doctor who USES NO MERCURY and cures every time.

N. B.—Persons from a distance when visiting the city in search of a physician and friend will be fortunate if they succeed in escaping the many dens of imposition, conducted by unprincipled men, destitute of character knowledge or name, who fleece the unfortunate victim of disease of his hard earned money, and his remaining health. Patients who have no acquaintance in the city should make inquiry of some respectable citizen, or the editor or proprietor of any of the city papers, to ascertain who is the most reliable physician to apply to.

FEMALE DISEASES.

Dr. Lispenard from an experience seldom or never enjoyed by any other medical man, is enabled to treat, with every hope of success, all and every variety of Female Complaints—with safe and pleasant remedies—and has without doubt cured within the past five years more than 3000 females afflicted with diseases of the Bladder, Womb, &c. &c. Ladies afflicted with suppression or stoppage of their monthly turns, will recollect that Dr. Lispenard is still the sole American agent for

DR. VICHOP'S

FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS.

The unprecedented sale of more than 15,000 boxes of these excellent Pills, and the good results which always follow their use, is conclusive evidence of their utility in stoppages, &c. Caution—Married Ladies in certain delicate situations should not use them—for reasons see directions with each box. Price $1. Sent by mail to all parts of the world.

Married Persons and those about to Marry, should enclose 12½ cents post paid to Dr. Lispenard, and obtain a copy of his Marriage Guide, or Private Treatise, a bewitching little work of nearly 100 pages, illustrated. Every thing that married persons can desire or wish to know is here explained. Persons who from poverty or sickness have no desire to increase their family, will find necessary instruction in the Marriage Guide. One copy 12½ cents; 5 copies 50 cts; 12 copies $1—mailed free to any part of the world.

N. B.—Patients treated by letter, and medicines sent, with full directions for use, to the writer's address. All communications destroyed or returned.

No mercury used in any case, and all cures warranted. No boys or precocious students allowed; timid persons take notice.

[illegible] our number 5 Beaver st., three doors from South Broadway.

Hospital open from 7 A. M., to 9 P. M., and on Sundays from 1 to 4 P. M.

No charge for advice, although no medicine may be desired.

Good board and private rooms for those who desire to remain in the city.

Notice this—Address all letters to

C. W. LISPENARD, M. D.,

441—1y No. 5 Beaver st. Albany, N. Y.

NORTHERN RAIL ROAD, N. Y.

FALL ARRANGEMENTS.

On and after FRIDAY October 1st. trains will run as follows:

GOING EAST,

1st Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 9, A. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 1, 45, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 2, P. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 6, 20, P. M.

GOING WEST.

1st Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 8, A. M.

Arrive at Ogdensgurgh 12.50, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 3, P. M.

Arrives at Ogdensburgh 7,45, P. M.

First Passenger Train going East

Connects at Moors with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road for Montreal and Quebect, and Plattsburgh, Burlington and Whitehall—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Vermont Central Rail Road for Boston and New York—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Rutland and Burlington Rail Road by steam Boats to Burlington, and thence to Boston and New York.

Second Passenger Train going East,

Connects with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road at Moores, for Montreal and Quebec—Connects with the Vermont Central Railroad for Boston, Burlington, and New York. Connects with the Steam Boats to Whitehall, thence by the Saratoga and Troy Rail Roads, to Saratoga Springs, Troy and New York. Connects by Steam Boat with Rutland and Burlington R. R. at Burlington, for Troy, Boston and New York.

First Passenger Train going West,

Connects at Ogdensburgh with the Express Line of Lake Ontario Steamers at 1 o'clock P. M. for Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, Lewiston, Niagara Falls, and Buffalo.

Second Passengei Train going West.

Connects with Lake Ontario Line of Steamers for Kingston and all ports on the American shore of Lake Ontario, and with Hamilton.

Four Freight Trains leave Ogdensburgh and Rouse's Point every day Sundays excepted.

For Freight apply to George V. Hoyle, Agent, Rouse's Point.

CHARLES L. SCHLATTER,

440 Chief Eng'r and Superintendent.

Printing Paper For Sale.

FOR sale by J. & G. PARKS,

38 by 24 inches,
34 by 24 "
364tf 33 by 23 "

Also, Wrapping:

40by 28 inches, 60 lbs to he Ream, for large bundles
29by 18 "
18by 18 "

☞ All orders directed to Keeseville promptly attended

CAPS CAPS.

MENS' and Boys' Silk and Worsted Plush and Cloth Caps, at E. H. GARFIELD, & Co

Legal.

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT has been made in the payment of the debt secured by a certain mortgage dated the 20th day of January 1849 executed by Allen Everitt and Julia Ann, his wife, of chesterfield, in Essex County N. Y., as mortgagors to Reuben Jones, then of Ausable, in Clinton County, N. Y., as mortgagee and recorded in the office of the Clerk of the County of Essex, in volume O of mortgages pages 228 and 229, on the 9th day of Febuary, 1849, at 7 oclock, P. M. There is claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $561,02.

Now therefore notice is hereby given that the said mortgaged premises, will by virtue of a power of sale contained in the said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in said case made and provided, be sold at public auction at the Adirondac Hotel, in the village of Keeseville, in Essex County, on the 8th day of March, 1853, at 10 oclock in the forenoon of that day.

The said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage as follows, viz: all that certain piece or parcel of land situated in the Town of Chesterfield, County of Essex and state of New York, in a patent of three thousand six hundred acres of land granted by the state of New York to Matthew Adgate, and bounded as follows: Begining at the shore of Lake Champlain, at the South east corner of said patent, running thence west on the south line of said patent to the south east corner of lands heretofore deeded by the said Adgate, to one Noah Gridley. Thence north on the east line of said Gridley's land about fifty four rods to a beach tree; Thence due east to the Lake shore; Thence south along the Lake shore as it winds and turns to the place of beginning, containing by estimation one hundred acres of Land be the same more or less. Dated Keeseville November 26th 1852

REUBEN JONES, Mortgagee.

CHARLES CHENEY Atty.
Keeseville, N. Y.

SHERIFF SALE.

BY Virtue of an Execution issued out of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, to me directed and delivered against the goods and chattels, real estate and chattels real of Joseph Weed and Almerin Smith, I have seized and taken all that tract or parcel of land situate lying and being in the town of Ticonderoga, and Essex county, bounded as follows:

All that piece and parcel of land lying and being in said town of Ticonderoga, being the westerly part of a lot of land formerly leased by Samuel Deal to Jonathan Drury, and known on a map of said land as lot No. 51, beginning at a maple stake standing in the east line of a lot of land lately conveyed to the said Almerin Smith, by the said Thomas Wheeler, thence running south eighty two degrees east, forty rods to a stake and stones, thence north eighty degrees thirty minutes east, eighty rods to a stake and stones, thence north eighty two degrees west, forty rods to the stake and stones, thence south eight degrees thirty minutes west, eighty rods to the place of beginning. Containing within said bounds twenty acres. Excepting from off the said lot two acres, conveyed by Samuel Deal to the Congregational Meeting House, and Society of Ticonderoga, and one half acre to the Corporation of St. Paul's Church, also in said town.

Also, all that piece parcel or tract of land, situate, lying and being in the town of Ticonderoga aforesaid, and bounded as follows:

Beginning at a stake standing in the north east corner of a lot of land formerly owned by James Jones, and conveyed by him to the said Smith, and now in his possession; thence running south eighty degrees east, twenty-eight chains and sixty-three links to a stake; thence south eight degrees and forty-five minutes west, nineteen chains 70 links to a stake standing in the north line of Edward McCaughin's land, thence north eighty degrees west, 28 chains and 63 links to a stake, thence in a straight line to the place of beginning. Containing 56 acres and one-third of an acre be the same or less or less.

Also all that certain other lot adjoining being a part of the Holcomb and Jones farms, bounded on the south and west by the highway leading from Ticonderoga to Crown Point on the east by lands formerly owned by Wm Stewart now McCaughin and on the north by the highway leading past John Ledwitch's farm and residence and on the south by said McCaughin's land.

Also, all that certain farm in Ticonderoga, aforesaid, known as the Lake farm containing about 350 acres, being lot No. one and two in the McIntosh Patent, in the possession of Charles F. Hammond and Allen Penfield, and about 75 acres adjoining part of lot No. in same patent now in possession of Geo. D. Clark

Also, all that certain other lot of land in Ticonderoga aforesaid, known as part of the James Jones farm, sold and conveyed by Almerin Smith, to Alva Bennett in the year 1847, and now in the possession of said Bennett bounded and described as follows: beginning at a stake and stones in the easterly line of lands belonging to Francis Arthur Esq., being also the south west corner of the William Canfield farm, thence along the southerly line of said Canfield's land, south 80 degrees east, 5 chains and 8 links to the centre of a highway leading from Crown Point to Ticonderoga village, thence along the same south 30 degrees east, 31 chains and 25 links to a stake then north 86 degrees west, 25 chains to a stake standing in a ditch or drain and being also in the easterly line of said Arthur's land, thence along the same north 10 3-4 degrees east, 26 chains and 76 links to the place of beginning, containing 40 acres of land.

Also, all that certain lot of land in Ticonderoga aforesaid, commonly called the Holcomb lot now in possession of Almerin J. & Charles H. Bennett, and sold and conveyed by the said Almerin Smith to them in the year 1847, bounded and described as follows, to wit:—Beginning in the centre of a highway leading from Crown Point to the Upper Falls in Ticonderoga, being the north east corner of Sylvanus Bennett's farm, thence along the north line of said Bennett's farm north 80 deg. west, 32 chains and 14 links to a stake in the east line of Gustavus N. Wicker's land, thence along the same and along part of the east line of Francis Arthur's land, north 10 3-4 deg. east, 14 chains and 85 links to a stake standing in a ditch or drain, thence south 86 deg. east, 25 chains to the centre of a highway leading from Crown Point to the Lower Falls of Ticonderoga, thence along the same south 30 degrees east, 10 chains and 80 links to the centre of the first above mentioned highway, thence southerly along the same 9 chains to the place of beginning containing 48 acres and 71-100 of an acre of land.

Also, a certain other lot in Ticonderoga aforesaid, now in possession of Jeremiah O'Brien, bounded on the south by the road leading past John Ledwitch's land and residence, on the east by said Ledwitch's lands, on the north by lands of Alexander McCambridge, and on the west by lands of Wm A. G. Arthur containing fifty acres or thereabouts.

Also a certain other lot piece or parcel of and in Ticonderoga aforesaid lying and being on the south and west side of the highway leading from the Lower Falls to the street so called or Crown Point between the former dwelling house of the said Almerin Smith and burnt a few years since, and the present dwelling house of Edward McCaughin, being the same lot sold by the said Smith to the said McCaughin in 1847, and now owned by him, containing by estimation about 14 acres, being originally part of lands belonging to Stephen and Silas Sayre.

Also, all that certain piece or parcel of land situate lying and being in the town of Schroon, Co. and State aforesaid on the west side of Lake George and comprehended within the bounds of a tract of land granted by Letters patent under the great seal of the state of N. Y., to James Caldwell, Robert McClellen, and Robert Cochran and is more particularly known and distinguished by being lot No. one hundred and forty seven of the division of said tract bounded as follows, viz:

Beginning at the southwest corner of lot No, one hundred and forty four being a stake No. 144, 145, 146, 147, and runs thence along No. 146 south 25 chains to lot No. 148, thence along the same east 40 chains to lot No. 143, thence along the same north 25 chains to lot No. 144 thence along the same west 40 chains to the place of beginning, containing one hundred acres of land, be the same more or less. The courses are as the magnetic needle pointed at Lake George in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifteen. Which said several lots, lands and real estate I shall expose for sale at Public Vendue at the Hotel kept by S. Woodard at the Lower Falls in Ticonderoga on the 26th day of July next at ten o'clock in the forenoon. Dated June 5, 1852.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
by C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

The above sale is hereby adjourned to the 15th day of Sept. next, at the hour and place above named. A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy,

July 26th, 1852.

The above is further adjourned to the 9th day of November next at the same place, and hour above named.

Dated September 15, 1852.

A. B. MACK. Sheriff
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy

The above sale is further adjourned until the 7th day of Dec. next at the same hour and place as above. Nov. 9, 1852,

A. B. MACK. Sheriff,
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

The above sale is further adjourned to the 4th day of January next 1853 at the same place, and time of day as above. Dated December 7th, 1852.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN; Deputy.

The above sale is further adjourned to the 3d day of February, at the same hour and place as above. Ticonderoga, Jany 4, 1853.

A. B. MACK. Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

The above sale is further adjourned to the 3d day of March next at the same place and hour above named

Dated Feb. 3, 1853.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

SUPREME COURT
JOSEPH G WHITMAN, & WASHINGTON CLARK
Against
HORACE GOULD.

To the Defendant, HORACE GOULD.

SIR:—Please to take notice that upon an affidavit, which was filed with the Clerk of the County of Essex, on the 17th day of January, inst, we shall move this Court at a special term thereof appointed to be held at the Court House in Elizabethtown, in the County of Essex, on the 1st Monday of March next, at the opening of the Court on that day or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard for leave to issue execution on the judgment in this action against the property of the deft. for the purpose of collecting the sum of two hundred nineteen and 78-100 dollars and interest on the same from March 27th, 1845, (the time said judgment was recovered,) being the amount claimed to be due on said judgement, or for such further or other order or relief in the premises as the said Court may deem proper with costs of this motion. Dated January 17th 1853.

Yours, &c.,

FINCH & HARWOOD,
Attys for Oliver Keese, and Thomas A. Tomlinson
4: 6-7w Assignees of Judgment

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

NOTICE is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Rensselaer Morhous late of Willsborough deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with vouchers thereof to Abram Weldin one of the administrators at his store and place of transacting business at Willsborough in said county, on or before the sixteenth day of February next, that being at least six months from the first publication of this notice. Dated Willsborough August 10, 1852.

EMELINE H. MORHOUS, Admtrix.
ABRAM WELDIN,
DAVID W. MORHOUS } Administrators

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

NOTICE is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John Cummings, late of North Hudson, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to ESTES B. WALKER, one of the administrators of the said deceased, at his dwelling house in North Hudson, his place of doing business, on or before the 25th day of May next, that being at least Six Months after the day of the first publication of this notice. Dated this 15th day of November, A. D. 1852.

ABIGAIL CUMMINGS, Administratrix.
ESTES B. WALKER,
446-6m DAVID DAY, } Administrators.

CHINA, GLASS, & EARTHEN WARE.

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

[SUCCESSORS TO PEIRCE AND KING,]

IMPORTERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS,

235 River Street, Troy, New York.

Having our Stock very complete from Importations, and otherwise, are prepared to offer a large assortment of all Goods in our Line, Wholesale or Retail, at the Lowest New York or Boston Prices for Cash or Approved Credit, among which will be found:

Fine White Ironstone and White Glazed Ware, Flown Blue, Flown Mulberry, Light Blue and common Wares, and the Acacia Ware, formerly kept by Mr A. Slason.

White, Gold Band and Decorated French China, in sets or separate prices.

Tea sets, of French and English China, white, Gilt, or decorated. India China in great variety

Toilet Sets, decorated or plain, full, double, or single sets.

Cut Glass Ware, in Decanters, Goblets Champaigns, Wines &c., of new and rich patterns. Glass cut to match any pattern.

Moulded and plain Glass Ware, of every description and style.

Girandoles, Candelabras, Solar Lamps, and Chandeliers, in every variety, from the manufactory of Cornelius & Co. Philadelphia.

Solar Globes, cut and Plain, Solar and Camphene Wicks and Chimnies. Astral and Coat Wicks, Boat Globes, Astral Chimnies, &c., &c.

Hall Lanterns of cut, plain, and stained Glass.

Lanterns of every variety.—Also a new and desirable style with patent catch, &c., for Railroads and Steamboats, and made to order with names or initials engraved on.

Tea Trays and Waiters, new styles and shapes, of our own importion, singly or in sets.

Looking Glasses, Britannia Ware, Table Mats &c., &c.

Also a splendid assortment of Fancy Goods, consisting of Vases, Colognes, Cardreceivers, Allumets, Decanters, Wine Bottles, &c., in China, Terra Cotta, Parian Marble, and Bohemian Ware,

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

235 River Street, Opposite Troy House, Troy, N. Y.

ALFRED H. PEIRCE,
LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK. 445

Gas, Steam & Water Fitting

and Fixtures, Wrought-Iron Pipe, Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Plumbers' Materials, &c.

We are now prepared to do work in dwellings, Stores, Churches, Mills, or Factories, in the way of Gas and Steam Fitting or Plumbing, in the most complete and satisfactory manner. Having workmen in each of the above branches who cannot be excelled by any similar establishments in the country, all orders will be promptly executed, and work done in any part of the country

We have also constantly on hand and for Sale at Manufacturers' Prices, Wrought Iron Pipe for Gas, Steam, and water. Twisted and Plain Brass Pipe, Steam Valves, Brass and Iron Stop Cocks, Tees, Elbows, Couplings, Brass Globe, Cross and Check Valves, &c. Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Leather Hose, Hose Pipe and Couplings, white ery material in Lead, Brass and Plated Work for Plumbers' use.—Ping Basins, Hoppers, Closet Pans, Corner Basins, and Baths, of all descriptions.

Also, a splendid assortment of Chandeliers, Pendants, Brackets &c, on new and rich styles, to which we are receiving constant additions.

PEIRCE and SOUTHWICK.

223 and 235 River-Street, (Opposite Troy House,) Troy, N. Y. 445tf

ALFRED H. PEIRCE, LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK

NEW STORE,

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

True Union Store.

MR. NICHOLS of Burlington, Vt., has established a branch of his stock at Essex, nearly opposite the Steam Boat Landing in Fancher's Building anjoining the Hotel, where he has on hand nearly all kinds of Dry-goods and Groceries and intends keeping up a good assortment by constantly replenishing, and will sell as low as can be bought in Burlington for cash and ready pay, most kinds of Produce taken Mr. N. flatters himself that with the facilities he has for purchasing goods both in Boston and New York, that he can compete with any store in Northern New York or Vermont. Please give us a call and see for themselves. "A penny saved is two pence earned."

WANTED 10,000 lbs. BUTTER.

N. Y., June 16, 1852.

M. F. NICHOLSON,

ATTORNEY & COUNC[illegible]
ELIZABETHTOWN, Ess[illegible]
(Office in the County

Medicine.

THE WONDER OF THE WORLD.

DEVINES' COMPOUND

PITCH LOZENGE;

A sure and pleasant Remedy for Colds, Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, and if lungs enough are left to sustain life, A CERTAIN CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, safe for the Infant or the Invalid, in any stage of weakness.

"The statements that consumption cannot be cured, has destroyed more lives than the disease itself.—[Dr. Warren Read the following, which to a candid mind places this "Great Remedy," like Cæsar's wife "above suspicion."

TO THE PUBLIC!

We, the undersigned, citizens of Lee, Mass., are acquainted with Mr. Devines, the proprietor and Manufacturer of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge and from what we know of it ourselves and have learned from others of its beneficial effects, in cases where it has been used, give it as our opinion that it is a valuable remedy in diseases for which it is recommended and is worthy of public confidence. A. G. Hulburt, Leonard Church, P. G. Taylor, Wm Taylor, E. A. Bliss, S. A. Hulburt, Josephus Crafts, T. P. Eldridge.

If any individual is to be pitied, and needs sympathy, it is the consumptive—always expecting to get well, and yet the painful evidence of decay almost "makes the inner soul shrink with the outer flesh."

"Some bloom as roses bloom, and live as roses live, A single morning space!"

While others in more mature life—by some imprudence and a slight cold neglected—in the hectic flush—the painful cough.

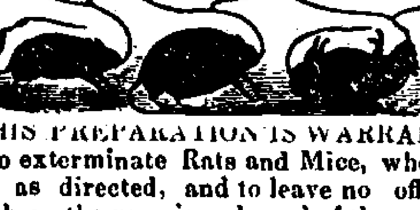
"The prints of their departing steps appears"

BUT HE IS HOPE! Mr Wm. Devines, the originator and manufacturer of the Pitch Lozenge, under Providence, was raised to perfect health by the use of these Lozenges alone, after he was pronounced by his physician to be almost dying with consumption.

This fact is generally known in Berkshire County and is the neighborhood talk, and wonder in Lee, and in Great Barrington, Mass.

From Dr. Brown, of Lee, Mass.

This certifies that I have made use of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge for cold and cough, and found immediate relief. Therefore I would recommend it to the public as being a safe and sovereign remedy. H. C. BROWN.



Lee, October 28, 1851.

Sold wholesale at Albany, by Wm. A. Wharton & Co, Druggists, &c., H. C. Sheldon, Troy, Spencer & Nichols, Whitehall, Hammonds & Co, Crownpoint, W. G Lyon, Essex, Reynolds & Tufts and I. A. Hasbrouck Druggist, Keeseville. Orders addressed Wm Devines, Jamaica L. I. 436 1y Wm RENNE, Traveling Agent

M. DUBOYS'

FRENCH

RAT EXTERMINATOR.

THIS PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to exterminate Rats and Mice, whenever used as directed, and to leave no offensive stench on the premises cleared of these annoying vermin. Its use is perfectly safe in any place and at all times, which is not the case with ordinary remedies for this evil.

CAUTION!—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!—

The extraordinary success of M. Duboy's Rat Exterminator has excited the cupidity of some dishonest and irresponsible persons to counterfeit it. Inquire for M. Duboy's French Rat Extirminator, and take no other. Large boxes at 25 cents. LYNDE & OSBURN.

Rochester, N. Y., Sole American Agents, to whom all orders should be addressed.

For sale by Stearns & Beckwith, Peru. I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. 444 1y

Miscellaneous,

WOOLEN MANUFACTURING

IN all its various branches, will be carried on at the Keeseville Woolen Manufacturing Establishment, in Keeseville, N. Y.

Wool of any quality will be received in exchange for Cloth,

CASSIMERES, SATINETS,

Flannels, &c.

The Goods of this Establishment for the last two years, are well known at home and in market, and needs no other recommendation than a fair trial. Farmers and others wishing to make the most out of their wool, will find it to their advantage to call and exchange their wool for cloths. They may rest assured that they will be fairly dealt with, as no goods will be offered but those that will give satisfaction.

C. Roelofson has made arrangements which will enable him to pay

Part Cash

on Exchanges, or all CASH for WOOL when Price and Quality Suit.

On hand and ready for Exchanging, Grey Cloths, Mixed Satinets—VERY HEAVY—fine and medium Cassimeres, Red Flannel—yard wide—the different kinds also for sale.

THE CUSTOM

CARDING

will be carried on as usual.

C. ROELOFSON & Co.

Keeseville, May 26th, 1852. 421tf

WOOL! WOOL!

THE Subscriber would inform the public that he is again in the

Manufacturing Business,

Either by the yard, on shares, or in exchange for cloths on the most reasonable terms, and that he intends to keep on hand a full supply of the following goods:

BLACK BROAD CLOTHS,

Black, Brown, and Olive Cassimeres,

FULLED CLOTHS, SATTINETS, TWEEDS,

Flannels, &c.,

suitable to this country, and that he will spare no pains in trying to please such as may favor him with their patronage.

Birmingham, May 15, 1852. J. APPLEYARD 419

WOOL!! WOOL!!!

Cash Paid for Wool

BY

Matthews & Ames,

At the Old Stand of

H. & H. MATTHEWS.

Every discription of Woolen and Cotton Goods given in exchange for Wool if wanted.

HAVING increased our stock of Goods by a second Spring purchase, We feel confident that we shall be able to supply all who may wish Goods or Groceries of any description, in part, or wholly, for their Fleece, Pulled or Tag Wool.

Boots ad Shoes.

READY-MADE or MADE to ORDER.

AS good as the best, as cheap as the cheapest and warranted to fit. The undersigned begs leave to remind the public of the above facts and solicits a share of their patronage. ☞ Opposite the Bank.

JAMES ADAMS.

Keeseville, March, 1852. 111-tf

PIANO FORT EMPORIUM.

361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. The most extensive and varied assortment of ROSEWOOD PIANO FORTES, plain and ornamental, elegant patterns, elaborately carved, and highly finished with Pearl keys, all of our own manufacture, and warranted in every particular can be found at our Warerooms, 361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

437-1y BENNTT & CO.

VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE.

THE subscriber having disposed of a portion of his Farm, offers the balance, containing 108 acres of first rate land, a good dwelling house and convenient ont buildings, well fenced into convenient size fields, situated 4 miles north of the Village, of Keeseville on the mail route to Plattsburgh, and for pleasantness of location is not surpassed by any in Northern New York.

ALSO.—If desired, a wood and pasture lot fifty acres, about 4 miles distant.

WILLETS KEESE.

Keeseville, Dec. 27, 1852.] 451

Miscellaneous.

New Goods! Nw Good!

—AT—

NICHOLS' CASH STORE,

150 Church street,

BURLINGTON, VERMONT,

HAVING just Purchased in New York and Boston, a large stock of Goods of all kinds we now offer them for sale, and those who are in want of goods in our line will save money by calling on us before purchasing. We are confident we have the largest stock of goods ever brought into Burlington at one time; we were induced to buy largely in consequence of the low prices of many kinds of goods, particularly dress goods of almost every kind.

We have a full stock of everything usually kept in a dry good store: Also West India goods and groceries, a very large stock of Teas and Sugars low by chest and cask. Also at cost to clear them off Paper Hangings, Crockery and glass Ware and looking glasses.

CARPETING, AT THE

CARPET WARE HOUSE.

BURLINGTON, VT.

Received this day and now opening 50 pieces of all grades, the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three Ply, Superfine, fine and common Ingrain and Venetian, all Wool. Cotton and Cotton and Wool; Also, all the different qualities of Stair-Carpeting, Straw Matting, Oil Cloth, Drugetts, Crumb Cloths, Hearth Rugs, Door Matts, &c., very cheap.

Burlington, Nov. '52. 446

FAMILY GROCERIES.

A larg and choice assortment of Sugars, Teas, Oils, Molasses, Pork, Fish, Fine and coarse Salt, Camphene, Soap and Candles, rooms, Pails, Willow Waggons, Cradles, Flavoring Extracts, Cat, Sups, all kinds Toys, New Years and Christmass presents, Confectionaries, Nuts, Bird Seed, &c., &.

The above goods are offered on the usual terms, at the lowest prices. Let those wishing to buy examine for themselves.

100 Barrels Genessee Flour,

FRESH Ground for sale at,

REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

40 Barrels Sugars.

CRUSHED, granulated Muscavado and Coffee Sugars at REYNOLDS & TUFTS,

Green & Black Teas.

40 CHESTS and Cattys choice Old Hyson, Young Hyson and fine Oolong Teas cheaper than any in town at

REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

Keeseville, Nov. 18, 1852. 446

REMOVAL.

THE Subscriber takes this method to inform his friends and the public that he has moved his

TAIORING ESTABLISHMEN

To the Store south of the Bank, and lately occupied by W. Whitney.

Where he intends carrying on the above business in all its branches.

He will keep constantly on hand a choice assortment of

Broadcloth, Cassimeres & Vestings

which he wil make up to order on short notice, in the most fashionable styles, Also Shirts, Collars, Cravats, Suspenders, Gloves, &c.

Also an assortment of

READY-MADE CLOTHING,

which he will sell cheap for cash.

☞ Cutting done on short notice.

☞ Two Good Journeymen Tailors wanted.

WM. COWLBECK.

KEESEVILLE ACADEMY.

The undersigned in behalf of the Trustees of Keeseville Academy, announce that the Fall Term will commence on Thursday the 22d day of November next, They have succeeded in engaging the following corps of Teachers.

Principals { CHARLES H. DANN, Teacher of Languages and Higher Mathematics
GILBERT THAYER, Teacher of English Branches, Natural Sciences and Superintendent of the School.

Miss. NANCY S. POTTER Assistant Teacher.
Miss. ELLEN M FISHER Teacher of Music.
Good Board and Rooms in the Village.

TERMS:

Common English Branches	$3 00	per quarter
Higher " Branches	1 00	extra. "
Book keping	1 50	" "
Latin and Greek, each	1 00	" "
French, Italian and German, each	1 .. 09	" "

Tuition is not charged for more than two of the above extras

Music Instrumental	$10 00	per quarter.
" Vocal	1 00	" "
For French, Italian or German, taken as single branches, the charge will be	3 00	" "

Mr. THAYER will give especial attention to young gentleman and Ladies expecting to engage in teaching.

Oliver Keese
Jacob D Kingslond } Com of
John Mattocks Trustees.

Keeseville July 28, 1852 430

MATTHEWS & AMES,

(SUCCESSORS TO H. & H. MATTHEWS,)

DEALERS IN

Tin, Sheet Iron, Copper, Japan and

BRITANNIA WARE,

together with a large and well selected assortment of

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

which they will sell by the piece or package, at a small advance from cost. Also, a general assortment of

YANKEE NOTIONS

And Fancy Articles,

suitable to the Pedlars Trade, which they will sell low for cash.

☞ All kinds of barter taken in exchange for Goods.

Keeseville, April 17, 1852. 415

New and Cheap Goods

E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Have just received from New York and Boston one of the best assortments of

FALL AND WINTER GOODS

ever exhibited in Keeseville,

among their stock of DRY GOODS will be found a beautiful assortment of Wool, and Cotton, and woul d'Laines and Cashmeres both plain and printed, of all qualities, and prices from one shilling to one Dollar per yard. French Merinoes, Paramattas, Alpaccas Lyonese Cloth, English and American Prints, Ginghams, Flannels of all kinds, a superior quality of Bay State Flannel of different colors, Wool Plaids, Tickings, Stripes &c, &c. Shawls—a large and splendid assortment of Bay State, Empire State, Waterloo, Scotch Plaid, and Printed WOOL SHAWLS, at prices much lower than ever before offered in this market. A beautiful assortment of Bonnet Silks and Velvets, with trimmings of all kinds. Also dress silks and Satins, Gloves, Hosiery &c.

READY MADE CLOTHING

Of all kinds, sold very cheap, also, Cloths, Broad Cloths Plain and fancy Cassimeres, Black Doe Skins, Satinets Silks and Worsted, Vestings, Serges, &c., &c., with many other articles too numerous to mention. ☞ Tis unnecessary to add that all the above goods will be sold at very low prices. Only remember their motto 'quick sales and small profits.' Please call and examine Goods and prices, and satisfy yourselves. Opposite the Adirondac Hotel,

Keeseville Oct. 1852.

CASH,

AND THE

Highest Market Price

WILL BE PAID FOR WOOL, AT THE WOOLEN FACTORY, by

C. F. ROELOFSON & Co.

Keeseville, July 8th, 1852. 407tf

Miscellaneous.

THE NORTHERN

New York Mutual

INSURANCE COMPANY,

Plattsburgh, Clinton Co., N. Y.

Capital, 100,000.

THIS Company is organized under the General Insurance Law of the State of New York, with a sound, reliable capital, and offers the following superior inducements:

1. The safer kinds of property are separated entirely from the more hazardous; affording the advantages of two distinct companies, with the expense of but one.

2. The first class, or Farmer's Department, consists of Farm houses, Farm buildings and their contents and detatched dwellings and their contents in villages, when unexposed by more hazardous buildings,

3. The second class or Merchant's Department, consists of exposing dwellings, stores, merchandize and property not deemed specially hazardous.

4. Each class pays its own losses and thu securing equal justice and proportional rate to both.

5. Not more than $3,000 of the first class, or more than $2,600 of the second class, will be taken in one risk, nor any number of risks so contiguous as probably to subject the Company to a loss of over $3,000 at any one fire; thereby saving it from heavy and ruinous losses.

6. In taking surveys of property, the agent will be the agent of the company, and the company be responsible for the correctness of all surveys made by its agents.

7. Any one insured, may at any time surrender his policy and withdraw from the company by paying his proportion of the losses and expense up to the date of such surrender.

8. Applications will take effect at noon of the day on which they are made (unless a different day is directed by the applicant,) thus relieving the party from anxiety and suspense.

9. The company no have two-thirds clause, but will pay all loss and damage not exceeding the amount insured.

10. In case of difference of opinion in settlement of losses, the company will submit the same to arbitration in the county where the loss occurs, the claimant choosing one, the company one, and the two arbitrators another.

11. Each person insured in the company becomes a member and will be entitled to a participation of the profits, if any surplus should accrue, not required for the payment of losses.

12. This company will be responsible for losses by fire caused by lightning.

13. This company will take no risks in cities.

☞ The Directors return their acknowledgments to the public for ther readiness in aiding the organization of this company, and will endeavor to make it a safe and reliable institution, affording protection from the ravages of fire, at reasonable rates, and with certainty of payment in case of loss.

DIRECTORS.

James Farr, Fort Ann, Washington co; Olif Abel, Whiteball, do; Walter Geer, Glen's Falls, Warren co; Pelatiah Richards, Warrensburgh, do; Wm. E. Calkins, Ticonderoga, Essex co.; John Horton, Columbia Vilage, St. Lawrence co.; Thomas H. Conkey, Canton, do.; Amasa C. Moore, Samuel F. Viles, Henry G. Hewitt, Jacob H. Holt, John Boynton, Peter S. Palmer, Cornelius Halsey, Z. C. Platt, W. W. Hartwell, Benjamine Gilman, George Moore, Plattsburgh, Clinton Co,

OFFICERS.

SAMUEL F. VILES, President;
WM. W. HARTWELL, Vice President;
ZEPHENIAH C. PLATT, Treasurer;
GEORGE MOORE, Secretary;
I. C. MIX, and
R. G SWINBRN, General Agents.
JAMES B. DICKINSON, Agent Ausable Forks.

Plattsburgh, Dec. 4th, 1852. 448 tf

DRY-GOODS!

CARPETS AND OIL-CLOTHS,

at uncommonly low prices

may be had at

G. V. S. Quackenbush's,

202 River and 9 State Streets, Troy.

MY Stock of Dry-Goods is unsurpassed in Variety and extent, consisting of every class of goods from the lowest priced Muslins and Prints, to the finest

BROAD-CLOTHS AND CASSIMERES,

or the richest and most expensive styles of Silks and Shawls and of each denomination of goods.

I have an almost endless variety of patterns of all the different qualities.

Of Carpets and Oil Cloths I have a splendid assortment consisting of a great variety of new and beautiful patterns of Velvets, Tapestry, and Brussels Carpets—

Also

Three Ply, Tapestry-Ingrains, and Ingrains of all qualities and so varied in styles that all may here find something to suit their fancy.

Oil Cloths of all Widths and Qualities

and of the newest and most desirable patterns, Rugs, in great variety,

STAIR CARPETS, STAIR RODS, DRUGGETS,

MATTS,

and Matting of every Style and Quality.

A correct diagram being furnished Oil Cloths will be cut to fit rooms or halls without extra charge and Carpets made in a superior manner at the lowest rates

Those wishing to purchase either Dry-Goods or Carpet will find that my assortment is unequaled, and that my prices are uncommonly low.

422 G. V. S. QUACKENBUSH,
202 River Street, Troy.

RUTLAND & BURLINGTON

Rail Road.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT

On and after Monday, Nov. 1st, trains will run as follows, viz:

FOR BOSTON, NEW YORK AND INTERMEDIATE PLACES.

LEAVE
Burlington at	8.15	A. M.,	4.15	P. M.
Vergennes	9.09	"	5.09	"
Middlebury	9.42	"	5.35	"
Brandon	10 20	"	6.18
Rutland	11 00	"	AR. 7.00
			L. 6.30	A. M.
Cuttingsville	11.25	"	6.55	"
Ludlow	12 06	P. M.	7,35	"
Proctorsville	12,15	"	7,42	"
Chester	12,40	"	8,10	"
Arriving
Bellows Falls	1,15	"	8 45	"
Boston	7,00	"	1,00	P. M.
LEAVE
Boston	7 45	A. M.	12.00	M.
Bellows Falls	12 0	"	5 15	P. M.
Chester	12 40	P M.	5,50	"
Proctorsville	107	"	6,17	"
Ludlow	1,15	"	6,25	"
Cuttingsville	1 52	"	7,05	"
Rutland	AR. 2,15	"	AR. 7 30	"
	L. 3,00	"	L. 7.45	"
Brandon	3 38	"	8 25	"
Middlebury	4,21	"	9.04	"
Vergennes	5,00	"	9,37	"
Arriving
Burlington	5,45	"	10,30	"

CONNECT AT BURLINGTON,

with the Steamers for PLATTSBURGH and MONTREAL RAIL ROADS, and with the VERMONT and CENTRAL and VERMONT and CANADA RAIL ROADS for East, North, and West, via CHAMPLAIN and ST. LAWRENCE, and the OGDENSBURGH RAIL ROADS.

CONNECT AT RUTLAND

with the Trains of Western Vermont, Rutland and Washington and Saratoga and Washington Rail Roads, for New York, Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Buffalo and the West

CONNECT AT BELLOWS FALLS

with the Trains of the Cheshire, Vermont Valley, and Sullivan Rail Roads for Windsor, Boston, Worcester, Lowell Springfield, Hartford, New Haven, and New York.

Fares are less when Tickets are purchased at the Office than when paid in the Cars.

Burlington, Oct. 25, 1852. JOHN S. DUNLAP, Superintendent

415

EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR.

50 BARRELS made from Pure Genesee Wheat at the lowest price at

REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

Dec. 18, 1852.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Essex County Republican.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING BY JONATHAN TARBELL, Editor and Proprietor. TERMS, $2 Per Year—$1,50 in Advance.

VOLUME XIII. NO. 40. KEESEVILLE, N. Y., FEBRUARY 19, 1853. WHOLE NUMBER 459.

Miscellany.

[From Gleasons Pictorial.]

CARRIE CARLTON'S VALENTINE.

BY AGNESS LESLIE.

CHAPTER I.

She was not a belle, was Carrie Carlton, for all she rejoiced in such a euphonious name. She was not a beauty either, nor any better and wiser than ordinary mortals; so I cannot wax eloquent about "scarlet threaded," "unfathomable eyes," and a thousand graces that go to make up a heroine. She was just such a little girl as one meets daily in the street, with a delicate, interesting face, and slender figure, tastefully dressed. Just such a face as the multitude pass by without giving it a second glance, but with certain quiet, thoughtful men regard with more than passing interest. She was the adopted child in the family of her mother's sister, with a troop of handsome, good-natured cousins, who liked "cousin Carrie" as well as they liked one another; but they were belles and beaux, most of them, with heads full of fashions and flirtations, and, therefore, Carrie was left a good deal to herself: and being so much quieter than they, and not particularly pretty or brilliant, she seemed not of them, though she was often with them.

They were really kind hearted, and certainly did not mean to neglect her; but their tastes were so opposite that she was oftener out of their minds than in. Consequently, when Carrie's nineteenth birthday came on that week of mystifications and merriment—St. Valentine's, it was not strange that no one of all her giddy cousins should remember it, and that the only gift should be bestowed by her aunt, whose heart still retained, through many years, the remembrance of her sister's dying words, "Be a mother to my Carrie, Lucy."

"I wonder if I shall have a valentine?" thought this same little Carrie, as she smoothed her light brown hair over her ears that birthday morning.

It was early in the week yet, and there was a world of hope in her young heart, as she tapped at her cousin Kate's chamber door. That young lady was busy folding and directing numerous daintly perfumed epistles; and when Carrie entered, she glanced up with a laugh and said:

"Well, Carrie, how many valentines are you going to send?"

"None. I don't care for anybody enough to send them a valentine."

"Why, Carrie! I don't care a fig for half of these people I've written to; it's the fun of the thing, you little goosie."

"Well, they care for you in some way."

"Some way! What does that mean?"

"Why, they admire you, at any rate, and will feel pleased if they find out who it is."

"I don't know about that. There's Mr. Latimer—I don't believe he'd have any pleasure about it. I wish I could make that handsome, self-possessed face look embarassed and break through that charming, captivating indifference. O, I think he's decidedly the most killing man I know, aint he, Carrie?" and Kate fairly stopped to take breath.

But Carrie did not reply. A faint color stole into her pale cheek, which, fortunately, her cousin did not notice, so busy was she in writing upon the outside of a snowy envelope,—Mr. Latimer.

"There!" said she, tossing it into her cousin's lap, "I wonder who'll be Mrs. to that by another Valentine?"

"Maybe no one," replied Carrie, quietly.

"O yes, there will; he's the owner of the prettiest establishment in town, and he'll have a wife before then, to be mistress of it. I only wish he'd ask me."

"Why, Kate, how you talk!"

"It's the truth, Carrie." Kate laughed while she went on directing and sealing with great alacrity. "I'm doing a wholesale business; see here!" pointing to quite a little pile of valentines.

"Why, Kate!" said Carrie, with a puzzled look; "if you don't care anything for these people, I shouldn't think you'd take the trouble."

"Why, you queer little thing! it's fun to mystify them, and then I must have something to do to kill time."

Carrie said no more; but she had a dim idea of another and better kind of activity; and then the lines she had read in a book, the day before in the library, stole into her mind:

"O teach the orphan boy to read,
Or teach the orphan girl to sew;
Pray Heaven for a human heart,
And let the foolish yeoman go."

CHAPTER II.

There was to be a little gathering at the Percey's hospitable mansion the next evening; some score or more of people, who would come and dance the Redowa and Shottisch, and discuss the merits of the last opera, hot oysters and coffee, with now and then a few rich words of sparkling sentiment, betraying beneath the folly and fashion, a deeper life.

Carrie knew that beside Kate Percy, and the rest of her cousins, she was entirely eclipsed; yet that did not prevent her from bestowing considerable care on her toilet that night. She was in mourning for one of her father's relatives, so there could be no change in the black silk dress; but the hair—that soft, abundant light-brown hair,—there was no end to the fashions in which her dexterous little fingers could arrange it; and upon the evening in question, she wove it into broad braids, and thus looped and bowed with some dark purple pansies, it presented an altogether charming and unique appearance, and fairly rivalled her cousin's jetty tresses.

"I declare, you tantalizing little thing!" said Kate, as she joined them in the drawing-room; "here has Fanchon been an hour or more arranging my hair, and down you come with the most recherche head in the world. I'll be bound it didn't take you that to perform your entire toilet.—Hark! yes,—there's that elegant Mr. Latimer in the hall." The next moment she met him at the door with, "Is'nt it provoking, Mr. Latimer? this little gipsy cousin of ours has fairly outdone Mademoiselle Fanchon. Don't her head look delightful?"

The gentleman smiled at this droll appeal, and then looked down upon that wilderness of braides and the purple pansies, and at the crimsoned face beneath, with no comment at all, but adroitly turned the conversation, to Carrie's infinite relief.

In the course of the evening, Carrie was invited to sing; she could warable like a canary bird when no one was by, but in society she had not the courage to raise a note.

"Do sing Miss Carrie; you must sing," entreated one or two young gentleman, whom, the more distressed and averse she became, seemed absolutely to wax more determined and pertinacious. And by the time her stately cousin Jane whispered in in her ear, "Don't refuse any more, for pity's sake!" her eyes and heart were ready to overflow, and she wished herself a thousand times back in her own little room. At this crisis, Mr. Latimer, who had been busily engaged in conversation with Kate Percy, on the opposite side of the room, suddenly took his fair companion's hand in his, and said:

"Wont some one play the Redowa? I want to dance with Miss Percy."

This gave a new impulse to Carrie's besiegers. If she would not sing, she must play for them to dance. She had no fear about this; the fingers would do their work, where the voice failed.

There was but one draw back to her ease; Clarence Crawford, one of the young gentleman who had annoyed her so much with his entreaties, still stood beside her, and diligently turned over the leaves of what was as familiar as the air she breathed. She could see in the mirror before her their graceful floating figures; but no one had asked her to dance, no one had offered to relieve her. For the moment she was half sorry that Mr. Crawford never danced but the regret vanished as Mr. Lartimer's voice murmered in her ear:

"May I have your hand for awhile, Miss Carrie?"

And then as she assented, he crossed over to Kate, and whispered something which made her eyes sparkle and her cheeks burn, while she graciously and good naturedly took the seat her little cousin had vacated.

If there was anything that Carrie excelled in, it was dancing. Her little light feet would keep time to the music bar after bar, without the slightest error. And as Mr Latimer glided round the room with his fairy footed companion, he said smilingly:

"You dance better than you sing, I guess, don't you?"

"I hope so," half laughed and sighed Carrie.

And then he said again, suddenly:

"You have really out Fanchoned Fanchon."

What did he mean? was he laughing at her head? No!—the next words reassured her:

"Allow me to answer your cousin's question to you alone;—I admire exceedingly the way in which you have dressed your hair."

But this has nothing to do with a valentine. How do you know, my precious reader? But if you are tired waltzing and shottischiing, we will proceed with our story.

CHAPTER III.

It was the evening of the 14th of February, and in the pleasant drawing-rooms of the Perceys no one save the family were seated. There had been plenty of valentines, comic and serious, sentimental and earnest, yet strange to say, amid such an influx of the article, poor little Carrie had been overlooked.

She was not a stoic by any means, and though too proud to complain, she felt the slight keenly.

"Well, girls," said Mr. Percy, at length, taking out his watch, "I guess this is the end; it is after ten o'clock." The "Quips, and cranks, and wreathed smiles," began to subside, and Mrs. Percy had just extinguished the gas in the back drawing room, when a quick sharp ring at the door bell startled them from their silence, and presently the servant brought in a valentine directed to "Miss Carrie Carlton," as I live! With trembling fingers she opened the delicate envelope, which emitted a soft perfume, and unfolded the enclosed sheet, when lo! from out its fairy folds there slid a diamond ring, the most exquisite affair that had been seen that season; and upon the inner side was finely engraved, "To Carrie, from her Valentine."

"O, how captivating!" exclaimed Kate gleefully. "Do relieve my curiosity, and read the verses."

Carrie resumed the sheet, and read the following lines, written in a peculiar, gentlemanly hand:

I've a song, love, to sing thee,
O, list to my lay!
While I set it to music
That's gladsome and gay.

And heed not the murmurs
Harsh voices will breathe;
Nor the cold, cruel caution,
Love smiles to deceive.

Then trusting, confiding,
O, list to my lay!
It is this: that I love thee,
Far more than I say.

Then smile on me lavishly,
Do not be chary,
And whisper, thou lovest me,
Sweet little Carrie!

"You lucky little thing!" said Kate.—"That's a valentine worth having. What a lovely diamond ring! Who in the world can it be from?" And then a new tho't struck her, she started up with, "O, I know! It's Mr. Clary Crawford. I noticed he was very attentive to little Miss Carlton, the other evening. That explains something he confided to my cousinly ear."

The ring had dropped, and the missive fell to the floor. Another hope had been busy at her heart. And of all the gentlemen that visited her cousin's, she liked this one the least. So the jewel was lain away, instead of gracing the delicate little finger it was intended. To make assurance doubly sure, Mr. Crawford was entirely devoted to Carrie after this. He seemed utterly unconscious she did not wear his gift, but plied her with flattery and attention until she was well nigh sick. In this way he was gradually appropriated to her, and she herself was something in the predicament of a poor, bewildered bird, who is entangled in the fowler's net, and knows not how to escape.

Thus the winter passed, and spring came with no relief to the bunted bare. Sensitive and shy to a fault, she shrank from any decided means which might have freed her.

Crawford himself saw that she trembled at his approach, and liked her all the better for her gentleness and reserve. His was a nature all covered over with the decencies of life, yet bearing beneath the black heart and fierce untrampled passions. Self had been his object through his lifetime, and it was not likely he would yield it now without a struggle. And because she seemed to fear him, he, like all false characters, loved the best that which he could govern and subdue. Coward as he was, he shrank from a bold searching eye, knowing there was nothing but ashes beneath the fair outside. Yet Carrie read him better than he was aware of; and had she known her power and used it, had she let him know that she could fathom his miserable nature, he would have left her to herself and contentment. But as it was, the game went on. Who could she apply to for counsel?—not her uncle and aunt,—they would not have understood her; nor to her cousins,—they were too much occupied with themselves; nor to Mr. Latimer,—the only one she thought would have read it all aright, for he had seemed strangely cold to her of late, and much interested with her cousins. So she must lock it within her own heart and keep silence. Yet, while she little thought it, "behind the clouds was the sun still shining."

CHAPTER IV.

One morning, when her cousins had all gone out on a shopping expedition, Carrie was startled from her embroidery by a voice she had learned to dread. She was sitting by the drawing-room window, so there was no escaping; and, in a moment Mr Crawford was ushered in. It had always chanced that there were other occupants beside themselves in the room when they had met heretofore; but now he was sitting beside her, quite at his ease, and evidently preparing to say something more direct than he had ever done before. The bright floss became entangled in Carrie's trembling fingers; and while she was nervously striving to disentangle them, another hand interposed, and her own was made a prisoner. In a few words he made her an offer of that hand, with not a doubt of its being gratefully received. As if a serpent had stung her, she flung it away, sprang to her feet, and exclaimed, in excited tones:

"Mr. Crawford, I do not love you, and never can!"

His eyes flashed a moment, and then he went up to her, and putting his arm around her, said:

"Tut, tut, Carrie, you do not mean this!"

She broke away from him, and, in a quick, passionate voice, cried:

"Do not touch me again, Clarence Crawford! I hate you—I hate you! and never, never will marry you!"

He sprang to the door, as she turned to depart, and grasping her slight wrist in a crushing clasp, he said, in accents hoarse with rage:

"If you do not promise to be mine, before I leave the house, I will haunt your footsteps, and track you wherever you go. I will foil every scheme, and blot out every happiness!"

To the over wrought mind of Carrie, this puerile threat was terrifying, and covering her face with her hands, she burst into tears, exclaiming:

"Will not some one save me?"

From the back drawing-room, with rapid footsteps, glided a manly figure, and a hand was laid upon Carrie's head, and a rich resolute voice said:

"I will; trust in me, Carrie!" And then turning towards the already cowed Crawford, he resumed: "Shame on you for a man, sir, to force your attentions and base threats upon a defenceless woman!"

"This language to me Mr. Latimer?—Do you know who you are talking to?"

"Yes,—to the man who forged notes upon the——Bank, and had to fly his native State for safety, and with no excuse but grasping avarice for the deed!"

Crawford tried to rally, but [illegible] calm eyes were fixed unflinchingly upon him, and he quailed beneath them.

"Go!" said Mr. Latimer, "and if you dare breathe a word against this young girl, I will expose you."

With pallid cheeks, Crawford fled from the house and the city. While Mr. Latimer turned to the excited and still weeping Carrie, and drew her to the sofa, where he seated himself beside her.

"If I had known," he said, "that this man's attentions were so hateful to you, I should have interfered before this. It was but yesterday that I learned his character entirely."

Carrie had long ago learned to repress her own emotions, and now she hastily brushed the tears away, and choking back the hysterical sob that was striving to burst forth, she looked up into the kind, calm face that was bent upon her with a faint smile and a few murmured words of thanks.

"Is there anything else I can do for you," he resumed, "in this unpleasant business?"

"O, if you will, Mr. Latimer!" broke out Carrie, tremulously.

"Anything; ask me what you will.—Don't fear me"

"There is a valentine he sent me—a diamond ring. Will you aid me in returning it?"

"Can you give it to me immediately?" he replied.

She brought it to him in the same enclosure as when she received it.

"Are you sure," he said, "it was Mr. Crawford who sent you this?"

"There has been no one else," she answered, smiling faintly, but still sadly, "who has ever shown enough preference for me to think otherwise."

"And yet Carrie, Mr. Crawford did not send you that valentine, but one who loved you far better than he."

She looked up into his face with a bewildered look, and said, simply:

"Who told you this, Mr. Latimer?"

"My own heart whispered it, when I thought another was bearing away the prize I longed to fold to my own bosom.

Still incredulous of the great happiness that awaited her, she put her hand upon his arm, and crushing back the large tears that were forcing themselves through her eyelids with her long eyelashes, she murmered touchingly:

"Don't mock me, Mr. Latimer."

"Carrie, I little tho't when, with a thousandpleasant fancies, I chose this gift for you that so much misunderstanding would occur."

The red rose had triumphed over the lily in her cheek; and when he asked her if he should return the ring to the giver, she murmured out something about his doing as he pleased. He took her at her word, and clasping that small hand in his, he slid the little circlet on her finger, saying, as he did so:

"Will you take the love that went with it months ago?"

She let her hand lie in his, and he drew her to his heart and murmered;

"Then smile on me lavishly,
Do not be chary,
And whisper, thou lovest me,
Sweet little Carrie!"

As Kate had said, before another Valentine came round, Mr. Latimer had a wife to be mistress of that "prettiest establishment in town;" though their surprise was unbounded when it was understood that their little cousin would hereafter write her naem as "Mrs. Latimer!"

Spirit Rappings Authenticated.—A few nights since, within this week, a young male friend of ours, who, from a sneering skeptic, had become a devout believer, retired to rest, after having his nervous system partially destroyed with the information, through the spirit of his grandfather, that he would become a powerful medium. He was in his first comfortable snooze when a clicking noise in the direction of the door awoke him. He listened intently; the noise was still going on—very like the raps of the spirit on the table, indeed!

'Who's there?'

There was no answer, and the noise stopped.

'Anybody there?'

No,' was the answer.

'It must have been a spirit,' he said to himself, 'It must be a medium. I'll try—[Aloud.] If there is a spirit in the room it will signify the same by saying 'aye'—no that's not what I mean. If there is a spirit in the room, will it please to rap three times?'

Three very distinct raps were given in the direction of the bureau.

'Is it the spirit of my sister?'

No answer.

'Is it the spirit of my mother?'

Three raps.

'Are you happy?'

Nine taps.

'Do you want anything?'

A succession of very loud raps.

'Will you give me a communication if I get up?'

No answer.

'Shall I hear from you to morrow?'

Raps very loud again; this time in the direction of the door. He waited long for an answer to his last question, but none came. The spirit had gone; and after thinking on the extraordinary visit he turned over and fell asleep.

On getting up in the morning he found that the spirit of his mother had carried off his watch and purse; his pants down into the hall, and his great coat off altogether. —[Detroit Advertiser.

☞"You are at the very bottom of the hill," said the physician to a sick patient, 'that I shall endeavor to get you up again.' [illegible] hall be out of breath before I [illegible]p," was the reply.

Communications.

Written for The Republican.

Novel Reading, No. 1.

BY C. J. SUIVALF.

"I have fed,
Perhaps too much upon the lotos fruits,
Imagination yields; fruits that unfit
The palate for the more substantial food,
Of our own land—Reality."

Landon.

Never can man have more perfect masters, or form associations which exert a wilder and deeper influence upon all his character, than the books which he reads—the works of literature with which his mind is brought in contact from day to day. This is the food on which our mental constitutions grow and thrive; and, like that portion of aliment which gives constant growth to the body, is destined sooner or later to become a part of our mental and moral being. Not sooner does man's physical frame grow weak and indigent without the assimilation of new particles of matter to itself, than does his mental and moral being ineffective and valueless without the entrance of new ideas; which by being revolved and re-produced in the mind, give to it life, energy, poetry, and beauty: and not sooner do our bodies become disordered and unhealthy, by the use of improper and unnatural food, than do our minds grow weak and purile, by the entrance and permanent lodgment of improper and unatural thoughts.

Books are in fact, in the present age, the great architects of man's character.—True it is, that time was when in their scarcity they carried but little influence with them, but time is when the balanced vane suspended under the wide free heavens, would sooner swing out at right angles to the passing wind, than the moral character and intellectual calibre of any individual, fail to be a sure index of the nature of the books he reads. Sooner might the tiny bark upon the ocean, boast itself of power to resist the strength of the sweeping tempest, or the chain bound captive at the stake expect to pass through the fiery ordeal unscathed by the burning fagots, than man in the nineteenth century of being uninfluenced by the tide of literature which rolls its swelling surges over all our land, carrying with it into every cove and inlet the suds of holiness or vice.

Let man boast of his power to resist temptations when delivered orally, let him glory in his inborn ability to distinguish good from evil, let him pride himself on his abhorrence of vice when seen in her natural habiliments, but never, no never let him idly boast of power to resist all that comes to him, dressed in the glittering guise of polished sentences, a refined style, and graceful expressions: when he knows not that underneath and behind it all, lies a malaria deadlier than the infectious breath of the spreading contagion, which he, though unconsciously, breathes through his hollow gauze work of beautiful expressions and a graceful style.

Such is the common character of the novels of the present day, and were all that truly is injurious in our literature to be destroyed, we might look in vain for fictitious tales, or the "Love stories," and "Thrilling novelets," of our periodicals which come reeking hot from the poisoned imaginations of their writers, only to destroy the purity and freshness of the minds and characters of those who read them.

In taking a position thus bold and decisive, we are not unaware of the fact that we stand in the way of the gratification of diseased imagination, which like a diseased appetite is deeply rooted, and its branches are spreading wider still, for long has this tree of bitter fruits been watered by the broad tide of popular passion, and drawn its sustenance from that peculiar sort of ignorance which mortals some times fall into when in the charmed presence of their thoughts love. But, at the same time we are also aware, that behind and back of all these assertions, lie reasons which in the just balance of morality and judgment, have not been, and cannot be, out-weighed by all the votaries of fiction.

Novel readers are in fact excelled by none of the classes of society in self inflicted injuries. Urging no higher plea than their love of passionate excitement, and standinding upon no broader basis than a depraved and misdirected taste, they devour with an indifference alike to good or bad all that is wafted to them on the broad sea of fiction, and no idel fancy can be too light, no overdrawn picture of vice and licentiousness to gross or huge in its innate virulence, no sketch of humanity too unnaturally deformed, but that the gaping Maelstroom of their unreined taste is wide enough to swallow down all, beneath the dark waters of its roaring vortex. Would to God that it were also deep enough to retain them there, so that after passing down this dark cavern we might know of them no more! But no: not surer does the dreadful whirlpool disgorge its rotting and mutilated load, and spread the placid ocean with horrible and ghastly forms, than do the influences taken into the minds dark depths in novel reading return again to the surface, to stain by their impurity the freshness of character, and to distort by their unnatural shapes the vigor and energy of intellectual being.

Not many of those who read polite class of novels, know its inevitable influence on their minds. Not many know that it is at the peril of their highest and noblest faculties. Not many who revel in the pages of a Bulwer, or sweep through the intricate plots of a Dickins, known that they are breathing and atmosphere filled with the deadliest effluvia the mind can reach.—Would that all who are ignorant of its effects, could be saved from its baneful influences. But no: the man who swallows arsenic by mistake, not knowing its poisonous qualities, is overtaken by death's cold hand as soon as he who knows its nature; so the ignorant and wise are affected alike by this practice, and while the latter are unreclaimable because their indulgence is voluntary after knowing its effects, the former and by far the greater class might be induced to turn from it did they but know that it was "for their life."

To endeavor to accomplish this result—to show the influence which this practice has upon the affections, intellect, and morality—to develope the means by which it undermines the better faculties of man and substitutes in their place those which unfit him for the labors and proper enjoyments, of life with the arguments and illustrations to this end, will constitute another article.

Keeseville, Feb. 1853.

Court Scene.

"Sir!" said a fierce lawyer, "do you on your solemn oath, swear that this is not your hand writing?"

"I reckon not," was the cool reply.

"Does it resemble your writing?"

"Yes sir, I think it don't."

"Do you swear that it don't resemble your writing?"

"Well I do, old head"

"You take your solemn oath that this writing does not resemble yours in a single letter?"

Y-e-a-s, sir!"

"Now, how do you know?"

"Cause I can't write."—Knickerbocker Magazine.

☞Mr. B—, a well known metropolitan printer, once told us that on one occasion an old woman from the country came into his printing-office with an old Bible in her hand.

"I want," said she, that you should print it over ag'in. It's gettin' a leetle blurred, sort of, and my eyes isn't what they was. How much do you ax?"

"Fifty cents."

"Can you have it done in half an hour?—wish you would; want to be gettin' home; live good ways out o' tecwn."

"Certainly."

When the old lady went out, he sent round to the office of the American Bible Society and purchased a copy for fifty cents.

"Lor' sake a massy!" exclaimed the old lady, when she came to look at it, "how good you've 'fixed' it!—it's e'en-a'most as good as new! I never see nothin' so our'ous as what printin' is!"—Ibid.

☞An old and cherished friend, doubtless at this present moment in Seville, old Spain, in company with a companion whose genius has made him world-renowned, mentioned to us one evening a little circumstance that reminded us not a little of "Grandfather Whitehead," so intimitably represented by Placide the elder.

"I'm all right," said an old city merchant, to a friend who had congratulated him upon his hale old age, "I'm all right, only I can't remember any thing: memory's gone; forget everything that I wanted to remember when I left home: can't think o' nothing."

"Why don't you keep a little memorandum book? That would always refresh your memory."

"Well I do keep one; but I can't remember to bring it down with me. I'm very forgetful—very."

"Past surgery," dear Sir—"past surgery!"—Ibid.

☞The Detroit Free Press speaking of the street beggars in that city, tells the following anecdote of a little boy who begged all his victuals:

A little ragged urchin, begging in the upper part of the city, the other day, was asked by the lady of a house, after filling his basket, if his parents were living?

"Only dad, marm," said the boy.

"Then you've enough in your basket, now, to feed the family for some time," said the lady.

"Oh! no I haven't neither," said the lad, "for dad and me keeps five boarders; he does the housework, and I does the market'n."

☞An old fellow thus describes, by two styles of definition, the thing known as "Transcendentalism:"

"Ye see, I have tew definitions—one vulgar and t'other refined. The refined definition is this, and I've gin it afore,—Transcendentalism is an attempt to penetrate the Unknown; to measure, and sound, and define that which has neither depth, nor size, nor form; to analyze the soul, and to make its relations to another world a part of the universal chaos which covers everything. My vulgar definition is this: Transcendentalism is an attempt by philosophers to measure the Almighty in a quart-pot!"

☞A Paris paper says:—On Monday, a young girl, whose mind had been affected by the death of her lover, attracted a large crowd on the Point Royal Paris, by exclaiming, 'The world is nothing! Why live? Earth conceals another existence. You think you die; but, on the contrary, it is then you are born. He calls me, I go to him!" And before she could be prevented, she climed on the parapet, and threw herself into the Seine. She was rescued by some boatmen.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

From the Plattsburgh Republican.

Customs business of the District of Champlain.

We have recently made some inquiries at the Custom House in this place, in relation to the amount and kind of business transacted; and while we anticipated a large increase over former years, we were not prepared to expect the very decided increase which has taken place during the last twelve months. We are indebted to L. W. Pierce, Esq. for divers facts and figures relating to the customs business, which we take great pleasure in laying before the public. It appears that the whole amount of moneys received from customs during the year ending December 31st 1852, is as follows:

Cash received 1st quarter		$8,720 12
" " 2d	"	15,919 43
" " 3d	"	16,510 25
" " 4th	"	43,143 39
Total am't of duties received in 1852.		$87,399 19

This large sum has been quietly received by the Collector in gold and silver, and has been promptly paid out by him upon drafts or deposited according to the directions of the Secretary of the Treasury.

The receipts from customs at this port during the year 1851, was $51,849 81—showing an increase during the year 1852, over that of 1851, $35,452,38.

These figures demonstrate the growing importance and prosperity of busines upon this frontier, far more conclusively than it is possible for any words of ours to do.

We have before us the St. Lawrence Republican of the 18th ultimo, which contains a statement of the customs business of the port of Ogdensburgh for 1852. The whole amount of moneys received from customs during that year at that port was only $25,783 63. Taking into account the proximity of Ogdensburgh to the Canada line, and its position in respect to the business of the great Lakes and River St. Lawrence, we confess we were not prepared for the great contrast which the foregoing figures show.

Although we have no accurate data on which to found and opinion, yet it is tho't that the receipts from the port of Burlington, will fall very considerably below those received in this District.

The following are some of the duty paying articles which have been imported into this District during the year 1852, viz:—

Horses,	Number,	1339
Cattle,	"	776
Sheep,	"	151
Swine,	"	148
Fowls,	"	3364
Eggs,	Dozens,	597,487
Straw Hats,	"	11,454
Butter,	Pounds,	693,468
Pork, Fresh,	"	73,065
Poultry	"	13,937
Rags,	"	371,742
Wool,	"	11,213
Fish,	Barrels,	1,038
Oats,	Bushels,	234,284
Peas,	"	30,533
Beans,	"	1,039
Barley,	"	2,633
Buckwheat	"	369
Corn,	"	66
Wheat,	"	685
Salt,	"	15,436
Potatoes,	"	462
Linseed,		11,869
Lumber, Dressed,	Feet	5,869,424
Do Undressed,	"	8,961,952
Timber, Sq're & Round	ft.,	700,000
Shingles, M.,		7,505

The total value of imports paying duties is 3436,195 88, and the amount of goods imported in bond has increased in a threefold ratio during the past year.

There is one item in the above list which furnishes indisputable evidence of the industry and artfulness of the Canadian hens. A better idea of the vast numbes of eggs which have been imported into this District, can be formed, when it is known, that in the ordinary mode of packing, they would fill nearly 4000 barrels.

We are also reminded of the great change which has taken plage in the direction of the lumber trade, since the construction of the Northern Canal; indeed it has been entirely reversed. Within the recollection of many of our citizens, nearly all the lumber which was cut on the borders of Lake Champlain, found market in Quebec—thence it was exported to Great Britain. This trade owing to the perilous navigation of the St. Lawrence for rafts and cribs, and the differences between the two governments was always hazardous, and I believe generally, unsuccessful. Those engaged in it at the commencement of the last war with England, met with severe losses. Now, however, the immense forrests on the borders of the Ottawa, and other tributaries of the St. Lawrence, both above and below Montreal, are transported via Lake Champlain and the Northern Canal to our southern markets.

We should not do our whole duty, if we omitted in this connection, to allude to the prompt, efficient, and at the same time, courteous and highly satisfactory manner in which the business of the Custom House has been conducted by O. D. Peabody, Esq. and his associates. Mr. Peabody received the appointment of Collector of this port from President Fillmore nearly two years ago, since which time, he has become well and favorably known through the District. L. W. Pierce, Esq., is a model Clerk.—For accuracy, faithfulness and unremitting attention to business, he has no superior—while his excellent qualities of head and heart have endeared him to all our citizens. This may be thought strong praise—coming, as it does, from a political opponent; but we know it to be deserved.

The laws of party politics—now universally acknowledged and acted upon by both parties—will soon demand the removal of these faithful officers; and though as politicians, we may entirely concur—yet as men, we are sometimes almost inclined to regret that those laws are so inflexible.

[From the Washington Rep.]

Postmaster General's Report.

On the 1st November 21,191 post offices were in operation in the United States.—The aggregate length of the mail routes at the close of the fiscal year-30th June-was 214,284 miles; the annual cost of transportation $3 039,971, or about 6 7-10 cts. per mile. The routes have been increased in the year to the extent of 17,994 miles at an annual increase of cost of $518,217.

Of the six foreign mail routes, three are under cotract with the Post Office Department, three with the Navy Department.—The annual cost of the former is $400,000; of the latter, $1,495,250, including the additional compensation voted to the Collins line. The conveyance of the mails across the Isthmus of Panama last year cost 22 cents per pound.

The gross receipts of the Department during the year were $6,925,971, of which $4 226,762 were derived from letter postage, $789,236 from newspapers and periodicals, $164,855 from letter carriers.—From the total must be deducted the sum payable to the British post office, amounting to $101,988. The receipts, foreign and domestic, show a decrease of $1,338,223 as compared with those of the previous year; attributable to the reduction of rates made by the act of March 1851. Altho' this falling off conflicts with the calculations of the more sanguine advocates of cheap postage, the Postmaster General reasons against a return to higher rates.—To secure for the experiment a fair trial, however, he urges the necessity of securing to the Department all the receipts which the law has assigned for its support. He refers to the present illegal practice of transmitting letters by express or other private conveyance; but states that letters may be so sent when enclosed in the stamped envelopes now in course of preparation.

Alluding to the proceedings of the association formed in London for the purpose of promoting a cheap and uniform system of international postage, the Postmaster General, while admitting the desirableness of the object, regards its adoption as inexpedient in the imperfect state of our foreign postal arrangements.

The total expenditures during the year were $7,118,459 of which, $4,225,311 were for the transportation of mails, $1,296,765 compensation to postmasters, $456,591 extra compensation to the same, $548,916 for clerks for offices, $204,355 for payments to letter carriers.

The expense of the current fiscal year are estimated at $8,745,777, and the receipts at $7,417,790; leaving a deficit of $1,327,986 to be provided for by direct appropriation from the treasury. A large appropriation will probably be necessary.

The report draws attention to the extremely unsatisfactory performance of the mail service between New York and Washington; explaining that it arises from a want of unity on the part of the railroad companies interested, and of accommodation on the part of the companies running between New York and Philadelphia.—The Postmaster General suggests that Congress should consider if it cannot remedy the evil by the exercise of its power over the establishment of post roads, and this suggestion, we are sure, will receive the hearty support of the citizens interested in the route. The manner in which the service has been performed during the past week is as disgraceful as it is inconvenient.

Preliminary arrangements have been made for carrying out the intentions of Congress in regard to providing for daily mail service between Louisville and Cairo, St. Louis and Cairo, Cairo and Memphis, and Memphis and New Orleans; and a belief is expressed that the arrangements when completed will meet the just demands of that section of the country. It is expected that the great through line from New York to New Orleans will be rendered more expeditious next year by the completion of the Washington and Manchester railroad.

The failure of the contractor to fulfil efficient service between Salt Lake city and Sacramento, in California, has led to an arrangement with another contractor, who is to establish and maintain a fortified post at Carson's Valley.

The whole amount of postages on matter received and sent by the Collins line of steamers, during the year, was $228,867; by the New York and Bremen line, $77,219; by New York and Havre line, $80,804; by Charleston and Havana line, $11,958. The performances of the Collins line are spoken of in terms of strong commendation. The proprietors of the Bremen and Havre lines desire increased remuneration to enable them to perform additional trips, and to meet the requirements of the service by changing the terminus of the route from Havre to Antwerp. The Postmaster General alludes to the increasing trade with Germany, and the immense number of emigrants from that country, as reasons for favorably considering the application. Owing to the recent postal convention between the United States and Prussia, the larger part of the continental (European) correspondence, which formerly went via Bremen, is now sent via London, Ostend, and Aix la Chapelle. An advantageous postal arrangement with Belgium is anticipated. France, too, proposes a postal treaty with the United States, and the establishment of a union line of mail stem ships direct between New York and Havre. Under an arrangement with Britain, plans have been matured for a regular mail arrangement between the United States and the West Indies generally, and points on the coast of Mexico and northern coast of South America, at which the British mail packets touch. The postal arrangements with Canada and New Brunswick operate advantageously, and are to be extended to Nova Scotia.

The inconvenient and burdensome character of the existing acts of Congress restricting the allowance of additional commissions for postmasters is pointed out in a letter by Mr. Farrelly, the Auditor, who recommends a repeal of the provisions requiring the present mode of settlement, and a return to the old system of uniform rates of commission on the amount of postage collected. In this recommendation the Postmaster General concurs. The Auditor also recommends that a postmaster should be allowed a small compensation for delivering from his office to a subscriber each newspaper not now chargeable with postage.

Estimates by the auditor—embraced in this report—show that the total number of paid and unpaid letters which passed thro' the post offices in the United States during the year was 95,790,524; of which 4,421,517, were conveyed by European steamers; 99,372 by Havana steamers; 1,495,537 by California steamer. The dead letters numbered more than 3,000,000.—The newspapers and other packages of printed matter chargeable with postage were 87,740,498; exchange newspapers, 7,073,574; newspapers circulated free within the counties where published 20,000,000.

Laws of New York.

BY AUTHORITY.

[Every Law, unless a different time shall be prescribed therein, shall commence and take effect throughout the State, on and not before the twentieth day after the day of its final passage, as certified by the Secretary of State. Sec. 12, title 4, chapt 1, Revised Statutes.]

[Every Law so published in the State Paper, may be read in evidence from the paper in which it shall be contained, in all courts of justice in this State, and in all proceedings before any officer, body or board, in which it shall be thought necessary to refer thereto, until three months after the close of the session in which it became a law. Sec. 8 title 7, chap. 8, part 1, Revised Statutes; and laws of 1845, chap 280.]

CHAP. 1.

An Act to extend the time for the collection of taxes of one thousand eight hundred and fifty-two.

Passed January 23, 1853—three fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

§ 1. If any collector of taxes in any of the cities or towns of this State, except the cities of New York, Brooklyn, Williamsburgh, Albany and Troy, shall within the time now provided by law, pay over all the moneys collected by him, and shall within ten days thereafter renew his bond to the satisfaction, in towns, of the supervisor of such town, or in his absence or disability, of the clerk; and in any city, in the manner in which collector's bonds are now approved, to be expressed in writing upon such bond, and which bond shall be filed and have the effect of a collector's bond as provided by law, and shall also within the time aforesaid deliver to the county treasurer of his county a certificate of the approval of such bond, signed by the officer making such approval, then the time for collecting the taxes and making the returns thereof, shall be extended to the first day of March next.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

State of New York, } I certify that I
Secretary's Office. } have compared the preceding with the original law on file in this office, and that the same is a correct transcript therefrom and of the whole of said original.

HENRY S. RANDALL, Secretary of State.

A FULL STATEMENT

Of the Affairs of the Mohawk Valley Farmer's Insurance Company, on the thirty first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and fift-two. The office of said Company is located at Scotia.

The amount of capital stock of this corporation paid in and secured to be paid in, or invested according to the provisions of its character, is in premium notes, and notes for cash, based upon applications for insurance to the amount of $106,453 23.
Received since the period of organizing, being the 28th day of July, 1851, in additional premium notes and cash premiums, 95,344 93		$201,798 16
The amount of said capital stock, with said aditional premium notes and cash premiums as aforesaid received, and possessed by this corporation, over and above its losses, expenses and cancelled premium notes.		174,804 83
The whole amount of debts owing to this corporation, and which are mostly secured by good bonds, 17,745 83.
Office furniture, stationery and fixtures on hand, 564,61		18,310 44
The whole amount of losses of this corporation, including losses on fire insurances paid, expenses, fees paid by agents, expenses in organizing this corporation, and for office furniture, fixtures and stationery,		14,339 61
In addition to the above, there is claimed for losses on proofs expenses and accounts unadjusted,		7,601 01
Amount of claims not acknowledged as debts,		900 00
The amount for which this corporation is bound as surety, and for which it may become liable on the happening of contingent events, is, on policies of insurance,		1,576498 11

STATE OF NEW YORK }
Schenectady County, } ss.

ADAM C. VAN PATTEN, President, and JASPAR BELL, Secretary, of the Mohawk Valley Farmer's Insurance Company, being severally duly sworn, depose and say, and each for himself says, that the foregoing is a full, true and correct statement of the affairs of the said corporation, to the best of their knowledge and belief, and that they are the above subscribed officers, and the officers thereof.

A. C. VAN PATTEN.
JASPER BELL.

Subscribed and sworn, before, me this 29th day of January, 1853.

D. SMITH, J. P.

JAMES B. DICKINSON, Ausable Forks, General Agent.

We are indebted to Hon
nett for valuable Legislati which he will please accept

The Republican.

KEESEVILLE:
Saturday, Morning Feb 19.

The Union of Lakes, the Union of Lands,
The Union of States none can sever,
The Union of Hearts, the Union of Hands,
The Flag of Our UNION—Forever."

WHIG CAUCUS.

THE Whigs of the town of Chesterfield are requested to meet at the office of Harevy Carter, in the Village of Keeseville, on Saturday the 26th day of February inst. at half past six o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of nominating town officers to be elected for the ensuing year. A general attendance of whigs is earnestly requested.

OLIVER KEESE, Jr.
SAML. AMES and
MARTIN FINCH.
Dated Feb. 18, 1853. Town Committee.

"Fight on fight ever."

The near approach of the election of town officers affords a fitting opportunity to say a word to whigs, and we do so with more than ordinary anxiety. We have but just passed through a campaign in which divisions, dissensions & defeat overwhelmed our friends all around us. Without union, broken and distracted, with no leader to whom all look with confidence, the future of the whig party is unknown. Under such circumstances the whigs of Essex Co. go into the spring elections.

What effect are these things to have on us? Are we to give way to dissensions too? are we to sit supinely and let town meetings go by default? Are we to despair because defeat has overtaken our friends abroad? Of course not! whigs of Essex county point to a banner that now trails in the dust. In the general wreck of the late campaign Essex county alone "improved upon herself." Many towns achieved unparalleled and unexpected victories. They are looked to with confidence to maintain their position, and much is expected of individual whigs who are remembered with gratitude and will be duly honored. Like Leonidas and his little band at the Pass of Thermopylæ, let the whigs of old Essex resist the onward tide of democratic victory, and their example will nerve whigs abroad to another and a victorious struggle in that day of victory let it not be said that we too fainted but rather that our unwavering fidelity arrested and reversed the tide of triumph. In view of these matters let us urge whigs to "Fight on fight ever." We would say, be victorious—and take all the necessary precautions to this result. Select the right men for successful candidates, and let no personal, local, or unimportant matter interfere with a devoted, united and efficient labor." Believing that every whig in the county shares in the feelings which suggest these remarks, and would equally rejoice in the glory of the result which such action as we have suggested would produce, we await the returns with confidence.

Reprints.—We are in receipt of Blackwood for Jan. and the Westminister Review a quarterly. They present the following attractive table of contents: Blackwood, Slavery and the Slave Power in the U. S., my Novel &c., Lady Lee's Widowhood, Part 1. Thomas Moore, Defeat of the British Ministry, etc.—Westminister, Mary Tredon, Condition and prospects of Ireland, Noxious and Beneficial charities, Daniel Webster, contemporary Literature America, Germany and France, etc. To those who seek a high and elevated standard of literature these re-prints commend themselves as the productions of the most eminent and talented transatlantic scholars. We would call attention to the advertisement in another column, and to the reduction in postage. These are among the few publications about which there is no humbug, and the increased circulation to the exclusion of the trash of the day.

The Knickerbocker.—This magazine, familiarly called 'old knick" is the host of American Monthlies. The "Editor's table" is allowed to excel in number and excellence of its dishes of wit, anecdote and literary gems, anything of the kind now published. It is characterised, also by pure, American Literature. The Feb. number contains, among others, the following articles: Journeying in Spain in 1852, Sketches in South Africa, my first battle, the country Doctor, the Little Nell, the man who married his Grandmother, &c., &c.—The price has been reduced from $5 to $3 a year. Postage only 2 cents a number.—Address, Samuel Hueston, 139 Nassau St. N. Y. We are informed by the Editor that since the reduction in price its circulation has increased four to one—and it is well merited.

Amenities of Politics.—In the article from the Plattsburgh Republican on the "customs business of the district of champlain" is a very handsome compliment to the collector and his clerks. There is no reason why political differences should make personal enemies, and Col Stone thus adds another proof of his well known liberality. He affords a striking contrast to some of his democratic cotemporaries, who might improve themselves, by his example.

The President elect left home yesfor Washington. Like a sensible man he has peremptorily declined all ay on his route.

Written for The Republican.

Charity begins at Home.

In our own village may be found to day a woman the mother of several children whose husband, a drunken vagabond, long since ran away and left her to struggle alone and unaided for the support of herself and family. This she did successfully till prostrated by disease and for long months she has been unable to rise from a sick bed. Her only hope and support have been in the mercy of God and the charity that begins at Home. Another poor widow and her helpless children have been for years and are now mainly supported by the liberality and charity of one individual well known to all our unfortunate destitute and suffering poor.

Two or three African families enjoying the blessings of Freedom in the North are to day suffering physical wants, and destitution unknown to Southern Slaves. Living in freezing shantys, without comfortable food or clothing—no wood, no nothing, not even the visits of boasting philanthropists who give freely to run slaves from comfortable homes into the same miserable, starving, freezing, uncared for suffering and want. Not long since a box of comfortable clothing was sent from this village to relieve suffering in a distant land. When at the same time the writer of this was called to see a family consisting of a Father and Mother with several small children. The Father was from home, drunk at one of our grog shops, the mother a worthy woman had gone out washing to earn bread to save her children from starvation.—Three little ones remained at home the oldest a little girl about nine years and the youngest about three months!—Crowding around an old stove in which the fire was nearly exhausted, these little sufferers were endeavoring to get their dinner, coarse flour, mixed with water baked in pan-cakes on the griddle. The youngest with bare arms and legs, its only covering a baby's chemise was crying itself wild, while her sister about six was vainly engaged in quieting her cries with a dipper of cold water! not a drop of milk—a crust of bread an ounce of meat or a potatoe in the house, or a stick of wood in the yard.

I could not but think of Randolph's reply to the kind hearted ladies in Washington who were engaged in making garments for the suffering Greeks.

As he left the room in which they were employed he saw in the streets a number of little negroes with about as much clothing to protect their persons as our first parents wore in Eden while in a state of sinless innocence. Retracing his steps Randolph opened the door and with the greatest gravity simply remarked; "Ladies the Greeks are here."

X.

H. B. NORTHRUP, Whig candidate for Congress, from the Washington District, is in Washington from the South. The New York Legislature some years ago, passed a law authorizing the Governor to take measures to restore to freedom its colored citizens, kidnapped into slavery. Governor Hunt issued a commission to Northrup to recover a free colored citizen of New York, kidnapped from Washington, twelve years ago, and sold into slavery. The man was an old servent in Northrup's family. He was found away on the Red River, and had not before been able to communicate his whereabouts. Senator Soule, and the citizens of the South generally, lent every facility and assistance to the recovery of the man, and Mr. Northrup expresses much gralitude for their aid.—[Troy Post.

Illustrated Family Friend.—This is the title of one of the best family papers in the country—especially for a family of children and youth. It is highly literary, but to us its peculiar merit is the attention it devotes to natural history, with illustrations, attractive to the eye of youth. Printed at Columbia, S. C. Terms, $2 a year. S. A. Godman, Editor. We are indebted to brother Godman for several productions of his, addresses, tales, &c., the perusal of which have been interesting, not diminished by the fact that they came a great distance, from the sunny south to the wintry north.

Graham's Mag. for March.—Is thus early at hand and is a "bright particular star" in Graham's galaxy. Several articles are illustrated of which we notice, the Beggar's daughter of Bednal Green, Spring, the brothers, &c. A trial of Painters, Fusile, Wilked, and cruikshank, is an interesting article with a plate. Altogether, Graham is determined not to be outdone in the way of pleasing the eye, and the taste of his readers. With this unyielding resolution he sends forth a spirited and attractive monthly, which is rapidly gaining in public estimation.

Gleason's Pictorial.—continues to improve—if such a thing were possible—the two late numbers excelling all others—Among other extraordinary undertakings is a Portrait of each of the members of the U. S. Senate.

ROW IN THE LEGISLATURE—A MEMBER ARRESTED.—The speaker ordered a member under arrest last Saturday for refusing to vote. It was a brother democrat and a matter to be settled in the "family." O, the felicity of harmony!

☞The important ship canal which is to unite Lake Superior and Michigan will soon be begun. The canal will be less than a mile long. The law of Congress provides that the locks shall be at least 250 feet long and 60 wide, and the Michigan Legislature has power to enlarge the dimensions.

The Illustrated Magazine of Art.

In Monthly Parts. Price 25 cents each.

Every arrangement has been made to produce a work of unparalleled magnificence, regardless of cost.

The Editor, Mr. Cassell, has published a similar work in England during the past year, under the title of "Illustrated Exhibitor and Magazine of Art," the circulation of which has averaged 60,000 each number.

Encouraged by the success which has attended this enterprise, he has resolved to present to the American public a magazine of still higher pretensions—one, indeed, which will prove the pictorial wonder of the age. Each number will consist of sixty-eight pages, royal octavo, printed on the finest paper. The illustrations will be intrusted to the first artists of the world.—Six monthly parts will form a handsome volume.

The work will be so conducted as to embrace the greatest variety of matter in its various departments, upon each of which the highest literary talent will be employed.

The following is a brief outline of the plan of the Magazine:—

I. The Historical Department will abound with picturesque representations of the most remarkable events which have occurred in this and other countries; accompanied with interesting anecdotes and details from the pens of the most eminent writers of the day. This department will contain several splendid engravings, designed by the first artists of the world, engraved in the highest style of modern art.

II. The Men and Women of the Age.—This department will consist of beautifully executed portraits of the leading characters of the age, especially of those who figure on the stage of humanity as the world's benefactors. Each portrait will be accompanied by an interesting biographical sketch.

III. The wonders of Natural History, Botany, and other sciences, will be developed in choice Engravings of Beasts, Birds, Fishes, Insects, Forest Trees, Flowers, Geological and Fossil specimens, &c., with accompanying descriptions.

IV. The triumphs of Architectural Art will be displayed in exquisitely finished representations of Cathedrals, Churches, Palaces, and other models of ancient and modern Architectural Art.

V. The works of the Great Masters, selected from the principal Galleries of Art in the world. In general, the portrait of the Master will be given, accompanied with a highly finished, engraved copy of his chef d'œuvre.

VI. The scientific portions will be rendered highly interesting by the familiar explanations, and the numerous diagrams, which will accompany each subject.

VII. Manufactures. The principal manufacturing process in use will be fully explained by minute details, and an abundance of beautiful engravings.

VIII. Machinery and Inventions will have due attention paid to them, and be described by numerous appropriate engravings.

IX. Ladies' Work Table Department will contain a rich variety of elegant and original patterns for various kinds of useful and ornamental work, with ample directions for copying them.

X. The literary department, independently of the various articles accompanying the illustrations, will comprise original and interesting narratives, contributed by the most popular writers of the day, with numerous illustrations.

In addition to the numerous and beautiful engravings incorporated in the letter-press, each number will contain four splendid engravings, and printed in a very superior manner upon superfine plate paper.

In every respect the Illustrated Magazine of Art will be decidedly superior to any pictorial magazine of the day. The paper the typography, the engravings, the literary articles, will far surpass its successful predecessor published in England, upon which such high eulogiums have been pronounced by the whole public press. Six of the monthly portions, when completed, will form a volume, which for interest, originality, value and beauty, will defy competition. It will not only be an interesting family book, but a rich ornament for the drawing-room table, and a pleasant companion in the study. ☞TERMS-$3 a year; to Clubs of three or more, $2,50 If paid in advance for twelve months, it will be sent postage free to any part of the Union.

AGENTS WANTED in every town throughout the U. S.

Any person receiving the first number, and canvassing with the same, will be certain of securing a large number of subscribers. No just conception can be formed of the elegance and beauty of the work from merely reading a printed prospectus. The Illustrations contained in each number will entail a cost, in drawing and engraving, of $2500 or $3000. All communications relating to the work to be addressed to ALEXANDER MONTGOMERY,
Publisher, 17 Spruce street, N. Y.

STATE OF NEW YORK, } SS.
County of Essex. }

The undersigned, Clerk of said County, hereby gives notice that at the County Clerk's office in Elizabethtown, in said County, on the 28th day of February inst at 10 o'clock, A. M. of that day, he will draw the names of 36 persons to serve as Petit Jurors at a County Court and Court of Sessions to be held at the Court House, in said town on the third Monday in March next, at 10 o'clock A. M. of that day.

Given and dated at the County Clerk's Office, this 14th day of February 1853.

E. A. ADAMS, Clerk

STATE OF NEW YORK, } SS.
County of Essex, }

The undersigned Clerk of said County hereby gives notice that at the Co. Clerk's office in Elizabethtown in said County on the 28th day of Feb. inst. at 10 o'clock A. M. he will draw the names of twenty four persons to serve as Grand Jurors at a County Court and Court of Sessions to be held at the Court House in said Town on the third Monday of March next, at 10 o'clock A. M. of that day.

Given and dated at the County Clerk's office this 14th day of February A. D. 1852.

E. A. ADAMS, Clerk,

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Selling off at Cost!

Barnum will sell the remainder of his Winter Stock of Hats, Caps, Furs, Fancy Robes, Gloves, Mittens, &c., at cost. A good assortment of Trunks, Valijses, Ladies and Gentlemen's Satchels and Carpet Bags, Umbrellas, Canes, Buckskin Gloves and Mittens, &c., on hand.

I. W. BARNUM.

College Street, 2nd Door from Church.

Burlington, Vt., Feb. 1, 1853.

SUPREME COURT,
GURDON GRANT,
AGST.
ERNOT CRARY,
ISAAC HEUSTIS,
JAMES GIBSON,
JOHN SAVAGE and
JOSEPHUS FITCH,

In pursuance of a decree or judgment of the Supreme Court made in the above cause, will be sold under the direction of the subscriber, Sheriff of the County of Essex, at public auction at the Adirondac Hotel, in the town of Chesterfield, in the County of Essex, on Monday, the 4th day of April next at ten o'clock in the forenoon: all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land lying and being in the town of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York lying between the Augur Pond and Barteraut Pond, beginning at the south west corner at a pine tree marked 1795, thence running north ninety-five chains, a little north of the south end of Augur Pond, thence east one degree north, twenty-five chains to the west line of lot No. three, thence south along the west line of lots No, three, four, five and eight to the corner of the last mentioned lot, thence south forty-five degrees west to Butternut Pond, thence along the north end of said Pond to the first place of beginning, containing two hundred and sixteen acres of land be the same more or less; which said lot of land is part of two tracts of land, formerly granted by the said State to John Williams deceased by letters patent, and is now conveyed subject to the conditions and reservations made by Anthony J. Blanchard his heirs and assigns in his conveyance thereof to one William Bromley to overflow as much of the said land at any time or times whatsoever as may be reasonably necessary convenient and useful for the accommodation of any Mills or Waterworks which are now or hereafter may be built or erected on the waters of the said Augur Pond, or the outlet thereof by the heirs or assigns of the said Anthony J., hereby retaining the same reservations as is contained in the said William's deed of the said premises to one Thomas McLean.

Dated the 19th day of Febuary, 1853.

C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff.
By J. C. FINCH, Deputy Sheriff.

SAML. AMES, Atty. 459-w7

BANK DEPARTMENT.

ALBANY, Jany 20th 1853.

NOTICE is hereby given in pursuance of the Statute made and provided, that all the circulating notes issued by the McIntyre Bank, at Adirondac, (an individual bank) must be presented at the office of the superintendent of the Banking Department of the State of New York, for payment within two years from the date of this notice, or the funds deposited for the redemption of the said notes will be given up to the said bank.

D. B. St. John, Supt.

Two years from Jany. 26, 1853. 459-2y

List of Letters remaining in the Post Office at Keeseville N. Y. Febv. 15th 1853.

Allen Ella	Lovell Maina H.
Arnold Harry	Loffer Joseph 3
Adams L. W.	Maughlin Michael
Armstead Wetherlen	Lalant Wilfrid
Baker Lyman	McNulty Ann Mrs.
Bruso Lewis 2	McGuire
Barwell Heman	McAmer Leonard
Breck Peter	Merry Joseph
Basher William	Merrill Aaat
Bellinger Morgan R.	Olongany M.
Bean Emely Miss	Patzon Pailey
Bigalow E.	Peron Leander
Clare Pat	Palmer Wm. F.
Conrad Mary Miss	Perry York
Cerey Adolph	Ponton Peart
Carrell Barney	Raymond Julian
Duffey Louis	Richard Aims
Dwire Lawrence	Stillman May 2
Emerson Mary	Shea Hannah
Franklin David	Strong L. M. Mrs.
Felt T. C. 2	Sheldon S. A. Mrs.
Gleeson Patrick	Stearns David
Gordon David W. 2	Strann D. B.
Guzie John	Thompson Edward
Grear Henry N.	Turner Mary Miss.
Harlbert Heber S.	Thompson Ann Mrs.
Heath Alfred	Tyler J. A.
Holman George 2	Todd William A.
Hillock Margaret	Tator Henry
Jordon James	Terris A.
Johnson L. J.	Taylor John
Keith Alfred	Virginia George
Keith James	Whitney Lawrence
Kenedy Michael	Whith Saah A. Mrs. 3
Lord Abraham 2	White John

C. D. BEAUMONT, P. M.

The Lily,

Amelia Bloomer, Editor and Proprietor.

The Fifth Volume, of the Lily will be commenced on the first of January, 1853, and will be published in folio form on the first and fifteenth of each month, at the low price of fifty cents a year.

It will continue to labor zealously and earnestly for the emancipation of Woman from the crushing evils of Intemperance—from the cruel enactments of unjust laws made without her consent—from the destructive influences of Costume and Fashion—from mistaken views of duty and personal effort, and for her elevation to her true position in society of perfect and entire equality in all that relates to her social, civil and religious rights and duties.

Its editorials, original communications, and selections will be calculated to promote these objects, and its columns will always be open to the discussion of all subjects connected with the interests of Woman.

All communications and business letters should be addressed—AMELIA BLOOMER, Seneca Falls, N. Y.

Read This.

Here is the Effect of less than One Dozen Boxes. Certificate of a Gentleman well known.

I do feel greatful for what "Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge" has done for me, and heartily wish all that are afflicted knew, as I do, its worth.

I commenced the use of the Lozenge in September last, soon after Mr. Renne introduced the article at our place, and I have gained my voice! and am congratulated daily by the business men on my returning health, which I attribute, under a good Providence, to the above Pitch Lozenge. EZRA FALKENBURY.

Whitehall, December 7, 1852.

Insurance Agency.

National Protection Insurance Company,
Saratoga Springs, Capital, $200,000
Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance Company,
West Scotia, N. Y., Capital, $100,000
Northern N. Y. Mutual Insurance Company,
Plattsburgh, N. Y., Capital, $100,000
Knickerbocker Fire Insurance Company,
Waterford, N. Y., Capital, $200,000
Northern N. Y. Live Stock Ins. Company,
Plattsburgh, N. Y., Capital, $50,000
Charter Oak Life Insurance Company,
Hartford, Vt., Capital, $200,000

Policies in the National Protection Insurance Co., and the Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance issued by the undersigned.

JAMES B. DICKINSON.

Office, Ausable Forks N. Y.
Saratoga Springs, Feby 7th, 1852.

WE, the undersigned, JOHN WILLARD, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court for the 4th Judicial District of the State of New York, and a resident of Saratoga Springs, with AUGUSTUS BOCKES, First Judge of the County of Saratoga, being likewise a resident of Saratoga Springs, and JOHN C. HULBURT, Surrogate of the County of Saratoga, also a resident of Saratoga Springs —do hereby Certify, that we are personally acquainted with the men composing the Board of Directors of the National Protection Insurance Company of Saratoga Springs. We take pleasure in availing ourselves of this opportunity in recommending to the Public, from a personal knowledge of the responsibility and character of their Board of Directors, that this Company is a sound and reliable institution, will deal fairly with the assured, and are fully competent to pay their losses. We therefore unhesitatingly recommend this Company as an institution in every respect worthy of a liberal patronage.

JOHN WILLARD,
A. BOCKES,
JNO. C. HULBURT.

JAMES B. DICKINSON,
Policy Agent, Ausable Forks.
Ausable Forks, Feb. 5th, 1852. 457-tf

$20 a Day.

Book Agents wanted, to sell Hayward's Gazatteer of the United States,

Just published and now ready for Canvassers.

THIS work, so invaluable to business men, gives a history of the settlement, general surface of the soil and state of agriculture, manufactures and population of every town in the United States, with valuable statistical tables a new map of the United States, &c.

An agent wanted for this county. Apply immediately to

HORACE WENTWORTH,
447-5w 86 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

RAIL ROAD

Through Keeseville!!

The Cars will stop 30 minutes in front of

Cardwell's Celebrated
CLOTHING STORE,

in order to give the passengers an opportunity to clothe themselves up in proper and appropriate costume, adapted to their destination whether North or South.

Almost every thing for the outer man in the shape of

Ready-Made Clothing,

may be found at this store,

Just returned from the South, and having on hand a very heavy stock of WINTER GOODS at this advanced stage of the season, great bargains are being made. All of my garments are cut and made up in the latest styles. Owing to the great increase in my trade, I have thought it a saving of time and labor to adopt the ONE PRICE SYSTEM which gives perfect satisfaction to all.

N. B. Wholesale Buyers will find it to their advantage to call and examine as they can buy just as cheap as at the South, and save their time, fare and freight.

☞ Sales exclusively for cash.

ADIRONDAC HOTEL BUILDING.

G. A. CARDWELL.

Keeseville, January 1, 1853.

KEESEVILLE ACADEMY.

The undersigned in behalf of the Trustees of Keeseville Academy, announce that the Spring Term will commence on Monday the 14th day of February inst. They have secured the services of the following Instructors.

Associate Principals { CHARLES H. DANN, Teacher of Language, Mathematics and Orthography. GILBERT FOWLER, Teacher of English Branches, Natural Sciences and Superintendent of the School.

Miss. NANCY A. POTTER, 1st
Miss. MARY F. RAY, Assistant Teachers.
Miss. ELLEN A. FISH, Teacher of Music.
Good Boarding Houses in the Village.

TERMS;

Common English Branches.....$3 00 per quarter
Higher " " .....1 00 extra "
Book keeping.....1 50 " "
Latin and Greek, each.....1 00 " "
French, Italian and Germain, each.....1 00 " "
Tuition is not charged for more than two of the above extras.
Music Instrumental.....$10 00 per quarter.
" Vocal.....1 00 " "
For French, Italian or Germain taken as a scole branches, the charge will be.....3 00 " "

Mr THAYER will give especial attention to young gentlemen and ladies expecting to engage in teaching.

Oliver Keese
Jacob D Kingsland
John Mattocks } Com. of Trustees.

Keeseville Feb. 14, 1853. 459

NOTICE.

IN consequence of the death of Elmund K. Bussing the firm of Kingsland Baber. & Co has been dissolved and the business will be continued in the same name and style by the undersigned.

WILLIAM W. KINGSLAND,
ALFRED BABER.
EDMUND KINGSLAND,
J. D. KINGSLAND,
JOHN S. BUSSING,
ABRAHAM BUSSING.

Keeseville, Feb 1st, 1853. 458-3w

NOTICE.

IN consequence of the death of Edmund K. Bussing, the firm of E. & J. D. Kingsland & Co. has been dissolved, and the business will be continued in the same name and style by the undersigned.

EDMUND KINGSLAND,
J. D. KINGSLAND,
JOHN S. BUSSING,
A. B. KINGSLAND,
ABRAHAM BUSSING.

Keeseville, Feb. 1st, 1853. 458-3w

Bounty Lands

PURCHASED AND OBTAINED BY

GEO. MOORE. Plattsburgh, N. Y.

December 6, 1852. 448tf

BUTTER FOR SALE.

Large quantity of good dairy Butter bought in large and small packages of the finest quality for sale at BOYNTON & SMITH.

Keeseville Jan. 27, 1853.

---

100 Teams Wanted!

TO draw boards and plank from Franklin Falls to Port Kent. Cash paid on delivery. For the lumber apply to George Tremble, at Franklin Falls.

PETER COMSTOCK.

Port Kent, Feb. 1, 1853. 457-tf

CLAPBOARDS.

500 seasoned Clapboards for sale by

E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Miscellaneous.

LEONARD SCOTT & Co.'s

LIST OF

BRITISH PERIODICAL

PUBLICATIONS.

Delivered in all the principal Cities in the United States, free of Postage, and forwarded by Mail, under the provisions of the late Post Office Law, at merely nominal rates.

1. THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW (Conservative)
2. THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (Whig.)
3. THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church.)
4. The WESTMINSTER REVIEW. (Liberal.)
5. BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tory.)

Although these works are destinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary Character which gives them their chief value, and in this they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the fatherly care of Christopher North, maintains its celebrity, and is, at this time, unusually attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that magazine, and first appearring in its columns both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such, works as "The Caxtons" and "My New Novel," (both by Bulwer,) "The Green Hand," "Katie Stewart," and other serials, of which, numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Messrs Scott & Co., so that Subscribers to the Reprint of that Magazine may always rely on having the earliest reading of these fascinating tales.

Terms and Premiums.

[See list of Premium Volumes below.]

	per ann.
For any 1 of the 4 Reviews and one Prem. vol.	$3,00
For any 2 of the 4 Reviews and one prem. vol.	5,00
For any 3 of the 4 Reviews and two prem. vol.	7,00
For all four of the Reviews and two prem. vol.	8,00
For Blaowood's, Magazine and one prem. vol	3,00
For Blackwood's & 3 Reviews and three prem vol.	9,00
For Blackwood's & the 4 Reviews and three prem. vol.	10,00

Payments to be made in all cases in advance.

The Premiums consist of the following works, back volumes of which will be given to new subscribers according to the number of periodicals ordered, as above explained.—

PREMIUM VOLUMES.

Foreign Quarterly Review (one year.)
Blackwood's Magazine (six months)
London Quarterly Review (one year.)
Bentley's Miscellaney (six months.)
Edinburgh Review (one year.)
Metropolitan Magazine (six months)
Westminster Review (one year.)

Consecutive Premium volumes cannot in all cases be furnished, except of the Foreign Quarterly Review. To prevent disappointment, therefore, where that work is not alone wanted. Subscribers will please order as many different works for premiums as there are volumes to which they may be entitled.

CLUBBING.

A discount of twenty five per cent from the above prices will be allowed to Clubs ordering four or more copies of any one or more of the above works, Thus: Four copies of Blackwood, or of one Review, will be sent to one address for $9; four copies of the four Reviews and Blackwood for $30; and so on.

No premiums will be given where the above allowance is made to Clubs, nor will premiums in any case be furnished, unless the subscription money is paid in full to the Publishers without recourse to an agent. Money current in the State where issued will be received at par.

Reduced Postage.

The following table will show the great reduction which has been made on these periodicals since 1843, and the vary trifling rates now charged.

	Per annum.
Prior to 1845, the postage on Blackwood was	$2 40
Prior to 1845, the postage on a single Review	1 12
From 1845 to 1851, the postage on Blackwood was	1 00
From 1845 to 1851, the postage on a Review was	50
In 1851 52 [average rate] on Blackwood was	75
In 1851 52 [average rate] on a Review	38
The present postage on Blackwood, is	24
The present postage on a Review is	12

[The rates are now uniform for all distances within the United States.]

At these rates surely no objection should be made to receive the works by mail, and thus ensuring their speedy, safe, and regular delivery.

☞ Remittances and communications should be always addressed, post-paid, to the Publishers,

LEONARD SCOTT & Co.,
79 Fulton Street, (entrance 54 Gold street,) 85 NEW YORK.

ASSIGNEES NOTICE.

All persons having claims against Joseph Hoffnagle of Willsborough, Essex County, New York that existed on or previous to the 1st day of April, A. D. 1850, are requested to present the same to the undersigned, assignee of said Hoffnagle, at the office of the Undersigned in Willsborough aforesaid, without delay, for settlement and liquidation—Dated January 25th 1853.

DUDLEY H. JONES, Assignee.

456:—3w.

TO PHYSICIANS.

THE subscriber offers for sale a well selected quantity of Medicine, of excellent quality. Also, a very fine Amputating and Trephining case of instruments. Also splints &c., adapted for fractures of the upper and lower extremities. The above will be disposed of at a cheap rate, as will a me[dium] suitable for an office. Apply at [the] E. & J. D. Kingslands & Co.

J. R. R[OSS]

Keeseville, July 29, 1853.

Business Cards.

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS,

(Successor to Nichols & Warren,)

WHOLESALE PAPER WAREHOUSE

And Paged Blank Book Manufactory,

— JOBBER AND RETAIL DEALER IN —

School and Classical Books,

English, French and American

Stationery, and Artist's Materials,

No. 4, Leavenworth Block, College Street,

BURLINGTON, Vt.

☞ Bank, Blank, Check or Memorandum Books made to order, from the best of Paper, and bound in the most thorough manner. All work warranted. Terms Cash. 448 tf

---

AUSABLE HOUSE,

MAIN STREET KEESEVILLE N. Y.

This large and convenient Hotel having been throughly repaired and refurnished, is now open for the reception of visitors and the accommodation of the

TRAVELLING PUBLIC.

The Ausable House is one of the largest and best arranged in Northern New York. No pains will be spared to make it a pleasant and popular resort for

PLEASURE PARTIES,

and Transient Visitors, as well as a comfortable Home for those wishing permanent Board and Rooms.

Good Horses and Carriages furnished at all times on the most reasonable terms.

The patronage of the public is most respectfully solicited.

J. W. REYNOLDS.

Keeseville Nov. 1st 1852. 445. 3m.

Livery Stable

BY

GEORGE G. FULLER.

HEAD OF MAIN STREET

(a few steps from the Bank,)

KEESEVILLE, NEW YORK

Where may be found at all times, the best of Horses and Carriages, on the most reasonable terms.

Montgomery House,

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA,

BY

Sherman & Wheelock.

K. SHERMAN, THERON WHEELOCK.

☞ Mr. Sherman was late a merchant at Moriah, Essex Co., N. Y., and Mr. Wheelock was late of the Mansion House, Troy, N. Y. 427tf

---

GEORGE P. WILKINSON,

(Successor to G. P. & J. B. Wilkinson,)

MANUFACTURER AND JOBBER IN

CLOTHING,

154 River Street, Corner of Congress,

427 tf TROY, N. Y.

G. P. SANBORN & Co.

APOTHECARIES HALL.

BURLINGTON, VT.

DEALERS IN

Drugs and Medicines, Chemical Perfumery, Teeth, Surgical Instruments, Gold and Tin Foil, Patent Medicines, and every variety of articles usually kept in this line of Business.

Oct. 25d, 1852. 6 m.

GEO. S. TARBELL,

WHOLESALE GROCER,

DEALER IN OIL AN

General Commission Merchant,

No. 65 Quay-Street, ALBANY.

ADKINS & FULLER,

Booksellers, Stationers, Binders

— AND —

PAPER RULERS,

KEEP constantly on hand or will supply Books, Maps, Charts, Pictures, Frames, and Periodicals of all kinds. Also Publications of the American Tract Society. Bibles and Sabbath School Books at their very low depository prices.

One door east of Pierce & Davey's Agricultural Store on College Street.

C. S. ADKINS, E. A. FULLER.

Burlington, July 4, 1850. 323

H. C. Blanchrd, M. D.,

HOMŒOPATHIC PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

Office 2 doors below Ausable House.

Rooms at Ausable House. 430

D. M. ARNOLD

Engineer and Surveyor,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

SURVEYING & Leveling for Rail Roads, Plank Roads, Mill Seats, &c. Land Surveying of all kinds done on shortest notice.

Office, opposite the Ausable House. 425tf

Dewey & Havens,

ATTORNIES AND COUNSELLORS AT LAW,

CROWNPOINT,

Essx County, N. Y.

E. M. DEWEY. 431 ly H. H. HAVENS.

J. B. DICKINSON,

AUSABLE FORKS, N. Y.

General INSURANCE AGENT,

For Fire, Life, Health and Live Stock Insurance Companies.

☞ Any business from abroad will receive prompt attention. 454

Silliman & Gardiner,

WHOLESALE DEALERS

in Pork, Fish,

SALT, PLASTER, &c.

OFFICE 17 CURTIS SLIP, New York.

339 RIVER St., Troy. 445

Dr. H. W. GOULD,

SURGEON DENTIST,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

Opposite the Ausable House. [389

WOOL

for Wool.,

J. APPLEYARD.

Burlington Advertisements

BURLINGTON

AGRICULTURAL WARE-HOUSE AND SEED STORE.

DAVEY & ALLEN,

No. 8, COLLEGE STREET, BURLINGTON, Vt.

Ploughs—Prouty & Mear's centre draught.

These ploughs have obtained a celebrity unparalleled, having taken the first premiums in this country and at the World's Fair in London. We have also Starbuck's and Tabor's celebrated Ploughs.

Our stock of Ploughs comprise a great variety of patterns and different sizes, calculated for sward and stubble land, wet meadows and recently drain ed swamps, where roots abound—among which also are the deep breaking up flat-mould-board, sub soil, &c., &c.

Harrows—triangular, square, Gedde's and Scotch.

Hay, Straw and Corn Stalk Cutters, either by hand or horse power; spiral, straight or circular knives.

Cultivators—of different kinds, steel tooth and cast iron.

Corn Shellers—a variety of patterns, Will shell from 5 to 100 bushels of corn per hour.

Fan Mills and Grain Cradles—Grant's unrivalled. We confidently recommend them as the best in use.

Seed Sowers—Batcheider's & Emery's, and other kinds.

Vegetable Cutters—for turnips and other roots,

Horse Powers, Threshers, Winnowers and Separators—Wheeler's Parent Railway Chain Horse Power This Power, both single and double geared, for one or two horses, has never been equalled for lightness in running, strength, durability and economy. The Thresher and Separator are too widely and favorably known to need our commendation. The combined Thresher and Winnower, (which is a new invention of last year) has not been so generally introduced. All who have used it express the highest approbation of its merits. We entertain no doubt that it is the most perfect, compact, and efficient machine now in use for threshing and winnowing grain, as it certainly is by far the cheapest and most economical.

Warranted to give satisfaction.

or be returned after a reasonable trial.

Saw Mill—Lawrence, used for sawing wood for locomotives on Railways, or by farmers for cutting stove fuel. With a one horse power it will cut 10 to 15 cords of wood twice in two per day.

AGRICULTURAL & HORTICULTURAL TOOLS AND IMPLEMENTS,

a great variety and extensive assortment, such as Hoes, Shovels, Spades, Rakes, Manure and Hay Forks, Scythes Snaths, Cattle Ties, Draft Halters and Trace Chains, Garden Syringes, Pruning Saws, Pruning and Budding Knives, Garden Shears and Twig Cutters, Grin stones, Patent Grindstone fixtures, rollers, barrel carrolls, &c., &c.

Grain, Field, Garden and Flower Seeds.—We are prepared to furnish Herd's Grass, Red Top, Lucerne, White Dutch, Southern, Western and Northern Clover Seed Beet, Turnip, Onion and Carrot Seed, at Wholesale and Retail at the lowest market prices

We have by far the largest and most complete assortment of Agricultural Implements Machines Feds and Garden Seeds to be found in the State, which we offer at our new and spacious Ware-Rooms to Farmers and Dealers on terms the most liberal. We are also Commission Merchants and Wholesale and Retail Dealers in heavy and shelf

HARDWARE,

Saddlery, Axles, Springs, Mechanic's Tools, House Trimmings and Furnishing Goods, Cutlery, Cross Cut, Mill and Circular Saws, Paints, Oils, Bird Cages, etc., etc., etc.

As agents of Messrs. D. Prouty & Co., Boston, Wheeler Millick & Co., Albany, J. T. Grant & Co., Troy, and others we can fill orders for Plows, Horse Powers, Threshers Fan Mills, Straw Cutters, &c., at manufacturers prices. A liberal discount made to Dealers.

ORDERS FROM ABROAD SOLICITED.

DAVEY & ALLEN.

Burlington, September 20, 1852. 439

BLANK BOOKS.

10,000 QUIRES BLANK BOOKS of our own manufacture, comprising every variety of Journals, Day, Invoice Cash and Letter Books, Ledgers and Records from Cap Quartos to Super Royal size made in the most thorough manner, either paged or unpaged, and at prices so low as to defy competition.

PAPER.

I have in store, and to arrive, 1000 Reams Wrapping Paper of assorted quality and size, 1500 Reams Writing, Cap, Letter Bath Post, Note and Envelope papers, which will be sold at Mill Prices.

School Books.

2000 Mandevill's, Saunders and Town's Series of Readers, 200 Mitchell's Geographies, 200 Smith's do., 400 Adams Arithmetics, 200 Greenleafs do 200 Colburn's do, 2200 Webster's spellers, 500 Town's spellers and definers, 100 Smith's Astronomy's, &c., &c.

Stationery.

200,000 Envelopes, 200 Gross Steel Pens, 20 gross Pen Holders. Also, Writing Ink in any quantity, and of the best manufacture which will be sold at New York or Boston prices.

I wish to reduce the present stock of the concern as low as possible, in the next two months, and buyers will find it for their interest to examine my stock and prices before purchasing.—Terms Cash.

Orders solicited by Mail or Express.

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS.

Burlington, Nov. 23, 1852. 446 3m

NEW GOODS AT Nichols, 150 Church Street.

IN consequence of our large spring sales, we have been induced to purchase a very large and full stock of

Foreign & Domestic Goods

for the fall trade, which we now offer at exceedingly low prices. We have not time now to enumerate, suffice it to say, we have every thing usually called for in a dry goods store.

CARPETINGS!

AT THE

Carpet Warehouse, 150 Church Street.

Mr. Nichols is now opening the largest stock of Carpeting ever brought to this city consisting of the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three-ply, Ingrain, Extra Super Fine and Common, Venetian, Damask, Cotton and Wool, Cotton, Hemp Stair carpeting from the best manufacturers. Also, floor oil-cloth, straw matting, Hearth Rugs, Door Mats, table oil cloths, English and American Buckings and crumb cloths.

Bay State Carpetings and Bockings.

Mr. Nichols has the agency for the sale of the justly celebrated Bay State carpets and bockings and will be furnished with all the new patterns as fast as they come from the mills Recollect the No.

150 CHURCH STREET.

Burlington, September 24, 1852. 439 tf

Charles Morris,

MERCHANT TAILOR AND CLOTHIER,

KEESEVILLE, NEW YORK.

IS now prepared to show his friends and the public in general a full assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings suited to the season. My Cloths are of the latest imp[or]tation, and consists of Black, Brown, Drab and Blonde Beavers, Broad Cloths, of French, West of England and American Manufacture. Cassimeres in all the reviled style and quality. Vestings in any quantity, some of which are very rich. Also, Shirts of all descriptions, which I make Shirts, and drawers, Cravats, Stocks, Suspenders, Gloves, Collars, Bosoms, Ticks, Muffers, Clothing ready made substantial, and the seam to last as long as the cloth, and not run together as much of the clothing brought from a foreign market generally is. I should be the very liberal and increased patronage I have received from the citizens generally. I trust by a continued effort to please the most fastidious I shall merit a continuance of past favors. My arrangements with New York are such that I am advised of any changes of style, that occur from month to month, and thus am able to gratify those who are disposed to adopt the change as soon as done in the most careful manner and with promptness.

AND WARRANTED MADE

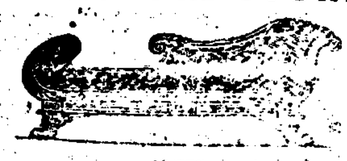
Cutting as usual done in the most careful manner

Nov. 13 1852 445

M. J. JENKINS.

Watch Maker and Jeweller,

DEALER IN



CLOCKS, WATCHES, GOLD AND SILVER WARE, &c.

Keeseville, N. Y.

Burlington Ada's,

BOSTON

FURNITURE STORE,

AT THE

Spacious Ware-Room,

Nos. 2 & 3, Leavensworth Block,

COLLEGE STREET,

In Burlington, Vt.

No further need of going to New York or Boston for Rich or

FASHIONABLE FURNITURE.

THE Subscriber has a more extensive assortment of

Furniture, Feathers, Beds, Mattresses, Upholstery, Goods, &c.,

than has ever before been offered in this see tion, comprising all the most recent styles from the most elegant to the commonest FURNITURE, manufactured principally to order and in quality equal to any to be found out of Boston or any other place—consisting, in part, as follows:

Black Walnut & Mahogony Parlor

FURNITURE,

—CONSISTING OF—

French Sofas, Easy Chairs, covered in plush damask, brocatelle or hair-cloth, to suit the purchaser: French style centre and side Tables, with and without marble tops; Extension and other frame Looking Glasses; rich and common Curtain Furniture and Fixtures, &c., and every article needed to furnish Parlors in the most fashionable style.—Also medium and low-priced Parlor Furniture, of every description.

DRAWING & SITTING ROOM FURNITURE,

of every desirable style.

CHAMBER FURNITURE.

Fancy printed Chamber Sets richly ornamented; mahogany, black walnut and common Bedsteads, Furniture Sinks, Toilets, Chairs, &c. Also, Feather Beds hair, cotton Husk and palm leaf Mattrasses, Etc and both mahogany and black walnut of very superior workmanship, constantly on hand or made to order, of any style or size desired. Also, any odd article, not to be found ready-made, designed and executed to order in the best manner at the shortest notice.

LIBRARY CASES & SIDE-BOARDS,

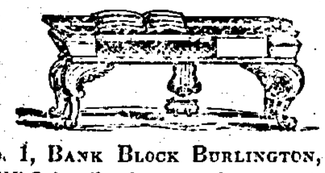
Hotels and Steamboats

furnished at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms.

N. B.—Every article will be sold as low as the same quality can be bought in either Boston or New York, and to many purchasers much lower. Country dealers will be furnished at the lowest wholesale prices.



Mr. ALLEN'S long experience as a manufacturer and Furniture dealer in Boston, gives him advantages in selecting and purchasing goods, very seldom equalled; and he will warrant every article fully equal to what he represents it.

☞ Persons in want of Furniture will do well to call on Mr. ALLEN before purchasing.

I. S. ALLEN.

Burlington, May 8, '52. 418-1y

PIANO FORTE, AND MUSIC STORE.

No. 1, BANK BLOCK BURLINGTON, Vt.

THE Subscriber has opened a very extensive and choice selection of Musical Merchandize, consisting of every variety of Musical Instruments, such as

Piano Fortes, Seraphines, Melodeons,

Bass Viols, Violins, Guitars, Flutes,

Flagolets, Claronets, Cornopeans, Accordeons,

and Brass Instruments of every description for Bands; also—

BASS VIOL AND VIOLIN STRINGS, TUNING FORKS, TUNING HAMMERS, &c.

The assortment of Sheet Music, consists of about Four Thousand Pieces of the latest and most popular Music of the day, additions to which will be made every week, from the extensive Importing and Publishing Houses in New York and Boston. Instruction Books on hand for every instrument, and all new works received as soon as published

CHURCH MUSIC BOOKS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

The attention of Purchasers is respectfully invited to the assortment of Piano Fortes, Seraphines and Melodeons, as they are from the best Manufacturers in the country, and every instrument sold by me will be warranted, unless otherwise stated to the purchaser.

All the above goods will be sold as low as can be purchased in New York or Boston, and the orders of those and all others who favor me with a call or otherwise, are respectfully solicited, and will be filled and sent to any part of the country as may be directed.

June 5. 3m422 I. S. RUST.

ANNEXATION!!

Essex County, N. Y. and Vermont!

NOVEMBER 10th, 1852.

I. D. FIXBY & Co.,

ARE now opening a very heavy stock of Rich

DRESS GOODS,

for the Winter trade, consisting in part of the following articles:

Merinos, Coburghs, Paramattas, Alpacas, Lustres all wool delaines, Manchester delaines, Persian Cloths, Raw Silk Plaids, Cashmere Plaids, Col'd Velvets, Col'd Flannels, Irish Poplins, Bombazines, Ginghams, American, English and French Prints, Silks.

SHAWLS!!

Bay State, Empire, Waterloo and Scotch.

CLOAKS.

We have a large assortment of rich Cloaks of a variety of patterns, colors and prices.

Silks, Satins, &c.

The LARGEST assortment of Dress Silk that we have ever opened, are now to be seen on our counters. Brocade, Plaid, Striped, Chameleon, Glace, Gro de Naples, Gro de Zure, Gro de Rhine, Gro de Lyons, Gro de Algiers and many other styles.

No. 2, Bank Block.

439tf North Side of the Park.

BURLINGTON VT.

I. D. BIXBY & Co.

Burlington, Nov. 15, 1852.

BOOTS, SHOES & RUBBERS

James A. Walker,

BANK BLOCK, OPPOSITE THE SQUARE,

BURLINGTON, Vt.

HAS just returned from the New York and Philadelphia markets, with the largest and best selected assortment of Ladies, Gents, Misses, Boys, Youths and Children's

BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS

ever offered North of the city. Getting his goods direct from the manufacturers he is enabled to and WILL offer them at LESS PRICES than can be purchased for cash where

Mens Thick Boots	from	$1,50 to $3,00 per pair
" Fine Kip	"	2,00 to 3,00 "
" " Calf skin	"	2,50 to 4,00 "
Gents fine calf sewed boots	"	4,00 to 7,00 "
Ladies walking shoes	"	75 to 1,25 "
" Bootees and Polkas	"	1,00 to 2,00 "
" Gaiter Boot	"	1,00 to 2,00 "

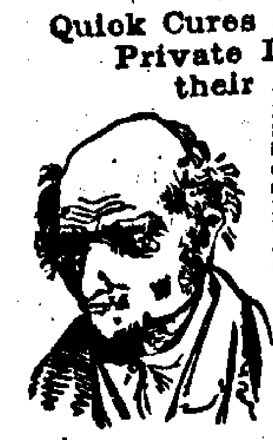
and a great variety of every description else and nearly ALL of which will be offered at very low prices. 446 tf

All Work Warranted.

GRASS SEED

OF very Superior Quality, for sale by

KINGSLAND, BABER & Co.



with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Miscellaneous.

20 Years Experience.

OLD ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL.

Quick Cures and Low prices. Private Diseases and their Antidote.

DR LISPENARD, author of the Marriage Guide, or Private Medical Treatise, Professor of Diseases of Women and Children, and Licentiate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the United States University, &c., &c., continues as heretofore to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms and variety of

PRIVATE DISEASES,

at his old quarters No 5 Beaver-street ALBANY, N. Y.

The great success attending the use of Doctor L.'s remedies in secret diseases, and the many remarkable cures daily effected by him in recent as well as old lingering attacks, conclusively prove that the well

SICK AND UNFORTUNATE

can do no better than consult the Doctor, whose whole time is devoted to the exclusive treatment of this much neglected branch of practice.

LOOK AT THIS.

Dr. Lispenard cures recent cases of disease in from three to six days, and chronic or long standing diseases in a very short period of time, without the use of Mercury, without the loss of time change of diet, or detention from

DAILY EMPLOYMENT.

In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Enlargement of the Testicles and Cords, Bubo, Chancres, Pimples and Scaly Eruptions, Sore Throats and Noses, Chancres on the skin, and tongue, tender shin bones, and diseases of the skin, and impure blood. Dr. Lispenard's remedies are above all praise, and frequently cure when all others had failed.

EVEN TO RELIEVE.

More than 5,000 patients have during the past year experienced the benefit of the Doctor's extraordinary skill in treating secret diseases—among which, diseases of the bladder and kidneys have formed a goodly proportion.

YOUNG MEN,

who by indulging in secret habits have injured their health and prostrated their intellectual faculties, and thereby deprived themselves of the pleasure of married life, should go to Dr. Lispenard without a moment's delay. Hundreds have been restored to health, society and friends, under my peculiar mode of treatment, although vast sums of money had been sacrificed without any benefit. My remedy for this disease is pleasant to take, has no offensive smell and

CURES WITHOUT FAIL.

☞ Persons so unfortunate as to be diseased, although they may have visited half a dozen Doctors, and had medicine sent them a dozen times with no benefit, would exhibit wisdom by making their case known to that FRIEND OF THE SICK Dr. Lispenard, who never charges for advice, and warrants all his cures. There are often at a loss where to apply for relief, AND TO NO WONDER, as him devils strained early to plunder the unfortunate victim of PRIVATE DIS A S, or se. t habits with at one (?) to ... for his life and health. All thus deceived will find a friend, and mild rate charges, by consulting the Doctor who uses no MERCURY and cures every time.

N. B.—Persons from a distance when visiting the city in search of a physician and friend will be fortunate if they succeed in escaping the many dens of imposition conducted by unprincipled men, destitute of character knowledge or name, who fleece the unfortunate victim of disease of his hard earned money, and their ruining health. Patients who have no acquaintance in the city should make inquiry of some respectable citizen, or the editor or proprietor of any of the city papers, to ascertain who is the most reliable physician to apply to.

FEMALE DISEASES.

Dr. Lispenard from an experience seldom or never enjoyed by any other medical man, is enabled to treat, with every hope of success, all and every variety of Female Complaints—with safe and pleasant remedies—and has without doubt cured within the past five years more than 2000 females afflicted with diseases of the Bladder, Womb, &c. &c. Ladies afflicted with suppression or stoppage of their monthly turns, will recollect that Dr. Lispenard is still the sole American agent for,

DR. VICHOI'S

FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS.

The unprecedented sale of more than 15,000 boxes of these excellent Pills and the good results which always follow their use, is conclusive evidence of their utility. Female stoppages, &c. Caution—Married Ladies in certain delicate situations should not use them—for reasons see directions with each box. Price $1. Sent by mail to all parts of the world.

Married Persons and those about to Marry, should enclose 12½ cents post paid to Dr. Lispenard, and obtain a copy of his Marriage Guide or Private Treatise, a bewitching little work of nearly 100 pages, illustrated. Every thing that married persons can desire or wish to know is here explained. Persons who from poverty or sickness have no desire to increase their family, will find necessary instruction in the Marriage Guide. One copy 12½ cents; 5 copies 50 cts; 12 copies $1—mailed free to any part of the world.

N. B.—Patients treated by letter, and medicines sent, with full directions for use to the writer's address. All communications destroyed or returned.

No mercury used in any case, and all cures warranted.

No boys or precocious students allowed: timid persons take notice.

Friends of Dr. L. when recommending patients to our care will recollect our number, 5 Beaver st., three doors from South Broadway.

Hospital open from 7 A. M., to 9 P. M., and on Sundays from 1 to 4 P. M.

No charge for advice, although no medicine may be desired.

Good board and private rooms for those who desire to remain in the city.

Notice this—Address all letters to

C. W. LISPENARD, M. D.,
No. 5 Beaver st. Albany, N. Y.

411—1y

NORTHERN RAIL ROAD, N. Y.

FALL ARRANGEMENTS.

On and after FRIDAY October 1st trains will run as follows:

GOING EAST,

1st Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 9, A. M

Arrives at Rouse's Point 1, 45, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 2, P. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 6, 20, P. M

COING WEST.

1st Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 8, A. M

Arrive at Ogdensgurgh 12 50, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 3, P. M.

Arrives at Ogdenshurgh 7,45, P. M.

First Passenger Train going East

Connects at Moors with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road for Montreal and Quebect, and Plattsburgh, Burlington and Whitehall—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Vermont Central Rail Road for Boston and New York—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Rutland and Burlington Rail Road by steam Boats to Burlington, and thence to Boston and New York.

Second Passenger Train going East,

Connects with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road at Moores, for Montreal and Quebec—Connects with the Vermont Central Railroad for Boston, Burlington, and New York. Connects with the Steam Boats to Whitehall, thence by the Saratoga and Troy Rail Roads, to Saratoga Springs, Troy and New York. Connects by Steam Boat with Rutland and Burlington R. R. at Burlington, for Troy, Boston and New York.

First Passenger Train going West,

Connects at Ogdensburgh with the Express Line of Lake Ontario Steamers at 1 o'clock P. M. for Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, Lewiston, Niagara Falls, and Buffalo.

Second Passengei Train going West.

Connects with Lake Ontario Line of Seamers for Kingston and all ports on the American shore of Lake Ontario, and with Hamilton.

Four Freight Trains leave Ogdensburgh and Rouse's Point every day Sundays excepted.

For Freight apply to George V. Hoyle, Agent, Rouse's Point.

CHARLES L. SCHLATTER,
440 Chief Eng'r and Superintendent.

Printing Paper For Sale.

FOR sale by J. & G. PARKS,

38 by 24 inches,
34 by 24 "
364tf 23 by 28 "

Also, Wrapping:

40 by 28 inches, 60 lbs to the Ream, for large bundles
20 by 18 "
15 by 13 "

☞ All orders ... Keeseville promptly attended

CAPS CAPS.

MENS' and Boys' Silk and Worsted Plush

Legal.

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT has been made in the payment of the debt secured by a certain mortgage dated the 20th day of January 1849 executed by Allen Everitt and Julia Ann, his wife, of chesterfield, in Essex County N. Y., as mortgagors to Reuben Jones then of Ausable, in Clinton County, N. Y., as mortgagee and recorded in the office of the Clerk of the County of Essex. in volume O of mortgages pages 228 and 229. on the 9th day of Febuary, 1849, at 7 oclock, P. M There is claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $561,02.

Now therefore notice is hereby given that the said mortgaged premises, will by virtue of a power of sale contained in the said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in said case made and provided, be sold at public auction at the Adirondac Hotel, in the village of Keeseville, in Essex County, on the 8th day of March, 1853, at 10 oclock in the forenoon of that day.

The said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage as follows, viz: all that certain piece or parcel of land situated in the Town of Chesterfield, County of Essex and state of New York, in a patent of three thousand six hundred acres of land granted by the state of New York to Matthew Adgate, and bounded as follows: Begining at the shore of Lake Champlain, at the South east corner of said patent, running thence west on the south line of said patent to the south east corner of lands heretofore deeded by the said Adgate, to one Noah Gridley. Thence north on the east line of said Gridley's land about fifty four rods to a beach tree; Thence due east to the Lake shore; Thence south along the Lake shore as it winds and turns to the place of beginning, containing by estimation one hundred acres of Land be the same more or less. Dated Keeseville November 26th 1852

REUBEN JONES, Mortgagee.

CHARLES CHENEY Atty.
Keeseville, N. Y.

SHERIFF SALE.

BY Virtue of an Execution issued out of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, to me directed and delivered against the goods and chattels, real estate and chattels real of Joseph Weed and Almerin Smith, I have seized and taken all that tract or parcel of land situate lying and being in the town of Ticonderoga, and Essex county, bounded as follows:

All that piece and parcel of land lying and being in said town of Ticonderoga, being the westerly part of a lot of land formerly leased by Samuel Deal to Jonathan, Drury, and known on a map of said land as lot No. 51, beginning at a maple stake standing in the east line of a lot of land lately conveyed to the said Almerin Smith, by the said Thomas Wheeler, thence running south eighty two degrees east, forty rods to a stake and stones, thence north eighty degrees thirty minutes east, eighty rods to a stake and stones, thence north eighty two degrees west, forty rods to the stake and stones, thence south eight degrees thirty minutes west, eighty rods to the place of beginning. Containing within said bounds twenty acres. Excepting from off the said lot two acres, conveyed by Samuel Deal to the Congregational Meeting House, and Society of Ticonderoga, and one half acre to the Corporation of St. Paul's Church, also in said town.

Also, all that piece parcel or tract of land situate, lying and being in the town of Ticonderoga aforesaid, and bounded as follows:

Beginning at a stake standing in the north east corner of a lot of land formerly owned by James Jones, and conveyed by him to the said Smith, and now in his possession; thence running south eighty degrees east, twenty-eight chains and sixty-three links to a stake; thence south eight degrees and forty-five minutes west, nineteen chains 70 links to a stake standing in the north line of Edward McCaughin's land, thence north eighty degrees west, 28 chains and 63 links to a stake, thence in a straight line to the place of beginning. Containing 56 acres and one third of an acre be the same or less or less.

Also all that certain other lot adjoining being a part of the Holcomb and Jones farms, bounded on the south and west by the highway leading from Ticonderoga to Crown Point on the east by lands formerly owned by Wm. Stewart now McCaughin and on the north by the highway leading past John Ledwitch's farm and residence and on the south by said McCaughin's land.

Also, all that certain farm in Ticonderoga, aforesaid, known as the Lake farm containing about 350 acres, being lot No. one and two in the McIntosh Patent, in the possession of Charles F. Hammond and Allen Penfield, and about 75 acres adjoining part of lot No. in same patent now in possession of Geo. D. Clark

Also, all that certain other lot of land in Ticonderoga aforesaid, known as part of the James Jones farm, sold and conveyed by Almerin Smith, to Alva Bennett in the year 1847, and now in the possession of said Bennett bounded and described as follows: beginning at a stake and stones in the easterly line of lands belonging to Francis Arthur Esq., being also the south west corner of the William Canfield farm, thence along the southerly line of said Canfield's land, south 80 degrees east, 5 chains and 8 links to the centre of a highway leading from Crown Point to Ticonderoga village, thence along the same south 30 degrees east, 31 chains and 25 links to a stake then north 86 degrees west, 25 chains to a stake standing in a ditch or drain and being also in the easterly line of said Arthur's land, thence along the same north 10 3-4 degrees east 26 chains and 76 links to the place of beginning, containing 40 acres of land.

Also, all that certain lot of land in Ticonderoga aforesaid, commonly called the Holcomb lot now in possession of Almerin J. & Charles H. Bennett, and sold and conveyed by the said Almerin Smith to them in the year 1847, bounded and described as follows, to wit:—Beginning in the centre of a highway leading from Crown Point to the Upper Falls in Ticonderoga, being the north east corner of Sylvanus Bennett's farm, thence along the north line of said Bennett's farm north 80 deg. west, 32 chains and 14 links to a stake in the east line of Gustavus N. Wicker's land, thence along the same and along part of the east line of Francis Arthur's land, north 10 3-4 deg. east, 14 chains and 85 links to a stake standing in a ditch or drain, thence south 86 deg. east, 25 chains to the centre of a highway leading from Crown Point to the Lower Falls of Ticonderoga, thence along the same south 30 degrees east, 10 chains and 80 links to the centre of the first above mentioned highway, thence southerly along the same 9 chains to the place of beginning containing 48 acres and 71-100 of an acre of land.

Also, a certain other lot in Ticonderoga aforesaid, now in possession of Jeremiah O'Brien, bounded on the south by the road leading past John Ledwitch's land and residence, on the east by said Ledwitch's lands, on the north by lands of Alexander McCambridge, and on the west by lands of Wm A. G. Arthur containing fifty acres or thereabouts.

Also a certain other lot piece or parcel of and in Ticonderoga aforesaid lying and being on the south and west side of the highway leading from the Lower Falls to the street so called or Crown Point between the former dwelling house of the said Almerin Smith and burnt a few years since, and the present dwelling house of Edward McCaughin, being the

Legal.

McCaughin in 1847, and now owned by him, containing by estimation about 14 acres, being originally part of lands belonging to Stephen and Silas Sayre.

Also, all that certain piece or parcel of land situate lying and being in the town of Schroon, Co. and State aforesaid on the west side of Lake George and comprehended with in the bounds of a tract of land granted by Letters patent under the great seal of the state of N. Y., to James Caldwell, Robert Mc Clellen, and Robert Cochran and is more particularly known and distinguished by being lot No. one hundred and forty seven of the division of said tract bounded as follows, viz:

Beginning at the southwest corner of lot No. one hundred and forty four being a stake No. 144, 145, 146, 147, and runs thence along No. 146 south 25 chains to lot No. 148, thence along the same east 40 chains to lot No. 143, thence along the same north 25 chains to lot No. 1 44 thence along the same west 40 chains to the place of beginning, containing one hundred acres of land, be the same more or less. The courses are as the magnetic needle pointed at Lake George in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifteen. Which said several lots, lands and real estate I shall expose for sale at Public Vendue at the Hotel kept by S. Woodard at the Lower Falls in Ticonderoga on the 26th day of July next at ten o'clock in the forenoon. Dated June 5, 1852.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

The above sale is hereby adjourned to the 15th day of Sept. next, at the hour and place above named.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy,

July 26th, 1852.

The above is further adjourned to the 9th day of November next at the same place, and hour above named.

Dated September 15, 1852.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy

The above sale is further adjourned until the 7th day of Dec. next at the same hour and place as above. Nov. 9, 1852.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff,
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

The above sale is further adjourned to the 4th day of January next 1853 at the same place, and time of day as above. Dated December 7th, 1852.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

The above sale is further adjourned to the 3d day of February at the same hour and place as above. Ticonderoga, Jany 4, 1853.

A. B. MACK Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

The above sale is further adjourned to the 3d day of March next at the same place and hour above named

Dated Feb. 3, 1853.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

SUPREME COURT
JOSEPH G WHITMAN, & WASHINGTON CLARK
Against
HORACE GOULD.

To the Defendant, HORACE GOULD.

SIR:—Please to take notice that upon an affidavit, which was filed with the Clerk of the County of Essex, on the 17th day of January, inst, we shall move this Court at a special term thereof appointed to be held at the Court House in Elizabethtown, in the County of Essex, on the 1st Monday of March next, at the opening of the Court on that day or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard for leave to issue execution on the judgment in this action against the property of the deft. for the purpose of collecting the sum of two hundred nineteen and 78-100 dollars and interest on the same from March 27th, 1846, (the time said judgement was recovered,) being the amount claimed to be due on said judgement, or for such further or other order or relief in the premises as the said Court may deem proper with costs of this motion. Dated January 17th 1853.

Yours, &c.,

FINCH & HARWOOD,
Attys for Oliver Keese, and
Thomas A. Tomlinson
475-7w Assignees of Judgment

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

NOTICE is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Rensselaer Morhous late of Willsborough deceased that they are required to exhibit the same, with vouchers thereof to Abram Weldin one of the administrators at his store and place of transacting business at Willsborough in said county, on or before the sixteenth day of February next, that being at least six months from the first publication of this notice. Dated Willsborough August 16, 1852.

EMELINE H. MORHOUS, Admtrix.
ABRAM WELDIN,
DAVID W. MORHOUS } Administrators

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

NOTICE is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John Cummings, late of North Hudson, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to ESTES B. WALKER, one of the administrators of the said deceased, at his dwelling house in North Hudson, his place of doing business, on or before the 25th day of May next, that being at least six Months after the day of the first publication of this notice Dated this 15th day of November, A. D. 1852.

ABIGAIL CUMMINGS, Administratrix.
ESTES B. WALKER,
446-6m DAVID DAY. } Administrators.

CHINA, GLASS, & EARTHEN WARE.

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

(SUCCESSORS TO PEIRCE AND KING,)

IMPORTERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS,

235 River Street, Troy, New York.

Having our Stock very complete from Importations, and otherwise, are prepared to offer a large assortment of all Goods in our Line, Wholesale or Retail, at the Lowest New York or Boston Prices for Cash or Approved Credit, among which will be found:

Fine White Ironstone and White Glazed Ware. Flown Blue. Flown Mulberry, Light Blue and common Wares, and the Acacia Ware, formerly kept by Mr A. Slason.

White, Gold Band and Decorated French China, in sets or separate pieces.

Tea sets, of French and English China white, Gilt, or decorated. India China in great variety

Toilet Sets, decorated or plain, full, double, or single sets,

Cut Glass Ware, in Decanters, Goblets, Champaignes, Wines &c., of new and rich patterns. Glass cut to match any pattern.

Moulded and plain Glass Ware, of every description and style.

Girandoles, Candelabras, Solar Lamps, and Chandeliers, in every variety, from the manufactory of Cornelius & Co. Philadelphia.

Solar Globes, cut and Plain, Solar and Camphene Wicks and Chimnies. Astral and Coat Wicks, Boat Globes, Astral Chimnies, &c., &c.

Hall Lanterns of cut, plain and stained Glass.

Lanterns of every variety. Also a new and desirable style with patent catch, &c., for Railroads and Steamboats, and made to order with names or initials engraved on.

Tea Trays and Waiters, new styles and shapes, of our own importation, singly or in sets.

Looking Glasses. Britannia Ware. Table Mats &c., &c

Also a splendid assortment of Fancy Goods, consisting of Vases, Cologues, Cardreceivers, Allumets, Decanters, Wine Bottles &c., in China, Terra Cotta, Parian Marble, and Bohemian Ware,

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK,
235 River Street, Opposite Troy House, Troy, N Y.

ALFRED H. PEIRCE,
LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK. } 445

Gas, Steam & Water Fitting

and Fixtures, Wrought-Iron Pipe, Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Plumbers' Materials, &c.

We are now prepared to do work in dwellings, Stores, Churches, Mills, or Factories, in the way of Gas and Steam Fitting or Plumbing, in the most complete and satisfactory manner. Having workmen in each of the above branches who cannot be excelled by any similar establishment in the country all orders will be promptly executed, and work done in any part of the country

We have also constantly on hand and for Sale at Manufacturers' Prices, Wrought Iron Pipe for Gas, Steam, and water Twisted and Plain Brass Pipe, Steam Valves, Brass and Iron Stop Cocks, Tees, Elbows, Couplings, Brass Girbe, Cross and Check Valves, &c. Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Leather Hose, Hose Pipe and Couplings, with every material in Lead, Brass and Plated Work for Plumbers' use.—Plug Basins, Hoppers, Closet Pans, Corner Basins, and Baths, of all descriptions.

Also, a splendid assortment of Chandeliers, Pendants, Brackets &c., on new and rich styles, to which we are receiving constant additions.

PEIRCE and SOUTHWICK.
223 and 235 River-Street, (Opposite Troy House,) Troy, N. Y. 446-tf

ALFRED H. PEIRCE, LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK.

NEW STORE.

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

True Union Store.

MR. NICHOLS of Burlington, Vt., has established a branch of his stock at Essex, nearly opposite the Steam Boat Landing in Fancher's Building adjoining the Hotel, where he has on hand nearly all kinds of dry goods and Groceries and intends keeping up a good assortment by constantly replenishing, and will sell as low as can be bought in Burlington for cash and ready pay, most kinds of Produce taken. Mr N. flatters himself that with the facilities he has for purchasing goods both in Boston and New York, that he can compete with any store in Northern New York or Vermont. Please give us a call and see for themselves. "A penny saved ..."

WANTED 10,000 lb ...
N. Y., June 16, 1852.

M. F. NICH...

ATTORNEY & COUN...

ELIZABETHTOWN, E...

Medicine.

THE WONDER OF THE WORLD.

DEVINES' COMPOUND

PITCH LOZENGE,

A sure and pleasant Remedy for Colds, Coughs, Croup, Whooping cough, Asthma, and if lungs enough are left to sustain life, A CERTAIN CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, safe for the Infant or the Invalid, in any stage of weakness.

"The statements that consumption cannot be cured, has destroyed more lives than the disease itself.—[Dr. Warren Read the following, which to a candid mind places this "Great Remedy," like Cæsar's wife "above suspicion."

TO THE PUBLIC!

We the undersigned, citizens of Lee, Mass., are acquainted with Mr. Devines, the proprietor and Manufacturer of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge and from what we know of it ourselves and have learned from others of its beneficial effects, in cases where it has been used, give it as our opinion that it is a valuable remedy in diseases for which it is recommended and is worthy of public confidence. A. G. Hulburt, Leonard Church, F. G. Taylor, Wm Taylor, E. A. Bliss, S. A. Hulburt, Josephus Crafts, T. P. Eldridge.

If any individual is to be pitied, and needs sympathy, it is the consumptive—always expecting to get well, and yet the painful evidence of decay almost "makes the inner soul shrink with the outer flesh"

"Some bloom as roses bloom, and live as roses live,
A single morning space!"

While others in more mature life—by some imprudence and a slight cold neglected—in the hectic flush—the painful cough.

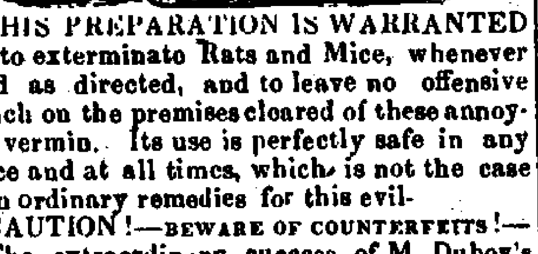
"The prints of their departing steps appears."

BUT HERE IS HOPE! Mr. Wm. Devines, the originator and manufacturer of the Pitch Lozenge, under Providence, was raised to perfect health by the use of these Lozenges alone, after he was pronounced by his physician to be almost dying with consumption.

This fact is generally known in Berkshire County and is the neighborhood talk, and wonder in Lee, and in Great Barrington, Mass.

From Dr. Brown, of Lee, Mass.

This certifies that I have made use of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge for cold and cough, and found immediate relief. Therefore I would recommend it to the public as being a safe and sovereign remedy. H. C. BROWN



Lee, October 28, 1851.

Sold wholesale at Albany, by Wm. A. Wharton & Co, Druggists, &c., H. C. Sheldon, Troy, Spencer & Nichols, Whitehall, Hammonds & Co., Crownpoint, W. G. Lyon, Essex, Reynolds & Tufts and I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. Orders addressed Wm Devines, Jamaica L. I. 436 1y Wm RENNE, Traveling Agent

M. DUBOYS'

FRENCH

RAT EXTERMINATOR.

THIS PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to exterminate Rats and Mice, whenever used as directed, and to leave no offensive stench on the premises cleared of these annoying vermin. Its use is perfectly safe in any place and at all times, which is not the case with ordinary remedies for this evil.

CAUTION!—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!—

The extraordinary success of M. Duboy's Rat Exterminator has excited the cupidity of some dishonest and irresponsible persons to counterfeit it. Inquire for M. Duboy's French Rat Extirminator, and take no other. Large boxes at 25 cents. LYNDE & OSBURN.

Rochester, N. Y., Sole American Agents, to whom all orders should be addressed.

For sale by Stearns & Beckwith, Peru, I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. 444 1y

Miscellaneous,

WOOLEN MANUFACTURING

IN all its various branches, will be carried on at the Keeseville Woolen Manufacturing Establishment, in Keeseville, N. Y.

Wool of any quality will be received in exchange for Cloth,

CASSIMERES, SATINETS,
Flannels, &c.

The Goods of this Establishment for the last two years, are well known at home and in market, and needs no other recommendation than a fair trial. Farmers and others wishing to make the most out of their wool, will find it to their advantage to call and exchange their wool for cloths. They may rest assured that they will be fairly dealt with, as no goods will be offered but those that will give satisfaction.

C. Roelofson has made arrangements which will enable him to pay

Part Cash

on Exchanges, or all CASH for WOOL when Price and Quality Suit.

On hand and ready for Exchanging, Grey Cloths, Mixed Satinets—VERY HEAVY—fine and medium Cassimeres, Red Flannel—yard wide—the different kinds also for sale.

THE CUSTOM

CARDING

will be carried on as usual.

C. ROELOFSON & Co.
Keeseville, May 26th, 1852. 421tf

WOOL! WOOL!

THE Subscriber would inform the public that he is again in the

Manufacturing Business,

Either by the yard, on shares, or in exchange for cloths on the most reasonable terms, and that he intends to keep on hand a full supply of the following goods:

BLACK BROAD CLOTHS,

Black, Brown, and Olive Cassimeres,

FULLED CLOTHS, SATTINETS, TWEEDS,

Flannels, &c.,

suitable to this country, and that he will spare no pains in trying to please such as may favor him with their patronage.

Birmingham, May 15, 1852. J. APPLEYARD
419

WOOL!! WOOL!!!

Cash Paid for Wool

BY

Matthews & Ames,

At the Old Stand of

H. & H. MATTHEWS.

Every discription of Woolen and Cotton Goods given in exchange for Wool if wanted.

HAVING increased our stock of Goods by a second Spring purchase. We feel confident that we shall be able to supply all who may wish Goods or Groceries of any description, in part, or wholly, for their Fleece, Pulled or Tag Wool.

Boots ad Shoes.

READY-MADE or MADE to ORDER,

AS good as the best, as cheap as the cheapest and warranted to fit. The undersigned begs leave to remind the public of the above facts and solicits a share of their patronage. ☞ Opposite the Bank.

JAMES ADAMS,
Keeseville, March, 1852. 111-tf

PIANO FORT EMPORIUM.

361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. The most extensive and varied assortment of ROSEWOOD PIANO FORTES, plain and ornamental, elegant patterns, elaborately carved, and highly finished with Pearl keys, all of our own manufacture, and warranted in every particular can be found at our Warerooms, 361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

437-1y BENNTT & CO.

VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE.

THE subscriber having disposed of a portion of his Farm, offers the balance, containing 108 acres of first rate land, a good dwelling house and convenient out buildings, well fenced into convenient size fields, situated 4 miles north of the Village of Keeseville on the mail route to Plattsburgh, and for pleasantness of location is not surpassed by any in Northern New York.

ALSO.—If desired, a wood and pasture lot fifty acres, about 4 miles distant.

WILLETS KEESE.

Miscellaneous.

New Goods! New Good!

—AT—

NICHOLS' CASH STORE,

150 Church street,

BURLINGTON, VERMONT,

HAVING just Purchased in New York and Boston, a large stock of Goods of all kinds we now offer them for sale, and those who are in want of goods in our line will save money by calling on us before purchasing. We are confident we have the largest stock of goods ever brought into Burlington at one time; we were induced to buy largely in consequence of the low prices of many kinds of goods, particularly dress goods of almost every kind.

We have a full stock of everything usually kept in a dry good store; Also West India goods and groceries, a very large stock of Teas and Sugars low by chest and cask. Also at cost to clear them off Paper Hangings, Crockery and glass Ware and looking glasses.

CARPETING, AT THE

CARPET WARE HOUSE.

BURLINGTON, VT.

Received this day and now opening 50 pieces of all grades, the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three Ply, Superfine, fine and common Ingrain and Venetian, all Wool. Cotton and Cotton and Wool; Also, all the different qualities of Stair Carpeting, Straw Matting, Oil Cloth, Drugetts, Crumb Cloths, Hearth Rugs, Door Matts, &c., very cheap.

Burlington, Nov. '52. 446

FAMILY GROCERIES.

A larg and choice assortment of Sugars, Teas, Oils, Molasses, Pork, Fish, Fine and coarse Salt, Camphene, Soap and Candles, rooms, Pails, Willow Waggons, Cradles, Flavoring Extracts, Cat, Sups. all kinds Toys, New Years and Christmas presents, Confectionaries, Nuts, Bird Seed, &c., &.

The above goods are offered on the usual terms, at the lowest prices. Let those wishing to buy examine for themselves.

100 Barrels Genessee Flour,

FRESH Ground for sale at,
REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

40 Barrels Sugars,

CRUSHED, granulated Muscavado and Coffee Sugars at REYNOLDS & TUFTS,

Green & Black Teas.

40 CHESTS and Cattys choice Old Hyson, Young Hyson and fine Oolong Teas cheaper than any in town at

REYNOLDS & TUFTS.
Keeseville, Nov. 18, 1852. 446

New Clothing Store.

WE, the undersigned, have made arrangements with one of the best tailors in the country, to manufacture clothing for us of every description, consisting of overcoats, sacks, dress and frock coats, pants, vests, overalls and boys cloths, together with all kinds of under garments, which are made after the most improved styles, and for workmanship and durability cannot be excelled.

In addition we offer a large assortment of fine

Fashionable Clothing,

made by tailors in New York, that for fitting even Genio C. Scott, in his palmiest days was not a circumstance.

We would also inform the public that it is to be sold by wholesale or retail at very low figures for cash, and for quantity and cheapness is far in advance of any other concern in Northern New York. A comparison with the trade, both in prices and quantity is particularly requested.

In connection with the above we would call the attention of the community to our stock of

Fancy & Staple Dry Goods,

of every variety; also, hats, caps and furs, paper hangings, window shades, hardware and groceries, rifles and shot guns, ammunition, &c, &c. Trunks, and valises, carpet bags, whips and lashes, stone ware, and every description of goods that are wanted or can be found in the country. Don't forget

No. 1000, Main Street,

Keeseville, opposite the Adirondac Hotel.

BOYNTON & SMITH.

January 20, 1853.

MATTHEWS & AMES,

(SUCCESSORS TO H. & H. MATTHEWS,)

DEALERS IN

Tin, Sheet Iron, Copper, Japan and BRITANNIA WARE,

together with a large and well selected assortment of

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

which they will sell by the piece or package, at a small advance from cost. Also, a general assortment of

YANKEE NOTIONS

And Fancy Articles,

suitable to the Pedlars Trade, which they will sell low for cash.

☞ All kinds of barter taken in exchange for Goods.

Keeseville, April 17, 1852. 415

New and Cheap Goods

E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Have just received from New York and Boston one of the best assortments of

FALL AND WINTER GOODS

ever exhibited in Keeseville.

Among their stock of DRY GOODS will be found a beautiful assortment of Wool, and Cotton, and wool d'Laines, and Cashmeres, both plain and printed, of all qualities, and prices from one shilling to one Dollar per yard. French Merinoes, Paramattas, Alpaccas Lyonese Cloth, English and American Prints, Ginghams, Flannels of all kinds, a superior quality of Bay State Flannel of different colors, Wool Plaids, Tickings, Stripes &c. &c. Shawls—a large and splendid assortment of Bay State, Empire State, Waterloo, Scotch Plaid, and Printed WOOL SHAWLS, at prices much lower than ever before offered in this market. A beautiful assortment of Bonnet Silks and Velvets, with trimmings of all kinds. Also dress silks and Satins, Gloves, Hosiery &c.

READY MADE CLOTHING

Of all kinds, sold very cheap, also, Cloths, Broad Cloths Plain and fancy Cassimeres, Black Doe Skins, Satinets Silks and Worsted. Vestings, Serges, &c., &c., with many other articles too numerous to mention. 'Tis unnecessary to add that all the above goods will be sold at very low prices. Only remember their motto 'quick sales and small profits.' Please call and examine Goods and prices, and satisfy yourselves. Opposite the Adirondac Hotel.

Keeseville Oct. 1822.

CASH,

AND THE

Highest Market Price

WILL BE PAID FOR WOOL, AT THE WOOLEN FACTORY, by

C. F. ROELOFSON & Co.
Keeseville, July 8th, 1852. 427tf

CORLIES & DECKER,

(Successors to J N. & E. W. Corlies,)

— WHOLESALE DEALERS IN —

TEAS,

Agents for the Sale of

Manufactured Tobacco,

192 Pearl Street,
... New York.

Miscellaneous.

THE NORTHERN

New York Mutual

INSURANCE COMPANY,

Plattsburgh, Clinton Co., N. Y.

Capital, 100,000.

THIS Company is organized under the General Insurance Law of the State of New York, with a sound, reliable capital, and offers the following superior inducements:

1. The safer kinds of property are separated entirely from the more hazardous; affording the advantages of two distinct companies, with the expense of but one.

2. The first class, or Farmer's Department, consists of Farm-houses, Farm buildings and their contents and detatched dwellings and their contents in villages, when unexposed by more hazardous buildings.

3. The second class or Merchant's Department, consists of exposing dwellings, stores, merchandize and property not deemed specially hazardous.

4. Each class pays its own losses and thus securing equal justice and proportional rate to both.

5. Not more than $3,000 of the first class, or more than $2,000 of the second class, will be taken in one risk, nor any number of risks so contignous as probably to subject the Company to a loss of over $3,000 at any one fire; thereby saving it from heavy and ruinous losses.

6. In taking surveys of property, the agent will be the agent of the company, and the company be responsible for the correctness of all surveys made by its agents.

7. Any one insured, may at any time surrender his policy and withdraw from the company by paying his proportion of the losses and expense up to the date of such surrender.

8. Applications will take effect at noon of the day on which they are made (unless a different day is directed by the applicant,) thus relieving the party from anxiety and suspense.

9. The company no have two-thirds clause, but will pay all loss and damage not exceeding the amount insured.

10. In case of difference of opinion in settlement of losses, the company will submit the same to arbitration in the county where the loss occurs, the claimant choosing one, the company one, and the two arbitrators another.

11 Each person insured in the company becomes a member and will be entitled to a participation of the profits, if any surplus should accrue, not required for the payment of losses.

12. This company will be responsible for losses by fire caused by lightning.

13. This company will take no risks in cities.

☞ The Directors return their acknowledgments to the public for their readiness in aiding the organization of this company, and will endeavor to make it a safe and reliable institution, affording protection from the ravages of fire, at reasonable rates, and with certainty of payment in case of loss.

DIRECTORS.

James Farr, Fort Ann, Washington co; Olif Abel, Whitehall, do; Walter Geer, Glen's Falls, Warren co; Pelatiah Richards, Warrensburgh, do; Wm. E. Calkins, Ticonderoga, Essex co.; John Horton, Columbia Vilage, St. Lawrence co.; Thomas H. Conkey, Canton, do.; Amasa C. Moore, Samuel F. Viles, Henry G. Hewitt, Jacob H Holt, John Boynton, Peter S. Palmer, Cornelius Halsey, Z. C. Platt, W. W. Hartwell, Benjamine Gilman, George Moore, Plattsburgh, Clinton Co,

OFFICERS.

SAMUEL F. VILES, President;
WM. W. HARTWELL, Vice President;
ZEPHENIAH C. PLATT, Treasurer;
GEORGE MOORE, Secretary;
I. C. MIX, and
R. G SWINBRN, General Agents.
JAMES B DICKINSON, Agent Ausable Forks.

Plattsburgh, Dec. 4th, 1852. 44 tf

DRY-GOODS!

CARPETS AND OIL-CLOTHS,

at uncommonly low prices

may be had at

G. V. S. Quackenbush's,

202 River and 9 State Streets, Troy.

MY Stock of Dry-Goods is unsurpassed in Variety and extent, consisting of every class of goods from the lowest priced Muslins and Prints, to the finest

BROAD-CLOTHS AND CASSIMERES,

or the richest and most expensive styles of Silks and Shawls and of each denomination of goods.

I have an almost endless variety of patterns of all the different qualities.

Of Carpets and Oil Cloths I have a splendid assortment consisting of a great variety of new and beautiful patterns of Velvets, Tapestry, and Brussels Carpets—

Also

Three Ply, Tapestry-Ingrains, and Ingrains of all qualities and so varied in styles that all may here find something to suit their fancy.

Oil Cloths of all Widths and Qualities and of the newest and most desirable patterns, Rugs, in great variety.

STAIR CARPETS, STAIR RODS, DRUGGETS, MATTS,

and Matting of every Style and Quality.

A correct diagram being furnished Oil-Cloths will be cut to fit rooms or halls without extra charge, and Carpets made in a superior manner at the lowest rates.

Those wishing to purchase either Dry-Goods or Carpets will find that my assortment is unequaled, and that my prices are uncommonly low.

G. V. S. QUACKENBUSH,
422 202 River Street, Troy.

RUTLAND & BURLINGTON Rail Road.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after Monday, Nov. 1st, trains will run as follows, viz:

FOR BOSTON, NEW YORK AND INTERMEDIATE PLACES.

LEAVE
Burlington at	8,15	A. M.	4.15	P. M.
Vergennes	9,09	"	5,00	"
Middlebury	9,42	"	5,35	"
Brandon	10 20	"	6.18
Rutland	11 00	"	AR. 7,00
			L. 6,30	A. M.
Cuttingville	11.25	"	6.55	"
Ludlow	12.06	P. M.	7,35	"
Proctorsville	12,15	"	7,42	"
Chester	12,40	"	8,10	"
Arriving				"
Bellows Falls	1,15	"	8.45
Boston	7,00	"	1,00	P. M.
LEAVE
Boston	7 45	A M.	12.00	M.
Bellows Falls	12 ·0	"	6 15	P. M.
Chester	12 40	P M.	6.50	"
Proctorsville	107	"	6,17	"
Ludlow	1,15	"	6,25	"
Cuttingsville	1 52	"	7.06	"
Rutland	AR. 2,15	"	AR. 7 30	"
	L. 3,00	"	L. 7.45	"
Brandon	3 38	"	8 25	"
Middlebury	4.25	"	9,04	"
Vergennes	5.00	"	9,37	"
Arriving
Burlington	5.43	"	10,20	"

CONNECT AT BURLINGTON.

with the Steamers for PLATTSBURGH and MONTREAL RAIL ROADS, and with the VERMONT and CENTRAL and VERMONT and CANADA RAIL ROADS for the East, North, and West, via CHAMPLAIN and ST. LAWRENCE, and the OGDENSBURGH RAIL ROADS.

CONNECT AT RUTLAND

with the Trains of Western Vermont, Rutland and Washington and Saratoga and Washington Rail Roads, for New York, Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Buffalo and the West.

CONNECT AT BELLOWS FALLS

with the Trains of the Cheshire, Vermont Valley, and Sullivan Rail Roads for Windsor, Boston, Worcester, Lowell Springfield, Hartford, New Haven, and New York.

Fares are less when Tickets are purchased at the Offices than when paid in the Cars.

JOHN A. DUNLAP,
Burlington, Oct. 26, 1852. Superintendent.
418

EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR.

50 BARRELS made from Pure Genessee Wheat at the lowest price at

REYNOLDS & TUFTS

Dec. 16, 1852.

fultonhistory.com

Essex County Republican.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING BY JONATHAN TARBELL, Editor and Proprietor. TERMS, $2 Per Year---$1,50 in Advance.

VOLUME XIII. NO. 41. KEESEVILLE, N. Y., FEBRUARY 26, 1853. WHOLE NUMBER 460

Miscellany.

The New Empress of the French.

We are in possession of some interesting details in the history of the lady, who, as is officially announced, was to be united to Louis Napoleon by civil act on the 22nd, and by religious rites on the 29th of last month. These details we have received from a foreign gentleman who is perfectly acquainted with the facts and persons in question; they may be relied on as authentic.

Senorita Eugenia de Teba, or as she is more usually known, M'lle. de Montijo, is the daughter of a nobleman who belonged to one of the most eminent families of the Spanish aristocracy, that of Palafox, and who distinguished himself in the civil war of 1823, under the title of the Count de Teba. At that time he became acquainted with Miss Maria Kirkpatrick, the dashing and handsome daughter of a Scotch gentleman who held the post of Consul of the United States at Malaga. A love affair and a romantic marriage was the consequence. The new-made Empress is the daughter of this Spanish grandee and Maria Kirkpatrick, who is still living, a widow, and who accompanies her daughter on her present visit to Paris, where she has appeared under the title of Countess de Teba. After the marriage in 1823, the death of an elder brother conferred upon the Count, along with a score of other titles, that of Montijo, by which name, since her first appearance in fashionable life, the daughter has been generaly distinguished. She also inherits a handsome fortune, her independent income being something like $30,000 a year. The father died some years since, leaving two daughters; the elder now wears, by marriage, the title of Duchess of Alva and Berwick, than which the Spanish nobility can boast nothing more elevated.

For some years the Countess de Teba or Montijo, who is now about twenty-five, has enjoyed at Madrid the reputation of an exceedingly fast woman. Tall, graceful, of statureque symmetry of person, with luxuriant auburn or rather red hair, a pale complexion, which has latterly stood in need of a little rogue, great electrical eyes of a brown so deep and radient as to pass for black, rather long and aristocratic features, a large but exquisitely sculptured nose, a lovely mouth, and teeth of dazzling whiteness, she is a type of admirable beauty, which a languid and blase air hardly diminishes. Endowed with uncommon wit and spirit, she speaks French, English, Italian and German with as much fluency as Spanish. A proficiet in exercise of strength and address, she rides with the boldest, and drives four-in-hand with the most skillful.

At Madrid it was the habit of our heroine to bid defiance to public opinion as the whim might seize her. She used to appear alone in public driving her own carriage.—She had a separate establishment in her mother's palace, inviting and receiving company without consulting her mother and often refusing access even to her relatives. Once her mother forced her door, despite the remonstrances of the servant, who protested that the Countess wanted to be alone. To her great amazement she found that her daughter was missing. For twenty-four hours the young lady did not appear, and when she returned, coolly informed her afflicted parent, who had loudly expressed her fears that there had been an elopement, that she had been away on an errand!

On another occasion, the whim takes her to pay special compliment to the literature, and her carriage stops at the door of Senor Escosura, one of the most prominent of living Spanish authors, who was some years since a Minister of the Crown.—"Good morning, my dear sir," was her salutation to the astonished litterateur; "I have come to breakfast with you, in order to have a talk on literature and poetry."—A few weeks later Escosura gave a dinner to a number of literary men, artists and actors, at which the Countess was present without her mother or any other lady as chaperons. She was the life of the party, making speeches and giving toasts with the loudest. Among the guests was a third rate French actor, named Laferriore, who had had great success in Madrid. He was from the Theater Historique in Paris.—She took a fancy to him, and had a long conversation with him. When the time for leaving came, "Woll." said the Countess, "my carriage is here, and I will take M. Laferriere to his hotel." The young man was a little abashed at such a courtesy from such a lady; but she insisted, and they departed together.

M'lle de Montijo was also a great sportswoman, and very popular, of course, among the torreadors, or bull fighters. She was present at all the bull fights in Madrid, where she used to wear the most magnificent costume of a Maja de Sevilla, something like that of M'lle Soto, in the ballet of the same name at Niblo's, but much more characteristic. A very large and high comb at the top of the head, with wreaths of roses falling each side, mixed with the hair; a profusion of diamonds, necklaces, bracelets and rings; a very showy and tight waist, cut low in the neck, and with bare arms; a very short skirt, open-worked stockings with colored embroidery, and very small embroidered slippers. When she appeared in the circus, she was saluted by all the torreadors, and exchanged with them the most cordial greetings. "To thee, Countess de Taba, I dedicate my love and my prowess!" they would exclaim, wafting kisses toward the young lady. "Bravo, Antonio! Bravo, Jose! Well fought, my boys," and other words of the most liberal approbation, were the answer. In all such scenes there was a considerable display of Spanish frankness, which would have been very shocking to the sense of propriety of American ladies.

Like all fast women, our Countess found a matrimonial establishment difficult to obtain. Once she courted the Duke of Ossuna, the richest grandee of Spain, but he declined the honor. Disappointed in this scheme, she received the addresses of a young noble of Castile, and was nearly engaged to marry him. But she could not help flirting at the same time; and once when this young man was in her drawing-room, she went so far in her coquetry with another, that the former aspirant for her hand seized a chair and threw it at her head saying, with the most opprobrious epithets, that he would not marry her for the world. The insult was resented by the last object of her attentions, and two or three duels were the consequence. The result of all these acts of dashing eccentricity, and of all these scandals, and of others quite as notorious, was, that it would have been little less than impossible for M'lle de Montijo to marry a gentleman of her own rank in Spain.

For three or four years past, M'lle de Montijo has been wont to spend the winter in Paris, where her conduct has been much more circumspect than at Madrid. Still, she has never gained an entry into the aristocratic circles of the Faubourg St. Germain. But she was compensated for this exclusion by the cordiality with which she was received at the Elysee, and by the profound impression she made upon its master. From the first she inspired Louis Napoleon with an ardent passion, which justified her resolution to become his wife, and share the glories that Destiny had in reserve for him. In accordance with this determination, she steadily rejected other proposals without regard to their magnificence. It was currently reported at Paris a few months ago, that her reply to his protestations of love had been: "Prince, I am of too good a family to be your mistress,"—and, if the saying be not exactly true in fact, there is no doubt that it is so in spirit. Latterly the attentions of the lover have increased in zeal, and the position of the lady in his court has been more marked than ever. She was the heroine of every festival; during the recent excursion of the court to Compiegne, she stood at its head, as the bright, particular star of the imperial admiration, and there were not wanting those who predicted her marriage with Napoleon Still, the lover hesitated. He adored, he worshipped, yet he didn't come up to the mark. But the Countess was not discouraged. She is too skillful an actress to be at fault in such an emergency. She announced the approaching departure of herself and her mother for Madrid. The result was the proposal of marriage, the appointment of the day, the announciation to the Ministers and the world that the Countess was to be his wife, and no doubt ere this the lionne of Madrid, and the grand daughter of the former U. S. Consul at Malaga, has become EUGENIA, Empress of the French. It is said that a gipsy once predicted that she would be elevated to a throne, after the fashion of the famous prediction of the negress to Josephine. It remains to be seen how far the future will complete the parallel between the wives of the two Napoleons.—[N. Y. Tribune.

The Printer.

The night grows late—the streets are hushed—the moonbeams flick the deserted pavement, and sleep strews its slumberous poppies over the inhabitants of the silent city. All are at rest save the silent PRINTER, who is busy at his case.

Dreams, lovely as winged cherubs, hover about the repose of man and maiden; visions, pure as the first lilies and beautiful as the sunset of early summer, haunt the matron and the child; but to the PRINTER all is reality, toil and weariness.

How nimbly and cheerfully does he adjust the faithful types, as if he took "no note of time"—as if the duties, that were wearing out his life, were more a diversion, than a laborious avocation. But amid their monotonous discharge, believe us, the PRINTER thinks of home and sweet rest, and sighs within himself for the better lot of which others are possessed; and yet there is no repose for him—though the night tramps on, and jocund dawn will soon appear.

Why do his motions grow less rapid!—Why move his fingers in so deliberate and mechanical a way? Whence is the smile that lingers on his lip, like the first sun beams at the gates of morning? There is a gentle presence at his side—an eye, blue as violets, glancing into his own—an account sweet as music, entering his ear, and reaching his very heart.

It is but a moment—it was only a reverie—it did not even win him from his occupation; it only caused his hand to falter, not to cease—the PRINTER awakens to buisy toil again.

Ye, who receive your sun-rise favorite, and wander, perhaps, listlessly over its pages, remember it is the fruit of toil, which was active and untiring while you were quietly sleeping, that life is imprinted on its columns, that your convenience and comfort is bought with the price of weariness.

There is an "elastic cord," which, being charged with sympathy, will carry the gentle burden even unto the most distant heart. We bespeak its agency in behalf of the faithful PRINTER.—Buffalo Express.

☞An English advertisement reads as follows:—"To be sold, 121 suits in law, the property of an attorney about to retire from business. Note—the clients are rich and obstinate.

From the New-York Daily Times

Narrative of the Seizure and Recovery of Solomon Northrop.

INTERESTING PARTICULARS.

SOLOMON NORTHROP, the subject of the following nararative, is a free colored citizen of the United States; was born in Essex County New York, about the year 1808; became early a resident of Washington County, and married there in 1829.—His father and mother resided in the County of Washington about fifty years, till their decease, and were both free. With his wife and children he resided at Saratoga Springs in the Winter of 1851, and while there was employed by two gentlemen to drive a team South, at the rate of a dollar a day. In fulfillment of his employment he proceeded to New-York, and having taken out free papers, to show that he was a citizen, he went on to Washington City, where he arrived the second day of April, the same year, and put up at Gadsby's Hotel. Soon after he arrived, he felt unwell and went to bed.

While suffering with severe pain some persons came in, and seeing the condition he was in, proposed to give him some medicine and did so. That is the last thing of which he had any recollection until he found himself chained to the floor of Williams' slave pen in this City, and handcuffed. In the course of a few hours, James H. Burch, a slave dealer, came in, and the colored man asked him to take the irons off from him, and wanted to know why they were put on. Burch told him it was none of his business. The colored man said he was free and told where he was born.—Burch called in a man by the name of Ebenezer Rodbury, and they two stripped the man and laid him across a bench, Rodbury holding him down by his wrist. Burch whipped him with a paddle until he broke that, and then with a cat-o'nine tails, giving him a hundred lashes, and he swore he would kill him if he ever stated to any one that he was a free man. From that time forward the man says he did not communicate the fact for fear, either that he was a free man or what his name was, until the last summer. He was kept in the slave pen about ten days, when he, with others was taken out of the pen in the night, by Burch, handcuffed and shackled, and taken down the river by a steamboat, to Richmond, where with forty-eight others were put on the brig Orleans. There Burch left them. The brig sailed for New Orleans, and on arriving there before she was fastened to the wharf, Theophilus Freeman, another slave dealer, belonging in the city of New Orleans, and who in 1838 had been a partner with Burch in the slave trade, came to the wharf and received the slaves as they were landed, under his direction.—This man was immediately taken by Freeman and shut up in his pen in that city.—He was taken sick with the small pox immediately after getting there, and was sent to a Hospital where he lay two or three weeks. When he had sufficiently recovered to leave the hospital, Freeman declined to sell him to any person in that vicinity, and sold him to a Mr. Ford who resided in Rapids parish, in Louisiana, where he was taken and lived a little more than a year, and worked as a carpenter, working with Ford at that business.

Ford became involved and had to sell him. A Mr. Tibaut became the purchaser. He in a short time sold him to Edwin Epps in Bayou Beouf, about one hundred and thirty miles from the mouth of Red River, where Epps has retained him on a Cotton plantation since the year 1843.

His place of residence remained unknown until the month of September last, when the following letter was received by his friends:

Bayou Beouf, August, 1852,

Mr. Wm. Peny, or Mr. Lewis Parker:

Gentlemen: It having been a long time since I have seen or heard from you, and not knowing that you are living, it is with uncertainty that I write to you; but the necessity of the case must be my excuse. Having been born free just across the river from you, I am certain you must know me; and I am here now a slave. I wish you to obtain free papers for me, and forward them to me at Marksville, La., Parish of Avoyelles, and oblige

Yours, SOLOMON NORTHROP.

On receiving the above letter, Mr. N. applied to Governor Hunt, of New York, for such authority as was necessary for to proceed to Louisiana, as an agent to procure the liberation of Solomon. Proof of his freedom was furnished to Governor Hunt, by affidavits of several gentlemen, General Clark among others. Accordingly, in pursuance of the laws of New York. Henry B Northrop was constituted an agent to take such steps, by procuring evidence, retaining counse, &c., as were necessary to secure the freedom of Solomon, and to execute all the duties of his agency. He left Sandy Hill, in New York, on the 14th of December last, and came to the city of Washington, and stated the facts of the case to Hon. Pierre Soule, of Louisiana; Hon. Mr. Conrad, Secretary of War, from New Orleans, and Judge Nelson, of the Supreme Court of the United States, and other gentlemen. They furnished Mr. N. with strong letters to gentlemen residing in Louisiana, urging their assistance in accomplishing the object of restoring the man to freedom.

From Washington, Mr. N. went, by the way of Pittsburg and the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, to the mouth of the Red River, and thence up that river to Marksville, in the parish of Avovelles, where he employed Hon. John P. Waddill, an eminent Lawyer of that place, and con[illegible] him as to the best means of find[illegible] obtaining possession of him. A process was placed in the hands of a Sheriff, directing him to proceed to Bayou Beouf and take the colored man into his possession, and wait the order of the Court in regard to his right to freedom. The next day, the owner, with his counsel, called upon Mr. N., who exhibited to them the evidence in his possission relating to the man's being a free citizen of New York.

Epps' counsel, after examining it, stated to his cliant, that the evidence was ample and satisfactory. The party proceeded to the City of Washington, where Burch lived; and on making inquiry, found who was the keeper of the slave pen in that city in 1841; and also ascertained from the keeper, upon the colored man (Solomon N.,) being pointed out to him—that he was placed in that pen in the spring of 1841 and then kept for a short period by Burch.

Immediately upon the receipt of this information, complaint was made before the Police of Washington against Burch, for kidnapping and selling into slavery this free colored man. Burch was arrested and held to bail in the sum of $3,000.

On the 18th instant, at 10 o'clock, both parties appeared before the magistrate, Gen. Clark and E. H. Northrup, who were sworn as witnesses on the part of the prosecution and established the foregoing facts: On the part of the defendant, Benjamin Shields and B. A. Thorn were sworn. The prosecution offered the colored man who had been kidnapped, as a witness on the part of the prosecution, but it was objected to, and the Court decided that it was inadmissable. The evidence of this colored man was absolutely necessary to prove some facts on the part of the prosecution, as he alone was cognizant of them.

Mr. SHEKELS, testified that some ten or twelve years ago he was keeping public house in this city; that Burch boarded at the house and carried on the business of buying and selling slaves; that in that year, two white men came into his barroom and stated that they had a slave for sale Mr. Burch immediately entered into a negotiation for his purchase. The white men stated that the were from Georgia; had bro't the negro with them from that State, and wished to sell him to be carried back to that State; that the negro expressed a willingness to be sold in order to return to Georgia; Shekels, however, was unable to state the names of either of the white men, or the name of the colored man, was unacquainted with either of them previous to that time, and had never seen either since that transaction; that he saw them execute a bill of sale to Burch, saw Burch pay him $625 and take the bill of sale, and that he read that bill, but could not tell who was the vendor nor who was the person sold, as appeared by the bill of sale

Mr. Thorn was next called upon the stand, and testified that he was in this tavern in the Spring of the year 1841, and saw a white man negotiating a trade with Burch for a colored man; but whether this was the colored man or not, he could not tell—for he never saw either white man or colored man but that once, and did not know whether or not Burch bought and paid for him.

Burch himself was next offered as a witness in his own behalf, to prove the loss of the bill of sale. His evidence was objected to by the prosecution, but was allowed by the Court. He testified that he had the bill of sale and had lost it, and did not know what had become of it. The counsel for the prosecution requested the Court to send a police officer to bring the books of Burch, containing his bills of sales of negroes for the year 1841 and previous years. They were fortunately procured, but no bill of sale was found of this colored man by any name. Upon this positive evidence that the man had been in the possession of Burch and that he had been in slavery for a period of more than eleven years, the Court decided that the testimony of the slave trader established the fact that Burch came honestly by him, and consequently discharged the defendant. The counsel for the defendant had drawn up, before the defendant was discharged, an affidavit signed by Burch, and had a warrant out against the colored man, for a conspiracy with the two white men before referred to, to defraud Burch out of $625. The warrant was served, and the colored man arrested and brought before Officer Goddard.—Burch and his witnesses appeared in Court, and H. B Northrup appeared in counsel for the colored man, stating that he was ready to proceed as counsel on the part of the defendent, and asking no delay whatever. Burch, after consulting privately for a short time with Shekels, stated to the Magistrate that he wished him to dismiss the complaint, as he would not proceed further with it. Defendant's counsel stated to the Magistrate that, if the complaint was withdrawn without the request or consent of the defendant. Burch then asked the Magistrate to let him have the complaint and the warrant, and he took them. The counsel for the defendant objected to his receiving them, and insisted that they should remain as a part of the records of the Court, and that the Court should endorse the proceedings which had been had under the process. Burch delivered them up, and the Court rendered a judgment of discontinuance by the request of the prosecutor, and filed it in his office.

The condition of this colored man during the nine years that he was in the hands of Eppes, was of a character nearly approaching that described by Mrs. Stowe, as the condition of "Uncle Tom" while in that region. During that whole period his hut contained neither a floor, nor a chair, nor a bed, nor a matrass, nor anything for him to lie upon except a board about twelve [illegible]ide, with a block of wood for his [illegible]d with a small blanket to cover him, while the walls of his hut did not by any means protect him from the inclemency of the weather. He was sometimes compelled to perform acts revolting to humanity and outrageous in the highest degree. On one occasion, a colored girl belonging to Eppes, about 17 years of age, went one Sunday without the permission of her master, to the nearest plantation, about a mile distant, to visite another colored girl of her acquaintance. She returned in the course of two or three hours, and for that offence she was called up for punishment which Solomon was required to inflict—Eppes compelled him to drive four stakes into the ground at such distances that the hands and ancles of the girl might be tied to them, as she lay with her face to the ground; and having thus fastened her down he compelled him while standing by himself, to inflict one hundred lashes upon her bare flesh, she being stripped naked. Having inflicted the hundred blows, Solomon refused to proceed any further. Eppes tried to compel him to go on, but he absolutely set him at defiance and refused to murder the girl. Eppes then seized the whip and applied it until he was too weary to continue it. Blood flowed from her neck to her feet, and in this condition she was compelled the next day to go into the field to work as a field hand. She bears the marks still upon her body, although the punishment was inflicted four years ago.

When Solomon was about to leave, under the care of Mr. Northrup, this girl came from behind her hut, unseen by her master, and throwing her armes around the neck of Solomen congratulated him on his escape from slavery, and his return to his family, at the same time in language of despair exclaiming, "But, Oh, God! what will become of me.

These statements regarding the condition of Solomon while with Eppes, and the punishment and brutal treatment of the colored girls, are taken from Solomon himself. It has been stated that the nearest plantation was distant from that of Eppes a half mile, and of course there could be no interference on the part of the neighbors in any punishment however cruel, or however well disposed to interfere they might be.

By the laws of Louisiana no man can be punished there for having sold Solomon into slavery wrongfully, because more than two years had elapsed since he was sold; and no recovery can be had for his services, because he was bought without the knowledge that he was a free citizen.

WRITE LETTERS,—Not to everybody, nor to all that ask you, or you will be taxed beyond your patience, and find that it is hard to shake off a troop of unprofitable acquaintances.

Not to all the girls who have made your heart flutter, lest you kindle flames you will not be able to feed,—lest you write soft things that will look ridiculous in your biography,—lest some offended damsel be down upon you for breach of promise. Not to all your cousins, lest your classics be neglected and your business suffer. A classmate in college was reprimanded by the professor for neglect of College studies.—The delinquent plead that the circle of his correspondence was so large that he could not find time to attend to his Euclid.

Write punctually to those with whom you have business connections. A great many, who lack neither industry nor resolution, find it extremely hard to write a business note of half a dozen lines. Like rail cars, it is easier to run forty miles on their track than a rod out of the way on their side. A friend of our, who had suffered much for lack of letters from his vessel when on her voyage, put a package of old letters, directed to himself, into the hands of the captain, with positive orders for him to drop one into the post-office of every port where he touched. The post mark on the corner answered his purpose.

Write to your sister. Your letters are a luxury, to her that she prizes above her jewelry, and they cost you nothing, or near it. Be at charges for a sheet of paper and a thimble full of ink. The cigar you are smoking cost as much as the postage of it. The cigar ends in ashes and smoke; the letter strengthens the family tie, and adds a strand to the blessed cords that bind the members of a common home together.

Write to your mother. If you are in good company, she will see it in your letters and be comforted in your absence. If you neglect to write, her affection has hard struggles with her fears to assure her that you have not gone astray. Have not time? Take time from the backgammon-board, from the calls of ceremony, from the society of companions, from sleep, from meals; when you have not time to write to your mother, you have not time to look at a crowd gathered in the street. He who made time gave you time enough. What have you done with it?

Write to your father. Your postponement thickens the white hairs on his reverenced head. Are you busier than he? and he writes to you. He will not misinterpret your silence; he can trust his boy.—He knows you are on a buisy tide—the stream runs fast. He will forgive you if you do not recognize him, waving his good wishes from the bank. But he must go up soon; and when you have time to look, his manly form may have departed. Give him the costless solace of frequent letters, that he may know to the last he is not forgotten. Write to him to-day—[N. Y. Times.

☞The President elect has made his first appointment. The Portland Advertiser states that he has appointed Mr. W. R. Mitchell to the office of coachman, and that the promoted individual is as good a Whig as ever snapped a whip.

In England there are four thousand miles of telegraph; in the United States, twenty three thousand.

A Patch on both Knees.

When I was a boy, it was my fortune to breathe, for a long time, what some writer term the bracing air of poverty. My mother—light lie the turf upon the form which once inclosed her sweet and gentle spirit—was what is called an ambitious woman; for that quality which overturns thrones and supplants dynasties find a legitimate sphere in the humblest abode that shadow of poverty ever darkened. The struggle between the wish to keep up appearances and the pinching gripe of necessity, produced endless shifts and contrivances, at which, if told, some would smile, and some, to whom they would teach their own experience, would sigh. But let me not disturb the veil of oblivion which shrouds from profane eyes the hallowed mysteries of poverty.

On one occasion, it was necessary to send me on an errand to a neighbor of better circumstances than ourselves, and therefore it was desirable that I should be presented in the best possible aspect. Great pains were accordingly taken to give a smart appearance to my patched and dilapidated wardrobe, and to conceal the rents and chasm which the envious tooth of time had made in it; and by way of throwing over my equipment a savor and sparkling of gentility, my red and toil-hardened hands were inclosed in the unfamiliar casing of a pair of gloves, which had belonged to my mother in days when her years were fewer and her heart was lighter.

I sallied forth on my errand, and on my way encountered a much older and bigger boy, who evidently belonged to a family which had all our own dragging poverty, and none of our uprising wealth of spirit. His rags fairly fluttered in the breeze; his hat was constructed upon the most approved principles, of ventilation; and his shoes, from their venerable antiquity, might be deemed a pair of fossil shoes—the very ones in which Shem shuffled into the ark. He was an impudent varlet, with a daredevil swagger in his gait, and an "I'm as good as you" leer in his eyes; the very whelp to throw dirt at a well-dressed horseman because he was dressed, at a boy's ruffles because he was clean. As soon as he saw me, his eyes detected the practical incongruousness which characterized my costume, and taking me by the shoulder, turning me round with no gentle hand, and surveying me from head to foot, he exclaimed with a scornful laugh of derision, "A patch on both knees, and gloves on!"

I still recall the sting of wounded feeling which shot through me at these words.—To parodize a celebrated line by the immortal Truman

"That day I wore my gloves no more."

But the lesson, so rudly enforced, sank deep into my mind; and in after life I have had frequent occasion to make a practical application of the words of my ragged friend when I observe the ridiculous inconsistencies which so often mark the conduct of mankind.

When, for instance, I see parents carefully providing for the ornamental education of their children, furnising them with teachers of music, dancing, and drawing, but giving no thought to that moral and religious training from which the true dignity and permanent happiness of life can come; never teaching them habits of self-sacrifice and self-discipline and control, but rather, by example, instructing them in evil-speaking, in uncharitableness, in envy, and in falsehood, I think with a sigh of the patch on both knees, and gloves on.

When I see a house profusely furnished with sumptuous furniture, rich curtains, and luxurious carpets, but with no books, or none but a few tawdry annuals, I am reminded of the patch on both knees, and gloves on.

When I see our public men cultivating exclusively those qualities which win a way to office, and neglecting those which will qualify them to fill honorably the post to which they aspire, I recall the patch on both knees, and gloves on.

When I see men sacrificing peace of mind and health of body to the insane pursuit of wealth, living in ignorance of the character of the children who are growing up around them, cutting themselves off from the highest and purest pleasures of their natures, and so perverting their humanity that which was sought as a means insensibly comes to be followed as an end, I say to myself, "A patch on both knees, and gloves on."

STATISTICS, OF THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH IN THE U. S.—The Catholic Almanac estimates the Catholic population of the diocese of St. Louis to be 100,000, Boston 26,000, Glaveston 30,000 and St. Paul 2,500; the total number of Catholics in the United States will be shown to be 2,096,309 The archdiocese of New York comprises the city and county of New York, and Eastern New Jersey. It is governed by Arch Bishop Hughes, and has for its suffragan sees Boston, Buffalo, Albany and Hartford. It contains 85 churches, 8 chapels, about 60 stations, 115 clergymen in the ministry, and 19 otherwise employed 1 ecclesiastical seminary, 8 literary institutions, and a Catholic population reported at 250,000. The diocese of Albany comprises a portion of the State of New York, and is governed by Bishop McCloskey. It contains 82 churches, (besides 11 in progress,) about 20 chapels and other stations, 62 clergymen in the ministry, and a Catholic population of 120,000. The diocese of Buffalo comprises the Western Division of New York, and is governed by Bishop Timon. It contains 90 churches, 26 clergymen, 2 ecclesiastical seminaries, 3 literary institutions, and a Catholic population of 80,000.

☞The liquor law has been repealed by the Legislature of Illinois.

POST CARDS

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

The Republican.

KEESEVILLE:

Saturday Morning Feb. 26.

The Union of Lakes, the Union of Lands,
The Union of States none can sever,
The Union of Hearts, the Union of Hands,
The Flag of Our UNION—Forever."

WHIG CAUCUS.

THE Whigs of the town of Chesterfield are requested to meet at the office of Harevy Carter, in the Village of Keeseville, on Saturday the 26th day of February, inst., at half past six o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of nominating town officers to be elected for the ensuing year. A general attendance of whigs is earnestly requested.

OLIVER KEESE, Jr.
SAML. AMES and
MARTIN FINCH.
Dated Feb. 18, 1853. Town Committee.

Town Meetings.

We again call the attention of our friends to this subject, and beg leave once more to urge, first to discreet and prudent nominations, and then to their cordial, and efficient support.

☞ We would also remind our friends that the printing of the tickets will do us as much good as anybody, and when consistent we hope to have the pleasure to do them. We shall be on hand, night or day.

The Row in the Legislature.

This occurred on the vote on the resolutions of Mr. Loomis. These were a set of meaningless resolutions, save as a cloak for evil designs, and as to a special tax on rail roads and banks, reported by the committee on the canals, whose duty it was to have reported a bill. Pretending to ask the advice of the House, they laid a trap, in which their own fingers were caught. The previous question was demanded, and a vote insisted without debate. M. R. Smith a N. Y. City member and a democrat asked to be excused from voting as he was unprepared without further information to vote understandingly. Not being excused he declined to vote, when the speaker ordered the Sergeant at Arms to take Mr Smith into custody for disorderly conduct! A scene of tremendous excitement occurred which lasted through the day (12th) and on Monday the 14th. Mr. Littlejohn a whig member entered a protest to the proceedings which was subsequently expunged by democratic votes. The resolutions of Mr. Loomis containing on their face only admitted truisms were adopted but those to taxing banks and rail roads were lost. Thus ends the only demonstration of the state administration during the session. They pretended to call it their canal policy—it was a flagrant attempt of the enemies of the canals to create hostility to this great State work. Their friendship is that of the vulture for its prey. Professing devoted friendship for the canals as that party at large does for the tariff they have done nothing for either, and never will only as forced to by public opinion, directed by whigs. The above was essentially a Baruburner operation. We record with pleasure that Senator Vanderbilt, a hunker Senator from N. Y. City has since trot' forward a distinct and practical proposition for the consideration of the Legislature.—This is denounced by the Atlas faction.

The Albany Argus comments with severity upon the Speaker Ludlow in the Assembly on the occasion alluded to, which it characterises as "extraordinary," "high-handed," and "arbitrary."

That paper closes an indignant article on the conduct of the Barnburners, thus:—

"We dismiss the matter, for the present with the remark that these proceedings are not probably final—and that they have engendered a feeling which will scarcely disappear even with the termination of the session"

Champlain Valley Horticultural Society. This society held its second Annual Meeting at Burlington, Vt. on the 15th inst.—The business consisted principally in the exhibition, comparison, and mutual information in regard to Fruit.

The following named gentleman were elected as officers for the year ensuing:—

For President—John Wheeler.

For Vice Presidents—John N. Pomeroy for Chittenden Co., Vt.; R. T. Robinson, for Addison Co., Vt.; Buel Landon, for Grand Isle Co., Vt.; C. M. Watson, for Essex Co., N. Y.; H. H. Hoyt, for Franklin Co., Vt.; Wm. F. Hailes for Clinton Co., N. Y.; S. J. Lyman, Montreal, C. E.; Adolphus Aylmer, Melbourne, C. E.; Albert Chapman, Rutland Co., Vt.

Secretary and Treasurer—Dr. Wm. C. Hickok.

Standing Fruit Committee—Jonathan Battey; Albert Chapman; Chauncey Goodrich; J. Torrey, D. D.; J. W. Bailey.

Professor of Botany—J. Torrey, D. D.

Prof. of Entomology—Rev. Z. Thompson.

Prof. of Horticultural Chemistry—Rev. John Mattocks.

The Illustrated Magazine of Art—We have received Nos 1, and 2, and would call attention to the advertisement in another place. It appears to be all that is claimed for it. It presents an interesting variety of contribution, and illustrations, biographical, historical, &c., &c. We are unable to review this Magazine with any justice for the want of space. Its table of contents is too large, and its illustrations too numerous. It travels over the whole world and brings to its pages every subject of interest. It is one of those few magazines worthy to be bound, and preserved.

The Marriage of Napoleon.

This event is made the occasion of a great variety of comment. For gossips especially it is fruitful of remarks. On the one hand it is said to be the result of sudden, and unholy passion on the part of Louis, and of intrigue on the part of the new Empress and her mother. On the other hand, it is claimed to be the consumation of an engagement of long standing, and of mutual affection. The personal appearance and character of the Empress also come in for the criticism of letter writers, and the enemies of Napoleon. If the worst be true, her life has been as profligate as that of Lola Monter. This we do not believe. That she is a dashing, bold, and adventurous is very likely true, and if talented and virtuous the selection is the best which Louis could have made. In her centres many of the noblest, and most illustrious names of Spain. If virtuous and talented she should satisfy the Aristocracy, (but what care they for virtue?) and her daring, and popular manners will captivate the people. Instead therefore, of disparaging Napoleon for this step, we think it will add to his reputation for originality, and strengthen his position with his own people at least. We have joined in the universal scorn and detestation of Louis Napoleon, nor are we any more his admirer than ever, but it must be conceded that in every movement, and every address he has displayed the most consummate skill. How long he will reign we neither know nor care, but the ability and tact which he shows in pleasing the masses while he rules with despotic sway is rather attractive, and amusing. He would make a model American democrat, and if he should be dethroned he would do well to come to the U. S. where he would stand a rare chance for the Presidency. Of numberless articles on this subject, we select one from the N. Y. Tribune, which will be found on our first page.

Steamboat Appointments.

We hear from Burlington, that the following named gentlemen have been appointed to the command of the steamers that are to run on Lake Champlain the ensuing season;—

The "R. W. Sherman," Capt. J O'Grady
" " United States," " W. H. Flagg;
" "Saltus," " M. H. Baxter;
" "Saranac," " H. Mayo.

The new steamer, now building at Whitehall, it is understood, is to be commanded by Captain Seth H. Foster. She will be out early in the season.—[Plattsburgh Rep.

The above is correct as far as it goes Capt Anderson, as worthy as the worthiest commands the Burlington. The Sherman and the new boat building at Whitehall belong to what was the Old Line, or the Lake Champlain Transportation company, Mr. Burton not having sold the charter of the Co., when he sold the boats. The other boats named belong to the Rutland & Burlington Rail Road. These are of course all first rate appointments, tho' the people will regret that there was not another first class boat especially for Capt. Baxter.

"Weeli Funetic Advocate, a jurnal ov Nuz, Siens, Lituratur, Educasun, and Reform." This is the title of a sheet lately come to hand in which in plain English we find the following note viz:

"Those Editors who do not wish to preserve this sheet are requested to hand it to some school teacher, or other person who will be likely to be interested in its character."

We are one of "those Editors" and we know of no such "teachers or other person," and if we did we would not "hand over" such a sheet of nonsense. Should there be any such persons however they can have the "Advocate" by calling at our office, if in the mean time it is not used to kindle the fire. For the honor of the profession however we trust there is no "teacher or other person" simple enough to patronize "foneties" any more than "spirit rappings"—the only difference being that the former are fools, and the latter knaves.

Hunt's Merchant's Magazine.—We are happy to acknowledge the continuance of this "ancient and honorable" monthly.—It is devoted to trade, Commerce, Navigation, Banking, Currency, Finance, Mercantile and Maritime law, Insurance, Internal Improvements and all the great commercial and industrial interests of the country. $5, a year,—142 Fulton St. N. Y. Its table of contents for February would fill a column of our sheet, and we note only a few to indicate its character: Cuba, Property and National wealth, Mercantile biography, Commercial, Steamboat and Rail Road Statistics, Journal of Banks and banking, Imports, Exports, &c., &c.

Mrs. Whittlesey's Magazine for Mothers and Daughters for Feb. is received.—This is a pure and elevating monthly and its character will be seen by its table of contents:

Leaving home, Woman. Divine Retribution, The Mother's of the Bible, Aunt Ella's talk with the girls, The Sanctuary of Christianity, Pray for them which despitefully use and persecute you.

It is deserving of support, and ought to supercede the fashionable and less worthy magazines. Price $1.—4 copies $3, 7 copies $5, 15 copies 10. Henry W. Whittlesey, 128 Nassau St. N. Y.

The Rail Road.

We learn from the Whitehall Chronicle that the survey has actually begun at that place. Public meetings have also been held in Putnam and Dresden, and the right spirit is being awakened at that end of the route. Mr. Coffin of Montreal only awaits a proper survey and map to proceed to Europe to solicit subscriptions to the stock in connection with another great enterprise in Canada which will be tributary to this road. The organization was to have been completed in Troy this week, and we believe Mr. Green has gone down with most, if not all of the 10 per cent, required to be paid in at this time. The road seems to be a settled thing, though there is much hard work yet to be done before the undertaking will be completed.—It remains to the people along the road to manifest a friendly interest in its prosperity and we believe it will go Advertising.

We believe in it fully. Any business which is good for anything can be increased by advertising, and advertisers can afford to pay for bringing their business before the people. If the business is good for nothing it had better not be advertised We work for pay, and pay for our work.—These remarks are made in reply to sundry applications to advertise various kinds of Speculations and take our pay out of the avails of the business. We respectfully decline all such offers. We advertise for pay either in cash, or its equivalent.—The Republican affords a valuable medium for advertising. Those who patronize it will get the worth of their money. We shall be happy to receive the orders of those who desire to do so on the terms we have named.

CABINET MAKING.—Messrs. T. A. & C. RICHARDSON, (late of Keeseville,) have commenced business in this village, in the Cabinet line, on an extensive scale. Their work shop is in the old brick factory, and their ware rooms will soon be opened in the building first door north of James Bailey & Son's store. We have long needed such an establishment here; and as the Messrs. Richardson are first rate mechanics—(their work has stood high in this market for years)—we have no doubt but that they will find the change in their location most advantageous. We bespeak for them the liberal patronage of our citizens.—[Plattsburgh Rep.

We are gratified to record the flattering prospects of our old friends and former townsmen as mentioned in the above complimentary notice. They are worthy and deserving.

GODEY for March is received, and presents its usual variety of matter. Besides several illustrated articles, it contains the following plates, Hours of Idleness, The memory of the Past, Wild Flowers &c.—Among other contributions we note the following:

Gas and gas fixtures, Etherton Cottage, Art and its future prospects in the U. S.—Match making, A chapter on chains and bracelets. To these and others are to be added, Fashions, Patterns, Needle work, Crotchet work, Embroidery, &c., &c., for which the Lady's Book is highly prised, and eagerly sought by the ladies.

SIMPLICITY IN DRESS.—Those who think that in order to dress well it is necessary to dress extravagantly, or grandly, make a great mistake. Nothing so well becomes true feminine beauty as simplicity. We have seen many a remarkably fine person robbed of its true effect by being over-dressed. Nothing is more unbecoming than over-loading beauty. The stern simplicity of the classic taste is seen in the old statues and pictures painted by men of superior artistic genius. In Athens the ladies were not gaudily, but simply arrayed, and we doubt whether any ladies ever excited more admiration. So also the noble old Roman matrons, whose superb forms were gazed on delightly by men worthy of them, were always very plainly dressed. Fashion often presents the hues of the butterfly, but fashion is not a classic goddess.—George D. Prentice.

DARIEN SHIP CANAL.—Certain English parties have obtained a grant from the State of New Granda, for the construction of a Ship Canal across the the isthmus of Darien. The junction between the two oceans is designed to be made between Port Escosses on the Atlantic and San Miguel on the Pacific. The distance is 39 miles. A preliminary survey has been made, and a report submitted to the concessionaries, which it is now stated is attracting much attention among British merchants and capitalists. Three modes of executing the work are presented. That most likely to be adopted will cost $60,000,000, and contemplates a cutting 30 feet deep at low tide, 140 feet wide at the bottom, and 160 feet at low water surface. Such a Canal it is believed would accommodate the trade of the world, and would form a permanent, safe, and rapid mode of transit. The largest vessels could pass from sea to sea in five hours.—(Albany Journal.

Dirt Cheap.—Upon the reception of a commission of Notary Public from the Governor the Editor of the Northern Gazette pitches into the Hunkers and Canal democrats right and left. That is going at a cheap rate—sold to a miserable, radical faction for a "mess of pottage."

It is said that Kossuth intends to return to this country, and it is also said that he dare not return.

The people of Vt., have by a small majority adopted the Liquor to them.

Late and interesting European Letters.

ENGLAND.

The political world is altogether quiet. Almost the only rumor is one circulated on the authority of the Morning Advertiser, that dissessions have already broken out in the Ministry.

Mr. Cobden has been prominently before the public this week—in the first place by the publication in the London Times, 27th inst., of a letter on "War and Peace," being part of his pamphlet on the French war; and, secondly, by his appearance before the Peace Conference at Manchester.

War with the U. S.—Mr. Bright's speech was, perhaps, the most noticeable, from its alluding to the contingency of war with the United States. To obviate such a calamity Mr B. of course finds a remedy in arbitration.

Reply to Mrs. Tyler.—Lord Shaftesbury the recognised head of the Anti-Slavery movement in England, writes from Genoa, some comments on the "Reply of the American to the English ladies, on the subject of Slavery." The scope of his argument is, that the social evils of England, to which the American ladies refer, are quite beside the question; that these evils are not nearly so bad as the Americans say, and that he (Shaftesbury) may retort by exhibiting the social enormities that have come to his knowledge in New York and Boston: but as he has a "real kindness for our bretheren in the United States," he won't expose them. "The long and short of the case is this (he says,) we have had, and we still have in England many evils, but we are now doing our best to remove them. They have had, and they still have in America a great evil, which they not only will not endeavor to remove, but they make it daily worse,—witness their Fugitive Slave Law,—reviling, moreover, and persecuting every one who ventures to jog their memories on things of vital importance to the temporal and eternal interests of the human race."

FRANCE.

The Emperor's marriage, though taking people by surprise, has not been exactly a nine day's wonder, and the public has, for the last two or three days, looked upon it almost as a matter of course, and have ceased to be surprised. From the present state of public feeling, always of course excepting political circles, there is reason to anticipate that the future Empress will be generally popular. A great deal will, of course, depend upon herself, and the immediate friends and advisers by whom she may be surrounded. It is something in favor of the Countess of Teba that she appears to have earned the dislike of a few well-known characters, who, to the disgrace of Parisian society, are tolerated in it: and it argues well for the decency of the future court of the Empress that such persons should be among the first to assail her.—With reference to the discreditable stories that have been current, and the scene of which was laid at Compeigne, it is positively asserted that these stories were false.

People are now speculating as to the answer that will be received from foreign Courts on the notification of the Emperor's marriage being made to them; and it is surmised that some expressions in the address will be considered as rather wounding to their dignity or their amour propre, and may produce a corresponding reply. In several political circles comments have been very freely made, and the term used with reference to Austria in particular (brigues). alluding to the marriage of the Arch Duchess, Marie Louise, has it appears, given some offence.

The Empress shall wear a diadem on her entrance to the Cathedral, the civil marriage being considered as raising her to sovereign rank. The Ministerial papers state that all the despatches received by the Government from the departments, are unanimous in testifying to the satisfaction experienced by the people at the Emperor's marriage The peasants and operatives are said to have expressed the warmest enthusiasm at reading the communication from the Emperor to the Senate and Corps Legislatif.

Some persons say that if the Pope will not come to Paris to crown the Emperor and his consort they will proceed to Rome to have the ceremony performed. The Emperor is said to have declared so, and the quidnuncs are trying to make out of the expression something more than it bears on its face.

Prince Napoleon Bonaparte has been named General of Division, some say as a salve for the mortification he feels at the Emperor's marriage, and at being himself rejected by the Princess of Wagram, with whom, it appears, has projected alliance is definitely broken off. The Prince made it a condition that he should be appointed to a military rank, prior to accepting the Lieutenancy of Algeria. Prince Napoleon is but 30 years of age, has no military experience, and has appointment to so high a rank is not pleasing to military men.

Congratulations.—The Queen of Spain proposes to present the Empress with an imperial crown, and the Duchess of Alba—Eugenie's sister—sends an offering of eight beautiful Andalusian horses. Instead of the customary purse, among the providings of the bride, Napoleon placed a portfolio, containing a quarter of a million of francs. This sum the Empress devoted in charity—one half to the Maternity Society, and the remainder to the Hospital for Incurables—the Emperor endorsing the gifts in behalf of "our much loved wife, the Empress Eugenie."

He proposes to build a palace at Marseilles, and they say, one in each of the principal towns of France, and reside at each alternately, commencing next summer with Versailles, where on account of the expense, no sovereign has resided since Louis XIV.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITOL.—Within a few days past several members of the Assembly have attached to their watch-chains and guards a small sea shell, on which is engraved the word "hard." This is to be known hereafter as the coat-of-arms for the "Hardshell" Democracy, or the friends of Dickinson. This insignia will, we have no doubt, become as famous as the "bucktail" was in the early history of the coun-—Knickerbocker.

Accidental Death.

Patrick Gleason, in the employ of Jesse Potter at Blackbrook, was suddenly killed on Friday, the 8th inst. by the falling of a tree upon his head. He was felling a tree, and a few rods off were two other men at work on the same job, who cautioned him to beware of a dry stub, when the tree which he was chopping should fall. He started to clear himself at the proper time but sprung directly under the tree he was warned to beware of, and was killed instantly—the tree striking his head, breaking in his skull, and breaking his neck. He leaves a wife and four children, and some property which with liberal subscriptions promptly started by Mr. Tyler will support them through the winter.

Bro TARBELL:—

The following are the officers of Sharon Tent No. 335 I. O. of R. for the present quarter.

P. C. Newell, Sh'd.
Wm. St. P. Fuller, P. C. R.
Truman B. Streeter, C. R.
John C. Parish, D. R.
Monroe Hall, R. S.
Theodore Randall, F. S.
N. C. Boynton, T.
Robert P. Carpenter, S.
Nehemiah Hattan, I. G.
Henry Summers, O. G

Scribe.

Jay, Feb 17th, 1853.

A BARBER'S ADVERTISEMENT.—The following advertisement appears in a Canadian paper:—

"Unrivalled Shaving and Hair-Cutting Establishment.—Daniel A. Cook takes this opportunity to inform the public that he has commenced the above business in the shop next door to Bradford's Hotel, Lower Town, where a gentleman can be shaved in a new, and hitherto unattempted manner, founded on principles of chemical science and animal magnetism, perfectly Elysian. In the hair cutting department it is painful to witness what havoc is perpetrated on a head of human hair by the empirics of the day, and how 'the human face divine' is often disfigured by a bad cut. I hope, however, that the sign, 'Comfort in Shaving,' will be sufficient without the aid of directors and runners, but leave the public to make their choice between a stump extractor and the Elysian touch."

MANIFEST DESTINY.—A series of resolutions have been introduced into the Ohio Senate looking to the "extension of the area of freedom." The following may serve as a specimen:

Resolved, That if it be Heaven's will, as we think it is, to concentrate the whole continent, with the islands of the sea adjacent thereto, to freedom, and to place them under the protection of our flag, true American citizens will not murmur at the decrees of Providence; but, on the contrary, with all other good Christians, will say, "God's will be done."

Very much like the manifest destiny men of Cromwell's time—"Resolved, that the Saints shall inherit the earth: Resolved that we are the Saints."—[Boston Courier.

THE SCHOOLFELLOW,

EDITED BY

Mr. W. C. Richards, and "Cousin Alice."

This work has been in existence for four years, during which time it has acquired a degree of popularity and fame unrivalled in the history of juvenile works, and has frequently been pronounced by the press, both North and South. "The best and cheapest Juvenile Magazine in the United States."

It is devoted to the instruction and gratification of the young of both sexes, and aims at the cultivation of the heart, as well as of the mind. It is an original magazine, and its articles are prepared for its pages by many of the best writers for the young in the country. Heretofore edited by Mr RICHARDS, it will continue under his general superintendance, but he will have the constant aid of "Cousin Alice," [Mrs. ALICE B. NEAL.]

Each No. contains 32 pages and several engravings, printed on the finest paper, and in the best style. Its price is

ONLY ONE DOLLAR A YEAR!

☞ Clubs are supplied on the following terms:—Five copies, to one address, $4; Ten copies, $7; Thirty copies, $20; Fifty copies, 30. All Postmasters are empowered and requested to make up "Clubs" upon these terms.

The back Volumes of the Work for 1849, 1850 1851, and 1852, may be had, neatly bound in gilt muslin, at $1,25 each, or they will be supplied in connection with the present volume for FIVE DOLLARS.

All business communications should be addressed, post-paid to

C. M. SAXTON,
152 Fulton St. New York.

☞ A specimen No. can be seen at our office.

Grand Literary and Artistic Combination.

What can be got for Five Dollars!!

The publishers of the Knickerbocker Magazine, Home Journal, and Musical World and Times have entered into an arrangement by which they agree to furnish the Knickerbocker Magazine, (monthly,) the Home Journal, (weekly,) and the Musical World and Times (weekly,) to new subscribers, at the very moderate price of five dollars a year for the three publications; all order enclosing that amount to Dyer & Willis, will be promptly attended to.

The Knickerbocker is $3 per annum: the Home Journal, $2; and the Musical World and Times, $3; making $8 a year at the usual rates. That three such works can be obtained for FIVE DOLLARS a year, is a fact truly worthy the CALORIC age, which is just now being ushered in.

Having published the advertisement of each of these Journals it is unnecessary to repeat them to our readers.

"The evil men do live after them.
The good is oft interred with their bones."

"New Clothing Store."

We call attention to this new feature in the business of Boynton & Smith as stated in their advertisement in another place.—Any description of garment, from the cheapest to the most costly, and in any style can be obtained here, on terms that admit of no competition.

To CORRESPONDENTS.—Several articles necessarily deferred.

Will "O. F. W." please send his name in full.

"A spectator"—is under consideration.

A gentleman, just returned to this country from a tour in Europe, was asked how he liked the ruins of Pompei?

"Not very well," was the reply—"They are so much out of repair.

WANTED,

A farm containing not less than 200 acres in the town of Chesterfield. Ausable or Peru, on which must be good Dwelling House and out Buildings and otherwise under good cultivation. One answering the above Description will meet with sale for cash. Enquire of

Benj. MINER,
Port Kent, Feb. 22d, 1853.

Forge for Sale.

IN an excellent location for the manufacture of Iron, being near the Ausable Ores and where coal is easily obtained at the lowest prices. It is on the Ausable river in Jay, has two fires, and on the premises are eight dwellings, a Store, three good coal houses, and other conveniences. Terms easy. Also a quantity of timber lands near the forge. Apply to the subscriber. MONROE HALL.

Jay, Feb. 17th 1853. 400-6w

Meterological Table.

BY

I. R. R.

1853.	7A. M.	1P. M.	6P. M.
Feb. 18th	0	0	8°
" 19th	6° Below 0	10°	5°
" 20th	6° " 0	21°	17°
" 21st	3°	28°	21°
" 22nd	27°	37°	38°
" 23rd	34°	33°	33°
" 24th	8°	22°	19°

Keeseville Feb. 25th, 1853.

Selling off at Cost!

Barnum will sell the remainder of his Winter Stock of Hats, Caps, Furs, Fancy Robes, Gloves, Mittens, &c., at cost. A good assortment of Trunks, Vallises, Ladies and Gentlemen's Satchels and Carpet Bags, Umbrellas, Canes, Buckskin Gloves, and Mittens, &c., on hand.

I. W. BARNUM.

College Street, 2nd Door from Church. Burlington, Vt., Feb. 1, 1853.

WAR DECLARED

—BETWEEN—

France and England!!!

WOULD not create as great a sensation among the inhabitants of this portion of country as the proclamation of war on high prices by CARDWELL in the sale of

Ready-Made Clothing.

That war declared Oct. 1st, 1851, still rages with unabating and increasing fury; but in its progress its path is not marked with bloodshed, carnage and desolation as the wars of one Nation against another; on the other hand its fruits are smiling faces (NOT OF OTHER DEALERS) and glad hearts; go ask the honest and hardy inhabitants of our pine clad hills, and our pleasant valleys, where he buys his CLOTHING, and he will answer you with a smile,

WHY AT CARDWELL'S, OF COURSE!

That is the place where you can obtain the latest styles, a genteel fit, and well made suit of clothes for less money than at any other Store in northern New York.

Why, says one man, I have saved money enough by purchasing my Clothing this Fall at

CARDWELL'S CHEAP STORE

to buy me a good Cow. ☞ This is no fiction: living witnesses can be produced that will testify to the truth of it.

N. B. Saturday March the 5th

will arrive a large and magnificent assortment of Spring and Summer Clothing, when the Spring and Summer Fashions will be introduced. Every description of garments always to be found at CARDWELL'S One Price cheap

CLOTHING WARE ROOM'S,
ADIRONDAC HOTEL BUILDINGS,
Keeseville N. Y.
G. A. CARDWELL.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS John McDermid, then of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York, by a certain Mortgage, dated December 18th, 1850, and with the power of sale therein contained duly recorded in the office of the Clerk of Essex County, in Vol. P, of Mortgages on pages 434, and 435, on the 21st day of December, 1850, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to secure the payment of fifty dollars and interest, did duly Mortgage to John McGuire of the second place, certain premises described in said mortgage as follows:—All those two certain building lots, lying and being in the village of Keeseville, County of Essex and State of New York. The first of said lots is bounded and described as follows: situated on the Port Kent Hill, in the said village, on a street to be known and designated as back street, and measuring on said street fifty five feet in front and the same in rear and extending back one hundred feet—to be known and designated as lot number (4).—The second of the aforesaid lots is situated also in the said village of Keeseville, on the street known and designated as McDermid street, to commence on the said street one hundred and fifty feet from the line of the Port Kent road and to be sixty feet in front on said street and run back to James McGuires land be the said lots more or less. And whereas the said Mortgage was by an instrument in writing dated February 18th, 1853, duly assigned by the said John McGuire to Michael Keenan, jr. of Chesterfield, Essex County. On which Mortgage there is claimed to be due at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $57.67. And default having been made in the payment of said $57.67 and no proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the same, or any part thereof: now therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage and of the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgaged premises will be sold at public auction on the 23d day of May next at 10 o'clock A. M. at the Adirondac Hotel, in the village of Keeseville, Essex County.

MICHAEL KEENAN, Jr.
Assignee of Mortgagee.
JOHN McELROY, Atty. 400 13w
Dated, Keeseville February 26th, 1853.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

The Illustrated Magazine of Art.

In Monthly Parts. Price 25 cents each.

Every arrangement has been made to produce a work of unparalleled magnificence, regardless of cost.

The Editor, Mr. Cassell, has published a similar work in England during the past year, under the title of "Illustrated Exhibitor and Magazine of Art," the circulation of which has averaged 60,000 each number.

Encouraged by the success which has attended this enterprise, he has resolved to present to the American public a magazine of still higher pretensions—one, indeed, which will prove the pictorial wonder of the age. Each number will consist of sixty-eight pages, royal octavo, printed on the finest paper. The illustrations will be intrusted to the first artists of the world.—Six monthly parts will form a handsome volume

The work will be so conducted as to embrace the greatest variety of matter in its various departments, upon each of which the highest literary talent will be employed.

The following is a brief outline of the plan of the Magazine ;—

I. The Historical Department will abound with picturesque representations of the most remarkable events which have occurred in this and other countries; accompanied with interesting anecdotes and details from the pens of the most eminent writers of the day. This department will contain several splendid engravings, designed by the first artists of the world, engraved in the highest style of modern art

II. The Men and Women of the Age.—This department will consist of beautifully executed portraits of the leading characters of the age, especially of those who figure on the stage of humanity as the world's benefactors. Each portrait will be accompanied by an interesting biographical sketch.

III. The wonders of Natural History, Botany, and other sciences, will be developed in choice Engravings of Beasts. Birds, Fishes. Insects. Forest Trees, Flowers, Geological and Fossil specimens, &c., with accompanying descriptions.

IV. The triumphs of Architectural Art will be displayed in exquisitely finished representations of Cathedrals, Churches, Palaces, and other models of ancient and modern Architectural Art.

V. The works of the Great Masters, selected from the principal Galleries of Art in the world. In general, the portrait of the Master will be given, accompanied with a highly finished, engraved copy of his chef d'aguvre.

VI. The scientific portions will be rendered highly interesting by the familiar explanations, and the numerous diagrams, which will accompany each subject.

VII. Manufactures. The principal manufacturing process in use will be fully explained by minute details, and an abundance of beautiful engravings.

VIII. Machinery and Inventions will have due attention paid to them, and be described by numerous appropriate engravings.

IX. Ladies' Work Table Department will contain a rich variety of elegant and original patterns for various kinds of useful and ornamental work, with ample directions for copying them.

X. The literary department, independently of the various articles accompanying the illustrations, will comprise original and interesting narratives, contributed by the most popular writers of the day, with numerous illustrations

In addition to the numerous and beautiful engravings incorporated in the letter-press, each number will contain four splendid engravings, and printed in a very superior manner upon superfine plate paper.

In every respect the Illustrated Magazine of Art will be decidedly superior to any pictorial magazine of the day. The paper the typography, the engravings, the literary articles, will far surpass its successful predecessor published in England, upon which such high eucologiums have been pronounced by the whole public press. Six of the monthly portions, when completed, will form a volume, which for interest, originality, value and beauty, will defy competition. It will not only be an interesting family book, but a rich ornament for the drawing room table, and a plesant companion in the study. ☞TERMS-$3 a year; to Clubs of three or more, $2,50 if paid in advance for twelve months, it will be sent postage free to any part of the Union

AGENTS WANTED in every town throughout the U. S.

Any person receiving the first number, and canvassing with the same, will be certain of secuing a large number of subscribers. No just conception can be formed of the elegance and beauty of the work from merely reading a printed prospectus. The Illustrations contained in each number will entail a cost, in drawing and engraving, of $2500 or $3 00. All communications relating to the work to be addressed to ALEXANDER MONTGOMERY,

Publisher, 17 Spruce street, N. Y.

STATE OF NEW YORK, } SS.
County of Essex. }

The undersigned, Clerk of said County, hereby gives notice that at the County Clerk's office in Elizabethtown, in said County, on the 28th day of February inst at 10 o'clock, A. M. of that day, he will draw the names of 36 persons to serve as Petit Jurors at a County Court and Court of Sessions to be held at the Court House, in said town on the third Monday in March next, at 10 o'clock A. M. of that day.

Given and dated at the County Clerk's Office, this 14th day of February 1853.

E. A. ADAMS, Clerk

STATE OF NEW YORK, } SS.
County of Essex, }

The undersigned Clerk of said County hereby gives notice that at the Co Clerk's office in Elizabethtown in said County on the 28th day of Feb. inst at 10 o'clock A. M. he will draw the names of twenty four persons to serve as Grand Jurors at a County Court and Court of Sessions to be held at the Court House in said Town on the third Monday of March next, at 10 o'clock A. M. of that day.

Given and dated at the County Clerk's office this 14th day of February A. D. 1852.

E. A. ADAMS, Clerk.

Miscellaneous.

Insurance Agency.

National Protection Insurance Company, Saratoga Springs, Capital, $200,000

Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance Company, West Scotia, N. Y, Capital, $160,000

Nothern N. Y Mutual Insurance Company, Plattsburgh, N. Y, Capital, $100,000

Knickerbocker Fire Insurance Company, Waterford, N. Y., Capital, $200,000

Northern N. Y. Live Stock Ins. Company, Plattsburgh, N. Y., Capital, $50,000

Charter Oak Life Insurance Company, Hartford, Vt., Capital, $200,000

Policies in the National Protection Insurance Co., and the Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance issued by the undersigned.

JAMES B. DICKINSON.

Office, Ausable Forks N. Y.
Saratoga Springs, Feb'y 7th, 1852.

WE, the undersigned, JOHN WILLARD, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court for the 4th Judicial District of the State of New York, and a resident of Saratoga Springs, with AUGUSTUS BOCKES, First Judge of the County of Saratoga, being likewise a resident of Saratoga Springs. and JOHN C. HULBURT, Surrogate of the County of Saratoga, also a resident of Saratoga Springs—do hereby Certify, that we are personally acquainted with the men composing the Board of Directors of the National Protection Insurance Company of Saratoga Springs. We take pleasure in availing ourselves of this opportunity in recommending to the Public, from a personal knowledge of the responsibility and character of their Board of Directors, that this Company is a sound and reliable Institution, will deal fairly with the assured, and are fully competent to pay their losses. We therefore unhesitatingly recommend this Company as an Institution in every respect worthy of a liberal patronage.

JOHN WILLARD,
A. BOCKES,
JNO. C. HULBURT.

JAMES B. DICKINSON,
Policy Agent, Ausable Forks.
Ausable Forks, Feb. 5th, 1852. 457-tf

CHINA, GLASS, & EARTHEN WARE.

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

[SUCCESSORS TO PEIRCE AND KING,]

IMPORTERS AND WHOLESAL DEALERS,
235 River Street Troy, New York.

Having our stock very complete from importations, and otherwise, are prepared to offer a large assortment of all Goods in our Line Wholesale or Retail, at the Lowest New York or Boston Prices for Cash or Approved Credit, among which will be found :

Fine White Ironstone and White Glazed Ware Flown Blue Flown Mulberry, Light Blue and common Wares, and the Acacia Ware, formerly kept by Mr A. Sisson.

White, Gold Band and Decorated French China, in sets or separate pieces.

Tea sets, of French and English China white, Gilt, or decorated. India China in great variety

Tole Sets, decorated or plain, full, double, or single sets, Cut Glass Ware, in Decanters, Goblets Champaigne, Wines &c., of new and rich patterns. Glass cut to match any pattern.

Moulded and plain Glass Ware of every description and style.

Girandoles, Candelabras, Solar Lamps, and Chandeliers, in every variety, from the manufactory of Cornelius & Co. Philadelphia.

Solar Globes, cut and Plain, Solar and Camphene Wicks and Chimnies. Astral and Cost Wicks, Boat Globes, Astral Chimnies &c., &c.

Hall Lanterns of cut, plain and stained Glass.

Lanterns of every variety. Also a new and desirable style with patent catch, &c., for Railroads and Steamboats, and made to order with names or initials engraved on.

Tea Trays and Waiters, new styles and shapes, of our own importation, sing y ers in sets.

Looking Glasses, Britannia Ware, Table Mats &c., &c.

Also a splendid assortment of Fancy Goods, consisting of Vases, Colognes, Cardreceivers, Ailumets, Decanters, Wine Bottles, &c., in China, Terra Cotta, Parian Marble, and Bohemian Ware,

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.
276 River Street, Opposite Troy House, Troy, N Y.
ALFRED H. PEIRCE, } 415
LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK. }

Gas, Steam & Water Fitting

and Fixtures, Wrought-Iron Pipe, Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Plumbers' Materials, &c.

We are now prepared to do work in dwellings, Stores, Churches, Mills, or Factories, in the way of Gas and Steam Fitting or Plumbing, in the most complete and satisfactory manner. Having workmen in each of the above branches who cannot be excelled by any similar establishments in the country all orders will be promptly executed, and work done in any part of the country

We have also constantly on hand and for Sale at Manufacturers' Prices, Wrought Iron Pipe for Gas, Steam, and water, Twisted and Plain Brass Pipe Steam Valves, Brass and Iron Stop Cocks, Tees, Elbows, Couplings, Brass Globe, Gate and Check Valves, &c. Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Leather Hose, Hose Pipe and Couplings, with every material in Lead, Brass and Plated Work for Plumbers' use.—Plue Basins, Hoppers, Closet Pans, Corner Basins, and Baths, of all descriptions.

Also, a splendid assortment of Chandeliers, Pendants, Brackets &c., on new and rich styles, to which we are receiving constant additions.

PEIRCE and SOUTHWICK.
223 and 235 River-Street, [Opposite Troy House,] Troy, N. Y. 446-tf
ALFRED H. PEIRCE, LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK.

NOTICE.

IN consequence of the death of Edmund K. Bussing, the firm of Kingsland Baber. & Co has been dissolved and the business will be continued in the same name and style by the undersigned.

WILLIAM W. KINGSLAND,
ALFRED BABER.
EDMUND KINGSLAND,
J. D. KINGSLAND,
JOHN S. BUSSING,
ABRAHAM BUSSING.

Keeseville, Feb 1st, 1853. 458-3w

NOTICE.

IN consequence of the death of Edmund K. Bussing, the firm of E. & J. D. Kingsland & Co. has been dissolved, and the business will be continued in the same name and style by the undersigned.

EDMUND KINGSLAND,
J. D. KINGSLAND,
JOHN S. BUSSING,
A. B. KINGSLAND,
ABRAHAM BUSSING.

Keeseville, Feb. 1st, 1853. 458-3w

The Lily,

Amelia Bloomer, Eeditor and Proprietor.

The Fifth Volume, of the Lily will be commenced on the first of January, 1853, and will be published in folio form on the first and fifteenth of each month, at the low price of fifty cents a year.

It will continue to labor zealously and earnestly for the emancipation of Woman from the crushing evils of Intemperance—from the cruel enactments of unjust laws made without her consent—from the destructive influences of Costume and Fashson—from mistaken views of duty and personal effort, and for her elevation to her true position in society of perfect and entire equality in all that relates to her social, civil and religious rights and duties.

Its editorials, original communications, and selections will be caculated to promote these objects, and its columns will always be open to the discussion of all subjects connected with the interests of Woman.

All communications and business letters should be addressed—AMELIA BLOOMER, Seneca Falls, N. Y,

---

PIANO FORT EMPORIUM.

361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. The most extensive and varied assortment of ROSEWOOD PIANO FORTES, plain and ornamental, elegant patterns, elaborately carved and highly finished with Pearl keys, all of our own manufacture. and warranted in every particular. can be found at our Warerooms, 361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

437-1y BENNTT & CO.

BUTTER FOR SALE.

Large quantity of good dairy Butter bought in large and small packages of the finest quality for sale at BOYNTON & SMITH.

Keeseville Jan. 27, 1853.

Miscellaneous.

LEONARD SCOTT & Co.'s

LIST OF
BRITISH PERIODICAL
PUBLICATIONS.

Delivered in all the principal Cities in the United States, free of Postage, and forwarded by Mail, under the provisions of the late Post Office Law, at merely nominal rates.

1. THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW (Conservative)
2. THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (Whig.)
3. THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church.)
4. The WESTMINSTER REVIEW. (Liberal.)
5. BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tory.)

Although these works are destinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary Character which gives them their chief value, and in this they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the fatherly care of Christopher North, maintains its celebrity, and is, at this time, unusually attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that magazine, and first appearring in its columns both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such, works as "The Caxtons" and "My New Novel," (both by Bulwer,) "The Green Hand," "Katie Stewart," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Messrs Scott & Co., so that Subscribers to the Reprint of that Magazine may always rely on having the earliest reading of these fascinating tales.

Terms and Premiums.

[See list of Premium Volumes below.]

	per ann.
For any 1 of the 4 Reviews and one Prem. vol.	$3,00
For any 2 of the 4 Reviews and one prem vol.	5,00
For any 3 of the 4 Reviews and two prem. vol.	7,00
For all four of the Reviews and two prem. vol.	8,00
For Blacwood's Magazine and one prem. vol	3,00
For Blackwood's & 3 Reviews and three prem vol.	9,00
For Blackwood's & the 4 Reviews and three prem. vol.	10,00

Payments to be made in all cases in advance.

The Premiums consist of the following works, back volumes of which will be given to new subscribers according to the number of periodicals ordered, as above explained.—

PREMIUM VOLUMES.

Foreign Quarterly Review (one year.)
Blackwood's Magazine (six months)
London Quarterly Review (one year.)
Bentley's Miscellaney (six months.)
Edinburgh Review (one year.)
Metropolitan Magazine (six months)
Westminster Review (one year.)

Consecutive Premium volumes cannot in all cases be furnished, except of the Foreign Quarterly Review. To prvent disappointment, therefore, where that work is not alone wanted. Subscribers will please order as many different works for premiums as there are volumes to which they may be entitled.

CLUBBING.

A discount of twenty five per cent from the above prices will be allowed to Clubs ordering four or more copies of any one or more of the above works, Thus: Four copies of Blackwond, or of one Review, will be sent to one address for $9 ; four copies of the four Reviews and Blackwood for $30 ; and so on.

No premiums will be given where the above allowance is made to Clubs, nor will premiums in any case be furnished, unless the subscription money is paid in full to the Publishers without recourse to an agent. Money current in the State where issued will be received at par.

Reduced Postage.

The following table will show the great reduction which has been made on these periodicals since 1843, and the vary trifling rates now charged.

	Per annum.
Prior to 1845, the postage on Blackwood was	$2 40
Prior to 1845, the postage on a single Review	1 12
From 1845 to 1851, the postage on Blackwood was,	1 00
From 1845 to 1851, the postage on a Review was	50
In 1851 52 [average rate] on Blackwood was	75
In 1851 52 [average rate] on a Review	38
The present postage on Blackwood, is	24
The present postage on a Review is	12

[The rates are now uniform for all distances within the United States.]

At these rates surely no objection should be made to receive the works by mail, and thus ensuring their speedy, safe, and regular delivery.

☞Remittances and communications should be always addressed, post-paid, to the Publishers,

LEONARD SCOTT & Co.,
79 Fulton Street, (entrance 54 Gold street,) 85 NEW YORK.

$20 a Day.

Book Agents wanted. to sell Hayward's Gazateer of the United States,

Just published and now ready for Canvassers.

THIS work, so invaluable to business men. gives a history of the settlement, general surface of the soil and state of agriculture. manufactures and population of every town in the United States, with valuable statistical tables. a new map of the United States, &c

An agent wanted for this county. Apply immediately to

HORACE WENTWORTH,
447-5w 86 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Bounty Lands

PURCHASED AND OBTAINED BY
GEO. MOORE. Plattsburgh, N. Y,
December 3, 1852. 448tf

CLAPBOARDS.

500 seasoned Clapboards
E. H. GAR[illegible]

Business Cards.

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS,

(Successor to Nichols & Warren,)

WHOLESALE PAPER
WAREHOUSE
And Paged Blank Book Manufactory,

— JOBBER AND RETAIL DEALER IN —

School and Classical Books,

English, French and American
Stationery, and Artist's Materials,
No. 4, Leavenworth Block, College Street,
BURLINGTON, Vt.

☞Bank, Blank, Check or Memorandum Books made to order, from the best of Paper, and bound in the most thorough manner. All work warranted. Terms Cash. 448 tf

---

AUSABLE HOUSE,

MAIN STREET KEESEVILLE N. Y.

This large and convenient Hotel having been throughly repaired and refurnished, is now open for the reception of visitors and the accommodation of the

TRAVELLING PUBLIC.

The Ausable House is one of the largest and best arranged in Northern New York. No pains will be spared to make it a pleasant and popular resort for

PLEASURE PARTIES,

and Transient Visitors, as well as a comfortable Home for those wishing permanent Board and Rooms.

Good Horses and Carriages furnished at all times on the most reasonable terms

The patronage of the public is most respectfully solicited.

J. W. REYNOLDS.
Keeseville Nov. 1st 1852. 445. 3m.

Livery Stable

BY

GEORGE G. FULLER.

HEAD OF MAIN STREET
(a few steps from the Bank,)
KEESEVILLE, N W YORK

Where may be found at all times, the best of Horses and Carriages, on the most reasonable terms.

Montgomery House,

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA,

BY

Sherman & Wheelock.

K. SHERMAN, THERON WHEELOCK.

☞ Mr. Sherman was late a merchant at Morinh, Essex Co., N. Y., and Mr. Wheelock was late of the Mansion House, Troy, N. Y. 427tf

---

GEORGE P. WILKINSON,

(Successor to G. P. & J. B. Wilkinson,)

MANUFACTURER AND JOBBER IN

CLOTHING,

154 River Street, Corner of Congress,
427 tf TROY, N. Y.

G. P. SANBORN & Co.

APOTHECARIES HALL.

BURLINGTON, VT.

DEALERS IN

Drugs and Medicines, Chemical Perfumery. Teeth, Surgical Instruments, Gold and Tin Foil. Patent Medicines, and every variety of articles usually kept in this line of Business.

Oct. 23d, 1852. 6 m.

GEO. S. TARBELL,

WHOLESALE GROCER,

DEALER IN OIL AN

General Commission Merchant,

No. 65 Quay-Street, ALBANY.

ADKINS & FULLER,

Booksellers, Stationers, Binders

—AND—

PAPER RULERS,

KEEP constantly on hand or will supply Books, Maps, Charts, Pictures, Frames, and Periodicals of all kinds. Also Publications of the American Tract Society, Bibles and Sabbath School Books at their very low depository prices.

One door east of Pierce & Davey's Agricultural Store on College Street.

C. S. ADKINS, E. FULLER.
Burlington, July 4, 1850. 323

H. C. Blanchrd, M. D.,

HOMŒOPATHIC PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

Office 2 doors below Ausable House.
Rooms at Ausable House. 430

D. M. ARNOLD

Engineer and Surveyor,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

SURVEYING & Leveling for Rail Roads, Plank Roads. Mill Seats, &c. Land Surveying of all kinds done on shortest notice.

Office opposite the Ausable House.

425tf

Dewey & Havens,

ATTORNIES AND COUNSELLORS

AT LAW,

CROWNPOINT,
Essx County, N. Y.

E. M. DEWEY. 431 tf H. H. HAVENS.

J. B. DICKINSON,

AUSABLE FORKS, N. Y.

General INSURANCE AGENT,

For Fire, Life, Health and Live Stock Insurance Companies.

☞ Any business from abroad will receive prompt attention. 454

Silliman & Gardiner,

WHOLESALE DEALERS

in Pork, Fish,

SALT, PLASTER, &c.

OFFICE 17 CORTLANDT SLIP, New York.
" 339 RIVER St., Troy, 445

Dr. H. W. GOULD,

SURGEON DENTIST,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

☞ Office opposite the Ausable House. [389

WOOL.

Paid for Wool,
[illegible] 1851. J. APPLEYARD.

Burlington Advertisements

BURLINGTON
AGRICULTURAL WARE-HOUSE AND SEED STORE.

DAVEY & ALLEN,

No. 8, COLLEGE STREET, BURLINGTON, Vt.

Ploughs—Prouty & Mear's centre draught.

These ploughs have obtained a celebrity unparalleled, having taken the first premiums in this country and at the World's Fair in London. We have also Starbuck's and Tabor's celebrated Ploughs.

Our stock of Ploughs comprise a great variety of patterns and different sizes, calculated for sward and stubble land, wet meadows and recently drained swamps, where roots abound—among which also, are the deep breaking up flat-furrow, lap-furrow, self sharpening, side-hill, double-mould-board, sub soil, &c., &c.

Harrows—triangular, square, Geddes and Scotch.

Hay, Straw and Corn stalk Cutters, either by hand or horse power; spiral, straight or circular knives.

Cultivators—of different kinds, steel tooth and cast iron.

Corn Shellers—a variety of patterns. Will shell from 5 to 100 bushels of corn per hour.

Fan Mills and Grain Cradles—Grant's unrivalled. We confidently recommend them as the best in use.

Seed Sowers—Batcheldor's & Emery's and other kinds.

Vegetable Cutters—for turnips and other roots.

Horse Powers, Threshers, Winnowers and Separators—Wheeler's Patent Railway Chain Horse Power This Power, both single and double geared, for one or two horses, has never been equalled for lightness in running, strength, durability and economy. The Thresher and Separator are in common use and favorably known to need our commendation. The combined Thresher and Winnower, (which is a new invention of last year) has not been so generally introduced. All who have used it express the highest approbation of its merits. We entertain no doubt that it is the most perfect, compact, and efficient machine now in use for threshing and winnowing grain, as it certainly is by far the cheapest and most economical.

Warranted to give satisfaction.

or be returned after a reasonable trial.

Saw Mill—1 wheel, used for sawing wood for locomotives on Railways, or by farmers for cutting stove fuel With a one horse power it will cut 10 to 15 cords of wood twice in two per day.

AGRICULTURAL & HORTICULTURAL TOOLS AND IMPLEMENTS.

A great variety and extensive assortment of such as Hoes, Shovels, Spades Rakes, Manure and Hay Forks, Scythe Snaths, Cattle Ties, Draft Halter and Tether Chains, Garden Syringes, Pruning Saws, Pruning and Budding Knives, Garden Shears and Twig Cutters, Grindstones, Patent Grindstone fixtures, rollers, barrel or rolls, &c., &c.

Grain, Field, Garden and Flower Seeds.—We are prepared to furnish Herds Grass, Red Top, Lucerne, White Dutch, Southern, Western and Northern Clover Seed Beet, Turnip, Onion and Carrot Seed, at Wholesale and Retail at the lowest market prices

We have by far the largest and most complete assortment of Agricultural Implements Machines Field and Garden Seeds to be found in the State, which we offer at our new and spacious Ware-Rooms to Farmers and Dealers on terms the most liberal. We are also Commission Merchants and Wholesale and Retail Dealers in heavy and shelf

HARDWARE,

Saddlery, Axles, Springs, Mechanic's Tools, House Trimmings and Furnishing Goods, Cutlery, Cross Cut, Mill and Circular Saws, Paints, Oils, Bird Cages, etc., etc., etc.

As agents of Messrs. D. Prouty & Co., Boston, Wheeler, Millick & Co., Albany, J. T. Grant & Co., Troy, and others we can fill orders for Plows, Horse Powers, Threshers Fan Mills, Straw Cutters &c., at manufacturers prices. A liberal discount made to Dealers.

ORDERS
FROM ABROAD SOLICITED.
DAVEY & ALLEN.

Burlington, September 20, 1852. 439

BLANK BOOKS.

10,000 QUIRES BLANK BOOKS of our own manufacture, comprising every variety of Journals, Day, Invoice Cash and Letter Books, Ledgers and Records from Cap Quartos to Super Royal size made in the most thorough manner, either paged or unpaged, and at prices so low as to defy competition.

PAPER.

I have in store, and to arrive. 1000 Reams Wrapping Paper of assorted quality and size. 1500 Reams Writing, Cap, Letter. Bath Post, Note and Envelope papers, which will be sold at Mill Prices.

School Books.

2000 Mandevill's, Saunders and Town's Series of Readers, 200 Mitchell's Geographies. 200 Smith's do., 400 Adams Arithmetics, 200 Greenleafs do 200 Colburn's do, 2200 Webster's spellers, 500 Town's spellers and definers, 100 Smith's Astronomy's, &c., &c.

Stationery.

200,000 Envelopes, 200 Gross Steel Pens. 20 gross Pen Holders. Also, Writing Ink in any quantity, and of the best manufacture. which will be sold at New York or Boston prices.

I wish to reduce the present stock of the concern as low as possible, in the next two months. and buyers will find it for their interest to examine my stock and prices before purchasing —Terms Cash.

Orders solicited by Mail or Express.

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS.
Burlington, Nov. 23, 1852. 446 3m

NEW GOODS
AT
Nichols, 150 Church Street.

IN consequence of our large spring sales, we have been induced to purchase a very large and full stock of

Foreign & Domestic Goods

for the fall trade, which we now offer at exceedingly low prices. We have not time now to enumerate, suffice it to say, we have every thing usually called for in a dry goods store.

CARPETINGS!

AT THE

Carpet Warehouse, 150 Church Street.

Mr. Nichols is now opening the largest stock of Carpeting ever brought to this city. consisting of the best of Tapestry, Brussells. Three-ply. Ingrain, Extra Super Fine and Common. Venetian. Damask. Cotton and Wool. Cotton, Hemp Stair carpeting from the best manufacturers. Also, floor oil-cloth, straw matting. Hearth Rugs, Door Mats. table oil cloths, English and American Bockings and crumb cloths.

Bay State Carpetings and Bockings.

Mr. Nichols has the agency for the sale of the justly celebrated Bay State carpets and bockings and will be furnished with all the new patterns as fast as they come from the mills Recollect the No.

150 CHURCH STREET.

Burlington, September 24, 1852. 439 tf

Charles Morris,

MERCHANT TAILOR

AND

CLOTHIER,

KEESEVILLE, NEW YORK.

IS now prepared to show his friends and the public in general a full assortment of Cloths Cassimeres and Vestings suited to the season. My Cloths are of the latest imp[illegible] and consists of Black, Brown, Drab and Clouded Beavers Broad Cloths, of French, West of England and American Manufacture. Cassimeres. in all the revised style and quality. Vestings in any quantity, some of which are very rich. Also, Shirts of all descriptions. Shakers under Shirts, and drawers, Cravats, Stocks, Suspenders, Gloves, Collars, Bosoms, Hdks., Mufflers, Clothing ready made substantial, and the sewing to last as long as the cloth, (and not run together as much of the clothing brought from a foreign market generally is.) Thankful for the very liberal and increased patronage I have received from the citizens generally I trust by a continued effort to please the most difficult I shall merit a continuance of past favors. My arrangements with New York, are such that I am advised of any changes of style, that occur from month to month and am able to gratify those who are disposed to adopt the same as usual done in the most careful manner Cutting as usual done in the most careful manner and with promptness. 446

AND WARRANTED MADE

Nov. 13 1852

M. J. JENKINS,

Watch Maker and Jeweller,

DEALER IN

CLOCKS, WATCHES, GOLD AND SILVER WARE, &c.

Keeseville, N. Y.

Burlington Ada's.

BOSTON
FURNITURE STORE,

AT THE

Spacious Ware-Room,

Nos. 2 & 3, Leavenworth Block,

COLLEGE STREET,

In Burlington, Vt.

No further need of going to New York or Boston for Rich or

FASHIONABLE FURNITURE.

THE Subscriber has a more extensive assortment of

Furniture, Feathers, Beds, Mattresses, Upholstery, Goods, &c.,

than has ever before been offered in this section, comprising all the most recent styles from the most elegant to the commonest FURNITURE, manufactured principally to order and in quality superior to any to be found out of Boston or any other place—consisting, in part, as follows :

Black Walnut & Mahogony Parlor

FURNITURE,

—CONSISTING OF—

French Sofas, Easy Chairs, covered in plush damask, brocatelle or hair-cloth, to suit the purchaser: French style centre and side Tables, with and without marble tops: Oval and other frame Looking Glasses; rich and common Curtain Furniture and Fixtures, &c., and every article needed to furnish Parlors in the most fashionable style.—Also medium and low-priced Parlor Furniture, of every description.

DRAWING & SITTING ROOM FURNITURE,

of every desirable style.

CHAMBER FURNITURE.

Fancy painted Chamber Setts richly ornamented; mahogany, black walnut and common Bedsteads, Bureaus Sinks, Toilets, Ovals, &c. Also, Feathers. Feather Beds hair, cotton husk and palm leaf Mattresses. Elegant

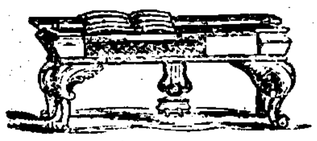
LIBRARY CASES & SIDE-BOARDS,

both mahogany and black walnut, of very superior workmanship, constantly on hand and made to order, of any style or size desired. Also, any odd article, not to be found ready-made, designed and executed to order in the best manner at the shortest notice.

Hotels and Steamboats

furnished at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms.

N. B.—Every article will be sold as low as the same quality can be bought in either Boston or New York, and in many instances much lower. Country dealers will be furnished at the lowest wholesale prices.



Mr. ALLEN'S long experience as a manufacturer and Furniture dealer in Boston, gives him advantages in selecting and purchasing goods, very seldom equalled ; and he will warrant every article fully equal to what he represents it.

☞Persons in want of Furniture will do well to call on Mr. ALLEN before purchasing.

I. S. ALLEN.

Burlington, May 8, '52. 418-1y

PIANO FORTE,
AND
MUSIC STORE.

No. 1, BANK BLOCK BURLINGTON, VT.

THE Subscriber has opened a very extensive and choice selection of Musical Merchandise, consisting of every variety of Musical Instruments such as

Piano Fortes, Seraphines, Melodeons,

Bass Viols, Violins, Guitars, Flutes,

Flageolets, Claronets, Cornopeans, Accordeons,

and Brass Instruments of every description for Bands; also—

BASS VIOL AND VIOLIN STRINGS, TUNING FORKS, TUNING HAMMERS, &c.

The assortment of Sheet Music, consists of about Four Thousand Pieces of the latest and most popular Music of the day, additions to which will be made every week, from the extensive Importing and Publishing Houses in New York and Boston The whole Books on hand for every Instrument, and all new works received as soon as published

CHURCH MUSIC BOOKS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

The attention of Purchasers is respectfully invited to the assortment of Piano Fortes, Seraphines and Melodeons, as they are from the best Manufacturers in the country, and every Instrument sold by me will be warranted, unless otherwise stated to the purchaser.

All the above goods will be sold as low as can be purchased in New York or Boston, and the orders of teachers and those who buy to sell again, are respectfully solicited, and will be filled and sent to any part of the country, as may be directed.

June 5. 3m122 L. B. RUST.

ANNEXATION!!

Essex County, N. Y. and Vermont!

NOVEMBER 10th, 1852.

I. D. BIXBY & Co.,

ARE now opening a very heavy stock of rich

DRESS GOODS,

for the Winter trade, consisting in part of the following articles :

Merinos. Coburghs. Paramattas. Alpacas. Lustres all wool deLaines. Manchester deLaines, Persian Cloths. Raw Silk Plaids, Cashmere Plaids, Col'd Velvets, Col'd Flannels, Irish Poplins, Bombazines, Ginghams. American, English and French Prints, Silks.

SHAWLS!!

Bay State, Empire. Waterloo and Scotch.

CAKE.

We have a large assortment of rich Cloaks of a variety of patterns, colors and prices.

Silks, Satins, &c.

The LARGEST assortment of Dress Silk that we have ever opened. are now to be seen on our counters. Brocade, Plaid. Striped, Chameleon. Glace, Gro de Naples. Gro de Zure. Gro de Rhine, Gro de Lyons. Gro de Algiers and many other styles.

No. 2, Bank Block,

North Side of the Park.

439tf BURLINGTON VT.,

I. D. BIXBY & Co.

Burlington, Nov. 15. 1852.

BOOTS, SHOES & RUBBERS

James A. Walker,

BANK BLOCK, OPPOSITE THE SQUARE,

BURLINGTON, Vt.

HAS just returned from the New York and Philadelphia markets, with the largest and best selected assortment of Ladies, Gents, Misses, Boys, Youths and Children's

BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS

ever offered North of the cities. Getting his goods direct from the manufacturers he is enabled to and WILL, offer them at LESS PRICES than can be purchased for elsewhere

Mens Thick Boots	from $1.50 to $3.00	per pair.
" Fine Kip	" 2.00 to 3.00	"
" Calf skin pegd	" 2.50 to 4.00	"
Gents fine calf sewd boots	" 4.00 to 7.50	"
Ladies walking shoes	" 75 to 1.25	"
" Bootees and Polkas	" 1.00 to 2.00	"
" Gaiter Boot	" 1.00 to 2.00	"

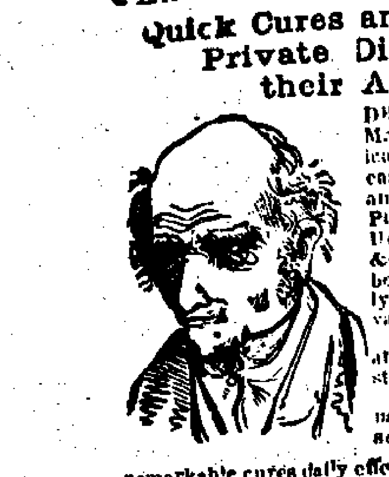
and a great variety of every desirable style and quality. ALL of which will be offered at very low prices. 438 tf

All Work Warranted.

GRASS SEED

OF very Superior Quality, for sale by
KINGSLAND, BABER & Co.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor



Miscellaneous.

20 Years Experience.

CLD ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL.

Quick Cures and Low prices.

Private Diseases and their Antidote.

DR LISPENARD, author of the Marriage Guide or Private Medical Treatise, Professor of Diseases of Women and Children, and Licentiate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the United States University &c., &c., continues as heretofore to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms and variety of

PRIVATE DISEASES,

at his old quarters No 5 Beaver street, ALBANY, N. Y.

The great success attending the use of Doctor L.'s remedies in secret diseases, and the many remarkable cures daily effected by him in recent as well as old lingering attacks, are conclusive evidence that the well

SICK AND UNFORTUNATE

can do no better than consult the Doctor, whose whole time is devoted to the exclusive treatment of this much neglected branch of practice.

LOOK AT THIS.

Dr. Lispenard cures recent cases of disease in from three to six days, and chronic or long standing diseases in a very short period of time, without the use of Mercury, without hindrance from business, or detention from the loss of time change of diet, or detention from

DAILY EMPLOYMENT.

In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Enlargement of the Testicles and Cords, Bubo, Chancres Pimples and Scaly Eruptions, Sore Throats and Noses, Chancres on the tongue, tender skin bones, and diseases of the skin, and impure blood. Dr. Lispenard's remedies are above all praise, and frequently cure when all others had failed

EVEN TO RELIEVE.

More than 5,000 patients have during the past year experienced the benefit of the Doctor's extraordinary skill in treating secret diseases—among which, disease of the bladder and kidneys have formed a goodly proportion

YOUNG MEN,

who by indulging in secret habits have injured their health and prostrated their intellectual faculties, and thereby deprived themselves of the pleasures of married life, should consult Dr. Lispenard without a moment's delay. Hundreds have been restored to health, society and friends, under my peculiar mode of treatment after vast sums of money had been sacrificed without any benefit. My remedy for this disease is pleasant to take, has no offensive smell and

CURES WITHOUT FAIL.

☞ Persons so unfortunate as to be diseased, although they may have visited half a dozen Doctors, and had medicine enough to have killed a dozen times with no benefit would exhibit wisdom by making their case known to that FRIEND OF THE SICK, Dr. Lispenard, who never charges for advice. The sick are often at a loss and warn us all his cures. The sick are often at a loss where to apply for relief, AND TIS NO WONDER, as hundreds stand ready to plunder the unfortunate victim of Patent nostrums, or secret habits with not one thought for YEARS DISEASES, or secret habits with but one thought for his life and health. All thus deceived will find a friend, and moderate charges, in consulting the Doctor who USES NO MERCURY and cures every time.

N. B.—Persons from a distance when visiting the city in search of a physician or friend will be fortunate if they succeed in escaping the many dens of imposition. Individuals destitute of character knowledge led by unprincipled men, destitute of character knowledge or name, who fleece the unfortunate victim of disease of his hard earned money, and his remaining health. Patients who have no acquaintance in the city should make inquiry of some respectable citizen, or the editor or proprietor of any of the city papers, to ascertain who is the most reliable physician to apply to.

FEMALE DISEASES.

Dr. Lispenard from an experience seldom or never enjoyed by any other medical man, is enable to treat, with every hope of success, all and every variety of Female Complaints—with safe and pleasant remedies—and has, without doubt cured within the past five years more than 3000 females afflicted with diseases of the Bladder, Womb, &c. &c. Ladies afflicted with suppression or stoppage of their monthly turns, will recollect that Dr. Lispenard is still the sole American agent for

DR. VICHOP'S

FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS!

The unprecedented sale of more than 15,000 boxes of these excellent Pills, and the good results which always follow their use, is conclusive evidence of their utility in stoppages, &c. Caution—Married Ladies in certain delicate situations should not use them—for reasons see directions with each box. Price $1. sent by mail to all parts of the world.

Married Persons and those about to Marry, should enclose 12½ cents post paid to Dr. Lispenard, and obtain a copy of his Marriage Guide or Private Treatise, a bewitching little work of nearly 100 pages, illustrated. Every thing that married persons can desire or wish to know is here explained. Persons who from poverty or sickness have no desire to increase their family, will find necessary instruction in the Marriage Guide. One copy 12½ cents; 5 copies 50 cts; 12 copies $1—mailed free to any part of the world

N B—Patients treated by letter, and medicines sent, with full directions for use to the writer's address. All communications destroyed or returned.

No mercury used in any case and all cures warranted.

No boys or precocious students allowed: timid persons take notice.

Friends of Dr. L. when recommending patients to our care will recollect our number. 5 Beaver st., three doors from South Broadway.

Hospital open from 7 A. M., to 9 P. M., and on Sundays from 1 to 3 P. M.

No charge for advice, although no medicine may be desired.

Good board and private rooms for those who desire to remain in the city.

Notice this—Address all letters to

C. W. LISPENARD, M. D.,
No. 5 Beaver st. Albany, N. Y.

451—1 y

NORTHERN RAIL ROAD, N. Y.

FALL ARRANGEMENTS.

On and after FRIDAY October 1st. trains will run as follows:

GOING EAST,

1st Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 9, A. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 1, 45, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 2, P. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 6, 20, P. M.

COING WEST.

1st Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 8, A. M.

Arrive at Ogdensgurgh 12 50, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 3, P. M.

Arrives at Ogdensburgh 7,45, P. M.

First Passenger Train going East, Connects at Mooers with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road for Montreal and Quebec, and Plattsburgh, Burlington and Whitehall—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Vermont Central Rail Road for Boston and New York.—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Rutland and Burlington Rail Road by steam Boats to Burlington, and thence to Boston and New York.

Second Passenger Train going East, Connects with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road at Mooers, for Mootreal and Quebec—Connects with the Vermont Central Railroad for Boston, Burlington, and New York. Connects with the Steam Boats to Whitehall, thence by the Saratoga and Troy Rail Roads, to Saratoga Springs, Troy and New York. Connects by Steam Boat with Rutland and Burlington R. R. at Burlington, for Troy, Boston and New York.

First Passenger Train going West, Connects at Ogdensburgh with the Express Line of Lake Ontario Steamers at 1 o'clock P. M. for Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, Lewiston, Niagara Falls, and Buffalo.

Second Passenger Train going West. Connects with Lake Ontario Line of Seamers for Kingston and all ports on the American shore of Lake Ontario, and with Hamilton.

Fout-Freight Trains leave Ogdensburgh and Rouse's Point every day Sundays excepted.

For Freight apply to George V. Hoyle, Agent, Rouse's Point.

CHARLES L. SCHLATTER,
440 Chief Eng'r and Superintendent.

Printing Paper For Sale.

FOR sale by J. & G. PARKS,

38 by 24 inches,
364tf 34 by 24 "
33 by 23 "

Also, Wrapping:

40 by 28 inches, 60 lbs to he Ream, for large bundles
29 by 18 "
15 by 18 "

☞ All orders directed to Keeseville promptly attended

CAPS CAPS.

MENS' and Boys' Silk and Worsted Plush and Cloth Caps, at E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Legal.

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT has been made in the payment of the debt secured by a certain mortgage dated the 20th day of January 1849 executed by Allen Everitt and Julia Ann, his wife, of chesterfield, in Essex County N. Y., as mortgagors to Reuben Jones, then of Ausable, in Clinton County, N. Y., as mortgagee and recorded in the office of the Clerk of the County of Essex, in volume O of mortgages pages 228 and 229. on the 9th day of Febuary, 1849, at 7 oclock. P. M. There is claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $561,02.

Now therefore notice is hereby given that the said mortgaged premises, will by virtue of a power of sale contained in the said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in said case made and provided, be sold at public auction at the Adirondac Hotel, in the village of Keeseville, in Essex County, on the 8th day of March, 1853, at 10 oclock in the forenoon of that day.

The said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage as follows, viz: all that certain piece or parcel of land situated in the Town of Chesterfield, County of Essex and state of New York, in a patent of three thousand six hundred acres of land granted by the state of New York to Matthew Adgate, and bounded as follows: Begining at the shore of Lake Champlain, at the South east corner of said patent, running thence west on the south line of said patent to the south east corner of lands heretofore deeded by the said Adgate, to one Noah Gridley. Thence north on the east line of said Gridley's land about fifty four rods to a beach tree; Thence due east to the Lake shore; Thence south along the Lake shore as it winds and turns to the place of beginning, containing by estimation one hundred acres of Land be the same more or less. Dated Keeseville November 26th 1852

REUBEN JONES, Mortgagee.

CHARLES CHENEY Atty.
Keeseville, N. Y.

SHERIFF SALE.

BY Virtue of an Execution issued out of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, to me directed and delivered against the goods and chattels, real estate and chattels real of Joseph Weed and Almerin Smith, I have seized and taken all that tract or parcel of land situate lying and being in the town of Ticonderoga, and Essex county, bounded as follows:

All that piece and parcel of land lying and being in said town of Ticonderoga, being the westerly part of a lot of land formerly leased by Samuel Deal to Jonathan Drury, and known on a map of said land as lot No. 51, beginning at a maple stake standing in the east line of a lot of land lately conveyed to the said Almerin Smith, by the said Thomas Wheeler, thence running south eighty two degrees east, forty rods to a stake and stones, thence north eighty degrees thirty minutes east, eighty rods to a stake and stones, thence north eighty two degrees west, forty rods to the stake and stones, thence south eight degrees thirty minutes west, eighty rods to the place of beginning. Containing within said bounds twenty acres. Excepting from off the said lot two acres, conveyed by Samuel Deal to the Congregational Meeting House, and Society of Ticonderoga, and one half acre to the Corporation of St. Paul's Church, also in said town.

Also, all that piece parcel or tract of land situate, lying and being in the town of Ticonderoga aforesaid, and bounded as follows:

Beginning at a stake standing in the north east corner of a lot of land formerly owned by James Jones, and conveyed by him to the said Smith, and now in his possession; thence running south eighty degrees east, twenty-eight chains and sixty-three links to a stake; thence south eight degrees and forty-five minutes west, nineteen chains 70 links to a stake standing in the north line of Edward McCaughin's land, thence north eighty degrees west, 25 chains and 63 links to a stake, thence in a straight line to the place of beginning. Containing 56 acres and one third of an acre be the same or less or less.

Also all that certain other lot adjoining being a part of the Holcomb and Jones farms, bounded on the south and west by the highway leading from Ticonderoga to Crown Point on the east by lands formerly owned by Wm Stewart now McCaughin and on the north by the highway leading past John Ledwitch's farm and residence and on the south by said McCaughin's land.

Also, all that certain farm in Ticonderoga, aforesaid, known as the Lake farm containing about 350 acres, being lot No. one and two in the McIntosh Patent, in the possession of Charles F Hammond and Allen Penfield, and about 75 acres adjoining part of lot No. in same patent now in possession of Geo. D. Clark

Also, all that certain other lot of land in Ticonderoga aforesaid, known as part of the James Jones farm, sold and conveyed by Almerin Smith, to Alva Bennett in the year 1847, and now in the possession of said Bennett bounded and described as follows: beginning at a stake and stones in the easterly line of lands belonging to Francis Arthur Esq. being also the south west corner of the William Canfield farm, thence along the southerly line of said Canfield's land, south 80 degrees east, 5 chains and 8 links to the centre of a highway leading from Crown Point to Ticonderoga village, thence along the same south 30 degrees east, 31 chains and 25 links to a stake then north 86 degrees west, 25 chains to a stake standing in a ditch or drain and being also in the easterly line of said Arthur's land, thence along the same north 10 3-4 degrees east, 26 chains and 76 links to the place of beginning, containing 40 acres of land.

Also, all that certain lot of land in Ticonderoga aforesaid, commonly called the Holcomb lot now in possession of Almerin J. & Charles H. Bennett, and sold and conveyed by the said Almerin Smith to them in the year 1847, bounded and described as follows, to wit:—Beginning in the centre of a highway leading from Crown Point to the Upper Falls in Ticonderoga, being the north east corner of Sylvanus Bennett's farm, thence along the north line of said Bennett's farm north 80 deg. west, 32 chains and 14 links to a stake in the east line of Gustavus N. Wicker's land, thence along the same and along part of the east line of Francis Arthur's land, north 10 3-4 deg. east, 14 chains and 85 links to a stake standing in a ditch or drain, thence south 86 deg. east, 25 chains to the centre of a highway leading from Crown Point to the Lower Falls of Ticonderoga, thence along the same south 30 degrees east, 10 chains and 80 links to the centre of the first above mentioned highway, thence southerly along the same 9 chains to the place of beginning containing 48 acres and 71-100 of an acre of land.

Also, a certain other lot in Ticonderoga aforesaid, now in possession of Jeramiah O'Brien, bounded on the south by the road leading past John Ledwitch's land and residence, on the east by said Ledwitch's lands, on the north by lands of Alexander McCambridge, and on the west by lands of Wm A. G. Arthur containing fifty acres or thereabouts.

Also a certain other lot piece or parcel of and in Ticonderoga aforesaid lying and being on the south and west side of the highway leading from the Lower Falls to the street so called or Crown Point between the former dwelling house of the said Almorin Smith and burnt a few years since, and the present dwelling house of Edward McCaughin, being the same lot sold by the said Smith to the said McCaughin in 1847, and now owned by him, containing by estimation about 14 acres, being originally part of lands belonging to Stephen and Silas Sayre.

Also, all that certain piece or parcel of land situate lying and being in the town of Schroon, Co. and State aforesaid on the west side of Lake George and comprehended with in the bounds of a tract of land granted by Letters patent under the great seal of the state of N. Y., to James Caldwell, Robert Mc Clellen, and Robert Cochran and is more particularly known and distinguished by being lot No. one hundred and forty seven of the division of said tract bounded as follows, viz:

Beginning at the southwest corner of lot No, one hundred and forty four being a stake No. 144, 145, 146, 147, and runs thence along No. 146 south 25 chains to lot No. 148, thence along the same east 40 chains to lot No. 143, thence along the same north 25 chains to lot No. 144, and thence along the same west 40 chains to the place of beginning, containing one hundred acres of land, be the same more or less. The courses are as the magnetic needle pointed at Lake George in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifteen. Which said several lots, lands and real estate I shall expose for sale at Public Vendue at the Hotel kept by S. Woodard at the Lower Falls in Ticonderoga on the 26th day of July next at ten o'clock in the forenoon. Dated June 5, 1852.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

The above sale is hereby adjourned to the 15th day of Sept. next, at the hour and place above named.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

July 26th, 1852.

The above is further adjourned to the 9th day of November next at the same place, and hour above named.

Dated September 15, 1852.

A. B. MACK. Sheriff
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy

The above sale is further adjourned until the 7th day of Dec. next at the same hour and place as above. Nov. 9, 1852.

A. B. MACK. Sheriff,
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

The above sale is further adjourned to the 4th day of January next 1853 at the same place, and time of day as above. Dated December 7th, 1852.

A. B. MACK. Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

The above sale is further adjourned to the 3d day of February at the same hour and place as above. Ticonderoga, Jany 4, 1853.

A. B MACK Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

The above sale is further adjourned to the 3d day of March next at the same place and hour above named

Dated Feb. 3, 1853.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN. Deputy.

SUPREME COURT
JOSEPH G WHITMAN, & WASHINGTON CLARK
Against
HORACE GOULD.

To the Defendant, HORACE GOULD.

SIR:—Please to take notice that upon an affidavit, which was filed with the Clerk of the County of Essex, on the 17th day of January, inst., we shall move this Court at a special term thereof appointed to be held at the Court House in Elizabethtown, in the County of Essex, on the 1st Monday of March next, at the opening of the Court on that day or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard for leave to issue execution on the judgment in this action against the property of the d ft. for the purpose of collecting the sum of two hundred nineteen and 78-100 dollars and interest on the same from March 27th, 1845, (the time said judgement was recovered,) being the amount claimed to be due on said judgement, or for such further or other order or relief in the premises as the said Court may deem proper with costs of this motion. Dated January 17th 1853.

Yours, &c.,

FINCH & HARWOOD,
Attys for Oliver Keese, and Thomas A. Tomlinson
Assignees of Judgment

455-7w

SUPREME COURT,
GURDON GRANT,
AGST.
ELENOR CRARY,
ISAAC HEUSTIS,
JAMES GIBSON,
JOHN SAVAGE and
JOSEPHUS FITCH,

In pursuance of a decree or judgment of the Supreme Court made in the above cause, will be sold under the direction of the subscriber, Sheriff of the County of Essex, at public auction at the Adirondac Hotel, in the town of Chesterfield, in the County of Essex, on Monday, the 4th day of April next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon; all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land lying and being in the town of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York, lying between the Augur Pond and Butternut Pond, beginning at the south west corner at a pine tree marked 1795, thence running north ninety-five chains, a little north of the south end of Augur Pond, thence east one degree north, twenty-five chains to the west line of lot No. three, thence south along the west line of lots No. three, four, five and eight to the corner of the last mentioned lot, thence south forty-five degrees west to Butternut Pond, thence along the north end of said Pond to the first place of beginning, containing two hundred and sixteen acres of land be the same more or less; which said lot of land is part of two tracts of land formerly granted by the said State to John Williams deceased by letters patent, and is now conveyed subject to the conditions and reservations made by Anthony J. Blanchard his heirs and assigns in his conveyance thereof to one William Bromley to overflow as much of the said land at any time or times whatsoever as may be reasonably necessary convenient and useful for the accommodation of any Mills or Waterworks which are now or hereafter may be built or erected on the waters of the said Augur Pond, or the outlet thereof by the heirs or assigns of the said Anthony J., hereby retaining the same reservations as is contained in the said William's deed of the said premises to one Thomas McLean.

Dated the 19th day of Febuary, 1853.

C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff.
By J. C. FINCH, Deputy Sheriff.

SAML. AMES, Atty. 459-w7

BANK DEPARTMENT.

ALBANY, Jany 26th, 1823.

NOTICE is hereby given in pursuance of the Statute made and provided, that all the circulating notes issued by the McIntyre Bank, at Adirondac, (an individual bank) must be presented at the office of the superintendent of the Banking Department of the State of New York, for payment within two years from the date of this notice, or the funds deposited for the redemption of the said notes will be given up to the said bank.

D. B. St. John, Supt.

Two years from Jany. 26, 1855. 459-2y

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

NOTICE is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John Cummings, late of North Hudson, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to ESTES B. WALKER, one of the administrators of the said deceased, at his dwelling house in North Hudson, his place of doing business, on or before the 25th day of May next, that being at least Six Months after the day of the first publication of this notice. Dated this 15th day of November, A. D. 1852.

ABIGAIL CUMMINGS, Administratrix.
ESTES B. WALKER, DAVID DAY, Administrators.

446-6m

WOOL! WOOL!

THE Subscriber would inform the public that he is again in the

Manufacturing Business,

Either by the yard, on shares, or in exchange for cloths on the most reasonable terms, and that he intends to keep on hand a full supply of the following goods:

BLACK BROAD CLOTHS,

Black, Brown, and Olive Cassimeres,

FULLED CLOTHS, SATTINETS, TWEEDS,

Flannels, &c.,

suitable to this country, and that he ... rying to please such as may favor h...

Birmingham, May 15, 1852.

Medicine.

THE WONDER OF THE WORLD.

DEVINES' COMPOUND

PITCH LOZENGE,

A sure and pleasant Remedy for Colds, Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, and if lungs enough are left to sustain life, A CERTAIN CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, safe for the Infant or the Invalid, in any stage of weakness.

"The statements that consumption cannot be cured, has destroyed more lives than the disease itself.—[Dr. Warren

Read the following, which to a candid mind places this Great Remedy," like Cæsar's wife "above suspicion."

TO THE PUBLIC!

We the undersigned, citizens of Lee, Mass., are acquainted with Mr. Devines, the proprietor and Manufacturer of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge and from what we know of it ourselves and have learned from others of its beneficial effects, in cases where it has been used, give it as our opinion that it is a valuable remedy in diseases for which it is recommended and is worthy of public confidence. A. G. Hulburt, Leonard Church, F. G. Taylor, Wm Taylor, E. A. Bliss, S. A. Hulburt, Josephus Crafts, T. P. Eldridge.

If any individual is to be pitied, and needs sympathy, it is the consumptive,—always expecting to get well, and yet the painful evidence of decay almost," makes the inner soul shrink with the outer flesh"

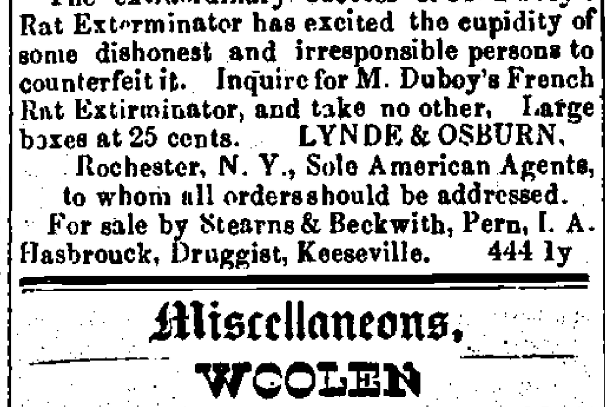
"Some bloom as roses bloom, and live as roses live, A single morning space !"

While others, in more mature life—by some imprudence and a slight cold neglected—in the hectic flush—the painful cough.

"The prints of their departing steps appears."

BUT HE ABIDES! Mr. Wm. Devines, the originator and manufacturer of the Pitch Lozenge, under Providence, was raised to perfect health by the use of these Lozenges alone, after he was pronounced by his physician to be almost dying with consumption.

This fact is generally known in Berkshire County and is the neighborhood talk, and wonder in Lee, and in Great Barrington, Mass.



From Dr. Brown, of Lee, Mass.

This certifies that I have made use of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge for cold and cough, and found immediate relief. Therefore I would recommend it to the public as being a safe and sovereign remedy. H. C. BROWN

Lee, October 28, 1851.

Sold wholesale at Albany, by Wm. A. Wharton & Co, Druggists, &c., H. C. Sheldon, Troy, Spencer & Nichols, Whitehall, Hammonds & Co., Crownpoint, W G Lyon, Essex, Reynolds & Tufts and I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. Orders addressed Wm Devines, Jamaica L. I. 436 1y Wm RENNE, Traveling agent

M. DUBOYS' FRENCH RAT EXTERMINATOR.

THIS PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to exterminato Rats and Mice, whenever used as directed, and to leave no offensive stench on the premises cleared of these annoying vermin. Its use is perfectly safe in any place and at all times, which is not the case with ordinary remedies for this evil.

CAUTION!—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!—

The extraordinary success of M. Duboy's Rat Exterminator has excited the cupidity of some dishonest and irresponsible persons to counterfeit it. Inquire for M. Duboy's French Rat Extirminator, and take no other, Large boxes at 25 cents. LYNDE & OSBURN, Rochester, N. Y., Sole American Agents, to whom all orders should be addressed.

For sale by Stearns & Beckwith, Peru, I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. 444 1y

Miscellaneous,

WOOLEN MANUFACTURING

IN all its various branches, will be carried on at the Keeseville Woolen Manufacturing Establishment, in Keeseville, N. Y.

Wool of any quality will be received in exchange for Cloth,

CASSIMERES, SATINETS,

Flannels, &c.

The Goods of this Establishment for the last two years, are well known at home and in market, and needs no other recommendation than a fair trial. Farmers and others wishing to make the most out of their wool, will find it to their advantage to call and exchange their wool for cloths. They may rest assured that they will be fairly dealt with, as no goods will be offered but those that will give satisfaction.

C. Roelofson has made arrangements which will enable him to pay

Part Cash

on Exchanges, or all CASH for WOOL when Price and Quality Suit.

On hand and ready for Exchanging, Grey Cloths, Mixed Satinets—VERY HEAVY—fine and medium Cassimeres, Red Flannel—yard wide—the different kinds also for sale.

THE CUSTOM

CARDING

will be carried on as usual.

C. ROELOFSON & Co.

Keeseville, May 26th, 1852. 421tf

WOOL!! WOOL!!!

Cash Paid for Wool

BY

Matthews & Ames,

At the Old Stand of

H. & H. MATTHEWS.

Every discription of Woolen and Cotton Goods given in exchange for Wool if wanted.

HAVING increased our stock of Goods by a second Spring purchase. We feel confident that we shall be able to supply all who may wish Goods or Groceries of any description, in part, or wholly, for their Fleece, Pulled or Tag Wool.

Boots ad Shoes.

READY-MADE or MADE to ORDER,

AS good as the best, as cheap as the cheapest and warranted to fit. The undersigned begs leave to remind the public of the above facts and solicits a share of their patronage. ☞ Opposite the Bank.

JAMES ADAMS.

Keeseville, March, 1852. 111-tf

NEW STORE.

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

True Union Store.

MR. NICHOLS of Burlington, Vt., has established a branch of his stock at Essex, nearly opposite the Steam Boat Landing in Fancher's Building anjoining the Hotel, where he has on hand nearly all kinds of Dry-goods and Groceries, and intends keeping up a good assortment by constantly replenishing, and will sell as low as can be bought in Burlington for cash and ready pay, most kinds of Produce taken. Mr. N. flatters himself that with the facilities he has for purchasing goods both in Boston and New York, that he can compete with any store in Northern New York or Vermont. Please give us a call and see for themselves. "A penny saved is two pence earned."

WANTED 10,000 lbs. BUTTER.

N. Y., June 16. 1852.

KEESEVILLE ACADEMY.

The undersigned in behalf of the Trustees of Keeseville Academy, announce that the Spring Term will commence on Monday the 14th day of February inst. They have succeeded in engaging the following corps of Teachers.

Associate Principals. { CHARLES H. DANN. Teacher of Languages and Higher Mathematics. GILBERT THAYER. Teacher of English Branches, Natural Sciences and Superintendent of the School.

Miss. NANCY K. POTTER and
Miss. MARY FERRIS Assistant Teachers.
Miss. ELLEN M. FISHER Teacher of Music.
Good Board and Rooms in the Village.

TERMS:

Common English Branches,	$3 00 per quarter.
Higher " Branches,	1 00 extra "
Book keping,	1 50 " "
Latin and Greek. each,	1 00 " "
French, Italian and German, each,	1 00 " "

Tuition is not charged for more than two of the above extras.

Music Instrumental,	$10 00 per quarter.
" Vocal	1 00 " "
For French, Italian or German, taken as single branches, the charge will be	3 00 " "

Mr. THAYER will give especial attention to young gentleman and Ladies expecting to engage in teaching.

Oliver Keese
Jacob D Kingsland } Com of
John Mattocks Trustees.

Keeseville Feb. 14, 1853. 430

Miscellaneous.

New Goods! New Good!

—AT—

NICHOLS' CASH STORE,

150 Church street,

BURLINGTON, VERMONT,

HAVING just Purchased in New York and Boston, a large stock of Goods of all kinds we now offer them for sale, and those who are in want of goods in our line will save money by calling on us before purchasing. We are confident we have the largest stock of goods ever brought into Burlington at one time; we were induced to buy largely in consequence of the low prices of many kinds of goods, particularly dress goods of almost every kind.

We have a full stock of everything usually kept in a dry good store; Also West India goods and groceries, a very large stock of Teas and Sugars low by chest and cask. Also at cost to clear them off Paper Hangings, Crockery and glass Ware and looking glasses.

CARPETING, AT THE

CARPET WARE HOUSE.

BURLINGTON, VT.

Received this day and now opening 50 pieces of all grades, the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three Ply, Superfine, fine and common Ingrain and Venetian, all Wool. Cotton and Cotton and Wool; Also, all the different qualities of Stair Carpeting, Straw Matting, Oil Cloth, Drugetts, Crumb Cloths, Hearth Rugs, Door Matts, &c., very cheap.

Burlington, Nov. '52. 446

FAMILY GROCERIES.

A larg and choice assortment of Sugars, Teas, Oils, Molasses, Pork, Fish, Fine and coarse Salt, Camphene, Soap and Candles, rooms, Pails, Willow Waggons, Cradles, Flavoring Extracts, Cat, Sups. all kinds Toys, New Years and Christmass presents, Confectionaries, Nuts, Bird Seed, &c., &.

The above goods are offered on the usual terms, at the lowest prices. Let those wishing to buy examine for themselves.

100 Barrels Genessee Flour,

FRESH Ground for sale at,

REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

40 Barrels Sugars.

CRUSHED, granulated Muscavado and Coffee Sugars at REYNOLDS & TUFTS,

Green & Black Teas.

40 CHESTS and Cattys choice Old Hyson, Young Hyson and fine Oolong Teas cheaper than any in town at

REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

Keeseville, Nov. 18, 1852. 446

New Clothing Store.

WE, the undersigned, have made arrangements with one of the best tailors in the country, to manufacture clothing for us of every description, consisting of overcoats, sacks, dress and frock coats, pants, vests, overalls and boys cloths, together with all kinds of under garments, which are made after the most improved styles, and for workmanship and durability cannot be excelled.

In addition we offer a large assortment of fine

Fashionable Clothing,

made by tailors in New York, that for fitting even Genio C. Scott, in his palmiest days was not a circumstance.

We would also inform the public that it is to be sold by wholesale or retail at very low figures for cash, and for quantity and cheapness is far in advance of any other concern in Northern New York. A comparison with the trade, both in prices and quantity is particularly requested.

In connection with the above we would call the attention of the community to our stock of

Fancy & Staple Dry Goods,

of every variety; also, hats, caps and furs, paper hangings, window shades, hardware and groceries, rifles and shot guns, amunition, &c., &c. Trunks, and valises, carpet bags, whips and lashes, stone ware, and every description of goods that are wanted or can be found in the country. Don't forget

No. 1000, Main Street,

Keeseville, opposite the Adirondac Hotel.

BOYNTON & SMITH.

January 20, 1853.

MATTHEWS & AMES,

(SUCCESSORS TO H. & H. MATTHEWS,)

DEALERS IN

Tin, Sheet Iron, Copper, Japan and BRITANNIA WARE,

together with a large and well selected assortment of

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

which they will sell by the piece or package, at a small advance from cost. Also, a general assortment of

YANKEE NOTIONS

And Fancy Articles,

suitable to the Pedlars Trade, which they will sell low for cash.

☞ All kinds of barter taken in exchange for Goods.

Keeseville, April 17, 1852. 415

New and Cheap Goods

E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Have just received from New York and Boston one of the best assortments of

FALL AND WINTER GOODS

ever exhibited in Keeseville.

Among their stock of DRY GOODS will be found a beautiful assortment of Wool, and Cotton, and wool d'Laines, and Cashmeres, both plain and printed, of all qualities, and prices from one shilling to one Dollar per yard. French Merinoes, Paramattas, Alpaccas Lyonese Cloth, English and American Prints, Ginghams, Flannels of all kinds, a superior quality of Bay State Flannel of different colors, Wool Plaids, Tickings, Stripes &c. &c., Shawls—a large and splendid assortment of Bay State, Empire State, Waterloo, Scotch Plaid, and Printed WOOL SHAWLS, at prices much lower than ever before offered in this market. A beautiful assortment of Bonnet Silks and Velvets, with trimmings of all kinds. Also dress silks and Satins, Gloves, Hosiery &c.

READY MADE CLOTHING

Of all kinds, sold very cheap, also, Cloths, Broad Cloths Plain and fancy Cassimeres, Black Doe Skins, Satinets Silks, and Worsted, Vestings, Serges, &c., &c., with many other articles too numerous to mention. 'Tis unnecessary to add that all the above goods will be sold at very low prices. Only remember their motto 'quick sales and small profits.' Please call and examine Goods and prices, and satisfy yourselves. Opposit the Adirondac Hotel.

Keeseville Oct. 1852.

CASH,

AND THE

Highest Market Price

WILL BE PAID FOR WOOL, AT THE WOOLEN FACTORY, by

C. F. ROELOFSON & Co.

Keeseville, July 8th, 1852. 427tf

CORLIES & DECKER,

(Successors to J. N. & E. W. Corlies,)

— WHOLESALE DEALERS IN —

TEAS,

Agents for the Sale of

Manufactured Tobacco,

192 Pearl Street,

Near Maiden Lane, 430 New York.

Miscellaneous.

THE NORTHERN

New York Mutual

INSURANCE COMPANY,

Plattsburgh, Clinton Co., N. Y.

Capital, 100,000.

THIS Company is organized under the General Insurance Law of the State of New York, with a sound, reliable capital, and offers the following superior inducements:

1. The safer kinds of property are separated entirely from the more hazardous; affording the advantages of two distinct companies, with the expense of but one.

2. The first class, or Farmer's Department, consists of Farm-houses, Form buildings and their contents and detatched dwellings and their contents in villages, when unexposed by more hazardous buildings.

3. The second class or Merchant's Department, consists of exposing dwellings, stores, merchandize and property not deemed specially hazardous.

4. Each class pays its own losses and thus securing equal justice and proportional rate to both.

5. Not more than $3,000 of the first class, or more than $2,000 of the second class, will be taken in one risk, nor any number of risks so contiguous as probably to subject the Company to a loss of over $3,000 at any one fire; thereby saving it from heavy and ruinous losses.

6. In taking surveys of property, the agent will he the agent of the company, and the company be responsible for the correctness of all surveys made by its agents.

7. Any one insured, may at any time surrender his policy and withdraw from the company by paying his proportion of the losses and expense up to the date of such surrender.

8. Applications will take effect at noon of the day on which they are made (unless a different day is directed by the applicant,) thus relieving the party from anxiety and suspense.

9. The company no have two-thirds clause, but will pay all loss and damage not exceeding the amount insured.

10. In case of difference of opinion in settlement of losses, the company will submit the same to arbitration in the county where the loss occurs, the claimant choosing one, the company one, and the two arbitrators another.

11. Each person insured in the company becomes a member and will be entitled to a participation of the profits, if any surplus should accrue, not required for the payment of losses.

12. This company will be responsible for losses by fire caused by lightning.

13. This company will take no risks in cities.

☞ The Directors return their acknowledgments to the public for ther readiness in aiding the organization of this company, and will endeavor to make it a safe and reliable institution, affording protection from the ravages of fire, at reasonable rates, and with certainty of payment in case of loss.

DIRECTORS.

James Farr, Fort Ann, Washington co; Olif Abel, Whitehall, do; Walter Geer, Glen's Falls, Warren co; Pelatiah Richards, Warrensburgh, do; Wm. E. Calkins, Ticonderoga, Essex co.; John Horton, Columbia Vilage, St. Lawrence co.; Thomas H. Conkey, Canton, do.; Amasa C. Moore, Samuel F. Viles, Henry G. Hewitt, Jacob H Holt, John Boynton, Peter S. Palmer, Cornelius Halsey, Z. C. Platt, W. W. Hartwell, Benjamine Gilman, George Moore, Plattsburgh, Clinton Co,

OFFICERS.

SAMUEL F. VILES, Presikent;
WM. W. HARTWELL, Vice President;
ZEPHENIAH C. PLATT, Treasurer;
GEORGE MOORE, Secretary;
I. C. MIX. and
R. G SWINBRN, General Agents.
JAMES B DICKINSON, Agent Ausable Forks.

Plattsburgh, Dec. 4th, 1852. 44 tf

DRY-GOODS!

CARPETS AND OIL-CLOTHS,

at uncommonly low prices

may be had at

G. V. S. Quackenbush's,

202 River and 9 State Streets. Troy.

MY Stock of Dry-Goods is unsurpassed in Variety and extent, consisting of every class of goods from the lowest priced Muslins and Prints, to the finest BROAD-CLOTHS AND CASSIMERES, or the richest and most expensive styles of Silks and Shawls and of each denomination of goods.

I have an almost endless variety of patterns of all the different qualities.

Of Carpets and Oil Cloths I have a splendid assortment consisting of a great variety of new and beautiful patterns of Velvets, Tapestry, and Brussels Carpets—

Also

Three Ply, Tapestry-Ingrains, and Ingrains, of all qualities and so varied in styles that all may here find something to suit their fancy.

Oil Cloths of all Widths and Qualities and of the newest and most desirable patterns, Rugs, in great variety.

STAIR CARPETS, STAIR RODS, DRUGGETS,

MATTS,

and Matting of every Style and Quality.

A correct diagram being furnished Oil-Cloths will be cut to fit rooms or halls without extra charge, and Carpets made in a superior manner at the lowest rates.

Those wishing to purchase either Dry-Goods or Carpets will find that my assortment is unequaled, and that my prices are uncommonly low.

422 G. V. S. QUACKENBUSH,
202 River Street, Troy.

RUTLAND & BURLINGTON Rail Road.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after Monday, Nov. 1st, trains will run as follows, viz:

FOR BOSTON, NEW YORK AND INTERMEDIATE PLACES.

LEAVE
Burlington at	8,15 A. M.,		4,15	P. M.
Vergennes	9.09 "		5,00	"
Middlebury	9,42 "		5,35	"
Brandon	10 20 "		6,18
Rutland	11,00 "	AR.	7,00
		L.	6,30	A. M.
Cuttingsville	11,25 "		6,55	"
Ludlow	12,06 P. M.		7,36	"
Proctorsville	12,15 "		7,42	"
Chester	12,40 "		8,10	"
Arriving
Bellows Falls	1,15 "		8,48	"
Boston	7,00 "		1,00	P. M.
LEAVE
Boston	7 45 A. M.		12,00	M.
Bellows Falls	12 10 "		5 15	P. M.
Chester	12.40 P. M.		5,50	"
Proctorsville	107 "		6,17	"
Ludlow	1,15 "		6,25	"
Cuttingsville	1 52 "		7,06	"
Rutland AR.	2,15 "	AR.	7 30	"
L.	3,00 "	L.	7,45	"
Brandon	3 38 "		8 25	"
Middlebury	4,25 "		9,04	"
Vergennes	5,00 "		9,37	"
Arriving
Burlington	5,45 "		10,30	"

CONNECT AT BURLINGTON.

with the Steamers for PLATTSBURGH and MONTREAL RAIL ROADS, and with the VERMONT and CENTRAL and VERMONT and CANADA RAIL ROADS. for the East, North, and West, via CHAMPLAIN and ST. LAWRENCE, and the OGDENSBURGH RAIL ROADS.

CONNECT AT RUTLAND

with the Trains of Western Vermont, Rutland and Washington and Saratoga and Washington Rail Roads, for New York, Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Buffalo and the West.

CONNECT AT BELLOWS FALLS

with the Trains of the Cheshire, Vermont Valley, and Sullivan Rail Roads for Windsor, Boston, Worcester, Lowell Springfield, Hartford, New Haven, and New York.

Fares are less when Tickets are purchased at the Offices than when paid in the Cars.

Burlington, Oct. 25, 1852. JOHN S. DUNLAP, Superintendent.

445

EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR.

50 BARRELS made from Pure Genessee Wheat at the lowest price at

REYNOLDS & TUFTS

Dec. 18, 1852.

Essex County Republican.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING BY JONATHAN TARBELL, Editor and Proprietor. TERMS, $2 Per Year---$1,50 in Advance.

VOLUME XIII. NO. 42. KEESEVILLE, N. Y., MARCH 5, 1853. WHOLE NUMBER 461

INDIAN vs. BOURBON;

OR A LOST

KING FOUND.

An article in the February number of "Putnam's Monthly," communicated by Dr. Hawks, discusses the claims of the Rev. Eleazer Williams to the throne of France. It is an attempt to prove that this gentleman, who has long been an Episcopal missionary among or northwestern Indians, is the veritable Dauphin, who was confined in the Temple during the French Revolution, where it was alleged he died, but who was, as this article contends, secretly conveyed to America, and is now alive. The history is one of the most curious and romantic that we ever read, and we mean to give our readers the outlines of Mr. William's story.

Mr. Hanson, an Episcopal clergyman of this city, some two or three years ago read in the Evening Post an allusion to the probable existance of Louis XVII, among the St. Regis Indians, and was so much struck with it, that he made a visit to Mr. Williams, the person supposed to have been the Dauphin, and got from him the following facts:

"In October, 1841, I was on my way from Buffalo to Green Bay, and took a steamer from the former place bound to Chicago, which touched at Mackinac, and left me there, to await the arrival of the steamer from Buffalo to Green Bay. Vessels which had recently come in announced the speedy arrival of the Prince de Joinville; public expectation was on tiptoe, and crowds were on the wharves. The steamer at length came in sight, salutes were fired and answered, the colors run up, and she came into the port in fine style. I was standing on the wharf among the crowd, when Capt. John Shook, now at Huron, Ohio, who will confirm my statement, came up to me and asked whether I was going to Green Bay, adding that the Prince de Joinville had made inquiries of him concerning a Rev. Mr. Williams, and that he had told the Prince he knew such a person, referring to me, whom he supposed was the man he meant, though he could not imagine what the Prince could want with or know of me. I replied to the Captain in a laughing way, without having any idea what a deep meaning was attatched to my words, 'O, I am a great man, and great men of course seek me out.' It was, I think, about 2 o'clock when we left Mackinac. When we were fairly out on the water, the Captain came to me and said, 'The Prince, Mr. Williams, requests me to say to you that he desires to have a interview with you, and will be happy either to have you come to him, or allow me to introduce him to you.' 'Present my compliments to the Prince,' I said, 'and say that I put myself entirely at his disposal, and will be proud to accede to whatever may be his wishes in the matter.' The Captain again retired, and soon returned bringing Prince de Joinville with him. I was sitting at the time on a barrel. The Prince not only started with evident and involuntary surprise when he saw me, but there was great agitation in his face and manner—a slight paleness and a quivering of the lip—which I could not help remarking at the time, but which struck me more forcibly afterwards in connection with the whole train of circumstances, and by contrast with his usual self-possessed manner.

He then shook me earnestly and respectfully by the hand, and drew me immediately into conversation. The attention which he paid me seemed to astonish not only myself and the passengers, but also the Prince's retinue. At dinner time there was a separate table laid for the Prince and his companions, and he invited me to sit with them, and offered me the seat of honor by his side. But I was little abashed by the attentions of the Prince, and there was an American officer who had attatched himself to the party and behaved in an obtrusive and unbecoming manner, which seemed to annoy them, and indeed one of the Prince's companions had expressed to me his disgust at his behavior. So I thought I would keep out of the circle, and begged the Prince to excuse me and permit me to dine at the ordinary table with the passengers, which accordingly I did. After dinner the conversation turned between us on the first French settlements in America, the valor and enterprise of the early adventurers, and the loss of Canada to France, at which the Prince expressed deep regret. In the course of his remarks, though in what connection I cannot now say, he told me that he left his suit at Albany, took a private conveyance and went to the head of Lake George. He was very copious and fluent in speech, and I was surprised at the good English which he spoke—a little broken, indeed, like mine, but still very intelligible. We continued talking late into the night, reclining in the cabin, on the cushions in the stern of the boat. When we retired to rest, the Prince lay on the locker and I in the first berth next to it. The next day the steamer did not arrive at Green Bay until 3 o'clock, and during most of the time we were in conversation. Looking back thoughtfully upon what was said, I can now perceive that the Prince was gradually preparing my mind for what was to came at last, although then the different subjects seemed to arise naturally enough. At first he spoke of the condition of affairs in the United States, and on the American Revolution. He expressed admiration for our institutions, and spoke at large of the assistance which had been rendered to the Colonies in the struggle with the mother country by Louis XVI. He said he did not think sufficient gratitude was evinced by Americans to that monarch, and that whenever his intervention was alluded to, it was attributed to selfish motives, and to a desire to humble the power of England on this continent by depriving her of her fairest colonial possessions, but that in his opinion Louis XVI. felt a true regard for America, and that on every return of the Forth of July, when throughout the United States the nation was celebrating its independence, there should be an especial salute fired to the memory of the king who had contributed so much to the result.—Such was the substance of what was said by the prince on that subject. He then turned to the French Revolution, and said that Louis XVI. was innocent of any tyrannical designs towards the people of France and that nothing which he did personally could justify or excuse the excesses of the revolution that the last foundation of that event were laid in the preceding reign, and that the misconduct and misgovernment of Louis XV. were chargeable with the events which occurred to a very great extent, although the storm had been slowly brewing for centuries. The people of France, though they had no just cause to complain of Louis XVI, yet had a right to do so of the oppressive institutions then existing, of the tyranny of the aristocracy, and the burdens laid on them by the Church. He then referred to the changes which had since taken place in the form of government, and to the present amelioration of the condition of French people under an elective monarchy. On our arrival at Green Bay, the Prince said that I would oblige him by accompanying him to his hotel, and taking up my quarters at the Astor House. I begged to be excused, as I wished to go to the house of my father-in-law. He replied that he had some matters of great importance to speak to me about, and as he could not stay long at Green Bay, but would take his departure the next day after, he wished I would comply with his request. As there was some excitement consequent on the Prince's arrival, and a great number of persons were at the Astor House waiting to see him, thought I would take advantage of the confusion to go to my father in law's and promise to return in the evening, when he would be more private. I did so, and on my return found the Prince alone, with the exception of one attendant, whom he dismissed. The gentlemen of his party were in an adjoining room, laughing and carousing, and I could distinctly hear them during my interview with the Prince. He opened the conversation by saying that he had a communication to make to me, of a very serious nature as concerned himself, and of the last importance to me,—that it was one in which no others were interested, and therefore, before proceeding further, he wished to obtain some pledge of secrecy, some promise that I would not reveal to any one what he was going to say. I demurred to any such conditions being imposed previous to my being made acquainted with the nature of the subject, as there might be something in it after all prejudicial and injurious to others, and it was at length after some altercation, agreed that I should pledge my honor not to reveal what the prince was going to say, provided there was nothing in it prejudicial to any one, and I signed a promise to this effect on a sheet of paper. It was vaugue and general, for I would not tie myself down to absolute secrecy, but left the matter conditional. When this was done the Prince spoke to this effect:

"You have been accustomed, sir, to consider yourself a native of this country; but you are not. You are of foreign descent; you were born in Europe, sir, and however incredible it may at first seem to you, I have to tell you that you are the son of a King. There ought to be much consolation to you to know this fact. You have suffered a great deal, and have been brought very low, but you have not suffered more, or been more degraded than my father, who was long in exile and poverty in this country; but there is this difference between him and you, that he was long aware of his high birth, whereas you have been spared the knowledge of your origin"

When the Prince had said this I was much overcome, and thrown into a state of mind which you can easily imagine. In fact I hardly knew what to do or say and my feelings were so much excited that I was like one in a dream, and much was said between us of which I can give but an indistinct account. However, I remember that I told him that his communication was so startling and unexpected that he must forgive me for being incredulous, and that reality I was "between two."

"What do you mean," he said, "by being 'between two?'"

I replied that on the one hand, it scarcely seemed to me that he could believe what he said, and on the other I feared he might be under some mistake as to the person.—He assured me, however, that he would not trifle with my feelings on such a subject, but that he spoke the simple truth, and that in regard to the identity of the person, he had ample means in his possession to satisfy me that there was no mistake in that respect. I then requested him to proceed with the disclosure already partly made, and to inform me in full of the secret of my birth. He replied, that in doing so, it was necessary that a certain process should be gone through in order to guard the interests of all parties concerned. I inquired what kind of process he meant. Upon this the Prince rose and went to his trunk, which was in the room, and took from it a parchment which he laid upon the table, and set before me that I might read and give him my determination in regard to it. There was also on the table pen and ink and wax, and he placed there governmental seals of France, the one, if I mistake not, used under the old monarch. It was of precious metal, but whether of gold or silver, or a compound of both I cannot say. I think, on reflection, the latter; but I may be mistaken, for my mind was so bewildered, and agitated, and engrossed with one absorbing question, that things which at another time would have made a strong impression on me were scarcely noticed, although I must confess that when I knew the whole, the sight of the seal put before me by a member of the family of Orleans, stirred my indignation. The document which the Prince placed before me was very handsomely written, in double parallel columns of French and English.

I continued intently reading and considering it for a space of four or five hours.—During this time the Prince left me undisturbed, remaining for the most part in the room, but he went out three or four times. The purport of the document which I read repeatedly word by word, comparing the French with the English, was this: It was a solemn abdication of the crown of France in favor of Louis Phillippe, by Charles Louis, the son of Louis XVI, who was styled Louis XVII, King of France and Naverre, with all accompanying names and titles of honor according to the custom of the old French monarchy, together with a minute specification in legal phraseology of the conditions, and considerations and provisos, upon which the abdication was made. These conditions were in brief, that a princely establishment should be secured to me either in this country or in France, at my option, and that Louis Phillippe would pledge himself on his part to secure the restoration, or an equivalent for it, of all the private property of the royal family rightfully belonging to me, which had been confiscated in France during the Revolution, or in any way got into other hands. Now you may ask me why I did not retain at all hazards, this document, or, at any rate, take a copy of it; but it is very easy for you, sitting quietly there, to prescribe the course which prudence and self interest would dictate. A day or two afterwards all these points, and the different lights in which the thing could be viewed, came to my mind, but at that moment I thought of nothing except the question of acceptance or rejection. And then remember the sudden manner in which the whole affair came upon me, and the natural timidity and bashfulness of one who had always considered himself of such obscure rank when called without preparation to discuss such topics with a man of high position like the Prince. Besides which, my word of honor had been so recently and solemnly pledged, and the sense of personal dignity excited by the disclosures of the Prince, that I never so much as thot of taking any advantage of the circumstances, but simply and solely whether or not I should sign my name, and set my seal to a deliberate surrender of my rights and those of my family. It was a deeply painful and harrowing time, and I cannot tell you, and you cannot imagine how I felt when trying to decide this question. At length I made my decision, and rose, and told the Prince that I had considered the matter fully in all its aspects, and was prepared to give him my definite answer upon the subject; and I then went on to say, that whatever might be the personal consequences to myself, I felt that I could not be the instrument of bartering away with my own hand the rights pertaining to me by my birth, and sacrificing the interests of my family, and that I could only give to him the answer which de Provence gave to the ambassador of Napoleon at Warsaw, "Though I am in poverty and exile, I will not sacrifice my honor."

The Prince upon this assumed a loud tone, accused me of ingratitude in trampling on the overtures of the King, his father, who, he said, was actuated in making the proposition more by feelings of kindness and pity towards me than by any other consideration, since his claim to the French throne rested on an entirely different basis to mine, viz: not that of hereditary descent, but of popular election. When he spoke in this strain I spoke loud also, and said that as he by his disclosure, had put me in the position, I must assume that position and frankly say that my indignation was stirred by the memory that one of the family of Orleans had imbrued his hands in my father's blood, and that another now wished to obtain from me an abdication of the throne. When I spoke of superiority the Prince immediately assumed a respectful attitude, and remained silent for several minutes. It had now grown very late, and we parted, with the request that I would reconsider the proposal of his father, and not be too hasty in my decision. I returned to my father in-law's, and the next day saw the Prince again, and on his renewal of the subject gave him a similar answer. Before he went away, he said, 'Though we part, I hope we part friends.'"

Mr. Hanson has collected a large amount of collateral testimony to confirm this statement of Mr. Williams, which taken together almost compels a belief in his pretensions. It may be summed up as follows:

1st. That the Prince de Joinville, on his arrival in the country, inquired for Mr Williams, and sought and obtained an interview with him at Green Bay, in which, after demanding a conditional pledge of secrecy he required a resignation of the crown of France, as its legitemate heir in favor of Louis Phillippe, and afterwards corresponded with him through his secretaries.

2d. That after the Prince's return, Louis Phillippe wrote with his own hand to Mr. Williams.

3d. That Belanger, a Frenchman who died at New Orleans, 1818, confessed, when dying, that he brought the Dauphin to this country.

4th. That the French ambassador, Genet in the presence of Dr. Francis and others, acknowledged that the Dauphin was both alive and in this country, in the state of New York in 1817.

5th. That Le Ray de Ch according to Gouet's state quainted with the affair, had with the Indians in the neigh

Mr. Williams was brought up, once in conversation with him, made a remote allusion to the Dauphin.

6th. That Col. de Ferrier, one of the body guard of Louis XVI. married, and resided among the Indians at Oneida, where a considerable part of Mr. Williams's life was spent, and that he and Le Ray believed a member of Louis XVIth's family, to be in an indigent condition in America.

7th That the Abbe de Colonne, resident at Trois Riviere near Caughnawaga, believed the Dauphin to be alive, and in America and that Bishop Chevreuse did the same.

8th. That efforts were made to induce Mr. Williams to return to the Romanish communion, of a nature only explicable on the supposition of his being a more than ordinary person.

9th. That the name of Eleazer Williams is not on the baptismal register at Caughnawaga.

10th. That he has none of the characteristics of an Indian.

11th. That he closely resembles Louis XVIII.

12th. That various marks on his body, correspond exactly with those known to have been on the body of the Dauphin.

13th. That the name of the Dauphin was omitted from the solemnities for the departed Bourbons, in the reign of Louis XVIII.

14th. That the Indian woman, his reputed mother, does not acknowledge him to be her child.

15th. That boxes of clothing and medals of Louis XVI. and Marie Antoinette, were left with the child, one of which is still in Mr. William's possession 16th. That an unknown Frenchman came to see Mr. Williams in youth, and wept over him.

17th. That his board and tuition were regularly paid at Dr. Ely's, when it is known that his reputed father had neither means nor inclination to do so.

18th. That Williams remembers a conversation, on the subject of his education, between Thomas Williams and his wife, in which it was stated that means were provided for the purpose, and another between Thomas Williams and Vanderheyden, in which the fact of a French boy being committed to the care of the former in 1795, was mentioned.

19th. That he recognized the portraits of Simon the jailor, and of Madame Elizabeth, when unexpectedly placed before him by Prof. Day.

20th. That Williams was idiotic at the age of 13 or 14.

21st. That the Dauphin, at the age of ten was reduced to the same condition by ill treatment.

22d. That since the recovery of his reason, faint dreamy remembrances of the past have returned to the mind of Mr. Williams corresponding to know scenes in the Dauphin's history.

23d. That a decree for the banishment of the son of Louis XVI., passed the French Convention in 1794.

24th. That the President and ecclesiastical dignitaries of France, have written to Mr. Williams, making inquiries concerning his history.

25th. That there have been various attempts to personate the Dauphin.

26th. That Rochefoucauld Laincourt was at Oneida, Albany and Saratoga, in 1795, under circumstances which create suspicion of his having some agency in the transaction,—and also in close communication with various persons of the name of Williams,—and that shortly after, Louis Phillippe and his brothers were among the Indians in Western New York, and also in New Orleans, in the vicinity of Bianger.

27th. That the Rev. Eleazer Williams has been for 26 years a laborious Missionary in the Protestant Episcopal Church, and is at present a clergyman in good standing.

Now there can be no question that if all these points could be proved the irresistible conclusion, would be that Louis XVII. and the Rev. Eleazer Williams are identical.

Where the utmost stretch of human ingenuity has been used for concealment; where more than half a century has passed since the supposed divergence of a life from its natural line; where evidence, scanty at the best, has been destroyed, both purposely and negligently, absolute demonstration perhaps cannot be attained; but we may reach, even under such circumstances, a degree of moral certainty second only to demonstration, and amply sufficient to enable a sound mind to render a decisive verdict, satisfactory to the intellect and the conscience.

Now prove to me the truth of what I have alleged as asserted and probably, and no course would be left but to pronounce such a judgment in favor of identity; for the evidence before us goes to show, I apprehend, exactly what it is requisite to have shown.

1st That Louis XVII. did not die in 1795.

2d. That he was carried to the region in which Mr. Williams spent his youth.

3d. That Mr Williams is not an Indian; and,

4th. That Mr. Williams is Louis XVII.

In the existing condition of things in France, the complete establishment of Mr. Williams' claim would be of no practical importance, but the narrative is certainly a most interesting one, and if true, discovers to us one of the most singular and romantic events in the history of the world.—[N. Y. Evening Post.

A QUICK BARGAIN.—A young gentleman of Kilkenny, meeting a handsome milk-maid, near the parade, said, "What will ...ke for yourself and your milk, my girl instantly replied, "Yourself gold ring sir."

Fireside Education.

Education is a matter of paramount consequence. How best to conduct its processes has been the study of some of the strongest minds; and how to diffuse its blessings generally, and make them universal, have commanded the most honorable efforts of States. These questions are constantly recurring. Everything connected with the general subject has been, is now, and ever will continue to be of the most absorbing interest. The aid of the State is very desireable to the through education of almost all classes—of some, it is absolutely essential. Meanwhile, we are likely to lose sight of the very great progress that can be made in the education of children, either entirely or in part, within the home circle. We speak of the middle classes—of families in the city and in the county, who are possessed of a home. Parents, guardians, elder brothers and sisters, have very little idea, unless they have learned it by experiment, of the influence that they have in orming the intellectual habits of the younger members of the family. The simple presence of a child within a group who are habitually careful in their use of language, and whose conversation is on topics worthy of their breath, insures to the little learner an education much superior to that which can be gained in schools, without this domestic practice. If to these privileges, that pertain to almost every New-England family that is in moderate circumstances, there is joined also a habit of reading books that are worth the time, and a free canvassing of their contents, that lad must be dull indeed who is not, at the age of maturity, intelligent and sufficiently posted up in the world's matters to bear his share of its burdens, with honor and success. And yet the sight is not an unusual one, of children who are brought up in the midst of a reading family, without any taste for literature, or any degree of curiosity as to the contents of the books by which they are surrounded. The trouble is, that no one has taken the pains to introduce them within the frowning portals of the Castle of Learning.—How few children really believe that in the Bible there is anything of interest for them! They have been taught to regard it as sacred, and of the very highest merit in every respect. They learned stories of Joseph and of Samuel years ago, and a repetition of them has long since ceased to produce any pleasurable impression. They hear a chapter of it read daily, but it is out of its connections, and all the advantage that a continued narrative possessed over a collection of disconnected maxims, is lost.—Who would think of interesting a boy of twelve in the history of England, or blame him for not becoming acquainted with it, although the finest one ever penned were daily within his reach? And yet his shrewd sister can inspire within him just as great a fondness for biblical or profane history, as for the stories of her travels during the preceding summer. Some wintry night when the anthracite glows in the grate, before the lights are brought in, when the house is quiet and no other topic absorbs the attention, let her draw the little fellow's chair close up to hers, and offer to tell him a story. There is no need of promises to gain his attention; his eyes are wide open, and he is eager for it to begin. Let it be an "ower true tale" of some king who fixed his throne after long wars and bloody sieges—of rascally Richard—of poor Prince Hubert—of Jack Cade, whose true history seems, when most dully told, like an absurd school-boy—of our Boston printer's boy, who grew to be a philosopher—of some man of the forest, who scared our grandmothers in their log houses and pestered the men folks with their pilfering.—And when the story is all told, and he still waits for more or a more circumstantial account of it, tell him how long it would take to reach the scene of the adventure with the grey mare and the little buggy, in the rail car, speeding over the land as fast as steam can urge it, or in the stout and fearless steamship, that points right into the eye of the storm and slips up to the windward between its blows. Does his attention flag yet? No, he would see it on the map, know the route to reach it' hear who lives now upon the spot, be told what the people there think of the story, if they know it, and whether its tragic features keep them awake dark nights, or whether the comedy of it arouses them at their daily toils. If she has not attempted too much, he will return to the subject to-morrow anxious to learn more, if more is to be learned about it. The picture which illustrates it is intensely interesting; the book that narrates it is suddenly invested with extraordinary value. If it is a volume adapted to his capacity, it is the book of all others for him, and if its style is too labored and hard for his comprehension, he seeks earnestly for an interpreter to read it with him. The shrewd sister has "struck a lead." She has opened a mine which she may unprofitably abandon, or she may work it with great mutual benefit. She must be careful of the choice of topics, however, or she will be surprised to find that unawares she has bred in him a love for the life of a rover, or begotten an ambition that will not cease burning till his death. Let some of our good readers who have young brothers, sons, sisters or daughters, at home try the experiment at their leisure. They will be gratified, we promise them, with the quick developement of traits and tastes which might not have been reached through the usual channels of schools and school books for years yet, if ever. Having tried it awhile we venture that their enjoyment of it will be scarcely less than their pupils', and nothing but a lack of time will tempt them to forego the pleasure while there are little folks to be instructed in the house.—But the lack of time—ah! there is the trouble. We have not time to treat of it now.

"Bridal Chambes"

A writer on the Literary World hits off this modest exhibition of our fashionable "brides" and "grooms" after the following manner. It is a description of a scene on board the steamer Oregon with its bridal stateroom!—

"It is night on board the steamer "Oregon." Swiftly the beautiful boat slips on—so swiftly and so stilly that it is a bore to know what to do. The supper is over, but it is too early for sleep. The cabins are sumptuous, but once seen, you have only to sit still. The handsome clerk, with his tasteful offie hung round with pictures of lovely ladies, has drawn his stained glass window, and there is no more "fight or die" to be the first to settle. The idea of twenty-two miles an hour won't amuse a man! What have you got for "the people," Captain? No pine here's to whittle, nor nothing? Hey!—What!—the knowing ones dropping off to the upper saloon! Up stairs, be it then!—So—so—very carelessly indeed I see the b'hoys lounging in the stain chairs at the upper end of the long saloon—but all eyes keeping the range of the door handle of state-room 53! "Look sharp! There goes a pretty girl to the marble table for a night lamp!" Eh! how she blushes!" "Rich is'nt it?" White ribbons and orange flowers in her bonnet, and a bran new traveling dress. I wonder whether it's your all lookiog at her makes her bungle so in unlocking the door! In she goes, and the door closes—but of-course nobody got a glimpse of the embroidered canopy over the bridal bed—O, no! A nudge all round. Half an hour's intermission.

"Here he comes!" "Just up from the barber's shop!" "Looks clean, don't he!" All eyes turned to 53, and the outsiders trimming their range so as to see well in, when the door opens. "O, Mr. Bridegroom, you need'nt look so mad at our having a look at you! Free country?" A gentle rap. "Come in." just audible through the ventilator. Door opens. "Saw the frill of her night-cap, by Jupiter!" "Embroidered quilt! Lace curtains!" "Did you see her eyes?" "How spunky the chap looks the door on the inside!" "As if we had'nt a right to sit where we've amind to, in the public saloon!". But it's fun, getting a peep into a bridal state room, isn't it?"—"The Oregon for me!" "Good as a play!" Won't we be accidentally here when she come out in the morning?"

NEWS FOR THE LADIES.—PARIS FASHIONS FOR THE PRESENT MONTH.—The Paris correspondent of the Herald says: "A few general rules of fashion gathered for the coming month may not be unacceptable. No ball-dress can be complete without an accompaniment of gold or silver. Necklaces, or narrow velvets for the neck, or even the small stain ribbon lately worn, are no longer admissible. The head must be of the roundest form possible; if insufficient hair upon the temples, the shape must be produced by ribbons or flowers; but on no account must the coiffure present the oval shape hitherto considered indispensible to grace. No boquets must adorn the corsage save the small round posy a la Duchess, worn quite at the top of the body of the dress, in the style of our grandmothers. Earrings are quite out of fashion, and under no pretence whatever must be worn. The hair must be parted so far back upon the head that the chignon may be small enough to be entirely hidden by the coiffure. Not more than a month ago there was great satisfaction in the display of a quantity of hair behind; now it is entirely to be disowned and avoided, and, indeed, sometimes turned completely underneath to beguile the beholder into belief that the fair fashionable is fortunate enough to posess no hair whatever but that which grows upon the temples. In every other costume save that of a very great ball, colored gloves, such as straw, lilic, or beurre frais, are more distingue than white. The fashion which still continues to reign of the peak to the corsage behind, precludes the necessity of my crinoline, therefore care must be taken to wear none whatever, as it shortens and thickens the waist, and looks ungraceful and unfashionable.

Punch finds a fertile field for his inventive wit, in the recent "flare-up" between the "women" of Stafford House, and their "dear sisters" on this side of the Atlantic, growing out of the Uncle Tom, or slavery agitation. Thus, in his last number, he puts into the mouth of the Duchess of Sutherland, a poetic remonstrance, of which this verse is a medium sample;

BY THE LADIES BULL.

Sisters, daughters, wives, and mothers,
Ah! our feelings how it racks,
That your sons, sires, husbands, brothers,
Should so badly use their blacks!
Oh! we speak with hearts sincerest,
All with love and pity rent;
But why don't you, sisters dearest,
Make your relatives repent

BY THE LADIES JONATHAN.

You have slaves far worse than niggers,
That in ignorance are sunk,
Who no letter know, nor figures,
Vicious, destitute, and drunk;
Have them taught to read their bibles,
And repeat their A B C;
Better this than writing libels,
On the Nation of the Free.

ANECDOTE.—A blustering fellow staying at a boarding house, had for some time annoyed the other inmates by his bullying.—At length, an addition of a Yankee was made to the table, and at dinner, the Englishman among other bold expressions, stood up, and brandishing a carving knife, exclaimed in a meacing tone:

"Which of you said you didn't like roast beef?"

Our Yankee now rose, and sternly replied, "I said so!"

"Very well then," said the bully, quickly setting down, "you can have mutton."

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

The Republican.

KEESEVILLE:

Saturday Morning March 5.

"The Union of Lakes, the Union of Lands,
The Union of States none can sever,
The Union of Hearts, the Union of Hands,
The Flag of Our UNION—Forever."

Chesterfield.

The Editor of the Gazette is pleased to exult over the result of town meeting in this town, but wherein he finds sources of exultation we cannot conceive. The town was never more decidedly whig than it is to-day. The whigs have seldom if ever before elected a greater portion of thier ticket—seldom if ever having elected their entire ticket, certainly not having done so for the last three years. In fact, this has been a most decisive whig victory, and so felt to be by every democrat, but for effect abroad that Editor must needs exhibit his accustomed disregard of truth. The whigs of Chesterfield never entered upon a town election under so many discouraging circumstances as the last. The only wonder is that the whole whig ticket was not overwhelmingly defeated, as will be seen by reference to a few facts: Democrats have always insisted and believed that no other whig save MARTIN FINCH could be elected Supervisor, and that to certain other offices certain other men could not be elected any way In both these respects whigs bade them defiance. Again, the whigs were distracted by the extremes of temperance and anti-temperance opposing each a portion of the ticket. Then from one section of the town whigs came up in solid column against the justice, and from another, equally solid, against the collector, the influence of which was most seriously felt by the whole ticket. Many whigs voted for the justice elect on the representation and belief that he was a whig, who in fact was elected on a whig ticket.

Under all the circumstances, the democrats ought and expected to have achieved a signal victory. The result is that the town is most thoroughly whig, and the democrats know and feel it to be so, the flashes of the Gazette to the contrary notwithstanding The truth of it is, democrats are mad enough to bite a nail. If any democrat can sift out any cause of rejoicing, or can discover any seeming decline of whig ascendency in Chesterfield, they "see what is not to be seen." Whigs, next spring, and for six succeeding springs, avoiding the shoals and quicksands of this, will elect a clean whig ticket by an average majority of 75. Mark that.

Town Meetings.—Essex Co.

Chesterfield.—Whig ticket entire save Justice and Collector as follows;

Supervisor, Grove M. Harwood; Town Clerk, Harvey Carter; Justice Peace, R. S. Watson; Collector, J. Pemberton; Assessors, Heman O. Matthews, to fill vacancy, Joseph Beach; Commissioners of High Ways, Harris Page, to fill vacancy, Martin Finch; Overseers Poor, Carlisle Beaumont, Jonathan Snyder; Inspectors of Election, Dist. No. 1, George W. Fowler, Asa D. Moore; Inspectors of Election, Dist. No. 2, Major B. Weston, Samuel Weston; Constables, John Pemberton Joshua C. Finch, Roswell Grandy, Benjamin Miner, Gilbert Gennett.

Crownpoint.—Whig ticket entire save Justice (Esqr. Fenton) and one Assessor (Mr. Allen). John C. Hammond, Supervisor; by 40 maj. Nobly done Crownpoint. Thanks, thanks. John C. Hammond never takes the field in vain. He is a noble specimen of a man, and is justly appreciated by his neighbors.

Westport.—Whig ticket entire save one Overseer Poor, and Collector which was a tie as follows; Supervisor, Ralph A. Loveland; Town Clerk, Hiram H. Downey; Justice of the Peace, Jason Braman; Collector, Harry N. Cole; Assessor. Archibald Patterson; Commissioner of Highways, Samuel Root; Overseers of the Poor, Peter Ferris, Luther Angier, Dem. Inspectors of Election, William P. Merriam, William Mcintyre; Constables, Dennis B. Stacy, Harry N. Cole, Richard Brown, Ira Downey.

"O. K."

Essex.—The following ticket was elected without opposition—a fact which speaks for itself.

Supervisor, William D. Ross; Town Clerk. Wesley G Lyon; Justice Peace. Simeon N. Wright; Supt. Common Schools, Palmer E. Havens; Assessors, Jerome B. North, John Hoskins, Jr; Commissioner of highways, James O. Riely; Overseers Poor. Samuel S. Allen, Lewis Cady; Inspector. of Election Hiram Fancher, William H. Younger; Constables John Tucker, Jr. Robert A. Ferguson, Peter Chamberlain, Myron B. Johnson.

Moriah.—The following ticket was declared elected:

Supervisor, Kinsly Sherman; Town Clerk, Jacob Tappen; Justices of the Peace, Philander Butler, 4 years, Rollin E Warner, to fill vacancy; Collector, Dudley Everest; Assessor, William Heaton; Commissioner of Highways, Thomas Walton; Overseers of Poor, Charles Walton, Jedediah E. McKenzie; Inspectors of Election, 1st District, Fayette W. Crane, Fordice Dean; 2d District, Charles Sumner, Clark S. Rich; Constables, Dudley Everest, Charles W. Ensign, Maynard Kidder, Julius E. Pangborn, Willis E. Foster.

Our correspondent says the election of Supervisor will be contested on the following vote; (both whigs)

Kinsly Sherman,	162
[illegible]	[illegible]

North Elba.—A union ticket—Daniel Ames, Democrat, a very worthy citizen, Supervisor.

Keene.—U. D. Mihills, whig, Supervisor. We learn from this town that there were no nominations, but that on Tuesday morning the people assembled and proceeded to vote in pure democratic style.

Wilmington.—That old veteran whig John Forbes, is elected Supervisor, together with a clean whig ticket. Charles Malbone, Justice, Walter Beach, Town Clerk, Geo. Weston, Collector.

Jay.—Whigs, Monroe Hall, Supervisor, Samuel West, Justice, Daniel Blish, Assessor, J. W. Buttrick, Commissioner Highwas, W. B. White, Overseer Poor, A. K. Lewis, Collector, and two Constables. Democrats, E. H. Bartlett, Town Clerk, A. W. Pitcher, Overseer Poor, and two Constables.

North Hudson.—Whig, Harry Farr, Supervisor.

Lewis.—Whig for the first time in several years and now is whig all over—not a democratic town officer in that town. A. Wilder, Supervisor, A. A Morse, Town Clerk, R. Morse and Joseph Boynton, Justices, O. G. Holcomb, Collector, &c., &c. This news was so good we read it over twice to be sure there was no mistake.—Hurrah!

Willsboro.—Daniel P. Putnam, whig Supervisor.

Ticonderoga.—Wm. E. Calkins, whig. Supervisor.

Schroon.—Barton Baker, dem.

St. Armand.—Wm. Galusha, whig.

The County.—As far as heard from stands—whig 13, dem. 3. Two towns to hear from, and if they come in as they did last year, the board will stand whig, 15, dem. 3.

Clinton County—Ausable.—Democratic, save Town Clerk. But for the divisions and indifference of whigs this would be a whig town.

Peru.—Whig by majorities varying from 15 to 43, save Supervisor, which is dem. by 13 majority.

Plattsburgh.—License; the question was license or no license.

Black Brook—"John Rogers and free plank roads." We hope for better days for the faithful little band of whigs in that town, when their days of "bondage" will have ended. Subject as they have been to the "one man power" we admire their courage and their party fidelity.

Martin Finch.

This gentleman having served the people of Chesterfield for seven years in the capacity of Supervisor, deemed it his duty to decline a re-nomination. He has been a faithful and useful officer, and is justly appreciated by the people who have so constantly manifested their confidence in his integrity and ability, and would gladly have continued him in service. It is worthy of especial note that his success is owing, not to trick or artifice, or any unusual mode of electioneering, but to modest and unassuming worth alone.

In Mr. Hanwood, however, the people of this town have a worthy successor to Mr. Finch.

"Which King?"—The Editor of the Gazette hardly knows whether he is on foot or horseback. His paper this week is a regular milk and water concern, and spreads the "soft soap" right and left without stint. Last week he was down on the hunkers "like a thousand of brick," but this week he takes it all back by saying "he didn't mean anything." If his bread don't fall with the buttered side up it wont be his fault, but if it should fall butter side down—"what a fall my countrymen!"

There sticks out also, as oft before, a prominent effort to make his folks believe he is a martyr to whig persecution. This playing "baby", and anon blustering of fierce encounters, denotes a femenine and craven soul utterly void of honorable motives.

Absence of Mind.—An old lady sleeping during Divine service in a church in Liverpool, let fall her Bible, with clasps to it; and the noise partly waking her, exclaimed aloud—

"What, you have broken another jug, you slut, have you?"

A similar anecdote is related of a worthy Deacon living within a hundred miles of Keeseville. It was in the "olden time" when logs were floated over the rapids of the Ausable. With others, the deacon had been busy during the week, and on Sunday, "tired nature's sweet restorer—balmy sleep" overtook him in Church. Suddenly starting in his sleep, he exclaimed aloud, "my log— my log, Sir!"

The Collector Elect.—Democrats are free to express their regrets that they had not nominated a man better qualified to discharge the duties of the office, affording a remarkable commentary upon editorial notices of "worthy adopted citizens."—Humph! We do not know Mr. Pemberton, but we are informed he is well qualified for the station, and will disappoint his (professed) friends.

The County Survey.—We are permitted to publish a large number of analysis, and an highly interesting extract from the forthcoming report of Mr. Watson, in relation to the ruins on Crownpoint, all of which will appear next week.

☞ We call attention to the farm for Northern New York.

While other portions of the State have received the aid and the bounty of the Legislature with an unsparing and liberal hand, to Northern New York has been doled out but a few thousand dollars, and that, apparently, more to silence clamor than to really favor this section of the State. We are pleased to notice, however, a gradual change in the public mind, and the time is not distant when the great value of this "Siberian Region" will become known and appreciated. We are led to a few remarks in consequence of an interesting article in the Albany Evening Journal of the 1st instant, on "The Rackett River Improvement," showing the result of the expenditure of an appropriation by the State of $10,000. A large settlement has sprung up, a new town is to be organized, State lands find a sale to actual settlers, and lumber has been sent to market on which has been paid to the State treasury a toll of $9000! These facts ought to satisfy the legislature of the wisdom of patronising and aiding the developements of this great lumber and mineral region. Right in the centre of the State, almost, is an extensive territory, scarcely penetrated by civilization, yet possessing untold treasures in lumber, iron ore, and farming lands. Capital and enterprise await the lead of the State to open a way to this vast region. It is being penetrated from the North by "Rackett River," and from the East by the Ausable and Saranac, but obstacles are to be surmounted which can be overcome only by the great arm of the State. A few facts may not be out of place at this time:

As to business generally, it is once more restored to life and vigor, iron works are reviving, labor is in good demand, and our highways are thronged with teams employed by this return of business. Now is the time for the Legislature to lend its aid to direct this renewed enterprise into these western wilds, where it will add new towns, and new wealth to the State.

There is already a plank road from Port Kent to Franklin Falls, a little village on the confines of the vast western wilderness, distant from the Lake 30 miles, Beyond this point ordinary capital and enterprise are not able to penetrate. But Franklin Falls is a sample of hundreds of villages which would spring up with the aid of the State on spots now trod only by hunters and wild beasts.—We may mention that on the first day of June last, Franklin Falls was laid in ashes by a sweeping fire, which left not a roof standing. Now, there are thirty buildings, including dwellings, a public house, store, saw mills, schoolhouse, and the like. One sawmill, owned by Peter Comstock, to whose extraordinary energy this village, and plank road owe their existance, is capable of cutting 60,000 feet of lumber per day, and since the 3d day of June last has been re-built, and has sawed 2 1-2 million feet of lumber besides all that for the 39 buildings composing the village.—An expenditure by the State of $10.000, would in three years time build up many more such places as Franklin Falls still further west, opening a valuable lumber and mineral region adding to the wealth of the State, and creating business paying an annual revenue to the treasury. We invite the further attention of the Journal and other papers of influence to the subject.

The Lily.

We have added to our exchange list this little paper—neatly printed, ably conducted, and "devoted to the interests of woman." Published at Seneca Falls, N. Y. at fifty cents a year by Amelia Bloomer.—We make a quotation from the editorial correspondence, which "speaks for itself." We are not a "bloomer," but obtained this exchange to keep ourself posted on all the doings of the day. We shall quote from it occasionally for the special benefit of the ladies.

New York, Saturday evening,
February 5th, 1853

The day has been one of clouds and rain, and the dark, dirty streets of this great city present an uninviting appearance. The first thing that attracted our attention was the costume of the ladies.—We have heard so much of the "immodesty" of having a skirt cut off at the knee, or a little below, and a neat pair of trowsers covering the lower limbs, worn in place of the draggling skirts, that we were quite surprised at the immodest and disgusting appearance of the ladies whom we saw in the streets here, to day. Why they think nothing of holding their dresses higher than the knee, and displaying drabbled and filthy petticoats which are truly shocking to the sight of one who is all unused to carrying so much filth upon her garments. And yet, strange as it may appear, these city ladies, with their drabbled dresses, and dirty cotton skirts, (which may have been white when it came from the hands of the washerwoman, but which can make no pretensions to that color now,) are ready to laugh outright at our more tidy and comfortable dress—forgetting entirely their own immodest and filthy appearance. Oh! how proud these sights made us feel of our much loved attire, and how I pitied the slavish subserviency to fashion which leads the mass of women to sacrifice health, comfort, convenience and decency upon its altar!

☞ Following is a list of the officers of Morning Sun Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, Port Henry:

J. C. Douglass, W. M.
Ira C. Sprague, S. W.
L. S. Conn, J. W.
R. Whallon, Secretary.
G. W. Lee, Treasurer.
John B. Massey, S. D.
James Douglass, 2d., J. D.
Elisha Carpenter, Tiler.

We are indebted to Hon. [illegible] valuable Legislative docu[illegible] Hon. Jas. Meachan for the [illegible] Report for 1851, for which th[illegible]

An agreeable Surprise.

During the season of Valentines we took from the Post Office a sealed envelope of a most choice style, superscribed in a neat and beautiful hand, supposing it to be a Valentine, tho' our own age and condition forbade such a presumption. On opening, imagine our very agreeable surprise to find the following bit of sensible, and excellent poetry—far more sensible and creditable than the best of Valentines, though we would by no means restrict this amusement when confined to innocent communications. Did "circumstances" permit we should go into extacies over the rare and chaste chirography of this communication, but as it is, we can only refer to the subject matter itself, every word of which we endorse.

The Editor's Fate.

Write! Write! Write!
From early morning till late,
And sometimes the livelong night;
Ay, this is the editor's fate.

Write! Write! Write!
Mid the village's noise, bustle, and haste;
No rest for the hapless wight;
He has to cater to public taste.

What matter if his brain be o'erwrought
Till to madness it almost boil!
He's the mainspring of public thought
And must, therefore, incessantly toil.

His eye the whole earth has to scan,
And bring all its doings to light;
Whatever is transacted by man,
'Tis his duty to learn and to write.

He has the encroachments of power to restrain,
The rights of the weak to defend,
The cause of the oppressed to maintain,
And a help to the needy to lend.

Yet though he must unceasing toil on—
Though his moments of respite are few,
There's a glorious prize to be won,
And a heart-cheering object in view.

'Tis to spread knowledge and light
Till liberty's banner, unfurled,
Shall wave, in its glorious might,
O'er a free and regenerate world.

Then write! write! write!
Till man to his birthright's restored—
Till the Pen's irresistible might Shall have triumphed o'er Cannon and Sword.

E. T,

Odd Fellow's Anniversary.—The Second anniversary of the institution of Saranac Lodge in this place, was celebrated by the members on Tuesday last, the anniversary also of the birth of Washington. The public exercises consisted of a meeting at the Methodist Church, to which the citizens generally were invited, with Oration, Music, &c., The Church was filled to overflowing. The members of the Order present numbered between fifty and sixty, clothed with the rich regalia of the various offices and degrees.

The Oration, by James P. Sanders, of Peekskill, was a plain statement of the principles & objects of Odd Fellowship, & a defence of the Order against the numerous objections raised against secret societies.—We were particularly pleased that he did not make Odd Fellowship his religion and his God, or make Odd Fellows more righteous than all other men. He only set forth in plain language the claims of the Order to the public regard and esteem, and the benefits incident to membership, without invidiously comparing it with other Orders. He gave some statistics which may be interesting to many of our readers.

The present organization of the Order dates back from the city of Baltimore April 26, 1819, and has been continued without intermission from that date until the present. Upon the 19th of July, 1852, the number of Lodges in the U. S was 2779, and the number of contributing members 193,238. In the State of New York at the same were 641 Lodges, with over 45,000 members. During the year previous there was paid for the relief of Brothers $424.298, for burying the dead, $175,152, and over $11,000 for educating orphans of deceased members. In the state of New York in the same time 529 families were relieved by the appropriation from the funds of the Lodges, of $91,479. Saranac Lodge, located at Plattsburgh, was instituted Feb. 22, 1851, and now numbers about 70 members.

The address was well received, and will do much towards confirming the high respect already awarded to the Order and its members.

We cannot pass unnoticed the music on the occasion, which was by the choir of the Presbyterian Church in Beekmantown, under the direction of Mr. Merriam. For purity of tone, and in style of execution, the inhabitants of the city must yield the palm to our country friends. They received a unanimous and cordial vote of thanks for their visit and services.

At the conclusion of the public exercises, the Odd Fellows formed in order and repaired to Foquett's Hotel, where, in company with a few invited guests, they partook of a sumptuous supper, served up in the well known style of that excellent House. Various emblematic decorations adorned the room and table, the handiwork of young John D. Foquett, whose exquisite taste and skill are becoming well known and appreciated, and are best shown forth by his works. All present, whether of high or low degree in the Order, and even those uninitiated into the mysteries thereof seemed equally well skilled in the use of the knife and fork, and enjoyed the exercise immensley.

We have no room for a record of the numerous toasts volunteered from all parts of the table, and can only say, in the language of a toast of one of the invited guests, that we concluded our visit impressed with the conviction that the members of Saranac Lodge are not only "Odd" fellows, but "Good" fellows. Long may they wave.—[Clinton Co. Whig.

A question for Lawyers.—Testimony Excluded.—In a recent case of manslaughter before the Court of Common Pleas at Worcester, Mass. Judge Merrick excluded the introduction by government, of the dying declaration of the man who was killed, on the ground of disbelief in a future state and in the existence of a God. The case was a charge of manslaughter against [illegible] Pierce for causing the death of Josh[illegible]loward. In consequence of the ex[illegible] from the evidence of the declaration [illegible] deceased, the District Attorney [illegible]ed the case, and the prisoner was Before and After Election.

BEFORE.

AFTER.

"Our Artist" sent in the above to be used about the time of the late Presidential Election, but we could not find it in our heart to insert them at that time. The result of Town Meetings, however, are so fleeting, we let them go now, whoever they may hit.

Private.—We would not be invidious but the defeated dem. candidate for town clerk in Ausable as we saw him the morning after Election presented a striking resemblance to one of the above cuts.

Interesting California News—Suffering of the Miners.

Chesterfield, Feb. 28th, 1853.

To the Editor of the Republican,

Dear Sir:—Since your last issue I have received a communication from my brother dated Culloma, Eldorado Co., Cal., Jan. 8th—some items of which would undoubtedly interest many of your readers. At the date of his letter the rain had steadily fallen, in Eldorado Co., nearly two months. Much embarassment was experienced among all classes in securing supplies of the most staple articles of food. The roads were in all directions next to impassible—flour was 25 cts. per lb.—pork 50 cts—potatoes 20—and quite inferior board $18 per week. By the arrival of a messenger, the evening before he wrote from the mountain mining region, one hundred miles North of culloma, he learned that the snow had prevailed unceasingly for many weeks, and had fallen in some inhabited localities to the unprecedented depth of twenty feet. The miners had not as heretofore, descended from the mountain gorges on the approach of the rainy season—the unceasing rain of the low lands, had been with them perpetual snow, and numbers of whole mining towns were upon the very borders of starvation; they were trying to support life by the use of Mule Meat and barley soup. Many noble fellows had perished in attempting to reach these districts, with small sacks of flour upon their backs—none carried more than twenty lbs.—some as few as ten, yet in several instances this small burden had exhausted them, and they had sunk down in the yielding snow, and none could help them. I will only add farther, friend Tarbell, that altho' my brother has himself experienced comparative prosperity, yet his oft repeated opinion respecting imigration to California on the part of his friends and acquaintances of this vicinity has been exposed in language like the following—"Give them my best wishes and tell them to stay at home,"

I am sir very respectfully yours,
M. A. BARNES.

The Champlain Canal Enlargement.—The Troy Whig complains that the Northern Canal is wholly neglected by the Legislature, though productive and of increasing usefulness, and that the whole attention of the State is absorbed in the lateral Canals.

The construction of the ship canal uniting the waters of the St. Lawrence with those of Lake Champlain, it says, is by no means an exploded idea or an abandoned project. It is an enterprise in which our Canadian neighbors take a deep interest, and which has already received no inconsiderable attention. The magnitude and importance of a water channel through which vessels loaded at Chicago or any of the Lake ports, may float to tide water without breaking bulk, can scarcely be over estimated. The St. Lawrence and Champlain ship canal is entirely practicable, and of the practicability of the Champlain Canal enlargement to ship dimensions, there can be no doubt.

This and the ship canal aronnd Niagara Falls, which is agitated in the West, would be equally unacceptable to the people of Buffalo, and would cut down the revenues of the Erie Canal, enormously.—(Plattsburgh Republican.

The South West.—We learn from the N. O. Commercial Bulletin that rail road connections between that city and Texas are in active progression.

Hon. J. Burnett, made a speech on the "Perogatives of the Speaker" on the 14th when that subject was under discussion in consequence of the arbitrary arrest of a member, which we shall publish next week. It was one of the most elegant, dignified and logical speeches made on that occasion, and will add greatly to the reputation of the judge for learning and talent.

Died.

At the residence of Peter Comstock at Port Kent, on the 28th ult., Miss, Catherine Brewster, aged 41 years.

At Chesterfield, Feb. 28th, of Consumption, Emily A. Manchester, aged 19 years, and 2 months, daughter of Jas. and Adeline Manchester.

On the 27th ult., at her residence in Adison Vt. of Consumption Mrs. S. Mariett wife of Hiram Merrill, aged 24 years, daughter of the late Thomas Witherbee of Port Henry, N. Y.

Fair at Port Kent.

OF THE

Ladies benevolent society

On Thursday, March 10th. Young men and maidens, other men and wives, all requested to attend. Old batchelors particularly invited!!

DISSOLUTION AND CO-PARTNERSHIP.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Co-Partnership of Ross, Low, & Gould, heretofore doing business at Essex and Willsborough has been this day dissolved and discontinued by mutual agreement. The business of said firm will be continued by a new co-partnership, this day entered into between the unersigned Ross, Low, & H. W. Putnam, under the firm and name of Ross, Low, & Putnam.

HENRY H. ROSS, 2nd.
WILLIAM H. LOW,
JOHN S. GOULD.

Dated Essex, Feb'y. 24th, 1853. 461-5w

FOR SALE.

2764 ACRES in Township No 8, old Military Tract Franklin Co., 412 acres in No 9, Kelloggs Survey, 150 acres in Township 12 Great Tract No. 1, McComb's purchase.

BENEDICT & WOOD.
Glens Falls, Feb. 24th 1853. 461-3w

FARM FOR SALE.

ABOUT 1¼ miles from the village of Keeseville, containing 110 acres, beautifully situated, good soil, well watered, all necessary buildings, nearly new and in good repair, good orchard with grafted fruit, and wood enough for the use of the farm.

If the purchaser wishes one half the purchase money can remain on bond and mortgage from 10 to 20 years.

Wm. TAYLOR.
Keeseville, March 3d, 1853. 461-4w

WANTED.

20 POUNDS Saffron for which CASH will be paid. I. A. HASBROUCK.
Feb. 28th. 1853. 461-4w.

NOTICE.

WHEREAS my wife Hannah, has left my bed and board without any just cause or provocation on my part, notice is hereby given forbidding all persons trusting or harboring her on my account, as I will pay no debts of her contracting after this date.

EZEKIEL CHAPMAN.
Black Brook, March 1st, 1853. 461

BOOKS.

Just Received from New York.

FRANK Freeman's Barber Shop. A new and deeply intersting story, written in a style similar to Uncle Tom's Cabin. The White Slave. Uncle Tom's Cabin, both bound and in pamphlet. Ike Marvil's Dream Life. Reveries of a Bachelor, &c., &c., Cabin and Parlor. Byron's, Willis', Heman's and other Poems. Mitchell's Lectures on Astronomy.

Sold by I. A. HASBROUCK.
Keesoville, March 1st, 1853. 461

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS John McDermid, then of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York, by a certain Mortgage, dated December 18th, 1850, and with the power of sale therein contained duly recorded in the office of the Clerk of Essex County, in Vol. P. of Mortgages on pages 434, and 435, on the 21st day of December, 1850, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to secure the payment of fifty dollars and interest, did duly Mortgage to John McGuire of the second place, certain premises described in said mortgage as follows:—All those two certain building lots, lying and being in the village of Keeseville, County of Essex and State of New York. The first of said lots is bounded and described as follows: situated on the Port Kent Hill, in the said village, on a street to be known and designated as back street, and measuring on said street fifty five feet in front and the same in rear and extending back one hundred feet—to be known and designated as lot number (4).—The second of the aforesaid lots is situated also in the said village of Keeseville, on the street known and designated as McDermid street, to commence on the said street one hundred and fifty feet from the line of the Port Kent road and to be sixty feet in front on said street and run back to James McGuires land be the said lots more or less. And whereas the said Mortgage was by an instrument in writing dated February 18th, 1853, duly assigned by the said John McGuire to Michael Keenan, jr. of Chesterfield, Essex County. On which Mortgage there is claimed to be due at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $57.67. And default having been made in the payment of said $57.67 and no proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the same, or any part thereof: now therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage and of the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgaged premises will be sold at public auction on the 23d day of May next at 10 o'clock A. M. at the Adirondac Hotel, in the village of Keeseville, Essex County.

MICHAEL KEENAN, Jr.
Assignee of Mortgagee.
JOHN McELROY, Atty. 460 13w
Dated, Keeseville February 26th, 1853.

Forge for Sale.

IN an excellent location for the manufacture of Iron, being near the Ausable Ores and where coal is easily obtained at the lowest prices. It is on the Ausable river in Jay, has two fires, and on the premises are eight dwellings, a Store, three good coal houses, and other conveniences. Terms easy. Also a quantity of timber lands near the forge. Apply to the subscriber. MONROE HALL,
Jay, Feb. 17th 1853. 460-6w

BUTTER FOR SALE.

Large quantity of good dairy Butter bought in large and small packages of the finest quality for sale at Boynton & Smith.
Keeseville Jan. 27. 1853.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization

The Illustrated Magazine of Art.

In Monthly Parts. Price 25 cents each.

Every arrangement has been made to produce a work of unparalleled magnificence, regardless of cost.

The Editor, Mr Cassell, has published a similar work in England during the past year, under the title of "Illustrated Exhibitor and Magazine of Art," the circulation of which has averaged 60,000 each number.

Encouraged by the success which has attended this enterprise, he has resolved to present to the American public a magazine of still higher pretensions—one, indeed, which will prove the pictorial wonder of the age. Each number will consist of sixty eight pages, royal octavo, printed on the finest paper. The illustrations will be intrusted to the first artists of the world.—Six monthly parts will form a handsome volume

The work will be so conducted as to embrace the greatest variety of matter in its various departments, upon each of which the highest literary talent will be employed.

The following is a brief outline of the plan of the Magazine :—

I. The Historical Department will abound with picturesque representations of the most remarkable events which have occurred in this and other countries; accompanied with interesting anecdotes and details from the pens of the most eminent writers of the day. This department will contain several splendid engravings designed by the first artists of the world, engraved in the highest style of modern art

II. The Men and Women of the Age.—This department will consist of beautifully executed portraits of the leading characters of the age, especially of those who figure on the stage of humanity as the world's benefactors. Each portrait will be accompanied by an interesting biographical sketch.

III. The wonders of Natural History, Botany, and other sciences, will be developed in choice Engravings of Beasts, Birds, Fishes, Insects, Forest Trees, Flowers, Geological and Fossil specimens, &c., with accompanying descriptions.

IV. The triumphs of Architectural Art will be displayed in exquisitely finished representations of Cathedrals, Churches, Palaces, and other models of ancient and modern Architectural Art.

V. The works of the Great Masters, selected from the principal Galleries of Art in the world. In general, the portrait of the Master will be given, accompanied with a highly finished, engraved copy of his chef d'œuvre.

VI. The scientific portions will be rendered highly interesting by the familiar explanations, and the numerous diagrams, which will accompany each subject.

VII. Manufactures. The principal manufacturing process in use will be fully explained by minute details, and an abundance of beautiful engravings.

VIII. Machinery and Inventions will have due attention paid to them, and be described by numerous appropriate engravings.

IX. Ladies' Work Table Department will contain a rich variety of elegant and original patterns for various kinds of useful and ornamental work, with ample directions for copying them.

X. The literary department, independently of the various articles accompanying the illustrations, will comprise original and interesting narratives, contributed by the most popular writers of the day, with numerous illustrations

In addition to the numerous and beautiful engravings incorporated in the letterpress, each number will contain four splendid engravings, and printed in a very superior manner upon superfine plate paper.

In every respect the Illustrated Magazine of Art will be decidedly superior to any pictorial magazine of the day. The paper the typography, the engravings, the literary articles, will far surpass its successful predecessor published in England, upon which such high eulogiums have been pronounced by the whole public press. Six of the monthly portions, when completed, will form a volume, which for interest, originality, value and beauty, will defy competition. It will not only be an interesting family book, but a rich ornament for the drawing room table, and a pleasant companion in the study. ☞TERMS-$3 a year; to Clubs of three or more, $2,50 If paid in advance for twelve months, it will be sent postage free to any part of the Union

AGENTS WANTED in every town throughout the U. S.

Any person receiving the first number, and canvassing with the same, will be certain of securing a large number of subscribers. No just conception can be formed of the elegance and beauty of the work from merely reading a printed prospectus. The Illustrations contained in each number will entail a cost, in drawing and engraving, of $2500 or $3000. All communications relating to the work to be addressed to ALEXANDER MONTGOMERY,

Publisher, 17 Spruce street, N. Y.

STATE OF NEW YORK, } SS.
County of Essex. }

The undersigned, Clerk of said County, hereby gives notice that at the County Clerk's office in Elizabethtown, in said County, on the 28th day of February inst at 10 o'clock, A. M. of that day, he will draw the names of 36 persons to serve as Petit Jurors at a County Court and Court of Sessions to be held at the Court House, in said town on the third Tuesday in March next, at 10 o'clock A. M. of that day.

Given and dated at the County Clerk's Office, this 14th day of February 1853.

E. A. ADAMS, Clerk

STATE OF NEW YORK, } SS.
County of Essex, }

The undersigned Clerk of said County hereby gives notice that at the Co Clerk's office in Elizabethtown in said County on the 28th day of Feb. inst at 10 o'clock A. M. he will draw the names of twenty four persons to serve as Grand Jurors at a County Court and Court of Sessions to be held at the Court House in said Town on the third Tuesday of March next, at 10 o'clock A. M. of that day.

Given and dated at the County Clerk's office this 14th day of February A. D. 1852.

E. A. ADAMS, Clerk.

Miscellaneous.

Insurance Agency.

National Protection Insurance Company,
Saratoga Springs, Capital, $200,000
Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance Company,
West Scotia, N. Y, Capital, $100,000
Nothern N. Y Mutual Insurance Company,
Plattsburgh, N. Y, Capital, $100,000
Knickerbocker Fire Insurance Company,
Waterford, N. Y., Capital, $200,000
Northern N. Y. Live Stock Ins. Company,
Plattsburgh, N. Y., Capital, $50,000
Charter Oak Life Insurance Company,
Hartford, Vt., Capital, $200,000

Policies in the National Protection Insurance Co., and the Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance issued by the undersigned.

JAMES B. DICKINSON.

Office, Ausable Forks N. Y.
Saratoga Springs, Feb'y 7th, 1852.

We, the undersigned, JOHN WILLARD, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court for the 4th Judicial District of the State of New York, and a resident of Saratoga Springs, with AUGUSTUS BOCKES, First Judge of the County of Saratoga, being likewise a resident of Saratoga Springs, and JOHN C. HULBURT, Surrogate of the County of Saratoga, also a resident of Saratoga Springs—do hereby Certify, that we are personally acquainted with the men composing the Board of Directors of the National Protection Insurance Company of Saratoga Springs. We take pleasure in availing ourselves of this opportunity in recommending to the Public, from a personal knowledge of the responsibility and character of their Board of Directors, that this Company is a sound and reliable Institution, will deal fairly with the assured, and are fully competent to pay their losses. We therefore unhesitatingly recommend this Company as an Institution in every respect worthy of a liberal patronage.

JOHN WILLARD,
A. BOCKES,
JNO. C. HULBURT.

JAMES B. DICKINSON,
Policy Agent, Ausable Forks.
Ausable Forks, Feb. 5th, 1852. 457-tf

CHINA, GLASS, & EARTHEN WARE.

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

[SUCCESSORS TO PEIRCE AND KING,]
IMPORTERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS,
235 River Street, Troy, New York.

Having our Stock very complete from Importations, and otherwise, are prepared to offer a large assortment of all Goods in our Line. Wholesale or Retail, at the Lowest New York or Boston Prices for Cash or Approved Credit, a most which will be found :

Fine White Ironstone and White Glazed Ware Flown Blue Flown Multory. Light Blue and common Wares, and the Acacia Ware, formerly kept by Mr A. Stason.

White, Gold Band and Decorated French China, in sets or separate pieces.

Tea Sets, of French and English China white, Gilt, or decorated. India China in great variety

Tea Sets, decorated or plain, full, double, or single sets.

Cut Glass Ware, in Decanters, Goblets Champaigne Wines &c., of new and rich patterns. Glass cut to match any pattern.

Moulded and plain Glass Ware of every description and style.

Girandoles, Candelabras, Solar Lamps, and Chandeliers, in every variety, from the manufactory of Cornelius & Co. Philadelphia

Solar Globes, cut and Plain, Solar and Camphene Wicks and Chimnies. Astral and Coat Wicks, Boat Globes, Astral Chimnies &c., &c

Hall Lanterns of every variety. Also a new and desirable style with patent catch, &c., for Railroads and Steamboats, and made to order with names or initials engraved on.

Tea Trays and Waiters, new styles and shapes of our own importation, sing y or in sets.

Looking Glasses, Britannia Ware Table Mats &c., &c

Also a splendid assortment of Fancy Goods, consisting of Vases, Colognes, Cardreceivers, Allumets, Decanters, Wine Bottles, &c., in China, Terra Cotta, Parian Marble, and Bohemian Ware,

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.
235 River Street, Opposite Troy House, Troy, N Y.
ALFRED H. PEIRCE. }
LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK. } 445

Gas, Steam & Water Fitting

and Fixtures, Wrought-Iron Pipe, Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Plumbers' Materials, &c.

We are now prepared to do work in dwellings, Stores, Churches, Mills or Factories, in the way of Gas and Steam Fitting or Plumbing, in the most complete and satisfactory manner, Having workmen in each of the above branches who cannot be excelled by any similar establishment in the country all orders will be promptly executed, and work done in any part of the country.

We have also constantly on hand and for Sale at Manufacturers' Prices, Wrought Iron Pipe for Gas, Steam, and water, Twisted and Plain Brass Pipe. Steam Valves, Brass and Iron Stop Cocks, Tees, Elbows, Couplings, Brass Globe, Cross and Check Valves, &c. Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Leather Hose, Hose Pipe and Couplings, with every material in Lead, Brass and Paved Work for Plumbers' use.—Plus Basins, Hoppers, Closet Pans, Corner Basins, and Baths, of all descriptions.

Also, a splendid assortment of Chandeliers, Pendants, Brackets &c, on new and rich styles, to which we are receiving constant additions.

PEIRCE and SOUTHWICK.
223 and 235 River-Street, (Opposite Troy House,) Troy, N. Y. 445-tf
ALFRED H. PEIRCE, LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK.

WAR DECLARED

—BETWEEN—

France and England!!!

WOULD not create as great a sensation among the inhabitants of this portion of country as the proclamation of war on high prices by CARDWELL in the sale of

Ready-Made Clothing.

That war declared Oct. 1st, 1851, still rages with unabating and increasing fury; but in its progress its path is not marked with bloodshed, carnage and desolation as the wars of one Nation against another; on the other hand its fruits are smiling faces (NOT OF OTHER DEALERS) and glad hearts; go ask the honest and hardy inhabitants of our pine clad hills, and our pleasant valleys, where he buys his CLOTHING, and he will answer you with a smile,

WHY AT CARDWELL'S, OF COURSE!

That is the place where you can obtain the latest styles, a genteel fit, and well made suit of clothes for less money than at any other Store in northern New York.

Why, says one man, I have saved money enough by purchasing my Clothing this Fall at

CARDWELL'S CHEAP STORE

to buy me a good Cow. ☞This is no fiction: living witnesses can be produced that will testify to the truth of it.

N. B. Saturday March the 5th

will arrive a large and magnificent assortment of Spring and Summer Clothing, when the Spring and Summer Fashions will be introduced. Every description of garments always to be found at CARDWELL'S One Price cheap

CLOTHING WARE ROOM'S,
ADIRONDAC HOTEL BUILDINGS,
Keeseville N. Y.
G. A. CARDWELL.

PIANO FORT EMPORIUM.

361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. The most extensive and varied assortment of ROSEWOOD PIANO FORTES, plain and ornamental, elegant patterns elaborately carved and highly finished with Pearl keys, all of our own manufacture, and warranted in every particular, can be found at our Warerooms, 361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

437-1y BENNTT & CO.

WANTED,

A farm containing not less than 200 acres in the town of Chesterfield, Ausable or Peru, on which must be good Dwelling House and out Buildings and otherwise under good cultivation. One answering the above Description will meet with sale for cash. Enquire of Benj. MINER.

Port Kent, Feb, 22d, 1853,

EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR.

50 BARRELS made from Pure Genessee Wheat at the lowest price at

REYNOLDS & TUFTS

Dec. 1, 1852

Miscellaneous.

LEONARD SCOTT & Co.'s

LIST OF
BRITISH PERIODICAL
PUBLICATIONS.

Delivered in all the principal Cities in the United States, free of Postage, and forwarded by Mail, under the provisions of the late Post Office Law, at merely nominal rates.

1. THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW (Conservative)
2. THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (Whig.)
3. THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW. (Free Church.)
4. The WESTMINSTER REVIEW. (Liberal.)
5. BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tory.)

Although these works are destinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary Character which gives them their chief value, and in this they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the fatherly care of Christopher North, maintains its celebrity, and is, at this time, unusually attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that magazine, and first appearing in its columns both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such, works as "The Caxtons" and "My New Novel," (both by Bulwer,) "The Green Hand," "Katie Stewart," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Messrs Scott & Co., so that Subscribers to the Reprint of that Magazine may always rely on having the earliest reading of these fascinating tales.

Terms and Premiums.

[See list of Premium Volumes below.]

	per ann.
For any 1 of the 4 Reviews and one Prem. vol.	$3,00
For any 2 of the 4 Reviews and one prem vol.	5,00
For any 3 of the 4 Reviews and two prem. vol.	7,00
For all four of the Reviews and two prem. vol.	8,00
For Blacwood's Magazine and one prem. vol	3,00
For Blackwood's & 3 Reviews and three prem. vol.	9,00
For Blackwood's & the 4 Reviews and three prem. vol.	10,00

Payments to be made in all cases in advance.

The Premiums consist of the following works, back volumes of which will be given to new subscribers according to the number of periodicals ordered, as above explained.—

PREMIUM VOLUMES.

Foreign Quarterly Review (one year.)
Blackwood's Magazine (six months)
London Quarterly Review (one year.)
Bentley's Miscellaney (six months.)
Edinburgh Review (one year.)
Metropolitan Magazine (six months)
Westminster Review (one year.)

Consecutive Premium volumes cannot in all cases be furnished, except of the Foreign Quarterly Review. To prevent disappointment, therefore, where that work is not alone wanted, Subscribers will please order as many different works for premiums as there are volumes to which they may be entitled.

CLUBBING.

A discount of twenty five per cent from the above prices will be allowed to Clubs ordering four or more copies of any one or more of the above works, Thus: Four copies of Blackwood, or of one Review, will be sent to one address for $9; four copies of the four Reviews and Blackwood for $30; and so on.

No premiums will be given where the above allowance is made to Clubs, nor will premiums in any case be furnished, unless the subscription money is paid in full to the Publishers without recourse to an agent. Money current in the State where issued will be received at par.

Reduced Postage.

The following table will show the great reduction which has been made on these periodicals since 1843, and the vary trifling rates now charged.

	Per annum.
Prior to 1845, the postage on Blackwood was	$2 40
Prior to 1845, the postage on a single Review	1 12
From 1845 to 1851, the postage on Blackwood was	1 00
From 1845 to 1851, the postage on a Review was	50
In 1851 52 [average rate] on Blackwood was	75
In 1851 52 [average rate] on a Review	38
The present postage on Blackwood, is	24
The present postage on a Review is	12

[The rates are now uniform for all distances within the United States.]

At these rates surely no objection should be made to receive the works by mail, and thus ensuring their speedy, safe, and regular delivery.

☞Remittances and communications should be always addressed, post-paid, to the Publishers,

LEONARD SCOTT & Co.,
79 Fulton Street, (entrance 54 Gold street,) 85 NEW YORK.

$20 a Day.

Book Agents wanted, to sell Hayward's Gazatteer of the United States,

Just published and now ready for Canvassers.

THIS work, so invaluable to business men, gives a history of the settlement, general surface of the soil and state of agriculture, manufactures and population of every town in the United States, with valuable statistical tables, a new map of the United States, &c.

An agent wanted for this county. Apply immediately to,

HORACE WENTWORTH,
447-5w 86 Washington St., Boston, Mass,

Bounty Lands

PURCHASED AND OBTAINED BY
GEO. MOORE, Plattsburgh, N. Y.
December 3, 1852.

CLAPBOARD

500 seasoned Clapboards for [illegible]
E. H. GARFIE[illegible]

Business Cards.

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS,

(Successor to Nichols & Warren,)

WHOLESALE PAPER
WAREHOUSE
And Paged Blank Book Manufactory,

—JOBBER AND RETAIL DEALER IN—

School and Classical Books,

English, French and American
Stationery, and Artist's Materials,
No. 4, Leavenworth Block, College Street,
BURLINGTON, Vt.

☞Bank, Blank, Check or Memorandum Books made to order, from the best of Paper, and bound in the most thorough manner. All work warranted. Terms Cash. 448 tf

AUSABLE HOUSE,

MAIN STREET KEESEVILLE N. Y.

This large and convenient Hotel having been throughly repaired and refurnished, is now open for the reception of visitors and the accommodation of the

TRAVELLING PUBLIC.

The Ausable House is one of the largest and best arranged in Northern New York. No pains will be spared to make it a pleasant and popular resort for

PLEASURE PARTIES,

and Transient Visitors, as well as a comfortable Home for those wishing permanent Board and Rooms.

Good Horses and Carriages furnished at all times on the most reasonable terms

The patronage of the public is most respectfully solicited.

J. W. REYNOLDS.

Keeseville Nov. 1st 1852. 445. 3m.

Livery Stable

BY
GEORGE G. FULLER.
HEAD OF MAIN STREET
(a few steps from the Bank.)
KEESEVILLE, N W YORK

Where may be found at all times, the best of Horses and Carriages, on the most reasonable terms.

Montgomery House,

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA,
BY
Sherman & Wheelock.

E. SHERMAN, THERON WHEELOCK.

☞Mr. Sherman was late a merchant at Moriah, Essex Co., N. Y., and Mr. Wheelock was late of the Mansion House, Troy, N. Y. 427tf

GEORGE P. WILKINSON,

(Successor to G. P. & J. B. Wilkinson,)
MANUFACTURER AND JOBBER IN
CLOTHING,
154 River Street, Corner of Congress,
427 tf TROY, N. Y.

G. P. SANBORN & Co.

APOTHECARIES HALL.
BURLINGTON, VT.
DEALERS IN

Drugs and Medicines, Chemical Perfumery, Teeth, Surgical Instruments, Gold and Tin Foil, Patent Medicines, and every variety of articles usually kept in this line of Business.

Oct. 23d, 1852. 6 m.

GEO. S. TARBELL,

WHOLESALE GROCER,
DEALER IN OIL AN
General Commission Merchant,
No. 65 Quay-Street,
ALBANY.

ADKINS & FULLER,

Booksellers, Stationers, Binders
—AND—
PAPER RULERS,

KEEP constantly on hand or will supply Books, Maps, Charts, Pictures, Frames, and Periodicals of all kinds. Also Publications of the American Tract Society, Bibles and Sabbath School Books at their very low depository prices.

One door east of Pierce & Davey's Agricultural Store on College Street.

C. S. ADKINS, E. A. FULLER.
Burlington, July 4, 1850. 323

H. C. Blanchrd, M. D.,

HOMŒOPATHIC PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

Office 2 doors below Ausable House.
Rooms at Ausable House. 430

D. M. ARNOLD

Engineer and Surveyor,
KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

SURVEYING & Leveling for Rail Roads, Plank Roads, Mill Seats, &c. Land Surveying of all kinds done on shortest notice.

Office opposite the Ausable House.
425tf

Dewey & Havens,

ATTORNIES AND COUNSELLORS
AT LAW,
CROWNPOINT,
Essx County, N. Y.

E. M. DEWEY. 431 1y H. H. HAVENS.

J. B. DICKINSON,

AUSABLE FORKS, N. Y.
General INSURANCE AGENT,

For Fire, Life, Health and Live Stock Insurance Companies.

☞Any business from abrond will receive prompt attention. 454

Silliman & Gardiner,

WHOLESALE DEALERS
in Pork, Fish,
SALT, PLASTER, &c.
OFFICE 17 COUNTIS SLIP, New York.
" 339 RIVER st., Troy, 445

Dr. H. W. GOULD,

SURGEON DENTIST,
KEESEVILLE, N. Y.
[illegible] opposite the Ausable House. [389

WOOL.

[illegible]id for Wool.
[illegible] 1851, J. APPLEYARD.

Burlington Advertisements

BURLINGTON
AGRICULTURAL WARE-HOUSE AND SEED STORE.

DAVEY & ALLEN,
No. 8, COLLEGE STREET, BURLINGTON, Vt.

Ploughs—Prouty & Mear's centre draught.

These ploughs have obtained a celebrity unparalleled, having taken the first premiums in this country, and at the World's Fair in London. We have also Starbuck's and Tabor's celebrated Ploughs.

Our stock of Ploughs comprise a great variety of patterns and different sizes, calculated for sward and stubble land, wet, meadows and recently drained swamps, where roots abound—among which also, are the deep breaking up flat-furrow, lap-furrow, self sharpening, side-hill, double-mould board, sub soil, &c., &c.

Harrows—triangular, square, Geddes and Scotch.

Hay, Straw and Corn Stalk Cutter, either by hand or horse power; spiral, straight or circular knives.

Cultivators—of different kinds, steel tooth and cast iron.

☞Corn Shellers—a variety of patterns. Will shell from 5 to 100 bushels of corn per hour.

Fan Mills and Grain Cradles—Grant's unrivalled. We confidently recommend them as the best in use.

Seed Sowers—Batcheider's & Emery's and other kinds.

Vegetable Cutters—for turnips and other roots.

Horse Powers, Threshers, Winnowers and Separators—Wheeler's Patent Railway Chain Horse Power This Power, both single and double geared, for one or two horses, has never been equalled for lightness in running, strength, durability and economy. The Thresher and Separator are too widely and favorably known to need our commendation. The combined Thresher and Winnower, (which is a new invention of last year) has not been so generally introduced. All who have used it express the highest approbation of its merits. We entertain no doubt that it is the most perfect, compact, and efficient machine now in use for threshing and winnowing grain, as it certainly is by far the cheapest and most economical.

Warranted to give satisfaction.

or be returned after a reasonable trial.

Saw Mill—I. Wilcox, used for sawing wood for locomotives on Railways, or by farmers for cutting stove wood. With a one horse power it will cut 10 to 15 cords of wood twice in two per day.

AGRICULTURAL & HORTICULTURAL TOOLS AND IMPLEMENTS.

A great variety and extensive assortment, such as Hoes, Shovels, Spades Rakes, Manure and Hay forks, Scythe Snaths, Cattle Ties, Draft, Halter and Trace Chains, Garden Syringes, Pruning Saws, Pruning and Budding Knives, Garden Shears and Twig Cutters, Grindstones, Patent Grindstone fixtures, rollers, barrel or rolls, &c. &c.

Grain, Field, Garden and Flower Seeds.—We are prepared to furnish Herds Grass, Red Top, Lucerne, White Dutch, Southern, Western and Northern Clover seed Herd, Turnip, Onion and Carrot seed, at Wholesale and Retail at the lowest market prices.

We have by far the largest and most complete assortment of Agricultural Improvements Machines Field and Garden seeds to be found in the State, which we offer at our new and spacious Ware-Rooms to Farmers and Dealers on terms the most liberal. We are also Commission Merchants and Who esale and Retail Dealers in heavy and shelf

HARDWARE,

Saddlery, Axles, Springs, Mechanic's Tools, House Trimmings and Furnishing Goods, Cutlery, Cross Cut, Mill and Circular Saws, Paints, Oils, Bird Cages, etc. etc. etc.

As agents of Messrs. D. Prouty & Co., Boston, Wheeler, Millick & Co., Albany, J. T. Grant & Co., Troy, and others we can fill orders for Plows, Horse Powers, Threshers Fan Mills, Straw Cutters &c. at manufacturers prices. A liberal discount made to Dealers.

ORDERS
FROM ABROAD SOLICITED.
DAVEY & ALLEN.
Burlington September 20, 1852. 439

BLANK BOOKS.

10,000 QUIRES BLANK BOOKS of our own manufacture, comprising every variety of Journals, Day, Invoice Cash and Letter Books. Ledgers and Records from Cap Quartos to Super Royal size made in the most thorough manner, either paged or unpaged, and at prices so low as to defy competition.

PAPER.

I have in store, and to arrive, 1000 Reams Wrapping Paper of assorted quality and size. 1500 Reams Writing, Cap. Letter. Bath Post, Note and Envelope papers, which will be sold at Mill Prices.

School Books.

2000 Mandevill's, Saunders and Town's Series of Readers. 200 Mitchell's Geographies. 200 Smith's do. 400 Adams Arithmetics. 200 Greenleafs do 200 Colburn's do, 2200 Webster's spellers, 500 Town's spellers and definers, 100 Smith's Astronomy's, &c., &c.

Stationery.

200,000 Envelopes, 200 Gross Steel Pens. 20 gross Pen Holders. Also, Writing Ink in any quantity, and of the best manufacture. which will be sold at New York or Boston prices.

I wish to reduce the present stock of the concern as low as possible, in the next two months, and buyers will find it for their interest to examine my stock and prices before purchasing —Terms Cash.

Orders solicited by Mail or Express.

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS.
Burlington, Nov. 23, 1852. 446 3m

NEW GOODS

AT
Nichols, 150 Church Street,

IN consequence of our large spring sales, we have been induced to purchase a very large and full stock of

Foreign & Domestic Goods

for the fall trade, which we now offer at exceedingly low prices. We have not time now to enumerate, suffice it to say, we have everything usually called for in a dry goods store.

CARPETINGS!

AT THE
Carpet Warehouse, 150 Church Street.

Mr. Nichols is now opening the largest stock of Carpeting ever brought to this city, consisting of the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three-ply, Ingrain, Extra Super Fine and Common Venetian, Damask, Cotton and Wool, Cotton, Hemp Stair carpeting from the best manufacturers. Also, floor oil-cloth, straw-matting Hearth Rugs, Door Mats, table oil cloths, English and American Buckings and crumb cloths.

Bay State Carpetings and Buckings.

Mr. Nichols has the agency for the sale of the justly celebrated Bay State carpets and boekings and will be furnished with all the new patterns as fast as they come from the mills Recollect the No.

150 CHURCH STREET.
Burlington, September 24, 1852. 439 tf

Charles Morris,

MERCHANT TAILOR
AND
CLOTHIER,
KEESEVILLE, NEW YORK.

IS now prepared to show his friends and the public in general a full assortment of Cloths Cassimeres and Vestings suited to the season. My Cloths are of the latest importation, and consists of Black, Brown, Drab and Clouded Beavers Broad Cloths, of French, West of England and American Manufacture. Cassimeres in all the revised style and quality. Vestings in any quantity, some of which are very rich. Also, Shirts of all descriptions, Shaker under Shirts, and drawers, Cravats, Stocks, Suspenders, Gloves Collars, Bosoms, Hdks., Mufflers, Clothing ready made substantial, and the sewing to last as long as the cloth, and not run together as much of the clothing brought from a foreign market generally is. Thankful for the very liberal and increased patronage I have received from the citizens generally I trust by a continued effort to please the most difficult I shall merit a continuance of past favors. My arrangements with New York, are such that I am advised of any changes of style, that occur from month to month and thus am able to gratify those who are disposed to adopt the changes Cutting as usual done in the most careful manner and with promptness.

AND WARRANTED MADE

Nov, 13, 1852 445

M. J. JENKINS.

Watch Maker and Jeweller,
DEALER IN
CLOCKS, WATCHES, GOLD AND SILVER WARE, &c.
Keeseville, N. Y.

Burlington Ada's.

BOSTON
FURNITURE STORE,

AT THE
Spacious Ware-Room,
Nos. 2 & 3, Leavensworth Block,
COLLEGE STREET,
In Burlington, Vt.

No further need of going to New York or Boston for Rich or
FASHIONABLE FURNITURE.

THE Subscriber has a more extensive assortment of

Furniture, Feathers, Beds, Mattresses, Upholstery, Goods, &c.,

than has ever before been offered in this section, comprising all the most recent styles from the most plain to the commonest FURNITURE, manufactured principally to order and in quality superior to any to be found out of Boston or any other place—consisting, in part, as follows:

Black Walnut & Mahogony Parlor
FURNITURE,
—CONSISTING OF—

French Sofas, Easy Chairs, covered in plush damask, brocatelle or hair-cloth, to suit the purchaser: French style centre and side Tables, with and without marble tops; gilt and other frame Looking Glasses; rich and common Curtain Furniture and Fixtures, &c., and every article needed to furnish Parlors in the most fashionable style.—Also medium and low priced Parlor Furniture, of every description.

DRAWING & SITTING ROOM FURNITURE,

of every desirable style.

CHAMBER FURNITURE.

Fancy painted Chamber Sets richly ornamented; mahogany, black walnut and common Bedsteads, Cane and Sinks, Toilets, Chairs, &c. Also, Feathers, Feather Beds hair, cotton, husk and palm leaf Mattresses, Elastic

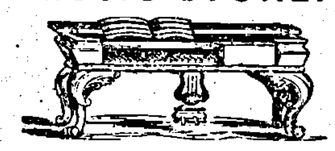
LIBRARY CASES & SIDE-BOARDS,

both mahogany and black walnut, of very superior workmanship, constantly on hand or made to order, of any style or size desired. Also, any odd article, not to be found ready-made, designed and executed to order in the best manner at the shortest notice.

Hotels and Steamboats

furnished at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms.

N. B.—Every article will be sold as low as the same quality can be bought in either Boston or New York, and in many instances much lower. Country dealers will be furnished at the lowest wholesale prices.



Mr. ALLEN'S long experience as a manufacturer and Furniture dealer in Boston, gives him advantages in selecting and purchasing goods, very seldom equalled; and he will warrant every article fully equal to what he represents it.

☞Persons in want of Furniture will do well to call on Mr. ALLEN before purchasing.

I. S. ALLEN.
Burlington, May 8, '52. 418-1y

PIANO FORTE,

AND
MUSIC STORE.

No. 1, BANK BLOCK BURLINGTON, VT.

THE Subscriber has opened a very extensive and choice selection of Musical Merchandise, consisting of every variety of Musical Instruments, such as

Piano Fortes, Seraphines, Melodeons,
Base Viols, Violins, Guitars, Flutes,
Flagolets, Claronets, Cornopeans, Accordeons,
and Brass Instruments of every description for Bands; also—

BASS VIOL AND VIOLIN STRINGS, TUNING FORKS,
TUNING HAMMERS, &c.

The assortment of Sheet Music, consists of about Four Thousand Pieces of the latest and most popular Music of the day, additions to which will be made every week, from the receiving Importing and Publishing Houses in New York and Boston. Instruction Books on hand for every Instrument, and all new works received as soon as published.

CHURCH MUSIC BOOKS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

The attention of Purchasers is respectfully invited to the assortment of Piano Fortes, Seraphines and Melodeons, as they are from the best Manufacturers in the country, and every Instrument sold by me will be warranted, unless otherwise stated to the purchaser.

All the above goods will be sold as low as can be purchased in New York or Boston, and the orders of teachers and those who buy to sell again, are respectfully solicited, and will be filled and sent to any part of the country, as may be directed.

June 5. 3m422 L. S. RUST.

ANNEXATION!!

Essex County, N. Y. and Vermont!

NOVEMBER 10th, 1852.

I. D. BIXBY & Co.,

ARE now opening a very heavy stock of Rich

DRESS GOODS,

for the Winter trade, consisting in part of the following articles:

Merinos, Coburghs, Paramattas, Alpacas, Lustres all wool deLaines, Manchester deLaines, Persian Cloths, Raw Silk Plaids, Cashmere Plaids, Col'd Velvets, Col'd Flannels, Irish Poplins, Bombazines, Ginghams, American, English and French Prints, Silks.

SHAWLS!!

Bay State, Empire, Waterloo and Scotch.

CLOAKS.

We have a large assortment of rich Cloaks of a variety of patterns, colors and prices.

Silks, Satins, &c.

The LARGEST assortment of Dress Silk that we have ever opened, are now to be seen on our counters. Brocade, Plaid, Striped, Chameleon, Glacé, Gro de Naples, Gro de Zure, Gro de Rhine, Gro de Lyons, Gro de Algiers and many other styles.

No. 2, Bank Block.
439tf. North Side of the Park.
BURLINGTON VT.
I. D. BIXBY & Co.
Burlington, Nov. 15, 1852.

BOOTS, SHOES & RUBBERS

James A. Walker,
BANK BLOCK, OPPOSITE THE SQUARE,
BURLINGTON, Vt.

HAS just returned from the New York and Philadelphia markets, with the largest and best selected assortment of Ladies, Gents Misses, Boys, Youths and Children's ever offered North of the cities. Getting his goods direct from the manufacturers he is enabled to, and WILL, offer them at LESS PRICES than can be purchased for elsewhere.

BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS

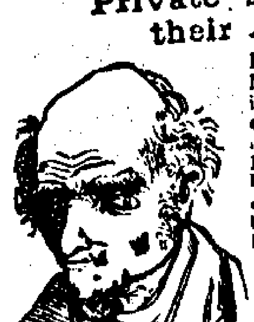
Mens Thick Boots	from $1,50 to $3.00	per pair.
" Fine Kip,	2,00 to 3,00	"
" " Calf "	2,50 to 4,00	"
Gents fine calf sew'd boots	4,00 to 5,50	"
Ladies walking shoes	75 to 1,38	"
" Bootees and Polkas	1,00 to 2,00	"
" Gaiter Boot	1 00 to 2,00	"

and a great variety of every desirable style and quality. ALL of which will be offered at very low prices. 436 tf

All Work Warranted.

GRASS SEED

OF very Superior Quality for sale by
KINGSLAND, BABER & Co.



with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Miscellaneous.

20 Years Experience.

OLD ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL.

Quick Cures and Low prices. Private Diseases and their Antidote.

DR LISPENARD, author of the Marriage Guide or Private Med. ical Treatise, Professor of Diseases of Women and Children, and Graduate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the United States University, &c., continues as heretofore to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms and variety of

PRIVATE DISEASES,

at his old quarters No 5 Beaver street, ALBANY, N. Y.

The great success attending the use of Doctor L.'s remedies in secret diseases, and the many remarkable cures daily effected by him in recent as well as old lingering attacks, bear evidence that the well

SICK AND UNFORTUNATE

can do no better than consult the Doctor, whose whole time is devoted to the exclusive treatment of this much neglected branch of practice.

LOOK AT THIS.

Dr. Lispenard cures recent cases of disease in from three to six days, and chronic or long standing disease seem a very short period of time, without the use of mercury, without the loss of time change of diet, or hindrance from business.

DAILY EMPLOYMENT.

In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Enlargement of the Testicles and Cords, Bubo, Ulcerated Pimples and Scaly Eruptions, Sore Throats and Noses, Chancres on the tongue, tender shin bones, and diseases of the skin, and impure blood. Dr. Lispenard's remedies are above all praise, and frequently cure when all others had failed.

EVEN TO RELIEVE.

More than 5,000 patients have during the past year experienced the benefit of the Doctor's extraordinary skill in treating secret diseases—among which all cases of the bladder and kidneys have formed a goodly proportion.

YOUNG MEN,

who by indulging in secret habits have injured their health and prostrated their intellectual faculties, and thereby deprived themselves of the pleasure of marriage, should consult Dr. Lispenard without a moment's delay. Hundreds have been restored to health, society and friends, under my peculiar mode of treatment although vast sums of money had been sacrificed without any benefit. My remedy for this disease is pleasant to take, has no offensive smell and

CURES WITHOUT FAIL.

☞ Persons so unfortunate as to be diseased, although they may have visited half a dozen Doctors and had medicine sent them a dozen times with no benefit would exhibit wisdom by making their case known to that FRIEND OF THE SICK, Dr. Lispenard, who never charges to advice and warrants all his cures. The sick are often at a loss where to apply for relief, AND THE NEW WORLD, as him who is fit and ready to plunder the unfortunate victim of PRIVATE DISEASES, or secret habits with no one thought for his life and health. All thus deceived will find a friend and mod rate charges in consulting the Doctor who uses no MERCURY and cures every time.

N. B.—Persons from a distance when visiting the city in search of a physician and friend will be fortunate if they succeed in escaping the many dens of imposition, conducted by unprincipled men, destitute of character knowledge or name, who fleece the unfortunate victim of disease of his hard earned money, and his remaining health. Patients who have no acquaintance in the city should make inquiry of some respectable citizen, of the editor or proprietor of any of the city papers to ascertain who is the most reliable physician to apply to.

FEMALE DISEASES.

Dr. Lispenard from an experience seldom or never enjoyed by any other medical man, is enabled to treat, with every hope of success, all and every variety of Female Complaints—with safe and pleasant remedies—and has without doubt cured within the past five years more than 300 females afflicted with diseases of the Bladder, Womb, &c. &c. Ladies afflicted with suppression or stoppage of their monthly turns, will recollect that Dr. Lispenard is still the sole American agent for

DR. VICHOPS

FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS.

The proprietor has sold more than 15,000 boxes of these excellent Pills and the good results which always follow their use, is conclusive evidence of their utility in obstructions, &c. Caution—Married Ladies in certain delicate situations should not use them—for reasons see directions with each box. Price $1. Sent by mail to all parts of the world.

Married Persons and those about to Marry, should enclose 12½ cents post paid to Dr. Lispenard, and obtain a copy of his Marriage Guide, or Private Treatise, a beautiful little work of nearly 100 pages, illustrated. Every thing that married persons can desire or wish to know is here explained. Persons who from poverty or sickness have no desire to increase their family, will find necessary instruction in the Marriage Guide. One copy 12½ cents; 5 copies 50 cts; 12 copies $1—mailed free to any part of the world.

N. B.—Patients treated by letter, and medicines sent with full directions for use, to the writer's address. All communications destroyed or returned.

No mercury used in any case, and all cures warranted. No boys or precocious students allowed; timid persons take notice.

Friends of Dr. L. when recommending patients to our care will recollect our number, 5 Beaver st., three doors from South Broadway.

Hospital open from 7 A. M., to 9 P. M., and on Sundays from 1 to 4 P. M.

No charge for advice, although no medicine may be desired.

Good board and private rooms for those who desire to remain in the city.

Notice this—Address all letters to

C. W. LISPENARD, M. D.,
No. 5 Beaver st. Albany, N. Y.

411-1y

NORTHERN RAIL ROAD, N. Y.

FALL ARRANGEMENTS.

On and after FRIDAY October 1st. trains will run as follows:

GOING EAST,

1st Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 9, A. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 1, 45, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 2, P. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 6, 20, P. M.

GOING WEST,

1st Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 8, A. M.

Arrive at Ogdensburgh 12 50, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 3, P. M.

Arrives at Ogdensburgh 7,45, P. M.

First Passenger Train going East. Connects at Moors, with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road for Montreal and Quebec, and Plattsburgh, Burlington and Whitehall—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Vermont Central Rail Road for Boston and New York—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Rutland and Burlington Rail Road by steam Boats to Burlington, and thence to Boston and New York.

Second Passenger Train going East, Connects with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road at Moores, for Montreal and Quebec—Connects with the Vermont Central Railroad for Boston, Burlington, and New York. Connects with the Steam Boats to Whitehall, thence by the Saratoga and Troy Rail Roads, to Saratoga Springs, Troy and New York. Connects by Steam Boat with Rutland and Burlington R. R. at Burlington, for Troy, Boston and New York.

First Passenger Train going West, Connects at Ogdensburgh with the Express Line of Lake Ontario Steamers at 1 o'clock P. M. for Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, Lewiston, Niagara Falls, and Buffalo.

Second Passenger Train going West. Connects with Lake Ontario Line of Steam, ers for Kingston and all ports on the American shore of Lake Ontario, and with Hamilton,

Four Freight Trains leave Ogdensburgh and Rouse's Point every day Sundays excepted.

For Freight apply to George V. Hoyle, Agent, Rouse's Point.

CHARLES L. SCHLATTER,
440 Chief Eng'r and Superintendent.

Printing Paper For Sale.

FOR sale by J. & G. PARKS,

38 by 24 inches,
31 by 24 "
264tf 33 by 23 "

Also, Wrapping:

40by 28 inches, 60 lbs to the Ream, for large bundles
29by 18 "
18by 18 "

☞ All orders directed to Keeseville promptly attended

CAPS CAPS.

MENS' and Boys' Silk and Worsted Plush

Legal.

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT has been made in the payment of the debt secured by a certain mortgage dated the 20th day of January 1849 executed by Allen Everitt and Julia Ann, his wife, of chesterfield, in Essex County N. Y., as mortgagors to Reuben Jones, then of Ausable, in Clinton County, N. Y., as mortgagee and recorded in the office of the Clerk of the County of Essex, in volume O of mortgages pages 228 and 229, on the 9th day of February, 1849, at 7 oclock, P. M. There is claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $561,02.

Now therefore notice is hereby given that the said mortgaged premises, will by virtue of a power of sale contained in the said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in said case made and provided, be sold at public auction at the Adirondac Hotel, in the village of Keeseville, in Essex County, on the 8th day of March, 1853, at 10 oclock in the forenoon of that day.

The said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage as follows, viz: all that certain piece or parcel of land situated in the Town of Chesterfield, County of Essex and state of New York, in a patent of three thousand and six hundred acres of land granted by the state of New York to Matthew Adgate, and bounded as follows: Begining at the shore of Lake Champlain, at the South east corner of said patent, running thence west on the south line of said patent to the south east corner of lands heretofore deeded by the said Adgate to one Noah Gridley. Thence north on the east line of said Gridley's land about fifty four rods to a beach tree; Thence due east to the Lake shore; Thence south along the Lake shore as it winds and turns to the place of beginning, containing by estimation one hundred acres of Land be the same more or less. Dated Keeseville November 26th 1852.

REUBEN JONES, Mortgagee.

CHARLES CHENEY Atty.
Keeseville, N. Y.

SHERIFF SALE.

BY Virtue of an Execution issued out of the Supreme Court of the State of New York to me directed and delivered against the goods and chattels, real estate and chattels real of Joseph Weed and Almerin Smith. I have seized and taken all that tract or parcel of land situate lying and being in the town of Ticonderoga, and Essex county, bounded as follows:

All that piece and parcel of land lying and being in said town of Ticonderoga, being the westerly part of a lot of land formerly leased by Samuel Deal to Jonathan Drury, and known on a map of said land as lot No. 51, beginning at a maple stake standing in the east line of a lot of land lately conveyed to the said Almerin Smith, by the said Thomas Wheeler, thence running south eighty two degrees east, forty rods to a stake and stones, thence north eighty degrees thirty minutes east, eighty rods to a stake and stones, thence north eighty two degrees west, forty rods to the stake and stones, thence south eight degrees thirty minutes west, eighty rods to the place of beginning. Containing within said bounds twenty acres. Excepting from off the said lot two acres, conveyed by Samuel Deal to the Congregational Meeting House, and Society of Ticonderoga, and one half acre to the Corporation of St. Paul's Church, also in said town.

Also, all that piece parcel or tract of land situate, lying and being in the town of Ticonderoga aforesaid, and bounded as follows;

Beginning at a stake standing in the north east corner of a lot of land formerly owned by James Jones, and conveyed by him to the said Smith, and now in his possession; thence running south eighty degrees east, twenty-eight chains and sixty-three links to a stake, thence south eight degrees and forty-five minutes west, nineteen chains 70 links to a stake standing in the north line of Edward McCaughin's land, thence north eighty degrees west, 28 chains and 63 links to a stake, thence in a straight line to the place of beginning Containing 56 acres and one third of an acre be the same or less or less.

Also all that certain other lot adjoining being a part of the Holcomb and Jones farms bounded on the south and west by the high way leading from Ticonderoga to Crown Point on the east by lands formerly owned by Wm Stewart now McCaughin and on the north by the highway leading past John Ledwitch's farm and residence and on the south by said McCaughin's land.

Also, all that certain farm in Ticonderoga aforesaid, known as the Lake farm containing about 350 acres, being lot No. one and two in the McIntosh Patent, in the possession of Charles F. Hammond and Allen Penfield, and about 75 acres adjoining part of lot No. in same patent now in possession of Geo. D. Clark.

Also, all that certain other lot of land in Ticonderoga aforesaid, known as part of the James Jones farm, sold and conveyed by Almerin Smith, to Alva Bennett in the year 1847, and now in the possession of said Bennett bounded and described as follows: beginning at a stake and stones in the easterly line of lands belonging to Francis Arthur Esq., being also the south west corner of the William Canfield farm, thence along the southerly line of said Canfield's land, south 80 degrees east, 5 chains and 8 links to the centre of a highway leading from Crown Point to Ticonderoga village, thence along the same south 30 degrees east, 31 chains and 25 links to a stake then north 86 degrees west, 25 chains to a stake standing in a ditch or drain and being also in the easterly line of said Arthur's land thence along the same, north 10 3-4 degrees east, 26 chains and 76 links to the place of beginning, containing 49 acres of land.

Also, all that certain lot of land in Ticonderoga aforesaid, commonly called the Holcomb lot now in possession of Almerin J. & Charles H. Bennett, and sold and conveyed by the said Almerin Smith to them in the year 1847, bounded and described as follows, to wit:—Beginning in the centre of a highway leading from Crown Point to the Upper Falls in Ticonderoga, being the north east corner of Sylvanus Bennett's farm, thence along the north line of said Bennett's farm north 80 deg. west, 32 chains and 14 links to a stake in the east line of Gustavus N. Wicker's land, thence along the same and along part of the east line of Francis Arthur's land, north 10 3-4 deg. east, 14 chains and 85 links to a stake standing in a ditch or drain, thence south 86 deg. east, 25 chains to the centre of a highway leading from Crown Point to the Lower Falls of Ticonderoga, thence along the same south 30 degrees east, 10 chains and 80 links to the centre of the first above mentioned highway, thence southerly along the same 9 chains to the place of beginning containing 48 acres and 71-100 of an acre of land.

Also, a certain other lot in Ticonderoga aforesaid, now in possession of Jeremiah O'Brien, bounded on the south by the road leading past John Ledwitch's land and residence, on the east by said Ledwitch's lands, on the north by lands of Alexander McCambridge, and on the west by lands of Wm. A. G. Arthur containing fifty acres or thereabouts.

Also a certain other lot piece or parcel of and in Ticonderoga aforesaid lying and being on the south and west side of the highway leading from the Lower Falls to the street so called or Crown Point between the former dwelling house of the said Almerin Smith and burnt a few years since, and the present dwelling house of Edward McCaughin, being the

Legal.

McCaughin in 1847, and now owned by him, containing by estimation about 14 acres, being originally part of lands belonging to Stephen and Silas Sayre.

Also, all that certain piece or parcel of land situate lying and being in the town of Schroon, Co. and State aforesaid on the west side of Lake George and comprehended within the bounds of a tract of land granted by Letters patent under the great seal of the state of N. Y., to James Caldwell, Robert McClellen, and Robert Cochran and is more particularly known and distinguished by being lot No. one hundred and forty seven of the division of said tract bounded as follows, vis;

Beginning at the southwest corner of lot No. one hundred and forty four being a stake No. 144, 145, 146, 147, and runs thence along No. 146 south 25 chains to lot No. 148, thence along the same east 40 chains to lot No. 143, thence along the same north 25 chains to lot No. 144, and thence along the same west 40 chains to the place of beginning, containing one hundred acres of land, be the same more or less. The courses are as the magnetic needle pointed at Lake George in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifteen. Which said several lots, lands and real estate I shall expose for sale at Public Vendue at the Hotel kept by S. Woodard at the Lower Falls in Ticonderoga on the 26th day of July next at ten o'clock in the forenoon. Dated June 5, 1852.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
by C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

The above sale is hereby adjourned to the 15th day of Sept. next, at the hour and place above named.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy,

July 26th, 1852.

The above is further adjourned to the 9th day of November next at the same place, and hour above named.

Dated September 15, 1852.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy

The above sale is further adjourned until the 7th day of Dec. next at the same hour and place as above. Nov. 8, 1852.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

The above sale is further adjourned to the 4 h day of January next 1853 at the same place, and time of day as above. Dated December 7th, 1852.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

The above sale is further adjourned to the 3d day of February at the same hour and place as above. Ticonderoga, Jany 4, 1853.

A. B. MACK Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

The above sale is further adjourned to the 3d day of March next at the same place and hour above named

Dated Feb. 3, 1853.

A. B. MACK, Sheriff.
By C. W. ENSIGN, Deputy.

SUPREME COURT.
JOSEPH G. WHITMAN, & WASHINGTON CLARK
Against
HORACE GOULD.

To the Defendant, HORACE GOULD.

SIR:—Please to take notice that upon an affidavit, which was filed with the Clerk of the County of Essex, on the 17th day of January, last, we shall move this Court at a special term thereof appointed to be held at the Court House in Elizabethtown, in the County of Essex, on the 1st Monday of March next, at the opening of the Court on that day or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard for leave to issue execution on the judgment in this action against the property of the deft. for the purpose of collecting the sum of two hundred nineteen and 78-100 dollars and interest on the same from March 29th, 1845, (the time said judgment was recovered,) being the amount claimed to be due on said judgment, or for such further or other order, or relief in the premises as the said Court may deem proper with costs of this motion. Dated January 17th 1853.

Yours, &c.,

FINCH & HARWOOD,
Att'ys for Oliver Keese, and Thomas A. Tomlinson
455-7w Assignees of Judgment.

SUPREME COURT,
GORDON GRANT,
agst.
ELEANOR CRARY,
ISAAC HEUSTIS,
JAMES GIBSON,
JOHN SAVACK and
JOSEPHUS FITCH,

In pursuance of a decree or judgment of the Supreme Court made in the above cause, will be sold under the direction of the subscriber, Sheriff of the County of Essex, at public auction at the Adirondac Hotel, in the town of Chesterfield, in the County of Essex, on Monday, the 4th day of April next at ten o'clock in the forenoon; all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land lying and being in the town of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York, lying between the Augur Pond and Butternut Pond, beginning at the south west corner at a pine tree marked 1795, thence running north ninety-five chains, a little north of the south end of Augur Pond, thence east one degree north, twenty-five chains to the west line of lot No. three, thence south along the west line of lots No. three, four, five and eight to the corner of the last mentioned lot, thence south forty-five degrees west to Butternut Pond, thence along the north end of said Pond to the first place of beginning, containing two hundred and sixteen acres of land be the same more or less; which said lot of land is part of two tracts of land, formerly granted by the said State to John Williams deceased by letters patent, and is now conveyed subject to the conditions and reservations made by Anthony J. Blanchard his heirs and assigns in his conveyance thereof to one William Bromley to overflow as much of the said land at any time or times whatsoever as may be reasonably necessary convenient and useful for the accommodation of any Mills or Waterworks which are now or hereafter may be built or erected on the waters of the said Augur Pond, or the outlet thereof by the heirs or assigns of the said Anthony J., hereby retaining the same reservations as is contained in the said William's deed of the said premises to one Thomas McLean

Dated the 19th day of Febuary, 1853.

C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff.
By J. C. FINCH, Deputy Sheriff.

SAML. AMES, Atty. 459-w7

BANK DEPARTMENT.

ALBANY, Jany 26th, 1823.

NOTICE is hereby given in pursuance of the Statute made and provided, that all the circulating notes issued by the McIntyre Bank, at Adirondac, (an individual bank) must be presented at the office of the superintendent of the Banking Department of the State of New York, for payment within two years from the date of this notice, or the funds deposited for the redemption of the said notes will be given up to the said bank.

D. B. St. John, Supt.

Two years from Jany. 26, 1853 459-2y

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

NOTICE is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John Cummings, late of North Hudson, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to ESTES B. WALKER, one of the administrators of the said deceased, at his dwelling house in North Hudson, his place of doing business, on or before the 25th day of May next, that being at least six Months after the day of the first publication of this notice. Dated this 15th day of November, A. D. 1852.

ABIGAIL CUMMINGS, Administratrix.
ESTES B. WALKER,
DAVID DAY, } Administrators.

446-6m

WOOL! WOOL!

THE Subscriber would inform the public that he is again in the

Manufacturing Business,

Either by the yard, on shares, or in exchange for cloths on the most reasonable terms, and that he intends to keep on hand a full supply of the following goods;

BLACK BROAD CLOTHS,

Black, Brown, and Olive Cassimeres,

FULLED CLOTHS, SATT[illegible]

Flannels,

suitable to this country, and that he [illegible] trying to please such as may favor h[illegible]

Birmingham, May 15, 1852.

Medicine.

THE WONDER OF THE WORLD.

DEVINES' COMPOUND

PITCH LOZENGE,

A Sure and pleasant Remedy for Colds, Coughs, Croup, Whooping cough, Asthma, and if lungs enough are left to sustain life, A CERTAIN CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, safe for the Infant or the Invalid, in any stage of weakness.

"The statements that consumption cannot be cured, has destroyed more lives than the disease itself.—[Dr. Warren

Read the following, which to a candid mind places this "Great Remedy," like Cæsar's wife "above suspicion."

TO THE PUBLIC!

We the undersigned, citizens of Lee, Mass., are acquainted with Mr. Devines, the proprietor and Manufacturer of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge and from what we know of it ourselves and have learned from others of its beneficial effects, in cases where it has been used, give it as our opinion that it is a valuable remedy in diseases for which it is recommended and is worthy of public confidence. A. G. Hulburt, Leonard Church, F. G. Taylor, Wm. Taylor, E. A. Bliss, S. A. Hulburt, Josephus Crafts, T. P. Eldridge.

If any individual is to be pitied, and needs sympathy, it is the consumptive—always expecting to get well and yet the painful evidence of decay almost "makes the inner soul shrink with the outer flesh."

"Some bloom as roses bloom, and live as roses live,

A single morning space!"

While others, in more mature life—by some imprudence and a slight cold neglected—in the hectic flush—the painful cough.

"The prints of their departing steps appears."

BUT HE EISHOP—! Mr Wm. Devines, the original inventor and manufacturer of the Pitch Lozenge, under Providence, was raised to perfect health by the use of these Lozenges alone, after he was pronounced by his physician to be almost dying with consumption.

This fact is generally known in Berkshire County and is the neighborhood talk, and wonder in Lee, and in Great Barrington, Mass.

From Dr. Brown, of Lee, Mass.

This certifies that I have made use of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge for cold and cough, and found immediate relief. Therefore I would recommend it to the public as being a safe and sovereign remedy. H. C. BROWN.

Lee, October 28, 1851.

Sold wholesale at Albany, by Wm. A. Wharton & Co., Druggists, &c., H. C. Sheldon, Troy, Spencer & Nichols, Whitehall, Hammonds & Co., Crownpoint, W. G. Lyon, Essex, Reynolds & Tufts and I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. Orders addressed Wm Devines, Jamaica L. I. 436 1y Wm. RENNE, Traveling agent

M. DUBOYS' FRENCH RAT EXTERMINATOR.

THIS PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to exterminate Rats and Mice, whenever used as directed, and to leave no offensive stench on the premises cleared of these annoying vermin. Its use is perfectly safe in any place and at all times, which is not the case with ordinary remedies for this evil.

CAUTION!—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!—The extraordinary success of M. Duboy's Rat Exterminator has excited the cupidity of some dishonest and irresponsible persons to counterfeit it. Inquire for M. Duboy's French Rat Exterminator, and take no other. Large boxes at 25 cents. LYNDE & OSBURN.

Rochester, N. Y., Sole American Agents, to whom all orders should be addressed.

For sale by Stearns & Beckwith, Peru, I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. 444 1y

Miscellaneous,

WOOLEN MANUFACTURING

IN all its various branches, will be carried on at the Keeseville Woolen Manufacturing Establishment, in Keeseville, N. Y.

Wool of any quality will be received in exchange for Cloth,

CASSIMERES, SATINETS,

Flannels, &c.

The Goods of this Establishment for the last two years, are well known at home and in market, and needs no other recommendation than a fair trial. Farmers and others wishing to make the most out of their wool, will find it to their advantage to call and exchange their wool for cloths. They may rest assured that they will be fairly dealt with, as no goods will be offered but those that will give satisfaction.

C. Roelofson has made arrangements which will enable him to pay

Part Cash

on Exchanges, or all CASH for WOOL when Price and Quality Suit.

On hand and ready for Exchanging, Grey Cloths, Mixed Satinets—VERY HEAVY—fine and medium Cassimeres, Red Flannel—yard wide—the different kinds also for sale.

THE CUSTOM

CARDING

will be carried on as usual.

C. ROELOFSON & Co.

Keeseville, May 26th, 1852. 421tf

WOOL!! WOOL!!!

Cash Paid for Wool

BY

Matthews & Ames,

At the Old Stand of

H. & H. MATTHEWS.

Every discription of Woolen and Cotton Goods given in exchange for Wool if wanted.

HAVING increased our stock of Goods by a second Spring purchase. We feel confident that we shall be able to supply all who may wish Goods or Groceries of any description, in part, or wholly, for their Fleece, Pulled or Tag Wool.

Boots ad Shoes.

READY-MADE or MADE to ORDER,

AS good as the best, as cheap as the cheapest and warranted to fit. The undersigned begs leave to remind the public of the above facts and solicits a share of their patronage. ☞ Opposite the Bank.

JAMES ADAMS.

Keeseville, March, 1852. 111-tf

NEW STORE.

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

True Union Store.

MR. NICHOLS of Burlington, Vt., has established a branch of his stock at Essex, nearly opposite the Steam Boat Landing in Fancher's Building adjoining the Hotel, where he has on hand nearly all kinds of Dry goods and Groceries and intends keeping up a good assortment by constantly replenishing, and will sell as low as can be bought in Burlington for cash and ready pay, most kinds of Produce taken. Mr N. flatters himself that with the facilities he has for purchasing goods both in Boston and New York, that he can compete with any store in Northern New York or Vermont. Please give us a call and see for themselves. "A penny saved is two pence earned."

WANTED 10,000 lbs. BUTTER.

N. Y., June 16, 1852.

KEESEVILLE ACADEMY.

The undersigned in behalf of the Trustees of Keeseville Academy, announce that the Spring Term will commence on Monday the 14th day of February inst. They have succeeded in engaging the following corps of Teachers.

Associate Principals. { CHARLES H. DANN, Teacher of Languages and Higher Mathematics. GILBERT THAYER, Teacher of English Branches, Natural Sciences and superintendent of the School.

Miss. NANCY K. POTTER and
Miss. MARY FERRIS Assistant Teachers.
Miss. ELLEN M. FISHER Teacher of Music.

Good Board and Rooms in the Village.

TERMS:

Common English Branches,	$3 00 per quarter
Higher " Branches,	1 00 extra "
Book keping,	1 50 " "
Latin and Greek, each,	1 00 " "
French, Italian and German, each,	1 09

Tuition is not charged for more than two of the above extras

Music Instrumental,	$10 00 per quarter.
" Vocal	1 00 " "

For French, Italian or German, taken single branches, the charge will 3 00

THAYER will give especial attention to young gentlemen and Ladies expecting to engage in teaching.

Oliver Keese
Jacob D Kingsland } Com. of
John Mattocks Trustees.

Keeseville Feb. 14, 1853

Miscellaneous.

New Goods! New Goods!

—AT—

NICHOLS' CASH STORE,

150 Church street,

BURLINGTON, VERMONT,

HAVING just Purchased in New York and Boston, a large stock of Goods of all kinds we now offer them for sale, and those who are in want of goods in our line will save money by calling on us before purchasing. We are confident we have the largest stock of goods ever brought into Burlington at one time; we were induced to buy largely in consequence of the low prices of many kinds of goods, particularly dress goods of almost every kind.

We have a full stock of everything usually kept in a dry good store; Also West India goods and groceries, a very large stock of Teas and Sugars low by chest and cask. Also at cost to clear them off Paper Hangings, Crockery and glass Ware and looking glasses.

CARPETING, AT THE CARPET WARE HOUSE.

BURLINGTON, VT.

Received this day and now opening 50 pieces of all grades, the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three Ply, Superfine, fine and common Ingrain and Venetian, all Wool. Cotton and Cotton and Wool; Also, all the different qualities of Stair Carpeting, Straw Matting, Oil Cloth. Drugetts, Crumb Cloths, Hearth Rugs, Door Matts, &c., very cheap.

Burlington, Nov. '52. 446

FAMILY GROCERIES.

A larg and choice assortment of Sugars Teas, Oils, Molasses, Pork, Fish, Fine and coarse Salt, Camphene, Soap and Candles, rooms, Pails, Willow Waggons, Cradles, Flavoring Extracts, Cat, Supe, all kinds Toys, New Years and Christmass presents, Confectionaries, Nuts, Bird Seed, &c., &.

The above goods are offered on the usual terms, at the lowest prices. Let those wishing to buy examine fer themselves.

100 Barrels Genessee Flour,

FRESH Ground for sale at,

REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

40 Barrels Sugars.

CRUSHED, granulated Muscavado and Coffee Sugars at REYNOLDS & TUFTS,

Green & Black Teas.

40 CHESTS and Cattys choice Old Hyson, Young Hyson and fine Oolong Teas cheaper than any in town at

REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

Keeseville, Nov. 18, 1852. 446

New Clothing Store.

WE, the undersigned, have made arrangements with one of the best tailors in the country, to manufacture clothing for us of every description, consisting of overcoats, sacks, dress and frock coats, pants, vests, overalls and boys cloths, together with all kinds of under garments, which are made after the most improved styles, and for workmanship and durability cannot be excelled.

In addition we offer a large assortment of fine

Fashionable Clothing,

made by tailors in New York, that for fitting even Genio C. Scott, in his palmiest days was not a circumstance.

We would also inform the public that it is to be sold by wholesale or retail at very low figures for cash, and for quantity and cheapness is far in advance of any other concern in Northern New York. A comparison with the trade, both in prices and quantity is particularly requested.

In connection with the above we would call the attention of the community to our stock of

Fancy & Staple Dry Goods,

of every variety; also, hats, caps and furs, paper hangings, window shades, hardware and groceries, rifles and shot guns, amunition, &c., &c. Trunks, and valises, carpet bags, whips and lashes, stone ware, and every description of goods that are wanted or can be found in the country. Don't forget

No. 1000, Main Street,

Keeseville, opposite the Adirondac Hotel.

BOYNTON & SMITH.

January 20, 1853.

MATTHEWS & AMES,

(SUCCESSORS TO H. & H. MATTHEWS,)

DEALERS IN

Tin, Sheet Iron, Copper, Japan and BRITANNIA WARE,

together with a large and well selected assortment of

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

which they will sell by the piece or package, at a small advance from cost. Also, a general assortment of

YANKEE NOTIONS

And Fancy Articles,

suitable to the Pedlars Trade, which they will sell low for cash.

☞ All kinds of barter taken in exchange for Goods.

Keeseville, April 17, 1852. 415

New and Cheap Goods

E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Have just received from New York and Boston one of the best assortments of

FALL AND WINTER GOODS

ever exhibited in Keeseville.

Among their stock of DRY GOODS will be found a beautiful assortment of Wool, and Cotton, and wool d'Laines, and Cashmeres, both plain and printed, of all qualities, and prices from one shilling to one Dollar per yard. French Merinoes, Paramattas, Alpaccas, Lyonese Cloth, English and American Prints, Ginghams, Flannels of all kinds, a superior quality of Bay State Flannel of different colors, Wool Plaids, Tickings, Stripes &c. &c. Shawls—a large and splendid assortment of Bay State, Empire State, Waterloo, Scotch Plaid, and Printed WOOL SHAWLS, at prices much lower than ever before offered in this market. A beautiful assortment of Bonnet Silks and Velvets, with trimmings of all kinds. Also dress silks and Satins, Gloves, Hosiery &c.

READY MADE CLOTHING

Of all kinds, sold very cheap, also, Cloths, Broad Cloths Plain and fancy Cassimeres, Black Doe Skins, Satinets Silks, and Worsted, Vestings, Serges, &c., &c., with many other articles too numerous to mention. 'Tis unnecessary to add that all the above goods will be sold at very low prices. Only remember their motto 'quick sales and small profits.' Please call and examine Goods and prices, and satisfy yourselves. Opposite the Adirondac Hotel.

Keeseville Oct. 1822.

CASH,

AND THE

Highest Market Price

WILL BE PAID FOR WOOL, AT THE WOOLEN FACTORY, by

C. F. ROELOFSON & Co.

Keeseville, July 8th, 1852. 427tf

C. BLISS & DECKER,

(Successors to J. N. & E. W. Corlies,)

—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—

TEAS,

Agents for the Sale of

Manufactured Tobacco,

192 Pearl Street,

Near Maiden Lane, 430 New York.

Miscellaneous.

THE NORTHERN

New York Mutual

INSURANCE COMPANY,

Plattsburgh, Clinton Co., N. Y.

Capital, 100,000.

THIS Company is organized under the General Insurance Law of the State of New York, with a sound, reliable capital, and offers the following superior inducements:

1. The safer kinds of property are separated entirely from the more hazardous; affording the advantages of two distinct companies, with the expense of but one.

2. The first class, or Farmer's Department, consists of Farm-houses, Form buildings and their contents and detatched dwellings and their contents in villages, when unexposed by more hazardous buildings,

3. The second class or Merchant's Department, consists of exposing dwellings, stores, merchandize and property not deemed specially hazardous.

4. Each class pays its own losses and thus securing equal justice and proportional rate to both.

5. Not more than $3,000 of the first class, or more than $2,000 of the second class, will be taken in one risk, nor any number of risks so contiguous as probably to subject the Company to a loss of over $3,000 at any one fire; thereby saving it from heavy and ruinous losses.

6. In taking surveys of property, the agent will be the agent of the company, and the company be responsible for the correctness of all surveys made by its agents.

7. Any one insured, may at any time surrender his policy and withdraw from the company by paying his proportion of the losses and expense up to the date of such surrender.

8. Applications will take effect at noon of the day on which they are made (unless a different day is directed by the applicant,) thus relieving the party from anxiety and suspense.

9. The company no have two-thirds clause, but will pay all loss and damage not exceeding the amount insured.

10. In case of difference of opinion in settlement of losses, the company will submit the same to arbitration in the county where the loss occurs, the claimant choosing one, the company one, and the two arbitrators another.

11 Each person insured in the company becomes a member and will be entitled to a participation of the profits, if any surplus should accrue, not required for the payment of losses.

12. This company will be responsible for losses by fire caused by lightning.

13. This company will take no risks in cities.

☞ The Directors return their acknowledgements to the public for ther readiness in aiding the organization of this company, and will endeavor to make it a safe and reliablo institution, affording protection from the ravages of fire, at reasonable rates, and with certainty of payment in case of loss.

DIRECTORS.

James Farr, Fort Ann, Washington co; Olif Abel, Whitehall, do; Walter Geer, Glen's Falls, Warren co; Pelatiah Richards, Warrensburgh, do; Wm. E. Calkins, Ticonderoga, Essex co.; John Horton, Columbia Vilage, St. Lawrence co.; Thomas H. Conkey, Canton, do.; Amasa C. Moore, Samuel F. Viles, Henry G. Hewitt, Jacob H Holt, John Boynton, Peter S. Palmer, Cornelius Halsey, Z. C. Platt, W. W. Hartwell, Benjamine Gilman, George Moore, Plattsburgh, Clinton Co,

OFFICERS.

SAMUEL F. VILES, Presikent;
WM. W. HARTWELL, Vice President;
ZEPHENIAH C. PLATT, Treasurer;
GEORGE MOORE, Secretary;
I. C. MIX, and
R. G. SWINBRN, General Agents.
JAMES B. DICKINSON, Agent Ausable Forks.

Plattsburgh, Dec. 4th, 1852. 44 tf.

DRY-GOODS!

CARPETS AND OIL-CLOTHS,

at uncommonly low prices

may be had at

G. V. S. Quackenbush's,

202 River and 9 State Streets. Troy.

MY Stock of Dry-Goods is unsurpassed in Variety and extent, consisting of every class of goods from the lowest priced Muslins and Prints, to the finest

BROAD-CLOTHS AND CASSIMERES,

or the richest and most expensive styles of Silks and Shawls and of each denomination of goods.

I have an almost endless variety of patterns of all the different qualities.

Of Carpets and Oil Cloths I have a splendid assortment consisting of a great variety of new and beautiful patterns of Velvets, Tapestry, and Brussels Carpets—

Also

Three Ply, Tapestry-Ingrains, and Ingrains of all qualities and so varied in styles that all may here find something to suit their fancy.

Oil Cloths of all Widths and Qualities and of the newest and most desirable patterns, Rugs, in great variety.

STAIR CARPETS, STAIR RODS, DRUGGETS, MATTS,

and Matting of every Style and Quality.

A correct diagram being furnished Oil Cloths will be cut to fit rooms or halls without extra charge, and Carpets made in a superior manner at the lowest rates.

Those wishing to purchase either Dry-Goods or Carpets will find that my assortment is unequaled, and that my prices are uncommonly low.

G. V. S. QUACKENBUSH,
422 202 River Street, Troy.

RUTLAND & BURLINGTON Rail Road.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after Monday, Nov. 1st, trains will run as follows, viz:

FOR BOSTON, NEW YORK AND INTERMEDIATE PLACES.

LEAVE
Burlington at	8,15	A. M.		4,15	P. M.
Vergennes	9 09	"		5,00	"
Middlebury	9,42	"		5,35	"
Brandon	10 20	"		6.18
Rutland	11,00	"	AR.	7,00
			L.	6,30	A. M.
Cuttingville	11.25	"		6.55	"
Ludlow	12.05	P. M.		7,35	"
Proctorsville	12,16	"		7,42	"
Chester	12,40	"		8,10	"
Arriving
Bellows Falls	1.15	"		8.45	"
Boston	7,00	"		1,00	P. M.
LEAVE
Boston	7.45	A. M.		12.00	M.
Bellows Falls	12 0	"		5 15	P. M.
Chester	12.40	P. M.		5,50	"
Proctorsville	107	"		6,17	"
Ludlow	1,15	"		6,25	"
Cuttingville	1 52	"		7.05	"
Rutland AR.	2.15	"	AR.	7 30	"
L.	3,00	"	L.	7.45	"
Brandon	3 38	"		8 25	"
Middlebury	4.25	"		9.04	"
Vergennes	5,00	"		9,37	"
Arriving
Burlington	5.45	"		10,30	"

CONNECT AT BURLINGTON.

with the Steamers for PLATTSBURGH and MONTREAL RAIL ROADS, and with the VERMONT and CENTRAL and VERMONT and CANADA RAIL ROADS for the East, North, and West, via CHAMPLAIN and ST. LAWRENCE, and the OGDENSBURGH RAIL ROADS.

CONNECT AT RUTLAND

with the Trains of Western Vermont, Rutland and Washington and Saratoga and Washington Rail Roads, for New York, Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Buffalo and the West.

CONNECT AT BELLOWS FALLS

with the Trains of the Cheshire, Vermont Valley, and Sullivan Rail Roads for Windsor, Boston, Worcester, Lowell Springfield, Hartford, New Haven, and New York.

Fares are less when Tickets are purchased at the Offices than when paid in the Cars.

Burlington, Oct. 25, 1852. JOHN S. DUNLAP,
445 Superintendent.

EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR.

50 BARRELS made from Pure Genessee Wheat at the lowest price at

REYNOLDS & TUFTS

Dec. 18, 1852.

with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Essex County Republican.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING BY JONATHAN TARBELL, Editor and Proprietor. TERMS, $2 Per Year---$1,50 in Advance.

VOLUME XIII. NO. 43. KEESEVILLE, N. Y., MARCH 12, 1853. WHOLE NUMBER 462

Written expressly for the Republican.

Passing Away.

BY L. N. BOUDRYE.

I hear a voice speak from on high;
Hark! in music tones, 'tis drawing nigh,
It bids me heed time's rapid flight,
For sure as day there must be night,
And sure as life, there must be death,
And life is but a passing breath!

I've watched the days of childhood pass,
As borne upon the swift-winged blast;
Oh! happy days! could I recall
Thy joys, and cherished pleasures all,
My happiness—Oh could I say!
Would be complete, but passed away.

I've felt love's ties, linked 'round my heart,
As if there bound ne'er more to part!
Love's gentle bonds, more fragile still,
Than life's on-going, gushing rill,
For those dear ties, I've felt give way!
And all these speak—Passing away.

I've seen the rose, when in full bloom,
Ne'er mind the dark night's deathly gloom,
But ope her cup, to catch the dew.
And show at morn, her brilliant hue,
But that same rose I've seen decay,
Fall to the dust!—Passing away.

I've seen all charms this earth affords,—
I've watched its beauties cherished hoards,
I've felt its sorrows and its care;—
I've heard the voice of pleasure there.
But my conclusion is to-day,
That all that's here's—Passing away

Mrs. Margaret Shute died Feby 6th, 1852. Her Son, George Henry, being taken sick, warned all his youthful associates to "walk in the path that leadeth unto life" and then said he should die on the same day his mother had departed one year before. This prophesy proved true, for on the 6th of Feby. 1853 his spirit rested with its parent. On this strange coincident the following lines were written by a relative—a young lady sixteen years of age, and have been handed in to us for publication.—ED. REP.

The Mother and Son.

By Ausable's darksome stream,
In a peaceful sleep;
Where lingers last the twilight's beam,
And mourners come to weep.
They laid thee in a dreamless rest,
And placed the cold sods, o'er thy breast.

The twilight shadows, soft and light,
Come floating o'er the snow;
The stars look down (with watchful light,)
On those who sleep so low.
The wild winds murmur sad and lone;
But that low grave is not thy home.

A happier—holier world than this,
Thou art an angel now:
The stamp of blissful loveliness,
Is planted on thy brow.
And sweetly, 'mid the seraphs throng,
Thou lifted up thy voice in song.

But through cold winter's darksome days,
And spring time's fragrant hours,
Thy babes have hushed their gleeful play,
Amid the budding flowers.
Dreaming at close of summer day;
Thy spirit listned while they prayed.

The summer flowers are bloomed, and dead,
The wintry winds are chill;
Thy first born rests his peaceful head,
Besides thee on the hill.
All desolate and full of tears,
The home, that once thy presence cheered.

A year, but one short year ago,
They left thee there at rest;
The cold white fall of winter snow,
Spread softly o'er thy breast.
Now sleeps beside thee, pale and cold;
Thy child, as in the days of old.

Sweet child thou'rt missed, the long long day
And at the cold gray eve;
Thy brothers hush their noisy play,
To talk of thee and grieve.
They weep, that thou art gone before,
And left them on life's darksome shore.

* * * * * * *

"They calmly lie, and sweetly sleep,"
Within earth's darksome breast;
The cold storms pass unheeded by,
Nor break their quiet rest.
Then cease ye mourners, cease to weep,
He giveth his beloved sleep.

Our Father, cheer the desolate,
Bind up the broken heart;
And bring them to that brighter home,
(Where death no more shall part.)
Beyond the golden clouds of even,
Where ties of love no more are riven.

GENEVIEVE.

Keeseville, Feb. 26th.

Written expressly for the Republican.

Teachers Counsel.

Always commence your school on Friday,
Never go with dress that's tidy;
Never fail in being some tardy
Every morning, —cold and warm.

Ever keep your house free form a broom,
Apply none to your school room;
And water pails—leave at home:
There you may, and you may mean.

And no other time may you assign for them.
But morning—noon—evening then;
Unless you wish, your school condemn,
And every branch to bear a thorn.

A door locked, and key, are but trifling things:
The thief, then, must break within;
And Books—Slates and all therein
About his person,—would conceal.

Take them from beneath the knowledge roofs,
The black-board—black enough
To demonstrate the criminals rough
Black heart,—readily to congeal.

Order in schools has ever been notoriety;
Beauty is much in posteriety:
Now teachers from your prosperity,
The lines above, yourselves reveal.

LADRU. C. O.

Constantinople, Feby. 10th, 1810.

Correspondence of The Republican.

Rum's Doings.

At this late day, when the ravages perpetrated through the influence of rum are so numerous, that not a single newspaper is published but has an account of some horid outrage—and yet one in ten of the black list ever reach the public, through the medium of the press. It is strange that any sane man can be found, so utterly submissive to the dictation of the rum interests as to advocate the use of the "dangerous beverage," or even oppose its annihilation through the power of the law. There may be localities where its abuses are not prevalent, nor where they are infested with its presence. But it is not to be doubted that there are cases in the most favored districts, of sufficient enormity, did they but read the public, to stamp the nefarious traffic with the black seal of anathema, and to warrant every exertion on the part of temperance men and every action of moral, and where this will not suffice, of legal suasion, to procure its entire exterpation. Of such a character was King Alcohol's last doings in this secluded town. It was as follows:

An individual engaged in lumbering, that is, in getting logs for the sawmills into Lake George and 'rafting' them to Ticonderoga, thinking his 'hands' must have a little of the stuff marked 'pure' to keep them from being dry while on land, and from being wet when in the water, had procured a jug of the 'pure,' which was left where his own little boy Samuel, and two other boys, John and Charles, some 8 or 10 years old chanced to find it. Thinking, perhaps, that to be men they must "do as men do," they drank till they were hardly able to get home. Excited by the 'pure' in their drunken fight, Johnny gave little Charley a 'clip' in the stomach which laid him on a bad of severe pain for a long time. Such were the facts as I received them from the sorrow stricken and heart-broken mother of the little sufferer. Sorrow stricken and heart broken indeed is that mother as all acquainted with her history well know. Not from this case alone, though it is bad enough, for it is but a link in the chain of wrongs it has been her lot to to suffer.—Wedded in early life to one whom she had long known, she promised every prospect of long enjoying the fulness of domestic bliss. But alas, that unique destroyer of every human enjoyment, which dives even to the bottom of "Pandoras box" and drives thence the last vestige of hope, threw himself across her path, and proffered him who swore to protect her, the 'cup of enchantment'. Once inveigled by the delightful beverage, "the worm of the still," continued to encircle him with coil after coil, till he was fast falling into that unenviable position to be classed with the drunkard. Whatever he could obtain though absolutely necessary to relieve his suffering family was now thrown away for rum. She, furnished by nature with more noble aspirations, could not brook the wrongs, privations, suffering, and worse than all else, the disgrace to which she was subjected, and finally her naturally sensitive mind yielded to the shock and it was found necessary for a time to incarcerate her with the maniac in the Lunatic Asylum at Utica. This is no fiction, but facts to which many can testify. I cannot refrain from asking who is responsible for all this wrong?

A. D. C.

Hague, N. Y., 1853.

Correspondence of The Republican.

"Things will Creep Out."

Fanny Fern.

CROWNPOINT, February 19, 1853.

So says Fanny Fern and so say I.—When they don't one way they will another. At least that was the case with a young gentleman who made his appearance in our usually quiet village about five months since. He was rather above the ordinary height, well built, with a piercing black eye, hair and whiskers that well might vie with the raven's wing. He seldom smiled but when he did O, what a smile and who could withstand the fascinating gaze? He was very steady and industrious, and one who would be termed a "likely sort of a fellow," and engaged to work for a harness maker. Thus recommended, he of course met with a favorable reception from the young of both sexes. With the ladies he was an especial favorite, but the sequel will show that he was "gay deceiver." From his bench he managed to fascinate a youthful maiden, whose daily occupation brought her under the influence of those 'bewitching smiles.' At last he sought an introduction and tried to win her affections, when lo! another "star" appeared in the horizon, which attracted his attention. He met her once or twice, but from some cause not understood, she did not seem inclined to favor his suit. He then flirted with various damsels, not knowing or caring how many hearts he was breaking. But every person must have their day, and every story an end, so I will not stop to enumerate the conquests he had made when his flirtations were cut suddenly short by the appearance of no less a personage than the Hon. Mrs. H——— herself. She, like a loving and dutiful wife took her little son and came to pay her spouse a visit, thinking to give him a joyful surprise, but, horror of horrors! he was passing for a single man! Instead of running to embrace and extending the warm hand of welcome to her who had forsaken all for him he only hung his head and said "what will the girls think of me"?—And what did they think and do? They were all indignant at such treatment. Yes, they even departed from the strict rules of lady like decorum, (and who can blame them) for did not outraged justice call loudly for revenge? They marshalled a band appointed Miss ——— Captain, obtained a drum, bugle, bells, tinhorns and pans and everything noted for harmony of music and gave him a midnight serenade. After promenading about an hour to the quick step of "All tune," they marched Indian file to the residence of Mr. L———, where mine host served up an excellent oyster supper expressly for the occasion. The majority of the people are on the girls side, but a few knowing ones "turn up their noses". One says "there has not been a company here for twenty years that would act so outragiously." Wonder if she was on earth then!!! Another says "how ridiculous." Ha! ha! while they are talking about that they are not scolding the children. Reader, these are the facts, and you must draw your own moral. So mote it be.

A SPECTATOR.

P. S. Mrs. K——— has left for home.

Ruins near Crown Point, N. Y.

We have been favored with the following communication by W. C. Watson, Esq, who is engaged in making out a report of an Agricultural Survey of Essex county, and from which this is an extract.—EDS. Country Gentleman

The extent and character of these early settlements, is a subject of much interest, in the light it throws upon the history of the region, and as a matter of antiquarian research. Whatever may have been the number or situation of the French occupants they appear to have receded at the approach of the victorious arms of Amherst, and probably accompained the retreat of the French forces. The most decisive evidences remain of the abode at some former period, of a large and civilised community, in the vicinity of Crown Point. The vestiges of their occupation which still exist, indicate a people who were familiar with the comforts and amenities of life, and possessed the means and numbers to secure their enjoyment. I do not hesitate to refer their existance to the epoch of the French ascendancy, if not to a still more remote period. These remains had apparently no connection with the military works, the ruins of which are situated in another part of the peninsula.

The allusions of ancient MSS. corroborate the traditions preserbed in the reminiscences of aged persons, that a population ranging from fifteen hundered to three thousand persons, were gathered around the fortress of St. Fredric. A very important trafic, it is known, was carried on between the French and English colonies, as early as 1700, and that Lake Champlain was the medium of their intercourse. Several years anterior to that period, Crown Point, it will be recollected, was referred to as a prominent land-mark, in the public instructions to Schuyler. May it not have been, previous to the French occupation, an important part of this commerce? We confidently assume that Crown Point, at an early period, was a conspicuous and flourishing trading post, where the commodities of France and England were interchanged, and where the Indians congregated from their widely extended hunting grounds, to traffic in their peltries.

I have already described the peninsular position of Crown Point; one side resting upon Bulwagga bay, and the other washed by the waters of the Lake. The clearest evidences remain, for many rods along the margin of the bay, of the surface having been graded and formed into an artificial slope inclining to the water. The fragments of a former wall, in one instance, distinctly marks its course. Trees which have sprung up along the line of this wall, have preserved parts almost entire. This enclosure, embracing an area of about two acres, was evidently a fruit-yard or garden. Fruit trees were flourishing in it, within the recollection of the present owner. An avenue seems to have swept in a wide curvature along the margin of the bay in front of these enclosures, and approached a landing place, adapted to the craft which at that time navigated the lake. Equally distinct and obvious indications, are exhibited parallel to this avenue, upon the crest of a slight eminence, of the former residence of a dense and prosperous population. A street may be traced, reaching a long distance toward the main land, raised and covered with broken stone, not unlike the McAdam roads of the present day.—The ruins of cellars, many of which are excavated from the solid rock, line this street on each side. The compact arrangement of these cellars, and the narrowness of the avenue, present a striking analogy to the ancient villages in Canada, founded by the French. No memorial of this bygone age, so thrilled upon my feelings and excited my imagination, as the remnant of the side-walk along this street. It is formed of flagging, similar to that now in use in our cities. The Stones are smooth and worn by much use, and remain in the position they were left by the generations who thronged them in the busy scenes of life. We were assured by the occupant of the grounds, that in his agricultural operations, he has displaced many continuous rods of this pavement, which was in perfect preservation. To tread upon the pathway of a people, whose name and lineage are forgotten, whose history is extinct, and whose very era is obscurred, impress the mind with a deeply saddening and solemnizing influence. These, and equally marked indications, extend over a wide space about the fort and along the shores of the lake.

Still stronger evidences exist, near the southern end of the Cape, of the site of a large village once densely populated.—Two large cemetries, one near the garrison grounds and the other upon the last locality, attest that the living, in numerous assemblages, have animated these scenes.—The worthy occupant of the former, remarked, without seeming consciousness that he was yielding to the dictates of a refined sentiment, that he had felt constrained in particular spots to arrest the plow, because it so fearfully exposed the relics of the dead. Still another touching evidence remains, that man, in an advanced stage of society, has left his footprints on these scenes, to attest his former presence. Asparagus, other hardy plants, and srubs, usually cherished by the hand of human culture, still flourish wild and uncared for upon these fields.

The settlers who occupied this territory after the revolution, found in an area of about five miles from the fort, not a tree or a bush to obstruct the view over the beautiful and wide champagne, that had been once highly cultivated. Now a heavy forest coveres half the tract. Rogers, in describing one of his predatory excursions, speak, of luxurant crops waving upon these fields; and on another occasion he alludes to his firing, in a sudden foray, the village itself. Kalm, the Swedish traveler, saw about the fort, as late as 1749, a considerable settlement, "pleasant and cultivated gardens" and "a neat little church within the ramparts." Persons recently deceased, whose recollection extended to a period beyond the revolution, recall Crown Point, when its business operations were conducted in several stores.

A circumstance, occurring at a later period, which we shall introduce, with its evidences, in a subsequent part of this narrative that seems to have contemplated Crown Point as the capitol of a projected province, is strongly significant of its former central position and political importance. A solitary farm house, now occupies the peninsula of Crown Point.

I have been allured by the pathos and romance of a subject, that I believe has no parallel in this country, to devote an unusual space to its consideration.

Our Rail Road.

We find the following in the N. O. Commercial, Buletin and transfer it to our columns as appropriate to this latitude as to La.

A dialogue between a citizen and a Georgia emigrant, on his way to Texas.—It is no fancy picture; and we give a portion of it.

Citizen.—Where are you from?

Emigrant.—From the State of Georgia.

Citizen.— How does it happen that you have left the State of Georgia, where railroads are being built in every part of the State, and have come to the country where there are no railroads, and but few facilities for getting your produce to market! In the interior of the State of Texas, to which you say you are going apprehend, my friend, you will greatly feel the want of the railroads you have left behind you.

Emigrant.—The railroads, my dear sir, have driven me from Georgia! In that State my property, which was not much, consisted mostly in lands, which but a year or two ago was not worth more than three dollars per acre. Before the roads were built we hauled 200 miles to Augusta, salt cost $4 to $5 a bushel and other necessaries in proportion, and seldom the poor people could have them. I have a family growing up around me. Well, a short time since a railroad passed through my county, and I was offered thirty dollars per acre for my land, in cash. I was too poor to refuse it and I am now on my way to Texas, where the lands are yet cheap for the want of railroads, and where I expect to buy lands enough to settle my children around me, and where I expect shortly to see Railroads, with all the advantages resulting from them, that I have witnessed in Georgia. Did I not believe this, nothing could induce me to go to Texas

There's no necessity of referring to the moral contained in the foregoing dialogue. It is to obvious to need reference—it is unmistakable

WAR TIMES.—Every one who resided within fifty miles of the Canada frontier during the last war with Great Britain, remembers Colonel Isaac Clark, of the Rifles—a brave old officer, who had rather fight than eat; and who, at the head of his "invincibles," kept the British outposts on the lines in constant excitement and fear. The old Colonel never retreated before the enemy; but once, he found himself in the clutches of the law, and "turned tail and run"—We were reminded of the incident, while looking over a copy of the Plattsburgh Republican of January, 1814, by finding in a conspicuous column of that paper, the following advertisement:—

FIFTY DOLLARS REWARD.

RAN away from the subscriber at this place, on the night of the 17th of November last, Isaac Clark, (Colonel of a Corps of Riflemen from the State of Vermont,) who had been arrested by me, on two writs, issued out of the Supreme Court of Judicature of the State of New York, to a considerable amount. The said Clark is about five feet ten inches high, square shoulders, spare face, high cheek-bones and roman nose, about sixty-five years of age—had on, when he went away, a uniform of the 11th Regiment United States Infantry, of which he was formerly a Colonel. The said Clark is now supposed to be in Vermont. Any person who will secure him and return him to the subscriber, or lodge him in the gaol at Plattsburgh, and give information to me, shall be entitled to the above reward, and all reasonable charges.

BENJ. GRAVES,
Sheriff of Clinton Co., N. Y.

Plattsburgh, Dec. 20, 1813.

[Plattsburgh Republican.

☞ A letter from Matanzas, by way of Savannah, corrects the statement of the improvement in Vice-President King's health. He is wasting away, his limbs swollen, [illegible] regarded as hopeless.

The Montenegrine War.

The following article, which we copy from the Boston Courier, will give our readers interesting information with regard to the war now raging in the territory of Montonegrin, on the Adiriatic:

On the western frontier of the Ottoman Empire, a Christian community is now in arms against its Mussulman enemy, and the eyes of the great European powers are turned to the scene of this contest with serious expectations. At this moment the little territory of Montenegro offers the most interesting spectacle that the continent of Europe can present to our view. It is the seat of war which may end in the downfall of the Ottoman dominion, and the re construction of a political system which will change the face of Eastern Europe.

Montenegro is a territory occupying about fifty miles of the eastern shore of the Adriatic, and extending about thirty miles inland. It is full of mountains covered with pine forests. The country is ill adapted for agricultural purposes, wild and destitute of roads. The inhabitants are armed shephards living with their flocks, ready for plunder—delighting in war. They are a pure Scalvonian race, retaining their primative manners, professing for the most part the faith of the Greek church, and governed to the present day by their own patriarchal institutions. This territory was originally a dependency of Servia, when the latter was a Sclavonian kingdom. But when Servia became a tributary of the Porte, Montenegro still preserved its independence, though the Turks nominally included it in the pachalic of Scutaria. It has been overrun by Turkish armies, but they were never able to retain possession of the country. From the commencement of the 18th century, the Montenegrians became the allies of Russia; and whenever that power was at war with Turkey, they actively contributed their aids to the Czar. A second tie which connects them with that potentate, consists in the fact that they are members of the Greek Church, of which he is the recognized protector. The population is somewhere about 60,000. The military strength of the country is comprised in a body of 20,000 warriors. Every man is practised in the use of arms; but besides the actual population of Montenegro, properly so called, a considerable number of families of the same race have gradually settled in the neighboring Turkish privinces of Bosnia, the Herzegowine, and and Scutara, who retain a near connexion with their kinsmen and their birthplace, and may possibly extend over a much wider field, the hostilities which have broken out in Montenegro.

The free Christian people have now risen against their Turkish masters, and the march of armies to this devoted territory now invests it with an extraordinary degree of importance. Austria and Russia stand looking on waiting for a favorable moment to strike in on their own account. Little care they, we apprehend, for the cause of freedom; but their national jealousies are awake, and every signal of the downfall of the Moselm is watched by them with intense anxiety. At the latest dates, an Austrian force of 20 000 men were gathering on the Montenegrine frontier, and the Austrian official press declared that the position of Montenegro assumes international importance. The Czar, in the meantime, has offered his mediation at Constantinople, and a mediator with a million of soldiers at his back will not forget his own profit in such a business. Is it reasonable to think he will neglect so inviting a chance to weaken the Ottoman powers, and bring nearer to his reach the brilliant prize upon which his eye has so long been fixed—the city of Constantinople?

Whether the insurrection of the Montenegrines has extensive ramifications, which will cause further outbreaks in the Turkish provinces, we have no means of knowing at present. But these movements are regarded, in Europe, as very serious. At any rate the Ottoman power is rapidly sinking; and nothing apparently, can arrest its downward tendency. Islamism has long ceased to advance, and is now daily receding. The Ottoman government rested on its vast military strength and on the intense religious faith of its subjects; but its armies have been found unfit to cope with the disciplined forces of Europe, and Mahometanism has continually lost ground. The oppressed Christian race have increased in numbers and in power: while the Turks whose European empire was never much more than a vast encampment, have gradually become weaker. The subject populations are disaffected—they have seen the more fortunate of their companions in servitude emancipate themselves from the Ottoman rule; and they feel the day cannot be far distant when they, too, will enjoy the freedom which is already the lot of the independant principalities of the Porte.

While the Turks are fast dwindling away, the Greek and Sclavonian Christians in Turkey, are steadily augmenting. Recent travelers have observed that, in many villages, which at the beginning of the present century, were partly Moslem and partly Christian, the Moslems have now disanpeared—leaving all trace of their existence except a few crumbling turbon stones, marking wha was once the cemetary, and a ruinous minaret, half hid by a grove of gaunt and neglected cypress trees—Even in Constitantinople itself, large districts within the walls, which, thirty years ago, were swarming with a Mahomedan population, are now encumbered with ruins and almost uninhabited.

The year upon which we have now entered, completes exactly 400 years since the Turks became masters of Constantinople. When we view the tottering condition of the Ottoman power, and the growing strength and ambition of its neighbor who shall say that in 1853 may not be as memorable in the annals of the crescent, as 1453? Who can be confident that the blow will not be struck this year that shall break forever the scepter of the Osmanli, and drive him back across Bosphorus?

The Question of Contempt.

Remarks of Mr. BURNETT, of Essex, on the Speaker's Arrest of Hon. R. Smith of N. Y.

IN ASSEMBLY, Feb. 14, 1853.

MR. SPEAKER—It being my good or ill fortune to be unavoidably absent from my seat in this House on Saturday, and being thus prevented from listetting to, or taking a part in the exciting debates of that day, I trust I shall, for that reason, if for no other, be able to bring my mind to the consideration of the subject before us, uninfluenced by feeling, and unwarped by prejudice; and I have only to regret that my late return, to day, has prevented me from giving the subject but a very imperfect and cursory examination, by no means commensurate with the careful analysis and thorough investigation, which the grave importance of the question demands. The place and the occasion should fill our minds with thoughts of solemn import. We daily enter upon our prescribed duties here and commence our deliberations with the sanction of religious rites; invoking the Divine aid to guide and direct us; to give us strength and grace and knowledge. And if, sir, in the transaction of our individual concerns, it behooves us, in all things, to square our conduct by the rule of right, to examine needfully all our ways, as "those who must give an account," and to administer even and exact justice to all men—how much greater need have we of watchfulness, when we are clothed with public trust, and when, as on this occasion, our acts and deliberations involve the rights and privileges of millions born and yet unborn—not of this State and age alone, but of other States and ages yet to come; since the result of our deliberations will enter into, and constitute a part and portion of the great series of human events; and, by the natural and inevitable operation of cause and effect, will tell, either for "weal or woe," upon future ages, and become to them a savor, politically, either of "life unto life or death unto death."—Should we not, therefore, carefully weigh every word we utter, and scrupulously analyse every thought we express?

We are to determine a rule. And here, Mr. Speaker, let me say, that the principles involved in that rule, transcend, and should be considered as transcending, all considerations of mere party. Torture them as you may, they ought not, they cannot be deemed as partaking of party characteristics, nor involving party considerations. Parties rise and fall. With new questions and new interests, other parties and other organizations will spring up, in place of old ones; this great State, and we, her representatives—this mighty nation, yea, all presently existing nations, "floating down the tide of time," may pass away and be forgotten; but principles live, and truth and justice, like their Author, are immutable and eternal.

Now, sir, it is admitted, by every gentleman who has addressed the House on this question, that the Speaker, in ordering the arrest of one of its members, has exercised an act of high, of extraordinary prerogative. The question before the House for its determination, therefore, is, does he possess that right? For if he does, its exercise is only to be limited by the rule of his own discretion; and any act perpetrated by him in the exercise of that discretion, albeit ever so tyranical, is, nevertheless, not usurpation.

Mr. Speaker, in the analysis and argumentation of this question, we assume the position that, in the case of an exercise of a power so extraordinary, the advocates of its rightful exercise, (in a given case) in assuming the affirmative of the proposition, are bound to prove the truth of such proposition; and I confess my substantial agreement, in opinion, with the learned and eloquent gentlemen from Allegany (Mr. Champlin) when he tells us that, in this age and country, very little weight should be placed upon decisions made in other countries and in other times. The principles of those decisions are as musty and worm-eaten as the books in which their history, whatever may be their character, is to be found. They were given in times when much was thought of prerogative, little of the rights of the people. The canon of political faith, that kings are the representatives of God upon earth, deriving their powers and prerogatives from Him, and being consequently, responsible for their conduct to Him alone—the maxim that "the king can do no wrong," (whether in fact true or false, and upon which point it is not necessary that I should here express my own opinion,) have never been adopted by the people of these United States. Indeed, sir, the masterly vindication of our Revolution, (for I will not denominate it rebellion,) as contained in our Declaration of Independence, was based upon the assertion that the king had done wrong—foul, wanton, outrageous wrong. Our fathers were not rebels, they fought to vindicate the principles of the British Constitution. Our enemies were its violators.

But to the immediate question before us. And here, I would confess, Mr. Speaker, that a very startling fact meets us at the outset, at the very threshold of the investigation, the fact that the advocates of this power, with time and opportunity for thorough examination with two whole nights and I fear much of our day spent in vain search, have not been able to find a solitary case, even in by gone times, to sustain their Position by fair logical deduction or rational intendment even much less by legal enactments, or clear and satisfactory precedent—and I challenge gentlemen to cite a solitary instance of its exercise, either in England or France, since the commencement of the present century. Indeed, sir, it is a fact known, or which should be known, to every member of this house, that in the latter country never, since the restoration of the Bourbons and the establishment of a written constitution in 1815, has the President ever arrested, nor has he dared to order the arrest of a member of the French Chamber, however disorderly he might have been. And I am sure, that more than fifty instances have, since that time, occurred, when that functionary was forced to declare the sitting adjourned, after in vain attempting to restore, and in vain appealing to the house to and him in restoring and maintaining the rules of order—for this authority is granted, by express law, to the President; but no the dangerous, the monsterous prerogative of causing a member, his equal in rank to be arrested and disgraced, as malice or caprice might dictate. So careful, even there, have they been to limit the exercise of tyrannical and irresponsible sway. Unsustained by precedent, gentlemen are therefore driven perforce, to a perilous search after constructive powers, to justify the decision now under consideration; for I understand them to have altogether abandoned the position, that any custom, law or precedent can be cited to sustain it.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Constructive powers! Sir, ours is a government of laws, written laws, not of constructive powers; and hence it has been decided, over and over again, by our highest courts of judicature; that the Federal Government even can exercise no powers but such as are expressly granted, or such as are necessary to the proper exercise of enumerated powers. And I am pursuaded that the framers of our State Constitution meant to leave nothing to inference, in respect to the subject matters before us when they expressly invested in this House, not in its Speaker, the prerogative of punishing all contempts and infractions of its authority, and the power to punish draws with it all the necessary antecedents.

Now, sir, as it is a principle of logic, known to every tyro out of this Chamber, (for it would not become me to intimate that any of its members are only tyros,) that what is not included in a proposition, is ex necessitate excluded; so I insist, that when authority without condition or restruction is vested, by express enactment, in any tribunal, the powers of that tribunal are exclusive in the premises, and can by right be exercised by no other. Therefore, in giving the authority to punish to this House, the framers of the Constitution neither meant to, nor did they, clothe the Speaker with the like authority—an authority which we cannot, if we would, assign to him. I, sir, am by no means disposed to adopt, or insist upon, a very rigid rule of interpretation, in matters pertaining to the exercise of official functions. I would allow the exercise of a liberal discretion; and, be the consequences to myself personally what they may, I hesitate not, here in this presence, to thus publicly avow it as my solemn conviction, that our country is now laboring under two most fatal maladies, to wit: "Fullness of bread" and an excess of liberty. But when I say that I would allow the exercise of a liberal discretion, I mean a discretion based upon, regulated, limited, and controlled by law.

The assertion has been made upon this floor, and that assertion has been reiterated by nearly every gentleman who has spoken on the other side of the house, that in the case in question, the prompt interposition and exercise of this power, on the part of its presiding officer, was absolutely necessary for the due maintenance of order and decorum. Ah! Mr Speaker, necessity always has been, is now and ever will be "the Tyrant's plea," and depend upon it, that, when the exercise of despotic rule is coveted, pretences will never be lacking for the plausible assertion of the existence of that necessity. But even admitting, for the sake of argument, that in extraordinary emergencies, necessity may be allowed to override all Law, the question recurs, Did that necessity in fact exist in the case, to which the resolution now under consideration refers, and was this such an emergency? Our unhesitating answer is, No. for, upon this hypothesis no clearly legal means remains within reach, to preserve order, and for the transaction of the business before the house. To assume which, to what humiliating position are we brought?

To confess with faltering lips, a stammering tongue, and a burning brow that we, the chosen Representatives of three millions of freemen, have become so regardless of the principles of propriety and decency; so utterly lacking the elevation of sentiment, the manly bearing, in fine, all the characteristics which should distinguish gentlemen, as to sell ourselves to the demon of confusion and disorder, so far forth as to render deliberation and action here impossible, except by the interposition of the one man power. And sir, if we, the people's chosen Representatives, select from the mass of our fellow citizens, on account it is fairly to be presumed of our supposed fitness for public trust, have proved ourselves so wholly unfit for the exercise and enjoyment of rational self government can it be fairly presumable, that our constituents are more disposed or better prepared for the maintenance of liberal and enlightened principles than ourselves? And who shall repress their disorder? No nation can long remain free unless it possess and cultivate the principles of virtue and intelligence. Lacking these, its destiny is retrogradation and ultimate ruin. And if, indeed, we have arrived at such a pass, as gentlemen seem to more than intimate; if indeed, we are no longer capable of controlling our "unruly wills and affections;" let us abandon the experiment of self government at once, as delusive in theory and mischevious in practice, leading to anarchy and confusion; and, to the joy of tyrants, adopt the laudible example, so recently set, of that nation whose fashion of dress it has hitherto contented us to ape while we detested and avoided their pernicious principles. Let us have our own Napoleon, an Emperor or a Czar, to repress the licentiousness engendered by freedom, and thus consult, adopt, establish and forever guarantee the principl a and enjoyment of order and established law.

And now, in closing the remarks which I have thus made on this important question, I am constrained to express my confident, my fixed opinion, that in the case under consideration the Speaker has acted, as charged in the words of the resolution, in a manner unwarranted by authority, and in violation of the Rules of the House. In saying this, however, let me be distinctly understood, as by no means questioning or impugning the purity of his motives. In the midst of the confusion and disorder of which I have heard so much, but which I am happy to say, I did not witness, it should afford no matter of astonishment that, whilst honestly and eagerly desirous of maintaining the authority and dignity of his station, he should have slipped some little way out of his prescribed sphere. And let me add, moreover, that for these reasons I regret the introduction of these resolutions; and I sincerely hope their mover will consent to such a modification of them, that they may simply express the sense of the House in regard to what shall be the settled rule hereafter—that henceforth there may be no conflict of opinion in reference thereto; thus enabling us, without distraction, to subserve and promote the important interests entrusted to our charge.

☞ According to the latest advice, Santa Anna was on his way to Mexico, where, it is said, he has some chance of again figuring at the head of affairs. The Philadelphia Ledger gives the following summary of his career:—

"He has gone through all political changes, from a royalist to a republican, federalists, centralist, democrat and aristocrat. In 1821 he assisted in expelling the royalists from Vera Cruz, and obtained the command of the city under Iturbide. In 1822 he was deposed, and began a war against his late superior, and succeeded in overthrowing him. In 1824 he supported Guerrero against Pedrazza. In 1830 he went over to the side of Pedrazza, fought and conquered his former friends, and intrigued for the Presidency. In 1833 he obtained the office he sought, and was recognized as President. In 1835 he conquered the Reform party, and became Dictator. He was taken prisoner in the Texas War of independence, but when released, recovered supremacy at home. The revolution of Paderes hurled him from power, and drove him into exile. The war of the United States against Mexico, recalled him to rank and importance. His defeat again drove him from Mexico, and now he has the best chance of being again ruler over the destinies of that country.

☞ An extensive Printing Office—The Boston Times gives the following description of the composing room of the New York Herald:

"The composing room of the New York Herald establishment is probably the largest on this continent. It is in the fifth story of the building, and has a front of one hundred feet on Fulton, and seventy five on Nassau. There are employed in it, one foreman-in-chief, a night editor who is also a printer, an assistant foreman with a deputy, four proof readers, a revisor, a corrector of revised proofs, a man whose duty it is to take the proofs, another who attends to standing advertisements, two ship news compositors, a man who distributes type as occasion require, and clears away pi, forty four regular compositors, and two printer's devils. There are also about twenty "Substitutes," or chance men, whose services are at the disposal of the establishment in case of emergency—the whole forming a total of eighty one persons. It seems but yesterday eight good compositors performed all the labor in that department of this now immense concern.

Maine Law at Albany.

We understand that the Assembly's Committee on Petitions for a Liquor law in our State resembeling that of Maine, have nearly completed their labors, and may be expected to report a bill to day, or at all events within the present week. To this preperation they have devoted much time and thought, having the counsel and aid of eminent jurists and lawyers, and the result is a bill which will give great satisfaction to all friends of Temperance and Moral Reform. It will be shorter than the act of Maine, but not less stringent, while some of its provisions are calculated to render it more efficient and easily enforced than the Prohibitory laws of other States have been.

In one important respect a signal improvement has been made. Instead of Town Agents or other functionaries appointed to sell Alcoholic Liquors for Medical or Mechanical purposes, this bill provides that any citizen may obtain a permit to sell for such purposes by applying to the proper authority, giving bonds that he will not abuse the privilege, and taking an oath not to sell except in consistency with the provisions and intent of this act. Thus all fancied inconvenience arising from inability to procure Liquors for legitimate uses will be obviated, while the rowdy slang concerning Town Grog-shops, &c., will be effectually silenced.—[N. Y. Tribune.

The Great Snoring Committee.—It is usual to designate Parliament committees by the names of the bills which they sit to consider. A bill some years ago introduced into the House of Lords, for enclosing lands in the parish of Great Snoring, in the county of Norfolk, and was in regular course committed to a select committee.—It is sometimes a practice to move, that on a select committee, all the lords who attend in shall have voices; and Lord Eldon, then Lord Chancellor, one day rose with the greatest gravity, and said:

"I request your lordship's serious attention to the motion I am about to put—it is, that all the lords who attend the Great Snoring Committee shall have voices."

Diamonds in South Carolina.—The Asheville News says that it is reported that Mr. Deaver, in the north end of Buncombe, has recently found a substance strongly resembelling, and believed by many to be the pure diamond. At all events, it will cut both glass and steel.—He will no doubt have the matter properly examined. Should it prove to be the diamond, his fortune is made, as he has several pieces of large size.

The Republican.

KEESEVILLE:

Saturday Morning, March 12.

The Union of Lakes, the Union of Lands,
The Union of States none can sever,
The Union of Hearts the Union of Hands,
The Flag of Our UNION—Forever."

Mechanic's Institute & Society for the promotion of all industrial pursuits.—We perceive that there is quite a strong under current in favor of such a society—that it is being made the subject of conversation in those circles most interested and most likely to put it forward to an organization. The Ausable Valley is peculiarly adapted to such a society—nor yet alone the Ausable Valley, but it would embrace both Clinton and Essex Counties. We hope to see it take a form and shape ere many days. It needs only a public call to gather its friends in convention, and the thing will be done. Who leads off?

London Quarterly Review.—Leonard Scott & Co.—The present No. of this Review contains "Vauxhall Factory Schools," "Life and Letters of Mr. Justice Story," which pays a just tribute to the memory of the eminent jurist, in the course of which the learned critic hits the democracy as follows: "It is not creditable to the Democracy of the United States that whenever it most prevails will be found the greatest jealousy of the judicial power, evidenced not merely by a desire to lower the remuneration of judges; but to keep them dependent, both even as to the permanence of their salary and the tenure of their office, on the popular will." "Indian Administration," "Meteors, Aerolites, Shooting star," "Cloister Life of Charles V.," "Montalembert on Catholic Interests," "The British Museum," "Memoirs of Wordsworth," which is a very instructive article, and "The Budget and its results."

Merchants' Magazine, for March.—This distinctive Magazine, distinctive because it occupies so high a ground in its particular field, that its usefulness has become engrafted on the public mind, and conducted as it is with the most marked ability, celebrated for the comprehensiveness and breadth of commercial and financial information it stands unrivalled for sound practical sense and varied usefulness. Among its articles are "Reciprocity with the British Provinces," "The London Banks." "Commerce with the Ottoman Empire—Smyrna," "The trade and Commerce of Buffalo in 1852," "New Jersey Zinc and Franklinite," "Mackenzie's Law of Partnership in England."

Blackwood for March is Received.—Its character may be inferred from its table of contents: The Garden, Lady Lee's Widowhood, Part 2; Suppliment chapters to the history of John Bull. A glimpse into the Eleusinian Mysteries. The Romance of Mairwara, Oxford University, Commission Report, Palissy the Potter, Inconie tax Reform. Whoever subscribes for this venerable old Monthly may be assured of receiving literature of a character, calculated to improve and correct the taste as well as to fill the head.

New York Alliance.—By C. C. Leigh C. J. Warren, Edward Wilkis, Editors and Proprietors. This paper is published for the benefit of the cause of temperance, which it advocates with great spirit and ability. It is issued monthly, and oftener if circumstances demand. 100 copies, 1 year $15. 1000 papers for distribution $10. As its terms indicate it is designed for gratuitous distribution. We command it to temperance men, temperance orders, Sabbath Schools, clubs, and all friendly to the cause.

The Scalpel: A Journal of Health, adapted to popular and professional reading, and the Exposure of Quackery. Edited by Edward H. Dixon, M. D.

The February No. of this popular Journal is before us, and is filled with able literary and scientific articles, which display great industry and versatility of talent. Among the most humorous are the "Medico-scrofular Biped; His conduct in the sick room;" "The Aristocratic Homeopath—a real fox;" "examination of a patients Fee-liuks." It is down on all sorts of humbuggery and quackery. Its an entertaining magazine and worthy of extensive circulation.

☞ Sometime before the appearance of the "Illustrated News," we received a circular as long as a moral law from the proprietors, announcing their bantling, with the request to publish, for which we were to receive the paper for one year. We published the prospectus and sent the papers, as requested, but have not yet received one in return. If this treatment of their country brethren is intentional, we should like to know it, so that we may know how to dispose of such "suckers" another time.

G. A. Cardwell, has just received a large stock of spring goods from the Southern market, elegantly cut in the latest fashion, and well made in the most superb style. It would be supererogation for us to say that he sells cheap, as that is a conceded fact, as is exemplified in his large and increasing business. See advertisement in another column.

☞ It is thought the session of the Senate of April.

North Elba, March 2d, 1853.

Col. Tarbell,

Dear Sir:—The result of yesterday is as follows:

Daniel Ames Esq., Dem., was yesterday elected over Milote Baker dem by a majority of 43. The rest of the town officers are principally whigs as follows:

Whigs.—Town Clerk, D. D. Osgood; Supt. Com. Schools, Pliny Nash; Assessor, John Thompson; Com. of Highways, James Merrill; Justice, M. C. Lyon; Inspector of Election, John Thompson; Overseer Poor, Samuel Dyer, Roswell Thompson; Collector, E. L. Jones; Constables, E. L. Jones, H. Brown, C. W. Avery; Sealer, D. D. Osgood.

Democrats.—Inspector of Election, Paul Whitney; Constable, J. S. B. Moody.

Your, &c.

Well done, North Elba, but it is so nearly whig, why not just "gone the whole figure" while about it? However, it is well.

Willsboro.—The following excellent ticket was elected.

Supervisor, Daniel P. Putman, Whig; Town Clerk, Levi Higby, Jr. whig; Justices of the Peace, Dudley H. Jones, whig to fill vacancy of David W. Morhous; Alkin E. Sheldon Whig, to fill vacancy of William B. Harris; John Jones, Dem. 4 years Supt. Common Schools, Alvah B. Morhouse, Whig; Assessors, Joseph Hoffnagle, Dem. to fill vacancy, Abner Reynolds, for regular term, Whig; Commissioner of high ways, Festus Jones, Whig; Overseers Poor, Charles C. Cheney, John Helm whigs; Inspectors of Elections, Abraham Weldin, whig; John Jacobs, Dem.; Collector, Elbert Richardson Whig; Constables, Elbert Richardson, whig; Jeremiah Cunningham, Dem. Joseph West; Sealer of Weights and Measures, Horace Boynton; Whigs.

Ticonderoga.—Col. Colkins, a good whig, a good Supervisor, was Elected by the handsome majority of 85, and his whig colleagues by various majorities from 27 to 77. From local causes two locofocos were elected. We give the officers elect. Democrats, L. S. Allen, Justice, J. B. Fleming, Constable and Collector. Whigs, Supervisor, William E. Calkins; Town Clerk, Albert P. Wilkie; Assessor, Charles D. Smith; Inspectors of Election, Levi Thompson, Levi H. Persons; Commissioners of Highways, William G. Baldwin, Charles N. Chillson; Overseer of the Poor, Leander R. Sayre; Constables, Hosea T. Clark, Joshua Holcomb, Aaron Wright; Sealer of Weights and Measures, John W. Reed.

Knickerbocker Magazine for March.—This inviting looking monthly is before us, and among its interesting articles are "Schediasms:" "Sketches from the cove;" "Extracts from a travellers Note Book;" "The country Doctor;" &c. &c., besides Literary Notices, and the Editor's Table.

Supervisors.—We are pleased to learn that J. R. Boughton, is re elected from Minerva. He is as good a whig as he is a superior Supervisor. We have not heard from Newcomb, but as soon as we do, we will publish a corrected list of the board elect.

Isaac Newton and George Washington.—These gentlemen—or gentlemen bearing these names—are employed in the very honorable employment of driving team in a neighboring town. They were pointed out to us as they passed on a load of lumber.

☞ Senator Seward is detained at Philadelphia by the serious illness of his wife.

☞ Judge Hubbell of the Supreme Court Bench of Wisconsin, was impeached by the Assembly of that State on Saturday.

☞ It is currently reported that Wm. Ritchie will be the new consul at Liverpool.

The Nebraska Territoral Bill was killed in the Senate. There is not much doubt of its passing at the next session.

☞ The President Fillmore is preparing to proceed South. He will be the guest at Charleston of a distinguished] Democratic politician.

☞ It will be noted that the U. S. Senate, in its last hours voted down any proposition to build National vessels with Caloric engines.

Hon. Mr. Bibbs, formerly representative in the Assembly from the city of Rochester, has been placed in the Lunatic Asylum, at Utica.

☞ The Ericsson engine is hopefully looked to, at the South West, as an agent that will prove a greater equalizer of manufacturing facilities by the saving of fuel.

☞ Gov. Martin, of New Hampshire, has appointed Thursday, the 7th day of April, to be observed as a day of fasting, humiliation, and prayer, through the State.

☞ The Legislature of Illinois has passed a License Law, authorising the sale of spirituous liquors on the payment of not less than $50 or more than $300.

Webster Market.—The new market to be erected on Market street, in Boston, is to be called the 'Webster Market.' That name will mark it above all others.

☞ The Locofocos of Pennsylvania have nominated their candidates for State Officers. The Whigs make their nominations on the 24th inst. The election takes place next October! Plenty of time allowed to canvass the qualifications and merits of the candidates.

☞ It was well remarked by an intelligent old farmer—"I would rather be taxed for the education of the boy than the ignorance of the man—for the one or the other I am compelled to do."

Think of that, ye opposers of common schools!

The Game of Billiards.—The citizens of Princeton have petitioned the Legislature for a law prohibiting billiards in that borough, which they represent an necessary to protect the morals of the college students, who are diverted from their studies by them and drawn into evil habits.

Adjournment of Congress.

THE INAUGURATION.

The Appropriation bills having been signed, the officers of the two Houses pronounced their valedictories, and at about 12 at noon declared the respective bodies adjourned sine die.

The procession moved at 12 o'clock.—The President elect stood erect in his carriage with President Fillmore by his side, surrounded by Marshals, and bowed to constant cheers, and waving handkerchiefs from the windows. The Diplomatic Corps was present in a body, in full dress, and made a fine appearance. Reaching the Capitol, the procession filed into the Senate Chamber, where the President and President elect took seats in front of the Secretary's table, with the Committee of Arrangements on the right and left. The Diplomatic Corps remained outside the Bar, and the Supreme Court Bench sat in front of the eastern lobby. At a quarter past one o'clock, the Marshal of the District, with the Judge of the Supreme Court, followed by the President and President elect and the entire assemblage in the Senate, started in procession to the Capitol, where an immense staging was erected sufficiently large to accommodate all.

At half past one o'clock, all being arranged, the oath of office was administered to General Pierce by the Chief Justice, as follows:—

"I do solemnly affirm that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect, and defend the constitution of the United States."

It will be remarked that General Pierce, in taking the oath, did not, as has been ordinarily the custom, say "I solemnly swear," but I solemnly affirm; and instead of kissing the book in Southern fashion, he raised his right hand and held it aloft until the pledge was read. The whole of the ceremony was admirably carried out. Passing through the senate chamber, Mr. Fillmore, turning off towards a side door, was momentarily separated from Gen. Pierce, when the latter said, "this way—let us work right in;" and in they went.

Immediately before the address, when General Pierce took the oath, with head uncovered, and raising one hand to heaven, while he laid the other on the Holy Book, the spectators also uncovered, even in the snow that was falling at that time, and many of them lifted up their hands as if an act of the most fervent devotion. It was a solemn scene. The address, which the President delivered unfaltering, from memory, and without a single note, was received with great enthusiasm by the vast multitude, particularly those portions of it that asserted the Monroe doctrine, the protection of American citizens abroad, the firm adherence of the President to the compromise measures, and his his determination to carry out the Fugitive Slave Law. The sentiments—the tone of the address—the earnest manner in which it was spoken—his beautiful action—his manly, erect appearance—his pale cast of countenance, all combined to make a deep impression in favor of General Pierce. He remained with his hat off until the close of the proceedings. The ladies were in ecstacies, an so anxious were some who happened to be in the rear to see and hear him, that they climed upon the pediments of the columns of the Capitol, to their no small danger. Altogether, it was a glorious spectacle.

On the completion of the address, the procession again formed and proceeded along the avenue, escorting President Pierce to the executive mansion, and leaving Mr. Fillmore at Willard's.

The immense area on the eastern front of the Capitol was one compact mass of people, not one third of whom could hear.

After having received a host of people at the White House, General Pierce retired, and the doors closed. Ex-President Fillmore took up his qurter at three o'clock in the room at Willard's, vacated by his successor two hours previously. A few friends dined with General Pierce at the Whith House, but Mr. Fillmore, consulting the General's repose, declined.

The Whig Secretaries, by request of General Pierce, will hold over, until the confirmation of the new Cabinet, which is expected to occur to-day.

AN ACT in relation to plank roads in the counties of Clinton and Essex.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly do enact as follows:

Section 1. The Ausable Plank Road Company, the Saranac River Plank Road Company, and all other plank road companies now organized or which may hereafter be organized, in the counties of Clinton and Essex, or in either of those counties, may demand and receive, in addition to the tolls they are authorized to collect by section thirty-five of the general plank road act, passed May seventeen hundred and forty-seven, entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation of companies to construct plank roads, and companies to construct turnpike roads," to not exceeding one and a half cents per mile for any vehicle drawn by two animals; and for any vehicle drawn by more than two animals, one and a half cent per mile for every additional animal; and for every vehicle drawn by one animal, three quarters of a cent per mile; provided however, that in no case shall any plank road company charge or receive, under the provisions of this act, rates of toll which will enable said company to divide more, nor shall any company divide more than ten per cent per annum on the cost of their road, actually paid and expended thereon, after keeping the said road in repair and paying the ordinary and incidental expenses thereof, and appropriating not exceeding fifteen per cent per annum on the cost of their road, expended thereon as aforesaid, as a fund for the reconstruction thereof when necessary.

§ 2. The directors of any such plank road company shall have power to establish a tariff of tolls for their respective roads upon the different kind of vehicles passing the gates thereon, with the right to discriminate between loaded and unloaded teams, but which shall in no case exceed the rates of toll prescribed in the preceding section; and they shall in addition to what is now required to be stated in their annual report to the secretary of state, specify the tariff of tolls established by them for the preceding year.

§ 3. Every person who, to avoid the payment of the toll established by the preceding section, shall, with his team, carriage or horse turn out of a plank road, or pass any gate thereon and again enter on such road, shall for each offence forfeit the sum of five dollars to the company owning such road.

Railroad Fare.—Cheapness is the order of the times. It has already been settled that the fare between Troy and Buffalo, the coming season, is to be reduced to $6. The Albany Journal is informed by a gentleman connected with the Lake Erie and Mad River Railroad in Ohio, that it is the purpose of the Company to carry passengers from Cincinnati to Buffalo for four dollars. They are building two splendid Lake steamers to run between Sandusky City and Buffalo, in connection with that road. Thus the fare from Troy to Cincinnati is to be but $10; and from New York to Cincinnati, $11,50.

The Cabinet.

The President transmitted to the Senate, yesterday, his Cabinet nominations, and they were unanimously confirmed:

Secretary of State—Wm. L. Marcy.
Secretary of Treasury—James Guthrie.
Secretary of the Interior—Robert McClelland.
Secretary of War—Jefferson Davis.
Secretary of the Navy—James C. Dobbin.
Postmaster General—James Campbell.
Attorney General—Caleb Cushing.

"Biddy, my Darlint"—The following was picked up in the street a few days since accompanying a little bunch of glossy brown hair, which looked as if it had been milled out with a fine tooth comb:

O, h. Biddy my darlint
Here's a lock o' my hair,
An' if there's a snarl in it,
Devil a bit do I care,
Ony how!

I'm goin' aff, Biddy,
To wark on the track:
Ye can take it and kape it
Until I get back,
If ye like;

but if ye don't ye can take it to the devil with ye, be dad I'm not at all particklar.—Ex.

Enigma.

I am composed of 24 letters.

My 8, 2, 10, 13, 13, 11, 15, is what all Yankees love to do

My 16, 21, 11, 4, 18, 13, 11, 7, is an adverb.

My 1, 21, 11, 3, is a healthy beverage.

My 20, 6, 22, 18, 2, 5, is a ladies name.

My 5, 2, 10, 11, sometimes means to salute.

My 19, 21, 18, is what all are prone to.

My 20, 23, 6, 11, 13, 14, is what we should all endeavor to preserve.

My 13, 9, 6, 1, 12, 16, is the name of a river in Europe.

My 24, 17, 22, is an indispensable agent to vegatation.

My 4, 2, 24, 13, is one of the points of compass.

My 8, 14, 21, 13, 15, is the color of a race of men.

My 19, 14, 17, 22, signifies to avoid.

My 16, 20, 2, 1, is a failure.

My 20, 6, 1, was one of the sons of Noah.

My whole is an ancient Proverb.

Gulia.

Keeseville, February 19th, 1853.

CHARADE.

Although my first you ne'er have seen;
To it you owe a debt extreme;
It gave you life when first twas yours,
And now tis why that life endures:
It enters even to Congress hall,
Makes friends at once with each and all
For when they lack that thought profound
By this it is they men astound.
My next and last all beauty gives.
With life and strength to all that lives;
You see it now before your eyes,
By Vice alone is it despised.
My whole protects the lives of men,
Murder and theft grow fearful when
My whole discloses all their acts;
And shows to truth undarkened facts.

Suivalp.

Keeseville, Feb. 19th, 1853.

Rebus.—What line in Shakespeare represented by the following letters:

KIND

Married.

In this village on Wednesday morning the 9th inst., by Rev. W. Griffin, Mr. Seth Johnson, of Canton, N. Y., and Miss Martha Perry, of Keeseville.

Died.

In Chesterfield, February 8th, Hayet, only son of Stephen and Sybil Law, aged 5y 5m, 13 days.

He was a child of much promise and now fallen into the arms of death. We can hardly feel that it is so, he was so lately among us, yet the vacant place and dread silence tell us he is not here.

The dear child we cherished,
With tenderest care,
Untimely hath perished
As all that is fair.

More fondly we loved him
Than language can tell,
Stern death hath removed him
But yet "all is well"

Aye, and let us rejoice
'Mid anguish and pain,
Assured that our loss
To him is great gain. S. I.

Meteorological Table.

By J. R. R.

1853.	7A. M.	1P. M.	6P. M.
Feb. 25th	16°	24°	21
" 26th	11°	25°	29
" 27th	15°	27°	20
" 28th	26°	30°	29
March 1st	33°	40°	36
" 2d	62°	43°	36
" 3d	29°	38°	34
" 4th	28°	39°	28
" 5th	25°	33°	30
" 6th	21°	41°	34
" 7th	25°	45°	35
" 8th	35°	40°	36
" 9th	25°	38°	35
" 10th	8°	25°	20

Keeseville, March 11th, 1853.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Selling off at Cost!

Barnum will sell the remainder of his ~~entire~~ stock of Hats, Caps, Furs, Fancy Robes, Gloves, Mittens, &c., at cost. A good assortment of Trunks, Valises, Ladies and Gentlemen's Satchels and Carpet Bags, Umbrellas, Canes, Buckskin Gloves and Mittens, &c., on hand.

J. W. BARNUM.

College Street, 2nd Door from Church. Burlington, Vt., Feb. 1, 1853.

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT has been made in the payment of the debt secured by a certain mortgage, dated the 21st day of October, 1847, executed by William Galusha and Sophia, his wife, then of Wilmington, in the County of Essex, State of N. Y., to Uriah D. Mihills of Keene, in the county and state aforesaid, and recorded in the office of the clerk of Essex county, in volume N. of Mortgages, pages 283 and 284, on the 28th day of December, 1847, at nine o'clock, A. M. Said mortgage was duly assigned by said Mihills to Willard Bell, January 14th, 1848, and by said Bell duly assigned to Reuben Patridge, January 30, 1849, and by said Patridge duly assigned to M. Finch, Amos Avery and Charles Malbone, assignees of Reuben Sanford, January 1st, 1849, who are now the owners of said mortgage. There is claimed to be due on said mortgage, at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $167.93. Now therefore, notice is hereby given that the premises described in said mortgage, will, by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, be sold at public auction, at the Adirondac Hotel, in Keeseville, in said county, on the 8th day of June next at 1 o'clock, P. M.

Said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage as follows: All that certain piece or parcel of land situate in the town of Wilmington, in the county of Essex, being a part of lot No 34, of Mallory's grant, bounded as follows: beginning at a stake and stones standing on the North line of the Sampson lot, 141 rods from the centre of the road leading from the Carpenter house to Blish and Burdick's forge, being the South-West corner of Ephraim French's land, and running East on said line to the West line of said grant, thence North on the line of said grant to the centre of the road leading from Sanford's to St Armand, thence running Easterly in the centre of said road to a stake and stones, being the North-West corner of a piece of land occupied by David Hatch, thence South 42 degrees, West six rods to the South bank of Mill Brook, thence Easterly along the South bank of said brook 30 rods to a stake and stones being the South-East corner of said Hatch lot, thence North 35 degrees East to the centre of said road, thence Easterly in the centre of said road to the North-West corner of the Carpenter lot, thence South on the line of said Carpenter lot to the South-west corner of said lot, thence East on the line of said lot to the brook, thence up the brook in the centre thereof to a point ten rods below the sawmill, and thence on the South bank of said brook on the line of Ephraim French's lot to the North-west corner thereof, thence South 43 degrees west on the line of said French's lot 126 rods to the place of beginning, containing seventy-five acres, be the same more or less.

M. FINCH,
AMOS AVERY,
CHAS. MALBONE. } Assignees.

FINCH & HARWOOD, Atty's.
Dated March 12, 1853. 462-13w

To Printers & Publishers.

THE undersigned is a manufacturer of Printing Ink, of every color and quality, which he knows to be equal to any manufactured, which he will sell at the lowest prices for cash. As he is determined that his ink shall recommend itself, he only solicits One Trial of it, relying upon its own merits.

Extra fine jet Black Ink for card and wood cut printing; extra blank book and news Ink of superior quality: also colored Ink of every variety. S. M. PETTENGILL & Co., 10 State street, Boston, agents for the N. England States.

SHELDON COLLINS,
50 State-st., N. Y.

☞ Publishers of newspapers inserting this advertisement; including this paragraph, to the amount of $2, and sending, $5 and a paper containing it, we will send 35 lbs. of news Ink.

S. M. PETTENGILL & Co.
10 State Street, Boston.

Potatoes for Sale.

SEVERAL new kinds, raised from the ball. I planted two bushels and three pecks, last year, and I dug 140 bushels from the same. Any one wishing to improve in potatoe raising would do well to call and get one or two bushels. Price only one dollar per bushel. JOHN STRANAHAN.

Chesterfield, March 12, 1853. 461 3w

NOTICE.

WHEREAS my wife Hannah, has left my bed and board without any just cause or provocation on my part, notice is hereby given forbidding all persons trusting or harboring her on my account, as I will pay no debts of her contracting after this date.

EZEKIEL CHAPMAN.

Black Brook, March 1st, 1853. 461

BOOKS.

JUST RECEIVED FROM NEW YORK.

FRANK Freeman's Barber Shop. A new and deeply interesting story, written in a style similar to Uncle Tom's Cabin. The White Slave. Uncle Tom's Cabin, both bound and in pamphlet. Ike Marvil's Dream Life. Reveries of a Bachelor, &c., &c. Cabin and Parlor. Byron's, Willis', Heman's and other Poems. Mitchell's Lectures on Astronomy.

Sold by I. A. HASBROUCK.
Keeseville, March 1st, 1853. 461

FOR SALE.

2764 ACRES in Township No 8, old Millity Tract Franklin Co., 412 acres in No 9, Kellogg's Survey, 150 acres in Township 12 Great Tract No. 1, McComb's purchase.

BENEDICT & WOOD.
Glens Falls, Feb. 24th 1853. 461-3w

FARM FOR SALE.

ABOUT ¼ miles from the village of Keeseville, containing 110 acres, beautifully situated, good soil, well watered, all necessary buildings, nearly new and in good repair, good orchard with grafted fruit, and wood enough for the use of the farm.

If the purchaser wishes one half the purchase money can remain on bond and mortgage from 10 to 20 years.

Wm. TAYLOR.
Keeseville, March 3d, 1853 461-4w

WANTED.

20 POUNDS Saffron for which CASH will be paid. I. A. HASBROUCK.
Feb. 24th, 1853. 461-4w

BUTTER FOR SALE.

Large quantity of good dairy Butter bought in large and small packages of the finest quality for sale at BOYNTON & SMITH.
Keeseville Jan. 27, 1853.

The Illustrated Magazine of Art.

In Monthly Parts. Price 25 cents each

Every arrangement has been made to produce a work of unparalleled magnificence, regardless of cost.

The Editor, Mr Cassell, has published a similar work in England during the past year, under the title of "Illustrated Exhibitor and Magazine of Art," the circulation of which has averaged 60,000 each number.

Encouraged by the success which has attended this enterprise, he has resolved to present to the American public a magazine of still higher pretensions—one, indeed, which will prove the pictorial wonder of the age. Each number will consist of sixty eight pages, royal octavo, printed on the finest paper. The illustrations will be intrusted to the first artists of the world.—Six monthly parts will form a handsome volume.

The work will be so conducted as to embrace the greatest variety of matter in its various departments, upon each of which the highest literary talent will be employed.

The following is a brief outline of the plan of the Magazine:—

I. The Historical Department will abound with picturesque representations of the most remarkable events which have occurred in this and other countries; accompanied with interesting anecdotes and details from the pens of the most eminent writers of the day. This department will contain several splendid engravings, designed by the first artists of the world, engraved in the highest style of modern art.

II. The Men and Women of the Age—This department will consist of beautifully executed portraits of the leading characters of the age, especially of those who figure on the stage of humanity as the world's benefactors. Each portrait will be accompanied by an interesting biographical sketch.

III. The wonders of Natural History, Botany, and other sciences, will be developed in choice Engravings of Beasts, Birds, Fishes, Insects, Forest Trees, Flowers, Geological and Fossil specimens, &c., with accompanying descriptions.

IV. The triumphs of Architectural Art will be displayed in exquisitely finished representations of Cathedrals, Churches, Palaces, and other models of ancient and modern Architectural Art.

V. The works of the Great Masters, selected from the principal Galleries of Art in the world. In general, the portrait of the Master will be given, accompanied with a highly finished, engraved copy of his chef d'œuvre.

VI. The scientific portions will be rendered highly interesting by the familiar explanations, and the numerous diagrams, which will accompany each subject.

VII. Manufactures. The principal manufacturing process in use will be fully explained by minute details, and an abundance of beautiful engravings.

VIII. Machinery and Inventions will have due attention paid to them, and be described by numerous appropriate engravings.

IX. Ladies' Work Table Department will contain a rich variety of elegant and original patterns for various kinds of useful and ornamental work, with ample directions for copying them.

X. The literary department, independently of the various articles accompanying the illustrations, will comprise original and interesting narratives, contributed by the most popular writers of the day, with numerous illustrations.

In addition to the numerous and beautiful engravings incorporated in the letter press, each number will contain four splendid engravings, and printed in a very superior manner upon superfine plate paper.

In every respect the Illustrated Magazine of Art will be decidedly superior to any pictorial magazine of the day. The paper the typography, the engravings, the literary articles, will far surpass its successful predecessor published in England, upon which such high eulogiums have been pronounced by the whole public press. Six of the monthly portions, when completed, will form a volume, which for interest, originality, value and beauty, will defy competition. It will not only be an interesting family book, but a rich ornament for the drawing room table, and a pleasant companion in the study. ☞TERMS-$3 a year; to Clubs of three or more, $2.50 if paid in advance for twelve months, it will be sent postage free to any part of the Union.

AGENTS WANTED in every town throughout the U. S.

Any person receiving the first number, and canvassing with the same, will be certain of securing a large number of subscribers. No just conception can be formed of the elegance and beauty of the work from merely reading a printed prospectus. The Illustrations contained in each number will entail a cost, in drawing and engraving, of $2500 or $3 00. All communications relating to the work to be addressed to ALEXANDER MONTGOMERY,

Publisher, 17 Spruce street, N. Y.

STATE OF NEW YORK, } SS.
County of Essex.

The undersigned, Clerk of said County, hereby gives notice that at the County Clerk's office in Elizabethtown, in said County, on the 28th day of February inst at 10 o'clock, A. M. of that day, he will draw the names of 36 persons to serve as Petit Jurors at a County Court and Court of Sessions to be held at the Court House, in said town on the third Tuesday in March next, at 10 o'clock A. M. of that day.

Given and dated at the County Clerk's Office, this 14th day of February 1853.

E. A. ADAMS, Clerk

STATE OF NEW YORK. } SS.
County of Essex,

The undersigned Clerk of said County hereby gives notice that at the Co Clerk's office in Elisabethtown in said County on the 28th day of Feb. inst at 10 o'clock A. M. he will draw the names of twenty four persons to serve as Grand Jurors at a County Court and Court of Sessions to be held at the Court House in said Town on the third Tuesday of March next, at 10 o'clock A. M. of that day.

Given and dated at the County Clerk's office this 14th day of February A. D. 1852.

E. A. ADAMS, Clerk.

Miscellaneous.

Insurance Agency.

National Protection Insurance Company,
Saratoga Springs, Capital, $200,000
Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance Company,
West Scotia, N. Y, Capital, $100,000
Northern N. Y Mutual Insurance Company,
Plattsburgh, N. Y, Capital, $100,000
Knickerbocker Fire Insurance Company,
Waterford, N. Y., Capital, $200,000
Northern N. Y. Live Stock Ins. Company,
Plattsburgh, N. Y., Capital, $50,000
Charter Oak Life Insurance Company,
Hartford, Vt., Capital, $200,000

Policies in the National Protection Insurance Co., and the Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance issued by the undersigned.

JAMES B. DICKINSON.
Office, Ausable Forks, N. Y.
Saratoga Springs, Feb'y 7th, 1852.

WE, the undersigned, JOHN WILLARD, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court for the 4th Judicial District of the State of New York, and a resident of Saratoga Springs, with AUGUSTUS BOCKES, First Judge of the County of Saratoga, being likewise a resident of Saratoga Springs, and JOHN C. HULBURT, Surrogate of the County of Saratoga, also a resident of Saratoga Springs—do hereby Certify, that we are personally acquainted with the men composing the Board of Directors of the National Protection Insurance Company of Saratoga Springs. We take pleasure in availing ourselves of this opportunity in recommending to the Public, from a personal knowledge of the responsibility and character of their Board of Directors, that this Company is a sound and reliable Institution, will deal fairly with the assured, and are fully competent to pay their losses. We therefore unhesitatingly recommend this Company as an Institution in every respect worthy of a liberal patronage.

JOHN WILLARD,
A. BOCKES,
JNO. C. HULBURT.

JAMES B. DICKINSON,
Policy Agent, Ausable Forks.
Ausable Forks, Feb. 5th, 1852. 457-tf

CHINA, GLASS, & EARTHEN WARE.

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

[SUCCESSORS TO PEIRCE AND KING,]

IMPORTERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS,
235 River Street Troy, New York.

Having our stock very complete from Importations, and otherwise, are prepared to offer a large assortment of all Goods in our Line Wholesale or Retail, at the Lowest New York or Boston Prices for Cash or Approved Credit, a count which will be found:

Fine White Ironstone and White Glazed Ware, Flown Blue, Flown Mulberry, Light Blue and common Wares, and the Acadia Ware, formerly kept by Mr A. Slason.

White Gold Band and Decorated French China, in sets or assorted prices.

Tea sets, of French and English China white, Gilt, or decorated India China in great variety.

Toilet Sets, decorated or plain, full, double, or single sets.

Cut Glass Ware, in Decanters, Goblets Champagne Wines &c., of new and rich patterns. Glass cut to match any pattern.

Moulded and plain Glass Ware, of every description and style.

Girandoles, Candelabras, Solar Lamps, and Chandeliers in every variety, from the manufactury of Cornelius & Co. Philadelphia.

Solar Globes, cut and Plain, Solar and Camphene Wicks and Chimnies, Astral and Sat Wicks, Boat Globes, Astral Chimnies &c. &c.

Hall Lamps of great variety, plain and stained Glass.

Lamps of every variety. A large and desirable style of Lamps for each, &c., for Railroads and Steamboats, and made to order with names or initials engraved on.

Tea Trays and Waiters, new styles and shapes of our own importation, many in sets.

Looking Glasses, Britannia Ware Table Mats &c., &c.

Also a splendid assortment of Fancy Goods, consisting of Vases, Colognes, Card receivers, Albumets, Decanters, Wine Bottles, &c., to China, Terra Cotta, Parian Marble, and Bohemian Ware,

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK,
235 River Street, Opposite Troy House, Troy, N. Y.
ALFRED H. PEIRCE, } 445
LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK.

Gas, Steam & Water Fitting

and Fixtures, Wrought-Iron Pipe, Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Plumbers' Materials, &c.

We are now prepared to do work in dwellings, Stores, Churches, Mills, or Factories, in the way of Gas and Steam Fitting or Plumbing, in the most complete and satisfactory manner. Having workmen in each of the above branches who cannot be excelled by any similar establishments in this country all orders will be promptly executed, and work done in any part of the country.

We have also constantly on hand and for Sale at Manufacturers' Prices. Wrought Iron Pipe for Gas, Steam and water, Twisted and Plain Brass Pipe Steam Valves, Brass and Iron Stop Cocks, Tees, Elbows, Coupling, Brass Globe, Gas and Check Valves, &c. Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Leather Hose, Hose Pipe and Couplings, with every material in Lead, Brass and Pressed Work for Plumbers' use.—Plue Basins, Hangers, Closet Pans, Corner Basins, and Baths, of all descriptions.

Also, a splendid assortment of Chandeliers, Pendants, Brackets &c., of new and rich styles, to which we are receiving constant additions.

PEIRCE and SOUTHWICK.
223 and 235 River-Street, (Opposite Troy House,) Troy, N. Y 446-tf
ALFRED H PEIRCE, LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK.

WAR DECLARED

—BETWEEN—

France and England!!!

WOULD not create as great a sensation among the inhabitants of this portion of country as the proclamation of war on high prices by CARDWELL in the sale of

Ready-Made Clothing.

That war declared Oct. 1st, 1851, still rages with unabating and increasing fury; but in its progress its path is not marked with bloodshed, carnage and desolation as the wars of one Nation against another; on the other hand its fruits are smiling faces (NOT OF OTHER DEALERS) and glad hearts; go, ask the honest and hardy inhabitants of our pine clad hills, and our pleasant valleys, where he buys his CLOTHING, and he will answer you with a smile,

WHY AT CARDWELL'S, OF COURSE!

That is the place where you can obtain the latest style, a genteel fit, and well made suit of clothes for less money than at any other Store in northern New York.

Why, says one man, I have saved money enough by purchasing my Clothing this Fall at

CARDWELL'S CHEAP STORE

to buy me a good Cow. ☞This is no fiction: living witnesses can be produced that will testify to the truth of it.

N. B. Saturday March the 5th

will arrive a large and magnificent assortment of Spring and Summer Clothing, when the Spring and Summer Fashions will be introduced. Every description of garments always to be found at CARDWELL'S One Price cheap

CLOTHING WARE ROOM'S,
ADIRONDAC HOTEL BUILDINGS,
Keeseville N. Y.

G. A. CARDWELL.

PIANO FORT EMPORIUM.

361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. The most extensive and varied assortment of ROSEWOOD PIANO FORTES, plain and ornamental, elegant patterns, elaborately carved and highly finished with Pearl keys, all of our own manufacture, and warranted in every particular, can be found at our Warerooms, 361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

437-1y SPENCER & CO.

WANTED,

A farm containing not less than 200 acres in the town of Chesterfield, Ausable or Peru, on which must be good Dwelling House and out Buildings and otherwise under good cultivation. One answering the above Description will meet with sale for cash. Enquire of Benj. MINER.

Port Kent, Feb. 22d, 1853.

EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR.

50 BARRELS made from Pure Genesee Wheat at the lowest price

REYNOLDS &

Feb. 15, 1853.

Miscellaneous.

LEONARD SCOTT & Co's

LIST OF
BRITISH PERIODICAL
PUBLICATIONS.

Delivered in all the principal Cities in the United States, free of Postage, and forwarded by Mail, under the provisions of the late Post Office Law, at merely nominal rates.

1. THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW (Conservative)
2. THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (Whig.)
3. THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church.)
4. The WESTMINSTER REVIEW. (Liberal.)
5. BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tory.)

Although these works are destinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary Character which gives them their chief value, and in this they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the fatherly care of Christopher North, maintains its celebrity, and is, at this time, unusually attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that magazine, and first appearing in its columns both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such, works as "The Caxtons" and "My New Novel," (both by Bulwer,) "True Green Hand," "Katie Stewart," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Messrs Scott & Co., so that Subscribers to the Reprint of that Magazine may always rely on having the earliest reading of these fascinating tales.

Terms and Premiums.

[See list of Premium Volumes below.]

	per ann.
For any 1 of the 4 Reviews and one Prem. vol.	$3,00
For any 2 of the 4 Reviews and one prem vol.	5,00
For any 3 of the 4 Reviews and two prem. vol.	7,00
For all four of the Reviews and two prem vol.	8,00
For Blacwood's Magazine and one prem. vol	3,00
For Blackwood's & 3 Reviews and three prem vol.	9,00
For Blackwood's & the 4 Reviews and three prem. vol.	10,00

Payments to be made in all cases in advance.

The Premiums consist of the following works, back volumes of which will be given to new subscribers according to the number of periodicals ordered, as above explained.—

PREMIUM VOLUMES.

Foreign Quarterly Review (one year.)
Blackwood's Magazine (six months)
London Quarterly Review (one year.)
Bentley's Miscellaney (six months.)
Edinburgh Review (one year.)
Metropolitan Magazine (six months)
Westminster Review (one year.)

Consecutive Premium volumes cannot in all cases be furnished, except of the Foreign Quarterly Review. To prevent disappointment, therefore, where that work is not alone wanted Subscribers will please order as many different works for premiums as there are volumes to which they may be entitled.

CLUBBING.

A discount of twenty five per cent from the above prices will be allowed to Clubs ordering four or more copies of any one or more of the above works. Thus: Four copies of Blackwood, or of one Review, will be sent to one address for $9; four copies of the four Reviews and Blackwood for $30; and so on.

No premiums will be given where the above allowance is made to Clubs, nor will premiums in any case be furnished, unless the subscription money is paid in full to the Publishers without recourse to an agent. Money current in the State where issued will be received at par.

Reduced Postage.

The following table will show the great reduction which has been made on these periodicals since 1843, and the vary trifling rates now charged.

	Per annum.
Prior to 1845, the postage on Blackwood was	$2 40
Prior to 1845, the postage on a single Review	1 12
From 1845 to 1851, the postage on Blackwood was	1 00
From 1845 to 1851, the postage on a Review was	50
In 1851 52 [average rate] on Blackwood was	75
In 1851 52 [average rate] on a Review	38
The present postage on Blackwood, is	24
The present postage on a Review is	12

[The rates are now uniform for all distances within the United States.]

At these rates surely no objection should be made to receive the works by mail, and thus ensuring their speedy, safe, and regular delivery.

☞Remittances and communications should be always addressed, post-paid, to the Publishers,

LEONARD SCOTT & Co.,
79 Fulton Street, (entrance 54 Gold street,) 1y65 NEW YORK.

$20 a Day.

Book Agents wanted, to sell Hayward's Gazateer of the United States,

Just published and now ready for Canvassers.

THIS work, so invaluable to business men, gives a history of the settlement, general surface of the soil and state of agriculture, manufactures and population of every town in the United States, with valuable statistical tables a new map of the United States, &c.

An agent wanted for this county. Apply immediately to

HORACE WENTWORTH,
447-6w 86 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Bounty Lands

PURCHASED AND OBTAINED BY

GEO. MOORE, Plattsburgh, N. Y.
December 3, 1852. 448tf

CLAPBOARDS.

Planed Clapboards for sale by

E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Business Cards.

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS,

(Successor to Nichols & Warren,)

WHOLESALE PAPER WAREHOUSE

And Paged Blank Book Manufactory,

—JOBBER AND RETAIL DEALER IN—

School and Classical Books,

English, French and American Stationery, and Artist's Materials,

No. 4, Leavenworth Block, College Street,
BURLINGTON, Vt.

☞Bank, Blank, Check or Memorandum Books made to order, from the best of Paper, and bound in the most thorough manner. All work warranted. Terms Cash. 448 tf

---

AUSABLE HOUSE,

MAIN STREET KEESEVILLE N. Y.

This large and convenient Hotel having been throughly repaired and refurnished, is now open for the reception of visitors and the accommodation of the

TRAVELLING PUBLIC.

The Ausable House is one of the largest and best arranged in Northern New York. No pains will be spared to make it a pleasant and popular resort for

PLEASURE PARTIES,

and Transient Visitors, as well as a comfortable Home for those wishing permanent Board and Rooms.

Good Horses and Carriages, furnished at all times on the most reasonable terms.

The patronage of the public is most respectfully solicited.

J. W. REYNOLDS.
Keeseville Nov. 1st 1852. 445. 3m.

Livery Stable

BY

GEORGE G. FULLER.

HEAD OF MAIN STREET

(a few steps from the Bank.)

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

Where may be found at all times, the best of Horses and Carriages, on the most reasonable terms.

Montgomery House,

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA,

BY

Sherman & Wheelock.

K. SHERMAN. THERON WHEELOCK.

☞Mr. Sherman was late a merchant at Moriah, Essex Co., N. Y., and Mr. Wheelock was late of the Mansion House, Troy, N. Y. 427tf

---

GEORGE P. WILKINSON,

(Successor to G. P. & J. B. Wilkinson.)

MANUFACTURER AND JOBBER IN

CLOTHING,

154 River Street, Corner of Congress,
427 tf TROY, N. Y.

G. P. SANBORN & Co.

APOTHECARIES HALL.

BURLINGTON, VT.

DEALERS IN

Drugs and Medicines, Chemical Perfumery, Leech, Surgical Instruments, Gold and Tin Foil, Patent Medicines, and every variety of articles usually kept in this line of Business.

Oct. 23d, 1852. 6 m.

GEO. S. TARBELL,

WHOLESALE GROCER,

DEALER IN OIL AN

General Commission Merchant,

No. 65 Quay-Street,

ALBANY.

ADKINS & FULLER,

Booksellers, Stationers, Binders

—AND—

PAPER RULERS,

KEEP constantly on hand or will supply Books, Maps, Charts, Pictures, Frames, and Periodicals of all kinds. Also Publications of the American Tract Society. Bibles and Sabbath School Books at their very low depository prices.

One door east of Pierce & Davey's Agricultural Store on College Street.

C. S. ADKINS, E. A. FULLER.
Burlington, July 4, 1850. 323

H. C. Blanchrd, M. D.,

HOMŒOPATHIC PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

Office 2 doors below Ausable House.
Rooms at Ausable House. 430

D. M. ARNOLD

Engineer and Surveyor,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

SURVEYING & Leveling for Rail Roads, Plank Roads, Mill Seats, &c. Land Surveying of all kinds done on shortest notice.

Office opposite the Ausable House.

425tf

Dewey & Havens,

ATTORNIES AND COUNSELLORS

AT LAW,

CROWNPOINT,
Essx County, N. Y.

E. M. DEWEY. 431 1y H. H. HAVENS.

J. B. DICKINSON,

AUSABLE FORKS, N. Y.

General INSURANCE AGENT,

For Fire, Life, Health and Live Stock Insurance Companies,

☞Any business from abroad will receive prompt attention. 454

Silliman & Gardiner,

WHOLESALE DEALERS

in Pork, Fish,

SALT, PLASTER, &c.

OFFICE 17 CORTLANDT SLIP, New York,
" 339 RIVER st., Troy, 445

Dr. E. W. GOULD,

SURGEON DENTIST,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

☞Office opposite the Ausable House, [389

WOOL,

CASH Paid for Wool,
Nov. 19, 1851. J. APPLEYARD.

Burlington Advertisements

BURLINGTON

AGRICULTURAL WARE-HOUSE AND SEED STORE.

DAVEY & ALLEN,

No. 5, COLLEGE STREET, BURLINGTON, Vt.

Ploughs—Prouty & Mear's centre draught.

These ploughs have obtained a celebrity unparalleled, having taken the first premiums in this county and at the World's Fair in London. We have also Starbuck's and Tabor's celebrated Ploughs.

Our stock of Ploughs comprise a great variety of patterns and differ materially, calculated for sward and stubble land, wet meadows and recently rail road grounds, where roots abound—among which also are the deep breaking up flat furrow, lap furrow, self sharpening side hill, double mould board, subsoil, &c., &c.

Harrows—triangular, square, Geddes and Scotch

Hay, Straw and Corn Cutters, either by hand or horse power; spiral, straight or circular knives.

Cultivators—of different kinds, also tooth and cast iron.

Corn Shellers—a variety of patterns. Will shell from 5 to 100 bushels of corn per hour.

Fan Mills and Grain Cradles—Grant's unrivalled. We confidently recommend them as the best in use.

Seed Sowers—Batchelder's & Emery's and other kinds.

Vegetable Cutters—for turnips and other roots.

Horse Powers, Threshers, Winnowers and Separators—Wheeler's Patent Railway Chain Horse Power. This Power, both single and double geared, for one or two horses, has never been equalled for lightness in running, strength, durability and economy. The Thresher and Separator are too widely and favorably known to need our commendation. The combined Thresher and Winnower, (which is a new invention of last year,) has not been so generally introduced. All who have used it express the highest approbation of its merits. We entertain no doubt that it is the most perfect, compact, and efficient machine now in use for threshing and winnowing grain, as it certainly is by far the cheapest and most economical.

Warranted to give satisfaction,

or be returned after a reasonable trial.

Saw Mill—I. Wance, used for sawing wood for locomotives on Railways or by farmers for cutting stove wood. With a one horse power it will cut 10 to 15 cords of wood twice in two days.

AGRICULTURAL & HORTICULTURAL TOOLS AND IMPLEMENTS.

A great variety and extensive assortment, viz: as Horse Shovels, Spades, Rakes, Manure and Hay forks, Scythes & Snaths, Cattle Ties, Draft, Halter and Trace Chains, Garden Syringes, Pruning Saws, Pruning and Budding Knives, Garden Shears and Twig Cutters, Grain stones. Patent Grindstone fixtures, rollers, barrow rails, &c., &c.

Grain, Field, Garden and Flower Seeds.—We are prepared to furnish Herd's Grass, Red Top, Lucerne, White Dutch, Southern, Western and Northern Clover seed, Beet, Turnip, Onion and Carrot seed, at Wholesale and Retail at the lowest market prices.

We have by far the largest and most complete assortment of Agricultural Implements, Machines, Field and Garden Seeds to be found in the State, which we offer at our new and spacious Ware Rooms to Farmers and Dealers on terms the most liberal. We are also Commission Merchants and Wholesale and Retail Dealers in heavy and shelf

HARDWARE,

Saddlery, Axles, Springs, Mechanic's Tools, House Trimmings and Furnishing Goods, Cutlery, Cross Cut, Mill and Circular Saws, Paints, Oils, Bird Cages, etc. etc., etc.

Agents of Messrs. D. Prouty & Co., Boston, Wheeler, Millick & Co., Albany, J. T. Grant & Co., Troy and others we can get orders for Plows, Horse Powers, Threshers, Fan Mills, Straw Cutters &c., at manufacturers prices, & liberal discount made to Dealers.

ORDERS
FROM ABROAD SOLICITED.
DAVEY & ALLEN.

Burlington September 20, 1852. 439

BLANK BOOKS.

10,000 QUIRES BLANK BOOKS of our own manufacture, comprising every variety of Journals, Day, Invoice Cash and Letter Books. Ledgers and Records from Cap Quarto to Super Royal size made in the most thorough manner, either paged or unpaged, and at prices so low as to defy competition.

PAPER.

I have in store, and to arrive, 1000 Reams Wrapping Paper of assorted quality and size 1500 Reams Writing, Cap, Letter, Bath Post, Note and Envelope papers, which will be sold at Mill Prices.

School Books.

2000 Mandevill's, Saunders and Town's Series of Readers. 200 Mitchell's Geographies, 200 Smith's do. 400 Adams Arithmetics, 200 Greenleaf's do 200 Colburn's do. 2000 Webster's spellers. 500 Town's spellers and definers, 100 Smith's Astronomy's, &c., &c.

Stationery.

200,000 Envelopes, 200 Gross Steel Pens, 20 gross Pen Holders. Also, Writing Ink in any quantity, and of the best manufacture, which will be sold at New York or Boston prices.

I wish to reduce the present stock of the concern as low as possible, in the next two months, and buyers will find it for their interest to examine my stock and prices before purchasing.—Terms Cash.

Orders solicited by Mail or Express,

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS.
Burlington, Nov. 23, 1852. 446 3m

NEW GOODS

AT

Nichols, 150 Church Street.

IN consequence of our large spring sales, we have been induced to purchase a very large and full stock of

Foreign & Domestic Goods

for the fall trade, which we now offer at exceedingly low prices. We have not time now to enumerate, suffice it to say, we have every thing usually called for in a dry goods store.

CARPETINGS!

AT THE

Carpet Warehouse, 150 Church Street.

Mr. Nichols is now opening the largest stock of Carpeting ever brought to this city, consisting of the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three-ply, Ingrain, Extra Super Fine and Common Venetian, Damask, Cotton and Wool, Cotton, Hemp Stair carpeting from the best manufacturers. Also, floor oil-cloth, straw-matting, Hearth Rugs, Door Mats, table oil cloths, English and American Buckings and crumb cloths.

Bay State Carpetings and Buckings.

Mr. Nichols has the agency for the sale of the justly celebrated Bay State carpets and buckings and will be furnished with all the new patterns as fast as they come from the mills. Recollect the No.

150 CHURCH STREET.

Burlington, September 24, 1852. 439 tf

Charles Morris,

MERCHANT TAILOR

AND

CLOTHIER,

KEESEVILLE, NEW YORK.

IS now prepared to show his friends and the public in general a full assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings suited to the season. My Cloths are of the latest importation, and consists of Black, Brown, Drab and Invisible Beavers Broad Cloths, of French, West of England and American Manufacture. Cassimeres in all the revised style and quality. Vestings in any quantity, a most which are very rich. Also, Shirts of all descriptions, Black Pique under Shirts, and Drawers, Cravats, Stocks, Suspenders, Gloves, Collars, Bosoms, Hooks, Mufflers, Clothing ready made substantial, and the sewing to last as long as the cloth, (and never run together so much of the cloth is brought to us from foreign market generally.) The thankful for the very liberal and increased patronage I have received from the citizens generally. I trust by a continued effort to please the most difficult shall in its continuance of past favors. My arrangements with New York are such that I am advised of any changes of style, that occur from month to month and thus am able to gratify those who are disposed to avail themselves of the change. Cutting as usual done in the most careful manner and with promptness.

AND WARRANTED MADE

Nov. 13 1854 445

M. J. JENKINS.

Watch Maker and Jeweller,

DEALER IN

CLOCKS, WATCHES, GOLD AND SILVER WARE, &c.

Keeseville, N. Y.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Burlington Ads.

BOSTON
FURNITURE STORE,

AT THE
Spacious Ware-Room,
Nos. 2 & 3, Leavensworth Block,
COLLEGE STREET,
In Burlington, Vt.
No further need of going to New York or Boston for Rich or
FASHIONABLE FURNITURE.

THE Subscriber has a more extensive assortment of

Furniture, Feathers, Beds, Mattrasses, Upholstery, Goods, &c.,

than has ever before been offered in this section, comprising all the most recent styles from the most stout to the commonest FURNITURE, manufactured principally to order and in quality superior to any to be found out of Boston or any other place—consisting, in part, as follows:

Black Walnut & Mahogony Parlor FURNITURE,

—CONSISTING OF—

French Sofas, Easy Chairs, covered in plush damask, brocatelle or haircloth, to suit the purchaser. French style centre and Side Tables, with and without marble tops: gilt and other frame Looking Glasses; rich and common Curtain Furniture and Fixtures, &c., and every article needed to furnish Parlors in the most fashionable style.—Also medium and low priced Parlor Furniture, of every description.

DRAWING & SITTING ROOM FURNITURE,

of every desirable style.

CHAMBER FURNITURE.

Fancy printed Chamber Sets richly ornamented; mahogany, black walnut and common Bedsteads, Bureaus, Wash-Stands, Toilets, Chairs, &c. Also, Feathers, Feather Beds, hair, corn husk and palm leaf Mattrasses, Elegant

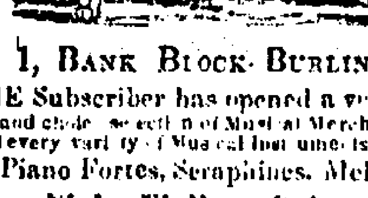
LIBRARY CASES & SIDE-BOARDS,

both mahogany and black walnut of very superior workmanship, constantly on hand and made to order, of any style or size desired. Also, any odd article, not to be found ready-made, designed and executed to order in the best manner at the shortest notice.

Hotels and Steamboats

furnished at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms.

N. B.—Every article will be sold as low as the same quality can be bought in either Boston or New York, and in many instances much lower. Country dealers will be furnished at the lowest wholesale prices.



Mr. ALLEN'S long experience as a manufacturer and Furniture dealer in Boston, gives him advantages in selecting and purchasing goods very seldom equalled; and he will warrant every article fully equal to what he represents it.

☞ Persons in want of Furniture will do well to call on Mr. ALLEN before purchasing.

I. S. ALLEN

Burlington, May 8, '52. 418-1y

PIANO FORTE,
AND
MUSIC STORE.

No. 1, BANK BLOCK, BURLINGTON, VT.

THE Subscriber has opened a very extensive and choice selection of Musical Merchandise, consisting of every variety of Musical Instruments such as Piano Fortes, Seraphines, Melodeons,

Bass Viols, Violins, Guitars, Flutes,

Flageolets, Clarionets, Cornopeans, Accordeons, and Brass instruments of every description for Bands; also—

BASS VIOL AND VIOLIN STRINGS, TUNING FORKS, TUNING HAMMERS, &c.

The assortment of Sheet Music consists of about Four Thousand Pieces of the latest and most popular Music of the day, additions to which will be made every week from the extensive Importing and Publishing Houses in New York and Boston. Instruction Books on hand for every Instrument, and all new works received as soon as published.

CHURCH MUSIC BOOKS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

The attention of Purchasers is respectfully invited to the assortment of Piano Fortes, Seraphines and Melodeons, as they are from the best Manufacturers in the country, and every Instrument sold by me will be warranted, unless otherwise stated to the purchaser.

All the above goods will be sold as low as can be purchased in New York or Boston, and the orders of teachers and those who buy to sell again, are respectfully solicited, and will be filled and sent to any part of the country as may be directed.

June 5. 3m122 L. S. RUST

ANNEXATION!!

Essex County, N. Y. and Vermont!

NOVEMBER 10th, 1852.

I. D. BIXBY & Co.,

ARE now opening a very heavy stock of Rich

DRESS GOODS,

for the Winter trade, consisting in part of the following articles:

Merinos, Coburghs, Paramattas, Alpacas, Lustres all wool deLaines, Manchester deLaines, Persian Cloths, Raw Silk Plaids, Cashmere Plaids, Col'd Velvets, Col'd Flannels, Irish Poplins, Bombazines, Ginghams, American, English and French Prints, Silks.

SHAWLS!!

Bay State, Empire, Waterloo and Scotch.

CLOAKS.

We have a large assortment of rich Cloaks of a variety of patterns, colors and prices.

Silks, Satins, &c.

The LARGEST assortment of Dress Silk that we have ever opened, are now to be seen on our counters. Brocade, Plaid, Striped, Chameleon, Glace, Gro de Naples, Gro de Zuro, Gro de Rhine, Gro de Lyons, Gro de Algiers and many other styles.

No. 2, Bank Block.

439tf North Side of the Park.

BURLINGTON VT.,

I. D. BIXBY & Co.

Burlington, Nov. 15, 1852.

BOOTS, SHOES & RUBBERS

James A. Walker,

BANK BLOCK, OPPOSITE THE SQUARE,

BURLINGTON, Vt.

HAS just returned from the New York and Philadelphia markets with the largest and best selected assortment of Ladies, Gents, Misses, Boys, Youths and Children's BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS ever offered North of the cities. Getting his goods direct from the manufacturers he is enabled to and WILL offer them at LESS PRICE than can be purchased for elsewhere.

Mens Thick Boots	from	$1.50 to $3.00	per pair.
" Fine Kip	"	2.00 to 3.00	"
" " Calf [illegible]	"	2.50 to 4.00	"
Gents finecalf sew'd boots	"	4.00 to 7.50	"
Ladies walking shoes	"	75 to 1.38	"
" Bootees and Polkas	"	1.00 to 2.00	"
" Gaiter Boots	"	1.00 to 2.00	"

and a great variety of every desirable style and quality, ALL of which will be offered at very low prices. 436 tf

All Work Warranted.

GRASS SEED

OF very Superior Quality, for sale by KINGSLAND, BABER & Co.

Miscellaneous.

26 Years Experience.

OLD ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL.

Quick Cures and Low prices. Private Diseases and their Antidote.

DR. LISPENARD, author of the Marriage Guide, or Private Medical Treatise, Professor of Diseases of Women and Children, and late of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the United States University, &c., &c., continues as heretofore to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms and variety of

PRIVATE DISEASES,

at his old quarters No 5 Beaver-street, ALBANY, N. Y.

The great success attending the use of Doctor L.'s remedies in secret diseases, and the many remarkable cures daily effected by him in recent as well as long standing attacks, is conclusive evidence that the well as the

SICK AND UNFORTUNATE

can do no better than consult the Doctor, whose whole time is devoted to the exclusive treatment of this much neglected branch of practice.

LOOK AT THIS.

Dr. Lispenard cures recent cases of disease in from three to six days, and chronic or long standing diseases in a very short period of time without the use of Mercury, without the loss of time, change of diet, or detention from

DAILY EMPLOYMENT.

In Syphilis Gonorrhea, Gleet, Strictures, Enlargement of the Testicles and Cords, Bubo, Chancres, Pimples and Scaly Eruptions, Sore Throats and Noses, Chancres on the tongue, tender skin, and diseases of the skin and impure blood, Dr. Lispenard's remedies are above all praise and frequently cure when all others had failed

EVEN TO RELIEVE.

More than 5,000 patients have during the past year experienced the benefit of the Doctor's extraordinary skill in treating secret diseases—among which diseases of the bladder and kidneys have formed a goodly proportion who by indulging in a secret habit have injured their health and constitution, destroyed their intellectual faculties, and thereby deprived themselves of the pleasures of married life, should consult Dr Lispenard without a moment's delay. Hundreds have been restored to health, society and friends, after having been ..., although vast sums ... had been sacrificed without any benefit. My remedy for this disease is pleasant to take has no offensive ...

YOUNG MEN.

CURES WITHOUT FAIL.

☞ Persons unfortunate as to be diseased, although they may have tried half a dozen Doctors, and had medicine sent them a dozen times with no benefit would exhibit wisdom by making their case known to that FRIEND OF THE SICK, Dr. Lispenard, who never charges for advice and warrants all his cures. The sick are often at a loss where to apply for relief, AND THIS NO WONDER, as hundreds stand daily to plunder the unfortunate victims of PRIVATE DISEASES, or secret habits with no one thought for his life and health. All thus deceived will find a friend, and mod... charges, by consulting the Doctor who USES NO MERCURY and cures every time.

N. B.—Persons from a distance when visiting the city in search of a physician and friend will be fortunate if they succeed in escaping the many dens of imposition conducted by unprincipled men, destitute of character knowledge or name, who fleece the unfortunate victims of disease of their hard earned money, and their remaining health. Patients who have no acquaintance in the city should make inquiry of some respectable citizen, or the editor or proprietor of any of the city papers, to ascertain who is the most reliable physician to apply to.

FEMALE DISEASES

Dr. Lispenard from an experience seldom or never enjoyed by any other medical man, is enabled to treat, with every hope of success, every variety of Female Complaints—with safety and pleasure the remedies—and has within a short time ... more than 3000 females afflicted with diseases of the bladder, Womb, &c. &c. Ladies afflicted with suppression or stoppage of their monthly turns, will recollect that Dr. Lispenard is still the sole American agent for

DR. VICHOL'S

FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS.

The unprecedented sale of more than 15,000 boxes of these excellent Pills and the good results which always follow their use, is conclusive evidence of their utility in stopping, &c. Caution—Married Ladies in certain delicate situations should not use them—for reasons see directions with each box. Price $1. Sent by mail to all parts of the world.

Married Persons and those about to Marry, should enclose 12½ cents post paid to Dr. Lispenard, and obtain a copy of his Marriage Guide or Private Treatise, a bewitching little work of nearly 160 pages, illustrated. Every thing that married persons can desire or wish to know is here explained. Persons who from poverty or sickness have desires to increase their family, will find necessary instruction in the Marriage Guide. One copy 12½ cents; 5 copies 50 cts; 12 copies $1—mailed free to any part of the world.

N. B.—Patients treated by letter, and medicines sent with full directions for use, to the writer's address. All communications destroyed or returned.

No mercury used in any case, and all cures warranted. No boys or precocious students allowed; timed persons take notice.

Friends of Dr. L. when recommending patients to our care will recollect our number 5 Beaver st., three doors from South Broadway.

Hospital open from 7 A. M., to 9 P. M., and on Sundays from 1 to 4 P. M.

No charge for advice, although no medicine may be desired.

Good board and private rooms for those who desire to remain in the city.

Notice this—Address all letters to

C. W. LISPENARD, M.D.,

411—1y No. 5 Beaver st. Albany, N. Y.

NORTHERN RAIL ROAD, N. Y.

FALL ARRANGEMENTS.

On and after FRIDAY October 1st, trains will run as follows:

GOING EAST,

1st Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 9, A. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 1, 45, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 2, P. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 6, 20, P. M.

GOING WEST,

1st Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 8, A. M

Arrive at Ogdensgurgh 12 50, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 3, P. M.

Arrives at Ogdensbargh 7,45, P. M.

First Passenger Train going East

Connects at Moors with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road for Montreal and Quebect, and Plattsburgh, Burlington and Whitehall—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Vermont Central Rail Road for Boston and New York—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Rutland and Burlington Rail Road by steam Boats to Burlington, and thence to Boston and New York.

Second Passenger Train going East,

Connects with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road at Moores, for Moutreal and Quebec—Connects with the Vermont Central Railroad for Boston, Burlington, and New York. Connects with the Steam Boats to Whitehall, thence by the Saratoga and Troy Rail Roads, to Saratoga Springs, Troy and New York. Connects by Steam Boat with Rutland and Burlington R. R. at Burlington, for Troy, Boston and New York.

First Passenger Train going West,

Connects at Ogdensburgh with the Expres Line of Lake Ontario Steamers at 1 o'clock P. M. for Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, Lewiston, Niagara Falls, and Buffalo.

Second Passengei Train going West.

Connects with Lake Ontario Line of Steamers for Kingston and all ports on the American shore of Lake Ontario, and with Hamilton.

Four Freight Trains leave Ogdensburgh and Rouse's Point every day Sundays excepted.

For Freight apply to George V. Hoyle, Agent, Rouse's Point.

CHARLES L. SCHLATTER,

440 Chief Eng'r and Superintendent.

Printing Paper For Sale.

FOR sale by J. & G. PARKS,

38 by 24 inches,
34 by 24 "
364tf 23 by 22 "

Also, Wrapping:

40 by 28 inches, 60 lbs to the Ream, for large bundles
29 by 18 "
15 by 18 "

☞ All orders directed to Keeseville promptly attended

CAPS CAPS.

MENS' and Boys' Silk and Worsted Plush and Cloth Caps, at E. H. GARFIELD'S

Legal.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS John McDermid, then of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York, by a certain Mortgage, dated December 18th, 1850, and with the power of sale therein contained duly recorded in the office of the Clerk of Essex County, in Vol. P of Mortgages on pages 434, and 435, on the 21st day of December, 1850, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to secure the payment of fifty dollars and interest, did duly Mortgage to John McGuire of the second place, certain premises described in said mortgage as follows:—All those two certain building lots, lying and being in the village of Keeseville, County of Essex and State of New York. The first of said lots is bounded and described as follows: situated on the Port Kent Hill, in the said village, on a street to be known and designated as back street, and measuring on said street fifty five feet in front and the same in rear and extending back one hundred feet—to be known and designated as lot number (4).—The second of the aforesaid lots is situated also in the said village of Keeseville, on the street known and designated as McDermid street, to commence on the said street one hundred and fifty feet from the line of the Port Kent road and to be sixty feet in front on said street and run back to James McGuires land be the said lots more or less. And whereas the said Mortgage was by an instrument in writing dated February 18th, 1853, duly assigned by the said John McGuire to Michael Keenan, jr. of Chesterfield, Essex County. On which Mortgage there is claimed to be due at the time of the first publication of this notice the sum of $57.67. And default having been made in the payment of said $57.67 and no proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the same, or any part thereof: now therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage and of the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgaged premises will be sold at public auction on the 23d day of May next at 10 o'clock A. M. at the Adirondac Hotel, in the village of Keeseville, Essex County.

MICHAEL KEENAN, Jr.

Assignee of Mortgagee.

JOHN McELROY, Atty. 460 13w

Dated. Keeseville February 26th, 1853.

SUPREME COURT,
GURDON GRANT,
AGST.
ELENOR CRARY,
ISAAC HEUSTIS,
JAMES GIBSON,
JOHN SAVAGE and
JOSEPHUS FITCH,

In pursuance of a decree or judgment of the Supreme Court made in the above cause, will be sold under the direction of the subscriber, Sheriff of the County of Essex, at public auction at the Adirondac Hotel, in the town of Chesterfield, in the County of Essex, on Monday, the 4th day of April next at ten o'clock in the forenoon; all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land lying and being in the town of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York, lying between the Augur Pond and Butternut Pond, beginning at the south west corner at a pine tree marked 1795, thence running north ninety-five chains, a little north of the south end of Augur Pond, thence east one degree north, twenty-five chains to the west line of lot No. three, thence south along the west line of lots No. three, four, five and eight to the corner of the last mentioned lot, thence south forty-five degrees west to Butternut Pond, thence along the north end of said Pond to the first place of beginning, containing two hundred and sixteen acres of land be the same more or less; which said lot of land is part of two tracts of land, formerly granted by the said State to John Williams deceased by letters patent, and is now conveyed subject to the conditions and reservations made by Anthony J. Blanchard his heirs and assigns in his conveyance thereof to one William Bromley to overflow as much of the said land at any time or times whatsoever as may be reasonably necessary convenient and useful for the accommodation of any Mills or Waterworks which are now or hereafter may be built or erected on the waters of the said Augur Pond, or the outlet thereof by the heirs or assigns of the said Anthony J., hereby retaining the same reservations as is contained in the said William's deed of the said premises to one Thomas McLean.

Dated the 19th day of Febuary, 1853.

C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff.

By J. C. FINCH, Deputy Sheriff.

SAML. AMES, Atty. 459-w7

BANK DEPARTMENT.

ALBANY, Jany 26th, 1823.

NOTICE is hereby given in pursuance of the Statute made and provided, that all the circulating notes issued by the McIntyre Bank, at Adirondac, (an individual bank) must be presented at the office of the superintendent of the Banking Department of the State of New York, for payment within two years from the date of this notice, or the funds deposited for the redemption of the said notes will be given up to the said bank.

D. B. St. John, Supt.

Two years from Jany. 26, 1853 459-2y

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

NOTICE is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John Cummings, late of North Hudson, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to ESTES B WALKER, one of the administrators of the said deceased, at his dwelling house in North Hudson, his place of doing business on or before the 25th day of May next, that being at least six Months after the day of the first publication of this notice. Dated this 16th day of November, A. D. 1852.

ABIGAIL CUMMINGS, Administratrix.
ESTES B. WALKER, } Administrators
446-6m DAVID DAY.

WOOL! WOOL!

THE Subscriber would inform the public that he is again in the

Manufacturing Business,

Either by the yard, on shares, or in exchange for cloths on the most reasonable terms, and that he intends to keep on hand a full supply of the following goods:

BLACK BROAD CLOTHS,
Black, Brown, and Olive Cassimeres,
FULLED CLOTHS, SATTINETS, TWEEDS,
Flannels, &c.,

suitable to this country, and that he will spare no pains in trying to please such as may favor him with their patronage.

Birmingham, May 15, 1852. J. APPLEYARD

419

Forge for Sale.

IN an excellent location for the manufacture of Iron, being near the Ausable Ores and where coal is easily obtained at the lowest prices. It is on the Ausable river in Jay, has two fires, and on the premises are eight dwellings, a Store, three good coal houses, and other conveniences. Terms easy. Also a quantity of timber lands near the forge. Apply to the subscriber. MONROE HALL.

Jay, Feb. 17th 1853. 460-6w

DISSOLUTION AND CO-PARTNERSHIP.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Co-Partnership of Ross, Low, & GOULD, heretofore doing business at Essex and Willsborough has been this day dissolved and discontinued by mutual agreement. The business of said firm will be continued by a new co-partnership, this day entered into between the undersigned Ross, Low, & H. W. Putnam, under the firm and name of Ross, Low, & Putnam.

HENRY ...
WILLIA...
JOHN S...

Dated Essex, Feb'y, 24th ...

Medicine.

THE WONDER OF THE WORLD.

DEVINES' COMPOUND

PITCH LOZENGE,

A sure and pleasant Remedy for Colds, Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, and if lungs enough are left to sustain life, A CERTAIN CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, safe for the infant or the invalid, in any stage of weakness.

"The statements that consumption cannot be cured, has destroyed more lives than the disease itself."—[Dr. Warren. Read the following, which to a candid mind places this "Great Remedy," like Cæsar's wife "above suspicion."

TO THE PUBLIC!

We, the undersigned, citizens of Lee, Mass., are acquainted with Mr. Devines, the proprietor and Manufacturer of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge and from what we know of it ourselves and have learned from others of its beneficial effects, in cases where it has been used, give it as our opinion that it is a valuable remedy in diseases for which it is recommended and is worthy of public confidence. A. G. Hulburt, Leonard Church, F. G. Taylor, Wm Taylor, S. A. Bliss, S. A. Hulburt, Josephus Crafts, T. P. Eldridge.

"If any individual is to be pitied, and needs sympathy, it is the consumptive—always expecting to get well and yet the painful evidence of decay almost "makes the inner soul shrink with the outer flesh."

"Some bloom as roses bloom, and live as roses live, A single moral space."

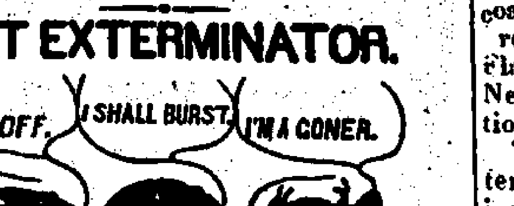
While others, in more mature life—by some imprudence and a slight cold neglected—in the hectic flush—the painful cough,

"The prints of their departing steps appears."

"BUT BE NOT HOPELESS"—Mr Wm. Devines, the original inventor and manufacturer of the Pitch Lozenge, under Providence, was raised to perfect health by the use of these Lozenges alone, after he was pronounced by his physician to be almost dying with consumption.

This fact is generally known in Berkshire County and is the neighborhood talk and wonder in Lee, and in Great Barrington, Mass.

From Dr. Brown, of Lee, Mass.



This certifies that I have made use of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge for cold and cough, and found immediate relief. Therefore I would recommend it to the public as being a safe and sovereign remedy. H. C. BROWN

Lee, October 28, 1851.

Sold wholesale at Albany, by Wm. A. Wharton & Co., Druggists, &c., H. C Sheldon, Troy, Spencer & Nichols, Whitehall, Hammonds & Co., Crownpoint, W. G. Lyon, Essex, Reynolds & Tufts and I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. Orders addressed Wm. Devines, Jamaica Plain. 436 1y Wm R NNE, Traveling Agent

---

M. DUBOYS'
FRENCH
RAT EXTERMINATOR.

THIS PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to exterminate Rats and Mice, whenever used as directed, and to leave no offensive stench on the premises cleared of these annoying vermin. Its use is perfectly safe in any place and at all times, which is not the case with ordinary remedies for this evil.

CAUTION!—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!—

The extraordinary success of M. Duboy's Rat Exterminator has excited the cupidity of some dishonest and irresponsible persons to counterfeit it. Inquire for M. Duboy's French Rat Extirminator, and take no other. Large boxes at 25 cents. LYNDE & OSBURN.

Rochester, N. Y., Sole American Agents, to whom all orders should be addressed.

For sale by Stearns & Beckwith, Peru, I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. 444 1y

---

Miscellaneous,

WOOLEN
MANUFACTURING

IN all its various branches, will be carried on at the Keeseville Woolen Manufacturing Establishment, in Keeseville, N. Y.

Wool of any quality will be received in exchange for Cloth,

CASSIMERES, SATINETS,

Flannels, &c.

The Goods of this Establishment for the last two years, are well known at home and in market, and needs no other recommendation than a fair trial. Farmers and others wishing to make the most out of their wool, will find it to their advantage to call and exchange their wool for cloths. They may rest assured that they will be fairly dealt with, as no goods will be offered but those that will give satisfaction.

C. Roelofson has made arrangements which will enable him to pay

Part Cash

on Exchanges, or all CASH for WOOL when Price and Quality Suit.

On hand and ready for Exchanging, Grey Cloths, Mixed Satinets—VERY HEAVY—fine and medium Cassimeres. Red Flannel—yard wide—the different kinds also for sale.

THE CUSTOM

CARDING

will be carried on as usual.

C. ROELOFSON & Co.

Keeseville, May 26th. 1852 421tf

WOOL!! WOOL!!!

Cash Paid for Wool

BY

Matthews & Ames,

At the Old Stand of

H. & H. MATTHEWS

Every discription of Woolen and Cotton Goods given in exchange for Wool if wanted.

HAVING increased our stock of Goods by a second Spring purchase. We feel confident that we shall be able to supply all who may wish Goods or Groceries of any description, in part, or wholly, for their Fleece, Pulled or Tag Wool.

Boots ad Shoes.

READY-MADE or MADE to ORDER,

AS good as the best, as cheap as the cheapest and warranted to fit. The undersigned begs leave to remind the public of the above facts and solicits a share of their patronage. ☞ Opposite the Bank.

JAMES ADAMS.

Keeseville, March, 1852. 111-tf

NEW STORE.

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

True Union Store.

MR. NICHOLS of Burlington, Vt., has established a branch of his stock at Essex, nearly opposite the Steam Boat Landing in Pancher's Building adjoining the Hotel, where he has on hand nearly all kinds of Dry Goods and Groceries and intends keeping up a good assortment by constantly replenishing, and will sell as low as can be bought in Burlington for cash and ready pay, most kinds of Produce taken. Mr N. flatters himself that with the facilities he has for purchasing goods both in Boston and New York, that he can compete with any store in Northern New York or Vermont. Please give us a call and see for themselves. "A penny saved is two pence earned."

WANTED 10,000 lbs. BUTTER

N. Y., June 16, 1852

KEESEVILLE ACADEMY.

The undersigned in behalf of the Trustees of Keeseville Academy, announce that the Spring Term will commence on Monday the 28th day of Februar last. They have succeeded in engaging the following corps of Teachers.

Associate Principals, { CHARLES H. DANN, Teacher of Languages and Higher Mathematics. GILBERT THAYER, Teacher of English Branches, Natural Sciences and Superintendent of the School.

Miss. NANCY ... POTTER and
Miss. MARY FERRIS Assistant Teachers.
Miss. ELLEN M. FISHER Teacher of Music.
Good Board and Rooms in the Village.

TERMS:

Common English Branches,	$3 00 per quarter
Higher " Branches,	1 00 extra "
Book keeping,	1 00 " "
Latin and Greek, each,	1 00 " "
French, Italian and German, each,	1 00 "

Tuition is not charged for more than two of the above extras.

Music Instrumental,	$10 00 per quarter.
" Vocal	1 0 " "

For French, Italian or German, taken as single branches, the charge will be, 3 00 " "

Mr. THAYER will give especial attention to young gentlemen and Ladies expecting to engage in teaching.

Oliver Keese
Alex'r D. Kingsland } Com. of John Mallecks } Trustees.

Keeseville Feb. 14, 1853.

Miscellaneous.

New Goods! New Goods!

—AT—

NICHOLS' CASH STORE,

150 Church street,

BURLINGTON, VERMONT,

HAVING just Purchased in New York and Boston, a large stock of Goods of all kinds we now offer them for sale, and those who are in want of goods in our line will save money by calling on us before purchasing. We are confident we have the largest stock of goods ever brought into Burlington at one time; we were induced to buy largely in consequence of the low prices of many kinds of goods, particularly dress goods of almost every kind.

We have a full stock of everything usually kept in a dry good store; Also West India goods and groceries, a very large stock of Teas and Sugars low by chest and cask. Also at cost to clear them off Paper Hangings, Crockery and glass Ware and looking glasses.

CARPETING, AT THE

CARPET WARE HOUSE.

BURLINGTON, VT.

Received this day and now opening 50 pieces of all grades, the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three Ply, Superfine, fine and common Ingrain and Venetian, all Wool. Cotton and Cotton and Wool; Also, all the different qualities of Stair Carpeting, Straw Matting, Oil Cloth, Drugetts, Crumb Cloths, Hearth Rugs, Door Matts, &c., very cheap.

Burlington, Nov. '52. 446

FAMILY GROCERIES.

A larg and choice assortment of Sugars, Teas, Oils, Molasses, Pork, Fish, Fine and coarse Salt, Camphene, Soap and Candles, Brooms, Pails, Willow Waggons, Cradles, Flavoring Extracts, Cat, Sups, all kinds Toys, New Years and Christmass presents, Confectionaries, Nuts, Bird Seed, &c., &.

The above goods are offered on the usual terms, at the lowest prices. Let those wishing to buy examine fer themselves.

100 Barrels Genessee Flour,

FRESH Ground for sale at.

REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

40 Barrels Sugars.

CRUSHED, granulated Muscavado and Coffee Sugars at REYNOLDS & TUFTS,

Green & Black Teas.

40 CHESTS and Cattys choice Old Hyson, Young Hyson and fine Oolong Teas cheaper than any in town at

REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

Keeseville, Nov. 18, 1852. 446

New Clothing Store.

WE, the undersigned, have made arrangements with one of the best tailors in the country, to manufacture clothing for us of every description, consisting of overcoats, sacks, dress and frock coats, pants, vests, overalls and boys cloths, together with all kinds of under garments, which are made after the most improved styles, and for workmanship and durability cannot be excelled.

In addition we offer a large assortment of fine

Fashionable Clothing,

made by tailors in New York, that for fitting even Genio C. Scott, in his palmiest days was not a circumstance.

We would also inform the public that it is to be sold by wholesale or retail at very low figures for cash, and for quantity and cheapness is far in advance of any other concern in Northern New York. A comparison with the trade, both in prices and quantity is particularly requested.

In connection with the above we would call the attention of the community to our stock of

Fancy & Staple Dry Goods,

of every variety; also, hats, caps and furs, paper hangings, window shades, hardware and groceries, rifles and shot guns, amunition, &c., &c. Trunks, and valises, carpet bags, whips and lashes, stone ware, and every description of goods that are wanted or can be found in the country. Don't forget

No. 1000, Main Street,

Keeseville, opposite the Adirondac Hotel.

BOYNTON & SMITH.

January 20, 1853.

MATTHEWS & AMES,

(SUCCESSORS TO H. & H. MATTHEWS,)

DEALERS IN

Tin, Sheet Iron, Copper, Japan and BRITANNIA WARE,

together with a large and well selected assortment of

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

which they will sell by the piece or package, at a small advance from cost. Also, a general assortment of

YANKEE NOTIONS

And Fancy Articles,

suitable to the Pedlars Trade, which they will sell low for cash.

☞ All kinds of barter taken in exchange for Goods.

Keeseville, April 17, 1852. 415

New and Cheap Goods

E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Have just received from New York and Boston one of the best assortments of

FALL AND WINTER GOODS

ever exhibited in Keeseville.

Among their stock of DRY GOODS will be found a beautiful assortment of Wool, and Cotton and wool d'Laines and Cashmeres both plain and printed, of all qualities, and prices from one shilling to one Dollar per yard. French Merinoes, Paramattas, Alpaccas Lyonese Cloth, English and American Prints, Ginghams, Flannels of all kinds, a superior quality of Bay State Flannel of different colors, Wool Plaids, Tickings, Stripes &c. &c. Shawls—a large and superb assortment of Bay state, Empire State, Waterloo, Scotch Plaids, and Printed WOOL SHAWLS, at prices much lower than ever before offered in this market. A beautiful assortment of Bonnet Silks and Velvets, with trimmings of all kinds. Also dress silks and Satins, Gloves, Hosiery &c.

READY MADE CLOTHING

Of all kinds, sold very cheap, also, Cloths, Broad Cloths Plain and fancy Cassimeres, Black Doe Skins, Satinets Silks and Worsted Vestings, Serges, &c., &c., with many other articles too numerous to mention. The unnecessary to add that all the above goods will be sold at very low prices. Only remember their motto 'quick sales and small profits.' Please call and examine Goods and prices, and satisfy yourselves. Opposite the Adirondac Hotel.

Keeseville Oct. 1852.

CASH,

AND THE

Highest Market Price

WILL BE PAID FOR WOOL, AT THE WOOLEN FACTORY, by

C. F. ROELOFSON & Co.

Keeseville, July 8th, 1852. 427tf

CORLIES & DECKER,

(Successors to J. B. & E. W. Corlies,)

—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—

TEAS,

Agents for the Sale of

Manufactured Tobacco,

192 Pearl Street,

Near Maiden Lane. 439 New York.

Miscellany.

THE NORTHERN

New York Mutual

INSURANCE COMPANY,

Plattsburgh, Clinton Co., N. Y.

Capital, 100,000.

THIS Company is organized under the General Insurance Law of the State of New York, with a sound, reliable capital, and offers the following superior inducements:

1. The safer kinds of property are separated entirely from the more hazardous; affording the advantages of two distinct companies, with the expense of but one.

2. The first class, or Farmer's Department, consists of Farm-houses, Farm buildings and their contents and detatched dwellings and their contents in villages, when unexposed by more hazardous buildings.

3. The second class or Merchant's Department, consists of exposing dwellings, stores, merchandise and property not deemed specially hazardous.

4. Each class pays its own losses and thus securing equal justice and proportional rate to both.

5. Not more than $3,000 of the first class, or more than $2,000 of the second class, will be taken in one risk, nor any number of risks so contiguous as probably to subject the Company to a loss of over $3,000 at any one fire; thereby saving it from heavy and ruinous losses.

6 In taking surveys of property, the agent will be the agent of the company, and the company be responsible for the correctness of all surveys made by its agents.

7. Any one insured, may at any time surrender his policy and withdraw from the company by paying his proportion of the losses and expense up to the date of such surrender.

8. Applications will take effect at noon of the day on which they are made (unless a different day is directed by the applicant,) thus relieving the party from anxiety and suspense.

9. The company no have two-thirds clause, but will pay all loss and damage not exceeding the amount insured.

10. In case of difference of opinion in settlement of losses, the company will submit the same to arbitration in the county where the loss occurs, the claimant choosing one, the company one, and the two arbitrators another.

11 Each person insured in the company becomes a member and will be entitled to a participation of the profits, if any surplus should accrue, not required for the payment of losses.

12. This company will be responsible for losses by fire caused by lightning.

13. This company will take no risks in cities.

☞ The Directors return their acknowledgments to the public for ther readiness in aiding the organization of this company, and will endeavor to make it a safe and reliable institution, affording protection from the ravages of fire, at reasonable rates, and with certainty of payment in case of loss.

DIRECTORS.

James Farr, Fort Ann, Washington co; Olif Abel, Whitehall, do; Walter Geer, Glen's Falls, Warren co; Pelatiah Richards, Warrensburgh, do; Wm. E. Calkins, Ticonderoga, Essex co.; John Horton, Columbia Village, St. Lawrence co.; Thomas H. Conkey, Canton, do.; Amasa C. Moore, Samuel F. Viles, Henry G. Hewitt, Jacob H Holt, John Boynton, Peter S. Palmer, Cornelius Halsey, Z. C. Platt, W. W. Hartwell, Benjamine Gilman, George Moore, Plattsburgh, Clinton Co,

OFFICERS.

SAMUEL F. VILES, Presikent;
WM. W. HARTWELL, Vice President;
ZEPHENIAH C. PLATT, Treasurer;
GEORGE MOORE, Secretary;
I. C. MIX, and
R. G SWINBRN, General Agents.
JAMES B DICKINSON, Agent Ausable Forks.

Plattsburgh, Dec. 4th, 1852. 44 tf

DRY-GOODS!

CARPETS AND OIL-CLOTHS,

at uncommonly low prices

may be had at

G. V. S. Quackenbush's,

202 River and 9 State Streets, Troy.

MY Stock of Dry-Goods is unsurpassed in Variety and extent, consisting of every class of goods from the lowest priced Muslins and Prints, to the finest BROAD-CLOTHS AND CASSIMERES, or the richest and most expensive styles of Silks and Shawls and of each denomination of goods.

I have an almost endless variety of patterns of all the different qualities.

Of Carpets and Oil Cloths I have a splendid assortment consisting of a great variety of new and beautiful patterns of Velvets, Tapestry, and Brussels Carpets—

Also

Three Ply, Tapestry-Ingrains, and Ingrains of all qualities and so varied in styles that all may here find something to suit their fancy.

Oil Cloths of all Widths and Qualities and of the newest and most desirable patterns, Rugs, in great variety.

STAIR CARPETS, STAIR RODS, DRUGGETS,

MATTS,

and Matting of every Style and Quality.

A correct diagram being furnished Oil Cloths will be cut to fit rooms or halls without extra charge, and Carpets made in a superior manner at the lowest rates.

Those wishing to purchase either Dry-Goods or Carpets will find that my assortment is unequaled, and that my prices are uncommonly low

422 G. V. S. QUACKENBUSH, 202 River Street, Troy.

RUTLAND & BURLINGTON Rail Road.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after Monday, Nov. 1st, trains will run as follows, viz:

FOR BOSTON, NEW YORK AND INTERMEDIATE PLACES.

LEAVE
Burlington at	8.15	A. M.		4.15	P. M.
Vergennes	9 09	"		5,00	"
Middlebury	9,42	"		5,36	"
Brandon	10 30	"		6,18
Rutland	11 00	"	AR.	7,00
			L.	6,30	A. M.
Cuttingville	11.25			6,55	"
Ludlow	12 05	P. M.		7,26	"
Proctorsville	12,15	"		7,42	"
Chester	12,40	"		8,10	"
Arriving
Bellows Falls	1,15	"		8.45	"
Boston	7,00	"		1,00	P. M.
LEAVE
Boston	7.45	A. M.		12,00	M.
Bellows Falls	12 0	"		5 15	P. M.
Chester	12.40	P. M.		5.50	"
Proctorsville	107	"		6,17	"
Ludlow	1.15	"		6,25	"
Cuttingsville	1 52	"		7.06	"
Rutland AR.	2,15	"	AR.	7 30	"
L.	3,00	"	L.	7.45	"
Brandon	3 28	"		8 25	"
Middlebury	4,25	"		9.04	"
Vergennes	5,00	"		9,37	"
Arriving
Burlington	5.45	"		10,20	"

CONNECT AT BURLINGTON.

with the Steamers for PLATTSBURGH and MONTREAL RAIL ROADS, and with the VERMONT and CENTRAL and VERMONT and CANADA RAIL ROADS for the East, North, and West, via CHAMPLAIN and ST. LAWRENCE, and the OGDENSBURGH RAIL ROADS.

CONNECT AT RUTLAND

with the Trains of Western Vermont, Rutland and Washington and Saratoga and Washington Rail Roads, for New York, Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Buffalo and the West.

CONNECT AT BELLOWS FALLS

with the Trains of the Cheshire, Vermont Valley, and Sullivan Rail Roads for Windsor, Boston, Worcester, Lowell Springfield, Hartford, New Haven, and New York.

Fares are less when Tickets are purchased at the Offices than when paid in the Cars.

Burlington, Oct. 26, 1852. JOHN S. DUNLAP, Superintendent.

446

BUTTER FOR SALE.

LARGE quantity of good dairy Butter bought in large and small packages of the finest quality for sale at BOYNTON & SMITH,

Keeseville Jan. 27, 1853.

DATE ERROR ON MASTHEAD

says MAR. 20TH, 1853

should say MAR. 19TH, 1853

Essex County Republican.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING BY JONATHAN TARBELL, Editor and Proprietor. TERMS, $2 Per Year---$1,50 in Advance.

VOLUME XIII. NO. 44. KEESEVILLE, N. Y., MARCH 20, 1853. WHOLE NUMBER 463.

Poetry.

The following poem, so touching and beautiful, was prefaced by a note, a portion of which giving the incident on which the poem was founded, we feel constrained to give. We population and apparent resources, it was upheld by a board and intelligent comprehension of rights and an all pervading purpose to maintain them stronger than armaments. It came from the furnace of the revolution, tempered by the necessities of the times The thoughts of the men of that day were as practical as their sentifraternal relations. We can desire nothing in regard to them so much as to see them consolidate their strength and pursue the paths of prosperity and happiness.

If in the course of their growth we open new channels of trade and additional facilities for friendly intercourse the benefits realized will be equal an-masses of my countrymen and to them

Higher objects than personal agrandizement action and energy to their the late canvass, and they appointed. They require at gence, integrity and capacity are duties to be performed. qualities in their public sercounsels of human passion are rejected.—It must be felt that there is no national security but in the nation's humbly acknowledged dependence upon God and his overruling Providence.

We have been carried in safety through a perilous crisis. Wise counsels like those which gave us the Constitution, prevailed to uphold it. Let the period be remem-

ard. You contemplate not merely an indistinct view of these peaks, but have before the eye an entire development of the perfect contour, and the magnificent proportions of the loftiest mountain range east of the Mississippi. These pinnacles describe on the horizon, a semi-circle of about sixty miles in extent, and embrace an area of nearly one hundred square miles. The claims, must listen, is believed. to a future appeal on this subject, and by the hand of public munificence reveal this secluded. and thus open dormant fountains of wealth, that will soon pour a rich stream into the tide of general prosperity.

When a direct and accessible avenue shall be thus constructed, the conclusion seems irresistible, that this valley, commencing in the district I have attempted to sketch, and spreading far westward among the lakes and rivers of Hamilton, Franklin and St. Lawrence, will be occupied rapidly by New England emigrants. Why should they embrace it, rather than a prairie home? I can only glance at a few considerations connected with that branch of the subject. The territory is near, and can be reached with comparative trifling expense or risk; the emigrant is not far removed from the home and affections of his fatherland; farms may be purchased for a dollar to four dollars per acre; the climate and the soil are congenial to his habits and experience; acclimation will entail no term of suffering, sickness, and often want, upon himself and his family; the atmosphere that envelopes these mountains is pure, and invigorating, yielding in every inspiration health and vigor; he breaths no miasma pregnant with disease and death; the sun gleams through no sickening exhalations, but shines upon the earth warm, brilliant and genial. Labor is abundant. and reasonably cheap. He is in the heart of a prosperous and rapidly expanding manufacturing district, that forms and will secure to him, at his threshold, a prompt and permanent demand, at the highest prices of New York, for every agricultural commodity of his farm. He will enjoy a market and prices that would excite the cupidity of his Western competitor, and astonish and gladen his heart. These are among the advantages and attractions that Northern New York presents to Eastern emigration.

Malone, Franklin Co. Sandstone.

We understand that several Boston capitalists have negotiated for an interest. in Mr. Chandler's sandstone quarry, near this village, and that a corporation has been organized under the general mining and manufacturing law of this State, for working said quarry—of which Col. Schlatter. W. A. Wheeler, and George Parker, of this place, and J. M. Whiton and O. D. Ashley, of Boston, are the Trustees. The style of the corporation is "The Malone Sandstone Company." W. A. Wheeler, President—Henry Homer, Treasurer—George Parker, Clerk. Capital, four hundred thousand dollars, divided into shares of ten dollars each.

It is the intention of the Company to commence working this quarry extensively the present year, a large demand having already sprung up in our eastern and southern cities and villages, for the Malone sandstone.

In addition to what is to be done in the Chandler quarry, it will be seen by an advertisement in our columns this week, that Mr. Lindsay has sold to Mr. McGills an interest in his quarry on the Keeler farm, and that they are preparing to meet any orders for stone with which they may be favored. We are informed that Messrs. Lindsay & McGills intended to put a strong force into their quarry early this spring, and to make their operations equal to any demand which may arise for their stone Taking these things into view, in connection with the construction of the machine shops at this place, and the large amount of private building which is to be done, and the next season promises to be one of unprecedented activity, enterprise, and business, in our village. Operations so extensive, involving the employment of so many men, and the expenditure of so large an amount of money, cannot fail to be felt by the whole county, in an increased demand for its products, and the development of new sources of prosperity. It would really seem that this portion of what was once seemingly called a "Siberian region," is not only flourishing at home, but attracting favorable consideration abroad.

[Jeffersonian.

Rev. Eleazer Williams and Amos Lawrence.—Dr. Lathrop of Boston, who was well acquainted with the Rev. Eleazer Williams, the pretended Louis XVII, for several years, says in a lecture recently delivered on the subject, that Mr. Williams came to Boston some twelve years ago, and then his whole property was under bonds, which were due in that city, to the amount of $1800. He had no means of releasing it, but through an application by Dr. Lathrop, to a benevolent gentleman there, Williams was enabled to return the next day with a check for $1800 in his pocket. This friend in need who gave him this aid, was the late Amos Lawrence, Esq.

Dr. Lathrop concluded his lecture by giving it as his opinion, after a very careful examination of the whole matter, that the Rev. Eleazer Williams must give up all claims to the throne of France, and the lecturer all the hopes that might have arisen from the promise of Mr. W. that when he was established there, he would send out a frigate to take Dr. L. and his family to visit him in the Tuileries.

The Doctor thinks the claims of Mr. Williams proceeded from some monomania, brought on by dwelling on some important circumstances, and a reputed resemblance to the Burbon family. Whatever else may be false, the bounty of Lawrence was a reality.

NOBLE ESSEX!—It is pleasant amid "the wreck of matter," to find a "green spot."—The Whigs of Essex county send to their brethern elsewhere, this cheering result of their town elections:—

WHIGS 15—Loco Focos 3.

Last year the Board of Supervisors stood 13 to 5. This will do to start the campaign of '53, in Northern New York.—[Albany Journal.

We think the whigs of Essex have done their duty this spring as they did last fall, and we are glad to see it appreciated. The whigs of Essex Co. are such on principle, and it matters not to them whether the State and federal governments be with, or against them—they mean to be true in ad-

The Republican.

KEESEVILLE:

Saturday Morning March 19.

The Union of Lakes, the Union of Lands,
The Union of States none can sever,
The Union of Hearts, the Union of Hands,
The Flag of Our UNION—Forever."

The Inaugural.

We did not intend to publish this document, but as it possesses some marked characteristics, and has received a great variety of comment, we give it to our readers with such comments as it seems to us to call for. In what we have to say, we wish to be understood as saying what we think, unbiased by party prejudices, and any one who will give it a careful perusal, comparing it candidly with its predecessors, will agree with us.

As a whole, it is turgid, partaking of the schoolboy oratory. In point of real intrinsic merit and dignity of style, it is not equal to those which have gone before it. Gen. Pierce is evidently in a position to which he is not equal. We concede to it apparent frankness only, for we perceive he was taken by the hand as an "Old Fogy," and "Young America" patted him on the shoulder as one of them. We perceive, also, that those portions of the address relating to our foreign policy, and bearing on filibusterism, are receiving a variety of constructions. Under guarded expressions, annexation is hinted at and the Monroe doctrine is endorsed in careless language; so that on these important questions, at least, the policy of Gen. Pierce is yet to be made known. It may be one thing and it may be another. May Heaven protect the country! The address, moreover, as to internal policy, discloses the strict construction, do nothing, bigoted, narrow minded, N. H. locofoco. There is a plenty of blarney about the Union, the constellation of stars, the protection of American citizens abroad, a "confession of faith" in the Compromise Measures, economy in the public expenditures and obedience to the Constitution, but not a word for internal improvements, nor for those great commercial enterprises of the day, nor 'land for the landless,' nor yet a word for 'free speech,' nor 'free soil,' or the protection of American citizens at home, nor Home Industry. It is locofoco to the full—silent on the practical wants of the country—but inflated on those topics which tickle the ear of an American. In short, New Hampshire politics are transferred to Washington. In closing this brief notice it may be well to refresh the recollection of our readers with a few facts:

1. When in Congress Gen. Pierce talked, labored and voted against all appropriations for internal improvements, and spoke against Protection.

2. He also spoke against Pensions to Old Soldiers and Indian fighters, on the ground of unconstitutionality.

3. He caused his party to repudiate the Rev. Mr. Atwood for professing Free Soil sentiments, after having nominated him as their candidate for Governor.

We ask our friends to examine this locofoco inaugural for themselves, and see if our criticisms are not strictly correct.

Revival of Business.

It is with the greatest pleasure that we note a remarkable change in business.—The contrast between the present and a few months ago is really surprising. All is life, activity, and promise. The tide of emigration which a few months ago was depopulating the towns is returning. People wear smiling faces once more, and all bids fair for a business season. At Elizabethtown, Whallon & Judd are preparing to put up a rolling mill, and other extensive works are in contemplation. At Westport, it is expected that Jackson's furnace will soon be in blast. Wood is being delivered as fast as over 100 teams a day can deliver it. Port Henry is rapidly returning to its ancient glory. The furnace is being repaired and extensive additions are to be made.—Such is the demand for ore and ore beds in Moriah that their owners are beginning to hold back, rather than to be anxious to sell Ore beds lately sold for $10,000 cannot be had for $40,000. A new furnace is talked of on cedar Point, and another at Westport. On the Ausable River the change is equally as great. The Messrs. Rogers of Ausable Forks who a few months ago employed only two or three hundred men have now 1000 in active operation. A similar change has taken place at all the establishments up and down the river. At this place, the Messrs. Kingslands are contemplating a new Rolling Mill, and a Shovel Factory. For the first time in several years business wears a stirring and the people a cheerful aspect. There is only danger of over acting.

New Marble Quarry.

During the last fall extensive explorations were made on Crownpoint, near the Old Fort opposite Chimney Point, and black and varigated marble are found there to an unlimited extent. A company is in the course of formation in New York city to work it. It is expected that operations will commence early in the spring.

INFINTISIMAL MEDICINE.—A notorious

☞ We give place to the following of course, Any attempt to cast reflections upon the Post Master, or his assistant at Clintonville is simply malicious. They are above any attempt at partiality. much less of a wish to suppress, so inoffensive a paper as the Northern Gazette proved in the last Campaign. The charge could only originate with a man who is capable of doing the same thing, or he would not suspect others. We dont believe the papers were ever deposited in the Post office here, for the reason that, we dont believe the Editor had any paper to print them on unless that article has greatly increased in that office of late.

"Nuff ced" for the present, but if necessary we will make a disclosure or two that will make the young gentleman wish he had never been born.

To the Editor of the Essex County Republican.

DEAR SIR:—

I notice in the Gazette of March 3d, an inaugural from its Editor, setting forth sundry complaints from his patrons in the neighborhood of Clintonville, alleging that "they do not receive their papers." That "the fault lies with the Post Office in this village," and closes the prooious documents, by expressing his glorification in the "prospect of a speedy change in this place for the better."

Now for the facts. That complaints have been made by different persons, on not receiving their papers from this office, is true, but that the fault lies at this office, is equally untrue, and we do not hesitate in saying, that the statement made, charging us with the difficulty or fault, is absolutely false, and without color of truth. We are fully prepared to prove ourselves clear of blame, by such testimony as will set the matter fully at rest. The true source of this difficulty, could undoubtedly be found in the gentleman's own cabinet. The absent papers never reached this office.

TIMOTHY CARPENTER, P. M.
By order
W. H. COLLINS Dep.

Clintonville, March 12th, 1853.

Congress.

This body has at last came to a constitutional end—a fate it ought to have met with long ago. With a democratic majority of 52 in the lower house and of 13 in the Senate, it has yet done nothing but to drag out its existance in useless debates, and petty wranglings. What is most extraordinary, its inefficiency, its wranglings, and petty obstructions to business have come from the majority. Of all the Congresses which have ever met this has been the most completely useless, and pernicious in its influences. The great interests of the country have been overlooked for minor and insignificant matters and for the discussion of subjects that would take care of themselves. If nothing has been accomplished there is this consolation, that little evil has been done, save a wicked waste of time, and a bad example. The members had better have been at home about their own affairs, where they might have done much good to themselves, and families, saved the public monies. the corruption of their own morals. and the infliction of twaddle, nonsense, and contentious debates upon the public.—Good riddance.

FRIEND TARBELL:—

I wish to say a word about our Rail Road. that is, the Whitehall and Plattsbough R R. I have never seen the route that I have in my mind mentioned in any public manner. We frequently hear of the "Willsboro route" near the lake which has many advocates. Another route from near Mullen Brook in the south part of this town to run directly, or nearly north, bearing west of Westport Village and this place and so on through Lewis to Keeseville. Both of the above named routes are objectionable on account of rough and expensive grades.—They are as is well known quite indirect. diverging from each other some 8 or 10 miles. The route I have in my mind is perfectly feasible and almost direct from Port Henry to Keeseville. The proposed route is from Mullen Brook through Westport about 1-4 mile west of the village, thence directly north about 1-4 mile east of this place, thence through the extreme west end of Essex and Willsboro and so on to Keeseville. There is no difficulty in getting through. I am told by those who are perfectly reliable, that there is no mile with a rise of more than 40 feet until. I think, we approach. or near Keeseville. You know best what the grade is in your vicinity. I wish simply to call the attention of those interested to this route believing this to be some 3 or 4 miles nearer than any other route from Port Henry to Keeseville.

Yours in haste
D. W. BRAMAN.

Wadhams Mills, March 5th, 1853.

A Perjured Witness.

During the late campaign, a Mr. Smalley of Burlington, Vt, was brought over to Clintonville to swear that Pierce was a good tariff man, and that he knew it from personal conversation! Mr. Smalley was known to many to be a man who had often before led "forlorn hopes" always sent when "tall talking" (lying) was wanted as was the case at Clintonville, yet any attempt, to refute him would have accomplished about as much as "blowing against the east wind." He answered the purpose then, and, very likely the same men will continue to be deluded, swallowing "democracy" in whatever phaze it may be presented. We cannot, however, permit these occasions to pass without notice. Those assurances contrasted with the inaugural afford an illustration too plain to be passed over in silence.

The English papers h to make of Ericsson's en ship. One says it is a 's

Gen. Pierce'e "Confession of Faith."

COMFORT FOR THE BARNBURNERS.

We repeat so much of the inaugural as relates to the compromise.

Standing, as I do, almost within view of the green slopes of Monticello, and, as it were, within reach of the tomb of Washington, with all the cherished memories of the past gathering around me, * * I believe that INVOLUNTARY SERVITUDE, as it exists in different States of this Confederacy, is recognized by the Constitution. I believe it stands like any other admitted right, and that the States where it exists are entitled to efficient remedies to enforce the constitutional provisions. I hold that the laws of 1850, commonly called the "Compromise Measures," are strictly constitutional, and to be unhesitationly carried into effect. I believe that the constituted authorities of this Republic are bound to regard the rights of the South in this respect, as they would view any other legal and constitutional right, and the laws to enforce them should be respected and obeyed, not with a reluctance encouraged by abstract opinions as to their propriety in a different state of society, but cheerfully.

The 'Jeffersonian Era" as propounded by the barnburners in 1848:

Resolved, that the Proviso of Thomas Jefferson to prohibit the existance of Slavery, after 1800, in all the Territories of the United States, Southern and Northern, &c., clearly shows that it was the settled policy of the nation not to extend, nationalize or encourage, but to limit, localize and Discourage Slavery; and to this Government ought to return.

Resolved, That there must be no more compromises made with Slavery; and if made, they must be REPEALED.

Endorsing the Inaugural.

Mr. D. B. Tylor's Resolutions, reiterating and aproving the "Compromise', sentiments of President Pierce, are pertinent if not palateable. The President did "come it rather strong" for Slavery, to be sure, but that was the way to "save the Union." No loyal Pierce man can refuse to vote for the following:—[Albany Journal.

Resolved, That the State of New York reaffirm the doctrines of the Inaugural, "that involuntary servitude, as it exists in different States of this confederacy, is recognized by the Constitution—that it stands like any other admitted right, and that the States where it exists are entitled to efficient remedies to enforce the constitutional provisions"—that "the laws of 1850, commonly called the 'compromise measures' are strictly constitutional, and to be unhesitatingly carried into effect"—that "the constituted authorities of this Republic are bound to regard the rights of the South in this respect as they would view any other legal and constitutional right—and that the laws to enforce them should be respected and obeyed not with a reluctance encouraged by abstract opinions as to their propriety in a different state of society, but cheerfully, and according to the decisions of the tribunal to which their exposition belongs;" and that the State of New York pledges her faith to the Union, that every law adopted by the constituted authorities of the United States, including the fugitive slave law, shall by faithfully enforced within the limits of the State.

BROTHER TARBELL:—

At a regular meeting of Tahawus Lodge No. 315, I. O. of O. F., held at their Hall, March 2d. 1853. Brothers Geo. C. Dickinson, C. D. Meigs and P. K. Burt were appointed a committee to draft resolutions expressive of the feelings of the Lodge on the death of their much esteemed Brother Elwin R. Bushnell. At the next regular meeting, holden on the 9th inst., the following preamble and resolutions were reported and adopted,

Whereas it has pleased the Almighty in his infinite wisdom, to remove from our midst an esteemed and worthy brother who was endeared to us by all the sacred ties of friendship, love and truth, therefore,

Resolved, That in this afflicting dispensation "we acknowledge the right of him who doth all things well" to do with us as it seemeth to him good—that the death of our brother has cast a gloom over our lodge, and occasioned a sincere and heartfelt sorrow to its members; that we mourn the loss of one who was connected with us not only by the relations of this life, but by the solemn and sacred obligations of Odd Fellowship.

Resolved, That the early departure of our deceased brother should remind us of the uncertainty of life, and lead us to a speedy preparation for our approach to "that bourne from which no traveller returns."

Resolved, That we tender to the Widow and relatives of our deceased Brother, our deep and heartfelt sympathies in their bereavement. and invoke for them that consolation and comfort which their situation requires, "may the widow, who has so early lost one who so well understood and sustained the dearest relations of life, look confidingly to him, who though he cause grief, will have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies," who notwithstanding this dispensation will sustain her in every affliction.

May the venerable and aged Parent who has followed so many of his dear children to the tomb, remember, "that the Lord chasteneth whom he loveth" and that he does not willingly afflict or grieve the children of men.

Resolved, That the charter of this Lodge and other emblems be clothed in mourning, and the brothers wear the usual badge for the remainder of the term.

Resolved That a copy of these resolutions signed by the N. G. V. G. and Secretary be presented to the widow and parent of our late Brother, and also that they be published in the 'Northern Gazette,' and 'Essex County Republican.

S. G. FITZGERALD, N. G.
THOS. HAWKET, V. G.
ES BEAN, R. S.

☞ We would call the attention of our lers to the card of A. A. Lee Esq.,
. &c., at Elizabethtown. He is a na-

County Survey.

MR. WATSON,

Dear Sir:—The following are Analyses of the several limestones of which you wish an examination. J. H. SALISBURY.

	No 280 Fertilizer from Messrs Tredway, Schroon	No 232 Hinkleys limestone N. Elba.	Gray marble Chesterfield J. N. Macomber.
Carbonate Lime	66,59	83,97	87,10
Silica	16,20	11,57	3,85
Allumina & Iron	6.80	3,13	6,05
Magnesia	2,80	0,23	0,85
Soda	2,84	trace	0,35
Potassa	1,86	trace	0,50
Chlorine	0,14	0,10	0,26
Sulphuric acid	2,40	0,20	0,44
Phosphoric	0,13	0,07	0,20
Plumbago	0,20	0,19
Organic Matter	trace	trace	0,32
	99,96	99,46	99,80

	No 44 P B Boynton Rock	No 190 Col. Calkins. Limestone Ticonderoga.
Carbonate lime	70,31	80,92
Silica	21,39	10,21
Allumina & Iron	3,61	4,69
Magnesia	1,09	0,58
Soda	trace	trace
Potassa	0,80	trace
Chlorine	0,31	trace
Sulphuric acid	0,69	0,40
Phosphorio "	0,20	0,11
Plumbago		1,96
Organic matter	1,40	0,90
	99,92	99,50

It was found quite impossible to arrive at the true Agricultural qualities of these rocks without subjecting them to a careful chemical analysis.

No. 208, is almost a hydraulic cement. It contains a large percentage of lime, also a respectable quantity of magnesia, and an unusually large percentage of soda, potassa, chlorine a sulphuric and phosphoric acides, for a rock of this kind. On this account it is most admirably adopted as a manure for agricultural purposes. The gray marble of Chesterfield, and No. 44, rank next in agricultural value. They are also unusually valuable for this purpose as will be seen by referring to their composition. The marble will also make an excellent lime for masonry.

Nos. 232 and 190 although less valuable than the others, on account of the absence of the alkalies, yet they are equal in richness to the majority of limestones. They are both quite well adapted for the manufacture of lime for masonary.

Below are the Analyses of two different samples of Hydraulic Cement. No. 51 and 30.

	No. 51 Near O. F. Sheldon Willboro.	No. 30 H. Page, from Chesterfield.
Silica	14,86	57,37
Alumina & Iron	7,93	16,30
Carbonate lime	60,46	17,43
Magnesia	13,46	7,93
Soda	0,73	0,06
Potassa	0,60	0,10
Sulphuric acid	0,20	0,23
Chlorine	0,14	trace
Organic matter	1,60	0,46
	99,98	99,88

No. 51 is from Willsboro. This if in quantities sufficiently large and uniform in composition like the sample analysed will prove a highly valuable deposite for the manufacture of hydraulic cement. In composition, it has all the materials present in the requisite proportions for yielding a superior cement.

No. 30 is from Chesterfield. This although a hydraulic cement, yet the sample analysed is too silicious for warranting a strong cement. Beds of this kind however vary in different positions, much in composition. It is hence not at all improbable that sections of this bed may yield a valuable cement. It is well worth an examination and trial.

It is proper to remark that the specimen from Mr. Pages was broken off from the exposed surface. W. C. W.

The following is the Analysis of a soil from North Elba, No. 31, Sandy loam.

100 parts dried at 212° gave of

Organic matter	18,16
Silica	71,88
Iron and Allumina	6,74
Lime	0,54
Magnesia	0,36
Potassa	0,62
Soda	0,24
Chlorine	0,08
Sulphuric acid	1,12
Phosphoric acid	0,04
	99,78

Under the Microscope this soil is seen to be made up of the debris of primary rocks. Among the minerals are plainly seen quartz, mica. hornblende, and feldspar. By referring to the analysis the soil will be seen to be remarkably rich in organic matter. This organic matter is in a finely, pulverulent state and communicates to the soil a highly retentive and absorbent power. Its quantity and state of decomposition imparts to the soil a rich dark brown color, which makes it a fine absorber of solar heat It also contains a respectable quantity, of all the inorganic bodies which enter into the composition of plants. The amount of these is sufficient, considering the fine state of division of the soil—at present to give a good degree of fertility to the soil. A few crops however so diminish those portions of the lime, magnesia, potassa, soda. sulphuric and phospheric acids and chlorine which are soluble, as to decrease perceptably its fertility. It is however a soil which can be easily kept in a high state of fertility, by simply adding each year, the small quantity of ingredients that are removed by the crops. Essex Co. furnishes all the materials requisite for this purpose, in her phosphate of lime, marl and peat deposits and common wood ashes.

All right:—A cotemporary or two of ours, who are great sticklers for "credit" (in more instances than one) are largely indebted to our exertions for returns of town meetings. We have not heretofore

From the "Philomathesian" of Keeseville Academy.

All that Liveth here must Die.

BY FLAVIUS J. COOK.

Go thou and search this vast wide earth arounud,
In every nook and shade;
In the oceans depths, on the mountain's heights,
In every wild-bushed glade.
There dost thou scattered find the bones of man,
They are strewd on every hill;
In the dark deep woods, in the bright sunshine,
By the side of each purling rill,
Hark! we walk on the tomb, of youthful bloom.
We tread o'er the lord and slave;
And a voice doth come, from our earthly home.
It speaks from the shining wave;
And we hear it now, as with accents low,
It falls from the arching sky;
Listen! Its voice is low—"Let all men know,
All that liveth here must die!"

I have wandered forth in the early spring,
When the flowers were fresh and fair;
But the change I've seen the autumn bring,
Has left them withered there.
So shall our health and strength and joy pass by,
And our beauty slowly fade;
For all that moves and breathes beneath the sky,
Have mutable been made.
The pall, the bier, the mourners tear,
The sweep of the pestilent breath;
The coral grave neath the ocean wave,
And the silent bed of death;
The pallid cheek, and the faltering speech,
With the dim and sunken eye;
Have a voice to us ever—ceasing never,
All that liveth here must die!

As leaps the young stream down the mountain side,
And sings in its joyous glee;
As rolls on the swift river, dark and wide,
And hasteth fast to the sea;
So the river of life rolls on to death,
And turneth not back its wave;
For at every step, and every breath,
We are nearer to the grave.
And each time the sun his bright course hath run,
And sets in the golden west;
'Tis nearer the time when his rays shall shine,
On the cold clods o'er our breast.
Thus death sweepeth on, and it spares not one,
'Tis coming to you and I;
For the mandate's sure, through time to endure,
All that liveth here must die!

And why then should we fear this common fate,
Why cling to this earthly soil?
Why dread that we must pass through death's last gate,
Which free'th from care and toil?
This earth is but a scene of sin and strife,
And its paths are full of woe;
Is it not then well that the soul at last,
Should to fairer regions go?
To a world more dear, to a nobler sphere,
To a bright and perfect day;
Where the friends we meet, and the joys we greet,
Can never pass away.
Thence we're hastening all. for spirits call,
From our home beyond the sky;
And beckon us there, to that bright world where,
With them we shall never die!
March 14th, 1853.

Inverse ratio.

In proportion as the inaugural, and the tendencies of the national administration appear ot be obnoxious to them, do the free soil papers increase in boisterous, and promiscuous approbation. Especially is this the case with the Northern Gazette, tho all its protestations on the tariff, particularly, have been falsified.

Our Thanks are due to our friends for their kindness in forwarding the result of town meetings, by which we gave the county complete (Newcomb and Minerva excepted) in our first issue after. We hope next year to have every town in the county by the first mail.

☞ We are indebted to Hon. Jas. Meacham and Hon J. H. Boyd for valuable public documents.

Enigma.

I am composed of 12 letters.
My 1, 4, 12, 6, 2, is one of the species of the Human Race.
My 2, 6, 9, 7, 6, should be common in schools.
My 3, 8, 10, 11, signifies ostentations.
My 4, 5, 9, 7, 6, should always serve the younger.
My 5, 7, 8, 9, is a metal.
My 6, 7, 8, 9, is a term often used by School Teachers.
My 7, 5, 9, 7, 6, signifies senior.
My 8, 5, 4, is a malt liquor,
My 9, 7, 5, 4, 3, 8, 11, is a town in Wisconsin.
My 10, 9, 7, 8, is an image in the mind.
My 11, 2, 3, 4, 5, is the first word of my whole.
My 12, 7, 8, 6, signifies to dress.
My whole should be weloomed to much of our disrespect, and revert to the bottomless pit.

NELA C. OZDNOLA.

A solution requested.

CHARADE.

My first, a palace we may call,
Tis often then, men go to meet,
And there in chamber, room, or hall,
The justice take their vacant seat.
My last and second you may see,
Oft times, where dangers fearful sway,
May swallow up, ne'er more to be,
Uncovered from the ocean's spray.
My whole, if you cannot now guess,
I say you're not of guessers, best.

SIWEL. N.

Keeseville, March 11th, 1853.

Answer to Miscellaneous Enigma of last week: "Make hay while the sun shines." To Charade, "Gas-Light."

Meterological Table,

BY J. R. R.

1853.	7A. M.	1P. M.	5P. M.
March 11th	26°	35°	33°
" 12th	31°	50°	37°
" 13th	38°	40°	35°
" 14th	29°	39°	16°
" 15th	5°	21°	15°
" 16th	8°	25°	21°
" 17th	14°	40°	32°

POST CARDS
PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization

Selling off at Cost!

Barnum will sell the remaindor of his Winter Stock of Hats, Caps, Furs, Fancy Robes, Gloves, Mittens, &c., at cost. A good assortment of Trunks, Vallises, Ladies and Gentlemen's Satchels and Carpet Bags, Umbrellas, Canes, Buckskin Gloves and Mittens, &c., on hand.

I. W. BARNUM.

College Street, 2nd Door from Church
Burlington, Vt., Feb. 1, 1853.

AUCTION SALE.

HAVING sold my farm, I shall sell a public auction on the 5th day of April next, at 1 o'clock, P. M. on said farm, a variety of personal property, consisting of horses, cattle, sheep, swine, wagons, sleighs, and farming utensils, several kinds of seed grain, potatoes, &c. &., affording a good opportunity to farmers and others to purchase valuable property at a bargain.

WILLETS KEESE.

Keeseville. March 18th, 1853.

N. B. For particulars see handbills. A part of the cattle are a cross of the Durham and Hereford.

A. A. LEE,

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW,

ELIZABETHTOWN, ESSEX COUNTY, N. Y.

☞ Office over Root & Co's store. 462

Hotel to Let.

THE HOTEL kept by C. M. Gifford in Essex, will be to be let the first of May next. Application may be made at the Post Office in Essex. CHAS. G FANCHER.

Essex, March 14, 1853. 462-4w

SUPREME COURT.

Frederick L. Seeley,
ag'st
Isaac Heustis,
Daius Breaw,
James Pilling,
James Adams,
Edmund Kingsland,
Jacob D, Kingsland,
William W. Kingsland,
Alfred Baker,
Levi S. Scribner,
Henry Green.
Andrew Thompson,
Stephen F. Spencer,
George Adgate and
Abraham B. Kingsland.

In pursuance of a decree or judgment of the Supreme Court, made in the above cause, will be sold under the direction of the subscriber, sheriff of the county of Essex, at public auction at the Adirondack Hotel in the town of Chesterfield, in the county of Essex, on Monday the 2d day of May next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, all that certain piece or parcel of land lying and being in the town of Chesterfield, county of Essex and State of New York, to wit: a part of lot seventeen (17 in the twelve thousand acre location granted to Zepheniah Platt and others, and bounded as follows, viz: on the east by the west line of the road leading from Keeseville to Essex, on the south by a lot occupied October 18, 1836, by Mark Lafontain, on the west by land owned October 18, 1836, by Martin J. Vanderworker, and on the North by the South line of the land owned by said Vanderworker, Oct. 18, 1836, leading from said road west, to land lying in rear of the above described lot. Said lot is supposed to be eight rods in front and twenty roads in rear, and to contain one acre of land, and is known as the Darius Breau tavern, stand in Chesterfield aforesaid.

C. W. ESSEX, Sheriff,
By J. C. FINCH, Deputy.

Keeseville, March 19, 1853. 462-7w

MORTGAGE SALE

DEFAULT has been made in the payment of the debt secured by a certain mortgage, dated the 21st day of October, 1847, executed by William Galusha and Sophia, his wife, then of Wilmington, in the County of Essex, State of N. Y., to Uriah D. Mihills of Keene, in the county and state aforesaid, and recorded in the office of the clerk of Essex county, in volume N. of Mortgages, pages 283 and 284, on the 28th day of December, 1847, at nine o'clock, A. M. Said mortgage was duly assigned by said Mihills to Willard Bell, January 14th, 1848, and by said Bell duly assigned to Reuben Patridge, January 30, 1849, and by said Patridge duly assigned to M. Finch, Amos Avery and Charles Malbone, assignees of Reuben Sanford, January 1st, 1849, who are now the owners of said mortgage. There is claimed to be due on said mortgage, at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $167,93. Now therefore, notice is hereby given that the premises described in said mortgage, will, by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, be sold at public auction, at the Adirondac Hotel, in Keeseville, in said county, on the 8th day of June next, at 1 o'clock, P. M.

Said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage as follows: All that certain piece or parcel of land situate in the town of Wilmington, in the county of Essex, being a part of lot No 34, of Mallory's grant, bounded as follows: beginning at a stake and stones standing on the North line of the Sampson lot, 141 rods from the centre of the road leading from the Carpenter house to Elish and Burdick's forge, being the South-West corner of Ephraim French's land, and running East on said line to the West line of said grant, thence North on the line of said grant to the centre of the road leading from Sanford's to St. Armand, thence running Easterly in the centre of said road to a stake and stones; being the North-West corner of a piece of land occupied by David Hatch, thence South 42 degrees, West six rods to the South bank of Mill Brook, thence Easterly along the South bank of said brook 30 rods to a stake and stones being the South-East corner of said Hatch lot, thence North 35 degrees East to the centre of said road, thence Easterly in the centre of said road to the North-West corner of the Carpenter lot, thence South on the line of said Carpenter lot to the South-west corner of said lot, thence East on the line of said lot to the brook, thence up the brook in the centre thereof to a point ten rods below the sawmill, and thence on the South bank of said brook on the line of Ephraim French's lot to the North-west corner thereof, thence South 43 degrees west on the line of said French's lot 126 rods to the place of beginning, containing seventy-five acres, be the same more or less.

M. FINCH,
AMOS AVERY,
CHAS. MALBONE, } Assignees.

FINCH & HARWOOD, Att'y's.
Dated March 12, 1853. 462-13w

BUTTER FOR SALE.

Large quantity of good dairy Butter bought in large and small packages of the finest quality for sale at BOYNTON & SMITH.

Keeseville Jan. 27. 1853.

WOOL.

CASH Paid for Wool.
Nov. 18, 1851. J. APPLEYARD.

EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR.

50 BARRELS made from Pure Genessee Wheat at the lowest price at REYNOLDS & TUTTS

The Illustrated Magazine of Art.

In Monthly Parts. Price 25 cents each.

Every arrangement has been made to produce a work of unparalleled magnificence, regardless of cost.

The Editor, Mr. Cassell, has published a similar work in England during the past year, under the title of "Illustrated Exhibitor and Magazine of Art," the circulation of which has averaged 60,000 each number.

Encouraged by the success which has attended this enterprise, he has resolved to present to the American public a magazine of still higher pretensions—one, indeed, which will prove the pictorial wonder of the age. Each number will consist of sixty-eight pages, royal octavo, printed on the finest paper. The illustrations will be intrusted to the first artists of the world.—Six monthly parts will form a handsome volume

The work will be so conducted as to embrace the greatest variety of matter in its various departments, upon each of which the highest literary talent will be employed.

The following is a brief outline of the plan of the Magazine:—

I. The Historical Department will abound with picturesque representations of the most remarkable events which have occurred in this and other countries; accompanied with interesting anecdotes and details from the pens of the most eminent writers of the day. This department will contain several splendid engravings, designed by the first artists of the world, engraved in the highest style of modern art

II. The Men and Women of the Age.—This department will consist of beautifully executed portraits of the leading characters of the age, especially of those who figure on the stage of humanity as the world's benefactors. Each portrait will be accompanied by an interesting biographical sketch.

III. The wonders of Natural History, Botany, and other sciences, will be developed in choice Engravings of Beasts, Birds, Fishes, Insects, Forest Trees, Flowers, Geological and Fossil specimens, &c., with accompanying descriptions.

IV. The triumphs of Architectural Art will be displayed in exquisitely finished representations of Cathedrals, Churches, Palaces, and other models of ancient and modern Architectural Art.

V. The works of the Great Masters, selected from the principal Galleries of Art in the world. In general, the portrait of the Master will be given, accompanied with a highly finished, engraved copy of his chef d'œuvre.

VI. The scientific portions will be rendered highly interesting by the familiar explanations, and the numerous diagrams, which will accompany each subject.

VII. Manufactures. The principal manufacturing process in use will be fully explained by minute details, and an abundance of beautiful engravings.

VIII. Machinery and Inventions will have due attention paid to them, and be described by numerous appropriate engravings.

IX. Ladies' Work Table Department will contain a rich variety of elegant and original patterns for various kinds of useful and ornamental work, with ample directions for copying them.

X. The literary department, independently of the various articles accompanying the illustrations, will comprise original and interesting naratives, contributed by the most popular writers of the day, with numerous illustrations

In addition to the numerous and beautiful engravings incorporated in the letter press, each number will contain four splendid engravings, and printed in a very superior manner upon superfine plate paper.

In every respect the Illustrated Magazine of Art will be decidedly superior to any pictorial magazine of the day. The paper the typography, the engravings, the literary articles, will far surpass its successful predecessor published in England, upon which such high eulogiums have been pronounced by the whole public press. Six of the monthly portions, when completed, will form a volume, which for interest, originality, value and beauty, will defy competition. It will not only be an interesting family book, but a rich ornament for the drawing room table, and a plesant companion in the study. ☞TERMS-$3 a year; to Clubs of three or more, $2,50 if paid in advance for twelve months, it will be sent postage free to any part of the Union.

AGENTS WANTED in every town throughout the U. S.

Any person receiving the first number, and canvassing with the same, will be certain of securing a large number of subscribers. No just conception can be formed of the elegance and beauty of the work from merely reading a printed prospectus. The Illustrations contained in each number will entail a cost, in drawing and engraving, of $2500 or $3000. All communications relating to the work to be addressed to ALEXANDER MONTGOMERY,

Publisher, 17 Spruce street, N. Y.

STATE OF NEW YORK, } SS.
County of Essex.

The undersigned, Clerk of said County, hereby gives notice that at the County Clerk's office in Elizabethtown, in said County, on the 28th day of February inst at 10 o'clock, A. M. of that day, he will draw the names of 36 persons to serve as Petit Jurors at a County Court and Court of Sessions to be held at the Court House, in said town on the third Tuesday in March next, at 10 o'clock A. M. of that day.

Given and dated at the County Clerk's Office, this 14th day of February 1853.

E. A. ADAMS, Clerk

STATE OF NEW YORK, } SS.
County of Essex,

The undersigned Clerk of said County hereby gives notice that at the Co. Clerk's office in Elizabethtown in said County on the 28th day of Feb. inst at 10 o'clock A. M. he will draw the names of twenty four persons to serve as Grand Jurors at a County Court and Court of Sessions to be held at the Court House in said Town on the third Tuesday of March next, at 10 o'clock A. M. of that day.

Given and dated at the County Clerk's office this 14th day of February A. D. 1852.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization

Miscellaneous.

Insurance Agency.

National Protection Insurance Company,
Saratoga Springs, Capital, $200,000

Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance Company,
West Scotia, N. Y., Capital, $160,000

Nothern N. Y. Mutual Insurance Company,
Plattsburgh, N. Y, Capital, $100,000

Knickerbocker Fire Insurance Company,
Watsrford, N. Y., Capital, $200,000

Northern N. Y. Live Stock Ins. Company,
Plattsburgh, N. Y., Capital, $50,000

Charter Oak Life Insurance Company,
Hartford, Vt., Capital, $200,000

Policies in the National Protection Insurance Co., and the Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance issued by the undersigned.

JAMES B. DICKINSON.

Office, Ausable Forks N. Y.
Saratoga Springs, Feb'y 7th, 1852.

WE, the undersigned, JOHN WILLARD, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court for the 4th Judicial District of the State of New York, and a resident of Saratoga Springs, with AUGUSTUS BOCKES, First Judge of the County of Saratoga, being likewise a resident of Saratoga Springs, and JOHN C. HULBURT, Surrogate of the County of Saratoga, also a resident of Saratoga Springs—do hereby Certify, that we are personally acquainted with the men composing the Board of Directors of the National Protection Insurance Company of Saratoga Springs. We take pleasure in availing ourselves of this opportunity in recommending to the Public, from a personal knowledge of the responsibility and character of their Board of Directors, that this Company is a sound and reliable Institution, will deal fairly with the assured, and are fully competent to pay their losses. We therefore unhesitatingly recommend this Company as an Institution in every respect worthy of a liberal patronage.

JOHN WILLARD,
A. BOCKES,
JNO. C. HULBURT.

JAMES B. DICKINSON,
Policy Agent, Ausable Forks.
Ausable Forks, Feb. 5th, 1852. 457-tf

CHINA, GLASS, & EARTHEN WARE.

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

[SUCCESSORS TO PEIRCE AND KING,]

IMPORTERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS,

235 River Street, Troy, New York.

Having our Stock very complete from Importations, and otherwise, are prepared to offer a large assortment of all Goods in our Line. Wholesale or Retail, at the Lowest New York or Boston Prices for Cash or Approved Credit, a many which will be found:

Fine White Ironstone and White Glazed Ware Flown Blue, Flown Mulberry, Light Blue and common Wares, and the Acacia Ware, formerly kept by Mr A. Shason.

White, Gold Band and Decorated French China, in sets or separate prices.

Tea Sets, of French and English China, white, Gilt, or decorated. India China in great variety

Toilet Sets, decorated or plain, full, double, or single sets.

Cut Glass Ware, in Decanters, Goblets Champagnes, Wines &c., of new and rich patterns. Glass cut to match any pattern.

Moulded and plain Glass Ware, of every description and style.

Girandoles, Candelabras, Solar Lamps, and Chandeliers, in every variety, from the manufactory of Cornelius & Co. Philadelphia.

Solar Globes, cut and Plain, Solar and Camphene Wicks and Chimnies. Astral and Coal Wicks, Boat Globes, Astral Chimnies, &c., &c.

Hall Lanterns of cut, plain and stained Glass,

Lanterns of every variety. Also a new and desirable style with patent catch, &c., for Railroads and Steamboats, and made to order with names or initials engraved on.

Tea Trays and Waiters, new styles and shapes, of our own importion, singly or in sets.

Looking Glasses. Britannia Ware. Table Mats &c, &c

Also a splendid assortment of Fancy Goods, consisting of Vases, Colognes, Cardreceivers, Allumets, Decanters, Wine Bottles, &c., in China, Terra Cotta, Parian Marble, and Bohemian Ware,

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

235 River Street, Opposite Troy House, Troy, N Y.

ALFRED H. PEIRCE. } 445
LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK.

Gas, Steam & Water Fitting and Fixtures, Wrought-Iron Pipe, Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Plumbers' Materials, &c.

We are now prepared to do work in dwellings, Stores, Churches, Mills, or Factories, in the way of Gas and Steam Fitting or Plumbing, in the most complete and satisfactory manner. Having workmen in each of the above branches who cannot be excelled by any similar establishments in the country all orders will be promptly executed, and work done in any part of the country

We have also constantly on hand and for Sale at Manufacturers' Prices, Wrought Iron Pipe for Gas, Steam, and water, Twisted and Plain Brass Pipe, Steam Valves, Brass and Iron Stop Cocks, Tees, Elbows, Coupling, Brass Globe, Gross and Check Valves, &c. Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Leather Hose, Hose Pipe and Couplings, with every material in Lead, Brass and Pewter Work for Plumbers' use.—Plug Basins, Hoppers, Closet Pans, Corner Basins, and Baths, of all descriptions.

Also, a splendid a sortment of Chandeliers, Pendants, Brackets &c; on new and rich styles, to which we are receiving constant additions.

PEIRCE and SOUTHWICK.

223 and 235 River Street, [Opposite Troy House,] Troy, N. Y. 415tf

ALFRED H. PEIRCE. LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK.

WAR DECLARED

—BETWEEN—

France and England!!!

WOULD not create as great a sensation among the inhabitants of this portion of country as the proclamation of war on high prices by CARDWELL in the sale of

Ready-Made Clothing.

That war declared Oct. 1st, 1851, still rages with unabating and increasing fury; but in its progress its path is not marked with bloodshed, carnage and desolation as the wars of one Nation against another; on the other hand its fruits are smiling faces (NOT OF OTHER DEALERS) and glad hearts; go ask the honest and hardy inhabitants of our pine clad hills, and our pleasant valleys, where he buys his CLOTHING, and he will answer you with a smile,

WHY AT CARDWELL'S, OF COURSE!

That is the place where you can obtain the latest styles, a genteel fit, and well made suit of clothes for less money than at any other Store in northern New York.

Why, says one man, I have saved money enough by purchasing my Clothing this Fall at

CARDWELL'S CHEAP STORE

to buy me a good Cow. ☞This is no fiction: living witnesses can be produced that will testify to the truth of it.

N. B. Saturday March the 5th will arrive a large and magnificent assortment of Spring and Summer Clothing, when the Spring and Summer Fashions will be introduced. Every description of garments always to be found at CARDWELL'S One Price cheap

CLOTHING WARE ROOM'S,

ADIRONDAC HOTEL BUILDINGS,
Keeseville N. Y.

G. A. CARDWELL.

PIANO FORT EMPORIUM.

361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. The most extensive and varied assortment of ROSEWOOD PIANO FORTES, plain and ornamental, elegant patterns, elaborately carved, and highly finished with Pearl keys, all of our own manufacture, and warranted in every particular, can be found at our Warerooms, 361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

427-1y BENNTT & CO.

WANTED,

A farm containing not less than 200 acres in the town of Chesterfield, Ausable or Peru, on which must be good Dwelling House and out Buildings and otherwise under good cultivation. One answering the above Description will meet with sale for cash.

Benj.

Port Kent, Feb. 22d, 1853

WANTED.

20 POUNDS Saffron for which

Miscellaneous.

LEONARD SCOTT & Co.'s

LIST OF

BRITISH PERIODICAL

PUBLICATIONS.

Delivered in all the principal Cities in the United States, free of Postage, and forwarded by Mail, under the provisions of the late Post Office Law, at merely nominal rates.

1. THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW (Conservative)
2. THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (Whig.)
3. THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church.)
4. The WESTMINSTER REVIEW. (Liberal.)
5. BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tory.)

Although these works are destinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary Character which gives them their chief value, and in this they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the fatherly care of Christopher North, maintains its celebrity, and is, at this time, unusually attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that magazine, and first appearring in its columns both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such, works as "The Caxtons" and "My New Novel," (both by Bulwer,) "The Green Hand," "Katie Stewart," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Messrs. Scott & Co., so that Subscribers to the Reprint of that Magazine may always rely on having the earliest reading of these fascinating tales.

Terms and Premiums.

[See list of Premium Volumes below.]

	per ann.
For any 1 of the 4 Reviews and one Prem. vol.	$3,00
For any 2 of the 4 Reviews and one prem. vol.	5,00
For any 3 of the 4 Reviews and two prem. vol.	7,00
For all four of the Reviews and two prem. vol.	8,00
For Blacwood's Magazine and one prem. vol.	3,00
For Blackwood's & 3 Reviews and three prem. vol.	9,00
For Blackwood's & the 4 Reviews and three prem. vol.	10,00

Payments to be made in all cases in advance.

The Premiums consist of the following works, back volumes of which will be given to new subscribers according to the number of periodicals ordered, as above explained.—

PREMIUM VOLUMES.

Foreign Quarterly Review (one year.)
Blackwood's Magazine (six months.)
London Quarterly Review (one year.)
Bentley's Miscellaney (six months.)
Edinburgh Review (one year.)
Metropolitan Magazine (six months)
Westminster Review (one year.)

Consecutive Premium volumes cannot in all cases be furnished, except of the Foreign Quarterly Review. To prevent disappointment, therefore, where that work is not alone wanted. Subscribers will please order as many different works for premiums as there are volumes to which they may be entitled.

CLUBBING.

A discount of twenty five per cent from the above prices will be allowed to Clubs ordering four or more copies of any one or more of the above works, Thus: Four copies of Blackwood, or of one Review, will be sent to one address for $9; four copies of the four Reviews and Blackwood for $30; and so on.

No premiums will be given where the above allowance is made to Clubs, nor will premiums in any case be furnished, unless the subscription money is paid in full to the Publishers without recourse to an agent. Money current in the State where issued will be received at par.

Reduced Postage.

The following table will show the great reduction which has been made on these periodicals since 1843, and the very trifling rates now charged.

	Per annum.
Prior to 1845, the postage on Blackwood was	$2 40
Prior to 1845, the postage on a single Review	1 12
From 1845 to 1851, the postage on Blackwood was	1 00
From 1845 to 1851, the postage on a Review was	50
In 1851 52 [average rate] on Blackwood was	75
In 1851 52 [average rate] on a Review	38
The present postage on Blackwood, is	24
The present postage on a Review is	12

[The rates are now uniform for all distances within the United States.]

At these rates surely no objection should be made to receive the works by mail, and thus ensuring their speedy, safe, and regular delivery.

☞Remittances and communications should be always addressed, post-paid, to the Publishers,

LEONARD SCOTT & Co.,
79 Fulton Street, (entrance 54 Gold street,) 85 NEW YORK.

$20 a Day.

Book Agents wanted, to sell Hayward's Gazateer of the United States,

Just published and now ready for Canvassers.

THIS work, so invaluable to business men, gives a history of the settlement, general surface of the soil and state of agriculture, manufactures and population of every town in the United States, with valuable statistical tables a new map of the United States, &c.

An agent wanted for this county. Apply immediately to

HORACE WENTWORTH,
447-5w 86 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Bounty Lands

CASED AND OBTAINED BY

MOORE, Plattsburgh, N. Y.

er 3, 1852. 448tf

CLAPBOARDS.

Business Cards.

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS,

(Successor to Nichols & Warren,)

WHOLESALE PAPER

WAREHOUSE

And Paged Blank Book Manufactory,

—JOBBER AND RETAIL DEALER IN—

School and Classical Books,

English, French and American

Stationery, and Artist's Materials,

No. 4, Leavenworth Block, College Street,

BURLINGTON, Vt.

☞Bank, Blank, Check or Memorandum Books made to order, from the best of Paper, and bound in the most thorough manner. All work warranted. Terms Cash. 448 tf

Livery Stable

BY

GEORGE G. FULLER.

HEAD OF MAIN STREET

(a few steps from the Bank.)

KEESEVILLE, NEW YORK.

Where may be found at all times, the best of Horses and Carriages, on the most reasonable terms.

Montgomery House,

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA,

BY

Sherman & Wheelock.

K. SHERMAN, THERON WHEELOCK.

☞Mr. Sherman was late a merchant at Moriah, Essex Co., N. Y., and Mr. Wheelock was late of the Mansion House, Troy, N. Y. 427tf

GEORGE P. WILKINSON,

(Successor to G. P. & J. B. Wilkinson.)

MANUFACTURER AND JOBBER IN

CLOTHING,

154 River Street, Corner of Congress,

427 tf TROY, N. Y.

G. P. SANBORN & Co.

APOTHECARIES HALL.

BURLINGTON, VT.

DEALERS IN

Drugs and Medicines, Chemical Perfumery, teeth, Surgical Instruments, Gold and Tin Foil, Patent Medicines, and every variety of articles usually kept in this line of Business.

Oct. 23d, 1852. 6 m.

GEO. S. TARBELL,

WHOLESALE GROCER,

DEALER IN OIL AN

General Commission Merchant,

No. 65 Quay-Street,

ALBANY.

ADKINS & FULLER,

Booksellers, Stationers, Binders

—AND—

PAPER RULERS,

KEEP constantly on hand or will supply Books, Maps, Charts, Pictures, Frames and Paper of all kinds. Also Publications of the American Tract Society, Bibles and Sabbath School Books at their very low depository prices.

One door east of Pierce & Davey's Agricultural Store on College Street.

C. S. ADKINS, E. A. FULLER.

Burlington, July 4, 1850. 329

H. C. Blanchrd, M. D.,

HOMŒOPATHIC PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

Office 2 doors below Ausable House.
Rooms at Ausable House. 430

D. M. ARNOLD

Engineer and Surveyor,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

SURVEYING & Leveling for Rail Roads, Plank Roads, Mill Seats, &c. Land Surveying of all kinds done on shortest notice.

Office opposite the Ausable House.

425tf

J. B. DICKINSON,

AUSABLE FORKS, N. Y.

General INSURANCE AGENT,

For Fire, Life, Health and Live Stock Insurance Companies.

☞Any business from abroad will receive prompt attention. 454

Silliman & Gardiner,

WHOLESALE DEALERS

in Pork, Fish,

SALT, PLASTER, &c.

OFFICE 17 CENTRE SLIP, New York.
339 RIVER ST., Troy, 445

Dr. H. W. GOULD,

SURGEON DENTIST,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

☞Office opposite the Ausable House. [389

FARM FOR SALE.

ABOUT 1½ miles from the village of Keeseville, containing 110 acres, beautifully situated, good soil, well watered, all necessary buildings, nearly new and in good repair, good orchard with grafted fruit, and wood enough for the use of the farm.

If the purchaser wishes one half the purchase money can remain on bond and mortgage from 10 to 20 years.

Wm. TAYLOR.

Keeseville, March 3d, 1853. 461-4w

BOOKS.

JUST RECEIVED FROM NEW YORK.

FRANK Freeman's Barber Shop. A new and deeply interesting story, written in a style similar to Uncle Tom's Cabin. The White Slave. Uncle Tom's Cabin, both bound and in pamphlet. Ike Marvil's Dream Life and in pamphlet. Reveries of a Bachelor, &c., &c. Cabin and Parlor. Byron's, Willis', Heman's and other Poems. Mitchell's Lectures on Astronomy.

Sold by I. A. HASBROUCK.

Keeseville, March 1st, 1853. 461

NOTICE.

WHEREAS my wife Hannah, has left my bed and board without any just cause or provocation on my part, notice is hereby given forbidding all persons trusting or harboring her on my account, as I will pay no debts of her contracting after this date.

Add CVISION's PdfCompressor

Burlington Advertisements

BURLINGTON

AGRICULTURAL WARE-HOUSE AND SEED STORE.

DAVEY & ALLEN,

No. 8, COLLEGE STREET, BURLINGTON, Vt.

Ploughs—Prouty & Mear's centre draught. These ploughs have obtained a celebrity unparalleled, having taken the first premiums in this country and at the World's Fair in London. We have also Starbuck's and Tabo's celebrated Ploughs.

Our stock of Ploughs comprise a great variety of patterns and different sizes, calculated for sward and stubble land, wet meadows and recently drained swamps, where roots abound—among which also, are the deep breaking up flat-furrow, lan furrow, self-sharpening, side-hill, double-mould-board, sub soil, &c., &c.

Harrows—triangular, square, Geddes and Scotch

Hay, Straw and Corn Stalk Cutters, either by hand or horse power; spiral, straight or circular knives.

Cultivators—of different kinds, see tooth and rast iron.

Corn Shellers—a variety of patterns. Will shell from 5 to 100 bushels of corn per hour.

Fan Mills and Grain Cradles—Grant's unrivalled. We confidently recommend them as the best in use

Seed Sowers—Batchelder's & Emery's and other kinds.

Vegetable Cutters—for turnips and other roots.

Horse Powers, Threshers, Winnowers and Separators—Wheeler's Patent Railway Chain Horse Power. This Power, both single and double geared, for one or two horses, has never been equalled for lightness in running, strength, durability and economy. The Thresher and Separator are too widely and favorably known to need our commendation. The combined Thresher and Winnower, (which is a new invention of last year) has not been as generally introduced. All who have used it express the highest appreciation of its merits. We entertain no doubt that it is the most perfect, compact, and efficient machine now in use for threshing and winnowing grain, as it certainly is by far the cheapest and most economical.

Warranted to give satisfaction.

or be returned after a reasonable trial.

Saw Mill—I. we once, need for sawing wood for locomotives on Railways, or by farmers for cutting stove fuel. With a one horse power it will cut 10 to 15 cords of wood twice in two p'r day.

AGRICULTURAL & HORTICULTURAL TOOLS AND IMPLEMENTS.

a great variety and extensive assortment of steel, as Hoes, Shovels, Spades, Rakes, Manure and Hay Forks, Scythe Snaths, Cattle Ties, Draft, Halter and Trace Chains, Garden Syringes, Pruning Saws, Pruning and Budding Knives, Garden Shears and Twig Cutters, Grin stones, Patent Grindstone fixtures, rollers, barrow or pulls, &c., &c.

Grain, Field, Garden and Flower seeds.—We are prepared to furnish Herd's Grass, Red Top, Lucerne, White Dutch, Southern, Western and Northern Clover seed, Beet, Turnip, Onion and Carrot Seed, at Wholesale and Retail at the lowest market prices

We have by far the largest and most complete assortment of Agricultural Implements, Machines, Field and Garden Seeds to be found in the State, which we offer at our new and spacious Ware Rooms to Farmers and Dealers on terms the most liberal. We are also Commission Merchants and Wholesale and Retail Dealers in heavy and shelf

HARDWARE,

Saddlery, Axles, Springs, Mechanic's Tools, House Trimmings and Furnishing Goods, Cutlery, Cross Cut, Mill and Circular Saws, Paints, Oils, Bird Cages, etc., etc., etc.

As agents of Messrs. D. Prouty & Co., Boston, Wheeler, Millick & Co., Albany, J. T. Grant & Co., Troy, and others we can fill orders for Plows, Horse Powers, Threshers, Pan Mills, Straw Cutters, &c., at manufacturers prices. A liberal discount made to Dealers.

ORDERS
FROM ABROAD SOLICITED.
DAVEY & ALLEN.

Burlington, September 20, 1852. 439

NEW GOODS

AT

Nichols, 150 Church Street.

IN consequence of our large spring sales, we have been induced to purchase a very large and full stock of

Foreign & Domestic Goods

for the fall trade, which we now offer at exceedingly low prices. We have not time now to enumerate, suffice it to say, we have every thing usually called for in a dry goods store.

CARPETINGS!

AT THE

Carpet Warehouse, 150 Church Street.

Mr. Nichols is now opening the largest stock of Carpeting ever brought to this city, consisting of the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three-ply, Ingrain, Extra Super Fine and Common Venetian, Damask, Cotton and Wool, Cotton, Hemp Stair carpeting from the best manufacturers. Also, floor oil-cloth, straw-matting Hearth Rugs, Door Mats, table oil cloths, English and American Buckings and crumb cloths.

Bay State Carpetings and Buckings.

Mr. Nichols has the agency for the sale of the justly celebrated Bay State carpets and buckings and will be furnished with all the new patterns as fast as they come from the mills. Recollect the No.

150 CHURCH STREET.

Burlington, September 24, 1852. 439 tf

Charles Morris,

MERCHANT TAILOR

AND

CLOTHIER,

KEESEVILLE, NEW YORK.

IS now prepared to show his friends and the public in general a full assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings suited to the season. My Cloths are of the latest importation, and consists of Black, Brown, Drab and Cloudet Beavers, Broad Cloths, of French, West of England and American Manufacture. Cassimeres in all the revised style and quality. Vestings in any quantity, some of which are very rich. Also, Shirts of all descriptions, Shaker under Shirts, and Drawers, Cravats, Stocks, Sus enders, Gloves, Collars, Bosoms, Hdks., Mufflers, Clothing ready made substantial, and the sewing to last as long as the cloth, (and not run together as much of the clothing from a foreign market generally is.) Thankful for the very liberal and increased patronage I have received from the citizens generally. I trust by a continued effort to please the most difficult I shall merit a continuance of past favors. My arrangements with New York, are such that I am advised of any changes of style, that occur from month to month, and thus am able to gratify those who are disposed to order of me. Cutting as usual done in the most careful manner and with promptness.

AND WARRANTED MADE

Nov. 13 1852 445

To Printers & Publishers.

THE undersigned is a manufacturer of Printing Ink, of every color and quality, which he knows to be equal to any manufactured, which he will sell at the lowest prices for cash. As he is determined that his Ink shall recommend itself, he only solicits One Trial of it, relying upon its own merits.

Extra fine jet Black Ink for card and wood cut printing; extra blank book and news Ink of superior quality; also colored Ink of every variety. S. M. PETTENGILL & Co., 10 State street, Boston, agents for the N. England States.

SHELDON CELLINS.
59 State-st., N. Y.

☞Publishers of newspapers inserting this advertisement; including this paragraph, to the amount of $2, and sending, $5 and a paper containing it, we will send 35 lbs, of news Ink.

S. M. PETTENGILL & Co.
10 State Street, Boston.

FOR SALE.

2764 ACRES in Township No 8, old Military Tract Franklin Co., 412 acres in No 9, Kellogs Survey, 150 acres in Township 12 Great Tract No. 1, McComb's purchase. Also North 1-2 township 20 McComb's purchase, Franklin Co.

BENEDICT & WOOD.

Glens Falls, Feb. 24th 1853. 461-3w

Potatoes for Sale.

SEVERAL new kinds, raised from the ball. I planted two bushels and three pecks, last year, and I dug 140 bushels from the same. Any one wishing to improve in potatoe raising would do well to call and get one or two bushels. Price only one dollar per

Burlington Ada's,

BOSTON
URNITURE STORE,

AT THE
Spacious Ware-Room,
Nos. 2 & 3, Leavensworth Block,
COLLEGE STREET,
In Burlington, Vt.
No further need of going to New York or Boston for Rich or
FASHIONABLE FURNITURE.

THE Subscriber has a more extensive assortment of Furniture, Feathers, Beds, Mattrasses, Upholstery, Goods, &c.,
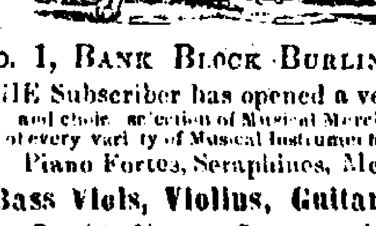
than has ever before been offered in this section, comprising all the most recent styles from the most elegant to the commonest FURNITURE, manufactured principally to order and in quality superior to any to be found out of Boston or any other place—consisting, in part, as follows:

Black Walnut & Mahogony Parlor
FURNITURE,
—CONSISTING OF—
French Sofas, Easy Chairs, covered in plush damask, brocatelle or hair-cloth, to suit the purchaser; French style centre and side Tables, with and without marble tops; gilt and other frame Looking Glasses; rich and common Curtain Furniture and Fixtures, &c., and every article needed to furnish Parlors in the most fashionable style.—Also, medium and low priced Parlor Furniture, of every description.

DRAWING & SITTING ROOM FURNITURE,
of every desirable style.
CHAMBER FURNITURE,
Fancy printed Chamber Setts, richly ornamented; mahogany, black walnut and common Bedsteads, Bureaus, Sinks, Toilets, Chairs, &c. Also, Feathers, Feather Beds hair, cotton husk and palm leaf Mattrasses. Elegant

LIBRARY CASES & SIDE-BOARDS,
both mahogany and black walnut, of very superior workmanship, constantly on hand and made to order, of any style or size desired. Also, any odd article, not to be found ready-made, designed and executed to order in the best manner at the shortest notice.



Hotels and Steamboats
furnished at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms.

N. B.—Every article will be sold as low as the same quality can be bought in either Boston or New York, and in many instances much lower. Country dealers will be furnished at the lowest wholesale prices.

Mr. ALLEN'S long experience as a manufacturer and Furniture dealer in Boston, gives him advantages in selecting and purchasing goods very seldom equalled; and he will warrant every article fully equal to what he represents it.

☞ Persons in want of Furniture will do well to call on Mr. ALLEN before purchasing.
I. S. ALLEN.
Burlington, May 8, '52. 418-1y

PIANO FORTE,
AND
MUSIC STORE.

No. 1, Bank Block Burlington, Vt

THE Subscriber has opened a very extensive and choice selection of Musical Merchandise, consisting of every variety of Musical Instruments, such as
Piano Fortes, Seraphines, Melodeons,
Bass Viols, Violins, Guitars, Flutes,
Flageolets, Clarionets, Cornopeans, Accordeons, and Brass Instruments of every description for Bands; also—
BASS VIOL AND VIOLIN STRINGS, TUNING FORKS, TUNING HAMMERS, &c.

The assortment of Sheet Music, consisting of about Four Thousand Pieces of the latest and most popular Music of the day, additions to which will be made every week, from the extensive Importing and Publishing Houses in New York and Boston. Instruction Books on hand for every Instrument, and all new works received as soon as published.

CHURCH MUSIC BOOKS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

The attention of Purchasers is respectfully invited to the assortment of Piano Fortes, Seraphines and Melodeons, as they are from the best Manufacturers in the country, and every instrument sold by me will be warranted, unless otherwise stated to the purchaser.

All the above goods will be sold as low as can be purchased in New York or Boston, and the orders of teachers and those who buy to sell again, are respectfully solicited, and will be filled and sent to any part of the country as may be directed.
June 5. 3m422 I. S. RUST

ANNEXATION!!

Essex County, N. Y. and Vermont!

NOVEMBER 10th, 1852.

I. D. BIXBY & Co.,

ARE now opening a very heavy stock of Rich
DRESS GOODS,
for the Winter trade, consisting in part of the following articles:
Merinos, Coburghs, Paramattas, Alpacas, Lustres all wool deLaines, Manchester delaines, Persian Cloths, Raw Silk Plaids, Cashmere Plaids, Col'd Velvets, Col'd Flannels, Irish Poplins, Bombazines, Ginghams, American, English and French Prints, Silks.

SHAWLS!!
Bay State, Empire, Waterloo and Scotch.

CLOAKS.
We have a large assortment of rich Cloaks of a variety of patterns, colors and prices.

Silks, Satins, &c.
The LARGEST assortment of Dress Silk that we have ever opened, are now to be seen on our counters. Brocade, Plaid, Striped, Chameleon, Glace, Gro de Naples, Gro de Zure, Gro de Rhine, Gro de Lyons, Gro de Algiers and many other styles.

No. 2, Bank Block,
439tf North Side of the Park.
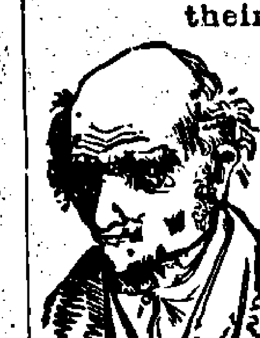
BURLINGTON VT..
I. D. BIXBY & Co.
Burlington, Nov. 15. 1852.

BOOTS, SHOES & RUBBERS

James A. Walker,
BANK BLOCK, OPPOSITE THE SQUARE,
BURLINGTON, Vt.

HAS just returned from the New York and Philadelphia markets, with the largest and best selected assortment of Ladies, Gents, Misses, Boys, Youths and Children's
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS
ever offered North of the Cities. Getting his goods direct from the manufacturers he is enabled to, and WILL, offer them at LESS PRICES than can be purchased for elsewhere.

Mens Thick Boots	from $1.50 to $3.00 per pair.
" Fine Kip	" 2.00 to 3.00	"
" " Calf pg'd	" 2.50 to 4.00	"
Gents fine calf sew'd boots	4.00 to 7.50	"
Ladies walking shoes	" 75 to 1.38	"
" Bootees and Polkas	" 1.00 to 2.00	"
" Gaiter Boot	" 1.00 to 2.00	"



and a great variety of every desirable style and quality. ALL of which will be offered at very low prices. 436 tf

All Work Warranted.

GRASS SEED

Miscellaneous.

26 Years Experience.
OLD ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL.
Quick Cures and Low prices.
Private Diseases and their Antidote.

DR LISPENARD, author of the Marriage Guide, or Private Medical Treatise, Professor of Diseases of Women and Children, and Licentiate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the United States University, &c., &c., continues as heretofore to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms and variety of
PRIVATE DISEASES,
at his old quarters, No 5 Beaver street, ALBANY, N. Y.

The great success attending the use of Doctor L.'s remedies in secret diseases, and the many remarkable cures daily effected by him in recent as and lingering attacks, conclusive evidence that the well

SICK AND UNFORTUNATE
can do no better than consult the Doctor, whose whole time is devoted to the exclusive treatment of this much neglected branch of practice.

LOOK AT THIS.
Dr. Lispenard cures recent cases of disease in from three to six days, and chronic or long standing disease in a very short period of time, without the use of Mercury, without the loss of time change of diet, or detention from

DAILY EMPLOYMENT.
In Syphillis, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Strictures, Enlargement of the Testicles and Cords, Bubo, Chancres, Pimples and Scaly Eruptions, Sore Throats and Noses, Chancres on the tongue, tender skin bones, and diseases of the skin, and impure blood. Dr. Lispenard's remedies are above all praise, and frequently cure when all others had failed

EVEN TO RELIEVE.
More than 5,000 patients have during the past year experienced the benefit of the Doctor's extraordinary skill in treating secret diseases—among which, diseases of the bladder and kidneys have formed a goodly proportion.

YOUNG MEN,
who by indulging in secret habits have injured their health and prostrated their intellectual faculties, and thereby deprived themselves of the pleasure of married life, should consult Dr. Lispenard without a moment's delay. Hundreds have been restored to health, society and friends, under my peculiar mode of treatment, although vast sums of money had been sacrificed without any benefit. My remedy for this disease is pleasant to take, has no offensive smell and

CURES WITHOUT FAIL.
☞ Persons so unfortunate as to be diseased, although they may have visited half a dozen Doctors, and had medicine sent them a dozen times with no benefit would exhibit wisdom by making their case known to that FRIEND OF THE SICK, Dr. Lispenard, who never charges for advice and warrants all his cures. The sick are often at a loss where to apply for relief, AND TIS NO WONDER, as hundreds stand ready to plunder the unfortunate victim of PRIVATE DISEASES, or secret habits, with no one thought for his life and health. All thus deceived will find a friend, and moderate charges, in consulting the Doctor who USES NO MERCURY and cures every time.

N. B.—Persons from a distance when visiting the city in search of a physician and friend will be fortunate if they succeed in escaping the many dens of imposition conducted by unprincipled men, destitute of character knowledge or name, who fleece the unfortunate victim of disease of his hard earned money, and his remaining health. Patients who have no acquaintance in the city should make inquiry of some respectable citizen, or the editor or proprietor of any of the city papers, to ascertain who is the most reliable physician to apply to.

FEMALE DISEASES.
Dr. Lispenard from an experience seldom or never enjoyed by any other medical man, is enable to treat, with every hope of success, all and every variety of Female Complaints—with safe and pleasant remedies—and has without doubt cured within the past five years more than 3000 females afflicted with diseases of the Bladder, Womb, &c. &c. Ladies afflicted with suppression or stoppage of their monthly turns, will recollect that Dr. Lispenard is still the sole American agent for,

DR. VICHOI'S
FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS.
The unprecedented sale of more than 15,000 boxes of these excellent Pills, and the good results which always follow their use, is conclusive evidence of their utility in stoppages, &c. Caution—Married Ladies in certain delicate situations should not use them—for reasons see directions with each box. Price $1. Sent by mail to all parts of the world.

Married Persons and those about to Marry, should enclose 12½ cents post paid to Dr Lispenard, and obtain a copy of his Marriage Guide or Private Treatise, a bewitching little work of nearly 100 pages, illustrated. Every thing that married persons can desire or wish to know is here explained. Persons who from poverty or sickness have no desire to increase their family, will find necessary instruction in the Marriage Guide. One copy 12½ cents; 5 copies 50 cts; 12 copies $1—mailed free to any part of the world.

N. B.—Patients treated by letter, and medicines sent with full directions for use, to the writer's address, All communications destroyed or returned.

No mercury used in any case, and all cures warranted. No boys or precocious students allowed; timed persons take notice.

Friends of Dr. L. when recommending patients to our care, will recollect our number, 5 Beaver st., three doors from South Broadway.

Hospital open from 7 A. M., to 9 P. M., and on Sundays from 1 to 4 P. M.

No charge for advice, although no medicine may be desired.

Good board and private rooms for those who desire to remain in the city.

Notice this—Address all letters to
C. W. LISPENARD, M. D.,
441-1y No. 5 Beaver st. Albany, N. Y.

NORTHERN RAIL ROAD, N. Y.
FALL ARRANGEMENTS.

On and after FRIDAY October 1st trains will run as follows:

GOING EAST,
1st Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 9, A. M.
Arrives at Rouse's Point 1, 45, P. M.
2nd Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 2, P. M.
Arrives at Rouse's Point 6, 20, P. M.
COING WEST,
1st Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 8, A. M.
Arrive at Ogdensgurgh 12,50, P. M.
2nd Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 3, P. M.
Arrives at Ogdensburgh 7,45, P. M.

First Passenger Train going East, Connects at Moors with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road for Montreal and Quebect, and Plattsburgh, Burlington and Whitehall—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Vermont Central Rail Road for Boston and New York—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Rutland and Burlington Rail Road by steam Boats to Burlington, and thence to Boston and New York.

Second Passenger Train going East, Connects with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road at Moores, for Montreal and Quebec—Connects with the Vermont Central Railroad for Boston, Burlington, and New York. Connects with the Steam Boats to Whitehall, thence by the Saratoga and Troy Rail Roads, to Saratoga Springs, Troy and New York. Connects by Steam Boat with Rutland and Burlington R. R. at Burlington, for Troy, Boston and New York.

First Passenger Train going West, Connects at Ogdensburgh with the Express Line of Lake Ontario Steamers at 1 o'clock P. M. for Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, Lewiston, Niagara Falls, and Buffalo.

Second Passengei Train going West. Connects with Lake Ontario Line of Seamers for Kingston and all ports on the American shore of Lake Ontario, and with Hamilton.

Four Freight Trains leave Ogdensburgh and Rouse's Point every day Sundays excepted.

For Freight apply to George V. Hoyle, Agent, Rouse's Point.
CHARLES L. SCHLATTER,
440 Chief Eng'r and Superintendent.

Printing Paper For Sale.

FOR sale by J. & G. PARKS,
33 by 24 inches,
364tf 34 by 24 "
33 by 23 "
Also, Wrapping:
40by 28inches, 60 lbs to he Ream. for large bundles
29by 18 "
18by 18 "
☞ All orders directed to Keeseville promptly attended

CAPS CAPS

Legal.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS John McDermid, then of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York, by a certain Mortgage, dated December 18th, 1850, and with the power of sale therein contained duly recorded in the office of the Clerk of Essex County, in Vol. P of Mortgages on pages 434, and 435, on the 21st day of December, 1850, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to secure the payment of fifty dollars and interest, did duly Mortgage to John McGuire of the second place, certain premises described in said mortgage as follows:—All those two certain building lots, lying and being in the village of Keeseville, County of Essex and State of New York. The first of said lots is bounded and described as follows: situated on the Port Kent Hill, in the said village, on a street to be known and designated as back street, and measuring on said street fifty five feet in front and the same in rear and extending back one hundred feet—to be known and designated as lot number (4).—The second of the aforesaid lots is situated also in the said village of Keeseville, on the street known and designated as McDermid street, to commence on the said street one hundred and fifty feet from the line of the Port Kent road and to be sixty feet in front on said street and run back to James McGuires land be the said lots more or less. And whereas the said Mortgage was by an instrument in writing dated February 18th, 1853, duly assigned by the said John McGuire to Michael Keenan, jr. of Chesterfield, Essex County. On which Mortgage there is claimed to be due at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $57.67. And default having been made in the payment of said $57,67 and no proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the same, or any part thereof: now therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage and of the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgaged premises will be sold at public auction on the 23d day of May next at 10 o'clock A. M. at the Adirondac Hotel, in the village of Keeseville, Essex County.
MICHAEL KEENAN, Jr.
Assignee of Mortgagee.
JOHN McELROY, Atty. 460 13w
Dated, Keeseville February 26th, 1853.

SUPREME COURT,
Gurdon Grant,
agst.
Elenor Crary,
Isaac Heustis,
James Gibson,
John Savage and
Josephus Fitch,

In pursuance of a decree or judgment of the Supreme Court made in the above cause, will be sold under the direction of the subscriber, Sheriff of the County of Essex, at public auction at the Adirondac Hotel, in the town of Chesterfield, in the County of Essex, on Monday, the 4th day of April next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon; all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land lying and being in the town of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York lying between the Augur Pond and Butternut Pond, beginning at the south west corner at a pine tree marked 1795, thence running north ninety-five chains, a little north of the south end of Augur Pond, thence east one degree north, twenty-five chains to the west line of lot No. three, thence south along the west line of lots No. three, four, five and eight to the corner of the last mentioned lot, thence south forty-five degrees west to Butternut Pond, thence along the north end of said Pond to the first place of beginning, containing two hundred and sixteen acres of land be the same more or less; which said lot of land is part of two tracts of land, formerly granted by the said State to John Williams deceased by letters patent, and is now conveyed subject to the conditions and reservations made by Anthony J. Blanchard his heirs and assigns in his conveyance thereof to one William Bromley to overflow as much of the said land at any time or times whatsoever as may be reasonably necessary convenient and useful for the accommodation of any Mills or Waterworks which are now or hereafter may be built or erected on the waters of the said Augur Pond, or the outlet thereof by the heirs or assigns of the said Anthony J., hereby retaining the same reservations as is contained in the said William's deed of the said premises to one Thomas McLean.
Dated the 19th day of Febuary, 1853.
C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff.
By J. C. FINCH, Deputy Sheriff
Saml. Ames, Atty. 459-w7

BANK DEPARTMENT.
Albany, Jany 26th, 1823.

NOTICE is hereby given in pursuance of the Statute made and provided, that all the circulating notes issued by the McIntyre Bank, at Adirondac, (an individual bank) must be presented at the office of the superintendent of the Banking Department of the State of New York, for payment within two years from the date of this notice, or the funds deposited for the redemption of the said notes will be given up to the said bank.
D. B. St. John, Supt.
Two years from Jany. 26, 1853. 459-2y

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
NOTICE is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John Cummings, late of North Hudson, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to ESTES B. WALKER, one of the administrators of the said deceased, at his dwelling house in North Hudson, his place of doing business on or before the 25th day of May next, that being at least Six Months after the day of the first publication of this notice. Dated this 15th day of November, A. D. 1852.
ABIGAIL CUMMINGS, Administratrix.
ESTES B. WALKER, DAVID DAY, Administrators.
436-6m

WOOL! WOOL!

THE Subscriber would inform the public that he is again in the Manufacturing Business,
Either by the yard, on shares, or in exchange for cloths on the most reasonable terms, and that he intends to keep on hand a full supply of the following goods:
BLACK BROAD CLOTHS,
Black, Brown, and Olive Cassimeres,
FULLED CLOTHS, SATTINETS, TWEEDS,
Flannels, &c.,
suitable to this country, and that he will spare no pains in trying to please such as may favor him with their patronage.
Birmingham, May 15, 1852. J. APPLEYARD.
439

Forge for Sale.

IN an excellent location for the manufacture of Iron, being near the Ausable Ores and where coal is easily obtained at the lowest prices. It is on the Ausable river in Jay, has two fires, and on the premises are eight dwellings, a Store, three good coal houses, and other conveniences. Terms easy. Also a quantity of timber lands near the forge. Apply to the subscriber. MONROE HALL.
Jay, Feb. 17th 1853. 460-6w

DISSOLUTION AND CO-PARTNERSHIP.
NOTICE is hereby given that the Co-Partnership of Ross, Low, & Gould, heretofore doing business at Essex and Willsborough has been this day dissolved and discontinued by mutual agreement. The business of said firm will be continued by a new co-partnership, this day entered into b[illegible] signed Ross, Low, & H. W[illegible] the firm and name of Ross[illegible]
HENRY [illegible]
WILLIAM [illegible]

Medicine.

THE WONDER OF THE WORLD.
DEVINES' COMPOUND
PITCH LOZENGE,

A sure and pleasant Remedy for Colds, Coughs Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, and if lungs enough are left to sustain life, A CERTAIN CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, safe for the Infant or the Invalid, in any stage of weakness.

"The statements that consumption cannot be cured, has destroyed more lives than the disease itself.—[Dr Warren
Read the following, which to a candid mind places this "Great Remedy," like Caesar's wife "above suspicion."

TO THE PUBLIC!
We, the undersigned, citizens of Lee, Mass., are acquainted with Mr. Devines, the proprietor and Manufacturer of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge and from what we know of it ourselves and have learned from others of its beneficial effects, in cases where it has been used, give it as our opinion that it is a valuable remedy in diseases for which it is recommended and is worthy of public confidence. A. G. Hulburt, Leonard Church, F. G. Taylor, Wm Taylor, E. A. Bliss, S. A. Hulburt, Josephus Crafts, T. P. Eldridge.

If any individual is to be pitied, and needs sympathy, it is the consumptive—always expecting to get well, and yet the painful evidence of decay almost "makes the inner soul shrink with the outer flesh."
"Some bloom as roses bloom, and live as roses live,
A single morning space!"
While others, in more mature life—by some imprudence and a slight cold neglected—in the hectic flush—the painful cough.
"The prints of their departing steps appears."
BUT HE IS HOPE! Mr Wm. Devines, the originator and manufacturer of the Pitch Lozenge, under Providence, was raised to perfect health by the use of these Lozenges alone, after he was pronounced by his physician to be almost dying with consumption.
This fact is generally known in Berkshire County and is the neighborhood talk, and wonder in Lee, and in Great Barrington, Mass.

From Dr. Brown, of Lee, Mass.
This certifies that I have made use of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge for cold and cough, and found immediate relief. Therefore I would recommend it to the public as being a safe and sovereign remedy. H. C. BROWN
Lee, October 28, 1851.

Sold wholesale at Albany, by Wm. A. Wharton & Co., Druggists, &c., H. C. Sheldon, Troy, Spencer & Nichols, Whitehall, Hammonds & Co., Crownpoint, W. G. Lyon, Essex, Reynolds & Tufts and I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. Orders addressed Wm Devines, Jamaica L. I. 436 1y Wm RENNE, Traveling Agent

M. DUBOYS'
FRENCH
RAT EXTERMINATOR.

THIS PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to exterminate Rats and Mice, whenever used as directed, and to leave no offensive stench on the premises cleared of these annoying vermin. Its use is perfectly safe in any place and at all times, which is not the case with ordinary remedies for this evil.

CAUTION!—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!—
The extraordinary success of M. Duboy's Rat Exterminator has excited the cupidity of some dishonest and irresponsible persons to counterfeit it. Inquire for M. Duboy's French Rat Exterminator, and take no other. Large boxes at 25 cents. LYNDE & OSBURN.
Rochester, N. Y., Sole American Agents, to whom all orders should be addressed.
For sale by Stearns & Beckwith, Peru, I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. 444 1y

Miscellaneous,

WOOLEN MANUFACTURING

IN all its various branches, will be carried on at the Keeseville Woolen Manufacturing Establishment, in Keeseville, N. Y.

Wool of any quality will be received in exchange for Cloth,
CASSIMERES, SATINETS,
Flannels, &c.

The Goods of this Establishment for the last two years, are well known at home and in market, and needs no other recommendation than a fair trial. Farmers and others wishing to make the most out of their wool, will find it to their advantage to call and exchange their wool for cloths. They may rest assured that they will be fairly dealt with, as no goods will be offered but those that will give satisfaction.

C. Roelofson has made arrangements which will enable him to pay
Part Cash
on Exchanges, or all CASH for WOOL when
Price and Quality Suit.

On hand and ready for Exchanging, Grey Cloths, Mixed Satinets—VERY HEAVY—fine and medium Cassimeres, Red Flannel—yard wide—the different kinds also for sale.

THE CUSTOM
CARDING
will be carried on as usual.
C. ROELOFSON & Co.
Keeseville, May 26th, 1852. 421tf

WOOL!! WOOL!!!
Cash Paid for Wool
BY
Matthews & Ames,
At the Old Stand of
H. & H. MATTHEWS.
Every discription of Woolen and Cotton Goods given in exchange for Wool if wanted.

HAVING increased our stock of Goods by a second Spring purchase. We feel confident that we shall be able to supply all who may wish Goods or Groceries of any description, in part, or wholly, for their Fleece, Pulled or Tag Wool.

Boots ad Shoes.
READY-MADE or MADE to ORDER,
AS good as the best, as cheap as the cheapest and warranted to fit. The undersigned begs leave to remind the public of the above facts and solicits a share of their patronage. ☞ Opposite the Bank.
JAMES ADAMS.
Keeseville, March, 1852. 111-tf

NEW STORE.
FARMER'S EXCHANGE,
True Union Store.

MR. NICHOLS of Burlington, Vt., has established a branch of his stock at Essex, nearly opposite the Steam Boat Landing in Fancher's Building adjoining the Hotel, where he has on hand nearly all kinds of Dry-goods and Groceries, and intends keeping up a good assortment by constantly replenishing, and will sell as low as can be bought in Burlington for cash and ready pay, most kinds of Produce taken. Mr. N. flatters himself that with the facilities he has for purchasing goods both in Boston and New York, that he can compete with any store in Northern New York or Vermont. Please give us a call and see for themselves. "A penny saved is two pence earned."
WANTED 10,000 lbs. BUTTER.
N. Y., June 16, 1852.

KEESEVILLE ACADEMY.

The undersigned in behalf of the Trustees of Keeseville Academy, announce that the Spring Term will commence on Monday the 14th day of February inst. They have succeeded in engaging the following corps of Teachers.
Associate Principals. CHARLES H. DANN, Teacher of Languages and Higher Mathematics. GILBERT THAYER, Teacher of English Branches, Natural Sciences and Superintendent of the School.
Miss. NANCY K. POTTER and
Miss. MARY FERRIS Assistant Teachers.
Miss. ELLEN M. FISHER Teacher of Music.
Good Board and Rooms in the Village.

TERMS:

Common English Branches,	$3 00 per quarter
Higher " Branches,	1 00 extra "
Book-keping,	1 50 " "
Latin and Greek, each,	1 00 " "
French, Italian and German, each,	1 00 " "

Tuition is not charged for more than two of the above extras.

Music Instrumental,	$10 00 per quarter.
" Vocal,	1 00 "

[illegible] French, Italian or German, taken [illegible] single branches, the charge will [illegible] 3 00 " "
[illegible] THAYER will give especial attention to young gentlemen and Ladies expecting to engage in teaching.
Oliver Keese
Jacob D. Kingsland } Com. of

Miscellaneous.

New Goods! Nw Good!
—AT—
NICHOLS' CASH STORE,
150 Church street,
BURLINGTON, VERMONT,

HAVING just Purchased in New York and Boston, a large stock of Goods of all kinds we now offer them for sale, and those who are in want of goods in our line will save money by calling on us before purchasing. We are confident we have the largest stock of goods ever brought into Burlington at one time; we were induced to buy largely in consequence of the low prices of many kinds of goods, particularly dress goods of almost every kind.

We have a full stock of everything usually kept in a dry good store; Also West India goods and groceries, a very large stock of Teas and Sugars low by chest and cask. Also at cost to clear them off Paper Hangings, Crockery and glass Ware and looking glasses.

CARPETING, AT THE
CARPET WARE HOUSE.
BURLINGTON, VT.

Received this day and now opening 50 pieces of all grades, the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three Ply, Superfine, fine and common Ingrain and Venetian, all Wool. Cotton and Cotton and Wool; Also, all the different qualities of Stair Carpeting, Straw Matting. Oil Cloth. Drugetts, Crumb Cloths, Hearth Rugs, Door Matts, &c.. very cheap.
Burlington, Nov. '52. 446

FAMILY GROCERIES.

A larg and choice assortment of Sugars, Teas, Oils, Molasses, Pork, Fish, Fine and coarse Salt, Camphene, Soap and Candles, Brooms, Pails, Willow Waggons, Cradles, Flavoring Extracts, Cat, Sups, all kinds Toys, New Years and Christmass presents, Confectionaries, Nuts, Bird Seed, &c., &.

The above goods are offered on the usual terms, at the lowest prices. Let those wishing to buy examine fer themselves.

100 Barrels Genessee Flour,
FRESH Ground fcr sale at,
REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

40 Barrels Sugars.
CRUSHED, granulated Muscavado and Coffee Sugars at Reynolds & Tufts,

Green & Black Teas.
40 CHESTS and Cattys choice Old Hyson, Young Hyson and fine Oolong Teas cheaper than any in town at
REYNOLDS & TUFTS.
Keeseville, Nov. 18, 1852. 446

New Clothing Store.

WE, the undersigned, have made arrangements with one of the best tailors in the country, to manufacture clothing for us of every description, consisting of overcoats, sacks, dress and frock coats, pants, vests, overalls and boys cloths, together with all kinds of under garments, which are made after the most improved styles, and for workmanship and durability cannot be excelled.

In addition we offer a large assortment of fine
Fashionable Clothing,
made by tailors in New York, that for fitting even Genio C. Scott, in his palmiest days was not a circumstance.

We would also inform the public that it is to be sold by wholesale or retail at very low figures for cash, and for quantity and cheapness is far in advance of any other concern in Northern New York. A comparison with the trade, both in prices and quantity is particularly requested.

In connection with the above we would call the attention of the community to our stock of
Fancy & Staple Dry Goods,
of every variety; also, hats, caps and furs, paper hangings, window shades, hardware and groceries, rifles and shot guns, amunition, &c., &c. Trunks, and valises, carpet bags, whips and lashes, stone ware, and every description of goods that are wanted or can be found in the country. Don't forget
No. 1000, Main Street,
Keeseville, opposite the Adirondac Hotel.
Boynton & Smith.
January 20, 1853.

MATTHEWS & AMES,
(SUCCESSORS TO H. & H. MATTHEWS,)
DEALERS IN
Tin, Sheet Iron, Copper, Japan and BRITANNIA WARE,
together with a large and well selected assortment of
FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC
DRY GOODS,
which they will sell by the piece or package, at a small advance from cost. Also, a general assortment of
YANKEE NOTIONS
And Fancy Articles,
suitable to the Pedlars Trade, which they will sell low for cash.
☞ All kinds of barter taken in exchange for Goods.
Keeseville, April 17, 1852. 415

New and Cheap Goods
E. H. GARFIELD & Co.
Have just received from New York and Boston one of the best assortments of
FALL AND WINTER GOODS
ever exhibited in Keeseville.

Among their stock of DRY GOODS will be found a beautiful assortment of Wool, and Cotton, and wool d'Laines, and Cashmeres, both plain and printed, of all qualities, and prices from one shilling to one Dollar per yard. French Merinoes, Paramattas, Alpaccas Lyonese Cloth, English and American Prints, Ginghams, Flannels of all kinds, a superior quality of Bay State Flannel of different colors, Wool Plaids, Tickings, Stripes &c. &c. Shawls—a large and splended assortment of Bay State, Empire State, Waterloo, Scotch Plaid, and Printed WOOL SHAWLS, at prices much lower than ever before offered in this market. A beautiful assortment of Bonnet Silks and Velvets, with trimmings of all kinds. Also dress silks and Satins, Gloves, Hosiery &c.

READY MADE CLOTHING
Of all kinds, sold very cheap, also, Cloths, Broad Cloths Plain and fancy Cassimeres, Black Doe Skins, Satinets Silks, and Worsted, Vestings, Serges, &c., &c., with many other articles too numerous to mention. 'Tis unnecessary to add that all the above goods will be sold at very low prices. Only remember their motto 'quick sales and small profits.' Please call and examine Goods and prices, and satisfy yourselves. Opposit the Adirondac Hotel.
Keeseville Oct. 1822.

CASH,
AND THE
Highest Market Price
WILL BE PAID FOR WOOL, AT THE WOOLEN FACTORY, by
C. F. ROELOFSON & Co.
Keeseville, July 8th, 1852. 427tf

C[illegible]ES & DECKER,
(Successors to N. & E. W. Corlies,)
— WHOLESALE DEALERS IN —
TEAS,
Agents for the Sale of
Manufactured Tobacco,
192 Pearl Street, [illegible]

Miscellany.

THE NORTHERN
New York Mutual
INSURANCE COMPANY,
Plattsburgh, Clinton Co., N. Y.
Capital, 100,000.

THIS Company is organized under the General Insurance Law of the State of New York, with a sound, reliable capital, and offers the following superior inducements:

1. The safer kinds of property are separated entirely from the more hazardous; affording the advantages of two distinct companies, with the expense of but one.
2. The first class, or Farmer's Department, consists of Farm-houses, Farm buildings and their contents and detatched dwellings and their contents in villages, when unexposed by more hazardous buildings,
3. The second class or Merchant's Department, consists of exposing dwellings, stores, merchandize and property not deemed specially hazardous.
4. Each class pays its own losses and thus securing equal justice and proportional rate to both.
5. Not more than $3,000 of the first class, or more than $2.600 of the second class, will be taken in one risk, nor any number of risks so contiguous as probably to subject the Company to a loos of over $3.000 at any one fire; thereby saving it from heavy and ruinous losses.
6. In taking surveys of property, the agent will be the agent of the company, and the company be responsible for the correctness of all surveys made by its agents.
7. Any one insured, may at any time surrender his policy and withdraw from the company by paying his proportion of the losses and expense up to the date of such surrender.
8. Applications will take effect at noon of the day on which they are made (unless a different day is directed by the applicant,) thus relieving the party from anxiety and suspense.
9. The company no have two-thirds clause, but will pay all loss and damage not exceeding the amount insured.
10. In case of difference of opinion in settlement of losses, the company will submit the same to arbitration in the county where the loss occurs, the claimant choosing one, the company one, and the two arbitrators another.
11. Each person insured in the company becomes a member and will be entitled to a participation of the profits, if any surplus should accrue, not required for the payment of losses.
12. This company will be responsible for losses by fire caused by lightning.
13. This company will take no risks in cities.

☞ The Directors return their acknowledgments to the public for ther readiness in aiding the organization of this company, and will endeavor to make it a safe and reliable institution, affording protection from the ravages of fire, at reasonable rates, and with certainty of payment in case of loss.

DIRECTORS.
James Farr, Fort Ann, Washington co; Olif Abel, Whitehall, do; Walter Geer, Glen's Falls, Warren co; Pelatiah Richards, Warrensburgh, do; Wm. E. Calkins, Ticonderoga, Essex co.; John Horton, Columbia Vilage, St. Lawrence co.; Thomas H. Conkey, Canton, do.; Amasa C. Moore, Samuel F. Viles, Henry G. Hewitt, Jacob H Holt, John Boynton, Peter S. Palmer, Cornelius Halsey, Z. C. Platt, W. W. Hartwell, Benjamine Gilman, George Moore, Plattsburgh, Clinton Co.

OFFICERS.
Samuel F. Viles, Presikent;
Wm. W. Hartwell, Vice President;
Zepheniah C. Platt, Treasurer;
George Moore, Secretary;
I. C. Mix, and
R. G. Swinbrn, General Agents.
James B. Dickinson, Agent Ausable Forks.
Plattsburgh, Dec. 4th, 1852. 44 tf

DRY-GOODS!
CARPETS AND OIL-CLOTHS,
at uncommonly low prices
may be had at
G. V. S. Quackenbush's,
202 River and 9 State Streets. Troy.

MY Stock of Dry-Goods is unsurpassed in Variety and extent, consisting of every class of goods from the lowest priced Muslins and Prints, to the finest
BROAD-CLOTHS AND CASSIMERES,
or the richest and most expensive styles of Silks and Shawls and of each denomination of goods.
I have an almost endless variety of patterns of all the different qualities.
Of Carpets and Oil Cloths I have a splendid assortment consisting of a great variety of new and beautiful patterns of Velvets, Tapestry, and Brussels Carpets—
Also
Three Ply, Tapestry-Ingrains, and Ingrains, of all qualities and so varied in styles that all may here find something to suit their fancy.
Oil Cloths of all Widths and Qualities
and of the newest and most desirable patterns, Rugs, in great variety,
STAIR CARPETS, STAIR RODS, DRUGGETS,
MATTS,
and Matting of every Style and Quality.

A correct diagram being furnished Oil Cloths will be cut to fit rooms or halls without extra charge, and Carpets made in a superior manner at the lowest rates.
Those wishing to purchase either Dry-Goods or Carpets will find that my assortment is unequaled, and that my prices are uncommonly low.
422 G. V. S. QUACKENBUSH,
202 River Street, Troy.

RUTLAND & BURLINGTON
Rail Road.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.
On and after Monday, Nov. 1st, trains will run as follows, viz:
FOR BOSTON, NEW YORK AND INTERMEDIATE PLACES.

LEAVE
Burlington at	8,15	A. M.	4,15	P. M.
Vergennes	9,09	"	5,00	"
Middlebury	9,42	"	5,35	"
Brandon	10,20	"	6,18
Rutland	11,00	"	AR. 7,00
			L. 6,30	A. M.
Cuttingville	11,25	"	6,55	"
Ludlow	12 06	P. M.	7,36	"
Proctorsville	12,15	"	7,42	"
Chester	12,40	"	8,10	"
Arriving Bellows Falls	1,15	"	8,45	"
Boston	7,00	"	1,00	P. M.
LEAVE
Boston	7,45	A. M.	12,00	M.
Bellows Falls	12 ₍₀	"	5 15	P. M.
Chester	12.40	P. M.	5,50	"
Proctorsville	1 07	"	6,17	"
Ludlow	1.15	"	6,26	"
Cuttingville	1 52	"	7,06	"
Rutland	AR. 2,15	"	AR. 7 30	"
	L. 3,00	"	L. 7,45	"
Brandon	3 38	"	8 25	"
Middlebury	4,25	"	9,04	"
Vergennes	5,00	"	9,37	"
Arriving Burlington	5,45	"	10,20	"

CONNECT AT BURLINGTON,
with the Steamers for PLATTSBURGH and MONTREAL RAIL ROADS, and with the VERMONT and CENTRAL and VERMONT and CANADA RAIL ROADS, for the East, North, and West, via CHAMPLAIN and ST. LAWRENCE, and the OGDENSBURGH RAIL ROADS.
CONNECT AT RUTLAND
with the Trains of Western Vermont, Rutland and Washington and Saratoga and Washington Rail Roads, for New York, Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Buffalo and the West.
CONNECT AT BELLOWS FALLS
with the Trains of the Cheshire, Vermont Valley, and Sullivan Rail Roads for Windsor, Boston, Worcester, Lowell Springfield, Hartford, New Haven, and New York.
Fares are less when Tickets are purchased at the Offices than when paid in the Cars.
Burlington, Oct. 26, 1852. JOHN S. DUNLAP,
446 Superintendent.

EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR.
50 BARRELS made from Pure Genessee Wheat at the lowest price at
REYNOLDS & TUFTS,
Dec. 18, 1852.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Essex County Republican.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING BY JONATHAN TARBELL, Editor and Proprietor. TERMS, $2 Per Year---$1,50 in Advance.

VOLUME XIII. NO. 45. KEESEVILLE, N. Y., MARCH 26, 1853. WHOLE NUMBER 464.

[From the Forest City.

THE CHIEFTAIN'S GRAVE.

A Thrilling Story of "Black Pond."

BY C. M. KENDELL.

Few have visited the flourishing town of New Braintree, in Massachusetts, without becoming acquainted with the beautiful and romantic vicinity of Black Pond.

Shortly after the expiration of the French and Indian War, a hardy settler named Warner, built his little cot near the Pond, on the banks of the beautiful Ware River. On the morning when the defenders of Fort Edward sailed forth under the command of Col. Williams, to meet the advancing enemy, led by Barron Closkan, when the former suffered defeat, Warner then a private, was one of the last who sought the retaining shelter of the fort, and distinguished himself a short distance from its walls, by a long and obstinate "hand to hand" encounter with a gigantic chief of the Oneida Tribe, whom he killed, and according to the rude fashion of the day, bore his scalp in triumph to the camp.—During the war by his courage and ability, he won the then enviable title of Captain.

One morning, a few days afterwards, he surprised his wife by his speedy return from the forest, where he had intended to remain during the day. He entered the house without speaking, and hastily seized his rifle. She noticed the firm step, the unwonted flashing of his eyes, and compression of his lips.

"Husband," said she with an anxious look, "what has occurred to move you thus?"

"Moved," he replied, "do I really appear moved? Yet it may be so, but not with fear—fear cannot move me."

"Fear!" she exclaimed with alarm. "have you been in danger? speak oh, I entreat you!"

He smiled, and that smile served partially to dissipate her apprehensions, while she shrunk back alarmed at the vehemance of her alarm.

"Do not agitate yourself, dear wife," he replied, "you see I am now safe with you; bring me my box of flints, and quickly, for I require one that will not miss its fire."

When she returned with the box, he, after a minute examination, affixed one to the hammer of his rifle, then carefully cleansed the vent hole and re loaded it.

"Now," he said, as his eye glanced along the barrel of his beautiful piece, "I am prepared,"

His wife, who had noticed all these precautions, said in a calm but sad tone, husband I fear you deceive me."

"If I had kept aught from you," he replied, "it was my affection that prompted the act; but now you shall know all. A week since, I learned that an old Indian had been lurking in our neighborhood.—From inquiries he made of the neighbors I found that I was the object of his search. This morning I unexpectedly saw him—He retreated hastily, but turned for a moment with a look of deadly hatred and defiance. I understood its language—the look of an Indian is more expressive than his words—it plainly said, your life or mine."

"Oh, husband, you surely will not go forth to meet this savage—it would be madness. Why can you not fly from this place and thus elude him?"

"Fly! it cannot be, poor trembler. By heaven it shall never be said that I fled from a single Indian, besides I know this blood-thirsty savage; it is Black Wolf, the celebrated chief of the Oneidas and the brother of whom I slew at Fort Edward. In revenge for his brother's death he now seeks my life."

"Then for my sake," said the afflicted wife, "and for the sake of the little innocent," she pointed to the cradle which contained a prattling boy, "do not go alone."

"It must be so," he replied firmly, tho' apparently moved by her affectionate appeal, "my safety depends upon it. As a savage I must meet him in his own barbarous manner. Remember you are the wife of a soldier, be firm, or at least," he said with an emotion he could not control, "do not unman me. If I fall," he hesitated for a moment, then suddenly caught up his child, kissed him again and again, pressed a burning kiss on the cold brow of his wife, hastily embraced her and rushed from the house.

He had not been absent an hour before he discovered the lurking place of the Indian. The wary eye of the savage was too busy to see as soon as he was seen.

Then commencing those fearful agile movements by which the sons of the forest strive to make their adversary, during the rapid changes, leave some portion of his body unsheltered, which is instantly made a mark for their deadly rifle. The chief though the most renowned of his powerful tribe, found the Captain in every respect his equal, and after a half hour of intense labor and suspense, neither gained the slightest advantage.

The Indian at this moment saw Warner suddenly leap from his lurking place and disappear behind the trunk of a large fallen tree. What was now to be done he scarcely knew, he was too wary not to apprehend some stratagem taken by Warner; he therefore neither advanced nor retreated, but covered himself securely behind the trunk of a gigantic oak. At length to his great joy he discovered the hat of his enemy slightly emerging above the body of the tree, but it quickly disappeared. This was several times repeated each time being more plainly visible. The Indian smiled with savage delight as he muttered, "the pale face is a great warrior but a fool.—The son of the forest would not be upon the ground, when he stands behind a tree. He would not expose his head to hide his feet."

During the soliloquy he was slowly poising his rifle, ready to take the first fire, ready to take the first advantage of the imprudent movements of his adversary. The hat was now so clearly visible, that he fired. It quickly fell—all was silent a few moments, then a wild exulting war whoop re-echoed in the forest, and the Indian rushed forward to secure the scalp of his fallen enemy. When within two rods of the fatal tree, he paused with amazement. Before him with a poised rifle stood the powerful form of Warner. One look of unutterable hate it was the chief sin's last. The report of the rifle rebounded through the forest, and the Black Wolf of the Oneida lay writhing among the fallen leaves.

The captain was not the fool the Indian had supposed him. Feeling that neither had gained any advantage, and being desirous of bringing the combat to issue, he resolved to hazard all to a stratagem, which if successful would give him a fatal advantage over the Oneida. He therefore threw himself behind a tree, and slightly elevated his hat upon a stick. This the Indian first saw, and afterwards fired at it with a result we have shown above. Warner looked on his dead foe with

> The stern joy which warriors feel,
> In foemen worth of their steel.

"You have been a great chief, but a cruel warrior," he soliloquised, "yet your weapons have been used with courage and skill; you shall not be deprived of them even in death."

With cords he affixed the rifle that had proved fatal to so many, to the cold hand, placed the tomahawk and scalping knife in their wanted places, tied a large stone to the feet and placed the body in a canoe.—When near the centre of the pond he lifted the inanimate form with his face towards the setting sun, and the smooth waters become the Indian's grave.

Warner, though a conqueror, returned with sadness to his friends whose joy can be better imagined than described. From that day this beautiful sheet of water has been known as the Black Pond.

Among the new representatives of the people who will enter the House for the first time at the next term of our National Congress, will be the Honorable Michael Walsh, of this city. That he will "rise with the occasion" is the opinion and the hope of those who are acquainted with his talents and his fearless honesty of purpose. Ardent and impulsive though he may be, he will seldom be found to offend against the courtesies of debate; while as a speaker he will prove impassioned and entirely original. Some idea of his impressive manner may be gathered from the following passage, taken from an impromntu speech delivered some ten years ago at Tammany Hall. It is an illustration of the speaker's argument for down trodden Man, who lacks not the merit bu the opportunity to rise:—Knickerbocker Magazine.

"When a man is placed in a false position, the very traits of his character that would be virtuous in a true one are looked upon as faults, or denounced as vices, by those who attempt to form an estimate of his character without possessing instruments to take the altitude of the mind.—When the temple of Minerva was finished, at Athens, two rival sculptors of that city were employed to decorate its summit with a statue of the goddess. Each labored in secret, and followed the conceptions of his own mind, with a view to the production of a master-piece of art. On the day that the merits of the statutes were to be decided upon, and the hour of so doing had arrived, a few of the self constituted judges gathered in front, while thousands remained behind who could see nothing. Those in front passed judgment upon the production, like the leaders of our party, and the thousands who could see nothing hurrah'd and responded to the decision. One statute was of the size of life, finely sculptured and of most exquisite workmanship; the features beautifully chiselled, until life seemed starting from the marble. The other was of colossal size, with huge and apparently unshapen limbs, and features that looked to the immediate observer more like unmeaning protuberances than anything else.—When the judges gave a decision in favor of the small but beautiful statue, it was gradually raised amid the shouts of the multitude, and became dimmer and fainter as it receded from their view; and when it finally reached the pedestal, it resembled nothing human or divine, but seemed to have dwindled to a mere point. The applause gave way to murmurs and disapprobation, and it was then lowered, to make room for its rejected rival, which was reluctantly hoisted in its stead. As it receded from the earth its deformities lessened and gave way to an appearance of symmetry and beauty, which increased with his distance from the earth; and when it finally reached the pinnacle from which the sculptor, from its knowledge of perspective and portion, designed it should be viewed, then it looked as if the Divinity herself, so beautiful was its aspect, had descended to receive the homage of her worshippers. So it is with man. God Almighty moulded the character of men according to the station which he intended they should ultimately fill; and when a man is placed by circumstances in a position lower than that in which he was created to move, his virtues become vices in the eyes of those whose vision is to short to view him as a whole, and who therefore reject him as unfit for elevation."

We know not how this may strike others, but to our sense it is one of the most beautiful and truly classical similes we ever encountered; expressed in language of the utmost purity and simplicity.

From the Country Gentleman.

Value and Treatment of Sandy Soils.

A considerable portion of the soils of our country are those of a decidedly sandy character, a part of which are under good cultivation, but a much larger portion but imperfectly cultivated, and some entirely neglected. Intelligent farmers have long since been aware that these soils possess some eminent advantages, at the same time that they are in some respects inferior to those of a stronger and more adhesive character. These advantages, however, do not, perhaps, consist so much in what they now are, as in their capability of future improvement, and of the perfection they shall exhibit, when advanced by a continually fertilizing system of management far beyond the original or the ordinary condition in which they are seen.

Our attention has been called to this subject at the present moment, by the able and interesting Essay of W. C. Watson, of Port Kent, N. Y., on the management of sandy soils published in the Transactions of the New York State Agricultural Society. Some notice of the contents of this paper may afford valuable hints to those engaged in the cultivation of such soils, and who may not have the volume at hand.

The objections to sandy soils, as pointed out at some length, are chiefly the following:—A want of inherent fertility, in consequence of the usual previous growth of pine forests, which unlike other forests, impart no richness by the vegetables mold of decaying leaves, pine leaves remaining undecomposed, and serving to retard rather than promote fertility by the sourness they occasion. The porous character of these soils prevents their retaining other vegetable deposits, the fertile ingredients they may possess being liable to become washed away by percolation, or to waste by evaporation.

The advantages of occupying and cultivating such soils, are, cheapness in purchase; ease of tillage, not requiring over a third of the strength and labor needed for adhesive soils; the early expulsion of frost; the quick disappearance of surface water; facilities for early cultivaiton and early crops; ease of pulverization, of hoeing, and other cultivation; freedom from baking in drouth; facility for the extension of roots; and absence of the liability of winter killing in wheat crops by the heaving of frost.

Sandy soils have been found peculiarly fitted for the successful growth of the potato. Burning the earth, applying lime and ashes, and using spent tan and straw, to preserve a clean and dry surface to the newly formed potato, and thus to prevent or lessen the rot; are at once accomplished without these artificial means, by planting in sandy soil. The author of the essay before us, states that the product of this crop, on unmanured sandy soils, although moderate, is pre-eminently excellent, with an almost uniform exemption from disease.—In his own tillage he observed the presence of the disease in a potato crop, growing upon land in which clay had been artificially incorporated with sand, while the crop on each side was totally exempt. Barn manures, he thinks, may lessen this exemption; he therefore uses no other appliances for this crop, on sandy land, than lime, ashes, and plaster.

We copy the following remarks entire, in relation to the eminent fitness of light soils for successful sheep husbandry:

Perhaps the most decisive and peculiar advantage to be derived from the occupation of these lands, is their remarkable congeniality to the habits of sheep. These animals thrive and fatten upon naked and barren pastures on sands, where apparently, they can scarcely sustain existence.—They are equally adapted themselves to the improvement of the soil. No management is more successful in promoting the renovation and fertility of sands than to feed them with sheep, closely and for a succession of seasons. They introduce and promote the growth of clover, that great element in fertilizing sands, and by the gentle and perpetual pressure of their feet consolidate, without penetrating the loose and permeable earth. They feed with avidity upon most of the sprouts and bushes which infest these soils, and effectually subdue them. The pines, particularly the red pine, always a product of sandy soils, is an excellent occasional fodder during winter.—The sheep eat it readily, and its succulent qualities render it wholesome and assimilated to summer herbage. It is affirmed that sheep sustaining themselves by the boughs of the pine and protected by their umbrageous covering, have passed the winter in a vigorous and healthy condition, with no other food or protection. They are not unfrequently recovered from hereditary and epidemic diseases by being removed from damp and cold pastures to a dry sandy range. I confidently predict that the day is not remote when the extensive tracts of sterile and desolate sands which now deform the face of the state, will be devoted to sheep husbandry, and will be esteemed for that purpose among our most productive and valuable lands. This appropriation of them will add immensely to the wool growing interest of the state, and will maintain a wide extent of territory in a condition of constant improvement in value and fertility.

The following examples are given of success in reclaiming light soils from a state of barrenness, or uselessness the experiments of Coke, applying, however, more particularly to light, boggy, or fen lands:—

In Belgium and Holland, large districts of their most fertile territory have been created from the drift sands of the ocean, literary wrested by the energy [illegible] man from the dominion of the [illegible] found a large section of Englan[illegible] ed waste of land, abandoned t[illegible] and desolation. His sagacious and patriotic mind saw and felt the evil to his country, and promptly suggested and applied the remedy. He adapted in the renovation of that sterile territory, his system of rotation of crops, the clover and turnep culture, and the application of plaster, lime and ashes. That district and others of similar character, pursuing the same system, soon smiled in luxuriance and beauty, and are at this day among this richest, most highly cultivated and productive regions of England—I may refer to various parts of our own state, which afford conclusive evidence that sandy soils are susceptible of most successful cultivation. The issue of the experiment of Judge Buel upon the "sand barren" in the vicinity of the Capitol sufficiently illustrates my position. His experiment was made under the most adverse circumstances. The farm he occupied, embraced a sandy soil possessing scarce consisteney and adhesiveness enough to sustain the coarsest herbage, and it was wafted by the wind like a snow drift. Under the influence of science and capital, guided by intellect and enterprise, the laps of a few years witnessed that farm reclaimed from its barrenness; the disbursements incident to its renovation remunerated, and its surface adorned by the richest crops.

The system of tillage recommended in the essay, chiefly from the author's own personal experience, is, first, burning the fallow, destroying the noxious deposits from the pine forests, and purging this evil principle by fire; next seeding heavily with clover, which will afford some pasturage; repeatedly plowing under the rank growth of natural herbage that will in a year or two overtop the clover; assisting this enriching process of turning under the green crops, by harrowing in a seeding of buckwheat after each plowing, and turning this under in its turn when in blossom; the application of gypsum, when this vegetable matter becomes well incorporated with the soil, but not before; the application of ashes, lime, and salt; the use of guano and other concentrated manures; and dressings of of well fermented stable manure, and avoiding the use of strawy or unfermented products of the yard. The use of muck or peat is highly recommended for such soils; and great advantages have been derived from the application of clay, pulverised by exposure. The following experiment is an interesting one:—

A few years since I broke up and planted to corn a clover lay upon sandy soil, embracing an era of about ten acres of land. Upon an acre of this ground, more than twenty years before, thirty loads of clay had been deposited, and had become thoroughly incorporated with the sand. The ground in every respect possessed the same character and qualities. It was plowed at the same time and subjected to the same tilage in every detail. Immediately on the appearance of the young sprouts, the crop growing upon the mixture of sand and clay, exhibited a more vigorous growth, with a deeper and healthier color. As the crop advanced, the difference increased, and the boundary of the area became as distinctly marked by the appearance of the crop as if it had been seperated by a hedge from the residue of the lot. This appearance was so remarkable as to attract the constant observation and inquiry of strangers as to the causes of the marked and peculiar distinction. The part of the lot containing the clay was little injured by the grub and worms, although the remainder suffered severely from their ravages. The crop of the entire field was excellent, but that grown upon the acre of clayey sand, yielded almost twice the harvest, in both grain and stalks, of any other acre.

The following crops are particularly recommended:—Rye and buckwheat, before any plowing; peas immediately after the first plowing; next, corn, beans and potatoes; and after the soil has acquired vigor and fruitfulness, wheat. A good and enriching system of rotation, will at all times be of greater importance.

AMERICAN AND ENGLISH LADIES.—We heard a good anecdote the other day of Mrs. Patterson of Baltimore, the American lady connected with the Bonaparte family by marriage. Being in Italy at an evening party, it fell to her lot to be handed in to the supper table by a young English nobleman, who, unlike most of the patricians of England, had a good share of the puppy in his composition. Thinking to quiz the old lady, he said—

"You are acquainted with the Americans, I believe?"

"Very well."

"A monstrously vulgar people, aren't they?"

"Yes; but what could you expect when you consider that they are descended from the English? Had their progenitors now been Italians or Spaniards, we might look for some good breeding among them."

The nobleman did not venture to tread on Mrs. Patterson's toes again that evening.—[Boston Transcript.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.—Miss Fanny Fern, in the Olive Branch, says, the only way for the female community to obtain their rights is, to pursue the "Uriah Heep" policy—look umble, and be almighty cunning—Bait 'em with submission, and then throw the noose over the will. Appear not to have any choice, and as true as gospel you'll get it. Ask their advice, and they'll be sure to follow yours. Look one way, and pull another. Make your reins of silk, keep them out of sight, and drive where you like.

OLD TOWSER, A PARODY.

[illegible] remember old Towser, dear Kate,
[illegible]owser, so shaggy and kind?
[illegible]used to lay day and night at the gate,
[illegible]ize interlopers behind.

One of the Mean Men.

Many instances have been cited of meanness, and several persons have been held up as examples, possessing that quality in the superlative degree. One of the most "eminent men" of this class that we ever knew was a "boss carpenter," who lived not far away from Massachusetts. He had of course, a young apprentice, on whom his meanness was concentrated, like the rays of the sun converged by a burning glass.

The boy, whom we shall call Joe, and who was very shrewd and cunning withal, was obliged to submit to much rigor as regarded the severity of his labors and the scantiness of his clothing and food. One evening Joe was supping the fragments of repast that had been set before some guests—the good wife had "had company" that afternoon—and he committed the enormity of applying a lump of butter that was left on his plate to a chunk of gingerbread which he was about to swallow. Alas! for Joe, his master opened his mouth, and before he could swallow the delicious morsel his crime was detected.

The indignant master was struck agast, at first, by this specimen of juvenile turpitude, but he seized the young epicure by the hair of his head and gave him an unmerciful beating

Joe went to bed sorrowing, but comforting himself with the reflection that he was fourteen years old, and he had "but seven years more to be flogged for eating buttered gingerbread."

Joe was ingenious, and before he had composed himself to sleep that night he had formed a plan of revenge upon his master.

According to this plan, he arose early the next morning, and, as he was hurrying on his clothes, he muttered:

"I'll fix a story onto the old feller—I'll raise the laugh again him—I'll larn him to lick me so like blazes."

As soon as Joe was dressed, he rushed into the street, and ran toward the principal hotel, howling lustily, and stimulating the most clamorous grief. As he tore along the street, bellowing like a yearling bull, and rubbing his eyes with a dingy pocket-handkerchief, he naturally attracted the attention of every person within sight or hearing. By the time he had reached the front of the hotel, quite a crowd was ready to intercept him, as he made a feint to rush by.

"What's the matter?" cried a dozen voices.

"Oh, dear! oh, dear! it's so dreadful!" bellowed Joe, twisting his countenance into the similitude of a baked apple.

"What's so dreadful?"

"Oh, my master's dead—died such an awful death, too; oh, dear, dear!"

"Your master dead! awful dead! How did it happen? stop your confounded bellowing and tell us about it."

"Oh, dear," said Joe, his voice broken with counterfeit sobs, "you know wot a small soul my master had—wot a old feller (sob) he was for money (sob). Well, it 'pears that somebody (sob) had sumthin agin him (sob), and went last night—oh, dear, dear—its so orful."

"Look here, young man! stop that crying and tell the story."

"Wall, my master he used to sleep (sob) with his mouth wide open, a snoring (sob), when somebody went last night and baited a steele trap with a fowence and set it on the piller, and ketched his soul afore mornin', and left his body in bed. Boo hoo hoo! Oh, dear, dear!"

And with this, Joe made a break through the astonished crowd and disappeared around a corner while the welkin was ringing with shouts of laughter.

Joe's master did not hear the last of his awful decease for a long time, and those who know him best dee are that Joe's story was no mythe, and that the longer his body walks about, clutchi g greedily everything that "the law allows him," the stronger evidence he gives that he is troubled by no such incumberance as a soul.

A BOY'S LETTER.—The following specimen of a boy's letter, from an English Comic Annual, is one of the richest things of the kind we have ever seen. There is such a truth of character in it—so much of that spirit of drollery, mixed with mischief which often prevails in the young rogues of the male sex, that one cannot help declaring it to be, in its own words, "capital fun." The epistle is sent by an aunty boy to what a cockney would call his "friend in town:"—

"Now, Bob, I'll tell you what I want. I want you to come down here for the holidays. Don't be afraid. Ask your sister to ask your mother to ask your father to let you come. It's only ninety miles. The two 'prentices, George and Will, are here to be made farmers of; and brother Nick is took home from school to help in agriculture. We like farming very much, it's capital fun. Us four have got a gun and go out shooting; its a famous good gun, and sure to go off if you don't full cock it. Tiger is to be our shooting dog, as soon as he has left off killing sheep. He's a real savage, and worries cats beautiful. Before father comes down we mean to bate our bull with him. There's plenty of rivers about, and wer'e going a fishing as soon as we've mended our top joint. We've a pony, too mended our top joint. We've a pony, too to ride upon, when we can catch him; but he's loose in the paddock: he has neither he's loose in the paddock: he has neither mane nor tail to signify, to lay hold of—mane nor tail to signify, to lay hold of—You must come. If You must come. If isn't it fine Bob? isn't it fine Bob? your mother won't give you leave to allow your mother won't give you leave to allow you—run away. Remember, you turn up you—run away. Remember, you turn up Goswell street, to go to Lincolnshire, and Goswell street, to go to Lincolnshire, and ask for Widdlefen Hall. There's a pond ask for Widdlefen Hall. There's a pond full of frogs, but we won't pelt them till full of frogs, but we won't pelt them till you come; but let it be before Sunday, as you come; but let it be before Sunday, as there's our own orchard to rob, and the there's our own orchard to rob, and the fruit's to be gathered on Monday. If you fruit's to be gathered on Monday. If you like sucking raw eggs, we know where the like sucking raw eggs, we know where the hens lay, and mother don't; and I'm bound hens lay, and mother don't; and I'm bound there's lots of bird's nests. Do come, Bob there's lots of bird's nests. Do come, Bob and I'll show you the wasps' nests, and and I'll show you the wasps' nests, and everything that can make you comfortable. everything that can make you comfortable. I dar say you could borrow your father's I dar say you could borrow your father's volunteer musket of him without his knowvolunteer musket of him without his knowit; but be sure anyhow to bring the ramit; but be sure anyhow to bring the ramrod, as we have mislaid ours' by firing it rod, as we have mislaid ours' by firing it off."

MEAGHER'S APOSTROPHE TO GOLD.—Gold, which has caused many a brain to ache, has blistered many a hand, broken many a noble heart, has wounded many a soaring soul, and clinging to it, has brought the integrity of the statesman, and led his wisdom captive; gold, which has silenced the tongue of the orator, and bought the [illegible] terries of the past; gold, for which, in the gay saloons of fashion, many a fair and noble girl, has plighted the vow which has consigned her to a life of bitterness, and locked upon her radiant neck the snake which swells her veins with venom; gold, which has stolen into the councils of a struggling nation, has bred dissensions among her chiefs, has broken the seal of her sacred secrets, has forced the gates of her strongest citadels, has bought the evidence which has hurried her apostles to the scaffold, has bought the votes which made over her inheritance to others, and her glory to a strange people; gold, which led the traitor to a garden, and with a kiss, betrayed the Redeemer of the world; gold, which in so many shapes has stepped a stealthy tread or rioted amongst men—which has been the fever, the madness, the despair—has been in turns and in quick succession the spy, the swindler, the perjurer, the assassin, the foe of innocence, the blight of genius; gold has become a fountain of life, and joy, and freedom—the serpent has been transformed into a blossomed wand—Lucifer has become the morning star. To you the citizens of America, it must be pleasing indeed to behold a new republic rising up to share with you the labors and glories of a future, before which the conceit of the Old World shall be humbled, and in the light of which humanity shall grow strong.

How Murat met his Fate.—The sentence of the military commission was read to him with due solemnity. He listned to it as he would have listened to the cannon of another battle during his military life, equally without emotion or bravado. He neither asked for pardon, for delay, nor for appeal. He advanced of his own accord toward the door, as if to accelerate the catastrophe.—The door opened on a narrow esplanade, lying between the towers of the castle and the outer walls. Twelve soldiers with loaded muskets, awaited him there. The narrow space did not permit them to stand at a sufficient distance to deprive them of a part of its horror. Murat, in steping over the threshold of his chamber, found himself face to face with them. He refused to let his eyes be bandaged, and looked at the soldiers with a firm and benevolent smile. "My friends," said he, "do not make me suffer by taking bad aim. The narrow space naturally compels you almost to rest the muzzles of your muskets on my breast; do not tremble, do not strike me in the face—aim at the heart, here it is" As he spoke thus, he placed his right hand upon his coat, to indicate the position of his heart. In his left hand he held a small medallion, which contained in one focus of love, the image of his wife and of his four children, as if he thus wished to make them witnesses of his last hour, or to have their image in his last look, as in his last thought. He fixed his eyes on this portrait, and received the death blow without feeling it, absorbed in contemplating of all he loved upon earth! His body, pierced at so short a distance by twelve balls, fell with the arms open and his face to the earth, as if still embracing the kingdom which he had once possessed, and which he had come to reconquer for his tomb. They threw his cloak upon the body, which was buried in the cathedral of Pizzo. Thus died the most chivalrous soldier of the imperial epoch; not the greatest, but the most heroic figure among the companions of the new Alexander.—Lamartine's History of the Restoration of Monarchy in France.

The Corner Stone.

Listen, Listen! This is the title of a new weekly paper just started in columbus in this state. It is edited by Gen. James N Bethune and carries the marks of ability about it. It advocates a dissolution of the Union, and the liquor traffic. It is, in short, the personification of practical Locofocoism.

As the editor has taken a bold stand, in favor of what others have been trying to affect like cowards, we are willing to give him a fair showing, and do our part in writing his paper into notice, and if possible, his principles into worse repute.

Here is what we understand to be the platform of "The Corner Stone:"

"Disunion and Rum—Political and social damnation."

May this "Stone" never be built upon.—[Atlanta (Ga.,) Republican.

GOOD.—Printer's Devils are generally great "ladies' men," notwithstanding they have a pretty hard name. Some time ago one of these hard named fellows and his lady love were taking an evening walk, and as they were walking along, chatting briskly upon numerous topics of the day, she suddenly caught his hand, and looking smilingly in his face, asked—

"Do you know why I cannot get religion?"

"No, my dear, I do not," he replied.

"It is because I love the Devil."

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

County Survey.

The following is an Analysis of the sample of debris from copperas bed, No 35, Wilmington. From the appearance of the debris, I should judge the rock in place to be granite, rich in sulphurate of iron. As the exposed surface of the rock comes in contact with the atmosphere, the sulphur and iron unite with the oxygen of the air and form respectively sulphuric acid and protoxide of iron. These unite and form copperas, or green vitrol or the proto sulphate of iron.

100 parts dried at 212° gave of
Sulphur	5,10
Iron	9,05
Sulphuric acid	4.68
Silica	70,90
Alumina	2.50
Lime	4,70
Magnesia	0,70
Potassa	0,85
Soda	1,21
Chlorine	0,11
Phosphoric acid	trace
	99,80

From accounts of the extent of this deposite, I see no reason why it may not become valuable for the purpose of manufacturing sulphate of iron and sulphuric acid.

This sample is by no means as rich in the materials which yield the sulphate of iron as No. 15 (debris) from premises of William Russell, Chesterfield which I analysed for you some time ago.

Analysis of Paint Rock, Ticonderoga, No 191. Hematitic iron ore.

100 parts dried at 212° gave of
Sesqui oxide of iron	88.20
Silica	10,05
Alumina	0,60
Carbonate lime	0,65
Magnesia	0,41
	99,91

This rock contains besides the bodies mentioned above a very small percentage of manganese. I see no reason why this ore might not be valuable for smelting if it occurs in sufficient quantity. It will make a very good dull red. or reddish brown paint, if it can be ground sufficiently fine.

Yours truly,
J. H. Salisbury.

Albany, Feby. 17th, 1853.

Analysis of No. 5, A Ralph, Esq. Mineral water from Indian Pass, Essex Co.

1 Gallon of water gave of solid matter 12,64 grains. 100 parts of solid matter gave of

Organic Matter	19.73
Sulphuric acid	23,32
Potassa	20,33
Magnesia	16,14
Lime	4.78
Phosphoric acid	4,18
Carbonic acid	3,59
Soda	2,34
Chlorine	1,19
Iron	4.18
Silica	0,11
	99,89

The analysis shows No. 5, to be a magnesio potassa water. From its composition I should judge it to be superior in a medicinal way to either Nos. 3 or 4. The magnesia and potassa are probably mostly in the form of sulphates.

Analysis of No. 6 S. Wells, Esq. Mineral Water, Upper Jay.

1 gallon of water gave of solid matter 6 grains. 100 parts of solid matter gave of

Organic matter	41,32
Lime	17,34
Magnesia	14,64
Potassa	7,98
Phosphoric acid	5,32
Sulphuric acid	5,28
Carbonic acid	4,01
Soda	0 27
Chlorine	2,31
Iron	1,19
Silica	0,14
	99,80

This water differs from Nos, 3, 4 and 5 in having a very much smaller percentage of solid matter. Its solid matter also contains a much larger percentage of organic matter than either of the others. The principal bases are lime, magnesia and potassa The principal acids phosphoric and sulphuric,

Although these waters offer no very special points of interest in a medicinal way, yet in another view they are subjects particularly interesting, in the way of throwing light upon the geological formation of the sections in which they occur.

☞We clip the following advertisement from a late number of the Boston Atlas, and think it decidedly rich :

MATRIMONY.

AN ENGLISH GENTLEMAN, 47 years of age, a widower, is desirous of meeting a Lady of congenial tastes and sentiments, to become his wife. He is a Unitarian; is fond of his books and music, and is by habit and inclination decidedly domestic. For the seven years in which he has resided in this country, his health has been uninterruptedly good. Though his hair is grey, his countenance is ruddy and expression happy and cheerful. His temperament is active and sanguine; he has established a respectable and prosperous business, which may be indefinitely increased. He is nearly six feet high and full in proportion. Has one child, a daughter, not yet 10 years of age. Any Lady of 28 or 30 years of age, of congenial tastes, with some means at her own disposal, would find him resolved to make home happy, if love be there. Beauty of features he cares less for than a soft, low voice. He expects to visit Boston in a short time on business.—Communications, with real name and address, to BONA FIDES, box 1192, Cincinnati Ohio, will be considered strictly confidential.

The Hudson River Free of Ice.—The steamer John L. Lockwood, with two barges in tow, arrived here about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Coxsacie. The Lockwood left New York about a week ago, and has been detained below some two or three days by the ice. The steamer Oregon followed in her track and arived about 12 o'clock last night; and the Isaac Newtown, which left New York yesterday afternoon, reached this city about 8 o'clock this morning. The River is entirely free from ice, and steamboats will hereafter ply daily between this city and New York.—

One Hundred miles per Hour.

A correspondent of the National Intelligencer, signing himself "A Maine Yankee," refers to the plan recently urged upon Congress by the Postmaster General, for expediting the transportation of the mails between Washington and New-York, by means of a post railroad, and makes the following statement, to show how the thing may and ought to be done :

The time for this consummation will be hastened by the invention of a form of road and improved locomotive, which will safely transport the mails and passengers at the rate of one hundred miles per hour! The writer of this has been mad acquainted with the details of these improvements, which are so palpably correct in the theory and feasible in practice, that every civil engineer and railroad man will, on examination at once recognize and admit as the desideratum, even to the extent of safety and speed above indicated.

The proper officers of the Government will be made acquainted with the above described device, seasonably to invite the next Congress to secure its early adoption, and to give to the world the results of a first experiment to place the great thoroughfare of the country in a condition of safe, convenient, and speedy intercommunication, unparelled hitherto by the enterprise of the world.

What I have stated is no dreamy conviction. no fancy prophecy. It is spoken of now because of the consolation the promise offers to the thousands who, at this juncture, have been disappointed in their travel between New-York and Washington.—The two grand impediments—two hitherto absolute hindrances to the increase of locomotive speed up to one hundred miles per hour with safety—have been the incompetency of engines to generate the requisite quantity of steam for any length of time, and the almost certain leaping of the cars from the track, under the vibratory motion created by a speed that exceeds fifty miles per hour. These difficulties are most indisputably overcome by the improvements that have been devised, are now being made ready to bring before the country by the enterprising inventor, and as soon as made known will be universally admitted to be founded in correct principles, alike simple and practical. Nor will the difference in cost over the existing roads be any serious objection; for, while the cost will be greater, the capacity of the road will not only be increased in a still greater ratio in speed, but in cheapness of transportation of both passengers and freight. Let no man doubt these extraordinary results, simply because he is at this time ignorant of the means by which they are to be certainly and so soon accomplished.

Case and Opinion.

Some time since a young gentleman well known about London, went to consult a legal gentleman of Lincoln's Inn, about carrying off an heiress.

"You cannot do it without danger," said the layer; "but let her mount a horse, and hold the bridle and whip, do you then get up behind her, and you are run away with by her, in which case you are safe."

Next day the lawyer found his daughter had run away in the aforesaid manner with his client!

Three Curious Items.

Alexandria, in Egypt, has neither a mayor, a constable, a prison, nor a poor-house, yet it is a most orderly city.

It is common in the East to see stout Arabs spinning and knitting, and their wives building hovels and digging canals.

A cow and a camel are frequently yoked together at the plough, in Egypt.—The sight is extremely ludicrous.

On the whole we think we rather admire the coolness of the man, who, upon finding it necessary to "post" his wife for sundry violations of connubial uprightness, did so by putting written notices of caution not to harbor, or trust, &c. upon the walls of his sleeping apartment, and who, upon being reminded that it would be necessary to have them posted up in some public place, replied that he had put them in the most public place he knew of.—[Springfield Rep.

Ahead of Ericsson.—Andrew Jackson Davis, the Poughkeepsie Seer, has discovered that all sorts of machinery, locomotives, engines, &c. &c., can be driven by the power of the human will. He prints his paper—the Universal Hum—by just looking into the office and nodding at the types. This is ahead of Hoe,

There is a gentleman in Boston who gives twenty-five cents for some charitable purpose whenever he uses a profane word, and the Secretary of the Boston Provident Association acknowledges the receipt of seventy-five cents from this individual, as penalties for breaking his own laws.

The rats are said to be leaving Texas in disgust. They are reported to have taken up their line of march westward, and to attack indiscriminately everything of a vegetable nature in their way. The ferry man at the Sequin crossing of the Guadaloupe river, killed over fifteen hundred of them in one day.

There is a quaker in Congress, Hon. E. P. Kittle. He sits in the house with his broad brimmed hat on.

The following phrase reads each way alike. It is a curiosity. 'Lewd did I live, & evil I did dwel."

When a member of the Camden Lazy Club feels like gaping, he employs a little boy to pull his mouth open.

Persons who have used respirators for weak lungs, will know the main principle of Erricsson's engine.

For trasposition, inversion, and alliteration the old opitaph on the Earl of Kildare, in Ireland, is very remarkable—

"Who killed Kildare—who dared Kildare to kill? Death killed Kildare, who dare kill whom he will."

Lord Byron was born Jan. 22, 1789.

The Cleveland Herald says:—"An intelligent buyer informs us that three-quarters of the wool in Northern Ohio has already been contracted for, at a price ranging from 45 to 55 cents per pound. In one instance, a lot of wool which was offered and refused at 40, has since been sold at Unfortunate Italy.

From the Courier and Enquirer.

The following article which we translate from a late number of L'Eco d'Italia, the excellent Italian paper published in this city, strikingly exhibits the mournful fate of Italy :—

Does any one know how many oppressions Italy has suffered in fourteen centuries? Some were transitory as invasions, others long as conquest, and all can hardly be numbered. To the Cæsars succeeded barbarians, who rushed in as torrents, the French and German Emperors, afterwards provincials, Anjouines, Aragoneses, French, Spanish, at last the Austro-Russians, the French Empire, Austria, as it is now, and the Bourbons of Naples.

Poor Italy! Unfortunate Italy! Sublime Italy! What other nation could, in this continual confusion of invasion and plunders, conquests and conquerors, oppressions and oppressors, find means when Venice or Genoa, Pisa or Florence, Medicis or Leo X. Dante or Ariosto, Machiavelli or Tasso, Raphael or Michael Angelo, Petrarch or Boccaccio, Columbus or Galileo were named; what nation we repeat was able to stop the way of progress to the world, and inundate it with master-pieces of civilization, surprize, fascinate, and force it to admiration? What other people enlarged the universe as the Italian did with heaven and earth, conquering new continents, and opening the way to science and new philosophy? Oh, Italy! thou wert an indefatigable promoter for arts, poetry and progress! It would seem that despotism, which elsewhere weakens strong minds, enervates the spirit, checks fancies, presses hearts and weighs on the thought has produced in Italy those prodigies which liberty creates everywhere.

But, as liberty and independence never lose their rights, when for the want of national unity a people have at least national government, it might be said of Italy that a rod of Moses struck the land and caused genius to spring out of it. Look back to the times of Leo X. of the Venetians' struggle against all Europe and the Medicis at Florence? Those times have not yet been surpassed.

However dependence and persecution became the normal state in Italy. From the battle of Verona, in 403, in which the barbarians were defeated for the first time, until that of Novara, in which they won for the first time, more than five hundred battles, upwards of one thousand combatants were added to the Italian soil and which of these battles and combatants gave back to Italy what it needed.

Let us consider, moreover, with Mr. Quinet, the martyrdom of its thinkers; it is somewhat frightful; read it an instant; the begining is from the thirteenth century, and what a catalogue do we precceive in five hundred years.

Dante condemned to death twice and his house levelled to the ground—Arnaldo, from Brescia, hung and burnt—Savonarola burnt alive—Platina and the Roman Academicians tortured—Machievelli tortured—Spinoza drowned and cursed by the Church—Bonfadio beheaded and burnt—Collenuccio strangled—Liberto beheaded—Carnesecchi burnt alive—Vanina burnt alive and his tongue torn out—Campanella tortured seven times and imprisoned twenty seven years—Sarpi stabbed—Berni poisoned—Tasso locked up for seven years in a madhouse—Columbus conquering a World on account of Spain, and hence imprisoned—Galileo tortured and imprisoned—Giannone imprisoned for twenty years—Tenivelli shot—Mario Pagano hung Comforti hang.

The sequel may be found in Silvio Pellico's Prisons, and we have only mentioned philosophers; and what if we sought for politicial names, who lived from Boezio to the time of that great modest man Manin, who survives the second Venice? Oh! how immense would be the martyrdom of Italian victims; we should preceive thousands of names of Kings, generals, Soldiers, Princes, Chiefs of towns, conspirators, patriots, national galvanizers; and yet such fearful heroism, such formidable persistence has not been able to establish that which battles and combats could not achieve :—Unity!

But there is more: under all the dominion's which Italy has suffered, it numbers thousands of Princes and Popes; among all of whom not one was ever found who had the power and will of erecting an Italian Nationality. Neither Charlemagne, nor Charles the Fifth, nor Napoleon himself ever thought of it.

The world owes the invention of bells to Paolino della Campania; watches, to Pacifico, from Verona; musical notes to Guido Aretino; spy-glasses to Spina, from Pisa; looking-glasses to the Venetians; the compass to Flavius Gioia; incisions in bas sorelievo to Bellecarmio; burin incisions to Finiguerra; the camera obscura to Porta; the barometer to Torricelli; plaster models to Andrea Veracchio; the volta; galvanism to Galvani; an imeuse number of astronomical discoveries to Galilen, Cassina and Pozzi; America to Columbus, and the greater part of modern Europe's consolations, to twenty or thirty very great Italian geniuses whom we could name.

Italy has incessantly given of her own to the foreigner, to civilize him. The foreigner has returned this by war and destruction. He should have joined in order to erect a throne to Italy among the nations of the earth: but the foreigner only met to keep it divided. Even at this day Italy forms ten different states and almost the half of its territory is occupied by the foreigner.

Strange destiny! impenetrable mystery!

☞Auguste Belmont, the Austrian Consul at New York, is a candidate for a diplomatic appointment. He wants to go as Charge to Naples or Sardinia. His claims are urged on the ground that he is a man of great wealth, and that at the last election, he "spent large sums of money in the Democratic cause." As "Democracy" is now defined, we are not disposed to dispute the justice of his claims, but somehow it strikes us with aversion and disgust. His reputed merits ought to be held a positive disqualification. However we suppose the Austrian must be gratified. A pretty story, forsooth, he will have to relate to the underlings who lounge in the foreign court, of the means by his honors.

☞There is a movement

The Republican.

KEESEVILLE:

Saturday Morning March 26.

The Union of Lakes, the Union of Lands,
The Union of States none can sever;
The Union of Hearts, the Union of Hands,
The Flag of Our UNION—Forever."

☞For the non-appearance of communications and editorials, which may have been expected we crave the indulgence of our readers and correspondents on account of absence. We will try to meet the anticipations of both next week.

The Albany Evening Journal.—This veteran whig paper, comes to us in a new and beautiful dress, and to our taste is the handsomest paper in the State. Its clean, broad pages, filled as they always are, with the choicest reading and latest news, is always a welcome visitor; and we notice this evidence of its continued prosperity with unfeigned pleasure, and may each succeeding year add new links to that chain of friendship, of which the Editor so feelingly speaks, vindicating—as it ever has—traduced worth, sustaining its high toned moral hearing against the taunts and jeers of those narrow intellects, that have howled against its eminently patriotic course.

☞However, should he want a little ink to assist him in making those 'disclosures,' he can have it. "Let her rip."—[Northern Gazette.

You must be better off then for that necessary article, than when we lent your "devil" that "kiver" full to finish out the last N. G. before you concluded to suppress that lugubrious article that was to consign the organ—"in a horn"—of the democracy to oblivion. "Let her went."

☞"But suggests that he and we go about comparing characters. That is quite natural. Having no character to lose, the odds are all in the poor-dunce of a-fellow's favor."—Northern Gazette.

We suppose the Editor of the "Gazette" is afraid he would lose the character he made during the late election, when dissecting whig principles and descanting on the exhilarating virtues of new rum, at Dennis Beau's. "Hit 'em agin."

☞We advise all our readers that have an ear for a good cigar to call on Reynolds of the "Ausable House," who can satisfy the most captious biped that he keeps the best flavored article there is in town. Give them a trial and we will risk the verdict.

Colonel :—
Insert the following "pro bono publico."
X.

Rum Cordial—A-la-mode Homœpathy.

"Take a little rum;
The less you take, the better;
Pour it in the lakes
Of Wener, and of Wetter,

Dip a spoonful out,
Mind you don't get groggy,
Pour it in the lake
Winnipisseogee——

Stir the mixture well
Lest it prove inferior,
Then put half a drop
Into Lake Superior.

Every other day
Take a drop in water;
You'll be better soon,
Or at least, you ought to."

Earthquake.—The Watertown Journal says that the shock of an earthquake was distinctly felt in Jefferson and Lewis counties, on Saturday morning last. A gentleman of Copenhagen, who was in a position to note the phenomenon particularly, thus describes it:—"The shock occurred at about ten minutes past 2 o'clock The first part of the shock was severe, so much so that persons were aroused from sound sleep. Stoves and crockery rattled. After these ceased, the rumbling sound continued at least a minute and a half, ending with a number of slight shocks and vibrations, and gradually ceasing. The continuation or duration of the whole shock and vibrations was about two or two and a half minutes."

The Captain-General of Cuba has given notice to the American Consul at Havana, of an order, which he has received from the Spanish Government, stating that no transmission will be given throughout the Island, in the mails, to any American newspapers, —unless this be secured with a single string or band, so as to admit of their being examined by the authorities if necessary, without tearing the said band or cover, and should any letter or letters be found within the papers, the same will be taken out, properly directed and the full postage charged from the place whence said letter or letters shall come. All kinds of printed matter will be included under the head of newspapers. The order, it is stated, went into effect on the 1st of March.

Miss, Catharine E. Beecher has offered to endow the Professorship of a Female Seminary in Dubuque with the sum of $20,000, and also to furnish books and apparatus to the amount of $1,000, provided the citizens of Dubuque will creat a building and guarantee a certain number of scholars. The proposition has been accepted, and a committee appointed to solicit donations.—[Cincinnati Atlas.

The late law in Illinois relative to the blacks is producing a great deal of excitement both in and out of the State. A gentleman, writing to Chicago for one of the papers, says that it will not be regarded in the least in Northern Illinois.

Captain Ericsson has made a contwith the Navy Department, to conforthwith for the Government a model o engine of 60 horse power, suitable

For the Republican.

☞We have just received tidings of an event which lately took place at Ticonderoga, and which has caused there and should cause in other places some degree of feeling. The particulars of this melancholy occurrence are as follows: On the evening of Monday 14th, five young men were engaged in the amusement of sliding down hill. Three of these, were sons of Mr. Sheldon; one of the most respectable residents of the neighborhood, a young man by the name of Hogle an associate of the Sheldons, and another called Ferguson.—By some means there became a strife in sliding, and out of this strife there arose a violent quarrel between Ferguson and William Sheldon, when Ferguson in the heat of passion, snatched a stake from a fence near by, and with it struck Sheldon on the side of the head. Such was the effect of the blow that he died the next day at two o'clock.

Sheldon was a young man of much promise, and his parents feel deeply for his loss. His burial took place on the following Thursday, and the sermon by the Rev Mr. Morley was from these appropriate words. Prov. 27, 1, "Boast not thyself of to-morrow for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth."

This is only one of the many instances where death has been the result of sudden passion indulged without restraint, and we cannot pass it by without giving to all this warning—ever to be on guard of ourselves in sudden excitement or passion. The boy Ferguson is still at large, S——

The Ice on Lake Erie.—Buffalo, Friday March 18, 1853.—The weather here is wet, with an easterly wind. The ice has been blown away from the shore, and it is all clear ten miles up the Lake. Our harbor is still blocked up, but will probably be clear in a few days. At Cleveland, the harbor is clear, the ice having gone over to the Canada shore.

There is an interesting couple in Cincinnati, who have been engaged to be married for the last five years, but no time has occurred within that period when they were both out of prison at the same time.

☞Return of Santa Anna.—A telegraphic dispatch dated New Orleans, March 10, states that the brig Roberson had arrived at Mobile, having left Vera Cruz on the 1st inst. She reports having met the English steamer going in with Santa Anna on board. His colors were flying at the topmast.

Enigma.

I am a word composed of nine letters.

My 7, 9, 4, 5, 2, is a wind instrument of music.

My 1, 2, 2, 7, an essential article of food.

My 5, 3, 9, 2, the juvenile delight.

My 7, 9, 3, 2, a disturber of universal peace.

My 5, 2, 3, is an exhilerating beverage.

My 7, 4, 2, 9, is indispensable to house keepers.

My 9, 4, 5, 2, is a stringed instrument of music.

My 1, 4, 7, 7, 2, 5, is an unwelcome salutation

My 1, 9, 2, 3, 5, is the cry of a well known animal.

My 5, 2, 3, 9, is a rare article of food.

My 5, 4, 1, is a household utensil.

My 1, 3, 5, is a very curious quadruped.

My 1, 6, 5, is the dislike of both man and beast.

My 7, 3, 4, 9, 5, is what we are at when we make use of—

My 1,2,5, and always deplore if the last terminates in my 1, 2, 3, 5.

My 9, 2, 3, 7, adorns both field and forest, and affords a rich repast for all in palace and in cottage.

My 1, 2, 3. 4, brings sorrow to the wise and good but joy and pleasure to the light and gay and finally we cannot truly enjoy my 9, 6, 7, 2, without my inestimable 1,-6, 1, 9, 2 and my whole is the admiration of the universe and even of Heaven itself.

R. B.

CHARADE.

My first, is a being much sought and admired,
To gain which fair maidens have ever aspired,
My second expresses a place of great note
Where the young and the old of both sexes resort;
To my last add a letter, and then it will be
The climax of hope, joy, sorrow, and glee,
And my whole with Jehovah attended creation.
A native of heaven though oft found in low station.

R. B.

Keeseville, March 7th, 1853.

Answer to Enigma of last week: "Novel Reading." To Charade: "Courtship."

Died.

At Essex, on the 21 s inst. of Consumption, Fidelia, wife of Abram W. Winslow, aged 24 years.

In Boquet Village, town of Essex, on the 3d inst., Ellen only daughter of Lewis and Elizabeth Iott, aged 7 years, 7 months, and 7 days.

"Scarce ere the bud its blossom gave,
'Twas nipt by death, and changed its form,
With her, fond hopes have found a grave
To slumber till a brighter morn.

Trust on, till bursts upon the earth,
That brighter morn, for which we wait—
When raised from earth that form of worth
Shall join you at the blissful gate.

With that unnumbered, myriad band,
Seek ye, who mourn, a place and part—
Till, near the Throne, ye may be one,
As here you were, so there, in heart."

Meteorological Table.

BY J. R. R.

1853.	7A. M.	1P. M.	6P. M.
March 18th	35°	37°	31°
" 19th	29°	30°	29°
" 20th	34°	48°	40°
" 21st	45°	53°	47°
" 22nd	44°	58°	53°
" 23rd	63°	43°	45°
" 24th	35°	43°	36°

Keeseville, March 25th, 1853.

Powered by CVISION's PdfCompressor

Office of Clinton and Essex Mutual Insurance Company.

Keeseville, March 23d, 1853.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held at their office this day, the following assessment was declared upon the premium notes of said Company, payable at their office on or before the first day of June next.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and remaining in force on the 18th day of July 1852, one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to June 18th, 1849, and remaining in force July 18, 1852, two and five eighs of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and remaining in force on the 18th day of August, 1852, one and one half of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to June 18, 1849, and remaining in force on the 18th day of August, 1852, three and three eighths of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 1st day of September, 1852, one and seven sixteenths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10, 1849, and in force on the 1st day of September 1852, four and eleven sixteenths of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 18th day of September, 1852, five eighths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10, 1849, and in force on the 8th day of September, 1852, one and fifteen sixteenths of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 23d day of September, 1852, seven sixteenths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10, 1849, and remaining in force on the 23d day of September, 1852, one and seven sixteenths of one per cent

On all notes dated prior to september 1, 1848, and remaining in force on the 6th day of October, 1852, nine sixteenths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10, 1849, and remain in force on the 6th day of October, 1852, one and thirteen sixteenths of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and remaining in force on the 13th day of October, 1852, one and three fourths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10th. 1849, and remaining in force on the 19th day of October, 1852, five and eleven sixteenths of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 25th of October, 1852, three fourths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10, 1849, and in force on the 25th day of October, 1852, two and one half of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 6th day of November, 1852, one and five eighths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10, 1849, and in force on the 6th day of November, 1852, five and one half of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 13th of November, 1852, one and five sixteenths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10th, 1849, and in force on the 13th day of November, 1852, three and seven sixteenths of one percent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 27th day of November, 1852, one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to March 9th, 1850, and in force on the 27th day of November, 1852, three per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 28th day of January, 1853, one pre cent.

On all notes dated subsequent to April 2d, 1850, and in force on the 28th day of January 1853, three per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 9th day of March, 1853, one per cent.

On all notes dated subsequent to April 24th, 1850, and in force on the 9th day of March, 1853, three per cent.

The foregoing assessment is appointed to meet the respective losses from July 1st, 1852, to March, 23d 1853, and amounts to Fourteen per cent upon all notes dated prior to September 1st, 1848, and in force on the 18th day of July, 1852, and remaining in force on the 23d day of March, 1853.

Six per cent upon all notes dated subsequent to June 18th, 1849, and prior to August 10th, 1849, and in force on the 18th day of July, 1852, and remaining in force on the 28th day of August, 1852.

Thirty-three per cent upon all notes dated subsequent to August 10th. 1849, and prior to March 9th, 1850, and remaining in force on the 13th day of November 1852.

Thirty-six per cent upon all Notes dated subsequent to March 9th, 1850, and prior to April 2d, 1850. and remaining in force on the 27th day of November, 1852.

Thirty-nine per cent upon all notes dated subsequent to April 2d. 1850, and prior to April 24th, 1850, and remaining in force on the 28th day of January, 1853.

Forty-two per cent upon all notes dated subsequent to April, 1850, and remaining in force on the 23d day of March, 1853.

By order of the Board of Directors.

F. W. AMES, Secretary.

The People of the State of New York, to the Creditors and next of kin of Hannah Buckminister, late of Moriah, Essex County, deceased, send GREETING:

You and each of you are hereby cited and required personally, to be and appear before our county Judge and Surrogate of the county of Essex, at his office in the town of Elizabethtown, on the second day of May next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the final settlement of the accounts of Jacob Tappen, administrator, and Lorinda Tappen, administratrix, of all and singular the goods, chattels and credits of Hannah Buckminister, deceased.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the Surrogate's seal of said county of Essex to be hereunto affixed at Elizabethtown, this 21st. day of March, A. D. 1853.

L. S.

Witness, John E. McVine,
464:4w Essex Co. Judge.

D. M. KNIGHT & Co.,

53 CEDAR STREET, NEW YORK,

WILL sell cheap for cash, Combs, buttons pins, needles, hooks and eyes, lines and cotton tapes, bobbins braids, threads, stay binding, brushes, whalebone, fans, and a great variety of fancy notions, &c. 464:3m

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization

Selling off at Cost!

Barnum will sell the remainder of his Winter Stock of Hats, Caps, Furs, Fancy Robes, Gloves; Mittens, &c., at cost. A good assortment of Trunks, Vallises, Ladies and Gentlemen's Satchels and Carpet Bags, Umbrellas, Canes, Buckskin Gloves and Mittens, &c., on hand.

I. W. BARNUM.

College Street, 2nd Door from Church. Burlington, Vt., Feb. 1, 1853.

Mortgage Sale.—Default has been made in the payment of the debt secured by a certain mortgage, dated the 16th day of December, 1850, executed by Francis Gonyne and Josette his wife, then of the town Chesterfield, county of Essex, state of New York, to John Mattocks of Ausable county of Clinton, state aforesaid, and with the power of sale therein contained, recorded in the office of the clerk of Essex county, in volume P. of mortgages, pages 445, 446 and 447, on the 7th day of January, 1851, there is claimed to be due on said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $129.72, and the further sum of $450 to become due in eighteen annual installments from the 16th day of December, 1852, with interest annually, and no proceeding at law or in equity having been commenced to recover the same, or any part thereof, now therefore notice is hereby given that the premises discribed in said mortgage will, by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, be sold discharged from said mortgage at public auction at the Adirondac hotel in Keeseville in said county, on the 22d day of June next, at one o'clock, p. m.

Said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage as follows: All that certain piece or parcel of land lying in the village of Keeseville, in the county of Essex and State of New York and bounded as follows: Beginning at the north east end of the Pease lot in the east line of river street, running thence north thirteen degrees fifteen minutes, east along the east line of river street fifty-one links, thence south sixty-two degrees thirty minutes, east one chain and forty-seven links to Taggard's west line, thence south sixteen degrees thirty minutes, west fifty one links to Pease lot, thence north seventy-one degrees west along the north line of Pease lot one chain and forty-seven links to the place of beginning.

Also one other certain piece of land lying in Keeseville, and described as follows: Beginning in the east line of River street, near the Pease house running thence south sixty-seven and a half degrees east along the south line of Gonyae lot two chains and seventy links to the road leading south from Keeseville, thence along the west line of said road one chain and forty-seven links to Chamberlain's lot, thence north sixty-nine degrees west along the north line of Chamberlain's lot to the east line of River street, thence along the east line of River street one chain and thirty-eight links to the place of beginning, meaning to convey the whole lot deed by David Pease to Franklin Shandrew.

JOHN MATTOCKS, Mortgagee.

Finch & Harwood. Atty's.

Dated Keeseville, March 25, 1853. 464

At a Surrogates Court, held at the County Judges office in Elizabethtown, in and for the County of Essex, on the 21st day of March, A. D., 1853.

Present: J. E. McVine, Essex County Judge.

In the matter of the application of Emeline H. Morhous & Abram Weldin, administrator and administratrix, &c., of Rensselaer Morhous, deceased, intestate, for authority to mortgage, lease or sell the Real Estate of the said intestate for the payment of his debts.

Whereas on the petition and application of Emeline H. Morhous, the administratrix, and Abram Weldin, one of the administrators of the goods, &c., of Rensselaer Morhous, late of Willsboro, in the county of Essex, deceased, it has been made satisfactorily to appear to the said County Judge and Surrogate, that the personal estate of the said deceased will be insufficient to pay his debts.

It is therefore ordered, that all persons interested in the estate of the said Rensselaer Morhous, deceased, be directed to appear before the said county Judge and Surrogate, at his office in the town of Elizabethtown, in said county, on the 9th day of May next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to show cause why authority should not be given to the said administrators to mortgage, lease or sell so much of the real estate of the said deceased as shall be necessary to pay his debts.

Witness: John E. McVine, Essex County Judge.

A true copy—attest.

464-6w J. E. McVine, E. C. Judge.

SUPREME COURT.

Frederick L. Seeley, ag'st
Isaac Heustis,
Darius Breaw,
James Pilling,
James Adams,
Edmund Kingsland,
Jacob D. Kingsland,
William W. Kingsland,
Alfred Baber,
Levi S. Scribner,
Henry Green,
Andrew Thompson,
Stephen F. Spencer,
George Adgate and
Abraham B. King—Def'ts

In pursuance of a decree or judgment of the Supreme Court, made in the above cause, I will sell under the direction of the subscriber, sheriff of the county of Essex, at public auction at the Adirondack Hotel in the town of Chesterfield, in the county of Essex, on Monday the 2d day of May next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, all that certain piece or parcel of land lying and being in the town of Chesterfield, county of Essex and State of New York, to wit: a part of lot seventeen (17 in the twelve thousand Acre location granted to Zepheniah Platt and others, and bounded as follows, viz: on the east by the west line of the road leading from Keeseville to Essex, on the south by a lot occupied October 18, 1836, by Mark Lafontain, on the west by land owned October 18, 1836, by Martin I. Vanderworker, and on the North by the South line of the land owned by said Vanderworker, Oct. 18, 1836, leading from said road west, to land lying in rear of the above described lot. Said lot is supposed to be eight rods in front and twenty roads in rear, and to contain one acre of land, and is known as the Dennis Breau tavern stand in Chesterfield aforesaid.

C. W. Easton, Sheriff, c
Byd. C. Finch, Deputy.

Keeseville, March 19, 1853. 462-7w

BANK DEPARTMENT,

Albany, Jany 26th, 1853.

Notice is hereby given in pursuance of the Statute made and provided, that all the circulating notes issued by the McIntyre Bank, at Adirondac, (an individual bank) must be presented at the office of the superintendent of the Banking Department of the State of New York, for payment within two years from the date of this notice, or the funds deposited for the redemption of the said notes will be given up to the said bank.

D. B. St. John, Sup't.

The Illustrated Magazine of Art.

In Monthly Parts. Price 25 cents each.

Every arrangement has been made to produce a work of unparalleled magnificence, regardless of cost.

The Editor, Mr Cassell, has published a similar work in England during the past year, under the title of "Illustrated Exhibitor and Magazine of Art," the circulation of which has averaged 60,000 each number.

Encouraged by the success which has attended this enterprise, he has resolved to present to the American public a magazine of still higher pretensions—one, indeed, which will prove the pictorial wonder of the age. Each number will consist of sixty eight pages, royal octavo, printed on the finest paper. The illustrations will be intrusted to the first artists of the world.—Six monthly parts will form a handsome volume.

The work will be so conducted as to embrace the greatest variety of matter in its various departments, upon each of which the highest literary talent will be employed.

The following is a brief outline of the plan of the Magazine:—

I. The Historical Department will abound with picturesque representations of the most remarkable events which have occurred in this and other countries; accompanied with interesting anecdotes and details from the pens of the most eminent writers of the day. This department will contain several splendid engravings, designed by the first artists of the world, engraved in the highest style of modern art.

II. The Men and Women of the Age.—This department will consist of beautifully executed portraits of the leading characters of the age, especially of those who figure on the stage of humanity as the world's benefactors. Each portrait will be accompanied by an interesting biographical sketch.

III. The wonders of Natural History, Botany, and other sciences, will be developed in choice Engravings of Beasts, Birds, Fishes, Insects, Forest Trees, Flowers, Geological and Fossil specimens, &c., with accompanying descriptions.

IV. The triumphs of Architectural Art will be displayed in exquisitely finished representations of Cathedrals, Churches, Palaces, and other models of ancient and modern Architectural Art.

V. The works of the Great Masters, selected from the principal Galleries of Art in the world. In general, the portrait of the Master will be given, accompanied with a highly finished, engraved copy of his chef d'acuvre.

VI. The scientific portions will be rendered highly interesting by the familiar explanations, and the numerous diagrams, which will accompany each subject.

VII. Manufactures. The principal manufacturing process in use will be fully explained by minute details, and an abundance of beautiful engravings.

VIII. Machinery and Inventions will have due attention paid to them, and be described by numerous appropriate engravings.

IX. Ladies' Work Table Department will contain a rich variety of elegant and original patterns for various kinds of useful and ornamental work, with ample directions for copying them.

X. The literary department, independently of the various articles accompanying the illustrations, will comprise original and interesting narratives, contributed by the most popular writers of the day, with numerous illustrations.

In addition to the numerous and beautiful engravings incorporated in the letter press, each number will contain four splendid engravings, and printed in a very superior manner upon superfine plate paper.

In every respect the Illustrated Magazine of Art will be decidedly superior to any pictorial magazine of the day. The paper the typography, the engravings, the literary articles, will far surpass its successful predecessor published in England, upon which such high eulogiums have been pronounced by the whole public press. Six of the monthly portions, when completed, will form a volume, which for interest, originality, value and beauty, will defy competition. It will not only be an interesting family book, but a rich ornament for the drawing room table, and a pleasant companion in the study. ☞TERMS-$3 a year; to Clubs of three or more, $2,50 If paid in advance for twelve months, it will be sent postage free to any part of the Union.

AGENTS WANTED in every town throughout the U. S.

Any person receiving the first number, and canvassing with the same, will be certain of securing a large number of subscribers. No just conception can be formed of the elegance and beauty of the work from merely reading a printed prospectus. The Illustrations contained in each number will entail a cost, in drawing and engraving, of $2500 or $3000. All communications relating to the work to be addressed to ALEXANDER MONTGOMERY,

Publisher, 17 Spruce street. N. Y.

AUCTION SALE.

HAVING sold my farm, I shall sell a public auction on the 5th day of April next, at 1 o'clock, p. m. on said farm, a variety of personal property, consisting of horses, cattle, sheep, swine, wagons, sleighs, and farming utensils, several kinds of seed grain, potatoes, &c. &., affording a good opportunity to farmers and others to purchase valuable property at a bargain.

WILLETS KEESE.

Keeseville, March 18th, 1853.

N. B. For particulars see handbills. A part of the cattle are a cross of the Durham and Hereford.

DISSOLUTION AND CO-PARTNERSHIP.

Notice is hereby given that the Co-Partnership of Ross, Low, & Gould, heretofore doing business at Essex and Willsborough has been this day dissolved and discontinued by mutual agreement. The business of said firm will be continued by a new co-partnership, this day entered into between the undersigned Ross, Low, & H. W. Putnam under the firm and name of Ross, Low, & Putnam.

HENRY H. ROSS, 2nd.
WILLIA H. LOW,
JOHN S. GOULD.

Dated Essex, Feb'y, 24th, 1853. 461 5w

WANTED.

20 POUNDS Saffron for which Cash will be paid. I. A. HASBROUCK.

Miscellaneous.

Insurance Agency.

National Protection Insurance Company, Saratoga Springs, Capital, $200,000

Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance Company, West Scotia, N. Y, Capital, $160,000

Nothern N. Y. Mutual Insurance Company, Plattsburgh, N. Y, Capital, $100,000

Knickerbocker Fire Insurance Company, Waterford, N. Y., Capital, $200,000

Northern N. Y. Live Stock Ins. Company, Plattsburgh, N. Y., Capital, $50,000

Charter Oak Life Insurance Company, Hartford, Vt., Capital, $200,000

Policies in the National Protection Insurance Co., and the Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance issued by the undersigned.

JAMES B. DICKINSON.

Office, Ausable Forks N. Y.
Saratoga Springs, Feb'y 7th, 1852.

We, the undersigned, John Willard, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court for the 4th Judicial District of the State of New York, and a resident of Saratoga Springs, with Augustus Bockes, First Judge of the County of Saratoga, being likewise a resident of Saratoga Springs, and John C. Hulburt, Surrogate of the County of Saratoga, also a resident of Saratoga Springs—do hereby Certify, that we are personally acquainted with the men composing the Board of Directors of the National Protection Insurance Company of Saratoga Springs. We take pleasure in availing ourselves of this opportunity in recommending to the Public, from a personal knowledge of the responsibility and character of their Board of Directors, that this Company is a sound and reliable Institution, will deal fairly with the assured, and are fully competent to pay their losses. We therefore unhesitatingly recommend this Company as an Institution in every respect worthy of a liberal patronage.

John Willard,
A. Bockes,
Jno. C. Hulburt.

JAMES B. DICKINSON,
Policy Agent, Ausable Forks.
Ausable Forks, Feb. 5th, 1852. 457-tf

CHINA, GLASS, & EARTHEN WARE.

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

[Successors to Peirce and King,]

IMPORTERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS,
235 River Street, Troy, New York.

Having our Stock very complete from Importations, and otherwise, are prepared to offer a large assortment of all Goods in our Line. Wholesale or Retail, at the Lowest New York or Boston Prices for Cash or Approved Credit, a among which will be found:

Fine White Ironstone and White Glazed Ware Flown Blue. Flown Mulb ry, Light Blue and common Wares, and the Acacia Ware, formerly kept by Mr A. Slason.

White, Gold Band and Deco ated French China, in sets or separate prices.

Tea sets, of French and English China, white, Gilt, or decorated. India China in great variety.

Toilet Sets, decorated or plain, full, double, or single sets.

Cut Glass Ware, in Decanters, Goblets Champagne Wines &c., of new and rich patterns. Glass cut to match any pattern.

Moulded and plain Glass Ware, of every description and style.

Girandoles, Candelabras, Solar Lamps, and Chandeliers, in every variety, from the manufactory of Cornelius & Co. Philadelphia.

Solar Globes, cut and Plain, Solar and Camphene Wicks and Chimneys. Astral and Coal Wicks, Boat Globes, Astral Chimnies &c., &c.

Hall Lanterns of cut, plain and stained Glass.

Lanterns of every variety. Also a new and desirable style with patent catch, &c., for Railroads and Steamboats, and made to order with names or initials engraved on.

Tea Trays and Waiters, new styles and shapes, of our own importation, single or in sets.

Looking Glasses, Britannia Ware, Table Mats &c., &c.

Also a splendid assortment of Fancy Goods, consisting of Vases, Cologues, Gardner ivers, Allumets, Decanters, Wine Bottles, &c., in China, Terra Cotta, Parian Marble, and Bohemian Ware,

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK,
225 River Street, Opposite Troy House, Troy, N. Y.
ALFRED H. PEIRCE,
LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK. } 415

Gas, Steam & Water Fitting and Fixtures, Wrought-Iron Pipe, Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Plumbers' Materials, &c.

We are now prepared to do work in dwellings, Stores, Churches, Mills, or Factories, in the way of Gas and Steam Fitting or Plumbing, in the most complete and satisfactory manner. Having workmen in each of the above branches who cannot be excelled by any similar establishments in the country all orders will be promptly executed, and work done in any part of the country.

We have also constantly on hand and for Sale at Manufacturers' Prices, Wrought Iron Pipe for Gas, Steam, and water, Twisted and Plain Brass Pipe Steam Valves, Brass and Iron Stop Cocks, Tees, Elbows, Couplings, Brass Globe, Cross and Check Valves, &c. Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Leather Hose, Hose Pipe and Couplings, with every material in Lead, Brass and Plated Work for Plumbers' use.—Plug Basins Hoppers, Closet Pans, Corner Bashas, and Baths, of all descriptions.

Also, a splendid assortment of Chandeliers, Pendants, Brackets &c., on new and rich styles, to which we are receiving constant additions.

PEIRCE and SOUTHWICK.
223 and 235 River-Street, [Opposite Troy House,] Troy, N. Y. 415-tf
ALFRED H PEIRCE, LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK.

WAR DECLARED

—BETWEEN—

France and England!!!

WOULD not create as great a sensation among the inhabitants of this portion of country as the proclamation of war on high prices by CARDWELL in the sale of

Ready-Made Clothing.

That war declared Oct. 1st, 1851, still rages with unabating and increasing fury; but in its progress its path is not marked with bloodshed, carnage and desolation as the wars of one Nation against another; on the other hand its fruits are smiling faces (not of other dealers) and glad hearts; go ask the honest and hardy inhabitants of our pine clad hills, and our pleasant valleys, where he buys his CLOTHING, and he will answer you with a smile,

WHY AT CARDWELL'S, OF COURSE!

That is the place where you can obtain the latest styles, a genteel fit, and well made suit of clothes for less money than at any other Store in northern New York.

Why, says one man, I have saved money enough by purchasing my Clothing this Fall at

CARDWELL'S CHEAP STORE

to buy me a good Cow. ☞This is no fiction: living witnesses can be produced that will testify to the truth of it.

N. B. Saturday March the 5th will arrive a large and magnificent assortment of Spring and Summer Clothing, when the Spring and Summer Fashions will be introduced. Every description of garments always to be found at CARDWELL'S One Price cheap

CLOTHING WARE ROOM'S,
ADIRONDAC HOTEL BUILDINGS,
Keeseville N. Y.
G. A. CARDWELL.

WANTED,

A farm containing not less than 200 acres in the town of Chesterfield. A pleasable or rn, on which must be good Dwelling House and out Buildings and otherwise under good cultivation. One answering the above Description will meet with sale for cash. Enquire of Benj. MINER.

Port Kent, Feb. 22d, 1853

A. A. LEE,

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW,

ELIZABETHTOWN, ESSEX COUNTY, N. Y.

☞ Office over Root & Co's store. 462

Bounty Lands

PURCHASED AND OBTAIN

GEO. MOORE, Plattsburgh, N

Miscellaneous.

LEONARD SCOTT & Co.'s

LIST OF

BRITISH PERIODICAL

PUBLICATIONS.

Delivered in all the principal Cities in the United States, free of Postage, and forwarded by Mail, under the provisions of the late Post Office Law, at merely nominal rates.

1. The London Quarterly Review (Conservative.)
2. The Edinburgh Review (Whig.)
3. The North British Review (Free Church.)
4. The Westminster Review. (Liberal.)
5. Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine (Tory.)

Although these works are destinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary Character which gives them their chief value, and in this they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the fatherly care of Christopher North, maintains its celebrity, and is, at this time, unusually attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that magazine, and first appearing in its columns both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such, works as "The Caxtons" and "My New Novel," (both by Bulwer,) "The Green Hand," "Katie Stewart," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Messrs. Scott & Co., so that Subscribers to the Reprint of that Magazine may always rely on having the earliest reading of these fascinating tales.

Terms and Premiums.

[See list of Premium Volumes below.]

	per ann.
For any 1 of the 4 Reviews and one Prem. vol.	$3,00
For any 2 of the 4 Reviews and one prem vol.	5,00
For any 3 of the 4 Reviews and two prem. vol.	7,00
For all four of the Reviews and two prem vol.	8,00
For Blacwood's Magazine and one prem. vol	3,00
For Blackwood's & 3 Reviews and three prem. vol.	9,00
For Blackwood's & the 4 Reviews and three prem. vol.	10,00

Payments to be made in all cases in advance.

The Premiums consist of the following works, back volumes of which will be given to new subscribers according to the number of periodicals ordered, as above explained.—

PREMIUM VOLUMES.

Foreign Quarterly Review (one year.)
Blackwood's Magazine (six months)
London Quarterly Review (one year.)
Bentley's Miscellaney (six months.)
Edinburgh Review (one year.)
Metropolitan Magazine (six months)
Westminster Review (one year.)

Consecutive Premium volumes cannot in all cases be furnished, except of the Foreign Quarterly Review. To prevent disappointment, therefore, where that work is not alone wanted. Subscribers will please order as many different works for premiums as there are volumes to which they may be entitled.

CLUBBING.

A discount of twenty five per cent from the above prices will be allowed to Clubs ordering four or more copies of any one or more of the above works, Thus: Four copies of Blackwood, or of one Review, will be sent to one address for $9; four copies of the four Reviews and Blackwood for $30; and so on.

No premiums will be given where the above allowance is made to Clubs, nor will premiums in any case be furnished, unless the subscription money is paid in full to the Publishers without recourse to an agent. Money current in the State where issued will be received at par.

Reduced Postage.

The following table will show the great reduction which has been made on these periodicals since 1843, and the very trifling rates now charged.

	Per annum.
Prior to 1845, the postage on Blackwood was	$2 40
Prior to 1845, the postage on a single Review	112
From 1845 to 1851, the postage on Blackwood was	1 00
From 1845 to 1851, the postage on a Review was	50
In 1851 52 [average rate] on Blackwood was	75
In 1851 52 [average rate] on a Review	38
The present postage on Blackwood, is	24
The present postage on a Review is	12

[The rates are now uniform for all distances within the United States.]

At these rates surely no objection should be made to receive the works by mail, and thus ensuring their speedy, safe, and regular delivery.

☞Remittances and communications should be always addressed, post-paid, to the Publishers,

LEONARD SCOTT & Co.,
70 Fulton Street, (entrance 54 Gold street,) 85 New York.

WOOL! WOOL!

THE Subscriber would inform the public that he is again in the

Manufacturing Business,

Either by the yard, on shares, or in exchange for cloths on the most reasonable terms, and that he intends to keep on hand a full supply of the following goods:

BLACK BROAD CLOTHS,
Black, Brown, and Olive Cassimeres,
FULLED CLOTHS, SATTINETS, TWEEDS, Flannels, &c.,

suitable to this country, and that he will spare no pains in trying to please such as may favor him with their patronage.

Birmingham, May 15, 1852. J. APPLEYARD. 448

Hotel to Let.

THE EL kept by C. M. Gifford in Essex will be to be let the first of May next. Application may be made at the Post Office. Chas. G. Fancher.

Essex, March 14, 1853. 462-4w

Business Cards.

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS,

(Successor to Nichols & Warren,)

WHOLESALE PAPER WAREHOUSE

And Paged Blank Book Manufactory,

—JOBBER AND RETAIL DEALER IN—

School and Classical Books

English, French and American

Stationery, and Artist's Materials,

No. 4, Leavenworth Block, College Street,

BURLINGTON, Vt.

☞Bank, Blank, Check or Memorandum Books made to order, from the best of Paper, and bound in the most thorough manner. All work warranted. Terms Cash. 443 tf

---

Livery Stable

BY

GEORGE G. FULLER.

HEAD OF MAIN STREET

(a few steps from the Bank.)

KEESEVILLE, NEW YORK.

Where may be found at all times, the best of Horses and Carriages, on the most reasonable terms.

Montgomery House,

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA,

BY

Sherman & Wheelock.

E. SHERMAN, THERON WHEELOCK.

☞Mr. Sherman was late a merchant at Moriah, Essex Co., N. Y., and Mr. Wheelock was late of the Mansion House, Troy, N. Y. 427tf

---

GEORGE P. WILKINSON,

(Successor to G. P. & J. B. Wilkinson,)

MANUFACTURER AND JOBBER IN

CLOTHING,

154 River Street, Corner of Congress,

4-7 tf TROY, N. Y.

G. P. SANBORN & Co.

APOTHECARIES HALL.

BURLINGTON, VT.

DEALERS IN

Drugs and Medicines, Chemical Perfumery, Teeth, Surgical Instruments, Gold and Tin Foil, Patent Medicines, and every variety of articles usually kept in this line of Business.

Oct. 23d, 1852. 6 m.

GEO. S. TARBELL,

HOLE SALE GROCER,

DEALER IN OIL AN

Genoral Commission Merchant,

No. 65 Quay-Street,

ALBANY.

ADKINS & FULLER,

Booksellers, Stationers, Binders

—AND—

PAPER RULERS,

KEEP constantly on hand or will supply Books, Maps, Charts, Pictures, Frames and Periodicals of all kinds. Also Publications of the American Tract Society, Bibles and Sabbath School books at their very low depository prices.

One door east of Pierce & Davey's Agricultural Store on College Street.

C. S. ADKINS, E. A. FULLER.

Burlington, July 4, 1850. 323

H. C. Blanchrd, M. D.,

HOMŒOPATHIC PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

Office 2 doors below Ausable House.

Rooms at Ausable House. 430

D. M. ARNOLD

Engineer and Surveyor,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

SURVEYING & Leveling for Rail Roads, Plank Roads, Mill Seats, &c. Land Surveying of all kinds done on shortest notice.

Office opposite the Ausable House.

425tf

J. B. DICKINSON,

AUSABLE FORKS, N. Y.

General INSURANCE AGENT,

For Fire, Life, Health and Live Stock Insurance Companies.

☞Any business from abroad will receive prompt attention. 454

Silliman & Gardiner,

WHOLESALE DEALERS

in Pork, Fish,

SALT, PLASTER, &c.

OFFICE 17 CORNTIS SLIP, New York.

339 RIVER St., Troy, 445

Dr. H. W. GOULD,

SURGEON DENTIST,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

☞Office opposite the Ausable House. [389

FARM FOR SALE.

ABOUT 1½ miles from the village of Keeseville, containing 110 acres, beautifully situated, good soil, well watered, all necessary buildings nearly new and in good repair, good orchard with grafted fruit, and wood enough for the use of the farm.

If the purchaser wishes one half the purchase money can remain on bond and mortgage from 10 to 20 years.

Wm. TAYLOR.

Keeseville, March 3d, 1853. 461-4w

BOOKS.

Just Received from New York.

FRANK Freeman's Barber Shop. A new and deeply interesting story, written in a style similar to Uncle Tom's Cabin. The White Slave. Uncle Tom's Cabin, both bound and in pamphlet. Ike Marvil's Dream Life. Reveries of a Bachelor, &c., &c. Cabin and Parlor. Byron's, Willis', Heman's and other Poems. Mitchell's Lectures on Astronomy.

Sold by I. A. HASBROUCK.

Keeseville, March 1st, 1853. 461

BUTTER FOR SALE.

Large quantity of good dairy Butter bought in large and small packages of the finest quality for sale at Boynton & Smith.

Keeseville Jan. 27, 1853.

WOOL.

CASH Paid for Wool. J. APPLEYARD.

Nov. 10, 1851.

Burlington Advertisements

BURLINGTON

AGRICULTURAL WARE-HOUSE AND SEED STORE.

DAVEY & ALLEN,

No. 3, COLLEGE STREET, BURLINGTON, Vt.

Ploughs—Prouty & Mear's centre draught. These ploughs have obtained a celebrity unparalleled, having taken the first premiums in this county and at the World's Fair in London. We have also Starbuck's and Tabo's celebrated Ploughs.

Our stock of Ploughs comprise a great variety of patterns and different sizes, calculated for sward and stubble land, wet meadows and recently drained swamps, where roots abound—among which also are the deep breaking up, flat-furrow, lea-furrow, self-sharpening, skid, full, double mould-board, sub soil, &c., &c.

Harrows—triangular, square, Geckle's and Scotch.

Hay, Straw and Corn-stalk Cutters either by hand or horse power; spiral steel or circular knives.

Cultivators—of different kinds, seven-tooth and cast iron.

Corn Shellers—a variety of patterns. Will shell from 5 to 100 bushels of corn per hour.

Corn Mills and Grain Crackers—Grant's unrivalled. We confidently recommend them as the best in use.

Seed Sowers—Batchelder's & Emery's and other kinds.

Vegetable Cutters—for turnips and other roots.

Horse Powers, Threshers, Winnowers and Separators—Wheeler's Patent Railway Chain Horse Power. This Power, both single and double geared, for one or two horses, has never been equalled for lightness in running, strength, durability and economy. The Thresher and Separator are too widely and favorably known to need our commendation. The combined Thresher and Winnower, (which is a new invention of last year) has not been so generally introduced. All who have used it express the highest approbation of its merits. We entertain no doubt that it is the most perfect, compact, and efficient machine now in use for threshing and winnowing also, as it certainly is by far the cheapest and most economical.

Warranted to give satisfaction.

or be returned after a reasonable trial.

Saw Mill—I. which is used for sawing wood for locomotives on Railways, or by farmers for cutting stove wood. With a one horse power it will cut 10 to 15 cords of wood twice in two per day.

AGRICULTURAL & HORTICULTURAL TOOLS AND IMPLEMENTS.

a great variety and extensive assortment, such as Hoes, Shovels, Spades, Rakes, Manure and Hay Forks, Scythes, Snaths, Cattle Ties, Draft, Halter and Trace Chains, Garden Syringes, Pruning Saws, Pruning and Budding Knives, Garden Shears and Twig Cutters, Grass stones, Patent Grindstone fixtures, rollers, hand barrows, &c., &c.

Grain, Field, Garden and Flower seeds.—We are prepared to furnish Herd's Grass, Red Top, Lucerne, White Dutch, Southern, Western and Northern Clover seed, Beet, Turnip, Onion and Carrot seed, at Wholesale and Retail at the lowest market prices.

We have by far the largest and most complete assortment of Agricultural Implements, Machines, Field and Garden seeds to be found in the State, which we offer at our new and spacious Ware Rooms to Farmers and Dealers on terms the most liberal. We are also Commission Merchants and Wholesale and Retail Dealers in heavy and shelf

HARDWARE,

Saddlery, Axles, Springs, Mechanic's Tools Hous Trimmings and Furnishing Goods, Cutlery, Cross Cut, Mill and Circular Saws, Paints, Oils, Bird Cages, etc. etc. etc.

Agents of Messrs. D. Prouty & Co., Boston, Wheeler, Millick & Co., Albany, J. T. Grant & Co., Troy and others we can fill orders for Plows, Horse Powers, Threshers Fan Mills, Straw Cutters &c., at manufacturers prices. A liberal discount made to Dealers.

ORDERS
FROM ABROAD SOLICITED.
DAVEY & ALLEN.

Burlington, September 20, 1852. 439

W GOODS

AT

Nichols, 150 Church Street.

IN consequence of our large spring sales, we have been induced to purchase a very large and full stock of

Foreign & Domestic Goods

for the fall trade, which we now offer at exceedingly low prices. We have not time now to enumerate, suffice it to say, we have every thing usually called for in a dry goods store.

CARPETINGS!

AT THE

Carpet Warehouse, 150 Church Street.

Mr. Nichols is now opening the largest stock of Carpeting ever brought to this city, consisting of the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three-ply, Ingrain, Extra Super Fine and Common, Venetian, Damask, Cotton and Wool, Cotton, Hemp Stair carpeting from the best manufacturers. Also, floor oil-cloth, straw-matting, Hearth Rugs, Door Mats, table oil cloths, English and American Bookings and crumb cloths.

Bay State Carpetings and Bookings.

Mr. Nichols has the agency for the sale of the justly celebrated Bay State carpets and bookings and will be furnished with all the new patterns as fast as they come from the mills. Recollect the No.

150 CHURCH STREET.

Burlington, September 24, 1852. 439 tf

Charles Morris,

MERCHANT TAILOR

AND

CLOTHIER,

KEESEVILLE, NEW YORK.

IS now prepared to show his friends and the public in general a full assortment of cloths Cassimeres and Vestings suited to the season. My Cloths are of the latest importation, and consists of Black, Brown, Drab and Mixed Beavers, Broad Cloths, of French, West of England and American Manufacture. Cassimeres to all the reviued style and quality. Vestings in any quantity, some of which are very rich. Also, Shirts of all descriptions. Shirt under Shirts, and drawers. Cravats Stocks Suspenders. Gloves Collars, Bosoms, Hdks., Muffers, Clothing ready made substantial, and the sewing to last as long as the cloth, and not rip together as much of the clothing brought from a foreign market generally is. Thankful for the very liberal and increased patronage I have received from the citizens generally. I trust by a continued effort to please the most difficult I shall merit a continuance of past favors. My arrangements with New York are such that I am advised of any changes of style, that occur from month to month and thus am able to gratify those who are disposed to adopt the changes. Cutting as usual done in the most careful manner and with promptness.

AND WARRANTED MADE

Nov. 13 1852 445

To Printers & Publishers.

THE undersigned is a manufacturer of Printing Ink, of every color and quality, which he knows to be equal to any manufactured, which he will sell at the lowest prices for cash. As he is determined that his Ink shall recommend itself, he only solicits One Trial of it, relying upon its own merits.

Extra fine jet Black Ink for card and wood cut printing; extra blank book and news Ink of superior quality; also colored Ink of every variety. S. M. Pettengill & Co., 10 State street, Boston, agents for the N. England States.

Sheldon Collins,
50 State-st., N. Y.

☞Publishers of newspapers inserting this advertisement; including this paragraph, to the amount of $2, and sending $5 and a paper containing it, we will send 35 lbs. of news Ink.

S. M. Pettengill & Co.
10 State Street, Boston.

Forge for Sale.

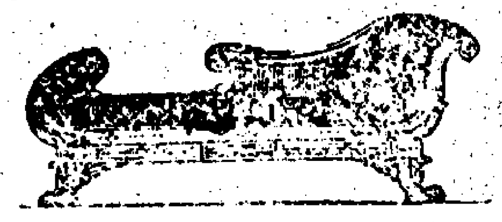
IN an excellent location for the manufacture of Iron, being near the Ausable Ores and where coal is easily obtained at the lowest prices. It is on the Ausable river in Jay, has two fires, and on the premises are eight dwellings, a Store, three good coal houses, and other conveniences. Terms easy. Also a quarter of timber lands near the forge. Apply to the subscriber. MONROE HALL.

Jay, Feb. 17th 1853. 460-6w

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

NOTICE is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John Lawrence, late of North Hudson, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to Esther B. Walker, one of the administrators of the said deceased, at his dwelling house in North Hudson, his place of doing business on or before the 25th day of May next, that being at least six Months after the day of the first publication of this notice. Dated this 16th day of November, A. D. 1852.

ABIGAIL CUMMINGS, Administratrix,
ESTER B. WALKER, Administrator.
DAVID DAY,



46-6m

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Burlington Ads.

BOSTON

URNITURE STORE,

AT THE

Spacious Ware-Room,

Nos. 2 & 3, Leavensworth Block,

COLLEGE STREET,

in Burlington, Vt.

No further need of going to New York or Boston for Rich or

FASHIONABLE FURNITURE.

THE Subscriber has a more extensive assortment of

Furniture, Feathers, Beds, Mattrasses, Upholstery, Goods, &c.,

than has ever before been offered in this section, comprising all the most recent styles from the most elegant to the commonest FURNITURE, manufactured principally to order and in quality superior to any to be found out of Boston or any other place—consisting, in part, as follows:

Black Walnut & Mahogony Parlor

FURNITURE,

—CONSISTING OF—

French Sofas, Easy Chairs, covered in plush damask, brocatelle or horsecloth, to suit the purchaser. French style centre and side Tables, with and without marble tops; all sizes of ... frame Looking Glasses; rich and common Curtain Furniture and Fixtures, &c., and every article needed to furnish Parlors in the most fashionable style.—Also some low and low priced Parlor Furniture, of every description.

DRAWING & SITTING ROOM FURNITURE,

of every desirable style.

CHAMBER FURNITURE.

Fancy pre... Chamber Sets richly ornamented; mahogany, black walnut and common Bedsteads, bureaus, Stands, Tables, Chairs, &c. Also, Feathers, Feather Beds, hair, cotton, husk and palm leaf Mattrasses. Elegant

LIBRARY CASES & SIDE-BOARDS,

both mahogany and black walnut of very superior workmanship, constantly on hand and made to order, of any style or size desired. Also, any odd article, not to be found ready made, designed and executed to order in the best manner at the shortest notice.

Hotels and Steamboats

furnished at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms.

N. B.—Every article will be sold as low as the same quality can be bought in either Boston or New York, and in many cases much lower. Country dealers will be furnished at the lowest wholesale prices.

Mr. ALLEN'S long experience as a manufacturer and Furniture Dealer in Boston gives him advantages in selecting and purchasing goods very seldom equalled; and he will warrant every article fully equal to what he represents it.

☞ Persons in want of Furniture will do well to call on Mr. ALLEN before purchasing.

I. S. ALLEN.

Burlington, May 8, '52. 418-1y

PIANO FORTE,

AND

MUSIC STORE.

No. 1, BANK BLOCK BURLINGTON, VT.

THE Subscriber has opened a very extensive and choice selection of Musical Merchandise, consisting of every variety of Musical Instruments, such as

Piano Fortes, Seraphines, Melodeons,

Bass Viols, Violins, Guitars, Flutes,

Flageolets, Clarionets, Cornopeans, Accordeons, and Brass Instruments of every description for Bands; also—

BASS VIOL AND VIOLIN STRINGS, TUNING FORKS, TUNING HAMMERS, &c.

The assortment of Sheet Music, consists of about Four Thousand Pieces of the latest and most popular Music of the day, additions to which will be made every week, from the extensive Importing and Publishing Houses in New York and Boston. Instruction Books on hand for every Instrument, and all new works received as soon as published.

CHURCH MUSIC BOOKS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

The attention of Churches is respectfully invited to the assortment of Piano Fortes, Seraphines and Melodeons, as they are from the best Manufacturers in the country, and every Instrument sold by me will be warranted, unless otherwise stated to the purchaser.

All the above goods will be sold as low as can be purchased in New York or Boston, and the orders of teachers and those who buy to sell again, are respectfully solicited, and will be filled and sent to any part of the country as may be directed.

June 5. 3m122 I. S. RUST.

ANNEXATION!!

Essex County, N. Y. and Vermont!

NOVEMBER 10th, 1852.

I. D. BIXBY & Co.,

ARE now opening a very heavy stock of Rich

DRESS GOODS,

for the Winter trade, consisting in part of the following articles:

Merinos, Coburghs, Paramattas, Alpacas, Lustres, all wool deLaines, Manchester deLaines, Persian Cloths, Raw Silk Plaids, Cashmere Plaids, Col'd Velvets, Col'd Flannels, Irish Poplins, Bombazines, Ginghams, American, English and French Prints, Silks.

SHAWLS!!

Bay State, Empire, Waterloo and Scotch.

CLOAKS.

We have a large assortment of rich Cloaks of a variety of patterns, colors and prices.

Silks, Satins, &c.

The LARGEST assortment of Dress Silk that we have ever opened, are now to be seen on our counters. Brocade, Plaid, Striped, Chameleon, Glace, Gro de Naples, Gro de Zure, Gro de Rhine, Gro de Lyons, Gro de Algiers and many other styles.

No. 2, Bank Block.

429tf North Side of the Park.

BURLINGTON VT.,

I. D. BIXBY & Co.

Burlington, Nov. 15, 1852.

BOOTS, SHOES & RUBBERS

James A. Walker,

BANK BLOCK, OPPOSITE THE SQUARE,

BURLINGTON, Vt.

HAS just returned from the New York and Philadelphia markets, with the largest and best selected assortment of Ladies, Gents, Misses, Boys, Youths and Children's ever offered North of the Allen. Getting his goods direct from the manufacturers he is enabled to and WILL offer to most LESS PAID than can be purchased for elsewhere.

BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS

Mens Thick Boots	from $1.50 to $3.00 per pair.
" Fine Kip	2.00 to 3.00	"
" " Calf pe'd	2.50 to 4.00	"
Gents fine calf sew'd boots	4.00 to 7.50	"
Ladies walking shoes	75 to 1.88	"
" Bootees and Polkas	1.00 to 2.00	"
" Gaiter Boot	1.00 to 2.00	"

and a great variety of every desirable style and quality, ALL of which will be offered at very low prices. 426 tf

All Work Warranted.

GRASS SEED

OF very Superior Quality, for sale by

Miscellaneous.

26 Years Experience.

OLD ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL.

Quick Cures and Low prices. Private Diseases and their Antidote.

DR LISPENARD, author of the Marriage Guide, or Private Medical Treatise, Professor of Diseases of Women and Children, and Licentiate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the United States University, &c., &c., continues as heretofore to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms and variety of

PRIVATE DISEASES,

at his old quarters No 5 Beaver street ALBANY, N. Y.

The great success attending the use of Doctor L.'s remedies in secret diseases, and the many remarkable cures daily effected by him in recent as well as old lingering attacks, is conclusive evidence that the

SICK AND UNFORTUNATE

can do no better than consult the Doctor, whose whole time is devoted to the exclusive treatment of this much neglected branch of practice.

LOOK AT THIS.

Dr. Lispenard cures recent cases of disease in from three to six days, and chronic or long standing disease in a very short period of time, without the use of Mercury, without the loss of time, change of diet, or detention from

DAILY EMPLOYMENT.

In Syphillis Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Enlargement of the Testicles and Cords, Bubo, Chancres Pimples and Scaly Eruptions, Sore Throats and Noses, Chancres on the tongue, tender shin bones, and diseases of the skin, and impure blood. Dr. Lispenard's remedies are above all praise, and frequently cure when all others had failed

EVEN TO RELIEVE.

More than 5,000 patients have during the past year experienced the benefit of the Doctor's extraordinary skill in treating secret diseases—among which, diseases of the bladder and kidneys have formed a goodly proportion.

YOUNG MEN,

who by indulging in secret habits have injured their health and prostrated their intellectual faculties, and thereby deprived themselves of the pleasure of married life, should consult Dr Lispenard without a moment's delay. Hundreds have been restored to health, society and friends, under my peculiar mode of treatment, although vast sums of money had been sacrificed without any benefit. My remedy for this disease is pleasant to take, has no offensive smell, and

CURES WITHOUT FAIL.

☞ Persons so unfortunate as to be diseased, although they may have visited half a dozen Doctors, and had medicine enough for them a dozen times with no benefit, would exhibit wisdom by making their case known to that FRIEND OF THE SICK Dr. Lispenard, who never charges for advice and warrants all his cures. The sick are often at a loss where to apply for relief, AND THIS NO WONDER, as hundreds stand ready to plunder the unfortunate victim of PRIVATE DISEASES, or secret habits with but one thought for his life and health. All those deceived will find a friend and moderate charges, in consulting the Doctor who USES NO MERCURY and cures every time.

N. B.—Persons from a distance when visiting the city in search of a physician and friend will be fortunate if they succeed in escaping the many dens of imposition conducted by unprincipled men, destitute of character knowledge or name, who fleece the unfortunate victim of disease of his hard earned money, and his remaining health. Patients who have no acquaintance in the city should make inquiry of some respectable citizen, or the editor or proprietor of any of the city papers, to ascertain who is the most reliable physician to apply to.

FEMALE DISEASES

Dr. Lispenard from an experience seldom or never enjoyed by any other medical man, is enabled to treat, with every hope of success, all and every variety of Female Complaints—with safe and pleasant remedies—and has without doubt cured within the past five years more than 3000 females afflicted with diseases of the Bladder, Womb, &c. &c. Ladies afflicted with suppression or stoppage of their monthly turns, will recollect that Dr. Lispenard is still the sole American agent for

DR. VICHOI'S

FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS.

The unprecedented sale of more than 15,000 boxes of these excellent Pills, and the great results which always follow their use, a conclusive evidence of their utility in stoppages, &c. Caution—Married Ladies in certain delicate situations should not use them—for reasons see directions with each box. Price $1. Sent by mail to all parts of the world.

Married Persons and those about to Marry, should enclose 12½ cents post paid to Dr. Lispenard, and obtain a copy of his Marriage Guide or Private Treatise, a bewitching little work of nearly 100 pages, illustrated. Every thing that married persons can desire or wish to know is here explained. Persons who from poverty or sickness have no desire to increase their family, will find necessary instruction in the Marriage Guide. One copy 12½ cents; 5 copies 50 cts; 12 copies $1—mailed free to any part of the world.

N. B.—Patients treated by letter, and medicines sent with full directions for use, to the writer's address. All communications destroyed or returned.

No mercury used in any case, and all cures warranted.

No boys or precocious students allowed; timed persons take notice.

Friends of Dr. L. when recommending patients to our care will recollect our number, 5 Beaver st., three doors from South Broadway.

Hospital open from 7 A. M., to 9 P. M., and on Sundays from 1 to 4 P. M.

No charge for advice, although no medicine may be desired.

Good board and private rooms for those who desire to remain in the city.

Notice this—Address all letters to

C. W. LISPENARD, M. D.,

411—1y No. 5 Beaver st. Albany, N. Y.

NORTHERN RAIL ROAD, N. Y.

FALL ARRANGEMENTS.

On and after FRIDAY October 1st trains will run as follows:

GOING EAST,

1st Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 9, A. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 1, 45, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 2, P. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 6, 20, P. M.

GOING WEST.

1st Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 8, A. M

Arrive at Ogdensgurgh 12,50, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 3, P. M.

Arrives at Ogdensburgh 7,45, P. M.

First Passenger Train going East

Connects at Moors with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road for Montreal and Quebect, and Plattsburgh, Burlington and Whitehall—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Vermont Central Rail Road for Boston and New York—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Rutland and Burlington Rail Road by steam Boats to Burlington, and thence to Boston and New York.

Second Passenger Train going East,

Connects with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road at Moores, for Montreal and Quebec—Connects with the Vermont Central Railroad for Boston, Burlington, and New York. Connects with the Steam Boats to Whitehall, thence by the Saratoga and Troy Rail Roads, to Saratoga Springs, Troy and New York. Connects by Steam Boat with Rutland and Burlington R. R. at Burlington, for Troy, Boston and New York.

First Passenger Train going West,

Connects at Ogdensburgh with the Express Line of Lake Ontario Steamers at 1 o'clock P. M. for Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, Lewiston, Niagara Falls, and Buffalo.

Second Passengei Train going West.

Connects with Lake Ontario Line of Steamers for Kingston and all ports on the American shore of Lake Ontario, and with Hamilton.

Four Freight Trains leave Ogdensburgh and Rouse's Point every day Sundays excepted.

For Freight apply to George V. Hoyle, Agent, Rouse's Point.

CHARLES L. SCHLATTER,

440 Chief Eng'r and Superintendent.

Printing Paper For Sale.

FOR sale by J. & G. PARKS,

38 by 24 inches,
34 by 24 "
364tf. 33 by 23 "

Also, Wrapping:

40 by 28 inches, 60 lbs to be Ream, for large bundles
29 by 18 "
18 by 18 "

☞ All orders directed to Keeseville promptly attended

CAPS CAPS.

Legal.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS John McDermid, then of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York, by a certain Mortgage, dated December 18th, 1850, and with the power of sale therein contained duly recorded in the office of the Clerk of Essex County, in Vol. P of Mortgages on pages 434, and 435, on the 21st day of December, 1850, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to secure the payment of fifty dollars and interest, did duly Mortgage to John McGuire of the second place, certain premises described in said mortgage as follows:—All those two certain building lots, lying and being in the village of Keeseville, County of Essex and State of New York. The first of said lots is bounded and described as follows: situated on the Port Kent Hill, in the said village, on a street to be known and designated as back street, and measuring on said street fifty five feet in front and the same in rear and extending back one hundred feet—to be known and designated as lot number (4).—The second of the aforesaid lots is situated also in the said village of Keeseville, on the street known and designated as McDermid street, to commence on the said street one hundred and fifty feet from the line of the Port Kent road and to be sixty feet in front on said street and run back to James McGuires land be the said lots more or less. And whereas the said Mortgage was by an instrument in writing dated February 18th, 1853, duly assigned by the said John McGuire to Michael Keenan, jr. of Chesterfield, Essex County. On which Mortgage there is claimed to be due at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $57.67. And default having been made in the payment of said $57,67 and no proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the same, or any part thereof: now therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage and of the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgaged premises will be sold at public auction on the 23d day of May next at 10 o'clock A. M. at the Adirondac Hotel, in the village of Keeseville, Essex County.

MICHAEL KEENAN, Jr.

Assignee of Mortgagee.

JOHN McELROY, Atty. 460 13w

Dated, Keeseville February 26th, 1853.

SUPREME COURT,
GURDON GRANT,
AGST.
ELENOR CRARY,
ISAAC HEUSTIS,
JAMES GIBSON,
JOHN SAVAGE and
JOSEPHUS FITCH,

In pursuance of a decree or judgment of the Supreme Court made in the above cause, will be sold under the direction of the subscriber, Sheriff of the County of Essex, at public auction at the Adirondac Hotel, in the town of Chesterfield, in the County of Essex, on Monday, the 4th day of April next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon; all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land lying and being in the town of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York, lying between the Augur Pond and Butternut Pond, beginning at the south west corner at a pine tree marked 1795, thence running north ninety-five chains, a little north of the south end of Augur Pond, thence east one degree north, twenty-five chains to the west line of lot No. three, thence south along the west line of lots No. three, four, five and eight to the corner of the last mentioned lot, thence south forty-five degrees west to Butternut Pond, thence along the north end of said Pond to the first place of beginning, containing two hundred and sixteen acres of land be the same more or less; which said lot of land is part of two tracts of land, formerly granted by the said State to John Williams deceased by letters patent, and is now conveyed subject to the conditions and reservations made by Anthony J. Blanchard his heirs and assigns in his conveyance thereof to one William Bromley to overflow as much of the said land at any time or times whatsoever as may be reasonably necessary convenient and useful for the accommodation of any Mills or Water-works, which are now or hereafter may be built or erected on the waters of the said Augur Pond, or the outlet thereof by the heirs or assigns of the said Anthony J., hereby retaining the same reservations as is contained in the said William's deed of the said premises to one Thomas McLean

Dated the 19th day of Febuary, 1853.

C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff.

By J. C. FINCH, Deputy Sheriff.

SAML. AMES, Atty. 459-w7

MORTGAGE SALE

DEFAULT has been made in the payment of the debt secured by a certain mortgage, dated the 21st day of October, 1847, executed by William Galusha and Sophia, his wife, then of Wilmington, in the County of Essex, State of N. Y., to Uriah D. Mihills of Keene, in the county and state aforesaid, and recorded in the office of the clerk of Essex county, in volume N. of Mortgages, pages 283 and 284, on the 28th day of December, 1847, at nine o'clock. A. M. Said mortgage was duly assigned by said Mihills to Willard Bell, January 14th, 1848, and by said Bell duly assigned to Reuben Patridge, January 30, 1849, and by said Patridge duly assigned to M. Finch, Amos Avery and Charles Malbone, assignees of Reuben Sanford, January 1st, 1849, who are now the owners of said mortgage. There is claimed to be due on said mortgage, at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $167.93. Now therefore, notice is hereby given that the premises described in said mortgage, will, by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, be sold at public auction, at the Adirondac Hotel, in Keeseville, in said county, on the 8th day of June next, at 1 o'clock, P. M.

Said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage as follows: All that certain piece or parcel of land situate in the town of Wilmington, in the county of Essex, being a part of lot No 34, of Mallory's grant, bounded as follows: beginning at a stake and stones standing on the North line of the Sampson lot, 141 rods from the centre of the road leading from the Carpenter house to Blish and Burdick's forge, being the South-West corner of Ephraim French's land, and running East on said line to the West line of said grant, thence North on the line of said grant to the centre of the road leading from Sanford's to St. Armand, thence running Easterly in the centre of said road to a stake and stones, being the North-West corner of a piece of land occupied by David Hatch, thence South 42 degrees, West six rods to the South bank of Mill Brook, thence Easterly along the South bank of said brook 30 rods to a stake and stones being the South-East corner of said Hatch lot, thence North 35 degrees East to the centre of said road, thence Easterly in the centre of said road to the North-West corner of the Carpenter lot, thence South on the line of said Carpenter lot to the South-west corner of said lot, thence East on the line of said lot to the brook, thence up the brook in the centre thereof to a point ten rods below the sawmill, and thence on the South bank of said brook on the line of Ephraim French's lot to the North-west corner thereof, thence South 43 degrees west on the line of said French's lot 126 rods to the place of beginning, containing seventy-five acres, be the same ...

M. FINCH,
AMOS AVERY,
CHAS. MALBONE,
FINCH & HARWOOD, Attys.

Medicine.

THE WONDER OF THE WORLD.

DEVINES' COMPOUND

PITCH LOZENGE,

A sure and pleasant Remedy for Colds, Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, and if lungs enough are left to sustain life, A CERTAIN CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, safe for the Infant or the Invalid, in any stage of weakness.

"The statements that consumption cannot be cured, has destroyed more lives than the disease itself.—[Dr Warren. Read the following, which to a candid mind places this "Great Remedy," like Cæsar's wife "above suspicion."

TO THE PUBLIC!

We, the undersigned, citizens of Lee, Mass., are acquainted with Mr. Devines, the proprietor and Manufacturer of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge and from what we know of it ourselves and have learned from others of its beneficial effects, in cases where it has been used, give it as our opinion that it is a valuable remedy in diseases for which it is recommended and is worthy of public confidence. A. G. Hulburt, Leonard Church, F. G. Taylor, Wm Taylor, E. A. Bliss, S. A. Hulburt, Josephus Crafts, T. P. Eldridge.

If any individual is to be pitied, and needs sympathy, it is the consumptive —always expecting to get well and yet the painful evidence of decay almost "makes the inner soul shrink with the outer flesh."

"Some bloom as roses bloom, and live as roses live, A single morning's space!"

While others in more mature life—by some imprudence and a slight cold neglected—in the hectic flush—the painful cough.

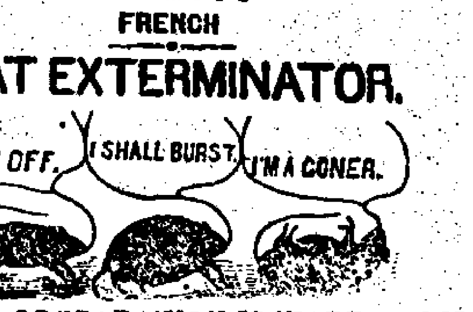
"The prints of their departing steps appears"

BUT HE EIS (OP :) Mr. Wm. Devine, the original inventor and manufacturer of the Pitch Lozenge, under Providence, was raised to perfect health by the use of these Lozenges alone, after he was pronounced by his physician to be almost dying with consumption

This fact is generally known in Berkshire County and is the neighborhood talk, and wonder in Lee, and in Great Barrington, Mass.

From Dr. Brown of Lee, Mass.

This certifies that I have made use of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge for cold and cough, and found immediate relief. Therefore I would recommend it to the public as being a safe and sovereign remedy. H. C. BROWN



Lee, October 28, 1851.

Sold wholesale at Albany, by Wm. A. Wharton & Co., Druggists, &c., H. C. Sheldon, Troy, Spencer & Nichols, Whitehall, Hammonds & Co., Crownpoint, W. G. Lyon, Essex, Reynolds & Tufts and I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. Orders addressed Wm. Devines, Jamaica L. I. 436 1y Wm RENNE, Traveling Agent

M. DUBOYS'

FRENCH

RAT EXTERMINATOR.

THIS PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to exterminate Rats and Mice, whenever used as directed, and to leave no offensive stench on the premises cleared of these annoying vermin. Its use is perfectly safe in any place and at all times, which is not the case with ordinary remedies for this evil.

CAUTION!—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!—

The extraordinary success of M. Duboy's Rat Exterminator has excited the cupidity of some dishonest and irresponsible persons to counterfeit it. Inquire for M. Duboy's French Rat Extirminator, and take no other. Large boxes at 25 cents. LYNDE & OSBURN.

Rochester, N. Y., Sole American Agents, to whom all orders should be addressed.

For sale by Stearns & Beckwith, Peru. I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. 444 1y

Miscellaneous.

WOOLEN

MANUFACTURING

IN all its various branches, will be carried on at the Keeseville Woolen Manufacturing Establishment, in Keeseville, N. Y.

Wool of any quality will be received in exchange for Cloth,

CASSIMERES, SATINETS,

Flannels, &c.

The Goods of this Establishment for the last two years, are well known at home and in market, and needs no other recommendation than a fair trial. Farmers and others wishing to make the most out of their wool, will find it to their advantage to call and exchange their wool for cloths. They may rest assured that they will be fairly dealt with, as no goods will be offered but those that will give satisfaction.

C. Roelofsen has made arrangements which will enable him to pay

Part Cash

on Exchanges, or all CASH for WOOL when

Price and Quality Suit.

On hand and ready for Exchanging, Grey Cloths, Mixed Satinets—VERY HEAVY—fine and medium Cassimeres, Red Flannel—yard wide—the different kinds also for sale.

THE CUSTOM

CARDING

will be carried on as usual.

C. ROELOFSON & Co.

Keeseville, May 26th, 1852 421tf

WOOL!! WOOL!!!

Cash Paid for Wool

BY

Matthews & Ames,

At the Old Stand of

H. & H. MATTHEWS.

Every discription of Woolen and Cotton Goods given in exchange for Wool if wanted.

HAVING increased our stock of Goods by a second Spring purchase. We feel confident that we shall be able to supply all who may wish Goods or Groceries of any description, in part, or wholly, for their Fleece, Pulled or Tag Wool

Boots ad Shoes.

READY-MADE or MADE to ORDER,

AS good as the best, as cheap as the cheapest and warranted to fit. The undersigned begs leave to remind the public of the above facts and solicit a share of their patronage. ☞ Opposite the Bank.

JAMES ADAMS.

Keeseville, March, 1852. 111-tf

NEW STORE.

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

True Union Store.

MR. NICHOLS of Burlington, Vt., has established a branch of his stock at Essex, nearly opposite the Steam Boat Landing in Fancher's Building adjoining the Hotel, where he has on hand nearly all kinds of Dry goods and Groceries and intends keeping up a good assortment by constantly replenishing, and will sell as low as can be bought in Burlington for cash and ready pay, most kinds of Produce taken. Mr. N. flatters himself that with the facilities he has for purchasing goods both in Boston and New York, that he can compete with any store in Northern New York or Vermont. Please give us a call and see for themselves. "A penny saved is two pence earned."

WANTED 10,000 lbs. BUTTER

N. Y., June 16, 1852.

KEESEVILLE ACADEMY.

The undersigned in behalf of the Trustees of Keeseville Academy, announce that the Spring Term will commence on Monday the 14th day of February last. They have succeeded in engaging the following corps of Teachers.

Associate Principals. CHARLES H. DANN Teacher of Languages and Higher Mathematics. GILBERT THAYER, Teacher of English Branches, Natural Sciences and superintendent of the School.

Miss. NANCY C. POTTER and Miss. MARY FERRIS Assistant Teachers.

Miss. ELLEN M. FISHER Teacher of Music.

Good Board and Rooms in the Village.

TERMS:

Common English Branches,	$3 00 per quarter
Higher " Branches,	1 00 extra "
Book keeping,	1 50 " "
Latin and Greek, each,	1 00 " "
French, Italian and German, each,	1 00 " "

Tuition is not charged for more than two of the above extras

Music Instrumental,	$10 00 per quarter.
" Vocal,	1 00 " "

... French, Italian or German, taken single branches, the charge will ... 3 00 ...

... THAYER will give especial attention to young gentlemen and Ladies expecting to engage in teaching.

Oliver Keese
Jacob D. Kingsland } Com. of John McNeale } Trustees.

Miscellaneous.

New Goods! New Good!

—AT—

NICHOLS' CASH STORE,

150 Church street,

BURLINGTON, VERMONT,

HAVING just Purchased in New York and Boston, a large stock of Goods of all kinds we now offer them for sale; and those who are in want of goods in our line will save money by calling on us before purchasing. We are confident we have the largest stock of goods ever brought into Burlington at one time; we were induced to buy largely in consequence of the low prices of many kinds of goods, particularly dress goods of almost every kind.

We have a full stock of everything usually kept in a dry good store; Also West India goods and groceries, a very large stock of Teas and Sugars low by chest and cask. Also at cost to clear them off Paper Hangings, Crockery and glass Ware and looking glasses.

CARPETING, AT THE

CARPET WARE HOUSE.

BURLINGTON, VT.

Received this day and now opening 50 pieces of all grades, the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three Ply, Superfine, fine and common Ingrain and Venetian, all Wool. Cotton and Cotton and Wool; Also, all the different qualities of Stair Carpeting, Straw Matting, Oil Cloth, Drugetts, Crumb Cloths, Hearth Rugs, Door Matts, &c., very cheap.

Burlington, Nov. '52. 446

FAMILY GROCERIES.

A larg and choice assortment of Sugars, Teas, Oils, Molasses, Pork, Fish, Fine and coarse Salt, Camphene, Soap and Candles, Brooms, Pails, Willow Waggons, Cradles, Flavoring Extracts, Cat, Sups, all kinds Toys, New Years and Christmass presents, Confectionaries, Nuts, Bird Seed, &c., &.

The above goods are offered on the usual terms, at the lowest prices. Let those wishing to buy examine fer themselves.

100 Barrels Genessee Flour,

FRESH Ground for sale at,

REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

40 Barrels Sugars.

CRUSHED, granulated Muscavado and Coffee Sugars at REYNOLDS & TUFTS,

Green & Black Teas.

40 CHESTS and Cattys choice Old Hyson, Young Hyson and fine Oolong Teas cheaper than any in town at

REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

Keeseville, Nov. 18, 1852. 446

New Clothing Store.

WE, the undersigned, have made arrangements with one of the best tailors in the country, to manufacture clothing for us of every description, consisting of overcoats, sacks, dress and frock coats, pants, vests, overalls and boys cloths, together with all kinds of under garments, which are made after the most improved styles, and for workmanship and durability cannot be excelled.

In addition we offer a large assortment of fine

Fashionable Clothing,

made by tailors in New York, that for fitting even Genio C. Scott, in his palmiest days was not a circumstance.

We would also inform the public that it is to be sold by wholesale or retail at very low figures for cash, and for quantity and cheapness is far in advance of any other concern in Northern New York. A comparison with the trade, both in prices and quantity is particularly requested.

In connection with the above we would call the attention of the community to our stock of

Fancy & Staple Dry Goods,

of every variety; also, hats, caps and furs, paper hangings, window shades, hardware and groceries, rifles and shot guns, amunition, &c., &c. Trunks and valises, carpet bags, whips and lashes, stone ware, and every description of goods that are wanted or can be found in the country. Don't forget

No. 1000, Main Street,

Keeseville, opposite the Adirondac Hotel.

BOYNTON & SMITH.

January 20, 1853.

MATTHEWS & AMES,

(SUCCESSORS TO H. & H. MATTHEWS,)

DEALERS IN

Tin, Sheet Iron, Copper, Japan and BRITANNIA WARE,

together with a large and well selected assortment of

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

which they will sell by the piece or package, at a small advance from cost. Also, a general assortment of

YANKEE NOTIONS

And Fancy Articles,

suitable to the Pedlars Trade, which they will sell low for cash.

☞ All kinds of barter taken in exchange for Goods.

Keeseville, April 17, 1852. 415

New and Cheap Goods

E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Have just received from New York and Boston one of the best assortments of

FALL AND WINTER GOODS

ever exhibited in Keeseville.

Among their stock of DRY GOODS will be found a beautiful assortment of Wool, and Cotton, and wool d'Laines, and Cashmeres both plain and printed, of all qualities, and prices from one shilling to one Dollar per yard. French Merinoes, Paramattas, Alpaccas Lyonese Cloth, English and American Prints, Ginghams, Flannels of all kinds, a superior quality of Bay State Flannel of different colors, Wool Plaids, Tickings, Stripes &c., &c. Shawls—a large and splendid assortment of Bay State, Empire State, Waterloo, Scotch Plaid, and Printed WOOL SHAWLS, at prices much lower than ever before offered in this market. A beautiful assortment of Bonnet Silks and Velvets, with trimmings of all kinds. Also dress silks and Satins, Gloves, Hosiery &c.

READY MADE CLOTHING

Of all kinds, sold very cheap, also, Cloths, Broad Cloths Plain and fancy Cassimeres, Black Doe Skins, Satinets Silks and Worsted. Vestings, Serges, &c., &c., with many other articles too numerous to mention. 'Tis unnecessary to add that all the above goods will be sold at very low prices. Only remember their motto 'quick sales and small profits.' Please call and examine Goods and prices, and satisfy yourselves. Opposite the Adirondac Hotel.

Keeseville Oct. 1852.

CASH,

AND THE

Highest Market Price

WILL BE PAID FOR WOOL, AT THE WOOLEN FACTORY, by

C. F. ROELOFSON & Co.

Keeseville, July 8th, 1852. 427tf

CORLIES & DECKER,

(Successors to J. N. & S. W. Corlies,)

—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—

TEAS,

Agents for the Sale of

Manufactured Tobacco,

192 Pearl Street,

... Maiden Lane, 429 New York.

Miscellany.

THE NORTHERN

New York Mutual

INSURANCE COMPANY,

Plattsburgh, Clinton Co., N. Y.

Capital, 100,000.

THIS Company is organized under the General Insurance Law of the State of New York, with a sound, reliable capital, and offers the following superior inducements:

1. The safer kinds of property are separated entirely from the more hasardous; affording the advantages of two distinct companies, with the expense of but one.

2. The first class, or Farmer's Department, consists of Farm-houses, Farm buildings and their contents and detatched dwellings and their contents in villages, when unexposed by more hazardous buildings,

3. The second class or Merchant's Department, consists of exposing dwellings, stores, merchandize and property not deemed specially hazardous.

4. Each class pays its own losses and thus securing equal justice and proportional rate to both.

5. Not more than $3,000 of the first class, or more than $2,000 of the second class, will be taken in one risk, nor any number of risks so contiguous as probably to subject the Company to a loss of over $3,000 at any one fire; thereby saving it from heavy and ruinous losses.

6. In taking surveys of property, the agent will be the agent of the company, and the company be responsible for the correctness of all surveys made by its agents.

7. Any one insured, may at any time surrender his policy and withdraw from the company by paying his proportion of the losses and expense up to the date of such surrender.

8. Applications will take effect at noon of the day on which they are made (unless a different day is directed by the applicant,) thus relieving the party from anxiety and suspense.

9. The company no have two-thirds clause, but will pay all loss and damage not exceeding the amount insured.

10. In case of difference of opinion in settlement of losses, the company will submit the same to arbitration in the county where the loss occurs, the claimant choosing one, the company one, and the two arbitrators another.

11 Each person insured in the company becomes a member and will be entitled to a participation of the profits, if any surplus should accrue, not required for the payment of losses.

12. This company will be responsible for losses by fire caused by lightning.

13. This company will take no risks in cities.

☞ The Directors return their acknowledgments to the public for ther readiness in aiding the organization of this company, and will endeavor to make it a safe and relinble institution, affording protection from the ravages of fire, at reasonable rates, and with certainty of payment in case of loss.

DIRECTORS.

James Farr, Fort Ann, Washington co; Olif Abel, Whitehall, do; Walter Geer, Glen's Falls, Warren co; Pelatiah Richards, Warrensburgh, do; Wm. E. Calkins, Ticonderoga, Essex co.; John Horton, Columbia Vilage, St. Lawrence co.; Thomas H. Conkey, Canton, do.; Amasa C. Moore, Samuel F. Viles, Henry G. Hewitt, Jacob H Holt, John Boynton, Peter S. Palmer, Cornelius Halsey, Z. C. Platt, W. W. Hartwell, Benjamine Gilman, George Moore, Plattsburgh, Clinton Co,

OFFICERS.

SAMUEL F. VILES, Presikent;
WM. W. HARTWELL, Vice President;
ZEPHENIAH C. PLATT, Treasurer;
GEORGE MOORE, Secretary;
I. C. MIX, and
R. G. SWINBRN, General Agents.
JAMES B DICKINSON, Agent Ausable Forks.

Plattsburgh, Dec. 4th, 1852. 44 tf

DRY-GOODS!

CARPETS AND OIL-CLOTHS,

at uncommonly low prices

may be had at

G. V. S. Quackenbush's,

202 River and 9 State Streets. Troy.

MY Stock of Dry-Goods is unsurpassed in Variety and extent, consisting of every class of goods from the lowest priced Muslins and Prints, to the finest

BROAD-CLOTHS AND CASSIMERES,

or the richest and most expensive styles of Silks and Shawls and of each denomination of goods.

I have an almost endless variety of patterns of all the different qualities.

Of Carpets and Oil Cloths I have a splendid assortment consisting of a great variety of new and beautiful patterns of Velvets, Tapestry, and Brussels Carpets—

Also

Three Ply, Tapestry-Ingrains, and Ingrains, of all qualities and varied in styles that all may here find something to suit their fancy.

Oil Cloths of all Widths and Qualities and of the newest and most desirable patterns, Rugs, in great variety.

STAIR CARPETS, STAIR RODS, DRUGGETS,

MATS,

and Matting of every Style and Quality.

A correct diagram being furnished Oil-Cloths will be cut to fit rooms or halls without extra charge, and Carpets made in a superior manner at the lowest rates.

Those wishing to purchase either Dry-Goods or Carpets will find that my assortment is unequaled, and that my prices are uncommonly low.

422 G. V. S. QUACKENBUSH,

202 River Street, Troy.

RUTLAND & BURLINGTON

Rail Road.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after Monday, Nov. 1st, trains will run as follows, viz:—

FOR BOSTON, NEW YORK AND INTERMEDIATE PLACES.

LEAVE
Burlington at	8.15	A. M.,	4.15	P. M.
Vergennes	9.09	"	5.00	"
Middlebury	9.42	"	5.35	"
Brandon	10 20	"	6.10	"
Rutland	11 00	"	AR. 7.00
			L. 6.50	A. M.
Cuttingville	11.25	"	6.55	"
Ludlow	12 05	P. M.	7.35	"
Proctorsville	12.15	"	7.42	"
Chester	12.40	"	8.10	"
Arriving
Bellows Falls	1.15	"	8.45	"
Boston	7.00	"	1.00	P. M.
LEAVE
Boston	7 45	A. M.	12.00	M.
Bellows Falls	12 0	"	5 15	P. M.
Chester	12 40	P. M.	5.50	"
Proctorsville	1 07	"	6.17	"
Ludlow	1.15	"	6.25	"
Cuttingville	1 52	"	7.06	"
Rutland	AR. 2.15	"	AR. 7.30	"
	L. 3 00	"	L. 7.45	"
Brandon	3.58	"	8 25	"
Middlebury	4.36	"	9.04	"
Vergennes	5.10	"	9.37	"
Arriving
Burlington	5.45	"	10.30

CONNECT AT BURLINGTON,

with the Steamers for PLATTSBURG and MONTREAL RAIL ROADS, and with the VERMONT and CENTRAL and VERMONT and CANADA RAIL ROADS, for the East, North, and West, via CHAMPLAIN and ST. LAWRENCE, and the OGDENSBURGH RAIL ROADS.

CONNECT AT RUTLAND

with the Trains of Western Vermont, Rutland and Washington and Saratoga and Washington Rail Roads, for New York, Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Buffalo and the West.

CONNECT AT BELLOWS FALLS

with the Trains of the Cheshire, Vermont Valley, and Sullivan Rail Roads for Windsor, Boston, Worcester, Lowell, Springfield, Hartford, New Haven, and New York.

Fares are less when Tickets are purchased at the Office than when paid in the Cars.

Burlington, Oct. 26, 1852. JOHN S. DUNLAP,

418 Superintendent.

EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR.

50 BARRELS made from Pure Genessee Wheat at the lowest price at

REYNOLDS & TUFTS,

Dec. 18, 1852.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Essex County Republican.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING BY JONATHAN TARBELL, Editor and Proprietor. TERMS, $2 Per Year---$1,50 in Advance.

VOLUME XIII. NO. 46. KEESEVILLE, N. Y., APRIL 2, 1853 WHOLE NUMBER 465.

Poetry.

WHEN LOVE WAS A CHILD.

When Love was a child, and went idling round,
'Mong flowers, the whole summer's day,
One morn in the valley a bower he found,
So sweet, it allured him to stay.

But Love didn't know—and, at his weak years,
What urchin was likely to know?—
That Sorrow had made of her own salt tears
The fountain that murmured below.

He caught at the wreath—with too much haste,
As boys when impatient will do—
It fell in those waters of briny taste,
And the flowers were all wet through.

This garland he now wears night and day;
And, though it all sunny appears
With Pleasure's own light, each leaf they say,
Still tastes of the Fountain of Tears.

All's Well.

Twelve o'clock at night, and "all's well?"

False prophet! Still and statue-like, at yonder window, stands the wife. The clock has told the small hours, yet her face is pressed closely against the window pane, striving in vain, with straining eye, to pierce the darkness. She sees nothing; she hears nothing—but the beating of her own heart. Now she takes her seat; opens a small Bible, and seeks from it what comfort she may, while tears blister the pages. Then she clasps her hand, and her lips are tremulous with mute supplication;—there is an unsteady step in the hall; she knows it!—Many a time and oft it had trod on her very heart strings. She glides down gently to meet the wanderer. He falls heavily against her; and, in maudlin tones, pronounces a name he had long since forgotten 'to honor.' Oh! all the enduring power of woman's love!—no arm passed around that reeling figure (once erect in God's own image.') With tender words of entreaty, which he is powerless to resist, if he would she leads him in. It is but a repetition of a thousand such vigils! It is the performance of a vow with the heroism and patient endurance too common, and every day to be chronicled on earth; too holy and heavenly to pass unnoticed by the registering angel above!"

"All's well!"

False prophet!—in yonder luxurious room sits one whose curse it was to be as fair as a dream of Eden. Time was, when those clear eyes looked lovingly into a mother's face—when a grey haired father laid his trembling hand, with a blessing on that sunny head—when brothers' and sisters' voices blended with her own, in heart-music around the happy hearth. Oh! where are they now? Are there none to say to the repenting Magdalen 'Neither do I condemn thee—go and sin no more!'—Must the gilded fetter continue to bind the soul that loathes it, because man is less merciful than God?

"All's well?"

False prophet!—There lies the dead orphan. In all the length and breadth of the green earth there was found no sheltering nest where that lonely dove could fold its wing, when the parent birds had flown.—The brooding wing was gone, that covered it from the cold winds of neglect and unkindness. Love was its life, and so—it drooped!

"All's well!"

False prophet!—Sin walks the earth in purple and fine linen; honest poverty, with tear-bedewed face, hungers and shivers, and thirsts, 'while the publican stands afar off!' The widow pleads in vain to the ermined judge for 'justice,' and unpunished of Heaven, the human tiger crouches in his lair and springs upon his helpless prey.

"All's well!"

Ah, yes, all is well; for He who 'seeth the end from the beginning' holds evenly the scale of justice. 'Dives shall yet beg of Lazarus.' Every human tear is counted. They shall yet sparkle as gems in the crown of the patient and enduring disciple! When the clear broad light of eternity shines upon life's crooked paths, we shall see the snares and pitfalls from which our hedge of thorns has fenced us in! and, in the maturity of our full-grown faith, we shall exultingly say—'Father! not as I will, but as Thou wilt!' FANNY FERN.

BOYS TAKE YOUR FUN!—Nothing equals a boy, except a girl. The frolicking harum scarum, high glee times of boyhood, happy were. Perhaps you never broke steers or colts, never slide down hill, over fences, across the ice on the meadow, never skated among the huge fires on the tenacre pond, on clear winter's night, drawing the prettiest girl in all the town after you holding on a stick. If you never have you never was a boy! How many years does a man have to live to pile up as much happiness as jumped out of a boy in a single old fashioned, gingerbread molasses candy, wrestling, bat and ball playing, town meeting day? Bring out your sleds and skates, roll up your snow balls as huge as Atlas, play at tag and make the most of your legs!

A boy was caught in the act of stealing dried berries in front of a western store the other day, and was locked up in a dark closet by the grocer. The boy commenced begging most pathetically to be released, and after using all the persuasion that his young imagination could invent, proposed; "Now, if you'll let me out, and send for my daddy, he'll pay you for the berries, and lick me besides!" This appeal was too much for the grocery man to stand out against.

He that is ignorant of himself, knows less of others than he thinks.

Predictions for 1853.

According to an Almanac published in the United States, the next year of our Lord 1853, is to be an eventful one. We extract from the said Almanac the following sagacious predictions:

Through the whole course of the next year, whenever the moon wanes the nights will be dark.

On several occasions during the year, the sun will rise before certain people discover it, and set before they have finished their day's work.

It is very likely that when business is doing, many will be heard to complain of hard times: but it is equally certain that all who hang themselves will escape starvation.

If bustles and hoops go out of fashion, a church pew will hold more than three ladies.

If dandies wear their beards, there will be less work for barbers; and he who wears moustaches will have something to sneeze at.

If a young woman should happen to blush she will be apt to look red in the face without the use of paint; if she dreams of a young man three nights in succession, it will be a sign of something; if she dreams of him four times, or have the toothache it is ten to one she will be a long time getting either of them out of her head.

Many people will drink more strong liquor than will be necessary to keep them sober, and take more medicine than will be requisite to the enjoyment of good health.

Dinners and entertainments will be given to those who have enough at home, and the poor will receive much advice gratis, legal and medical excepted.

He who marries next year runs a great risk, especially if he does it in a hurry.

There will be a tremendous noise all over the country when it thunders, and a tremendous dust kicked up occasionally by the coach horses.

Many young ladies who hope for it but little expect it will be married; and many who anticipate that glorious consummation, will be compelled to wait for another year.

Politicians will make fools of others: and women with pretty faces will make fools of both.

There will be a great cry and no wool, both at the shearing of pigs and the meeting of Congress.

Finally, there exists but little doubt that 1853 will be a most wonderful year for surpassing in interest all that have preceded it.

THE BABY.

BY FANNY FERN.

"Baby carts on narrow side-walks are awful bores, especially to a hurried, business man."

Are they! Suppose you and a certain pair of blue eyes, that you would give half your patrimony to win, were "joint proprietors" of that baby I shouldn't dare to stand very near you, and call it "a nuisance." It is all very well for bachelors to turn up their "single blessed noses at these little dimpled Cupids; but just wait till their time comes? See the minute their name is written "Papa," pull up their dickies, and strut off down street, as if the Commonwealth owed them a pension! When they enter the office, see their old married partner (to whom babies have long since ceased to be a novelty) laugh in his sleeves at the newfledged dignity with which that baby's advent was announced! How perfectly astonished they feel that they should have been so infatuated as not to perceive that a man is a perfect cypher till he is at the head of a family. How frequently one may see them now, looking in at the shop windows, with intense interest, at little hats coral and bells, and baby jumpers. How they love to come to dinner, and press that velvet cheek to their business faces? Was there ever any music half so sweet to their ear as is first lisped 'Papa?' Oh, how closely the plant winds its tendrils round the parent stem? How anxiously they hang over its cradle when the cheek flushes and the lip is fever parched; and how wide, and deep, and long a shadow in their happy homes, its little grave would cast?

My dear sir, depend upon it, one's own baby is never "a nuisance." Love heralds its birth.—Olive Branch.

RUSTIC WOOER OF THE DUTCHESS OF KENT.—The residents at Abergeldie, the summer seat of the Dutchess of Kent, were recently surprised with a visite from a Braemar farmer, who exhibited all the symptoms of having imbibed an intoxicating quantity of the far famed Lochnagar, or 'mountain dew.'

'Is the Dutchess in?' asked the farmer.

'Yes,' replied Plush, 'leave your card, or say what's your business.'

'What's the use of my—(hic)—card, when I'm here—(hic)—myself?' demanded the farmer.

'Well, your business, sir,' asked Plush, impatiently.

'Why, d'ye see, now, the Dutchess is a widow, isn't she?'

'Yes, that is well known,' replied Plush beginning to be amused, 'but what of it?'

'What of that,' rejoined the farmer, 'there is this of that; I am a widower, the dutchess is a widow, and—(hic)—I want to get into the Royal Family.

The Independence Belge says that among the ladies of the palace of the new Empress of France is the Baroness de Pierres, one of the daughters of Col. Thorn, the rich American who formerly resided in Paris.

QUERY.—Why is Queen Victoria like a dog's tail? Because the Queen keeps a carriage and the dog's tail keeps a wagging.

The author of the above intends travelling for his health.

THE NATIONAL
Scientific and Literary College,
At the Brandywine Springs.

The public is respectfully informed, that the above Institution will be opened for the reception of Students, on the 16th of May, 1853, under the personal superintendence of Capt. Allen Partridge, assisted by an able corps of Instructors. The instruction will embrace a complete course of Literary, Scientific and Military Education. The Mathematics, both theoretical, and practical, Civil and Military Engineering, Physical Philosophy, Astronomy, Geography, History, and Moral Philosophy, the Laws of Nations, the Science of Government, the Constitution of the United States, Political Economy, Agriculture, Rhetoric, Sound Literature, the several branches of Military Science, &c &c., will constitute prominent branches of Instruction.

The Military Exercises and Duties will be so arranged as not to occupy any of the time that would otherwise be devoted to study; they will be attended to at those hours of the day which are generally passed by students in idleness, or deveted to useless amusements, for which they will be made a pleasing and healthful substitute.—Practical scientifical operations will be frequently attended to, which will conduce equally to health and improvement.

The charge for Board, Tuition, Room-rent, Washing, Lights and Fuel, will be 41 dollars per quarter of 11 weeks; or 164 dollars for the Collegiate year of 44 weeks.

The French, Spanish, German, and Italian Languages, and also Music and Fencing, will be extra branches; for each of which, those who attend to them will be charged Five Dollars per quarter. Instruction in Writing will be charged $1.25 for 14 Lessons. The Latin and Greek Languages will be taught to those who may wish to study them. The qualifications for admission will be good moral character; to write a fair, legible hand, a good knowledge of the ground Rules of Arithmetic; and to read and spell the English Language correctly.

It is believed that eleven years is as young as a pupil can enter the Institution advantageously. The Cadets will be furnished with Clothing, Books, and every thing else neces ary for their comfort and improvement, at the Institution, at established and reasonable prices. No debts must be contracted without the written permission of the Superintendent; and parents and guardians will be required not to pay any bills, unless sanctioned by him. No money must be furnished any Cadet, except by the Superintendent, or his written order. The Superintendent will take charge of all the funds of the Cadets, and see that they are furnished with every thing. Each Cadet will be required to have a Permit Book, in which all his expenses must be entered. Each Cadet, whose parents or guardian reside more than 150 miles from the Institution, will be required to deposit with the Superintendent 125 dollars; and an additional 125 dollars at the end of 22 weeks. At the end of the Collegiate year, the parent or guardian will be presented with an accurate statement of his son's or ward's expenses, and credit for monies received, and the balance, whether in favor or against the Cadet will be transferred to the following account. Those Cadets who do not reside more than 150 miles from the Institution, must deposit with the Superintendent when they enter, 75 dollars; after which, their accounts will be made out at the beginning of each quarter, and the balance transferred as above. The Cadets will wear the same uniform as was worn at Middletown. Strict economy will be required, and no unnecessary expenditures allowed. Great attention will be given to the manners and morals of the Students, and to the developement of those noble, manly and patriotic sentiments that ought to characterize every American citizen. This system of Education prepares young men equally well for public or private, civil or military life, and its superiority over every other system has been established by thirty-three years of experience. Those who do not wish to complete the full course, can attend to the branches which will best qualify them for such future pursuits as they contemplate. Each one will be allowed to progress as rapidly as he can in his studies, consistently with a thorough understanding of the same. Candidates for admission are requested to present themselves within ten days after the opening of the Institution, though they may be admitted at any time after.

The 33d Anniversary of the System will be celebrated at the Institution, on the 6th of Sept., 1853, at which all are invited to attend.

A Riding School will be established, as soon as arrangements can be made.

The Location of the Institution is central from north to south, and is proverbially healthy and plesant. The climate is mild. It is 32 miles from Philadelphia, 5 from Wilmington, and 65 from Baltimore, and in the vicinity of the Philadelphia and Baltimore Railroad—the Depot at Newport being two miles and a half distant, with a conveyence. Being retired from the vicinity of any city or large village, it is well adapted to study, and the preservation of the morals of the Cadets. The quarters are of stone, in good repair, and will accommodate 250 Cadets. There are all the necessary out buildings, Baths, Medicinal Spring, &c., and 60 acres of land, well adapted to Gardening, Agriculture, &c.

A PATRIDGE, Superintendent.
Norwich, Vt., Nov. 27, 1852.

If you don't wish to get angry argue with a blockhead. Remember duller the razor, the more you s self.

Temperance Meetings.

Agreeable to a call from William Van Vleck, Deputy G. W. P.; the Sons of Temperance, with delegates from the several Divisions assembled at the Hall of "Seventy six Division" Westport on Saturday March 19th, for consultation, friendly greetings, &c. W. Van Vleck was called to the chair and H. N. Cole appointed Secretary.

After listening to interesting remarks and reports from neighboring Divisions, upon their present condition and the general interest of the Temperance cause in their several locations from J. H. Law Esq., Jonathan Holcomb, Dr. H. D. Ranney, W. Van Vleck, H. N. Cole, &c., it was voted that a committee of three be appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting. Dr. H. D. Ranney, J. Holcomb, and W. Van Vleck was appointed such committee.

Voted to adjourn till 6½ o'clock this eve, and to unite this meeting with a public Temperance meeting to be held by seventy six Division commencing at that hour.

The hall was filled to overflowing at an early hour. Prayer by Rev. C. L. Hagar. The following Resolution were reported by H. D. Ranney, chairman of the committee appointed for that purpose.

1st. That we believe the organization and measures of the Sons of Temperance well calculated to further the cause of Total Abstinence, and that the present state of the cause calls for renewed and constant labor, among the Divisions and for activity among all Temperance men, that we may have a parallel line of effort with that opposing influence that knows no stopping place while stomach, avarice and barrel remain.

2d. We consider that frequent meetings in the towns and neighborhoods for open and candid discussion, especially upon the subject of stringent laws united with the distribution of Temperance Tracts and other periodicals an important means to further the work.

3d. We will use our best endeavors to procure and sustain a stringent prohibitory law in this state, believing that it is imperiously demanded and quite necessary with us particularly from our near proximity to Vermont, choosing to have our great enemy largely diluted in the waters of Lake Champlain rather than pollute not only our own but the highly cultivated temperance soil of that state.

4th. Our own safety from the large influx of foreigners, from the great increase of business in the Iron Manufacturers and probable rail road building requires the rigid use of what means we have in our power at the present time, to suppress the retail traffic in groceries and dens of wickedness.

Some assurances having been given that the Ladies would take part in the exercises, an opportunity was given, when Miss H. M. Bap of the Seminary came forward with her pupils giving some daeply interesting essays, and arguments touching this reformation, Maine Law &c. This taken in connection with some beautiful songs sung by others, shows the right spirit among the Ladies of Westport at least.

Following these were addresses from H. D Ranney, H. W. Cole, C. L. Hagar, R. A. Loveland W. H. Ashford, &c. The deepest interest was manifested and it is to be hoped a new impetus will be given to the cause by this meeting.

Voted, that the District meeting be adjourned till the third Tuesday in May and that it be held at Elizabethtown.

Voted, that a copy of these proceedings be sent to the Elizabethtown Post, and Essex Co. Republican for publication.

Wm. Van Vleck, Chairman.
H. N. Cole, Secretary.

Scenes in Washington.

BY A SMOKER.

Committee Rooms.—There is no greater error than the common idea, that Congress adjourns to play. The fact is the great work of the Nation is done in Committee. There are matured, measures which being reported on passed quietly through Congress—not from irretation,—for each is well understood. The committee Rooms are in the first, second, and third stories of the Capitol, and are frequented from 9 to 12 by busy members. To and from which dignified Senators will be seen hurrying.—Here in a passage way you will run—pump! up against General Cass' portly person.—There the keen looking taciturn dark visaged Soule, glides along a narrow way.—Away down a narrow aisle you will see two men in earnest conversation. One leans his hand against the wall—the other looks down with folded arms. Those men control the peace of the world. Each committee Room has a clerk, who strikes you as being a wonderful intelligent and well educated man to hold so subordinate a post and who seems to do a deal of work for a very little pay. Great blazing wood fires cheer up the rooms. Books, stationary, maps, globes, and specimens or samples (according to the notion of the Committee) are arranged about in niches and corners. In summer months the "great lights" strip off their coats to their work,—for a committee room is no idle place. (The legislation of the country would go on much faster if the whole buildings was turned into committee rooms—and let the members do their speaking at home.) The most useful man in Congress is he, who has most influence in committee and is always at his post. I have known great measures defeated, by the absence from the committee of a 'distinguished' M. C., who was snoring in [illegible] and yet he would consume two [illegible] gressional debate to the infinite [illegible] hose whose interests he had neg- [illegible] morning.

A Tall Country.

The Northampton Courier has a correspondent in Minesota, who tells mighty big things that he calls facts about Minesota.—He is said to be a Reverend, and therefore reliable. Hear him:

"And, besides these, there is the m'do or Dacotah potato, and two species of turnips, which grow wild, and are much used by the Indians for food. One of these last named, the tip-sinna, or Dacotah turnip, grows in size from year to year, increasing with every summer that passes over it."

There is a turnip "as is a turnip." "growing from year to year." When did it begin? and when will it stop growing? Minesota is not as old as some countries in the world, but it may be safely calculated that it has been there some thousands of years. This turnip, if it has been growing only at a moderate ratio during that time, must have become somewhat sizeable.—But that turnip stands out of the way of a peculiar breed of squashes they have out there:

"I have it, as a sober truth, from a man of veracity, the present Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Representatives, that a squash raised by himself, grew so large that he was unable to turn it over, and that it required two men to load it on a wagon, rolling it up an inclined plane."

"Think of that, master Brooks." Two men straining a squash! rolling it up an inclined pland to load it on a wagon!—Why didn't they rig a crane and hoist it up like a millstone or a block of granite. It is dangerous rolling big squashes up inclined planes. Suppose a foot slips, and it rolls over you! We should just like to know how you would differ in shape from a pancake?

"Cucumbers have been grown here eight and nine feet long, and pumpkins measuring three feet in diameter."

Oh! Pickles! There's a cucumber for you. One that has to be coiled up like a cable, to get it into a tub and when stretched out, the lady at the head of the table may help herself from one end, while the gentleman at the foot may be nibbling at the other. Eight or nine feet of cucumber at a single lift. "And pumpkins three feet in diameter!" There's a vine worth cultivating. Scoop out the fruit and you can sit comfortably in its shell, like Diogenes in his tub. Who says that Minesota can't claim to be some pumpkins now. "Get out."

"Garden Vegetables surpass anything ever known at the East. Onions, so large they can not be put in a flour barrel whole; cabbages, the solid head two and a half feet in diameter; carrots, three feet and a half long; ruta-baga turnips, so large that one will not go into a half bushel."

What says WEATHERSFIELD to that.—We should just like to know how they sell such onions by the bushel? Do they quarter them like "beef kritters," or chop them up like sassage meat? My eyes!—Now we'd like to see the pot they boil them in. "Cabbages, the solid head two and half feet in diameter." There are the elements of sour krout, to make a Dutchman show his ivory. Wouldn't the good vrows open their eyes at the sight of that cabbage head? "Carrots three feet and a half long." Think of that again; carrots long enough to make fence posts of, or to be used as sclabs at an Irishman's wake.—"Ruta baga turnips so large that one won't go into a half bushel." Of course not; and the way they measure them is to put each one into two half bushels, and the largest into three.

"Now; I am aware that many of our readers will call this a 'fish story,' and pass it by. I can assure them, however, that these are the statements of sober and truthful men, and are what has actually been done here."

Not at all, our dear and Reverend sir.—There's no fishy smell about it. We believe it all, of course. We go the whole. But when you come East, just bring us a few feet of the cucumber and a yard or so of the paring of the pumpkin, and one of the handspikes which were used in rolling that big squash up the inclined plane. We want to see them mightily. We don't doubt, but there are some around us who do, and we want to show them the proofs.

The Tree is known by its Fruits.

It is no new discovery but a well known fact, which receives fresh illustrations every day, that the practice of any virtue is always in an universe ratio to the amount and vehemence of profession; and that he who is continually prating of his honesty, his veracity, his generosity or his courage, is uniformly characterized by a superabundance of the opposite qualities.

As of individuals so of parties. We have a political organization styling itself 'the Democracy,' meaning that it is the more democratic, plain, humble and economical than any other. It goes for "the greatest good of the greatest number;" for "rotation in office," "low salaries," and "economy;" is vehemently opposed to show and pretension on the part of "public servants;" rejoices in "republican simplicity;" and affects to think that "the hard fisted laborer" is as good as a ruffle shirt Governor, or a Cabinet Minister with gold cane, coach, and servants in livery.

Such is "Democracy" so long as you take its own word. But when you come to its acts, why, that is quite another affair, as we shall see.

We have just witnessed the induction of a Democratic Administration. Would it not naturally be expected that salaries would be reduced, and greater economy practised by Government officials. The friends of the incoming dynasty in congress, have for weeks, been loudly telling how much more economical Gen. Pierce's administration would be than its Whig predecessor, and the new President himself in his inaugral repeated the chorus of the same song. So much for profession:—now for deeds.

The Civil and Diplomatic Appropriation Bill, passed the last day of session and but a few hours before President Pierce took his oath of office, raised the salary of the Government officers as follows:

The Vice President's from $5,000 to $8,000.

The Secretary of State's from $6,000 to $8,000.

The Secretary of the Interior's from $6,000 to $8000.

The Secretary of the Treasury's from $6,000 to $8,000.

The Secretary of War's from $6,000 to $8,000.

The Secretary of the Navy's from $6,000 to $8,000.

The Post Master General's from $6,000 to $8,000.

The Attorney General's from $4,000 to $6,000.

Besides, the four mission to Great Britain, France, Russia and Spain, have been raised from $9,000 to $20,000 each, per annum.

By these items $63,000 a year is added to the public expenditures. These are some facts—comments is unnecessary.—Rochester American.

OUR JOHN AGAIN.—We have been questioning our John upon geography, and we think he is improving. Hear him:

"John, what is geography?"

"Geography is a description of the earth's upper crust, generally found in bookstores and school houses."

"How is the surface of the earth divided?"

"By earthquakes, railroads and canals."

"Good! is there more water than land upon the earth?"

"Yes."

"How is it called?"

"Oceans, seas, rivers, mud puddles, coffee, and Paine gas."

"With what is the ocean inhabited?"

"With sharks busted up steamboats, mermaids and oysters."

"With what is the land inhabited?"

"With caravans, porter houses, lawyers loafers, editors and dandies."

"Do ships sail on the ocean?"

"Sometimes, and sometimes they become a sinking fund, and sail under."

"What is an island?"

"An island is a place where people don't like to live; for instance: Blackwell's Island, Deadman's Island, and Jerry-sellfiery go Island."

"What is a cape?"

"An article worn by firemen, ladies, and sometimes found running into the sea,"

"What is a river?"

"A railroad for steam tugs and lumber rafts."

"Who are the happiest people on earth?"

"Actors in hard luck, and Fejee missionaries,"

"Who are the most miserable?"

"Debtors, boarding house keepers, brokers and editors."

"We kicked our boot off in attempting to send John from our presence in a speedy manner."

Knights of Jerico.

This is a new temperance order which is rapidly coming into public favor. We see by the Malone Palladium that a lodge has been started in that village. We find the following in the Atlanta (Ga.) Republican which we publish for the benefit of our readers.—[ED. REP.

This order is rapidly increasing in this State. There are already two Lodges working and petitions for many more.

As we are receiving daily inquiries respecting this order, we will give a brief statement of its principles and organization.

1st. It is strictly a temperance order—the strongest we know any thing about.

2d. It is a charitable institution. It dispenses its charities on the same principles, as do the Masons.

3d. It has degrees, and as many out door signs signals &c., as any one can desire.

4. Woman may become honorary members, at the discretion of the Lodge.

5. Males are eligible to Membership from the age of 14 upward.

6. ☞ Seven petitioners are necessary to obtain a charter: but 14 is preferrable, as it takes that number to fully officer the Lodge.

7 The charter fee is $4, and the Degree work $2 making in all $6.

8. All applicants for charters in Georgia must be directed to Russel Reneau in this city, who is the Deputy Most High Grand Worthy Chief of this State.

The following is the form of petition for charter:

(DATED.)

The undersigned believing the Order of Knights of Jericho to be well calculated to cement more firmly our fraternal relations, and add to the general prosperity of the whole human family, respectful y petition the Grand Lodge of ——— to grant them a charter of Lodge No ——— to b. Located in ——— and under your jurisdiction.

We pledge ourselves, individually and collectively, to be governed by the rules and usages of the Grand Lodge, and also by those of the Order at large.

Enclosed is the Charter Fee $4. Also $2 for the Degree Work.

It appears that Old Bullion is resolved to make fight against the appointment to subordinate of anti Benton men by the new Administration. That is very natural, and Tom Benton is a strong fighter, and most bitter hater.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

The New-York Times--Daily and Weekly.

Be of the Largest and Cheapest Family Newspapers in the United States.

The New York Times, Daily and Weekly, is respectfully commended to the attention of persons in any part of the United States, who wish to receive from the city of New York, a journal containing all the news of the day, with such Political, Literary and General discussions as have a permanent and universal interest.

The Daily Times published every morning and evening, upon a large and handsomely printed quarto sheet of eight pages, containg a large amount and greater variety of reading, Literary, Political, Religious Educational and Miscellaneous matter than any other paper published in the United States. The especial aim of its Editor and Proprietors is to render it the best Family Newspaper in the Country. It gives regularly all the latest intelligence, foreign and domestic, in all Departments, and in the most full reliable, and satisfactory form. It has regular correspondents in London, Paris, Dublin and Constantinople, and all the other principal cities of Europe, as well as from all the points of interest on the American Continent. Its news and general correspondence is quite as complete as that of any other paper in the world. It gives regular and full reports of Congressional and Legislative proceedings; of all Public Meetings, Political, Scientific, and Religious; of the transactions of all the Agricultural, Mechanical, and Scientific Associations, and generally of whatever has interest or value for any portion of the community.

In its department of Literature, art, and General Science it has a Corps of regular Contributors, comprising some of the leading writers and most eminent men in the United States including distinguished clergymen of all denominations, and not surpassed for the ability and interest of their articles by the writers of any newspaper in the country. Among the articles now in course of publication in its columns, and to be continued from time to time, (1) a series of letters from the South, upon the resources, industry and, general character of the Southern States, by a gentleman of ability, practical experience, and general knowledge; (2) a series of articles by a distinguished Southern writer, entitled "The Great Conversationist," giving personal, biographical, and critical sketches, from personal acquaintance, of Jefferson, Calhoun, Hayne, Dr. Cooper, Legare, and other distinguished public men; (3) a series entitled, "Leaves from the Dairy of a New York Clergyman," written by one of the most eminent American divines, and giving personal reminiscences of the greatest interest; (4) Letters from the manufacturing Districts of New England; embodying the results of personal study and observation; (5) Literary Papers, Reviews Sermons, &c., by a Southern gentleman of eminence as an author and divine,—the writer of the letter entitled "North and South," published in the Times some months since, which attracted such general attention; and others of similar character, upon a great variety of topics, and from various pens. Neither labor nor expense will be spared to make this Literary and Miscellaneous Department of the Daily Times superior to that of any other paper in the United States.

In its Political, Social, and Religious discussion (and it freely canvasses every topic of interest that may arise in any of those departments) the Times aims to be Conservative in such away as shall best Promote Reform. Its main reliance for all improvement, personal, social, and political, is upon the principles of Christianity and Republican Freedom; it will seek, therefore, at all times, the advancement of the one and the preservation of the other, it will inculcate devotion to the Union and the Constitution, obedience to the Law, and a jealous love to that personal and civil Liberty which constitutions and laws are made to preserve. While it will assert and exercise the right freely to discuss every subject of public interest, it will not encourage or countenance any improper interference, on the part of the people of one locality, with the institutions, or even the prejudice of any other. It will seek to allay rather than excite agitation:—to extend industry, temperance, and virtue:—to encourage and advance Education:—to promote Economy. Concord and justice in every section of the country:—to elevate and enlighten public sentiment, and to substitute reason for prejudice, a cool and intelligent judgement for passion,—in all public action and in all discussions of public affairs

The Times is under the Editorial management and control of Henry J. Raymond, and maintains such principles and measures as he may deem essential to the public good,—without special devotion to the dogmas of any party, and with no desire to promote any interests less broad than those of all sections and all the people of our Common Country.

The following are a few of the many testimonials of the public Press to the character of the Times;

From the Congregationalist, (Boston,) Jan. 7,

Almost every clergyman wishes to take some one good secular paper. Many, who have been continually offended with its Universalist and Socialist tendencies, have taken the New York Weekly Tribune, on account of the low price which it has been afforded, and the excellence of its news department, its report of lectures, and its foreign correspondence. We are prepared, however, after a year of personal experience, to recommend the New York Weekly Times, as the cheapest and by far the best secular journal within the circle of our knowledge for the use of well informed clergymen, who desire to be kept acquainted with what is passing in the secular world to get a glimpse at what is weekly interesting the great commercial emporium of our nation, and who wish also to be well read in literary and other foreign matters. It has all the freshness and vivacity of the Tribune, without the taint of transcendentalism which prevades that journal, while its discussions of current topics are manly and common sense; its political essays conceived in a spirit of honor and integrity; its Congressional summary as readable as any gossiping history of the proceedings of that remarkably stupid body can be expected to be made, and its foreign correspondence racy and reliable. So far as it manifests any religious leanings, they are rather toward, than away from, that system of truth which we accept and love; and its moral tone is higher and purer than is usual among its brethren of the strictly secular press. Its size is the most convenient for family reading, and as next to no advertisements at all are admitted, its weekly amount of matter is very large. We have kept a file of it for the past year, which we value very much for reference, and we are quite sure that no man who has read it during the past year will be willing to do without it the next. One dollar from clergymen, (two dollars being its regular price to the community at large,) sent to the New York Weekly Times, in a prepaid envelope, containing one's address, will secure it for the current year. We have made these remarks simply for the benefit of our clerical readers, and without any interested motive, as will appear when we remark that we do not even enjoy the privileg of an exchange with the Times, but have bought it and paid for it, because it was worth the money to us.

From the Louisville (Kentucky) Journal.

The New York Daily Times.—This valuable paper commenced its second volume on the 18th inst., and we are happy to say that its success has been so great that the proprietors has been compelled to increase the size of the sheet to double its original dimensions. It is one of the ablest papers in the United States, and we know of no Eastern paper better suited for the family circle. Its news is always complete, its essays of a high order, and its literary selections of the best description. The Editor, H. J. Raymond, Esq., is one of the ablest writers for the daily press in all the State of New York, and is in every way worthy of the rich prosperity that has rewarded his labors.

To those who wish an able New York City paper, we heartily commend the Daily Times as one that cannot fail to give satisfaction, as a commercial, political, literary newspaper. We know of no daily paper that gives a greater amount of interesting reading matter than the New York Times, and it is furnished to mail subscribers at five dollars per annum, and we do not know how five dollars can be better invested.

The first number of the second volume contains the review of Mrs. Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Log Cabin," by the London Times. It is a dissection of Mrs Stowe's book that will rather startle its admirers.—The criticism is a most searching one, and lays bare the extraordinary faults of the work with a hand that may have been softened in some way, but certainly not by a glove. Neither Mrs. Stowe, nor the admirers of her book, can feel any especial pride in the "thunder" of the Times.

We congratulate Mr. Raymond, of the New York Times, upon the signal successes that he has not only deserved but commanded. Floods of calumny beset the infancy of his enterprise, but amidst insane charges of abolitionism, and the most powerful opposition, Mr. Raymond steadily pursued a straight forward course, and fairly won his success. He is a bold defender of the right, at all times, and a stern unflinching denouncer of wrong. When he chooses to play the essayist, he handles a pen that might have adorned the Spectator in Addison's palmist days.

From the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser.

We have been waiting some time for an eligible opportunity to say a few words respecting the New York Daily Times. It is about the best written paper in the country, and in point of intellectual labor, copiousness of information, general and comprehensive ability; and the power of handling gracefully and with fine effect a large variety of subjects, it is without precedent or compeer in American journalism. It comes nearer to our ideal of an American newspaper than anything before undertaken on this Continent.

From the Great Barrington (Mass,) Courier.

The New York Daily Times.—This very able journal is fast taking lead in the estimation of our community, and, we presume also, in that of other portions of the country, as the most sound, conservative, and reliable organ which the party and Union require at this particular juncture of our affairs. For political and literary essays, for its editorial matter, for the news of the day, &c., &c., it stands unrivalled. It is now only about two years old, but though an infant, it is yet a great giant in strength and intellect. Many of our citizens feel that they must have a city paper, and to all such we should say, by all means subscribe for the New York Daily or Weekly Times. We shall, as opportunity may offer, do what we can to extend the circulation and promote the interests of this invaluable journal.

From the Vermont Freeman,

We have no hesitation in saying that, in condensation, in the vast amount and variety of the matter brought out in each number, and in the taste and discrimination exhibited, the Times is as a newspaper, thus far, one of the very best in the United States.

From the Cincinnati Atlas.

The Times is now one of the largest, neatest, cheapest, and spiciest papers in America. The Times has but just entered on its second year, and such evidences of prosperity, show that the talent, energy, and enterprise of its conductors are properly appreciated.

From the Philadelphia North American.

The Times is by far the cheapest, ablest, and most enlightened paper of its class in the United States. And it would not be going too far to say that there are very few public journals, of any class or character, here or elsewhere, which combine more talent, spirit, cultivation, and resources than this new enterprise. There is no cheap press in any country which surpasses it in excellence; and in all the branches of knowledge, usefullness, and merit, it is vastly superior to the great mass of those prints which have, by a sort of general indifference to real worth, become popular and profitable. We hope to see the Times supplanting certain sheets which have acquired a notoriety, at home and abroad, wholly discreditable to the taste and intelligence of the American people.

In addition to the striking merits of the various editorial bureaux of the Times, which are all under the charge of men of practised ability, it has a foreign correspondence extending through the principal capitals of Europe, which give it great interest; and happen to know that the commercial department of the paper is under the control of a gentleman of large experience in financial and mercantile affairs, and who is both well qualified and reliable. We commend the Times to the favor of this community, as one of the very best newspapers of the day; and as such, entirely entitled to its partiality and confidence.

The Daily Times is sent by mail to any part of the United States for Five Dollars a year. The Postage, paid in advance at the office where delivered, is $1 56.

The New York Weekly Times, published on a sheet of the same size, contains a selection from the most interesting matter contained in the Daily, with a copious Summary of the Foreign and Domestic News, Literary Matter Correspondence, Editorials, &c., &c. It is sent to subscribers by mail at the low rate of Two Dollars a year; Ten Copies for Fifteen Dollars; Twenty Copies for Twenty Dollars, when sent to one address.

Clergymen of all denominations can receive the Weekly at the lowest club price.—Upon the Daily, owing to its extremely low rate, no deductions can be made.

Specimen Copies in all cases sent when desired.

Payment in all cases must be made in advance; and the paper will never be sent beyond the time which it has been paid for.

RAYMOND, JONES & Co.,
Publishers,
No. 113 Nassau-st., New York City.

Appointment Difficulties.

Correspondence of the New York Tribune.

Washington, Friday, March 25.

Matters are comming to a crisis. The Hard Shells have made their ultimatum, giving the President the alternative, Schell or war. The Cabinet held a session to day which lasted from 10 A. M. to 3 P. M. during which the Collector for New York was determined; it has not yet, however, transpired.

After the adjournment came a list of nominations which remains unopened.

At the request of a friend of Mr. Caldwell, the District Attorneyship of North Carolina is to be kept open until his papers arrive.

Senator Soule is confined to his house by very severe illness. His family says he has a disorder in his head—outsiders that he is angry at the appointment of Slidell.

Some days since John Tyler applied through Caleb Cushing to Postmaster Campbell for the Virginia mail route agency for a friend, and Campbell gave him encouragement. Soon after, Mr. Hunter applied for the same place for a friend of his. Campbell evaded the application. Hunter left his papers and went away. Yesterday the friend told Mr. Hunter that there was some difficulty, and the latter called on Mr. Hobbie about it, but obtained no satisfaction. He went next to the President with no better success; returned to the Department; Mr. Campbell out; told the messenger to tell him as soon as he (Mr. C) came in.

At length that gentleman appeared, and tried to evade the subject, when Mr. Hunter exclaimed, "G— d— you! who commands this concern?" and then went on to curse the Administration. He said it had a renegade Whig for Attorney General, and a renegade Virginia Route Agent, and so left in high dudgeon.

The Departments are at a non plus.—They dare not remove important officers, and expectants are outrageous at this timidity. There is a fine prospect of a general row ahead.

The Senate will hold on until All Fools' Day at the request of the President.

A large majority of the Louisianians here complain bitterly of the nomination of Slidell. The President regrets having made it, as I learn from good authority.

☞Here is a sweet tribute to "Spring." We found it on our table, clipt from an exchange, without the author's name attached:—

SPRING.

A bursting into greenness,
A waking as from sleep,
A twitter and a warble
That makes the pulses leap;
A sense of renovation,
Of freshness and of health,
A casting off of sordid fear,
A carelessness of wealth.

A watching as in childhood,
For the flowers that one by one
Open their golden petals,
To woo the fitful sun;
A gush, a flash, a gurgle,
A wish to shout and sing,
As filled with hope and gladness,
We hail the vernal Spring.

[Albany Journal.

We give this "sweet tribute" for the contrast it presents. With us, winter is scarcely broken. In the woods snow is three feet deep, and passable sleighing remains in all directions.

Is the Whig Party Dead?—Either the Whig party is strengthening itself amazingly in various parts of the State of Maine, or else the people there are growing sublimely indifferent to politics in their municipal elections. In the cities of Bangor, Hallowell, Augusta and Belfast, Whig Mayors have been chosen by very nearly unanimous votes. There are not a hundred votes thrown into opposition to the Whig candidates in all four of these cities, embracing a population of at least thirty thousand. Verily the "era of good feeling" is returning, or our Democratic friends are rapidly passing into an infinitesimal minority.—N. Y. Tribune.

Punch very slanderously makes use of the following:—

The sun is called masculine from his supporting and sustaining the moon, and in finding her the withal to shine away as she does, of a night, and from his being obliged to keep such a family of stars besides.—The moon is feminine; because she is constantly changing. just as a ship is blown around by every wind. Th[illegible] ining—because she is marri[illegible] And Time is masculine bec[illegible] ed with by the ladies.

The Republican.

KEESEVILLE:

Saturday Morning April 2.

The Union of Lakes, the Union of Lands,
The Union of States none can sever,
The Union of Hearts, the Union of Hands,
The Flag of Our UNION—Forever."

☞Our neighbr being essentially cornered about town-matters says nothing in vindication of Mr. Finch and Justic Carter.—Northern Gazette.

We were as inconscious of being "cornered" as a newspaper "vindication of Mr Finch and Justice Carter", is unnecessary. We quote the above merely to expose the stratagems of the shallow minded and unprincipled. Such mountebank tricks have their origin in and should be confined to such papers as the "Switch" and papers of kindred character. In imitating their modo of warfare the Editor of the Gazette clearly discloses the school in which he was educated, with a mind that was moulded like "clay in the hands of the potter." That Editor should, and if he does not, let him now understand, that these frequent attacks upon neighbors are looked upon by all right thinking people with unutterable scorn and contempt. They fall harmless at the feet of such men as "Mr. Finch, and Justice Carter." Born and raised in this community, they are too well known to be injured by the serpentine attacks of a roving, irresponsible descendant of an American Tory! And they not only fall harmless at the feet of those they are designed to injure but they recoil with tremendous force upon the heads of their inventors. In this case, the article in question was but a re-hash of conversations listened to by that Editor, held by a few democrats who have been making themselves public nuisances by their concoctions of scandel, and the Gazette is a fit medium for their publication. As we have said, a newspaper "vindication of Mr. Finch and Justice Carter" is unnecessary. Neither they nor their friends will condescend to enter the arena of newspaper discussion on a question of mearly local interest and contemptible at that, much less with men who manifest such a total want of honorable feeling.—They, however, have no concealments from their neighbors and constituants, who by taking the trouble to enquire can obtain full and free information on every particular of their official duties, and having done so they will find the article in the Gazette to have been conceived in a mean desire to injure one of our purest and best of citizens, whose integrity, fidelity and stability of honorable purposes are proverbial. The attempt, however, met with a signal failure as all such attemps do, when without foundation, false in conception, and malicious in their utterance. Indeed the whole thing was unworthy of a newspaper article, and would have found no place in any paper but the Northern Gazette.

Salaries of Government Officers.

Professing economy, the salaries of many officers and Ministers of the U. S. have been increased by a Democratic Congress as will be seen in another column. "The good old days" of our forefathers are passing away. Probably no foreign Ministers ever reflected more credit upon their country than did Benjamin Franklin and his compatriots. They were model Republicans, and had their examples been followed by their successors, Republican principles would be far more prevalent than they now are. Salaries were large enough for them, and for any one whose department is such as becomes the representative of a model Republic. There is no necessity, nor excuse for the extravagence, and expenditures which prevail at the present day. In giving parties, dinners, and bribes, and in following many other foreign notions we but adopt practices our ancestors intended to avoid. Either salaries are too large, or not large enough. They are too high for the services rendered and tempt to extravagance, but they are not large enough to imitate foreign examples, except in a contemptibly inferior manner. We append the following which contain interesting facts for the reflecting:

The Governor of Vermont is paid $750 per annum; the Lieutenant Governor $4 a day as President of the Senate; the State Treasury $400 a year; the Secretary of State $245; and the three Judges of the Supreme Court, who receive the highest salaries paid, $1,375 per annum each. The pay for service in the Legislature is $2 per day during the session, and there are 230 members, or one from each town.—N. Y. Express.

These Vermonters will continue free—because they do not corrupt their people and tempt them from the pursuits of honest industry by holding out office seeking, as a means of livelihood. We dare say, although their public officers receive such small salaries, that the public duties are no where better performed. Certainly, from what we have heard of Vermont, and what we know of Virginia, we should not judge that our Governor performs six times as much work or does it six times as well as the Vermont Governor. And yet we pay $5000, and they only $750. But it may be said, we pay something for the dignity, the honor, the glory, the magnificence, and the splendid abilities of a Governor;—and no doubt, we get the worth of our money for those eminent qualities as illustrated in Gov. Joe. The Vermonters know what a great Ruler is. If they see our man, they would be able the to appreciate superior endowments. Richmond Whig.

Installation of Peru Lodge No. 281.

By invitation of our Peru brethren, and under the sanction of the Grand Master of the State of New York, Peru Lodge No 281, of Free and Accepted Masons, was, according to primitive usage, installed by Ausable River Lodge of Keeseville; the following named brethren acting as grand officers:

Worshipful C. D. Barton, Grand Master.
" David Pitkin, Deputy G. Master
George Miller, G. S W.
John Nash, G. J. W.
Oliver Keese, 2d. G. Secretary.
Turner Calkins, G. Treasuer.
S. Allen, M. D., G. S. Deacon.
H. S. Tousley, G. J. "
C. D. Beaumont, G. Marshal.
—— Calkins, Grand Tiler.

The ceremony of installation was performed in a highly satisfactory and dignified manner by the Grand Master, and dedicated to the Sts. John in due and ancient form. We congratulate our Peru brethren on their auspicious beginning, and sincerely hope the future will be as propitious as their present is bright and promising. After the ceremony of installation was performed. C. D. Barton made, to the new Lodge, some pertinent remarks on the duties and requirements of masons—warning them against all contention only that noble contention of who "can best work and best agree," which were as happily conceived as they were felicitously expressed.

The Master elect of the new Lodge, Josiah T. Everest, Esq., in behalf of its members, returned thanks to the Grand Officers, in a pertinent and appropriate speech. The spectators, of which there was a large number present, then withdrew, when the Grand Lodge was closed in ample form. †

External Expansion.

With an experience thus suggestive and cheering, the policy of my administration will not be controlled by any timid forebodings of evil from expansion. Indeed it is not to be disguised that our attitude as a nation, and our position on the globe, render the acquisition of certain possessions not within our jurisdiction, eminently important for our protection, if not in the future essential for the preservation of the rights of commerce, and the peace of the world. Should they be obtained, it will be through no grasping spirit, but with a view to obvious national interest and security, and in a manner entirely consistent with the strictest observance of national faith.—Gen. Pierce's Inaugural.

It may well be regarded as unfortunate that the President, in his inaugural, should have given utterance to the sentiment quoted. The spirit of acquisition, or rather of aggression, is already sufficiently rife. A lust for conquest, a restlessness of restraint within given boundaries have taken strong root in the public mind, and needed only a declaration like the above to give them a power that in time may become irresistible. It is a melancholy truth that there is among us a moral code of national ethics, that is anything but honest or just. We have got into a habit of taking what we want, without enquiry as to our right of acquisition, or the means of its attainment.—[Albany Register.

We deem this spirit of acquisition one of the most dangerous sentiments of the times, and that it will eventually lead this country to ruin. This acquisition had a silent but controlling influence in the late Election, yet whigs scarcely raised their voices against it. We sincerely believe that if properly canvassed a large majority of the people of the U. S. are opposed to this whole principal of Annexation, as dangerous, and corrupting, and in favor of Protection, and Internal Progress for directly opposite reasons.

N. Y. Senate.

It is known that this body refuses to go into executive session on the nominations of the Governor. The vote is a tie in this body on party grounds, but Mr. Cooley not having the fear of the State administration before his eyes refuses to go into executive session to enable it to foist the barnburner aspirants into office. The following is a brief sketch of this Senator:

☞Mr. Cooley, of the Senate, who acts so independently and talks so plainly, is a Democrat of "the Hunker" school, from Staten Island. He is reported to be very wealthy, is an "old stager" in politicial matters, and cares not the first straw for anything or anybody. His position in the Senate is such as gives him an accidental importance and power, which he exercises without stint or scruple. He hails from New York. He is a son in-law of D. Appleton, the noted publisher, and was formerly engaged in the book publishing and selling business himself, under the firm Cooley, Bangs & Richards.—Alb. Express.

Standing Armies.

Gen. Pierce says in his Inaugural that from a brief experience as a soldier" he is "opposed to a larger standing Army" as dangerous to the peace and liberties of the people. Of course, an army that cant stand is not very dangerous, as that same "experience illustrates! Were we to criticise this paragraph we should say the allusion to his "brief experience" was in decidedly bad taste, and besides it was not uttered to be observed, as his appointments and future course will prove. It had the same meaning as the "gas" about "economy."—The public chest will be plundered and the "standing" Army will be petted—that "brief experience" to the contrary notwithstanding.

☞The Presbyterian Church at Ausable Forks, was destroyed by fire on Monday evening last. It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

☞The N. Y. Mirror has the following fragrant paragraph:

The "Black Swan" has been giving private rehearsals among the amateurs, with whom she appears to be in great oder.

Enigma.

I am composed of 17, letters.
My 1, 10, 6, 9, is a small animal.
My 2, 4, 6, signifies to tremble,
My 5, 13, 6, 12, 2, 11, 15, 11, 14 is preservation from destruction.
My 1, 11, 14, 9, 17, is a filthy lucre.
My 6, 11, 12, 9, 6, 17, is what the righteous man is in the sight of the Lord.
My 1, 7, 6, 10, 11, 14, is the last name of a distinguished author.
My 9, 3, 12, 17, is a malicious grudge.
My 16, 2, 5, 16, 9, is one of the senses.
My 16, 11, 8, 9, 3, is a memorial of friendship.
My whole is a proverb.
A solution requested.

Nella.

CHARADE.

My first, great many love to be,
While others love the like reverse,
It always best agrees with me,
Because, I, then compose my verse.
My last, of wit you ought to have,
It a solution you intend;
Without it, you must lay aside
This paper, for an other end.
My whole, we feel when far from home,
And now guess this, or "Go to Rome."

Siwel, N.

Keeseville, N. Y.

Selling off at Cost!

Barnum will sell the remainder of his Winter Stock of Hats, Caps, Furs, Fancy Robes, Gloves, Mittens, &c., at cost. A good assortment of Trunks, Vallises, Ladies and Gentlemen's Satchels and Carpet Bags, Umbrellas, Canes, Buckskin Gloves and Mittens, &c., on hand.

I W. BARNUM.
College Street, 2nd Door from Church.
Burlington, Vt., Feb. 1, 1853.

Died.

In Lowville, Lewis Co. N. Y., on Tuesday Morning 22d inst., at half past 3 o'clock of Dropsy on the brain. Conant Sawyer, jr., Son of Rev. Consnt, and Mrs. Elizabeth F. Sawyer, aged 2 years, 2 months and 13 days.

Meteorological Table.

BY J. R. R.

1853.	7A. M.	1P. M.	6P. M.
March 25th	34°	46°	40°
" 26th	37°	38°	39°
" 26th	34°	34°	34°
" 28th	31°	39°	36°
" 29th	34°	45°	43°
" 30th	39°	55°	46°
" 31st	40°	48°	43°

Keeseville, April 1st, 1853.

Dissolution—This day, by mutual consent, the firm of Hoag & Hill is mutually dissolved, and the books and accounts and all unsettled matters are assumed by Richard Hoag, who holds himself responsible for the settlement and adjustment of the same.

Richard Hoag,
James M. Hill.

Keeseville, March 27, 1853. 465

To Friends & PATRONS.

THE subscriber hereby tenders his thanks to all his FRIENDS & PATRONS
for their liberal patronage with which he has been favored, and respectfully invites them to continue their favors as he designs to keep on hand a constant supply of the choicest meats, viz:

Fresh Beef, Pork, Mutton Veal, Lamb, &c.

Also, PICKLED TONGUE, BEEF and BARREL PORK. Finally, a treat frequently from the shores of the Atlantic, in the line of

Scale and Shell Fish,

&c., &c., as fresh as the briny ocean affords.

RICHARD HOAG.
Keeseville, March 27, 1853. 463tf

REMOVAL!

THE subscribers would beg leave to inform their old friends and patrons, that they have rented a shop of Messrs. Keese & Tomlinson, ☞ one door North of Kingsland, Baber & Co.'s store, where they intend to carry on the Painting business in all its various branches. No pains will be spared to give complete satisfaction.

Brownell & Lowry.
Keeseville, March 30, 1853. 465 tf

SASH, DOOR, BLIND
— AND —
Pail Manufactory,
CROWN POINT, N. Y.

HAVING the most perfect machinery, and experienced workmen, we are enabled to furnish Window Sash, Doors and Blinds, of superior workmanship, and at lower prices than can be found elsewhere. Also

Pine and Cedar Pails and Sap Buckets.

☞All orders filled at short notice.

S. S. & W. FLINT.
Established May 1st, 1851.
March 1, 1853. 465 3m*

PROCLAMATION!

Know all men by these presents that I,

James A. Walker,

of Burlington, Vt., have just returned from the Boston and New York markets with the best selected assortmet of Ladies, Gents, Misses, Boys, Youths and Childrens

Boots and Shoes

ever offered north of the cities, and have removed from the store lately occupied by me in Bank Block, to two doors east, same block, (one door West of I. D. Bixby & Co.) where I shall offer them at my usual low prices; having a large share of my goods expressly for me at, the best manufactories in New England. I am enabled to sell a good article and Warrant it, at a very low price. I have now on hand every variety of Boots and shoes, all of which I will sell at a very small advance on the original cost.

No. 3, Bank Block,
☞Opposite the Park,
465tf BURLINGTON, Vt.

BOOKS,

Just Received from New York.

FRANK Freeman's Barber Shop. A new and deeply interesting story, written in a style similar to Uncle Tom's Cabin. The White Slave. Uncle Tom's Cabin, both bound and in pamphlet. Ike Marvil's Dream Life. Reveries of a Bachelor, &c., &c. Cabin and Parlor. Byron's, Willis', Heman's and other Poems. Mitchell's Lectures on Astronomy.

Sold by I. A. HASBROUCK.
Keeseville, March 1st, 1853. 461

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Union Nurseries,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

THE subscriber has for sale this spring, a very large collection of

Fruit Trees, &c.,

of all kinds adapted to the climate and of the best quality; which he offers at the lowest prices. All the leading sorts can be furnished by the quantity; and specimen trees, (1 to 3 years from grafts,) vines, plants, &c., can be supplied of nearly 1000 distinct varieties—many of them new and rare, and now offered for the first time in this valley.

The stock of PEAR TREES, both on the Pear stock, and on the Quince, is very extensive, and the assortment one of the most complete in the Union. The collection comprises of Apples—250 choice varieties.

do. — 50 do on Doucain and Paradise, for DWARFS.
Pears—275 do
do.—75 do on Quince, for DWARFS.
Plums—100 do
Cherries—75 do
do —25 do on Mahaleb, for DWARFS.
Grapes—40 varieties—[1000 stung plants "McNeil."]
Gooseberries—60 varieties—[500 " "Houghton's Seedling."]
Currants—25 varieties—[500 " "White Clinton"—the sweetest, highest flavored, and best of currants.]
Raspberries—15 varieties.
Strawberries—60 "
Half-hardy Fruits—" —including Peaches, Nectarines, Apricots, Quinces, &c.
Rhubarb—10 varieties.
Asparagus—1, 2 and 3 years old roots.
Buckthorn for Hedges—1, 2 and 3 years old plants.
Scions—of Fruit Trees Vines &c.
Garden Seeds—a general assortment.

Ornamental Department.

Deciduous Trees—Horse Chestnuts, European Mountain Ash, Silver Maple, and 20 other species and varieties.

Deciduous Shrubs—White Fringe, Smoke Tree, Rose Acacia; several varieties each—of Deutrias, Springas, Spireas (including "Ornunfolie") Flowering Currants, &c., and 50 other species and varieties.

Evergreen Trees and Shrubs—Am. Arber Vitae, Am. Silver Fir, Norway Spruce, Deadar Cedar, Box, Holly, and many others.

Climbing Shrubs and Vines—Many species and varieties.

Roses—Hibrid China, H. Perpetual, Bourbon, Moss, Climbing, Austrian, Scotch, and Miscellaneous—150 choice varieties.

Dahlias—150 varieties—including all the newest and best.

Phloxes—50 varieties—very choice.
Paeonies—15 " do do.
Miscellaneous Budding Plants—in great variety.

Summer Bulbs, (for spring planting)—Gladiolus, Tuberose, Tiger Flower, Japan and other Lilies,—of many varieties, &c., &c.

Flower Seeds—200 species and varieties.

Green House Plants—of all kinds, supplied from other sources, if ordered soon.

Horticutural Implements—of all kinds, supplied also to order—on a few days notice.—Budding and Pruning Knives, of best form and superior quality, always kept on hand.

ORDERS executed in rotation, as they are received. Those who desire to obtain their trees early, and to make sure of a satisfactory selection, should therefore order without delay.

Freight paid to the Lake.

Catalogues sent to all who apply, post-paid, and enclose a postage stamp

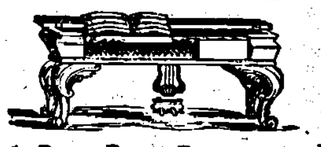
Address, J. BATTEY.
Union Nurseries, Keeseville, N. Y.,
3d mo., 24th, 1853. [465 2m]

AUCTION SALE.



HAVING sold my farm, I shall sell a public auction on the 5th day of April next, at 1 o'clock, P. M. on said farm, a variety of personal property, consisting of horses, cattle, sheep, swine, wagons, sleighs, and farming utensils, several kinds of seed grain, potatoes, &c. &., affording a good opportunity to farmers and others to purchase valuable property at a bargain.

WILLETS KEESE.

Keeseville, March 18th, 1853.

N. B. For particulars see handbills. A part of the cattle are a cross of the Durham and Hereford.

PIANO FORTE, AND MUSIC STORE.

No. 1, BANK BLOCK BURLINGTON, VT.

THE Subscriber has opened a very extensive and choice selection of Musical Merchandize, consisting of every variety of Musical Instruments, such as

Piano Fortes, Seraphines, Melodeons,

Bass Viols, Violins, Guitars, Flutes,

Fiageolets, Claronets, Cornopeans, Accordeons, and Brass Instruments of every description for Bands; also—

BASS VIOL AND VIOLIN STRINGS, TUNING FORKS, TUNING HAMMERS, &c.

The assortment of Sheet Music, consists of about Four Thousand Pieces of the latest and most popular Music of the day, additions to which will be made every week, from the respective Importing and Publishing Houses in New York and Boston. The auction Books on hand for every Instrument, and all new works received as soon as published

CHURCH MUSIC BOOKS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

The attention of Purchasers is respectfully invited to the assortment of Piano Fortes, Seraphines and Melodeons, as they are from the best Manufacturers in the country, and every instrument sold by me will be warranted, unless otherwise stated to the purchaser.

All the above goods will be sold as low as can be purchased in New York or Boston, and the orders of teachers and those who buy to sell again, are respectfully solicited, and will be filled and sent to any part of the country as may be directed.

June 5. 3m122 L. S. RUSH.

Forge for Sale.

IN an excellent location for the manufacture of Iron, being near the Ausable Ores and where coal is easily obtained at the lowest prices. It is on the Ausable river in Jay, but two fires, and on the premises are eight dwellings, a Store, three good coal houses, and other conveniences. Terms easy. Also a quantity of timber lands near the forge. Apply to the subscriber. MONROE HALL.

Jay, Feb. 17th 1853. 460-6w

FARM FOR SALE.

ABOUT ¼ miles from the village of Keeseville, containing 110 acres, beautifully situated, good soil, well watered, all necessary buildings, nearly new and in good repair, good orchard with grafted fruit, and wood enough for the use of the farm.

If the purchaser wishes one half the purchase money can remain on bond and mortgage from 10 to 20 years.

Wm. TAYLOR.

Keeseville, March 3d, 1853. 461-4w

BUTTER FOR SALE.

Large quantity of good dairy Butter bought in large and small packages of the finest quality for sale at BOYNTON & SMITH'S.

Keeseville Jan. 27. 1853.

Office of Clinton and Essex Mutual Insurance Company.

KEESEVILLE, March 23d, 1853.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held at their office this day, the following assessment was declared upon the premium notes of said Company, payable at their office on or before the first day of June next.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and remaining in force on the 18th day of July 1852, one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to June 18th, 1849, and remaining in force July 18, 1852, two and five eights of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and remaining in force ou the 18th day of August, 1852, one and one half of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to June 18, 1849, and remaining in force on the 18th day of August, 1852, three and three eighths of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 1st day of September, 1852, one and seven sixteenths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10, 1849, and in force on the 1st day of September 1852, four and eleven sixteenths of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 18th day of September, 1852, five eighths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10, 1849, and in force one the 8th day of September, 1852, one and fifteen sixteenths of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 23d day of September, 1852, seven sixteenths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10, 1849, and remaining in force on the 23d day of September, 1852, one and seven sixteenths of one per cent

On all notes dated prior to september 1, 1848, and remaining in force on the 6th day of October, 1852, nine sixteenths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10, 1849, and remain in force on the 6th day of October, 1852, one and thirteen sixteenths of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and remaining in forge on the 19th day of October, 1852, one and three fourths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10th. 1819, and remaining in force on the 19th day of October, 1852, five and eleven sixteenths of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 25th of October, 1852, three fourths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10. 1849, and in force on the 25th day of October, 1852. two and one half of one per cent

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 6th day of November, 1852, one and five eighths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10, 1849, and in force on the 6th day of November, 1852, five and one half of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 13th of November, 1852, one and five sixteenths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10th, 1849, and in force on the 13th day of November, 1852, three and seven sixteenths of one percent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 27th day of November, 1852, one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to March 9th, 1850, and in force on the 27th day of November, 1852, three per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 28th day of January, 1853, one pre cent.

On all notes dated subsequent to April 2d, 1850, and in force on the 28th day of January 1853, three per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 9th day of March 1853, one per cent.

On all notes dated subsequent to April 24th, 1850, and in force on the 9th day of March, 1853, three per cent.

The foregoing assessment is appointed to meet the respective losses from July 1st 1852, to March, 23d 1853, and amounts to Fourteen per cent upon all notes dated prior to September 1st, 1848, and in force on the 18th day of July, 1852, and remaining in force on the 23d day of March, 1853.

Six per cent upon all notes dated subsequent to June 18th, 1849, and prior to August 10th, 1849, and in force on the 18th day of July, 1852, and remaining in force on the 28th day of August, 1852,

Thirty-three per cent upon all notes dated subsequent to August 10th, 1849, and prior to March 9th, 1850, and remaining in force on the 13th day of November 1852

Thirty-six per cent upon all Notes dated subsequent to March 9th, 1850, and prior to April 2d, 1850, and remaining in force on the 27th day of November, 1852.

Thirty-nine per cent upon all notes dated subsequent to April 2d, 1850, and prior to April 24th, 1850, and remaining in force on the 28th day of January, 1853.

Forty-two per cent upon all notes dated subsequent to April, 1850, and remaining in force on the 23d day of March, 1853.

By order of the Board of Directors.

F. W. AMES, Secretary.

The People of the State of New York, to the Creditors and next of kin of Hannah Buckminster, late of Moriah, Essex County, deceased, send GREETING:

You and each of you are hereby cited and required personally, to be and appear before our county Judge and Surrogate of the county of Essex, at his office in the town of Elizabethtown, on the second day of May next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the final settlement of the accounts of Jacob Tappen, administrator, and Lorinda Tappen, administratrix, of all and singular the goods, chattels and credits of Hannah Buckminster, deceased.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the Surrogate's seal of said L. S. county of Essex to be hereunto affixed at Elizabethtown, this 21st day of March, A. D. 1853.

Witness: JOHN E. MCVINE,
464:4w Essex Co. Judge.

D. M. KNIGHT & Co.,

53 CEDAR STREET, NEW YORK,

WILL sell cheap for cash. Combs, button pins, needles, hooks and eyes, lines and cotton tapes, bobbin, braids, threads, stay binding, brushes, whalebone, fans, and a great variety of fancy notions, &c. 464:3m

Miscellaneous.

Insurance Agency.

National Protection Insurance Company, Saratoga Springs, Capital, $200,000
Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance Company, West Scotia, N. Y., Capital, $160,000
Nothern N. Y. Mutual Insurance Company, Plattsburgh, N. Y, Capital, $100,000
Knickerbocker Fire Insurance Company, Waterford, N. Y., Capital, $200,000
Northern N. Y. Live Stock Ins. Company, Plattsburgh, N. Y., Capital, $50,000
Charter Oak Life Insurance Company, Hartford, Vt., Capital, $200,000

Policies in the National Protection Insurance Co., and the Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance issued by the undersigned.

JAMES B. DICKINSON.

Office, Ausable Forks N. Y.
Saratoga Springs, Feb'y 7th, 1852.

WE, the undersigned, JOHN WILLARD, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court for the 4th Judicial District of the State of New York, and a resident of Saratoga Springs, with AUGUSTUS BOCKES, First Judge of the County of Saratoga, being likewise a resident of Saratoga Springs, and JOHN C. HULBURT, Surrogate of the County of Saratoga, also a resident of Saratoga Springs—do hereby Certify, that we are personally acquainted with the men composing the Board of Directors of the National Protection Insurance Company of Saratoga Springs. We take pleasure in availing ourselves of this opportunity in recommending to the Public, from a personal knowledge of the responsibility and character of their Board of Directors, that this Company is a sound and reliable Institution, will deal fairly with the assured, and are fully competent to pay their losses. We therefore unhesitatingly recommend this Company as an Institution in every respect worthy of a liberal patronage.

JOHN WILLARD,
A. BOCKES,
JNO. C. HULBURT.

JAMES B. DICKINSON,
Policy Agent, Ausable Forks.
Ausable Forks, Feb. 5th, 1852. 457-tf

CHINA, GLASS, & EARTHEN WARE.

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

(SUCCESSORS TO PEIRCE AND KING,)

IMPORTERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS,
235 River Street, Troy, New York.

Having our Stock very complete from Importations, and otherwise, are prepared to offer a large assortment of all Goods in our Line Wholesale or Retail, at the Lowest New York or Boston Prices for Cash or Approved Credit, a many which will be found:

Fine White Ironstone and White Glazed Ware Pinwn Blue Flown Multiary, Light Blue and common Wares, and the Acadia Ware, formerly kept by Mr A. Slason.

White, Gold Band and Decorated French China, in sets or separate pieces.

Tea Sets, of French and English China white, Gilt, or decorated. India China in great variety

Toilet Sets, decorated or plain, full, double, or single sets.

Cut Glass Ware, in Decanters, Goblets Champaigne Wines &c., of new and rich patterns. Glass cut to match any pattern.

Moulded and plain Glass Ware, of every description and style.

Girandoles, Candelabras, Solar Lamps, and Chandeliers, in every variety, from the manufactory of Cornelius & Co. P. Hadelphia.

Solar Globes, cut and Plain, Solar and Camphene Wicks and Chimnies. Astral and Coal Wicks, Boat Globes, Astral Lamps, &c., &c.

Hall Lanterns of cut, plain and stained Glass.

Ladderns of every variety. Also a new and desirable style with patent catch, &c., for Railroads and Steamboats, and in order with names or initials engraved on.

Tea Trays and Waiters, new styles and shapes, of our own importation, slop jars in sets.

Looking Glasses, Britannia Ware Table Mats &c., &c.

Also a splendid assortment of Fancy Goods, consisting of Vases, Colognes, Cardreceivers, Allumets, Decanters, Wine Bottles, &c., in China, Terra Cotta, Parian Marble, and Bohemian Ware,

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.
235 River Street, Opposite Troy House, Troy, N. Y.
ALFRED H. PEIRCE. } 445
LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK.

Gas, Steam & Water Fitting

and Fixtures, Wrought-Iron Pipe, Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Plumbers' Materials, &c.

We are now prepared to do work in dwellings, Stores, Churches, Mills, or Factories, in the way of Gas and Steam Fitting or Plumbing, in the most complete and satisfactory manner. Having workmen in each of the above branches who cannot be excelled by any similar establishment in the country all orders will be promptly executed, and work done in any part of the country

We have also constantly on hand and for Sale at Manufacturers' Prices, Wrought Iron Pipe for Gas, Steam, and water, Twisted and Plain Brass Pipe Steam Valves, Brass and Iron Stop Cocks, Tees, Elbows, Couplings, Brass Globe, Cross and Check Valves, Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Leather Hose, Hose Pipe and Couplings, with every material in Lead, Brass and Plated Work for Plumbers' use.—Plug Basins, Hoppers, Closet Pans, Corner Basins, and Baths, of all descriptions.

Also, a splendid assortment of Chandelie s, Pendants, Brackets &c, on new and rich styles, to which we are receiving constant additions.

PEIRCE and SOUTHWICK.
223 and 235 River Street, (Opposite Troy House,) Troy, N. Y 445tf
ALFRED H PEIRCE. LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK.

WAR DECLARED

—BETWEEN—

France and England!!!

WOULD not create as great a sensation among the inhabitants of this portion of country as the proclamation of war on high prices by CARDWELL in the sale of

Ready-Made Clothing.

That war declared Oct. 1st, 1851, still rages with unabating and increasing fury; but in its progress its path is not marked with bloodshed, carnage and desolation as the wars of one Nation against another; on the other hand its fruits are smiling faces (NOT OF OTHER DEALERS) and glad hearts; go ask the honest and hardy inhabitants of our pine clad hills, and our pleasant valleys, where he buys his CLOTHING, and he will answer you with a smile,

WHY AT CARDWELL'S, OF COURSE!

That is the place where you can obtain the latest styles, a genteel fit, and well made suit of clothes for less money than at any other Store in northern New York.

Why, says one man, I have saved money enough by purchasing my Clothing this Fall at

CARDWELL'S CHEAP STORE

to buy me a good Cow. ☞This is no fiction: living witnesses can be produced that will testify to the truth of it.

N. B. Saturday March the 5th

will arrive a large and magnificent assortment of Spring and Summer Clothing, when the Spring and Summer Fashions will be introduced. Every description of garments always to be found at CARDWELL'S One Price cheap

CLOTHING WARE ROOM'S,
ADIRONDAC HOTEL BUILDINGS,
Keeseville N. Y.
G. A. CARDWELL.

WANTED,

A farm containing not less than 200 acres in the town of Chesterfield, Ausable or Peru, on which must be good Dwelling House and out Buildings and otherwise under good cultivation. One answering the above Description will meet with sale for cash. Enquire of Benj. MINER.

Port Kent, Feb. 22d. 1853

A. A. LEE,

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW,

ELIZABETHTOWN, ESSEX COUNTY, N. Y.

☞ Office over Root & Co's store. 462

Bounty Lands

PURCHASED AND OBTAINED

GEO. MOORE, Plattsburgh, N.

December 8, 1852.

Miscellaneous.

LEONARD SCOTT & Co.'s

LIST OF

BRITISH PERIODICAL

PUBLICATIONS.

Delivered in all the principal Cities in the United States, free of Postage, and forwarded by Mail, under the provisions of the late Post Office Law, at merely nominal rates.

1. THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW (Conservative)
2. THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (Whig.)
3. THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church.)
4. The WESTMINSTER REVIEW. (Liberal.)
5. BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tory.)

Although these works are destinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary Character which gives them their chief value, and in this they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the fatherly care of Christopher North, maintains its celebrity, and is, at this time, unusually attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that magazine, and first appearring in its columns both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such, works as "The Caxtons" and "My New Novel," (both by Bulwer,) "The Green Hand," "Katie Stewart," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Messrs Scott & Co., so that Subscribers to the Reprint of that Magazine may always rely on having the earliest reading of these fascinating tales.

Terms and Premiums.

[See list of Premium Volumes below.]

	per ann.
For any 1 of the 4 Reviews and one Prem. vol.	$3,00
For any 2 of the 4 Reviews and one prem vol.	5,00
For any 3 of the 4 Reviews and two prem. vol.	7,00
For all four of the Reviews and two prem. vol.	8,00
For Blacwood's Magazine and one prem. vol	3,00
For Blackwood's & 3 Reviews and three prem. vol.	9,00
For Blackwood's & the 4 Reviews and three prem. vol.	10,00

Payments to be made in all cases in advance.

The Premiums consist of the following works, back volumes of which will be given to new subscribers according to the number of periodicals ordered, as above explained.—

PREMIUM VOLUMES.

Foreign Quarterly Review (one year.)
Blackwood's Magazine (six months.)
London Quarterly Review (one year.)
Bentley's Miscellaney (six months.)
Edinburgh Review (one year.)
Metropolitan Magazine (six months)
Westminster Review (one year.)

Consecutive Premium volumes cannot in all cases be furnished, except of the Foreign Quarterly Review. To prevent dissappointment, therefore, where that work is not alone wanted. Subscribers will please order as many different works for premiums as there are volumes to which they may be entitled.

CLUBBING.

A discount of twenty five per cent from the above prices will be allowed to Clubs ordering four or more copies of any one or more of the above works, Thus: Four copies of Blackwood, or of one Review, will be sent to one address for $9; four copies of the four Reviews and Blackwood for $30; and so on.

No premiums will be given where the above allowance is made to Clubs, nor will premiums in any case be furnished, unless the subscription money is paid in full to the Publishers without recourse to an agent. Money current in the State where issued will be received at par.

Reduced Postage.

The following table will show the great reduction which has been made on these periodicals since 1843, and the vary trifling rates now charged.

	Per annum.
Prior to 1845, the postage on Blackwood was	$2 40
Prior to 1845, the postage on a single Review	112
From 1845 to 1851, the postage on Blackwood was	1 00
From 1845 to 1951, the postage on a Review was	50
In 1851 52 [average rate] on Blackwood was	75
In 1851 52 [average rate] on a Review	38
The present postage on Blackwood, is	24
The present postage on a Review is	12

[The rates are now uniform for all distances within the United States.]

At these rates surely no objection should be made to receive the works by mail, and thus ensuring their speedy, safe, and regular delivery.

☞Remittances and communications should be always addressed, post-paid, to the Publishers,

LEONARD SCOTT & Co.,
79 Fulton Street, (entrance 54 Gold street,) 85 NEW YORK.

WOOL! WOOL!

THE Subscriber would inform the public that he is again in the

Manufacturing Business,

Either by the yard, on shares, or in exchange for cloths on the most reasonable terms, and that he intends to keep on hand a full supply of the following goods:

BLACK BROAD CLOTHS,
Black, Brown, and Olive Cassimeres,
FULLED CLOTHS, SATTINETS, TWEEDS, Flannels, &c.,

suitable to this country, and that he will spare no pains in trying to please such as may favor him with their patronage.

Birmingham, May 15, 1852. J. APPLEYARD. 419

PIANO FORT EMPORIUM.

801 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. The most extensive assortment of BOARDWOOD PIANO and ornamental, elegant patterns, elaborately finished with Pearl keys, all of pure, and warranted in every particular. Warerooms, 801 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

BENNETT & CO.

Business Cards.

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS,

(Successor to Nichols & Warren,)

WHOLESALE PAPER WAREHOUSE

And Paged Blank Book Manufactory,

—JOBBER AND RETAIL DEALER IN—

School and Classical Books,

English, French and American Stationery, and Artist's Materials,

No. 4, Leavenworth Block, College Street,

BURLINGTON, Vt.

☞Bank, Blank, Check or Memorandum Books made to order, from the best of Paper, and bound in the most thorough manner. All work warranted. Terms Cash. 448 tf

Livery Stable

BY

GEORGE G. FULLER.

HEAD OF MAIN STREET

(a few steps from the Bank.)

KEESEVILLE, NEW YORK.

Where may be found at all times, the best of Horses and Carriages, on the most reasonable terms.

GEORGE P. WILKINSON,

(Successor to G. P. & J. B. Wilkinson,)

MANUFACTURER AND JOBBER IN

CLOTHING,

154 River Street, Corner of Congress,
427 tf TROY, N. Y.

G. P. SANBORN & Co.

APOTHECARIES HALL.

BURLINGTON, VT.

DEALERS IN

Drugs and Medicines, Chemical Perfumery, Teeth, Surgical Instruments, Gold and Tin Foil, Patent Medicines, and every variety of articles usually kept in this line of Business.

Oct. 23d, 1852. 6 in.

GEO. S. TARBELL,

HOLE SALE GROCER,

DEALER IN OIL AN

General Commission Merchant,

No. 65 Quay-Street, ALBANY.

ADKINS & FULLER,

Booksellers, Stationers, Binders

—AND—

PAPER RULERS,

KEEP constantly on hand or will supply Books, Maps, Charts, Pictures, Frames, and Periodicals of all kinds. Also Publications of the American Tract Society, Bibles and Sabbath School Books at their very low depository prices.

One door east of Pierce & Davey's Agricultural Store on College Street.

C. S ADKINS, E. FULLER.
Burlington, July 4, 1850. 323

H. C. Blanchrd, M. D.,

HOMŒAPATHIC PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,

KEESFVILLE, N. Y.

Office 2 doors below Ausable House.
Rooms at Ausable House. 430

D. M. ARNOLD,

Engineer and Surveyor,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

SURVEYING & Leveling for Rail Roads. Plank Roads. Mill Seats, &c. Land Surveying of all kinds done on shortest notice.

Office opposite the Ausable House.

425tf

J. B. DICKINSON,

AUSABLE FORKS, N. Y.

General INSURANCE AGENT,

For Fire, Life, Health and Live Stock Insurance Companies.

☞ Any business from abroad will receive prompt attention. 454

Silliman & Gardiner,

WHOLESALE DEALERS

in Pork, Fish, SALT, PLASTER, &c.

OFFICE 17 CORTLANDT SLIP, New York.
339 RIVER St., Troy, 445

Dr. H. W. GOULD,

SURGEON DENTIST

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

☞ Office opposite the Ausable House. [389

ANNEXATION!!

Essex County, N. Y. and Vermont!

NOVEMBER 10th, 1852.

I. D. BIXBY & Co.,

ARE now opening a very heavy stock of Rich

DRESS GOODS,

for the Winter trade, consisting in part of the following articles:

Merinos, Coburghs, Paramattas, Alpacas, Lustres all wool deLaines, Manchester deLaines, Persian Cloths, Raw Silk Plaids, Cashmere Plaids, Col'd Velvets, Col'd Flannels, Irish Poplins, Bombazines, Ginghams, American, English and French Prints, Silks.

SHAWLS!!

Bay State, Empire, Waterloo and Scotch.

CLOAKS.

We have a large assortment of rich Cloaks of a variety of patterns, colors and prices.

Silks, Satins, &c.

The LARGEST assortment of Dress Silk that we have ever opened, are now to be seen on our counters. Brocade, Plaid, Striped, Chameleon, Glace, Gro de Naples, Gro de Zure, Gro de Rhine, Gro de Lyons, Gro de Algiers and many other styles.

No. 2, Bank Block,

439tf North Side of the Park.

BURLINGTON VT.,
I. D. BIXBY & Co.
Burlington, Nov. 15. 1852.

GRASS SEED

OF very Superior Quality, for sale by KINGSLAND, BABER & Co.

Burlington Advertisements

BURLINGTON

AGRICULTURAL WARE-HOUSE AND SEED STORE.

DAVEY & ALLEN,

No. 8, COLLEGE STREET, BURLINGTON, Vt.

Ploughs—Prouty & Mear's centre draught.

These ploughs have obtained a celebrity unparalleled, having taken the first premiums in this county and at the World's Fair in London. We have also Starbuck's and Tabor's celebrated Ploughs.

Our stock of Ploughs comprise a great variety of patterns and different sizes, calculated for sward and stubble land, wet meadows and recently rained swamps, where roots abound—among which also, are the deep breaking up flat-furrow, lap-furrow, self sharpening, side-hill, double-mould-board, sub soil, &c., &c.

Harrows—triangular, square, Geddes and Scotch

Hay, Straw and Corn Cutters, either by hand or horse power; spiral, straight or circular knives.

Cultivators—of different kinds, steel tooth and cast iron.

Corn Sheilers—a variety of patterns. Will shell from 5 to 100 bushels of corn per hour.

Fan Mills and Grain Cradles—Grant's unrivalled We confidently recommend them as the best in use

Seed Sowers—Batchelder's & Emery's and other kinds.

Vegetable cutters—for turnips and other roots.

Horse Powers, Threshers, Winnowers and Separators—Wheeler's Patent Railway Chain Horse Power This Power, both single and double geared, for one or two horses, has never been equalled for lightness in running, strength, durability and economy. The Thresher and Separator are too widely and favorably known to need our commendation. The combined Thresher and Winnower, (which is a new invention of last year) has not been so generally introduced. All who have used it express the highest approbation of its merits. We entertain no doubt that it is the most perfect, compact, and efficient machine now in use for threshing and winnowing grain, as it certainly is by far the cheapest and most economical.

Warranted to give satisfaction,

or be returned after a reasonable trial.

Saw Mill—1 wooce, used for sawing wood for locomotives on Railways or by farmers for cutting stove fuel. With a one horse power it will cut 10 to 15 cords of wood twice in two per day.

AGRICULTURAL & HORTICULTURAL TOOLS AND IMPLEMENTS,

a great variety and extensive assortment, such as Hoes, Shovels, Spades, Rakes, Manure and Hay Forks, Scythe Snaths, Cattle Ties, Draft, Halter and Trace Chains, Garden Syringes, Pruning Saws, Pruning and Budding Knives, Garden Shears and Twig Cutters, Grin stones, Patent Grindstone fixtures, rollers, barrows or rolls, &c., &c.

Grain, Field, Garden and Flower Seeds.—We are prepared to furnish Herds Grass Red Top, Lucerne, White Dutch, Southern, Western and Northern Clover Seed, Red, Turnip, Onion and Carrot seed, at Wholesale and Retail at the lowest market prices

We have by far the largest and most complete assortment of Agricultural Implements, Machines, Field and Garden Seeds to be found in the State, which we offer at our new and spacious Ware-Rooms to Farmers and Dealers on terms the most liberal. We are also Commission Merchants and Wholesale and Retail Dealers in heavy and shelf adillery, Axles, Springs, Mechanic's Tools, House Trimmings and Furnishing Goods, Cutlery, Cross Cut, Mill and Circular Saws, Paints, Oils, Bird Cages, etc. etc., etc.

HARDWARE,

As agents of Messrs. D. Prouty & Co., Boston, Wheeler, Millick & Co., Albany, J. T. Grant & Co., Troy, and others we can fill orders for Plows, Horse Powers, Threshers, Fan Mills, Straw Cutters &c., at manufacturers prices. A liberal discount made to Dealers.

ORDERS FROM ABROAD SOLICITED.

DAVEY & ALLEN.

Burlington, September 20, 1852. 439

NEW GOODS AT Nichols, 150 Church Street.

IN consequence of our large spring sales, we have been induced to purchase a very large and full stock of

Foreign & Domestic Goods

for the fall trade, which we now offer at exceedingly low prices. We have not time now to enumerate, suffice it to say, we have every thing usually called for in a dry goods store.

CARPETINGS!

AT THE

Carpet Warehouse, 150 Church Street:

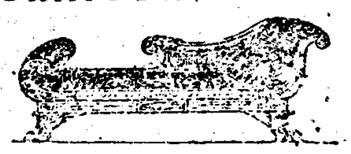
Mr. Nichols is now opening the largest stock of Carpeting ever brought to this city, consisting of the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three-ply, Ingrain, Extra Super Fine and Common Venetians Damask, Cotton and Wool, Cotton, Hemp Stair carpeting from the best manufacturers. Also, floor oil-cloth, straw-matting Hearth Rugs, Door Mats, table oil cloths, English and American Buckings and crumb cloths.



Bay State Carpetings and Buckings.

Mr. Nichols has the agency for the sale of the justly celebrated Bay State carpets and buckings and will be furnished with all the new patterns as fast as they come from the mills Recollect the No.

150 CHURCH STREET.

Burlington, September 24, 1852 439 tf

BOSTON URNITURE STORE,

AT THE

Spacious Ware-Room,

Nos. 2 & 3, Leavensworth Block,

COLLEGE STREET,

In Burlington, Vt.

No further need of going to New York or Boston for Rich or

FASHIONABLE FURNITURE.

THE Subscriber has a more extensive assortment of

Furniture, Feathers, Beds, Mattresses, Upholstery, Goods; &c.,

than has ever before been offered in this section, comprising all the most recent styles from the most elegant to the commonest FURNITURE, manufactured principally to order and in quality superior to any to be found out of Boston or any other place—consisting, in part, as follows:

Black Walnut & Mahogeny Parlor FURNITURE,

—CONSISTING OF—

French Sofas, Easy Chairs, covered in plain damask, brocatelle or hair-cloth, to suit the purchaser; French style centre and side Tables, with and without marble tops; Sideboards of every description; Looking Glasses; Mirrors and common Curtain Furniture and Fixtures, &c., and every article needed to furnish Parlors in the most fashionable style.—Also medium and low priced Furniture, of every description

DRAWING & SITTING ROOM FURNITURE,

of every desirable style.

CHAMBER FURNITURE.

Fancy printed Chamber Setts richly ornamented; mahogany, black walnut and common Bedsteads, Pure wove Palm Leaf, Shuck and Hair Mattresses, Feather Beds and Pillows, Cotton, Husk and palm leaf Mattresses, &c.

LIBRARY CASES & SIDE-BOARDS,

both mahogany and black walnut, of very superior workmanship, constantly on hand and made to order, of any style or size desired. Also, any odd article, not to be found ready made, designed and executed to order in the neat manner at the shortest notice.

Hotels and Steamboats

furnished at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms.

N. B.—Every article will be sold as low as the same quality can be bought in either Boston or New York, and in many instances much lower. Country dealers will be furnished at the lowest wholesale prices.

Mr. ALLEN'S long experience as a manufacturer and Furniture dealer in Boston, gives him advantages in selecting and purchasing goods very few can equal; and he will warrant every article fully equal to what he represents it.

☞Persons in want of Furniture will do well to call on Mr. ALLEN before purchasing.

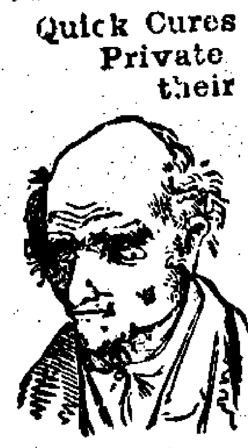
I. S. ALLEN.

Burlington, May 8. '52. 418-1y

Hotel to Let.



THE HOTEL kept by C. M. Gifford in Essex, will be to be let the first of May next. Application may be made at the Post Office in Essex. CHAS. G. FANCHER.

Essex, March 14, 1853. 462-4w

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Miscellaneous.

2(Years Experience.
OLD ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL.
Quick Cures and Low prices.
Private Diseases and their Antidote.

Dr LISPENARD, author of the Marriage Guide, or Private Medical Treatise. Professor of Diseases of Women and Children, and Licentiate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the United States University, &c., &c. continues as heretofore to be consulted confidentially and successfully on all forms and varieties of

PRIVATE DISEASES,

at his old quarters No. 5 Beaver street ALBANY, N. Y.

The great success attending the use of Doctor L.'s remedies in secret diseases, and the many remarkable cures daily effected by him in recent as well as old lingering attacks, is conclusive evidence that the well

SICK AND UNFORTUNATE

can do no better than consult the Doctor, whose whole time is devoted to the exclusive treatment of this much neglected branch of practice.

LOOK AT THIS.

Dr. Lispenard cures recent cases of disease in from three to six days, and chronic or long standing diseases in a very short period of time without the use of Mercury, without the loss of time, change of diet, or hindrance from

DAILY EMPLOYMENT.

In Syphillis Gonorrhea, Gleet Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Cords, Bubo, Chancres Pimples and Scaly Eruptions, Sore Throats and Nose, Chancres on the tongue, tender shin bones, and diseases of the skin, and impure blood, Dr Lispenard's remedies are above all praise, and frequently cure when all others had failed.

EVEN TO RELIEVE.

More than 5.000 patients have during the past year experienced the benefit of the Doctor's extraordinary skill in treating the diseases—among which, diseases of the bladder and kidneys have formed a goodly proportion.

YOUNG MEN,

who by indulging in a secret habits have injured their health and prostrated their intellectual faculties, and thereby deprived themselves of the pleasures of married life, should consult Dr. Lispenard without a moment's delay. Hundreds have been restored to health, society and friends, under my peculiar mode of treatment although vast sums of money had been sacrificed without any benefit. My remedy for this disease is pleasant to take, has no offensive smell and

CURES WITHOUT FAIL.

☞ Persons so unfortunate as to be diseased, although they may have visited half a dozen Doctors, and had medicine enough to kill them a dozen times with no benefit would exhibit wisdom by making their case known to that FRIEND OF THE SICK Dr. Lispenard, who never charges to advice and warrants all cures. Those who are often at a loss where to apply for relief, AND TIS NO WONDER, as hundreds seem ready to plunder the unfortunate victim of PRIVATE DISEASES, or secret habits with no thought for his life and health. All thus deceived will find a friend, and moderate charges, in consulting the Doctor who USES NO MERCURY and cures every time.

N. B.—Persons from a distance when visiting the city in search of a physician and friend will be fortunate if they succeed in escaping the many dens of imposition, conducted by unprinciple men, destitute of character knowledge or name, who fleece the unfortunate victim of his hard earned money, and his remaining health. Patients who have no acquaintance in the city would make inquiry of some respectable citizen, or the editor or proprietor of any of the city papers, to ascertain who is the most reliable physician to apply to.

FEMALE DISEASES.

Dr. Lispenard from an experience seldom or never enjoyed by any other medical man, is enable to treat, with every hope of success, all and every variety of Female Complaints—with safe and pleasant remedies—and has without doubt cured within the past five years more than 300 females afflicted with diseases of the bladder Womb, &c. &c. Ladies afflicted with suppression or stoppage of their monthly turns, will recollect that Dr. Lispenard is still the sole American agent for.

DR. VICHOP'S

FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS.

The unprecedented sale of more than 15,000 boxes of these excellent Pills and the good results which always follow their use, is conclusive evidence of their utility in stoppages, &c. Caution—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should not use them—for reasons see directions with each box. Price $1. Sent by mail to all parts of the world.

Married Persons and those about to Marry, should enclose 12½ cents post paid to Dr. Lispenard, and obtain a copy of his Marriage Guide or Private Treatise, a bewitching little work of nearly 100 pages, illustrated. Every thing that married persons can desire or wish to know is here explained. Persons who from poverty or sickness have no desire to increase their family, will find necessary instruction in the Marriage Guide. One copy 12½ cents; 5 copies 50 cts; 12 copies $1—mailed free to any part of the world.

N. B.—Patients treated by letter, and medicines sent with full directions for use, to the writer's address. All communications destroyed or returned.

No mercury used in any case, and all cures warranted.

Physicians or Physicians students all wed; timed persons taken too.

Friends of Dr. L. when recommending patients to on care will recollect our number 5 Beaver st., three doors from South Broadway.

Hours open from 7 A. M., to 9 P. M., and on Sundays from 1 to 4 P. M.

No charge for advice, although no medicine may be desired.

Good board and private rooms for those who desire to remain in the city.

Notice this—Address all letters to
C. W. LISPENARD, M. D.,
411—1y No. 5 Beaver st. Albany, N. Y.

NORTHERN RAIL ROAD, N. Y.
FALL ARRANGEMENTS.

On and after FRIDAY October 1st trains will run as follows:

GOING EAST,

1st Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 9, A. M.
Arrives at Rouse's Point 1, 45, P. M.
2nd Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 2. P. M.
Arrives at Rouse's Point 6, 20, P. M.

GOING WEST.

1st Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 8, A. M.
Arrive at Ogdensgurgh 12 50, P. M
2nd Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 3, P. M.
Arrives at Ogdensburgh 7,45, P. M.

First Passenger Train going East
Connects at Moors with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road for Montreal and Quebect, and Plattsburgh, Burlington and Whitehall—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Vermont Central Rail Road for Boston and New York—Connects at Rouse's Poiot with the Rutland and Burlington Rail Road by steam Boats to Burlington, and thence to Boston and New York.

Second Passenger Train going East,
Connects with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road at Moores, for Montreal and Quebec—Connects with the Vermont Central Railroad for Boston, Burlington, and New York. Connects with the Steam Boats to Whitehall, thence by the Saratoga and Troy Rail Roads, to Saratoga Springs, Troy and New York. Connects by Steam Boat with Rutlaud and Burlington R. R. at Burlington, for Troy, Boston and New York.

First Passenger Train going West,
Connects at Ogdensburgh with the Express Line of Lake Ontario Steamers at 1 o'clock P. M. for Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, Lewiston, Niagara Falls, and Buffalo.

Second Passenger Train going West.
Connects with Lake Ontario Line of Steamers for Kingston and all ports on the American shore of Lake Ontario, and with Hamilton.

Four Freight Trains leave Ogdensburgh and Rouse's Point every day Sundays excepted.

For Freight apply to George V. Hoyle, Agent, Rouse's Point.

CHARLES L. SCHLATTER,
440 Chief Eng'r and Superintendent.

Printing Paper For Sale.

FOR sale by J. & G. PARKS,

28 by 24 inches,
34 by 24 "
364tf 33 by 23 "

Also, Wrapping:

40by 28 inches, 60 lbs to the Ream, for large bundles
29 by 18 "
16 by 14 "

☞ All orders directed to Keeseville promptly attended

CAPS CAPS.

MENS' and Boys' Silk and Worsted Plush and Cloth Caps, at H. N. GARFIELD & Co.

Legal.

Mortgage Sale.—Default has been made in the payment of the debt secured by a certain mortgage, dated the 16th day of December, 1850, executed by Francis Gonyae and Josette his wife, then of the town Chesterfield, county of Essex, state of New York, to John Mattocks of Ausable, county of Clinton, state aforesaid, and with the power of sale therein contained, recorded in the office of the clerk of Essex county, in volume P. of mortgages, pages 445, 446 and 447, on the 7th day of January, 1851, there is claimed to be due on said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $129,72, and the further sum of $450 to become due in eighteen annual installments from the 16th day of December, 1852, with interest annually, and no proceeding at law or in equity having been commenced to recover the same, or any part thereof, now therefore notice is hereby given that the premises discribed in said mortgage will, by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, be sold discharged of said mortgage at public auction at the Adirondac hotel in Keeseville in said county, on the 22d day of June next, at one o'clock, p. m.

Said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage as follows: All that certain piece or parcel of land lying in the village of Keeseville, in the county of Essex and State of New York and bounded as follows: Beginning at the north-east end of the Pease lot in the east line of river street, running thence north thirteen degrees fifteen minutes, east along the east line of river street fifty-one links, thence south sixty-two degrees thirty minutes, east one chain and forty-seven links to Taggard's west line, thence south sixteen degrees thirty minutes, west fifty one links to Pease lot, thence north seventy-one degrees west along the north line of Pease lot one chain and forty-seven links to the place of beginning.

Also, one other certain piece of land lying in Keeseville, and described as follows: Beginning in the east line of River street, near the Pease house running thence south sixty-seven and a half degrees east along the south line of Gonyae lot two chains and seventy links to the road leading south from Keeseville, thence along the west line of said road one chain and forty-seven links to Chamberlain's lot, thence north sixty-nine degrees west along the north line of Chamberlain's lot to the east line of River street, thence along the east line of River street one chain and thirty-eight links to the place of beginning, meaning to convey the whole lot deed by David Pease to Franklin Shandrew.

JOHN MATTOCKS, Mortgagee.
FINCH & HARWOOD, Atty's.
Dated Keeseville, March 25, 1853. 464

At a Surrogates Court, held at the County Judges office in Elizabethtown, in and for the County of Essex, on the 21st day of March, A. D., 1853.

Present: J. E. McVINE,
Essex County Judge.

In the matter of the application of Emeline H. Morhous & Abram Weldin, administrator and administratrix, &c., of Rensselaer Morhous, deceased, intestate, for authority to mortgage lease or sell the Real Estate of the said intestate for the payment of his debts.

Whereas on the petition and application of Emeline H. Morhous, the administratrix, and Abram Weldin, one of the administrators of the goods, &c., of Rensselaer Morhous, late of Willsboro, in the county of Essex, deceased, it has been made satisfactorily to appear to the said County Judge and Surrogate, that the personal estate of the said deceased will be insufficient to pay his debts.

It is therefore ordered, that all persons interested in the estate of the said Rensselear Morhous, deceased, be directed to appear before the said county Judge and Surrogate, at his office in the town of Elizabethtown, in said county, on the 9th day of May next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to show cause why authority should not be given to the said administrators to mortgage, lease or sell so much of the real estate of the said deceased as shall be necessary to pay his debts.

Witness: JOHN E. McVINE,
Essex County Judge.

A true copy—attest.
464:6w J. E. McVINE, E. C. Judge.

SUPREME COURT.

Frederick L. Seeley,
ag'st
Isaac Heustis,
Daius Breaw,
James Pilling,
James Adams,
Edmund Kingsland,
Jacob D, Kingsland,
William W. Kingsland,
Alfred Baber,
Levi S. Scribner,
Henry Green,
Andrew Thompson,
Stephen F. Spencer,
George Adgate and
Abraham B. Kingsland

In pursuance of a decree or judgment of the Supreme Court, made in the above cause, will be sold under the direction of the subscriber, sheriff of the county of Essex, at public auction at the Adirondack Hotel in the town of Chesterfield, in the county of Essex, on Monday the 2d day of May next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, all that certain piece or parcel of land lying and being in the town of Chesterfield, county of Essex and State of New York, to wit: a part of lot seventeen (17 in the twelve thousand acre location granted to Zepheniah Platt and others, and bounded as follows, viz: on the east by the west line of the road leading from Keeseville to Essex, on the south by a lot occupied October 18, 1836, by Mark Lafontain, on the west by land owned October 18, 1836, by Martin I. Vanderworker, and on the North by the South line of the land owned by said Vanderworker, Oct. 18, 1836, leading from said road west, to land lying in rear of the above described lot. Said lot is supposed to be eight rods in front and twenty rods in rear, and to contain one acre of land, and is known as the Dennis Breau tavern stand in Chesterfield aforesaid.

C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff,
By J. C. FINCH, Deputy.
Keeseville, March 19, 1853. 462-7w

BANK DEPARTMENT.

ALBANY, Jany 26th, 1823.

NOTICE is hereby given in pursuance of the Statute made and provided, that all the circulating notes issued by the McIntyre Bank, at Adirondac, (an individual bank) must be presented at the office of the superintendent of the Banking Department of the State of New York, for payment within two years from the date of this notice, or the funds deposited for the redemption of the said notes will be given up to the said bank.

D. B. St. John, Supt.
Two years from Jany. 26, 1853 459-2y

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

NOTICE is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John Cummings, late of North Hudson, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to PETER B. WALKER, one of the administrators of the said deceased, at his dwelling house in North Hudson, his place of doing business, on or before the 25th day of May next, that being at least Six Months after the day of the first publication of this notice. Dated this 15th day of November, A. D. 1852.

ABIGAIL CUMMINGS, Administratrix.
PETER B. WALKER, } Administrators.
DAVID DAY.

Legal.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS John McDermid, then of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York, by a certain Mortgage, dated December 18th, 1850, and with the power of sale therein contained duly recorded in the office of the Clerk of Essex County, in Vol. P of Mortgages on pages 434, and 435, on the 21st day of December, 1850, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to secure the payment of fifty dollars and interest, did duly Mortgage to John McGuire of the second place, certain premises described in said mortgage as follows:—All those two certain building lots, lying and being in the village of Keeseville, County of Essex and State of New York. The first of said lots is bounded and described as follows: situated on the Port Kent Hill, in the said village, on a street to be known and designated as back street, and measuring on said street fifty five feet in front and the same in rear and extending back one hundred feet—to be known and designated as lot number (4).—The second of the aforesaid lots is situated also in the said village of Keeseville, on the street known and designated as McDermid street, to commence on the said street one hundred and fifty feet from the line of the Port Kent road and to be sixty feet in front on said street and run back to James McGuires land be the said lots more or less. And whereas the said Mortgage was by an instrument in writing dated February 18th, 1853, duly assigned by the said John McGuire to Michael Keenan, jr. of Chesterfield, Essex County. On which Mortgage there is claimed to be due at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $57.67. And default having been made in the payment of said $57.67 and no proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the same, or any part thereof: now therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage and of the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgaged premises will be sold at public auction on the 23d day of May next at 10 o'clock A. M. at the Adirondac Hotel, in the village of Keeseville, Essex County.

MICHAEL KEENAN, Jr.
Assignee of Mortgagee.
JOHN McELROY, Atty. 460 13w
Dated. Keeseville February 26th, 1853.

SUPREME COURT,

GURDON GRANT,
agst.
ELENOR CRARY,
ISAAC HEUSTIS,
JAMES GIBSON,
JOHN SAVAGE and
JOSEPHUS FITCH,

In pursuance of a decree or judgment of the Supreme Court made in the above cause, will be sold under the direction of the subscriber, Sheriff of the County of Essex, at public auction at the Adirondac Hotel, in the town of Chesterfield, in the County of Essex, on Monday, the 4th day of April next at ten o'clock in the forenoon; all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land lying and being in the town of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York lying between the Augur Pond and Butternut Pond, beginning at the south west corner at a pine tree marked 1795, thence running north ninety-five chains, a little north of the south end of Augur Pond, thence east one degree north, twenty-five chains to the west line of lot No. three, thence south along the west line of lots No. three, four, five and eight to the corner of the last mentioned lot, thence south forty-five degrees west to Butternut Pond, thence along the north end of said Pond to the first place of beginning, containing two hundred and sixteen acres of land be the same more or less; which said lot of land is part of two tracts of land, formerly granted by the said State to John Williams deceased by letters patent, and is now conveyed subject to the conditions and reservations made by Anthony J. Blanchard his heirs and assigns in his conveyance thereof to one William Bromley to overflow as much of the said land at any time or times whatsoever as may be reasonably necessary convenient and useful for the accommodation of any Mills or Waterworks which are now or hereafter may be built or erected on the waters of the said Augur Pond, or the outlet thereof by the heirs or assigns of the said Anthony J., hereby retaining the same reservations as is contained in the said William's deed of the said premises to one Thomas McLean.

Dated the 19th day of Febuary, 1853.
C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff.
By J. C. FINCH, Deputy Sheriff.
SAML. AMES, Atty. 459-w7

MORTGAGE SALE

DEFAULT has been made in the payment of the debt secured by a certain mortgage, dated the 21st day of October, 1847, executed by William Galusha and Sophia, his wife, then of Wilmington, in the County of Essex, State of N. Y., to Uriah D. Mihills of Keene, in the county and state aforesaid, and recorded in the office of the Clerk of Essex county, in volume N. of Mortgages, pages 283 and 284, on the 28th day of December, 1847, at nine o'clock, A. M. Said mortgage was duly assigned by said Mihills to Willard Bell, January 14th, 1848, and by said Bell duly assigned to Reuben Patridge, January 30, 1849, and by said Patridge duly assigned to M. Finch, Amos Avery and Charles Malbone, assignees of Reuben Sanford, January 1st, 1849. who are now the owners of said mortgage. There is claimed to be due on said mortgage, at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $167,93. Now therefore, notice is hereby given that the premises described in said mortgage, will, by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, be sold at public auction, at the Adirondac Hotel, in Keeseville, in said county, on the 8th day of June next, at 1 o'clock, P. M.

Said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage as follows: All that certain piece or parcel of land situate in the town of Wilmington, in the county of Essex, being a part of lot No 34, of Mallory's grant, bounded as follows: beginning at a stake and stones standing on the North line of the Sampson lot, 141 rods from the centre of the road leading from the Carpenter house to Blish and Burdick's forge, being the South-West corner of Ephraim French's land, and running East on said line to the West line of said grant, thence North on the line of said grant to the centre of the road leading from Sanford's to St. Armand, thence running Easterly in the centre of said road to a stake and stones, being the North-West corner of a piece of land occupied by David Hatch, thence South 42 degrees, West six rods to the South bank of Mill Brook, thence Easterly along the South bank of said brook 80 rods to a stake and stones being the South-East corner of said Hatch lot, thence North 35 degrees East to the centre of said road, thence Easterly in the centre of said road to the North-West corner of the Carpenter lot, thence South on the line of said Carpenter lot to the South-west corner of said lot, thence East on the line of said lot to the brook, thence up the brook in the centre thereof to a point ten rods below the sawmill, and thence on the South bank of said brook on the line of Ephraim French's lot to the North-west corner thereof, thence South 43 degrees west on the line of said French's lot 126 rods to the place of beginning, containing seventy-five acres, be the same more or less.

M. FINCH,
AMOS AVERY,
CHAS. MALBONE.
FINCH & HARWOOD, Atty
Dated March 12, 1853

Medicine.

THE WONDER OF THE WORLD.

DEVINES' COMPOUND

PITCH LOZENGE;

A sure and pleasant Remedy for Colds, Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, and if lungs enough are left to sustain life, A CERTAIN CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, safe for the infant or the invalid, in any stage of weakness.

"The statements that consumption cannot be cured, has destroyed more lives than the disease itself."—[Dr. Warren Read the following, which to a candid mind places this "Great Remedy," like Cæsar's wife "above suspicion."

TO THE PUBLIC!

We, the undersigned, citizens of Lee, Mass., are acquainted with Mr. Devines, the Proprietor and Manufacturer of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge and from what we know of it ourselves and have learned from others of its beneficial effects, in cases where it has been used, give it as our opinion that it is a valuable remedy in diseases for which it is recommended and is worthy of public confidence. A. G. Hulburt, Leonard Church, F. G. Taylor, Wm Taylor, E. A. Bliss, S. A. Hulburt, Josephus Crafts, T. P. Eldridge.

If any individual is to be pitied, and needs sympathy, it is the consumptive—always expecting to get well, and yet the painful evidence of decay almost "makes the inner soul shrink with the outer flesh"

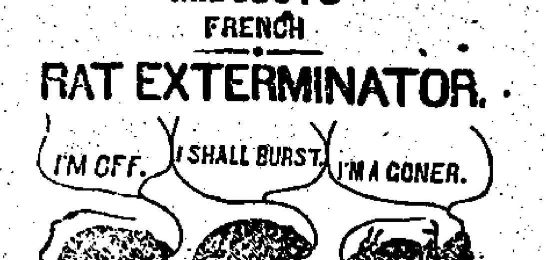
"Some bloom as roses bloom, and live as roses live,
A single morning space !"

While others in more mature life—by some imprudence and a slight cold neglected—in the hectic flush—the painful cough.

"The prints of their departing steps appears."

BUT HE EISHOPE! Mr. Wm. Devines, the originator and manufacturer of the Pitch Lozenge, under Providence, was raised to perfect health by the use of these Lozenges alone, after he was pronounced by his physician to be almost dying with consumption.

This fact is generally known in Berkshire County and is the neighborhood talk, and wonder in Lee, and in Great Barrington, Mass.



From Dr. Brown, of Lee, Mass.

This certifies that I have made use of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge for cold and cough, and found immediate relief. Therefore I would recommend it to the public as being a safe and sovereign remedy. H. C. BROWN.
Lee, October 28, 1851.

Sold wholesale at Albany, by Wm. A. Wharton & Co, Druggists, &c., U. C. Sheldon, Troy, Spencer & Nichols, Whitehall, Hammonds & Co., Crownpoint, W. G Lyon, Essex, Reynolds & Tofts and I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. Orders addressed Wm Devin s, Jamaica L. I. 436 1y Wm. RENNE, Traveling Agent

---

M. DUBOYS'
FRENCH
RAT EXTERMINATOR.

THIS PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to exterminate Rats and Mice, whenever used as directed, and to leave no offensive stench on the premises cleared of these annoying vermin. Its use is perfectly safe in any place and at all times, which is not the case with ordinary remedies for this evil.

CAUTION!—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!—

The extraordinary success of M. Duboy's Rat Exterminator has excited the cupidity of some dishonest and irresponsible persons to counterfeit it. Inquire for M. Duboy's French Rat Extirminator, and take no other. Large boxes at 25 cents. LYNDE & OSBURN.

Rochester, N. Y., Sole American Agents, to whom all orders should be addressed.

For sale by Stearns & Beckwith, Peru. I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. 444 1y

Miscellaneous,

WOOLEN

MANUFACTURING

IN all its various branches, will be carried on at the Keeseville Woolen Manufacturing Establishment, in Keeseville, N. Y.

Wool of any quality will be received in exchange for Cloth,

CASSIMERES, SATINETS,
Flannels, &c.

The Goods of this Establishment for the last two years, are well known at home and in market, and needs no other recommendation than a fair trial. Farmers and others wishing to make the most out of their wool, will find it to their advantage to call and exchange their wool for cloths. They may rest assured that they will be fairly dealt with, as no goods will be offered but those that will give satisfaction.

C. Roelofson has made arrangements which will enable him to pay

Part Cash

on Exchanges, or all CASH for WOOL when Price and Quality Suit.

On hand and ready for Exchanging, Grey Cloths, Mixed Satinets—VERY HEAVY—fine and medium Cassimeres, Red Flannel—yard wide—the different kinds also for sale.

THE CUSTOM

CARDING

will be carried on as usual.

C. ROELOFSON & Co.
Keeseville, May 26th, 1852. 421tf

WOOL!! WOOL!!!

Cash Paid for Wool

BY

Matthews & Ames,

At the Old Stand of

H. & H. MATTHEWS.

Every discription of Woolen and Cotton Goods given in exchange for Wool if wanted.

HAVING increased our stock of Goods by a second Spring purchase. We feel confident that we shall be able to supply all who may wish Goods or Groceries of any description, in part, or wholly, for their Fleece, Pulled or Tag Wool.

Boots ad Shoes.

READY-MADE or MADE to ORDER,

AS good as the best, as cheap as the cheapest and warranted to fit. The undersigned begs leave to remind the public of the above facts and solicits a share of their patronage. ☞ Opposite the Bank.

JAMES ADAMS.
Keeseville, March. 1852. 111-tf

NEW STORE.

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

True Union Store.

MR. NICHOLS of Burlington, Vt., has established a branch of his stock at Essex, nearly opposite the Steam Boat Landing in Fancher's Building anjoining the Hotel, where he has on hand nearly all kinds of Dry goods and Groceries and intends keeping up a good assortment by constantly replenishing, and will sell as low as can be bought in Burlington for cash and ready pay, most kinds of Produce taken. Mr. N. flatters himself that with the facilities he has for purchasing goods both in Boston and New York, that he can compete with any store in Northern New York or Vermont. Please give us a call and see for themselves. "A penny saved is two pence earned."

WANTED 10,000 lbs. BUTTER
N. Y., June 16, 1852.

KEESEVILLE ACADEMY.

The undersigned in behalf of the Trustees of Keeseville Academy, announce that the Spring Term will commence on Monday the 14th day of February inst. They have succeeded in engaging the following corps of Teachers.

Associate Principals. { CHARLES H. DANN, Teacher of Languages and Higher Mathematics. GILBERT THAYER, Teacher of English Branches, Natural Sciences and Superintendent of the School.

Miss. NANCY C. POTTER and
Miss. MARY FERRIS Assistant Teachers.
Miss. ELLEN M. FISHER Teacher of Music.
Good Board and Rooms in the Village.

TERMS:

Common English Branches	$3 00 per quarter.
Higher " Branches	1 00 extra "
Book keeping	1 50 " "
Latin and Greek, each	1 00 " "
French, Italian and German, each	1 09

Tuition is not charged for more than two of the above extras

Music Instrumental	$10 00 per quarter.
" Vocal	1 00 " "

For French, Italian or German, taken as single branches, the charge will be 3 00 "

THAYER will give especial attention to young gentlemen and Ladies expecting to engage in teaching.

Oliver Keese
Jacob D. Kingsland } Com. of
John Mattocks Trustees.
Keeseville Feb. 14, 1853.

Miscellaneous.

New Goods! Nw Good!

—AT—

NICHOLS' CASH STORE,

150 Church street,

BURLINGTON, VERMONT,

HAVING just Purchased in New York and Boston, a large stock of Goods of all kinds we now offer them for sale, and those who are in want of goods in our line will save money by calling on us before purchasing. We are confident we have the largest stock of goods ever brought into Burlington at one time; we were induced to buy largely in consequence of the low prices of many kinds of goods, particularly dress goods of almost every kind.

We have a full stock of everything usually kept in a dry good store; Also West India goods and groceries, a very large stock of Teas and Sugars low by chest and cask. Also at cost to clear them off Paper Hangings, Crockery and glass Ware and looking glasses.

CARPETING, AT THE CARPET WARE HOUSE.

BURLINGTON, VT.

Received this day and now opening 50 pieces of all grades, the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three Ply, Superfine, fine and common Ingrain and Venetian, all Wool. Cotton and Cotton and Wool; Also, all the different qualities of Stair Carpeting, Straw Matting, Oil Cloth, Drugetts, Crumb Cloths, Hearth Rugs, Door Matts, &c., very cheap.

Burlington, Nov. '52. 446

FAMILY GROCERIES.

A larg and choice assortment of Sugars, Teas, Oils, Molasses, Pork, Fish, Fine and coarse Salt, Camphene, Soap and Candles, Brooms, Pails, Willow Waggons, Cradles, Flavoring Extracts, Cat, Sups, all kinds Toys, New Years and Christmass presents, Confectionaries, Nuts, Bird Seed, &c., &.

The above goods are offered on the usual terms, at the lowest prices. Let those wishing to buy examine fer themselves.

100 Barrels Genessee Flour,

FRESH Ground for sale at,
REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

40 Barrels Sugars.

CRUSHED, granulated Muscavado and Coffee Sugars at REYNOLDS & TUFTS,

Green & Black Teas.

40 CHESTS and Cattys choice Old Hyson, Young Hyson and fine Oolong Teas cheaper than any in town at
REYNOLDS & TUFTS.
Keeseville. Nov. 18, 1852. 446

New Clothing Store.

WE, the undersigned, have made arrangements with one of the best tailors in the country, to manufacture clothing for us of every description, consisting of overcoats, sacks, dress and frock coats, pants, vests, overalls and boys cloths, together with all kinds of under garments, which are made after the most improved styles, and for workmanship and durability cannot be excelled.

In addition we offer a large assortment of fine

Fashionable Clothing,

made by tailors in New York, that for fitting even Genio C. Scott, in his palmiest days was not a circumstance.

We would also inform the public that it is to be sold by wholesale or retail at very low figures for cash, and for quantity and cheapness is far in advance of any other concern in Northern New York. A comparison with the trade, both in prices and quantity is particularly requested.

In connection with the above we would call the attention of the community to our stock of

Fancy & Staple Dry Goods,

of every variety; also, hats, caps and furs, paper hangings, window shades, hardware and groceries, rifles and shot guns, amunition, &c., &c. Trunks and valises, carpet bags, whips and lashes, stone ware, and every description of goods that are wanted or can be found in the country. Don't forget

No. 1000, Main Street,

Keeseville, opposite the Adirondac Hotel.
BOYNTON & SMITH.
January 20 1853.

MATTHEWS & AMES,

(SUCCESSORS TO H. & H. MATTHEWS,)

DEALERS IN

Tin, Sheet Iron, Copper, Japan and BRITANNIA WARE,

together with a large and well selected assortment of

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

which they will sell by the piece or package, at a small advance from cost. Also, a general assortment of

YANKEE NOTIONS

And Fancy Articles,

suitable to the Pedlars Trade, which they will sell low for cash.

☞ All kinds of barter taken in exchange for Goods.
Keeseville, April 17, 1852. 415

New and Cheap Goods

E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Have just received from New York and Boston one of the best assortments of

FALL AND WINTER GOODS

ever exhibited in Keeseville.

Among their stock of DRY GOODS will be found a beautiful assortment of Wool, and Cotton, and wool d'Laines, and Cashmeres, both plain and printed, of all qualities, and prices from one shilling to one Dollar per yard. French Merinoes, Paramattas, Alpaccas Lyonese Cloth, English and American Prints, Ginghams, Flannels of all kinds, a superior quality of Bay State Flannel of different colors, Wool Plaids, Tickings, Stripes &c. &c., Shawls—a large and splended assortment of Bay State, Empire State, Waterloo, Scotch Plaid, and Printed WOOL SHAWLS, at prices much lower than ever before offered in this market. A beautiful assortment of Bonnet Silks and Velvets, with trimmings of all kinds. Also dress silks and Satins, Gloves, Hosiery &c.

READY MADE CLOTHING

Of all kinds, sold very cheap, also, Cloths, Broad Cloths Plain and fancy Cassimeres, Black Doe Skins, Satinets Silks and Worsted. Vestings, Serges, &c., &c., with many other articles too numerous to mention. 'Tis unnecessary to add that all the above goods will be sold at very low prices. Only remember their motto 'quick sales and small profits.' Please call and examine Goods and prices, and satisfy yourselves. Opposit the Adirondac Hotel.

Keeseville Oct. 1822.

CASH,

AND THE

Highest Market Price

WILL BE PAID FOR WOOL, AT THE WOOLEN FACTORY, by
C. F. ROELOFSON & Co.
Keeseville, July 8th, 1852. 427tf

CORLIES & DECKER,

(Successors to J. N. & E. W. Corlies,)

—WHOLESALE. DEALERS IN—

TEAS,

Agents for the Sale of

Manufactured Tobacco,

192 Pearl Street,
Near Maiden Lane, 430 New York.

Miscellany.

THE NORTHERN

New York Mutual

INSURANCE COMPANY,

Plattsburgh, Clinton Co., N. Y.

Capital, 100,000.

THIS Company is organized under the General Insurance Law of the State of New York, with a sound, reliable capital, and offers the following superior inducements:

1. The safer kinds of property are separated entirely from the more hazardous, affording the advantages of two distinct companies, with the expense of but one.
2. The first class, or Farmer's Department, consists of Farm-houses, Farm buildings and their contents and detatched dwellings and their contents in villages, when unexposed by more hazardous buildings,
3. The second class or Merchant's Department, consists of exposing dwellings, stores, merchandize and property not deemed specially hazardous.
4. Each class pays its own losses and thus securing equal justice and proportional rate to both.
5. Not more than $3,000 of the first class, or more than $2.600 of the second class, will be taken in one risk, nor any number of risks so contiguous as probably to subject the Company to a loss of over $3.000 at any one fire; thereby saving it from heavy and ruinous losses.
6. In taking surveys of property, the agent will be the agent of the company, and the company be responsible for the correctness of all surveys made by its agents.
7. Any one insured, may at any time surrender his policy and withdraw from the company by paying his proportion of the losses and expense up to the date of such surrender.
8. Applications will take effect at noon of the day on which they are made (unless a different day is directed by the applicant,) thus relieving the party from anxiety and suspense.
9. The company no have two-thirds clause, but will pay all loss and damage not exceeding the amount insured.
10. In case of difference of opinion in settlement of losses, the company will submit the same to arbitration in the county where the loss occurs, the claimant choosing one, the company one, and the two arbitrators another.
11. Each person insured in the company becomes a member and will be entitled to a participation of the profits, if any surplus should accrue, not required for the payment of losses.
12. This company will be responsible for losses by fire caused by lightning.
13. This company will take no risks in cities.

☞ The Directors return their acknowledgements to the public for ther readiness in aiding the organization of this company, and will endeavor to make it a safe and reliable institution, affording protection from the ravages of fire, at reasonable rates, and with certainty of payment in case of loss.

DIRECTORS.

James Farr, Fort Ann, Washington co; Olif Abel, Whitehall, do; Walter Geer, Glen's Falls, Warren co; Pelatiah Richards, Warrensburgh, do; Wm. E. Calkins, Ticonderoga, Essex co.; John Horton, Columbia Vilage, St. Lawrence co.; Thomas H. Conkey, Canton, do.; Amasa C. Moore, Samuel F. Viles, Henry G. Hewitt, Jacob H. Holt, John Boynton, Peter S. Palmer, Cornelius Halsey, Z. C. Platt, W. W. Hartwell, Benjamine Gilman, George Moore, Plattsburgh, Clinton Co,

OFFICERS.

SAMUEL F. VILES, Presikent;
WM. W. HARTWELL, Vice President;
ZEPHENIAH C. PLATT, Treasurer;
GEORGE MOORE, Secretary;
I. C. MIX. and
R. G SWINBRN, General Agents.
JAMES B. DICKINSON, Agent Ausable Forks.
Plattsburgh, Dec. 4th, 1852. 44 tf

DRY-GOODS!

CARPETS AND OIL-CLOTHS,
at uncommonly low prices
may be had at

G. V. S. Quackenbush's,

202 River and 9 State Streets. Troy.

MY Stock of Dry-Goods is unsurpassed in Variety and extent, consisting of every class of goods from the lowest priced Muslins and Prints, to the finest

BROAD-CLOTHS AND CASSIMERES,

or the richest and most expensive styles of Silks and Shawls and of each denomination of goods.

I have an almost endless variety of patterns of all the different qualities.

Of Carpets and Oil Cloths I have a splendid assortment consisting of a great variety of new and beautiful patterns of Velvets, Tapestry, and Brussels Carpets—

Also

Three Ply, Tapestry-Ingrains, and Ingrains of all qualities and so varied in styles that all may here find something to suit their fancy.

Oil Cloths of all Widths and Qualities

and of the newest and most desirable patterns, Rugs, in great variety.

STAIR CARPETS, STAIR RODS, DRUGGETS, MATTS,

and Matting of every Style and Quality.

A correct diagram being furnished Oil-Cloths will be cut to fit rooms or halls without extra charge, and Carpets made in a superior manner at the lowest rates.

Those wishing to purchase either Dry-Goods or Carpets will find that my assortment is unequaled, and that my prices are uncommonly low.

492 G. V. S. QUACKENBUSH,
202 River Street, Troy.

RUTLAND & BURLINGTON Rail Road.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after Monday, Nov. 1st, trains will run as follows, viz:

FOR BOSTON, NEW YORK AND INTERMEDIATE PLACES.

LEAVE
Burlington at	8,15	A. M.,	4,15	P. M.
Vergennes	9.00	"	5,00	"
Middlebury	9,42	"	5,35	"
Brandon	10 20	"	6.18
Rutland	11,00	"	AR. 7,00
			L. 6,30	A. M.
Cuttingville	11.25	"	6,55	"
Ludlow	12 05	P. M.	7,36	"
Proctorsville	12,16	"	7,42	"
Chester	12,40	"	8,10	"
Arriving
Bellows Falls	1,15	"	8.46	"
Boston	7,00	"	1,00	P. M.
LEAVE
Boston	7 45	A. M.	12,00	M.
Bellows Falls	12 10	"	5 15	P. M.
Chester	12.40	P. M.	5,50	"
Proctorsville	107	"	6,17	"
Ludlow	1,15	"	6,25	"
Cuttingville	1 52	"	7,05	"
Rutland	AR. 2,15	"	AR. 7 30	"
	L. 3,00	"	L. 7,45	"
Brandon	3 38	"	8 25	"
Middlebury	4,25	"	9,54	"
Vergennes	5,08	"	9,37	"
Arriving
Burlington	5,55	"	10,20	"

CONNECT AT BURLINGTON,

with the Steamers for PLATTSBURGH and MONTREAL RAIL ROADS, and with the VERMONT and CENTRAL and VERMONT and CANADA RAIL ROADS, for the East, North, and West, via CHAMPLAIN and ST. LAWRENCE, and the OGDENSBURGH RAIL ROADS.

CONNECT AT RUTLAND

with the Trains of Western Vermont, Rutland and Washington and Saratoga and Washington Rail Roads, for New York, Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Buffalo and the West.

CONNECT AT BELLOWS FALLS

with the Trains of the Cheshire, Vermont Valley, and Sullivan Rail Roads for Windsor, Boston, Worcester, Lowell Springfield, Hartford, New Haven, and New York.

Fares are less when Tickets are purchased at the Offices than when paid in the Cars.

Burlington, Oct. 25, 1852. JOHN S. DUNLAP,
445 Superintendent.

EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR.

50 BARRELS made from Pure Genesee Wheat at the lowest price at
REYNOLDS & TUFTS
Dec. 14, 1852.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Essex County Republican.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING BY JONATHAN TARBELL, Editor and Proprietor. TERMS, $2 Per Year---$1,50 in Advance.

VOLUME XIII. NO. 47. KEESEVILLE, N. Y., APRIL 9, 1853. WHOLE NUMBER 466.

[Published by Requst of the Author.]

Sketches of the Town of North-Elba, Essex Co.,

CHPTER I.

Situation.—Surface.—Rivers and Streams—Lakes.—Ponds.—Swamps.—Soil and Timber.—Climate.—Zoology, Mineralogy, and Geology.

This town is situated in latitude 44 degrees 15 minutes north, and longitude 3 degrees east, from the city of Washington. Its surface consists of hills and vallies, alluvial flats and gentle acclivities, and for its boundary on the north, east, and south, the hills ascend to lofty mountains. The rivers and streams are numerous, but small.—Saranac River, the largest in size, passes through the north-west corner of the town, and has its source from a chain of lakes by that name in the southern portion of Franklin Co., and empties into Lake Champlain at Plattsburgh. The navigation of this stream has been recently improved, by an act of the Legislature, making an appropriation for that purpose, which improvement enables lumbermen to drive logs from the head waters of those lakes to the mouth of the river, bringing into market a large quantity of a superior quality of prime lumber, which without the aid of the State could not have been made available.

The next river in point of size is the west branch of the Ausable, which has its source among the Adirondac mountains, in the southern portion of this town. The general direction of this stream is northoast, and empties into the east branch of the Ausable river at Ausable Forks. This stream is generally rapid and embraces, in this town, several valuable water privileges.

Chub River, the next in size, has its source on the western base of a low range of mountains, west of the head waters of the stream last mentioned. This stream is also fed by the waters which discharge from Lake Placid and Bennet Pond, which are situated in the north, or north-east part of the town, and empties into the west branch of the Ausable, about three miles from the east line of the town, and contains also several valuable water privileges.

Cold River, also, has its source among the Adirondac mountains, in the south-west part of the town, and flows westwardly and empties into the Raquette River, in Franklin county, about a mile below Long Lake

Cole Brook, the next in size, has its source in the west part of the town, and flows north west and empties into the Saranac river. The other brooks and rills are too numerous to mention; all are of soft pure water.

Lake Placid is the only lake situated in this town. It lies pleasntly at the south-west base of Whiteface mountain, in the north-east part of the town, and has formerly been supposed to be nearly one half in the town of St Armand; but on actual survey it proves that that town has no claim to this beautiful sheet of water. It extends south west about four miles from the head, and is partially divided into two laks called the "East and West Lakes." These lakes are connected by straits, or, perhaps, more properly channels, which pass among the islands, and between them and the main land. These islands are three in number, two of which contain from 600 to 1,000 acres each. The other is situated near the head of the lake, and does not contain more than fifteen or twenty acres. The surface of these islands is uneven, timbered with hemlock, spruce, fir, pine, cedar, white and yellow birch, beech and cherry. The entire width of the lake (including both parts) is about three miles. This lake formerly contained a large quantity of salmon trout, some of which weighed 18 or 20 pounds; but recently they are growing quite scarce, their average weight not exceeding a pound or a pound and a half each.

At the south west extremity of the East Lake, is connected there a pond called "Paradox Pond." It is connected by a narrow channel some two feet wide, which constantly flows from the lake to the pond some two or three minutes, and then all is calm for a few seconds, when the current is reversed, for about the same length of time. This pond has no inlet or outlet save the one running to the lake. Other ponds are numerous, but in general small, and of hardly sufficient importance to deserve a seperate notice in this sketch.

Swamps are generally neither numerous nor extensive, and with few exceptions, when cleared and cultivated, may become excellent tillable land.

The soil varies in different parts of the town, according to the nature and composition of the rocks, but is generally of a dark rich loam, excepting a small part of the town which is bordering on a sandy loam. Bordering the rivers and streams are considerable tracts of rich interval lands, mostly of an alluvial soil. The natural timber of these intervals is elm, black ash, fir, spruce, cedar, tamarac, white birch, black birch, cherry, and occasionally white pine.

Proceeding back from the river, in some parts of the town, after ascending a gentle acclivity may be found a table land usually pretty free from stone, and easy to cultivate. The soil is a dark loam, timbered with sugar maple, white and red beach, black and yellow birch, cherry birch, hardback, elm, black cherry and spruce. And occasionally may be found, on this table land, a higher elevation, timbered with all the foregoing, and white ash and basswood besides. In other parts of the town, proceeding back from the river, after ascending a moderate elevation, may be found extensive flats called "Plains."

The soil of the plain land is generally considered inferior to either the interval or hardwood table land, being of a sandy loam, ligth and easy to cultivate, but generally not so productive. The natural timber is tamarac, spruce, cherry, white maple, birch and in some parts of the town near the Saranac river, the pluin land is covered with a heavy growth of white pine.

All parts of the town, are sufficiently fertile to amply reward the husbandman for his labors; and the man who is industrious and saving seldom fails of having his barns filled with hay and grain, and his cellar with excellent vegatables.

The climate does not vary much from that of other towns in the same latitude.—Situated in the middle of the northern temperate zone, it is subject to considerable degrees of both heat and cold, and the changes of the temperature are frequently very sudden. Frost frequently appears in some parts of the town earlier than in most other towns in the county, but when it leaves its mark over the entire town it seldom fails of accomplishing the same work in every town in the county.

Winds vary according to the position of the hills and valleys in the different parts of the town. West, south and N W winds prevail to a greater or less extent in every part of the town. East wind is common in some parts of the town, while in other parts wind from that direction is comparatively of rare occurence. A long continuation of south wind usually brings rain at any season of the year. The quantity that falls here does not, probably, vary much from that in other towns in the county. There is, however, a greater quantity of rain on the mountains which partially surround this town, that on any cultivated land on either side.

Snow falls to a greater depth here than in the Lake towns; and not unfrequently the quantity is so great as to render the mountains very difficult of access. It generally lays on the ground from the last of November till April. The heaviest falls of snow usually come from the East. Thunder-storms frequently appear from the first of April till the last of October, though usually not extremely severe. They generally approach from the west, north west, or south west. It frequently happens that they appear from the west with all the marks of a violent storm over the entire town, but before it reaches us it is seperated, and passes around on the mountains to the north and south, while in the valley between all is calm and serene. In the summer of 1847 we witnessed one of this character. The day previous to the storm was clear, hot and sultry; not a cloud was seen, nor a breeze of air was moving till after the departing rays of the setting sun.—Twilight appeared in the East, and spread its dusky mantle across the horizon to the west. When we stood gazing upon the wonderful works of nature, not a sound was heard, save the distant roar of the river as it dashed along from rock to rock; and the sweet notes of the whippoorwill, as she mingled her song with the mild zephyr of evening which gently flowed among the trees. While thus intent we heard the low but distinct murmur of distant thunder. We looked to the west whence came the sound, and to our suprise saw a thick black cloud arising which seemed to threaten a violent storm. We watched for a few moments with interest and anxiety. The thunder grew nearer and louder; the lightning flashed almost incessantly, but ere the thick mass of clouds, accompanied by terrific peals, and the vivid lightning, had rushed over us the clouds were seporated and the shower divided, a part passed to the mountain to the north, and the rest to the lofty Adirondacs, while in the valley between, the moon and stars shone in their full glory.

The principal native animals that rove through the forests, and abound about the waters of this town, are the moose, deer, bear, wolf, panther, woolverine, lynx, beaver, otter, fox, martin, muskrat, and mink.

In relation to the geology of the town it has scarcely been sufficiently tested to enable the writer to do justice to this part of his sketch. We shall therefore make but a few remarks upon it, and introduce our readers to a Geologist, who is better qualified to treat it.

But little is known in relation to the location and value of silver mines. But it is nevertheless evident that there exists some where in the interior of this town a valuable mine of this kind. It was discovered some thirty years ago by a gentleman by the name of Scott, who, while travelling in the woods, discovered what he supposed to be a ledge or mass of rocks, a part of which from its singular appearance attracted his attention. On examination he found it to be some kind of ore, and picked some up to carry home and started as he supposed in that direction. He soon, however, discovered his mistake and found himself lost in the woods. He wandered around to the river, and followed it down to the road and found his way out. He tested part of the ore in his own fire, and it melted and seperated from the dross very easily. The remainder was sent south to a gold smith, who on examination pronounced it to be silver ore of a superior value. After ascertaining its valno, he tried to find the mine again but was never after able to discover it.

R. G. Scott, Esq., a son of the gentleman who discovered this ledge, and now a resident of this town, has also spent considerable time in trying to make some discovery of this rich treasure, but has failed in finding anything of it. He distinctly remembers the time his father brought the ore home, and seeing it tested in their own fire, and also when the remainder was sent south for trial. He also recollects seeing the silver when it was sent back, with the communication that the ore was of a superior quality.

Two or three mines of iron ore have been discovered in this town, which appear to be extensive. These mines have never been tested in a suitable manner to ascertain their true value, but have been pronounced by geologists to be of the same quality as the Adirondac ore, from which cast steel is manufactured that will compete with the entire world, it having drawn the first medal at the World's Fair in London, in 1851.

Being unable to do justice to this part of our sketch, we are indebted for a further account to Rev. C. R. Pattee of this town, who will describe in our next its mineralogy and geology. T. S. N.

Infantile parties and Infantile precocity.

The New York correspondent of the Newark Daily Advertiser speaking of a new style of soirees, called Infants parties, says of them:

And now these pleasant enjoyments are not as formerly restricted to people in their teens; but wisely extended to—not those who are out of them, but to tiny pretty creatures, who have reached them. I lately saw a card of invitation from a lady on the 5th Avenue not quite two years of age to another miss of a little past one, requesting the pleasure of her company at a conveazazione in seven days thereafter. Thirty of both sexes were to be invited of about the same blooming age. I have not heard what took place at the meeting of these rose buds, for the time appointed has not come; but we have no doubt, diminutive as they are, that they will blow out pretty handsomely—they would not be New Yorkers if they did not. Each will go accompanied by an adjutant, of course, to attend to necessary details. As to the conversation, none of them being able to talk, as yet, it will probably rise no higher than that of their older brothers and sisters on similar occasions.

We have been favored with an answer from one of the misses, declining the invitation on the ostensible grounds stated in the note, which I am at liberty to send you; —it will be found annexed. But I am privately assured, that the reason of declination really was that the little lady had lost a favorite kitten lately, and was out of spirits. Going into company so soon after such an event was thought to be improper, even if she had not bruised the tip of her nose in falling into the wash bowl.

My Dear Josephine;—Please accept my compliments and regrets, that in consequence of my Mamma's prudential notions about going into society before they are out of their teens—(that is, they must be two years old, you know)—I must forego the pleasure of a romp in your ma's fine parlors. Only to think of the fun of rolling and tumbling, fumbling and crumbling, smashing and crashing all the pretty things. I declare it is too bad! when in all my life long, I have never had so rare a chance to exhibit my accomplishments that I should be prevented because I am not considered to be out of leading strings. Ridiculous! when I have run alone ever since I was a year old—last September. Then she thinks I require so much attention and a constant looking after; but it is no such thing. I don't want so much looking to. I want to do just as I have a mind to; and then I don't cry, nor kick, nor scratch.

My mamma says I have a remarkable talent for mischief. Now what do you think she calls mischief? Why just the throwing of my grandpapa's miniature into the water, and washing the paint of his dear old face, which has not been washed for at least fifty years before. If that was wrong, why do they wash my face every day, I should like to know? I don't like it at all, and they are aware of it, I assure you.

I think this is a very strange world. I don't understand half the things in it, though I am esteemed such a paragon of wisdom and cunning, that my fond parents are sometimes afraid, that I know to much for this world, and so will bid adieu to it and them, and betake myself to more enlightened regions, where genial spirits are waiting my angelic presence. But, dear Josephine, I fear I am getting what is rather high flown; so I will just stop and bid you goop bye.

P. S.—Is this not rather a long epistle, for so short an acquaintance? if so, pray excuse it. I hope to learn curtness and pertness, and all that by and by.

☞ There is said to be a rumor current in Washington, that Gen. Pierce held substantially the following conversation with an applicant for an important office in this State:—

Applicant—Mr. President, my friends have pressed my name for the office of U. S. District Attorney. I would be happy to receive that appointment at your hands.

President—General, you have, I believe, been an active Democrat for many years. Who did you vote for for President in '48?

Applicant—Why, sir, I felt bound to go, with my associates, for Martin Van Buren.

President—That gentleman was not the Democratic candidate. I cannot favor your appointment. Good morning, sir!

This was a dash of cold water not looked for; and the discomfitted gentleman retired to congratulate the troop of office seekers similarly situated.

New Discovery.—A man who acts in the capicity of engine and engineer in the Sentinel office has discovered a new method of removing grease spots from clothe. Having a very large grease spot on his coat, he saturated it well with camphine and set it on fire, and let it burn till it went out, when the grease was entirely removed—and so was the cloth.

Lumber-Women.—The Savannah News is credibly informed that a company of twelve women and girls, in Taylor county, near the line of the Muscogee Railroads in that State, are felling the largest [illegible] the forest, sawing them into blocks [illegible] country as into a Medean caldron, which they should emerge with [illegible] ving and drawing shingles for ma[illegible]

Life in New York; or Broadway in Full Dress.—Broadway at half past two o'clock on a fine afternoon! Did any one even in the days of the Regency ever behold such a comic ballet! A comedy, too, the more irresistable because it is played with such inextinguishable gravity and an utter unconsciousness of its absurdity. A serious clown is much more amusing fellow than one who splits his face across with mirth at his own antics, and it is exqui-itely laughable to behold a crowd of animated jokes on nature, promenading our great thoroughfare entirely unconscious of their ludicrous effect. The business of a dandy all over the world is to remove himself from nature as far as lies in his own or his tailor's power. For this the Indian tatooes and paints. The Ethiopain elongates the lobes of his ears; the German wears padded coats, and the Parisian tight boots. The English dandy of late has not been given to lacing, or things of that sort, but he inverts nature as far as he conveniently can by wearing coats that slope out towards the bottom, making him look like a cloth pyramid, windowed all over with mother-of-pearl buttons. The Irish dandy, of a certain class, is given to little hats and big sticks. But of all the dandies that ever drew the breath of a tailor-life, from the Troglodyte of Africa to the Flaneur of the Boulevards, the strangest, oddest, most indescribable representative of the race, is the dandy beheld at half past two o'clock, P. M., on the pavement of Broadway.

The youthful scions of our wealty families are good looking, after a certain effeminate manner. They have smooth, pretty faces, but are entiecly deficient in that vigorous developement of form so necessary to the species—man. They are slender and in-kneed, and look as if they were born blase. How can it, indeed, be otherwise? They leave the cradle for the ball-room and the nurse for the dancing-master. The coral and bells are thrown aside to let the young hand grasp the billiard cue, and all those hours that an Eurepean youth spends among the fields and hedge rows, or slumbering on a healthy, because early pillow, the New York boy passes in heated rooms filled with a poisoned atmosphere, or public haunts, where doctored brandy weakens his intellect and stunts his growth. The New York youth, therefore, rarely developes into a well-grown muscular man. One would imagine that, with such defects of figure as reed-like legs, narrow chest, and high shoulders, the proper course would be to dress themselves in such easy, loose fitting garments as should render defects less perceptible and facilitate the expansion of the form. Let us see how they carry out this design. A New York boy man is very slight and girlish-looking, with delicate features, and a cheek on which there is not eve the hopes of a whisker. Therefore, he conceives it necessary to wear a very large hat, which is cocked half-fiercely, half impudently, on one side of his head, and from beneath whose heavy brim he endeavors to look old and knowing. The New York boy-man has very high shoulders; therefore, he wears the collar of his coat raising behind like a sugarloaf, concealing every vestige of neck and even head, and giving him the appearance from the back, of one of those empty suits of clothes that one sees hung together in tailors' windows, with a hat tottering on the collar of a great coat, out of which a pair of boneless trowsers dangle. A New York boy-man has very long and thin legs, curving in at the knees with an air of confirmed feebleness, therefore, he wears very narrow, short trowsers. These are particularly tight at the knee, which is his weakest point, in order to add to the length of his already unnatural long legs improved additionally by the short trowsers, he has enormously high heels on his boots, then with his hands concealed in his sleeves, out of one of which a little cane stick, apparently self supported, he totters along the pavement with an indscribable gait, comparable only to that of a monkey promenading upon a hot oven.

This is a specimen of the entire class.—For among the peculiarities of the New York dandy there is none more striking than the wonderful unanimity of taste that prevails among the race. They are all the same. As like one another as those paper men which children cut with a single snap of sissors out of a sheet folded in some cunning manner.

The ladies who rustle by us in our promenade are not quite as glaring in their peculiarities of attire as our young men.—They are too fond of bright colors, and do not attend to harmony. We saw the other day a lady of good position, with a green crape bonnet, a pink flowred silk shawl, and a light blue dress. The effect on the eye was as painful as a violent blow would have been or a sudden discord in music.—Our ladies do not suit their dresses enough to the season. White bonnets are scarcely the sort for winter wear, particularly as the modern bonnet is little more than a fiction, yielding about as much protection to the face as one of those stage hats which peasant girls wear in the Alpine regions.—However we may impugn the ladies' tastes, they are admirable when compared with those of our young men. The crowds of those strangely-attired, dehumanized boys that one meets in Broadway, with young, worn features, air of mock experience, and feeble, but carefully studied, gait, suggests very painful thoughts after the inward mirth at their absurdity has passed away. One wishes to tear off from their shoulders those odious conventional garments and clothe them in easy, manly apparel, to drive them off the dusty flags into the healthy fields, and make them play at foot-ball. To see them in bed at nine o'clock every night, and drive billiards, and parties, and brandy, from their heads for ever; in short, to cast [illegible] a natural bloom of youth and health.—N. Y. Times.

Incident of the Battle of New-Orleons.

A British officer, who was in the battle of New Orleans mentions an incident of thrilling strangeness, and one very descriptive of the Westers hunter, many of whom marched to the defence of New Orleans, as volunteers in the Army under the renowned Andrew Jackson:

We marched, said the officer, in a solid column of twelve thousand men, in direct line upon the American defences. I belonged to the staff, and as we advanced, we watched through our glasses the position and arrangemets of our enemy with that intensity an officer only feels when marching into the jaws of death, with the assurance that, while he thus offers himself as a sacrifice to the demands of his country, every action, to be successful or otherwise will be judged with the most heartless scrutiny.

It was a strange sight, that long range of cotton bales—a new material for breast-works, with the crowd of human beings behind, their heads only visible above the line of defence. We could distinctly see their long rifles laying over the bales, and the battery of Gen. Coffee directly in front, with its great mouth gaping towards us, as they waited to devour us, and the position of Gen. Jackson, with his staff around him. But what attracted our attention the most, was the figure of a tall man standing on the breast works, dressed in linsey-woolen, with buckskin leggins, and a broad brimmed felt hat, fell around his face, almost concealing his features. He was standing in one of those picturesque and graceful attitudes, peculiar to those natural men dwellers in the forest. The body rested on the leg, and swayed with a curved line upwards; the right arm was extended, the hand grasping the rifle near the muzzle, the but of which rested near the toe of his right foot, while with his hand he raised the rim of the hat from his eyes, and seemed gazing from beneath intensly upon our advancing column. The cannon of Gen. Coffee had opened upon us, and tore through our ranks with dreadful slaughter; but we continued to advance, unwavering and cool, as if nothing threatened our progress.

The roar of cannon seemed to have no effect upon the figure standing on the cotton bales, but he seemed fixed and motionless as a statue. At last he moved, threw back the hat rim over the crown with his left hand raised the rifle to his shoulder, and took aim at our group. Our eyes were riveted upon him. At whom had he levelled his piece? But the distance was so great that we looked at each other and smiled. We saw the rifle flash, and my right hand companion, as noble looking a fellow as ever rode at the head of his regiment, fell from his saddle. The hunter paused a few moments without moving the gun from his shoulder, then reloaded and assumed his former attitude. Throwing the hat-rim over his eyes, and again holding it up with the left hand, he fixed his piercing gaze upon us as if hunting out another victim.—Once more the hat rim was thrown back and the gun raised to the shoulder. This time we did not smile, but cast short glances at each other, to see which of us must die; and when again the rifle flashed, another one of us dropped to the earth. There was something most awful in thus marching on to certain death.

Gen. Coffee's battery, and thousands of musket balls playing upon our ranks, we cared not for—there was a chance of escaping unscathed. Most of us had walked upon batteries a hundred times more destructive without quailing, but to know that every time that rifle was levelled towards us, and its bullet sprang from the barrel, one of us must assuredly fall! to see the gleaming sun flash as the deadly iron came down and see it rest motionless, as if poised upon a rock, and know when the hammer struck and the sparks flew to the full primed pan, that the messenger of death drove unerringly to its goal—to know this, and still march on, was awful.

I could see nothing but the tall figure standing on the breast-work. He seemed to grow, phantom-like, higher and higher, assuming through the smoke the supernatural appearance of some great spirit. Again did he reload and discharge his rifle with the same unfailing aim; and it was with indescribable pleasure that I beheld, as we neared the American lines, the sulphurous cloud gather around us, and shut that spectral hunter from my gaze. We lost the battle; and to my mind, the Kentucky rifleman contributed more to our defeat than anything else; for while he remained to our sight, our attention was drawn from our duties, and when at last we became enshrouded in the smoke, the work was complete; we were in utter confusion, and unable to make any successful attack.

So long as thousands and thousands of rifles remain in the hands of the people, so long as men come up from their childhood able, ere down appears on their chin, to hit the centre of a mark for strike the deer at one hundred and fifty yards in the most vital point; so long as there is a great proportion of the Republic who live free as the wild indian, knowing no leader but their own choosing, knowing no law but that of right, and the honorable observances of friendly intercourse. America is unconquerable; and all the armies of the combind world though they might drive them from the sea-coast and across the Allegany Mountains, would not be able to subdue the freesouled hunter amongst the mountains and great prairies and mighty rivers of the West.

The U. S. Steamer Frigate Mississippi, Com. Perry, left the Cape of Good Hope for Japan on the 3d of February.

☞ A Chance for the Girls.—An "Englishman," a resident of Cincinatti, "40 years of age, a widower," advertises for a wife in the Boston Atlas. He says, "Any lady 23 or 30 years of age, of congenial tastes, with some of her own disposal, would find him resolved to make her happy, if love be there. Beauty of feature he cares less for than a low, soft voice."

If the "soft, low voice" should prove equal to the softness apparent in the Advertiser's head, we have no doubt a capital match might be agreed on.

POST CARDS

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

The Republican.

KEESEVILLE:
Saturday Morning April 9.

"The Union of Lakes, the Union of Lands,
The Union of States none can sever,
The Union of Hearts, the Union of Hands,
The Flag of Our UNION—Forever."

Essex County Town Elections.

[redacted] of the Gazette and his cor- [redacted]

[redacted] We refer to the Ausable House. which is one of the very best Hotels in the country. Mr. REYNOLDS and his assistants, omit nothing to render the establishment pleasant and attractive. The House is large and well arranged, and the Proprietor spares no pains to oblige and accommodate his guests."

PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.—We are indebted to Hon, Jonathan Burnett, for the Report of Mr. Vanderbilt on the amendment of the constitution, and for a statistical list of the Members and Officers of the Assembly for which he will accept our thanks.

New Temperance Guardians.

After seven or eight years silence the simon-pure-whole hog-license-democrats of Chesterfield are all of a sudden indignant that our Hotels have heretofore heen licensed and particularly the last year. This they deem a great outrage especially as it was done by a whig board, and they have not failed to indulge in suitable expressions of indignation at this unpardonable piece of whig rascality! One would think that these gentlemen had assumed the guardianship of temperance and temperance men in town and that the Gazette had become a temperance organ. The recollection, however, that the Election of the democratic ticket at the last town meeting would have assured promiscuous licenses to every "hole in the wall" in town on the democratic principle of equality, and that this desire to favor their "friends" is at the bottom of all this fuss, the illusion is dispelled. This outburst of passion may also be considered an expression of disgust at the "people," who have not discovered their peculiar fitness for office, and stubbornly refuse to allow them to take charge of the town business. That they may, however, continue to exercise a watchful, and hopeful care over town affairs, and afford an opportunity for a gradual discharge of surplus gas so as to prevent an explosion after the next town meeting, it may be well to state that the Highway Commissioners are in session every now and then, and have been for some days, and other boards of town officers will be from time to time during the year. This definite information is gratis, and we trust will be received as an earnest of our desire to have no more "concealments."

THE BURLINGTON VT. FREE PRESS has changed hands. Proff. Benedict, formerly of the University of Vt. but recently engaged in building telegraph lines, has become Editor and proprietor. He has the learning, talent and perseverance to make one of the first papers in the country. We beg leave to extend to him, though a stranger, a cordial welcome to the fraternity, and the family of Whig laborers.

Genl. Clark, the late Editor, goes to Texas as one of the Company alluded to in the following from the N. O. Picayune, where [redacted]ve hope he may meet with eminent suc[redacted]ess. With a big heart and an open hand, [redacted]owever, the mines of California would only [redacted]fford him the means to display his gener[redacted]us nature to greater effect. We bid the [redacted]General adieu with regret, yet hoping the [redacted]hange will prove to his advantage.

(From the N. O. Picayune.)

A most important bill passed the Legis[redacted]ature of Texas on the last day of the re[redacted]ent session. It it was one granting a char[redacted]er to a company to construct a railroad [redacted]rom Galveston Bay to El Paso to be com[redacted]leted within four years from the month of September next on pain of forfeiture of the [redacted]harter. I have seen no notice of the bill, [redacted]ut this, I am informed, is its character.—The managing agent in the affair was Mr. [redacted]ermond, of Hudson, and he exhibited let[redacted]ers to several of the members from Mr. [redacted]hatfield of New York, which stated that [redacted]e firm of Baring Brothers, of London, [redacted]ere the parties really applying for the [redacted]harter, and they had forty millions of dol[redacted]rs ready to invest in the road, which they [redacted]ould obligate themselves to complete [redacted]ithin 3 years from next September. They [redacted]sked for no loans or grants of land from [redacted]e State the simple right of way being all [redacted]at they required. These letters from [redacted]r. Chatfield were only to be shown to the [redacted]scertained friends of the bill, and from all [redacted]hers the secret was to be sedulously kept. [redacted]he bill passed, however, was supplemen[redacted]l to one previously adopted, chartering a [redacted]ilroad from Houston to Red River, and [redacted]avo the parties certain grants of land.

It is considered here that the Barings in[redacted]nd to commence a similar road from some [redacted]ort on the Pacific to meet this one at El [redacted]aso, and it is thought probable that appli[redacted]ation may have already been made to the [redacted]egislature of California for a charter.

From San Juan De Nicaragua.

[redacted]vasion of Foreign Territory by American Forces.—San Juan Seized by the U. S. Sloop Cyane.—The Government Resigned.—Great excitement among the citizens.

Differences had arisen between the citi[redacted]us, or Government of San Juan, and the [redacted]ransit Company. The Sloop Cyane had [redacted]en ordered to that port by the American [redacted]overnment with orders to act as his judg[redacted]ent should dictate. The city of San Juan [redacted] a government of the people, under a con[redacted]itution approved by the Mosquito King, [redacted]ecently under the Protectorate of the Brit[redacted]h Government had ordered the removal of [redacted]e Depot of the Transit Co, which was re[redacted]isted. The precise grounds on which the [redacted]emoval was ordered, and on which the or[redacted]er was resisted is not reported. Suffice it [redacted] say, that on the arrival of the Sloop [redacted]yane, Commander Hollins at once sent a [redacted]o of marines to protect the Transit Co. [redacted]d with his sloop blockaded the Bay.—[redacted] meeting of the citizens was called, a pro[redacted]st was drawn up, the city government [redacted]signed, and two Clipper Schooners were dispatched to inform the British Consul General, and the British Admiral of the West India Station of these events. Thus while the Cabinet is quarrelling on a division of the spoils it is suddenly plunged into a whirlpool, which will require extraordinary dexterity to escape with honor, justice and consistency. We shall see.

"Cant afford to take a paper."—That man chews $15 worth of tobacco, and drinks $50 worth of rum annually, and keeps two or three dogs, and as many cats.

New Cards and New Advertisments.

We commend H. H. Havens, Esq., of Crownpoint to the people of that town, and hope he may be suitably prospered.

☞ Richard Hoag calls attention to his market, and we must be permitted to add our testimony to his industry and devotion to business.

☞ Brownell & Lowry, though the work of their hands is every where to be seen, give notice of their removal to a more public place.

☞ The Crownpoint Sash, Door, Blind and Pail factory is a large and extensive establishment, giving employment to a large number of men, and making daily, hundreds of sash, doors, blinds, pails, &c. The proprietors are industrious and worthy.

UNION NURSERIES.—See the advertisement. We need only say that Mr. Battey is devoting his whole time to this subject, and that plants bought of him, which have become acclimated are far more likely to live than those imported. It is time to transplant now.

MRS. WHITTLESEY'S Magazine for Mothers and Daughters.—We have before and again earnestly commend this Magazine to every family of Mothers and Daughters.

THE SCHOOL FELLOW.—We are in receipt of the March No. of this excellent little Magazine for boys and girls, and we cordially commend it to all of them. Price $1 a year.

ARTHUR'S HOME MAGAZINE.—Those who are acquainted with his Home Gazette can judge of the Magazine. Who is not familiar with the name, and productions of T. S. Arthur? They will become as familiar as "household words."

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—Godey always has something new for the Ladies as well in literature as in its practical departments and fashions for which it is duly prized by its friends. The April number now before us fully sustains its reputation and will meet the expectations of its readers.

RE PRINTS.—The Edinburgh Review for Jany. 1853, Vol. 38, No. 1, presents the following table of contents: Bunsen's Hippolytus and his Age, Jervis's History of Corfus and the Ionian Islands, Saul of Tarsus, Hungarian Revolution, Cathedral Reform, The Indian Army, Montelembert, Mrs. Jameson's Legends of the Madonna, and The fall of the Derby Ministry.

THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW for Feby. Vol. 13, No. 2, the following: The prospects of France and the Dangers of England, Scottish Philosophy, Sunday in the Nineteenth Century, European Navigators in early times, Litton on the Church, Progressive aspects of Literature, The Universe and its Laws, The Government of the East India Company, The Legal Profession and the County Courts.

GRAHAM'S AMERICAN MONTHLY MAGAZINE.—The number for April is at hand and is one of his best numbers. The contents are rich in variety and illustration—Among many choice articles we note the following: The Pilgrims of the great St. Bernard, A day at Waterloo, The Ericsons Songs of George P. Morris, The banker and Cobler, The Hungarian Revolution, The heroism of labor, My books, &c., &c.

THE ILLUSTERATED MAGAZINE OF ART.—The number for March is before us and presents an extensive and attractive table of contents and illustrations. It is much the largest monthly in the U. S. and offered for $3 a year. The proprietors promise engravings from the first artists in Europe and America, besides a series of articles from the best writers. A, Montgomery, 17 Spruce st. N. Y.

PUTNAM'S MONTHLY.—We are pleased to acknowledge the receipt of this new, and able monthly. The "contents" for April are; New York Daguerreotyped; The Mill Pond, Mary L. Ware, Our New Livery, and other things in a letter from Mrs. Potiphar to Miss Petitoes, Life in a Canadian College, November, December, Our Own, A visit to Popocatapel, Virginia in a novel form, How they manage in Europe, The Embassador in spite of himself, The Bourbon question, Editorial notes.

I. O. OF R.—We have just issued at this office a neat pamphlet for this order containing the "Proceedings of the Nov. and Feb. sessions of Champlain Dist. Tent, No. 23, I. O. of R. held Nov. 10, 1852, and Feby. 9, 1853 at Essex Vt. and Ellenburgh, N. Y."

MONROE HALL, D. C. R.
J. S. ADAMS, D. D. R.
LOUIS FOLLETT, D. R. S.
M. CHAMBERLAIN, D. F. S.
W. H. ASHFORD, D. L.
J. T. EVEREST, } Judiciary.
T. M. MITCHELL, }
W. H. BROCKWAY, }

Whole Number of Members,		991.
" " " Tents,		21.
" " " Initiated last quarter,		133.

ICE IN LAKE CHAMPLAIN.—The ice in Lake Champlain, between this place and Rouse's Point, is said to be on an average, about 14 inches thick. This we are told is only about half as thick as it was last year at this time. A few days of sun and warm rain, would render it so weak as to be easily scattered by a few heavy winds.—[Clinton Co. Whig, Apr. 1.

A little steamer has been plying between Whitehall and Benson for several days. Several ferries are also in operation in the narrow lake. We think a few days more must give us a boat to Port Kent.

Justice in the Backwoods,

The subjoined proceedings are copied literatim et literandum from a return on file in the "Esex County Cort." They afford an amusing illustration of the scenes and incidents common to pioneers in a new country. The justice, as his return indicates, is untutored and unsophisticated, yet no doubt contains a good, true heart within, and has had the honor to represent his town on the board of Supervisors.

"James H. Pirce" is our friend James H. Pierce, a polished gentleman, a man of enterprise and business, of the firm of Pierce, Dickinson & Co., extensively engaged in the lumbering, iron and flouring business.

James H Pirce } In justice cort Before vs } David Skiff justice of the David Keney } Peace to the county cort county of Esx I the undersigned justic of the Peace Named in the Affidvit And notice of Appeal herewith Returned Do certify And Return that the Proceedings And evicence in said action Before me was as follows on 30 Day of August I issued A summons in favor of Pltf Against Defendant Returnable on the 3 Day of september At 2 oclock in the aft noon copy summon

Town of St Armand } The People of the County of Esex ss } State of new york to Any constable of said county we command you to summon David kinny to Apper before David C Skiff Esq one of our justices of the Peace of the said county on the third 3d Day of september At 2o clock in the Aft noon At his office in St Armand in said county to Answer the complaint of James H Pirce for taking and Detaining one singil harniss in a civil Action and one seyth and snarth and one hoe and willfuly Detaining the same After Being requested to give them up then And there to be exhibited to his Damage one hundred Dollars or under And have you then And there this Precept witness my hand the 30th Day of August 1852

David C skiff justice of the Peace

The Perceedings Befor me on the 3d Day of september Was As follows Partes A Per in the Action issue Join Plantif complant was As follows

James H Peroe } the Pltf complaints vs } that tho Deft has takin
David keney } from the Plf one singil harniss one scyth and snarth and one hoe it being Property which belonged to the Pltf and for which the Pltf has Demanded the saim from the Deft But the Defendant willfuly Refused to give up Any Part of said Property to the Pltf Damages in the sum of forty Dollars for which the Plf Demands gugment with costs

The Defendants Ansor Justice Cort

James H Pirce } the Defendant objects
Against } to the summons As being
David keney } in sufficient object to service of the summons And the Return thairon it Dose not show that there is enye service And moves the Just to Dismiss the suit the Dft for forther to the Plantf comcomplaint Against each and every ono of the Plaintif Alajation Says hant had en harniss of Plf nor sith nor snarth nor hoe further Answers And says he has Bot the harniss of Plf and Paid for the saim as agred with Pltf And demands gugment iu his favor Against Plf for costs I have not got the Answer just As it is I cannot mak it out sevrell has tried to Read it and coud not But I have got the substance of the Anser

The following was Ret By Request of Defendant A few Days or A short Time After I give gugment

Defendent move for A gurnment Pltf objected unless Defendant complyd The law By swearing hea had used Due Dilligence to obtain his witness to give Baill the cort informed the Defendant that it was Nnecessary that hea should have exercised Diligence to supeny his witness for the Trial that hea could tak A supeny from A nother justice the Defendant ofered to swear that hea was not Redy for the Triall the cort informd him if hea would swear to Dilligence hea could hav A gurnment the Defendant said could not swar Dilagence hea had not sepened witness Defendant could not hav A gurnment unless hea oom Plied with the Law the fact is the A Bove statement mostly conversation Between the Partys the Defendant did not ofer to give Baill As Plantif Required Partys A greed Between themselves that Deft could not have A gurnment gugment for plf damages $21 Costs 2 80 A mount $23 80.

The Story is Told.

General Franklin Pierce is President, and Marcy is not. A "Dickinson man" is appointed Collector, a "Union man" District Attorney, an out and out old hunker Marshal, an old fogy Naval Officer, a good national democrat Navy Agent, a Van Buren man Sub Treasurer, a soft shell Surveyor, and a barnburner Postmaster. Here they are:

Offices.	Appointees.	Sort of Shell.
Collector,	Daniel S. Dickinson,	Hard
Sub Treasurer,	John A. Dix,	Soft
District Attorney,	Charles O'Conor,	Hard
Marshal,	Abraham T. Hillyer,	Hard
Naval Officer,	Heman J. Redfield	Hard
Navy Agent,	Conrad Swackhamer,	Hard
Surveyor,	John Cochrane,	Soft
Post Master,	Isaac V. Fowler,	Soft

The fight between Secretary Marcy and the hard shells was on the Collectorship, and although he succeeded in excluding Augustus Schell, the appointment of Daniel S. Dickinson must be gall and wormwood to him.

We need not say that these appointments suit us to a T. The Sub Treasurer has no power, gets but a little, and has to pony up $200,000 security. We had as lief John A. Dix would have the encumbrance as any other man. The old hunkers have got the Collector, the District Attorney, the Marshal, and the Navy Agent; that is glory enough for one day. Gen. Pierce is a first rate Union man—a regular true blue—a man after our own heart—a trump!—Amen.—[Day Book.

☞ A new Comet has been discovered at the Cambridge Observatory. When first seen, it was about five degrees South and preceding the bright star Rigel.

☞ Fine Spring weather.

General News.

We have neglected to give to our readers the particulars of the recent attempt at another revolution in Italy, and at this late day we will not give any more than the general facts. The rising took place in Milan under the lead of Mazzini, the Italian patriot. Proclamations were issued, one by himself and one by Kossuth prepared for a former occasion, but so altered as to apply to that. The revolt, however, was suddenly put down. Many have been arrested and shot or imprisoned, and their property confiscated, and many others have been expelled from the country. It seems that Mazzini and Kossuth did not agree as to the propriety of the attempt at this time, and a slight misunderstanding arose between them in consequence of the alteration and use of the old Proclamation of the latter. It is said that Mazzini has escaped. We append the following from the correspondence of the N. Y. Courier & Enquirer;

The expulsion of the Swiss from Lombardy has been attended with great hardship and suffering. Five thousand have been driven from Milan alone, and in all Lombardy the number exceeds eighteen thousand. Many of these are old men, who have resided in Italy from early youth, and whose very names have been long since forgotten in the country of their birth. Nearly all were engaged in mercantile or mechanical employment, which they have been compelled abruptly to abandon, to the ruin of their affairs and the great distress of their families. It further appears that persons unconnected with the disturbance, and strongly hostile to Mazzini and his schemes, have been included in the wholesale RAZZIA and remorseless proscription carried out at the point of the bayonet by that Austrian Suwarrow, the silver-headed, but merciless Radetzky.

The N. Y. Times remarks:—

There will be desperate work in Italy, one of these days, and wo to the tyrants if rebellion shall gain even a temporaay ascendancy. No quarter will be given to them. They will be hunted down like wild beasts, and torn to pieces by the infuriated people. Heaven knows they deserve no milder fate.

The Locofocos of the New York Legislature and President Pierce's Inaugural.

Hon. D. B. Taylor, of New York, the Hunker leader in the Assembly, on Tuesday afternoon called up his resolutions endorsing the Inaugural as a whole and reaffirming emphatically and unequivocally the President's sentiments inregard to the compromise measures and the institution of slavery, and urged their adoption in what the Argus terms "a brief, but earnest and eloquent speech." The Barnburners undertook to get over the dilemma in which the introduction of these resolutions placed them, by propsing substitutes which cordially approve "the Inaugural in a lump but blink the compromise and slavery questions.—To make up for this omisson the selection of Marcy for the cabinet is commended in the following terms:

Resolved, The selection of William L. Marcy to a high place in the cabinet, the President has duly appreciated the talents and worth of one of the most distinguished of the united democracy of this State, and fully satisfied their expectations.

A most bitter pill for the "hards," and one that theyare so little prepared to swallow as the Barnburners to endorse Pierce's strongly-worded expressions in favor of upholding "the institution" We shall see in the end which wing of the party in the House is the most skilful at "cornering."

We quote from the Argus the conclusion of an article on this subject. It shows the temper of the Hunkers:

They (the Barnburners) cannot, with any show of consistency, approve of the high and right position which the President takes on this great question. To do so, would be to give the lie to their professions and acts during the last few years, and to their avowals during the prevalence of the free-soil distemper in and prior to 1848.

Rely upon it, these partizans do not intend to endorse the doctrines and sentiments of the Inaugural in these respects, if they can avoid it. Hence the attempt to substitutd for the direct, manly, straight forward, flat-footed resolutions of Mr. Taylor, the diluted, involved and evasive expression proposed by Mr. Gale. We shall see who among the democratic representatives in the Assembly, will unite in the effort thus to emasculate the resolution of Mr. Taylor, and to withhold the full, cordial and emphatic approval of the doctrines of the Inaugural—in and by themselves—which is embodied in them—Troy Whig.

REMOVAL.—C. F. Tabor Esq. of this place goes to Troy, with Jas. Forsyth.—Mr. Tabor is a man of decided ability, and being yet a young man, we predict for him a brilliant career. Both Mr. Tabor and Mr. Forsyth were students of Hon. G. A. Simmons upon whom they reflect great credit.

H. M. Chase Esqr. a native of Willsboro, and recently admitted to practice takes Mr Tabor's place. He is a young man of energy, and perseverance. Business confided to him will be promptly attended to.

"WHIGS NOT ALL DEAD."—Whitehall is Redeemed!—After two years of darkness, the light gleams up brightly over the political horizon of old Whitehall, One hundred and sixty-four maj. on Supervisor! Two hundred and forty-one maj. for Poormaster! One hundred and eighty maj. for Collector! One hundred and sixty-five maj. for Justice! Some of the candidates on the ticket contended not only against the regular opposing candidates, but stood the fire of six seperate organizations combined to defeat them, and came out with majorities respectively ranging fram fifty-seven to one hundred and eighty. Glory enough victory enough! Harrah! Hip, hip! Hurrah!!—[Chronicle.

Three early Signs of Spring.—Mud, maple sugar, marbles. Three more,—bees, buds, blossoms.

"The lightnings flashed, the thunders roared,
While daddy laid in the corner and—snored.
The rain it poured and the wind blew down
the well sweep,
"When daddy went out and put it up again
—sheep!"

The author of these affectin lines has remained in obscurity for an unknown length of time, and it has been reserved for us to discover the writer in the author of the articles in the Northern Gazette on the politics of Chesterfield. We make this confident statement after a careful examination of the style, and substance of both. The poetry is brief as it should be, but then it was evidently written during the younger, and "college" days of the author before homœpathic dilutions were understood by authors, and before the writer had been in the reviews. The similarity in style is striking: both open in bold, imaginative, majestic language, and both equally exquisite in their conclusions, as the quintessence of four columns of prose will prove, as follows:

"And when the subject grew warm, did not Mr. Finch, in a public place tell TWO OLD RESIDENTS of the town that it was none of their business?"

'Did you ever?' "Two old residents!" Where is Mrs. Partington?

Sympathising with the editor of the Gazette at the mortification he ought to feel while thus "climbing out at the little end of the horn," we pass his last article over to another week, and perhaps forever.

LOCAL HISTORIES.—We are pleased to notice a growing interest in local history. We see in the Plattsburgh Republican a notice of a history of Lake Champlain, and in the Palladium, (Malone) we notice a history of the Counties of Eranklin and St. Lawrence. We trust Mr. Watson may be induced to publish his survey of Essex County in the form of a book forming as we know it will, a valuable and most interesting collection of historical facts, as well as a valuable acquisition to the literature of the Country. We also publish chapt. I, of the history of North Elba, and commend it to our readers. We hope its publication may be of service to that young but thriving town, which needs but the helping hand of the State to open vast resources in that vicinity. The good people of that town must "wait a little longer," there is a good time a coming.

ABSTRACT OF FOREIGN NEWS.—Louis Napoleon has offered the War Ministry to Gen. Canobert again, but he refuses to accept it unless Changarnier, Lamoricier, Bedeau and Loflo be amnestied. The pensions to Polish refugees have been withdrawn. Twenty new peers had been created in Portugal to carry through the new measures of the Government. The state of things between Switzerland and Austria is growing interesting. The report of the death of Haynau is confirmed, but no particulars are given. The Turks have evacuated Montenegro. A dispatch stating that Prince Menchikoff had met with a repulse from the Sultan, and that the latter had implored the aid of France and England, had depressed the English and French funds. The British fleet had been ordered from Malta to the Archipelago. Buenos Ayrean dates to the 2d February state that the civil war was still in progress.

MR EDITOR:—Can you inform a number of anxious enquirers when the Editor (or Editress) of the Gazette intends to re-commence that interesting and instructive correspondence with himself, under the cognomen of "Dear Maurice" and "Ellen Louise." If not soon, can't you persuade him to issue a cheap edition in pamphlet form of the former numbers? We hope your express from Clintonville last fall did not effect her narves.

CLINTONVILLE.

Meteorological Table.

BY J. R. R.

1853.	7 A. M.	1 P. M.	6 P. M.
April 1st	35°	41°	40°
" 2d	32°	43°	40°
" 3d	35°	53°	46°
" 4th	38°	46°	35°
" 5th	35°	46°	40°
" 6th	35°	44°	39°
" 7th	34°	43°	40°

Keeseville, April 8th, 1853.

SOLD OUT!

THE subscribers have made arrangements to devote their whole time to those having unsettled accounts with them, till all such acts are settled and paid, Having sold out our entire stock of goods and wishing to make preparations for commencing an entirely new business, we shall expect and enforce the immediate settlement of all our outstanding accounts. REYNOLDS & TUFTS.
April 1, 1853.

Seed! Seed!!

1000 Pounds Clover Seed. Also Grass Seed always on hand.

Fresh Teas.—A new and choice lot of Green and Black Teas, just received, and selling off at great bargains by the chest or pound.

Mackarel.—Bbls., halves, quarters, and eighths—a new lot.

Camphene.—By the barrel or gallon. E. H. GARFIELD & Co.
Keeseville, April, 1853.

H. M. CHASE,
Attorney and Counselor at Law,
KEESEVILLE,
ESSEX COUNTY, NEW YORK. (467tf

H. H. HAVENS,
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW,
CROWNPOINT,
ESSEX COUNTY, N. Y. [467tf.

Whitewash, Whitewash!

THE best quality of Burlington Lime for Whitewashing, will be found at 466-3w ANDREW DOWLINCS.

A. A. LEE,
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW,
ELIZABETHTOWN, ESSEX COUNTY, N. Y.
☞ Office over Root & Co's store. 462

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

LIST of letters remaining in the Post Office in Keeseville, April 1st, 1853.

Allen Mary M.	Landy Irio
Anson Oscar O	LaMountain John
Anson John W	LeFebre Joseph
Allen Miss O B	Mathews Joseph
Brown Alexander	Maloney Bridget
Branch L B	Moroey Timothy
Bach John A	Manning Mrs Abigil
Burns John	Myers Mrs Mary A
Brown Joseph	McGuin MissRoxinna
Bluir Peter	Morey Andrew J 3
Bruso Lewis	Moor James 2
Bragg Susan E	Munson John
Barshaw Prisk	Mullen John
Barby Edward	Miner Julius
Bourgois Francois	Mercolait Joseph
Barnen Mrs Betsy E	Miner Mrs D.
Bonlo Nazaire	Mussen John
Bennett Jefferson	Morje Bernhard
Blackmore O. B 2	Manning Miss R C 2
Bonet Miss Mary	Murry Owen
Blake E J	McGuire Miss Julia
Blanchard Charley	Morrison William
Blanchard Viviana	Neal Joseph
Beardsley Joseph	Nougor Monsieur
Brag John	O'Grady Margaret
Briggs Geo. W	Oligny Etinne
Bourbank Michael	O'Brien Eliza
Charkee Laand	G'Conell John
Charrett Alexander	O'Aeille Dan
Comerbous Godfroy 2	O'Brien Miss Mary
Chartier Mell. Leocadie	Page Samuel
Costis George	Poulerette Edwar
Cirsay Adolphe	Prescott Miss Mary J
Chartier Paul	Palmer Wm.
Chase Mary J	Pead Pragralaud
Charlaud Abraham	Pettier Hercule
Dailey Hiram	Prenan Felix
Doctor Moses	Piootte Pierra
Delorier Alfred	Rubarge E 2
Desmant Micheal	Richard Aime
Demarais Michel	Rondeau J B
Drake Francis 2	Risow Joseph
Dills Miss Jane M	Raymond David
Forbes Wm. 2	Rufell Miss Amanda
Fake Henry	Ricketson Lavinia
Even Fillips	Riley Widow
Fraismerrson Jean Baptiste	Rogers Michael
Fugere Louis G	Rumney John
Gauthur P. T.	Smith Miss Lucy R
Grady Michael	Strong Julius
Gadoua Miss Charlotte	Shortsleeve Abraham
Graves John R	StGarment Joseph
Gates Edward	Stern Nathan
Gleanneau Pierre	Stokes S M
Guirey Wm.	Stone Joseph
George V R 2	Sordon Miss Sylvia 2
Guilbautt Fabien	Sentiber Joseph
Gonga Harriet	Shuaghmefy Bernard
Grant Charles	Snitonga Louis
Harrison Abigail	Sporling J H
Hutchins Miss Polly	Tatrs Charles
Jibbo Reuben	Turnbull James
Kerby Benj. B	Tomlinson Wm
Kentle Julia	Yumane John
Kelly Miss Mary A	Vadnant Octave
L'Arant Madame Joseph	White Hellen V
Lasor Mrs Flora	Waits John L
Lynch Chas S	White John
Lesiar Maxime 2	Whitney Rufell
Lagarde Paul	Williams Mrs Louisa
Langdale Isodore	White Daniel
	Wadsworth Miss M

C. D. BEAUMONT, P. M.

LIST of Letters remaining in the Post Office at Essex N Y., April 1. 1853.

Bushnell James	Momber Henry
Burrough David	Madinson Neal
Berry Rev C	McCormic James
Cragsett Miss Phoby	Martin William
Call Ambrose	Oston H
Call A	O'Brin Elizabeth
Daufinais Isidore	O'Conner Patrick
Dunlap John B.	Post Mason H
Dixon Mrs Electa	Richards John
Derby Mr a Dentist	Rogan Mary
Davis Mary	Spaulding Horrace C
Ely Henriette	Sweton Elizabeth
Ferguson John	Smith Sydney
Gorlance John	Swinton Lurena
Gates James	Smith Harvy
Hoffnagle Capt James	Southard Margarett
Krow Mary	Trudal James
Long Edward	Taylor W H
Lovell Miss Marin	Tatte Mary
Lacy Miss Mary Ann	Whitteman A F
Lamberton William	Waldron Rev Isaac
Laffyette Henry	Walace Wm.
Mott Thomas

CHARLES G. FANCHER, P. M.

SASH, DOOR, BLIND

— AND —

Pail Manufactory,

CROWN POINT, N. Y.

HAVING the most perfect machinery, and experienced workmen, we are enabled to furnish Window Sash, Doors and Blinds, of superior workmanship, and at lower prices than can be found elsewhere. Also

Pine and Cedar Pails and Sap Buckets.

☞ All orders filled at short notice.

S. S. & W. FLINT.

Established may 1st, 1851.

March 1, 1853. 465 m*3

To Friends & PATRONS.

THE subscriber hereby tenders his thanks to all his

FRIENDS & PATRONS

for their liberal patronage with which he has been favored, and respectfully invites them to continue their favors as he designs to keep on hand a constant supply of the choicest meats, viz:

Fresh Beef, Pork, Mutton Veal, Lamb, &c.

Also, PICKLED TONGUE, BEEF and BARRELL PORK. Finally a treat frequently from the shores of the Atlantic, in the line of

Scale and Shell Fish,

&c., &c., as fresh as the briny ocean affords.

RICHARD HOAG.

Keeseville, March 27, 1853. 465tf

Dissolution.—This day, by mutual consent, the firm of HOAG & HILL is mutually dissolved, and the books and accounts and all unsettled matters are assumed by Richard Hoag, who holds himself responsible for the settlement and adjustment of the same.

RICHARD HOAG,
JAMES M. HILL.

Keeseville, March 27, 1853. 465

D. M. KNIGHT & Co.,

53 CEDAR STREET, NEW YORK,

WILL sell cheap for cash, Combs, button pins, needles, hooks and eyes, lines and cotton tapes, bobbin, braids, threads; stay binding, brushes, whalebone, ffins, and a great variety of fancy notions, &c. 464:3m

Union Nurseries,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

THE subscriber has for sale this spring, a very large collection of

Fruit Trees, &c.,

of all kinds adapted to the climate and of the best quality; which he offers at the lowest prices. All the leading sorts can be furnished by the quantity; and specimen trees, (1 to 3 years from graft,) vines, plants, &c., can be supplied of nearly 1000 distinct varieties—many of them new and rare, and now offered for the first time in this valley.

The stock of PEAR TREES, both on the Pear stock, and on the Quince, is very extensive, and the assortment one of the most complete in the Union. The collection comprises of Apples—250 choice varieties.

do. — 50 do on Doucain and Paradise, for DWARFS.
Pears—275 do
do.—75 do on Quince, for DWARFS.
Plums—100 do
Cherries—75 do
do —25 do on Mahaleb, for DWARFS.
Grapes—40 varieties—[1000 strong plants "McNeil."]
Gooseberries—60 varieties—[500 "
"Houghton's Seedling."]
Currants—25 varieties—[500 "
"White Clinton"—the sweetest, highest flavored, and best of currants.]
Raspberries—15 varieties.
Strawberries—50 "
Half-hardy Fruits—60 "—including Peaches, Nectarines, Apricots, Quinces, &c.
Rhubarb—10 varieties.
Asparagus—1, 2 and 3 years old roots.
Buckthorn for Hedges—1, 2 and 3 years old plants.
Scions—of Fruit Trees, Vines &c.
Garden Seeds—a general assortment.

Ornamental Department.

Deciduous Trees—Horse Chestnuts, European Mountain Ash, Silver Maple, and 20 other species and varieties.

Deciduous Shrubs—White Fringe, Smoke Tree, Rose Acacia; several varieties each—of Deutzias, Syringas, Spireas (including "Prunifolie") Flowering Currants, &c., and 50 other species and varieties.

Evergreen Trees and Shrubs—Am. Arbor Vitae, Am. Silver Fir, Norway Spruce, Deodar Cedar, Box, Holly, and many others.

Climbing Shrubs and Vines—Many species and varieties.

Roses—Hibrid China, H. Perpetual, Bourbon, Moss, Climbing, Austrian, Scotch, and Miscellaneous—150 choice varieties.

Dahlias—150 varieties—including all the newest and best.

Phloxes—50 varieties—very choice.

Paeonies—15 " do do.

Miscellaneous Bedding Plants—In great variety.

Summer Bulbs, (for spring planting)—Gladiolus, Tuberose, Tiger Flower, Japan and other Lilies,—of many varieties, &c., &c.

Flower Seeds—200 species and varieties.

Green House Plants—of all kinds, supplied from other sources, if ordered soon.

Horticutural Implements—of all kinds, supplied also to order—on a few days notice.—Budding and Pruning Knives, of best form and superior quality, always kept on hand.

ORDERS executed in rotation, as they are received. Those who desire to obtain their trees early, and to make sure of a satisfactory selection, should therefore order without delay.

Freight paid to the Lake.

Catalogues sent to all who apply, post-paid, and enclose a postage stamp

Address, J. BATTEY.
Union Nurseries, Keeseville, N. Y.,
3d mo., 24th, 1853. [465 2m]

SUPREME COURT,
GURDON GRANT,
AGST.
ELENOR CRARY,
ISAAC HEUSTIS,
JAMES GIDSON,
JOHN SAVAGE and
JOSEPHUS FITCH,

In pursuance of a decree or judgment of the Supreme Court made in the above cause, will be sold under the direction of the subscriber, Sheriff of the County of Essex, at public auction at the Adirondac Hotel, in the town of Chesterfield, in the County of Essex, on Monday, the 4th day of April next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon; all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land lying and being in the town of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York, lying between the Augur Pond and Butternut Pond, beginning at the south west corner at a pine tree marked 1795, thence running north ninety-five chains, a little north of the south end of Augur Pond, thence east one degree north, twenty-five chains to the west line of lot No. three, thence south along the west line of lots No. three, four, five and eight to the corner of the last mentioned lot, thence south forty-five degrees west to Butternut Pond, thence along the north end of said Pond to the first place of beginning, containing two hundred and sixteen acres of land be the same more or less; which said lot of land is part of two tracts of land, formerly granted by the said State to John Williams deceased by letters patent, and is now conveyed subject to the conditions and reservations made by Anthony J. Blanchard his heirs and assigns in his conveyance thereof to one William Bromley to overflow as much of the said land at any time or times whatsoever as may be reasonably necessary convenient and useful for the accommodation of any Mills or Waterworks which are now or hereafter may be built or erected on the waters of the said Augur Pond, or the outlet thereof by the heirs or assigns of the said Anthony J., hereby retaining the same reservations as is contained in the said William's deed of the said premises to one Thomas McLean.

Dated the 19th day of Febuary, 1853.

C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff.
By J. C. FINCH, Deputy Sheriff.

SAML. AMES, Atty. 459-w7

The above sale is hereby postponed to the 18th day of April instant, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the Hotel above named.

C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff
By J. C. FINCH, Deputy.

Dated, April 4th, 1853.

AUCTION SALE,

HAVING sold my farm, I shall sell a public auction on the 5th day of April next, at 1 o'clock, P. M. on said farm, a variety of personal property, consisting of horses, cattle, sheep, swine, wagons, sleighs, and farming utensils, several kinds of seed grain, potatoes, &c. &., affording a good opportunity to farmers and others to purchase valuable property at a bargain.

WILLETS KEESE.

Keeseville, March 18th, 1853.

N. B. For particulars see handbills. A part of the cattle are a cross of the Durham and Hereford.

The above sale is adjourned to the 12th inst., on account of the weather.

BUTTER FOR SALE.

Large quantity of good dairy Batter bought in large and small packages of the finest quality for sale at BOYNTON & SMITH.

Keeseville Jan. 27, 1853.

Office of Clinton and Essex Mutual Insurance Company.

KEESEVILLE, March 23d, 1853.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held at their office this day, the following assessment was declared upon the premium notes of said Company, payable at their office on or before the first day of June next.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and remaining in force on the 18th day of July 1852, one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to June 18th, 1849, and remaining in force July 18, 1852, two and five eights of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and remaining in force on the 18th day of August, 1852, one and one half of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to June 18, 1849, and remaining in force on the 18th day of August, 1852, three and three eighths of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 1st day of September, 1852, one and seven sixteenths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10, 1849, and in force on the 1st day of September 1852, four and eleven sixteenths of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 18th day of September, 1852, five eighths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10, 1849, and in force one the 8th day of September, 1852, one and fifteen sixteenths of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 23d day of September, 1852, seven sixteenths of one per cent, On all notes dated subsequent to August 10, 1849, and remaining in force on the 23d day of September, 1852, one and seven sixteenths of one per cent

On all notes dated prior to september 1, 1848, and remaining in force on the 6th day of October, 1852, nine sixteenths of one per cent. On all notes dates subsequent to August 10, 1849, and remain in force on the 6th day of October, 1852, one and thirteen sixteenths of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and remaining in force on the 19th day of October, 1852, one and three fourths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10th, 1849, and remaining in force on the 19th day of October, 1852, five and eleven sixteenths of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 25th of October, 1852, three fourths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10, 1849, and in force on the 25th day of October, 1852, two and one half of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 6th day of November, 1852, one and five eighths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10, 1849, and in force on the 6th day of November, 1852, five and one half of one per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 13th of November, 1852, one and five sixteenths of one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to August 10th, 1849, and in force on the 13th day of November, 1852, three and seven sixteenths of one percent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 27th day of November, 1852, one per cent. On all notes dated subsequent to March 9th, 1850, and in force on the 27th day of November, 1852, three per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 28th day of January, 1853, one pre cent.

On all notes dated subsequent to April 2d, 1850, and in force on the 28th day of January 1853, three per cent.

On all notes dated prior to September 1, 1848, and in force on the 9th day of March 1853, one per cent.

On all notes dated subsequent to April 24th, 1850, and in force on the 9th day of March, 1853, three per cent.

The foregoing assessment is appointed to meet the respective losses from July 1st 1852, to March, 23d 1853, and amounts to Fourteen per cent upon all notes dated prior to September 1st, 1848, and in force on the 18th day of July, 1852, and remaining in force on the 23d day of March, 1853.

Six per cent upon all notes dated subsequent to June 18th, 1849, and prior to August 10th, 1849, and in force on the 18th day of July, 1852, and remaining in force on the 28th day of August, 1852.

Thirty-three per cent upon all notes dated subsequent to August 10th, 1849, and prior to March 9th, 1850, and remaining in force on the 13th day of November 1852.

Thirty-six per cent upon all Notes dated subsequent to March 9th, 1850, and prior to April 2d, 1850, and remaining in force on the 27th day of November, 1852.

Forty-nine per cent upon all notes dated subsequent to April 2d, 1850, and prior to April 24th, 1850, and remaining in force on the 28th day of January, 1853.

Forty-two per cent upon all notes dated subsequent to April, 1850, and remaining in force on the 23d day of March, 1853.

By order of the Board of Directors.

F. W. AMES, Secretary.

PROCLAMATION!

Know all men by these presents that I,

James A. Walker,

of Burlington, Vt., have just returned from the Boston and New York markets with the best selected assortmet of Ladies, Gents, Misses, Boys, Youths and Childrens ever offered north of the cities, and have removed from the store lately occupied by me in Bank Block, to two doors east, same block, (one door West of I. D. Bixby & Co.) where I shall offer them at my usual low prices; having a large share of my goods expressly for me at, the best manufactories in New England, I am enabled to sell a good article and WARRANT it, at a very low price. I have now on hand every variety of Boots and shoes, all of which I will sell at a very small advance on the original cost.

Boots and Shoes

No. 2, Bank Block,

☞ Opposite the Park,

465tf BURLINGTON, Vt.

Bounty Lands

PURCHASED AND OBTAINED BY

GEO. MOORE, Plattsburgh, N. Y.

December 3, 1852.

Miscellaneous.

Insurance Agency.

National Protection Insurance Company,
Saratoga Springs, Capital, $200,000
Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance Company,
West Scotia, N. Y., Capital, $160,000
Nothern N. Y. Mutual Insurance Company,
Plattsburgh, N. Y., Capital, $100,000
Knickerbocker Fire Insurance Company,
Waterford, N. Y., Capital, $200,000
Northern N. Y. Live Stock Ins. Company,
Plattsburgh, N. Y., Capital, $50,000
Charter Oak Life Insurance Company,
Hartford, Vt., Capital, $200,000

Policies in the National Protection Insurance Co., and the Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance issued by the undersigned.

JAMES B. DICKINSON.

Office, Ausable Forks N. Y.

Saratoga Springs, Feb'y 7th, 1852.

WE, the undersigned, JOHN WILLARD, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court for the 4th Judicial District of the State of New York, and a resident of Saratoga Springs, with AUGUSTUS BOCKES, First Judge of the County of Saratoga, being likewise a resident of Saratoga Springs, and JOHN C. HULBURT, Surrogate of the County of Saratoga, also a resident of Saratoga Springs—do hereby Certify, that we are personally acquainted with the men composing the Board of Directors of the National Protection Insurance Company of Saratoga Springs. We take pleasure in availing ourselves of this opportunity in recommending to the Public, from a personal knowledge of the responsibility and character of their Board of Directors, that this Company is a sound and reliable Institution, will deal fairly with the assured, and are fully competent to pay their losses. We therefore unhesitatingly recommend this Company as an Institution in every respect worthy of a liberal patronage.

JOHN WILLARD,
A. BOCKES,
JNO. C. HULBURT.

JAMES B. DICKINSON,
Policy Agent, Ausable Forks.
Ausable Forks, Feb. 5th, 1852. 457-tf

WAR DECLARED

—BETWEEN—

France and England!!!

WOULD not create as great a sensation among the inhabitants of this portion of country as the proclamation of war on high prices by CARDWELL in the sale of

Ready-Made Clothing.

That war declared Oct. 1st, 1851, still rages with unabating and increasing fury; but in its progress its path is not marked with bloodshed, carnage and desolation as the wars of one Nation against another; on the other hand its fruits are smiling faces (NOT OF OTHER DEALERS) and glad hearts; go ask the honest and hardy inhabitants of our pine clad hills, and our pleasant valleys, where he buys his CLOTHING, and he will answer you with a smile,

WHY AT CARDWELL'S, OF COURSE!

That is the place where you can obtain the latest styles, a genteel fit, and well made suit of clothes for less money than at any other Store in northern New York.

Why, says one man, I have saved money enough by purchasing my Clothing this Fall at

CARDWELL'S CHEAP STORE

to buy me a good Cow. ☞ This is no fiction: living witnesses can be produced that will testify to the truth of it.

N. B. Saturday March the 5th

will arrive a large and magnificent assortment of Spring and Summer Clothing, when the Spring and Summer Fashions will be introduced. Every description of garments always to be found at CARDWELL'S One Price cheap

CLOTHING WARE ROOM'S,
ADIRONDAC HOTEL BUILDINGS,
Keeseville N. Y.
G. A. CARDWELL.

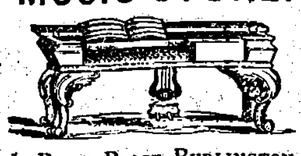
WOOL! WOOL!

THE Subscriber would inform the public that he is again in the

Manufacturing Business,

Either by the yard, on shares, or in exchange for cloths on the most reasonable terms, and that he intends to keep on hand a full supply of the following goods:

BLACK BROAD CLOTHS,
Black, Brown, and Olive Cassimeres,
FULLED CLOTHS, SATTINETS, TWEEDS,
Flannels, &c.,



ditable to this country, and that he will spare no pains in trying to please such as may favor him with their patronage.

Birmingham, May 15, 1852. J. APPLEYARD. 449

PIANO FORTE,

AND

MUSIC STORE.

No. 1, BANK BLOCK BURLINGTON, VT

THE Subscriber has opened a very extensive and choice selection of Musical Merchandise, consisting of every variety of Musical Instruments, such as

Piano Fortes, Seraphines, Melodeons,

Bass Viols, Violins, Guitars, Flutes,

Flagolets, Clarionets, Cornopeans, Accordeons,

and Brass Instruments of every description for Bands; also—

BASS VIOL AND VIOLIN STRINGS, TUNING FORKS, TUNING HAMMERS, &c.

The assortment of Sheet Music, consists of about Four Thousand Pieces of the latest and most popular Music of the day, additions to which will be made every week, from the extensive Importing and Publishing Houses in New York and Boston. Instruction Books on hand for every Instrument, and all new works received as soon as published.

CHURCH MUSIC BOOKS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

The attention of Purchasers is respectfully invited to the assortment of Piano Fortes, Seraphines and Melodeons, as they are from the best Manufacturers in the country, and every Instrument sold by me will be warranted, unless otherwise stated to the purchaser.

All the above goods will be sold as low as can be purchased in New York or Boston, and the orders of teachers and those who buy to sell again, are respectfully solicited, and will be filled and sent to any part of the country, as may be directed.

June 5. 3m422 I. S. RUST.

CASH,

AND THE

Highest Market Price

WILL BE PAID FOR WOOL, AT THE WOOLEN FACTORY, by

C. F. ROELOFSON & Co.

Keeseville, July 8th, 1852. 427tf

REMOVAL!

THE subscribers would beg leave to inform their old friends and patrons, that they have rented a shop of Messrs. Keese & Tomlinson, ☞ one door North of Kingsland, Baber & Co.'s store, where they intend to carry on the Painting business in all it various branches. No pains will be spared to give complete satisfaction.

BROWNELL & LOWRY.

Keeseville, March 30, 1853. 465 tf

Business Cards.

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS,

(Successor to Nichols & Warren,)

WHOLESALE PAPER WAREHOUSE

And Paged Blank Book Manufactory,

— JOBBER AND RETAIL DEALER IN —

School and Classical Books,

English, French and American

Stationery, and Artist's Materials,

No. 4, Leavenworth Block, College Street,

BURLINGTON, Vt.

☞ Bank, Blank, Check or Memorandum Books made to order, from the best of Paper, and bound in the most thorough manner. All work warranted. Terms Cash. 448 tf

Livery Stable

BY

GEORGE G. FULLER.

HEAD OF MAIN STREET

(a few steps from the Bank,)

KEESEVILLE, NEW YORK,

Where may be found at all times, the best of Horses and Carriages, on the most reasonable terms.

GEORGE P. WILKINSON,

(Successor to G. P. & J. B. Wilkinson,)

MANUFACTURER AND JOBBER IN

CLOTHING,

154 River Street, Corner of Congress,

427 tf TROY, N. Y.

G. P. SANBORN & Co.

APOTHECARIES HALL.

BURLINGTON, VT.

DEALERS IN

Drugs and Medicines, Chemical Perfumery, Teeth, Surgical Instruments, Gold and Tin Foil, Patent Medicines, and every variety of articles usually kept in this line of Business.

Oct. 23d, 1852. 6 m.

GEO. S. TARBELL,

HOLE SALE GROCER,

DEALER IN OIL AN

General Commission Merchant,

No. 65 Quay-Street,

ALBANY.

ADKINS & FULLER,

Booksellers, Stationers, Binders

— AND —

PAPER RULERS,

KEEP constantly on hand or will supply Books, Maps, Charts, Pictures, Frames, and Periodicals of all kinds. Also Publications of the American Tract Society. Bibles and Sabbath School Books at their very low depository prices.

One door east of Pierce & Davey's Agricultural Store on College Street.

C. S ADKINS, E. A. FULLER.

Burlington, July 4, 1850. 323

H. C. Blanchrd, M. D.,

HOMŒOPATHIC PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

Office 2 doors below Ausable House.

Rooms at Ausable House. 480

D. M. ARNOLD

Engineer and Surveyor,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

SURVEYING & Loycling for Rail Roads, Plank Roads, Mill Seats, &c. Land Surveying of all kinds done on shortest notice.

Office opposite the Ausable House.

425tf

J. B. DICKINSON,

AUSABLE FORKS, N. Y.

General INSURANCE AGENT,

For Fire, Life, Health and Live Stock Insurance Companies.

☞ Any business from abroad will receive prompt attention. 454

Silliman & Gardiner,

WHOLESALE DEALERS

in Pork, Fish, SALT, PLASTER, &c.

OFFICE 17 COENTIS SLIP, New York.

" 339 RIVER ST., Troy, 445

Dr. H. W. GOULD,

SURGEON DENTIST

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

☞ Office opposite the Ausable House. [389

ANNEXATION!

Essex County, N. Y. and Vermont!

NOVEMBER 10th, 1852.

I. D. BIXBY & Co.,

ARE now opening a very heavy stock of Rich

DRESS GOODS,

for the Winter trade, consisting in part of the following articles:

Merinos, Coburghs, Parramattas, Alpacas, Lustres, all wool deLaines, Manchester deLaines, Persian Cloths, Raw Silk Plaids, Cashmere Plaids, Col'd Velvets, Col'd Flannels, Irish Poplins, Bombazines, Ginghams, American, English and French Prints, Silks.

SHAWLS!!

Bay State, Empire, Waterloo and Scotch.

CLOAKS.

We have a large assortment of rich Cloaks of a variety of patterns, colors and prices.

Silks, Satins, &c.

The LARGEST assortment of Dress Silk that we have ever opened, are now to be seen on our counters. Brocade, Plaid, Striped, Chameleon, Glace, Gro de Naples, Gro de Zure, Gro de Rhine, Gro de Lyons, Gro de Algiers and many other styles.

No. 2, Bank Block.

North Side of the Park.

429tf BURLINGTON VT.

I. D. BIXBY & Co.

Burlington, Nov. 15, 1852.

GRASS SEED

OF very Superior Quality, for sale by KINGSLAND, BABER & Co.

Burlington Advertisements

BURLINGTON

AGRICULTURAL WARE-HOUSE AND SEED STORE.

DAVEY & ALLEN,

No. 6, COLLEGE STREET, BURLINGTON, Vt.

Ploughs—Prouty & Mear's centredraught.

These ploughs have obtained a celebrity unparalleled, having taken the first premiums in this country and at the World's Fair in London. We have also Starbuck's and Tabor's celebrated Ploughs.

Our stock of Ploughs comprises a great variety of patterns and different sizes, calculated for sward and stubble land, wet meadows and recently drained swamps, where roots abound—among which also, are the deep breaking up flat-furrow, lap-furrow, self sharpening side hill, double mould-board, sub soil, &c., &c.

Harrows—triangular, square, Geddie's and Scotch.

Hay, Straw and Corn Stalk Cutters, either by hand or horse power; spiral, straight or circular knives.

Cultivators—of different kinds, steel tooth and cast iron.

Corn Shellers—a variety of patterns. Will shell from 5 to 100 bushels of corn per hour.

Fan Mills and Grain Cradles—Grant's unrivalled. We confidently recommend them as the best in use.

Seed Sowers—Batchelder's & Emery's and other kinds.

Vegetable Cutters—for turnips and other roots.

Horse Powers, Threshers, Winnowers and Separators—Wheeler's Patent Railway Chain Horse Power. This Power, both single and double-geared, for one or two horses, has never been equalled for lightness in running, strength, durability and economy. The Thresher and Separator are too widely and favorably known to need our commendation. The combined Thresher and Winnower, (which is a new invention of last year,) has not been so generally introduced. All who have used it express the highest approbation of its merits. We entertain no doubt that it is the most perfect, compact, and efficient machine now in use for threshing and winnowing grain, as it certainly is by far the cheapest and most economical.

Warranted to give satisfaction,

or be returned after a reasonable trial.

Saw Mill—Lawrence, used for sawing wood for locomotives on Railways, or by farmers for cutting stove fuel. With a one horse power it will cut 10 to 15 cords of wood (wise in two per day.

AGRICULTURAL & HORTICULTURAL TOOLS AND IMPLEMENTS.

A great variety and extensive assortment, such as Hoes, Shovels, Spades, Rakes, Manure and Hay Forks, Scythes, Snaths, Cattle Ties, Draft, Halter and Trace Chains, Garden Syringes, Pruning Saws, Pruning and Budding Knives, Garden Shears and Twig Cutters, Grindstones, Patent Grindstone fixtures, rollers, hand or rolls, &c., &c.

Grain, Field, Garden and Flower Seeds.—We are prepared to furnish Herds Grass, Red Top, Lucerne, White Dutch, Southern, Western and Northern Clover Seed, Beet, Turnip, Onion and Carrot Seed, at Wholesale and Retail at the lowest market prices.

We have by far the largest and most complete assortment of Agricultural Implements, Machines, Field and Garden seeds to be found in the State, which we offer at our new and spacious Ware-Rooms to Farmers and Dealers on terms the most liberal. We are also Commission Merchants and Wholesale and Retail Dealers in heavy and shelf

HARDWARE,

Artillery, Axles, Springs, Mechanic's Tools, House Trimmings and Furnishing Goods, Cutlery, Cross Cut, Millard Circular Saws, Paints, Oils, Bird Cages, &c., &c.

Agents of Messrs. D. Prouty & Co., Boston, Wheeler, Millick & Co., Albany, J. T. Grant & Co., Troy, and others we can fill orders for Plows, Horse Powers, Threshers, Pan Mills, Straw Cutters &c., at manufacturers prices. A liberal discount made to Dealers.

ORDERS
FROM ABROAD SOLICITED.
DAVEY & ALLEN.

Burlington, September 20, 1852. 439

NEW GOODS
AT
Nichols, 150 Church Street.

IN consequence of our large spring sales, we have been induced to purchase a very large and full stock of

Foreign & Domestic Goods

for the full trade, which we now offer at exceedingly low prices. We have not time now to enumerate, suffice it to say, we have every thing usually called for in a dry goods store.

CARPETINGS!

AT THE

Carpet Warehouse, 150 Church Street.

Mr. Nichols is now opening the largest stock of Carpeting ever brought to this city, consisting of the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three-ply, Ingrain, Extra Super Fine and Common, Venetian, Damask, Cotton and Wool, Cotton, Hemp Stair carpeting from the best manufacturers. Also, floor oil-cloth, straw-matting, Hearth Rugs, Door Mats, table oil cloths, English and American Bockings and crumb cloths.

Bay State Carpetings and Bockings.

Mr. Nichols has the agency for the sale of the justly celebrated Bay State carpets and bockings and will be furnished with all the new patterns as fast as they come from the mills. Recollect the No.

150 CHURCH STREET.

Burlington, September 24, 1852. 439 tf

BOSTON

URNITURE STORE,

AT THE

Spacious Ware-Room,

Nos. 2 & 3, Leavensworth Block,

COLLEGE STREET,

In Burlington, Vt.

No further need of going to New York or Boston for Rich or

FASHIONABLE FURNITURE.

THE Subscriber has a more extensive assortment of

Furniture, Feathers, Beds, Mattrasses, Upholstery, Goods, &c.,

than has ever before been offered in this section, comprising all the most recent styles from the most elegant to the commonest FURNITURE, manufactured principally to order and in quality superior to any to be found out of Boston or any other place—consisting, in part, as follows:

Black Walnut & Mahogony Parlor FURNITURE,

—CONSISTING OF—

French Sofas, Easy Chairs, covered in plush damask, brocatelle or hair cloth, to suit the purchaser; French style centre and side Tables, with and without marble tops; gilt and other frame Looking Glasses; rich and common Curtain Furniture and Fixtures, &c., and every article needed to furnish Parlors in the most fashionable style.—Also, medium and low priced Parlor Furniture, of every description.

DRAWING & SITTING ROOM FURNITURE,

of every desirable style.

CHAMBER FURNITURE.

Fancy printed Chamber Setts, richly ornamented; mahogany, black walnut and common Bedsteads, Bureaus Sinks, Toilets, Chairs, &c. Also, Feathers, Feather Beds hair, cotton husk and palm leaf Mattresses. Elegant

LIBRARY CASES & SIDE-BOARDS,

both mahogany and black walnut, of very superior workmanship, constantly on hand and made to order, of any style or size desired. Also, any odd article, not to be found ready-made, designed and executed to order in the best manner at the shortest notice.

Hotels and Steamboats

furnished at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms.

N. B.—Every article will be sold as low as the same quality can be bought in either Boston or New York, and in many instances much lower. Country dealers will be furnished at the lowest wholesale prices.

Mr. ALLEN'S long experience as a manufacturer and Furniture dealer in Boston, gives him advantages in selecting and purchasing goods, very seldom equalled; and he will warrant every article fully equal to what he represents it.

☞ Persons in want of Furniture will do well to call on Mr. ALLEN before purchasing.

I. S. ALLEN.

Burlington, May 8, '52. 418-1y

PIANO FORT EMPORIUM.

361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. The most extensive and varied assortment of ROSEWOOD PIANO FORTES, plain and ornamental, elegant patterns, elaborately carved, and highly finished with Pearl keys, all of our own manufacture, and warranted in every particular, can be found at our Warerooms, 361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

427 1y BENNTT & CO.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Miscellaneous.

2C Years Experience.

OLD ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL.

Quick Cures and Low prices. Private Diseases and their Antidote.

DR LISPENARD, author of the Marriage Guide, or Private Medical Treatise, Professor of Diseases of Women and Children, and Licentiate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the United States University, &c., &c, continues as heretofore to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms and variety of

PRIVATE DISEASES,

at his old quarters No. 5 Beaver-street, ALBANY, N. Y.

The great success attending the use of Doctor L.'s remedies in secret diseases, and the many remarkable cures daily effected by him in recent as as old lingering attacks, conclusive evidence that the well

SICK AND UNFORTUNATE

can do no better than consult the Doctor, whose whole time is devoted to the exclusive treatment of this much neglected branch of practice.

LOOK AT THIS.

Dr. Lispenard cures recent cases of disease in from three to six days, and chronic or long standing diseases in a very short period of time, without the use of Mercury, without the loss of time, change of diet, or detention from

DAILY EMPLOYMENT.

In Syphilis, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Strictures, Enlargement of the Testicles and Cords, Bubo, Chancres Pimples and Scaly Eruptions, Sore Throats and Noses, Chancres on the tongue, tender shin bones, and diseases of the skin, and impure blood. Dr. Lispenard's remedies are above all praise, and frequently cure when all others had failed

EVEN TO RELIEVE.

More than 5,000 patients have during the past year experienced the benefit of the Doctor's extraordinary skill in treating these diseases—among which, diseases of the bladder and kidneys have formed a goodly proportion.

YOUNG MEN,

who by indulging in secret habits have injured their health and prostrated their intellectual faculties, and thereby deprived themselves of the pleasure of married life, should consult Dr. Lispenard without a moment's delay. Hundreds have been restored to health, society and friends, under my peculiar mode of treatment, although vast sums of money had been sacrificed without any benefit. My remedy for this disease is pleasant to take, has no offensive smell and

CURES WITHOUT FAIL.

☞ Persons so unfortunate as to be diseased, although they may have visited half a dozen Doctors, and had medicine sent them a dozen times with no benefit would exhibit wisdom by making their case known to that FRIEND OF THE SICK, Dr. Lispenard, who never charges for advice and warrants all his cures. The sick are often at a loss where to apply for relief, AND TIS NO WONDER, as hundreds stand ready to plunder the unfortunate victim of PRIVATE DISEASE, or secret habits with not one thought for his life and health. All thus deceived will find a friend, and moderate charges, in consulting the Doctor who USES NO MERCURY and cures every time.

N. B.—Persons from a distance when visiting the city in search of a physician and friend will be fortunate if they succeed in escaping the many dens of imposition, conducted by unprincipled men, destitute of character knowledge or name, who fleece the unfortunate victim of disease of his hard earned money, and his remaining health. Patients who have no acquaintance in the city should make inquiry of some respectable citizen, or the editor or proprietor of any of the city papers, to ascertain who is the most reliable physician to apply to.

FEMALE DISEASES.

Dr. Lispenard, from an experience seldom or never enjoyed by any other medical man, is enable to treat, with every hope of succes, all and every variety of Female Complaints—with safe and pleasant remedies—and has without doubt cured within the past five years more than 3000 females afflicted with diseases of the bladder, Womb, &c. &c. Ladies afflicted with suppression or stoppage of their monthly turns, will recollect that Dr. Lispenard is still the sole American agent for,

DR. VICHOP'S

FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS.

The unprecedented sale of more than 15,000 boxes of these excellent Pills, and the good results which always follow their use, is conclusive evidence of their utility in stoppages, &c. Caution—Married Ladies in certain delicate situations should not use them—for reasons see directions with each box. Price $1. sent by mail to all parts of the world.

Married Persons and those about to Marry, should enclose 12½ cents post paid to Dr. Lispenard, and obtain a copy of his Marriage Guide, or Private Treatise, a bewitching little work of nearly 100 pages, illustrated. Everything that married persons can desire or wish to know is herein explained. Persons who from poverty or sickness have no desire to increase their family, will find necessary instruction in the Marriage Guide. One copy 12½ cents; 5 copies 50 cts; 12 copies $1—mailed free to any part of the world.

N B—Patients treated by letter, and medicines sent with full directions for use, to the writer's address. All communications destroyed or returned.

No mercury used in any case, and all cures warranted.

No boys or precocious students allowed: timid persons take notice.

Friends of Dr. L. when recommending patients to our care, will recollect our number, 5 Beaver st., three doors from South Broadway.

Hospital open from 7 A. M., to 9 P. M., and on Sundays from 1 to 4 P. M.

No charge for advice, although no medicine may be desired.

Good board and private rooms for those who desire to remain in the city.

Notice this—Address all letters to

C. W. LISPENARD, M. D.,

411—1y No. 5 Beaver st. Albany, N. Y.

NORTHERN RAIL ROAD, N. Y.

FALL ARRANGEMENTS.

On and after FRIDAY October 1st trains will run as follows:

GOING EAST,

1st Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 9, A. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 1, 45, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 2, P. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 6, 20, P. M.

GOING WEST.

1st Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 8, A. M.

Arrive at Ogdensgurgh 12,50, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 3, P. M.

Arrives at Ogdensbnrgh 7,45, P. M.

First Passenger Train going East, Connects at Moors with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road for Montreal and Quebect, and Plattsburgh, Burlington and Whitehall—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Vermont Central Rail Road for Boston and New York—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Rutland and Burlington Rail Road by steam Boats to Burlington, and thence to Boston and New York.

Second Passenger Train going East, Connects with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road at Moores, for Montreal and Quebec—Connects with the Vermont Central Railroad for Boston, Burlington, and New York. Connects with the Steam Boats to Whitehall, thence by the Saratoga and Troy Rail Roads, to Saratoga Springs, Troy and New York. Connects by Steam Boat with Rutland and Burlington R. R. at Burlington, for Troy, Boston and New York.

First Passenger Train going West, Connects at Ogdensburgh with the Express Line of Lake Ontario Steamers at 1 o'clock P. M. for Kingston, Toronto, Hamiltoo, Lewiston, Niagara Falls, and Buffalo.

Second Passengei Train going West. Connects with Lake Ontario Line of Steamers for Kingston and all ports on the American shore of Lake Ontario, and with Hamilton.

Four Freight Trains leave Ogdensburgh and Rouse's Point every day Sundays excepted.

For Freight apply to George V. Hoyle, Agent, Rouse's Point.

CHARLES L. SCHLATTER,

440 Chief Eng'r and Superintendent.

Printing Paper For Sale.

FOR sale by J. & G. PARKS,

38 by 24 inches,
34 by 24 "
364tf 33 by 23 "

Also, Wrapping:

40 by 28 inches, 60 lbs to he Ream, for large bundles
29 by 18 "
15 by 18 "

☞ All orders directed to Keeseville promptly attended

CAPS CAPS.

MENS' and Boys' Silk and Worsted Plush and Cloth Caps, at E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Legal.

Mortgage Sale.—Default has been made in the payment of the debt secured by a certain mortgage, dated the 16th day of December, 1850, executed by Francis Gonyae and Josette his wife, then of the town Chesterfield, county of Essex, state of New York, to John Mattocks of Ausable, county of Clinton, state aforesaid, and with the power of sale therein contained, recorded in the office of the clerk of Essex county, in volume P. of mortgages, pages 445, 446 and 447, on the 7th day of January, 1851, there is claimed to be due on said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $129,72, and the further sum of $450 to become due in eighteen annual installments from the 16th day of December, 1852, with interest annually, and no proceeding at law or in equity having been commenced to recover the same, or any part thereof, now therefore notice is hereby given that the premises discribed in said mortgage will, by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, be sold discharged of said mortgage at public auction at the Adirondac hotel in Keeseville in said county, on the 22d day of June next, at one o'clock, p. m.

Said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage as follows: All that certain piece or parcel of land lying in the village of Keeseville, in the county of Essex and State of New York and bounded as follows: Beginning at the north-east end of the Pease lot in the east line of river street, running thence north thirteen degrees fifteen minutes, east along the east line of river street fifty-one links, thence south sixty-two degrees thirty minutes, east one chain and forty-seven links to Taggard's west line, thence south sixteen degrees thirty minutes, west fifty one links to Pease lot, thence north seventy-one degrees west along the north line of Pease lot one chain and forty-seven links to the place of beginning.

Also, one other certain piece of land lying in Keeseville, and described as follows: Beginning in the east line of River street, near the Pease house running thence south sixty-seven and a half degrees east along the south line of Gonyae lot two chains and seventy links to the road leading south from Keeseville, thence along the west line of said road one chain and forty-seven links to Chamberlain's lot, thence north sixty-nine degrees west along the north line of Chamberlain's lot to the east line of River street, thence along the east line of River street one chain and thirty-eight links to the place of beginning, meaning to convey the whole lot deed by David Pease to Franklin Shandrew.

JOHN MATTOCKS, Mortgagee.

FINCH & HARWOOD, Atty's.

Dated Keeseville, March 25, 1853. 464

At a Surrogates Court, held at the County Judges office in Elizabethtown, in and for the County of Essex, on the 21st day of March, A. D., 1853.

Present: J. E. McVINE, Essex County Judge.

In the matter of the application of Emeline H. Morhous & Abram Weldin, administrators and administratrix, &c. of Rensselaer Morhous, deceased, for authority to mortgage, lease or sell the Real Estate of the said intestate for the payment of his debts.

Whereas on the petition and application of Emeline H. Morhous, the administratrix, and Abram Weldin, one of the administrators of the goods, &c., of Rensselaer Morhous, late of Willsboro, in the county of Essex, deceased, it has been made satisfactorily to appear to the said County Judge and Surrogate, that the personal estate of the said deceased will be insufficient to pay his debts.

It is therefore ordered, that all persons interested in the estate of the said Rensselaer Morhous, deceased, be directed to appear before the said county Judge and Surrogate, at his office in the town of Elizabethtown, in said county, on the 9th day of May next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to show cause why authority should not be given to the said administrators to mortgage, lease or sell so much of the real estate of the said deceased as shall be necessary to pay his debts.

Witness: JOHN E. McVINE, Essex County Judge.

A true copy—attest.

464:6w J. E McVINE, E. C. Judge.

SUPREME COURT.

Frederick L. Seeley, ag'st Isaac Heustis, Daius Breaw, James Pilling, James Adams, Edmund Kingsland, Jacob D, Kingsland, William W. Kingsland, Alfred Baber, Levi S. Scribner, Henry Green, Andrew Thompson, Stephen F. Spencer, George Adgate and Abraham B. Kingsland

In pursuance of a decree or judgment of the Supreme Court, made in the above cause, will be sold under the direction of the subscriber, sheriff of the county of Essex, at public auction at the Adirondack Hotel in the town of Chesterfield, in the county of Essex, on Monday the 2d day of May next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, all that certain piece or parcel of land lying and being in the town of Chesterfield, county of Essex and State of New York, to wit: a part of lot seventeen (17 in the twelve thousand acre location granted to Zepheniah Platt and others, and bounded as follows, viz: on the east by the west line of the road leading from Keeseville to Essex, on the south by a lot occupied October 18, 1836, by Mark Lafontain, on the west by land owned October 18, 1836, by Martin I. Vanderworker, and on the North by the South line of the land owned by said Vanderworker, Oct. 18, 1836, leading from said road west, to land lying in rear of the above described lot. Said lot is supposed to be eight rods in front and twenty rods in rear, and to contain one acre of land, and is known as the Dennis Breau tavern stand in Chesterfield aforesaid.

C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff,

By J. C. FINCH, Deputy.

Keeseville, March 19, 1853. 462-7w

BANK DEPARTMENT.

ALBANY, Jany 26th, 1823.

NOTICE is hereby given in pursuance of the Statute made and provided, that all the circulating notes issued by the McIntyre Bank, at Adirondac, (an individual bank) must be presented at the office of the superintendent of the Banking Department of the State of New York, for payment within two years from the date of this notice, or the funds deposited for the redemption of the said notes will be given up to the said bank.

D. B. St. John, Supt.

Two years from Jany. 26, 1853. 459-2y

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

NOTICE is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John Cummings, late of North Hudson, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to ESTES B. WALKER, one of the administrators of the said deceased, at his dwelling house in North Hudson, his place of doing business, on or before the 25th day of May next, that being at least Six Months after the day of the first publication of this notice. Dated this 15th day of November, A. D. 1852.

ABIGAIL CUMMINGS, Administratrix,
ESTES B. WALKER,
46 6m DAVID DAY, Administrators.

Legal.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS John McDermid, then of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York, by a certain Mortgage, dated December 18th, 1850, and with the power of sale therein contained duly recorded in the office of the Clerk of Essex County, in Vol. P. of Mortgages on pages 434, and 435, on the 21st day of December, 1850, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to secure the payment of fifty dollars and interest, did duly Mortgage to John McGuire of the second place, certain premises described in said mortgage as follows:—All those two certain building lots, lying and being in the village of Keeseville, County of Essex and State of New York. The first of said lots is bounded and described as follows: situated on the Port Kent Hill, in the said village, on a street to be known and designated as back street, and measuring on said street fifty five feet in front and the same in rear and extending back one hundred feet—to be known and designated as lot number (4).—The second of the aforesaid lots is situated also in the said village of Keeseville, on the street known and designated as McDermid street, to commence on the said street one hundred and fifty feet from the line of the Port Kent road and to be sixty feet in front on said street and run back to James McGuires land be the said lots more or less. And whereas the said Mortgage was by an instrument in writing dated February 18th, 1853, duly assigned by the said John McGuire to Michael Keenan, jr. of Chesterfield, Essex County. On which Mortgage there is claimed to be due at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $57.67. And default having been made in the payment of said $57.67 and no proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the same, or any part thereof: now therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage and of the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgaged premises will be sold at public auction on the 23d day of May next at 10 o'clock A. M. at the Adirondac Hotel, in the village of Keeseville, Essex County.

MICHAEL KEENAN, Jr.

Assignee of Mortgagee.

JOHN McELROY, Atty. 460 13w

Dated, Keeseville February 26th, 1853.

MORTGAGE SALE

DEFAULT has been made in the payment of the debt secured by a certain mortgage, dated the 21st day of October, 1847, executed by William Galusha and Sophia, his wife, then of Wilmington, in the County of Essex, State of N. Y., to Uriah D. Mihills of Keene, in the county and state aforesaid, and recorded in the office of the clerk of Essex county, in volume N. of Mortgages, pages 283 and 284, on the 28th day of December, 1847, at nine o'clock, A. M. Said mortgage was duly assigned by said Mihills to Willard Bell, January 14th, 1848, and by said Bell duly assigned to Reuben Patridge, January 30, 1849, and by said Patridge duly assigned to M. Finch, Amos Avery and Charles Malbone, assignees of Reuben Sanford, January 1st, 1849, who are now the owners of said mortgage. There is claimed to be due on said mortgage, at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $167.93. Now therefore, notice is hereby given that the premises described in said mortgage, will, by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, be sold at public auction, at the Adirondac Hotel, in Keeseville, in said county, on the 8th day of June next, at 1 o'clock, P. M.

Said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage as follows: All that certain piece or parcel of land situate in the town of Wilmington, in the county of Essex, being a part of lot No 34, of Mallory's grant, bounded as follows: beginning at a stake and stones standing on the North line of the Sampson lot, 141 rods from the centre of the road leading from the Carpenter house to Blish and Burdick's forge, being the South-West corner of Ephraim French's land, and running East on said line to the West line of said grant, thence North on the line of said grant to the centre of the road leading from Sanford's to St. Armand, thence running Easterly in the centre of said road to a stake and stones, being the North-West corner of a piece of land occupied by David Hatch, thence South 42 degrees, West six rods to the South bank of Mill Brook, thence Easterly along the South bank of said brook 30 rods to a stake and stones being the South-East corner of said Hatch lot, thence North 35 degrees East to the centre of said road, thence Easterly in the centre of said road to the North-West corner of the Carpenter lot, thence South on the line of said Carpenter lot to the South-west corner of said lot, thence East on the line of said lot to the brook, thence up the brook in the centre thereof to a point ten rods below the sawmill, and thence on the South bank of said brook on the line of Ephraim French's lot to the North-west corner thereof, thence South 43 degrees west on the line of said French's lot 126 rods to the place of beginning, containing eventy-five acres, he the same more or less.

M. FINCH,
AMOS AVERY, } Assignees.
CHAS. MALBONE.

FINCH & HARWOOD, Atty's.

Dated March 12, 1858. 462-13w

The People of the State of New York, to the Creditors and next of kin of Hannah Buckminister, late of Moriah, Essex County, deceased, send GREETING:

You and each of you are hereby cited and required personally, to be and appear before our county Judge and Surrogate of the county of Essex, at his office in the town of Elizabethtown, on the second day of May next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the final settlement of the accounts of Jacob Tappen, administrator, and Lorinda Tappen, administratrix, of all and singular the goods, chattels and credits of Hannah Buckminister, deceased.

L. S. In testimony whereof, we have caused the Surrogate's seal of said county of Essex to be hereunto affixed at Elizabethtown, this 21st day of March, A. D. 1853.

Witness: JOHN E. McVINE,

464:4w Essex Co. Judge.

Gas, Steam & Water Fitting and Fixtures, Wrought-Iron Pipe, Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Plumbers' Materials, &c.

We are now prepared to do work in dwellings, Stores, Churches, Mills, or Factories, in the way of Gas and Steam Fitting or Plumbing, in the most complete and satisfactory manner. Having workmen in each of the above branches who cannot be excelled by any similar establishments in the country all orders will be promptly executed, and work done in any part of the country.

We have also constantly on hand and for Sale at Manufacturers' Prices, Wrought Iron Pipe for Gas, Steam, and water, Twisted and Plain Brass Pipe, Steam Valves, Brass and Iron Stop Cocks, Tees, Elbows, Couplings, Brass Globe, Cross and Check Valves, &c. Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Leather Hose, Hose Pipe and Couplings, with every material in Lead, Brass and Plated Work for Plumbers' use.—Plug Basins, Hoppers, Closet Pans, Corner Basins, and Baths, of all descriptions.

Also, a splendid assortment of Chandeliers, Pendants, Brackets &c, on new and rich styles, to which we are receiving constant additions.

PEIRCE and SOUTHWICK.

223 and 225 River Street, [Opposite Troy House,] Troy, N. Y. 445 tf

ALFRED H. PEIRCE. LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK.

A. A. LEE,

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW

ELIZABETHTOWN, ESSEX CO.

☞ Office over Root & Co

Medicine.

THE WONDER OF THE WORLD.

DEVINES' COMPOUND

PITCH LOZENGE,

A sure and pleasant Remedy for Colds, Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, and if lungs enough are left to sustain life, A CERTAIN CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, safe for the Infant or the Invalid, in any stage of weakness.

"The statements that consumption cannot be cured, has destroyed more lives than the disease itself.—[Dr. Warren Read the following, which to a candid mind places this "Great Remedy," like Cæsar's wife "above suspicion."

TO THE PUBLIC!

We, the undersigned, citizens of Lee, Mass., are acquainted with Mr. Devines, the proprietor and Manufacturer of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge and from what we know of it ourselves and have learned from others of its beneficial effects, in cases where it has been used, give it as our opinion that it is a valuable remedy in diseases for which it is recommended and is worthy of public confidence. A. G. Hulburt, Leonard Church, P. G. Taylor, Wm Taylor, E. A. Bliss, S. A. Hulburt, Josephus Crafts, T. P. Eldridge.

If any individual is to be pitied, and needs sympathy, it is the consumptive—always expecting to get well, and yet the painful evidence of decay almost "makes the inner soul shrink with the outer flesh."

"Some bloom as roses bloom, and live as roses live, A single morning space!"

While others in more mature life—by some imprudence and a slight cold neglected—in the hectic flush—the painful cough.

"The prints of their departing steps appears."

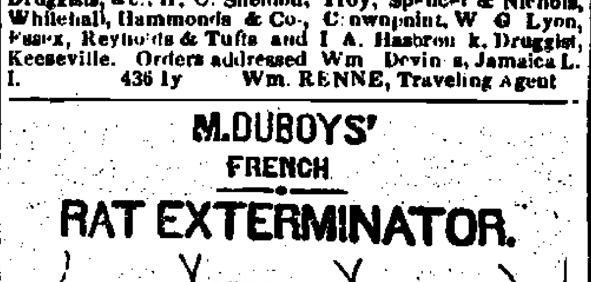
BUT BE ENCOURAGED! Mr Wm. Devines, the originator and manufacturer of the Pitch Lozenge, under Providence, was raised to perfect health by the use of these Lozenges alone, after he was pronounced by his physician to be almost dying with consumption.

This fact is generally known in Berkshire County and is the neighborhood talk, and wonder in Lee, and in Great Barrington, Mass.

From Dr. Brown, of Lee, Mass.

This certifies that I have made use of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge for cold and cough, and found immediate relief. Therefore I would recommend it to the public as being a safe and sovereign remedy. H. C. BROWN.

Lee, October 28, 1851.



Sold wholesale at Albany, by Wm. A. Wharton & Co., Druggists, &c., H. C. Sheldon, Troy, Spencer & Nichols, Whitehall, Hammonds & Co., Crownpoint, W. G. Lyon, Essex, Reynolds & Tufts and I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. Orders addressed Wm. Devines, Jamaica L. I. 436 1y Wm. RENNE, Traveling Agent

---

M. DUBOYS'

FRENCH

RAT EXTERMINATOR.

THIS PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to exterminate Rats and Mice, whenever used as directed, and to leave no offensive stench on the premises cleared of these annoying vermin. Its use is perfectly safe in any place and at all times, which is not the case with ordinary remedies for this evil.

CAUTION!—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!—The extraordinary success of M. Duboy's Rat Exterminator has excited the cupidity of some dishonest and irresponsible persons to counterfeit it. Inquire for M. Duboy's French Rat Extirminator, and take no other. Large boxes at 25 cents. LYNDE & OSBURN.

Rochester, N. Y., Sole American Agents, to whom all orders should be addressed.

For sale by Stearns & Beckwith, Peru, I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. 444 1y

Miscellaneous,

WOOLEN

MANUFACTURING

IN all its various branches, will be carried on at the Keeseville Woolen Manufacturing Establishment, in Keeseville, N. Y.

Wool of any quality will be received in exchange for Cloth,

CASSIMERES, SATINETS,

Flannels, &c.

The Goods of this Establishment for the last two years, are well known at home and in market, and needs no other recommendation than a fair trial. Farmers and others wishing to make the most out of their wool, will find it to their advantage to call and exchange their wool for cloths. They may rest assured that they will be fairly dealt with, as no goods will be offered but those that will give satisfaction.

C. Roelofsen has made arrangements which will enable him to pay

Part Cash

on Exchanges, or all CASH for WOOL when Price and Quality Suit.

On hand and ready for Exchanging, Grey Cloths, Mixed Satinets—VERY HEAVY—fine and medium Cassimeres, Red Flannel—yard wide—the different kinds also for sale.

THE CUSTOM

CARDING

will be carried on as usual.

C. ROELOFSON & Co.

Keeseville, May 26th, 1852. 421tf

WOOL!! WOOL!!!

Cash Paid for Wool

BY

Matthews & Ames,

At the Old Stand of

H. & H. MATTHEWS.

Every discription of Woolen and Cotton Goods given in exchange for Wool if wanted.

HAVING increased our stock of Goods by a second Spring purchase, We feel confident that we shall be able to supply all who may wish Goods or Groceries of any description, in part, or wholly, for their Fleece, Pulled or Tag Wool.

Boots ad Shoes.

READY-MADE or MADE to ORDER,

AS good as the best, as cheap as the cheapest and warranted to fit. The undersigned begs leave to remind the public of the above facts and solicits a share of their patronage. ☞ Opposite the Bank.

JAMES ADAMS.

Keeseville, March, 1852. 111-tf

NEW STORE.

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

True Union store.

MR. NICHOLS of Burlington, Vt., has established a branch of his stock at Essex, nearly opposite the Steam Boat Landing in Fancher's Building adjoining the Hotel, where he has on hand nearly all kinds of Dry-goods and Groceries and intends keeping up a good assortment by constantly replenishing, and will sell as low as can be bought in Burlington for cash and ready pay, most kinds of Produce taken. Mr. N. flatters himself that with the facilities he has for purchasing goods both in Boston and New York, that he can compete with any store in Northern New York or Vermont. Please give us a call and see for themselves. "A penny saved is two pence earned."

WANTED 10,000 lbs. BUTTER.

N. Y., June 16, 1852.

KEESEVILLE ACADEMY.

The undersigned in behalf of the Trustees of Keeseville Academy, announce that the Spring Term will commence on Monday the 14th day of February inst. They have succeeded in engaging the following corps of Teachers.

Associate Principals. { CHARLES H. DANN, Teacher of Languages and Higher Mathematics. GILBERT THAYER, Teacher of English Branches, Natural Sciences and Superintendent of the School.

Miss. NANCY S. POTTER and
Miss. MARY FERRIS Assistant Teachers.
Miss. ELLEN M. FISHER Teacher of Music.
Good Board and Rooms in the Village.

TERMS:

Common English Branches,	$3 00	per quarter.
Higher " Branches,	1 00	extra "
Book keping,	1 50	" "
Latin and Greek, each,	1 00	" "
French, Italian and German, each,	1 00	"

Tuition is not charged for more than two of the above extras

Music Instrumental,	$10.00	per quarter.
" Vocal,	1 00	" "
For French, Italian or German, taken as single branches, the charge will be	3 00	" "

Mr THAYER will give especial attention to young gentlemen and Ladies expecting to engage in teaching.

Oliver Keese
Jacob D Kingsland } Com. of John McCooke Trustees.

Keeseville Feb. 14, 1853. 45 tf

Miscellaneous.

New Goods! Nw Good!

—AT—

NICHOLS' CASH STORE,

150 Church street,

BURLINGTON, VERMONT,

HAVING just Purchased in New York and Boston, a large stock of Goods of all kinds we now offer them for sale, and those who are in want of goods in our line will save money by calling on us before purchasing. We are confident we have the largest stock of goods ever brought into Burlington at one time; we were induced to buy largely in consequence of the low prices of many kinds of goods, particularly dress goods of almost every kind.

We have a full stock of everything usually kept in a dry good store; Also West India goods and groceries, a very large stock of Teas and Sugars low by chest and cask. Also at cost to clear them off Paper Hangings, Crockery and glass Ware and looking glasses.

CARPETING, AT THE CARPET WARE HOUSE.

BURLINGTON, VT.

Received this day and now opening 50 pieces of all grades, the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three Ply, Superfine, fine and common Ingrain and Venetian, all Wool. Cotton and Cotton and Wool; Also, all the different qualities of Stair Carpeting, Straw Matting, Oil Cloth, Drugetts, Crumb Cloths, Hearth Rugs, Door Matts, &c., very cheap.

Burlington, Nov. '52. 446

CHINA, GLASS, & EARTHEN WARE.

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

[SUCCESSORS TO PEIRCE AND KING,]

IMPORTERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS,

235 River Street, Troy, New York.

Having our Stock very complete from Importations, and otherwise, are prepared to offer a large assortment of all Goods in our Line. Wholesale or Retail, at the Lowest New York or Boston Prices for Cash or Approved Credit, among which will be found:

Fine White Ironstone and White Glazed Ware. Flown Blue, Flown Mulberry, Light Blue and common Wares, and the Acacia Ware, formerly kept by Mr A. Slason.

White, Gold Band and Decorated French China, in sets or seperate prices.

Tea sets, of French and English China, white, Gilt, or decorated. India China in great variety

Toilet Sets, decorated or plain, full, double, or single sets, Cut Glass Ware, in Decanters, Goblets Champaigns, Wines, &c., of new and rich patterns. Glass cut to match any pattern.

Moulded and plain Glass Ware, of every description and style.

Girandoles, Candelabras, Solar Lamps, and Chandeliers, in every variety, from the manufactory of Cornelius & Co. Philadelphia.

Solar Globes, cut and Plain, Solar and Camphene Wicks and Chimnies. Astral and Coat Wicks, Boat Globes, Astral Chimnies, &c., &c.

Hall Lanterns of cut, plain, and stained Glass.

Lanterns of every variety. Also a new and desirable style with patent catch, &c., for Railroads and Steamboats, and made to order with names or initials engraved on.

Tea Trays and Waiters, new styles and shapes, of our own importion, sing y or in sets.

Looking Glasses, Britannia Ware, Table Mats &c, &c

Also a splendid assortment of Fancy Goods, consisting of Vases, Colognes, Cardreceivers, Allumets, Decanters, Wine Bottles, &c., in China, Terra Cotta, Parian Marble, and Bohemian Ware,

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK,

235 River Street, Opposite Troy House, Troy, N. Y.

ALFRED H. PEIRCE.
LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK. 445

New Clothing Store.

WE, the undersigned, have made arrangements with one of the best tailors in the country, to manufacture clothing for us of every description, consisting of overcoats, sacks, dress and frock coats, pants, vests, overalls and boys cloths, together with all kinds of under garments, which are made after the most improved styles, and for workmanship and durability cannot be excelled.

In addition we offer a large assortment of fine

Fashionable Clothing,

made by tailors io New York, that for fitting even Genio C. Scott, in his palmiest days was not a circumstance.

We would also inform the public that it is to be sold by wholesale or retail at very low figures for cash, and for quantity and cheapness is far in advance of any other concern in Northern New York. A comparison with the trade, both in prices and quantity is particularly requested.

In connection with the above we would call the attention of the community to our stock of

Fancy & Staple Dry Goods,

of every variety; also, hats, caps and furs, paper hangings, window shades, hardware and groceries, rifles and shot guns, amunition, &c., &c. Trunks, and valises, carpet bags, whips and lashes, stone ware, and every description of goods that are wanted or can be found in the country. Don't forget

No. 1000, Main Street,

Keeseville, opposite the Adirondac Hotel.

BOYNTON & SMITH.

January 20, 1853.

MATTHEWS & AMES,

(SUCCESSORS TO H. & H. MATTHEWS,)

DEALERS IN

Tin, Sheet Iron, Copper, Japan and BRITANNIA WARE,

together with a large and well selected assortment of

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

which they will sell by the piece or package, at a small advance from cost. Also, a general assortment of

YANKEE NOTIONS

And Fancy Articles,

suitable to the Pedlars Trade, which they will sell low for cash.

☞ All kinds of barter taken in exchange for Goods.

Keeseville, April 17, 1852. 415

New and Cheap Goods

E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Have just received from New York and Boston one of the best assortments of

FALL AND WINTER GOODS

ever exhibited in Keeseville.

Among their stock of DRY GOODS will be found a beautiful assortment of Wool, and Cotton, and woul d'Laines, and Cashmeres, both plain and printed, of all qualities, and prices from one shilling to one Dollar per yard. French Merinoes, Paramettas, Alpaccas Lyonese Cloth, English and American Prints, Ginghams, Flannels of all kinds, a superior quality of Bay State Flannel of different colors, Wool Plaids, Tickings, Stripes &c, &c, Shawls—a large and splended assortment of Bay State, Empire State, Waterloo, Scotch Plaid, and Printed WOOL SHAWLS, at prices much lower than ever before offered in this market. A beautiful assortment of Bonnet Silks and Velvets, with trimmings of all kinds. Also dress silks and Satins, Gloves, Hosiery &c.

READY MADE CLOTHING

Of all kinds, sold very cheap, also, Cloths, Broad Cloths Plain and fancy Cassimeres, Black Doe Skins, Satinets Silks and Worsted, Vestings, Serges, &c., &c., with many other articles too numerous to mention. 'Tis unnecessary to add that all the above goods will be sold at very low prices. Only remember their motto 'quick sales and small profits.' Please call and examine Goods and prices, and satisfy yourselves. Opposite the Adirondac Hotel.

Keeseville Oct. 1822.

WANTED,

A farm containing not less than 200 acres in the town of Chesterfield, Ausable or Peru, on which must be good Dwelling House and out Buildings and otherwise under good cultivation. One answering the above Description will meet with sale for cash. Enquire of Benj. MINER.

Port Kent, Feb. 22d, 1853

CORLIES & DECKER,

(Successors to J. N. & E. W. Corlies,)

—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—

TEAS,

Agents for the Sale of

Manufactured Tobacco,

192 Pearl Street,

Near Maiden Lane, 420 New York.

Miscellany.

THE NORTHERN

New York Mutual

INSURANCE COMPANY,

Plattsburgh, Clinton Co., N. Y.

Capital, 100,000.

THIS Company is organized under the General Insurance Law of the State of New York, with a sound, reliable capital, and offers the following superior inducements:

1. The safer kinds of property are separated entirely from the more hazardous; affording the advantages of two distinct companies, with the expense of but one.

2. The first class, or Farmer's Department, consists of Farm-houses, Farm buildings and their contents and detatched dwellings and their contents in villages, when unexposed by more hazardous buildings,

3. The second class or Merchant's Department, consists of exposing dwellings, stores, merchandize and property not deemed specially hazardous.

4. Each class pays its own losses and thu securing equal justice and proportional rate to both.

5. Not more than $3,000 of the first class, or more than $2,000 of the second class will be taken in one risk, nor any number of risks so contiguous as probably to subject the Company to a loss of over $3,000 at any one fire; thereby saving it from heavy and ruinous losses.

6. In taking surveys of property, the agent will be the agent of the company, and the company be responsible for the correctness of all surveys made by its agents.

7. Any one insured, may at any time surrender his policy and withdraw from the company by paying his proportion of the losses and expense up to the date of such surrender.

8. Applications will take effect at noon of the day on which they are made (unless a different day is directed by the applicant,) thus relieving the party from anxiety and suspense.

9. The company no have two-thirds clause, but will pay all loss and damage not exceeding the amount insured.

10. In case of difference of opinion in settlement of losses, the company will submit the same to arbitration in the county where the loss occurs, the claimant choosing one, the company one, and the two arbitrators another.

11 Each person insured in the company becomes a member and will be entitled to a participation of the profits, if any surplus should accrue, not required for the payment of losses.

12. This company will be responsible for losses by fire caused by lightning.

13. This company will take no risks in cities.

☞ The Directors return their acknowledgments to the public for ther readiness in aiding the organization of this company, and will endeavor to make it a safe and reliable institution, affording protection from the ravages of fire, at reasonable rates, and with certainty of payment in case of loss.

DIRECTORS.

James Farr, Fort Ann, Washington co; Olif Abel, Whitehall, do; Walter Geer, Glen's Falls, Warren co; Pelatiah Richards, Warrensburgh, do; Wm. E. Calkins, Ticonderoga, Essex co.; John Horton, Columbia Vilage, St. Lawrence co.; Thomas H. Conkey, Canton, do.; Amasa C. Moore, Samuel F. Viles, Henry G. Hewitt, Jacob H Holt, John Boynton, Peter S. Palmer, Cornelius Halsey, Z. C. Platt, W. W. Hartwell, Benjamine Gilman, George Moore, Plattsburgh, Clinton Co,

OFFICERS.

SAMUEL F. VILES, Presikent;
WM. W. HARTWELL, Vice President;
ZEPHENIAH C. PLATT, Treasurer;
GEORGE MOORE, Secretary;
I. C. MIX, and
R. G SWINBRN, General Agents.
JAMES B. DICKINSON, Agent Ausable Forks.

Plattsburgh, Dec. 4th, 1852. 44 tf

DRY-GOODS!

CARPETS AND OIL-CLOTHS,

at uncommonly low prices

may be had at

G. V. S. Quackenbush's,

202 River and 9 State Streets. Troy.

MY Stock of Dry-Goods is unsurpassed in Variety and extent, consisting of every class of goods from the lowest priced Muslins and Prints, to the finest

BROAD-CLOTHS AND CASSIMERES,

or the richest and most expensive styles of Silks and Shawls and of each denomination of goods.

I have an almost endless variety of patterns of all the different qualities—

Of Carpets and Oil Cloths I have a splendid assortment consisting of a great variety of new and beautiful patterns of Velvets, Tapestry, and Brussels Carpets—

Also

Three Ply, Tapestry-Ingrains, and Ingrains, of all qualities and so varied in styles that all may here find something to suit their fancy.

Oil Cloths of all Widths and Qualities

and of the newest and most desirable patterns, Rugs, in great variety,

STAIR CARPETS, STAIR RODS, DRUGGETS, MATTS,

and Matting of every Style and Quality.

A correct diagram being furnished Oil-Cloths will be cut to fit rooms or halls without extra charge, and Carpets made in a superior manner at the lowest rates.

Those wishing to purchase either Dry-Goods or Carpets will find that my assortment is unequaled, and that my prices are uncommonly low.

422 G. V. S. QUACKENBUSH,
202 River Street, Troy.

RUTLAND & BURLINGTON Rail Road.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after Monday, Nov. 1st, trains will run as follows, viz:

FOR BOSTON, NEW YORK AND INTERMEDIATE PLACES.

LEAVE
Burlington at	8,15	A. M.,		4,15	P. M.
Vergennes	9.09	"		5,00	"
Middlebury	9,42	"		5,35	"
Brandon	10.20	"		6.18
Rutland	11,00	"	AR.	7,00
			L.	6,30	A. M.
Cuttingville	11.25	"		6.55	"
Ludlow	12.05	P. M.		7,35	"
Proctorsville	12,16	"		7,42	"
Chester	12,40	"		8,10	"
Arriving
Bellows Falls	1.15	"		8.45	"
Boston	7,00	"		1,00	P. M.
LEAVE
Boston	7 45	A. M.		12,00	M.
Bellows Falls	12 00	"		5 15	P. M.
Chester	12.40	P. M.		6,50	"
Proctorsville	1 07	"		6.17	"
Ludlow	1.15	"		6,25	"
Cuttingville	1 52	"		7.05	"
Rutland AR.	2,15	"	AR.	7 30	"
L.	3,00	"	L.	7.45	"
Brandon	3 38	"		8 25	"
Middlebury	4,25	"		9.54	"
Vergennes	5,00	"		9,37	"
Arriving
Burlington	5.45	"		10,30	"

CONNECT AT BURLINGTON.

with the Steamers for PLATTSBURGH and MONTREAL RAIL ROADS, and with the VERMONT and CENTRAL and VERMONT and CANADA RAIL ROADS, for the East, North, and West, via CHAMPLAIN and ST. LAWRENCE, and the OGDENSBURGH RAIL ROADS,

CONNECT AT RUTLAND

with the Trains of Western Vermont, Rutland and Washington and Saratoga and Washington Rail Roads, for New York, Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Buffalo and the West,

CONNECT AT BELLOWS FALLS

with the Trains of the Cheshire, Vermont Valley and Sullivan Rail Roads for Windsor, Boston, Worcester, Lowell Springfield, Hartford, New Haven, and New York.

Fares are less when Tickets are purchased at the Offices then when paid in the Cars.

Burlington, Oct. 25, 1852. JOHN W. DUNLAP,
445 Superintendent.

EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR.

50 BARRELS made from Pure Genessee Wheat at the lowest price at

REYNOLDS & TURTS.

Dec. 18, 1852.

Essex County Republican.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING BY JONATHAN TARBELL, Editor and Proprietor. TERMS, $2 Per Year---$1,50 in Advance.

VOLUME XIII. NO. 48. KEESEVILLE, N. Y., APRIL 16, 1853. WHOLE NUMBER 467.

From Putnam's Monthly Magazine.

Our New Livery, and Other Things.

A letter from Mrs. Potiphar to Miss Caroline Pettitoes.

NEW-YORK.

MY DEAR CAROLINE.—Lent came so frightfully early this year, that I was very much afraid my new bonnet a l' Imperatrice would not be out from Paris soon enough. But fortunately it arrived just in time, and I had the satisfactfon of taking down the pride of Mrs. Crœsus, who fancied hers would be the only stylish hat in church the first Sunday. She could not keep her eyes away from me, and I sat so unmoved and so calmy looking at the Doctor, that she was quite vexed. But, whenever she turned away, I ran my eyes over the whole congregation, and would you believe that, almost without an exception, people had their old things? However, I suppose they forgot how soon Lent was coming. As I was passing out of church, Mrs: Crœsus brushed by me:

"Ah !" said she, "good morning, Why, bless me! you've got that pretty hat I saw at Lawson's. Well, now, it's really quite pretty; Lawson has some taste left yet;—what a lovely sermon the Doctor gave us. By the by, did you know that Mrs. Gnu has actually bought the blue velvet? It's too bad, because I wanted to cover my prayer-book with blue, and she sits so near, the effect of my book will be quite spoiled. Dear me! there she is beckoning to me; good bye, do come and see us; Tuesdays, you know. Well, Lawson really does very well."

I was so mad with the old thing, that I could not help catching her by her mantle and holding on while I whispered, loud enough for every body to hear:

"Mrs. Crœsus, you see I have just got my bonnet from Paris. It's made after the Empress's. If you would like to have yours made over in the fashion, dear Mrs. Crœsus, I shall be so glad to lend you mine."

"No, thank you, dear," said she, "Lawson won't do for me. Bye bye."

And so she slipped out, and, I've no doubt, told Mrs. Gnu, that she had seen my bonnet at Lawson's. Isn't it too bad?—Then she is so abominably cool. Somehow, when, I'm talking with Mrs. Crœsus, who has all her own things made at home, I don't feel as if mine came from Paris at all. She has such a way of looking at you, that it's quite dreadful. She seems to be saying in her mind, "La! now, well done, little dear." And I think that kind of mental reservation (I think that's what they call it) is an insupportable impertinence. However, I don't care, do you?

I've so many things to tell you that I hardly know where to begin. The great thing is the livery, but I want to come regularly up to that, and forget nothing by the way. I was uncertain for a long time how to have my prayer-book bound. Finally, after thinking about it a great deal, I concluded to have it done in pale blue velvet, with gold claps, and a gold cross upon the side. To be sure, it's nothing very new. But what is new now-adays? Sally Shrimp has had hers done in emerald, and I know Mrs. Crœsus will have crimson for hers, and those people who sits next us in church (I wondor who they are; its very unpleasant to sit next to people you don't know: and positively, that girl, the dark-haired one with large eyes, carries the same muff she did last year; it's big enough for a family), have a kind of brown morocco binding. I must tell you one reason why I fixed upon the pale blue. You know that aristocratic-looking young man, in white cravat and black pantaloons and waistcoat, whom we saw at Saratoga a year ago, and always had such a beautiful sanctimonious look, and such small white hands; well, he is a minister, as we supposed, "an unworthy candidate, an unprofitable husband," as he calls himself in that delicious voice of his. He has been asked a good deal to dinner, and there was a hope of his being settled as colleague to the Doctor, only Mr. Potiphar (who can be stubborn, you know) insisted that the Rev. Cream Cheese, though a very good young man, he didn't doubt, was adicted to candlesticks. I suppose that's something awful. But could you believe anything awful of him? I asked Mr. Potiphar what he meant by saying such things.

"I mean," said he, "that he's a Puseyite, and I've no idea of being tied to the apron-strings of the Scarlet Woman."

Dear Caroline, who is the Scarlet Woman? Dearest tell me upon your honor, if you have ever heard any scandal of Mr. Potiphar.

"What is it about candlesticks?" said I to Mr. Potiphar. "Perhaps Mr. Cheese finds gas too bright for his eyes; and that's his misfortune, not his fault."

"Polly," said Mr. Potiphar, who will call me Polly, although it sounds so very vulgar, "please not to meddle with things you don't understand. You may have Cream Cheese to dinner as much as you choose, but I will not have him in the pulpit of my church."

The same day, Mr. Cheese happened in about lunch-time, and I asked him if his eyes were really weak.

"Not at all," said he, "why do you ask?"

Then I told him that I had heard he was so fond of candlesticks.

Ah! Caroline, you should have seen him then. He stopped in the midst of pouring out a glass of Mr. Potiphar's best old port, and holding the decanter in one hand, and the glass in the other, he looked so beautifully sad, and said in that sweet low voice:

"Dear Mrs. Potiphar, the blood of the martyrs is the seed of the church." Then he filled up his glass, and drank the wine off with such a mournful, resigned air, and wiped his lips so gently with his cambric handkerchief (I saw that it was a hem-stitch) that I had no voice to ask him to take a bit of the cold chicken, which he did however, without my asking him. But when he said in the same low voice "A little more breast, dear Mrs. Potiphar," I was obliged to run into the drawing-room for a moment, to recover myself.

Well, after he had lunched, I told him I wished to take his advice upon something connected with the church (for a prayer-book is you know, dear), and he looked so sweetly at me, that, would you believe it, I almost wished to be a Catholic, and to confess three or four times a week, and to have him for my confessor. But it's very wicked to wish to be a Catholic, and it wasn't real much, you know: but somehow I thought so. When I asked him in what velvet he would advise me to have my prayer-book bound he talked beautifully for about twenty minutes. I wish you could have heard him. I'm not sure that I understood much of what he said—how should I?—but it was very beautiful. Don't laugh Carrie, but there was one thing I did understand, and which, as it came pretty often, quite helped me through; it was,—"Dear Mrs. Potiphar;" you can't tell how nicely he said it. He began by telling me that it was very important to consider all the detail and little things about the church. He said they were all Timbales or Cymbals—or something of that kind; and then he talked very prettily about the stole, and the violet and scarlet capes of the cardinals, and purple chasubles, and the lace edge of the Pope's little short gown; and—do you know it was very funny—but it seemed to me, somehow, as if I was talking with Portier or Florine Lefevre, except that he used such beautiful words. Well, by and by he said:—

"Therefore, dear Mrs. Potiphar, as your faith is so pure and childlike, and as I observe that the light from the yellow panes usually falls across your pew, I would advise that you cymbalize your faith (wouldn't that be noisy in church?) by binding your prayer-book in pale blue; the color of skim-milk, dear Mrs. Potiphar, which is so full of pastoral associations."

Why did he emphasize the word "pastoral?" Do you wondor that I like Cream Cheese, dear Caroline, when he is so gentle and religious—and such a pretty religion too! For he is not only well-dressed, and has such aristocratic hands and feet, in the parlor, but he is so perfectly gentlemanly in the pulpit. He never raises his voice too loud, and he has such wavy gestures. Mr. Potiphar says that may be all very true, but he knows perfectly well that he has a hankering for artificial flowers, and that, for his part, he prefers the Doctor to any preacher he ever heard; "because," he says, "I can go quietly to sleep confident that he will say nothing that might not be preached from every well regulated pulpit; whereas, if we should let Cream Cheese into the desk, I should have to keep awake to be on the look-out for some of these new fangled idolatries: and Polly Potiphar, I, for one, am determined to have nothing to do with the Scarlet Woman."

Darling Caroline—I don't care much—but did he ever have anything to do with a Scarlet Woman?

After he said that about artificial flowers, I ordered from Martelle the sweetest sprig of immortelle he had in his shop, and sent it annonymously on St. Valentine's day. Of course I didn't wish to do any thing secret from my husband, that might make people talk, so I wrote "Reverend Cream Cheese; from his greatful Skim-Milk." I marked the last words, and hope he understood that I meant to express my thanks for his advice about the pale-blue cover. You don't think it was too romantic, do you, dear?

You can imagine how pleasantly Lent is passing since I see so much of him: and then it is so appropriate to Lent to be intimate with a minister. He goes with me to church a great deal, for Mr. Potiphar, of course, has no time for that, except on Sundays; and it is really delightful to see such piety. He makes the responses in the most musical manner; and when he kneels upon entering the pew, he is the admiration of the whole church. He buries his face entirely in a cloud of cambric pocket handkerchief, with his initials embroidered at one corner; and his hair is beautifully parted down behind, which is very fortunate, as otherwise he would look so badly when only half his head showed. I feel so good when I sit by his side; and when the Doctor (as Mr. P. says) "blows up" those terrible sinners in Babylon and the other Bible towns, I always find the Rev. Cream's eyes fixed upon me, with so much sweet sadness, that I am very, very sorry for the naughty people the Doctor talks about.—Why did they do so, do you suppose, dear Caroline? How thankful we ought to be that we live now with so many churches, and such fine ones, and with such gentlemanly ministers as Mr. Cheese. And how nicely it's arranged that, after dancing and dining for two or three months constantly, during which, of course, we can only go to church Sunday, there comes a time for stopping, when we're tired out, and for going to church every day, and (as Mr. P. says) "striking a balance;" and thinking about being good, and all those things,—We don't lose a great deal, you know. It makes a variety, and we all see each other just the same, only we don't dance. I do think it would be better if we took our lorgenettes with us, however, for it was only last Wednesday, at nine o'clock prayer, that I saw Sheens Silke across the church, in their little pew at the corner, and I am sure that she had a new bonnet on; and yet though I looked at it all the time, trying to find out, prayers were fairly over before I discovered whether it was really new, or only that old white one made over with a few new flowers. Now, if I had had my glass, I could have told in a moment, and shouldn't have been obliged to lose all the prayers.

But, as I was saying, those poor old people in Babylon and Nineveh! only think, if they had had the privilege of prayers for six or seven weeks in Lent, and regular preaching the rest of the year, except, of course, in the summer: (by the by, I wonder if they all had some kind of Saratoga or Newport to go to?—I mean to ask Mr. Cheese)—they might have been good, and all have been happy. It's quite awful to hear how eloquent and earnest the Doctor is when he preaches against Babylon.—Mr. P. says he likes to have him "Pitch into those old sinners; it does 'em so much good;" and then he looks quite fierce.—Mr. Cheese is going to read me a sermon he has written upon the maidenhood of Lot's wife. He says that he quotes a great deal of poetry in it, and that I must dam up the fount of my tears when he reads it. It was an odd expression for a minister wasn't it? and I was obliged to say, "Mr. Cheese, you forgot yourself." He replied, "Dear Mrs. Potiphar, I will explain;" and he did so; so that I admired him more than ever.

Dearest Caroline,—if you should only like him! He asked one day about you; and when I told him what a dear good girl you are, he said; "And her father has worldly possessions, has he not?"

I answered, yes; that your father was very rich. Then he sighed, and said that he could never marry an heiress unless he clearly saw it to be his duty. Isn't it a beautiful resignation?

I had no idea of saying so much about him, but you know it's proper, when writing a letter in Lent, to talk about religious matters. And, I must confess, there is something comfortable in having to do with such things. Don't you feel better, when you've been dancing all the week, and dining, and going to the opera, and flirting and flying round, to go to church on Sunday? I do. It seems, somehow, as if we ought to go.—But I do wish Mrs. Crœsus would sit somewhere else than just in front of us, for her new bonnets and her splendid collars and capes make me quite miserable: and then she puts me out of conceit of my things by talking about Lawson, or somebody, as I told you in the beginning.

Mr. Potiphar has sent out for the new carpets. I had only two spoiled at my ball you know, and that was very little. One always expects to sacrifice at least two carpets upon occasion of seeing one's friends. That handsome one in the supper-room was entirely ruined. Would you believe that Mr. P., when he went down stairs the next morning, found our Fred and his cousin boeing with their little hoes? It was entirely matted with preserves and things, and the boys said they were scraping it clean before breakfast. The other spoiled carpet was in the gentlemen's dressing-room where the punch bowl was. Young Gauche Boosey, a very gentlemanly fellow, you know, ran up after polking, and was so confused with the light and heat that he went quite unsteadily, and as he was trying to fill a glass with the silver ladle (which was rather heavy), he somehow leaned too hard upon the table, and down went the whole thing, table, bowl punch, and Boosey and ended my poor carpet. I was sorry for that, and also for the bowl, which was a very handsome one, imported from China by my father's partner—a wedding-gift to me—and for the table, delicate rosewood stand, which was a work table of my sister Lucy's—whom you never knew, and who died long and long ago. However, I was amply repaid by Boosey's drollery afterward. He is a very witty young man, and when he got up from the floor, saturated with punch (his clothes I mean), he looked down at the carpet and said:

"Well, I've given that such a punch it will want some lemon-aid to recover."

I suppose he had some idea about lemon acid taking out spots.

But, the best thing was what he said to me. He is so droll that he insisted upon coming down and finishing the dance just as he was. The funny fellow brushed against all the dresses in his way, and, finally, said to me, as he pointed to a lemon-seed upon his coat:

"I feel so yory lemon-coly for what I have done."

I laughed very much (you were in the other room), but Mr. P. stepped up and ordered him to leave the house. Boosey said he would do no such thing; and I have no doubt we should have had a scene, if Mr. P had not Marched him straight to the door, and put him into a carriage, and told the driver where to take him. Mr. P. was red enough when he came back.

"No man shall insult me or my guests, by getting drunk in my house," said he; and he has since asked me not to invite Boosey nor "any of his kind," as he calls them, to our house. However, I think it will pass over. I tell him that all young men of spirit get a little excited with wine sometimes, and he mustn't be to hard upon them.

"Madame," said he to me, the first time I ventured to say that, "no man with genuine self-respect ever gets drunk twice; and, if you had the faintest idea of the misery which a little elegant intoxication has produced in scores of families that you know, you would never insinuate again that a little excitement from wine is an agreeable thing. There's your friend Mrs. Crœsus (he thinks she's my friend, because we call each other 'dear'!); she is delighted to be a fashionable woman, and to be described as the 'peerless and accomplished C.œ.s.' in letters from the Waterin to the Herald; but I tell you, if a of the women or the mother is left in the fashionable Mrs. Crœsus, I could wring her heart as it never was wrung—and never shall be by me—by shewing her the places that young Timon Crœsus haunts, the people with whom he associates, and drunkenness, gambeling, and worse dissipations of which he is guilty.

"Timon Crœsus is eighteen or nineteen, or, perhaps, twenty years old; and, Polly, I tell you, he is actually blase, worn out with dissipation, the companion of blacklegs, the chevalier of Cyprians, tipsy every night, and haggard every morning. Timon Crœsus is the puny caricature of a man, mentally, morally, and physically. He gets 'elegantly intoxicated' at your parties; he goes off to sup with Gauche Boosey; you and Mrs. Crœsus think them young men of spirit,—it is an exhilarating case of sowing wild oats, you fancy,—and when, at twenty-five, Timon Crœses stands ruined in the world, without aims or capacities, without the esteem of a single man or his own self respect—youth, health, hope and energy, all gone for ever—then you and your dear Mrs. Crœsus will probably wonder at the horrible harvest. Mrs. Potiphar, ask the Rev. Cream Cheese to omit his sermon upon the maidenhood of Lot's wife, and preach from this text: 'they that sow the wind shall reap the whirlwind.' Good heavens! Polly, fancy our Fred growing up to such a life! I'd rather burry him to-morrow!"

I never saw Mr. P. so much excited.—He fairly put his handkerchief to his eyes, and I really believe he cried! But I think he exaggerates these things: and as he had a very dear friend who went wores and worse, until he died frightfully, a drunkard, it is not strange he should speak so warmly about it. But as Mrs. Crœsus says;

"What can you do? You can't curb these boys, you don't want to break their spirits, you don't want to make them milk-sops."

When I repeated the speech to Mr. P. he said to me with a kind of solemnity:

"Tell Mrs. Crœsus that I am not here to judge nor dictate: but she may be well assured, that every parent is responsible for every child of his to the utmost of the influence he can exert, whether he chooses ty consider himself so or not; and if not now, in this world, yet somewhere and somehow, he must hear and heed the voice that called to Cain in the garden, 'Where is Abel thy brother?"

I can't bear to hear Mr. P. talk in that way; it sounds so like preaching. Not like what we mean when we say, 'preaching,' without referring to any particular sermon. However, he grants that young Timon is an extreme case: but, he says, it is the result that proves the principle, and a state of feeling which not only allows, but indirectly fosters, that result, is frightful to think of.

"Don't think of it. then, Mr. P.," said I. He looked at me for a moment with the stearnest scowl I ever saw upon a man's face, then he suddenly ran up to me, and kissed me on the forehead (although my hair was all dressed for Mrs. Gnu's dinnor) and went out of the house. He hasn't said much to me since, but he speaks very gently when he does speak, and sometimes I catch him looking at me in such a singular way, so half mournful, that Mr. Cheese's eyes don't seem so very sad after all.

However, to return to the party, I believe nothing else was injured except the curtains in the front drawing-room, which were so smeared with ice cream and oyster gravy, that we must get new ones; and the cover of my porcelain tureen was broken by the servant, though the man said he really didn't mean to do it, and I could say nothing; and a party of young men, after the German Cotillon, did let fall the superb out glass Claret, and shivered it, with a dozen of the delicately engraved straw stems that stood upon the waiter. That was all, I believe—oh! except that fine "Dresden Gallery," the most splendid book I ever saw, full of engravings of the great pictures in Dresden, Vienna, and the other Itlian towns, and which was sent to Mr. P. by an old friend, an artist, whom he had helped along when he was very poor. Somebody unfortunately tipped over a bottle of claret that stood upon the table, (I'm sure, I don't know how it got there, tho' Mr. P. says Gauche Boosey knows,) and it lay soaking into the book, so that almost every picture has a claret stain, which looks so funny. I am very sorry, I am sure, but, as I tell Mr. P., it's no use crying for spilt milk. I was telling Mr. Boosey of it at the Gnus' dinner. He laughed very much, and when I said that a good many of the faces were sadly stained, he said in his droll way, "You ought to call it L'opera di Bordeaux; Le Domino rouge." I supposed it was something funny, so I laughed a good deal. He said to me later.

"Shall I pour a little claret into your hook—I mean into your glass?"

Wasn't it a pretty bon-mot?

Don't you think we are getting very spiritual in this country?

I believe there was nothing else injured except the bed-hangings in the back room, which were somehow badly burnt and very much torn in pulling down, and a few of our handsomest shades that were cracked by the heat, and a few plates, which it was hardly fair to expect wouldn't be broken, and the colored glass door in my escritoire, against which Flattie Podge fell as she was dancing with Gauche Boosey; but he may have been a little excited you know, and she poor girl, couldn't help tumbling, and as her head hit the glass, of course it broke, and cut her head badly; so that the blood ran down and naturally spoiled her dress; and what little escritoire could stand against Flattie Podge? So that went, and was all smashed in falling. That's all, except that the next day Mrs. a note, saying that she had lost her largest diamond from her necklace, and she was sure that it was not in the carriage, nor in her own house, nor upon the sidewalk, for she had carefully looked every where, and she would be very glad if I would return it by the bearer.

Think of that!

Well, we hunted every where and found no diamond. I took particular pains to ask the servants if they had found it, for if they had, they might as well give it up at once, without expecting any reward from Mrs. Crœsus, who wasn't very generous. But they all said they hadn't found any diamond: and our man John, who you know is so guileless,—although it was a little mysterous about that emrald pin of mine,—brought me a bit of glass that had been picked out of my large custard dish, and asked me if that wasn't Mrs. Crœsus's diamond. I told him no, and gave him a dollar for his honesty. John is an invaluable servant; he is so guileless.

Do you know I am not so sure about Mrs. Crœsus's diamond!

Mr. P. made a great growling about the ball. But it was very foolish, for he got safely to bed by six o'clock, and he need have no trouble about replacing the curtains, and glass, &c. I shall do all that, and the sum total will be sent to him in a lump, so that he can pay it.

Men are so unreasonable. Fancy us at seven o'clock that morning, when I retired. He wasn't asleep. But whose fault was that?

"Polly," said he, "that's the last."

"Last what?" said I.

"Last ball at my house," said he.

"Fiddle-dee-dee," said I.

I tell you, Mrs. Potiphar, I am not going to open my house for a crowd of people who don't go away till daylight; who spoil my books and furniture; who involve me in a foolish expense; for a gang of rowdy boys, who drink my Margaux, and Lafitte, and Marcobrunner, (what kind of drinks are those dear Caroline?) and who don't know Chambertin from liquorice-water,—for a swarm of persons few of whom know me, fewer still care for me, and to whom I am only 'Old Potiphar,' the husband of you, a fashionable woman, I am simply resolved to have no more such tomfoolery in my house."

"Dear Mr. P." said I, "you'll feel much better when you have slept, Besides, why do you say such things? Musn't we see our friends, I should like to know; and if we do, are you going to let your wife receive them in a manner inferior to old Mrs. Podge or Mrs. Crœsus? People will accuse you of meanness, and of treating me ill: and if some persons hear that you have reduced your style of living they will begin to suspect the state of your affairs.—Don't make any rash vows, Mr. P.," said I, "but go to sleep."

(Concluded next week.)

PADDY AND THE OYSTER.—One evening a red-headed Connaught swell, of no small aristocratic pretensions in his own eyes, sent his servant, whom he had just imported, to purchase a hundred oysters at the city quay Dublin. Paddy stayed so long away that Squire Trigger got quite impatient and unhappy lest his "body man" might have slipped into the Liffey; however, to his infinite relief, Paddy at length made his appearance, puffing and blowing like a disabled bellows, but carrying his load seemingly in great triumph. "Well Pat," said the master, "what the duce kept you so long?"—"Long! oh, thin, may be its you'd have me come home with half my arrant?" says Pat. "Half the oysters?" says the master. "No but too much of the fish," says Pat'—"What fish?" says he.—"The oysters to be sure," says Pat "What do you mean, blockhead?" says he—"I mean says Pat, "that there was no use loading myself more nor was useful."—"Will you explain yourself?" says he.—"I will," says Pat, laying down his load.—"Well, then, you see, plase your honor, as I was coming along the quay, mighty peaceable, who should I meet but Shamus Maginus; "Good morrow, Shameen," sis I; "Cood morrow, kindly Padeen," sis he; "What is it you have in the sack?" sis he; "A hundred of oysters," sis I; "Let us look at thim," sis he; I and welcom," sis I; "Orrah, thunder and prateen," sis he, opening the sack, and examin' them, "who sowld you these?" "One Tom Kinhan, who keeps a small ship there below," sis I; "Musha, then, had luck to that same Tom that sowld the likes to you," sis he; "Arrah, why avick," sis I; "To make a bolsour ov you, and, and give them to you without gutting thim," sis he; "An' arn't they gutted, Jim, aroon?" sis I; "Oh, bad luck to the one o' thim," sis he; "Musha then," sis I, "what the dhoul will I do at all at all? for the master will be mad." "Do!" sis he, "why, I'd rather do the thing for yo mysel', nor you should lose yer place," sis he; so wid that he began to gut them with his knife, nate and *claun*an' afeerd ov dirtying the flags, begor, he swallowed the guts himself, from beginin' to ind, till he had thim as dacent as you see thim here."—dashing down at his master's feet the bag of oyster-shells, to the no small amazement of the Connaught worthy.

IS IT TRUE? SHAME.—We notice a statement in one of our exchanges, that there is in one of the county poor houses in Alabama, an old man of more than ninety years of age who was the ferryman for Washington and his army when he crossed the Delaware, just prior to achieving the victories of Princton and Trenton. This should not be so.

W. H. C. Elizabethtown, has sent us an answer to the Enigma, and Charade of R. B. March 26.—"Beautiful."

The Amazon.

A series of articles on the Amazon and tributaries, which has recently enlivened the columns of the Washington Union is understood to be from the pen of Lieut. Maury. The author has obviously studied the topic with con amore fondness, assisting it with a knowledge of winds and currents, and meteorological phenomena, which very few men possesses with the same thoroughness as the accomplished lieutenant. We are told of the diverse effect of trade-winds upon the Southern American continent; why the climatology of the North differs so widely from that of the centre and South; and how a happy combination of natural causes rains down upon the valley of the great Amazon, elements of perennial fertility, wealth, and lovliness, which no other land on earth enjoys in an equal degree.—The seasons there are not sickened by alternations of half-years of draught and half-years of deluge; remittent visitations, like chills and fever. The old poetic reveries of eternal spring, are realized in all their splendor:

"Of all that is most beauteous, imaged there
In happier beauty; more pellucid streams,
An ampler ether, a diviner air,
And fields invested with purpureal gleams;
Climes which the sun, who sheds the brightest ray
Earth knows is all unworthy to survey."

The temperature ever genial and kindly; the soil exhuberant, responding to the call of the husbandman in lavish plenty, and without discriminating in the least between oxotic and esoteric vegetation; the growth of the plant from the seed to the full corn in the full ear, unsuspended by any outward skyey influence; the region of the Amazon is indeed the garden of the earth. Where three or four crops of grain may be readily grown in the year; where trees bear all the fruits of all climates, and every paradisiacal condition of vegetable life thrives greenly: where diamonds glitter in the ground, and gold and silver thickens the dust; where the air is vocal with the music of birds, whose plumage outshines the Iris in the splendor of its coloring; the fancy of the sturdiest mathematician may well thaw and gush out rapturously, as does that of the enthusiastic lieutenant.

The extent of the Amazon garden is likewise marvelous. Used as we are, in this Western World to the most unbounded physical magnitudes, we are nevertheless startled at descripitons of a stream which drains a circle of territory 2,000 miles in diameter, and flows for 4,000; and is 180 miles wide at the mouth; and is fed by 200 tributaries, some of which equal the Mississippi in size; and into which the tide flows upward 600 miles. It is a vast inland sea, all the most valuable, commercially, for the proximity of its shores—oceans are inconviently wide—and navigable for vessels of medium burden to an incredible distance. The whole population of the globe might colonize in those delightful wildernesses, living easefully on the slightly-aided growth of the soil; and extending their lives, so equable and healthful tho climate, to patriarchal length and energy.

And while the region is universally tempting, its relations to our own commercial system are peculiarly intimate. It is a branch of that vast scheme of island waters, of which the main trunk is found in the Mexican and Carribean seas, and the branches, the Mississippi, the Rio Grande, the Orinoco, and the various smaller estuaries discharging in that great basin. Lieutenant Maury has elsewhere proved by competent testimony, that the currents of the Mississippi and Amazon converge at some point not far south of Cuba; and that the North American flat boat and the Amazonian canoe, if left to fate and the tides, would eventually greet each other at that rendezvous. To the United States, then, rather than to any other people, does the wealth of the Amazon belong.

But the enthusiasm of Lieut. Maury, in the contemplation of this wonderous clime, is mingled with mortification and regret.—Brazil is the mistress of those golden floods, and locks them up as if too precious for the use of anybody. She neither employs her advantages, nor opens them to others.—There is an old prejudice, unworthy of the posterity of that Vasco who gave the whole world a new way to India after Columbus had tried and failed, which forbids the admission of shipping to the river lest foreigners slip in and carry off the fabulous wealth of the banks. There has been a veteran aversion to forcigo inspection. The great Humboldt, during his South American travels, was warned officially against entering the Empire of Brazil. The mouth of the river is always guarded. Permission desired by the Government of the United States to survey the stream was readily refused. The innumerable productions of the Brazilian uplands are carried on the backs of mules for hundreds of miles to Rio and Para, instead of being floated down the river, at a hundredth part of the cost.—The Republics of the west—Bolivia, Ecuador, Peru,—owning the head waters of the river, are obliged by Brazilian obstinacy to turn westward and send their exports tedious thousands of miles around Cape Horn. In short, through the wretched absurdity of Brazil, the immense resources of the Amazon have only been betrayed to us thro' the illicit observations of M. Castelnau, a Frenchman commissioned for the purpose, and Lieutenants Herndon and Gibbons, whom Government privately instructed to descend the river, use their eyes, and report results. Lieut. Herndon is now preparing his story. It will no doubt inflame our cupidity. But what then?

Brazil rules the region, and has her own way of doing it; an absurd and offensive one, but one we may not remedy. The day has gone by for spreading religion or anything else by the sword; say what we will of China and Japan Expeditions. Violent and dictatorial methods may do when applied to nations without the pale of Christendom; but they are not tolerable within it. It is not seemly to propagate Commerce by violence; although there be few wars of which Commerce does not secure a lion's share of the profit. Its attitude is properly defensive; and while it watches jealously all invasions, and for fear of evil precedent, resents them, it does not incite to aggressive measures, and deliberate speculation in blood. Brazil must be left to her own time and humor. Her deposition to usward is not so friendly as it might be, or the long-wanted Commercial treaty we ask for would have been conceded long ago. With that discouraging fact in sight, it is foolish to hope Amazonian favors.—The Eden Lieut Maury describes and covets, will yet be to this country all he can reasonably wish to have it. The gradual developments of time, if nothing else, will bring it about; and our children, not we, will have the benefit of it? Our interest is reversionary. Posterity will enjoy the reality, and we the self-denying anticipation. —[N. Y. Times.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

☞We publish the following affidavit by request of a friend who says we shall "serve the cause of truth" by so doing.

Mr. Wooster is a stranger to us, but he has many business acquaintances in this section, and as the matter has given rise to injurious reports, we cheerfully give it a place.

Rensselaer county ss:—Guy L. Wooster, of the city of Troy, being duly sworn, says that he is a merchant in said city; that a few minutes after nine o'clock of the evening of the tenth day of March instant, this deponent left his store, in River street, to call at the residence of Thomas Donahue, his porter, situated in the alley between 5th and 6th streets in said city, and but a few rods from the dwelling of this deponent; that this deponent then designed to leave the city; for a short absence, the next morning, and was obliged before leaving to see his said porter, who in addition to his duties as porter, acted as ostler for this deponent, and was irregular in his attendance at the store, frequently being absent therefrom during the afternoon, which was the case on the said 10th day of March instant; that this deponent proceeded to the residence of his said porter and found him, with his family, retired; that George W. Noyes lived the next door to the said Donahue; that the wife of the said Noyes had been accustomed, in the spring and fall, to labor in the family of this deponent, and this deponant was indebted to the said wife of Noyes. That this deponent returning from his said porter's, in passing the house of said Noyes, observed a light in his room, and went in with the view of discharging the aforesaid indebtedness; that this deponent found the wife of the said Noyes alone, ironing, who offered this deponent a chair, which he accepted, and immediately introduced his business and paid to her the said debt; that this deponent had been so seated but a few moments, when the said George W. Noyes came into the room, and while this deponent was sitting in his chair, and unexpectedly struck this deponent a blow in the face which felled him violently to the floor, and then seized this deponent by the feet and dragged and hurled this deponent around the room, thereby drawing off one or both the boots of this deponent and otherwise deranging his clothing That the said Noyes then threw this deponent into a side room, the door of which was open, and locking the door of the main room, went out and returned with a young man, a stranger to this deponent, and immediately seized this deponent by the collar and struck this deponent several severe blows in the face; then dragged this deponent into the street, and along the same into the house of the deponent, and into the presence of this deponent's family, excepting his wife, who was absent. That the said Noyes after leaving his said room, never released his grasp upon this said deponent until in the presence of his family, and in passing through the public street struck this deponent, repeatedly, violent blows. That the first blow given this deponent as aforesaid, with the rough treatment this deponent received before the said Noyes first left the room, had confused this deponent and rendered him to a great degree unconscious, and disabled him from offering any effectual resistance to the said Noyes, who was much more powerful than this deponent.—And this deponent says that by the means aforesaid the clothes of this deponent were torn and disordered, and his face and person bruised and discolored, and this deponent was unjustly exposed to ridicule and gross misrepresentation. That the said George W. Noyes had no provocation for this aforesaid treatment of this deponent; that no previous difficulty had between them occurred, and that on the occasion aforesaid the conduct of this deponent while in the dwelling of the said Noyes was in all respects decorous and inoffensive. And this deponent further says that he has learned this morning that the said George W. Noyes is about leaving the city, and he therefore prays appropriate process against him.

G. L. WOOSTER.

Sworn and subscribed before me, March 14, 1853. CHAS. E. BRINTNALL, Justice Peace.

TURKEY.—In the eyes of some thinkers, the government of Turkey is rapidly sinking into a certain apathy and decay. The Porte has been obliged once more to give way—once more to surrender tracts of its ancient dominions—once more to contract the circle of its ancient rights. It has seen Egypt virtually lost to it, and the Crimea occupied by a European race. It has allowed Russia to establish a protectorate in the two provinces lying nearest its western frontiers—Moldavia and Wallachia. It has beheld Greece wrested from it, and witnessed the extinction of its naval power at Navarino: and now it has been called upon, and has been obliged to make still further concessions upon the Black Sea, to prevent what was demanded by diplomacy, and perhaps more with it, from being seized by force.

☞The Troy Post of April 1, says Lettuce and Radishes have appeared in that market.

County Survey.

MR. WATSON,

Dear Sir;—The samples or specimens you wished me in your last letter to examine, have been carefully tested and analysed, Nos. 115, 180 and 46 I find on testing not worth a careful chemical analysis.

Nos. 27 and 23 afford the following results. 100 parts of each dried at 212° gave of

	No. 27 Soil C A Wakefield Elizabethtown.	No. 23 Mark'd black clay, Principally Peat. Mr. Fowler, Schroon.
Organic matter	16,20	49,70
Silica	70,68	38,82
Iron Allumina	10,36	9,60
Lime	1,10	0,28
Magnesia	0,36	0,20
Potassa	0,48	0,34
Soda	0,28	0,36
Chlorine	0,22	0,26
Sulphuric acid	0,26	0,32
Phosphoric acid	0,04	0,08
	99,98	99,96

N. 27 is a very excellent soil. Under the Microscope it is seen to be composed of quartz, mica, feldspar, and hornblende, with an occasional small particle calc-spar and a few other minerals. It is quite rich in organic matter, which gives to the soil a high absorbing and retentive power. It is a superior soil.

No. 23, marked black clay is an aluminous and Silicious Peat. It will make when mixed with ashes or lime an excellent manure for sandy soil.

Yours truly

J. H. SALISBURY.

State Laboratory, Albany, April 3d, 1853.

ANALYSIS OF No 4. GRAND ISLE—DR. SAWYER.

1 gallon of water contains of solid matter 22,16 grains. 100 parts of this solid matter gave of

Organic matter	28,44
Lime	24,48
Soda	11,24
Chlorine	9.72
Carbonic acid	8,64
Sulphuric acid	4,32
Phosphoric acid	3,96
Potassa	1,08
Magnesia	6,84
Silica	0,16
Iron	0,09
	99,97

If we call No. 3 a calcareo-magnesia water, we may call No. 4 a sodio-calcareous water, for the reason that lime and soda in No. 4 takes the place of Magnesia and lime in No. 3.

Neither Nos. 3 or 4 are fitted for using in steam boilers or for culinary purposes.

J. H. SALISBURY.

I have caused the above water kindly brought to me by Dr, Sawyer, to be analysed, althoug not a production of the territory embraced in my survey, because I believed as its medicinal qualities were well established, it would afford a practical test in judging of the medicinal character of the mineral waters of our own county

W. C. W.

WONDERFUL DISCOVERY ON BOSTON COMMON.—Among the most curious and mysterious of modern discoveries, is the following. But that it comes to us from a respectable source, to wit; The Boston Post of the 1st. we should set it down as piece of romance from the "Arabian Nights." But a gentleman who has so recently been appointed to the highly honorable (and lucrative) post of Naval Officer, must be deemed incapable of romancing. Hence we shall look, with intense anxiety, for interpretation of the "key to this strange affair." Who will be the happy interpreter? "Go in," gentlemen, and let us know how you come out:—

A MYSTERIOUS DISCOVERY.—Yesterday afternoon, as the workmen were engaged in digging a hole upon the Common, in which to set a tree, they came upon a brick arch, which, upon opening, and waiting awhile for the nitrous gas to escape, one of the workmen descended and explored this cave. It was about ten feet deep, fifteen feet in length, and six feet wide. Upon the north side was an iron door, from which issued a flight of stone steps. This door was nearly decayed with rust. The brick were of a very quaint mould, differing entirely from any that we have ever seen or heard of before, being of a semi circular shape. Four small earthen jars or pots, of a curious form, with uncouth heads moulded upon them, were found in one corner of this vault; one of which was filled with amorphous pieces of silver, covered with a yellowish brown mould or crust. The other three contained a motely assortment of jewelry of the most singular form and make—consisting of heavy gold rings, elaborately wrought with chasings of beads and antique armour, entwined in scroll-work and flowers; bracelets, buckles, ear-rings, &c. In a crevice between the bricks was stuck a dagger, which upon touching, the blade immediately crumbled to pieces, being completely eaten up with rust. The handle, upon a little rubbing, proved to be of fine gold, set with six costly diamonds.

Here is a problem for antiquarians to solve. The only clue or key to this strange affair is the inscription found engraven upon the handle of the dagger, which some of our learned pundits are now trying to translate; it reads thus; "LO.OF.-L.IRP.A."

The articles have been deposited in the City Hall; and the cave will remain open to-day for the examination of the curious.

MINISTER TO SPAIN—CUBA.—The Tribune thinks that Mr. Soule's apointment as Minister to Spain foreshadows designs on the part of the Administration upon the Island of Cuba. Mr. S, is stated to have said that he would not accept the mission except on the condition, and that was that he should have unrestructed powers to negotiate for the purchase of Cuba. As he has accepted, the inference drawn from the fact is, that the concession he desired has been made to him.

☞Senator Douglass, on a memorable occasion, eulogized Gov. Marcy, as a statesman who had "no blemish on his character and only one patch on his breeches."

The Republican.

KEESEVILLE:

Saturday Morning April 16.

The Union of Lakes, the Union of Lands,
The Union of States none can sever,
The Union of Hearts, the Union of Hands,
The Flag of Our UNION—Forever."

The Political Atmosphere.

There is very much to amuse and instruct in the political field just now, and we had intended to devote a large share of our paper this week to the subject, but our designs have somehow been frustrated, and our readers must accept a brief notice instead.

In the first place, the President owes the confirmation of Dix in the U. S. Senate to the office of Sub Treasurer at N. Y. to the whigs. Had the latter joined with the botling democrats, he would have been rejected by a large vote. Thus is the President under obligations to whigs at the very outset of his administration. Again, the President requested Mr. Whittlesey to withdraw his resignation as Comptroller of the Treasury, whose services could not be dispensed with though a whig.

The offices at the disposal of the President amount to about 42,000, and the applicants average about 15 to an office, or in all to about 630,000 beggars for office! The rapacity and contentions for office are unparalleled. The Senate has been in session over a month on applications for office alone, at an expense probably of $150,000. Dissatisfaction is prevalent, and open in its denunciations. Gov. Marcy it is thought will retire from the cabinet in a short time.

At our State Capitol, scenes of strife between the democratic factions cannot be repeated in all their "harmonious symphonies." Billingsgate is exhausted for epithets with which to belabor each other. At no former period have these factions ever waged a more relentless war, or presented more antagonistic measures of State policy. They all call themselves democrats and sail under the democratic flag, but their principles are as opposed as are the "poles asunder." We have collected together a few of these "soft impeachments," and unless something more absorbing occurs we will give them a place next week.

A lesson is thus afforded to whigs. If they don't profit by it in the end, they are "dead" indeed. In our opinion they have only to keep cool—with a watchful eye, and if "coons" ain't plenty four years from now, we shall be mistaken, that's all.

☞The shot we threw two weeks ago into the concern that nests in the attic of the "stone row," and breathes forth its blighting miasma on all who come within its scope, stirred up the leading animal considerably; so much so that he treated his readers to two columns and a half extra of choice billingsgate, that would have done honor to the most renowned fish market. We did not intend to disturb the equanimity of the "covey" who occupies the honorable station of scavenger to the brawling barnburners of this section, a more ungrateful and incendiary set than whom never figured on the political chessboard for the "loaves and fishes,"—but merely to set a few matters right and let him pass. But the opportunity was too good to be lost for the display of his ale-house profundity; the natural consequence of which is, that we have two columns of low abuse of ourself and Mr. Finch and Carter, entirely characteristic of this sapient underling. We disinterestedly ask the Gazette man if he has not mistaken his vocation, and if he had not better assume the business he is so well calculated to adorn?—that of a fish monger! There his peculiar talent would have a fair field, and we would predict for him a most brilliant career.

What most disturbs the "feelins" of this political mendicant, is the fact that we do not condescend to notice his imbecil attack upon Mr. Finch and Justice Carter; and he uses the same arguments in his paper in relation to the matter that he does in private in speaking of the Argus and other democratic papers, because they pay no regard to his echoings of the Atlas to dyism—that they are unanswerable. But he need apply no such soothing unction to his wounded spirit, as he is most egregiously mistaken, as much so as a certain biographer was when he sought to interest an intelligent public, with a re-hash of the insipidities of a vapid penny a-liner. We never will descend to the subterranean sewers of vituperation in which the Editor of the Gazette refrigerates, to repel any charge, but if he will only come up so that we can reach him, besmeared as he is with the slime and filth of rancorous balderdash, we will entertain whatever he may have to say.

☞Principles in the breasts of Barnburners of this State, are like politics on some men's shoulders—they 'rest lightly!' Dix accepts the Sub-Treasury, but no Hunker has yet been found to take the Collectorship, except the applicant, and they wont give it to him!

☞Barnum is after t... "first nominated" Pierce... cy. Of the applicants fo... about 1500 who claim thi...

We do not say this in a vain-glorious mood, for it is not saying much for the character of our "leaders," when we say the "Kernel" cannot meet them fairly.—Northern Gazette.

That Editor was not "vain-glorious" when, for some weeks after his arrival here, he sought to make himself out a persecuted individual, the usual resort of pretenders; nor subsequently, when with rash desperation, he declared us in his way and he needs must run over us; nor yet again when he prononnced us "personal" and would not discuss a certain question with us; nor yet, when he denounced us as "no gentleman" with whom he would hold no further intercourse; nor yet, when we offered to pay for the insertion of tariff facts as an advertisement, to which the Editor was "mum;" nor yet, when he resorted to "paragraphing" our articles (his usual vacation); nor finally, when he penned the homœpathic production from which the above is taken. Of course, that Editor was not "vain-glorious" on any of these occasions, and we are willing to believe what he says about it knowing it to be only a another quibble to avoid fair and honorable discussion on his part. We long tried as all know to draw him out "fairly," but utterly failing, we took up the "cast iron rule" of "doing as we are done unto," and of following, and exposing his "dodges."

We simply meet him on his own ground, and often when the gentleman has expected only a "tufts of grass" he has undoubtedly received a "stone," which we can well conceive to be little calculated to increase "vain glorious" feelings.

Now, to meet "leaders" "fairly," presupposes that those "leaders" are "fairly" written. For example: That Editor has indulged in over four columns of insinuations, and inuendoes interlarded with petty abuse of some of our best citizens. There is not a single direct charge, or specification of malpractice in office, and neither the Editor, or his friends dare make one. And not only so, but out of ordinary political conversations between citizens, after election, the Gazette is made to groan in its labor to get up high sounding and unmeaning "leaders." The whole "length and bredth" of offence is, that the democracy were out manouvered, and "licked," as they have been heretofore, and will be for some time to come. For thus exercising the privilege of successful electioneering, the Editor of the Gazette would arraign our citizens before the public in a newspaper discussion, a thing unheard of and its absurdity and wickedness will be more apparent by conceiving the practice to be resorted to in every town.

These are the "leaders" we are called upon to meet "fairly," and upon which we are demanded to "vindicate and defend" our citizens. Of course, we "meet" such "leaders" as they deserve

But not to prolong these remarks let us "stick a pin" in the above, thus; If the Editor of the Gazette will say "fairly" and frankly whether he is temperance or anti-temperance, for or against licenses, and whether to Hotels or "grogeries," or both and whether he charges any town officer with mal-practice in office, we will "try" and "meet them fairly." And note: if the Editor of the Gazette will become a Rechabite he shall have the "printing" if our utmost exertions will give it to him, for we know of no one more sadly in need of the saving influences of the Tent, or one for whose welfare we have a deeper solicitude.

Finally, we commend these lines to the earnest attention of the Editor of the Gazette:

"Let dogs delight to bark and bite,
For God hath made them so;
Let boars and lions growl and fight,
For 'tis their nature to.

But Nelson, you should never let Such angry passions rise;
Your little hands were never made
To write such naughty leaders."

and say to him that the matter is now with him. Having long ago exhausted our ingenuity in trying to induce him to treat us "fairly," we shall not try it again, but shall adhere to the 'iron rule—doing as we are done unto,' or as circumstances require. So 'succeed.'

DICKINSON AND DIX.—The first is a Hunker of the "straightest sect," believing in the Fugitive Slave Law, and Slavery, and prayed to be taken "back to Old Virginny." Dix was the leader of the Van Buren clan who defeated Cass, is skeptical on the subject of Slavery, and believes the Fugitive Slave Law unconstitutional.—These antagonistic principles, if "leaders" are to be believed, are sought to be reconciled by Gen. Pierce by the selection of these gentleman to princely offices. However, Gen. Pierce knows his men, and this "slobbering" policy is re-echoed in "leaders" in distant country papers! "Consistency, thou art a jewel"—and quite as rare!

WELCOME!—The Boston Capt. Lot Chamberlain, made her appearance at Port Kent on Tuesday, and will make a trip from Burlington to Plattsburgh and back, daily, until further notice. The Boston is fitted up in a most comfortable style; and being strong, and powerful, with a good sailor, and a sociable companion for a commander, is altogether a desirable boat for the ...ons of ice, and storms. We speak "by ...book" having enjoyed the hospitality ...he Capt. in all kinds of weather.

☞The following "scene" in our State Senate occurred a few Fridays since, and is vouched by several from this County who happened to be present.

COOLEY FOREVER!—Executive day came round again in the State Senate on Friday last, and a great crowd of Barnburners, Soft Shells, &c., nominated for office by Gov. Seymour assembled in the Chamber hoping that Senator Cooley might at length relent. But that indomitable Hunker has no bowels. In fact he cares not the snap of his finger for the racking hunger of a Barnburner office seeker. The hour fixed by the rules (12 o'clock) found Senator Bristol in the midst of a speech on Vanderbilt's Canal Bill; whereupon the Lieutenant Governor announced that the Senate was in Executive Session. The following proceedings then took place;

Mr. Cooley rose and said—[the lobbies being crowded full on both sides by gentlemen almost exclusively, only one lady being present]:—Mr. President, I regret exceedingly that the Senate should have left the consideration of so important a subject—one which we see by looking around us is so full of interest, and excites so much attention among the people of the State! We see (looking around upon the crowded lobby) how gentlemen have come here from all parts of the land—from the north and the south, the east and the west—to hear the remarks of the Senator from the 23d (Mr. Bristol.)! It was known that the subject was to be considered at this time, and that that Senator was to speak; and we have before us the evidence of the deep interest felt. [Laughter.]

Mr. Cornell here rose and interrupted, calling the gentleman to order.

Mr. Cooley: The gentleman from the 26th (Mr. Cornell) need give himself no trouble. I say I regret that the Senate left the consideration of so important a subject, and I rise to make a motion. I move, Mr. President, that the Senate do now resume Legislative business, and take up the resolution to amend the constitution—the special order.

Mr. McMurray; I call the ayes and nayes,

The motion was carried by a vote of 15 to 11.

[No sooner was the vote announced, than the crowd in the lobbies began to clear away—and when Mr. Bristol again resumed the floor, and was proceeding with his remarks, they were passing out of the door in a continuous line.]

Messrs. Bristol and Pierce talked on the Canals until the hour of recess.

Croakers there were who proclaimed antagonism between Mr. Pierce and his Secretary of State, and between the latter and Mr, Dickinson. But the appointment of this gentleman proves that no such feeling exists anywhere.—[Northern Gaz. April, 14th.

The above is from what the Editor of the Gazette calls his "leader" being a posthumous puff of the New York appointments. We realy wish to call attention to the glowing falsehoods contained in this short paragraph. It is notorious that "antagonism" has reigned supreme in the democratic party ever since election. The selection of Marcy was opposed by the Hunkers to the "bitter end," and they declared their preference for an open free soiler to a soft.

It is also known that Marcy fought against Dickinson to the last, and that the friends of the various candidates have been loud and notorious in their curses, and threats. No "antagonism" 'anywhere' indeed! what are we to think of the Editor of the Gazette and his readers?

"MAINE LAW" IN MAINE.—The division of parties in the Maine Legislature on the bill amendatory of the original "Maine Liquor Law" (stopping all crevices and increasing the stringency of the measure) was as follows:—

Senate.—Yeas—Whig 17, Dem. 3—total 20. Nays—Whig 1, Dem. 9—total 10. Absent, 1 Democrat—a friend of the bill.

House.—Yeas—Whig 49, Dem. 43, Freesoil 4—total 94. Nays—Whig 4, Dem. 39, Freesoil 0—total 43. Absent, 6 Whigs, 6 Democrats.

Joint Vote.—For the bill, 63 Whigs, 42 Democrats, 4 Freesoil total 112. Against the bill, 5 Whigs, 48 Democrats, 0 Freesoil—total, 53. Absent, 6 Whigs, 7 Democrats.

So the measure becomes a law by a vote of more than two to one. It was fully considered and carefully amended in each House, and passed without a resort to the Previous Question.

Hopes were entertained in some quarters that Gov. Crosby would vote the bill, but he has dissappointed them by signing it. Gov. Crosby was nominated for re-election almost unanimously by a caucus of the Whig Members on the evening of the 30th ult. The Legislature adjourned on the 1st inst.—Tribune.

☞We call attention to our new advertisements: Garfield & Co., Hasbrouck, Boynton & Smith, and others of this place. And especially would we commend G. V. S. Quackenbush of Troy. His store is one of the first class of its kind, and his show of rich and valuable goods is truly magnificent. Add to all, Mr. Quackenbush and his score of clerks are attentive, obliging, and affable. In short, this is one of those few places about which too much cannot be said.

THE BOATS.—We hear it said that the States will run this season between Burlington and Plattsburgh, and that the America and Canada will make a trip and back, daily, between Whitehall and Plattsburgh, SNOW—fell here Wednesday night and Thursday to the depth of six inches, but is rapidly dissappearing before the rays of a warm sun.

☞Various rumors are current in regard to the affair of the Cyane at San Juan, but the exact facts have not yet transpired.

American Citizens at "Home and Abroad."

The rights which belong to us, as a nation, are not alone to be regarded, but those which pertain to every citizen in his individual capacity, at home and abroad, must be sacredly maintained. So long as he can discern every star in its place upon that ensign, without wealth to purchase for him perferment, or title to secure for him place, it will be his privilege, and must be his acknowledged right to stand unabashed even in the presence of princes, with a proud consciousness that he is himself one of our nation of sovereigns, and that he cannot wander so far from home that the agent whom he shall leave behind in the place which I now occupy, will see that the rude hand of power or tyranical passion is laid upon him with impunity.—Pierce's Inaugural.

There was recently arrested, by the police of Austria, an American woman, suspected of having seditious documents in her possession. We call upon the Administration to fulfill its promises. Or, was this, as we suppose it was, merely spoken to the ear? Whigs should "make a note" of these things as this administration passes along, and compare its promises with its acts.

Office Seekers.

A New York City paper says: "The gamut of their hopes and finances is ludicrously displayed in the following order and character of the despatches by telegraph which proceed from them, to wit:

No. 1. Get me a strong letter from politicians Smith and Jones, and more names from the poll lists.

No. 2. Things look very bright; they are working.

No. 3. Things look doubtful; tell the boys not to bet high on me.

No. 4. Pitch dark. Things has worked.

No. 5. The game is up. Send me twenty dollars to get home on."

SHIP CANAL AROUND St. MARY'S FALLS.—Senator Babcock introduced Resolutions, some years ago, calling upon Congress to take steps for the construction of a Ship Canal around the Falls of St. Mary, uniting lake Superior with lake Huron.

Congress acted upon that suggestion, and we may now look forward with confidence to the completion of that great work.

Among the parties who have undertaken this enterprise are Gov. Fairbanks, of Vermont, Mr, Corning, of this city, and several large capitolists in New York and Boston.

Senator Platt introduced a bill yesterday giving this Company a corporate existence, without which they cannot safely go on with the enterprise. It was ordered to a third reading, and will we hope soon become a Law.—[Albany Journal.

☞Bunker Hill Monument was twice struck by lightening on Wednesday afternoon. Persons who were in the monument thought it was going over. The bottom of one of the rods where it entered the earth was slightly melted, and a gentleman near the top who was passing down and holding by the iron rail received a shock from which he did not recover entirely for a couple of hours. The second shock sounded like the crash of a large quantity of glass thrown down the inside of the monument.

☞There are rumors, of cabinet troubles at Washington, which are calculated to mislead the public. Next week we shall no doubt be enabled to account satisfactorially for the changes that may occur in the administration—Northern Gazette, April 14.

We simply wish to make a record of the above till "next week" and to hint that it foreshadows a contrast to the "leader" of the above date.

COMMENCEMENT OF LAKE NAVIGATION.—The steamer Jenny Lind, Jas. McGhee, Commander, has credit of making the first trip on the Lake this spring. She is now running for freight and passengers between this port and Ticonderoga, connecting with the stages running from that place to other points on the west side of the Lake.—[Whitehall Chronicle.

ANOTHER HUMBUG.—It is said that Barnum is putting up a tower near the Crystal Palace in New York, 300 feet high, to the top of which he intends to hoist visitors by a steam engine while the great Fair is going on. Of course he will make a "pile" by the operation!

☞A marriage took place in Williamsburgh last week, with the following peculiarities: The groom measured six feet four, and the bride four feet six. If this is not "the long and short" of matrimony, we don't know what is, that's all.

☞"Did you ever know such a mechanical genius as my son?" said an old lady. "He has made a fiddle all out of his own head, and he has wood enough for another."

☞The Washington Union says that Mr. Ingersoll, the American Minister at London, will not be releived by Mr. Buchanan till the first of July.

☞Our readers will be very much amused in the perusal of "Mrs. Potiphar's letter to Miss Petitoes" on our first page.

☞The United States Senate adjourned sine die on Monday.

Meteorological Table.

BY J. R. R.

1853.	7A. M.	1P. M.	6P. M.
April 8th	35°	52°	44°
" 9th	47°	56°	53°
" 01th	38°	40°	36°
" 11th	39°	44°	45°
" 12th	40°	44°	43°
" 13th	41°	46°	40°
" 14th	29°	33°	29°

Keeseville, April 15th, 1853.

One Cent Reward!

RUNAWAY on or about the 28th ult., Lawrence White are indentured apprentice. This is to forbid all persons employing him, as they will be dealt with according to law. H. F. SALTUS, Manager P. I. C.

Clintonville, April 14, 1853.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

CHARADE.

My first, I'm sure all men possess.
And women, too, the same;
Without it, I can now confess,
We'd be most might'ly maimed.
My last and second, you may know,
Is worn by belles and beaus;
They take it wherever they go,
If no more than for shows.
My whole's an ornament much worn,
And of no use it be;
The belles think it does them adorn,
They wear two, never three!

SIWEL N.

Keeseville, March 30th, 1853.

My first, the work-boy has to do,
When my whole he does use.
My next, we know is very true,
Often prevents us from abuse.
My last the sailor often does,
We see it where corn grows.
My whole, the boy makes whiz and buzz.
When swift with it he goes!!!

SIWEL N.

Selling off at Cost!

Barnum will sell the remainder of his Winter Stock of Hats, Caps, Furs, Fancy Robes, Gloves, Mittens, &c., at cost. A good assortment of Trunks, Vallises, Ladies and Gentlemen's Satchels and Carpet Bags, Umbrellas, Canes, Buckskin Gloves and Mittens, &c., on hand.

I. W. BARNUM.

College Street, 2nd Door from Church.
Burlington, Vt., Feb. 1, 1853.

Quarterly Report.

STATEMENT Showing the true condition of the Essex County Bank, an Incorporated Bank, on the morning of Saturday, the Twenty-Sixth day of February 1853.

RESOURCES.

1.	Loans and Discounts, except to Directors and Brokers,	241,721 02
2.	Loans and Discounts, to directors of this Bank,
3.	All other Liabilities, absolute or contingent, of Directors of this Bank, $5,-137,95.
4.	All sums due from Brokers,
5.	Real Estate,	9242 77
6.	Bonds and Mortgages,	1238 33
7. 8.	Stocks, $ 00; and Promissory Notes other than for Loans and Discounts, $
9.	Loss and Expense Account, $653,13; Bank Fund, $	653 13
10.	Overdrafts,	615 20
11.	Specie,	5284 16
12.	Cash Items, consisting of the following items, viz: Sundry Checks and Drafts on hand and in transitu for collection,	3,462 44
13.	Bills of Solvent Banks on hand	6,734 00
14. 15.	Bills of Suspended Banks on hand, $; Estimate value, $,
16.	Due from Banks, viz: From Solvent Banks on demand,	29,053 84
17.	From Solvent Bank on credit,
18 19	From Suspended Banks on demand, $; Estimated value, $,
20. 21.	From Suspended Banks on credit, $; Estimated value, $.
		298,004 89

LIABILITIES.

1	Capital,	100,000 00
2.	Profits,	30,873 66
	Old Emmission Bank Notes not destroyed or returned to the Comptroller, $2084. Less Old Emission Bank Notes on hand, 221	2,463 00
3.	Leaves Old Emmision Bank Notes in Circulation, Registered Bank Notes received from the Comptroller and not returned, $147,316 Less Registered Bank Notes on hand, $15,980
4.	Leaves Registered Bank Notes in Circulation,	131,336 00
5.	Due Treasurer of the State of New-York,
6.	Due Commissioners of the Canal Fund,
7.	Due Depositors on demand,	33,281 60
8.	Due Individuals and Corporations other than Banks and Depositors,
9,	Due Banks on demand,
10.	Due Banks on credit.
11.	Due to others not included under either of the above heads,	50 63
		298,004 89

BOOKS.

JUST RECEIVED FROM NEW YORK.

FRANK Freeman's Barber Shop. A new and deeply interesting story, written in a style similar to Uncle Tom's Cabin. The White Slave. Uncle Tom's Cabin, both bound and in pamphlet. Ike Marvil's Dream Life. Reveries of a Bachelor, &c., &c. Cabin and Parlor. Byron's, Willis', Heman's and other Poems. Mitchell's Lectures on Astronomy.

Sold by I. A. HASBROUCK.
Keeseville, March 1st, 1853. 461

REMOVAL!

THE subscribers would beg leave to inform their old friends and patrons, that they have rented a shop of Messrs. Keese & Tomlinson, ☞ one door North of Kingsland, Baber & Co.'s store, where they intend to carry on the Painting business in all it various branches. No pains will be spared to give complete satisfaction.

BROWNELL & LOWAY.
Keeseville, March 30, 1853. 465 tf

WANTED,

A farm containing not less than 200 acres in the town of Chesterfield. Ausable or Peru, on which must be good Dwelling House and out Buildings and otherwise under good cultivation. One answering the above Description will meet with sale for cash. Enquire of Benj. MINER.

Port Kent, Feb. 22d, 1853.

1853.

G. V. S. QUACKENBUSH,

202 RIVER & 7 & 9 STATE STREETS,
TROY, NEW YORK,

INVITES the attention of those who wish to purchase

DRY GOODS,

Carpets and Oil-Cloths.

Owing to the large increase of patronage, I have found it necessary from time to time, to make many improvements and additions to my store.

This spring I have united the stores No. 7 and 9, State St., making a spacious and beautiful room, fitted up expressly for the sale of all the various styles of Silks, Shawls, Cloaks & Mantillas.

This connects with the main store, No. 202, River St., (the old stand occupied by the subscriber for nearly 30 years,) which is devoted to a general assortment of

STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS,

comprising every variety to meet the wants of all classes of buyers. Besides these, four large rooms over the stores 200, 202 and 204 River St., are occupied as

CARPET WARE-ROOMS,

where I am constantly receiving the newest and most desirable patterns of Velvet, Tapestry, Brussels, Three-ply, Ingrain and Venetian Carpets Also, Oil-Cloths of every quality and width, and every style of Drugetts, Rugs, Mats, Matting, Stair-Rods, &c.

All these departments combined making an extensive and complete Establishment, conducted on such principles, that customers can trade with confidence, and to their own advantage, my sales being always for cash, and the only price asked, being the lowest cash price.

G. V. S. QUACKENBUSH.
Troy, April, 1853. 467tf

Insured.

1853 1853

MERCHANT'S LAKE BOAT LINE.

PROPRIETOR,

THO'S H. CANFIELD, - - Burlington, Vt.

FORWARDING to and from Boston, New York, Albany, Troy, Montreal and all Ports on Lake Champlain. Also, Ports on St. Lawrence, Lake Ontario and Upper Lakes, via Ogdensburgh and Caughnawaga Railroad.

The Merchant's Line will consist of

20 First Class Lake Boats,

Running directly through to and from New York, and all Ports on Lake Champlain, thereby avoiding a delay of two-days in re-shipping Goods at Troy and Whitehall. Property destined for Western Lakes, will be forwarded from Rouse's Point, via Northern Railroad to Ogdensburgh, thence by Crawford & Co's. Erie. Ontario Line of Propellors, or via Plattsburgh and Montreal Railroad to Caughnawaga, and thence by Steamers on the St Lawrence.

The Boats of this Line will be invariably towed by Steam on the Hudson River and Lake Champlain.

The Steamers BOSTON, Capt CHAMBERLIN; FATHEN ALLEN, Capt. HINCKLEY; JAMES H. HOOKER, Capt. SNYDER, will run in connection with the Merchant's Line daily between Whitehall, Burlington, Plattsburgh and Rouse's Point, affording increased facilities for Transportation of Freight and Towing.

Property entrusted to this Line for Transportation, is in all cases actually and correctly weighed at the time of shipment, and injury and delay to which property may be subjected by transhipment, is entirely avoided.—Particular care and attention given to goods destined to Canada, and to all property to be forwarded by the several Railroads—Property for Canada, forwarded by Northern, Champlain and St. Lawrence, and Plattsburgh and Montreal Railroads.

Debenture and Warehousing business promptly and correctly attended to.

AGENTS.

Malcolm Canfield, No, 84 Coenties Slip, New York
Follett & Co., South Wharf, Burlington.
Smith Briggs.
A. Fisher, No. 191 River Street, Troy, New York.
A. M. Herriman, R. R. Depot, Ogdensburgh.
Chas. Seymour, Montreal.
April 9. 447-tf

Hats! Hats!!

BEEBE and GENIN's latest Spring style Hats, just received and for sale by

BOYNTON & SMITH.
April 14, 1853. 447-tf

NOTICE.

WHEREAS Catharine, my wife has abandoned my house and refuses to live with me. Now therefore notice is hereby given to all persons whom it may concern, that I will hereafter pay no debts contracted by her or upon her account. PATRICK DAISEY.
Dated Ausable Forks, April 15, 1853. 447-4w

To Friends & PATRONS.

THE subscriber hereby tenders his thanks to all his

FRIENDS & PATRONS

for their liberal patronage with which he has been favored, and respectfully invites them to continue their favors as he designs to keep on hand a constant supply of the choicest meats, viz:

Fresh Beef, Pork, Mutton Veal, Lamb, &c.

Also, PICKLED TONGUE, BEEF and BARRELL PORK. Finally a treat frequently from the shores of the Atlantic, in the line of

Scale and Shell Fish,

&c., &c., as fresh as the briny ocean affords.

RICHARD HOAG.
Keeseville, March 27, 1853. 465tf

Seed! Seed!!

1000 Pounds Clover Seed. Also Grass Seed always on hand.

Fresh Teas.—A new and choice lot of Green and Black Teas, just received and selling off at great bargains by the chest or pound.

Mackarel.—Bbls., halves, quarters, and eighths—a new lot.

Camphene.—By the barrel or gallon. E. H. GARFIELD & Co.
Keeseville, April, 1853.

D. M. KNIGHT & Co.,

53 CEDAR STREET, NEW YORK,

WILL sell cheap for cash. Combs, button pins, needles, hooks and eyes, lines and cotton tapes, bobbin, braids, threads, stay binding, brushes, whalebone, fans, and a great variety of fancy notions, &c. 464:3m

M. F. NICHOLSON,

ATTORNEY & COUNCELLOR AT LAW
ELIZABETHTOWN, Essex County, N. Y.
(Office in the County Clerk's Office)

WANTED.

20 POUNDS Saffron for which CASH will be paid. I. A. HASBROUCK.
Feb. 28th, 1853. 461-4w

Union Nurseries,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

THE subscriber has for sale this spring, a very large collection of

Fruit Trees, &c.,

of all kinds adapted to the climate and of the best quality; which he offers at the lowest prices. All the leading sorts can be furnished by the quantity; and specimen trees, (1 to 3 years from grait,) vines, plants, &c., can be supplied of nearly 1000 distinct varieties—many of them new and rare, and now offered for the first time in this valley.

The stock of PEAR TREES, both on the Pear stock, and on the Quince, is very extensive, and the assortment one of the most complete in the Union. The collection comprises of Apples—250 choice varieties.

do. — 50 do on Doucain and Paradise, for DWARFS.
Pears—275 do
do.—75 do on Quince, for DWARFS.
Plums—100 do
Cherries—75 do
do —25 do on Mahaleb, for DWARFS.
Grapes—40 varieties—[1000 strong plants "McNeil."]
Gooseberries—60 varieties—[500 " "Houghton's Seedling."]
Currants—25 varieties—[500 " "White Clinton"—the sweetest, highest flavored, and best of currants.]
Raspberries—15 varieties.
Strawberries—50 "
Half-hardy Fruits—60 "—including Peaches, Nectarines, Apricots, Quinces. &c.
Rhubarb—10 varieties.
Asparagus—1, 2 and 3 years old roots.
Buckthorn for Hedges—1, 2 and 3 years old plants.
Scions—of Fruit Trees Vines &c.
Garden Seeds—a general assortment.

Ornamental Department.

Deciduous Trees—Horse Chestnuts, European Mountain Ash, Silver Maple, and 20 other species and varieties.

Deciduous Shrubs—White Fringe, Smoke Tree, Rose Acacia; several varieties each—of Deutzias, Syringas, Spireas (including "Prunifolie") Flowering Currants, &c., and 50 other species and varieties.

Evergreen Trees and Shrubs—Am. Arbor Vitae, Am. Silver Fir, Norway Spruce, Deodar Cedar, Box, Holly, and many others.

Climbing Shrubs and Vines—Many species and varieties.

Roses—Hibrid China, H. Perpetual, Bourbon, Moss, Climbing, Austrian, Scotch, and Miscellaneous—150 choice varieties.

Dahlias—150 varieties—including all the newest and best.

Phloxes—50 varieties—very choice.
Paeonies—15 " do do.
Miscellaneous Bedding Plants—in great variety.
Summer Bulbs, (for spring planting)—Gladiolus, Tuberose, Tiger Flower, Japan and other Lilies,—of many varieties, &c., &c.
Flower Seeds—200 species and varieties.
Green House Plants—of all kinds, supplied from other sources, if ordered soon.
Horticutural Implements—of all kinds, supplied also to order—on a few days notice.—Budding and Pruning Knives, of best form and superior quality. always kept on hand.

ORDERS executed in rotation, as they are received. Those who desire to obtain their trees early, and to make sure of a satisfactory selection, should therefore order without delay.

Freight paid to the Lake.
Catalogues sent to all who apply, post-paid, and enclose a postage stamp
Address, J. BATTEY,
Union Nurseries, Keeseville, N. Y.,
3d mo., 24th, 1853. [465 2m

SUPREME COURT,
GURDON GRANT,
AGST.
ELENOR CRARY,
ISAAC HEUSTIS,
JAMES GIBSON,
JOHN SAVAGE and
JOSEPHUS FITCH,

In pursuance of a decree or judgment of the Supreme Court made in the above cause, will be sold under the direction of the subscriber, Sheriff of the County of Essex, at public auction at the Adirondac Hotel, in the town of Chesterfield, in the County of Essex, on Monday, the 4th day of April next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon: all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land lying and being in the town of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York, lying between the Augur Pond and Butternut Pond, beginning at the south west corner at a pine tree marked 1795, thence running north ninety-five chains, a little north of the south end of Augur Pond, thence east one degree north, twenty-five chains to the west line of lot No. three, thence south along the west line of lots No. three, four, five and eight to the corner of the last mentioned lot, thence south forty-five degrees west to Butternut Pond, thence along the north end of said Pond to the first place of beginning, containing two hundred and sixteen acres of land be the same more or less; which said lot of land is part of two tracts of land, formerly granted by the said State to John Williams deceased by letters patent, and is now conveyed subject to the conditions and reservations made by Anthony J. Blanchard his heirs and assigns in his conveyance thereof to one William Bromley to overflow as much of the said land at any time or times whatsoever as may be reasonably necessary convenient and useful for the accommodation of any Mills or Waterworks which are now or hereafter may be built or erected on the waters of the said Augur Pond, or the outlet thereof by the heirs or assigns of the said Anthony J., hereby retaining the same reservations as is contained in the said William's deed of the said premises to one Thomas McLean.

Dated the 19th day of Febuary, 1853.
C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff.
By J. C. FINCH, Deputy Sheriff.
SAML. AMES, Atty. 459-w7

The above sale is hereby postponed to the 18th day of April instant, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the Hotel above named.

C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff
By J. C. FINCH, Deputy.
Dated, April 4th, 1853.

SASH, DOOR, BLIND
— AND —
Pail Manufactory,
CROWN POINT, N. Y.

HAVING the most perfect machinery, and experienced workmen, we are enabled to furnish Window Sash, Doors and Blinds, of superior workmanship, and at lower prices than can be found elsewhere. Also

Pine and Cedar Pails and Sap Buckets.

☞ All orders filled at short notice.
S. S. & W. FLINT.
Established May 1st, 1851.
March 1, 1853. 465 m*3

WOOL.

CASH Paid for Wool.
Nov. 16, 1851. J. A

GRASS SEE
OF very Superior Quality, for KINGMAN, BA

Miscellaneous.

Insurance Agency.

National Protection Insurance Company,
Saratoga Springs, Capital, $200,000
Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance Company,
West Scotia, N. Y., Capital, $160,000
Nothern N. Y. Mutual Insurance Company,
Plattsburgh, N. Y., Capital, $100,000
Knickerbocker Fire Insurance Company,
Waterford, N. Y., Capital, $200,000
Northern N. Y. Live Stock Ins. Company,
Plattsburgh, N. Y., Capital, $50,000
Charter Oak Life Insurance Company,
Hartford, Vt., Capital, $200,000

Policies in the National Protection Insurance Co., and the Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance issued by the undersigned.

JAMES B. DICKINSON.
Office, Ausable Forks N. Y.
Saratoga Springs, Feb'y 7th, 1852.

WE, the undersigned, JOHN WILLARD, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court for the 4th Judicial District of the State of New York, and a resident of Saratoga Springs, with AUGUSTUS BOCKES, First Judge of the County of Saratoga, being likewise a resident of Saratoga Springs, and JOHN C. HULBURT, Surrogate of the County of Saratoga, also a resident of Saratoga Springs—do hereby Certify, that we are personally acquainted with the men composing the Board of Directors of the National Protection Insurance Company of Saratoga Springs. We take pleasure in availing ourselves of this opportunity in recommending to the Public, from a personal knowledge of the responsibility and character of their Board of Directors, that this Company is a sound and reliable Institution, will deal fairly with the assured, and are fully competent to pay their losses. We therefore unhesitatingly recommend this Company as an Institution in every respect worthy of a liberal patronage.

JOHN WILLARD,
A. BOCKES,
JNO. C. HULBURT.

JAMES B. DICKINSON,
Policy Agent, Ausable Forks.
Ausable Forks, Feb. 5th, 1852. 457-tf

WAR DECLARED
—BETWEEN—
France and England!!!

WOULD not create as great a sensation among the inhabitants of this portion of country as the proclamation of war on high prices by CARDWELL in the sale of

Ready-Made Clothing.

That war declared Oct. 1st, 1851, still rages with unabating and increasing fury; but in its progress its path is not marked with bloodshed, carnage and desolation as the wars of one Nation against another; on the other hand its fruits are smiling faces (NOT OF OTHER DEALERS) and glad hearts; go ask the honest and hardy inhabitants of our pine clad hills, and our pleasant valleys, where he buys his CLOTHING, and he will answer you with a smile,

WHY AT CARDWELL'S, OF COURSE!

That is the place where you can obtain the latest styles, a genteel fit, and well made suit of clothes for less money than at any other Store in northern New York.

Why, says one man, I have saved money enough by purchasing my Clothing this Fall at

CARDWELL'S CHEAP STORE

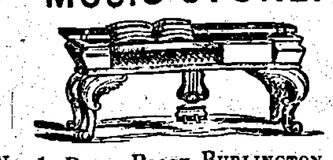
to buy me a good Cow. ☞ This is no fiction: living witnesses can be produced that will testify to the truth of it.

N. B. Saturday March the 5th will arrive a large and magnificent assortment of Spring and Summer Clothing, when the Spring and Summer Fashions will be introduced. Every description of garments always to be found at CARDWELL'S One Price cheap

CLOTHING WARE ROOM'S,
ADIRONDAC HOTEL BUILDINGS,
Keeseville N. Y.
G. A. CARDWELL.

WOOL! WOOL!

THE Subscriber would inform the public that he is again in the



Manufacturing Business,

Either by the yard, on shares, or in exchange for cloths on the most reasonable terms, and that he intends to keep on hand a full supply of the following goods:

BLACK BROAD CLOTHS,
Black, Brown, and Olive Cassimeres,
FULLED CLOTHS, SATTINETS, TWEEDS, Flannels, &c.,

suitable to this country, and that he will spare no pains in trying to please such as may favor him with their patronage.
Birmingham, May 15, 1852. J. APPLEYARD. 449

PIANO FORTE,
AND
MUSIC STORE.

No. 1, BANK BLOCK BURLINGTON, VT

THE Subscriber has opened a very extensive and choice selection of Musical Merchandise, consisting of every variety of Musical Instruments, such as

Piano Fortes, Seraphines, Melodeons,
Bass Viols, Violins, Guitars, Flutes,
Flagolets, Clarionets, Cornopeans, Accordeons,
and Brass Instruments of every description for Bands; also—
BASS VIOL AND VIOLIN STRINGS, TUNING FORKS,
TUNING HAMMERS, &c.

The assortment of Sheet Music, consists of about Four Thousand Pieces of the latest and most popular Music of the day, additions to which will be made every week, from the extensive Importing and Publishing Houses in New York and Boston. Instruction Books on hand for every Instrument, and all new works received as soon as published.

CHURCH MUSIC BOOKS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

The attention of Purchasers is respectfully invited to the assortment of Piano Fortes, Seraphines and Melodeons, as they are from the best Manufacturers in the country, and every Instrument sold by me will be warranted, unless otherwise stated to the purchaser.

All the above goods will be sold as low as can be purchased in New York or Boston, and the orders of teachers and those who buy to sell again, are respectfully solicited, and will be filled and sent to any part of the country, as may be directed.

June 5. 3m422 I. S. RUST.

CASH,

AND THE

Highest Market Price

WILL BE PAID FOR WOOL, AT THE WOOLEN FACTORY, by
C. F. ROELOFSON & Co.
Keeseville, July 8th, 1852. 427tf

Bounty Lands

PURCHASED AND OBTAINED BY
GEO. MOORE, Plattsburgh, N. Y.
December 3, 1852. 448tf

Whitewash, Whitewash!

...st quality of Burlington Lime for ...tewashing, will be found at ANDREW DOWLINGS.

Business Cards.

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS,

(Successor to Nichols & Warren,)

WHOLESALE PAPER WAREHOUSE

And Paged Blank Book Manufactory,

— JOBBER AND RETAIL DEALER IN —

School and Classical Books,

English, French and American
Stationery, and Artist's Materials,
No. 4, Leavenworth Block, College Street,
BURLINGTON, Vt.

☞ Bank, Blank, Check or Memorandum Books made to order, from the best of Paper, and bound in the most thorough manner. All work warranted. Terms Cash. 448 tf

Livery Stable
BY
GEORGE G. FULLER.
HEAD OF MAIN STREET
(a few steps from the Bank,)
KEESEVILLE, NEW YORK.

Where may be found at all times, the best of Horses and Carriages, on the most reasonable terms.

GEORGE P. WILKINSON,

(Successor to G. P. & J. B. Wilkinson,)
MANUFACTURER AND JOBBER IN
CLOTHING,
154 River Street, Corner of Congress,
427 tf TROY, N. Y.

G. P. SANBORN & Co.

APOTHECARIES HALL.
BURLINGTON, VT.
DEALERS IN

Drugs and Medicines, Chemical Preparations, Teeth, Surgical Instruments, Gold Foil, Patent Medicines, and every variety of articles usually kept in this line of Business.
Oct. 23d, 1852. 6 m.

GEO. S. TARBELL,
HOLE SALE GROCER,
DEALER IN OIL AN
General Commission Merchant,
No. 65 Quay-Street,
ALBANY.

ADKINS & FULLER,
Booksellers, Stationers, Binders
— AND —
PAPER RULERS,

KEEP constantly on hand or will supply Books, Maps, Charts, Pictures, Frames, and Periodicals of all kinds. Also Publications of the American Tract Society. Bibles and Sabbath School Books at their very low depository prices.

One door east of Pierce & Davey's Agricultural Store on College Street.
C. S ADKINS, E. A. FULLER.
Burlington, July 4, 1850. 323

H. C. Blanchrd, M. D.,
HOMŒOPATHIC PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

Office 2 doors below Ausable House.
Rooms at Ausable House. 430

D. M. ARNOLD
Engineer and Surveyor,
KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

SURVEYING & Leveling for Rail Roads, Plank Roads, Mill Seats, &c. Land Surveying of all kinds done on shortest notice.
Office opposite the Ausable House.
425tf

J. B. DICKINSON,
AUSABLE FORKS, N. Y.
General INSURANCE AGENT,

For Fire, Life, Health and Live Stock Insurance Companies.

☞ Any business from abroad will receive prompt attention. 454

Silliman & Gardiner,
WHOLESALE DEALERS
in Pork, Fish,
SALT, PLASTER, &c.
OFFICE 17 COENTIS SLIP, New York.
" 332 RIVER St., Troy, 445

Dr. H. W. GOULD,
SURGEON DENTIST
KEESEVILLE, N. Y.
☞ Office opposite the Ausable House. [389

A. A. LEE,
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW,
ELIZABETHTOWN, ESSEX COUNTY, N. Y.
☞ Office over Root & Co's store. 462

H. H. HAVENS,
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW,
CROWNPOINT,
ESSEX COUNTY, N. Y. [466tf

H. M. CHASE,
Attorney and Counselor at Law,
KEESEVILLE,
ESSEX COUNTY, NEW YORK. (466tf
☞ Office opposite the "Ausable House."

SOLD OUT!

THE subscribers have made arrangements to devote their whole time to those having unsettled accounts with them, till all such acts are settled and paid, Having sold out our entire stock of goods and wishing to make preparations for commencing an entirely new business, we shall expect and enforce the immediate settlement of all our outstanding accounts. REYNOLDS & TUFTS.
April 1, 1853.

Dissolution.—This day, by mutual consent, the firm of HOAG & HILL is mutually dissolved, and the books and accounts and all unsettled matters are assumed by Richard Hoag, who holds himself responsible for the settlement and adjustment of the same.

RICHARD HOAG,
JAMES M. HILL.
Keeseville, March 27, 1853. 465

BUTTER FOR SALE.

Large quantity of good dairy Butter bought in large and small packages of the finest quality for sale at BOYNTON & SMITH.
Keeseville Jan. 27, 1853.

Burlington Advertisements

BURLINGTON
AGRICULTURAL WARE-HOUSE AND SEED STORE.

DAVEY & ALLEN,
No. 8, COLLEGE STREET, BURLINGTON, Vt.

Ploughs—Prouty & Mears's centre draught.
These ploughs have obtained a celebrity unparalleled, having taken the first premiums in this country and at the Worlds Fair in London. We have also Starbuck's and Tabor's celebrated Ploughs.
Our stock of Ploughs comprises a great variety of patterns and different sizes, calculated for sward and stubble land, wet meadows and recently drained swamps, where roots abound—among which also, are the deep-breaking up flat-furrow, lap-furrow, self-sharpening, side-hill, double-mould-board, sub soil, &c., &c.
Harrows—triangular, square, Geddes and Scotch.
Hay, Straw and Corn-stalk Cutters, either by hand or horse power; spiral, straight or circular knives.
Cultivators—of different kinds, steel tooth and cast iron.
Corn Shellers—a variety of patterns, Will shell from 5 to 100 bushels of corn per hour.
Fan Mills and Grain Cradles—Grant's unrivalled. We confidently recommend them as the best in use.
Seed Sowers—Batchelder's & Emery's, and other kinds.
Vegetable Cutters—for turnips and other roots.
Horse Powers, Threshers, Winnowers and Separators—Wheeler's Patent Railway Chain Horse Power. This Power, both single and double-geared, for one or two horses, has never been equalled for lightness in running, strength, durability and economy. The Thresher and Separator are too widely and favorably known to need our commendation. The combined Thresher and Winnower, (which is a new invention of last year) has not been so generally introduced. All who have used it express the highest approbation of its merits. We entertain no doubt that it is the most perfect, compact, and efficient machine now in use for threshing and winnowing grain, as it certainly is by far the cheapest and most economical.

Warranted to give satisfaction.

or be returned after a reasonable trial.
Saw Mill—Lawrence, used for sawing wood for locomotives on Railways, or by farmers for cutting stove fuel With a one horse power it will cut 10 to 15 cords of wood twice in two per day.

AGRICULTURAL & HORTICULTURAL TOOLS AND IMPLEMENTS.

a great variety and extensive assortment of, such as Hoes, Shovels, Spades Rakes, Manure and Hay Forks, Scythes Snaths, Cattle Ties, Draft, Halter and Trace Chains, Garden Syringes, Pruning Saws, Pruning and Budding Knives, Garden Shears and Twig Cutters, Grindstones, Patent Grindstone fixtures, rollers, barrow rolls, &c., &c.

Grain, Field, Garden and Flower Seeds.—We are prepared to furnish Herds Grass, Red Top, Lucerne, White Dutch, Southern, Western and Northern Clover Seed, Rota, Turnip, Onion and Carrot Seed, at Wholesale and Retail at the lowest market prices.

We have by far the largest and most complete assortment of Agricultural Implements Machines, Field and Garden Seeds to be found in the State, which we offer at our new and spacious Ware-Rooms to Farmers and Dealers on terms the most liberal. We are also Commission Merchants and Who esale and Retail Dealers in heavy and shelf

HARDWARE,

Saddlery, Axles, Springs, Mechanic's Tools, House Trimmings and Furnishing Goods, Cutlery, Cross Cut, Mill and Circular Saws, Paints, Oils, Bird Cages, etc., etc., etc.

As agents of Messrs. B. Prouty & Co., Boston, Wheeler, Milliek & Co., Albany, J. T. Grant & Co., Troy, and others we can fill orders for Plows, Horse Powers, Threshers Fan Mills, Straw Cutters, &c., at manufacturers prices. A liberal discount made to Dealers.

ORDERS
FROM ABROAD SOLICITED.
DAVEY & ALLEN.
Burlington, September 20, 1852. 439

NEW GOODS
AT
Nichols, 150 Church Street.

IN consequence of our large spring sales, we have been induced to purchase a very large and full stock of

Foreign & Domestic Goods

for the fall trade, which we now offer at exceedingly low prices. We have not time now to enumerate, suffice it to say, we have every thing usually called for in a dry goods store.

CARPETINGS!

AT THE
Carpet Warehouse, 150 Church Street.

Mr. Nichols is now opening the largest stock of Carpeting ever brought to this city, consisting of the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three-ply, Ingrain, Extra Super Fine and Common, Venetian, Damask, Cotton and Wool, Cotton, Hemp Stair carpeting from the best manufacturers. Also, floor oil-cloth, straw-matting, Hearth Rugs, Door Mats, table oil cloths, English and American Bockings and crumb cloths.

Bay State Carpetings and Bockings.

Mr. Nichols has the agency for the sale of the justly celebrated Bay State carpets and bockings and will be furnished with all the new patterns as fast as they come from the mills Recollect the No.

150 CHURCH STREET.
Burlington, September 24, 1852. 439 tf

BOSTON
URNITURE STORE,

AT THE
Spacious Ware-Room,
Nos. 2 & 3, Leavensworth Block,
COLLEGE STREET,
In Burlington, Vt.
No further need of going to New York or Boston for Rich or
FASHIONABLE FURNITURE.

THE Subscriber has a more extensive assortment of Furniture, Feathers, Beds, Mattresses, Upholstery, Goods, &c.,
than has ever before been offered in this section, comprising all the most recent styles from the most elegant to the commonest FURNITURE, manufactured principally to order, and in quality superior to any to be found out of Boston or any other place—consisting, in part, as follows;

Black Walnut & Mahogony Parlor FURNITURE,
—CONSISTING OF—

French Sofas, Easy Chairs, covered in plush damask brocatelle or hair-cloth, to suit the purchaser; French style centre and side Tables, with and without marble tops; gilt and other frame Looking Glasses; rich and common Curtain Furniture and Fixtures, &c., and every article needed to furnish Parlors in the most fashionable style.—Also medium and low priced Parlor Furniture, of every description.

DRAWING & SITTING ROOM FURNITURE,
of every desirable style.
CHAMBER FURNITURE,

Fancy printed Chamber Sets, richly ornamented; mahogany, black walnut and common Bedsteads, Bureaus Sinks, Toilets, Chairs, &c. Also, Feathers, Feather Beds hair, cotton husk and palm leaf Mattresses. Elegant

LIBRARY CASES & SIDE-BOARDS,

both mahogany and black walnut, of very superior workmanship, constantly on hand and made to order, of any style or size desired. Also, any odd article, not to be found ready-made, designed and executed to order in the best manner at the shortest notice.

Hotels and Steamboats

furnished at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms.

N. S.—Every article will be sold as low as the same quality can be bought in either Boston or New York, and in many instances much lower. Country dealers will be furnished at the lowest wholesale prices.

Mr. ALLEN'S long experience as a manufacturer and Furniture dealer in Boston, gives him advantages in selecting and purchasing goods very seldom equalled: and he will warrant every article fully equal to what he represents it.

☞ Persons in want of Furniture will do well to call on Mr. ALLEN before purchasing.
I. S. ALLEN.
Burlington, May 8, '52. 418-1y

PIANO FORT EMPORIUM.

361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. The most extensive and varied assortment of ROSEWOOD PIANO FORTES, plain and ornamental, elegant patterns, elaborately carved, and highly finished with Pearl keys, a lot of our own manufacture, and warranted in every particular, can be found at our Warerooms, 361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
437-1y BENNETT & CO.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Miscellaneous.

2¢ Years Experience.

OLD ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL.

Quick Cures and Low prices.

Private Diseases and their Antidote.:

DR LISPENARD, author of the Marriage Guide, or Private Medical Treatise, Professor of Disease of Women and Children, and Licentiate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the United States University, &c., &c., continues as heretofore to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms and variety of

PRIVATE DISEASES,

at his old quarters No 5 Beaver street, ALBANY, N. Y.

The great success attending the use of Doctor L's remedies in secret diseases, and the many remarkable cures daily effected by him in recent as well as old lingering attacks, an conclusive evidence that the

SICK AND UNFORTUNATE

can do no better than consult the Doctor, whose whole time is devoted to the exclusive treatment of this much neglected branch of practice.

LOOK AT THIS.

Dr. Lispenard cures recent cases of disease in from three to six days, and chronic or long standing diseases in a very short period of time, without the use of Mercury, without the loss of time, change of diet, or detention from

DAILY EMPLOYMENT.

In Syphillis, Gonorrhea, Gleet, Strictures, Enlargement of the Testicles and Cords, Bubo, Chancres Pimples and Scaly Eruptions, Sore Throats and Noses, Chancres on the tongue, tender shin bones, and diseases of the skin, and impure blood. Dr. Lispenard's remedies are above all praise, and frequently cure when all others had failed

EVEN TO RELIEVE.

More than 5,000 patients have during the past year experienced the benefit of the Doctor's extraordinary skill in treating these diseases—among which, cases of the bladder and kidneys have formed a goodly proportion.

YOUNG MEN,

who by indulging in secret habits have injured their health and prostrated their intellectual faculties, and thereby deprived themselves of the pleasure of married life, should consult Dr. Lispenard without a moment's delay. Hundreds have been restored to health, society and friends, under my peculiar mode of treatment, although vast sums of money had been sacrificed without any benefit. My remedy for this disease is pleasant to take, has no offensive smell and

CURES WITHOUT FAIL.

☞ Persons so unfortunate as to be diseased, although they may have visited half a dozen Doctors, and had medicine sent them a dozen times with no benefit would exercise that wisdom by making their case known to that FRIEND OF THE SICK, Dr. Lispenard, who never charges for advice and warrants all his cures. The sick are often at a loss where to apply for relief, AND TIS NO WONDER, as hundreds stand ready to plunder the unfortunate victim of PRIVATE DISEASE, or secret habits with out one thought for his life and health. All thus deceived will find a friend, and moderate charges, in consulting the Doctor who USES NO MERCURY and cures every time.

N. B.—Persons from a distance when visiting the city in search of a physician and friend, will be fortunate if they succeed in escaping the many dens of imposition, established by unprincipled men, destitute of character knowledge or name, who fleece the unfortunate victim of disease of his hard earned money, and his remaining health. Patients who have an acquaintance in the city should make inquiry of some respectable citizen, or the editor or proprietor of any of the city papers, to ascertain who is the most reliable physician to apply to.

FEMALE DISEASES.

Dr. Lispenard, from an experience seldom or never enjoyed by any other medical man, is enabled to treat, with every hope of success, all and every variety of Female Complaints—with safe and pleasant remedies—and has without doubt cured within the past five years more than 3000 females afflicted with diseases of the Bladder, Womb, &c. &c. Ladies afflicted with suppression or the page of their monthly turns, will recollect that Dr. Lispenard is still the sole American agent for

DR. VICHOP'S

FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS.

The unprecedented sale of more than 15,000 boxes of these excellent Pills, and the good results which always follow their use, is conclusive evidence of their utility in stoppages, &c. Caution: Married Ladies in certain delicate situations should not use them—for reasons see directions with each box. Price $1. Sent by mail to all parts of the world.

Married Persons and those about to Marry, should enclose 12½ cents post paid to Dr. Lispenard, and obtain a copy of his Marriage Guide, or Private Treatise, a bewitching little work of nearly 100 pages, illustrated. Every thing that married persons can desire or wish to know is here explained. Persons who from poverty or sickness have no desire to increase their family, will find necessary instruction in the Marriage Guide. One copy 12½ cents; 5 copies 50 cts; 12 copies $1—mailed free to any part of the world.

N. B.—Patients treated by letter, and medicines sent with full directions for use, to the writer's address. All communications destroyed or returned.

No mercury used in any case, and all cures warranted.

No boys or precocious students allowed: timed persons take notice.

Friends of Dr. L. when recommending patients to our care, will recollect our number, 5 Beaver st., three doors from South Broadway.

Hospital open from 7 A. M., to 9 P. M., and on Sundays from 1 to 4 P. M.

No charge for advice, although no medicine may be desired.

Good hotel and private rooms for those who desire to remain in the city.

Notice this—Address all letters to

C. W. LISPENARD, M. D.,
4.1—1 y No. 5 Beaver st. Albany, N. Y.

NORTHERN RAIL ROAD, N. Y.

FALL ARRANGEMENTS.

☞On and after FRIDAY October 1st. trains will run as follows:

GOING EAST,

1st Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 9, A. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 1, 45, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 2, P. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 6, 20, P. M.

GOING WEST,

1st Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 8, A. M.

Arrive at Ogdensgurgh 12 50, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 3, P. M.

Arrives at Ogdensbnrgh 7,45, P. M.

First Passenger Train going East

Connects at Moors with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road for Montreal and Quebect, and Plattsburgh, Burlington and Whitehall—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Vermont Central Rail Road for Boston and New York—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Rutland and Burlington Rail Road by steam Boats to Burlington, and thence to Boston and New York.

Second Passenger Train going East,

Connects with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road at Moores, for Montreal and Quebec—Connects with the Vermont Central Railroad for Boston, Burlington, and New York. Connects with the Steam Boats to Whitehall, thence by the Saratoga and Troy Rail Roads, to Saratoga Springs, Troy and New York. Connects by Steam Boat with Rutland and Burlington R. R. at Burlington, for Troy, Boston and New York.

First Passenger Train going West,

Connects at Ogdensburgh with the Express Line of Lake Ontario Steamers at 1 o'clock P. M. for Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, Lewiston, Niagara Falls, and Buffalo.

Second Passengei Train going West.

Connects with Lake Ontario Line of Steamers for Kingston and all ports on the American shore of Lake Ontario, and with Hamilton.

Four Freight Trains leave Ogdensburgh and Rouse's Point every day Sundays excepted.

For Freight apply to George V. Hoyle, Agent, Rouse's Point.

CHARLES L. SCHLATTER,
440 Chief Eng'r and Superintendent.

Printing Paper For Sale.

FOR sale by J. & G. PARKS,

33 by 24 inches,
34 by 24 "
364tf 33 by 23 "

Also, Wrapping:

40 by 28 inches, 60 lbs to he Ream. for large bundles
29 by 18 "
15 by 18 "

☞ All orders directed to Keeseville promptly attended

CAPS CAPS.

M ENS' and Boys' Silk and Worsted Plus'

Legal.

Mortgage Sale.—Default has been made in the payment of the debt secured by a certain mortgage, dated the 16th day of December, 1850, executed by Francis Gonyae and Josette his wife, then of the town Chesterfield, county of Essex, state of New York, to John Mattocks of Ausable, county of Clinton, state aforesaid, and with the power of sale therein contained, recorded in the office of the clerk of Essex county, in volume P. of mortgages, pages 445, 446 and 417, on the 7th day of January, 1851, there is claimed to be due on said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $129,72, and the further sum of $450 to become due in eighteen annual installments from the 16th day of December, 1852, with interest annually, and no proceeding at law or in equity having been commenced to recover the same, or any part thereof, now therefore notice is hereby given that the premises described in said mortgage will, by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, be sold discharged of said mortgage at public auction at the Adirondac hotel in Keeseville in said county, on the 22d day of June next, at one o'clock, p. m.

Said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage as follows: All that certain piece or parcel of land lying in the village of Keeseville, in the county of Essex and State of New York and bounded as follows: Beginning at the north-east end of the Pease lot in the east line of river street, running thence north thirteen degrees fifteen minutes, east along the east line of river street fifty-one links, thence south sixty-two degrees thirty minutes, east one chain and forty-seven links to Taggard's west line, thence south sixteen degrees thirty minutes, west fifty one links to Pease lot, thence north seventy-one degrees west along the north line of Pease lot one chain and forty-seven links to the place of beginning.

Also, one other certain piece of land lying in Keeseville, and described as follows: Beginning in the east line of River street, near the Pease house running thence south sixty-seven and a half degrees east along the south line of Gonyae lot two chains and seventy links to the road leading south from Keeseville, thence along the west line of said road one chain and forty-seven links to Chamberlain's lot, thence north sixty-nine degrees west along the north line of Chamberlain's lot to the east line of River street, thence along the east line of River street one chain and thirty-eight links to the place of beginning, meaning to convey the whole lot deed by David Pease to Franklin Shandrew.

JOHN MATTOCKS, Mortgagee.

FINCH & HARWOOD, Atty's.

Dated Keeseville, March 25, 1853. 464

At a Surrogates Court, held at the County Judges office in Elizabethtown, in and for the County of Essex, on the 21st day of March, A. D., 1853.

Present: J. E. McVINE, Essex County Judge.

In the matter of the application of Emeline H. Morhous & Abram Weldin, administrator and administratrix, &c. of Rensselaer Morhous, deceased, intestate, for authority to mortgage, lease or sell the Real Estate of the said intestate for the payment of his debts.

Whereas on the petition and application of Emeline H. Morhous, the administratrix, and Abram Weldin, one of the administrators of the goods, &c., of Rensselaer Morhous, late of Willsboro, in the county of Essex, deceased, it has been made satisfactorily to appear to the said County Judge and Surrogate, that the personal estate of the said deceased will be insufficient to pay his debts.

It is therefore ordered, that all persons interested in the estate of the said Rensselear Morhous, deceased, be directed to appear before the said county Judge and Surrogate, at his office in the town of Elizabethtown, in said county, on the 9th day of May next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to show cause why authority should not be given to the said administrators to mortgage, lease or sell so much of the real estate of the said deceased as shall be necessary to pay his debts.

Witness: JOHN E. McVINE, Essex County Judge.

A true copy—attest,
464:6w J. E. McVINE, E. C. Judge.

SUPREME COURT.

Frederick L. Seeley, ag'st Isaac Heustis, Daius Breaw, James Pilling, James Adams, Edmund Kingsland, Jacob D. Kingsland, William W. Kingsland, Alfred Baber, Levi S. Scribner, Henry Green, Andrew Thompson, Stephen F. Spencer, George Adgate and Abraham B. Kingsland.

In pursuance of a decree or judgment of the Supreme Court, made in the above cause, will be sold under the direction of the subscriber, sheriff of the county of Essex, at public auction at the Adirondack Hotel in the town of Chesterfield, in the county of Essex, on Monday the 2d day of May next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, all that certain piece or parcel of land lying and being in the town of Chesterfield, county of Essex and State of New York, to wit: a part of lot seventeen (17 in the twelve thousand acre location granted to Zepheniah Platt and others, and bounded as follows, viz: on the east by the west line of the road leading from Keeseville to Essex, on the south by a lot occupied October 18, 1836, by Mark Lafontain, on the west by land owned October 18, 1836, by Martin I. Vanderworker, and on the North by the South line of the land owned by said Vanderworker, Oct. 18, 1836, leading from said road west, to land lying in rear of the above described lot. Said lot is supposed to be eight rods in front and twenty rods in rear, and to contain one acre of land, and is known as the Dennis Breau tavern stand in Chesterfield aforesaid.

C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff,
By J. C. FINCH, Deputy.

Keeseville, March 19, 1853. 462-7w

BANK DEPARTMENT.

ALBANY, Jany 26th, 1823.

NOTICE is hereby given in pursuance of the Statute made and provided, that all the circulating notes issued by the McIntyre Bank, at Adirondac, (an individual bank) must be presented at the office of the superintendent of the Banking Department of the State of New York, for payment within two years from the date of this notice, or the funds deposited for the redemption of the said notes will be given up to the said bank.

D. B. St. John, Supt.

Two years from Jany. 26, 1853. 459-2y

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

NOTICE is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John Cummings, late of North Hudson, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to ESTES B. WALKER, one of the administrators of the said deceased, at his dwelling house in North Hudson, his place of doing business, on or before the 25th day of May next, that being at least Six Months after the day of the first publication of this notice. Dated this 15th day of November, A. D. 1852.

ABIGAIL CUMMINGS, Administratrix.
ESTES B. WALKER.

Legal.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS John McDermid, then of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York, by a certain Mortgage, dated December 18th, 1850, and with the power of sale therein contained duly recorded in the office of the Clerk of Essex County, in Vol. P. of Mortgages on pages 434, and 435, on the 21st day of December, 1850, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to secure the payment of fifty dollars and interest, did duly Mortgage to John McGuire of the second place, certain premises described in said mortgage as follows:—All those two certain building lots, lying and being in the village of Keeseville, County of Essex and State of New York. The first of said lots is bounded and described as follows: situated on the Port Kent Hill, in the said village, on a street to be known and designated as back street, and measuring on said street fifty five feet in front and the same in rear and extending back one hundred feet—to be known and designated as lot number (4).—The second of the aforesaid lots is situated also in the said village of Keeseville, on the street known and designated as McDermid street, to commence on the said street one hundred and fifty feet from the line of the Port Kent road and to be sixty feet in front on said street and run back to James McGuires land be the said lots more or less. And whereas the said Mortgage was by an instrument in writing dated February 18th, 1853, duly assigned by the said John McGuire to Michael Keenan, jr. of Chesterfield, Essex County. On which Mortgage there is claimed to be due at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $57,67. And default having been made in the payment of said $57,67 and no proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the same, or any part thereof: now therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage and of the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgaged premises will be sold at public auction on the 23d day of May next at 10 o'clock A. M. at the Adirondac Hotel, in the village of Keeseville, Essex County.

MICHAEL KEENAN, Jr.
Assignee of Mortgagee.

JOHN McELROY, Atty. 460 13w

Dated, Keeseville February 26th, 1853.

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT has been made in the payment of the debt secured by a certain mortgage, dated the 21st day of October, 1847, executed by William Galusha and Sophia, his wife, then of Wilmington, in the County of Essex, State of N. Y., to Uriah D. Mihills of Keene, in the county and state aforesaid, and recorded in the office of the clerk of Essex county, in volume N. of Mortgages, pages 283 and 284, on the 28th day of December, 1847, at nine o'clock, A. M. Said mortgage was duly assigned by said Mihills to Willard Bell, January 14th, 1848, and by said Bell duly assigned to Reuben Patridge, January 30, 1849, and by said Patridge duly assigned to M. Finch, Amos Avery and Charles Malbone, assignees of Reuben Sanford, January 1st, 1849, who are now the owners of said mortgage. There is claimed to be due on said mortgage, at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $167.93. Now therefore, notice is hereby given that the premises described in said mortgage, will, by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, be sold at public auction, at the Adirondac Hotel, in Keeseville, in said county, on the 8th day of June next, at 1 o'clock, P. M.

Said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage as follows: All that certain piece or parcel of land situate in the town of Wilmington, in the county of Essex, being a part of lot No 34, of Mallory's grant, bounded as follows: beginning at a stake and stones standing on the North line of the Sampson lot, 141 rods from the centre of the road leading from the Carpenter house to Blish and Burdick's forge, being the South-West corner of Ephraim French's land, and running East on said line to the West line of said grant, thence North on the line of said grant to the centre of the road leading from Sanford's to St. Armand, thence running Easterly in the centre of said road to a stake and stones, being the North-West corner of a piece of land occupied by David Hatch, thence South 42 degrees, West six rods to the South bank of Mill Brook, thence Easterly along the South bank of said brook 30 rods to a stake and stones being the South-East corner of said Hatch lot, thence North 35 degrees East to the centre of said road, thence Easterly in the centre of said road to the North-West corner of the Carpenter lot, thence South on the line of said Carpenter lot to the South-west corner of said lot, thence East on the line of said lot to the brook, thence up the brook in the centre thereof to a point ten rods below the sawmill, and thence on the South bank of said brook on the line of Ephraim French's lot to the North-west corner thereof, thence South 43 degrees west on the line of said French's lot 126 rods to the place of beginning, containing eventy-five acres, be the same more or less.

M. FINCH,
AMOS AVERY, } Assignees.
CHAS. MALBONE.

FINCH & HARWOOD, Atty's.

Dated March 12, 1853. 462-13w

The People of the State of New York, to the Creditors and next of kin of Hannah Buckminister, late of Moriah, Essex County, deceased, send GREETING:

You and each of you are hereby cited and required personally, to be and appear before our county Judge and Surrogate of the county of Essex, at his office in the town of Elizabethtown, on the second day of May next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the final settlement of the accounts of Jacob Tappen, administrator, and Lorinda Tappen, administratrix, of all and singular the goods, chattels and credits of Hannah Buckminister, deceased.

L. S. In testimony whereof, we have caused the Surrogate's seal of said county of Essex to be hereunto affixed at Elizabethtown, this 21st day of March, A. D. 1853.

Witness: JOHN E. McVINE,
464:4w Essex Co. Judge.

Gas, Steam & Water Fitting

and Fixtures, Wrought-Iron Pipe, Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Plumbers' Materials, &c.

We are now prepared to do work in dwellings, Stores, Churches, Mills, or Factories, in the way of Gas and Steam Fitting or Plumbing, in the most complete and satisfactory manner. Having workmen in each of the above branches who cannot be excelled by any similar establishments in the country, all orders will be promptly executed, and work done in any part of the country.

We have also constantly on hand and for Sale at Manufacturers' Prices, Wrought Iron Pipe for Gas, Steam, and water, Twisted and Plain Brass Pipe, Steam Valves, Brass and Iron Stop Cocks, Tees, Elbows, Coupling, Brass Globe, Cross and Check Valves, &c. Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Leather Hose, Hose Pipe and Couplings, with every material in Lead, Brass and Plated Work for Plumbers' use.—Plug Basins, Hoppers, Closet Pans, Corner Basins, and Baths, of all descriptions.

Also, a splendid assortment of Chandeliers, Pendants, Brackets &c., on new and rich styles, to which we are receiving constant additions.

PEIRCE and SOUTHWICK.

223 and 235 River-Street, (Opposite Troy House,) Troy, N. Y. 445-tf

ALFRED H. PEIRCE. LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK.

EXTRA FAMILY F...

50 BARRELS made from ... Wheat at the lowest pr...

REYNOLD...

Medicine.

THE WONDER OF THE WORLD.

DEVINES' COMPOUND

PITCH LOZENGE,

A sure and pleasant Remedy for Colds, Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, and if lungs enough are left to sustain life, A CERTAIN CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, safe for the Infant or the Invalid, in any stage of weakness.

"The statements that consumption cannot be cured, has destroyed more lives than the disease itself.—[Dr. Warren

Read the following, which to a candid mind places this "Great Remedy," like Cæsar's wife "above suspicion."

TO THE PUBLIC!

We, the undersigned, citizens of Lee, Mass., are acquainted with Mr. Devines, the Proprietor and Manufacturer of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge and from what we know of it ourselves and have learned from others of its beneficial effects, in cases where it has been used, give it as our opinion that it is a valuable remedy in diseases for which it is recommended and is worthy of public confidence. A. G. Hulburt, Leonard Church, F. G. Taylor, Wm. Taylor, E. A. Bliss, S. A. Hulburt, Josephus Crafts, T. P. Eldridge.

If any individual is to be pittied, and needs sympathy, it is the consumptive—always expecting to get well, and yet the painful evidence of decay almost "makes the inner soul shrink with the outer flesh."

"Some bloom as roses bloom, and live as roses live,
A single morning space!"

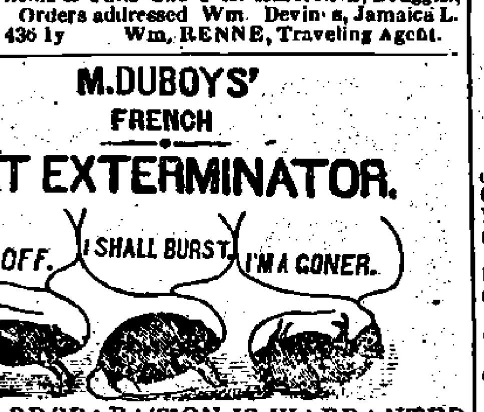
While others in more mature life—by some imprudence and a slight cold neglected—in the hectic flush—the painful cough.

"The prints of their departing steps appears."

BUT HE IS HOPE! Mr Wm. Devines, the originator and manufacturer of the Pitch Lozenge, under Providence, was raised to perfect health by the use of these Lozenges alone, after he was pronounced by his physician to be almost dying with consumption.

This fact is generally known in Berkshire County and is the neighborhood talk, and wonder in Lee, and in Great Barrington, Mass.

From Dr. Brown, of Lee, Mass.



This certifies that I have made use of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge for cold and cough, and found immediate relief. Therefore I would recommend it to the public as being a safe and sovereign remedy. H. C. BROWN.

Lee, October 28, 1851.

Sold wholesale at Albany, by Wm. A. Wharton & Co., Druggists, &c., H. C. Sheldon, Troy, Spencer & Nichols, Whitehall, Hammonds & Co., Crownpoint, W. G. Lyon, Essex, Reynolds & Tufts and I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. Orders addressed Wm. Devines, Jamaica L. I. 436 1y Wm. RENNE, Traveling Agent.

M. DUBOYS'
FRENCH

RAT EXTERMINATOR.

THIS PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to exterminate Rats and Mice, whenever used as directed, and to leave no offensive stench on the premises cleared of these annoying vermin. Its use is perfectly safe in any place and at all times, which is not the case with ordinary remedies for this evil.

CAUTION!—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!—

The extraordinary success of M. Duboy's Rat Exterminator has excited the cupidity of some dishonest and irresponsible persons to counterfeit it. Inquire for M. Duboy's French Rat Extirminator, and take no other. Large boxes at 25 cents. LYNDE & OSBURN.

Rochester, N. Y., Sole American Agents, to whom all orders should be addressed.

For sale by Stearns & Beckwith, Peru, I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. 444 1y

Miscellaneous.

WOOLEN MANUFACTURING

IN all its various branches, will be carried on at the Keeseville Woolen Manufacturing Establishment, in Keeseville, N. Y.

Wool of any quality will be received in exchange for Cloth,

CASSIMERES, SATINETS,
Flannels, &c.

The Goods of this Establishment for the last two years, are well known at home and in market, and needs no other recommendation than a fair trial. Farmers and others wishing to make the most out of their wool, will find it to their advantage to call and exchange their wool for cloths. They may rest assured that they will be fairly dealt with, as no goods will be offered but those that will give satisfaction.

C. Roelofson has made arrangements which will enable him to pay

Part Cash

on Exchanges, or all CASH for WOOL when

Price and Quality Suit.

On hand and ready for Exchanging, Grey Cloths, Mixed Satinets—VERY HEAVY—fine and medium Cassimeres, Red Flannel—yard wide—the different kinds also for sale.

THE CUSTOM

CARDING

will be carried on as usual.

C. ROELOFSON & Co.

Keeseville, May 26th, 1852. 421tf

WOOL!! WOOL!!!

Cash Paid for Wool

BY

Matthews & Ames,

At the Old Stand of

H. & H. MATTHEWS.

Every discription of Woolen and Cotton Goods given in exchange for Wool if wanted.

HAVING increased our stock of Goods by a second Spring purchase. We feel confident that we shall be able to supply all who may wish Goods or Groceries of any description, in part, or wholly, for their Fleece, Pulled or Tag Wool.

Boots ad Shoes.

READY-MADE or MADE to ORDER,

AS good as the best, as cheap as the cheapest and warranted to fit. The undersigned begs leave to remind the public of the above facts and solicits a share of their patronage. ☞ Opposite the Bank.

JAMES ADAMS.

Keeseville, March, 1852. 111-tf

NEW STORE.

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

True Union store.

MR. NICHOLS of Burlington, Vt., has established a branch of his stock at Essex, nearly opposite the Steam Boat Landing in Fancher's Building anjoining the Hotel, where he has on hand nearly all kinds of Dry-goods and Groceries, and intends keeping up a good assortment by constantly replenishing, and will sell as low as can be bought in Burlington for cash and ready pay, most kinds of Produce taken Mr. N. flatters himself that with the facilities he has for purchasing goods both in Boston and New York, that he can compete with any store in Northern New York or Vermont. Please give us a call and see for themselves. "A penny saved is two pence earned."

WANTED 10,000 lbs. BUTTER.

N. Y., June 16, 1852.

KEESEVILLE ACADEMY.

The undersigned in behalf of the Trustees of Keeseville Academy, announce that the Spring Term will commence on Monday the 14th day of February inst. They have succeeded in engaging the following corps of Teachers.

Associate Principals: { CHARLES H. DANN, Teacher of Languages and Higher Mathematics. GILBERT THAYER, Teacher of English Branches, Natural Sciences and Superintendent of the School.

Miss. NANCY K. POTTER and
Miss. MARY FERRIS Assistant Teachers.
Miss. ELLEN M. FISHER Teacher of Music.
Good Board and Rooms in the Village.

TERMS:

Common English Branches,..........$3 00 per quarter.
Higher " Branches,..........1 00 extra "
Book-keeping,..........1 50 " "
Latin and Greek, each,..........1 00 " "
French, Italian and German, each,..........1 .. 00

Tuition is not charged for more than two of the above extras.

Music Instrumental,..........$10 00 per quarter.
" Vocal,..........1 00 " "

... French, Italian or German, taken ... the branches, the charge will ... 3 00 " "

... THAYER will give especial attention to young gentlemen and Ladies expecting to engage in teaching.

Oliver Keese
Jacob D Kingsland } Com. of
John Mattocks Trustees.

Miscellaneous.

New Goods! New Good!

—AT—

NICHOLS' CASH STORE,

150 Church street,

BURLINGTON, VERMONT,

HAVING just Purchased in New York and Boston, a large stock of Goods of all kinds we now offer them for sale, and those who are in want of goods in our line will save money by calling on us before purchasing. We are confident we have the largest stock of goods ever brought into Burlington at one time; we were induced to buy largely in consequence of the low prices of many kinds of goods, particularly dress goods of almost every kind.

We have a full stock of everything usually kept in a dry good store; Also West India goods and groceries, a very large stock of Teas and Sugars low by chest and cask. Also at cost to clear them off Paper Hangings, Crockery and glass Ware and looking glasses.

CARPETING, AT THE

CARPET WARE HOUSE.

BURLINGTON, VT.

Received this day and now opening 50 pieces of all grades, the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three Ply, Superfine, fine and common Ingrain and Venetian, all Wool. Cotton and Cotton and Wool; Also, all the different qualities of Stair Carpeting, Straw Matting, Oil Cloth, Drugetts, Crumb Cloths, Hearth Rugs, Door Matts, &c., very cheap.

Burlington, Nov. '52. 446

CHINA, GLASS, & EARTHEN WARE.

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

[SUCCESSORS TO PEIRCE AND KING,]

IMPORTERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS,

235 River Street, Troy, New York.

Having our Stock very complete from Importations, and otherwise, are prepared to offer a large assortment of all Goods in our Line. Wholesale or Retail, at the Lowest New York or Boston Prices for Cash or Approved Credit, among which will be found:

Fine White Ironstone and White Glazed Ware. Flown Blue, Flown Mulberry, Light Blue and common Wares, and the Acacia Ware, formerly kept by Mr. A. Slason.

White, Gold Band and Decorated French China, in sets or separate prices.

Tea Sets, of French and English China, white, Gilt, or decorated. India China in great variety

Toilet Sets, decorated or plain, full, double, or single sets, Cut Glass Ware, in Decanters, Goblets Champaigns, Wines, &c., of new and rich patterns. Glass cut to match any pattern.

Moulded and plain Glass Ware, of every description and style.

Girandoles, Candelabras, Solar Lamps, and Chandeliers, in every variety, from the manufactory of Cornelius & Co. Philadelphia.

Solar Globes, cut and Plain, Solar and Camphene Wicks and Chimnies. Astral and Coat Wicks, Boat Globes, Astral Chimnies, &c., &c.

Hall Lanterns of cut, plain, and stained Glass.

Lanterns of every variety. Also a new and desirable style with patent catch, &c., for Railroads and Steamboats, and made to order with names or initials engraved on.

Tea Trays and Waiters, new styles and shapes, of our own importion, singly or in sets.

Looking Glasses, Britannia Ware, Table Mats &c, &c

Also a splendid assortment of Fancy Goods, consisting of Vases, Colognes, Cardreceivers, Allumets, Decanters, Wine Bottles, &c., in China, Terra Cotta, Parian Marble, and Bohemian Ware,

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK,

235 River Street, Opposite Troy House, Troy, N Y.

ALFRED H. PEIRCE. {
LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK. { 445

New Clothing Store.

WE, the undersigned, have made arrangements with one of the best tailors in the country, to manufacture clothing for us of every description, consisting of overcoats, sacks, dress and frock coats, pants, vests, overalls and boys cloths, together with all kinds of under garments, which are made after the most improved styles, and for workmanship and durability cannot be excelled.

In addition we offer a large assortment of fine

Fashionable Clothing,

made by tailors in New York, that for fitting even Genio C. Scott, in his palmiest days was not a circumstance.

We would also inform the public that it is to be sold by wholesale or retail at very low figures for cash, and for quantity and cheapness is far in advance of any other concern in Northern New York. A comparison with the trade, both in prices and quantity is particularly requested.

In connection with the above we would call the attention of the community to our stock of

Fancy & Staple Dry Goods,

of every variety; also, hats, caps and furs, paper hangings, window shades, hardware and groceries, rifles and shot guns, amunition, &c., &c. Trunks, and valises, carpet bags, whips and lashes, stone ware, and every description of goods that are wanted or can be found in the country. Don't forget

No. 1000, Main Street,

Keeseville, opposite the Adirondac Hotel.

BOYNTON & SMITH.

January 20, 1853.

MATTHEWS & AMES,

(SUCCESSORS TO H. & H. MATTHEWS,)

DEALERS IN

Tin, Sheet Iron, Copper, Japan and BRITANNIA WARE,

together with a large and well selected assortment of

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

which they will sell by the piece or package, at a small advance from cost. Also, a general assortment of

YANKEE NOTIONS

And Fancy Articles,

suitable to the Pedlars Trade, which they will sell low for cash.

☞ All kinds of barter taken in exchange for Goods.

Keeseville, April 17, 1852. 415

New and Cheap Goods

E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Have just received from New York and Boston one of the best assortments of

FALL AND WINTER GOODS

ever exhibited in Keeseville.

Among their stock of DRY GOODS will be found a beautiful assortment of Wool, and Cotton, and wool d'Laines, and Cashmeres, both plain and printed, of all qualities, and prices from one shilling to one Dollar per yard. French Merinoes, Paramattas, Alpaccas, Lyonese Cloth, English and American Prints, Ginghams, Flannels of all kinds, a superior quality of Bay State Flannel of different colors, Wool Plaids, Tickings, Stripes &c. &c., Shawls—a large and splendid assortment of Bay State, Empire State, Waterloo, Scotch Plaid, and Printed WOOL SHAWLS, at prices much lower than ever before offered in this market. A beautiful assortment of Bonnet Silks and Velvets, with trimmings of all kinds. Also dress silks and Satins, Gloves, Hosiery &c.

READY MADE CLOTHING

Of all kinds, sold very cheap, also, Cloths, Broad Cloths Plain and fancy Cassimeres, Black Doe Skins, Satinets Silks and Worsted, Vestings, Serges, &c., &c., with many other articles too numerous to mention. 'Tis' unnecessary to add that all the above goods will be sold at very low prices. Only remember their motto 'quick sales and small profits.' Please call and examine Goods and prices, and satisfy yourselves. Opposit the Adirondac Hotel.

Keeseville Oct. 1822.

WANTED,

A farm containing not less than 200 acres in the town of Chesterfield, Ausable or Peru, on which must be good Dwelling House and out Buildings and otherwise under good cultivation. One answering the above Description will meet with sale for cash. Enquire of Benj. MINER.

Port Kent, Feb. 22d, 1853

CORLIES & DECKER,

(Successors to J. N. & E. W. Corlies,)

— WHOLESALE DEALERS IN —

TEAS,

Agents for the Sale of

Manufactured Tobacco,

192 Pearl Street,

Near Maiden Lane. 430 New York.

Miscellany.

THE NORTHERN

New York Mutual

INSURANCE COMPANY,

Plattsburgh, Clinton Co., N. Y.

Capital, 100,000.

THIS Company is organized under the General Insurance Law of the State of New York, with a sound, reliable capital, and offers the following superior inducements:

1. The safer kinds of property are separated entirely from the more hazardous; affording the advantages of two distinct companies, with the expense of but one.

2. The first class, or Farmer's Department, consists of Farm-houses, Farm buildings and their contents and detatched dwellings and their contents in villages, when unexposed by more hazardous buildings,

3. The second class or Merchant's Department, consists of exposing dwellings, stores, merchandize and property not deemed specially hazardous.

4. Each class pays its own losses and thus securing equal justice and proportional rate to both.

5. Not more than $3,000 of the first class, or more than $2,000 of the second class, will be taken in one risk, nor any number of risks so contiguous as probably to subject the Company to a loss of over $3,000 at any one fire; thereby saving it from heavy and ruinous losses.

6. In taking surveys of property, the agent will be the agent of the company, and the company be responsible for the correctness of all surveys made by its agents.

7. Any one insured, may at any time surrender his policy and withdraw from the company by paying his proportion of the losses and expense up to the date of such surrender.

8. Applications will take effect at noon of the day on which they are made (unless a different day is directed by the applicant,) thus relieving the party from anxiety and suspense,

9. The company no have two-thirds clause, but will pay all loss and damage not exceeding the amount insured.

10. In case of difference of opinion in settlement of losses, the company will submit the same to arbitration in the county where the loss occurs, the claimant choosing one, the company one, and the two arbitrators another.

11. Each person insured in the company becomes a member and will be entitled to a participation of the profits, if any surplus should accrue, not required for the payment of losses.

12. This company will be responsible for losses by fire caused by lightning.

13. This company will take no risks in cities.

☞ The Directors return their acknowledgments to the public for ther readiness in aiding the organization of this company, and will endeavor to make it a safe and reliable institution, affording protection from the ravages of fire, at reasonable rates, and with certainty of payment in case of loss.

DIRECTORS.

James Farr, Fort Ann, Washington co; Olif Abel, Whitehall, do; Walter Geer, Glen's Falls, Warren co; Pelatiah Richards, Warrensburgh, do; Wm. E. Calkins, Ticonderoga, Essex co.; John Horton, Columbia Vilage, St. Lawrence co.; Thomas H. Conkey, Canton, do.; Amasa C. Moore, Samuel F. Viles, Henry G. Hewitt, Jacob H. Holt, John Boynton, Peter S. Palmer, Cornelius Halsey, Z. C. Platt, W. W. Hartwell, Benjamine Gilman, George Moore, Plattsburgh, Clinton Co,

OFFICERS.

SAMUEL F. VILES, Presikent;
WM. W. HARTWELL, Vice President;
ZEPHENIAH C. PLATT, Treasurer;
GEORGE MOORE, Secretary;
I. C. MIX, and
R. G. SWINBRN, General Agents.
JAMES B. DICKINSON, Agent Ausable Forks.

Plattsburgh, Dec. 4th, 1852. 44 tf

PROCLAMATION!

Know all men by these presents that I,

James A. Walker,

of Burlington, Vt., have just returned from the Boston and New York markets with the best selected assortmet of Ladies, Gents, Misses, Boys, Youths and Childrens ever offered north of the cities, and have removed from the store lately occupied by me in Bank Block, to two doors east, same block, (one door West of I. D. Bixby & Co.) where I shall offer them at my usual low prices; having a large share of my goods expressly for me at, the best manufactories in New England, I am enabled to sell a good article and WARRANT it, at a very low price. I have now on hand every variety of Boots and shoes, all of which I will sell at a very small advance on the original cost.

Boots and Shoes

No. 3, Bank Block,

☞ Opposite the Park,

465tf BURLINGTON, Vt.

RUTLAND & BURLINGTON

Rail Road.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after Monday, Nov. 1st, trains will run as follows, viz:

FOR BOSTON, NEW YORK AND INTERMEDIATE PLACES.

LEAVE
Burlington at	8,15	A. M.,		4,15	P. M.
Vergennes	9,09	"		5,00	"
Middlebury	9,42	"		5,35	"
Brandon	10,20	"		6,18
Rutland	11,00	"	AR.	7,00
			L.	6,30	A. M.
Cuttingville	11.25	"		6,55	"
Ludlow	12.06	P. M.		7,35	"
Proctorsville	12,15	"		7,42	"
Chester	12,40	"		8,10	"
Arriving
Bellows Falls	1,15	"		8.45	"
Boston	7,00	"		1,00	P. M.
LEAVE
Boston	7.45	A. M.		12,00	M.
Bellows Falls	12.10	"		5 15	P. M.
Chester	12.40	P. M.		5,50	"
Proctorsville	107	"		6,17	"
Ludlow	1,15	"		6,25	"
Cuttingville	1 52	"		7,05	"
Rutland AR.	2,15	"	AR.	7 30	"
L.	2,00	"	L.	7.45	"
Brandon	3 38	"		8 25	"
Middlebury	4,25	"		9,04	"
Vergennes	5,00	"		9,37	"
Arriving
Burlington	5.45	"		10,30	"

CONNECT AT BURLINGTON.

with the Steamers for PLATTSBURGH and MONTREAL RAIL ROADS, and with the VERMONT and CENTRAL and VERMONT and CANADA RAIL ROADS, for the East, North, and West, via CHAMPLAIN and ST. LAWRENCE, and the OGDENSBURGH RAIL ROADS.

CONNECT AT RUTLAND

with the Trains of Western Vermont, Rutland and Washington and Saratoga and Washington Rail Roads, for New York, Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Buffalo and the West.

CONNECT AT BELLOWS FALLS

with the Trains of the Cheshire, Vermont Valley, and Sullivan Rail Roads for Windsor, Boston, Worcester, Lowell Springfield, Hartford, New Haven, and New York.

Fares are less when Tickets are purchased at the Offices than when paid in the Cars.

Burlington, Oct. 25, 1852. JOHN S. DUNLAP,
445 Superintendent.

REMOVAL!

THE subscribers would beg leave to inform their old friends and patrons, that they have rented a shop of Messrs. Keese & Tomlinson, ☞ one door North of Kingsland, Baber & Co.'s store, where they intend to carry on the Painting business in all it various branches. No pains will be spared to give complete satisfaction.

BROWNELL & LOWRY.

Keeseville, March 30, 1853. 465 tf

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Essex County Republican.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING BY JONATHAN TARBELL, Editor and Proprietor. TERMS, $2 Per Year—$1,50 in Advance.

VOLUME XIII. NO. 49. KEESEVILLE, N. Y., APRIL 23, 1853. WHOLE NUMBER 468.

From Putnam's Monthly Magazine.

Our New Livery, and Other Things.

A letter from Mrs. Potiphar to Miss Caroline Pettitoes.

NEW-YORK.

(Do you know that speech was just what Mrs. Crœsus told me she had said to her husband under similar circumstances?)

Mr. P. fairly groaned, and I heard that short, strong, little word that sometimes inadvertently drops out of the best regulated mouths, as young Gooseberry Downe says when he swears before his mother. Do you know Mrs. Settum Downe? Charming woman, but satirical.

Mr. P. groaned, and said some more ill-natured things, until the clock struck nine, and he was obliged to get up. I should be sorry to say to any body but you, dearest, that I was rather glad of it; for I could then fall asleep at my ease; and these little connubial felicities (I think they call them) are so tiresome. But everybody agreed it was a beautiful ball; and I had the great gratification of hearing young Lord Mount Ague (you know you danced with him, love) say that it was quite the same thing as a ball at Buckingham Palace except, of course, in size, and the number of persons, and dresses, and jewels, and the plate, and glass, and supper, and wines, and furnishing of the rooms, and lights, and some of those things, which are naturally upon a larger scale at a palace than in a private house. But, he said excepting such things, it was quite as fine. I am afraid Lord Mount Ague flatters; just a little bit, you know.

Yes; and there was young Major Staggers, who said that "Decidedly it was the party of the season."

"How odd," said Mrs. Crœsus, to whom I told it, and, I confess with a little pride. "What a sympathetic man: that is, for a military man, I mean. Would you believe dear Mrs. Potiphar, that he said precisely the same thing to me two days after my ball?

Now, Caroline, dearest, perhaps he did! With all these pleasant things said about one's party, I cannot see that it is such a dismal thing as Mr. P. tries to make out. After one of his solemn talks I asked Mr. Cheese what he thought of balls, whether it was so very wicked to dance, an go to parties, if one only went to Church twice a Sundays. He patted his lips a moment with his handkerchief, and then he said,—and Caroline you can always quote the Rev Cream Cheese as authority,—

"Dear Mrs. Potiphar, it is recorded in Holy Scripture that the King danced before the Lord."

Darling, if any thing should happen, I don't believe he would object much to your dancing.

What gossips we women are, to be sure! I meant to write you about our new livery, and I am afraid I have tired you out already. You remember when you were here, I said that I meant to have a livery, for my sister Margaret told me that when they used to drive in Hyde Park, with the old Marquis of Mammon, it was always so delightful to hear him say,

"Ah! there is Lady Lobster's livery."

It was so aristocratic. And in countries where certain colors distinguish certain families, and are hereditary, so to say, it is convenient and pleasant to recognize a coat-of-arms, or a livery, and to know that the representative of a great and famous family is passing by.

"That's a Howard, that's a Russell, that's a Dorset, that's de Colique, that's Mount Ague," old Lord Mammon used to say as the carriages whirled by. He knew none of them personally, I believe, except de Colique and Mount Ague, but then it was so agreeable to be able to know them.

Now why should'nt we have the same arrangement? Why not have the Smith colors, and the Brown colors, and the Black colors, and the Potiphar colors, &c., so that people might say, "Ah! there go the Potiphar arms."

There is one difficulty, Mr. P. says, and that is, that he found five hundred and sixty-seven Smiths in the Directory, which might lead to some confusion. But that was absurd, as I told him, because every body would know which of the Smiths was able to keep a carriage, so that the livery would be recognized directly the moment that any of the family were seen in the carriage. Upon which he said, in his provoking way, "Why have any livery at all, then?" and he persisted in saying that no Smith was ever the Smith for three generations, and that he knew at least twenty, each of whom was able to set up his carriage and stand by his colors.

"But then a livery is so elegant and aristocratic," said I, "and it shows that a servant is a servant."

That last was a strong argument, and I thought Mr. P. would have nothing to say against it; but he rattled on for some time asking me what right I had to be aristocratic, or in fact, any body else;—went over his eternal old talk aping foreign habits, as if we hadn't a right to adopt the good usages of all nations, and finally said that the use of liveries among us was not only "a pure peacock absurdity," as he called it, but that no genuine American would ever ask another to assume a menial badge.

"Why!" said I, "is not an American servant a servant still?"

"Most undoubtedly," he said; "and when a man is a servant, let him serve faithfully; and in this country especially, where to-morrow he may be the served, and not the servant, let him not be ashamed of serving. But, Mrs. Potiphar, I beg you to observe that the servant's livery is not like a General's uniform, the badge of honorable service, but of menial service. Of course, a servant may be as honorable as a General, and his work quite as necessary and well done. But, for all that, it is not so respected nor coveted a situation, I believe; and, in social estimation, a man suffers by wearing a livery, as he never would if he wore none. And while in countries in which a man is proud of being a servant (as every man may well be of being a good one), and never looks to anything else, nor desires any change, a livery may be very proper to the state of society, and very agreeable to his own feelings, it is quite another thing in a society constituted upon altogether defferent principles, where the servant of to-day is the senator of to-morrow. Besides that, which I suppose is too fine spun for you, livery is a remnant of a fendal state, of which we abolish every trace as fast as we can. That which is represented by livery is not consonant with our principles"

How the man runs on, when he gets going this way! I said, in answer to all this flourish, that I considered a livery very much the thing; that European families had liveries, and American families might have liveries;—that there was an end of it, and I meant to have one. Besides, if it is a matter of family, I should like to know who has a better right? There was Mr. Potiphar's grandfather, to be sure, was only a skilful blacksmith and a good citizen, as Mr. P. says, who brought up a family in the fear of the Lord.

How oddly he puts those things!

But my ancesters, as you know, are a different matter. Starr Mole, who interests himself in genealogies, and knows the family name and crest of all the English nobility, has "climbed our family tree, as Staggars says, and finds that I am lineally descended from one of those two brothers who came over in some of those old times, in some of those old ships, and settled in some of those old places somewhere. So you see, dear Caroline, if birth gives any one a right to coats of arms and liveries, and all those things I feel myself sufficiently entitled to have them.

But I don't care any thing about that.—The Gnus, and Crœsuses, and Silkes, and the Settum Downes, have their coats of arms, and crests, and liveries, and I am not going to be behind, I tell you. Mr. P. ought to remember that a great many of these families were famous before they came to this country: and there is a kind of interest in having on your ring, for instance, the same crest that your ancestors two or three centuries ago had upon her ring. One day I was quite wrought up about the matter, and I said as much to him.

"Certainly," said he, "certainly; you are quite right. If I had Sir Philip Sidney to my ancestor. I should wear his crest upon my ring, and glory in my relationship and I hope I should be a better man for it. I would'nt put his arms upon my carriage, however, because that would mean nothing but ostentation. It would be merely a flourish of trumpets to say that I was his descendant, and nobody would know, that, either, if my name chanced to be Boggs.—In my library I might hang a copy of the family escutcheon as a matter of interest and curiosity to myself, for I'm sure I shouldn't understand it. Do you suppose Mrs. Gnu knows what gules argent are? A man may be as proud of his family as he chooses, and, if he has noble ancestors, with good reason. But there is no sense in parading that pride. It is an affectation, the more foolish that it achieves nothing—no more credit at Stewart's—no more real respect in society. Besides Polly, who were Mrs. Gnu's ancestors, or Mrs. Crœsus's, or Mrs. Stettum Downe's? Good quiet honest, and humble people, who did their work, and rest from their labors Centuries ago in England, some drops of blood from "noble" veins may have mingled with the blood of their forefathers; or even, the founder of the family name may be historically famous. What then? Is Mrs. Gnu's family ostentation less absurd? Do you understand the meaning of her crest, and coats of arms, and liveries? Do you suppose she does herself? But in forty nine cases out of fifty, there is nothing but a similarity of name upon which to found all this flourish of aristocracy."

My dear old Pot is getting rather prosy, Carrie. So when he had finished that long speech, during which I was looking at the lovely fashioned-plates in Harper, I said:

"What colors do you think I'd better have?"

He looked at me with that singular expression, and went out suddenly, as if he were afraid he might say something.

He had scarcely gone before I heard:

"My dear Mr. Potiphar, the sight of you is refreshing as Hermon's Dew."

I colored a little; Mr. Cheese says such things so softly. But I said good morning, and then asked him about liveries, &c.

He raised his hand to his cravat, (it was the most snowy lawn, Carrie, and tied in a splendid bow.)

"Is not this a livery, dear Mrs. Potiphar?"

And then he went off into one of those pretty talks, in what Mr. P. calls "the language of artificial flowers," and wound up by quoting Scripture,—"Servants, obey your masters."

That was enough for me. So I told Mr. Cheese that as he had already assisted me in colors once, I should be most glad to have him do so again. What a time we had, to be sure, talking of colors, and cloths, and gaiters, and buttons, and knee-breeches, and waistcoats, and plush, and coats, and lace, and hatbands, and gloves, and cravats, and cords, and tassels, and hats. Oh! it was delightful. You can't fancy how heartily the Rev. Cream entered into the matter. He was quite enthusiastic, and at last he said with so much expression, "Dear Mrs. Potiphar, why not have a chasseur?"

I thought it was some kind of French dish for lunch, so I said;

"I am so sorry, but we haven't any in the house."

"Oh," said he, "but you could hire one, you know."

Then I thought it must be a musical instrument—a Panharmonicon, or something of that kind, so I said in a general way.—"I'm not very, very fond of it."

"But it would be so fine to have him standing on the back of the carriage, his plumes waving in the wind, and his lace and polished vells flashing in the sun, as you whirled down Broadway."

Of course I know that he was speaking of those military gentlemen who ride behind carriages, especially upon the Continent, as Margaret tells me, and who in Paris are very useful to keep the savages and wild beasts at bay in the Champs Elysees, for you know they are intended as a guard.

But I knew Mr. P. would be firm about that, so I asked Mr. Cheese not to kindle my imagination with the Chasseur.

We concluded finally to have only one full-sized footman, and a fat driver.

"The corpulence is essential, dear Mrs. Potiphar," said Mr. Cheese. "I have been much abroad; I have mingled, I trust, in good, which is to say, Christian Society: and I must say, that few things struck me more upon my return than that ladies who drive very handsome carriages, with footmen, &c., in livery, should permit such thin coachmen upon the box. I really believe that Mrs. Settum Downe's coachman doesn't weigh more than a hundred and thirty pounds, which is ridiculous. A lady might as well hire a footman with insufficient calves, as a coachman who weighs less than two hundred and ten. That is the minimum. Besides, I don't observe any wigs upon the coachmen. Now if a lady sits up her carriage with the family crest and fine liveries, why, I should like to know is the wig of the coachman omitted, and his cocked hat also? It is a kind of shabby, half-ashamed way of doing things, a garbled glory. The cocked hatted, knee breeched, paste buckled, horse-hair wigged coachman, is one of the institutions of the aristocracy. If we don't have him complete, we somehow make ourselves ridiculous. If we do have him complete, why, then—"

Here Mr. Cheese coughed a little, and patted his mouth with his cambric. But what he said was very true. I should like to come out with the wig. I mean upon the coachman; it would so put down the Settum Downes. But I'm sure old Pot wouldn't have it. He lets me do a great deal. But there is a line which I feel he won't let me pass. I mentioned my fears to Mr. Cheese:

"Well," he said "Mr. Potiphar may be right. I remember an expression of my carnal days about 'coming it too strong' which seems to me to be applicable just here."

After a little more talk, I determined to have red plush breeches, with a black cord at the side—white stockings—low shoes with large buckles—a yellow waistcoat, with large buttons—lappels to the pockets—and a purple coat, very full and fine, bound with gold lace—and the hat banded with a full gold rosette. Don't you think that would look well in Hyde Park?—And, darling Carrie, why shouldn't we have in Broadway, what they have in Hyde Park?

When Mr. P. came in, I told him all about it. He laughed a good deal, and said, 'What next?" So I am not sure he would be so very hard upon the wig. The next morning I had appointed to see the new footman, and as Mr. P. went out he turned and said to me, "Is your footman coming to day?"

"Yes," I answered.

"Well," said he, "don't forget the calves. You know that every thing in the matter of livery depends upon the calves."

And he went out laughing silently to himself, with—actually, Carrie— a tear in his eye.

But it was true, wasn't it? I remember in all the books and pictures how much is said about the calves. In advertisements, &c., it is stated that none but well developed calves need apply, at least it is so in England, and, if I have a livery, I am not going to stop halfway. My duty was very clear. When Mr. Cheese came in, I said I felt awkward in asking a servant about his calves,—it sounded so queerly. But I confessed that it was necessary.

"Yes, the path of duty is not always smooth, dear Mrs. Potiphar. It is often thickly strewn with thorns," said he, as he sank back in the fauteuil, and put down his petit verre of Maraquin.

Just after he had gone, the new footman was announced. I assure you although it is ridiculous, I felt quite nervous. But when he came in, I said calmly—

"Well, James, I am glad you have come."

"Please ma'am, my name is Henry," said he.

I was astonished at his taking me up so, and said decidedly—

"James, the name of my footman is always James You may call yourself what you please, I shall always call you James."

The idea of the man's undertaking to arrange my servants' names for me!

Well, he showed me his references, which were very good, and I was quite satisfied. But there was the terrible calf business that must be attended to I put it off a great while, but I had to begin.

"Well, James!"—and there I stopped.

"Yes, ma'am," said he.

"I wish—yes—ah!"—and I stopped again.

"Yes, ma'am," said he.

"James, I wish you had come in knee-breeches."

"Ma'am?" said he, in great surprise.

"In knee-breeches, James," repeated I.

"What be they, ma'am? what for, ma'am?" said he, a little frightened, as I thought.

"Oh! nothing, nothing; but—but—"

"Yes, ma'am," said James.

"But—but, I want to see—to see—"

"What, ma'am?" said James.

"Your legs," gasped I; and the path was thorny enough, Carrie, I can tell you. I had a terrible time explaining to him what I meant, and all about the liveries, &c. Dear me! what a pity these things are not understood: and then we should never have this trouble about explanations. However, I couldn't make him agree to wear the livery. He said:

"I'll try to be a good servant, ma'am, but I cannot put on those things and make a fool of myself. I hope you won't insist, for I am very anxious to get a place."

Think of his dictating to me; I told him that I did not permit my servants to impose conditions upon me (that's one of Mrs. Crœsus's sayings), that I was willing to pay him good wages and treat him well, but that my James must wear my livery.—He looked very sorry, said that he should like the place very much,—that he was satisfied with the wages, and was sure he should please me, but he could not put on those things. We were both determined, and so parted. I think we were both sorry; for I should have to go all through the calf-business again, and he lost a good place.

However, Caroline, dear, I have my livery and my footman, and am as good as any body. It's very splendid when I go to Stewart's to have the red plush, and the purple, and the white calves springing down to open the door, and to see people look, and say, "I wonder who that is?" And every body bows so nicely, and the clerks are so polite, and Mrs. Gnu is melting with envy on the other side, and Mrs. Crœsus goes about saying, "Dear little woman, that Mrs. Potiphar, but so weak!—Pity, pity!" And Mrs. Settum Downe says, "Is that the Potiphar livery? Ah! yes. Mr. Potiphar's grandfather used to shoe my grandfather's horses!" (as if to be useful in the world, were a disgrace,—as Mr. P. says,) and young Downe, and Boosey, and Timon Crœsus come up and stand about so gentlemanly, and say, "Well, Mrs, Potiphar, are we to have no more charming parties this season?"—and Boosey says, in his droll way, "Let's keep the ball a rolling!" That young man is always ready with a witticism. Then I step out and James throws open the door, and the young men raise their hats, and the new crowd says, "I wonder who that is?" and the plush, and purple, and calves springing up behind, and I drive home to dinner.

Now, Carrie dear, isn't that nice?

Well I don't know how it is—but things are so queer. Sometimes when I wake up in the morning, in my room, which I have had tapestried with fluted rose silk, and lie thinking, under the lace curtains; although I may have been at one of Mrs. Gnu's splendid parties the night before, and am going to Mrs. Silke's to dinner, and to the opera and Mrs. Settum Downe's in the evening, and have nothing to do all day but go to Stewart's, or Martelle's, or Lefevre's, and shop, and pay morning calls;—do you know, as I say, that sometimes I hear an old familiar tune played upon a hand-organ far away in some street, and it seems to me in that half drowsy state under the laces, that I hear the girls and boys singing it in the fields where we used to play. It is a kind of dream, I suppose; but often, as I listen, I am sure that I hear Henry's voice again that used to ring so gayly among the old trees, and I walk with him in the sunlight to the bank by the river, and he throws in the flowers—as he really did—and says, with a laugh, "If it goes this side of the stump I am saved; if the other, I am lost;" and then he looks at me as if I had any thing to do with it, and the flower drifts slowly off and off, and goes the other side of the old stump, and we walk homeward silently, until Henry laughs out, and says, "Thank heaven, my fate is not a flower;" and I swear to love him forever and ever, and marry him, and live in a dingy little old room in some of the dark and dirty streets in the city.

Then I doze again: but presently the music steals into my sleep, and I see him as I saw him last, standing in his pulpit, so calm and noble, and drawing the strong men as well as the weak women, by his earnest persuasion; and after service he smiles upon me kindly, and says, "This is my wife," and the wife, who looks like the Madonna in the picture of Andrea Del Sarto's which you looked so at the gallery, leads us to a little house buried in roses, looking upon a broad and lovely landscape, and Henry whispers to me as a beautiful boy bounds into the room, "Mrs. Potiphar, I an very happy."

I doze again until Adele comes in and opens the shutters. I do not hear the music any more; but those days I do somehow seem to hear it all the time. Of course Mr. P. is gone long before. I wake, so he knows nothing about all this. I generally come in at night after he is asleep, and he is up and has his breakfast, and goes down town before I wake in the morning. He comes home to dinner, but he is apt to be silent; and after dinner he takes his nap in the parlor over his newspaper, while I go up and let Adele dress my hair for the evening. Sometimes Mr P. groans into a clean shirt and goes with me to the ball; but not often. When I come home, as I said, he is asleep, so I don't see a great deal of him, except in the summer, when I am at Saratoga or Newport; and then, not so much after all, for he only comes to pass Sunday, and I must be a good Christian, you know, and go to church. On the whole, we have not a very intimate acquaintance; but I have a great respect for him. He told me the other day that he should make at least thirty thousand dollars this year.

My darling Carrie—I am very sorry I can't write you a longer letter. I want to consult you about wearing gold powder, like the new Empress. It would kill Mrs. Crœsus if you and I should be the first to come out in it; and don't you think the effect would be fine, when we were dancing, to shower this gold mist around us! How it would sparkle upon the gentlemen's black coats! ("Yes," says Mr. P., "and how finely Gauche Boosey, and Timon Crœsus, and young Downe will look in silk tights and small clothes!") They say it is genuine gold ground up. I have already sent for a white velvet and lace—the Empress's bridal dress you know. That foolish old P. asked me if I had sent for the Emperor and the bank of France too.

"Men ask such absurd questions," said I.

"Mrs. Potiphar, I never asked but one utterly absurd question in my life," said he, and marched out of the house.

Au revoir, chere Caroline. I have a thousand things to say, but I know you must be tired to death.

Fondly yours,

POLLY POTIPHAR.

P. S.—Our little Fred is quite down with the scarlet fever. Potiphar says I musn't expose myself, so I don't go into the room; but Mrs. Jollup, the nurse, tells me through the keyhole how he is. Mr. P. sleeps in the room next the nursery, so as not to carry the infection to me. He looks very solemnly as he walks down town. I hope it won't spoil Fred's complexion.—I should be so sorry to have him a little fright! Poor little thing!

P. S. 2d.—Isn't It funny about the music?

Washington Territory.

Among the few "positive acts of the last Congress was the division of Oregon, createing a new Territory called Washington. It is thus described in the Albany Journal:

The "Territory of Washington" is the Northwest corner of the Confederacy. It lies between the Pacific on the West and the Rocky Mountains on the East, the Columbia River on the South and the British line on the North. The exact location of the Eastern boundry, however, is somewhat uncertain, the precise longitude of the Rocky Mountain range. Probably it is not far from 110 deg. This would give it an area nearly as great as that of California. The following information in regard to it, is given by the National intelligencer:—

"Washington Territory" has within its limits portions as well explored and others as nearly unknown as can be found west of the Mississippi. The Columbia River was thoroughly surveyed by Capt. Wilkies, two sheets out of six being now published. It was surveyed by Belcher, in 1839, and two sheets are published among the Admirality charts. The Coast Survey has twice surveyed its mouth, and published one sheet. A comparison of these several surveys with Vancouver's indicates a remarkable degree of shifting in the sand banks at its mouth.

The shores of this wonderful network of channels are so favored in soil and location that they must soon possess great value.—Through a surprising extent of line they are directly accessible for ocean vessels, and form, as it were, an immense network of harbor. They present the foundation for a kind of agricultural Venice, far into the heart of the west half of Washington, the resources of which they will greatly aid in developing. Forts Nisqually and Olympia, at the southern extremity of Puget's Sound, must rapidly advance with the growth of the Territory.

The interior portion of this section is but imperfectly known. The land office surveys north of the Columbia have as yet made but little progress; but the sketches prepared in that office give more recent and correct information than is elsewhere to be found on the section between that river and Puget's Sound. On penetrating further towards the Rocky Mountains, the country is essentially unknown. The narrative of Lewis and Clark, the book on Oregon Mission, by Father de Smet, published in New York in 1847, and Irvings' Astoria (the last edition) are the chief publications of value on this ground. These serve merely to show that the country bordering the Rocky mountains between 46° and 49°, on both sides, is still a fine field for exploration. Much may be expected from Dr. Evans, who is engaged in a geological reconnoissance of the old Oregon Territory, which has taken him much among the Rocky Mountains and over their basal plains.

It adds, in respect to the Governor:—

Gov. Stevens, late a Lieutenant and Brevet Major of the Corps of Engineers, and now just entering on his duties as Governor of "Washington Territory," has been the Assistant in charge of the coast Survey Office for over three years. A graduate at West Point, a constructing officer of Engineers, on Gen. Scott's staff in Mexico, he has discharged the laborious and administrative duties of his recent position in so excellent a manner as to elicit frequent encomiums from Professor Beache, the Superintendent of the Coast Survey. We expect that he will not permit his present term to expire without presenting to the public a tolerably complete map of the Territory, and such reports as will give a clear conception of the surface, soil, resources, products, and peculiarities of a region so soon to become a State.

☞The Editor of a Mississippi paper having occasion to visit Washington during the present "scramble" for office, thought he would see some of the "sights," and during his peregrinations visited a fancy dress ball. In giving an account of the affair, he thus speaks of the ladies' dress:

"There was only one thing in which all seemed to agree—that was to leave uncovered as much of their persons as possible. It appeared to one just from the land of alligators, musquitoes and sunshine, where ladies have kept up the old fashion of dressing all over, that they had put their dress on in a great hurry, and had protruded their bodies six or eight inches too far through, and hence, as an old lady of good taste justly remarked, "they came too low down, and didn't come high enough up;" the milliners, too, careless creatures, forgot to put sleeves to the dresses, and the ladies all had the extreme mortification, poor things, of appearing in a very large crowd of gentlemen with their arms bare up to their shoulders! Horrid in those milliners! The gentlemen, kind, modest creatures as they are, blushed a little at first, and held their scented cambrics before their eyes, but they soon recovered from their embarrassment, and it seemed to be nothing after they got used to it.

His description of a fashionable dance is quite amusing, and is most perfect description we have ever seen. Here it is:

"The only other peculiarity of the ball was a new dance called the "Schottische Dance," which I saw for the first time. I will give as clear as words can a description of it. The gentleman takes the lady's right hand in his left, places his hand and arm around her waist drawing her closely against his whiskers, if he has any; they then pitch off in a leap frog fashion, stop and keep time by a sort of jig-ajig jig jig motion; then leap frog again, and so alternately leap frog and jig ajig, jig jig.'

Those who are familiar with the dance will readily understand the "leap frog, jig-ajig," the 'first time."—[Whitehall Chronicle.

☞The Paris correspondent of the N. Y. Times relates the following very French story:

"An Opera has just been revived at one of the lyric theatres, the libretto of which is founded upon the following authentic anecdote: Three young French ladies, who had spent their girlhood and school life together, but who were upon the point of entering the world, and being seperated forever, imagined an expedient by which they might remain together, and thus keep their oath never to live asunder. The smartest had heard that the Sultan of Turkey had the right to marry as many wives as he liked, and that he profited largely by this right. She wrote him a letter, which the three friends signed, in which they implored the Sultan to marry them all three, as they could thus live together, and they could not live apart. They promised to present themselves to him, as soon as they should have received the Holy Sacrament.

The letter was put in the post office thus addressed:—To the Great Turk at his harem in Constantinople. The clerk, through whose hands it passed, thought it was singular, and showed it to the Postmaster General, who gave it to the Lieutenant of Police. The Lieutenant opened and read it, and the same evening the king and his friends made merry over it at supper. The Grand Turk lost a love letter worth having. The three young ladies subsequently found three young gentlemen with whom they could endure life, even without the society of the companions of their childhood. If the music is equal to the plot, the forthcoming opera may count upon a success."

KNIGHTS OF JERICHO.—This order is flourishing beyond all precedent. It seems destined to do the finishing work of the Temperance cause. There is a universal rush to the gates, and all who enter are delighted. The Lodge in this city, is still behind with its work, it being impossible to initiate candidates as fast as they present themselves. We never work less than two nights in the week, and in some instances have worked four, and even five nights in the week; and still we are behind.

Never was the cause so prosperous as at the present day, nor did we ever know such zeal as is manifested by the Knights of Jericho—Not the zeal of heat and excitement, —but the stern, untiring zeal of fixed determination to carry out the purposes of a mind made up.—[Atlanta (Ga.) Republican.

"Mr. Jackson," said a clergyman to his parishioner, "Sunday must be a blessed day to you. You work hard six days, and on the seventh you come to church. "Yes," said Mr. Jackson, "I works hard all the week, and then I comes to church, sits me down, cocks up my legs, and thinks of nothing.

A RATHER sensative young man of our acquaintance lately refused an introduction to a beautiful young lady because her name was Ann, as he says Webster classes an as an indefinite article. He was fed on gram. mar until it became a necessary requirement, to live up to its precepts.

The word lady is not to be found in the Bible. So say various exchanges. Turn to Isaiah xlvii, 5 and 7; to the second epistle of John, verses 1 and 5; to Judges v. 29; and Esther i, 18, and judge of the Scriptural knowledge of the originator of the paragraph.

A LEARNED young lady, the other evening, astonished a company by asking for the "loan of a diminutive, argenteous, truncated cone, convex on its summit, and somi-perforated with symmetrical indentations." She wanted a thimble.

☞Three men, A, B, and C, go a fishing, A catched a "bull head," B, a bat over the head and C, a severe cold. Wanted to know, how the whole "catch" is to be divided so that each man may have an equal share of each.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

The Republican.

KEESEVILLE:

Saturday Morning April 23.

The Union of Lakes, the Union of Lands,
The Union of States none can sever,
The Union of Hearts, the Union of Hands,
The Flag of Our UNION—Forever."

New York State Militia.

We have before us the proceedings of the State Military Convention held at Syracuse, on the 11th of January last, which resulted in the formation of a Military Association, to foster, encourage, and perfect a thorough Military system. This has long been needed. It will bring together officers from distant sections of the State and create a brotherly feeling, and a common interest, and enable the members to operate upon public opinion and the Legislature. We record the facts with pleasure because we are one of those who believe that standing armies are as dangerous, and a well disciplin Militia as necessary, now, as in days of Washington and Jefferson. Human nature is the same the world over, our own country is running an extraordinary course, our little standing army is gradually increasing, forming a nucleus around which some daring spirit may by and by rally the turbulent and discontented. Our people are becoming less and less used to arms, and more and more effeminate. if not more and more corrupt, and we can imagine the time, not far distant, when the citizen soldiery will be champions and preservers of Republicanism even in this boasted "land of the free and home of the brave."

To these, and not to a standing army should we look for the defence of the country, the enforcement of the laws, the preservation of order, and the suppression of insurrections. A standing army is the support, and right arm of Kings, and Tyrants, and even dangerous to the libertics of the people. On the other hand, the citizen soldier, is the friend of peace, of ordor, of law, and his own hearth stone is a sure pledge of his fidelity to his high and noble trust.

We are glad for one, to perceive that this hitherto neglected, despised, caricturod, department of government is beginning to receive the attention it deserves The past winter has seen a codification of the Militia laws of the state, and we have hops of an excellent Militia. Its future depends very much upon the character, pride and conduct of its members. In this county, we have the best assurances from the regiment commanded by Col. H. J. Persons of Westport, being composed of young men of the right stamp—in fact, of the very bone and sinew of the county, who will appreciate the dignity, and usefulness of their station. That the people, and the government may sympathise with, and act upon similar feelings is the wish of—a friend of a completely equipped, and thoroughly disciplined citizen soldiery.

We append the following substance of the Report of the Inspector General.

STATE MILITIA —From the annual report of the Inspector General, we learn that the organization of the Militia for the past year has been highly successful. Encampments are reported to have been held in twenty regimental districts, which number greatly exceeds that of any previous year. The encampment of the five regiments composing the fifth and sixth brigades was held at East New York, commencing on the 30th of September last, which was one of the most imposing military displays of the kind ever witnessed. Two hundred and fifty tents were pitched at the encampment, and about1,200 men rank and file, were on parade duty.

The report states that the new organization, when complete, will comprise an armed, equipped and uniformed, military force of about 27,000 citizen soldiers and suggests the expediency of making some provision for holding annualy, at some central point in the State, a military drill, or camp of instruction, for twenty consecutive days, to be attended by one or more delegates or representatives from each regimental district, such persons to be selected by the military boards of the respective districts. The report further states that a circular having been sent to the commanding officer of each regimental district, calling upon him to report, that returns have been made from sixty-one regiments, which show the existance of an armed, equipped, and uniformed military force of 15,020 men ; that there are ten regimental districts from which no report has been received, the return from which will probably increase this number.

For the Republican.

HAVE WE SAFE SIDEWALKS, ON THE LOWER BRIDGE IN KEESEVILLE?—This is now the absorbing question. By many it is considered dangerous, for a heavy person to walk on them, while others think there is no danger! Let's have the commissioners of Highways make an examination and report. About one half of our citizens take the middle of the bridge not daring to venture their lives on the sidewalks.

Speaking of the sidewalks, is there no way to compel the proper authorities to re-plank the whole bridge? There are now holes large enough to frighten a spirited Horse out of his wits, besides the danger of broken legs, necks, and axeltrees. The present condition of the bridge is disgraceful to the village and endangers the lives of our children and citizens. X.

The empire of woman is an empire of softness, of address and complacency—her commands are caresses, her menaces are tears.

A mooted point, is, whether the ancient Hebrews were not invariably tried by Jewry!

Doings of the Legislature.

On the 14th at 4 o'clock P. M. the two houses were declared adjournod, sine die by the respective presiding officers, but the formalities of the occasion had not been entered upon, when a Proclamation was produced, convening an extra session. It was evidently in the breeches pocket of some friend of the Governor, and having been, as it must have been, written before the adjournment, it is illegal, and void.—However the responsibility is with the democracy, who have the power to do as they please, but the people will not fail to equire into the causes, and necessity of this extraordinary measure. Why is it, that with a large Majority, the democracy have failed to adopt, and prosecute some definite plan of state policy? Why is it that the session has been spent in useless debate, and bitter wrangling? Why have not the State officers fulfilled the pledges on which they were elected? Why were important bills deferred till too late to have them acted on? These are questions which should be kept before the people, and they should be and will be looked into.

The great events of the Session have been "ground and lofty tumbling" by democratic members of the Senate, the arrest of two members by a weak,& tyranical speaker,the conviction and imprisonment of an officer of the House for bribery, and a resolution of impeachment against two canal commissioners! Of the latter, that against Mr. Fitzhugh was moved and triod some weeks ago, resulting not merely in an acquittal, but in a resolution of increased confidence in his integrity as an officer, and a citizen. This result was as well known when the resolution of impeachment was submitted, as when the acquittal was announced, but Mr. Fitzhugh was a whig, and something was necessary to divert the attention of the people. So much for that. During the last moments of the late Session, a resolution of impeachment was moved against canal commissioner Mather. In regard to this let the Argus speak :

From the Albany Argus.

Facts known to members of the Legislature and to every well informed citizen of the State, led to the conviction at once, that political as well as personal malignity prompted both the investigation and the "presentment." Mr. Mather is known to be a Democrat of true national stamp. His accusers, and of course those who stand behind them, are equally well known—we speak of the majority of the select committee—as partizans of the rankest and blackest of the "Free Soil" or Abolition school. They were selected by a speaker of the same political complexion and unscrupulous stamp, and no doubt, at the instance of the miscreants out of the House, who are supposed to have instigated the proceeding. A man of Mr. Mather's decided and thoroughgoing National Democracy, of course, could expect neither fairness, nor decency, nor even a pretence of regrad to the ordinary formalities of justice in such cases, at the hands of a committee thus constituted ; nor was it designed that he should have the benefit of either.

Were not the people surfeited with news, and was not the standard of political morals alarmingly depressed, this legislature would go down the tide of time as the most useless, corrupt, and profligate that ever disgraced a State once adorned by a Clinton.

Southern Hypocricy.

The N. Y. Express deals out the following just, and scathing rebuke to those so recently ready to dissolve the Union on account of northern abolition. but who are now fraternising with the "agitators," and it seems to us to afford a subject for unpleasant reflections to those whigs, who have labored so diligently to "kill Gov. Seward."—[Ed. Rep.

The new Pierce party went into the election almost exclusively upon those Compromises ; and Gen, Scott, all of whose great qualities were admitted, because they could not be denied, was borne down by them upon the charge that he had ex-Gov. Seward upon him. But now, when the Gov. Sewards of the Democratic party, both North and South, are receiving the very highest offices from President Pierce, indifference and silence, if not approval, indicate insincerity. The Secretary of War, Mr. Davis, it cannot be forgotten, would have seperated the State of Mississippi from the Union, but for Gen. Foote and others there, solely upon the ground of those Compromise Bills ; and silence reigns when the whole army of the United States is intrusted to such a Secretary of War. Is there not great inconsistency in all that? The Secretary of the Interior, Mr. McClernand, whose position gives him almost absolute control in the new vast Territories of the United States, spoke for and voted for the Wilmot Proviso in Congress, &c , &c. and, if he is disposed to exercise that influence, can powerfully exercise it in Nebraska, Utah, and New Mexico.

The Southern Democratic party, which made so much noise about Gov. Seward and Gen. Scott, and Gen. Scott and Gov. Seward, is now exhibiting itself in its true colors. It hears daily of Free Soil Abolition appointments in the North, and it is now dumb as an oyster about them all.—The negro mania that it had when Gen. Scott was run was the use of the negro.—The negro was the stalking horse to ride to the Capitol on. Such a party, thus hypocritical and thus faithless to all principles and all associates, cannot ever again open its mouth, if we Northern Whigs should some day run even a Fred Douglas for the Presidency. We have not seen, in all their journals, the first condemnation of the appointment of Gen. Dix to an office worth $6000 a year, though they know he was run for Governor on the Van Buren ticket in 1848, with an out-and-out Abolition candidate for Lieutenant Governor. True, he is a very worthy; respectible, and able man, and so is Gerrit Smith, who has been elected to the next Congress, and we have no objection to the appointment ; but we scorn that Southern hypocrisy which assails the Whigs of the South because of Gov, Seward, and lets Gen. Dix go free.—It is known. too, throughout the whole South, that all the affiliations of the Secretary of State are with the Barnburners and Democratic Free Soilers in this State, and against the Hunkers, who sustained the Fugitive Slave Law here, despite their opposition ; but Southern Democracy defends him and chants his praise, and so, of course, his associations. Slaveholding Democracy, which has been thus crying "wolf," "wolf," against the Whigs, when there was no wolf, will in due time reap its reward, when a real "wolf is on the walk." The section of the party in New York to which Secretary Marcy belongs has in this State just been giving one of its most important State offices to Mr. J. I. Briggs, the office of Superintendant of the Salt Springs at Syracuse, whom the Albany Argus(not a Whig, remember) thus describes ;—

"Mr. Briggs is a dyed-in-the wool Abolitionist—a rabid Free Soiler in 1848—and, if rumor does not belie him; an habitual repudiator of Democratic tickets and Democratic platforms, in all cases where they do not conform to his sable idiosyncorsies.—He is an out-and-out opponent of the Compromise measures, and the Fugitive Slave Act in particular; and stands ready to join the antislavory agitation and his old Free Soil associates in any effort they may set on foot to re open the disturbing and irritating questions happily settled by those great measures of Conciliation and Peace. With the patronage which the office of Salt Superintendent would secure in his hands, he would be able to drive a prosperous business in anti-slavery agitation in the congenial soil of Onondaga. That county is as prolific in Abolitionism as in salt, if not more so. Even Madison, the residence of Gerrit Smith, can scarcely be said to be more thoroughly infected with that heresy. Hence the fact that Syracuse, the theatre of the Jerry rescue, is the favorite resort of the Abolition and all other fanatics, when they are bent on a fandango"

The feat of the New York State (Democratic) administration we commend especially to Southern Democratic eyes, with the hope that if we Northern Whigs ever present Gov. Seward for any high place, for them to vote for, that they will blaze with shame, and their teeth chatter, as they condemn him, or any past act or speech of his life. Their insincerity, their hypocrisy, just now, strip them of all respect from abroad, if not of all self-respect at home ; and if ever the day comes when their "institutions" are in real danger, we advise them to call upon the "Briggs" to defend them—not upon others, even of the Hunker school of their associates here.

To Readers and Friends.

A GOOD OFFICER RESIGNED.—Samuel W. Duchey long the accomplished Teller of the Bank of Troy, has resigned that post of adnous duty and which he has always performed to the satisfaction of the Bank, and will we presume devote his attention to the Lumber business in which he is extensively engaged with his father and brother.

Mr. F. P. Allen, late of the Commercial Bank succeeds to the Tollership of the Bank of Troy, and brings to the place a good reputation for ability and suavity.—Troy Post.

We are always pleased to record the success of old friends, and acquaintances. F. P. Allen noticed above is a son of A. H. Allen, Esq.r of this place, than whom few are more worthy.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—We would call the attention of our readers to the to History of the world, advertised in another column. So far as we have been able to examine the work it is exactly what it is recommended. It is of course but an abridgment, yet just the thing for those who do not intend to purchase an extensive library. It is also convenient as a book of reference, and we should also recommend it to Trustees of school districts. Mr. Allen, the Agent, is now in this village getting orders, and we trust he will meet with success.—He goes from here, down the lake towns of this County.

The Saranac, Capt. Mayo, took her place on the ferry last Tuesday. She will run between Burlington and St. Albans, touching at Plattsburgh and Port Kent. She is fitted up in first rate style, and Capt. Mayo is an affable, and attentive commander.

The Students of the Keeseville Academy are about to issue a paper made up entirely of original matter of their own composition. It will be for sale at Hashrouoks about the 29th instant.

Several communications, which have been on hand a long time, will appear next week. We crave the indulgence of our friends.

A friend sending us an advertisement, says, "send in your bill whenever you feel short." That's the kind.

The Legislature has taken a recess to the 24th of May.

We have had a week of most delightful weather,

GOVERNOR OF NEW MEXICO—"A CAPITAL APPOINTMENT."—Senator Borland has been appointed Governor of New Mexico, and all who have any regard for the character of the American Senate will hope that he will accept. A semi barbarous country like New Mexico is just the place for him.

THE PRESIDENT'S HEALTH.—April 19th, The Republic of this morning says President Pierce's health is impaired.

"That beats all," is now language refined into "flagel compliment."

LOCAL ITEMS.

The fine weather of the early part of this week attracted us out and our observations resulted in the following items :

NEW STARCH FACTORY.—This is the establishment of Page, Thomas & Co., put up last fall at Birmingham by Norman Page, Gordon Thomas, and William Taylor, three of our most substantial and thriving farmers, and now owned by Norman Page, Gordon Thomas and Frank E. Shandrew. It is one of the first class starch factories, the machinery is perfect, and the building large, two stories above the cellar, 52 by 92 feet, with a 20 feet wing, and cellar under the whole building for storing potatoes, put up at a cost of over $5000, and prepared to attach any kind of machinery. It is impossible for us to give our readers a satisfactory idea of the operation of making starch—they must go and see for themselves. But of the building, and machinery, and general appearance we are free to speak in the most flattering terms. Mr. Shandrew is in charge, and he is always happy to wait upon visitors. We were informed that they make on an average a ton a day, and that at the close of this season they will have made about 120 tons. The aid required is four men only. This firm think of connecting a store with their establishment. They have also another water privilege on their premises superior to any at that place. We commend this establishment to the people of the champlain Valley, and to merchants particularly. It is also worthy of note that starch pies, and puddings are rare eating.

FIRE.—On Tuesday morning last, the elegant mansion" owned and occupied by Col. C. D. Barton of this place, was entirely consumed by fire. The furniture, &c. was nearly all saved. The alarm was given a little after one o'clook A. M. The fire originated in the wood shed, in rear of the building and the wind blowing fresh from the South, the flames soon enveloped the whole structure. A hired man asleep in close proximity to the fire, was nearly suffocated by the smoke, and but for the remarkable presence of mind of Mr. Barton, who went into his room at great risk, and found him behind the door in a senseless condition, and carried him out, would undoubtedly have lost his life. Loss about $8,000. Insured for $3,000.

Our citizens acted with commendable zeal and activity in saving the property, which was handled as a general thing in the most orderly manner. Mr. Barton has the unequivocal sympathies of the whole of our citizens in his misfortune.

"I DONT SEE THAT RAILROAD TRACK."—So said a "green un" the other day, as he stood before Cardwell's door poking up the dirt with his foot! He was politely informed that the "Cars were not in yet, but if he would step in he could see the Elephant.' Cardwell having just returned from market with his new goods the largest and best assortment he has ever brought on, of course he fitted the young gentleman with a suit —a thing he does in the most satisfactory manner possible.

NEW LAW FIRM.—We call attention to the card of Messrs. McElroy and Everest. Mr. McElroy has had a thorough practical experience with Messrs. Finch and Harwood of this place, and Mr. Everest is a graduate of Middlebury College. This must make an excellent firm, and commends itself to those having law business to transact. May their business be abundant, and their success all they can wish.

NEW ROLLING MILL.—At their "lower forge," about half way from this village to Birmingham, the Messrs. Kingslands are putting up a new Rolling Mill, the foundation is laid for a building 120 by 65 feet. "Father Townsend," tho' past "three score and ten," is in charge of the Mason work, having renewed his age with the revival of business.

THE RAIL ROAD SURVEY,—Is progressing rapidly. The Engineer and his corps are now about entering Keeseville on the lake route from Willsboro.

It is understood that the road is located only as far as Westport, however, and that several proposed routes from that place to this will be carefully examined, before any one of them is adopted.

BIRMINGHAM.—The people of this place begin to look forward to a day of prosperity. Its water power is great, and is beginning to attract attention. Its business demands a Post Office, and we trust the people will be gratified in this respect. They are also speculating on the probability of a Rail Road near them.

ESSEX COUNTY BANK.—Martin I. Seymour Esq., of Burlington has been temporarily appointed Teller of this Bank. Mr. Seymour is a very excellent citizen, and having had a long experience in banking business it is to be hoped he will be induced to become a permanent resident of Keeseville.

The "Old Settler," has returned from Washington, and the benignant smiles of his happy and healthful countenance are again seen on our streets. We understand he intends to start the 'Old Settler' again, and to remain here for the present. We wish him success.

," will perceive that the bridge is repaired.

From the N. E. Farmer.

Calendar for April.

"Spring, the year's youth, fair mother of new flowers,
New leaves, new loves, drawn by the winged hours,
Thou art returned."

April, says the author of the Mirror of Months, is spring—the only spring month we possess—the most juvenile of the months, and the most feminine—the sweetest month of all the year ; partly because it ushers in May, and partly for its own sake, so far as anything else. It is worth two Mays, because it tells tales of May in every sigh that it breaths, and every tear that it lets fall. It is the harbinger, the herrld, the promise, the prophecy, the foretaste of all the beauties that are to follow it—of all, and more—of all the delights of summer, and all the "pride, pomp, and circumstance of glorius autumn." It is fraught with beauties that no one month can bring before us, and

"It bears a glass which shows us many more."

PLANS. All the general plans of the farmer must be laid out now, if it has been neglected until this time. Do not enter the field by-and by, and wonder what crop you shall apply to this or to that, and hesitate whether you shall break up one acre or two on the hill, or take another piece on the medow. No, no, this is perplexing when the day is waining and men and teams are waiting.

So of the garden ; take the plan in your hands when you carry out your seeds.—Here is the spot for the beds, their length and width all laid down; the new pear trees are to occupy that vacant and sheltered spot in the south corner ; the raspberries and strawberies, the tomatoes, cucumbers and melons, the beans, peas and cabbages, the early potatoes, corn, radishes and lettuce, all have their particular place assigned, and the mind is not distracted with the feeling that all must be done promptly, and yet it has not decided how to direct the operations.

Make as much garden as you can,—it is the most profitable part of the farm.—There is often more profit on a quarter of an acre in garden than from 2 or 3 acres of the farm. Get in early peas and potatoes. On the sunny side of a wall, sprung up to briars and young bushes, clear up and put in seed for early potatoes ; it is just such a spot as they like ; the new earth so light and warm. You may have them by the 4th of July in perfection.

PRUNING. The Messrs. Allen, in the American Agriculturist for 1842, page 55, say they think pruning should be done after the period when the excessive flow of thin and watery sap has subsided, and the leaves have fully matured, which happens in this lattitude, from the 20th of June to the 15th of July. It is worth while to try this mode and see how it works. At any rate, cut of no large limbs in April.

PEACH TREES By cutting about one-half of the last year's growth of the limbs you will prevent them from stretching off into long and slender forms, and breaking down whenever they bear. It has the effect, also, of thinning the fruit, because it takes away a considerable portion of the blossom buds.

MOWING FIELDS. See that the drains are all free, and gather up branches from the apple trees, or brush left on medows which have been overflowed, so that they may not be in the way in haying time.

TRANSPLANTING. Nothing is easier, if you know how—and really, it is a simple matter to do it, and do it well.

If the tree is two years from the bud, a hold six feet in diameter is not too large ; 18 inches deep will answer, throwing back the top earth into the bottom of the hole. Take the trees up with the utmost care, and break as few of the little spongelets as possible. How could a child suck an orange with jaws broken and lacerated lips? In the centre of the six foot hole raise a little conical hill, and place the tree gently upon it; the roots will then fall into a somewhat natural position. Now with the fingers place them all straight, and sift in the fine rich mould, that the delicate fibers may nestle among it.

There, you have treated the tree with proper consideration, and it will bow to you ere long, filled with luscious fruit.

PLOWING. Plow not when the soil is wet and mixes into mortar. It will bake in lumps, and remain so through the summer unless by dint of hard knocks they are broken up. Even though the season be late, it is doubtful whether any thing is gained by plowing before the ground is sufficiently dry to have it drop partially to pieces on its being turned over.

But plow deep—take hold a little lower than you did last year ; an inch of yellow subsoil will soon become more than an inch of black upper soil. Remember the proverb about having "corn to sell and keep."

GRAFTING, fencing, the nursery, clearing up the garden, the door-yard, the woodpile, and numerous other things, will require attention now. Let us lay hold of the work before us with cheerful and hopeful hearts, and pursue it with a well timed zeal ; the seeds shall spring uppward from the sod, and He who giveth the increase shall gladden our hearts with abundant harvest.

POLITICAL DEFINITIONS. The New York Courier and Enquirer says the following definitions are from an unpublished dictionary, which it is proposed to submit to the revision of Lewis Cass and Martin Van Buren :

Hard Shell Hunker. A Democrat who voted for Cass, stands by the resolutions of '98, curses Van Buren, and refuses all compromise or fraternization with the Barnburners of '48

Soft Shell Hunker. A Democrat who voted for Cass, deplores the division in the party, admits that a Barnburner may be a Democrat, and is disposed to forget the past, and commence with the opposing faction.

Barnburner. A Democrat who still insists upon standing on the fragments of the Buffalo Platform, swears that Cass distracted the party in '48, adores Van Buren, reads the Evening Post, and becomes rabid at the name or presence of a Hunker.

Soft Shell Barnburner. A Democrat who professes attachment to the principles of the Buffalo Platform, but is disposed to regard the Compromise as a finality; thinks there was some excuse for the presumption of Cass in '48, and will not object to a friendly drink with a Hunker —provided the latter pays.

FOOD FOR CHICKENS. Boiled potatoes, mixed with coarse Indian meal, is prehaps the best food for fattening poultry. For laying hens, meat is necessary. Lime must also be within their reach at all times.—Pepper has been found excellent to make hens lay. A recent writer says : "I was clearing out some red pepper seed, and threw the shucks promiscuously about. I soon observed hens picking them up and swallowing them with great avidity.—They soon commenced laying eggs, though they laid none for a month before. I feed regularly two or three times a week since then, with red pepper, and they have never stopped laying, summer or winter, spring or fall, except while they were hatching their chickens ; and I am confident that by this method hens my be made to lay the year round.

MR. EDITOR :—Some two years ago, a subscription was made to get up for the use of the citizens of this village, hooks and ladders, to be used in case of fire. A good set were made and put in readiness for use. If they had been where we could have had them on Monday night last, the main body or front part of my house would have been saved from distruction. Where are those hooks, Ladders, and chains? Are they in the keeping or charge of some monopoly in this village? The public have a right to know where those artioles are.

C. D. BARTON.

April 22d, 1853.

ASHLEY AMES, long the obliging proprietor of the stages from this place to Port Kent, has sold out to S. S. Smith, by whom they will be kept up to their promptness and popularity.

The Vice President is Dead.

COL. KING reached his home in Alabama on the 17th and died on the 18th instant. He was 63 years of age, and is the second Vice President, who has diod in office.

BOOKS! BOOKS!

A HISTORY of the world, Comprising a general History, Both ancient and modern of all the principal nations on the Globe, to which is added a Complete History of the United States to the present time, including the Late War with Mexico, California, &c.,

This work is designed to supply the wants of the present age. It embraces every thing compatible with its scope, down to the last important event in the History of our country. In short, while the unimportant has been left out, nothing essential has been omitted.

It is in two large octavo volums, which contain upwards of 1500 pages, an illustrated with about Forty Engravings, executed in the most modern style, after authentic pictures, toghther with a Chart of the Plays of the various Nations, a View of the city of San Francisco, and of the Crystal Palace each appropriately colored, and bound in embossed and gilt leather binding, with marble edges

The following are a few of the numerous recommendations the work has received.

From the Worcester (Mass.) Christian Citizen.

With pleasure we announce the appearance of this splendid work, the need of which has long been felt both by the student and general reader.

The author has fully explored the field of history, and while he has culled its most interesting and important facts, has left its rubbish ;—thus embodying in these beautiful volumes what might not inappropriately be termed the gems of history.

To the people of this country this work is peculiarly adapted, and every lover of his native land should well consult the History of the Nations, whose brilliant history is so accurately recorded by the pen of Mr. Inman.

From Prof. Emerson of Andover [Mass.] Seminary.

I have examined the "History of the World," and think it particularly valuable especially for such as have not access to more extended works of history ; and even to those who have such works, it will often be found an important help, as it brings down the history of the countries to the present time. RALPA EMERSON.

From the Franklin Democrat, [Ind.]

In these volumes we have a correct account of the origin and formation of the principal Empires, Kingdoms, and States of the Globe ; and also their connected history down to the present time, even giving a complete history of California, the death of our late President Taylor, &c., which makes it one of the most interesting histories ever offered to the public. It is sold at a price that will bring it within the reach of all.

J. B. ALLEN, agent for Essex Co. having canvassed the Western towns, will have the pleasure to present the claims of this book to the people of the lake towns, in the course of the next few days. 468.tf

Follett & Co.,

Storage, Forwarding and Commission Merchants,

AGENTS FOR THE

Merchants' and the New York and Canada Lines, and General Agents for the sale of all kinds of property. Consignments respectfully solicited, and prompt returns promised.

Premises lately occupied by Bradley & Caufield. 468

SOUTH WHARF, BURLINGTON, VT.

McELROY & EVEREST,

ATTORNIES & COUNSELORS AT LAW,

KEESEVILLE, ESSEX COUNTY, N. Y.

JOHN MCELROY. C. E. EVEREST.

Office over Prescott's Jewelry Store. 468

Meteorological Table.

BY J. R. R.

1853.	7A. M.	1P. M.	6P. M.
April 15th	32°	40°	34°
" 16th	35°	40°	46°
" 17th	43°	43°	41°
" 18th	36°	46°	46°
" 19th	46°	58°	56°
" 20th	43°	60°	60°
" 21st	46°	60°	61°

Keeseville, April 22nd, 1853.

.PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

THE SCHOOLFELLOW,

EDITED BY

Mr. W. C. Richards, and "Cousin Alice."

This work has been in existence for four years, during which time it has acquired a degree of popularity and fame unrivalled in the history of juvenile works, and has frequently been pronounced by the press, both North and South, "The best and cheapest Juvenile Magazine in the United States."

It is devoted to the instruction and gratification of the young of both sexes, and aims at the cultivation of the heart, as well as of the mind. It is an original magazine, and its articles are prepared for its pages by many of the best writers for the young in the country. Heretofore edited by Mr RICHARDS, it will continue under his general superintendance, but he will have the constant aid of "Cousin Alice," [Mrs. ALICE B. NEAL,]

Each No. contains 32 pages and several engravings, printed on the finest paper, and in the best style. Its price is

ONLY ONE DOLLAR A YEAR!

☞ Clubs are supplied on the following terms:—Five copies, to one address, $4; Ten copies, $7; Thirty copies, $20; Fifty copies, 30. All Postmasters are empowered and requested to make up "Clubs" upon these terms.

The back Volumes of the Work for 1849, 1850 1851, and 1852, may be had, neatly bound in gilt muslin, at $1,25 each, or they will be supplied in connection with the present volume for FIVE DOLLARS.

All business communications should be addressed, post-paid to

C. M. SAXTON,
152 Fulton St. New York.

☞ A specimen No. can be seen at our office.

Quarterly Report.

STATEMENT Showing the true condition of the Essex County Bank, an Incorporated Bank, on the morning of Saturday, the Twenty-Sixth day of February 1853.

RESOURCES.

1. Loans and Discounts, except to Directors and Brokers,		241,721 02
2. Loans and Discounts, to directors of this Bank,
3. All other Liabilities, absolute or contingent, of Directors of this Bank, $5,-137,95.
4. All sums due from Brokers,
5. Real Estate,		9242 77
6. Bonds and Mortgages,		1238 33
7. 8. Stocks, $ 00; and Promissory Notes other than for Loans and Discounts, $
9. Loss and Expense Account, $653,13; Bank Fund, $		653 13
10. Overdrafts,		615 20
11. Specie,		5234 16
12. Cash Items, consisting of the following items, viz: Sundry Checks and Drafts on hand and in transitu for collection,		3,462 44
13, Bills of Solvent Banks on hand		6,734 00
14. 15. Bills of Suspended Banks on hand, $; Estimate value, $,
16. Due from Banks, viz: From Solvent Banks on demand,		29,053 84
17. From Solvent Bank on credit,
18 19 From Suspended Banks on demand, $; Estimated value, $,
20. 21. From Suspended Banks on credit, $; Estimated value, $.
	298,004 89

LIABILITIES.

1. Capital,		100,000 00
2. Profits,		30,873 66
Old Emmission Bank Notes not destroyed or retuned to the Comptroller, $2684
Less Old Emission Bank Notes on hand, 221		2,463 00
3. Leaves Old Emmision Bank Notes in Circulation,
Registered Bank Notes received from the Comptroller and not returned, $147,316
Less Registered Bank Notes on hand, $15,980
4. Leaves Registered Bank Notes in Circulation,		131,336 00
5. Due Treasurer of the State of New-York,
6. Due Commissioners of the Canal Fund,
7. Due Depositors on demand,		33,281 60
8. Due Individuals and Corporations other than Banks and Depositors,
9, Due Banks on demand,
10. Due Banks on credit.
11. Due to others not included under either of the above heads,		50 63
	298,004 89

Keeseville Academy.

The undersigned in behalf of the Trustees of Keeseville Academy, announce that the Summar Term will commence on Thursday the 19th day of May next. They have succeeded in engaging the following corps of Teachers.

Associate Principals. { CHARLES H. DANN, Teacher of Language and Higher Mathematics. GILBERT TUAVER, Teacher of Natural Sciences and superintendent of the School.

Miss. NANCY K. POTTER and
Miss. MARY FERRIS Assistant Teachers.
Miss. EILEEN M. FISHER Teacher of Music.
Good Board and Rooms in the Village.

TERMS:

Common English Branches,.....$3 00 per quarter:
Higher " Branches,.....1 00 extra "
Book-keping.....1 50 " "
Latin and Greek, each,.....1 00 " "
French, Italian and German, each,.....1 00 " "
Tuition is not charged for more than two of the above extras
Music Instrumental.....$10 00 per quarter.
" Vocal,..... 1 00 " "
For French, Italian or German, taken as single branches, the charge will be,..... 3 00 " "

Mr THAYER will give especial attention to young gentleman and ladies expecting to engage in teaching.

Oliver Keese
Jacob D Kingsland } Com. of John Mallocks Trustees.

Keeseville Feb. 14, 1853 43 tf

CAPS CAPS.

MEMS and Boys' Silk and Worsted Plush

1853.

C. V. S. QUACKENBUSH,

202 RIVER & 7 & 9 STATE STREETS,
TROY, NEW YORK,

INVITES the attention of those who wish to purchase

DRY GOODS,

Carpets and Oil-Cloths.

Owing to the large increase of patronage, I have found it necessary from time to time, to make many improvements and additions to my store.

This spring I have united the stores No. 7 and 9, State St., making a spacious and beautiful room, fitted up expressly for the sale of all the various styles of Silks, Shawls, Cloaks & Mantillas.

This connects with the main store, No. 202, River St., (the old stand occupied by the subscriber for nearly 30 years,) which is devoted to a general assortment of

STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS,

comprising every variety to meet the wants of all classes of buyers. Besides these, four large rooms over the stores 200, 202 and 204 River St., are occupied as

CARPET WARE-ROOMS,

where I am constantly receiving the newest and most desirable patterns of Velvet, Tapestry, Brussels, Three-ply, Ingrain and Venetian Carpets Also, Oil-Cloths of every quality and width, and every style of Druggetts, Rugs, Mats, Matting, Stair-Rods, &c.

All these departments combined making an extensive and complete Establishment, conducted on such principles, that customers can trade with confidence, and to their own advantage, my sales being always for cash, and the only price asked, being the lowest cash price. G. V. S. QUACKENBUSH.

Troy, April, 1853. 467tf

Insured.

1853  1853

MERCHANT'S LAKE BOAT LINE.

PROPRIETOR,

THO'S H. CANFIED, - - Burlington, Vt.

FORWARDING to and from Boston, New York, Albany, Troy, Montreal and all Ports on Lake Champlain. Also, Ports on St. Lawrence, Lake Ontario and Upper Lakes, via Ogdensburgh and Caughnawaga Railroad.

The Merchant's Line will consist of

20 First Class Lake Boats,

Running directly through to and from New York, and all Ports on Lake Champlain, thereby avoiding a delay of two-days in re-shipping Goods at Troy and Whitehall. Property destined for Western Lakes, will be forwarded from Rouse's Point, via Northern Railroad to Ogdensburgh, thence by Crawford & Co's. Erie. Ontario Line of Propellors, or via Plattsburgh and Montreal Railroad to Caughnawaga, and thence by Steamers on the St Lawrence.

The Boats of this Line will be invariably towed by Steam on the Hudson River and Lake Champlain.

The Steamers BOSTON, Capt CHAMBERLIN; EATHEN ALLEN, Capt. HINCKLEY; JAMES H. HOOKER, Capt. SNYDER, will run in connection with the Merchant's Line daily between Whitehall, Burlington, Plattsburgh and Rouse's Point, affording increased facilities for Transportation of Freight and Towing.

Property entrusted to this Line for Transportation, is in all cases actually and correctly weighed at the time of shipment, and injury and delay to which property may be subjected by transhipment, is entirely avoided.—Particular care and attention given to goods destined to Canada, and to all property to be forwarded by the several Railroads—Property for Canada, forwarded by Northern, Champlain and St. Lawrence, and Plattsburgh and Montreal Railroads.

Debenture and Warehousing business promptly and correctly attended to.

AGENTS.

Malcolm Canfield, No, 8½ Coenties Slip, New York
Follett & Co., South Wharf, Burlington.
Smith Briggs.
A. Fisher, No. 191 River Street, Troy, New York.
A. M. Herriman, R. R. Depot, Ogdensburgh.
Chas. Seymour, Montreal.
April 9. 447-tf

Hats! Hats!!

BERBE and GENIN's latest Spring style Hats, just received and for sale by

BOYNTON & SMITH.

April 14, 1853. 447-tf

NOTICE.

WHEREAS Catharine, my wife has abandoned my house and refuses to live with me. Now therefore notice is hereby given to all persons whom it may concern, that I will hereafter pay no debts contracted by her or upon her account. PATRICK DAISEY.

Dated Ausable Forks, April 15, 1853. 447-4w

To Friends & PATRONS.

THE subscriber hereby tenders his thanks to all his

FRIENDS & PATRONS

for their liberal patronage with which he has been favored, and respectfully invites them to continue their favors as he designs to keep on hand a constant supply of the choicest meats, viz:

Fresh Beef, Pork, Mutton Veal, Lamb, &c.

Also, PICKLED TONGUE, BEEF and BARRELL PORK. Finally a treat frequently from the shores of the Atlantic, in the line of

Scale and Shell Fish,

&c., &c., as fresh as the briny ocean affords.

RICHARD HOAG.

Keeseville, March 27, 1853. 465tf

Seed! Seed!!

1000 Pounds Clover Seed. Also Grass Seed always on hand.

Fresh Teas.—A new and choice lot of Green and Black Teas, just received and selling off at great bargains by the chest or pound.

Mackarel.—Bbls., halves, quarters, and eighths—a new lot.

Camphene.—By the barrel or gallon. E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Keeseville, April, 1853.

D. M. KNIGHT & Co.,

53 CEDAR STREET, NEW YORK,

WILL sell cheap for cash. Combs, button pins, needles, hooks and eyes, lines and cotton tapes, bobbin, braids, threads, stay binding, brushes, whalebone, fans, and a great variety of fancy notions, &c. 464:3m

M. F. NICHOLSON,

ATTORNEY & COUNCELLOR AT LAW
ELIZABETHTOWN, Essex County, N. Y.
[Office in the County Clerks Office.]

WANTED.

20 POUNDS Saffron for which CASH will be paid. I. A. HASBROUCK.

Feb. 28th, 1853. 461-4

Union Nurseries,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

THE subscriber has for sale this spring, a very large collection of

Fruit Trees, &c.,

of all kinds adapted to the climate and of the best quality; which he offers at the lowest prices. All the leading sorts can be furnished by the quantity; and specimen trees, (1 to 3 years from graft,) vines, plants, &c., can be supplied of nearly 1000 distinct varieties—many of them new and rare, and now offered for the first time in this valley.

The stock of PEAR TREES, both on the Pear stock, and on the Quince, is very extensive, and the assortment one of the most complete in the Union. The collection comprises of Apples—250 choice varieties.

do. — 50 do on Doucain and Paradise, for DWARFS.
Pears—275 do
do.—75 do on Quince, for DWARFS.
Plums—100 do
Cherries—75 do
do —25 do on Mahaleb, for DWARFS.
Grapes—40 varieties—[1000 strong plants "McNeil."]
Gooseberries—60 varieties—[500 "
"Houghton's Seedling."]
Currants—25 varieties—[500 "
"White Clinton"—the sweetest, highest flavored, and best of currants.]
Raspberries—15 varieties,
Strawberries—50 "
Half-hardy Fruits—60 " including Peaches, Nectarines, Apricots, Quinces. &c.
Rhubarb—10 varieties.
Asparagus—1, 2 and 3 years old roots.
Buckthorn for Hedges—1, 2 and 3 years old plants.
Scions—of Fruit Trees Vines &c.
Garden Seeds—a general assortment.

Ornamental Department.

Deciduous Trees—Horse Chestnuts, European Mountain Ash, Silver Maple, and 20 other species and varieties.

Deciduous Shrubs—White Fringe, Smoke Tree, Rose Acacia; several varieties each—of Deutzias, Syringas, Spireas (including "Prunifolie") Flowering Currants, &c., and 50 other species and varieties.

Evergreen Trees and Shrubs—Am. Arbor Vitae, Am. Silver Fir, Norway Spruce, Deodar Cedar, Box, Holly, and many others.

Climbing Shrubs and Vines—Many species and varieties.

Roses—Hibrid China, H. Perpetual, Bourbon, Moss, Climbing, Austrian, Scotch, and Miscellaneous—150 choice varieties.

Dahlias—150 varieties—including all the newest and best.

Phloxes—50 varieties—very choice.
Paeonies—15 " do do.
Miscellaneous Bedding Plants—in great variety.

Summer Bulbs, (for spring planting)—Gladiolus, Tuberose, Tiger Flower, Japan and other Lilies,—of many varieties, &c., &c.

Flower Seeds—200 species and varieties.

Green House Plants—of all kinds, supplied from other sources, if ordered soon.

Horticutural Implements—of all kinds, supplied also to order—on a few days notice.—Budding and Pruning Knives, of best form and superior quality, always kept on hand.

ORDERS executed in rotation, as they are received. Those who desire to obtain their trees early, and to make sure of a satisfactory selection, should therefore order without delay.

Freight paid to the Lake.

Catalogues sent to all who apply, post-paid, and enclose a postage stamp

Address, J. BATTEY.
Union Nurseries, Keeseville, N. Y.,
3d mo., 24th, 1853. [465 2m

SUPREME COURT,
GURDON GRANT, AGST.
ELENOR CRARY,
ISAAC HEUSTIS,
JAMES GIBSON,
JOHN SAVAGE and
JOSEPHUS FITCH,

In pursuance of a decree or judgment of the Supreme Court made in the above cause, will be sold under the direction of the subscriber, Sheriff of the County of Essex, at public auction at the Adirondac Hotel, in the town of Chesterfield, in the County of Essex, on Monday, the 4th day of April next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon; all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land lying and being in the town of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York, lying between the Augur Pond and Buttornut Pond, beginning at the south west corner at a pine tree marked 1795, thence running north ninety-five chains, a little north of the south end of Augur Pond, thence east one degree north, twenty-five chains to the west line of lot No. three, thence south along the west line of lots No. three, four, five and eight to the corner of the last mentioned lot, thence south forty-five degrees west to Butternut Pond, thence along the north end of said Pond to the first place of beginning, containing two hundred and sixteen acres of land be the same more or less; which said lot of land is part of two tracts of land, formerly granted by the said State to John Williams deceased by letters patent, and is now conveyed subject to the conditions and reservations made by Anthony J. Blanchard his heirs and assigns in his conveyance thereof to one William Bromley to overflow as much of the said land at any time or times whatsoever as may be reasonably necessary convenient and useful for the accommodation of any Mills or Waterworks which are now or hereafter may be built or erected on the waters of the said Augur Pond, or the outlet thereof by the heirs or assigns of the said Anthony J., hereby retaining the same reservations as is contained in the said William's deed of the said premises to one Thomas McLean.

Dated the 19th day of Febuary, 1853.

C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff.
By J. C. FINCH, Deputy Sheriff.

SAML. AMES, Atty. 459-w7

The above sale is hereby postponed to the 18th day of April instant, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the Hotel above named.

C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff
By J. C. FINCH, Deputy.

Dated, April 4th, 1853.

☞ The above sale is further adjourned to the 2d day of May next at the same hour and place above named.

C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff.
By J. C. FINCH, Deputy.

Dated April 18, 1853

SASH, DOOR, BLIND

—AND—

Pail Manufactory,

CROWN POINT, N. Y.

HAVING the most perfect machinery, and experienced workmen, we are enabled to furnish Window Sash, Doors and Blinds, of superior workmanship, and at lower prices than can be found elsewhere. Also

Pine and Cedar Pails and Sap Buckets.

☞ All orders filled at short notice.

S. S. & W. FLINT.

Established May 1st, 1851.
March 1, 1853. 4

WOOL.

CASH Paid for Wool,
Nov. 10, 1851. J. APPL

Miscellaneous.

Insurance Agency.

National Protection Insurance Company, Saratoga Springs, Capital, $200,000
Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance Company, West Scotia, N. Y., Capital, $160,000
Nothern N. Y. Mutual Insurance Company, Plattsburgh, N. Y, Capital, $100,000
Knickerbocker Fire Insurance Company, Waterford, N. Y., Capital, $200,000
Northern N. Y. Live Stock Ins. Company, Plattsburgh, N. Y., Capital, $50,000
Charter Oak Life Insurance Company, Hartford, Vt., Capital. $200,000

Policies in the National Protection Insurance Co., and the Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance issued by the undersigned.

JAMES B. DICKINSON.
Office, Ausable Forks N. Y.
Saratoga Springs, Feb'y 7th, 1852.

WE, the undersigned, JOHN WILLARD, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court for the 4th Judicial District of the State of New York, and a resident of Saratoga Springs, with AUGUSTUS BOCKES, First Judge of the County of Saratoga, being likewise a resident of Saratoga Springs, and JOHN C. HULBURT, Surrogate of the County of Saratoga, also a resident of Saratoga Springs—do hereby Certify, that we are personally acquainted with the men composing the Board of Directors of the National Protection Insurance Company of Saratoga Springs. We take pleasure in availing ourselves of this opportunity in recommending to the Public, from a personal knowledge of the responsibility and character of their Board of Directors, that this Company is a sound and reliable Institution, will deal fairly with the assured, and are fully competent to pay their losses. We therefore unhesitatingly recommend this Company as an Institution in every respect worthy of a liberal patronage.

JOHN WILLARD,
A. BOCKES,
JNO. C. HULBURT.

JAMES B. DICKINSON,
Policy Agent, Ausable Forks.
Ausable Forks, Feb. 5th, 1852. 457-tf

WAR DECLARED

—BETWEEN—

France and England!!!

WOULD not create as great a sensation among the inhabitants of this portion of country as the proclamation of war on high prices by CARDWELL in the sale of

Ready-Made Clothing.

That war declared Oct. 1st, 1851, still rages with unabating and increasing fury; but in its progress its path is not marked with bloodshed, carnage and desolation as the wars of one Nation against another; on the other hand its fruits are smiling faces (NOT OF OTHER DEALERS) and glad hearts; go ask the honest and hardy inhabitants of our pine clad hills, and our pleasant valleys, where he buys his CLOTHING, and he will answer you with a smile,

WHY AT CARDWELL'S, OF COURSE!

That is the place where you can obtain the latest styles, a genteel fit, and well made suit of clothes for less money than at any other Store in northern New York.

Why, says one man, I have saved money enough by purchasing my Clothing this Fall at

CARDWELL'S CHEAP STORE

to buy me a good Cow. ☞ This is no fiction: living witnesses can be produced that will testify to the truth of it.

N. B. Saturday March the 5th will arrive a large and magnificent assortment of Spring and Summer Clothing, when the Spring and Summer Fashions will be introduced. Every description of garments always to be found at CARDWELL'S One Price cheap

CLOTHING WARE ROOM'S,
ADIRONDAC HOTEL BUILDINGS,
Keeseville N. Y.
G. A. CARDWELL.

WOOL! WOOL!

THE Subscriber would inform the public that he is again in the

Manufacturing Business,

Either by the yard, on shares, or in exchange for cloths on the most reasonable terms, and that he intends to keep on hand a full supply of the following goods:

BLACK BROAD CLOTHS,
Black, Brown, and Olive Cassimeres,
FULLED CLOTHS, SATTINETS, TWEEDS, Flannels, &c.,

suitable to this country, and that he will spare no pains in trying to please such as may favor him with their patronage.

Birmingham, May 15, 1852. J. APPLEYARD 389

Boots ad Shoes.

READY-MADE or MADE to ORDER,

AS good as the best, as cheap as the cheapest and warranted to fit. The undersigned begs leave to remind the public of the above facts and solicits a share of their patronage. ☞ Opposite the Bank.

JAMES ADAMS.

Keeseville, March, 1852. 111-tf

Bounty Lands

PURCHASED AND OBTAINED BY

GEO. MOORE, Plattsburgh, N. Y.

December 3, 1852. 448tf

BOOKS.

JUST RECEIVED FROM NEW YORK.

FRANK Freeman's Barber Shop. A new and deeply interesting story, written in a style similar to Uncle Tom's Cabin. The White Slave. Uncle Tom's Cabin, both bound and in pamphlet. Ike Marvil's Dream Life. Reveries of a Bachelor, &c., &c. Cabin and Parlor. Byron's, Willis', Heman's and other Poems. Mitchell's Lectures on Astronomy.

Sold by I. A. HASBROUCK.
Keeseville, March 1st, 1853. 461

REMOVAL!

THE subscribers would beg leave to inform their old friends and patrons, that they have rented a shop of Messrs. Keese & Tomlinson, ☞ one door North of Kingsland, Baber & Co.'s store, where they intend to carry on the Painting business in all it various branches, No pains will be spared to give complete satisfaction.

BROWNELL & LOWRY.

Keeseville, March 30, 1853. 465 tf

One Cent Reward!

RUNAWAY on or about the 28th ult., Lawrence White are indentured apprentice. This is to forbid all persons employing him, as they will be dealt with according to law. H. F. SALTUS,
Manager P. I. C.

Clintonville, April 14, 1853.

GRASS SEED

OF very Superior Quality, for sale by KINGSLAND, BABER & Co.

EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR.

ELS made from Pure Genessee at the lowest price at

REYNOLDS & TUFTS

852.

Business Cards.

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS,

(Successor to Nichols & Warren,)

WHOLESALE PAPER WAREHOUSE

And Paged Blank Book Manufactory,

— JOBBER AND RETAIL DEALER IN —

School and Classical Books,

English, French and American

Stationery, and Artist's Materials,

No. 4, Leavenworth Block, College Street,

BURLINGTON, Vt.

☞ Bank, Blank, Check or Memorandum Books made to order, from the best of Paper, and bound in the most thorough manner. All work warranted. Terms Cash. 448 tf

Livery Stable

BY

GEORGE G. FULLER.

HEAD OF MAIN STREET

(a few steps from the Bank,)

KEESEVILLE, NEW YORK.

Where may be found at all times, the best of Horses and Carriages, on the most reasonable terms.

GEORGE P. WILKINSON,

(Successor to G. P. & J. B. Wilkinson,)

MANUFACTURER AND JOBBER IN

CLOTHING,

154 River Street, Corner of Congress,
427 tf TROY, N. Y.

G. P. SANBORN & Co.

APOTHECARIES. HALL.

BURLINGTON, VT.

DEALERS IN

Drugs and Medicines, Chemical Paraphernalia, Teeth, Surgical Instruments, Gold Foil, Patent Medicines, and every variety of articles usually kept in this line of Business.

Oct. 23d, 1852. 6 m.

GEO. S. TARBELL,

HOLE SALE GROCER,

DEALER IN OIL AN

General Commission Merchant,

No. 65 Quay-Street,

ALBANY.

ADKINS & FULLER,

Booksellers, Stationers, Binders

—AND—

PAPER RULERS,

KEEP constantly on hand or will supply Books, Maps, Charts, Pictures, Frames, and Periodicals of all kinds. Also Publications of the American Tract Society, Bibles and Sabbath School Books at their very low depository prices.

One door east of Pierce & Davey's Agricultural Store on College Street.

C. S. ADKINS, E. A. FULLER.
Burlington, July 4, 1850. 323

H. C. Blanchrd, M. D.,

HOMŒAPATHIC PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

Office 2 doors below Ausable House.
Rooms at Ausable House. 430

D. M. ARNOLD

Engineer and Surveyor,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

SURVEYING & Leveling for Rail Roads, Plank Roads. Mill Seats, &c. Land Surveying of all kinds done on shortest notice.

Office opposite the Ausable House.

425tf

J. B. DICKINSON,

AUSABLE FORKS, N. Y.

General INSURANCE AGENT,

For Fire, Life, Health and Live Stock Insurance Companies.

☞ Any business from abroad will receive prompt attention. 454

Silliman & Gardiner,

WHOLESALE DEALERS

in Pork, Fish, SALT, PLASTER, &c.

OFFICE 17 CORNTIS SLIP, New York.
" 339 RIVER St., Troy, 445

Dr. H. W. GOULD,

SURGEON DENTIST

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

☞ Office opposite the Ausable House. [389

A. A. LEE,

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW,

ELIZABETHTOWN, ESSEX COUNTY, N. Y.

☞ Office over Root & Co's store. 462

H. H. HAVENS,

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW,

CROWNPOINT,

ESSEX COUNTY, N. Y. [466tf

H. M. CHASE,

Attorney and Counselor at Law,

KEESEVILLE,

ESSEX COUNTY, NEW YORK. (466tf

☞ Office opposite the "Ausable House."

SOLD OUT!

THE subscribers have made arrangements to devote their whole time to those having unsettled accounts with them, till all such acts are settled and paid, Having sold out our entire stock of goods and wishing to make preparations for commencing an entirely new business, we shall expect and enforce the immediate settlement of all our outstanding accounts. REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

April 1, 1853.

WANTED,

A farm containing not less than 200 acres in the town of Chesterfield, Ausable or Peru, on which must be good Dwelling House and out Buildings and otherwise under good cultivation. One answering the above Description will meet with sale for cash. Enquire of Benj. MINER.

Port Kent, Feb. 22d, 1853

Whitewash, Whitewash!

THE best quality of Burlington Lime for Whitewashing, will be found at

466-3w ANDREW DOWLINGS.

Burlington Advertisements

BURLINGTON

AGRICULTURAL WARE-HOUSE AND SEED STORE.

DAVEY & ALLEN,

No. 8, COLLEGE STREET, BURLINGTON, Vt,

Ploughs—Prouty & Mears's centre draught.

These ploughs have obtained a celebrity unparalleled, having taken the first premiums in this country and at the World's Fair in London. We have also Starbuck's and Tabor's celebrated Ploughs.

Our stock of Ploughs comprise a great variety of patterns and different sizes, calculated for sward and stubble land, wet meadows and recently drained swamps, where roots abound—among which also, are the deep-breaking up flat-furrow, lap-furrow, self-sharpening, side-hill, double-mould-board, sub soil, &c., &c.

Harrows—Iron square, Geddes and Scotch.

Hay, Straw and Corn-stalk Cutters, either by hand or horse power; spiral, straight or circular knives.

Cultivators—of different kinds, steel tooth and cast iron.

Corn Shellers—a variety of patterns. Will shell from 6 to 100 bushels of corn per hour.

Fan Mills and Grain Cradles—Grant unrivalled. We confidently recommend them as the best in use.

Seed Sowers—Batchelder's & Emery's and other kinds.

Vegetable Cutters—for turnips and other roots.

Horse Powers, Threshers, Winnowers and Separators—Wheeler's Patent Railway Chain Horse Power This Power, both single and double-geared, for one or two horses, has never been equalled for lightness in running, strength, durability and economy. The Thresher and Separator are too widely and favorably known to need our commendation. The combined Thresher and Winnower, (which is a new invention of last year) has not been so generally introduced. All who have used it express the highest approbation of its merits. We entertain no doubt that it is the most perfect, compact, and efficient machine now in use for threshing and winnowing grain, as it certainly is by far the cheapest and most economical.

Warranted to give satisfaction,

or be returned after a reasonable trial.

Saw Mill—Lawrence, used for sawing wood for locomotives on Railways, or by farmers for cutting stove wood. With a one horse power it will cut 10 to 15 cords of wood twice in two per day.

AGRICULTURAL & HORTICULTURAL TOOLS AND IMPLEMENTS,

a great variety and extensive assortment, such as Hoes, Shovels, Spades, Rakes, Manure and Hay Forks, Scythes Snaths, Cattle Ties, Draft, Halter and Trace Chains, Garden Syringes, Pruning Saws, Pruning and Budding Knives, Garden Shears and Twig Cutters, Grind Stones, Patent Grindstone fixtures, rollers, barrow rolls, &c., &c.

Grain, Field, Garden and Flower Seeds.—We are prepared to furnish Herds Grass, Red Top, Lucerne, White Dutch, Southern, Western and Northern Clover Seed, Beet, Turnip, Onion and Carrot seed, at Wholesale and Retail at the lowest market prices.

We have by far the largest and most complete assortment of Agricultural Implements, Machines, Field and Garden Seeds to be found in the State, which we offer at our new and spacious Ware-Rooms to Farmers and Dealers on terms the most liberal. We are also Commission Merchants and Wholesale and Retail Dealers in heavy and shelf

HARDWARE,

Saddlery, Axles, Springs, Mechanic's Tools, House Trimmings and Furnishing Goods, Cutlery, Cross Cut, Mill and Circular Saws, Paints, Oils, Bird Cages, etc. etc., etc.

As agents of Messrs. D. Prouty & Co., Boston, Wheeler, Millick & Co., Albany, J. T. Grant & Co., Troy, and others we can fill orders for Plows, Horse Powers, Threshers, Fan Mills, Straw Cutters, &c., at manufacturers prices. A liberal discount made to Dealers.

ORDERS
FROM ABROAD SOLICITED.
DAVEY & ALLEN.

Burlington, September 20, 1852. 439

NEW GOODS
AT
Nichols, 150 Church Street.

IN consequence of our large spring sales, we have been induced to purchase a very large and full stock of

Foreign & Domestic Goods

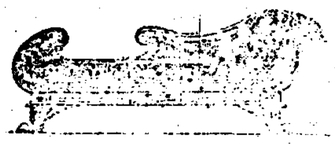
for the fall trade, which we now offer at exceedingly low prices. We have not time now to enumerate, suffice it to say, we have every thing usually called for in a dry goods store.

CARPETINGS!

AT THE

Carpet Warehouse, 150 Church Street.

Mr. Nichols is now opening the largest stock of Carpeting ever brought to this city, consisting of the best of Tapestry, Brussels, Three-ply, Ingrain, Extra Super Fine and Common Venetian, Damask, Cotton and Wool, Cotton, Hemp Stair carpeting from the best manufacturers. Also, floor oil-cloth, straw matting, Hearth Rugs, Door Mats, table oil cloths, English and American Bockings and crumb cloths.



Bay State Carpetings and Bockings.

Mr. Nichols has the agency for the sale of the justly celebrated Bay State carpets and bockings and will be furnished with all the new patterns as fast as they come from the mills Recollect the No.

150 CHURCH STREET.

Burlington. September 24, 1852. 43 tf

BOSTON URNITURE STORE,

AT THE

Spacious Ware-Room,

Nos. 2 & 3, Leavensworth Block,

COLLEGE STREET,

In Burlington, Vt.

No further need of going to New York or Boston for Rich or

FASHIONABLE FURNITURE.

THE Subscriber has a more extensive assortment of

Furniture, Feathers, Beds, Mattrasses, Upholstery, Goods, &c.,

than has ever before been offered in this section, comprising all the most recent styles from the most fashionable to the commonest FURNITURE, manufactured principally to order, and in quality superior to any to be found in Boston or any other place—consisting, in part, as follows:

Black Walnut & Mahogony Parlor FURNITURE,

—CONSISTING OF—

French Sofas, Easy Chairs, covered in plush damask brocatelle or hair-cloth, to suit the purchaser; French style centre and side Tables, with and without marble tops; gilt and other frame Looking Glasses; rich and common Curtain Furniture and Fixtures, &c., and every article needed to furnish Parlors in the most fashionable style.—Also medium and low priced Parlor Furniture, of every description.

DRAWING & SITTING ROOM FURNITURE,

of every desirable style.

CHAMBER FURNITURE.

Fancy painted Chamber Setts, richly ornamented; mahogany, black walnut and common Bedsteads, Bureaus, Stands, Toilets, Chairs, &c. Also, Feather Beds, hair, cotton husk and palm leaf Mattrasses. Elegant

LIBRARY CASES & SIDE-BOARDS,

both mahogany and black walnut, of very superior workmanship, constantly on hand and made to order, of any style or size desired. Also, any odd article, not to be found ready-made, designed and executed to order in the best manner at the shortest notice.

Hotels and Steamboats

furnished at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms.

N. B.—Every article will be sold as low as the same quality can be bought in either Boston or New York, and in many instances much lower. Country dealers will be furnished at the lowest wholesale prices.

MR. ALLEN'S long experience as a manufacturer and Furniture dealer in Boston, gives him advantages in selecting and purchasing goods very seldom equalled; and he will warrant every article fully equal to what he represents it.

☞ Persons in want of Furniture will do well to call on Mr. ALLEN before purchasing.

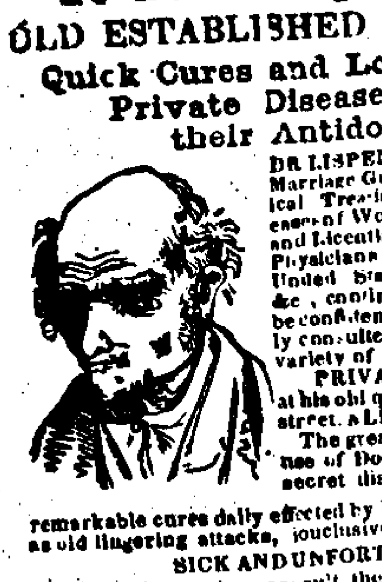
I. S. ALLEN.

Burlington, May 8, '52. 418-1y

PIANO FORT EMPORIUM.

361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. The most extensive and varied assortment of ROSEWOOD PIANO FORTES, plain and ornamental, elegant rich cases, chaste rately carved, and highly finished with Pearl & Gold of our own manufacture, and warranted in every particular, can be found at our Wareroom, 361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. 427-1y BENNTT & CO.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor



Miscellaneous.

20 Years Experience.

OLD ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL.

Quick Cures and Low prices.

Private Diseases and their Antidote.

DR LISPENARD, author of the Marriage Guide, or Private Medical Treatise, Professor of Diseases of Women and Children, and Licentiate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the United States University, &c., &c., continues as heretofore to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms and variety of

PRIVATE DISEASES,

at his old quarters No 5 Beaver-street, ALBANY, N. Y.

The great success attending the use of Doctor L.'s remedies in secret diseases, and the many remarkable cures daily effected by him in recent as as old lingering attacks, is conclusive evidence that the well

SICK AND UNFORTUNATE

can do no better than consult the Doctor, whose whole time is devoted to the exclusive treatment of this much neglected branch of practice.

LOOK AT THIS.

Dr. Lispenard cures recent cases of disease in from three to six days, and chronic or long standing diseases in a very short period of time, without the use of Mercury, without the loss of time change of diet, or detention from

DAILY EMPLOYMENT.

In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Enlargement of the Testicles and Cords, Bubo, Chancres Pimples and Scaly Eruptions, Sore Throats and Noses, Chancres on the tongue, tender shin bones, and diseases of the skin, and impure blood. Dr. Lispenard's remedies are above all praise, and frequently cure when all others had failed

EVEN TO RELIEVE.

More than 5,000 patients have during the past year experienced the benefit of the Doctor's extraordinary skill in treating secret diseases—among which, diseases of the bladder and kidneys have formed a goodly proportion.

YOUNG MEN,

who by indulging in secret habits have injured their health and prostrated their intellectual faculties, and thereby deprived themselves of the pleasure of married life, should consult Dr. Lispenard without a moment's delay. Hundreds have been restored to health, society and friends, under my peculiar mode of treatment, all ough vast sums of money had been sacrificed without any benefit. My remedy for this disease is pleasant to take, has no offensive smell and

CURES WITHOUT FAIL.

☞ Persons so unfortunate as to be diseased, although they may have visited half a dozen Doctors, and had medicine sent them a dozen times with no benefit would exhibit wisdom by making their case known to that FRIEND OF THE SICK, Dr. Lispenard, who never charges for advice and warrants all his cures. The sick are often at a loss where to apply for relief, AND TIS NO WONDER, as hundreds stand ready to plunder the unfortunate victim of PRIVATE DISEASES, or secret habits with but one thought for his life and health. All thus deceived will find a friend, and moderate charges, in consulting the Doctor who USES NO MERCURY and cures every time.

N. B.—Persons from a distance when visiting the city in search of a physician and friend will be fortunate if they succeed in escaping the many dens of imposition, conducted by unprincipled men, destitute of character knowledge or name, who fleece the unfortunate victim of disease of his hard earned money, and his remaining health. Patients who have no acquaintance in the city should make inquiry of some respectable citizen, or the editor or proprietor of any of the city papers, to ascertain who is the most reliable physician to apply to.

FEMALE DISEASES.

Dr. Lispenard, from an experience seldom or never enjoyed by any other medical man, is enabled to treat, with every hope of success, all and every variety of Female Complaints—with safe and pleasant remedies—and has without doubt cured within the past five years more than 3000 females afflicted with diseases of the Bladder, Womb, &c. &c. Ladies afflicted with suppression or stoppage of their monthly turns, will recollect that Dr. Lispenard is still the sole American agent for

DR. VICHOP'S

FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS.

The unprecedented sale of more than 15,000 boxes of these excellent Pills, and the good results which always follow their use, is conclusive evidence of their utility in stoppages, &c. Caution—Married Ladies in certain delicate situations should not use them—for reasons see directions with each box. Price $1. Sent by mail to all parts of the world.

Married Persons and those about to Marry, should enclose 12½ cents post paid to Dr Lispenard, and obtain a copy of his Marriage Guide, or Private Treatise, a bewitching little work of nearly 100 pages, illustrated. Every thing that married persons can desire or wish to know is here explained. Persons who from poverty or sickness have no desire to increase their family, will find necessary instruction in the Marriage Guide. One copy 12½ cents; 5 copies 50 cts; 12 copies $1—mailed free to any part of the world.

N B—Patients treated by letter, and medicines sent with full directions for use, to the writer's address. All communications destroyed or returned.

No mercury used in any case, and all cures warranted.

No boys or precocious students allowed: timed persons take notice.

Friends of Dr. L. when recommending patients to our care, will recollect our number, 5 Beaver st., three doors from South Broadway.

Hospital open from 7 A. M., to 9 P. M., and on Sundays from 1 to 4 P. M.

No charge for advice, although no medicine may be desired.

Good board and private rooms for those who desire to remain in the city.

Notice this—Address all letters to

C. W. LISPENARD, M. D.,
No. 5 Beaver st. Albany, N. Y.

411—1y

NORTHERN RAIL ROAD, N. Y.

FALL ARRANGEMENTS.

On and after FRIDAY October 1st. trains will run as follows:

GOING EAST,

1st Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 9, A. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 1, 45, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 2, P. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 6, 20, P. M.

GOING WEST,

1st Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 8, A. M.

Arrive at Ogdensgurgh 12,50, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 3, P. M.

Arrives at Ogdensburgh 7,45, P. M.

First Passenger Train going East

Connects at Moors with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road for Montreal and Quebec, and Plattsburgh, Burlington and Whitehall—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Vermont Central Rail Road for Boston and New York—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Rutland and Burlington Rail Road by steam Boats to Burlington, and thence to Boston and New York.

Second Passenger Train going East,

Connects with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road at Moores, for Montreal and Quebec—Connects with the Vermont Central Railroad for Boston, Burlington, and New York. Connects with the Steam Boats to Whitehall, thence by the Saratoga and Troy Rail Roads, to Saratoga Springs, Troy and New York. Connects by Steam Boat with Rutland and Burlington R. R. at Burlington, for Troy, Boston and New York.

First Passenger Train going West,

Connects at Ogdensburgh with the Express Line of Lake Ontario Steamers at 1 o'clock P. M. for Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, Lewiston, Niagara Falls, and Buffalo.

Second Passenger Train going West.

Connects with Lake Ontario Line of Steamers for Kingston and all ports on the American shore of Lake Ontario, and with Hamilton.

Four Freight Trains leave Ogdensburgh and Rouse's Point every day Sundays excepted.

For Freight apply to George V. Hoyle, Agent, Rouse's Point.

CHARLES L. SCHLATTER,
440 Chief Eng'r and Superintendent.

Printing Paper For Sale.

FOR sale by J. & G. PARKS,

38 by 21 inches,
34 by 24 "
264tf 33 by 23 "

Also, Wrapping:

40 by 28 inches, 40 lbs to the Ream, for large bundles
29 by 19 "
16 by 18 "

☞ All orders directed to Keeseville promptly attended

CAPS CAPS.

MENS' and Boys' Silk and Worsted Plush

Legal.

Mortgage Sale.—Default has been made in the payment of the debt secured by a certain mortgage, dated the 16th day of December, 1850, executed by Francis Gonyae and Josette his wife, then of the town Chesterfield; county of Essex, state of New York, to John Mattocks of Ausable, county of Clinton, state aforesaid, and with the power of sale therein contained, recorded in the office of the clerk of Essex county, in volume P. of mortgages, pages 445, 446 and 447, on the 7th day of January, 1851, there is claimed to be due on said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $129,72, and the further sum of $450 to become due in eighteen annual installments from the 16th day of December, 1852, with interest annually, and no proceeding at law or in equity having been commenced to recover the same, or any part thereof, now therefore notice is hereby given that the premises described in said mortgage will, by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, be sold discharged of said mortgage at public auction at the Adirondac hotel in Keeseville in said county, on the 22d day of June next, at one o'clock, p. m.

Said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage as follows: All that certain piece or parcel of land lying in the village of Keeseville, in the county of Essex and State of New York and bounded as follows: Beginning at the north-east end of the Pease lot in the east line of river street, running thence north thirteen degrees fifteen minutes, east along the east line of river street fifty-one links, thence south sixty-two degrees thirty minutes, east one chain and forty-seven links to Taggard's west line, thence south sixteen degrees thirty minutes, west fifty one links to Pease lot, thence north seventy-one degrees west along the north line of Pease lot one chain and forty-seven links to the place of beginning.

Also, one other certain piece of land lying in Keeseville, and described as follows: Beginning in the east line of River street, near the Pease house running thence south sixty-seven and a half degrees east along the south line of Gonyae lot two chains and seventy links to the road leading south from Keeseville, thence along the west line of said road one chain and forty-seven links to Chamberlain's lot, thence north sixty-nine degrees west along the north line of Chamberlain's lot to the east line of River street, thence along the east line of River street one chain and thirty-eight links to the place of beginning, meaning to convey the whole lot deed by David Pease to Franklin Shandrew.

JOHN MATTOCKS, Mortgagee.

FINCH & HARWOOD, Atty's.

Dated Keeseville, March 25, 1853. 464

At a Surrogates Court, held at the County Judges office in Elizabethtown, in and for the County of Essex, on the 21st day of March, A. D., 1853.

Present: J. E. McVINE, Essex County Judge.

In the matter of the application of Emeline H. Morhous & Abram Weldin, administrator and administratrix, &c. of Rensselaer Morhous, deceased, intestate, for authority to mortgage, lease or sell the Real Estate of the said intestate for the payment of his debts.

Whereas on the petition and application of Emeline H. Morhous, the administratrix, and Abram Weldin, one of the administrators of the goods, &c., of Rensselaer Morhous, late of Willsboro, in the county of Essex, deceased, it has been made satisfactorily to appear to the said County Judge and Surrogate, that the personal estate of the said deceased will be insufficient to pay his debts.

It is therefore ordered, that all persons interested in the estate of the said Rensselaer Morhous, deceased, be directed to appear before the said county Judge and Surrogate, at his office in the town of Elizabethtown, in said county, on the 9th day of May next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to show cause why authority should not be given to the said administrators to mortgage, lease or sell so much of the real estate of the said deceased as shall be necessary to pay his debts.

Witness: JOHN E. McVINE, Essex County Judge.

A true copy—attest,
464:6w J. E. McVINE, F. C. Judge.

SUPREME COURT.

Frederick L. Seeley, ag'st Isaac Heustis, Daius Breaw, James Pilling, James Adams, Edmund Kingsland, Jacob D. Kingsland, William W. Kingsland, Alfred Baber, Levi S. Scribner, Henry Green, Andrew Thompson, Stephen F. Spencer, George Adgate and Abraham B. Kingsland.

In pursuance of a decree or judgment of the Supreme Court, made in the above cause, will be sold under the direction of the subscriber, sheriff of the county of Essex, at public auction at the Adirondack Hotel in the town of Chesterfield, in the county of Essex, on Monday the 2d day of May next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, all that certain piece or parcel of land lying and being in the town of Chesterfield, county of Essex and State of New York, to wit: a part of lot seventeen (17 in the twelve thousand acre location granted to Zepheniah Platt and others, and bounded as follows, viz: on the east by the west line of the road leading from Keeseville to Essex, on the south by a lot occupied October 18, 1836, by Mark Lafontain, on the west by land owned October 18, 1836, by Martin I. Vanderworker, and on the North by the South line of the land owned by said Vanderworker, Oct 18, 1836, leading from said road west, to land lying in rear of the above described lot. Said lot is supposed to be eight rods in front and twenty roads in rear, and to contain one acre of land, and is known as the Dennis Breau tavern stand in Chesterfield aforesaid.

C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff,
By J. C. FINCH, Deputy.

Keeseville, March 19, 1853. 462-7w

BANK DEPARTMENT.

ALBANY, Jany 26th, 1823.

NOTICE is hereby given in pursuance of the Statute made and provided, that all the circulating notes issued by the McIntyre Bank, at Adirondac, (an individual bank) must be presented at the office of the superintendent of the Banking Department of the State of New York, for payment within two years from the date of this notice, or the funds deposited for the redemption of the said notes will be given up to the said bank.

D. B. St. John, Supt.

Two years from Jany. 26, 1853. 459-2y

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

NOTICE is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John Cummings, late of North Hudson, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to ESTES B. WALKER, one of the administrators of the said deceased, at his dwelling house in North Hudson, his place of doing business, on or before the 25th day of May next, that being at least Six Months after the day of the first publication of this notice. Dated this 15th day of November, A. D. 1852.

ABIGAIL CUMMINGS, Administratrix.
ESTES B. WALKER, Administrators.

Legal.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS John McDermid, then of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York, by a certain Mortgage, dated December 18th, 1850, and with the power of sale therein contained duly recorded in the office of the Clerk of Essex County, in Vol. P. of Mortgages on pages 434, and 435, on the 21st day of December, 1 50, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to secure the payment of fifty dollars and interest, did duly Mortgage to John McGuire of the second place, certain premises described in said mortgage as follows:—All those two certain building lots, lying and being in the village of Keeseville, County of Essex and State of New York. The first of said lots is bounded and described as follows: situated on the Port Kent Hill, in the said village, on a street to be known and designated as back street, and measuring on said street fifty five feet in front and the same in rear and extending back one hundred feet—to be known and designated as lot number (4).—The second of the aforesaid lots is situated also in the said village of Keeseville, on the street known and designated as McDermid street, to commence on the said street one hundred and fifty feet from the line of the Port Kent road and to be sixty feet in front on said street and run back to James McGaires land be the said lots more or less. And whereas the said Mortgage was by an instrument in writing dated February 18th, 1853, duly assigned by the said John McGuire to Michael Keenan, jr. of Chesterfield, Essex County. On which Mortgage there is claimed to be due at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $57,67. And default having been made in the payment of said $57,67 and no proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the same, or any part thereof: now therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage and of the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgaged premises will be sold at public auction on the 23d day of May next at 10 o'clock A. M. at the Adirondac Hotel, in the village of Keeseville, Essex County.

MICHAEL KEENAN, Jr.
Assignee of Mortgagee.

JOHN McELROY, Atty. 460 13w

Dated, Keeseville February 26th, 1853.

MORTGAGE SALE

DEFAULT has been made in the payment of the debt secured by a certain mortgage, dated the 21st day of October, 1847, executed by William Galusha and Sophia, his wife, then of Wilmington, in the County of Essex, State of N. Y., to Uriah D. Mihills of Keene, in the county and state aforesaid, and recorded in the office of the clerk of Essex county, in volume N. of Mortgages, pages 283 and 284, on the 28th day of December, 1847, at nine o'clock, A. M. Said mortgage was duly assigned by said Mihills to Willard Bell, January 14th, 1848, and by said Bell duly assigned to Reuben Patridge, January 30, 1849, and by said Patridge duly assigned to M. Finch, Amos Avery and Charles Malbone, assignees of Reuben Sanford, January 1st, 1849, who are now the owners of said mortgage. There is claimed to be due on said mortgage, at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $167,93. Now therefore, notice is hereby given that the premises described in said mortgage, will, by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, be sold at public auction, at the Adirondac Hotel, in Keeseville, in said county, on the 8th day of June next, at 1 o'clock, P. M.

Said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage as follows: All that certain piece or parcel of land situate in the town of Wilmington, in the county of Essex, being a part of lot No 34, of Mallory's grant, bounded as follows: beginning at a stake and stones standing on the North line of the Sampson lot, 141 rods from the centre of the road leading from the Carpenter house to Blish and Burdick's forge, being the South-West corner of Ephraim French's land, and running East on said line to the West line of said grant, thence North on the line of said grant to the centre of the road leading from Sanford's to St. Armand, thence running Easterly in the centre of said road to a stake and stones, being the North-West corner of a piece of land occupied by David Hatch, thence South 42 degrees, West six rods to the South bank of Mill Brook, thence Easterly along the South bank of said brook 30 rods to a stake and stones being the South-East corner of said Hatch lot, thence North 35 degrees East to the centre of said road, thence Easterly in the centre of said road to the North-West corner of the Carpenter lot, thence South on the line of said Carpenter lot to the South-west corner of said lot, thence East on the line of said lot to the brook, thence up the brook in the centre thereof to a point ten rods below the sawmill, and thence on the South bank of said brook on the line of Ephraim French's lot to the North-west corner thereof, thence South 43 degrees west on the line of said French's lot 126 rods to the place of beginning, containing eventy-five acres, be the same more or less.

M. FINCH,
AMOS AVERY,
CHAS. MALBONE. } Assignees.

FINCH & HARWOOD, Atty's.

Dated March 12, 1853. 462-13w

The People of the State of New York, to the Creditors and next of kin of Hannah Buckminister, late of Moriah, Essex County, deceased, send GREETING:

You and each of you are hereby cited and required personally, to be and appear before our county Judge and Surrogate of the county of Essex, at his office in the town of Elizabethtown, on the second day of May next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the final settlement of the accounts of Jacob Tappen, administrator, and Lorinda Tappen, administratrix, of all and singular the goods, chattels and credits of Hannah Buckminister, deceased.

L. S. In testimony whereof, we have caused the Surrogate's seal of said county of Essex to be hereunto affixed at Elizabethtown, this 21st day of March, A. D. 1853.

Witness: JOHN E. McVINE,
464:4w Essex Co. Judge.

Gas, Steam & Water Fitting and Fixtures, Wrought-Iron Pipe, Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Plumbers' Materials, &c.

We are now prepared to do work in dwellings, Stores, Churches, Mills, or Factories, in the way of Gas and Steam Fitting or Plumbing, in the most complete and satisfactory manner. Having workmen in each of the above branches who cannot be excelled by any similar establishments in the country. All orders will be promptly executed, and work done in any part of the country.

We have also constantly on hand and for Sale at Manufacturers' Prices, Wrought Iron Pipe for Gas, Steam, and water, Twisted and Plain Brass Pipe, Steam Valves, Brass and Iron Stop Cocks, Tees, Elbows, Coupling, Brass Globe, Cross and Check Valves, &c., Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Leather Hose, Hose Pipe and Couplings, with a very material in Lead, Brass and Plated Work for Plumbers' use.—Ping Basins, Hoppers, Closet Pans, Corner Basins, and Baths, of all descriptions.

Also, a splendid assortment of Chandeliers, Pendants, Brackets &c., on new and rich styles, to which we are receiving constant additions.

PEIRCE and SOUTHWICK.
223 and 225 River-Street, (Opposite Troy House,) Troy, N. Y. 445-tf
ALFRED H. PEIRCE. LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK.

EXTRA FAMI[LY]
50 BARRELS made ...
Wheat at the low...
REY...

Dec. 18, 1852.

Medicine.

THE WONDER OF THE WORLD.

DEVINES' COMPOUND

PITCH LOZENGE,

A sure and pleasant Remedy for Colds, Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, and if lungs enough are left to sustain life, A CERTAIN CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, safe for the Infant or the Invalid, in any stage of weakness.

"The statements that consumption cannot be cured, has destroyed more lives than the disease itself.—[Dr. Warren

Read the following, which to a candid mind places this "Great Remedy," like Cæsar's wife "above suspicion."

TO THE PUBLIC!

We, the undersigned, citizens of Lee, Mass., are acquainted with Mr. Devines, the proprietor and Manufacturer of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge and from what we know of it ourselves and have learned from others of its beneficial effects, in cases where it has been used, give it as our opinion that it is a valuable remedy in diseases for which it is recommended and is worthy of public confidence. A. G. Hulburt, Leonard Church, F. G. Taylor, Wm. Taylor, E. A. Bliss, S. A. Hulburt, Josephus Crafts, T. P. Eldridge.

If any individual is to be pitied, and needs sympathy, it is the consumptive—always expecting to get well, and yet the painful evidences of decay almost "makes the inner soul shrink with the outer flesh."

"Some bloom as roses bloom, and live as roses live,
A single morning space!"

While others, in more mature life—by some imprudence and a slight cold neglected—in the hectic flush—the painful cough.

"The prints of their departing steps appears."

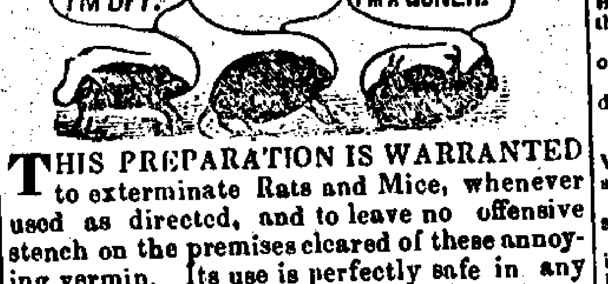
BUT HE IS HOPE! Mr Wm. Devines, the originator and manufacturer of the Pitch Lozeuge, under Providence, was raised to perfect health by the use of these Lozenges alone, after he was pronounced by his physician to be almost dying with consumption.

This fact is generally known in Berkshire County and is the neighborhood talk, and wonder in Lee, and in Great Barrington, Mass.

From Dr. Brown, of Lee, Mass.

This certifies that I have made use of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge for cold and cough, and found immediate relief. Therefore I would recommend it to the public as being a safe and sovereign remedy. H. C. BROWN.

Lee, October 28, 1851.



Sold wholesale at Albany, by Wm. A. Wharton & Co, Druggists, &c., H. C. Sheldon, Troy, Spencer & Nichols, Whitehall, Hammonds & Co, Crownpoint, W. G. Lyon, Essex, Reynolds & Tufts and I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. Orders addressed Wm. Devines, Jamaica L. I. 436 1y Wm. KENNE, Traveling Agent

---

M. DUBOYS'

FRENCH

RAT EXTERMINATOR.

THIS PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to exterminate Rats and Mice, whenever used as directed, and to leave no offensive stench on the premises cleared of these annoying vermin. Its use is perfectly safe in any place and at all times, which is not the case with ordinary remedies for this evil.

CAUTION!—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!—The extraordinary success of M. Duboy's Rat Exterminator has excited the cupidity of some dishonest and irresponsible persons to counterfeit it. Inquire for M. Duboy's French Rat Extirminator, and take no other. Large boxes at 25 cents. LYNDE & OSBURN.

Rochester, N. Y., Sole American Agents, to whom all orders should be addressed.

For sale by Stearns & Beckwith, Peru, I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. 444 1y

Miscellaneous,

WOOLEN MANUFACTURING

IN all its various branches, will be carried on at the Keeseville Woolen Manufacturing Establishment, in Keeseville, N. Y.

Wool of any quality will be received in exchange for Cloth,

CASSIMERES, SATINETS, Flannels, &c.

The Goods of this Establishment for the last two years, are well known at home and in market, and needs no other recommendation than a fair trial. Farmers and others wishing to make the most out of their wool, will find it to their advantage to call and exchange their wool for cloths. They may rest assured that they will be fairly dealt with, as no goods will be offered but those that will give satisfaction.

C. Roelofson has made arrangements which will enable him to pay

Part Cash

on Exchanges, or all CASH for WOOL when Price and Quality Suit.

On hand and ready for Exchanging, Grey Cloths, Mixed Satinets—VERY HEAVY—fine and medium Cassimeres, Red Flannel—yard wide—the different kinds also for sale.

THE CUSTOM

CARDING

will be carried on as usual.

C. ROELOFSON & Co.

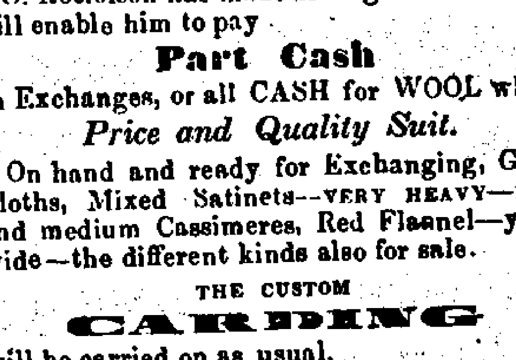
Keeseville, May 26th, 1852. 421tf

WOOL!! WOOL!!!

Cash Paid for Wool,

BY

Matthews & Ames,



At the Old Stand of

H. & H. MATTHEWS.

Every discription of Woolen and Cotton Goods given in exchange for Wool if wanted.

HAVING increased our stork of Goods by a second Spring purchase. We feel confident that we shall be able to supply all who may wish Goods or Groceries of any description, in part, or wholly, for their Fleece, Pulled or Tag Wool.

PIANO FORTE, AND MUSIC STORE.

No. 1, BANK BLOCK BURLINGTON, VT

THE Subscriber has opened a very extensive and choice selection of Musical Merchandise, consisting of every variety of Musical Instruments, such as

Piano Fortes, Seraphines, Melodeons,

Bass Viols, Violins, Guitars, Flutes,

Flagolets, Claronets, Cornopeans, Accordeons, and Brass Instruments of every description for Bands; also—

BASS VIOL AND VIOLIN STRINGS, TUNING FORKS, TUNING HAMMERS, &c.

The assortment of Sheet Music, consists of about Four Thousand Pieces of the latest and most popular Music of the day, additions to which will be made every week, from the extensive Importing and Publishing Houses in New York and Boston. Instruction Books on hand for every Instrument, and all new works received as soon as published.

CHURCH MUSIC BOOKS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

The attention of Purchasers is respectfully invited to the assortment of Piano Fortes, Seraphines and Melodeons, as they are from the best Manufacturers in the country, and every instrument sold by me will be warranted, unless otherwise stated to the purchaser.

All the above goods will be sold as low as can be purchased in New York or Boston, and the orders of teachers and those who buy to sell again, are respectfully solicited, and will be filled and sent to any part of the country, as may be directed. L. S. RUST.

June 5. 3m122

CASH,

AND THE

Highest Market Price

WILL BE PAID FOR WOOL, AT THE WOOLEN FACTORY, by
C. F. ROELOFSON & Co.

Keeseville, July 8th, 1852. 427tf

Miscellaneous.

New Goods! Nw Good!

—AT—

NICHOLS' CASH STORE,

150 Church street,

BURLINGTON, VERMONT,

HAVING just Purchased in New York and Boston, a large stock of Goods of all kinds we now offer them for sale, and those who are in want of goods in our line will save money by calling on us before purchasing. We are confident we have the largest stock of goods ever brought into Burlington at one time; we were induced to buy largely in consequence of the low prices of many kinds of goods, particularly dress goods of almost every kind.

We have a full stock of everything usually kept in a dry good store; Also West India goods and groceries, a very large stock of Teas and Sugars low by chest and cask. Also at cost to clear them off Paper Hangings, Crockery and glass Ware and looking glasses.

CARPETING, AT THE CARPET WARE HOUSE.

BURLINGTON, VT.

Received this day and now opening 50 pieces of all grades, the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three Ply, Superfine, fine and common Ingrain and Venetian, all Wool. Cotton and Cotton and Wool; Also, all the different qualities of Stair Carpeting, Straw Matting, Oil Cloth, Drugetts, Crumb Cloths, Hearth Rugs, Door Matts, &c., very cheap.

Burlington, Nov. '52. 446

CHINA, GLASS, & EARTHEN WARE.

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

(SUCCESSORS TO PEIRCE AND KING,)

IMPORTERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS,

235 River Street, Troy, New York.

Having our Stock very complete from importations, and otherwise, are prepared to offer a large assortment of all Goods in our Line, Wholesale or Retail, at the Lowest New York or Boston Prices for Cash or Approved Credit, among which will be found:

Fine White Ironstone and White Glazed Ware. Flown Blue, Flown Mulberry, Light Blue and common Wares, and the Acacia Ware, formerly kept by Mr A. Slason.

White, Gold Band and Decorated French China, in sets or separate prices.

Tea sets, of French and English China, white, Gilt, or decorated. India China in great variety

Toilet Sets, decorated or plain, full, double, or single sets.

Cut Glass Ware, in Decanters, Goblets Champaigns, Wines &c., of new and rich patterns. Glass cut to match any pattern.

Moulded and plain Glass Ware, of every description and style

Girandoles, Candelabras, Solar Lamps, and Chandeliers, in every variety, from the manufactory of Cornelius & Co. Philadelphia.

Solar Globes, cut and Plain. Solar and Campheue Wicks and Chimnies. Astral and Coat Wicks, Boat Globes, Astral Chimnies, &c., &c.

Hall Lanterns of cut, plain, and stained Glass.

Lanterns of every variety. Also a new and desirable style with patent catch, &c., for Railroads and Steamboats, and made to order with names or initials engraved on.

Tea Trays and Waiters, new styles and shapes, of our own importion, singly or in sets.

Looking Glasses, Britannia Ware, Table Mats &c., &c.

Also a splendid assortment of Fancy Goods, consisting of Vases, Colognes, Cardreceivers, Allumets, Decanters, Wine Bottles, &c., in China, Terra Cotta, Parian Marble, and Bohemian Ware.

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

235 River-Street, Opposite Troy House, Troy, N. Y.

ALFRED H. PEIRCE.
LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK. 446

New Clothing Store.

WE, the undersigned, have made arrangements with one of the best tailors in the country, to manufacture clothing for us of every description, consisting of overcoats, sacks, dress and frock coats, pants, vests, overalls and boys cloths, together with all kinds of under garments, which are made after the most improved styles, and for workmanship and durability cannot be excelled.

In addition we offer a large assortment of fine

Fashionable Clothing,

made by tailors in New York, that for fitting even Genio C. Scott, in his palmiest days was not a circumstance.

We would also inform the public that it is to be sold by wholesale or retail at very low figures for cash, and for quantity and cheapness is far in advance of any other concern in Northern New York. A comparison with the trade, both in prices and quantity is particularly requested.

In connection with the above we would call the attention of the community to our stock of

Fancy & Staple Dry Goods,

of every variety; also, hats, caps and furs, paper hangings, window shades, hardware and groceries, rifles and shot guns, amunition, &c., &c. Trunks, and valises, carpet bags, whips and lashes, stone ware, and every description of goods that are wanted or can be found in the country. Don't forget

No. 1000, Main Street,

Keeseville, opposite the Adirondac Hotel.

BOYNTON & SMITH.

January 20, 1853.

MATTHEWS & AMES,

(SUCCESSORS TO H. & H. MATTHEWS,)

DEALERS IN

Tin, Sheet Iron, Copper, Japan and BRITANNIA WARE,

together with a large and well selected assortment of

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

which they will sell by the piece or package, at a small advance from cost. Also, a general assortment of

YANKEE NOTIONS

And Fancy Articles,

suitable to the Pedlars Trade, which they will sell low for cash.

☞ All kinds of barter taken in exchange for Goods.

Keeseville, April 17, 1852. 415

New and Cheap Goods

E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Have just received from New York and Boston one of the best assortments of

FALL AND WINTER GOODS

ever exhibited in Keeseville.

Among their stock of DRY GOODS will be found a beautiful assortment of Wool, and Cotton, and wool d'Laines, and Cashmeres, both plain and printed, of all qualities, and prices from one shilling to one Dollar per yard. French Merinoes, Paramattas, Alpaccas, Lyonese Cloth, English and American Prints, Ginghams, Flannels of all kinds, a superior quality of Bay State Flannel of different colors, Wool Plaids, Tickings, Stripes &c. &c., Shawls—a large and splendid assortment of Bay State, Empire State, Waterloo, Scotch Plaid, and Printed WOOL SHAWLS, at prices much lower than ever before offered in this market. A beautiful assortment of Bonnet Silks and Velvets, with trimmings of all kinds. Also dress silks and Satins, Gloves, Hosiery &c.

READY MADE CLOTHING

Of all kinds, sold very cheap, also, Cloths, Broad Cloths Plain and fancy Cassimeres, Black Doe Skins, Satinets Silks and Worsted, Vestings, Serges, &c., &c., with many other articles too numerous to mention. 'Tis' unnecessary to add that all the above goods will be sold at very low prices. Only remember their motto 'quick sales and small profits.' Please call and examine Goods and prices, and satisfy yourselves. Opposite the Adirondac Hotel.

Keeseville Oct. 1822.

NEW STORE.

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

True Union store.

MR. NICHOLS of Burlington, Vt., has established a branch of his stock at Essex, nearly opposite the Steam Boat Landing in Fancher's Building adjoining the Hotel, where he has on hand nearly all kinds of Dry goods and Groceries, and intends keeping up a good assortment by constantly replenishing, and will sell as low as can be bought in Burlington for cash and ready pay, most kinds of Produce taken. Mr. N. flatters himself that with the facilities he has for purchasing goods both in Boston and New York, that he can compete with any store in Northern New York or Vermont. Please give us a call and see for themselves. "A penny saved is two pence earned."

WANTED 10,000 lbs. BUTTER.

N. Y., June 16, 1852.

BUTTER FOR SALE.

Large quantity of good dairy Butter bought in large and small packages of the finest quality for sale at BOYNTON & SMITH.

Keeseville Jan. 27, 1853.

Miscellany.

THE NORTHERN

New York Mutual

INSURANCE COMPANY,

Plattsburgh, Clinton Co., N. Y.

Capital, 100,000.

THIS Company is organised under the General Insurance Law of the State of New York, with a sound, reliable capital, and offers the following superior inducements:

1. The safer kinds of property are separated entirely from the more hazardous; affording the advantages of two distinct companies, with the expense of but one.

2. The first class, or Farmer's Department, consists of Farm-houses, Farm buildings and their contents and detatched dwellings and their contents in villages, when unexposed by more hazardous buildings.

3. The second class or Merchant's Department, consists of exposing dwellings, stores, merchandize and property not deemed specially hazardous.

4. Each class pays its own losses and the securing equal justice and proportional rate to both.

5. Not more than $3,000 of the first class, or more than $2.000 of the second class, will be taken in one risk, nor any number of risks so contiguous as probably to subject the Company to a loss of over $3,000 at any one fire; thereby saving it from heavy and ruinous losses.

6. In taking surveys of property, the agent will be the agent of the company, and the company be responsible for the correctness of all surveys made by its agents.

7. Any one insured, may at any time surrender his policy and withdraw from the company by paying his proportion of the losses and expense up to the date of such surrender.

8. Applications will take effect at noon of the day on which they are made (unless a different day is directed by the applicant,) thus relieving the party from anxiety and suspense.

9. The company no have two-thirds clause, but will pay all loss and damage not exceeding the amount insured.

10. In case of difference of opinion in settlement of losses, the company will submit the same to arbitration in the county where the loss occurs, the claimant choosing one, the company one, and the two arbitrators another.

11. Each person insured in the company becomes a member and will be entitled to a participation of the profits, if any surplus should accrue, not required for the payment of losses.

12. This company will be responsible for losses by fire caused by lightning.

13. This company will take no risks in cities.

☞ The Directors return their acknowledgments to the public for ther readiness in aiding the organization of this company, and will endeavor to make it a safe and reliable institution, affording protection from the ravages of fire, at reasonable rates, and with certainty of payment in case of loss.

DIRECTORS.

James Farr, Fort Ann, Washington co; Olif Abel, Whitehall, do; Walter Geer, Glen's Falls, Warren co; Pelatiah Richards, Warrensburgh, do; Wm. E. Calkins, Ticonderoga, Essex co.; John Horton, Columbia Vilage, St. Lawrence co.; Thomas H. Conkey, Canton, do.; Amasa C. Moore, Samuel F. Viles, Henry G. Hewitt, Jacob H. Holt, John Boynton, Peter S. Palmer, Cornelius Halsey, Z. C. Platt, W. W. Hartwell, Benjamine Gilman, George Moore, Plattsburgh, Clinton Co,

OFFICERS.

SAMUEL F. VILES, President;
WM. W. HARTWELL, Vice President;
ZEPHENIAH C. PLATT, Treasurer;
GEORGE MOORE, Secretary;
I. C. MIX, and
R. G. SWINBRN, General Agents.
JAMES B. DICKINSON, Agent Ausable Forks.

Plattsburgh, Dec. 4th, 1852. 44 tf

PROCLAMATION!

Know all men by these presents that I,

James A. Walker,

of Burlington, Vt., have just returned from the Boston and New York markets with the best selected assortmet of Ladies, Gents, Misses, Boys, Youths and Childrens ever offered north of the cities, and have removed from the store lately occupied by me in Bank Block, to two doors east, same block, (one door West of I. D. Bixby & Co.) where I shall offer them at my usual low prices; having a large share of my goods expressly for me at, the best manufactories in New England, I am enabled to sell a good article and WARRANT it, at a very low price. I have now on hand every variety of Boots and shoes, all of which I will sell at a very small advance on the original cost.

Boots and Shoes

No. 3, Bank Block,

☞ Opposite the Park,

465tf BURLINGTON, Vt.

RUTLAND & BURLINGTON Rail Road.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after Monday, Nov. 1st, trains will run as follows, viz:

FOR BOSTON, NEW YORK AND INTERMEDIATE PLACES.

LEAVE		8,15	A. M.,		4.15	P. M.
Burlington at		9.09	"		5,00	"
Vergennes		9,42	"		5,35	"
Middlebury		10,20	"		6.18
Brandon		11,00	"	AR.	7,00
Rutland				L.	6,30	A. M.
		11.25	"		6.55	"
Cuttingville		12.06	P. M.		7,35	"
Ludlow		12,15	"		7,42	"
Proctorsville		12,40	"		8,10	"
Chester
Arriving					8.45	"
Bellows Falls		1.15	"		1,00	P. M.
Boston		7,00	"
LEAVE
Boston		7 45	A. M.		12,00	M.
Bellows Falls		12'0	"		5 15	P. M.
Chester		12.40	P. M.		5,50	"
Proctorsville		1 07	"		6,17	"
Ludlow		1,15	"		6,25	"
Cuttingville		1 52	"		7,05	"
Rutland	AR.	2,15	"	AR.	7 30	"
	L.	3,00	"	L.	7.45	"
		3 38	"		8 25	"
Brandon		4,25	"		9,04	"
Middlebury		5,00	"		9,37	"
Vergennes
Arriving			"		10,20	"
Burlington		5.45

CONNECT AT BURLINGTON.

with the Steamers for PLATTSBURGH and MONTREAL and VERMONT and CANADA RAIL ROADS, for the East, North, and West, via CHAMPLAIN and ST. LAWRENCE, and the OGDENSBURGH RAIL ROADS. with the VERMONT and CENTRAL RAIL ROADS.

CONNECT AT RUTLAND

with the Trains of Western Vermont, Rutland and Washington and Saratoga and Washington Rail Roads, for New York, Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Buffalo and the West.

CONNECT AT BELLOWS FALLS

with the Trains of the Cheshire, Vermont Valley, and Sullivan Rail Roads for Windsor, Boston, Worcester, Lowell Springfield, Hartford, New Haven, and New York.

Fares are less when Tickets are purchased at the Offices than when paid in the Cars.

JOHN S. DUNLAP, Superintendent.

Burlington, Oct. 25, 1852. 445

CORLIES & DECKER,

(Successors to J. N. & E. W. Corlies,)

—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—

TEAS,

Agents for the Sale of

Manufactured Tobacco,

192 Pearl Street, New York.

Near Maiden Lane, 48

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Essex County Republican.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING BY JONATHAN TARBELL, Editor and Proprietor. TERMS, $2 Per Year---$1,50 in Advance.

VOLUME XIII. NO. 50. KEESEVILLE, N. Y., APRIL 30, 1853. WHOLE NUMBER 469

Poetry.

TO ANNIE H——.

BY SARAH M. HAYWOOD.

Annie, thy name I ever loved,
And now 'tis doubly dear;
We're roaming through our childhoods hours,
They will not linger here.

And can we ever part?
Oh! may it never be,
For in one corner of my heart;
A place I'll keep for thee.

The truest love words he'er express
But actions this may do.
The rose and tulip both may fade;
But ne'er my love for you.

Dear Annie, then remember,
My faithful friend to be;
And may you never—never,
Inconstant be to me.

Miscellaneous Articles.

DISCUSSION

Read before the Students' Lyceum, by MARY D. KEESE and MARY H. WALPOLE.

Can the tie which binds man to his native home ever be broken?

Mary D. Do you still continue to argue, Mary, the possibility, that a long absence from your home, your own, your sunny home, where you've whiled away so many bright hours, would tend, in the least, to weaken your affection for it, and that the memory of those days, alone, would not have sufficient power to act as a gentle reproof, a timely warning, recalling your hasty steps?

Mary H. Yes, it is my firm belief, as I told you before, that there is no feeling in the human mind, even that of attachment to home, so strong as not to be forgotten in the whirl of business, displaced by long years of absence and the cares of life. In learning new things, your thoughts are turned into a different channel, and the simplicity of your childhood's years is forgotten.

Mary D. Forgotten! ah, Mary, no, not even in daily and public intercourse with society, but some thoughts of it will recur, and oftener, as cares increase; reminding you that not now, as of yore, can you rest by the fond mother's side, who would so willingly bear all your griefs. Allow a moment's thought, and you must confess this. The tie which binds us to our childhood's home will resist every shock circumstances may offer. Oftentimes, we hear of the most reckless being, who has lost all hopes of a glorious home hereafter, reforming his ways, and all from some slight cause, may be a strain of music, a breath, a word lightly spoken, awakening in his heart remembrances of his first loved home, where were passed hours replete with every blessing, winning him back to his former self. And again, the one most heartless in the crowd will be touched at hearing scenes related similar to those which transpired in his youth.

Mary H. You love to deal in fanciful impossibilities. Your ideas of home are all very pleasurable, but consider, that every home is not so happy, bright with smiling faces, surrounded by every luxury that fancy can suggest. Would there be much joy connected with the remembrance of a home associated only with the idea of unsatisfied wants, fretful tempers, or a weary longing for an indefinite something, always beyond your reach? And again, supposing the only delight connected with that home has departed, in the person of a friend whom you dearly loved, breaking the last tie that remained to bind you there, would you then even wish to recall those days?

Mary D. Would not the death of a friend serve to strengthen that tie which is formed in our heart by nature, thus rendering that home even dearer than before, when our thoughts would revert to the memory of the loved one gone? Even if a home be filled with many petty annoyances, yet it is there our hearts will remain—there, where true friends surround us, that the soul will always turn in its deepest hours of gloom. But too often the effects of an unhappy home are seen in the constant interchange with dissolute companions, the last refuge in moments of despair—yet, even here, one gentle admonition given at the right moment, turns the mind to better days, causing the wanderer to retrace his wayward steps, and become the man that in youth his ambition led him to wish to be. To death alone is given the power of rendering our hearts wholly insensible to the remembrance of childhood's happier hours.

Mary H. Not many would be so susceptible to emotion as you might imagine, even if we allow that the golden chain of tender recollections were not long since broken. Take the case you supposed—what, think you, would one who had so long associated with dissolute companions, so long been a stranger to reflection, as to have lost all hope, or wish for happiness in a world to come—what, I repeat, would such a one care for home, and that home, as you allowed, not a happy one? Think again, and you must own, that one who never meets with opposing circumstances, such as to weaken youthful love for home, must be one of the fortunate ones of earth.

WHY IS IT?—Uncle Tom's Cabin, has had more readers than any other work, ever published by an American author.—"Truth is stranger than fiction."

We have just seen the lever, with which Archemides proposed to move the world.

Tempus fugit:—as the man said on his way to the gallows.

Timy, had'nt you better come in? No, I guess not.

AFFLICTION.

BY JOSHUA WHITNEY.

"Like a ball that bounds
According to the force with which 'twas thrown,
So in afflictions violence, he that's wise,
The more he's cast down, will the higher rise."

It is the inevitable lot of mankind to be subject to losses and crosses during their sojourn in this world. To different persons it comes in a different form; to this one in the loss of his property, to another in the wreck of all his plans of fame and worldly prosperity, while perhaps a third is compelled to bid adieu to friends and kindred. When we look back over the past, and when we contemplate the present; we see that this is true of all ages, ranks and conditions, the high and the low, the rich and the poor, the illiterate and the learned, the king on his throne, and the peasant in his hut, each and all have their troubles and afflictions.

To alleviate our afflictions, we ought to think how much worse we might be, than we really are. There are few persons in such a state of distress, that they cannot find some bright spot in the dark clouds of adversity; and in many instances, our afflictions are increased by continually lamenting our misfortunes. The story of the honest Dutchman, who, falling from the masthead of a vessel, broke his leg, said it was a great mercy it was not his neck, is a good illustration of what a man can do by looking at the bright side of misfortune, and if we always consider how much worse we might be than we really are, our troubles, which are always increased by complaining, would be lighter and easier to be borne.

But the chief source of consolation ought to be, that all our afflictions are known to God, and appointed by him.—All the troubles and trials which we are called to endure in this lower world, are sent by the Almighty for the best of purposes; it is to chasten, to purify us; to make us humble and contrite, and to fit us for another and a happier life. These afflictions, by showing us the instability and uncertainty of human pleasures, call our thoughts to that everlasting home to which we are all hastening. Were man to live all his days in a state of unalloyed bliss, were he never to experience the bitter pangs of affliction; he would soon forget that he is mortal, and that he is destined to pass from this to another state of existence; he would soon lose all thoughts of his Creator, and consider this world as his eternal home. But when the chastening rod of affliction is stretched out over our heads, when heart broken and bleeding at every pore, we behold all that is near and most dear to us called away, then we turn our thoughts on high to that blest realm where joy reigns triumphant and sorrow is never known.

OLD BACHELORS.

BY OLIVIA M. ALLEN.

That a race of OLD BACHELORS are a burden to society—are fit subjects for reproach, for satire, nay, for special taxation, I have never for a moment doubted. I do not mean your Old Bachelors who have neither talents nor attractions sufficiently powerful to engage the affections of a young lady. They are to be pitied. But I mean your superannuated beaux, venerable dandies, gentlemen of fashion in their grand climacteric; men having the means to marry without the inclination; men who remain single all their lives, from the vanity of supposing that they can obtain any lady by merely asking for her.

Man is a social being by nature. He was never intended to be isolated, floating through the world without the ties of affection, of association or of kindred. You boast of freedom—of the joys of your unrestrained liberty. The savage whose yell reverberates through the forest is equally as free. No soul feels an interest in you—no soul dares molest him. So far you are equal; but the savage marries—he roves through the woods with his wife by his side—he hunts the fleet deer because his wife partakes of his spoil and praises his dexterity—he teaches his boys to become warriors, and familiarizes them to the bow and arrow and the pointed javelin. The savage has social relations even in his moments of brutal intoxication. He is therefore your superior. If you have no wife to control or direct your movements, you have no friend who feels an interest in your welfare, health and happiness—who sighs for your griefs, who rejoices in your prosperity; who watches your pillow in the hour of sickness; who administers with her own hand the medicine for your health; who binds your brows and soothes your agitations with the kiss of affection. Why then rail at matrimony? Methinks I hear you answer, for fear of moral suasion.—But in case you reel home in a state of brutal intoxication to meet a wife who has anxiously watched for your footsteps sounding upon the pavement, expecting your smile of approbation, but finds all her hopes dashed to the ground, by meeting you at the door in a situation which places you lower than the brute; could you blame her for having recourse to this, the only weapon within her power to save herself or reclaim you from the error of your ways? Certainly not. Then why should she not use it? If, on the other hand, you return from the routine of business as becomes an intellectual being, all will be sunshine; and, believe me, instead of roaming through the world as you now do, a solitary one, unloving and unloved, your life would be a perfect paradise, replete with every joy of earth, and the oft repeated language of your heart would be:

"Domestic happiness thou only bliss
Of Paradise that has survived the fall!"

NATURE'S TEACHINGS.

"Why should not trees be always green
And flowers forever blow?"
That from their changings may be seen
The change of all below.
And day by day, through hours and years,
They challenge us to learn,—
Sometimes a soothing for our tears
Sometimes a lesson stern."

Thus in autumn, withering nature speaks in tones of solemn admonition. Why does man delight to look upon the widely variegated hue of the fading beauty of summer, and why with all the pleasure is there mingled a sadness, for which nothing earthly can account? Amid such scenes as these his mind turns from the tableau of nature, to natures God; he feels that—

"Coming events cast their shadows before," that this is but a precursor of what is to follow; of that drear season when all nature shall stand desolate and naked, and as his thoughts thus roam from the scenes around him, the idea is forced upon his mind that he too must die: that, like everything around him, he is hastening to the "end of all things earthly;" that, like the foliage of the forest, he too will at last grow scared, and sink to his grave. "As, of the green leaves on the thick tree some fall and some grow, so is the generation of flesh and blood; one cometh to an end and another is born."

And when spring returns and all creation is revived; when all nature again puts on her garb of joy, then she silently pours the balm of hope into his repining heart, and points upward with a prophetic hand, from herself to her God and to ours.

Thus through the unceasing changes of the rolling years of time, all things tell of the great Creator supreme over all. Autumn awakens in the heart of man the feeling of humble resignation—spring that of joyous hope. Deprived of these silent yet ever speaking monitors, mortals would soon forget their mortality. If —— "Trees be always green,

And flowers forever blow,"

man would soon begin to think that this was his only dwelling place.

But the falling leaves ever remind him of the mutability of "all things earthly;" in them he sees but a reflection of himself, and he knows that like the decaying foliage, he too must soon be laid low; "that he shall be as an oak whose leaf fadeth, and as a garden that hath no water. And the strong shall be as tow, and the maker of it as a spark, and they shall both burn together." If there were no winter, the return of spring would not, as now, speak to man of a brighter sphere beyond the grave; would not tell him that as the leaves fall in autumn and are again renewed in spring, so when he sinks into the tomb, although it may seem that he has perished forever, yet he, like them, shall live again.

"Tho storms of wintry time will quickly pass,
And one unbounded spring encircle all."

Thus every thing speaks of God and eternity, but how many there are who heed not these things; to whom the change from winter to spring, from spring, to summer, from summer to autumn and from autumn to winter again have no charm; to whom they teach no moral, who tread this earth with no thought either of its beauties, or of their author.

ALLEN P. BISSEL.

WRITTEN FOR THE MELODEON.

BY EMILY C. ADAMS.

"Innocence left desolate, exhales to heaven."

It was spring time in the valley of Uldrig. The air was calm and clear, and the larks sung their matin songs on the green branches of the young birch trees. The fields were green and the cattle were feeding upon the hill-side, but the plowshare was untouched and the ground unfurrowed. All was silent around the abodes of men. No sound was heard through the valley save the gurgling of the stream and the lowing of the kine. In a moss-roofed cottage on the borders of the stream knelt a youthful peasant. His brow was care worn and his eyes had grown dim by watching. His hand was clasped in that of a fair young creature struggling in the last agonies of death.—'Brother,' she faintly breathed, "my heart yearns towards you, and I would fain stay with you longer; for when I go, you will be all alone: but, brother, my heavenly Father's will, I must obey. Farewell, brother, forget not Alice, yet when she has left you, go forth into the world and live for others, but remember the valley, and let not your courage fail." With the glimmer of a smile on her countenance, the young girl died. Then did Edgar feel that he was alone; his parents both dead, and the dear sister of his childhood gone. He looked around, but all was lonely, desolate. He gazed upon those scenes familiar to him from childhood, his thoughts reverted to the happy hours of the past, and he wept as he felt they were forever fled. The heart of the peasant youth well nigh failed him, as he traversed valley after valley, yet no congenial spirits crossed his pathway. There was none with whom he could exchange words of friendship, and echo only answered to his call. A feeling of desolation and icy despair seized upon him, and after a brief, unsuccessful search for other hearts to supply the place of those who had gone before him to their rest, he also sickened and died, and with him, the last remnant of his once noble family became extinct.

FORTUNE.

BY CALEB T. SOUTHWICK.

Fortune's charm hath power to cheer,
And lead men on in their career.

The history of the world is one great drama, and doings of various ages are different scenes in the same play. Every age is distinguished for some important step or discovery, which has greatly influenced all subsequent advancements of the human race. And it is remarkable how fortune (or rather providence) has dealt them out as with foreseeing eye through the different dates of time.

Fortune smiled on this republic, and on its brave supporters during the dark shades of the revolution; and her smiles wrought new fires in the breasts of those patriots, which urged them on with redoubled vigor in their noble cause of justice.

And she has since continued with her bright and cheering face towards us urging us on by success through danger and doubt, as though proving to the world that the people needed neither monarch nor conquors to aid them in their own civil government, that they are competent of themselves and need no assistance from others; that among the people of every state or nation there are sufficient, to represent, at their common conventions, all the desires of the people for whom they would act; and thus dispensing with the long continued practice of confining the whole government in the hands of a few heredetary nobles, who ruled as with a rod of iron their more unfortunate subjects.

But fortune has in a great measure wrested from such hands the destinies of the people, and placed them with the rightful rulers. And thus does fortune, like a true servant of humanity, urge on what is good and just by success, and retard and suppress in the same ratio, whatever is wicked and injurious. There may at first appear to be exceptions to this rule, but if we but bear in mind that fortune follows all through eternity; that in as much as through forbearance and mercy it hinders not the progress of some wicked and malicious ones here, yet at the bar of God it there waits to follow up its victims with ten fold chastisements; and posterity forever looks back upon their lives and deeds with all that disgust and loathsomeness which human nature is master of. And if on the other hand, the righteous and deserving are cast aside in the dark hours of adversity, think not that because they are afflicted even in the last years of this life, that fortune hath forever frowned upon them; far be it therefrom; a just God looks down and weeps for the sins of those around them, posterity has their life with all its afflictions, sympathizes in their bereavements, and mourns their unfortunate end on earth; and a just God waits them at the threshold of eternity, and becomes their inheritance forever.

BY MARY D. KEESE.

Oh, that men should put an enemy in
Their mouths, to steal away their brains.
Shakspeare.

He was in youth, the jewel of a household, a noble fellow, a soul overflowing with generosity, though at times wild and reckless. This disposition occasioned his parents hours of sadness, as it forboded evil to the darling of their hearts. Many, many prayers were wafted to Heaven for the final reception of their only child. Nature had lavished upon him her choicest gifts of person, intellect, and heart.

Such as he was, so pure, so noble, my friend Emma loved him, with all the strength of her ardent nature. The rich blossoms of her fertile intellect were all cultivated, and brought forth in beauty, to adorn "the garden of the heart" which she gave, whole, warm, and throbbing to him: Her every hope and wish, and all her bright girlish dreams were offered up on the altar of her love, and there burned to Heaven. Several years passed happily, both half-acknowledging their dreams fully realized—Occasionally he would tarry long away, and when, upon his return, she would question him, he would rather evade a direct reply, but, playfully tell her she grew dearer, and that it seemed he never loved her so well as now, and to convince her of this he had only to cast upon her, one glance from those deep blue eyes, so full of love and truth.

But think not this silenced the fears which were awakened; true, she knew he loved her well, but of one thing she was conscious, he could not fathom the depth of love she bore to him, and still there lingered a doubt, a fear for his safety. She had heard of his former taste for drinking, and she feared when once aroused it would terminate in his complete ruin, she knew his impetuosity, and that there were those who cared not if through their blighting influence, one soul less entered the "Portals of Heaven."

In vain she strove, and implored divine assistance to aid her in restoring her husband from what she saw, so plainly, would be the inevitable result. It was impossible: too long had he been accustomed to take "only one glass" till it had become a portion of his life, a habit too firmly rooted.

The sufferings of Emma daily increased, she was not born thus to brook abandonment, and the scorn she received, her nature could not long endure. In a few months she died, her last words murmured in his ear, breathed of forgivness, and a home that might be his. He mourned her loss deeply as his feeling nature, when the mantle of its debasement was thrown off, was capable of doing. At times remorse stung him to the quick, and in his agony, he called himself the murderer of his wife, Emma, she who lived alone for him; and to drown his torturing thought, he plunged still deeper in his former vice.

Yet think you, this man's sufferings were more intense, or even to be compared to the agony, Emma knew, when for the first she dreamed her idol fallen? No! her heart, so sensitive in nature, was too keenly alive to every impress of joy, or pain, and when it became all pain, the weight was too heavy and she sank under it.

ABSENCE THE TEST OF FRIENSHIP.

BY HARRIET A. TREADWAY.

How little do we realize the value of true friends, until affection's bonds are broken, and they pass away! Never, never, until the friendly tie is severed, and the cord loosened for the separation of congenial hearts, can we know its strength. Then the moistened eye and quivering lip bid defiance to speech, and hand clasps hand in silence, while the long, warm grasp conveys deep feelings of the heart, which the tongue has no language to express. Deep, unfathomable thoughts! who can read them? Who can decipher from that pallid brow and steadfast gaze the workings of the heart that is bidding adieu, for a time, perhaps forever, to a long tried friend? one, it may be, who has from earliest infancy, been the guide, the director, and stay of childhood's sunny hours, and in later years, an associate, counselor and friend, and that one a mother? None can read them save He who formed those sacred ties, and he who takes the parting hand and sighs "farewell." Time passes: the mother meets no more, as she was wont, her dear, her only son. But though no more his once familiar features greet the eye of sense, the memory of the absent one, fond object of her midnight vigils, and noonday prayers, is ever present to her mind, deluding her with dreams of his return, never to be more than dreams! But at length the thought occurs, that doubtless her darling son has gone to his long and happy home, there to bless and love, forever, the fostering hand that reared him for the skies.

Oh God! my son was once my all,
The feeble mourner cried;
I wished him to obey thy call,
If he would not have died.

Absence is death, and tests the love,
For him whom I lament;
But now he rests with thee above,
I can but be content.

A DREAM.

BY ANNIE E. TAYLOR.

It was midnight; not a sound was heard save the dashing of the waves against the ship of which I was an inmate.

The night was indeed beautiful; I sat, gazing on the starry heavens and admiring the works of nature, thinking myself one of the happiest of the merry band that thronged the packet; when the sudden cry of fire aroused me from my plesant revery; the packet was fast filling with suffocating smoke, and bright columns of fire were shooting up in every direction over the doomed ship. The flames knew no control, and were fast creeping over the masts and rigging: at length the whole was one grand mass of glowing flames.

The sudden cry had shocked even the bravest heart of that gallant crew, and the mingled cries of women and children rendered the scene truly heart rending. The last boat was ready and all were embarked, save the Captain who stood alone, surrounded by flames and falling timbers, on that burning deck. His wife was in one of the boats, entreating him, as they pushed off, to come.

The next moment he sprang from the side of the sinking vessel, and was contending with the angry waves. The heavy laden boats moved slowly towards a neighboring island, and the Captain encouraged by his companions slowly and more slowly struggled after it.

The last boat had reached the shore, and as the Captain came up to the base of the rock, his wife, who had already landed, caught his powerless arm and drew his nearly lifeless body from the water.

As the shout of joy pealed forth upon the night air, I awoke, and instead of finding myself, as I had fancied, a cast away upon a lonely island, I found that in trying to collect my scattered thoughts for a composition I had fallen asleep.

ELOCUTION.

BY SIDMON T. KEESE.

Elocution is the art of speaking, an art without which the great men of the world would never have had as much influence as they did have. A great many boys excuse themselves from learning to speak, by saying they have a weak voice, or an impediment in their speech, or that they are timid. But let them read the history of Demosthenes, the greatest orator that ever lived; they will then know that he had all these. But he used to speak near a rapid stream of water, in order to accustom himself to the confused murmur of an assembly, and to declaim with pebbles in his mouth, to overcome the defect in his speech.

When Daniel Webster was twelve years of age, he was called upon to deliver his first speech; he had it all prepared, but when the preceptor called his name he could not summon courage to go on to the stage, and was sent to his room in disgrace.—Look at that, timid boys, and take courage! But we do not contend that a man cannot exert an influence unless he be an orator; but he must be almost perfect to gain such power over men as Daniel Webster, Benjamin Franklin, Henry Clay, or Calhoun George Washington, though not fluent in speech, was the most perfect man that ever lived; he carried out the war of independance so successfully, that he cannot but have a place in the heart of every American. In view of all this I think that every boy should learn to elocute!

HEXAMETER VARSE.

BY OUR "ZIP."

Our canis Tig a chipmuck spied,
And drove him in arborem;
Homines frequentes came,
Et genus puerorum.

Nuno centum circum fatal tree.
In manibus their fustes hold;
Et lapides, one, two, or three,
O chipy! how your blood runs cold!

The canes illum allatrant,
Intenti they to eat him;
Is vult himself to hide, but can't,
Nam multa saxa greet him.

Nam miser chip begins to see
Pericula he runs;
Et quaerit 'bout him for a tree,
But sees a shower of stones.

Ad terram casts a longing look,
The canes how he timet;
Et pueri around the root,
Parati sunt to climb it.

Ho summons omnes animos,
And from the tree desilit;
But when he bears the pueros,
The terram, e'en difficult.

Nunc currit over hill and dale,
Et turba great pursue,
Currere—shame; manere—death;
O chip! 'tis hard for you.

But vide! capit woody grove,
And he now thinks he's safe;
For homines have lost the track,
And dogs can't find it—chafe.

Demissi vultus* homines.
Short gressibus and slow;
Relinquunt chipy safely hide,
Et domum quiet go.

Consoling sic their casus bad,
"We'd had him by the tail,
Had not the hostes—coward—
For safety took leg bail."

* Accusative by Schenectady.

AUSABLE RIVER.

BY LOUIS N. BOUDRYE.

There is something of more than ordinary beauty and grandeur in the contemplation of a water fall; the roaring of the waters, with the scene which they present, affords many a pleasing meditation to the lover of the beauties of nature.

Many have listened to the thundering roar of the mighty Niagara, the mother of cataracts, and parent of grandeur, with souls filled with awe, which perhaps, no pen could delineate, no words express: but those great waters, my eye has never beheld. Many have stood, also, with all absorbed spirits, and watched the beautiful Montmorency, at which place her waters are precipitated down a yawning abyss below: but on her banks my foot has never trod.

Again, the picturesque Catskill, with her sister falls, offer to view one of the grandest scenes which the eye of man has ever beheld, or his imagination conceived: there neither, has my vision feasted. But there is one among the many cataracts which have been placed here, to impress upon the mind of man, the grandeur, wisdom and power of his Creator,—to whose roarings my ear has listened with attentive silence, and whose dark yet clear waters have afforded many a pleasing hour of meditation.

And at the solemn hour of night, when the mind was wearied by the many toils and perplexities of the bustling day, the fairy music and voice of these waters, revived my spirit, and sent a balmy comforter to my imagination. And, when at morn, the golden beams of the sun, tinged the rising spray with a thousand variegated hues, my mind was led to believe that in that cloud of beauty, angels folded their wings, and came to bathe in the ocean of delight and love. Oh, grandeur and beauty, inconceivable!

Oft-times I've listened to thy roar,
O mighty stream!
Oft times in solitude alone,
As if in dream!

Standing alone upon thy beach,
Thy voice I've heard;
And many lessons thou didst teach,
Though not in word.

And when I gazed upon thy charms,
Awe struck was I!
And e'er dispelled by thy sweet chimes
My revelry.

Roll on, Ausable, speed thy way
To ocean's waste;
And like to thee, I, e'en to day,
To my home haste.

A FISH STORY.

BY ANNIE E. HURLBURT.

Once upon a time a company of sailors started out upon a whaling voyage. They had been out about ten weeks, before they came across any whales. One day they spied an island in the distance, where they concluded to land. They did so, built a fire upon the shore and were preparing their meal, when the supposed island began to move, and soon to sink. On close examination it was found to be an enormous turtle. They made the best of their way back to the ship, while the turtle, fire, and meal went down and down.

Aristippus being asked what advantage an educated person possessed, over one that was uneducated, replied: "The same that a well trained horse has over a wild one."

Antisthenes being asked what was the most important part of education, said: "To forget what is bad."

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

The Republican.

KEESEVILLE:

Saturday Morning April 30.

"The Union of Lakes, the Union of Lands,
The Union of States none can sever,
The Union of Hearts, the Union of Hands,
The Flag of Our UNION—Forever."

The Canals.

Senators Cooley and Vanderbilt, democratic Senators, ask the democratic administration to redeem their pledge to complete the canals, made by them previous to the last election, on which they were elected. A bill for that purpose passed the Senate, and was sent to the House, where Loomis & Co's. tax and stay bill was pending, whereupon the Atlas says:

"The mock auctioneer and his Peter Funk in the Senate (Cooley and Vanderbilt) have got up a pinchback scheme which they swear is better than the gold of the constitution. But Mr. Loomis' plan is not in the way of these stuffers, nor prevents them putting off their brazen wares on any one who may be deluded into accepting it."

Again, the same paper says:

"The Disgrace of the Senate.—The debate in the Senate yesterday, in which Mr. Pierce led off in a masterly defence of the Constitution, against the corrupt combinations which assail it, was characterized by one of those indecent interruptions of which Mr. Cooley is the frequent author.

"This foulness is not unexpected. It is natural that one who has abandoned legitimate ties of party, to be clasped in infectious embraces, should give utterance to such vilely tainted breath."

RATHER SUSPICIOUS.—At an unusual hour on Wednesday while enjoying a social tete a tete with all the freedom of home, we (self and better half) were startled by a strong pull at the bell-handle. Hastening to the door, expecting to usher in a distant friend, judge of our surprise to find on the steps a box carefully addressed to us, charges paid, and the stage hurrying rapidly away with "narv a word" from the driver, though we saw by a broad grin on his face, that something was "in the wind." What did it mean? Was it an "infernal machine?" What was it? What could it be? Summoning all our resolution we rushed it into the house, and in spite of doubts and fears, tho' with proper caution, soon exposed the contents to the delighted gaze of our household, in the shape of half a bushel of large, beautiful spitzenburgh apples, as perfect as the day they were gathered. Our mouth waters as we write, and the modesty of our unknown friend in withholding all clue to his or her discovery, only saves the author from being covered all over with glory. We would not willingly charge any one wrongfully, but circumstances lead us strongly to suspect our friend Miner of the Valcour House at Port Kent. If wrong, we will make the amend honorable, but this we will say, that he is just the man to do a thing of the kind, any way. "May his shadow never be less."

Lady's Book for May,—We have the pleasure to acknowledge the receipt of this number, and to note its contents, numbering 70 contributors, and 40 engravings,—"Attacking a Crowned Head, or the May Queen in Danger," and "The Dog-ged Artist" are pleasing plates. Also the "Embroidered Note case," "Net for the hair," "Knitting bag," "Patterns for "Embroidery and Brading" "Breakfast Sacque" &c., for the ladies. Godey has also at the request of the ladies, returned to colored fashion plates, and says he has increased his list 10,000, in consequence.

Graham's Magazine for May.—Graham is rich in literature and art. Of its table of contents we may note, "Rustic Courtship" a full page Engraving "May Lyrics," "The Pilgrims of the Great St. Bernard," "American Game," "The graves of Shelly and Keats," "Edmund Burke" all illustrated. "Mormonism and the mormons." "The discovery of America." "Notes on the Rhone" &c. are a few of its leading articles.

The Student's Offering.—This is the title of an Annual, just issued by the Students of the Keeseville Academy. We quote from it liberally, believing we cannot give our readers any thing more satisfactory. The "Offering" speaks for itself, as all can testify who have the pleasure to receive a copy. Besides those credited, our first page is made up entire from the "Offering."

THAT RUMORED DISSOLUTION OF THE CABINET—That news so "painful to every democratic heart," and which was to be "satisfactorily explained" is now denied on the following grounds: 1. There was no difficulty. 2. It has been amicably settled. 3. It was a whig lie, designed to deceive the faithful.

"RENSELAER IRON WORKS."—We learn from the Troy Whig that these works are again to go into operation under the charge of the former manager, P. A. Burden Esqr. with a capital of $100,000. Particular attention is to be paid to the manufacture of Rail Road Iron China.—A serious, and thus far successful rebellion is in progress in this Empire. The last accounts indicate the overthrow of the present dynasty. We will endeavor to publish some accounts of it next week.

From the Students' Offering.

THE STUDENTS' OFFERING.

As the Printer of this sheet, a small space has been kindly assigned to us to occupy with a few thoughts. In acknowledgment of this highly complimentary favor, we submit the following, as the best requital we can offer for this honorable distinction:

As to the contents of this "Offering," we know them to be what they appear, entirely original, and the exclusive productions of the students of Keeseville Academy. Nor are these all—they have on hand numerous other articles of genuine merit, which we regret are unavoidably crowded out for the want of space.

In point of talent, its readers will agree with us, that the "Offering" will not suffer by a comparison with any other paper in the country, and in its mechanical execution we take no little pride, believeing it will please the eye of every man of taste.

There is one feature in the contents of this paper, which deserves particular notice. We allude to the representation of the business of Keeseville, through the business cards on the third page to which we call attention. For the "material" aid" which these gentlemen rendered the students, they request us to return their most humble thanks, and to wish them one and all, years of happiness and prosperity.

As a whole, we submit that the "Offering" is creditable alike to all concerned, the Students, the Academy, the Printer and the business and business men of Keeseville.

Of the Academy, we beg leave to add a few words. From the Catalogue published at this office, we learn that the number of students enrolled from Sept. 1, 1852, to Jany. 1, 1853, were as follows: Gentlemen 117, Ladies 89, Total 206.—Their character, talent industry and success may be inferred from their paper.—The government of the school is parental, and the course of study embraces all the departments taught in similar institutions common and higher English branches French, Spanish, German, Latin, Greek, Music, Painting, Drawing, &c., &c. In the department of Music, efforts are being made to secure the permanent services of a Professor.

Several young gentlemen are qualifying for college and will soon be prepared to enter.

The "teachers department" is also worthy of especial notice, of which see an advertisement in another place.

In drawing these remarks to a close, we cannot do better than quote from the Catalogue already referred to:

"As a school it ranks among the Higher Institutions of the State, its design being to fit young men for the business of life, the professions or college, and young ladies for teaching, for the higher classes of female seminaries, and finally all for a higher standing in society.

"Development of mental strength is the first aim of the Instructors, while those things which polish and refine are not lost sight of.

"The situation of the building, on an elevation to the North of the village, is exceedingly favorable for study, while the open commons in front, afford abundant space for exercise and amusement. The building itself is of brick, built in the most substantial manner, well arranged, supplied with a good library and philosophical apparatus, and is intended to accommodate 150 to 200 students. The place affords the very best society, and the moral tendencies of the people are well illustrated by three beautiful and spacious chapels for public worship, which have been erected during the past year, and the thorough repairs of a fourth. It need only be added here, that the Trustees confident of the advantages the school enjoys, do cheerfully invite the investigation of all who are interested in promoting the cause of thorough academic education, not only at their public examinations, but on all occasions, that they may judge for themselves of the merits of the Institution, and the justness of its claim to public patronage."

To these commendations we can only add, that Keeseville is a place of business, and every association of students and others is connected with habits of industry. No one can long remain here an idler or a drone.

Finally, we but repeat the common sentiment of our people when we cordially commend—Keeseville Academy.

JONA: TARBELL,
Editor Essex County Republican.

CONSISTENCY.—One of the articles of impeachment of Canal Commissioner Mather is for,

"Refusing to dismiss Superintendent Waterman, as required by law upon notification of the condition of his accounts."

And yet the State Officers who now prefer these charges have since re-appointed this same Superintendent Waterman!

News by "telegram."—The Gazette receives such—no other paper has the honor. In the Republican it would be "bad spelling," but in the Gazette—why its—no matter—we leave such things to these Editors who lack brains to dwell upon anything more important.

From The Students Offering.

ACADEMY LECTURES.

BY FLAVIUS J. COOK.

Variety of more than usual interest has been given to the present term of our Academy by the introduction of a new feature in the regular routine of school duties; which, while it has aroused a deep interest, has at the same time been the means of much valuable instruction. This feature has consisted in the alternate delivery of daily lectures—by Mr. Thayer on the Science of Government, and by Mr. Dann on the more interesting and uncommon points in Natural Philosophy. Speaking as a daily observer, we feel free to give our opinion of these lectures, and to speak particularly of their general character and effect.

Commencing with the broadest basis of Human Government---the subjection of man to Natural and Divine Law, joined with his observance of Human Legislation, we have been led surely and safely on in the pleasant path of acquisition, to view one by one the various forms of government among men, until at last we have been brought as the major object, to view with a profit known only to those who know the value of such instruction, the particular laws and governmental institutions of our own State. To a mixed and dissimilar audience, the simple statement of legal facts like these, admitting neither the pomposity of eloquence or rhetorical display, can seldom be rendered generally interesting, but so have the plain and luminous statements of our teacher, been clothed by copious illustration, and practical application, that an inestimable charm has been thrown around his discourses, so that great as our improvement has been, we can truly say, that in nowise has our interest been less.

So also in the lectures on Natural Philosophy, the path taken has been equally methodical and interesting. Beginning with the broadest view of matter in the abstract—the consideration of the Atomic—Dynamic—Ideal—and other theories, we have passed severally through the three great divisions of air, earth, and water, considering the most striking and curious phenomena of each. We note in Meteorology the explanation of the rainbow—solar and lunar haloes—shooting-stars—winds—mirage—and the thunder storm—and in the phenomena of the ocean, the explanation of its tides, currents—and the gulf-stream—as the most interesting.—Each lecture has been copiously illustrated by appropriate diagrams, and so has the usual interest of the subject been embellished by the tact, style, and knowledge of the lecturer, that we have felt that the period of half an hour to which these discourses have necessarily been limited, has been far too short to correspond with the interest taken or the instruction gained.

Our prescribed limits preclude further comment—and we close by saying that while we have been led to contemplate the laws and regulations of man, we have not failed to have had strengthened and increased within us, a love of Justice and of Liberty, and a reverential regard for the higher law of Heaven; and while roaming on through Nature's noblest works, and sublimest wonders, we have been constantly directed to mark the wisdom, and goodness of its omnipotent Ruler, and taught

"How then should we, rejoicing in our God,
Delight in his perfections, shadowed forth,
In every little flower and blade of grass,
Each opening bud, and care-perfected seed,
And through the wide universe of Nature all,
As in a page, where we may read of God."

Thus in more ways than one have these discourses resulted in improvement, in that while they have contributed to augment our mental stores, they have conduced to the elevation of our moral being.

More "chimes" of the Democracy.

The Malone Jeffersonian, hunker, says:

The legislature took a recess till the 25th of May, then to re-assemble, and inflict further disgrace, and impose additional expense upon the State.—[Jeffersonian.

The same paper thus describes the newly appointed collector of this district:

Henry B. Smith—a Cass-Marcy-Dickinson-Dix-Hunker-free soil soft shell-conservative progressive-old fogy-young America free trade-protective tariff-canal-debt and taxation-anti-debt and taxation-internal improvement-state rights-consolidation-latitudinarian- Argus- Atlas- democrat-has been appointed collector of this district.

THE WAR OF THE SHELLS.—The war between the "Hards" and the "Softs," at Albany, (in the columns of the Argus and the Atlas,) has its humors as well as its harsher features. The Argus (Hard Shell) mourns the removal of a Hunker Clerk in the Comptroller's Office, and before its tears are well dry the soft shelled Atlas rejoins cruelly in this wise:

Melancholy Execution.

The Argus bursts forth in tears over the fall of the lad Mott, a clerk in the Comptroller's office, whose term of office under the "garrotte," not because he had the backwardness of a crab, but because he lacked the softness of its shell. The pious print this morning erects a column to the memory of the young man, with the inscription—begining as usual,

"HEAR LIES,"
&c., &c.,
&c.

☞The Albany Register learns that a Passenger Depot is to be erected in that city, costing $200,000. The Register expects to see an extensive locomotive factory established in that city, as among the fruits of consolidation.

Santa Anna.

The position now occupied by this veteran warrior and politician, as President of Mexico, makes all that relates to his history and character of peculiar interest.—In person, Santa Anna is tall—of a pale complexion, with black eyes and black curling hair, exceedingly graceful in manners, polite and fluent in conversation. None, it is said, can resist the fascination of his flowing and insinuating words. Though always artful & cunning, his manners seem but the perfection of ease and nature.

Santa Anna entered public life as early as 1821. At the head of the rebels against Iturbide, he seized upon Vera Cruz. Upon the dethronement of Iturbide, Santa Anna became great under the Republic.—Soon after he was instrumental in its destruction. In 1829 he was driven into exile. In 1832 he was recalled and elected President of Mexico. Soon after he passed the Rio Grande with 10,000 men to reduce Texas which had revolted, to subjection. Made prisoner by Gen. Houston, he was released on the promise that he would acknowledge the independence of Texas.—He soon broke his promise. In 1841, during another revolution, he was chosen President. In 1845 he was again exiled, and fled to Havana. In 1843 he was recalled. Soon followed the Mexican war. When victory declared in favor of the United States, Santa Anna of course fled.—Revolution after revolution has followed in quick succession in Mexico. Cool, wise and prudent, Santa Anna always bides his time; he never fails to make something out of anarchy and confusion. He is now again recalled, and placed with unexampled unanimity, at the head of the government.

It is now rumored that he now contemplates a total change of policy. Some attribute to him a design to throw his country back under the dominion of the mother country, Spain; others assert that he meditates a coup d'etat similar to that of Louis Napoleon, and that he will yet figure as Emperor of Mexico. Any thing would be better for that country than the anarchy of her republican period.—[Burlington Free Press.

For the Republican.

MR. EDITOR:—

I am at a loss to comprehend the "whys and wherefores" of Col. Barton's, insinuations in his card in relation to the Hooks and Ladders subscribed for by our citizens some time since. The truth is simply this: after the above mentioned articles were purchased, no house could be obtained where they could be placed, convenient, as well as accessory, in case of fire—and the "Monopoly" he refers to, kindly consented to have them cared for; and they are now, where they have been since, at the Cooper Shop, of the Messrs. Kingsland's. Allow me to say that if Col. Barton, had given something towards building a proper house—after refusing to append his name on the "Hook and Ladder" subscription. the articles might have been within reach.

"ANTI-MONOPOLY."

MR. EDITOR:—

Sir,—Mr. Barton and the public are informed that the Hooks and Ladders, purchased by a few individuals in this village about two years since, were deposited in a large building occupied as a Cooper Shop below the dwelling house of Mrs. Goulding.

Will Mr. Barton, please inform the public what amount he paid towards the purchase of said hooks and ladders? "the public have a right to know." His name cannot be found on the subscription list.

Will Mr. Barton, also inform the public where his house that was burnt in Keeseville was situated.

A CITIZEN.

The following are said to be the charges against Mr. Canal Commissioner Mather:—

1st, Paying money to McCaughin, a contractor, under a void resolution of the Canal Board.

2d. Not dismissing Superintendents Waterman and Barrett when notified by the Auditor that their accounts were unsatisfactory.

3d. Excess of expenditures on the West Troy Dock.

4th. Expenditures on the excavations from the Hudson River, not being a part of the Canal.

5th. Illegal expenditure in excavating the Albany Basin, which was finally arrested by the Canal Board.

6th. Neglect to visit Section Three of the Canal.

7th. Neglect to visit Section Four of the Canal.

8th. Neglect to visit Section Five of the Canal.

9th. Non-appearance in behalf of the State in Appraisal cases.

10th. Participation in the Fraudulent Lettings of 1851.

Scene in the State Senate.

Mr. Babcock, from the select committee to revise the rules, reported the following amendment to the 9th Senate rule:—

Every member when he speaks, shall address the Chair standing in his place.—No member shall speak more than fifteen minutes, in any one day, upon the same subjects or proposition, nor shall any member speak more than twice in any such debate, (and the second time only five minutes) Amendments to a bill or proposition or motions in relation to the same, shall not be considered new subjects or propositions, so as to give a member any additional right to speak, but members may make brief explanations of amendments or motions, not to exceed, in any case five minutes.

Mr. Van Schoonhoven: On any one explanation? [Laughter.]

Mr. Cooley moved to amend so that when a member rose to address the Chair, he should stand with his right foot forward, [laughter,] have a ring in his nose, [renewed laughter,] sleep with his boots on, and be arrested in the morning. [Excessive laughter.]

The President on the Stage.—A play called "General Frank Pierce, or the Hero of the 9th Regiment," is having a great run at the New Bedford Theatre.

We should think it likely that this 'play would have not only a 'great run," but, if it "vindicates the truth of history," it must have a great many ups and downs.—Louisville Journal.

PLANK [illegible]

tant Law relative to tolls and taxes on Plank Roads was passed at the recent session of the Legislature:

AN ACT IN RELATION TO PLANK ROADS.

Passed April 15, 1853.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

§ 1. Instead of the toll authorized to be demanded and received on plank roads, by section thirty-five of the act entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation of companies to construct plank roads, and of companies to construct turnpike roads," passed May 7, 1847, the following rates of tolls may hereafter be demanded and received: For every vehicle drawn by one animal one cent per mile, and one cent per mile for each additional animal; for every vehicle used chiefly for carrying passengers, drawn by two animals, three cents per mile and one cent per mile for each additional animal; for every horse rode, led or driven, three quarters of a cent per mile; for every score of sheep or swine, one and a half cents per mile; and for every score of neat cattle, two cents per mile.

§ 2. Sections twelve and thirteen of title four, chapter thirteen, part one, of the Revised Statutes shall apply to plank road companies.

§ 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

New Goods.—Kingsland, Baber & Co. Boynton and Smith, and E. H. Garfield & Co., are buisily engaged in arranging, and displaying new arrivals of goods. In the way of beauty and variety, the goods in these three stores cannot be excelled.—They have all enlarged their facilities, and have bought much more extensively than usual. Kingsland's always was a large establishment, and now it is really immense. Success to them all.

Beligerant movements.—There is trouble between the U. S. troops at Fort Independence, Mo. and the Indians; and Gov. Lane has seized upon more Mexican territory which is resisted by the Mexicans at the point of the bayonet.

MOONBEAMS UPON THE AUSABLE, is the title of a quarto just isued by the pupils of Mrs. Arthur's school. It speaks well for the talent, and enterprise of that excellent school. It deserves as it receives the encouragement of the people of Keeseville.

"AFRICAN BREED OF DEMOCRATS."—Such is the Argus's designation of the Barnburners and Softs. Pierce and Marcy are trying hard to improve the "breed," but with little or no success thus far.

Shipwreck and loss of life.—The papers contain the particulars of the loss of the ship Independence, off Southern California, on the 16th, of Feby.—many lives were lost, but we see no names that sound familiar.

THE STUDENTS' OFFERING, is decidedly the most popular paper ever issued in Keeseville. Twenty six quires were issued and they are not half sufficient to supply the demand.

No vote of thanks was moved in behalf of the Speaker on the Adj. of the legislature. A severe rebuke but justly deserved for his unpardonable weakness and tyranny.

The Argus thus modestly refers to the Atlas; "the free soil sheet in this city known as the Atlas."

N. B. The Summer Term of Keeseville Academy will open on Thursday, May 19, 1853.

Meteorological Table.

BY J. R. R.

1853.	7A. M.	1P. M.	6P. M.	Wind.
April 22	53°	55°	53°	S. W.
" 23	37°	43°	42°	W.
" 24	39°	46°	44°	N.
" 25	35°	41°	38°	N.
" 26	38°	49°	55°	N.
" 27	53°	71°	70°	S.
" 28	56°	76°	76°	S.

Keeseville, April 29th, 1853.

SHERIFF SALE.

BY virtue of an execution issued out of the Essex County Court, to me directed and delivered against the personal and real property of Nathaniel Mason, I have seized and taken all the right, title, and interest which the said Nathaniel Mason had on the eleventh day of January, 1853, or at any time thereafter; in and to the following described real estate, to wit:—All those certain pieces of land situate in the town of Willsboro, in Essex County and being part of a lot of land in Peru Bay Tract, and bounded and described as follows:—

Beginning at a stake in centre of the highway where a spruce tree formerly stood in the South line of lot Number (62) sixty-two of the aforesaid tract, from thence West on the said South line of lot No. sixty-two thirty five chains and eighty one links, thence North partly on the line of a piece of land formerly owned by William S. Flack, seven chains and sixteen links, thence east thirty four chains and seventy five links and from thence Southerly to the place of beginning, containing thirty five acres of land, more or less.

Also, one other piece of land being a part of lot Number thirteen Peru Bay tract commonly called the Thompson lot, and bounded as follows, to wit:—Beginning at at a stake in the centre of the highway where a Spruce tree formerly stood in the South line of lot sixty two of the aforesaid tract and from thence South nineteen degrees and thirty minutes east, fourteen chains and six links to a stake and stones on the east branch of a small stream of water thence South forty two degrees west, forty one links to a hemlock stump, thence North 55° west five chains and seventy links to a stake thence North forty six degrees West thirteen chains and fifty links to the South line of lot Number sixty two in a small brook, from thence to the place of beginning, containing nine acres and seventy two rods of land, more or less, the two lots above described being the same executed by [illegible] wife to Lawrence Edwards, one Dated January 26, 1842, and the other dated May 20th 1843.

Also, one other piece of land in said town of Willsboro, being a part of Lot Number (63) in said Peru Bay tract and commencing on the North line of lot Number 62, in said tract in the centre of the Highway, which runs through said lot 62, thence North sufficient distance to make fifty acres by coming due east to the east line of said lot 63, thence around to the place of beginning, so as to make the aforesaid number of fifty acres from the north side of said lot (63.)

Which said real estate I shall expose for sale at public vendue at the Inn of David Judd in the town of Elisabethtown, in said county of Essex on the 13th day of June next at 10 o'clock, in the forenoon.

C. W. ENSIGN, Shereff.
By A. PERRY, Under Sheriff.
Dated, April 25th, 1853. 469 7tf

AMERICAN & FOREIGN AGENCY.

IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

The undersigned offers his services in the prosecution of Claims before Congress and the several Departments, and for the transaction of any business requiring attention at the Capitol.

Persons having business with the Patent, Indian, Land, or Pension Offices, or any of the Departments of the Government, or in Supreme Court of the United States, may rely on a prompt and faithful attention to their interests.

Enjoying an extensive Foreign acquaintance, I will undertake and be responsible for the safe transmission of Stocks, or Money, to any portion of Europe; and attention will be paid to the collection of Foreign Claims.

Correspondents will be furnished with special references in whatever State they may reside, and in the prominent cities of Europe.

Jos. C. G. KENNEDY,
Office on H. street, between 9th and 10th.

General References:

Washington; Hon. John W. Maury, Mayor, Baron Von Gerolt, Prussian Minister, Henri Bosch Spencer, Belgian Minister, Gen. Winfield Scott, Gales & Seaton, Corcoran & Riggs, Bankers, Selded, Withers & Co., Bankers, Joseph Henry, LL. D.

London; Joseph R. Ingersoll, American Minister, The Prussian Minister, Lieut. Col. Sykes, East India Company, Joseph Hume, M. P. Alb. Fonblanque, Board of Trade, Edwin Chadwick, Board of Health, George Peabody, Banker.

Paris; William C. Rives, Theod. Say, M. DeJones, A. M. Guerry, Edm. Lafayette, Livingston, Wells & Co.,

Leipzig, Sax.; Dr. Flugel, Berlin; Baron Humboldt, M. Deiterici, Prof. Von Raumer. Havre; Lor. Draper.

YOUNG BLACK HAWK,

PROPHET,

MAY be seen at the stable of the Subscriber, in Peru, during the present season.

PROPHET is six years old next grass; is about 15 1-2 hands high: weighs 1100 lbs: is bright bay, with black mane and tail: has a good walk, and can trot a mile in about three minutes; pony built and gait; was sired by Old Black Hawk, his Dam by Sir Charles, he by Old Durock, the sire of the American Eclipse. Prophet is owned by Gustavus A. Austin, of Orwell, Vermont, who raised him. His colts have heretofore proved entirely satisfactory.

☞ Those wishing to improve their breed of horses have an excellent opportunity. Particulars made known on application to the subscriber in Peru, or by letter, and see also handbills, but all are more particularly requested to call and see him, and judge for themselves.

BENJAMIN ROGERS.
Peru, April 1st. 1853. 469-tf

A. S. BEADLESTON,

AUSABLE FORKS, N. Y.,

MILLWRIGHT AND MACHINIST,

IS PREPARED TO BUILD

Rolling, Flouring, Grist and Sawmills, Forges, Separating Machines, &c.

ALSO,

DWELLING HOUSES,

In all the various styles of Architecture. All work will be executed in such a manner as will give general satisfaction. Plans, Drawings, etc. will be furnished for all the above kinds of work. 469tf

NORTHERN NEW YORK

MUTUAL INSURANCE Co,

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y.

Capital $110,000.

S. F. VILAS, President.
GEORGE MOORE, Secretary.

For terms of Insurance apply to Abner Weston, Agent, Keeseville. 469

☞ JOHN SMITH says he bought the cheapest suit of clothes at Cardwell's One Price Ready-Made Clothing Store, that he ever bought in all his born days. Besides he says there is an all fired grist of 'em left, and advises his friend Bill Jones, and all the rest of mankind to buy their Clothing of CARDWELL, Adirondac Buildings, Keeseville.

DON'T FAIL TO NOTICE.

That H. S. TOUSLEY'S Daguerrotype Gallery, at Keeseville, is always open from sunrise till sunset. Call and see him everybody, as your faces can be taken in great shape, and neatly set in the choicest cases at very low prices.

Essex County Republican

BOOK AND JOB OFFICE,

KEESEVILLE, ESSEX COUNTY, N. Y.

Pamphlets, Cards, Bill Heads, Drafts, Circulars, Labels, Notes, Hand-Bills, and every description of Job Printing executed to order, at this office.

J. TARBELL, Proprietor.

BIRD SEED, for sale, at HABBECKS.
Keeseville, April 30th, 1853. 469-tf

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that I, Alexander Lamberton, of Beekmantown, have this day given my son George his time, during his minority, and hereafter shall claim none of his earnings nor pay none of his debts.

Alexander Lamberton,
Beekmantown, April 21, 1853.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

BOOKS! BOOKS!

STORY of the world, Comprising general History, Both ancient and n of all the principal nations on the to which is added a Complete His- the United States to the present including the Late War with Mexi- alifornia, &c., s work is designed to supply the wants present age. It embraces every thing atible with its scope, down to the last tant event in the History of our coun- In short, while the unimportant has left out, nothing essential has been ted.

is in two large octavo volumes, which ain upwards of 1500 pages, and illus- d with about Forty Engravings, execu- n the most modern style, after authen- ictures, together with a Chart, of the ps of the various Nations, a View of city of San Francisco, and of the Crys- Palace, each appropriately colored, and d in embossed and gilt leather binding, marblo edges

The following are a few of the numerous ommendations the work has received.

From the Worcester [Mass.] Christian Citizen.

With pleasure we announce the appear- e of this splendid work, the need of ch has long been felt both by the stu- t and general reader.

The author has fully explored the field history, and while he has culled its most cresting and important facts, has left its bbish;—thus embodying in these beau- ul volumes what might not inappropriate- be termed the gems of history.

To the people of this country this work peculiarly adapted, and every lover of is native land should well consult the His- ory of the Nations, whose brilliant history s so accurately recorded by the pen of Mr. nmad,

From Prof. Emerson of Andover [Mass.] Seminary.

I have examined the "History of the World," and think it particularly valuable especially for such as have not access to more extended works of history; and even to those who have such works, it will often be found an important help, as it brings down the history of the countries to the present time. RALPH EMERSON.

From the Franklin Democrat, [Ia.]

In these volumes we have a correct account of the origin and formation of the principal Empires, Kingdoms, and States of the Globe; and also their connected history down to the present time, even giving a complete history of California, the death of our late President Taylor, &c., which makes it one of the most interesting histories ever offered to the public. It is sold at a price that will bring it within the reach of all.

J. P. ALLEN, agent for Essex Co. having canvassed the Western towns, will have the pleasure to present the claims of this book to the people of the lake towns, in the course of the next few days. 468 tf

SOLD OUT!

THE subscribers have made arrangements to devote their whole time to those having unsettled accounts with them, till all such acts are settled and paid, Having sold out our entire stock of goods and wishing to make preparations for commencing an entirely new business, we shall expect and enforce the immediate settlement of all our outstanding accounts. REYNOLDS & TUFTS.

April 1, 1853.

KEESEVILLE ACADEMY,

Clinton County, New York.

THIS INSTITUTION is located in one of the finest sections of the State.

It is five miles from Port Kent, on Lake Champlain. The lake affords a cheap, easy and pleasant communication with Plattsburgh, Burlington and Whitehall. The noted

High Bridge and Ausable Falls are about two miles below the village.

The building is comparatively new, well arranged, supplied with a

GOOD LIBRARY AND PHILOSOPHICAL APPARATUS, and is intended to accommodate 150 students. The advantages to be enjoyed will be of the highest order. The course of instruction will be thorough, and sufficiently extensive to meet the wants of every class of pupils.

Particular attention will be given to those who may wish to fit themselves for teaching or a collegiate course.

There are four Terms in a year, of 11 weeks each. The next Term will commence May 19th, 1853.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION.

Associate Principals. CHARLES H. DANN, Teacher of Languages and Higher Mathematics.
GILBERT THAYER, Teacher of Natural Sciences and Superintendent of the School.

Miss NANCY K. POTTER and Miss MARY FERRIS, Assistant Teachers.

Miss ELLEN M. FISHER, Teacher of Music.

TUITION $

	Per Quarter.
Common English Branches,	$3,00
Higher " "	1,00 extra.
Book Keeping,	1,50 "
Latin and Greek, each	1,00 "
French, Spanish & German, each	1,50 "

Tuition is not charged for more than two of the above extras.

Painting, Water Colors,	2 37 1 2
" Oil, Landscape,	6,25
Music, Instrumental,	$8,00 per quarter.
" Vocal,	1,00 "

For French, Spanish and German taken as single branches, the charge will be $3,00 per quarter.

Text Books, Painting and Drawing materials to be had in the village, at reasonable prices.

By order of the Trustees,
OLIVER KEESE, J. D. KINGSLAND, JOHN MATTOCKS. } Com.

Keeseville, April, 1853.

VALUABLE FORGE PROPERTY

FOR SALE,

THE "West Fort Ann Iron Works," consisting of a Forge of two fires, Anchor shop, two dwelling houses, and one Store, are for sale on very low terms. A small payment only is required down, and the balance on time. The advantages for obtaining coal are superior to almost any other establishment, and ore from Moriah Mines can be delivered at a cost of only $1,50 per ton for transportation. For particulars address. I. C. MIX.

Fort Ann, N. Y. 469-6w

SIMMONS & AMES,

ATTORNIES AND COUNSELORS AT LAW,

Keeseville, Essex County, N. Y.

1853.

G. V. S. QUACKENBUSH,

202 RIVER & 7 & 9 STATE STREETS, TROY, NEW YORK,

INVITES the attention of those who wish to purchase

DRY GOODS,

Carpets and Oil-Cloths.

Owing to the large increase of patronage, I have found it necessary from time to time, to make many improvements and additions to my store.

This spring I have united the stores No. 7 and 9, State St., making a spacious and beautiful room, fitted up expressly for the sale of all the various styles of Silks, Shawls, Cloaks & Mantillas.

This connects with the main store, No. 202, River St., (the old stand occupied by the subscriber for nearly 30 years,) which is devoted to a general assortment of

STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS,

comprising every variety to meet the wants of all classes of buyers. Besides these, four large rooms over the stores 200, 202 and 204 River St., are occupied as

CARPET WARE-ROOMS,

where I am constantly receiving the newest and most desirable patterns of Velvet, Tapestry, Brussels, Three-ply, Ingrain and Venetian Carpets Also, Oil-Cloths of every quality and width, and every style of Drugetts, Rugs, Mats, Matting, Stair-Rods, &c.

All these departments combined making an extensive and complete Establishment, conducted on such principles, that customers can trade with confidence, and to their own advantage, my sales being always for cash, and the only price asked, being the lowest cash price. G. V. S. QUACKENBUSH.

Troy, April, 1853. 467tf

Insured.

1853  1853

MERCHANT'S LAKE BOAT LINE.

PROPRIETOR,

THO'S H. CANFIELD, - - Burlington, Vt.

FORWARDING to and from Boston, New York, Albany, Troy, Montreal and all Ports on Lake Champlain. Also, Ports on St. Lawrence, Lake Ontario and Upper Lakes, via Ogdensburgh and Caughnawaga Railroad.

The Merchant's Line will consist of

20 First Class Lake Boats,

Running directly through to and from New York, and all Ports on Lake Champlain, thereby avoiding a delay of two-days in re-shipping Goods at Troy and Whitehall. Property destined for Western Lakes, will be forwarded from Rouse's Point, via Northern Railroad to Ogdensburgh, thence by Crawford & Co's. Erie. Ontario Line of Propellors, or via Plattsburgh and Montreal Railroad to Caughnawaga, and thence by Steamers on the St Lawrence.

The Boats of this Line will be invariably towed by Steam on the Hudson River and Lake Champlain.

The Steamers BOSTON, Capt CHAMBERLIN; EATHEN ALLEN, Capt. HINCKLEY; JAMES H. HOOKER, Capt. SNYDER, will run in connection with the Merchant's Line daily between Whitehall, Burlington, Plattsburgh and Rouse's Point, affording increased facilities for Transportation of Freight and Towing.

Property entrusted to this Line for Transportation, is in all cases actually and correctly weighed at the time of shipment, and injury and delay to which property may be subjected by transhipment, is entirely avoided.—Particular care and attention given to goods destined to Canada, and to all property to be forwarded by the several Railroads—Property for Canada, forwarded by Northern, Champlain and St. Lawrence, and Plattsburgh and Montreal Railroads.

Debenture and Warehousing business promptly and correctly attended to.

AGENTS.

Malcolm Canfield, No, 8½ Coenties Slip, New York
Follett & Co., South Wharf, Burlington.
Smith Briggs.
A. Fisher, No. 191 River Street, Troy, New York.
A. M. Herriman, R. R. Depot, Ogdensburgh.
Chas. Seymour, Montreal.
April 9. 447-tf.

Hats! Hats!!

BTEBE and GENIN'S latest Spring style Hats, just received and for sale by
BOYNTON & SMITH.
April 14, 1853. 447-tf

NOTICE.

WHEREAS Catharine, my wife has abandoned my house and refuses to live with me, Now therefore notice is hereby given to all persons whom it may concern, that I will hereafter pay no debts contracted by her or upon her account. PATRICK DAISEY.

Dated Ausable Forks, April 15, 1853. 447-4w

To Friends & PATRONS.

THE subscriber hereby tenders his thanks to all his

FRIENDS & PATRONS

for their liberal patronage with which he has been favored, and respectfully invites them to continue their favors as he designs to keep on hand a constant supply of the choicest meats, viz:

Fresh Beef, Pork, Mutton Veal, Lamb, &c.

Also, PICKLED TONGUE, BEEF and BARRELL PORK. Finally a treat frequently from the shores of the Atlantic, in the line of

Scale and Shell Fish,

&c., &c., as fresh as the briny ocean affords.

RICHARD HOAG.

Keeseville, March 27, 1853. 465tf

Seed! Seed!!

1000 Pounds Clover Seed. Also Grass Seed always on hand.

Fresh Teas.—A new and choice lot of Green and Black Teas, just received and selling off at great bargains by the chest or pound.

Mackarel.—Bbls., halves, quarters, and eighths—a new lot.

Camphene.—By the barrel or gallon. E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Keeseville, April, 1853.

D. M. KNIGHT & Co.,

53 CEDAR STREET, NEW YORK,

WILL sell cheap for cash. Combs, buttons, pins, needles, hooks and eyes, lines and cotton tapes, bobbin, braids, threads, stay binding, brushes, whalebone, fans, and a great variety of fancy notions, &c. 464:3m

WANTED.

20 POUNDS Saffron for which CASH will be paid. I. A. HASBROUCK.

Feb. 23th. 1853. 461-4

M. F. NICHOLSON,

ATTORNEY & COUNCELLOR AT LAW

ELIZABETHTOWN, Essex County, N. Y.

[Office in the County Clerk's Office.]

Union Nurseries,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

THE subscriber has for sale this spring, a very large collection of

Fruit Trees, &c.,

of all kinds adapted to the climate and of the best quality; which he offers at the lowest prices. All the leading sorts can be furnished by the quantity; and specimen trees, (1 to 3 years from graft,) vines, plants, &c., can be supplied of nearly 1000 distinct varieties—many of them new and rare, and now offered for the first time in this valley.

The stock of PEAR TREES, both on the Pear stock, and on the Quince, is very extensive, and the assortment one of the most complete in the Union. The collection comprises of Apples—250 choice varieties.

do. — 50 do on Doucain and Paradise, for DWARFS.
Pears—275 do
do.—75 do on Quince, for DWARFS.
Plums—100 do
Cherries—75 do
do —25 do on Mahaleb, for DWARFS.
Grapes—40 varieties—[1000 strong plants "McNeil."]
Gooseberries—60 varieties—[500 "
"Houghton's Seedling."]
Currants—25 varieties—[500 "
"White Clinton"—the sweetest, highest flavored, and best of currants.]
Raspberries—15 varieties.
Strawberries—50 "
Half-hardy Fruits—60 "—including Peaches, Nectarines, Apricots, Quinces. &c.
Rhubarb—10 varieties.
Asparagus—1, 2 and 3 years old roots.
Buckthorn for Hedges—1, 2 and 3 years old plants.
Scions—of Fruit Trees Vines &c.
Garden Seeds—a general assortment.

Ornamental Department.

Deciduous Trees—Horse Chestnuts, European Mountain Ash, Silver Maple, and 20 other species and varieties.

Deciduous Shrubs—White Fringe, Smoke Tree, Rose Acacia; several varieties each—of Deutzias, Syringas, Spireas (including "Prunifolie") Flowering Currants, &c., and 50 other species and varieties.

Evergreen Trees and Shrubs—Am. Arbor Vitae, Am. Silver Fir, Norway Spruce, Deodar Cedar, Box, Holly, and many others.

Climbing Shrubs and Vines—Many species and varieties.

Roses—Hibrid China, H. Perpetual, Bourbon, Moss, Climbing, Austrian, Scotch, and Miscellaneous—150 choice varieties.

Dahlias—150 varieties—including all the newest and best.

Phloxes—50 varieties—very choice.
Paeonies—15 " do do.
Miscellaneous Bedding Plants—in great variety.

Summer Bulbs, (for spring planting)—Gladiolus, Tuberose, Tiger Flower, Japan and other Lilies,—of many varieties, &c., &c.

Flower Seeds—200 species and varieties.

Green House Plants—of all kinds, supplied from other sources, if ordered soon.

Horticultural Implements—of all kinds, supplied also to order—on a few days notice.—Budding and Pruning Knives, of best form and superior quality, always kept on hand.

ORDERS executed in rotation, as they are received. Those who desire to obtain their trees early, and to make sure of a satisfactory selection, should therefore order without delay.

Freight paid to the Lake.

Catalogues sent to all who apply, post-paid, and enclose a postage stamp

Address, J. BATTEY.
Union Nurseries, Keeseville, N. Y.,
3d mo., 24th, 1853. [465 2m

SUPREME COURT,
GURDON GRANT, AGST.
ELENOR CRARY,
ISAAC HEUSTIS,
JAMES GIBSON,
JOHN SAVAGE and
JOSEPHUS FITCH,

In pursuance of a decree or judgment of the Supreme Court made in the above cause, will be sold under the direction of the subscriber, Sheriff of the County of Essex, at public auction at the Adirondac Hotel, in the town of Chesterfield, in the County of Essex, on Monday, the 4th day of April next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon; all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land lying and being in the town of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York, lying between the Augur Pond and Butternut Pond, beginning at the south west corner at a pine tree marked 1795, thence running north ninety-five chains, a little north of the south end of Augur Pond, thence east one degree north, twenty-five chains to the west line of lot No. three, thence south along the west line of lots No. three, four, five and eight to the corner of the last mentioned lot, thence south forty-five degrees west to Butternut Pond, thence along the north end of said Pond to the first place of beginning, containing two hundred and sixteen acres of land be the same more or less; which said lot of land is part of two tracts of land, formerly granted by the said State to John Williams deceased by letters patent, and is now conveyed subject to the conditions and reservations made by Anthony J. Blanchard his heirs and assigns in his conveyance thereof to one William Bromley to overflow as much of the said land at any time or times whatsoever as may be reasonably necessary convenient and useful for the accommodation of any Mills or Waterworks which are now or hereafter may be built or erected on the waters of the said Augur Pond, or the outlet thereof by the heirs or assigns of the said Anthony J., hereby retaining the same reservations as is contained in the said William's deed of the said premises to one Thomas McLean.

Dated the 19th day of Febuary, 1853.
C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff.
By J. C. FINCH, Deputy Sheriff.
SAML. AMES, Atty. 459-w7

The above sale is hereby postponed to the 18th day of April instant, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the Hotel above named.

C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff
By J. C. FINCH, Deputy.

Dated, April 4th, 1853.

The above sale is further adjourned to the 2d day of May next at the same hour and place above named.

C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff.
By J. C. FINCH, Deputy.

Dated April 18, 1853.

SASH, DOOR, BLIND

— AND —

Pail Manufactory,

CROWN POINT, N. Y.

HAVING the most perfect machinery, and experienced workmen, we are enabled to furnish Window Sash, Doors and Blinds, of superior workmanship, and at lower prices than can be found elsewhere. Also

Pine and Cedar Pails and Sap Buckets.

All orders filled at short notice.

S. S. & W. FLINT.

Established may 1st, 1851.
march 1, 1853. 465 m*3

WOOL.

CASH Paid for Wool.

Nov. 15, 1851. J. APPLEYARD.

Miscellaneous.

Insurance Agency.

National Protection Insurance Company, Saratoga Springs, Capital, $200,000
Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance Company, West Scotia, N. Y., Capital, $160,000
Nothern N. Y. Mutual Insurance Company, Plattsburgh, N. Y., Capital, $100,000
Knickerbocker Fire Insurance Company, Waterford, N. Y., Capital, $200,000
Northern N. Y. Live Stock Ins. Company, Plattsburgh, N. Y., Capital, $50,000
Charter Oak Life Insurance Company, Hartford, Vt., Capital, $200,000

Policies in the National Protection Insurance Co., and the Mohawk Valley Farmers Insurance issued by the undersigned.

JAMES B. DICKINSON.
Office, Ausable Forks N. Y.
Saratoga Springs, Feb'y 7th, 1852.

WE, the undersigned, JOHN WILLARD, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court for the 4th Judicial District of the State of New York, and a resident of Saratoga Springs, with AUGUSTUS BOCKES, First Judge of the County of Saratoga, being likewise a resident of Saratoga Springs, and JOHN C. HULBURT, Surrogate of the County of Saratoga, also a resident of Saratoga Springs—do hereby Certify, that we are personally acquainted with the men composing the Board of Directors of the National Protection Insurance Company of Saratoga Springs. We take pleasure in availing ourselves of this opportunity in recommending to the Public, from a personal knowledge of the responsibility and character of their Board of Directors, that this Company is a sound and reliable Institution, will deal fairly with the assured, and are fully competent to pay their losses. We therefore unhesitatingly recommend this Company as an Institution in every respect worthy of a liberal patronage.

JOHN WILLARD,
A. BOCKES,
JNO. C. HULBURT.

JAMES B. DICKINSON,
Policy Agent, Ausable Forks.
Ausable Forks, Feb. 5th, 1852. 457-tf

WAR DECLARED

—BETWEEN—

France and England!!!

WOULD not create as great a sensation among the inhabitants of this portion of country as the proclamation of war on high prices by CARDWELL in the sale of

Ready-Made Clothing.

That war declared Oct. 1st, 1851, still rages with unabating and increasing fury; but in its progress its path is not marked with bloodshed, carnage and desolation as the wars of one Nation against another; on the other hand its fruits are smiling faces (NOT OF OTHER DEALERS) and glad hearts; go ask the honest and hardy inhabitants of our pine clad hills, and our pleasant valleys, where he buys his CLOTHING, and he will answer you with a smile,

WHY AT CARDWELL'S, OF COURSE!

That is the place where you can obtain the latest styles, a genteel fit, and well made suit of clothes for less money than at any other Store in northern New York.

Why, says one man, I have saved money enough by purchasing my Clothing this Fall at

CARDWELL'S CHEAP STORE

to buy me a good Cow. This is no fiction: living witnesses can be produced that will testify to the truth of it.

N. B. Saturday March the 5th

will arrive a large and magnificent assortment of Spring and Summer Clothing, when the Spring and Summer Fashions will be introduced. Every description of garments always to be found at CARDWELL'S One Price cheap

CLOTHING WARE ROOM'S,
ADIRONDAC HOTEL BUILDINGS,
Keeseville N. Y.
G. A. CARDWELL.

WOOL! WOOL!

THE Subscriber would inform the public that he is again in the

Manufacturing Business,

Either by the yard, on shares, or in exchange for cloths on the most reasonable terms, and that he intends to keep on hand a full supply of the following goods:

BLACK BROAD CLOTHS,
Black, Brown, and Olive Cassimeres,
FULLED CLOTHS, SATTINETS, TWEEDS, Flannels, &c.,

suitable to this country, and that he will spare no pains in trying to please such as may favor him with their patronage.

Birmingham, May 15, 1852. J. APPLEYARD. 439

Bounty Lands

PURCHASED AND OBTAINED BY

GEO. MOORE, Plattsburgh, N. Y.

December 3, 1852. 448tf

BOOKS.

JUST RECEIVED FROM NEW YORK.

FRANK Freeman's Barber Shop. A new and deeply interesting story, written in a style similar to Uncle Tom's Cabin. The White Slave. Uncle Tom's Cabin, both bound and in pamphlet. Ike Marvil's Dream Life. Reveries of a Bachelor, &c., &c. Cabin and Parlor. Byron's, Willis', Heman's and other Poems. Mitchell's Lectures on Astronomy.

Sold by I. A. HASBROUCK.
Keeseville, March 1st, 1853. 461

REMOVAL!

THE subscribers would beg leave to inform their old friends and patrons, that they have rented a shop of Messrs. Keese & Tomlinson, one door North of Kingsland, Babor & Co.'s store, where they intend to carry on the Painting business in all it various branches, No pains will be spared to give complete satisfaction.

BROWNELL & LOWRY.
Keeseville, March 30, 1853. 465 tf

One Cent Reward!

RUNAWAY on or about the 28th ult., Lawrence White an indentured apprentice. This is to forbid all persons employing him, as they will be dealt with according to law. W. F. SALTUS,
Manager P. I. C.
Clintonville, April 14, 1853.

WANTED,

A farm containing not less than 200 acres in the town of Chesterfield, Ausable or Peru, on which must be good Dwelling House and out Buildings and otherwise under good cultivation. One answering the above Description will meet with sale for cash. Enquire of Benj. MINER.

Port Kent, Feb. 22d, 1853.

Boots and Shoes.

READY-MADE or MADE to ORDER,

AS good as the best, as cheap as the cheapest and warranted to fit. The undersigned begs leave to remind the public of the above facts and solicits a share of their patronage. Opposite the Bank.

JAMES ADAMS.
Keeseville, March, 1852. 111-tf

Business Cards.

SAMUEL B. NICHOLS,

(Successor to Nichols & Warren,)

WHOLESALE PAPER WAREHOUSE

And Paged Blank Book Manufactory,

— JOBBER AND RETAIL DEALER IN —

School and Classical Books,

English, French and American Stationery, and Artist's Materials,

No. 4, Leaveworth Block, College Street,

BURLINGTON, Vt.

Bank, Blank, Check or Memorandum Books made to order, from the best of Paper, and bound in the most thorough manner. All work warranted. Terms Cash. 448 tf

GEORGE P. WILKINSON,

(Successor to G. P. & J. B. Wilkinson,)

MANUFACTURER AND JOBBER IN

CLOTHING,

154 River Street, Corner of Congress,
427 tf TROY, N. Y.

G. P. SANBORN & Co.

APOTHECARIES HALL.

BURLINGTON, VT.

DEALERS IN

Drugs and Medicines, Chemical Paraphernalia, Teeth, Surgical Instruments, Gold Foil, Patent Medicines, and every variety of articles usually kept in this line of Business.

Oct. 23d, 1852. 6 m.

GEO. S. TARBELL,

HOLE SALE GROCER,

DEALER IN OIL AN

General Commission Merchant,

No. 65 Quay-Street,

ALBANY.

ADKINS & FULLER,

Booksellers, Stationers, Binders

— AND —

PAPER RULERS,

KEEP constantly on hand or will supply Books, Maps, Charts, Pictures, Frames, and Periodicals of all kinds. Also Publications of the American Tract Society. Bibles and Sabbath School Books at their very low depository prices.

One door east of Pierce & Davey's Agricultural Store on College Street.

C. S ADKINS, E. FULLER.
Burlington, July 4, 1850. 323

D. M. ARNOLD

Engineer and Surveyor,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

SURVEYING & Leveling for Rail Roads, Plank Roads, Mill Seats, &c. Land Surveying of all kinds done on shortest notice.

Office opposite the Ausable House.

425tf

J. B. DICKINSON,

AUSABLE FORKS, N. Y.

General INSURANCE AGENT,

For Fire, Life, Health and Live Stock Insurance Companies.

Any business from abroad will receive prompt attention. 454

Silliman & Gardiner,

WHOLESALE DEALERS

in Pork, Fish, SALT, PLASTER, &c.

OFFICE 17 COENTIS SLIP, New York.
" 339 RIVER St., Troy, 445

A. A. LEE,

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW,

ELIZABETHTOWN, ESSEX COUNTY, N. Y.

Office over Root & Co's store. 462

H. H. HAVENS,

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW,

CROWNPOINT,

ESSEX COUNTY, N. Y. [466tf

H. M. CHASE,

Attorney and Counselor at Law,

KEESEVILLE,

ESSEX COUNTY, NEW YORK. (466tf

Office opposite the "Ausable House."

McELROY & EVEREST,

ATTORNIES & COUNSELORS

AT LAW,

KEESEVILLE, ESSEX COUNTY, N. Y.

JOHN MCELROY. C. E. EVEREST.

Office over Prescott's Jewelry Store. 468

Dr. H. W. GOULD,

SURGEON DENTIST

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

Office opposite the Ausable House. [389

Livery Stable

BY

GEORGE G. FULLER.

HEAD OF MAIN STREET

(a few steps from the Bank.),

KEESEVILLE, NEW YORK.

Where may be found at all times, the best of Horses and Carriages, on the most reasonable terms.

H. C. Blanchard, M. D.,

HOMŒOPATHIC PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,

KEESEVILLE, N. Y.

Office 2 doors below Ausable House.
Rooms at Ausable House. 430

Follett & Co.,

Storage, Forwarding and Commission Merchants,

AGENTS FOR THE

Merchants' and the New York and Canada Lines, and General Agents for the sale of all kinds of property. Consignments respectfully solicited, and prompt returns promised.

Premises lately occupied by Bradley & Canfield. 468

SOUTH WHARF, BURLINGTON, VT.

Whitewash, Whitewash!

THE best quality of Burlington Lime for Whitewashing, will be found at 466-3w ANDREW DOWLINGS.

Burlington Advertisements

BURLINGTON

AGRICULTURAL WAREHOUSE AND SEED STORE.

DAVEY & ALLEN,

No. 9, COLLEGE STREET, BURLINGTON, Vt.

Ploughs—Prouty & Mear's centre draught.

These ploughs have obtained a celebrity unparalleled, having taken the first premiums in this country and at the World's Fair in London. We have also Starbuck's and Tabor's celebrated Ploughs.

Our stock of Ploughs comprises a great variety of patterns and different sizes, calculated for sward and stubble land, wet meadows and recently drained swamps, where roots abound—among which also, are the deep-breaking up flat-furrow, lap-furrow, self-sharpening, side-hill, double-mould-board, sub soil, &c., &c.

Harrows—Iron square, Geddes and Scotch.

Hay, Straw and Corn Stalk Cutters, either by Hand or horse power; spiral, straight or circular knives.

Cultivators—of different kinds, steel tooth and cast iron.

Corn Shellers—a variety of patterns. Will shell from 50 to 100 bushels of corn per hour.

Fan Mills and Grain Orakes—Grant's unrivalled. We confidently recommend them as the best in use.

Seed Sowers—Batchelder's & Emery's, and other kinds.

Vegetable Cutters—for turnips and other roots.

Horse Powers, Threshers, Winnowers and Separators—Wheeler's Patent Railway Chain Horse Power This Power, both single and double-geared, for one or two horses, has no equal for lightness in running, strength, durability and economy. The Thresher and Separator are too widely and favorably known to need our commendation. The combined Thresher and Winnower, (which is a new invention of last year) has not been so generally introduced. All who have used it express the highest approbation of its merits. We entertain no doubt that it is the most perfect, compact, and efficient machine now in use for threshing and winnowing grain, as it certainly is by far the cheapest and most economical.

Warranted to give satisfaction,

or be returned after a reasonable trial.

Saw Mill—Lawrence, used for sawing wood for locomotives on Railways, or by farmers for cutting stove fuel. With a one horse power it will cut 10 to 15 cords of wood twice in two per day.

AGRICULTURAL & HORTICULTURAL TOOLS AND IMPLEMENTS,

a great variety and extensive assortment, such as Hoes, Shovels, Spades, Rakes, Manure and Hay Forks, Scythes, Snaths, Cattle Ties, Oxen, Halter and Trace Chains, Garden Syringes, Pruning Saws, Pruning and Budding Knives, Garden Shears and Twig Cutters, Grindstones, Patent Grindstone fixtures, rollers, barn door rolls, &c., &c.

Grain, Field, Garden and Flower Seeds.—We are prepared to furnish Herds Grass, Red Top, Lucerne, White Dutch, Southern, Western and Northern Clover Seed, Beet, Turnip, Onion and Carrot Seed, at Wholesale and Retail at the lowest market prices.

We have by far the largest and most complete assortment of Agricultural Implements Machines, Field and Garden Seeds to be found in the State, which we offer at our new and spacious Ware-Rooms to Farmers and Dealers on terms the most liberal. We are also Commission Merchants and Wholesale and Retail Dealers in heavy and shelf

HARDWARE,

Saddlery, Axles, Springs, Mechanic's Tools, House Trimmings and Furnishing Goods, Cutlery, Cross Cut, Milland Circular Saws, Paints, Oils, Bird Cages, etc., etc., etc.

As agents of Messrs. D. Prouty & Co., Boston, Wheeler, Millick & Co., Albany, J. T. Grant & Co., Troy, and others we can fill orders for Plows, Horse Powers, Threshers, Pan Mills, Straw Cutters, &c., at manufacturers prices. A liberal discount made to Dealers.

ORDERS FROM ABROAD SOLICITED.

DAVEY & ALLEN.

Burlington, September 20, 1852. 439

NEW GOODS AT Nichols, 150 Church Street.

IN consequence of our large spring sales, we have been induced to purchase a very large and full stock of

Foreign & Domestic Goods

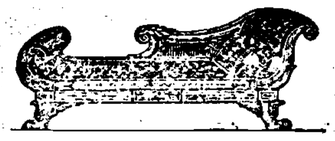
for the fall trade, which we now offer at exceedingly low prices. We have not time now to enumerate, suffice it to say, we have every thing usually called for in a dry goods store.

CARPETINGS!

AT THE

Carpet Warehouse, 150 Church Street.

Mr. Nichols is now opening the largest stock of Carpeting ever brought to this city, consisting of the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three-ply, Ingrain, Extra Super Fine and Common Venetian, Damask, Cotton and Wool, Cotton, Hemp Stair carpeting from the best manufacturers. Also, floor oil-cloth, strawmatting. Hearth Rugs, Door Mats, table oil cloths, English and American Bockings and crumb cloths.



Bay State Carpetings and Bockings.

Mr. Nichols has the agency for the sale of the justly celebrated Bay State carpets and bockings and will be furnished with all the new patterns as fast as they come from the mills. Recollect the No.

150 CHURCH STREET.

Burlington, September 24, 1852. 439 tf

BOSTON URNITURE STORE,

AT THE

Spacious Ware-Room,

Nos. 2 & 3, Leavensworth Block,

COLLEGE STREET,

In Burlington, Vt.

No further need of going to New York or Boston for Rich or

FASHIONABLE FURNITURE.

THE Subscriber has a more extensive assortment of Furniture, Feathers, Beds, Matrasses, Upholstery, Goods, &c.,

than has ever before been offered in this section, comprising all the most recent styles from the most elegant to the commonest FURNITURE, manufactured principally to order, and in quality superior to any to be found out of Boston or any other place—consisting, in part, as follows:

Black Walnut & Mahogony Parlor FURNITURE,

—CONSISTING OF—

French Sofas, Easy Chairs, covered in plush, damask brocatelle or hair-cloth, to suit the purchaser; French style centre and side Tables, with and without marble tops; Gilt and other frame Looking Glasses; rich and common Curtain Furniture and Fixtures, &c., and every article needed to furnish Parlors in the most fashionable style.—Also medium and low-priced Parlor Furniture, of every description

DRAWING & SITTING ROOM FURNITURE,

of every desirable style.

CHAMBER FURNITURE.

Fancy printed Chamber Setts, richly ornamented; mahogany, black walnut and common Bedsteads, Bureaus Sinks, Toilets, Chairs, &c. Also, Feathers, Feather Beds hair, cotton husk and palm leaf Mattrasses. Elegant

LIBRARY CASES & SIDE-BOARDS,

both mahogany and black walnut, of very superior workmanship, constantly on hand and made to order, of any style or size desired. Also, any odd article, not to be found ready-made, designed and executed to order in the best manner at the shortest notice.

Hotels and Steamboats

furnished at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms.

N. B.—Every article will be sold as low as the same quality can be ought in either Boston or New York, and in many instances much lower. Country dealers will be furnished at the lowest wholesale prices.

Mr. ALLEN'S long experience as a manufacturer and Furniture dealer in Boston, gives him advantages in selecting and purchasing goods very seldom equalled: and he will warrant every article fully equal to what he represents it.

Persons in want of Furniture will do well to call on Mr. ALLEN before purchasing.

I. S. ALLEN.

Burlington, May 8, '52. 418-1y

PIANO FORT EMPORIUM.

361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. The most extensive and varied assortment of ROSEWOOD PIANO FORTES, plain and ornamental, elegant patterns, elaborately carved, and highly finished with Pearl keys all of our own manufacture, and warranted in every particular, can be found at our Warerooms, 361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. 437-1y BENNTT & CO.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Miscellaneous.

26 Years Experience.

OLD ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL.

Quick Cures and Low prices. Private Diseases and their Antidote.

DR LISPENARD, author of the Marriage Guide, or Private Medical Treatise, Professor of Diseases of Women and Children, and Licentiate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the United States University, &c., continues as heretofore to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms and variety of

PRIVATE DISEASES,

at his old quarters No 5 Beaver street, ALBANY, N. Y.

The great success attending the use of Doctor L.'s remedies in secret diseases, and the many remarkable cures daily effected by him in recent as well as old lingering attacks, is conclusive evidence that this well

SICK AND UNFORTUNATE

can do no better than consult the Doctor, whose whole time is devoted to the exclusive treatment of this much neglected branch of practice.

LOOK AT THIS.

Dr. Lispenard cures recent cases of disease in from three to six days, and chronic or long standing diseases in a very short period of time, without the use of Mercury, without hindrance of time, change of diet, or detention from business.

DAILY EMPLOYMENT.

In Syphilis, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Strictures, Enlargement of the Testicles and Cords, Bubo, Chancres, Pimples and Scaly Eruptions, Sore Throats and Noses, Chancres on the tongue, tender skin bones, and diseases of the skin, and impure blood. Dr. Lispenard's remedies are above all praise, and frequently cure when all others had failed

EVEN TO RELIEVE.

More than 5 000 patients have during the past year experienced the benefit of the Doctor's extraordinary skill in the treating secret diseases—among which, diseases of the bladder and kidneys have formed a goodly proportion.

YOUNG MEN.

who by indulging in secret habits have injured their health and prostrated their intellectual faculties, and thereby deprived themselves of the pleasure of married life, should consult Dr Lispenard without a moment's delay. Hundreds have been restored to health, society and friends, under my peculiar mode of treatment, although vast sums of money had been sacrificed without any benefit. My remedy for this disease is pleasant to take, has no offensive smell and

CURES WITHOUT FAIL.

Persons so unfortunate as to be diseased, although they may have visited half a dozen Doctors, and had medicine sent them a dozen times with no benefit, would exclaim with wisdom by making their case known to that FRIEND OF THE SICK, Dr. Lispenard, who never charges for advice and warrants all his cures. The sick are often at a loss where to apply for relief, AND TIS NO WONDER, as hundreds stand ready to plunder the unfortunate victim of PRIVATE DISEASES, or secret habits with at one thought for his life and health. All thus deceived will find a friend, and moderate charges, in consulting the Doctor who uses NO MERCURY and cures every time.

N. B.—Persons from a distance when visiting the city in search of a physician and friend will be fortunate if they succeed in escaping the many dens of imposition conducted by unprincipled men, destitute of character knowledge or name, who fleece the unfortunate victim of disease of his hard earned money, and his remaining health. Patients who have no acquaintance in the city should make inquiry of some respectable citizen, or the editor or proprietor of any of the city papers, to ascertain who is the most reliable physician to apply to.

FEMALE DISEASES.

Dr. Lispenard from an experience seldom or never enjoyed by any other medical man, is enable to treat, with every hope of success, all and every variety of Female Complaints—with safe and pleasant remedies—and has without doubt cured within the past five years more than 300 females afflicted with diseases of the Bladder, Womb, &c. &c. Ladies afflicted with suppression or stoppage of their monthly turns, will recollect that Dr. Lispenard is still the sole American agent for

DR. VICHOU'S

FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS.

The unprecedented sale of more than 15,000 boxes of these excellent Pills, and the good results which always follow their use, is conclusive evidence of their utility in stoppages, &c. Caution—Married Ladies in certain delicate situations should not use them—for reasons see directions with each box. Price $1. Sent by mail to all parts of the world.

Married Persons and those about to Marry, should enclose 12½ cents post paid to Dr Lispenard, and obtain a copy of his Marriage Guide, or Private Treatise, a bewitching little work of nearly 100 pages, illustrated. Every thing that married persons can desire or wish to know is here explained. Persons who from poverty or sickness have no desire to increase their family, will find necessary instruction in the Marriage Guide. One copy 12½ cents; 5 copies 50 cts; 12 copies $1—mailed free to any part of the world.

N B—Patients treated by letter, and medicines sent with full directions for use, to the writer's address. All communications destroyed or returned.

No mercury used in any case, and all cures warranted.

No boys or precocious students allowed; timed persons take notice.

Friends of Dr. L. when recommending patients to our care will recollect our number, 5 Beaver st., three doors from South Broadway.

Hospital open from 7 A. M., to 9 P. M., and on Sundays from 1 to 4 P. M.

No charge for advice, although no medicine may be desired.

Good board and private rooms for those who desire to remain in the city.

Notice this—Address all letters to

C. W. LISPENARD, M. D.,
No. 5 Beaver st. Albany, N. Y.

411—1y

NORTHERN RAIL ROAD, N. Y.

FALL ARRANGEMENTS.

On and after FRIDAY October 1st. trains will run as follows:

GOING EAST,

1st Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 9, A. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 1, 45, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Ogdensburgh 2, P. M.

Arrives at Rouse's Point 6, 20, P. M.

GOING WEST.

1st Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 8, A. M.

Arrive at Ogdensgurgh 12,50, P. M.

2nd Passenger Train, Leave Rouse's Point 3, P. M.

Arrives at Ogdensburgh 7,45, P. M.

First Passenger Train going East

Connects at Moors with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road for Montreal and Quebect, and Plattsburgh, Burlington and Whitehall—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Vermont Central Rail Road for Boston and New York—Connects at Rouse's Point with the Rutland and Burlington Rail Road by steam Boats to Burlington, and thence to Boston and New York.

Second Passenger Train going East,

Connects with the Plattsburgh and Montreal Rail Road at Moores, for Montreal and Quebec—Connects with the Vermont Central Railroad for Boston, Burlington, and New York. Connects with the Steam Boats to Whitehall, thence by the Saratoga and Troy Rail Roads, to Saratoga Springs, Troy and New York. Connects by Steam Boat with Rutland and Burlington R. R. at Burlington, for Troy, Boston and New York.

First Passenger Train going West,

Connects at Ogdensburgh with the Express Line of Lake Ontario Steamers at 1 o'clock P. M. for Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, Lewiston, Niagara Falls, and Buffalo.

Second Passenger Train going West.

Connects with Lake Ontario Line of Steamers for Kingston and all ports on the American shore of Lake Ontario, and with Hamilton.

Four Freight Trains leave Ogdensburgh and Rouse's Point every day Sundays excepted.

For Freight apply to George V. Hoyle, Agent, Rouse's Point.

CHARLES L. SCHLATTER,
440 Chief Eng'r and Superintendent.

Printing Paper For Sale.

FOR sale by J. & G. PARKS,

38 by 24 inches,
34 by 24 "
864tf 33 by 23 "

Also, Wrapping:

40 by 28 inches, 60 lbs to he Ream, for large bundles
29 by 18 "
18 by 18 "

All orders directed to Keeseville promptly attended

CAPS CAPS.

MENS and Boys' Silk and Worsted Plush and Cloth Caps, at E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Legal.

Mortgage Sale.—Default has been made in the payment of the debt secured by a certain mortgage, dated the 16th day of December, 1850, executed by Francis Gonyae and Josette his wife, then of the town Chesterfield, county of Essex, state of New York, to John Mattocks of Ausable, county of Clinton, state aforesaid, and with the power of sale therein contained, recorded in the office of the clerk of Essex county, in volume P. of mortgages, pages 445, 446 and 447, on the 7th day of January, 1851, there is claimed to be due on said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $129,72, and the further sum of $450 to become due in eighteen annual installments from the 16th day of December, 1852, with interest annually, and no proceeding at law or in equity having been commenced to recover the same, or any part thereof, now therefore notice is hereby given that the premises described in said mortgage will, by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, be sold discharged of said mortgage at public auction at the Adirondac hotel in Keeseville in said county, on the 22d day of June next, at one o'clock, p. m.

Said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage as follows: All that certain piece or parcel of land lying in the village of Keeseville, in the county of Essex and State of New York and bounded as follows: Beginning at the north-east end of the Pease lot in the east line of river street, running thence north thirteen degrees fifteen minutes, east along the east line of river street fifty-one links, thence south sixty-two degrees thirty minutes, east one chain and forty-seven links to Taggard's west line, thence south sixteen degrees thirty minutes, west fifty one links to Pease lot, thence north seventy-one degrees west along the north line of Pease lot one chain and forty-seven links to the place of beginning.

Also, one other certain piece of land lying in Keeseville, and described as follows: Beginning in the east line of River street, near the Pease house running thence south sixty-seven and a half degrees east along the south line of Gonyae lot two chains and seventy links to the road leading south from Keeseville, thence along the west line of said road one chain and forty-seven links to Chamberlain's lot, thence north sixty-nine degrees west along the north line of Chamberlain's lot to the east line of River street, thence along the east line of River street one chain and thirty-eight links to the place of beginning, meaning to convey the whole lot deed by David Pease to Franklin Shandrew.

JOHN MATTOCKS, Mortgagee.

FINCH & HARWOOD, Atty's.

Dated Keeseville, March 25, 1853. 464

At a Surrogates Court, held at the County Judges office in Elizabethtown, in and for the County of Essex, on the 21st day of March, A. D. 1853.

Present: J. E. McVINE, Essex County Judge.

In the matter of the application of Emeline H. Morhous & Abram Weldin, administrator and administratrix, &c. of Rensselaer Morhous, deceased, intestate, for authority to mortgage, lease or sell the Real Estate of the said intestate for the payment of his debts.

Whereas on the petition and application of Emeline H. Morhous, the administratrix, and Abram Weldin, one of the administrators of the goods, &c., of Rensselaer Morhous, late of Willsboro, in the county of Essex, deceased, it has been made satisfactorily to appear to the said County Judge and Surrogate, that the personal estate of the said deceased will be insufficient to pay his debts.

It is therefore ordered, that all persons interested in the estate of the said Rensselaer Morhous, deceased, be directed to appear before the said county Judge and Surrogate, at his office in the town of Elizabethtown, in said county, on the 9th day of May next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to show cause why authority should not be given to the said administrators to mortgage, lease or sell so much of the real estate of the said deceased as shall be necessary to pay his debts.

Witness: JOHN E. McVINE, Essex County Judge.

A true copy—attest,
464:6w J. E. McVINE, E. C. Judge.

SUPREME COURT.

Frederick L. Seeley, ag'st Isaac Heustis, Daius Breaw, James Pilling, James Adams, Edmund Kingsland, Jacob D. Kingsland, William W. Kingsland, Alfred Baber, Levi S. Scribner, Henry Green, Andrew Thompson, Stephen F. Spencer, George Adgate and Abraham B. Kingsland.

In pursuance of a decree or judgment of the Supreme Court, made in the above cause, will be sold under the direction of the subscriber, sheriff of the county of Essex, at public auction at the Adirondack Hotel in the town of Chesterfield, in the county of Essex, on Monday the 2d day of May next at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, all that certain piece or parcel of land lying and being in the town of Chesterfield, county of Essex and State of New York, to wit: a part of lot seventeen (17 in the twelve thousand acre location granted to Zepheniah Platt and others, and bounded as follows, viz: on the east by the west line of the road leading from Keeseville to Essex, on the south by a lot occupied October 18, 1836, by Mark Lafontain, on the west by land owned October 18, 1836, by Martin I. Vanderworker, and on the North by the South line of the land owned by said Vanderworker, Oct 18, 1836, leading from said road west, to land lying in rear of the above described lot. Said lot is supposed to be eight rods in front and twenty roads in rear, and to contain one acre of land, and is known as the Dennis Breau tavern stand in Chesterfield aforesaid.

C. W. ENSIGN, Sheriff,
By J. C. FINCH, Deputy.

Keeseville, March 19, 1853. 462-7w

BANK DEPARTMENT.

ALBANY, Jany 26th, 1823.

NOTICE is hereby given in pursuance of the Statute made and provided, that all the circulating notes issued by the McIntyre Bank, at Adirondac, (an individual bank) must be presented at the office of the superintendent of the Banking Department of the State of New York, for payment within two years from the date of this notice, or the funds deposited for the redemption of the said notes will be given up to the said bank.

D. B. St. John, Supt.

Two years from Jany. 26, 1853 459-2y

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

NOTICE is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John Cummings, late of North Hudson, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to PETER B. WALKER, one of the administrators of the said deceased, at his dwelling house in North Hudson, his place of doing business, on or before the 25th day of May next, that being at least six Months after the day of the first publication of this notice. Dated this 16th day of November, A. D. 1852.

ABIGAIL CUMMINGS, Administratrix,
PETER B. WALKER, DAVID DAY, Administrators.

40-6m

Legal.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS John McDermid, then of Chesterfield, County of Essex and State of New York, by a certain Mortgage, dated December 18th, 1850, and with the power of sale therein contained duly recorded in the office of the Clerk of Essex County, in Vol. P of Mortgages on pages 434, and 435, on the 21st day of December, 1 50, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to secure the payment of fifty dollars and interest, did duly Mortgage to John McGuire of the second place, certain premises described in said mortgage as follows:—All those two certain building lots, lying and being in the village of Keeseville, County of Essex and State of New York. The first of said lots is bounded and described as follows: situated on the Port Kent Hill, in the said village, on a street to be known and designated as back street, and measuring on said street fifty five feet in front and the same in rear and extending back one hundred feet—to be known and designated as lot number (4).—The second of the aforesaid lots is situated also in the said village of Keeseville, on the street known and designated as McDermid street, to commence on the said street one hundred and fifty feet from the line of the Port Kent road and to be sixty feet in front on said street and run back to James McGuires land be the said lots more or less. And whereas the said Mortgage was by an instrument in writing dated February 18th, 1853, duly assigned by the said John McGuire to Michael Keenan, jr. of Chesterfield, Essex County. On which Mortgage there is claimed to be due at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $57.67. And default having been made in the payment of said $57,67 and no proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the same, or any part thereof: now therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage and of the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgaged premises will be sold at public auction on the 23d day of May next at 10 o'clock A. M. at the Adirondac Hotel, in the village of Keeseville, Essex County.

MICHAEL KEENAN, Jr.
Assignee of Mortgagee.

JOHN McELROY, Atty. 460 13w

Dated, Keeseville February 26th, 1853.

MORTGAGE SALE

DEFAULT has been made in the payment of the debt secured by a certain mortgage, dated the 21st day of October, 1847, executed by William Galusha and Sophia, his wife, then of Wilmington, in the County of Essex, State of N. Y., to Uriah D. Mihills of Keene, in the county and state aforesaid, and recorded in the office of the clerk of Essex county, in volume N. of Mortgages, pages 283 and 284, on the 28th day of December, 1847, at nine o'clock, A. M. Said mortgage was duly assigned by said Mihills to Willard Bell, January 14th, 1848, and by said Bell duly assigned to Reuben Patridge, January 30, 1849, and by said Patridge duly assigned to M. Finch, Amos Avery and Charles Malbone, assignees of Reuben Sanford, January 1st, 1849, who are now the owners of said mortgage. There is claimed to be due on said mortgage, at the time of the first publication of this notice, the sum of $167.93. Now therefore, notice is hereby given that the premises described in said mortgage, will, by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, be sold at public auction, at the Adirondac Hotel, in Keeseville, in said county, on the 8th day of June next, at 1 o'clock, P. M.

Said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage as follows: All that certain piece or parcel of land situate in the town of Wilmington, in the county of Essex, being a part of lot No 34, of Mallory's grant, bounded as follows: beginning at a stake and stones standing on the North line of the Sampson lot, 141 rods from the centre of the road leading from the Carpenter house to Blish and Burdick's forge, being the South-West corner of Ephraim French's land, and running East on said line to the West line of said grant, thence North on the line of said grant to the centre of the road leading from Sanford's to St. Armand, thence running Easterly in the centre of said road to a stake and stones, being the North-West corner of a piece of land occupied by David Hatch, thence South 42 degrees, West six rods to the South bank of Mill Brook, thence Easterly along the South bank of said brook 30 rods to a stake and stones being the South-East corner of said Hatch lot, thence North 35 degrees East to the centre of said road, thence Easterly in the centre of said road to the North-West corner of the Carpenter lot, thence South on the line of said Carpenter lot to the South-west corner of said lot, thence East on the line of said lot to the brook, thence up the brook in the centre thereof to a point ten rods below the sawmill, and thence on the South bank of said brook on the line of Ephraim French's lot to the North-west corner thereof, thence South 43 degrees west on the line of said French's lot 126 rods to the place of beginning, containing seventy-five acres, be the same more or less.

M. FINCH, AMOS AVERY, CHAS. MALBONE, Assignees.

FINCH & HARWOOD, Atty's.

Dated March 12, 1853. 462-13w

The People of the State of New York, to the Creditors and next of kin of Hannah Buckminister, late of Moriah, Essex County, deceased, send GREETING:

You and each of you are hereby cited and required personally, to be and appear before our county Judge and Surrogate of the county of Essex, at his office in the town of Elizabethtown, on the second day of May next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the final settlement of the accounts of Jacob Tappen, administrator, and Lorinda Tappen, administratrix, of all and singular the goods, chattels and credits of Hannah Buckminister, deceased.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the Surrogate's seal of said county of Essex to be hereunto affixed at Elizabethtown, this 21st day of March, A. D. 1853.

L. S.

Witness: JOHN E. McVINE,
464:4w Essex Co. Judge.

Gas, Steam & Water Fitting

and Fixtures, Wrought-Iron Pipe, Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Plumbers' Materials, &c.

We are now prepared to do work in dwellings, Stores, Churches, Mills, or Factories, in the way of Gas and Steam Fitting or Plumbing, in the most complete and satisfactory manner. Having workmen in each of the above branches who cannot be excelled by any similar establishments in the country all orders will be promptly executed, and work done in any part of the country.

We have also constantly on hand and for Sale at Manufacturers' Prices, Wrought Iron Pipe for Gas, steam, and water, Twisted and Plain Brass Pipe, Steam Valves, Brass and Iron Stop Cocks, Teas, Elbows, Coupling, Brass Globe, Cross and Check Valves, &c. Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Leather Hose, Hose Pipe and Couplings, with every material in Lead, Brass and Plated Work for Plumbers' use.—Plug Basins, Hoppers, Closet Pans, Corner Basins, and Baths, of all descriptions.

Also, a splendid assortment of Chandeliers, Pendants, Brackets &c, on new and rich styles, to which we are receiving constant additions.

PEIRCE and SOUTHWICK.

223 and 235 River-Street, (Opposite Troy House,) Troy, N. Y. 445-tf

ALFRED H. PEIRCE. LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK,

EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR.

50 BARRELS made from Pure Genessee Wheat at the lowest price at

REYNOLDS & TUFTS

Dec. 18, 1852.

Medicine.

THE WONDER OF THE WORLD.

DEVINES' COMPOUND

PITCH LOZENGE,

A sure and pleasant Remedy for Colds, Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, and if lungs enough are left to sustain life, A CERTAIN CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, safe for the Infant or the Invalid, in any stage of weakness.

"The statements that consumption cannot be cured, has destroyed more lives than the disease itself."—[Dr Warren Read the following, which to a candid mind places this "Great Remedy," like Caesar's wife "above suspicion."

TO THE PUBLIC!

We, the undersigned, citizens of Lee, Mass., are acquainted with Mr. Devines, the proprietor and Manufacturer of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge and from what we know of it ourselves and have learned from others of its beneficial effects, in cases where it has been used, give it as our opinion that it is a valuable remedy in diseases for which it is recommended and is worthy of public confidence. A. G. Hulburt, Leonard Church, F. G. Taylor, Wm Taylor, B. A. Bliss, S. A. Hulburt, Josephus Crafts, T. P. Eldridge.

If any individual is to be pitied, and needs sympathy, it is the consumptive—always expecting to get well and yet the painful evidence of decay almost "makes the inner soul shrink with the outer flesh."

"Some bloom as roses bloom, and live as roses live, A single morning space!"

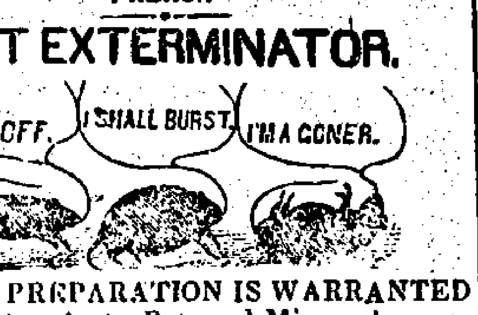
While others in more mature life—by some imprudence and a slight cold neglected—in the hectic flush—the painful cough.

"The prints of their departing steps appears."

BUT HE GIVES HOPE! Mr Wm. Devines, the originator and manufacturer of the Pitch Lozenge, under Providence, was raised to perfect health by the use of these Lozenges alone, after he was pronounced by his physician to be almost dying with consumption.

This fact is generally known in Berkshire County and is the neighborhood talk, and wonder in Lee, and in Great Barrington, Mass.

From Dr. Brown, of Lee, Mass.



This certifies that I have made use of Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenge for cold and cough, and found immediate relief. Therefore I would recommend it to the public as being a safe and sovereign remedy. H. C. BROWN.

Lee, October 28, 1851.

Sold wholesale at Albany, by Wm. A. Wharton & Co., Druggists, &c., H. C. Sheldon, Troy, Spencer & Nichols, Whitehall, Hammonds & Co., Chaumpoint, W G Lyon, Essex, Reynolds & Tufts and I A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. Orders addressed Wm Devines, Jamaica L. I. 436 1y Wm. RENNE, Traveling Agent

M. DUBOYS'
FRENCH

RAT EXTERMINATOR.

THIS PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to exterminate Rats and Mice, whenever used as directed, and to leave no offensive stench on the premises cleared of these annoying vermin. Its use is perfectly safe in any place and at all times, which is not the case with ordinary remedies for this evil.

CAUTION!—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!—The extraordinary success of M. Duboy's Rat Exterminator has excited the cupidity of some dishonest and irresponsible persons to counterfeit it. Inquire for M. Duboy's French Rat Extirminator, and take no other. Large boxes at 25 cents. LYNDE & OSBURN.

Rochester, N. Y., Sole American Agents, to whom all orders should be addressed.

For sale by Stearns & Beckwith, Peru. I. A. Hasbrouck, Druggist, Keeseville. 444 1y

Miscellaneous,

WOOLEN MANUFACTURING

IN all its various branches, will be carried on at the Keeseville Woolen Manufacturing Establishment, in Keeseville, N. Y.

Wool of any quality will be received in exchange for Cloth,

CASSIMERES, SATINETS,

Flannels, &c.

The Goods of this Establishment for the last two years, are well known at home and in market, and needs no other recommendation than a fair trial. Farmers and others wishing to make the most out of their wool, will find it to their advantage to call and exchange their wool for cloths. They may rest assured that they will be fairly dealt with, as no goods will be offered but those that will give satisfaction.

C. Roelofson has made arrangements which will enable him to pay

Part Cash

on Exchanges, or all CASH for WOOL when Price and Quality Suit.

On hand and ready for Exchanging, Grey Cloths, Mixed Satinets—VERY HEAVY—fine and medium Cassimeres, Red Flannel—yard wide—the different kinds also for sale.

THE CUSTOM

CARDING

will be carried on as usual.

C. ROELOFSON & Co.

Keeseville, May 26th, 1852. 421tf

WOOL!! WOOL!!!

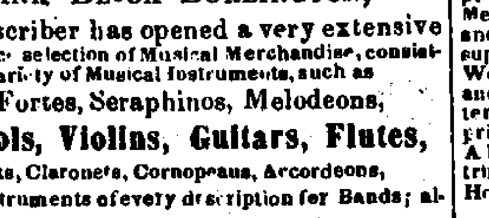
Cash Paid for Wool

BY

Matthews & Ames,

At the Old Stand of

H. & H. MATTHEWS.



Every discription of Woolen and Cotton Goods given in exchange for Wool if wanted.

HAVING increased our stock of Goods by a second Spring purchase. We feel confident that we shall be able to supply all who may wish Goods or Groceries of any description, in part, or wholly, for their Fleece, Pulled Tag Wool.

PIANO FORTE,

AND

MUSIC STORE.

No. 1, BANK BLOCK BURLINGTON, VT

THE Subscriber has opened a very extensive and choice selection of Musical Merchandise, consisting of every variety of Musical Instruments, such as

Piano Fortes, Seraphinos, Melodeons,

Bass Viols, Violins, Guitars, Flutes,

Flagolets, Claronets, Cornopeans, Accordeons,

and Brass Instruments of every description for Bands; also—

BASS VIOL AND VIOLIN STRINGS, TUNING FORKS, TUNING HAMMERS, &c.

The assortment of Sheet Music, consists of about Four Thousand Pieces of the latest and most popular Music of the day, additions to which will be made every week, from the extensive Importing and Publishing Houses in New York and Boston. Instruction Books on hand for every Instrument, and all new works received as soon as published.

CHURCH MUSIC BOOKS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

The attention of Purchasers is respectfully invited to the assortment of Piano Fortes, Seraphines and Melodeons, as they are from the best Manufacturers in the country, and every instrument sold by me will be warranted, unless otherwise stated to the purchaser.

All the above goods will be sold as low as can be purchased in New York or Boston, and the orders of teachers and those who buy to sell again, are respectfully solicited, and will be filled and sent to any part of the country, as may be directed.

June 5. 3m422 L. S. RUST.

CASH,

AND THE

Highest Market Price

WILL BE PAID FOR WOOL, AT THE WOOLEN FACTORY, by

C. F. ROELOFSON & Co.

Keeseville, July 8th, 1852. 427tf

Miscellaneous.

New Goods! New Good!

—AT—

NICHOLS' CASH STORE,

150 CHURCH Street,

BURLINGTON, VERMONT,

HAVING just Purchased in New York and Boston, a large stock of Goods of all kinds we now offer them for sale, and those who are in want of goods in our line will save money by calling on us before purchasing. We are confident we have the largest stock of goods ever brought into Burlington at one time; we were induced to buy largely in consequence of the low prices of many kinds of goods, particularly dress goods of almost every kind.

We have a full stock of everything usually kept in a dry good store; Also West India goods and groceries, a very large stock of Teas and Sugars low by chest and cask. Also at cost to clear them off Paper Hangings, Crockery and glass Ware and looking glasses.

CARPETING, AT THE CARPET WARE HOUSE.

BURLINGTON, VT.

Received this day and now opening 50 pieces of all grades, the best of Tapestry, Brussells, Three Ply, Superfine, fine and common Ingrain and Venetian, all Wool, Cotton and Cotton and Wool; Also, all the different qualities of Stair Carpeting, Straw Matting, Oil Cloth, Drugetts, Crumb Cloths, Hearth Rugs, Door Matts, &c., very cheap.

Burlington, Nov. '52. 446

CHINA, GLASS, & EARTHEN WARE.

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

(SUCCESSORS TO PEIRCE AND KING,)

IMPORTERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS,

235 River Street, Troy, New York.

Having our Stock very complete from Importations, and otherwise, are prepared to offer a large assortment of all Goods in our Line, Wholesale or Retail, at the Lowest New York or Boston Prices for Cash or Approved Credit, among which will be found:

Fine White Ironstone and White Glazed Ware Flown Blue, Flown Mulberry, Light Blue and common Wares, and the Acacia Ware, formerly kept by Mr A. Sisson.

White, Gold Band and Decorated French China in sets or separate prices.

Tea sets, of French and English China white, Gilt, or decorated. India China in great variety

Toile Sets, decorated plain, full, double, or single sets.

Cut Glass Ware, in Decanters, Goblets Champaigne Wines &c., of new and rich patterns. Glass cut to match any pattern.

Moulded and plain Glass Ware, of every description and style.

Girandoles, Candelabras, Solar Lamps, and Chandeliers, in every variety, from the manufactory of Cornelius & Co. Philadelphia

Solar Globes, cut and Plain, Solar and Camphene Wicks and Chimnies. Astral and Coal Wicks, Boat Globes, Astral Chimnies &c., &c.

Hall Lanterns of cut, plain, and stained Glass,

Lanterns of every variety. Also a new and desirable style with patent catch, &c. for Railroads and Steamboats, and made to order with names or initials engraved on.

Tea Trays and Waiters, new styles and shapes of our own importation, singly or in sets.

Looking Glasses, Britannia Ware Table Mats &c, &c

Also a splendid assortment of Fancy Goods, consisting of Vases, Colognes, Cardreceivers, Allumets, Decanters, Wine Bottles &c., in China, Terra Cotta, Parian Marble, and Bohemian Ware,

PEIRCE & SOUTHWICK.

235 River Street, Opposite Troy House, Troy, N Y.

ALFRED H. PEIRCE. LEWIS L. SOUTHWICK. 445

New Clothing Store.

WE, the undersigned, have made arrangements with one of the best tailors in the country, to manufacture clothing for us of every description, consisting of overcoats, sacks, dress and frock coats, pants, vests, overalls and boys cloths, together with all kinds of under garments, which are made after the most improved styles, and for workmanship and durability cannot be excelled.

In addition we offer a large assortment of fine

Fashionable Clothing,

made by tailors in New York, that for fitting even Genio C. Scott, in his palmiest days was not a circumstance.

We would also inform the public that it is to be sold by wholesale or retail at very low figures for cash, and for quantity and cheapness is far in advance of any other concern in Northern New York. A comparison with the trade, both in prices and quantity is particularly requested.

In connection with the above we would call the attention of the community to our stock of

Fancy & Staple Dry Goods,

of every variety; also, hats, caps and furs, paper hangings, window shades, hardware and groceries, rifles and shot guns, amunition, &c., &c. Trunks, and valises, carpet bags, whips and lashes, stone ware, and every description of goods that are wanted or can be found in the country. Don't forget

No. 1000, Main Street,

Keeseville, opposite the Adirondac Hotel.
BOYNTON & SMITH.

January 20, 1853.

MATTHEWS & AMES,

(SUCCESSORS TO H. & H. MATTHEWS,)

DEALERS IN

Tin, Sheet Iron, Copper, Japan and BRITANNIA WARE,

together with a large and well selected assortment of

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

which they will sell by the piece or package, at a small advance from cost. Also, a general assortment of

YANKEE NOTIONS

And Fancy Articles,

suitable to the Pedlars Trade, which they will sell low for cash.

All kinds of barter taken in exchange for Goods.

Keeseville, April 17, 1852. 415

New and Cheap Goods

E. H. GARFIELD & Co.

Have just received from New York and Boston one of the best assortments of

FALL AND WINTER GOODS

ever exhibited in Keeseville.

Among their stock of DRY GOODS will be found a beautiful assortment of Wool, and Cotton, and wool d'Laines, and Cashmeres, both plain and printed, of all qualities, and prices from one shilling to one Dollar per yard, French Merinoes, Paramattas, Alpaccas Lyonese Cloth, English and American Prints, Ginghams, Flannels of all kinds, a superior quality of Bay State Flannel of different colors, Wool Plaids, Tickings, Stripes &c, &c, Shawls—a large and splended assortment of Bay State, Empire State, Waterloo, Scotch Plaid, and Printed WOOL SHAWLS, at prices much lower than ever before offered in this market. A beautiful assortment of Bonnet Silks and Velvets, with trimmings of all kinds. Also dress silks and Satins, Gloves, Hosiery &c.

READY MADE CLOTHING

Of all kinds, sold very cheap, also, Cloths, Broad Cloths Plain and fancy Cassimeres, Black Doe Skins, Satinets Silks and Worsted, Vestings, Serges, &c., &c., with many other articles too numerous to mention. 'Tis unnecessary to add that all the above goods will be sold at very low prices. Only remember their motto 'quick sales and small profits.' Please call and examine Goods and prices, and satisfy yourselves. Opposite the Adirondac Hotel.

Keeseville Oct. 1852.

NEW STORE.

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

True Union store.

MR. NICHOLS of Burlington, Vt., has established a branch of his stock at Essex, nearly opposite the Steam Boat Landing in Fancher's Building anjoining the Hotel, where he has on hand nearly all kinds of Dry goods and Groceries and intends keeping up a good assortment by constantly replenishing, and will sell as low as can be bought in Burlington for cash and ready pay, most kinds of Produce taken. Mr N. flatters himself that with the facilities he has for purchasing goods both in Boston and North New York, that he can compete with any store in Northern New York or Vermont. Please give us a call and see for themselves. "A penny saved is two penny earned."

WANTED 10,000 lbs. BUTTER

N. Y., June 16, 1852.

BUTTER FOR SALE.

LARGE quantity of good dairy Butter bought in large and small packages of the finest quality for sale at BOYNTON & SMITH.

Keeseville Jan 27, 1853.

Miscellany.

THE NORTHERN

New York, Mutual

INSURANCE COMPANY,

Plattsburgh, Clinton Co., N. Y.

Capital, 100,000.

THIS Company is organised under the General Insurance Law of the State of New York, with a sound, reliable capital, and offers the following superior inducements:

1. The safer kinds of property are separated entirely from the more hazardous; affording the advantages of two distinct companies, with the expense of but one.

2. The first class, or Farmer's Department, consists of Farm-houses, Farm buildings and their contents and detatched dwellings and their contents in villages, when unexposed by more hazardous buildings.

3. The second class or Merchant's Department, consists of exposing dwellings, stores, merchandize and property not deemed specially hazardous.

4. Each class pays its own losses and thu securing equal justice and proportional rate to both.

5. Not more than $3,000 of the first class, or more than $2.000 of the second class, will be taken in one risk, nor any number of risks so contiguous as probably to subject the Company to a loss of over $3,000 at any one fire; thereby saving it from heavy and ruinous losses.

6. In taking surveys of property, the agent will be the agent of the company, and the company be responsible for the correctness of all surveys made by its agents.

7. Any one insured, may at any time surrender his policy and withdraw from the company by paying his proportion of the losses and expense up to the date of such surrender.

8. Applications will take effect at noon of the day on which they are made (unless a different day is directed by the applicant,) thus relieving the party from anxiety and suspense.

9. The company no have two-thirds clause, but will pay all loss and damage not exceeding the amount insured.

10. In case of difference of opinion in settlement of losses, the company will submit the same to arbitration in the county where the loss occurs, the claimant choosing one, the company one, and the two arbitrators another.

11. Each person insured in the company becomes a member and will be entitled to a participation of the profits, if any surplus should accrue, not required for the payment of losses.

12. This company will be responsible for losses by fire caused by lightning.

13. This company will take no risks in cities.

The Directors return their acknowledgments to the public for ther readiness in aiding the organization of this company, and will endeavor to make it a safe and reliable institution, affording protection from the ravages of fire, at reasonable rates, and with certainty of payment in case of loss.

DIRECTORS.

James Farr, Fort Ann, Washington co; Olif Abel, Whitehall, do; Walter Geer, Glen's Falls, Warren co; Pelatiah Richards, Warrensburgh, do; Wm. E. Calkins, Ticonderoga, Essex co.; John Horton, Columbia Village, St. Lawrence co.; Thomas H. Conkey, Canton, do.; Amasa C. Moore, Samuel F. Viles, Henry G. Hewitt, Jacob H Holt, John Boynton, Peter S. Palmer, Cornelius Halsey, Z. C. Platt, W. W. Hartwell, Benjamine Gilman, George Moore, Plattsburgh, Clinton Co,

OFFICERS.

SAMUEL F. VILES, Presikent;
WM. W. HARTWELL, Vice President;
ZEPHENIAH C. PLATT, Treasurer;
GEORGE MOORE, Secretary;
I. C. MIX, and
R. G SWINBRN, General Agents.
JAMES B DICKINSON, Agent Ausable Forks.

Plattsburgh, Dec. 4th, 1852. 44 tf

PROCLAMATION!

Know all men by these presents that I,

James A. Walker,

of Burlington, Vt., have just returned from the Boston and New York markets with the best selected assortmet of Ladies, Gents, Misses, Boys, Youths and Childrens ever offered north of the cities, and have removed from the store lately occupied by me in Bank Block, to two doors east, same block, (one door West of I. D. Bixby & Co.) where I shall offer them at my usual low prices; having a large share of my goods expressly for me at, the best manufactories in New England, I am enabled to sell a good article and WARRANT it, at a very low price. I have now on hand every variety of Boots and shoes, all of which I will sell at a very small advance on the original cost.

Boots and Shoes

No. 3, Bank Block,

Opposite the Park,

465tf BURLINGTON, Vt.

RUTLAND & BURLINGTON Rail Road.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after Monday, Nov. 1st, trains will run as follows, viz:

FOR BOSTON, NEW YORK AND INTERMEDIATE PLACES.

LEAVE
Burlington at	8,15	A. M.	4.15	P. M.
Vergennes	9.09	"	5,00	"
Middlebury	9,42	"	5,35	"
Brandon	10.20	"	6.18
Rutland	11.00	"	AR. 7,00
			L. 6,30	A. M.
Cuttingville	11.25	"	6.55	"
Ludlow	12 06	P. M.	7.35	"
Proctorsville	12,15	"	7,42	"
Chester	12 40	"	8,10	"
Arriving Bellows Falls	1.15	"	8.45	"
Boston	7,00	"	1,00	P. M.
LEAVE
Boston	7 45	A. M.	12.00	M.
Bellows Falls	12 10		5 15	P. M.
Chester	12 40	P. M.	5,50	"
Proctorsville	1 07	"	6,17	"
Ludlow	1.15	"	6,25	"
Cottingville	1 52	"	7.06	"
Rutland	AR. 2,15	"	AR. 7 30	"
	L. 3.00	"	L. 7.45	"
Brandon	3 38	"	8 25	"
Middlebury	4.25	"	9.04	"
Vergennes	5,00	"	9,37	"
Arriving Burlington	5.45	"	10.30	"

CONNECT AT BURLINGTON,

with the Steamers for PLATTSBURGH and MONTREAL RAIL ROADS and with the VERMONT and CENTRAL and VERMONT and CANADA RAIL ROADS for the East, North and West, via CHAMPLAIN and ST. LAWRENCE, and the OGDENSBURGH RAIL ROADS.

CONNECT AT RUTLAND

with the Trains of Western Vermont, Rutland and Washington and Saratoga and Washington Rail Roads, for New York, Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Buffalo and the West,

CONNECT AT BELLOWS FALLS

with the Trains of the Cheshire, Vermont Valley, and Sullivan Rail Roads for Windsor, Boston, Worcester, Lowell Springfield, Hartford, New Haven, and New York.

Fares are less when Tickets are purchased at the Offices than when paid in the Cars

Burlington, Oct. 25, 1852. JOHN S. DUNLAP, Superintendent.
415

CORLIES & DECKER,

(Successors to J N. & E. W. Corlies.)

—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—

TEAS,

Agents for the Sale of

Manufactured Tobacco,

192 Pearl Street,

Near Maiden Lane, 43 New York.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

Essex County Republican

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING BY JONATHAN TARBELL, Editor and Proprietor. TERMS, $2 Per Year---$1,50 in Advance.

VOLUME XIII. NO. 51. KEESEVILLE, N. Y. MAY 7, 1853. WHOLE NUMBER 470

From the Students' Offering.

DREAMS OF HOME.

BY SARAH M. RICKETSON.

"Home is the sphere of harmony and peace,
The spot where angels find a resting place,
When bearing blessings, they descend to earth"

Who is there that can describe the agonizing feelings of one that is called to part from their home, perhaps for ever. You bid father, mother, brother and sister, good bye, and never expect to see them the same if you see them at all. They too will leave their homes and when you return to your native land your home will be the home of others, your garden will be watered by other hands, and the flowers with which you used to deck your kind sisters room, are now made to decorate the room of other sisters, for yours are far from the peaceful home where you left them. And the Churchyard that you once visited for the purpose of gathering the Mayflowers, you now visit with far different feelings and for a different purpose. for there is a white slab which marks the resting place of your kind, and honored parents. Your father who was always your guide, and who watched your manhood's growth with joy, and your mother who was all kindness and love, and who watched your infant steps, and gave you kind advice when you had grown to more mature years, and she it was that gave you the last look as the stage carried you on your pilgrimage, but it was your father that said to you, "My son, you may forget your father, mother, brothers and sisters. but do not forget your God." Act as they did and you will meet them in Heaven.—And in that same graveyard there is another grave, in a shady nook among clustered trees is the slab that points out the narrow resting place of one of your beloved sisters, She was the youngest one, and when you left her in such health, strength and beauty, you did not dream that she could die. All are in the hands of God, and He judges us as He sees fit. When you were upon the raging billows, and tossed by the angry surge, when your ship dipped its sides in the foaming waters, and the waves threw you from side to side, where were your thoughts? where did you wish you were? At home. When you were in distant lands, and among strangers, no one there that you ever saw before, no one you could confide in, no one you could lay your aching head upon, no one that you could expect a kind word from, then and there it was you thought of home. When you laid your aching head upon your pillow at night, and when all was wrapt in the arms of sleep, nothing to disturb the silent repose of that midnight hour, then it was you thought of home. When you were tossed upon the bed of sickness, when the fever burned your throbbing brow, and your bed was surrounded by strangers, then and there it was you thought of home.—When you saw families surrounded by their friends, then you thought of home, and the many loved ones at home. If you had plunged in folly, and vice; in your drunken sleep your dreams would have carried you to that home that you had left far, far behind.

From the Students' Offering.

BY HARRIET BABER.

"As the flower fadeth and dieth, so shall I fade and die."

These words were uttered by a girl, who had scarcely passed her fifteenth birth day; yet death had too nearly left his well known stamp, on those features, so beautiful in symmetry and delicacy. The monster Death had marked her for his prey; yet young as she was, she spake of it as calmly, as though about to set out on a journey. Disease had wasted her form to a shadow, and the once jetty locks had now all fallen out. I remember the first time I ever saw her. A wreath of white rosebuds alone adorned her black hair, which fell in beautiful curls over her snow-white neck:—She then was the gayest of the gay. And was this beautiful being, so soon to leave this world, with its pleasures? Why is it, that Death seems to take the loveliest, and most cherished as his: Ah! methinks I hear the grim monster himself reply; the rich and the poor, the handsome and the lovely, the sinful and the righteous, the loved and the despised, all are alike to me. Death was surely, but slowly approaching; no power could save but that of the Almighty, in Him alone she put her trust.—But death to her had no pange; she could say "Oh! death where is thy sting, Oh! grave where is thy victory?" Alas: the great destroyer came at length, and took this lovely girl to that world where everything is pure and holy. She died with these words on her lips? "Father I go in peace." Her body was interred and dust returned again to dust. Her friends all mourned the loss of one so amiable, but their grief was checked by the thought that death for her was gain. Thus ended the career of the young, beautiful, and cherished. Not only the aged but the young may die; therefore, Remember thy Creator in the days of thy youth.

RATHER SNUFFY.—The waggish editor of the St. Albans Messenger, learning that the celebrated tree near Fort Edward, under which Jane McCrea was assassinated by the Indians, had been cut down and made into snuff boxes, perpetrates the following;—

EPITAPH.

Poor Jade McCrea, by tobahawks
Was slaid, all under a tree,
A pidch, a sdeese, add a snuff-box
Her grateful bodubedt shall be.

A bord, a dood, add after tea,
Produce the box, a pidch enjoy:
For Jade McCrea, sdeese loud ker-chee,
Id stregg "Catarrh" and Banuboy."

From the Students' Offering.

AMERICAN SLAVERY.

BY CARRIE W. KEESE.

Slavery, how much does this word tell of misery, suffering, degradation and toil, of families separated, of dearest ties broken, of man degraded to the level of the brute. And where think you this great evil exists; even here in our boasted Republic, under the star spangled banner, where it has been so often falsely said all are free and equal. Yes in the very streets of our southern cities, man, made in the image of his Creator, is bought and sold like a beast of the field; and their lying masters say "our slaves are fat and sleek and had rather be in slavery with us to provide for them, than to be free, for they know not how to take care of themselves." If this is so, why are there so many daily fleeing northward through the dark dismal swamps of the Carolinas, the gloomy forests of Tennesee, hiding by day and fleeing by night with nought but the north star for their guide?

And even when they arrive weary and perhaps pursued in the free states as they are called, there is scarce a helping hand outstretched to aid, for fear of the penalties of that worst of all laws, the 'Fugitive Slave Law."

That law, by advocating which Daniel Webster doubtless hoped to gain the good graces of the southerners, after all his promises always while life remained to plead the cause of liberty, as he so well knew how to plead, thus perjuring himself in the eyes of many of his countrymen, but he now sleeps in his grave, and let him rest in peace, if one so fallen can.

The slave must fly far from this liberty loving republic, to monarchial Canada, and God grant it may never be annexed to the United States. For Oh! how much misery and suffering it would bring to thousands of hearts that now beat peacefully, feeling that they are beyond the reach of the oppressor, that they would be given up to the bloodhounds of the slave hunter.

From the Students Offering.

DEATH.

BY SARAH M. MORRIS.

"Death's but a path that must be trod
If man would ever pass to God."

Who has not been called to mourn the loss of some dearly beloved friend or relative? It some times seems, as though those we loved the most, are taken the soonest from us. It is indeed a sad thing to see a loved one suffer the agonies of death and to think that we shall see them no more on earth—but how is this melancholy dissipated, and this sadness lightened by the thought that they are in heaven, and that there they are watching o'er us. Some do not believe that our friends have any knowledge of what we are doing after their decease but to me,

"It is indeed a beautiful belief,
That ever round our head,
Are hovering on Angels wings,
The spirits of the dead."

The King of Terror spares none—the rich, the poor, the old, the young, the great and lowly all alike, must sooner or later yield to his summons.

Our nation has but just been called to mourn the loss of one of the greatest statesmen of the age. Yes, Daniel Webster—the pillar of our nation's strength is no more. He was indeed a great man. It will probably be long ere we find another to fill his place. In greatness of mind, our country never possessed his equal. The names of Washington and Webster, will be handed down to posterity as the greatest men our nation ever produced, though in different ways. Webster in thought and eloquence, Washington in war.

And yet Death has stricken down both these great men—in their power and might and has regarded in its firm and equal tread neither the prerogatives of name or position. Should not this then be a warning to us, that we should be ever prepared, when God shall call us, to take our place in heaven with the angels, and that God may not say to us, "Depart ye cursed into everlasting fire, prepared for the Devil and his angels."

From the Students' Offering.

THE TEA PLANT.

BY J. BRECKENRIDGE PEABODY.

Tea was first introduced into Europe, in the early part of the seventeenth century. The tea plant is indigenous to China and Japan. It has been used in the former country from time immemorial.

It is only in a particular part of the country that the plant is cultivated and this tract is situated in about the center of the Chinese Empire; the northern part being too cold, and the southern too hot. The Chinese give it the name of thea. It is propagated by them from seeds deposited in rows four or five feet apart. It is so uncertain about ther coming up, that it is necessary to put seven or eight in the same hole.

The ground between the holes is kept free from weeds, and the plants are not allowed to attain a greater height than is convenient for gathering the leaves.

The leaves are not gathered until the third year. The plant will grow either in low or elevated situations, but thrives best in light, stony soil.

☞Shad, hallibut, and so on, may be found at the Tremont Saloon.—Rochester Adv.

Shad and Hallibut are plenty here in their season, but the "so on" is a fish unknown in these parts. Will our friend of the Advertiser, send us a specimen.—N. Y. Farmer.

From the Students' Offering.

MEMORY OF HAPPY HOURS.

BY HELEN E. WESTON.

In yonder hovel, low and obscure, far, far indeed from the happy and gay, surrounded by want and misery, sat a lovely inmate, the only occupant of that desolate abode, "Where that ill matched pair, age and want," are her only associates. Her brow, once high and noble, now deeply furrowed by care and disappointment. Her long disheveled hair, once the raven's black, now given place to the snows of fifty winters. Her eyes, dark and melancholy, were bent steadily on the scanty fire before her She moves not, she sighs not, so motionless and statue-like, one would scarcely believe her the possessor of life and motion. Why looks she thus fearfully strange. Ever and anon her eye assumes a wild expression. It was not the burning fire of the maniac's eye, neither was it the pleading agonising gaze of one in silent prayer. But suddenly a smile passed over her rigid countenance. That smile so long stranger to these marble like features. It could not be she smiled at her solitude, dispair and misery. No indeed she smiled not at her degradation, she saw it not, she heeded it not; she is happy now. Memory has opened wide her store house, has brought to her recollection happy hours upon which to dream and muse. The cold stern reality of her being has yielded to the thoughts of hours so strangely fraught with peace and contentment. Again youth blooms on her cheek and sparkles in her eye. Again hope whispers to her, and fondly woos her with those flattering accents. Still again her heart thrills with love and affection, again she is betrothed, and led to the altar, she breathes the holy vows, and listens to fond congratulations. Oh! wake not deluded victim from thy fond refreshing dream.—Fain would I witness thy return to this cold land of reality. A sad reverse for thee. I leave thee child of sorrow, while memory still holds thee enchanted, in her fond endearing embrace.

From the Students' Offering.

BY HURLBUT KEESE.

Among the desires and inclinations given us by our Creator, the love of knowledge is one of the noblest and most ennobling,—though through our first parents it has been the cause of all the pain we now suffer.—They thought to make themselves equal with God by eating of a fruit which would tickle the palate and delight the senses—we, if we gain in knowledge, and become more like God, must do so by giving the reins to our nobler inclinations while we curb the grosser ones. One of the amplest means afforded us for the attainment of knowledge is reading, by that we may know of the most distant parts of the world and the true aspect of men and things around us, though we be not able to move from our own door. Through this medium we may commune with other minds, imbibing the good while we remain uncontaminated by the bad, for it is a man's better nature that he puts into a book, while if we could associate with him, our love of his virtues would soften his vices, and we might learn to copy them.

In an interesting book we may drown our passing sorrows, and forget the anguish of the hour—we may drive away the grim spooters of the past, and shut our eyes to the dimmer ones of the future.

Place in the hands of a boy the story of noble deeds, his heart will swell with a lighter influence, and he will long to be a man that he may go forth to administer joy and gladness to his fellow man—as he goes on with the story his heart beats prouder and purer, and he scorns to do an ignoble deed. Teach a little girl the love of reading, surround her with scenes of the true, the beautiful, the good, and they will become her delight, her peculiar sphere—she will never repay you with falsehearted-ness, untrue to her nature.

Look into the lives of great and good men, and you will find they have become such through an early love of good reading.

From the Students' Offering.

EVENING REFLECTIONS.

BY ANGELINE M. AUSTIN.

A calm summer twilight is invested with peculiar interest to the thoughful. Bright and beautiful memories cluster around us at this holy hour, memories that smile through the dim vista of departed years.—It is in an hour like this, when the glorious orb of day has retired from the world that meditation assumes the throne and thought loves to turn from the cares of life and hold sweet communion with nature and our Father in Heaven. "The hum of the day has ceased, Hope and memory possess the mind, and fancy wanders at will, back to the scenes of early life. Affection has pour'd a bright halo around the thorn planted path of life. But a tear mingles in the nectar bowl of the past, and sadness steals over the mind as we refer to those of our friends who have left us, it may be forever. We recall to mind those now dead, who once lived with us in the communion of friendship. We seem to forget the present and live and move again in their society, but are soon arrested with the knowledge that there is a vast gulf between us and them, which mortals may not pass.—We remember the parting—the last farewell—when the shades of death had gathered on the brow once so radiant with life and light. A desolate feeling comes over the mind, and we feel that we are alone in the world, but we would not wish them back. Still we love to think of them as they were. They are symbols of our own life, and hope, that great consoler of the human heart, whispers at this calm hour, telling us that soon at longest the brittle cord of life will be loosened and the spirit wing [illegible] that bourn from which no [illegible] turns.

From The Students Offering.

THE SABBATH.

Hail! thou glorious sabbath morn,
The day our God has given,
On which we rest from all our toils,
And calmly think of heaven.

The morning sun beams brightly forth,
With mild benignant ray;
All nature seems in holy rest,
This blessed Sabbath day.

We to the house of God repair,
To join in songs of praise,
To thank him for a father's care,
And ask his heavenly grace.

There from the labors of the week,
May every thought be free,
That we, with lowly hearts, and meek,
May find sweet peace in thee.

And when we leave these earthly courts
May we our Savior see,
And one long Sabbath, Heaven, God,
Our changeless portion be.

LUCY.

Hints for the Season.

PRUING FRUIT TREES. A minister was once asked by one of his congregation, to tell his audience, after sermon, when was the best time to prune fruit trees. He did so, and stating the question, tersely replied. "When your tools are sharp." This, rendered into plainer English, if any thing plainer could be said, is, that the time of the year is not of so much consequence as that the pruning be actually done. Could we select our own time, we would prune trees wher in the bloom, or within a month aftewards when sap is in full flow, and the new bark immediately commences to form over the wound. For large limbs this is altogether the best season, and the fresh wound should at all times be covered with a tenacious composition of some kind to keep the air from cracking and drying their surfaces. Where small limbs and twigs are cut off, the time at which the are cut and the application of the composition is of little matter. Gumshellac, dissolved in high proofalchol, so as to make a creamy sort of paste, laid on with a brush is the best plaster that can be used; and as it is of thin comistency, a small quantity will suffice. Early pruning of young trees, so that their leads may be properly formed within the first half dozen years after planted in the orchard, will save a world of after labor. Some folks pretend to say that fruit trees should not be pruned being contrary to nature; but they might as well say that children should not be educated, because they did not take to education naturally. "By the sweat of thy brow shalt thou earn thy bread," is the divine law; and he who undertakes to get, round this wholesome command, in the neglect of his fruit trees in their pruning, will find his well-deserved punishment in miserable fruits, and but few of them.

RASPBERRIES. This is the time for lifting the buried canes of raspberries out of the ground, and pruning and tying them for summer bering. If they were not sufficiently cut out in the fall, they should now be thinned out to four stalks in the hill, and the ground well stirred between the rows, and manure applied if necessary.

GOOSEBERRIES AND CURRANTS may now be trimmed, and the roots properly forked among, and manures applied. It is suprising to see the difference in the size and flavor of these fruits, given by good cultivation, over that which is neglected. We have found them in our own grounds to be increased to double the usual size, by manures and cultivation alone. We affect not gooseberries over much in the way of tarts, as we consider the rhubarb the better and cheaper article for that purpose; but if the gooseberries be raised at all, it should be in its greatest perfection. The currant is indispensible to all good housekeepers, and should be highly cultivated to have it of the largest size and highest flavor.

ASPARAGUS. Next to green peas, asparagus is the most generally admired garden esculent raised. Every farmer should have a bed of it to supply the wants of his own family, it being a very easily propagated vegetable, and one that is almost certain to do well in any soil possessing the attributes of fruitfullness and natural warmth. Mr. Pond, the celebrated horticulturist, gives the following directions for its cultivation:

"In the month of April or when the frost is fairly out of the ground, select a spot of ground sufficiently large to plant the number of roots intended. If the plantation is to be large, and intended to supply the market, the ground should be plowed to a good depth; if for a common kitchen garden, it should be trenched to the depth of fourteen inches. Make the surface of the bed level; after this performed, proceed to mark places, to dig trenches for your roots; they should be two and a half feet apart; then throw the soil out, twelve inches wide, and twelve inches deep, laying it up in ridges between the trenches of manure; level it and add about one inch of soil on the surface, scraped from the sides of the trenches; level this also, and all is ready for planting."

The roots taken from old beds are better to propagate from than seed, as they produce sooner, and require much less care and trouble in cultivation. The plan I have pursued is the following:

In autumn, I dig my trenches either in green sward land or, that which has been cultivated—making the trenches eighteen inches deep by twenty four wide, and filling them to within six inches of the top [illegible] old manure or compost. On the [illegible] I place four inches of garden [illegible]d plant my roots or slips six inches apart, covering them with two inches of soil which has been previously saturated with housely or salt.

A sprinkling of salt is given early in the spring, and repeated at intervals of a fortnight through the season. Salt is an indispensible agent in the cultivation of asparagus, which is a saline marine plant, and cannot be brought to perfection without it. An occaisonal dressing of chip manure or compost, formed of pond mud and forest scarpings is highly advantageous. If the beds become weedy, pour on pickle. It will destroy the weeds and grasses, without injuring the asparagus. All blanching of the spires, I consider injurous; they are thereby rendered more tender, it is true, but not so sweet.—A Gardener.

MANAGEMENT OF OLD ORCHARDS. The Country Gentleman condenses a report of Daniel Stickney upon the management of old orchards, which may be useful to those who possess, but who do not know how to bring them into bearing. An inexperienced farmer, or a gentleman farmer, who is almost always one, loves to set out young trees, which will take many a year to come into bearing, should they have the good luck to grow up. This is well. But it is better to make much of an old tree, of large size, already arrived at maturity. A proper care of an orchard of such will produce immediate returns and in abundant quantity. A young orchard on the contrary, may be a pet, pretty thing, but years must pass away before it can be any thing more.—Take good care of the old standards; they will pay you well for all your attention.

A GOOD WRITER.—We recollect reading an anecdote of a young gentleman of a gin-and-water turn of mind and collar, who was determined, in his admiration of the intellectual, not to wed unless the object of his adoration was an accomplished woman and a good writer. A practical old friend of his, who attached a very literal meaning to expressions, told him he knew a young lady who would just suit him.

The introduction took place, and the young gentleman went directly to the point. "Miss.———," said he, "are you a writer?"

"Yeth, thur," replied she, blushing.

"Who are your favorite authors?—Johnson, Scott, Steel, Addison, Goldsmith, or whom?"

"Oh, thur," she naively replied, "I don't know nothing about that, thur—I write small hand!"

☞The following, which we find in one of our exchanges, hits off admirably a very prevalent and a very absurd idea among many that the columns of a paper, every line of whose space is valuable property, should be open at all times to notices tended solely to promote private interests:

Grocer.—Mr. Editor, I'll thank you to say I keep the best groceries in the city.

Editor.—I'll thank you to supply my family with groceries, gratis.

Grocer.—I thought you were glad to get something to fill up your paper.

Editor.—I thought you were glad to fill store rooms for nothing. It's a poor rule that won't work both ways.

Exit grocer in a rage—threatening to kill the paper.

☞Several years ago, but within the recollection of commercial men, the following lines were written on the back of a bank bill. The Journal of commerce repeats them, that they may be ready for use in the next good time that is a coming:

Go, worthless wanderer, through the world of care,
I would not keep thee longer, if I could,
Lest some more horrid tale should reach mine ear,
Of thy not being good.

☞A Miss Dunlap, aged 22 years, on the night of Thursday last, in Monroe Co., Ohio, fell into a well forty-five feet deep, having in it seven feet of water. She fortunately went down feet foremost, pulling the bucket down with her, on which she held on till her cries brought assistance. She was drawn up in the bucket without being injured, but "her new calico gown was wet through and through!"

☞A loafer who had his Christmas load on, 'fetched up against a house which had been newly painted. Shoving himself clear, by a vigorous effort, he took one glimpse at his shoulder, another at the house, and a third at his hand, but exclaimed:—'Well, that is a darn'd careless trick in whoever painted that house, to leave it standing out all night for people to run against.'

☞N. P. Willis said he saw in the streets of Augusta, Ga., a novelty which told of climate usage different from the North. "A very common dry looking man, strolled along very leisurely in his shirt-sleeves and gazing in the shop windows, but with a negro behind carrying his coat.!"

Take care always to form your establishment so much within your income, as to leave a sufficient fund for unexpected contingencies, and a prudent liberality. There is hardly a year in any man's life, in which a small sum of ready money may not be employed to great advantage.

☞Mrs. Swissholm, in her letters to young ladies, says that "every country girl knows how to color red with madder."—This we believe to be an ethnological fact, as we have noticed that with all girls the madder they get the redder they color.

A Frenchman who proposed to establish a school in New Orleans, having heard that a high school, would be most respectfully patronized, took a room in the garret of a four story house.

Morning Calls in Tunis.—Kady E. S. Wortherly in her description of Tunis, says;

"People pay visits in Tunis, in rather a curious way, generally. On ordinary occasions you go not exactly down your friend's chimneys, but something very like it. You walk from roof to roof and make a descent where you will, down a steep little staircase, communicating with a small door in the terrace roof; as there is neither knocker or bell provided, the visitee has no chance of saying, 'Not at home,' and occaisonally this must be tiresome and inconvenient; indeed, one of my Tunis friends told me she had often found it unpleasant when engaged in the various indispensible avocations connected with a well managed household As for us, we had a very agreeable walk on the roofs, which are beautifully paved with broad stones, often decorated with a little avenues of orange trees, beds, and parterrs of wild flowers and clusters of all kinds of sweet flowering plants—the orange trees affording delightful shade in the heat of the day, and the flowerbeds the most odoriferous breathings. After we had thus promenaded for some time, we meet the daughter of the American Consul, who like ourselves, was taking an agreeable little stroll. She invited us to come down the chimney, or through the trap door, and see her father and mother, which we had much pleasure in doing. The American Consul's lady told us it was so long since she had been in the United States, that she had almost forgotten her own native place. After spending a short time with Dr. Heap's amiable family, we ascended once more to the roof and again proceeded to pay a visit to Mrs. Ferrier. One could not help, however, feeling a little Paul Pry-ish, thus continually dropping in; but we were soon quite reconciled to these slight peculiarities of Tunisian custom."

THE EXPECTED COMET OF 1856.—From an article published by an eminent astronomer, M. Babnet, member of l'Acadamie des Sciences, the French journals give us some interesting details relative to a Comet, which in all probability will appear somewhere about the year 1856. This is one of the largest comets described by European or Chinese observers. Its periodical courses is about three hundred years. It was seen in the years 104, 392, 683, 975, again in 1263, and the last time in 1556—always described as shining with an extraordinary brilliancy. Astronomers had agreed in announcing its return in 1848; but it has hitherto failed to appear, and according to the quaint expression of M. Babinet, up to this moment is living on brilliant reputation! All the Observatories were at first in despair regarding the fate of this beautiful star, and Sir John Herschell himself had put crape upon his telescope, when a wise circulator of Middlebourg, M. Bomme, had the good fortune to reassure the learned world that it was not lost to us, as he had feared, but only retarded in its motion. Anxious as all others had been at the non-arrival of this rare and renowned visitor, M. Bomme, added by the preparatory labors of M. Hind, with a patience and devotedness truly German, went over the calculations, and made a new estimate of the seperate and combined action of all the planets upon this comet of three hundred years. The result of this severe labor gives its arrival in August, 1848, with an uncertainty of two years, more or less—so that between 1856 and 1860 we may hope to see that great luminary which in 1556 caused Charles 5th to abdicate. Already dejected by reverses, the result of the siege of Metz—the defeat of Renty—the humiliations of the treaty of Passaw—the combination of all these calamities drew from that monarch the despairing cry, "fortune abandons the old!" The appearance of the flaming meteor just at that time seemed, to his superstitious sense, a direct message from heaven. Not that he thought it was directed towards him as a man so much as to his station as a sovereign, and abdicated the throne to save his life. It is well known how short a time he survived in his monastic retiracy. Perhaps he might have lived longer had his superstition taken that better turn by which in retaining power, he had directed his ambition towards a more noble end. We know of no better use for comets than to point such a moral; and ever theologians seldom find a higher interpretation of the celestial phenomena.

A DELICIOUS SCENE.—Inquiring Young Lady.—Oh, dear, do tell me how Charles declared his love.

Expectant Wife.—Well, Fanny, we were in the parlor, you know, and all at once he turned up his eyes so. I thought he was ill. Then he turned 'em down, and squeezed my waist, and asked me if I'd have him—and—and—

Inquiring Young Lady.—Well, dear—well, what did you do next?

Expectant Wife.—Nothing; but I said "yes," and gracious! how he kissed me! Then, dear, I laid my head on his shoulder, and then we talked, dear. Oh, how I trembled. I thought I never could go through it! But I did, notwithstanding; it is wonderful what we, "weak" creatures will endure.

"Here's your money, dolt. Now tell me why your scoudrelly master wrote me eighteen letters about that contemptible sum!" said an exasperated debter.

"I'm sure sir, I can't tell sir, but if you'll excuse me sir, I think it were because seventeen letters didn't fetch it!"

"A man having asked 'how many dog days there were in a year,' received for an answer that it was impossible to number them, as 'every dog has his day!"

☞Some of the peech trees in New York city gardens are in blossom.

PDF compression, OCR, web-optimization with CVISION's PdfCompressor

The Republican.

KEESEVILLE:

Saturday Morning May 7.

"The Union of Lakes, the Union of Lands,
The Union of States none can sever,
The Union of Hearts, the Union of Hands,
The Flag of Our UNION—Forever."

CHINA.—The accounts from the Celestial Empire are full of interest. The present Emperor ascended the throne about three years ago, and is a descendent of the Tartar race. In opposition to his reign, a rebellion was organised on his accession to the throne under the lead of Tieu Tuh, a lineal descendent of the emperors who reigned before the Tartan conquest, and his cause thus finds a place in the hearts of the Chinese people. The latter have also been greviously oppressed, they think no change could be for the worse. Hence, the rebellion has been gradually gaining strength, and it is thought must end in a change of rulers, though probably not in the form of government. Reform is promised, but how fur these promises will be kept is a matter of entire uncertainty.—Great commercial distress prevails, and almost all communication with the interior is cut off. Business, is therefore seriously depressed. At the last accounts the rebels were approaching the capitol, and it was thought there would be a speady change in the administration, and a favorable improvement in business. To christians and all who are friendly to the rights of man the aspect of affairs in China possess a peculiar interest. The end we are not permitted to know, but hoping for the best, we shall await results with the utmost anxiety.

C. D. BEAUMONT,—late whig Post Master of this place retires with a reputation which deserves a public record. Always attentive, obliging and faithful, besides being a worthy citizen, the political necessity is imperative indeed which beheads any officer like him, and is regretted by none more sincerely than many of the most respectable democrats of this vicinity. Such, however, is the custom of politics, and no one abides by its results more cheerfully than Mr. Beaumont. He retires with the best wishes of all, of all classes and politics, and with a turn of the political wheel, he would be replaced by acclamation. His reward is that of a 'good and faithful public servant'—the confidence, the esteem and the kindly wishes of the people.

Town Politics.

It is proper that the following facts should be put upon record, and they are referred to as an apology for again recurring to this subject.

1. Any statements that the temperance voters of Chesterfield were deceived, or attempted to have been, by any whig town officer or officers, or hy any individual whig, is false in every particular, and known to be by those who assert it.

The above assertion is very strong, but its force will be more perceptible when we state—

2. That licenses have always been granted in this town, when asked for, at least to Hotels, and this was well known to everybody at and before the last town meeting.

3. The Adirondac had recently changed hands, and whether the present landlord had a license, or not, caused all the discussion which has been raised about malpractice of whig town officers, but even this was not started till after town meeing, and then by a democrat, from motives growing ont of town meeting which we need not repeat. They are well known in town.

4. A few political temperance men propounded questions to the several candidates, but so far from being deceived they were distinctly informed, not only that the whig candidate for Supervisor was uncommitted, but that he would probably concede licenses to Hotels as heretofore practiced. We speak what we know, for we so informed them ourself, and—they WITHHELD their votes from the candidate referred to. Defrauded, indeed!

5. That the democratic ticket obtained votes by fraud is almost certain, as will appear from the following facts: 1. A part of the democratic ticket was represented as being whig. 2. Another part was indirectly, if not directly interested in securing licenses to groceries. 3. The defeated candidate for justice was openly and publicly known as uncompromisingly opposed to licenses. Finally, we have tendered several direct issues, hut they are avoided.—We also challenged direct charges of malpractice in office by whig town officers, but they also were avoided and dare not be made. Need more be said? It would seem not. The public will brand with scorn the man who will trifle with the reputation of pure and upright citizens.

CHAS. MORRIS, as a merchant tailor has few superiors. He has been to New York and returned with a choice selection of goods, as well the latest fashions. Notwithstanding the rush for ready-made clothing, he is doing an increased business.

PATRICK FOY, at the East end of the lower bridge, is a first rate custom tailor, and what is better, he works honest.

☞ Somebody has given Nelson a pair of breeches! All he is in want of now is "Telegram" by telegraph.

The Editor of the Gazette avows the use of "telegram" as a new coined word.—That is as we expected. There is a class of literary pretenders all over the country, young men whose education consists of pompous pretensions, sentimental young ladies who weep over the death of "pet lambs" and put stockings on the feet of goslins to protect them from the weather, writers of novels in yellow covers, egotistical and pedantic, mutual puffers, whose labors consist mostly in sickly trash, sympathetic expressions, and the coinage of new words and phrases, and never guilty of producing anything useful, or able.—Of this numerous class is the author of the "Lake Out Law" and the endorser of the telegram. Proceeding profoundly to "enlighten" us on the subject he says,

"Telegram' means the news by telegraph, or the telegraphic reports themselves."

The word first occurred in the Gazette thus: "The news hy telegram"—but if the present lucid explanation is correct it should read thus:

"'Telegram' means the telegram by telegraph!"

Well that is clear—we are "enlightened." "Au revoir, Maurice dear!"

As to the "display in the dead languages" it can only excite a smile of decision, heightened by the modest apology, when we say that our neighbor has no knowledge of Greek, and that the "display" is merely a plagiarism, from articles before him on the same subject. We once carried a green bag to school for a time with Greek and Latin books in it, and know just as much Greek as our neighbor—which is—nothing at all of any practical use at this time.

To complete this supremely ridiculous "display" we must quote entire the apology for thus astonishing the "natives" with such a vast knowledge of Greek.

"We do not mean by all this to make a pedantic display in the dead languages."

Where is Ellen Louise to rejoice with her "dear Maurice" in this great event?

"The news by telegram," and "the telegram by telegraph" against the world!

BEATRICE.—We are indebted to Messrs. C. B. Hatch and Son of Westport for a copy of this work for which they will accept our thanks. We also take pleasure in giving the book a notice, not because we endorse works of fiction, nor yet because it is anti-catholic, but simply as a work of deep, and absorbing interest. Many read Uncle Tom's Cabin and weep over it as a recital of facts, while others, more sensible, regarding it as fiction, as it is, although it may be truthful, read it for its thrilling interest. So it will be with Beatrice. Those who love romance will be interested in it. Whether it is founded on facts we know not. Protestants have no very favorable opinion of Catholicism, but if any search this, or any other work of fiction to find out the truth they must be simple indeed. We take the following from the preface:

"The object of this narrative is to portray for the consideration of young girls now first emerging into society, the enlightened happiness derived from religion of England, founded on the Bible, contrasted with the superstition of Italy founded on the Breviary.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.—We publish the prospectus of this journal this week to which we refer our readers for particulars. In doing so, we take occasion to say, that the Tribune is now one of the largest, most beautiful and onterprising journals in the world. At the same time, we must be permitted to say that we do not approve of all that appears in its columns. Its contents, however, are a mirror of the times, and it is well perhaps to give free course to discussion. The right will ultimately prevail, and that the Tribune will be found on that side we do not doubt. It is identified with many social and political questions upon which it is exercising a vast influence, and in the future history of the country is destined to play a distinguished part.

DEFINITE AND SEVERE.—Hence is it surprising to see how eagerly members of our party,—and we put the blame wherever it is to be attached—snatch at the officious aid which the whig press offer them daily, on one side or the other of the great questions at issue between us.—(N. Gazette.

Now Mr. Atlas and Mr. Argus, and you Messrs. Barnburners, and you Mr. Hunkers, we are not personal, but whichever of you are to blame, and we don't say which, just make the application for yourselves, and as to "the great questions at issue between us," we don't say which side we are on, but we are "on one side or the other," and no matter which is right, only whichever of you "snatch at the officious aid" of whigs, just stop it. Now, that's flat. "Who so readeth let him understand."

PRAISWORTHY MUNIFICENCE.—One of the most neatly finished Churches we ever visited is the Baptist Church of this place. After having given over two thousand dollars towards its erection, Messrs. Edmund and Jacob D. Kingsland purchased at their own expense, and presented to the society, a Chandelier and a set of Astral Lamps, at a cost of upwards of $250. These are truly elegant ornaments, and the donation is worthy of every praise. Whoever shall visit the interior, will agree with us, that it is the most charming little churches they California Correspondence.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30th, 1853.

COL. TARBELL:

DEAR SIR,—I beg to acknowledge the constant receipt of your valuable paper, and although differing politically, I cannot but admire the stout efforts with which it continues to urge the tenets of the whig party. I thank you, for it comes like the greeting of a friend; its columns speak to me of familiar scenes and cherished remembrances—it emenates from amidst a people where dwell my loved ones.

